GOP Demands Another Crack At Casey, Top Johnston Aide

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Embattled Republican senators investigating alleged favoritism in government loans Saturday demanded one more crack at former Rep. Casey (D-Mass.), one of Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston's top aides. The move to needle Casey about an admittedly faulty memory may add new fuel to a mounting controversy between Democrats and Republicans of a Senate banking subcommittee now winding up an inquiry into Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans. The Republicans want to keep the inquiry going. Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.), the subcommittee chairman, contends his group already has proved the RFC was subject to political influence and that the committee should now let some more appropriate group take over. He demands an investigation of the moral standards of government as a whole, but insists his subcommittee is not the one to handle this because it is not a permanent Senate body. The subcommittee has named Casey as an associate of men with White House contacts who wielded influence on RFC loans. Casey denied he had any undue influence anywhere in government. Senator Bennett (R-Utah), a member of the subcommittee, touched off the move to recall Casey as a witness. Bennett said he hoped it would lead to an investigation of Johnston's office itself and the firing of Alan Valentine, who preceded Johnston. Casey got into hot water with the subcommittee when he testified recently that a Treasury official's informal ruling had guided him to a big saving in federal taxes on a $250,000 profit on a $20,000 investment. He said the profit was earned on five war-surplus tankers purchased from the Maritime Commission.

Gen. E. O. Thompson Inspects Guard Unit

Gen. Ernest O. Thompson, commander 41st Corps, Arrived in Pampa about 11:30 a. m. Saturday for an inspection of Battery A, of the 474th F. A. Observation Battalion, local National Guard unit. Gen. Thompson came to Pampa from an inspection of Battery C of the battalion, located at Shamrock. From Pampa, he went on to inspect other units in the 474th, including headquarters at Dumas and Battery B at Dalhart. Thompson's headquarters are at the headquarters of the 41st Corp., Houston.

Don't Fret If You Fail To Get Attention At Stores; Owners Are Working For Government

If you go into your favorite hardware store, clothing or apparel shop and fail to win attention, don't let it bother you; the boss is busy working for the "government." "Previously he had been struggling through the labyrinth of articles, chapters, sections and words contained in Regulation 7, trying to fit them in with his personal situation and get the results on the price chart. And now he has another form to fill out for the "government" if his business grossed over $50,000 during the calendar year 1949, or fiscal year starting nearest to June 1, 1949. Add to this the research he is having to do before March 29, on the possibility of closing, and the percentage figuring as he goes along. That not being enough he has to abide by a regulation that isn't even under-

56 Will Take Draft Exams

Fifty-six men from a four-county area are to take their physical examinations for the draft, Tuesday according to officials of the local draft board No. 52. Sixty men from the area will take their physical examinations in April. Officials said that although no men have gone from this board during this part of March, a total of 28 men are to be taken during the latter part of the month. They said 33 would go in April, and the quota for May has not been set. The next call will be April 10 for physicals and induction. The men who will go on this call are 19-year-olds, officials stated. Three draft delinquents, who have been delinquent for quite some time, are listed by the board. They are Manuel Fuentes, Jr., Don Edward Reynolds, and John B. Lewis. State selective service headquarters has announced an army induction call for 3,112 Texas men for May. The draft call compares with 150 men ordered for April. The May quota is the state's share of the national quota of 60,000 announced in Washington. The May quota brings Texas total number of men ordered since the beginning of the Korean conflict to 30,374. The local board has drafted a total of 102 men since Jan. 1.

Would Abolish RFC: Taft Takes A Swing At Administration

CHARLOTTEVILLE, Va.—(AP) — Truman Taft of Ohio last night unleashed an all-out attack on the Truman administration, accusing it of "political corruption" and declaring charges of Reds-in-government were whitewashed. Taft called for the "complete abolition" of the authority of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make new loans. A Senate subcommittee has charged the big government agency with displaying favoritism and yielding to "influence." Labeling as a "whitewash" last year's investigation by a Senate foreign relations subcommittee of the controversial Communist-in-government charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.), Taft asserted: "There is no confidence that Communist influence has been eliminated in strategic government positions. New evidence of spies reaching into the most vital secrets of atomic energy appear daily in the newspapers. Whether or not Senator McCarthy's charges went too far, an honest government could bottom and brought out every fact. Instead the Tydings Committee adopted a complete whitewash technique to prevent the facts from coming out." Senator Tydings (D-Md.), who headed the subcommittee, was defeated in last November's election by Republican John Marshall Butler. Taft said the country had been shocked by revelations of influence in obtaining money from the United States Treasury (See Taft Page 2)

Redistricting Bill Will Not Affect Counties In Panhandle

By HENRY GORDON Although a congressional redistricting bill, being studied by Texas legislators may make four congressmen unhappy it will not affect the 18th district. Rep. Walter Rogers, Pampa, will retain all of his 28 counties in the reshuffling that may leave four national level solemn hanging high and dry. To conform with population shifts and increases, the Legislature committee that planned the realignment gave the additional congressman to Harris County. The bill has not passed the House but has strong committee support — 16 of the 21 man committee. One of the redistrict-

State Temperatures Vary Widely; Some Snow In Panhandle

(By The Associated Press) Texas had a wide range of temperatures Saturday as a spring norther brought light, wet snow to the Pampa, Dalhart sections of the Panhandle. What Amarillo was reporting 24, Pampa 29 and Dalhart 36 degrees, afternoon readings, Alice and Laredo had 91. The U.S. Weather Bureau said that by Sunday morning there should be showery weather in South Texas and colder weather in North and West Texas. A cold front spreading south-eastward was forecast to reach the coast Saturday night. Small craft warnings against stiff winds were up from Brownsville, Tex., to Morgan City, La. The warnings also were raised east of Morgan City to St. Marks, Fla. There were showers between Dallas and Waco Saturday. Forecasts called for low minimums of 28 to 32 degrees in the extreme northwest part of East Texas; 20 to 28 in the Panhandle and 26 to 32 in the South Plains. Saturday afternoon temperatures included El Paso 69, Big Spring 71, Brownsville 85, Corpus Christi 78, Houston 76, Beaumont 71, Dallas 84, Waco 82, Wichita Falls 77, Fort Worth 74, Dalhart 62, Lubbock 46, Abilene 70, San Angelo 81 and Texarkana 76.

The President Dons Kelly Green Trunks

KEY WEST — (AP) — The President wore Kelly green trunks. That was the news that emerged Saturday from Mr. Truman's vacation retreat at the naval submarine station here. It was St. Patrick's Day, and the President observed the occasion by switching from the tan trunks he has used daily at the White House beach since he flew here March 2. The President went to the beach about 10:30 a. m., to sun on the sand and take a ten-minute swim. Mr. Truman is flying back to Washington Thursday to spend the Easter weekend with Mrs. Truman and his daughter, Margaret.

Underworld Is Due Tax Check

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The U.S. Treasury announced Saturday that an elite company of investigators is being formed to track down tax frauds of underworld characters. All are old hands at getting results against big-time gamblers and racketeers, it was stated. The announcement followed criticism of the Treasury on Capitol Hill. Some Congress members were getting by with filing very general statements of income and expenses, without the details required from average persons. Officials replied that the Treasury has been conducting an intensive investigation of underworld tax matters for three years. Saturday they told newsmen that inquiry will explode shortly in a shower of tax claims. In many cases criminal charges will be filed. These sources said that criminal charges filed last week against Ralph Capone, brother of the late Chicago hoodlum, Al Capone, merely spotlighted him as the first of many nationally known names to be inscribed on tax cases.

Red Cross Declares Office Might Move

If someone doesn't come up with a list full of greenbacks in the next few days, the local chapter of the Red Cross will be closed for bankruptcy. Herman Whitley, chairman of the Red Cross campaign, said the residential drive Friday night brought in just about one-fourth as much as was needed. The entire drive brought in less than half the goal set by the budget. This goal was set for the amount that it would take to keep the local office in operation. If something is not done, Amarillo will be the nearest place that one can obtain help from the Red Cross — IF Amarillo raises its goal. This office will be closed for one year if the money is not raised. More than $15,000 is needed to support the local of-

University Promises Check On Socialism In Classrooms

AUSTIN — (AP) — The "truth or falsity" of statements attributed to an economics professor whom legislators charge with advocating socialism will be investigated, the University of Texas board of regents said Saturday. The charge, leveled by Rep. Marshall O. Bell against Dr. Clarence E. Ayres, dominated legislative developments last week. The House ordered university officials to decide whether Ayres should keep his job. Denying the accusation, the 59-year-old professor and member of the school's faculty committee on academic freedom said he did not consider himself a socialist. He said he had never advocated socialism nor been a member of the Socialist Party. An investigation will be made within the 10-day period set by a House resolution passed Thursday. Chairman Dudley K. Woodward, Jr., of the board of regents said in a letter to House Speaker Reuben Senerfitt. At the same time, Woodward's letter called the Legislature's attention to the board's philosophy that a professor is "entitled to freedom of the mind and expression, subject of course to the limitation that he shall not teach doctrines of a subversive or illegal nature." The regents unanimously approved the letter, which Woodward said was based on careful consideration of the House resolution. No plans have been made on when the investigation will begin or who will conduct it, Woodward said. Boat paints, marine plywood and boat supplies; Johnson Motors, Bert A. Howell & Co., 119 N. Allies Hammering At Stiff Red Resistance

Movement Cloaked By UN Censorship

TOKYO — (AP) — The United Nations offensive hammered away against stiffer Communist resistance in central Korea Saturday, but movements were cloaked by censorship. The allied push carried within 15 miles of the 38th Parallel and appeared aimed towards the Chinese base at Chunchon when security officers stopped dispatches. However, the drive was "going well," General MacArthur said on his return to Tokyo Saturday night from his second visit to the front in 10 days. There was no immediate indication whether MacArthur's surprise trip to captured Hingchon on the central front meant new offensive planning was under way, or was simply a routine inspection. Accompanied by his top air and ground commanders, MacArthur jumped within 22 miles of the 38th Parallel, once the political dividing line between North and South Korea. MacArthur would not say whether he planned to order his forces north of the parallel for a second time, or hold them in the hills to the south while a negotiated settlement is sought. A member of MacArthur's party said the Marines who the supreme commander visited were preparing to blast the enemy from a hill as the party left. He said "the whole hill went up in flames from jellied gasoline just as we flew away." The Eighth Army permitted correspondents to report only a few lines Saturday night. Correspondent William C. Barnard on the central front said American forces north of captured Hingchon hurled back a Communist attack by Chinese Communists. There was virtually no contact with the enemy on the east-central front, said Correspondent Nate Polowetzky. In the west, Correspondent Jim Becker at Seoul was permitted to say that American and South Korean patrols probed vigorously north of the Han River. The new censorship regulations — including double scrutiny in the field and at Tokyo — forbade identifying allied units, their positions and commanding officers. Information obtained from prisoners of war or allied agents also will be banned in the future. The purpose was to avoid disclosing anything of value to Communist intelligence. Security clampdown. Correspondent Leif Erickson reported from Eighth Army headquarters that four Chinese armies (corps) were getting set along ridge-lines and high points southwest and southeast of Chunchon. That important Red base is eight miles south of Parallel 38. Four more Red corps were in reserve to the north. Normally the Chinese corps. (See Allies Page 2)

Labor-Management Agreeable: Truman May Form Mobilization Board

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman soon may create a new 18-man wage stabilization board on which labor and management probably would agree to serve despite their inability to agree on its powers. Government officials were reported leaning toward that solution of the nation's wage control problems. A good many labor and industry leaders are expecting such a solution. Labor leaders, an estimated 700 of them, are heading for Washington for rallies Tuesday and Wednesday at which they will demonstrate against big prices and attack the "inadequacy" of price controls. Government price controllers haggled meantime over what percentage of "mark-up" to allow for food shortages. The Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) now expects to issue two retail orders and one wholesale food order within the next week. OPS Director Michael V. D'Salle has said that the new "markups" showing food sellers how much they can add to what they pay in determining what they charge — will roll back most food prices and roll forward only a few. (However, on most foods, a rolled back price would be free to rise again when the farmer's price went up.) Edward P. Morgan, OPS enforcement director, has ordered his field investigating staff to start an "immediate nationwide check" to make sure that manufacturers and wholesalers are keeping the records required by price control regulations. Morgan told his staff members that "evidence already received indicates there is widespread non-compliance" with the record-keeping requirements. Concerning the new Wage Stabilization Board, it is reported that the board's powers to settle disputes would be along the lines proposed by Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston. Johnston drafted a compromise which would give the board

Jet Plows Through House, Poles, Cars; No Deaths Reported

SAN ANGELO — (AP) — An F-80 jet fighter lost its power Saturday and chipped telephone and power lines, knocked the tops off a windmill and a power pole, plowed through a house, hit a car, and set fire to another house, another car and a pickup truck. No one was killed. The pilot and another person were seriously injured. The fires, fed by kerosene spraying from the jet's broken fuel lines, destroyed the plane, 10 houses and the two cars. Lt. Henry S. Armstrong, Jr., 26, of Williams Air Force Base, Ariz., suffered third-degree burns and shock. The plane lost its power and shot down shortly after taking off from Goodfellow Air Force Base here. Armstrong was on a routine two-plane flight from Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, to Randolph Air Force Base, San Antonio. His wingman cleared the field without mishap. ## Father Requests President To Let Him Take Son's Place

BALTIMORE — (AP) — The soldier's father sat quietly in his chair. The shadow of sleepless nights clouding his face made him look older than his 44 years. He didn't want to talk about the letter he said he had written President Truman Monday. He answered questions frankly enough, but you could tell he didn't want to harp on the subject. He hoped the copy of the letter in his hand told the story. And it seemed to.

He — Langdon P. McAnich, Sr., a truck mechanic — was asking the President to let him take the place of his 21-year-old son who was back on the Korean front, 23 days after he had been wounded in the leg.

"If we are so short of men that the wounded don't have time to heal their wounds," the letter said, "send me over. Let me take my son's place. I'm twice as old, so I'll do twice as good a job."

Then it said he was including excerpts from letters written by his son, Pfc. Langdon P. McAnich, Jr., Third Cavalry. "Dear Mom: 'I thought I'd better drop you a line, hoping that it will reach you before the telegram, to let you know that I'm not seriously wounded.'"

In the same brisk tones of his father, he told of the attack the morning of the 28th of January. His patroling platoon was half-way across a valley "when all hell broke loose. Lord! I never ran so fast in all my life."

"Then it happened. A chink mortar shell exploded about 15 feet behind me. The good Lord was with me, that's all I can say. A piece of shrapnel tore into my left knee, and the rest tore into the bank around me."

The young soldier was evacuated back to a hospital in Pusan to recover. Then came this letter: "Dear Pop: 'I returned to my company last night. Believe me or not, I'm happy to be back. I don't believe I'll be much good. I used to be able to take these hills running, all the way. Now I can't even walk up them. That piece of shrapnel did something to my knee. I can't bend it much anymore.'"

"Combat's a funny thing. Before I got hit nothing bothered me. Since I've been hit, I'm scared. Everything makes me shake, especially artillery going off."

Then: "Dear Mom: '2-25-51—I think 'Today I didn't go up the mountain with my platoon. I just couldn't make it.'"

"Dear Mom: 'Here I am back up on the mountain with my platoon. As soon as I get back down on level ground, I'm going to start riding the sick book until they do something about my knee.'"

Beer Credit Sales Banned By State

AUSTIN — (AP) — Credit sales of beer from distributors to retailers are banned under a bill signed today by Gov. Allan Shivers.

It is immediately effective. The bill, by Rep. William A. Swindell of Commerce, also prohibits use of post-dated checks in beer transactions and provides for cash payments only.

The Governor also signed a bill permitting optometrists to certify persons as legally blind. It also goes into effect immediately.

Another bill going into immediate effect created a county court at law of Hidalgo County.

Although Population Rising, Texas Is Losing Postoffices

By TEX EASLEY
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — Texas has gained in population for 60 years, but the number of its postoffices has shown a steady drop. Texas isn't alone in this respect. It's a national trend.
 In 1900 there were 76,688 postoffices in the U. S. by 1920 the number had dropped to 52,638. In 1950 the total was 41,464.
 On Jan. 1, 1951, there were 1,994 postoffices in Texas, compared with 2,261 in 1925 and 3,112 in 1900.
 Development of highways and growth of larger towns and cities, say postal authorities, accounts principally for the trend.
 The automobile and good roads along with the expansion of rural mail service have eliminated the need for the cross-roads country store postoffice.
 There were 2,200 RFD routes in Texas in 1925, aggregating 60,991 miles. The number of routes on Jan. 1, 1951, had dropped to 1,705, but they were operating over a total of 86,406 miles.
 Many small postoffices vanish when their communities were absorbed by growing nearby cities, although some of them have been kept open as branch postoffices which are not counted in the total figures.

 There are four classes of postoffices. Annual stamp sales determine the classification. Those with receipts totaling $40,000 or more annually are rated as first-class postoffices. Second-class postoffices are those that take in $8,000, while a minimum of $1,500 in receipts are required for the third-class rating. The others are fourth-class offices.
 Postmasters are appointed by the President. Those appointed at first-class offices get $4,570 or more a year; second-class jobs pay between $3,970 and $4,370; third-class offices, $2,370 to $3,570, and fourth-class from $204 to $2,079.
 As of January 1 there were 133 first-class postoffices in Texas, 319 second-class, 697 third-class and 947 fourth-class.
 Establishment of new military installations and industrial plants has brought many new postoffices in the past decade and higher classification for others.
 In 1940 there were 2,106 postoffices in Texas, 110 more than on Jan. 1, 1951, but there were only 48 first-class postoffices then compared to 133 now.

 In 1900 there were only seven first-class offices in Texas, but there were 2,954 fourth-class offices. In 1925 the comparative figures were 30 and 1,547.

 Newly elected president of the American Bandmasters Association is Earl D. Irons of Arlington State College.
 He was chosen at the 17th annual ABA convention here, attended by hundreds of college and high school band directors from all parts of the nation.
 The convention program was arranged by another Texan, Gih Eandeler of Abilene, who is concert tour director of the U. S. Navy and Air Force Bands. For years manager of the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band at Abilene, Eandeler presided as master of ceremonies at the ABA annual banquet.
 Rep. Wingate Lucas of Fort Worth was troubled the other day when his grade-school daughter showed him a quiz paper asking what two states were republics when they joined the union.
 He told her to hold everything, he'd ask the Congressional Library to name the other state.
 "They mailed me a reply," he commented. "The answer is supposed to be Vermont, but it really was not recognized by other nations as a republic, as was Texas, and Vermont didn't have a president."

 The answer said Vermont joined the union March 4, 1791, the first state after the original 13.
 It was an off-shoot from New York, and from 1776 until 1791 was "virtually an independent republic" with self rule.

 Formerly from Ranger, and employed at the Capitol through the office of Rep Omar Burleson, Preslar is settling at Rankin.

Sign My Petition?

GRAND ISLAND, Nebr. — (AP) — Just to prove that some people will sign anything, the Grand Island Daily Independent circulated a petition in Grand Island ostensibly asking the city council for better recreational facilities. But buried in the text of the petition was a request "that I be hanged by the neck until dead."
 Thirty-five persons signed the petition.

SOUND OFF

By KAY FANCHER
 Well here we are reporting from the same old outpost. Things are really buzzing with Battery "A" of 474th Field Artillery Observation Battalion. This week we're having our federal inspection and the preparations are now complete. We are looking forward to being a pretty sharp outfit come Tuesday night about 7.
 Here're a few news items now that I'm sure will be of interest to all our readers. First of all First Lt. Charles Robison is now officially commander of the battery. Lt. Robison's orders came through Thursday stating that as of February 14th he was battery commander. Formerly, Lt. Robison was the Battery Executive Officer, he replaces Capt. William J. Ragsdale who is now battalion executive officer with headquarters in Dumas.
 We have a number of prospective promotions in the wind with three men going before the board of review in regards to their appointments. Sgt. Milton A. Grappe who is now the supply sergeant will try for a commission. Sgt. First Class Harold F. Cooper will be working toward an appointment as warrant officer radar. Capt. W. J. Ragsdale will be reviewed for major.
 By the way, George R. Plumley has been hired as caretaker of the Armory to replace C. A. Adamson who resigned that position on March 12. Plumley received a promotion from private to private first class the same day he took the job.
 Warrant Officer William Leonard seems to be quite a horse trader. The other day he drove a jeep to Dalhart and when he came back Battery "A" was the proud possessor of a new 2 1/2 ton Shop Van, equipped with heat, lights, and air conditioning. The trade was made with Battery "B" of Dalhart—hope they could use the Jeep—the van sure comes in handy for us.
 Think we will close up our outpost for today but you want to be sure to check in next week when we try to give a profile of one of the sections in the outfit that we told you about, three weeks ago.
 Before we do close up I'd like to say that on his appointment to the command of Battery "A" Lt. Robison said that this is one of the best bunches of officers and men that he had ever had the opportunity of serving with. He also added that he'd like to extend a personal invitation to each and everyone of you to come out and visit our weekly drills at the Armory.

Imel Of White Deer Takes Mile Race At Fort Worth

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
FORT WORTH (AP) — Tall Charles Holding Saturday leaped higher than any man had ever jumped in Texas. It was a dazzling feat in a Southwestern Recreation Track and Field Meet that had six records broken and two tied.

Holding, a 6-foot-6 freshman from East Texas State College, zoomed 6 feet 3 3/4 inches—an inch and a quarter under the World's Record—to furnish the highlight of the two-day meet that saw Oklahoma A&M win the prized university class championship.

The Oklahoma Aggies raced to 39 3/4 points to win the blue ribbon division, a 3 1/2 better than Southern Methodist, a surprise second-place finisher. Abilene Christian College won the college division with 32 1/2 points, Texas took top honors in the college freshman class with 38, Victoria easily captured the junior college title and Brady whipped the defending state school champions, Odessa, in the high school class with 27 1/2 points. Odessa got 25 points.

Wellington Clouters Capture Team Trophy With 47 Points

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Wellington's boxing team won the team trophy in the Shamrock Invitational Boxing Tournament here Saturday night with 47 points. Shamrock was second with 45 points, Lefors had 27, Pampa 18, and Panhandle notched 16 points.

In Friday night's skirmishes, the Shamrock Irish garnered six bouts, Wellington and Lefors each won three, Pampa two, and Panhandle took one fight.

One of the best fights of the evening was when Kenneth Woods of Shamrock, Regional Golden Gloves champion, put Truman Judd of Wellington to sleep in the first round. Woods connected with some stiff blows, and then he landed a stinging right hook that ended the fight.

Another crowd pleaser was Jimmy Pennington-Jimmy Bennett slugfest. Pennington took the decision in the 147-pound break-busting event, but the two gloves put on quite a show for the crowd as they slugged it out for three thrilling rounds.

Little Duggie Jamieson of Wellington got a TKO over Cecil Sanders of Lefors in the first round. Jamieson delivered punishing jabs to the Lefors clouter and the match was halted.

RESULTS FRIDAY
65 pounds — Gary Watt, Pampa, decisioned Pat Maroney, Panhandle.

160 pounds — Jimmy Howard, Panhandle, decisioned Billy Ray Free, Shamrock.
175 pounds — Jimmy Pennington, Shamrock, decisioned Jimmy Bennett, Pampa.

One of the best battles of the evening was the Dick Murray-Bobby Campbell fight. Murray was sent to the canvas twice in the first round, once for an eight count. The Pampa clouter came back in the second stanza and dropped Campbell for a three count, then polished him off with a stiff right jab to half the 160-pound bout.

Bobby Wilhelm was decisioned in a 135-pound scrap. The crowd booed by the decision.

RESULTS SATURDAY

Klein's Hoopsters Annex Pampa Roundball Tourney

Klein's of Borger defeated Jim's Grocery of Borger, 49-42, in the finals in the Senior Scout Troop 80 Basketball Tournament Saturday night at the Junior High School gym. Wood led Klein's with 13 points. Ward was high point man for Jim's with 16 tallies.

The Local Culberson hoopsters placed two men on the second all-tournament team, Bill Bond and Bill Carter. J. W. Malone and Kenneth Anglin led Groom past Culberson of Pampa, 80-77, in a battle for third place. Malone pumped in 25 points and Anglin tripped the cords for 28 markers. Bill Bond and Bill Carter sparked the Culberson scoring attack. Bond pushed in 23 tallies and Carter hit 20. Randy Clay hit his high mark of the season, cracking the cords for 16 points.

The score was knotted at 41-41 at halftime. Clay, Johnny Campbell and Jimmy King left the game via the foul route for the local roundballers.

BASEBALL IS REPLACING BASKETBALL
On the sports front, and manager Grover Seitz starts priming up his Oilers this week. The Pampa pilot took his pitchers and catchers to Abilene for one week. The backstoppers and punters left this morning for the training site. They will return to Pampa next Sunday, and the whole squad will start spring drills at Oiler Park Monday, March 26.

Manager Seitz, pitchers George Payte, Cletus Younger, and catcher Jerry Squires, Bill Whitehorn, and Don Boddy left together for Abilene. They will join pitchers George Matthews and Carroll Dial there. Pitcher Ken Faulkner is working at the present time and was unable to join the squad until next Monday.

The Oilers need housing. Any one having a furnished apartment or house for rent should call Business Manager Warren Hasse at 1131.

College football coaches visited Pampa the past week. Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State was down Wednesday looking around. Backfield Coach Jack Mitchell of Texas Tech looked over the grid prospects Wednesday, and Eck Curtis of the Texas Longhorns dropped in Friday evening to have a glimpse. Curtis had breakfast Saturday morning with his backfield pupil of 194, Andy Clay.

Collier Farris of the Abilene Reporter News says the Blue Sox aren't singing the blues. They've got a pretty good idea where their ball players are coming from, and they'll be breaking the news any day now. John Mym of Amarillo told this amateur golfer said he was touring an Amarillo golf course during a golf tournament. Putt had just finished the eighth hole. Munn asked Putt how he was doing. "My game is really improving," the veteran Amarillo sports writer replied. "I'm only seven down." Some of the quotes may be slightly garbled, but that's how I remembered it.

The Harvesters looked like they were going to pull the prize upset of the season against Phillips the other night. The Pampans took the first game, but faltered in the next two to lose 2-1. It was the first loss of the season for the elongated Blackhawk volleyballers. Coach Peggy McNelly is handling the Harvesters.

Graduation hit Coach Tom Tipps' Harvesters at the wrong time, because the 1950 District 1-AA football champions will be playing in the toughest Texas High School District in 1951. The Pampa grid warriors enter District 1-AAAA, the Junior Southwest Conference, in 1951.

The Fighting Harvesters open their football campaign against Austin of El Paso here Sept. 21. Then the next two non-conference engagements are with Vernon and Plainview away from home.

Coach Tipps must get the shakes when he examines the conference schedule. The Pampans battle Abilene here Oct. 19. Then the local griders entertain Joe Coleman's Odessa footballers here Oct. 26. The future doesn't look too bright the next game either. Pampa travels to Lubbock to take on the Westerners in conference game number 3.

1951 SCHEDULE

- Sept. 14—Open.
- Sept. 21—Austin of El Paso, here.
- Sept. 28—Vernon, there.
- Oct. 5—Plainview, there.
- Oct. 19—Abilene, here.
- Oct. 26—Odessa, here.
- Nov. 3—Lubbock, there.
- Nov. 10—Amarillo, here.
- Nov. 16—Borger, there.
- Nov. 22—San Angelo, there.
- Conference games.

After the Lubbock date Nov. 3, the rugged Amarillo Sandies, under a new regime, lock horns with the Harvesters here on Saturday, Nov. 10. Another new Wilson, and fullback Carl Kennedy. Graduation will deliver a smashing blow at the middle of the Harvester forward wall. Missing from the Pampa line will be starters Buzz Tarpley, tackle, Dale Gantz guard, Gerald Matthews, center and line backer, guard and tackle Eddie Scheig, Tommy Martin, end. Also missing will be Lawrence Rice, who saw lots of action at the guard slot.

Bill McPherson is the only returning letterman at the guard position. Coach Tipps had halfback Charles Ely running at guard in Friday's practice, and it looks like the Pampa mentor is going to have to bring some backs up front to replace those lost by graduation. Ely is one of the fastest players on the Pampa squad, and he looked sharp in his new grid role Friday. He is a good blocker and he can pull out of the hole fast.

Tollie Hutchens is handling the pivot post. The letterman has been running first string, and Tommy Sells of the Guerrillas has been at the second string spot.

In the backfield, the Harvesters have their one-two quarterback combination back, De Wey Cudney and Sid Mills. John Young, second string fullback and defensive end last year, is running at Kennedy's vacated fullback position. Behind Young is David Enloe. He played fullback for the Guerrillas last year. Billy Davis and Darrell Wilson are

Irish Tracksters To Enter White Deer Meet March 23

SHAMROCK — (Special)—Track J. R. Stansell the low and high hurdles. Coach E. L. Hill will take his thinclads to the White Deer Invitational tournament March 23. Donald Lea, football fullback, will run the 100- and 220-yard dashes, enter the spring relay, broad jump and shot put. Johnnie Hartwick, freshman speed merchant who showed well as a speedy substitute back last fall, also will try in the 100 and in 440, the mile relay, broad jump and sprint relay. His brother, Paul Hartwick, is slated to compete in the 410, mile relay, broad jump and sprint relay.

Van Pennington, pass-catching and end speed lung in football, will be the Irish hope in the 440. He also tries in the mile and sprint relays. Vaughn Terry, a veteran of the gridiron and basketball court as well as the track field, is considered a strong contender in the 880 and mile relay. Vernon Tabet, all-around athletic star, is expected to take the pole vaulting, in which he won last year. He also will try in the low hurdles and shot put. Ralph Edwards, a freshman, will run the mile. Mack Terry, who has shown well in practice by hurling the discus 120 feet, will throw the discus and also leave the shot. Bill Parks enters in the 880, while Eugene Collinsworth also runs the half mile. James Henderson tests the mile run, and

Midland Golfers Win Meet At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH — (P) — Midland replaced Capitol Hill of Oklahoma City as high school golf champion at the Southwestern Recreation Meet here. The West Texas team yesterday scored 319, two strokes better than Capitol Hill. Dallas Sunset was third, Highland Park (Dallas), fourth; Amarillo fifth, Breckenridge sixth, Fort Worth Poly seventh, Fort Worth Paschal eighth, Corsicana ninth and Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) tenth. Ab Justice of Capitol Hill won the individual medal with a two over par 73.

RICE WINS

HOUSTON — (P) — Billy Colbart and Rex Proctor bagged out five of Rice's eight hits as the Owls licked St. Thomas, 14-5, for a sweep of the two game baseball series.

READY TO RIDE HERD—Manager Grover Seitz is ready for the West Texas-New Mexico League to open. The veteran Oil pilot guide his baseballers to the 1950 league championship, but the local also lost to Lamesa in the playoffs. Manager Seitz will take his pitchers and catchers to Abilene for a seven-day workout. The group left Sunday morning for the training site. They will return to Pampa next Sunday, and Manager Seitz will begin spring drills in Oiler Park Monday, March 26. (News Photo and Engraving)

Irish Open Practice On St. Pat's Day

SOUTH BEND — (P) — The traditional St. Patrick's Day starting day for spring football practice at Notre Dame finds the Irish facing their biggest rebuilding job in 18 years.

Coach Frank Leahy lost 16 players — eight of them starters — from the 1950 squad. Last season, Notre Dame had its worst record since 1933, winning four, losing four and tying one.

Leahy may have to depend greatly on a freshman squad he has labeled fair. Veterans returning include Capt. Jim Mutschler, right end; Bob Toner, right tackle; Paul Burns, left guard; Chet Ostrowski, left end; John Mazur, quarterback, and halfbacks John Pettibon and Billy Barrett.

Procter Presented Scroll, Blanket

BEN PROCTER University of Texas End

AUSTIN — (Special) — Ben Procter, a Phi Beta Kappa who gained All-America recognition, is the first University of Texas athlete to receive the Ex-Student Association's "Outstanding Athlete-Scholar" award, which will go annually to a leading athlete who attains high scholastic honors.

Procter, a senior on the championship football squad, was virtually a unanimous All-Southwest Conference selection at end last fall, and he was selected on Bill Stern's All-America team. A history major, Procter was elected to Phi Beta Kappa early in the football season. He earned his third letter with the Longhorns in the 1950 football season and for two seasons was recognized as the best pass receiver in the Southwest. Procter played high school football in Austin and was named to the United Press all-state team as a center in 1944. He also lettered in basketball, baseball and track in high school. Procter's older brother, Les, was a guard on Texas 1942 championship team.

Ben was presented a scroll and a "Texas Longhorn" blanket by the Ex-Students' Association at the recent athletic banquet.

Grid Coach Hired

SEMINOLE — (P) — George Zoller, assistant football coach at Plainview the past two years, has been named head football coach of Seminole High School. He replaces Morris Shouthall, who is going to Winters.

"Castles in Spain" have become more than a romantic illusion. Ten of them, recently have been converted into hotels.

Managers Must Win League Title To Stay In Big Time

By HARRY GRAYSON NEA Sports Editor

MIAMI, Fla. (NEA) — Of the four new major league managers, only one — Charley Dressen of the Dodgers — has had previous experience as such.

Marty Marion of the Cardinals has had none at all. Al Lopez of the Indians and Paul Richards of the White Sox were highly-regarded minor league pilots.

But Chuck Dressen alone is in a position to tell the others just how easy it is to stub the toe in the big show.

Called up from Nashville, the Chicago Bears' original quarterback found out while Larry McPhail was building the Reds in the mid-1930s.

Only one club out of eight in each league can win, and second place is not nearly good enough in most metropolitan areas.

Even Joe McCarthy, the winningest manager of them all, was tabbed a second-place strategist on two different occasions.

Contributing much to making the manager's job so precarious is the public airing of a man's talent before red-hot fans.

"Why didn't he take the bum out?" "How can we win with that guy in left field?" "Why didn't he punt?" etc., etc.

It is not only that the owners and addicts want to win, but non-winners are reflected at the bucks office.

Fourteen of 16 managers won't come down in front in 1951. Burt Shotton copped two pennants in as many outings, then was fired when the Brooks lost to the Phillies in the 10th inning of the last game of the season. Bucky Harris got a similar deal from the Yankees.

Baseball is basically the same anywhere it is played, but Lopez and Richards and Dressen, in only a measure, have to learn not only their own players, but all the opposing athletes. They won't know all their hired hands and their idiosyncrasies until the second time around.

On top of that, in Lopez' case, Ellis W. Ryan and Hank Greenberg are probably bent on a pennant this year.

Booklet Cautions Against Panic, Rumor About Germs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Civil Defense Administration wants to head off public panic over fear of germ warfare attack, real or rumored. It has started circulating a pamphlet on "What You Should Know About Biological Warfare." The booklet is a companion piece to the previously published official pamphlet "Survival Under Atomic Attack."

Like the A-bomb guide, it is intended to bring the weapon into proper focus, to show it is not a universal killer, although like the atomic bomb, intended for mass destruction.

The biological warfare booklet says:

"Start a rumor and you may start a panic. A panic may cost your own life. So disregard wild talk about biological warfare and don't pass it on to your friends. . . . Don't listen to propaganda or scare-talk about how germs can wipe out a city."

(Military strategists long have recognized the value of creating confusion or exploiting it into panic to reduce the war effort of an opposing nation. Psychological warfare experts recognize that this can be done even without actually using a weapon, by merely planting the rumor that a secret weapon has or will be used.)

The CDA urges the public to "kill the myths," asserting that: "Germ warfare, or biological warfare, as it is correctly called, is a special weapon for use against special targets. No kind of biological warfare could kill or sicken every person in a large area or city."

"Talk of one ounce of (toxic material) killing millions of people is silly. You might as well talk of dividing one aspirin tablet evenly among the 11,000,000 people in the greater New York area."

The civil defense pamphlet said there is little to fear from the danger of some new kind of germ being used, that the danger is in new methods for spreading old diseases.

If an enemy wanted to kill large numbers of people, the booklet said, he might use such well-known diseases as plague, typhus, cholera or smallpox. To strike at the food sources of the country, he might seek to produce epidemic rinderpest (an Asiatic cattle plague) against livestock or anthrax or glanders for sheep and similar animals. Fowls could be attacked with Newcastle disease and other pests. "Many kinds of plant plagues and pests could be used to attack food crops," the booklet advised.

"Forget about 'mystery' germs and poisons," the CDA suggests. "How would the enemy plant his germs?"

There are two possibilities — open attack or stealth. The former method might involve release of "aerosol" (which means a cloud of something) from a plane flying fairly low "or the aerosol machines might be carried aboard submarines," the CDA says. It also notes biological material might be dropped in specially made bombs.

As to the methods of stealth, the booklet comments that fifth columnist might try to pollute factory food and water or air-ventilating systems or plant germs in city water mains (after the water had gone through the purification steps at reservoir sources).

As to combating germ attacks, the CDA points out that natural personal cleanliness and clean surroundings would help counter biological attacks.

Preacher Lures Kids With A Motorcycle

PACIFIC BEACH, Calif. — (AP) — Rev. Frank Crane, 27, reminds members of his church of the old-time country parsons who rode horseback to visit their far-flung parishioners. The difference is that Crane, a fifth generation Methodist minister, uses a motorcycle.

He makes daily calls on his modern contraption and says the idea has made him especially popular with the younger set.

"At first I had a tough time getting one youth group to at-

WIND BEHIND FIRE

WINDSOR, Ont. — (AP) — When a baseboard in a bathroom caught fire it took a little while to find the cause. Apparently wind had torn an eavestrough off the corner of the house and one end of it dropped on a live wire, causing a short circuit.

The new provisional state of the Saar is one-third larger than the post-World War I Saar Territory.

"I tend Sunday meetings," he says, "but when I started giving rides on the motorcycle to all who came the attendance boomed."

Paternity Leave Given By New York Concern

NEW YORK — (AP) — Maternity leave for employes is a routine benefit these days. But recently a large New York concern gave an employe a week's paternity leave.

The man applied formally for leave, explaining that he and his wife were adopting a baby girl. He wanted to travel to the mid-west and bring the new baby home, he said, while his wife remained behind preparing their other child for the new arrival.

East Side Of The Hill Safest Place For GI To Watch Fight

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

As far as you could see in the distance southward were the bobbing heads of oncoming soldiers. They paid little attention to the fight as they approached. To them it was just another routine battle and this was one they were in.

Some hardly glanced up at all. By passing the allied hill on the west side, they could stay out of range of the enemy fire. And this they did.

One group stopped on the south side of the hill, intending to stay there for the night. They brought out mess gear and began eating C-rations. A Red was on the south side of the hill to watch the action.

"The safest place to be is in a moving vehicle," he said, as cracking exchange of small arms fire never stopped. They hardly ever put machineguns used occasional tracers shot at a moving vehicle. These set trees and grass on fire on the Red-held hill. Another followed quickly.

The Chinese were trying to get many fires in the fading light of the afternoon.

The hill was no longer a safe place. The crew walked south. They were tired from away from the tank to a safer marching all day with their place. The Chinese threw five heavy gear. Their fireless more shells at the tank with showed in the deliberate way out hitting it and gave up.

But the booming, mortar bursts another. It showed in their sagging shoulders. These soldiers they know the Chinese could head crossed the Hongchon River, jump mountains right over the hill headed north toward the 25th Parallel.

"Are we going to cross again?" they ask. No one knows the answer.

It was growing darker swiftly. The sun had dropped be-

Students Receive Memberships In National Society

Seventeen seniors and 11 juniors in Pampa High School received membership in the National Honor Society last week. Membership is based on scholarship, character, leadership and service.

Seniors gaining the honor this year were: Beth Allen, Carter Burdette, Betty Colwell, Venita Cowan, Mariola Duval, Eulaine Ellis, Dick Greene, Betty Jackson, James Mayes, Ann Meyer, Erwin McDowell, Howard Musgrave, Betty Norman, Eddie Scheig, Ann Sidwell, Kenneth Williams and Elmer Wilson.

Juniors accepted were: Charlotte Allston, Carolyn Carver, Blynn Clemens, Donna Conley, DeWey Cudney, Duane Jeter, Bill McPherson, Jane Meyer, Jimmy Orr, Jackie Weathered and Jane Wilson.

As you went down the stream bed, the soldier columns still were marching north. A truck with two wounded soldiers on litters bounced over the white rocks of the dry stream bed, headed south. On a flat piece of ground, many tanks were parked in a wide circle for the night, reminding of the way settlers of the old West fringed their wagon trains as protection against enemy attacks.

The fires on the Communist hill glowed redder now in the gathering darkness. The guns were not so active. In 15 minutes or so it would be very dark, dark enough for the Reds to steal away in retreat.

Students Bring Honors Home From Abilene

JANE WILSON

Pampa High School students attending the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y annual conference in Abilene last weekend brought back home a number of honors.

Jane Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, was elected to the position of secretary-treasurer of the West Texas District Tri-Hi-Y.

Carl Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Kennedy, presided as district president for the opening session held at McMurry College. "Christianity Today-Peace Tomorrow" was the theme of the program.

Another Pampa High School student, Harold Comer, won second place in the speakers contest.

Both the Pampa Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y received an A rating on the Honor Banner. The PHS scrapbooks were picked as two of the best of all represented clubs.

The Hi-Y basketball team, including Duane Jeter, Tony Jones, James Claunch, Buzzy Tarpley and Lawrence Rice won the Hi-Y basketball tournament for the second consecutive year. The trophy was received by Eddie Scheig.

Sixty-four delegates went from PHS, having one of the largest delegations attending the conference. There were 800 members of the two organizations gathered.

Pampan To Attend Insurance Meeting

O. F. Shewmaker, Jefferson Standard Life Insurance Co. representative in Pampa, is planning to leave about April 11 to attend the national convention for representatives of the company in Washington, D. C.

His family will accompany him on the trip. Attendance at the convention is at company expense — is based on the qualification rules.

Out of 14,000 other agents, Shewmaker rates 13th in his standing with the company on sales. These agents are from 30 states, Puerto Rico and Washington, D. C.

The U. S. National Museum has listed in its catalogues more than 27,000,000 biological specimens — with 11,600,000 of them insects; 9,250,000 mollusks, and 2,400,000 plants.

Commerce Ministry Denies Tire Shipment

NEW DELHI — (AP) — The Commerce Ministry has denied in Parliament that an Indian firm shipped 14,000 giant tires to Hong Kong last year — presumably for later sale to the Chinese Communists.

The ministry reported that Indian manufacturers exported 44,047 large tires and 36,695 tubes in 1950 and other exporters shipped 12,500 sets of such tires and tubes. These went to numerous destinations, the ministry said.

ADDIS ABABA — (AP) — The recent release from prison of Italian ex-marshal Rodolfo Graziani brought violent protest from Ethiopia's only newspaper. Graziani commanded the Italian troops which conquered Ethiopia in 1935-36. He is wanted by the Ethiopian government for alleged war crimes and atrocities.

In 1944 Graziani became war minister in the Mussolini government set up by Mussolini in northern Italy. After World War II, the former marshal was sentenced to 19 years by an Italian tribunal, on charges of treason. But he was released in August following an amnesty.

Students Give Easter Play

"The Seamless Robe," an Easter play, will be presented in Pampa High School assembly Thursday.

The play to be performed by one of the dramatics classes taught by Thelma Henslee, portrays a variation from the usual side of the Easter story.

Kenneth Williams plays the part of Moxa, a Hebrew man, who followed Jesus. Prisca, his wife, will be played by Mariola Duval; and Anush, his lame daughter, will be played by Dolores Miller.

Naral, a young Hebrew woman, who thinks Jesus is a false prophet, is played by Norma Self. Charlotte Hendricks will portray Sarah, a wealthy Hebrew woman; and Bethiah, a poor Hebrew woman who weaves the seamless robe is played by Doris Walker.

Roman soldiers will be played by Billy Rex Campbell, Robert Dixon, Travis Mitchell, C. E. Pipes and Ed Langford.

Malaya Is Seeking More Landing Straps

SINGAPORE — (AP) — Rubber planters in Malaya are being asked to build air landing strips on their estates.

The Malayan Airways needs more landing places in line with its expanded program and the potential military value is being considered. All airstrips, however small, in many cases could be adapted for use as emergency landing grounds for fighter aircraft.

A bounty has been placed on them—but there is no evidence they do more than eat carrion.

Boys Preferred To Girl Boarders

SASKATOON — (AP) — Equality of the sexes just doesn't apply in Saskatoon when it comes to student accommodation. Five out of every six rooming-house keepers prefer boy boarders to girls.

Claude Penson, University of Saskatchewan housing registrar, said boys seemed to be generally preferred because girls were always "washing and ironing and occupying the bathroom."

Doctor Doesn't Believe In Forcing Children To Eat

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — What do you do about the child who won't eat?

The best thing is to let him alone, says a leading pediatrician, Dr. Milo B. Brooks. He believes there are certain personal liberties — eating, breathing, sleeping — which shouldn't be regimented.

"Interfering with such natural functions in a normal child is an invasion of privacy," he told a news conference. "I've known mothers who tried to regulate the rate of breathing in their children because they'd read somewhere that a child should take one deep breath in every six."

Dr. Brooks is head of the Pediatrics Department at the College of Medical Evangelists here. He is directing short courses in that subject at the college's medical convention.

"The child who won't eat," said Dr. Brooks, "is one of our biggest problems. I would say it is almost entirely the result of the mother's attempt to force food upon children."

Normal children, he said, "come with built-in appetites." They eat when they are hungry. A child can skip eating for several days without harm, in his opinion.

"The truth is that no child should have all he wants to eat. Children and adults too should eat 10 percent less than they feel they want, except in rare pathological instances.

"That old admonition, 'clean up your plate,' has been misinterpreted. What it really meant originally was that you shouldn't put too much on your plate in the first place. I don't think it's generally realized that 40 percent of the energy gained from food is used up in the processes of digestion and assimilation."

A snack after school is all right, but Brooks doesn't approve of indiscriminate between-meals piecing, and he discourages food as a plaything.

"Children should have food to eat and toys to play with. The two shouldn't be mixed," he said.

Distributor For Skelly To Open

An expansion program in this area is underway for the Utility Oil and Supplies, 610 E. Tynge, Skelly Distributor.

The company is owned and operated by Clarence Arnold, Loyd Simpson and John Skelly, Jr. Dealers for the newly added distributors in various Panhandle towns will be announced later.

Cities to be served are Pampa, Borger, Stinnett, McLean, Shamrock, Wheeler, Canadian, Groom, Lefors and Miami.

The company distributes Skelly Gasoline, oils, solvents and accessories.

Powered for thrills - Priced for thrift!

HERE, packed in 3,615 nimble pounds and 204.8 inches of over-all length, is the car marvel of '51.

In the few short weeks since it started to roll off the assembly lines, it has written a bright new page in automotive history for the low-priced field.

What Buick engineers have done is come up with a brand-new high-style body — new in every contour and dimension.

They've designed a brand-new, weight-saving frame, exclusively for this SPECIAL.

Then they've added the power-packed F-263 Fireball engine—which was new in the 1950 SUPER—and just wait till you see what that does for this nimble performer.

There's a power-to-weight ratio that spells thrill and thrift in operation—at a first cost that's just a breath away from the lowest price level.

We'd like you to see and drive this newest Buick marvel—find out for yourself what a honey it is to handle, and what a cinch it is to buy. Why not drop in and see us the very first chance you get?

No other car provides all this:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE—saves strain on driver and car
- FIREBALL POWER—high-compression, valve-in-head engine gets more good from every drop of fuel
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT—combines smart style and unsurpassed protection
- SELF-ENERGIZING BRAKES—hydraulic—multiply pedal-pressure five times at brake drum

Industry Is Cooperating On Steel Allocation Program

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Applications for tubular steel for oil operations already are pouring into the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD). It was only a few days ago that the agency announced the program for handling allocation of such materials to the oil industry.

March 31 is the deadline for filing applications with the PAD for deliveries in the quarter beginning July 1.

Prompt response of operators in sending along their applications is gratifying to the agency. A PAD spokesman said it bespeaks the oil industry's cooperation in the program designed to assure adequate steel goods.

The applications have to be made on PAD Form 17 for Defense Order 48. A PAD inventory form, listing all above-ground supplies, must accompany the application.

From April 1 to July 1, emergency supplies of steel for wildcat or off-set drilling operations can be asked on another form, defense order 48 E. The procedure is to be used if an operator can't find urgently needed steel goods on the open market.

The United States is divided into five general areas under the PAD allocation system, and applications are to be filed according to district of operation, not by residence of the operator.

The five areas are Atlantic Seaboard, Midwest, South and Southwest, Rocky Mountain states, and West Coast.

The PAD also announced 13 cities in which warehouses will handle tubular goods for wildcat agencies and don't have time to await approval of a regular application.

These cities are Los Angeles, Calif.; Shreveport and Harvey, La.; Great Bend, Kan.; Casper, Wyo.; Grayville, Ill.; Oklahoma City, Okla.; Charleston, W. Va.; Mount Pleasant, Mich.; and Houston, Alice, Odessa and Wichita Falls, Tex.

These warehouses are to handle the five percent of all oil field steel tubular goods which the National Production Authority has decided to set aside for emergency use. They will receive a total of about 7,500 tons of such steel monthly.

Meanwhile, the PAD has issued these regulations which it hopes the petroleum industry will voluntarily adopt as steel-saving measures:

1. Greater spacing of wells;
2. Care in pressure maintenance of reservoirs and repressuring at single units;
3. Reduction in sizes of pipes wherever necessary and elimination of unnecessary piping;
4. Wider use of dual completion, permitting a single well to tap oil-bearing sands at different depths.

Charles Pratt Rather of Birmingham, Ala., president of the Southern Natural Gas Co., has been assistant deputy administrator of the PAD. He will deal with problems affecting the transmission and distribution of natural gas.

Seventh Grade Entertained At A Texas Banquet Friday

Seventh graders and their guests were entertained Friday night at their annual Texas banquet with several musical selections and a pageant, "Texas Under Six Flags."

About 320 students and teachers attended with Mr. and Mrs. Knox Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Edmondson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Herman Jones, Dr. Ruth Lowes, and Miss Jean Moore, Mrs. La Neils Christopher and Miss Ila Pool as guests.

Decorations for the banquet featured an Indian motif, displaying designs, canoes, tomahawks, headdresses, peace pipes and totem poles used by the ten main tribes that once inhabited Texas. The art work was done by seventh grade art students.

Those attending were dressed in costumes indicating some person famous in Texas history. Prizes were awarded to the three best girls' costumes and the three best boys' costumes. A grand march began the festivities.

Ramona Hudgins played a piano solo, followed by two harmonica selections by Billy Cobb and one selection by the Girls' sextet, accompanied by Mary Ann Becker. Others on the music program were Harold Studebaker, Nickie Lewter, Jeannette Boney, Barbara Sharpe, Martha Skelly, Mary Lynn Miller, the boys' sextet.

The pageant depicted the Indians, French, Spanish, Mexicans, Texans, Confederates, Union soldiers and the effects of each of the history of Texas.

The program was closed with a square dance, "Dive for the Oyster," called by Jim Osborne.

Home Fires Keep Family On Move

ELDRED, Ill. — (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Paul Fullerton and their son, Pauly, are wondering whether the third time's the charm or whether they should find a new home site.

Two years ago, a fire destroyed their home near this small southwestern Illinois town. They lived for several months in a tent until their new home was built. But it was destroyed by a fire too.

Many People Want Noise From Tires

AKRON, O. — (AP) — Does the hum or rumble of your tires on the road bother you? For many motorists, such noises in moderation provide a feeling of safety.

William F. Billingsley, designer for one of the big tire manufacturers (B. F. Goodrich), says a noiseless tire could be made. Billingsley says, but it would have little skid resistance probably not enough for good starting, stopping and steering.

Area Students Are Honored

Several area students of Texas Tech were honored recently at the recognition convocation at the Tech Gymnasium by Dr. D. M. Wiggins, president.

James L. Cooke, McLean was one of three who received a college honor key. His major is engineering.

Individual honors are given a student, who is recognized for the first time. Class honors for the second recognition; divisional honors for the third recognitions and college honors for the fourth time.

Among the seniors honored were Jean Pratt Lusher, Pampa. Class honors were conferred upon Twila M. Smith, Pampa and receiving individual honors were Don, J. Lusher, Pampa and Chester Goughly, McLean.

Receiving football letters were Robert Ciose, Shamrock and Eural Ramsey, Shamrock.

High School Elects Class Favorites

The student body of Pampa High School has elected class favorites by popular vote.

Greatest Problem We Face Today Is Problem Of Mental Health' Dr. Whittle Tells Pampa Group

"The greatest problem we face today is the problem of mental health," Dr. R. T. Whittle told an audience of approximately 100 Business and Professional Women's Club members and guests at a dinner meeting in the City-Club Room Tuesday night.

"Mental disease," Dr. Whittle said "is graver and more serious than heart disease. In fact, one out of every 15 persons will at some time in their lives spend some time in a mental institution," and he went on to say that at the present rate of growing tumult in the world another five years will increase the number considerably.

'Old Texas Cow Trails' Discussed By Mrs. Gee For Civic Culture Club

Mrs. Emmett Gee led the program on "Texas and Texans; the Old Cow Trail," at a meeting of the Civic Culture Club Tuesday, held in the home of Mrs. M. M. Moyer. Mrs. Gee said "Stephen F. Austin was responsible for much of the settlement of East Texas, but West Texas colonization was to come much later.

"Col. Charles Goodnight, with his herd of cattle, settling in the Palo Duro Canyon, and other cattlemen were the foundation that permanently established this into a cattle country.

Mrs. Gee continued "The life of T. D. Hobart is typical of the historic process of settlement of the Panhandle. He came to Mobeetie, near old Fort Elliot, in 1882, when this part of the state had just gone through its first stage of development. Its resources were undeveloped and much of its territory was yet unexplored.

"Mr. Hobart was representative for three large land corporations and when he came to Mobeetie he was in the office of Temple Houston, son of General Sam Houston.

"Fort Elliot, last Army Post established in Texas, was on the fork of the trails that led from Fort Worth to Dodge City and Fort Griffin."

Mrs. Gee stated that many of the cattle ranges established at the turn of the century are still in use, supplying prime purebred cattle for the market.

At the business session, presided over by Mrs. Irvin Cole, president, Mrs. Lloyd Rinehart, president-elect, announced her committees for the next club year as follows: civic, Mrs. A. D. Hill, Mrs. K. A. Vincent and Mrs. Erwin Thompson; program, Mrs. D. W. Coffman, Mrs. E. Van Sickle, Mrs. Emmett Gee and Mrs. Willis White; finance, Mrs. M. M. Moyer, Mrs. E. A. Shackleton and Mrs. Leo Paris; special committee, Mrs. John Brandon, Mrs. J. B. Townsend and Mrs. Irvin Cole; social, Mrs. H. W. Waters, Mrs. A. C. Houchin and Mrs. F. W. Shotwell. Roll call was answered with historic events.

Mrs. Hills urged all members to join the newly organized unit of the League of Women Voters. Mrs. Cole announced that the Federation of Women's Clubs will hold the national convention in (See TEXAS, Page 10)

What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

By MARY ANNE DUKE

UPHOLSTERY SCHOOL Gray County Home Demonstration Club leaders attended an all-day Upholstery School Thursday. This school was held in the Merchant's Building at Recreation Park.

H. L. Ogan and Virgil Jones, professionally trained upholsterers from Vantime's were in charge of the school.

The club leaders were first shown the essential tools necessary to do a professional upholstery job. Among these were upholsterer's hammer, a webbing stretcher, a ripping tool for removing tacks, a stuffing regulator, upholsterer's shears, upholsterer's straight needle, upholsterer's pin or skewer, and webbing, twine, tacks, etc.

Then the leaders were shown how to measure chairs for material. To determine the amount of upholstery material needed, measure over the old upholstery. Use a steel tape measure, if possible, or a yardstick. Ordinary cloth tape measures are likely to stretch and prove inaccurate. Nearly all upholstery material is 54 inches wide as this width has been found the most economical.

The upholstery was then removed from three different type chairs. While doing this the club leaders were told to watch how the upholstery job had been done the first time. This is especially important if trained help is not around to help with the upholstery job.

After the webbing was properly stretched and tacked and the springs checked and properly tied, the burlap was tacked and sewed over the springs.

Mr. Ogan and Mr. Jones showed various materials which are used as stuffing. Spanish moss, upholsterer's cotton kapok and pig hair are all good, they said.

It is recommended that muslin be tacked over the stuffing and then the upholstery material put on. Light weight plastic was used to cover two of the chairs. Special techniques were shown for using plastic material to keep it from splitting, tearing and stretching later.

The following attended the upholstery school: Mmes. Lois Page, Margaret Grogan, and Kathleen Dyarnt from McLean; Mmes. Ronald Dauer, D. W. Swain and J. B. Jones from the Bell Club; Mmes. Guss Green, Ed Greene, Ed Barnes, Ernest Edwards and H. B. Taylor, Sr. from Wayside Club; Mmes. R. E. Engle and A. McElrath from Worthwhile Club; Mmes. D. A. Rife, A. Swafford, P. J. Boyd, and A. M. Nash from Meriton Club, and Mrs. W. E. Melton from Hopkins.

The above trained club leaders and the agent will give the upholstery demonstration to each home demonstration club during April.

Riche-Martin Wedding Rites Are Performed

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Riche of Galveston, and C. M. Martin, of Pampa, were married at 9:15 p.m. Thursday, March 8, in the Central Christian Church in Galveston. The Rev. Harrell A. Rea officiated at the ceremony.

Mrs. Jerry Ferguson of Galveston was her mother's only attendant. She wore a powder blue dress with pink accessories and matching corsage. Henry Alvin Martin of Houston attended his father as best man.

The bride was attired in a teal blue beaded dress. With it she wore black velvet accessories and a rose corsage.

A reception followed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Ferguson.

Mrs. Martin is a former Pampa businesswoman. Mr. Martin has been with the Cabot Plant in Pampa for 24 years.

After a wedding trip to Dallas, the couple will live at 226 Craven Street in Pampa.

WOMAN OF THE WEEK

WHEN IRISH EYES ARE SMILIN'-Mrs. Kimble Neel, the former Nora Brennan of Ireland, is a very busy wife and mother, yet finds time to do some interior decorating. Her work may be seen in some of the new buildings in Pampa, but she is too modest to tell which ones. She is the mother of Barbara, 1, and Kimble Jerry, five weeks old. She has been in this country only four years and her speech is still colored with a thick Irish brogue. She has two sisters, Mrs. J. B. Johnson and Mrs. B. C. Brands, in Amarillo.

MR. AND MRS. TOM BIRD

Birds Observe 59 Years Of Married Life

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bird, who chose St. Patrick's Day for their wedding day, celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary yesterday with a family reunion in their home at 405 S. Wall, Shamrock. They were married at Kaufman, Texas, March 17, 1892.

Last spring the Birds bought an old school house and they, with their sons helping, turned it into one of the prettiest homes in Shamrock. They moved into the new home in August.

They have seven children, C.C. and Roy Bird of Amarillo; Jim of Wichita Falls; Chester of Borger; Mrs. M. A. Swyer of Shamrock; Mrs. M. E. Archer of Bastow, Calif.; and Mrs. O. M. Zeigler of Fort Worth.

The Birds, who are looking forward to their 60th anniversary next year, when they are planning a real "blow," have only one formula for marital happiness—"treat each other right." He is almost 79 and she is 76.

ENGAGED Mr. and Mrs. Ray Chastain of Lefors announce the engagement of their daughter, Barbara, to Ray Douglas Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Horn of Hopkins.

BEST PLEDGE—Miss Joyce Harrah, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Harrah, has been elected Chi Omega best pledge at Southern Methodist University, where she is a freshman student. Miss Harrah is also a member of COGS, on the dean's list, Y representative to the steering committee, a member of the Raquet Club, and of the Intra-Mural teams. The best pledge is chosen on the basis of fraternity attitude, general excellence, scholarship, activities and service to school.

Easter Program Is Scheduled For WSCS Tuesday

Mrs. T. W. Whigham will present "An Easter Panorama" at the Easter program for the Women's Society of Christian Service in the chapel of the First Methodist Church Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. A reception will be held following the program in honor of the guest speaker. The reception will be in the church parlor.

The story, which Mrs. Whigham wrote, is an imaginary journey, beginning early Easter morning, March 25, 1951, on the East coast and taking a trip westward with the sun, thus seeing Easter sunrise services all along the way.

Also on the program will be a song, "I Was There When They Crucified My Lord," sung by Mrs. Kenneth Irwin, and "He Arose" sung by a trio accompanied by Mrs. Dauner.

Mayors Selected For Hopteen Club

Marva Su Stone and Arthur Smith were elected mayors of the Hopteen Club at a dance held at Lake McClellan.

The club also elected new council members as follows: Neva Lynn Cox, Carolyn Minnear, Patsy Young, Walker Bird, Eugene Finchum and Alton Finchum. Floor managers are Alma Ruth Alverson and Don Smith.

Sponsors of the Hopteen Club are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Walis and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hutchens.

The club, which was organized three years ago, celebrated its anniversary with a tacky party last night.

Florene Williams, J. M. Jones, Jr., Are Married

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Williams of Borger announce the marriage of their daughter, Florene, to J. Moore Jones, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Moore Jones, southeast of Pampa.

The ceremony was read at 3 p. m. March 5, by the Rev. Paul R. Himeley, in the First Methodist Church of Clayton, New Mexico.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cunningham of Guyton, Oklahoma, attended the couple. Mrs. Cunningham is a sister of the bridegroom.

The couple will make their home in Borger, where Mr. Jones is employed by Phillips Petroleum Co.

Sunday School Class Honors Husbands

Members of the Ruth Sunday School Class of the First Baptist Church honored their husbands and officers of the Adult No. 1 Department with a banquet Thursday evening, March 15. An Easter motif was carried out in the decorations and plate favors.

Mr. Floyd Watson acted as toastmaster. Mrs. Howard Sims, president of the class, gave a welcoming address and introduced the following special guests: Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. R. Virgil Mott, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hatcher, Margaret Humphries sang "Summer Serenade" and "My Johann," accompanied by Mrs. Mott. Mrs. Burton Reynolds gave a devotional. The evening's entertainment was brought to a close with a sing-song led by R. Virgil Mott.

Those attending were: Mrs. Raymond Gaddy, Mrs. Harvey Eurt, Mrs. H. R. Snider, Mrs. Howard Hall, Mrs. Burton Reynolds, Miss Margaret Humphries, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cole, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Waters, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Giddison, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Martin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sims, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Graham, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Ward, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Sanders, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Watson.

Palaver de Pampa

BOY, HOWDY! This old Peg really got a tongue-lashing after these jogs last week on a man's fishing trip. Mister Peg got positively livid with rage and said, "There's nothing quite so harassing AND THERE'S MORE. He goes on to say: "And when we fellows: ing to get all disheveled and bedraggled, a woman gets that way in only three hours of shopping!" And he says he's never seen a bunch of his cronies feud 'n fuss over a prize fishing catch like my gender clamors over bargain counters. WELL, REALLY!

AND THERE'S MORE. He goes on to say: "And when we fellows sit around hunting and fishing, you other halves don't sit back and listen and smile your indulgent smiles. Nosiree! You twitter and giggle about the last shopping expedition, mourn the dear little hat you didn't buy, or you ponder whatever possessed that character Susan to buy such an extravagant, peagreen, yellow-striped blouse!" (Note: Peg believes in freedom of speech, else these famous last words would not be repeated here verbatim). He said we girls had our own little "funny-to-nobody-but-us" jokes and on he went, blah, blah, and nausium. And even if I do believe in freedom of speech, I'm not going to put down here all he said.

WE LOVED our visit to the Little Scout House last Sunday. Mrs. Lynn Boyd and Mrs. Glenn Radcliff assisted with the serving. Mr. Peg says girls big and little just gave a way about them—they can serve punch and cookies and make it seem better tea at the White House. The Scouts were very gracious, don't you think, and very proud of the new decor of their house? (Mrs. Harvey Nentel had a hand in that). Think I recognized Mrs. J. L. Wrinkle there—she's only recently back from a Scouting conference in Oklahoma.

YOU HAVE PROBABLY got the box of cookies you ordered from the Girl Scouts a few weeks ago. They are such nice, fresh cookies and the Scout emblem is pressed on each one, and we wish we had bought more. A box of cookies doesn't go too far at our house—and especially those didn't.

PAMPA PANORAMA—Porch lights were on in scattered spots Friday night for the Red Cross collection. They are one of the few groups who can't join the Community Chest, but let's hope something can be worked out whereby we'll have some fund-raising campaigns going over the top rather than falling short of goal after goal. ... Spied pretty, likeable Joy Williams driving past ... adore her carefree, comfortable looking hairstyle ... The R. W. Tuckers' sparkling daughter, Bobbie, of West Texas State has been visiting here ... planning on a visit from their son over Easter ... Glimpsed Mrs. E. L. Biggerstaff waving goodbye to a friend at her front door the other day ... She's such a lovely person and she looked especially nice in her black and white dress ... Mrs. Roy's daughter had a good group at her forum the other afternoon ... Another good thing was the talk Mrs. Jack Foster gave to the women's group the other day ... Her South American sojourn provides such interesting topics ... Mrs. Jewel Shackelford looked oh, so smart in her black ensemble last week ... a wonderful person! ... Mrs. Joe Tomkinson, such a nice person, hosted Twentieth Century Culture Club the other afternoon ... Another capable hostess is Mrs. Clifford Braly ... She's a dependable worker in Presbyterian circles ... That church met for an unusually nice covered-dish supper on Wednesday ... There's a new supper club first-nighting over Amarillo way this week end ... Haven't heard of any reservations made by local folks ... We have too many good restaurants here I s'pose ... A good group of Pampans attended the Iurbi concert there Tuesday ... Mrs. Eben Warner, Mrs. Malcolm Brown (talented pianist herself) and Mrs. Finis Jordan ... You'd like visiting with Mr. Mayes down at the Pennant Club ... He's a real sports enthusiast and a "swell guy" ... Congratulations to the parents of three high ranking students at PHS: the D. W. Hamptons, the J. P. Osbornes and Hugh Burdettes ... Also to the Bill Frasers who, for the second time, have a daughter wearing the basketball queen crown ... Can't resist adding that the Frasers have one of the friendliest kitchens in town with just a touch of the ranch style ... Their older daughter is now at Southern Methodist.

DO DECLARE I wish all the building permits had to be filed through Peg o' Pampa! That way I'd be sure to know who was building and where. There are so many lovely new houses going up in Frasier and the ones that were finished during the winter months are taking on extra color with new shrubs and just a hint that there's grass in them that yards! Seems more people have the yen to build on this spring. The Ernest Areys, I hear, have built on and there's going to be much more room at the F. M. Foster home when the building is completed. Some work is being done at the D. C. Houck residence—about the garage. Dr. and Mrs. Sawyer have "glassed in" their breezeway and it's very nice. Over on Garland (1305) a nice new entry has been built on the house. (Seems I recall a very good Christmas decoration on that house. Right?)

ALSO A LOT of redecorating going on. Have heard of some activity at the Gene Fatherses, and also at the Rex Rose home, no details. The R. P. Rossmans have decorators busy at their house, and the Bob Standfords look to be all "straightened out" after a siege with painters and the like. (They have some lovely drapes up). Understand Mrs. E. L. Gallemore just went off on a visit and let the paperhangers take over her house. Smart planning, if you ask me. It's always such a chore, but the effects are real "builder-uppers"—not only to the houses but also to the people therein.

PEG'S SURELY going to miss her friends the Warren Hasses in her little games of blind man's buff and hide 'n seek. Have not yet met the new editor, Mr. Gettely, but to him here's a firm 'n friendly Texas handshake and a whooping big welcome to our town from

PEG O' PAMPA.

Mrs. Nichols Hosts Art, Civic Club

Mrs. Jack Nichols was hostess to the Lefors Art and Civic Club Tuesday evening.

The program was on Ireland and roll call was answered by naming an Irish song. Mrs. Wayne Koschinski was program leader. Mrs. Maurice Upham talked on "The Country as a Whole" and Mrs. Ray Boyd discussed "The History of St. Patrick's Day."

Plans were made for a banquet to be held next month. Those present were Mmes. Robert Cellan, Mac Winter, L. R. Spence, Maurice Upham, Bill Smith, Wayne Koschinski, R. L. Jordan, Bud Cumberland, Eldon Carter, Dick Bull, Ray Royd, Marion Brown, Bob Brown, R. H. Barron, Earl Atkinson, Howard Archer and the hostess.

Patty Sue White Is Honored With Party

Patty Sue White was honored with a party on her fourth birthday, March 12, in her home at 1344 Christine.

Pictures of the group were made and the honoree opened her gifts. Refreshments were served with Easter bunnies as plate favors.

Those present were Martha Bearden, Jimmy Brumley, Karen and Kerick Warner, Diane Mathers, Joy Ann Schulz, Martha Barrett, David Egerton, Sandra and Mickey Jo Beard, Sandra Shey, Mike Jay, Douglas Hick, Clifton High, I. B. Hughey, V. J. Jamieson, Roy McKernan, Fred Nealge, George Scott, Frank Stallings, H. R. Thompson and George Vineyard.

Varietas Club Studies Women In Various Fields

"Women in Various Fields" was subject of the Tuesday meeting of the Varietas Study Club, with Mrs. J. G. Doggett as program leader.

Mrs. Doggett said "The Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences came into being to give status and constructive support to films and their makers. Among many other activities the academy confers a series of high awards for creative achievement. On "Oscar" night the full membership of the academy hands out 26 golden statuettes to the deserving, chosen by secret individual ballot of some 12,500 members."

Mrs. Doggett mentioned some of the actresses who are contenders for the coveted award this year. She then introduced Mrs. J. G. Vollmert, who spoke on popular radio entertainers. Mrs. Vollmert presented her talk in the form of a radio program, and described the work of several well known radio performers.

Mrs. Lutter Peterson, whose subject was "Texas Women Jurists," said that Judge Sarah T. Hughes, Dallas attorney, was admitted to practice law in Texas and the District of Columbia in 1922 and before the Supreme Court of the United States in 1927.

Mrs. Pierson said "she served as representative from Dallas County from 1931 to 1935 and was voted its most valuable member. She has served 12 years as district judge."

A dessert plate was served to Mrs. Hugh Morrow, a guest, and members, Mrs. J. E. Kuehman, R. W. Lane, C. L. McKinney, J. C. McMillan, Luther Pierson, V. C. Vollmert, Sherman White, Frankie Wilson, Henry Butler, Louise Caldwell, J. C. Cargle, J. G. Doggett, H. P. Doster, S. C. Evans, H. T. Hampton, Lee Harrah, E. E. Imel, E. J. Haslam, Dow King and Ralph Thomas.

Billy Wicker Wins First In School's Spelling Contest

Interscholastic League Spelling Contest winners at Pampa High School have been announced by the director, Miss Mary Dean Dozier, sophomore English teacher.

Billy Wicker, freshman, won a first, Beverly Williams, a sophomore, second; Leo D. O'Gorman, freshman, third.

The first and second place winners will represent Pampa High School at the district contest held in Amarillo April 7. Third place winner will serve as alternate.

The 100 percent papers entered in the district contest will be sent to Austin to be judged on spelling and handwriting in statewide competition.

Veal Shanks Go High-Hat

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

You'd never connect the idea of economical veal shanks with Niccolio do Quattrocechi who owns the fabulous El Borracho Restaurant in New York. But take a taste of this. It comes from his amazing new book called "Love and Dishes."

Milanese Veal Shanks
(Serves 4)

Two veal shanks, 1 carrot, chopped; 1 onion, chopped; 3 1/2 tablespoons olive oil; 3 1/2 tablespoons butter; 1/4 cup chopped celery; 1 teaspoon parsley, chopped; 1 cup dry sherry; 2 tablespoons tomato paste, salt and pepper.

Heat oil and butter in deep saucepan, and in it brown veal which has been cut into 3-inch pieces. Add salt and pepper and all chopped vegetables. Cover pan and simmer about 10 minutes. Blend sherry with tomato paste and add slowly to pot, stirring every so often. Cover pan again and allow to simmer about half an hour.

Pork Chops

Four loin pork chops, 1 clove garlic, chopped; 1 cup bread crumbs; 3 1/2 tablespoons olive oil; 1 egg; 1 cup vinegar; 1 teaspoon parsley, chopped; 1/2 cup flour, salt and pepper.

Soak chops in vinegar for 1 hour. Remove, dry and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Beat egg, adding a small amount of water. Roll chops in flour, then dip in egg, then in mixture of bread crumbs, garlic, parsley, salt and pepper. Fry in oil quickly, browning on both sides. Reduce flame, cover and continue cooking until well done.

Evaluation Team Has Much Praise For Canadian School

By LOUISE ZYBACH
News Correspondent

CANADIAN — (Special) — An evaluation team, completing a two-day inspection of the Canadian Public Schools Wednesday afternoon, found much to praise, and had few criticisms to offer, of the local school system.

Dr. J. L. Russell, dean of the graduate division of West Texas State College, who headed the 15-man evaluation committee, made a detailed preliminary report of their findings before more than a hundred teachers, parents and interested citizens at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association in the school cafeteria last week.

Committee members praised the school administration, its physical plant and a number of departments, and offered a number of recommendations for improvement in the system. No rating was made in the reports of individual teachers.

Prefacing his report, Dr. Russell quoted Governor Allan Shivers from an address made before the National Association of School Administrators at Atlantic City last month:

"A community is likely to have just as bad a school as its people will permit... or just as good a school as they will demand."

He urged school board patrons to demand the best.

Dr. Russell had praise for local students. "You have the finest bunch of boys and girls I have ever seen," he said. "This was the unanimous opinion of the committee. That doesn't just happen. Some parents are partially accountable for that, and some teachers may take credit."

He also complimented Supt. A. H. Brazzale, and Principals Frank Truitt and Jack Sutton for "making one of the best schools in the state."

"Everything was well planned," Dr. Russell said.

He then introduced the various committee chairmen who made reports of their committees.

Supt. Elmer Moore of Sherman High School, in the committee report on staff, administration, and tax collection and assessment agencies, was the first to report. Moore said all records had been found "in excellent shape," and especially singled out the follow-up records kept on students who graduate from the local schools.

Property valuations in the school district, he noted, are low. "The tax rate is meeting minimum requirements now," Moore warned, "but it may take more than that to meet the needs."

Supt. Ray Vineyard of White Deer, head of a committee which inspected the library, school plant and equipment, was high in his praise of the school buildings. "You people are to be commended on your foresight in providing an adequate physical plant," he said. "Your high school building approaches the ideal. With completion of the new elementary school building and renovation of the old, you will be well-equipped to meet current needs."

Condition of the buildings is excellent, Vineyard said, "and the custodians are to be congratulated."

He recommended more space for Vocational Agriculture and Industrial Arts Departments, and urged that industrial arts classes be extended to include girls.

Vineyard noted school equipment, in most cases, was adequate.

He recommended the addition of a tape recorder and record player for the Speech and English Departments, noted that a film strip library had been started, and that visual aid devices were good.

Vineyard had praise for the high school library and the librarian, Mrs. Preston Hutton, whom he described as "thoroughly trained and experienced." The library, he noted, is extensively used and well-arranged. There is a good selection of periodicals, he said, and reference books are "adequate." He recommended some additions to the reference library.

O. B. Ginn, principal of Will Rogers School of Amarillo, head of the Elementary School committee, commended the school staff and administration; noted some relations between teachers and pupils, a good library appropriation, good health program, high percentage of attendance and effective music program in the elementary schools.

He recommended the elementary school principal be relieved of all classroom duties; that teacher-pupil planning be enlarged upon and pupils be given more part; that a teacher-planned program of supervised play be improved; urged that a special art teacher be employed to carry out a creative art program; and that the Baker Building be renovated.

High School Principal L. A. Anderson of Perryton, heading the committee on high school activities and guidance, reported "most teachers are doing a good job of incidental guidance, as evidenced by general good behavior of students; commended the school on a "better than average system of guidance at enrollment time" and "better than average testing for interests and ability, and complimented the high school on the high percentage of participation in extra-curricular activities. "More than 80 percent of the students take part in some extra-curricular activity, and that's good," he said.

He recommended the addition of a Student Council; urged more free time for administrative and classroom teachers for guidance work; and advised the community to strike a balance on outside demands on teachers' time.

Prof. Drennan of Clarendon, head of the Clarendon Junior College, headed the committee on the program of studies.

"You have a good school," he told the group. "The way to get boys and girls to do the way it looks like your boys and girls are doing... that's the way to run a school."

Prof. Drennan of covered all departments briefly. Among his comments: Mathematics: the field covered seems broad enough. Subjects are good.

Physical education: Not enough girls taking part. Recommended two years compulsory physical education for all students in high school.

Agriculture Department: Good for first year. Facilities weak.

Art: Work is good... above average.

Business Administration: Work seemed excellent. Don't know if it meets the approval of local businessmen.

English: Recommend addition of fourth year English course. Record player needed by department.

Home Economics: Outstanding work.

Shop: Facilities are inadequate. Work is good.

Music: Good. Perhaps too much emphasis on talented students at expense of those less talented.

Science and Social Studies: Good.

Health and Safety program: High program inadequate but probably on a par with other schools in area. Recommended services of health nurse, cumulative health records.

Speech Department: Highly recommended. "Either students or teachers, or both, are above average," he commented. Recommended purchase of some audio-visual equipment.

In concluding the report, Russell told the group that a coordinated report of all committees would be made in writing to the school.

He also sounded a warning that teachers are underpaid. "Teachers make schools," he said. Living costs here are as high as anywhere in the Panhandle. You're going to lose some good teachers because they're not making a living.

Meat tenderness, according to recent studies, increases from three to 15 days after slaughter.

Bridal Shower Is Favor For Mrs. Frank Hinds

Mrs. Frank Hinds, the former Helen Newman, was guest of honor at a bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. Ira Wiggins with Misses Wanda Moorehead and Kathryn Wiggins as hostesses.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. A. R. Newman, and the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Jack Hinds, were presented corsages of white carnations tied with blue ribbon, carrying out the bride's chosen colors, blue and white.

A large cake, which was decorated with flowers and the names of the bridal pair, was served with punch and mints from a lace laid table. Blue and white baskets filled with rice were used as favors.

Guests registering were Meses Jennie Appleton, H. E. Kennedy, A. S. Cortney, Jimmy Nash, Roy Tinsley, Dinsel Leonard, Jesse Leonard, R. B. Leonard, Sam Battens, Jack Hinds, A. R. Newman, and Misses Charlotte Eastham, Carol Lovinggood, Gwen Pryor, Knoxine Russell, Colleen Wilson, Leatha Morehead and the guest of honor.

Many who could not be present sent gifts.

Best Thespians Are Selected

Mariola Duval and Bill Duncan, both members of the Pampa High School senior class have been named Best Thespians of the year by the National Thespian Society here.

These two were chosen for their "cooperative attitude in assisting with plays as well as the ability to act in them," according to Thelma Henstle, instructor and sponsor of the thespian group.

Shaw And Waters Star At Library

The Pampa Public Library hit the jack-pot this week, receiving some of the best and latest books of the year.

Among this choice bit of reading are "His Eye is On the Sparrow," the autobiography of Ethel Waters, and "Bernard Shaw's Seven Plays."

The story of Ethel Waters, famous blues singer, is written by Charles Samuels as she told it to him. It begins in a sordid Negro tenement in Chester, Pa., and ends 60 years later in a star's dressing room on Broadway.

It is the complete story of the unforgettable actress in "Pinky" and the recent Broadway success of "Mama's Daughters" (this part of the story is magnificent even on its own).

"Bernard Shaw's Seven Plays" includes "Mrs. Warren's Profession," "Caesar and Cleopatra," "The Devil's Disciple," "Candida," "Saint Joan," "Arms and the Man" and "Man and Superman."

The book has been prepared for those who wish a representative selection of Shaw's plays with their prefaces, published by Dodd, Mead & Co.

Two mysteries were included in the shipment. They are "Small-bone Deceased" by Michael Gilbert A. Harper. The writer, a British lawyer, has woven into his story a witty, needling of law firms, office workers and efficiency experts.

The other is "Never Say Die" by Ione Sandberg Shriver. Fiction received this week includes "No Survivors" by Will Henry, an historical novel of Indian fighting at the time of the Custer massacre and the love of a renegade scout for an Indian girl who saved his life.

"Farm Wanted," by Helen Train Hillis, is a delightful account of the joys of turning some overgrown acres into a farm by a city couple and the deep, lasting satisfaction one gets from living in the country after the grind of a city.

Firemen Get Ten Calls In A Single Day

From 12:55 p.m. Wednesday to late Thursday afternoon firemen were plagued with a series of 10 minor blazes, eight of them starting from grass fires.

The first alarm came in at 12:55 p.m. Wednesday when fire broke out in the grass at 508 N. Ballard. Less than an hour later, at 1:50 p.m., fire trucks rolled to 431 Crest to quench flaming grass there.

At 5 p.m. a small house on the lot at 430 N. Somerville started to burn after burning grass ignited it.

The monotony of burning grass was broken, however, when a pasteboard box ignited in a laundry in the 2100 block Alcock at 8:25 p.m. Only the empty pasteboard box burned and there was no other damage. It was the last fire for the day.

But firemen were called from their sleep at 4:05 a.m. Thursday to put out a fire that had started in dry grass and burned its way into a pile of scrap lumber at 605 W. Wilks. That was only the starter.

At 10:05 that same morning fire broke out on a corralite Francisville. Pampa Lubricating Co., 114 E. Francis while its motor was being washed down with either naphtha or gasoline. At 12:50 p.m. the same day another grass fire broke out in the 1300 block S. Barnes. Firemen rested in a truck until 3:40 p.m. when trash and grass started burning in the rear of the new Pampa Daily (1151). News building on W. Atchiso Five minutes later a grass fire ate its way into a sheet metal building, in the 200 block W. Tule, owned by Slim Pooction causing $300 to $400 damage to the building and heavily damaging a number of pinball and marble machines stored there.

And that was the last of the outbreaks by 2 p.m., Friday. Outside of the damage caused at the Pooction building, total damage was estimated as extremely light by Fire Chief Ernest Winborne.

Keep Your Eye On KPDN

By PHIL SOLBERG

Greetings all — As the baseball season is just around the corner, you will be happy to know that KPDN will be there exclusively bringing you your Oiler out of town games. The agreement was made Friday morning by Doug Mills, the owner of the Oilers, and Coy Palmer, manager of KPDN. This is another KPDN exclusive sports feature.

Speaking of sports I might remind you that Tuesday March 27th, KPDN will be bringing you boxing from the Junior High School gym and featuring the boxers from the Pampa boys club. You might keep this little note in the front of your notebook for good listening, be sure to hear the top major league baseball game each day seven days a week, through the facilities of the world's largest network, the Mutual Broadcasting System and KPDN. You can always tune in someplace and find a baseball game, but you can't always hear that particular day, unless you are listening to KPDN. Whatever the hottest game is for that day, Mutual will bring it to you through KPDN 1340 on your dial.

The program "FORWARD AMERICA" is now in its fifth month on KPDN and building listeners each and every Sunday. For those of you that have caught the program, it's aired each Sunday afternoon just after church, 12:30. Your Friendly Pampa Merchants sponsor this program. You will hear messages from time to time about civic celebrations and fun for all the family over the program. The program is serving to bring you closer to your Pampa merchant, understand his problems and see what a magnificent job he is performing for you in spite of the war, shortages, controls and such. There is lots of good music and entertainment for all the family on your program, "Forward America" "Forward Pampa" every Sunday at 12:30.

Say, who out there can resist a good mystery? Not many I'll bet. And a good place to express that weakness is by tuning your dial to KPDN's block of mystery shows each Sunday starting at 3 p. m. with Under Arrest then Martin Kane, True Detective, The Shadow, Nick Carter. Yes, I believe you can't get gun shy and then some. Don't believe me? Well just try it this afternoon starting at 3:00. It'll be on my way with my family and the Kay Fanchers to Palo Duro Canyon for a picnic. This will be my first trip there and I am pretty anxious to see what so many people are talking about. We are bringing a ball and bat and I am going to run some fat off our night disc jockey Rudy Marti. It sounds like lots of fun and I'll tell you all about next week. Bye for now and keep smiling, we here at KPDN will sure try and keep it that way with goodnight with the 10:00 p. m. news.

Stars and Stripes

ON FURLOUGH — Aurelio G. Garcia is now at home at 304 W. Atchison St., on a 14-day furlough. He recently completed Navy basic training at San Diego, Calif., and was transferred to Treasure Island. During boot training he was acting petty officer.

Ronald A. Beard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Beard, 1022 E. Francis St., Pampa, has been assigned to a Coast Guard weather-ship off the coast of Iceland. He expects six to eight weeks of duty aboard the craft before being returned to the mainland. Beard recently completed training and spent a furlough here with his parents. He is a graduate of Pampa High school, class of '50 and a member of the local First Methodist church.

Leonard F. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Green of Pampa, has been promoted to private first class at Sampson Air Force base in Geneva, N.Y. Green enlisted Dec. 7 and now is assigned to the 3650th Personnel Processing squadron. He was graduated from Pampa High School and spent one year as a student at the University of Arkansas.

Reports are that Pfc. Roy C. Lasater, formerly of the Twitty community, has received his second award in the Korean war. Lasater's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Lasater, are now living in Riverside, Calif. Pfc. Lasater was first wounded on Sept. 8, 1950 and the second time last Feb. 4. He reportedly has been hospitalized in Japan.

Duane Bradford and Bobby Henderson of Wheeler left Monday for service in the Marines. They took their physicals in Albuquerque, N. M., before going to

San Diego where they will get their basic training.

R. C. Taylor, USN, was elected honor man of his company on completion of his basic training on March 5 in San Diego. A letter from Capt. Malone, his commanding officer, to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Taylor of Wheeler, informed them of the presentation of the honor man certificate which was awarded at a regimental parade. He was selected from five candidates chosen by the company commander.

William R. Mazey, engineman first class, USN, husband of Mrs. Beverly Jean Mazey, 622 N. Banks, Pampa, is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Seminole which participated in the invasions of Inchon and Wonsan, Korea.

The Seminole was a vital unit of the transport vessels serving in the redeployment operation at Hungnam. Although equipped to carry 100 troop officers in addition to cargo, the first shipload consisted of 2004 Korean troops plus a full cargo.

Kiwanis Takes New Member

H. O. Darby, of the Pampa Foundry, was introduced, Friday, by Joe Gordon, as a new member of the Pampa Kiwanis Club. The program for the day was presented by the vocation and guidance committee, Aubrey Steele, chairman. Frank Wilson introduced the speaker, Rev. Russell West.

Rev. West spoke briefly on the significance of Palm Sunday, saying that "The Bible is a progressive revelation of the nature and will of God, coming into perfection in the life and teachings of Christ."

A sports committee, headed by W. B. Weathered, and including Jeff Bearden, Fred Thompson, Ralph McKinney, and Huey Laycock, was appointed by Leslie Hart, president. The committee's first job will be to do the paper work next week when the Downtown Amarillo Kiwanis Club comes to Pampa to present a program. Following the meeting, the two clubs will go to the Country Club for a golfing match.

Weathered announced a city-wide church layman's meeting, Saturday, March 24, in the high school cafeteria. A capacity crowd of 400 workers is expected.

Pampan Sentenced On Driving Charge

William L. Bumpers, Pampa, was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to 60 days in jail on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of drugs to such an extent that he was unable to operate a vehicle safely.

Bumpers was arrested Thursday after he reportedly crashed his late model automobile into a Texas Highway Dept. truck on west Browning near the Pampa Oiler ball park. Bumpers was reportedly taking a non-narcotic medication which had been prescribed by a physician.

Lefors Journalism Pupils To Attend WTSC Session

LEFORS—(Special)—Staff members of The Pirate, school newspaper, and Treasure Chest, the high school annual, went to West Texas State College at Canyon on Saturday, March 17, to attend the annual meeting of the Panhandle High School Press Assn.

Well-known speakers instructed the delegates from regional schools in the many phases of newspaper and yearbook work. Every year at the meeting, judges present awards to persons submitting the most commendable work in the different divisions of newspaper writing. Members of The Pirate staff have entered stories in the sports, news, feature, editorial, and general column competition. Last year's annual has been sent in as a contender for the high school yearbook award.

Young People Hold Church Fellowship

CANADIAN — (Special) — The young people of the First Christian Church and their guests held a fellowship in the basement of the church recently. Games were played throughout the evening and refreshments were served.

Present were Nancy Williams, Nancy Alexander, Leslynn Webb, Buddy Gross, Gary Gray, Louise Zybach, Mary Ellen Tepe, Sammie Krehbiel, Vona Brooks, Daisy Krehbiel, Gilbert Forrest, Ora Boyd Curritt, Thomas Conyers, John Chambers, Shirley Jones, Opal Pyatt, Thomas Gray, and sponsors Mrs. Dean Cook, Mrs. Walter Burnett, Mrs. Thomas Gray, and Mrs. Robert Forrest.

Shamrock FFA To Hold Annual Banquet March 27

SHAMROCK — (Special) — FFA boys will hold their annual banquet at the First Methodist Church here, March 27, with Dr. J. L. Russell, West Texas State College, Canyon, as chief speaker.

Russell, here as coordinator of the Shamrock schools evaluation committee, will discuss "The FFA as a Community Asset."

Dinner will be prepared and served by the mothers of the vocational agriculture students, "the best cooks in America," according to Howard Weatherby, vocational agriculture instructor and FFA director.

Various boys in the chapter will also deliver short speeches, Weatherby said.

Pakistan Having A Food Surplus

KARACH — (AP) — While its Indian neighbor pleads for food, Pakistan still has a surplus of both rice and wheat, official sources here report. An economic deadlock over the question of exchange rates — Pakistan refused to devalue its currency when India joined other soft currency countries in a downward revision in 1949 — has halted trade between the two neighbors.

Official sources said about 200,000 tons of rice in the Pakistan province of Sind will be surplus in the crop year 1950-51. Most of this will be consumed in east Pakistan and in Ceylon. Of a similar quantity declared surplus in 1949-50 about 50,000 tons are still in Karachi awaiting disposal.

Approximately 175,000 tons of surplus wheat has been reported from Punjab, most of it from harvests which under normal conditions would be sold to India.

Two Pampans Win Honors

Two students from Pampa have earned scholastic laurels at Oklahoma A&M College during the 1950-1951 fall semester.

They are Clarence W. Teeters in technical training and Carl Q. Williams in engineering.

They are listed on the deans list of distinguished students.

Watchdogs Had Better Return To Dog House

RICHMOND, Ind. — (AP) — The faith of two Richmond families in their watchdogs has been shattered by burglars. Sam Graf told police he and his family returned home to find the house entered, $182 taken, and their "vicious" dog locked in the kitchen.

And Ed Bratton came home the same night to find his house ransacked and his watch dog—which he had left inside—sitting outside, shivering on the front porch.

NEW PRESIDENT—Andrés Martínez Trueba (above) was sworn in at Montevideo as the new President of Uruguay succeeding his old friend, Luis Balleza Torres.

Church Is Moving Gerlach Residence, Canadian Landmark

CANADIAN — (Special) — Another marked change in the appearance of the residential part of Canadian's Main Street is taking place, as the old George Gerlach residence at Sixth and Main is being torn down.

The two and one-half story house was built in 1908 by the late George Gerlach, and was the family home from that time until a few months ago when Mrs. Gerlach went to Dallas to make her home with her daughter, Dorothy.

The house and its spacious grounds were purchased by the First Baptist Church as a future site for a new church building.

Food Prices Hold Ground

(By The Associated Press) — Retail egg prices rose one to four cents a dozen in many stores this week, while several fresh vegetables were a little lower as shipments from southern and southwestern growing areas increased.

Otherwise the general food price level appeared to be holding about unchanged for most week-end. Most meat, poultry and dairy products were steady.

Spokesmen for large egg distributors attributed the slowly rising egg prices to lively consumer demand.

"People must be buying more eggs because of high meat prices for there certainly are plenty of eggs around," one market authority said.

Heavy buying of poultry, particularly broiling and frying chickens, also was said to reflect the competitive price situation.

Lower-priced in most produce bins this week are grapefruit, lima beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, onions, squash, sweet potatoes and tomatoes. Grapes, peas and celery were generally a little higher.

The Office of Price Stabilization announced this week that restaurant prices will go under a new control order at the beginning of April. Eating places must then base their menu prices on food costs per dollar of sales during one of two base periods — either the calendar year 1949 or the 12 months ending last June 30 (the restaurant may choose which one).

The Agriculture Department reported that consumers spent an average of 5.6 percent of their disposable incomes (after charges for taxes) for meats in 1950. If consumers follow that same general spending pattern this year, and don't try to buy a lot more meat because other goods are scarcer, then ceiling levels during periods of heavy seasonal supply, the report indicated.

Carcoal is obtained from wood and coke from coal by the same type of process.

Miami Prisoners Get No Comfort

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — There'll be no air conditioning comfort for Miami's prisoners, if Police Chief Welter E. Headley has his way.

Discussing plans for Miami's new police building yesterday with city officials and an architect, Headley said:

"No air conditioning comfort. Plenty of light and air, sure—but we don't want to make the jail too attractive. After all, those folks are not supposed to be there if they behave themselves."

Texas Community Successful In Novel Improvement Plan

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. — (AP) — Transformation of a rural Texas community, identified only as Community "A," has been described by a Texas A&M professor.

The problem was tackled in an unusual way, by allowing the people to criticize themselves and their community, and then seek out ways of correcting shortcomings.

The cooperative experiment began in 1948 in a rural community of 2,100 persons, said Dan E. Davis, associate professor in A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

The town was not otherwise identified except that it is primarily dependent upon agriculture, which most rural towns are.

Davis, working with local leaders, first interviewed the county agent, home demonstration agent, and public officials on long-term trends in population, level of living, health, education, rural road development, agricultural practices and income. The community leaders were asked (1) the community's three greatest assets; (2) its three greatest weaknesses and (3) what could be done to make the community more wholesome and progressive.

Assets listed most frequently were churches, schools and civic organizations. Weaknesses were many. One leader told of "lack of community spirit and cooperation, poor law enforcement as related to gambling, drinking, and traffic violations, few sanitary ordinances, inadequate sewage systems, no library, little industrial payroll, too many honky-tonks and liquor stores, too little businessman-farmer cooperation, no hospital, need for farm-to-market roads, need better movie houses, no recreation program for youth, poor cemetery care, no rest room facilities for rural people trading in town, need for diversified agriculture and better farming practices." This leader added: "We need something to cause all citizens to unite in a common effort to make this a better community."

Davis said some other criticisms were more severe. "Perhaps," he added, "an outside expert on community affairs could not have been more accurate in stating the problems."

"Since they themselves acknowledged the specific weaknesses there developed a feeling that we must do something," Davis related. "Experts might have given a similar analysis of the community. However, it is believed that an outsider's comments would have immediately killed the possibilities of this experiment in community organization."

Results of the surveys were tabulated and distributed within the community. Groups whose members received copies included the chamber of commerce, county agent, county home demonstration agent, soil conservation service, county school superintendent, newspaper editor, school trustees, Lions Club, Rotary Club, and county vocational school. Churches and women's study groups also got copies.

Without any formal "reform" group, these improvements came about in three years:

1. Despite a population loss, more votes were cast in the July 22 primary election of 1950 than in any year since 1938.
2. The weekly newspaper began carrying more agricultural news, and telling how farm news affected everyone in the community.
3. A public library was set up, $100,000 in bonds voted for improving the sewage system, a garbage dumping ground was set aside, and a recreation program was developed.
4. A county "Dairy Day" was introduced, and more Grade A dairies promoted.
5. A cemetery association was formed to maintain the grounds.
6. An industrial plant was recruited. Businessmen and farm leaders began working together to improve agriculture in general.
7. With the cooperation of state officials, law enforcement was improved.

Gets Name Back After 30 Years

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — Vincenzo Michele Vinciguerra is going to get his wish — to die with the name he had when he was born. More than 30 years ago he came to this country as an immigrant from Italy. Shortly afterwards he got the court to change his name to plain "Vince." And as plain "Vince" he prospered as an insurance agent. Not long ago, the 65-year-old man went to his attorney and said: "I want to die with the name I was born with."

The attorney told his story to Judge Clarence B. Nison. The judge said he'd be happy to oblige and signed an order restoring "plain Mr. Vince" his name of Vincenzo Michele Vinciguerra.

LONDON — (AP) — It sounded like a royal collision. A bicycle ridden by Louis King and a bus driven by James Victor King collided. The name of the traffic policeman who saw the accident? Albert King.

STATEHOOD PRIZE — Rep. H. A. Patten (center) of Arizona shows 49-star U. S. flag made by a Navajo Indian 75 years ago to Joseph Farrington (left), Hawaiian delegate, and Alaska delegate E. L. Bartlett. He promised flag to delegate whose territory first becomes a state.

Opium Traffic Delays Armistice In Thailand

BANGKOK — (AP) — A formal agreement between Thailand and Great Britain terminating the convention of 1936, suppressing state of war between the two countries is being delayed owing to opium traffic in Thailand.

Officials of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs said under terms of the agreement Thailand agreed to sign eight international conventions, including the Geneva convention of 1936, suppressing traffic in illicit drugs. They said opium was being grown in Kengtung, how part of Burma, and smuggled across Thailand. Thailand has taken up the issue with the Burma government, which in turn, has informed Thailand it will take about three years to stamp out opium growing in Kengtung.

Moslems Demanding British Leave Suez

KARACHI — (AP) — The world Moslem conference here unanimously called for unity of the Nile Valley against "disruptive outside influences. Maulana Abdur Rashid Makki of Mauritius declared that "The day we make our strength felt to those who are trying to disrupt the unity of the Nile, they would pack up and quit."

Prof. Abul Halleem, vice-chancellor of Sind University here, told the final conference session that all Moslem nations should demand immediate withdrawal of British troops from Sudan and the Suez area.

Yugoslavs Plan Foreign Exhibit

BELGRADE — (AP) — Striving intensively to boost its commercial exports, Yugoslavia is going all-out this year to present its products to the world at the international fairs and exhibitions.

The first big showing abroad is planned at the International Fair in Utrecht, the Netherlands. Under the direction of Mirko Rifer, grade official in the Croatian government, exhibits have been gathered for this fair and a special group of exhibitors and salesmen will accompany them. Other exhibits are planned in Belgium, France and Italy.

Israel To Publish Musical Dictionary

TEL AVIV — (AP) — A dictionary with 1200 musical expressions in Hebrew is expected to be published in Israel. The "Va'ad Halasho" (Hebrew Language Council) originally believed that it might only be necessary to determine some 100-120 musical expressions in the revived Bible language, but experience has shown that many more are needed — even if a number of non-Hebrew (often Italian) words which are internationally used, are admitted into modern Hebrew as well.

Sen. Connally Holds Respect When He's Holding Court

By ARTHUR EDSON
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — The senator sits there, peering over the glasses roosting on the tip of his nose. His black string tie is slightly askew, his hand fondles a gavel.

Senator Tom Connally (D-Tex.), the man with the sharpest tongue on Capitol Hill, is holding court.

As chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Connally has the big job of getting the Senate to go along with the administration's foreign policies.

He presided over the joint hearing held by his committee and the Senate Armed Services Committee to listen to testimony on what course this country should follow in sending troops abroad.

This was the great hearing which followed and accompanied the great debate.

From it the Senate got plenty of big league advice, from both the pro and the con leagues.

It heard the nation's only living ex-president, Herbert Hoover.

It heard from the man who twice tried to win the presidency, Thomas E. Dewey.

It heard military big shots, like General Dwight Eisenhower and Omar Bradley.

And it heard Senator Taft (R-Ohio), college president Harold

Various Drugs, Infant Life Discussed At Medical Meet

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The greatest improvement in anesthesia in 45 years, says Dr. Forrest E. Lefingwell, is a life-saving drug developed from a deadly poison.

The drug is Curare, derived from a South American plant and used by savage Amazonian jungle tribes as a lethal coating for their arrowsheads.

In full strength it is a paralyzing poison. Properly diluted, it becomes a muscle relaxer.

Lefingwell, head of the Department of Anesthetics at the College of Medical Evangelists here, told a news conference last week that Curare saves many medical cases by permitting longer surgical operations. Patients need not be so deeply anesthetized when Curare is injected, and thus can remain unconscious on the operating table for a longer period.

Lefingwell conducted short courses in anesthetics at the college's medical convention here. The six-day session ended Friday.

Curare is employed most often in operations on the abdomen, chest and limbs, wherein muscle relaxation is important to the surgery, he said.

"Strangely enough," he added, "Curare does not affect the heart muscle. Its fatal effect as a poison is paralysis of the respiratory muscle. In its use with anesthetics, the drug produces a block between nerve and muscle, thus temporarily paralyzing the muscle."

Curare's successful use in anesthesia dates from World War II. Several synthetic forms have been developed also.

A striking reduction in the death rate among babies born prematurely was reported to the convention by Dr. Robert F. Chanock, assistant professor of pediatrics at the college.

He credited this record to close prenatal care of mothers to eliminate infection and careful handling of the babies. Any child weighing less than 5 1/2 pounds at birth is regarded as premature.

The mortality rate among babies at Los Angeles Hospital's premature baby center was only 12 percent last year, one of the lowest in the nation, Dr. Chanock said. Ten years ago the death rate there among premature babies was 35 percent. Some hospitals lost 32 percent of their premature babies last year, said Chanock.

The pediatrician said the center has discharged alive in the past two years 23 babies weighing less than two pounds, two ounces apiece. In fact, he said: "The relative proportion of smaller premature babies is increasing."

Dr. John E. Peterson, associate professor of medicine at the college, urged physicians to watch carefully for diabetes in both old and youthful patients. "Since its symptoms are not always apparent and, even when they are, they frequently are not alarming symptoms."

First, increased volume of urine, hunger and loss of weight are symptomatic, "yet very few persons come to the clinic complaining of these symptoms," he said, adding "most cases of diabetes are discovered accidentally."

Wildcat Band Gives Program

The Canadian High School Wildcat Band, under the direction of James H. Gain, played a program at Higgins school auditorium Friday afternoon.

The program included marches, overtures, novelties and swing numbers.

Anne Rathjen and Alice Detweiler played the solos they will enter in the Interscholastic League Band meet at Canyon in April. Norma Bernson, who will enter the student conductors division of the contest, directed an overture.

Lefors Lions Pian Minstrel

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Lions Club voted, March 12, to present a minstrel show sometime in May. A committee was named to plan the project.

A chorus composed of Junior High students sang two numbers, one of which was a new school song written by Desmond Brewer. Further musical entertainment consisted of xylophone and drum solos played by Brewer, who was in charge of the program. Available confirmation immediately.

Shamrock FFA Members To Publish City's Paper

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The FFA boys are doing it again. They have taken over the Shamrock Texan, a local weekly newspaper, and will sell all advertising, write all copy and proof sheets for the March 22 edition — to be known as the "FFA Edition."

Howard Weatherby, vocational agriculture instructor, is directing the boys in the project, an annual affair for the FFA.

Van Pennington, chapter reporter and football and basketball star for the Irish, is editor-in-chief. His associate editors are Rudy Cedra, Eugene Collinsworth, Lavon Conner, Percy Davis, Paul Hartwick, and Verdel Hawes.

Billy Frank Pavlovsky, chapter treasurer and boxing star at 165 pounds, is advertising manager. His assistants are Bobby Johnson, Roger Kohls, David O'Neal, Bennie Parks and Mack Terry. All chapter members are contributing to this edition, which will consist of three sections of eight pages each. The boys are writing at white-hot speed to be ready for the deadline, and the FFA classrooms have taken on a marked resemblance to a typing class.

Verdel Hawes is preparing a special article entitled, "History of the Shamrock FFA," while Mack Terry, chapter president, is writing an "Appreciation to the Shamrock Community" for the assistance in carrying on the vital FFA program.

Billy Frank Pavlovsky is writing an article on "Butchering," describing the work the Shamrock chapter has done this year, setting records for sticking, scraping and hanging the hogs, some in as little as 7 minutes, 35 seconds.

Ted Crowder has been assigned to do an article on "Soil Improvement." While "Improving Farms" is the topic chosen by Jimmy Butts.

Andrew Carver, senior FFA member who has won high honors representing the club in various judging contests, will discuss "Judging Factors."

Bennie Parks, FFA vice-president, is working on an article dealing with "Fitting Livestock into a Vocational Agriculture Program."

Many other articles are being written, covering all facets of the FFA program. The edition has evoked widespread attention and approval in past years.

"We are hoping to make this the best FFA edition ever printed," Weatherby asserts. "The boys are all enthusiastic and

Awards Award In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Gloria Swanson, Bette Davis, Jose Ferrer and "All About Eve" are winners of this year's award awards.

What — you don't know what an award award is? It's very simple. It's the award that goes to those getting the most awards. In this award-happy town, that's quite a distinction.

December to March is the award season, and I have kept a constant vigil on the returns during these months.

Bette Davis ("All About Eve") and Gloria Swanson ("Sunset Blvd.") tied for honors in the female division, with four awards apiece. Also, they tied for a fifth award with Judy Holliday ("Born Yesterday"). That was the AP poll of Hollywood correspondents taken by Gene Hansaker.

Miss Holliday had another award of her own, and single working as hard as they do on their FFA projects. It is excellent experience."

Weatherby has been head of the vocational agriculture department at Shamrock for the past 13 years. He is a graduate of Texas Tech, Lubbock, with both bachelor's and master's degrees.

honor were also scored by Betty Hutton ("Annie Get Your Gun") and Eleanor Parker ("Caged.") Jose Ferrer ("Cyran de Bergerac") had a scant lead in the scattered male division; he boasted three awards. He was followed by two apiece for James Stewart ("Harvey"), Alec Guinness ("Kind Hearts and Coronets") and Gregory Peck ("12 O'Clock High"). One apiece went to Sam Jaffe ("Asphalt Jungle") and John Wayne ("Sands of Iwo Jima"). "All About Eve" was a runaway winner for best picture award, snagging seven. "Sunset Blvd." followed with three, "Hatfield and McCloud" one and "Born Yesterday" one.

All the awards are outcries of the big, main sweepstakes — the academy awards, which are still supreme. They are always the last to arrive and this year the date is March 29.

The Gold Mannequin

By Myles Connolly

COPYRIGHT 1951 BY NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Just as Paul Panciera and Jean Roland had decided their dream of a successful gown shop "Jean Paul" had exploded, they receive some sketches from an unknown artist, who signs the drawings "Teresa" and who lives in Cedarbrook, in upstate New York. Mr. Panciera quickly recognizes genius and sends Teresa 65¢ and asks for more sketches. More come, but Teresa does not rush down from Cedarbrook eager to sign a contract. Mr. Panciera tells Jean that their Teresa is "a business and business woman, sure to have the productivity and fertility of a prairie" and their future is assured. But Jean is still troubled. "It'd be much happier if it wasn't so mysterious," she says.

But Teresa was nowhere to be found.

The postmaster, a sour and uncooperative character, declared there were so many queer names invented for General Delivery he could never remember any of them, and if he had remembered Teresa, he could not have divulged her identity anyway. That was not permitted.

Besides, he was not in the detective business and General Delivery was pretty much of a nuisance however you looked at it and there was a Cedarbrook, Indiana, which was probably the town Mr. Panciera was looking for, and bang went the window shut.

NOBODY in the town had ever heard of anyone who designed clothes. Even the name, Teresa, sounded alien and unreal to the residents. No one named Teresa had ever lived in those parts. And so far as dress designing was concerned, all they knew about it was from home patterns in the mall order catalogue and that was good enough for them.

Mr. Panciera floundered in a vacuum. The local minister was no help, nor was the school mistress, nor the town directory, nor the concave at the general store, nor the police.

So Mr. Panciera returned to Manhattan, put the contract in his desk, more convinced than before that Teresa was some primitive character who lived in pastoral seclusion. Jean was silenced.

Summer came, flowered and faded. "Jean Paul" grew. Success poured into the four-story building on Fifty-sixth Street like sunshine. And Mr. Panciera became the chief of couturiers of New York.

He was interviewed by the newspapers on the coming styles, the length of skirts, the height of the waistline, the new silhouette. He picked the ten best dressed women. He wrote articles for the vacuum. The local minister was no help, nor was the school mistress, nor the town directory, nor the concave at the general store, nor the police.

So Mr. Panciera returned to Manhattan, put the contract in his desk, more convinced than before that Teresa was some primitive character who lived in pastoral seclusion. Jean was silenced.

But Jean was still skeptical, still distrustful of Mr. Panciera's enthusiasms. It was all too fantastic for her.

Finally, Mr. Panciera, to please her, made a trip to Cedarbrook with a contract in his pocket. He night as well, he told himself, put the future in his pocket. He went armed with a bottle of perfume and a box of candy, prepared for the worst.

But this time, there was no response from Teresa. Mr. Panciera assumed she was ill or busy. He wrote to her again. Again she did not reply. No sketches, no communication of any sort arrived. Mr. Panciera, stunned, could not believe it. It was as if he had awakened one morning without his mustache.

But days passed and no word arrived from Teresa.

fancy magazines on how he had emancipated New York from Paris domination.

Articles were written on him, on his art, his genius. Especially lauded was his genius for combining simplicity with allure. In a few swift weeks, he had become the arbiter of fashion in America.

Meanwhile, slowly, Jean came to accept Mr. Panciera's concept of Teresa as an eccentric so obscure and retiring that she could, except for her sketches, be comfortably considered a myth. Jean, too, began to look upon the designer as an unobtrusive handmaiden of their destiny, sent by an elegant and sophisticated Providence.

This naive was quite understandable, even in a mind as realistic and worldly as Jean's, for at the moment she was floating through airy regions of opulence and acclaim where everything seemed possible.

Beauty, Jean had had in full measure. For years she had been (as their new press agent put it) the belle of the Bohemians and the morning star of New York's all-night life. But now, as joint creator of the glory of "Jean Paul," she had become (to use her press agent again) the pet of the patricians.

She still modeled occasionally, and she was still the most beautiful model in Manhattan. But now she was an artist exhibiting her own creations, so to speak. Now, she had become very much the lady.

IN September, Mr. Panciera made plans for a trip to Europe. Matter-of-factly, he wrote to Teresa asking for some new and unusually striking designs. The time had come, he decided, to stand Paris on its head.

But this time, there was no response from Teresa. Mr. Panciera assumed she was ill or busy. He wrote to her again. Again she did not reply. No sketches, no communication of any sort arrived. Mr. Panciera, stunned, could not believe it. It was as if he had awakened one morning without his mustache.

But days passed and no word arrived from Teresa.

Care For Automobile Vital In These Days
 TOLEDO, O. — (AP) — Care for your car is vital today because the war crisis may make it difficult to get another. This is the opinion of Dean A. Walters, service manager for a motor manufacturer (Willys-Overland).
 He suggests: 1. Frequent brake and wheel alignment tests; 2. San Francisco Bay in two years. frequent oil changes; 3. an undercoat on the car to prevent rust; 4. an engine, carburetor, air filter and electric system kept in adjustment; 5. wax on the body.

PIE IN THE EYE—With a satisfying "splish," New York University student Stewart Jackson fits a gooey pie to the face of fellow student Milton Berkowitz. Professors and undergrads at the university pay five dollars for such a privilege in the annual pie fling, with proceeds going to a student union building fund. Most popular targets, as you may have guessed, are the professors.

C. H. Mundy's Return From Parsons, Kans. Nomination Of Officers Made At Lions Club
 Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Mundy have returned from Parsons, Kans., where they were called by the illness and death of Mr. Mundy's sister, Mrs. Clara Mills, who died Sunday.
 Mrs. Mills is survived by one daughter, two sons, one grandson, all of Parsons; two brothers and one sister.
 Funeral services were held at the First Baptist Church in Parsons Tuesday and burial was also in Parsons.

Barber Says Men Fussy As Women
 WINNIPEG — (AP) — Russ Lavers, 68, has been a barber for half century and estimates he has done 324,000 haircuts. He says that customers are "fussier nowadays." And he says "the men are just as vain as the women. Some are worse. Young fellows come in here asking for a permanent wave, and lots of them have finger-waves."

Automobile Can't Run On Its Reputation
 VANCOUVER — (AP) — Freddie Harestad's car went off a slippery road and into the ditch. He managed to get the car back on the highway and was starting to roll when the car stopped. Investigation showed the gas tank was still in the ditch.
 Annual loss of soil fertility through erosion and leaching is estimated to be about seven times the amount used by planted crops.

Grade School Pupils Hold Texas Banquet
 Seventh grade pupils of Pampa will hold a Texas banquet in the high school cafeteria at 7 p. m. Friday. Approximately 400 are expected to attend. They will wear historical garb and will put on a program after the dinner. Mrs. W. A. Bennick is in charge of this group.
Students Present School Program At Canadian
 CANADIAN — (Special) — An assembly program was presented in the Canadian High School auditorium at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday.
 Ruth Milon served as mistress of ceremonies.
 The first number was a duet by Franklin Tepe and Patsy McMeans, singing "To Think You've Chosen Me," accompanied by Jan Waters. Alice Detweiler then played a baritone solo which she will play at the band contest at Canyon in April. She was accompanied by Jeannette Raymond.
 An impressive emblem ceremony was then held by the FFA club with L. H. Webb, Clay Adcock, and Arden Ranson taking part.
 Anne Rathjen played a saxophone solo, "Canadian Capers," accompanied by Jan Waters. She will play it at contest also.
 LeRoy Williams then gave the declamation, "A Perfect Tribute," which he will enter in the district interscholastic league contest.
 A skit from the senior play, "Big Hearted Herbers," was presented. The play was presented Friday night.
 Franklin Tepe and Patsy McMeans sang "My Heart Cried for You" and "You're Just in Love."

City By Sea Has Poor Swim Record
 NORFOLK, Va. — (AP) — In this city by the sea less than half the children of school age are able to swim.
 The Norfolk Red Cross chapter made a survey after two children had been drowned. It revealed that 6,948 could swim in varying degrees of proficiency while 9,417 could not swim. Over 15,000 children indicated a desire for instruction.

Exams Set By Civil Service

The United States Civil Service Commission has announced examinations for an office machine operator, office machine trainee, lithographic offset pressman and foreman and radio engineer.
 The jobs are located in Washington, D. C., and vicinity.
 To qualify for the lithographic offset pressman and foreman, applicants must have had from 1 to 5 years of appropriate experience, which may have included apprenticeship training.
 The amount of experience required depends on the salary level of the position. No written test is required.
 The radio engineer examination will be used to fill positions in the Federal Communications Commission in Washington and through the United States.
 Age limits for the engineer positions are from 18 to 35; for all other positions mentioned, from 18 to 62. Age limits are waived for persons entitled to veteran preference.
 Further information and application forms may be obtained from the commission's local secretary, C. W. Snow, 800 Post Office, from Civil Service regional offices or from the U. S. Civil Service Commission, Washington, 25 D. C.

Uncle Sam Quietly Stepping Up Production On Giant B-36

Convair Division of Consolidated Aircraft Corp. probably has made at least 170 of the giant atomic bombers. That many were ordered by 1949. No numbers have been revealed since the Korean war began. One-third more men were hired last year to speed production on the 546-acre plant site.

By JOHN ADAMS
 FORT WORTH — (AP) — Uncle Sam is quietly stepping up production of the B-36, the world's biggest bomber.

About 28,000 are working here in the world's largest integrated aircraft factory, but they all are mighty silent about the strength of the intercontinental bomber fleet they are building.

It takes an Air Force permit to peek inside the giant workshop, a windowless shed four stories high covering eight blocks. Motor scooters buzz around a concrete surface that would pave a four-lane highway for 30 miles.

Appropriately, this super-sized incubator hatches super-sized chicks.

Performance figures of the new models are phenomenal. One plane lifted 84,000 pounds of bombs — equivalent to the combined weight of 26 automobiles. A reconnaissance model photographic plane flew for 51 hours and 20 minutes.

The Air Force carefully guards exact performance figures on the B-36, but concedes its biggest machine can fly more than 435 miles an hour and climb eight and one-half miles.

More power is the B-36 success secret. Convair engineers say they could "fly the factory" if they could get enough power. Bigger piston engines and better fuel have helped designers double the power packed in an air frame planned ten years ago. At high speed, the present six propeller engines and four jets produce the drive of nine locomotives.

Development of the plane has been a long-term project. It began in the early days of World War II before atomic bombing entered the military strategy. Convair engineers produced the best design in an Air Force competition for a plane to fly 10,000 miles lugging five tons of bombs half way.

This order actually amounted to a combat radius of 4,000 miles — enough to strike across oceans. The Air Force likes to get its bombers crews back and allows gasoline reserves for poor weather and evasive combat action. The actual operational radius of any plane is about 40 percent of the distance it can fly.

Operational figures on the B-36 remain top secret, but it is probable that the relatively light weight atomic bomb, previously delivered in smaller B-29s, has plenty of elbow room in B-36 bomb bays. There may be extra room for gasoline to stretch the range. Recently six planes tested an advance base in England by landing outside the United States for the first time.

For its size, the B-36 probably has grown faster than any other airplane. The first order for two strategic bombers was placed just before Pearl Harbor in 1941. Wind tunnel testing and a full-sized wooden model were completed the following year. Late in 1942, the project was moved from San Diego, Calif., to Fort Worth. Priority went to B-24 Liberator bombers urgently needed on all war fronts. Only a handful of the 30,000 in Convair's plant here worked in the experimental building of the first B-36s by hand.

On V-J day, consumer demand for bombers fell to zero. The first B-36 roared down the runway on its maiden flight on August 8, 1946. Behind the flight was five years and $20,000,000 worth of research. Another year passed before the first production model flew.

Like all good airplanes the B-36 air frame has a tremendous growth potential which keeps both Air Force and Convair engineers busy at their drawing boards. They've made hundreds of changes. Currently the company is test flying a new model with even more powerful propeller engines.

The most important power increase has come from jet engines in pods suspended from the wings. They produce extra boost for takeoff and increase speed in the target area. Per pound, the jets give more thrust than propeller engines. But piston engines use less fuel.

Crewmen like the B-36. It's a safety record is impressive. Only three have crashed.

The old Air Force joke about the bomber boys "flying a house from the front porch" is outdated by the B-36. The plane is as big as three five-room houses. The pilot sits way out in front of a wing 250 feet long. It's a little like flying a football field from a seat on the fifty-yard line.

Convair assembles the B-36 from 68,000 manufactured parts. Engines, guns, and electrical equipment are made at other factories.

If Washington calls for all-out B-36 production, the company is ready to expand rapidly. Machine tools are being made for other firms so that 25 percent of the basic air frame can be made in smaller, scattered factories.

Drilling Intents Up Sharply As Spacing Order Changed

Cities Service Operators File Completion Safety Record On Four Oilers, 22 Gassers Dinner Held

Personnel of the Cities Service Oil Co. Pampa plant were honored here March 15, with a safety award dinner marking completion of 100,000 man-hours of work without a disabling accident.

The men were commended for their enviable safety record by Frank M. Perry of Bartlesville, manager of the company's gasoline - chemical division. Other special guests included alpha W. Johnston of Bartlesville, superintendent of the gasoline division, L. H. Davies, district superintendent and K. V. Brooks of Bartlesville, assistant safety director.

Local Cities Service employees honored for their safety record include, W. B. Aylor, L. F. Batson, Bert Bundy, W. L. Call, Millard L. Cox, C. H. Darling, R. P. Dawson, J. M. Foster, A. W. ## Operators File Completion Safety Record On Four Oilers, 22 Gassers

Panhandle oil activity, spurred apparently by a Railroad Commission order limiting the number of wells to a producing unit, hit a new pace last week which far out-distanced earlier reports this year.

Operators in the area staked 29 new locations during the past seven-day period and filed completion on 27.

The new locations were, by far, more significant. Last Thursday, following a statewide oil proration hearing, Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the commission, announced a 15-day emergency order which permits the drilling of only one well to each 20 acres. Another order, limiting gas wells to one per section, is expected April 1.

Abandoning the old 330-foot spacing rule between wells, the new order places a 933-foot minimum. Operators still may drill to within 330 feet of the property line.

Also in the order is the requirement that formal approval of the location must be received before drilling can be started on a well.

Panhandle Gas Sellers Get Support From Legislators

By MAX B. SKELTON
AUSTIN — (AP) — Many residents of 30 states receiving Texas natural gas would be affected by half dozen bills pending before the Texas Legislature.

The bills propose to establish a 1-cent minimum price for each 1000 cubic feet of Texas natural gas used for commercial, industrial or residential purposes.

That is about twice the average price the state's gas producers now receive.

Any increase undoubtedly would be passed on to consumers. An estimated five - sixths of all Texas gas that went into transmission lines last December went to out-of-state consumers.

At the present Texas natural gas tax rate - 5.72 percent of market value - any one of the six proposed bills would raise from $16,000,000 to $20,000,000 in state revenue annually.

One bill has a companion proposal that would boost this tax rate to 11.44 percent, with an estimated 22,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year in taxes.

Each minimum price plan is labeled a conservation measure, but the various authors primarily are interested in one or more of these points:

1. The state faces a $100,000,000 deficit during the next two years unless current operating expenses are slashed sharply or unless additional tax levies are approved before the Legislature adjourns early in May.
2. The income of Texas gas producers must be placed on an equity with nearby states - Oklahoma and Kansas - which already have established price minimums.
3. Some legislators fear the Federal Power Commission eventually will attempt to establish gas prices.
4. None of the price bills have made much progress as yet, but many of the authors say they will force floor fights at a later date if necessary.
5. There is a strong opposition from major oil and gas companies. They have branded the proposals as arbitrary price fixing. They also claim such price minimums would be unconstitutional because they would break existing contracts.
6. Strong support is being organized by independent producers and royalty owners who long have been dissatisfied with the wide price variations prevailing in many Texas fields.
7. Royalty owners and producers in the Guymon-Hugoton gas field in the Texas Panhandle are particularly upset.
8. The vast underground reservoir extends into Oklahoma and Kansas.
9. Oklahoma recently established a seven-cent minimum price for its portion of the field and was upheld by the supreme court. Kansas established an 8-cent minimum for its share.
10. State Senator Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, puts it this way: "Why should Texas Panhandle producers take three and four cents a thousand for gas from the same reservoir when Oklahoma and Kansas producers receive seven and eight cents?"
11. Hazlewood and another Panhandle legislator, Rep. William J. Craig, Miami, have teamed for a three-fold attempt to bring the Texas Hugoton prices into line.
12. Each has introduced three bills, identical in each House. The first would establish a 10-cent statewide minimum. The second would give the Panhandle a 10-cent price. The third would leave it up to the Texas Railroad Commission to establish minimums essential to gas conservation.
13. Hazlewood plans to give the House of Representatives a "fair chance" to act on one of its five 10-cent minimum bills before he moves into action.
14. Craig also plans to delay his maneuvers a bit longer. He wants to check the progress of the four other bills in the House. He also wants to let the Revenue and Taxation Committee get a bit further into its studies on means of avoiding that $100,000,000 deficit.
15. Two of the House bills have been sidetracked to an agriculture subcommittee but one sponsor, Rep. R. E. Blount, Big Spring, has vowed he is "gonna turn on the heat."
16. Blount also is sponsor of the 11.44 percent natural gas tax proposal.
17. Since his price bill went to the agriculture group, Blount has made two statewide radio broadcasts in which he has asked Texans to write their legislators and demand support of his bills.
18. He has made bitter attacks on the huge gas transmission companies operating out of Texas.
19. "The pipe lines are like a cancerous growth destroying the state," he said.
20. One phase of Blount's program has met with early success. He got the House to approve a resolution that would have members of the Railroad Commission to appear before the FPC in opposition to applications for new pipe lines that would take gas out of Texas.
21. The resolution now is in the Senate.
22. Royalty owners favoring a gas price minimum are receiving support from legislators who long have sought to levy additional taxes on natural resources.
23. These legislators feel they might find themselves in an advantageous position if some plan to avert the $100,000,000 deficit does not begin to develop soon.
24. The House Revenue and Taxation Committee is expected to start work on natural resources tax proposals within two weeks.
25. Chairman, Jim E. Lindsey, Texarkana, frankly admits the possible deficit problem is tough.
26. "It is now a question of how small the new taxes will be," he said.

API Convention Opens Wednesday

Oilmen throughout the mid-continent area have indicated they are planning to be present for the opening sessions Wednesday of the American Petroleum Institute's annual Mid-Continent Division convention.

The convention, to be held in Amarillo this year, will feature prominent technicians from all phases of the industry who will present reports of their studies and research into industry problems.

Among these is John A. Murphy, Continental Oil Co., Ponca City, Okla., who is heading the district's study committee on Secondary Recovery.

The sessions get underway Wednesday, March 21, at 8:30 a. m. with registration at the Herring Hotel.

Technical discussions are scheduled throughout morning and afternoon meetings and study sessions through Friday. More than 20 discussions have been scheduled. General sessions are due Thursday at which time Dr. M. E. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University, will address mid-continent oilmen. An industrial speaker is to be named for a talk at this time.

Entertainment also is planned for the three-day meeting.

Thursday a social hour and buffet supper will be held at the Herring Hotel with a dance planned later at the Amarillo night club. District banquet and entertainment will end the meeting Friday night.

Use Common Sense to Take Off That Ugly Fat

Overweight can be a menace to health, but common sense should be the watchword to get rid of the extra pounds. A rigid diet over a protracted period of time, can also do harm. It is advisable that you seek your physician's advice before trying to take off weight via the diet route.

Possibly one bulky person in 100 has some glandular disturbance and that is truly a case for the physician. But for the other 99 per cent, judgment should be used in deciding the "plan" decided on to reduce.

Overeating is one of the main contributors to excess fat. You may say you do not overeat, that you only eat enough to satisfy your hunger. But your intake of food may be greater than necessary for the energy you spend. Thus, the excess food turns into fat. You can eat all you want enough to satisfy your hunger - enough to maintain bodily requirements and still eat LESS. Sounds like double talk, but it isn't. A recent survey among Texas druggists has shown that there is one outstanding reducing aid on the market that definitely curbs the appetite. At the same time it debilitates and eliminates. This product contains no harmful drugs. On the other hand it does contain ingredients to make you feel better - more alive, active and peppy. Nearly four million bottles of this preparation have been sold in Texas in the past eight years.

This reducing aid is called Barconatrate. You can get a four ounce bottle of Barconatrate from your druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle and add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then just take 2 table-spoonful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if you reduce pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, thighs and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

HUNGRY WOMEN - TRUMAN NICKELS LETS ALL GO FISHIN'

—I wasn't going to run an ad this week feeling as bad as I do with my back acting up like it is, but Jessye called from the paper, and rather than see the women down there go hungry, I'm mustering all the strength I can put together, to top this ad out on my typewriter.

—I've felt this spell coming on for a long time, and have held it off for the past 3 months just drinking buttermilk (Sunshine), following it up with a glass of Hadacol—Neither is doing me much good now, so I've let my wife and 2 daughters talk me into taking them down to Possum Kingdom lake over the Easter holidays, for me to rest, and them to fish.

I wrote Mr. Scott a nice letter, offering to reserve a cabin and boat for the wife and 2 daughters and myself, and here's the letter that he wrote me back...

Bunger, Texas
March 6, 1951

Dear J. Wade, Wife and 2 Daughters:

I feel really honored for your selection of our camp for your Easter holiday vacation, over sunny Florida. If everything goes as planned your cabin will be number 5. Sorry I haven't been able to get you a fishing class, but have you in the number one spot to hold Sunrise Easter Services.

Due to the recent rise in living costs, we have a slight increase on our accommodations and services. Be sure and bring several Truman nickles to tipp the help.

Hoping to see you before midnight March 22,

Yours truly,
Skinner Scott.

Whats a Truman nickle—and dont you think thats a nice letter telling me that he has reserved us a cabin—As for the fishing class, I really dont care about one this year, although I've always made expenses by teaching a few —In fact some of my former pupils live right here in Pampa—John Studer for one—Roscoe Pirtle, (but he's never graduated yet)—Bob Robinson—Bonnie Rose—Ivy—Floyd Imel—Mrs. Wade Thomasson, and host of others.

—I have a nice 2 bedroom home for rent located at 901 Twifford St.—it will be vacant the 23rd, and rents for 55.00 per mo. Would give a years lease.

As for something to sell I'm practically out—I do have a pretty good 4 room and bath for about 3250, and I'm going to have a good 5 room for about 6850 just as soon as the owner gets it redecorated—this will sell for 1000 down.
