FELIX WAITKUS WILL NOT FLY TO LITHUANIA

FILER IS UNINJURED IN CRACKUP IN IRISH FREE STATE

BALLINROBE, County Mayo, Ireland, Sept. 23 (AP)—Officers of the Irish Free State air force arrived today to undertake dismantling the monoplane of Felix Waitkus, American transatlantic flier, smashed in the forced landing which ended his 3,000-mile solo flight from New York.

The 28-year-old aviator, uninjured in the crack-up and refreshed by a night's sleep, said his future plans were undecided pending a final report from engineers who are examining the plane, but that he considered resumption of his flight to Kansas, Lithuania, out of the question.

Earlier, the flier had laughed off his mishap with the words: "I got quite a bump, but I can hardly wait to fly on to Kaunas."

Recalling the details of his harrowing, 22-hour adventure alone over the Atlantic, he said: "Most of the time I was flying blind in fog, rain and mist—filthy weather all the way."

"When I tried to fly above the storm, ice formed rapidly on the wings, the carburetor froze and I had to thaw it out. I almost froze, wearing only a light flannel suit, a flying jacket and a beret."

Waitkus was the sixth pilot to win a solitary gamble with a single motor plane against the Atlantic.

Previous transatlantic solo flights were completed by Charles A. Lindbergh, Amelia Earhart, Putnam James A. Mollison, James Matern, and Wiley Post.

His own strength virtually exhausted and his gasoline supply falling low, Waitkus put his orange and white plane down at 10 a. m. (3 a. m. EST) yesterday. It struck a flying jacket and a beret.

The presence of a number of animals in surrounding fields had caused him to attempt a slow landing.

Six local Jaycees returned last night from Tyler, where they attended the state convention. Pampa's major project of the year, the pre-Centennial and pioneer roundup and oil show, was voted the second most useful project.

R. G. Hughes presented the Pampa report on the same program at which Governor James V. Allred was the speaker.

The governor addressed the gathering of nearly 500 persons on Sam Houston. His life and accomplishments, and closed his talk quoting a poem of the men who made Texas. The audience cheered for five minutes following the speech, delegates reported.

Victor Bouldin of Mineral Wells, now a member of the attorney general's department and the candidate backed by Pampa Jaycees, was named president. Corpus Christi was selected as the 1936 convention city.

Miss Luzelle Bailey visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Bailey, at Miami over the week-end.

Mrs. R. G. Hughes and Jim Collins congratulating each other this morning. Yep, it's their birthday. Both getting out of their "teens" as Jim remarked.

'Coiner' SALES TAX TO PAY PENSIONS PUT IN BILL

$2 PER CAPITA LEVY ALSO PROPOSED IN MEASURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—The senate state affairs committee today approved a bill banning the sale of liquor by the drink.

Senator Will D. Pace, of Tyler, chairman, broke an eight-all tie in favor of the bill, which defined an open saloon as a place where intoxicating liquor was sold for consumption on the premises or premises accessible to it.

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo said the bill effectuated the constitutional provision as approved by the people and left the legislature free to choose between a package sale or state monopoly system.

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Two old-age pension bills introduced today in the senate proposed a three per cent retail sales tax and a $2 per capita levy.

Senator Roy Sanderford of Belton, author of one bill, estimated a sales tax would yield $40,000,000. The per capita tax on persons between 25 and 60 years of age was proposed by Senator Allan Shivers of Fort Arthur in a bill which he estimated would provide pensions costing $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 annually.

Both bills would pay $15 state pensions to be matched by federal funds. Shivers' would set up an old-age assistance commission of three while Sanderford's would provide for an administrator. In each the governor would make the appointments.

The finance committee, to which both bills were referred, scheduled an afternoon meeting.

Senator Ken M. Egan of Pecos introduced a bill to appropriate up to $275,000 for hospitalization of indigent tuberculars in private institutions. A bill by Senator Gordon Burns of Huntsville would establish a $50,000 industrial revolving fund "to facilitate industrial work in the Texas prison system."

Afterwards he was taken to a hospital. He died this morning of a heart attack.

Hopper had been giving a series of broadcasts each Sunday, usually coming here by plane.

He was known particularly for immortalizing Ernest L. Thayer's "Casey at the Bat." Hooper had recited the ballad in his vibrant, booming voice more than 10,000 times. The first recitation, before an audience which included baseball players, was shortly after the ballad appeared in the San Francisco Examiner in 1886.

Hopper himself was a baseball fan and watched the fortunes of the New York Giants closely.

Hopper's nurse said he refused to take his illness seriously but remarked rather ruefully that he "guessed he'd have to slow down a bit."

Word of his death was sent to the actor's widow, Mrs. Lillian Glaser Hopper, a singer of Oakland, Calif. She was his sixth wife. They were married in 1925.

Hopper's marital ventures attracted wide attention.

Edna Wallace Hopper, the "perennial flapper," was his third wife. The marriage lasted from 1893 to 1898.

In taking up a stage career, Hopper part aside the profession his parents had hoped he would follow—that of a lawyer.

He was born in New York, March 30, 1858. His full name was William DeWolf Hopper.

AUTOMOBILES FATAL TO 10 IN WEEK-END

Horrible Deaths Suffered By Texans; Many Injured On Highways of State.

(By The Associated Press.)
Automobiles took a toll of ten lives in Texas over the week-end. Joe Pondren, 23, of Dawson, was burned to death near Waco yesterday when a coupe in which he was riding smashed into a bridge railing.

Herman, however, succeeded in saving the life of Levert Bogle, also of Dawson. He was taken to a hospital where physicians said his condition was not critical.

The two deaths, with that of C. M. Martin, 78, of Waco, killed Saturday, brought McLennan county's traffic fatality total for the year to 36.

At San Antonio, Pedro Rodriguez was killed beneath the wheels of a moving Missouri Pacific freight train when an automobile in which he was riding crashed into a freight car after first hitting a parked automobile.

H. N. Sandels of Pittsburgh, Pa., was injured fatally at Beaumont when a machine in which he was riding plunged into a ditch at Pine Island on the Houston-Beaumont highway.

North of Dallas Mrs. J. E. Merrill, 46, was injured fatally in a collision as she and her husband were returning from church. A head-on collision at Dalhart between a truck and a motor car was fatal to Tommy Pinkerton, 19, who was riding on the running board of the car.

Saturday Betty Johnson, 6, was killed when, witnesses said, she darted into the path of an automobile at Abilene. Jeff F. Smith, 46, was killed in a collision at Kilgore, and 4-year-old son of John Logan was killed in another collision at Gatesville.

ITALY HANDS NEW DEMANDS TO COMMITTEE

PROPOSALS FLATLY REJECTED BY HAILE SELASSIE

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff
GENEVA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Rumors swept through the League of Nations today that the Italian delegation, angered by the Italo-Ethiopian committee's attitude, might leave Geneva.

These reports were heard after the British delegation took the position that Italy's counter-proposals to a league plan for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute were unacceptable.

The league plan was accepted by Ethiopia. League officials said the danger of a hopeless deadlock was developing.

The officials said they based their view on the fact that the committee of five which prepared the compromise plan had decided that an Italian communique and oral statements made by the Italians constituted a definite rejection of the plan.

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 23 (AP)—Italy's latest demands for settlement of its conflict with Ethiopia, as reported from Geneva, caused mingled amusement, indignation and amazement in Ethiopian official circles today.

"Preposterous" and "crazy" were some of the terms used by officials who characterized Premier Benito Mussolini's reported demand for a cession of rich territory west of Addis Ababa.

A spokesman for Emperor Haile Selassie said such a grant would leave Ethiopia not much more than mountains and deserts and would increase greatly the danger of invasion in the future.

The spokesman said "the only territory the emperor is willing to cede is Ogaden and Assua provinces, and then only for cash revenues, useable in the national development of Ethiopia. The emperor offered

DeWOLF HOPPER FAMOUS ACTOR DIES SUDDENLY

'Casey at Bat' Made Popular By Comedian

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 23 (AP)—DeWolf Hopper, famous comedian whose stage career spanned more than half a century, died unexpectedly here today.

Afterwards he was taken to a hospital. He died this morning of a heart attack.

Enforcement Of Liquor Law In County Seems Hopeless

No Penalties Left To Be Assessed by Juries

Enforcement of the state liquor law in maintenance of Gray county's dry status appeared hopeless today as a fall session of 31st district court opened for a 7-week term.

Judge W. P. Ewing said that it appeared impossible to enforce the law because no penalties were left after the recent amendment was voted.

The amendment says that sales of liquor in dry counties "shall remain unlawful," but the words appear to be without meaning.

Judge Ewing emphasized, however, that seizures of displayed liquor were possible and should be made to maintain at least a semblance of the dry status which the people evidently intended to give formerly dry counties.

The judge spoke to the jury at length about the need for public support of peace officers, the duties of grand juries, the prevalence of perjury, the often meaningless ball bonds, the flimsy or fraudulent excuses for case continuances which judges must often, under the law accept, the disrespect for an antiquated court system, the vicious practice of seeking petty jury service to free an accused person, and the need for controlling gambling.

Judge Ewing read the statutes on gambling places, and said that recent experience in Wheeler county showed that the law could be enforced.

Reading of the old non-jury docket then began.

BARRYMORE DENIES HE EVER HAD LOVE AFFAIR WITH MISS BARRIE

GALLUP, N. M., Sept. 23 (AP)—John Barrymore, screen Lothario, let it be known today that romance never existed between him and Elaine Barrie, the young radio artist whose pursuit of the film star became a cross country game of hide-and-seek.

"All this stuff that has been printed about Miss Barrie and myself is a lot of hokey," declared Barrymore after emerging from several hours of seclusion at a hotel here last night.

He was asked about the much discussed eight-carat diamond ring he was reported to have given the girl, and which he is alleged to have taken with him back to Hollywood.

"When I give anything, I give it for keeps," he said. "I've given away a hell of a lot of diamonds. It's a wonder she didn't get two. The diamond might as well have been a topaz for significance."

He characterized his feeling for the 20-year-old New York girl as "admiration and respect" and declared he didn't know the girl was seeking him in Kansas City last Saturday.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Sept. 23 (AP)—When John Barrymore reaches the end of his dramatic cross-country trip, his estranged wife, Dolores Costello Barrymore, will not be waiting to greet him.

Breaking the silence she has maintained about the acquaintance of the screen star and Miss Elaine Barrie, his former protegee, Mrs. Barrymore said that regardless of its conclusion, there is no chance of a reconciliation with her husband.

"I have not heard anything, directly or indirectly, about the reported experiences of Mr. Barrymore with Miss Barrie," she said. "There is no possibility of a reconciliation under any circumstances."

Prospects Good For Calling Off Soft Coal Strike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Prospects of an agreement ending the new soft coal strike was reported "good" today by the president's representative who has been struggling to end differences between miners and operators.

Edward F. McGrady, assistant secretary of labor, made that optimistic assertion as he left the White House. He left with one of the president's secretaries a full report of the situation, but did not ask presidential assistance.

The mediator reported that all points of disagreement save one had been settled. The miners had asked 10 cents a ton increase for cutting and loading soft coal. Operators had offered cents increase for 2 a. m. today, just before the conference broke up without agreement, operators boosted their offer to 7 1/2 cents and miners dropped their request to 9.

The United Mine workers, though, had declined to accept their instructions to 400,000 workmen to stay away from the coal pits. The strike order went into effect automatically at midnight, with miners and operators to meet again this afternoon.

THE WEATHER TEXAS: Partly cloudy in north, light showers in south portion tonight and Tuesday. Light to moderate northeast to southeast winds from the coast.

Scout Council Receives Check From Jamboree

Boy Scouts of the Adobe Walls council will receive $800 from themselves or their sponsors because of the cancellation of the National Jamboree.

The money was sent to national headquarters to pay the registration fees of council delegates. A check for the full amount has been received by Executive C. A. Clark, Mr. Clark is asking that sponsors designate the person to whom the $25 fees are to be returned.

That the entire sum has been returned is due to the fact that a check for $250,000 has been handed to the national president by the Indemnity Insurance company of North America. This represented part of the money which the insurance company is obliged to pay because the Jamboree was cancelled when infantile paralysis became prevalent. The total insurance taken out was $400,000. About $300,000 was spent in preparing for the event.

THE MEANING OF SANCTIONS

(From Kansas City Star)

The term "sanctions" is being heard with increasing frequency today, as the possibility grows that the other members of the League of Nations may be prepared to do something more than merely to admonish Italy with respect to its frankly imperialistic policy in North Africa. What are these sanctions that, according to one report, may be "progressively" applied against Italy, should that country be found guilty of violating its obligations under the covenant of the League, in particular of failing to respect the territorial integrity of Ethiopia, which is also a member of the League?

The meaning of the term is to be found in article 16 of the covenant, although strangely enough, the term itself does not appear in the text. According to this section of the League's charter, there are two general types of sanction (or penalties) which may be applied against a member that breaks the covenant. The first type is economic and its application is mandatory. In the words of the covenant, these sanctions require that all the other members shall subject it (the covenant-breaking state) to the severance of all trade or financial relations, the prohibition of all intercourse between their nationals and the nationals of the covenant-breaking state, and the prevention of all financial, commercial or personal intercourse between the nationals of the covenant-breaking state and the nationals of any other state, whether a member of the League or not.

In other words, if the League were to apply economic sanctions against Italy, it would mean that Great Britain, France and all other members would not only have to break off every kind of commercial and financial relationship with Italy themselves, but also see that the United States, although a non-member, should have no such relations. The effect, in theory, would be to shut off all supplies to Italy from whatever foreign source. Theoretically, to carry out this last obligation, the members of the League would have to be prepared to go to war with the United States should it insist upon maintaining banking or trade relations with Italy, and it has generally been assumed that the League would not undertake such a policy without American consent, and that unless this country did agree, the rest of the program would be ineffective.

The second type of sanctions mentioned in article 16 is military. The council of the League, declares the covenant, shall "recommend to the several governments concerned what effective military, naval or air force the members shall severally contribute to the armed forces to be used to protect the covenant of the League." This section plainly contemplates military action against a covenant-breaker, but does not bind the members to produce the forces recommended by the council. It has been supposed, however, that the problem here is largely academic, since any attempt to apply economic sanctions on a practical scale would almost certainly be resisted by the victim; so that the other members would find themselves at war in any case.

If the League should vote to apply economic sanctions against Italy, obviously much would depend upon the attitude of the United States. This country, of course, is already legally debarred from lending the Italian government any money under the terms of the Johnson resolution, because Italy is in default on its World War debt to us. And the disposition both of the present administration and of the country at large, as indicated in the recent neutrality legislation, would suggest that if any private American firm attempted to trade with Italy under such conditions it would do so at its own risk.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—A few days before Governor Allred called the legislature into special session a janitor was cleaning the senate chamber.

To a passing official he suggested he ought to clean the gallery also. It is seldom used between sessions of the legislature and the official told the janitor he needn't rush.

"Oh, I don't know," the latter replied. "I'll go ahead. You never can tell what will happen."

Two days later Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield died at Gonzales. Funeral services were held in the senate chamber.

Governor Allred has a kindly feeling for a stenographer. He used to be one himself. He used to be one himself.

Recently he was handing press correspondents copies of a message to the legislature when he saw an error. His stenographer had written "bonds favorable to federal agencies" where she should have said "bonds payable."

"That's all right," he told the disconcerted girl. "We'll change them right here with a pen. I know how those things happen, especially when the words sound alike."

The powerful voice of Rep. W. E. Pope of Corpus Christi frequently is the subject of jest. He doesn't mind a bit.

Just before the legislature convened, Rep. Herman Jones of Decatur sat down in the house chamber while the loud speakers were being tested with music. A half dozen employees were about.

"That's the sweetest sound I ever heard over those speakers," Jones said.

"What?" queried someone. "Haven't you heard Elmer Pope?"

Pope can be heard, and often is, anywhere in the big chamber without the aid of loud speakers. When magnified, the effect is deafening.

YONKERS, N. Y. (AP)—Anna Bohack had $5 from her mother to pay the grocer's bill. A kind man said he was going that way, he would pay it and save her the trouble.

He gave Anna a quarter as surety of his good faith.

After a bit he came back and told Anna the bill was paid. He took back his quarter.

The grocer didn't get the money.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—What is likely to turn into a slap-bang pre-election attack on the New Deal is brewing in the American Bar association.

Many months ago, a committee was appointed to look into what present-day legislation is doing to the Constitution. This committee was to have made a report to the convention of the bar association this summer. But, due to disagreement among committee members—not so much on their opinions as to constitutionality of New Deal legislative acts and methods, as on the manner of expressing those opinions—the report was not made.

The committee was given more time. So it is now to report Nov. 1 to the executive committee and the general council of the association, which will consider the report this winter.

Then, next August, the report will be considered at the association's annual meeting.

Oddly enough, that is just the heat not only of summer, but of the presidential campaign of 1936, and while, of course, the report will be judicial and non-partisan, it will certainly fall at a time when many will see it as a campaign document.

The head of the committee is George Wharton Pepper of Philadelphia, who was appointed to the Senate to succeed Boies Penrose and who is a former member of the Republican National committee.

Whether or not grass grew in the streets, it is growing rapidly at the Rapidan camp of former President Hoover. Navy Secretary Swanson is chief of such of the official set as have frequent the camp this summer.

When the Hoovers moved to the camp was turned over to the state of Virginia, and is now administered as part of Shenandoah National Park. All of the more elaborate furniture has been moved out, and only cot beds, a few wicker chairs, and rough furniture made by the marines remain. Roofs show patching.

And as a final touch, the trout streams have been pretty well fished out by the boys from nearby CCC camps.

Speaking of CCC camps, there are now 2551 of them, as compared to 1640 a short 10 weeks ago. Although the increased enrollment authorized by the last session of Congress was somewhat slow in reaching par, it has now mounted to 517,000 of the approximately 600,000 authorized.

Excluding the Indians and territorial enrollments, 502,000 of these are young men and veterans. During those last 10 weeks, more than a quarter million men have entered the corps, and 911 new camps have been built.

Of these, 229,509 were young men of from 18 to 28 years selected by the Department of Labor, 23,805 came from the Veterans' Administration, and 9,188 were locally enrolled men selected by the Departments of Agriculture and Interior.

Louis Is Favored To Beat Baer Tuesday By Knockout

Odds Are 1 to 2 in Favor of 'Brown Bomber'

Associated Press Sports Writer. NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Whither or not it's a happy landing for the dusky warrior of the prize ring, the sensational pugilistic flight of the "Brown Bomber," 21-year-old Joe Louis, comes to a climax tomorrow evening in the first million-dollar setting that boxing has known since Gene Tunney took the long count at Chicago eight years ago.

The sullen, hard-hitting negro from Detroit, whose rapid rise is synonymous with a return of pugilistic boom-days that is little short of incredible, stakes his unbroken professional winning streak and his championship ambitions against the rugged but erratic former champion, Max Baer.

They are matched for 15 rounds but it doesn't figure to go the limit. A majority of the hundreds of fight critics gathered for one of the biggest fist-fighting parties in New York's sporting history, favors Louis to win by a knockout.

The betting odds are 1 to 2 in favor of the "Brown Bomber," unbeaten in 24 consecutive fights and a two-listed puncher whose advantages in youth, speed, boxing and hitting ability appear to outweigh the iron-jawed resistance or slugging power of the curly-haired Californian.

But that doesn't mean there aren't two distinct sides to this fistic argument. If he's really in shape for a rough and tumble punching party, Baer might produce sufficient weapons to over-power the young negro and abruptly end his dynamic sweep.

Rated off his last appearance in a New York ring, where he lost his title to Jim Braddock, Maxie has nothing to lose and everything to gain in "throwing the towel."

From every angle, it figures to be a thrilling show for the greatest crowd that has ever witnessed a prize fight in New York. With only a few thousand tickets unsold today and an advance sale amounting to $300,000, Promoter Mike Jacobs, one-time associate of the renowned Tex Rickard, predicted a sell-out.

This, said Mike, would mean 92,500 ticket-holders in the Yankee stadium and gross gate receipts of $1,176,930.10, a record for a non-championship fight.

From a money standpoint, the fight, on a sell-out basis, will be second only to the Firpo-Dempsey battle of 1923, which produced a "gate" of $1,288,000 from 62,000 cash customers. The non-title record is $1,088,000, set by the Dempsey-Sharkey fight at the Yankee stadium in 1927.

Win, lose, or draw, it's a certain gold mine for all concerned with a net "gate" of slightly more than $1,000,000, after the deduction of state and federal taxes, each fighter will collect 30 per cent or about $300,000.

The task of turning the huge ball park into a fighting arena was begun last night, with a force of 600 men working in three shifts. They are installing nearly 25,000 "ring-side" seats which will cover the entire infield and most of the outfield in the famous "House That Ruth Built."

With speculators setting as high as $175 each for the choicest ring-side tickets obtainable, the aggregate outlay involved reaches staggering proportions. At least half the fans who will see the fight will be from outside New York.

Special trains from San Francisco, Chicago, Detroit, Boston, Philadelphia and other large cities were due today or early tomorrow. Business men figured $1,000,000 would be spent as a direct result of the bout.

Both fighters, remaining at the camps today, will make fast trips to town for the weighing in about noon tomorrow. Scalling around 210, Baer probably will have an advantage of a dozen pounds.

With one win to their credit, the Pampa Harvesters will meet the Bowie high school Bears at El Paso here on Friday night at 8 o'clock. It was the Bears who knocked the Harvesters out of the district title last year. Many believe the game was played in El Paso less than a month before the Thanksgiving day tilt with Amarillo. During the struggle, Red Fanning received a badly injured elbow which kept him out of most of the game with Amarillo. Monroe Owens suffered a badly injured back which troubled him the rest of the season. Bill Dunaway was also injured and could play only part of the final game. The Harvesters who played against Bowie, last year, and are back this year, remember the game.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan have mapped out a week of strenuous practice for their charges. First in line will be work on pass defense, one of the weaknesses which showed up last week when the Harvesters downed the Lawton, Okla. Wolves, 19 to 0. The coaches have several more items on their list.

Bowie will bring a team composed of nine returning lettermen and a bunch of promising freshmen from last year. The Harvesters were able to win by a score of 21 to 6 in El Paso last year. This season the Harvesters will be heavier and the Mexicans lighter.

BORGER TEAM ROUTS LOCAL CLUB 14 TO 5

VISITORS NET 10 RUNS IN 7TH; WINKLER IS STAR

A combination team of Huber Blackaces and Phillips 66 Oilers of Borger, playing under Phillips colors, routed a 14 to 5 game from Phillips 77 of Pampa yesterday afternoon at Road Runner park. The Pampa team had the game on ice until the seventh inning, when the visitors put on a scoring spree which netted 10 runs. Three Pampa hurlers saw service on the mound.

Winkler, named the most promising prospect in the recent Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament, took the mound for the Phillips 77 and held the slugging Huber-Phillips players off until the sixth inning. Newsome, Lister and Sawyer played outstanding ball for Pampa, but it was Winkler's pitching that stood out. Phillips 77 would like to meet a team of Phillips 66 players anytime, anywhere, and under any circumstances, so long as the opposition is a Phillips team from Borger.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP)—Out at the University of Cincinnati they are about ready to start the civil war all over again. . . all because a couple of South Carolina football scouts were caught poaching on Cincinnati territory. . . Don McAllister, new South Carolina head coach is a former Ohioan and knows who's who among the high school football braves. . . He wanted a couple of them awfully badly.

But the Cincinnati boys ganged up on the visiting gumbone men, palmed off a blank on them and the southerners left the reservation highly elated at getting what they thought was a 50 per cent break. . . NOTED MENTAL EXPERT WILL NAME FIGHT WINNER AFTER BAER AND LOUIS

ANSWERS MANY QUERIES FANS ARE ASKING

Editor's Note: A noted mental expert here looks at the Baer-Louis heavyweight fight for the Associated Press, contributes many interesting points of view on the fight. . . Tomorrow he will pick the probable winner.

Today he tells about the "centrifugal" and "centripetal" men, two fighters who attack different races, one a human emotional volcano, the other an emotionless mole. . . He lets you see the training through the psychological point of view. He critiques both training camps at the end.

Max enters the ring. He dances in the circles, waves his arms, but he never quickens his tempo. He laughs loudly, playfully strikes his trainer in the stomach.

He jumps at his sparring partners with flashes of attack, then eases up, relaxes, forced to pause to rest. After two or three flashes of such attacks he begins to breathe heavily, he tires. This uneven, jerky fighting, the ups and downs, are due to his emotional makeup.

Every man has a limited supply of emotional energy. If a fighter can concentrate all his emotional energy on the opponent, he gets the greatest effect. But Baer's energy is divided between fighting and acting for spectators.

His attention is split. He wants to rule in two kingdoms. He has to betray one or the other. He has both attitudes aroused at the same time, the fighting instinct by his opponent, the acting instinct by the spectators.

This divided attitude disintegrates the value of the emotions of fighting, hating and breaking through the defense. It makes him in spots absent-minded while fighting.

Baer tries to be savage. But he is not so by nature—he is second-hand savagery. He wants to appear like a super-man. He wants to create the impression that he is above winning or losing, but he likes himself too much for his own good.

Fighting is a job in which you have to forget your ego. You have to fight with your opponent, and not "solo."

He fights as if no one else existed but himself and his opponent. He is unshaken by the audience. He moves at an even pace toward his opponent, to end fro in a smooth, machine-like manner.

Every moment you feel that here is a man who knows his job well, ready for emergencies, who cannot be taken by surprise easily. . . He is 'Centripetal' Person.

His face is expressionless. If he is hurt you cannot see it. If he is mad you cannot see that either. He is a "centripetal" person. This means that whatever he is concerned within him.

He spots every motion of his opponent. He wastes neither motion nor emotion. He fights "with" his opponent, flexible, shifting and suddenly aggressive if there is an opening. He follows his victim pitilessly if he sees him softening.

After seven fast rounds, unlike Baer, his breathing is as even as at the start. His sparring partners go to their corners panting. Louis is unshaken, doesn't speak a word. No drop of perspiration is visible on his skin.

By contrast with this "centripetal" man, Max Baer is "centrifugal." Everything Baer has he throws out in a squint, and Bristow is not averse to predicting his team not only will repeat for the district championship but will move right on up the line in the bi-district eliminations.

Bristow backs much of his hopes on a squinty, viciously-charging line and a six-foot backfield of heavyweights, all of whom can run and pass the ball.

Taylor's backfield is green but indicates it has latent ability. It ranks as one of the speediest backfields in West Texas, but is not heavy.

Cubs Win 18th in Row As Cards Take Doubleheader

Coltexpo Loses To Pampa Nine In 10th Frame

Chicago Now Only 3 Games Ahead of Champs

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer. The Chicago Cubs were almost ready today to cast into the National league pennant under the momentum generated by their amazing 18-game winning streak.

Idle for two days while the second-place St. Louis Cardinals tackle the Pirates twice, the Cubs were assured of having at least a two-game lead when their final "pay-off" series with the Cards starts Wednesday.

That much was made certain yesterday when Larry French pitched Chicago to a 2 to 0 victory over Pittsburgh in the eighteenth of the amazing string of triumphs that has carried them to the top.

The Cubs won a double header from Cincinnati, taking the first game 4 to 0 when the Reds went to pieces and made seven errors to aid the 15 Cardinals hits. Dizzy Dean captured the second when he limited the Reds to three hits in a mound duel with Al Hollingsworth to win 3 to 1 and reduce Chicago's margin to three games.

The Cardinals will have to win four out of five from Chicago to take the flag, if they succeed in trimming the Pirates. If they do that, the final standing will be St. Louis won 99, last 65; Chicago, won 98, loss 66.

Before a crowd of 40,558—with 20,000 more turned away—the Cubs made the most of their seven hits off Cy Blanton yesterday. While French was invincible in the pinches, Chicago tallied a run in the first on Augie Galan's scratch hit. Pop Young's error, Fred Lindstrom's sacrifice and Galan's dash home ahead of Arky Vaughan's peg after Gabby Hartnett's grounder. The other run came in the eighth when Lindstrom singled, Hartnett sacrificed and Frank Demaree doubled.

Detroit's Tigers, who clinched the American league flag Saturday, drew 24,000 fans to see them absorb a 1 to 0 shutout from the Browns when Rookie Earl Caldwell pitched a 3-hit game. That brought their season's total to more than 170,000 customers, a New York field record.

The largest crowd in the Red Sox history, 47,227, saw a final doubleheader against the Yankees and was disappointed when New York slugged out two triumphs, 6 to 4 and 9 to 0. Boston's other team, the humble Braves, was trimmed to a humbling 7 to 5 and a 4 to 3, and established a new "modern" National league mark of 110 losses in a season. The old figure of 109 was made by the Phils in 1928, but the all-time mark of 134 losses by the Cleveland Nationals of 1899 remained intact.

The Giants, though they beat Brooklyn 5 to 2, were definitely eliminated from the National league pennant race. The day's other results made it impossible for the Cleveland Indians to stay in the race.

Cleveland's winning streak stopped at eight straight when the Indians, after trimming the White Sox 6 to 3 in the first game, took a 9 to 2 shelling in the second. Washington, however, continued to move at a rapid rate, pounding out two lopsided decisions over the last-place Athletics, 10- and 11-1.

With 19 returners back from last year's team, a flock of fine reserves and several outstanding sophomores to start the training season, he has welded together a team possessing deception, speed and power.

A team of letter men could be placed on the field by Schmidt, but the chances are that several sophomores will shoulder their way into the limelight before the opening game with Kentucky here Oct. 8.

Regardless of how he shifts his linemen around, the Ohio mentor will present a forward wall averaging about 198 pounds, while his backs, no matter what combination he uses, will stack up at better than 180.

Early practices indicate that Ohio State, as last year, will rely on the wide-open aerial style of game to gain ground, but the wily Schmidt has augmented that with a powerful running attack. The punting, led by Johnny Kabanio, Franklin Boucher and Jimmy Karcher doing it, is far from a source of worry.

Practically unhurt by graduation losses, Ohio has been touted to win the Big Ten title. To such claims Schmidt's only answer has been: "We will have a good team. But let's play those other fellows before we claim any titles."

RISE TO PLAY BATON ROUGE GRID ELEVEN

Southwest conference football teams will take the field in an unbroken front this week as the University of Texas and University of Arkansas squads go into action for the first time, joining the five league members who turned in records of lopsided victories over outsiders last week.

The University of Texas Longhorns will make their debut in Austin against the Texas A. & I. Javelinas of Kingsville Saturday. At the same time, Fred Thomson will send his Arkansas Razorbacks out at home in Fayetteville to clash with the Pittsburgh, Kas., Teachers.

Jimmy Kitts' Rice Owls, defending champions, will take the spotlight, however, as they journey to Baton Rouge Saturday for a battle with the Louisiana State Tigers in a game which occupies a prominent position on the week's national football calendar. The Owls romped over St. Mary's San Antonio Rattlers last week, 38 to 0, with the regulars sitting on the sidelines after the first quarter.

Texas Christian, which daily looms stronger as a pennant contender and which last week walloped Howard Payne, Texas conference champion, 41 to 0, will take on Jack Sisco's North Texas State Teachers at Fort Worth Saturday. Against the Howard Payne Yellow Jackets, who had not been beaten since Armistice day in 1933, the Horned Frog regulars were permitted to play only seven minutes after the kickoff.

The Fort Worth game will provide some basis of comparing the Horned Frogs and the Southern Methodist Mustangs. The Methodists, in their first start under Madison Bell and Vic Hur, defeated the Teachers last week 38 to 0. This coming Saturday they will meet the Austin college of Sherman team at Dallas.

Baylor's Bears will meet an invasion of Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys, who bowed to Texas Tech's Red Raiders, of the Border conference, 9-0, last week. The Bears clawed southwestern of Georgetown, 39 to 0, in their opener.

The Texas Aggies will play the Sam Houston State Teachers at Huntsville Friday night. The Farmington Aggies will meet the first half of their title with the Stephen F. Austin Teachers last week, but got their scoring machinery working in the third and fourth periods to run up a 37 to 6 victory.

OHIO STATE BOASTS OF BEST TALENT IN HISTORY

By FRITZ HOWELL, Associated Press Sports Writer COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 23. (AP)—Coach Francis A. Schmidt of Ohio State, blessed with one of the finest arrays of gridiron talent ever assembled under the scarlet and gray banner, has decided he will have no "first team" this year.

The tall, turtleneck Texan, convinced he has two or three players of equal strength for practically every position, is taking advantage of that fact by constructing a high-g geared machine in which the parts will be interchangeable.

With 19 returners back from last year's team, a flock of fine reserves and several outstanding sophomores to start the training season, he has welded together a team possessing deception, speed and power.

Section 1. The eighteenth article of amendment to the Constitution of the United States is hereby repealed.

Section 2. The transportation or importation into any State, Territory, or Possession of the United States for delivery or use therein of intoxicating liquors, in violation of the laws thereof, is hereby prohibited.

Section 3. This article shall be inoperative unless it shall have been ratified as an amendment to the Constitution by conventions in the several States, as provided in the Constitution, within seven years from the date of the submission hereof to the States by the Congress.

Amendments.—In the Constitution as originally adopted, slight provision was made for the guaranty to the individual of a sphere of liberty not to be encroached upon by the Federal Government. To remedy this defect, the first Congress after the adoption of the Constitution passed and submitted to the States for ratification a series of ten Amendments, which were duly ratified and declared in force on Dec. 15, 1791.

The Eleventh Amendment was passed in 1793, and declared in force Jan. 8, 1795.

The Twelfth Amendment was added in 1803, and from then until the time of the Civil War no others were adopted.

The Thirteenth, Fourteenth and Fifteenth Amendments were embodied in 1865, 1868 and 1870, respectively, as part of the Government's Reconstruction policy, securing to the liberated slaves the benefits of citizenship.

The Sixteenth (Income Tax) and Seventeenth (Election of Senators) Amendments were adopted on Feb. 25 and May 31, 1913, respectively.

The Eighteenth (Prohibition) Amendment came into force on Jan. 16, 1920.

The Nineteenth (Woman Suffrage) Amendment was adopted on Aug. 25, 1920.

The Twentieth ("Lame Duck") Amendment; Ratification formally announced Feb. 6, 1933.

The Twenty-first (Prohibition Repeal) Amendment was adopted Dec. 5, 1933.

A proposed Child Labor Amendment, passed by both Houses of Congress in 1924, had by July, 1935) been rejected by 24 States and ratified by 15.

Chapter Five DAVID—SERIOUS

"No," Emily suddenly saw that the only way to interest him was to tell him the truth; to throw herself upon his mercy.

"It's just because I look pretty tonight. And that's Judith's fault and not mine. As a rule I'm quite colorless; I don't even know how to enjoy living." Her voice was soft and a little plaintive.

David's lips were against her hair, now. They strayed down to the cheek that was turned away from him.

"I wish," he said very gently, "that I had a chance to teach you." He slipped a hand beneath her chin and turned her face towards him. His promise of beauty had been fulfilled.

As he bent towards her she thought of the smile of Edwin and his gentle words of self-control, and a warmth of the kindly lifted corners of her mouth; thought of her mother's admonition about "holding one's self sacred for one's husband," and knew a moment of pain.

She drew away from him and looked squarely into his eyes.

"I don't even," she told him recklessly, "know how to kiss you. I've never kissed anyone but relatives in my life."

She had expected him to laugh. Or to scoff, because every other girl she knew had kissed someone, anyone. Instead he looked thoughtful.

"I believe you," he said at last. "And you don't know how glad I am that you haven't." He kissed her then, very gently at first, and she was surprised that his lips should be so soft when his arms were so hard. She hadn't realized thought of it before. She returned the kiss, simply, and felt his lips quicken upon hers.

"You precious, precious child," he muttered.

When the tumult and the shouting had died for the evening Judith made her way to David's room and perched herself upon his bed. She was clad in a pair of vivid Chinese pajamas and her eyes were dangerously bright.

"Of course," she began, "you're the apple of my eye and all that sort of thing, but I'll poison you if you break Emily's heart."

David looked squarely at her. "You're a flustering beast. In another minute you'll be telling me not to set fire to the state orphan asylum."

Judith helped herself to a cigarette from his bedside table. "Oh, I can't mean that you'd do it deliberately, darling; you never do. It's just that you'll have to hid your fatal light under a bushel. You've already been making love to her, darn you!"

David's look didn't falter. "I'm no St. Francis, you know. If you didn't expect me to fall, why on earth did you bring her down here and push her into my arms?"

"I wish I knew," Judith confessed. "I was so interested in seeing what she'd do to you that I overlooked what you might do to her."

"Has it occurred to you that I might be serious?" David demanded.

Judith's eyes widened in mock amazement. "No. Why should it?" He scowled at her, then grinned. "Damn your impertinence! Get out before I throw you out."

"Not until you promise to be good."

His face softened. "I wouldn't hurt her," he said gently, "for anything in the world. At the rate I'm going, I'll be the one who needs protection soon."

Judith got up and laid her hands upon his shoulders. "It's a promise, then?"

He bent and kissed her. "It is."

A noise, determined and incessant, dragged Emily from the warm depths of sleep. Someone was pounding on their door. Judith lifted a ruffled head and at that instant David's voice, raised in song, sifted through the door.

"Awake my soul, stretch every nerve—" he sang.

Judith snorted. "Do you have to make that noise?"

"I do," came the voice. "Are you both carefully buried?"

"You didn't think, did you?" Judith called back, "that we'd be doing our exercises?"

"Then," said the muffled voice, "I'm coming in."

The gasp of protest died on Emily's lips. David was already inside, leaning negligently against the foot of the bed. David, beautifully shaved and glowing, wearing the hunting shirt and the disreputable riding breeches. His smile was so gay and so utterly lacking in self-consciousness that she was suddenly ashamed of her horror.

"Shouting through that heavy door," he explained plaintively, "had all the privacy of a party telephone. I'd already acquired a large and interested audience. I was wondering if either of you likes the field would like to ride over the place with me this morning."

"I wouldn't," said Judith, "because I've sworn ever since Christmas that I was going to sleep until noon the first day I was at home. Emily might go."

He turned to her. "Will you?" Already she was learning to take things as they came with this astonishing family. "I'd love it."

He smiled his approval. "Stout fellow!" Then to Judith: "Is this craving for sleep real? Because I really wanted to take you."

Judith's eyes were warm. "You darling. Yes, it's real. Take me this afternoon?"

"Gladly." He turned once more to Emily. "Will you breakfast in a John Bull or Hollywood?"

"Which is which?"

"Oh, kippers and boaters and the like from the seaboard, or coffee and grapefruit in bed?" She considered. "Since I haven't ridden in three months, perhaps I'd better begin to practice eating from the seaboard. Besides, I've never eaten a boater."

David chuckled delightedly. "Neither have I. But if I can find a bicycle pump we'll have them. I'll give you ten minutes," he said, as the door closed behind him.

Riding over Carrollton with David had all the glamor of a voyage of discovery. The sunlight was pure gold and the meadows were green velvet. All the hands stopped to talk, and David's interest was flattering and unflinching. (Copyright, 1935, by Marian Sims)

SILVER DUST ON HAIR

LONDON (AP)—Smart women dust silver powder over their hair in the evening.

DALLAS EXPOSITION WILL NOT COMPETE WITH SAN ANTONIO IN STAGING OF HISTORY PAGEANT

DALLAS, Sept. 23. — Walter D. Cline, former director of the Texas Centennial Central Exposition corporation, said recently the central exposition had no intention of competing with San Antonio in the staging of a historical pageant.

"We hope San Antonio spends $1,000,000 and puts on a pageant that will be the feature of the entire celebration," he declared, in commenting on a letter written by San Antonio's committee of eleven to the United States commission for the Texas Centennial.

The letter called the plan of Dallas to stage a pageant "a clear-cut case of bad faith" after "Mr. Cline specifically advised Mr. (R. W.) Morrison they had received proposals from a number of people to furnish one-half the money within a week, state Works Progress administration officials today were executing final plans for the execution of projects.

With State Project Director E. A. Baugh's report that Texas had requested a federal expenditure of $176,570,000 in the state, Administrator H. P. Drought announced that the promotional phase of WPA work is completed.

Works division staff members were summoned to San Antonio to receive instruction on the actual execution of projects which have been proposed. District engineering staff members were called to state WPA headquarters by Baugh last Friday and Saturday. Coincidentally, women's work supervisors from the twenty Texas districts were convened for instructions from Mrs. M. K. Taylor, state women's work consultant.

"We hope to have men at work on the first $1,500,000 in projects by next week," Baugh declared today. "This represents the amount approved for Texas at this time by federal authorities and will include work projects in every Texas WPA district."

Although the vast bulk of last-minute projects rushed into the state office for approval last week made exact computations impossible at this time, Baugh explained, engineers reported the 176 millions as the approximate total approved by state examiners for Texas.

Included in the figure were 21 statewide and multi-district proposals asking approximately $95,940,000 in federal funds, Baugh reported. The remainder of the total was contained in local projects sponsored by agencies in the various districts.

Federal approval of a considerable proportion of these requests will leave state WPA officials a wide latitude for the selection of the more worthwhile of the projects submitted, Baugh pointed out. "Although the 176 millions requested obviously will be more necessary to provide work for the state's employables on relief rolls,

WRECKING RELIEF ROLLS TO BE BEGUN IN TEXAS IN WEEK

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 23.—Topping to begin a systematic wrecking of relief rolls in Texas within a week, state Works Progress administration officials today were executing final plans for the execution of projects.

ITALY PREPS FOR TROUBLE WITH ENGLAND

MOBILIZES SOLDIERS — PORT TOWNS WOULD BE EVACUATED

ROME, Sept. 23 (AP)—Two hundred thousand soldiers of the classes of 1911, 1912, 1913, and 1914 reported for duty today, bringing Italy's total military mobilization to the 1,000,000 Premier Mussolini promised would be under arms before October 1.

At the same time, authorities at Naples, Palermo, Taranto, Bari, Brindisi, and other Italian ports and cities, particularly in the south, distributed questionnaires to their citizens as a preparation for their evacuation if necessary.

The questionnaire was entitled: "Evacuation of the population in case of mobilization."

It asked the number in the family, the citizenship, and whether the family has its own means of transportation. The card then says: "The family will voluntarily leave the city on receiving the order and will betake itself to the town of..." The name of the town is inserted.

The questionnaire notifies the residents that if they are engaged in occupation requiring their continued presence in port cities, they must make application to port authorities, after which they will be given the necessary permit to remain.

Citizens who do not have their own means of transportation will be moved by the military authorities.

The soldiers brought under the colors today are those of "category C" of the four classes. They are the men who served only three months in the army.

Simultaneously with the distribution of the questionnaires in the coastal cities came a similar distribution in hill and mountain towns behind the seaports.

These latter questionnaires demanded to know how many rooms the citizens had, declaring that space must be made for certain other numbers of persons when they arrive on a moment's notice.

An official communique assured citizens of southern Italian and Sicilian ports today that neither British nor Italian naval concentration in the Mediterranean meant immediate war.

The announcement, issued thru the official Italian news agency, was published for the first time in the nation's newspapers.

It repeated the news already published abroad that Sir Eric Drummond, British ambassador to Rome, had assured the Italian government that Britain's naval maneuvers in the seas near Italy did not presuppose British sanctions against Italy for its Ethiopian campaign.

GOVERNOR FEARS SPECIAL TERM WILL BE STREWN WITH STRIFE

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Pears that the current special session of the legislature would be rousing were given foundation by Governor Allred in a personal appearance to deliver his first message.

"I hope we all may speak thoughtfully, considerately and softly at all times," he said in what was considered an overture to the legislature to work in cordial harmony as between the houses and the executive office.

Prohibition will provide much of the fireworks but the greatest tension is expected to develop over taxation to provide revenue for old age pensions.

Tax bills, wherein the pocketbook of individuals or corporations are bit, are always the hardest fought. Legislative representatives of corporations strongly assert they are unable to pay additional burdens and seek to shift the tax base. Many favor a sales tax but the house of representatives consistently has refused to entertain such a plan.

When the old age pension reaches floor consideration the scramble will start. Riders proposing almost all forms of taxation have been prepared for presentation as amendments, including an increase in the sulphur production levy and raises in the taxes on oil and gas production.

SPECIAL SESSION MAY QUICKEN INTEREST IN SPEAKER'S RACE

AUSTIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—The special session of the legislature should witness a quickening of interest in the race for speaker of the 49th house.

When the legislature adjourned its regular session in May the speaker's race was wide open. Small blocs had formed around a few of the prospective contenders but the majority of the membership went home unemployed and unallied.

Ordinarily at the close of a long regular session the lines in the race for speaker of the succeeding house are fairly well defined.

This was true in the 42nd when Coke Stevenson of Junction and A. P. Johnson of Carrizo Springs were contestants. A similar condition existed in the 43rd when Stevenson Pampa was a candidate and his opposition lined up with J. B. Ford of McGregor. Ford, however, abandoned the chase in favor of young R. W. Calvert a few months before the 44th met.

The experience of representatives in the last speakership campaign is credited to the public publication heretofore of the regular session of the 43rd. Friends of Stevenson circulated a petition, signed by 100 members, asking Stevenson to seek re-election. On the basis of this support Stevenson announced.

When the campaign warmed and both sides started putting on the pressure there was much squirming. Members who previously had pledged their support to one or the other candidates were in a tight place. Only those who had withheld definite commitments could sit back and get even a small measure of enjoyment out of the race.

Six members are mentioned as likely candidates. They are Reps.

Morris Roberts of Pettus, Walter E. Jones of Jourdanton, R. Emmett Morse of Houston, Sidney Latham of Longview, Albert Walker of Vernon and Bob Alexander of Childress. The candidates of all, however, are uncertain.

It is reported Roberts has been approached by friends to run for the senate to succeed E. J. Blackert of Victoria. Walker may not seek re-election while Latham, the political grapevine reveals, may have ambitions toward another office also.

Morse was one of Stevenson's chief lieutenants in the last speakership clash. But Jones also put in some sturdy work for Stevenson and the present speaker likely would keep out of the race should it simmer down to these two.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL
And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly energetic and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only make you loose and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a flat, bad taste and your breath is foul. Skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amounting when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills for the same Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Beware a substitute. 25c each at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Three Babies, But Star Has Glamour Still

BY ROBBIN COONS. HOLLYWOOD—The notion that having babies takes away the glamor of a movie actress is passed out with the silent pictures, or even before.

Leading stars have children and are proud of them. Others who haven't children go out and adopt them, and in spite of all this domestic, maternal aspect of their lives, they keep on being stars.

Norma Shearer is the mother of two now; Gloria Stuart recently had her first child; Ruby Keeler and Alton adopted one, as have many other movie families.

Married at 15. But none of them can approach the record of a slim, tall, dark-haired girl of 24 who was the mother of three children before she began her movie career.

Winifred Shaw, who was born in San Francisco, whose mother was Hawaiian and English, whose father was Hawaiian and Irish, was married when she was 15. The marriage ended recently, and very quietly, in divorce—but Win, as she was known before Warner Bros. lengthened her name, still has the children, two boys and a girl.

Proud of them. "I suppose it's bad publicity—the kind that will make people say, 'My wife's well preserved, isn't she?' But personally," she declares, "I'm very proud of my children, and I see no reason for being ashamed of being a mother. I'm not, in the least. I think I could be with them all the time."

The reason she can't be with the children, she explains, is her own desire to keep them away from the show world. They live with Win's mother in the east—exactly where she will not say because she wishes to spare them the limelight—and when they visit her in California she arranges to meet them "somewhere far from Hollywood."

"Until they've gone through school, at least," she says, "I'm determined they will know nothing about show business."

Win, formerly under contract to Fox very briefly, sang in Broadway musicals before she came to Hollywood. Her work in "Sweet Adeline," "Gold Diggers of 1935," "In Caliente," and other recent films has marked her for stardom in the near future.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

BY MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Writer.
An oven dinner is the answer when you have civics and social service and a club duty all on your mind at one time as well as a family to keep healthy and well-fed.
Aside from the time-saving, mind-relieving assets of an oven dinner, there is a good deal to be said for baking meats and vegetables that ordinarily are fixed some other way.
Foods for any given oven meal should be those that can be cooked at the same temperature and for approximately the same length of time. For instance, try this one on your family. Frankfurters a la Yorkshire, cabbage baked in milk and fruit compote.
