Extension Of Oil Leases Favored

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Owners of leases on university and public school lands in Texas who are prohibited by government regulations from drilling or completing wells may apply for an extension of leases under legislation passed by the senate.

Passed finally yesterday were bills: Authorizing the public school board to revise leases affecting islands, salt water lakes, bays, inlets, marshes and reefs owned by the state within tide-water limits and that portion of the Gulf of Mexico within the state's jurisdiction.

Permitting extension of leases on university lands where federal or state restrictions were in effect 120 days before expiration of the primary term.

This bill by Sen. Houghton Browne of Austin, authorizes an extension of not more than one year by the board of regents of the University of Texas and the state land commissioner.

By Sen. William E. Stone of Galveston, the public school lease bill was amended so that it would prevent one authority from lending money to another and a second to prohibit an authority's fixing the re-sale price of power sold to a municipality.

Among other features, the bill make contracts with a private corporation unless it were subject to the jurisdiction of Texas courts, nor would a contract be permitted with a public corporation unless it had been created under Texas law.

Cities served by electric facilities sold to an authority would, under the bill, receive payments in lieu of taxes in the amounts which would have been collected from a private corporation through taxes.

The house finally passed a bill permitting the University of Texas to accept as a gift the 48-year-old Texas Dental College in Houston. All properties and facilities of the college are given the state, which would pay operating costs. The bill now goes to the senate.

Burlington Lines Offer Garden Space

Gray county residents can obtain free garden space along the right of way of the Burlington lines in Gray county.

Allowing garden permits is not new for the Burlington (Ft. Worth and Denver) as during World War I the public was permitted to plant gardens on suitable land along the right of way and since that time many employes have continued to use railroad lands for gardening.

In addition, the Burlington for the last 30 years has permitted farmers to raise alfalfa on the right of way, wherever practical, and probably has 3000 acres in alfalfa on the right of way.

Use of the land is not restricted to railroad employes, but includes garden clubs and individuals as well. There is no charge for use of the land.

In Gray the land available is along the 35-mile long line of the railway in this county.

Only restriction on use of right of way for gardens is that the crops must not constitute a fire or safety hazard and must not obstruct drainages.

All that is necessary to secure a right of way plot is to obtain an application blank from the Pampa agent of the Burlington.

The Victory gardener may select his own plot and provided it does not interfere with railroad operations and has not been allocated to someone else earlier, a permit will be issued promptly.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—An increase of 108 per cent in the transport of cargo by the nation's airlines in 1942 was reported today by the air transportation association of America.

The increase "may be attributed to the movements of vital war necessities that tend to remove the bottlenecks in production lines," said a statement by Edgar S. Gorell, association president.

Air mail increased 58 per cent in pound miles flown and revenue passenger miles increased two per cent, his report said.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The house yesterday afternoon passed to third reading a substitute for an original bill by Rep. Marshall Bell of San Antonio curbing the activities of river authorities.

Sponsors of the substitute, which were to rally sufficient support for final passage.

Rural electrification cooperatives were specifically excluded from the provisions of the measure. As passed to final reading, it carried two amendments, one to prevent one authority from lending money to another and a second to prohibit an authority's fixing the re-sale price of power sold to a municipality.

Among other features, the bill make contracts with a private corporation unless it were subject to the jurisdiction of Texas courts, nor would a contract be permitted with a public corporation unless it had been created under Texas law.

Cities served by electric facilities sold to an authority would, under the bill, receive payments in lieu of taxes in the amounts which would have been collected from a private corporation through taxes.

IT SAVES A LOT of head-scratching to have facts instead of guesses, when you are choosing a motor oil to protect and preserve your car for the duration. That is why we give you these facts: We produce a number of oils at a variety of prices to meet the differing demands of car owners. Some want a low-priced lubricant for very old cars, some want a medium-priced product, while to still others cost is no object. Of all these oils, we have concentrated on one as our best. The crudes which go into it, the extra care in processing, the results it gives; all enable us to say frankly and simply, Phillips 66 Motor Oil is our finest quality... the highest grade and greatest value... among all the oils we offer to average motorists. Never was it more important to use good oil. So it is good sense and good saving to ask for Phillips 66 Motor Oil when draining winter-worn lubricant, or when making the recommended every-two-months oil change. CARE FOR YOUR CAR... ### CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, April 26 (AP)—Action by the commodity credit corporation to control cotton prices, emphasizing the possibility that cottons eventually may be set on wheat, eased the bread cereal in quiet trading today. Oats and rye also weaker, but corn held at maximum.

Further inroads into the visible supply of both wheat and rye were made, but heavy demand for these grains, had no influence on prices. Visible supply of wheat this week 167,136,000 bushels against 193,673,000 bushels a year ago, while corn totaled 202,000,000 bushels against 229,000,000 last year.

Wheat closed 5/8c lower; May 1.43 1/2; July 1.43; corn was unchanged at 1.15 1/2; May 1.05; oats lower to 8c higher; and rye was down 1/4c.

Absenteeism Drops, Perkins Declares

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Absenteeism, one of the bugaboos of U. S. war production is being successfully controlled, Labor Secretary Francis Perkins declared today.

"Wild absenteeism is almost negligible," she said a nation-wide survey has revealed.

The survey shows that illness, accidents, transportation difficulties, poor housing, bad nutrition, lack of child care facilities and other problems which the individual worker alone cannot solve are responsible for most absenteeism," she asserted.

Poor production planning and material shortages are a "serious cause" of absenteeism, the secretary declared, adding that plants should pre-plan work as far as possible.

Plants have controlled absences, she said, by studying hours, fatigue, nutrition and accidents and disease; arranging transportation including workers' tire and gas rationing needs; building or financing housing for workers; persuading stores and banks to remain open for various shifts and trying in a number of ways to help individuals solve problems which might lead to their being away from work.

A NEW LEAGUE OF NATIONS?

Months before the November election while Dr. Gallup and others were predicting New Dealers gains or at least no losses, I recorded my belief that the losses would be substantial. I looked up the political results in 1862, 1898 and 1918 when we were at war.

I now record my belief that New Dealers who squeaked through last November will be routed a year from this fall. Republicans and anti-New Deal Democrats will control the House by a large majority.

It is possible that Mr. Roosevelt, if he decides to try for sixteen years in the White House, may win due to the votes of the Stimson-Knox department of the Republican party. However, I think it equally in the cards that Mr. Roosevelt will be defeated, and perhaps by as large a vote as Cox and Roosevelt lost by in 1920.

These are among the reasons why I endorse Senator Tom Connally's view that this is no time to try to commit the destiny of our country by adopting the Ball-Hill-Burton Hatch resolution looking toward some sort of a Global Government. The present Senate may not prove to be the spokesman of the American people. In that case any legal shackles it forges will tie a restless giant. It has been demonstrated that you can lead the American people to various liquids but you can't make them drink (or, as we saw in the 1920's, stop drinking).

Aside from the immorality involved in stealing part of their sovereignty from the pockets of the people while they are fighting a fire, any effort to merge our national existence must be enduring, rest on complete acceptance, after a nationwide and wholly honest presentation of the issues involved. For they are as momentous as the Declaration of Independence and the Constitution, both of which would be repealed in part.

In his latest broadcast Mr. Churchill protested against attempting to commit his nation at this time. "We must beware of attempts to over-persuade or even coerce His Majesty's government to bind themselves or their unknown successors in office to conditions which no one can foresee."

No one can tell now what conditions we will face when the war is over. There is intermittent border warfare on the Russian-Chinese frontier and has been for years. Suppose it flames into big league war. Which one of our noble allies will we side with in that case? And if our dear brother Stalin wants another piece of real estate do Senators think anyone is going to stop him with words, syllables and sentences?

President Conant of Harvard is an internationalist, like most of the down east professors. However, being a hard headed and very able scientist, he keeps his head screwed onto the rest of himself. His advice to the Wallace school who would pick times of peace is worth quoting: "To some who view the present chaos in the light of the follies of the last 20 years, no small measure of blame must be laid at the door of the prevalent Utopian philosophy (the Brave New World stuff). When impossible dreams are set before men's minds no harvest except bitter cynicism can be expected. Civilization will be hard pressed indeed if another era of cynicism is the product of the Utopian war aims of this struggle."

Leaving this classic language we conclude with tidings from the Banks of the Wabash. The Fort Wayne News-Sentinel has polled every Republican precinct committeeman and woman in Willkie's home state on the question whether they think Mr. Willkie should be nominated next year. 89 per cent, said No.

One-third of Willkie's 11 per cent, even disagreed with him on his foreign policy. Willkie is the Republican white hope for a Global Government. As he has endorsed the Ball-Hatch-Hill-Burton crusade, and as these committeemen don't write the build-up stuff, but have the job of carrying their home precincts, this vote for the grass roots will be disregarded with peril. Incidentally, in 1940 Mr. Willkie said, "We must not undertake to maintain the peace of Europe by force of arms. These committeemen still think so."

Alleged Misuse Of Funds Probed

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The agriculture department and the house appropriations committee are making an investigation, officials said today, to determine whether government funds have been misused by employees of the agriculture adjustment administration in an effort to influence farm legislation pending in congress.

The investigation was started several weeks ago and is being centered chiefly in 10 midwestern states.

Involved in the inquiry is the refusal of the appropriations committee to approve a request of Secretary of Agriculture Wickard for $100,000,000 for incentive payments to farmers on so-called war crops.

and a campaign to have farmers write and wire their congressmen urging approval of the payments.

Members of the appropriations committee told Wickard at a hearing several weeks ago they had been told that a number of AAA employees had been active in the campaign to influence favorable congressional action on the payments. The committee members said, such action would be in violation of a federal law forbidding use of government funds for the purpose of influencing members of congress on pending legislation.

Family Seeks To Avenge Deaths

PITTSBURGH, April 27 (AP)—The Johns of Johnstown are a Spartan family.

Two sons, members of the marines, were killed Guadalcanal, Charles Johns, 17, the next oldest son, went to his mother with the question: "May I go too?"

He half expected a refusal, but instead, his mother urged him to go. Today he told his story to Lieut. Col. A. E. Simon, in charge of the marine recruiting station here.

"You're under the age limit," said the colonel, tentatively.

"But I must go now—I want to avenge the deaths of my brothers," declared Charles.

So Col. Simon wired commandant

78,235 Casualties Of War Announced

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The office of war information announced today a war casualty total of 78,235. This figure, representing an increase of 12,855 since the last OWI report February 20, apparently did not include some of the most recent Tunisian losses. The OWI explained that the figures were only for casualties whose next of kin had been notified as of yesterday.

The latest list included 12,123 dead, 15,949 wounded, 40,435 missing and 10,628 prisoners.

Army casualties totaled 53,693, including 4976 killed, 10,394 wounded, 27,321 missing, and 10,628 prisoners of war. Of the wounded 1,058 had returned to active duty.

Navy casualties total 24,926, made up of 7,147 dead, 4,665 wounded and 13,114 missing.

Let's Take No Chances

Secretary Knox bellies the danger of an all-out Japanese attack upon Australia. He says that there is no indication that the Nips have concentrated the shipping that would be necessary for such a venture.

This comment was in response to questions about Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey's statement that the enemy has 200,000 first-line troops, plus a powerful air force, along the island arc northward of Australia.

General MacArthur, who is closer to the spot than Secretary Knox, says that as a matter of fact very strong Japanese naval forces are within easy striking distance of Australia, though beyond range of Allied bombers.

In the dispute over appointment of American strength as between the Southwestern Pacific and the North African-European areas, laymen do not possess the detailed information or the training in military strategy to warrant too positive opinions.

Laymen do read the newspapers, however, and when Secretary Knox bellies the danger to the Australian sector, laymen are not constrained to forget the Navy's attitude when the little brown men took over Kiska—the tip of Alaska.

The navy told us then that there was no danger. The Jap occupation was only a nuisance raid. The enemy couldn't develop his positions to do us any harm.

Well, the Japs have been there a long time. We have bombed them and machine-gunned them. We have sunk their ships and turned back their convoys. After which, we learn that a long fighter field on Kiska and a long bomber field on Attu are nearing completion.

When those fields are completed, even small planes will be able to fly from Japanese territory to what should be American territory.

We hope that Secretary Knox is sounder in his appraisal of the danger to Australia than he was in his reaction to the loss of Attu and Kiska. We hope he is right—but suppose he is not? Can we afford to take that chance?

There still are evidences of survival of the costliest error this nation ever committed—the error of underestimating the tenacity and the slyness of the Japs.

Few Atheists On Bataan

Few who understand the American temperament will be surprised to learn that rank and file of fighting men are attending church services much more generally than they did as civilians. There is no compulsion from outside. But an inner urge is sending soldiers and sailors and marines back to fundamentals which too often had been neglected at home.

The average American is religious in a casual, matter-of-fact way. When he gets stripped to essentials, as he faces or prepares to face a lethal enemy, his interest in the hereafter inevitably becomes more active. This is no matter of fear or of hypocritical sneaking around to heaven's back door. It is the natural development of communing daily with stark realities.

A TIMELY SPEECH (The Washington Star)

Eric A. Johnston, progressive-minded president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, made a speech in New York Wednesday night which probably will draw upon him the fire of some of those who have come to be known as "global thinkers."

Mr. Johnston talked first about the tendency in some quarters to dwell upon American-made benefits for the people of the world without giving sufficient attention to the welfare of the people of this country. Citing the example of the social worker who is so busy doing good for others that he neglects his own wife and children, Mr. Johnston appealed for an American policy of "enlightened self-interest."

This policy, he said, should be applied in clear recognition of the fact that our own self-interest coincides with the best interests of mankind, but we must also realize that the living standards of the world are not to be raised merely by pulling down our own living standards. This, certainly, is a thought that the more extreme of our world planners would do well to keep prominently in mind.

More important, however, were the speaker's comments on the drift toward some form of totalitarianism in this country. Mr. Johnston apparently had in mind the tendency—necessary in many cases—to extend and strengthen governmental controls incident to the conduct of the war. In this there is an insidious danger, one which lies more in the effect produced on the people than in the minds of the man directing our war program.

The chance that we will change over from a democracy to some form of totalitarian government as a result of purposeful planning by any man or group of men is extremely remote. But, given an intensification of the forces already set in motion, there is a greater prospect that we may find ourselves being relentlessly pushed toward a dictatorship by the pressure of conditions which we have lost the capacity or the will to control.

Our problem is how not to surrender personal liberty and personal initiative while functioning under the controls which necessarily have been set up. There is considerable evidence that during recent years there has been a loss of individual initiative, if not of liberty, throughout the country. And it is clear that there are those in our Government who, in all good faith, believe that the future must bring an increasing subordination of individual initiative to the growing power of the State. But they forget that the more the citizens come to lean upon their Government, the less able they are to stand on their own feet. We should remember the other nations which have found this to be a direct pathway to total governmental authority and ultimate ruin.

IT HAPPENED IN CHINA (Omaha World-Herald)

At a recent meeting Charles H. Day, the manager of the modification center at the Martin-Nebraska bomber plant, related an incident which, he believes, deserves wider circulation.

Some years ago, before Pearl Harbor but after the Japanese invasion of China, Mr. Day was hired by the Chinese government to operate an airplane factory somewhere in the interior of that country.

The Chinese employees of this factory normally worked a 70-hour week—10 hours a day for seven days. If they worked longer they had to be paid overtime. But before Mr. Day could pay over-

ROOSEVELT'S REFERENCE TO CONSTITUTIONAL METHODS

In President Roosevelt's message, refusing to sign the bill that permitted the public debt to be increased and also took away from him the right to limit salaries, he says, "The Congress, however, did not adopt this constitutional method."

It is a strange thing for a president who has done more to destroy the Constitution of the United States than any other man who ever lived, to be talking about following constitutional methods. It will be remembered that Roosevelt told the committee considering the Guffey Coal Bill not to let their doubt as to its constitutionality interfere with their passing the bill.

When Roosevelt was not able to increase the Supreme Court and when members resigned or died and he was able to appoint men who believed in a government of men rather than a government of laws, Roosevelt pointed out that they had accomplished what they were after. Yet, when he was attempting to pack the Supreme Court, he contended it was because of the age of the members of the Supreme Court.

He, himself, has paid no attention to the Constitution and now he protests against the Congress protecting themselves against his demagoguery.

He wants the power to arbitrarily limit what a man may earn. He will not consent to any uniform rule as to how we are to pay for the war. He wants the operation to be arbitrary and he wants to be the sole arbitrator.

It is certainly against the spirit of the Constitution of the United States to limit the income of one man and not limit the income on a uniform basis.

His theory of establishing a maximum of salaries would not increase the tax received by the government. In fact, it would reduce it. It would help lose the war instead of help win it.

Would Impoverish Workers After War

Besides it would help destroy free enterprise after the war. It would impoverish the workers after the war because it would dry up the private capital needed to furnish jobs after the war.

He likes to use words that sound democratic but cannot be defined. He says he believes the "nation has a common purpose—equality of sacrifice—in war times."

But he fails to explain how the sacrifice is equal when some have their salaries limited and others do not have theirs limited.

Confucius' Advice Needed

We need statesmen who do not attempt to make the voter believe that he does not eventually have to pay for the cost of the war in proportion as he consumes. Our trouble comes from fooling the people, using words that have different meanings. When Confucius was asked what he would do first if he were put in charge of the government, his reply was "rectification of names."

He would make names have their exact meaning. Confucius said all statesmanship must start: To give the words we are using their exact and unmistakable meaning.

When Roosevelt talks about equal sacrifice it is a euphonious phrase that has a common appeal. It is to confiscate the work and savings of years on the guise that it is equal sacrifice, is the exact opposite of equal sacrifice. It is requiring one man to devote a much larger fraction of his life to help win the war than another. In addition to this, it takes from this individual his managing ability, his ability to accumulate private capital to furnish jobs.

If Roosevelt does not know that a maximum on rewards without regard to the amount of production is undemocratic and will only lead after the war to more and more poverty and suffering on the part of the great mass of people, he is grossly ignorant of all economic laws. If he does know and advocates this, he is a demagogue without a heart.

Last Long Billion

Nobody should be deceived by the sprinting start of the second war loan drive into believing that George will take care of Uncle Sam's financial requirements. George—meaning the big non-banking institutions—has jumped in with both feet, and bought bonds by the billions. This is exemplified by the situation in New York, which raised almost half its quota in two days because two insurance companies took quarter of the quota among them.

The payoff will come when the big boys have done their shares, and the rest of the billions have to be picked up in dribbles of $75 here, $37.50 there, $18.75 somewhere else. It takes a whale of a lot of $18.75 sales to equal a billion dollars—53 millions of them, in fact.

So don't fear that your contribution will not be needed. Just lay it on the line, fast and often.

time wages he had to get permission from the government at Chungking. This, as can be readily understood, was a slow process.

One day during an emergency (which possibly had something to do with Japanese bombing) Mr. Day called in his Chinese foreman and said, in effect: "Such and such work must be done immediately. There is no time to consult Chungking. You tell your men to do the job and I will pay their extra wages personally."

The foreman did as directed, and the task was completed. Mr. Day handed the foreman enough money to pay for the extra time.

The next day the foreman returned and put the money, intact, on Mr. Day's desk.

"How come?" asked the American. "Why didn't you pay the men?"

"They wouldn't take it," replied the Chinese. "They said if the work was important enough so that you, a foreigner, were willing to pay for it out of your own pocket, then it was important enough so that they, as Chinese, should be glad of the chance to do it for their country."

This, as we said in the beginning, happened in China.

News Behind The News

By ALBERT LEMAN

SHOCKED: Because officialdom is playing down references to family squabbles among French factions and withholding news of their various opinions about Americans, the public imagines that at last everything is serene. Actually a state of affairs exists which is deplorable; in fact, unbelievable did not a description of them rest on eyewitness evidence.

The French dreadnaught Richelieu is now being refitted at the Brooklyn navy yard for future battle duty. A few nights ago a distinguished New York family, as a guest of inter-allied hospitality, invited the battleship's high officers as guests to a dinner party in a Park Avenue mansion. Other local Social Registerites were there to welcome the strangers.

The naval visitors boasted that they were in contact with the high officers and could not acquire at once by merely asking Washington. If one of the junior rankers needed funds for a holiday, he would file a request with Uncle Sam and the money would be forthcoming.

They praised Fretted, Laval and finally Germany. In the next breath they launched into such an anti-American tirade that their hosts were shocked. The United States, fulminated the pro-Vichyites, was planning to invade France a more which they vigorously opposed. It would be typical, unwanted meddling on our part they said.

After the unhappy evening ended, an important New York banker present remarked bitterly, "When the Richelieu is rearmad and those men are in contact, how do we know they will not turn their guns on our ships?"

REVOLTED: Fresh light is also thrown on another phase of our murky relations with the Vichy clique in North Africa. One of the top men in the Vichy government, back from overseas, gives this explanation—When General Eisenhower's expeditionary force set sail for Morocco our commander faced two critical problems—Portugal and the Arabs. These were our two major enemies in dealing with Darlan and his ilk.

HULLABALOO: Tricks which earned for Rommel the title of "desert fox" are revealed by the famous war correspondent, Alan Moorehead, in "Don't Blame the Generals," just published by Harper & Brothers. He tells the uncensored epic of the earlier blunders and disasters of the British eighth army—those beaten but stubborn men who finally rallied and became one of the greatest outfits ever to fight under the United Jack.

Many of the early catastrophes were due solely to the strategy of the wily Nazi. "While the tanks were still locked (at Sidi Rezegh) in this bloodlet of all battles," writes eyewitness Moorehead, "Rommel hit upon a gamble that had the elements of genius and the wildest possible folly. He detached a part of his tanks and armored cars and flung them straight across the desert through the British lines of communications. . . . Confusion reigned madly than shellfire spread everywhere."

Another stunt was using the tank as a scare weapon. Just a few were maneuvered but, explains the author, "they got through to the infantry and made a terrific hullabaloo, shooting off very lights, firing all their guns and stirring up great columns of dust." Word circulated that the enemy had broken through the front lines and the troops fled.

Rommel was not so successful as a Goebbels. After his armies reached El Alamein he was dropped "bullet per bullet" on Cairo. On one side of each was a fascimile of a Bank of England note; on the other a message that once such money had been valuable, now it was not worth a beggar's time to pick it up. But the Egyptian were unmoved by the propaganda. They had seen Auchinleck's reinforcements.

A few days later she received a call from another officer, who explained that his pal suddenly had been shipped overseas and had given him her telephone number. He asked for the name of the officer. About American Relief In Tunisia

By PETER EDSON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

As American army forces advanced eastward in Tunisia towards Sfax and Sousse, American relief supplies were administered to some 50 families in the western Tunisian town of Kassarine near the bitterly fought-over Kassarine Pass, and to some 30 families in the village of Sbeitla.

Distribution of some food, clothing, medical supplies and soap to these 80 families, however small the quantity, is important, because it marks the real beginning of field operations by Gov. Herbert H. Lehman's office of foreign relief and rehabilitation. Tunisia will be the first country to be liberated from Axis armies, the first country to receive full-scale American relief, and is worth waiting because the patients worked out for Tunisia will be followed in other countries as they are freed.

All this and other similar relief was organized quickly after the American forces landed in Africa in November. Governor Lehman's office of foreign relief and rehabilitation organization was not even in existence at that time, did not begin to get organized till January, and never has been able to get ahead of the Algerian situation.

LEND-LEASE STOCK PILES

But towards the end of January, the organization's Fred K. Hoehler arrived in North Africa and with a staff of about a dozen picked men began to lay plans for the Tunisian relief. A small part—approximately 5 per cent of the $25 million worth of lend-lease supplies arriving in North Africa was set aside for relief. Transportation was tough, but the army was able to build up some stock piles right on the Tunisian border, ready to be moved in close behind the advancing forces as needed.

In the early stages of any of this relief and rehabilitation, it is inevitable that everything will have to be done under the control of the military commanders. But in the case of Tunisia, the army has put Mr. Hoehler to work and as the military situation gets nailed down, the responsibility for relief will be shifted to the organization, as a move to help maintain order and prevent the spread of disease behind the lines.

Hoehler's small staff has worked out with the army a complete plan for relief in Tunisia to cover the first 60 days of United Nations control. The actual plan is held as a confidential government document relating to military operations, but it can be disclosed that at Governor Lehman's insistence, the estimates have been held down to the minimum actual need—to stop starvation, but not to feed the population to the point of fatness.

BASIC DIET TO BE PROVIDED

Tunisia, about the size of Louisiana, has a population of around three million. Tunis and the six next largest cities have a population of 450,000 and the relief problem is centered there. Seaport towns are worse off than the rural, agricultural towns of the interior. In all, not more than a million people may need relief, and only a third of those will need a complete diet. The remaining two-thirds will need a supplementary diet only. What- ever diet is supplied will be a basic diet, suitable to all. Since Jews and Moslems don't eat pork, little or no meat may be shipped in, the effort being made to encourage the movement to market of local livestock, principally lamb and mutton.

Strangely enough, there is money in Tunisia, to the extent that there is actually an inflation problem—too much money and not enough goods—the Germans having stripped the country of everything loose and destroyed many of the things tied down. The next job will be to restock the stores, start the export of wool, vegetable oils and phosphate fertilizers needed by the United Nations. That may be done largely on a lend-lease basis. Where relief leaves off and lend-lease begins hasn't yet been worked out.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Writer

Post-war reconstruction in Europe seems to be heading into some dirty weather, what with Soviet Russia's severance of relations with the Polish government in exile, and the diplomatic ties between Washington and our once good friend, Finland, shivering in the balance.

Moscow charges that the Poles, "to please Hitler's tyranny," have been accusing the Reds of murdering 10,000 Polish officers.

In the Russo-Polish imbroglio we have ready-made one of the knotty problems of any peace conference. Actually the Polish refusal to abandon making war on Russia is a piece off the same cloth, for here again the question of territories is the real issue.

While no state of war exists between Finland and the United States, we are suffering—and the Allied cause is suffering—many of the damaging effects of a declared hostility. The Finns are working in full cooperation with the Hunns in making up one of the most vicious of the Algerian situation.

Helmski maintains the fiction that the Finnish war is quite apart from the global conflict. This was emphasized at the time that Field Marshal Manneheim visited Hitler at the latter's headquarters last June.

Mannerheim's first order of the day to his troops, as they went into battle against the Russians in June of 1941, summoned them to "a holy war against the enemy of our nation and declared that we were forth side by side of the mighty armed forces of Germany as their comrades in arms." If that doesn't make the Finns the Allies of the Nazis, then language has ceased to have any meaning.

It looks as though little Finland has strained the bonds of friendship with the Allies pretty hard. Indications are that she will have to make a mighty quick shift in her attitude or take the consequences in the peace conference.

13 BANGTAILS ENTER KENTUCKY DERBY TRIAL MILE TODAY

Count Fleet To Wait For Saturday

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27 (AP)—Derbyville put on the wartime version of its annual war plant today as 13 of the hopefuls and the "not-hopefuls" got out their running shoes to shoot for a spot in Saturday's select Kentucky Derby set.

The derby trial mile was scheduled today. This time, the trial mile has drawn all but four of the "name" horses for Saturday's big pot, but despite the classic collection of tay-stokers who'll be on hand, the big interest of the day is in a Gee-Gee who is not even in the gallop.

"This naturally is Count Fleet, the hottest Mr. Big ever to grab at the derby brass ring. He's one of the quartet of Saturday's likely starters who won't try for the trial pot, but he'll keep his hand in by taking an airing over the full derby mile and a quarter route.

"Second place looms large for today's preview and Saturday's main event.

This year, most of the boys are about reconciled to the outlook that second money in the derby is all they'll get.

The result is Warren Wright's Ocean Wave, Mrs. Thel V. Mars' No Wrinkles, W. E. Boeing's duet of Slide Rule and Twoses, J. Graham Brown's Seven Hearts, Mrs. Henry L. Finch's Modest Lad and Eddie (Rochester) Anderson's Burnt Cork are all given a chance today as well as a look-in for the runner-up slot Saturday.

Men In Pacific Need Boxing Gloves

HOLLYWOOD, April 27 (AP)—They liked "Music" and "Elmer the Great"—characterizations. Joe E. Brown has made famous—but what went over biggest among soldiers in the Pacific war theater was the comedian's motion pictures of the Georgia-U. C. C. L. A. Rose Bowl game.

Brown made this disclosure yesterday in announcing he will seek a fund of at least $5,000 to provide boxing gloves "for every post in the Pacific."

Sports equipment, he said, is sorely needed in the outposts where American troops are cracking at the Japs, and in this view he has the support of Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

"He (the general) feels that sports are a necessity out there," Brown declared. "The boys get a tremendous kick out of listening to sports broadcasts and reading which contain sports news."

Home from a 30,000-mile entertainment tour of the Pacific, the comedian reported that service men need volleyballs, softballs, basketballs, ping pong balls and horseshoes, as well as boxing gloves.

Picture Reveals Texan Wins 2nd In Drake Dash

DES MOINES, Ia., April 27 (AP)—A wirephoto picture of the finish of the 100-yard dash in the Drake relays has brought belated recognition to Leon English of the Prairie View, Texas, Teachers.

After studying the picture, relay judges and officials announced that English was the rightful winner of second place instead of Harold Wimberly of Illinois, the judges' choice Saturday.

"The photograph clearly shows that Joe Shy of Missouri is the winner of the race, but beyond a shadow of doubt, English was entitled to second place," Bill Santon, relays director said.

"It is a regrettable error," Easton added "and we are going to send a second-place medal to English and give him official confirmation."

The revised official version has Shy in first place, English second, John Murphy of Notre Dame third and Bert Lindsey of Texas fourth.

Easton also announced that a special honorary gold medal will be sent to Harold Osborne, University of Illinois assistant track coach, whose 21-year-old Drake relays high jump record was broken Saturday when Pete Watkins of Texas A. and M. cleared 6 feet 8 inches.

The medal will be inscribed: "To a real champion—1922-1943, high jump, Drake relays."

Major Leagues Undergo Another Attendance Test In Games Today

BY JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues will undergo another attendance test from baseball fans, or vice versa, today as the National and American leagues present their "second openers," the home debuts of the clubs which have been on the road since the start of the season.

Advance estimates were that about 90,000 fans would turn out for the eight games and if the predictions are fulfilled baseball not only will have its biggest day of the spring, but will have a load lifted off its collective mind.

The schedule and the expected attendance:

National league—Boston at New York 15,000; Cincinnati at Pittsburgh 15,000; Chicago at St. Louis 10,000; Brooklyn at Philadelphia 7,000.

American league—St. Louis at Detroit 25,000; New York at Boston 10,000; Cleveland at Chicago 5,000; Philadelphia at Washington 4,000.

Up till now attendance at games has been below expectations and observers have been casting around for explanations as well as solutions. The approximate total turnout for 27 ball games (doubleheaders counted as one, of course) has been 248,000, divided 126,400 in the National league for 13 dates and 121,600 in the American league for 14 dates.

That amounts to less than an average of 10,000 in spite of the fact that the figures include opening day, Saturday and Sunday—usually three peaks. Only two games, the inaugurals at Washington and Cincinnati, have drawn as many as 20,000 fans.

Baseball magnates are hopeful they can find the answer to the mystery of what has become of the almost fanatic followers who once flocked to their parks rain or shine, good teams or bad.

Two National league clubs, the Cincinnati Reds and the Phillies already have announced forthcoming experiments with morning games. Most of the members of the senior circuit also have decided to use last year's baseballs till a new and livelier model of the 1943 Ballata ball can be produced.

Probe Of Army, Navy Press Parleys Urged

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) today urged a senate study of army and navy press conference methods while Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) called the barring of the press from working sessions of the forthcoming international food conference "a direct blow by the administration against the bill of rights."

O'Mahoney citing instances which he said showed a conflict of authority between the office of war information, headed by Elmer Davis, and other government agencies, said he would propose that the judiciary committee authorize members to attend press conferences held by heads of a number of government departments.

Among the conferences which should be studied, he said, are those of the army, navy and office of coordination of inter-American affairs, headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller. Last Wednesday the judiciary committee attended Davis' OWI conference. O'Mahoney said that session developed "a much better understanding" between Davis and the senators.

"The difference between the reporting of facts and the dissemination of opinion must be clearly marked out so the people, when they receive information from any government press relations bureau, will know whether it falls into one or the other category," he said.

Another batch of football players start moving from Southwest conference schools into the army today with Texas Christian and Texas the hardest hit.

Every school has gridders in this latest call on the army reserves, T. C. U. leading the list with nine, including Ralph Porter, fullback, and Bob Balaban, end, on last year's first string, but with Texas losing the most lettermen.

In fact, both of the men slated to be regular tackles on the Longhorn team next fall—Glen Morris and Henry Harris—are due to depart today. Texas also is losing Walton Roberts, fine running and passing back, and end Max Baumgardner. Two freshman stars, Loran Weems, guard, and Frank Guess, back, are included in the list.

Texas A&M loses four, Southern Methodist three, Rice one and Arkansas three although few of them are lettermen.

Those called from T. C. U. are Balaban, Porter, David Blossom, Horace Bostick, Pete Click, Richard Stubbs, Ross Stazley and Ernest Caffey. Click, a quarterback, was on the varsity squad last season along with Balaban and Porter. All are to report to Camp Wolters Friday.

A&M's four entering the service Thursday are from last fall's freshman team. They are: Hans Neumann, Milton Routt and Homer Moore, guards, and Walter Ruff, tackle.

Southern Methodist will see Johnny Collings, Ed Green and Jack Moncrief, all backs, report Thursday. Collings is the only letterman but the other two were on the varsity squad last fall.

Jim Spruill, sophomore tackle, is the only loss at Rice while Arkansas lists reserve center Floyd Thonir as, reserve back Bill Muncy and Freshman guard Everett Crosslow. Baylor university is not expected to have a football team next season anyway.

Picture Reveals Texan Wins 2nd In Drake Dash

DES MOINES, Ia., April 27 (AP)—A wirephoto picture of the finish of the 100-yard dash in the Drake relays has brought belated recognition to Leon English of the Prairie View, Texas, Teachers.

After studying the picture, relay judges and officials announced that English was the rightful winner of second place instead of Harold Wimberly of Illinois, the judges' choice Saturday.

"The photograph clearly shows that Joe Shy of Missouri is the winner of the race, but beyond a shadow of doubt, English was entitled to second place," Bill Santon, relays director said.

"It is a regrettable error," Easton added "and we are going to send a second-place medal to English and give him official confirmation."

The revised official version has Shy in first place, English second, John Murphy of Notre Dame third and Bert Lindsey of Texas fourth.

Easton also announced that a special honorary gold medal will be sent to Harold Osborne, University of Illinois assistant track coach, whose 21-year-old Drake relays high jump record was broken Saturday when Pete Watkins of Texas A. and M. cleared 6 feet 8 inches.

The medal will be inscribed: "To a real champion—1922-1943, high jump, Drake relays."

Prisoners Play Softball Now

HUNTSVILLE, Texas, April 27 (AP)—The boys inside the walls at the Huntsville unit of the state prison system are playing softball instead of baseball this spring, but it's not because they're "softies."

It's the war and attendant transportation difficulties, says Recreational Director Albert Moore.

For the first time in many years, there'll be no prison Tigers baseball club. Opponents can't reach the prison diamond and the boys inside the walls don't do much traveling anyway.

Two Convoys Reach Mediterranean Ports

By PAUL KERN LEE
VALLETTA, Malta, April 27 (AP)—Important convoys have reached Malta and Tripoli bearing vital supplies and war materials for Allied forces.

The vessels, including deeply laden American liberty ships, traversed the Mediterranean under a powerful Royal Navy escort and under constant air protection from the coast of North Africa.

One convoy threaded its way into Tripoli harbor past the wreckage of Axis shipping to carry munitions for Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's British eighth army.

The other, in which I traveled, headed to Malta, the sinews with which this battered island now is striking out at the foe with increasing vigor.

Australian Race Planned At Home

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—William Cox, 33-year-old owner of the Phillies, has announced a novel stunt to help his team open their home season against Brooklyn at Stube park today.

He calls it an Australian pursuit race.

For the start, Cox says, all the Phillies will line up at home plate and the Dodgers at second base. At a signal, they all start running the bases, in the usual direction. When any runner passes another, the passed runner drops out, and the race ends when only one runner—the winner—is left.

More clothes and cloth are provided for mankind by cotton than by all the world's other textiles combined.

Swim Training Tough At Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, April 27 (AP)—Boys from a program announced by Lieutenant Commander Frank C. Lane, physical training officer, cadets of Corpus Christi naval air training center not only are being trained to acquire the coveted golden wings but fins as well.

The D and C tests are not so tough, including such things as treading water, remaining afloat for five minutes, swimming 80 yards, etc., but when they get to the A, AA, AAA and B tests here's what the boys face:

Underwater swimming for 50 yards; swimming fully uniformed and also disrobing in the water; 220-yard swim employing alternate four different strokes; lifesaving carries for varying distances; artificial respiration demonstration; deep water releases from front and back stanchions; demonstrating infatuation of uniform to serve as float, swim one mile without stopping, and then top off the aquatic tests with a 200-yard tow of asphaltum on any kind of an improvised float.

Raccoons dunk every particle of their food in water before eating it.

A REPORT TO THE NATION

on General Motors' Production, Employment, Economics and Profits

PRODUCTION

TODAY THE COUNTRY'S LARGEST PRODUCER OF WAR MATERIALS

PERFORMANCE

THROUGH BATTLE TESTS WITH FLYING COLORS—THE WORLD AROUND

SUBCONTRACTING

THOUSANDS OF SUBCONTRACTORS AND SUPPLIERS ASSIST GENERAL MOTORS

During 1942 war production in General Motors increased rapidly. Deliveries in the fourth quarter were more than four times those in the fourth quarter of 1941 and were of an annual rate of more than three billion dollars. In reality, war production increased far more rapidly than dollar value indicates—thanks to price increases in cost of manufacture. General Motors' interests and energies are concentrated on speeding war production.

"KNOW-HOW"

ENGINEERING AND PRODUCTION KNOWLEDGE PRODUCES RESULTS

EMPLOYMENT

EMPLOYMENT FIGURES HAVE MOUNTED TO AN ALL-TIME HIGH

SERVICE COOPERATION

TECHNICAL TRAINING AND FIELD SERVICE TO ASSIST THE ARMED FORCES

The experience gained by General Motors over the years has proved of immense value in war work. This "Know-How" in the fields of engineering and manufacture has made possible quick conversion to war production, and resulted in simplification of design, improvement of quality and reduction in cost. This not only speeded up the work and got the job done, but saved manpower and millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money.

WAGES

WAGES REACH A NEW PEAK AS RATES AND HOURS INCREASE

REDUCED COSTS

SAVING MILLIONS OF DOLLARS FOR UNCLE SAM—AND YOU

PROFITS

GENERAL MOTORS' PROFITS WERE LOWER IN 1942

Although more than 50,000 G.M. people have joined the armed forces, employment in the U.S. and Canada rose to 370,000 in 1942—an all-time high. This increase involved great problems in training personnel. Hours worked increased to an average of 45.5 hours per week, compared to 40.7 hours in 1941. General Motors' employment is spread through 107 plants in the U. S. in 46 communities in 13 states—and five plants in Canada.

As a result of the industrial "Know-How" reviewed above, manufacturing costs were so reduced that, by the end of 1942, more than $177,000,000 had been voluntarily returned to the government in price reductions, and there will be an additional $183,000,000 in price reductions which will apply to subsequent deliveries under existing contracts.

DARK JUNGLES

BY JOHN C. FLEMING & LOIS EBY

RIVALRY CHAPTER XX

"LILA!" Even as he shouted it, Barry had the feeling it would wake him out of a dream. But the vision remained there in the open door of his bedroom.

Allison's voice sounded at his shoulder. "How did you get here?" It was as surprised and confused as his own. "By plane to Panama City, boat to Puerto Barrios, and mule train from there," murmured Lila.

name you made that trip and look the way you do!" Allison was on her way to bring the tea. "Perhaps," there was a note of troubled curiosity in her tone, "it didn't rain when you came through."

"You're thinking," Allison accused him tartly, when they had finally gotten the cheerful, uncomplaining Lila in her bed, "that she came through a whole lot better than I did."

really been an adventure for me." Barry gave a chuckle of puzzled admiration. "It was a fool stunt," he said. "But I still don't understand how you survived like you did."

"Why?" demanded Allison. "She rode out in a chair. These men carried it on poles. She made them run a good part of the way. They'll get over it—but they ran off about 10 years of their lives!"

Victory Gardens Aid Muscle Massagers

KANSAS CITY, April 27 (AP)—Victory gardens? Oh, wonderful! Says the masseur (or it is the masseuse?) You can hardly hear him say it, though—a continual clamor. Aching amateurs are rushing in droves from their gardens to the nearest rubbing tables for muscular repairs at $1.50 to $2.50 an overhaul.

Dr. Joseph E. Reilly, retired physical director of the Kansas City Athletic club, midwestern sports official and wrestling judge at several Olympic games, said in an interview that more muscles are offered than can possibly be tended by available masseurs.

15,000 Rats Killed For 25,000 Gum Sticks

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 27 (AP)—An Albuquerque mother who took up short wave radio before Pearl Harbor on the chance of a message from her soldier son who had gone to the Philippines is acting as the ears for hundreds of parents over the nation.

America Claims Radar Invention

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The United States army and navy, in their first official statement on the Radar, said today the enemy detector device was discovered in this country in 1922, disputing British claims.

Here is how the statement described the operation of the detector, called by the British the "radio locator": "It is one of the marvels made possible by the electron tube. Ultra-high frequency waves traveling with the speed of light can be focused, scan the air and sea. When they strike an enemy ship or airplane, they bounce back. Radio waves travel at a constant speed of 186,000 miles per second. Thus a small space of time is required for such signals to travel to a reflecting surface and return to the receiver, so that, with means provided for measuring time intervals, it is possible to determine the distance to a given target."

The statement said the British reports, the radio locator was instrumental in saving England during the aerial blitz of 1940 and 1941 when the locators spotted German raiders long before they reached a target area and thus gave the RAF and ground defenses time for preparation.

Yank Plane Scores Again

By MURLIN SPENCER
SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, April 24 (Delayed) (AP)—The big, heavily-armed Liberator came home with its number three engine dead.

Its left wing was pocked with bullet holes.

But at Wewak village and in the sea were five Japanese Zeros and their pilots that never would fly again.

Capt. Charles P. Whitlock, piano-playing professor from Rutgers, and his crew had done it again.

Two weeks ago it was a big Japanese transport they sent to the bottom at Haisa bay. Less than a week ago it was a twin-engine officer which crashed in flames.

This time five Zeros were destroyed in a 30-minute fight around the enemy's new stronghold at Wewak in northeastern New Guinea.

The crew climbed from the ship tired, dirty and happy.

Among the crew members were Lieut. Georget Maher of Laredo, Texas, bombardier; and Sergeant Walker A. Dorion of Fort Arthur, Texas, gunner.

They related that they were fly about 12,000 feet when two Zeros jumped them from each side. Eight more dropped from the clouds, making it 12 Zeros against one bomber.

"Zero at 11 o'clock!" shouted Dorion, and he and another crew member blazed away at an attacking ship coming down from the left. It faltered, burst into flames and plunged into the sea.

A second Zero flew alongside and there must have been a lucky burst that killed the pilot, for the little fighter shot off to the side and spun down until it crashed in the village.

A third Zero was seen to have been hit over the sea. It burned as it dropped away.

The fourth and fifth Zeros plunged out of control, flames sweeping back toward the pilots in their cockpits.

Captain Whitlock figured that was enough so he climbed for cover in the clouds and the remaining Zeros abandoned the fight.

Stop-Watch Expert Wins Speeding Case

By VICTORY STAMPS
KANSAS CITY, April 27 (AP)—John C. Grover was the defendant, attorney for defense and the defense's technical expert.

Judge Earle W. Frost, a former track star trying Grover on a charge of speeding recognized him as a starter and timing official in many Missouri Valley Conference track meets in which he had participated.

The judge asked Grover if he believed the 110-foot speed check through which the policeman said he had timed him at 35 miles an hour was sufficient to register accurately the speed of an automobile.

Testified Grover:

In a track meet five watches usually are employed, three of which must agree to make an official time. The timers stand on the finish line. The officer was using one watch and standing in the middle of the course.

Said Judge Frost:

"Case dismissed."

Mainly About Pampa And Her Neighbor Towns

Jury week of the March term of county court will open Wednesday. On the petit jury panel, chosen by Jack Hanna, J. A. Ashby, and Rufe Jordan, jury commissioners, on March 31 of this year, are:

Morris Goldfine, Forrest Ritter, C. J. Osborn, W. E. Ginn, C. W. Shaw, J. A. Davis, W. N. Baker, E. N. Jones, Hush Braly, J. B. Benton, John Oldham, Ralph Ogden, John Yentes, Rob Hindman, J. P. Carlson, C. O. Bridges, W. H. Mayberry, H. E. Throat, W. C. Breiling, B. F. Walker, Hubert Keahy, Frank Jewell, M. T. Buck.

Fuller Brushes, Ph. 2152J, 514 W. Cook.

E. J. Hanna, general manager of The Pampa News, is in Austin today attending a state-wide meeting called to plan the National War Fund, Inc., drive to be held next October. Honorary chairman of the group for the state is Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. Today's meeting was held from 11 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. at Hotel Drake.

Mrs. Dixie B. White of Lubbock, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Sweatman.

Marriage licenses were issued here Saturday to Curtis Nichols and Miss Mary Elizabeth Ewing, and to Tom C. Glono of Trinidad, Colo., and Miss Lillian J. Nichols of Clarksville.

If you haven't seen County Farm Agent Glenn T. Hackney very much in the past two weeks, there's a good reason. Two weeks ago Wayne, 9-year-old son of County Agent and Mrs. Hackney, broke his right leg when hit by the end of a gravel car at Pampa air base. Then, a week ago, Mrs. Hackney underwent a tonsillectomy at a local hospital. Both are now convalescent at home.

Gay Dunwoody entered the veterans' hospital at Amarillo yesterday for treatment.

The regular monthly meeting of the Gray county district Scouters' Council will be held tonight at the Boy Scout office, according to L. E. Frary, district commissioner. Final plans for the district Camporee which will be held on May 1 and 2, at Lake McClellan will be made.

A marriage license was issued here yesterday to Joseph Cresley Crisler and Miss Dorothy M. McEllan, 25. Five boys paid fines of $14.15 on charges of disturbing the peace in justice court yesterday. Three of the five appeared before Justice of the Peace D. R. Henry, two before Justice Chambers I. Hughes. The boys were arrested at Lake McClellan, 25 miles south of Pampa. In another justice court case yesterday, before Justice Hughes, a man was fined $14.15 on a charge of affray.

RUSSIA — Red armies report 800 Germans killed on Leningrad front; Soviet warplanes blast Nazi airbases, rail stations in Donets basin.

In the Tunisian campaign, Allied headquarters said, British 1st army troops had now cleared Long Stop hill, the Verdun-like German fortress, and captured an important feature north of Medjez-el-Bab, 34 miles southwest of Tunis, the capital. Another 260 Axis prisoners fell into the hands of the advancing British in this sector alone.

"French forces on the 1st army front made a rapid advance and occupied a hill overlooking Pond Du Fahs," the communique said. Pond Du Fahs lies 34 miles below Tunis.

Further gains were also rolled up on the left sector of the British 9th army front, where Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's desert veterans were slowly pushing the Axis back toward the north.

Dispatches said a fierce armored battle still was raging in the Goubellat area, southeast of Medjez-el-Bab, with the British battering toward the open plain leading to Tunis.

In the western air war, a vast armada of RAF bomb-buster raiders pounded the German war foundries city of Duisburg before dawn today in one of the heaviest assaults ever to fall upon the Nazi homeland, dropping at least 1,000 tons of bombs on the target.

Seventeen RAF bombers were listed as missing.

London quarters said the weight of explosives probably approached that of the first 1,000-bomber raid on Cologne last May 30 when 1,500 tons of bombs were dropped.

Duisburg, the site of many heavy war industries and an important communications hub, is 12 miles west of bomb-battered Essen, home of the great Krupp munitions works.

At the other end of Hitler's "European fortress," U. S. heavy bombers struck the airbase at Bari, on the Italian Adriatic sea coast, setting "many fires" and inflicting "very considerable damage," it was announced.

Farther south, Allied troops gouging deep into the western barrier—the formidable rim of mountains guarding the Tunis-Bizerte zone—were officially described as having driven to within four miles of the Tunis-Pont Du Fahs road and destroyed 80 German tanks in a two-day battle.

"The battle continued yesterday with unabated ferocity," the Allied war bulletin said.

"On the 1st army front, armored fighting continues in the sector southeast of Medjez-el-Bab and our troops here have again made some progress against desperate opposition from the enemy."

Field dispatches said Col. Gen. Jurgen Von Arnim's beleaguered armies were beginning to show signs of exhaustion, yielding key points they might have held had they possessed reserves.

Officers Elected By White Deer Students
Special To The NEWS — WHITE DEER, April 27—Billy George Clements was chosen as president of the Student Association of White Deer high school for 1943-44 in the elections for student body and class officers held here last week.

Billy George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clements of Skellytown, has held various class offices, is a member of the National Honor society, has played both football and basketball and is outstanding in speech work. He will be a senior next year.

Erma Lee Morris, Norma Jean Davidson, and Gene Roy Powers were elected yell leaders.

Representatives to the student council will be Mildred Warminski and Willie Urbanczyk, seniors; Kathryn Price and Buddy Bliggers, juniors; and Burl Sutton, sophomore. The freshmen officers will be named next fall.

Officers of the senior class of 1943-44 will be Eulama Stovall, president; Jean Boyd, vice president; Leatrice Hull, secretary-treasurer; and Billie O'Neal, reporter.

Leading the juniors will be Phyllis Shuman, president; Ouida Nell Overstreet, vice president; Norma Jean Davidson, secretary-treasurer; and Bert Haldok, reporter.

The civics class, under the direction of Mrs. B. R. Wenks, was in charge of the balloting. Sanita Gray acted as judge of the elections for the student body, and Jack Vermillion, for classes.

The green-painted helmet which broke the impact of the fragment lay on the chair beside his hospital cot. The head straps inside were stained with dried blood.

"Another quarter of an inch and the shell would have penetrated to the brain and he would have been a goner," said Lieut. Col. Frank Y. Leaver of Shelbyville, Ill., at the evacuation hospital where Lieut. Gen. McNair underwent an hour-long operation.

"As it is, he snapped out of the operation fine and is doing very fine unless infection develops. But he sure is a tough man to try to keep in bed.

"I am going to pin the purple heart on him before he leaves." Although surgeons said they thought he possibly was struck by mortar fire which caused a number of casualties in that vicinity, Lieut. Gen. McNair said he believed it was an artillery shell that injured him. He had been with an assault platoon shortly before he was wounded.

"I didn't see it land," he said from his cot in the hospital tent. "But I think it was a high explosive shell of about 75 millimeter caliber. It didn't knock me out and I was able to walk down the hill to a jeep.

"We had to drive about three hours to reach the hospital but it wasn't bad. The driver was really good.

"I didn't get anything from the German in the last war. They must have been saving it up to give to me here.

"But I will be back there soon. I am looking for my clothes now. The shoulder doesn't hurt any. After another good night's sleep I'll be ready for war again."

Lieut. Gen. McNair was attended by Lieut. Bernice Marian Wilburz, brown-haired chief army nurse from Milton, Mass.

She said the wounded military leader "is a good patient but he is in an awful hurry to get back to the war."

Brown Studies OPA In Texas

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Price Administrator Prentiss Brown has agreed to study personally the OPA setup in Texas, where uncertainty exists between regional, state and district officials.

The OPA chief discussed the Texas situation with Senator Connally and Representative Thomson, Texas Democrats, acting as a committee on behalf of the state's congressional delegation.

"Brown has under consideration organization matters with respect to Texas, including regional, state and district offices," said Connally.

"He has made no decision, but advised us that he personally will look into the problems involved, and that to do so would require some little time."

The Texas state office was ordered abolished along with other state headquarters over the country, added Connally, but "uncertainty exists as to the exact situation, and the OPA officials in the state are now working under a temporary setup."

Connally said he and Thomson urged that Brown reach a decision on the Texas situation as soon as possible to erase the present uncertainty.

Vessel Is Sunk In Gulf Of Mexico
NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—The sinking early this month of a small Norwegian freighter in the Gulf of Mexico—one of four Allied and neutral western Atlantic merchant losses announced last week by the navy—marked the first announced destruction of a vessel in those waters in more than seven months.

The last sinking revealed in the Gulf was the 6,511-ton Amatlan, a tanker which Mexico seized from Italy April 1, 1941 and which was announced as sunk last September 6 with the loss of 10 lives.

Since then Axis U-boats have been charged with 189 announced merchant sinkings in other portions of the western Atlantic, Norway's most recent loss was its 64th announced in the Western Atlantic.

The three other vessels revealed last week as sunk were medium-sized U. S. merchantmen, raising to 648 the Associated Press tabulation of announced Allied and neutral cargo sinkings in those waters since Pearl Harbor. Of this total 258 were U. S. ships.

Europe Looled Of 36 Billions

German looting of occupied Europe was pictured by the board of economic welfare today as surpassing in "magnitude and ruthlessness" all previous conquests of history.

The board estimated Germany had plundered $36,000,000,000 by the end of 1941 and the rate since then is accelerating into "tens of billions of dollars per year." It added:

"Not only has wealth, accumulated over centuries, been carried back to Germany, but the industries, natural resources, and labor power of the occupied countries are under absolute German domination."

Its reports, the board said, show that armaments and other military equipment have been taken from all the vanquished armies of Europe.

Describing Poland as the outstanding example of confiscation of public property, the board estimated the loot there at $2,000,000,000.

Military equipment from Austria and Czechoslovakia was traded to southeastern European countries for foodstuffs and raw materials, the report said, but was recovered later when Germany invaded those countries.

"Considerable quantities of relatively obsolete equipment were sold to Japan," the board added.

"YOU CAN'T BUY MORE TILL WE'VE WON THE WAR" APPLIES TO MANY THINGS

Particularly, of course, to such things as Automobiles, Radios, Vacuum Cleaners, Washing Machines, Refrigerators... we can't build those, AND planes, anti-aircraft guns, tanks, cartridges. So take care of what you have.

In fact, everything you have must be taken care of, so you won't need to replace it. The less you have to buy, the more there'll be for victory.

But what you MUST buy, should be bought from those you know and trust. For forty years, Penney's has been regarded by millions, as Thrift and Savings headquarters. And now that Thrift and Savings have again become national virtues, Penney stores are winning more millions of friends.
