Without Radar, U. S. Might Have Lost War Before It Started

(Editor's note: Radar is the United States' secret super-weapon—the radio "eyes" of our armed forces. The story of its development is a story of how a small group of naval scientists kept the project alive in the face of official inertia. John M. Hightower of the Associated Press tells the story—so far as it may be told now—in this daily installment, of which this is the first.)

Three Charged In Nine Pampa Store Burglaries

With the filing of a charge of burglary against three men today in the court of D. R. Henry, justice of the peace, nine burglary cases have been cleared up, in the opinion of Pampa police.

While the only charge against the three was in connection with breaking and entering a Long Independent Service station, owned by L. C. Long, one of the three admitted having a part in all nine burglaries, Patrolman L. J. Flaherty said, and the other two were involved in some of the other cases, according to the patrolman.

Bonds of $1,500 have been set for each of the three who were being held today in county jail after their transfer there this morning from city jail.

Each is 20 years old, County Attorney Joe Gordon said.

The burglaries, claimed by police to have been cleared up by the arrest of the trio, were:

Creaney's, 110 N. Cuyler, $10 in cash, a $45 wrist watch, shaving kit, playing cards, Purr Food stores, 420 W. Foster, between $4 and $5; McCarty Super Market, 116-20 N. Somerville, $20; Pampa Lubricating company, 114 E. Francis, pennies and gas ration coupons; Pam da News Stand, 114 N. Russell, $18.

Other alleged burglaries were those at the Parhamville Lumber company, 420 W. Foster; Lane's Service station, 976 Barnes; and a West Foster street filling station, according to the county attorney.

At the Long station, there were two burglaries, which $83 was taken, and $40 the second time, according to Patrolman Flaherty, but the second break-in had no connection with the men held.

All of these burglaries date back to the time the Long incident, is "on or about June 18." The McCarty burglary occurred May 18.

Most of the merchandise, including the $45 wrist watch allegedly taken at Creaney's, has been recovered, Flaherty said.

Arrests made by Flaherty and Jim Roswell Friday started the immediate investigation that led to these disclosures.

Americans Raid Gilbert Islands

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Heavy bombing raids scored a number of hits on the Japanese airfield at Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands were reported by the navy today.

A communiqué said that on June 18-19th, during the night American Liberators heavy bombers attacked Japanese installations at Tarawa in the Gilbert Islands. A number of hits were scored on the enemy positions. Although seven enemy Zero fighters were in the air over Tarawa they did not press a determined attack against the United States bombers.

Aerial Blows Continue On Wide Fronts

(By The Associated Press) German broad-fronted attack today that an Allied invasion fleet was assembling in the eastern Mediterranean off the Syrian coast, that landing craft were being moved into position in North Africa and that a large British and American naval force was concentrated at Gibraltar.

The unconfirmed Axis reports of the massing of invasion forces in the Mediterranean theatre coincided with an Allied headquarters communique announcing heavy new aerial thrusts by British and American armadas across the narrow seas at airfields and port of Sicily and eyewitness reports via Stockholm that Italian morale already was broken by bombings and war reverses.

Short in food, sleep and hope, the Italians were declared ready and eager for peace, and jamming the seven hills of Rome in a search for safety. Reliable Allied quarters in North Africa, however, denied rumors that Crown Prince Umberto, Marshal Pietro Badoglio, King Victor Emmanuel or any other Italian emissary had arrived there to negotiate an unconditional surrender.

Other war headlines today were: AUSTRALIA—Spirited cut down Japanese armada in 10-minute battle, shooting down at least nine, perhaps 22, out of a 48-plane armada attempting to raid Darwin; Liberators again bathe Rabaul air-dromes in bombs and incendiaries.

RUSSIA—Heavy Russian artillery bombardments in Sevastopol, Red Air fleet smashes hangars, stores, plane parks at Bryansk and Karachev, rounding out week in which 276 German planes and 94 Soviet bombers were destroyed.

ATLANTIC—New Allied "vest" aircraft carrier proves worth in five-day, five-night convoy battle in which planes and ships destroyed two, perhaps five or more, of Adolf Hitler's U-boats.

AIR WAR—Berlin radio says RAF raided southwestern Germany Sunday night, reports no damage; the Schneider armament works at Le Creusot, the French "Krupps," were reported "mountains of debris" after big Saturday night assault.

Messina, the Sicilian end of the ferry route from the mainland, was hit Saturday night by blockbusters dropped from British Wellingtons of Lt. Gen. Carl Spaatz's Northwest African air force, and American Mitchells, Maulaunders and their lightning escorts again scourged the Axis warplane nests of Castelvetrano, Borizzo and Milo.

Continuing to cut wide swaths in the formations of enemy fighters sent to break up these devastating assaults, the Allies scored a better than three-to-one victory, knocking down 16 enemy planes and losing five of their own.

The Italians reported Naples, the big mainland air base of Foggia, Spinazzola in Bari province on the Adriatic side of the peninsula, Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni on the toe of the boot, and Porto Empedocle, Licata and Syracuse in Sicily were bombed. They asserted 26 Allied planes were shot down. Nineteen persons were listed as killed by the bombs.

The Italians, who yesterday reported heavy movement of Allied sea traffic along the North African coast, said that their torpedo planes and submarines were continuing to stab at these shipping concentrations and asserted, without Allied confirmation, that they had destroyed the big Italian base of Foggia, Spinazzola in Bari province on the Adriatic side of the peninsula, Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni on the toe of the boot, and Porto Empedocle, Licata and Syracuse in Sicily were bombed.

Fourth Victim Is Identified

The fourth man killed in the mid-air collision of two Pampa Field training planes six miles northeast of the city Saturday afternoon was identified today as Aviation Cadet Stanley Preston Anderson, Jr., 25.

His name was withheld until his next of kin had been notified, the public relations office explained. It was understood that Cadet Anderson's wife and five-month-old daughter Jacquelyn were en route to Pampa from their home at Seven Sisters, Tex., Saturday, and there was a delay in contacting her. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Anderson of Wichita Falls, Tex.

The three others killed were First Lieut. William Glass Meggs, Jr., 27, Miami, Fla.; Second Lieut. William Logan McCoy, Jr., 23, Overbrook, Pa.; and Aviation Cadet Theodore B. Allen, 27, Wichita, Kans. Funeral arrangements had not been announced this morning.

Meat Costs Are Cut Three Cents

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Average, 3-cent-pound reduction in the retail price of most meats went into effect today—second of three price rollbacks undertaken by the office of price administration through payments of subsidies.

The cutbacks affected all meat except cured and processed pork, but those cuts will come under the subsidy plan July 5.

Governors Demand State Sovereignty

COLUMBUS, O., June 21 (AP)—The sovereignty of the individual states—in war and peace—keynoted the 35th Annual Governors' Conference opening here today.

In succession, visiting chief executives made these assertions in prepared addresses.

Gov. Herbert R. O'Connor of Maryland, conference chairman: "The states must be preserved in the full est plenitude of their powers. That government which is closest to the people and in which the people have the most direct participation is more likely to reflect the public will than a remote centralized government."

Gov. Earl Warren of California: "I wish that federal agencies could be made to see that all thinking, planning and executing cannot be done in Washington to the exclusion of states and cities; and that the national unity comes from the grass roots of the 48 states rather than from the directives of innumerable bureaus in Washington, D. C."

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York: "Attacking the farm labor problem of New York, 'one of our happy discoveries has been that the most effective way to avoid surrender to the failures of the national government is to step out and do the job ourselves as a state."

Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia: "The states have important rights. We ought to remember that these rights are not inherent in geographical entities traced upon maps. They were delegated to the state and are not to be taken away by the governments by the people, in whom all sovereignty is implicit."

The governors assembled expressly to consider coordination of interstate efforts to expedite the war program and to plan for post-war reconstruction.

Rain Cools Off Warmish Pampans

Pampa's first rain since May 30 brought welcome coolness to residents' last night after a sweltering Sunday that sent the thermometer soaring to 94 degrees.

Precipitation totaled .37-inches. Widely scattered thundershowers in the Panhandle this afternoon or early tonight was the forecast.

Early this afternoon, the temperature in Pampa was 78 degrees. Minimum temperature yesterday was 62.

Rain last night pushed the annual precipitation total for Pampa to 5.31-inches.

Huge Army Bill Passed By House

WASHINGTON, June 21.—(AP)—Without a dissenting vote, the house passed and sent to the senate today a $71,510,438.873 War Department Appropriation bill to meet the army's request for funds to "bring the war home to Japan, Germany and Italy."

The record vote was 345 yeas to 0. Biggest supply bill in history, the measure, department officials told the house appropriations committee, will permit the recruiting and equipment of 7,500,000 men by the end of this year and furnish approximately 100,000 airplanes for incessant bombing of the Axis.

The letter was addressed to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's command.

200 Are Injured In Negro Fights With Michigan Policemen

DETROIT, June 21 (AP)—Michigan State Police and State Troops were ordered to Detroit today to restore order after six persons were killed and some 200 injured in widespread race riots.

Captain Donald S. Leonard of Michigan State Police announced shortly before 10 a. m. that Gov. Harry Kelly of Michigan had ordered mobilization of the state forces.

At that time outbreaks of violence which had spread from an altercation at the Belle Isle bridge late last night were continuing despite the mobilization of the entire 3,500 members of the police force of the nation's fourth city.

500,000 Coal Miners Walk Out Again

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—The big coal mining cog of the nation's war machine stalled again today and the 500,000 miners who run it looked to the government for their cue.

Rejecting what they termed an "infamous yellow dog contract" proposed by the War Labor Board, John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers invoked their "no contract, no work" policy for the third time within two months after negotiations with the operators collapsed.

By mid-morning there were no reports of any UMW members working in disregard of that policy, in either bituminous or anthracite pits. That in Illinois at least, 1,000 of that state's 15,000 AFL Progressive Mine Workers were idle in a sympathy strike that affected three of the state's 130 mines with PMW contracts.

Pennsylvania with 200,000 hard and soft coal miners and West Virginia with 130,000 bituminous workers represented more than three-fifths of the total number idle. Numbers of UMW miners in other states include 60,000 in Kentucky, 45,000 in Ohio, 23,000 in Virginia, 23,500 in Ohio, 21,000 in Tennessee, 10,000 in Indiana, 8,000 in Arkansas, 6,000 in Colorado, 6,680 in Wyoming, 4,100 in Utah, 3,300 in Louisiana, 2,000 in New Mexico, 1,800 and Montana 1,300.

The door was held open for a speedy resumption of operations under the direct sponsorship of the government, however, and the next move appeared to be up to Interior Secretary Ickes, Federal Fuels Administrator.

Ickes, represented by his aides as feeling no precipitation action last night could have ended the expiration of the latest work trace at midnight, made no immediate comment. He cancelled a projected trip to Columbus, Ohio, where he was to have attended the Governors' Conference on coal today, however, and stood by to receive union representatives.

The operators declared with the breaking off of negotiations yesterday that "no possibility of agreement exists" so long as the miners continue their insistence on $130 a day extra pay for underground travel time. "This figure had been whittled down from an original demand of $2."

Asserting that coal "must be mined at full capacity" to meet current demands, OWI said: "There are more than 60 million consumers of bituminous coal. It supplies industry with more than one half of the power and energy required to produce the weapons of war. It creates nearly 55 per cent of the electricity used. It runs four out of every five railroad locomotives. It heats approximately 50 per cent of the nation's homes."

The work stoppages began in an orderly fashion with the Friday night shifts and approximately 64,000 miners had quit work before the weekend blew an empty summons this morning.

War Plant Head Loses Right To Buy Food

CLEVELAND, June 21 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today prohibited a Cleveland war plant president from purchasing rationed canned goods for nearly nine years.

OPA Commissioner F. S. Glover announced Carl H. Kinzig, president of the Kinzig Tool Co., had been deprived of use of 5,088 blue ration stamps, enough to last eight years and 10 months at the present ration allowance.

Glover said Kinzig failed to declare 36 cases of canned foods when registering for his ration book, purchased 38 other cases without surrendering ration points, and gave rationed foods to three employees and two business associates.

The letter was addressed to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's command.

Earthquake In Turkey Reported

LONDON, June 21 (AP)—The Berlin radio said today that a violent earthquake had rocked the northwest part of Anatolia province of Turkey and that unconfirmed reports placed the dead in the city of Adana at alone at 15,000, half its population.

The account, from the none-reliable Transocean News Agency, after 7:30 p. m. Sunday night during a heavy thunderstorm, and that a muffled subterranean rumbling from below the earth's surface added to the terror.

Returning from a half-hour visit with friends, they found the windows and dishes shattered. Danton, dazed but unharmed, admitted he might have waited long to light the stove after turning on the gas.

Wayside H. D. Club Has Recent Meeting

"For generations people have enjoyed crisp, tart sauerkraut. More recently sauerbraten and sauer loutze have come into their own," said Mrs. Kelley at a recent meeting of the Wayside Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. W. A. Green.

"The tart flavor makes these foods palatable and appetizing. The lactic acid fibre content aids digestion and regulates the removal of waste materials from the body. The normal action of the intestines is stimulated and growth of auto-intoxicating bacteria is prevented. Kraut is a preventative of scurvy because it is rich in vitamin C."

"To prepare the cabbage remove all damaged or dirty leaves; then quarter the heads and slice off the core portion. Remember that washing the vegetables too thoroughly removes lactic acid bacteria needed for fermentation."

"Weigh out five pounds of cabbage and two ounces of salt. Shred this cabbage directly into the jar or keg without exposing it to the air, for exposing it at any time reduces the amount of vitamin C in the fermented product and causes loss of color, texture and flavor. Sprinkle the cabbage with two ounces of salt, bearing in mind that too much salt prevents fermentation of the product, and uneven distribution may cause red streaks in the brined product."

"Prepare another five pounds of cabbage, weigh the two ounces of salt and continue adding similar layers until the desired amount in the container is reached. Place uneven pieces of cabbage and a few large leaves on top. Cover with cheese cloth and plate or board; then place weight on top of the cover."

"One pound of salt is required for 40 pounds of cabbage," concluded Mrs. Kelley. Refreshments were served to: Mrs. Julia Kelley, Fred Sweeney, J. O. Wheelock, K. B. Snell, M. W. Moore, Henry V. Ditto, L. M. Batten, H. F. Barnhart, L. H. Greene, H. B. Taylor, Guss Greene, guests: Doyle Osborne, F. J. Stalls, A. B. Carruth, Wood Osborne, Lowell Osborne, Hall Nelson, Harold Osborne, and the hostess.

Mrs. K. E. Thornton

The Pampa Girl Scout Day Camp committee feels that a summary of the Day Camp is not complete until the efforts on the part of leaders, friends and parents are acknowledged. A large part of the success of the entire two weeks as well as the first overnight trip to Camp Sullivan, is due to Mrs. Bruce Pratt commissioner who not only accompanied the group but organized and helped collect necessary equipment for the trip. The following leaders took the two units: Mrs. A. D. Robinson, Mrs. Glenn Radcliff, Mrs. R. B. Allen, Mrs. N. L. Nichol, Mrs. L. J. McCarty, Mrs. Mrs. E. E. Holden, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson and Mrs. A. A. Proctor, drove down to bring the girls home.

Mrs. Lynn Boyd had charge of arrangements for the second and last group. Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Mrs. Helen Butterfield, Mrs. L. E. Frary, Mrs. R. B. Allen, Mrs. N. L. Nichol, Mrs. L. J. McCarty, Nita Rosa McCarty and Miss Mollen accompanied the girls to the camp.

Although few Scout troops will meet this summer the need for adult leaders is not minimized. Dr. Gary C. Myers famous lecturer says in a recent article "As never before, we parents should try to enlist our girls in Brownies, Bluebirds, Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Girl Reserves, 4-H clubs and the like. Moreover, we need to hold ourselves ready to volunteer to lead such groups. These character building agencies are of rare value now to our daughters and other people's daughters, our community and our country."

A Girl Scout membership is the best insurance in the world against juvenile delinquency. Training courses will be offered from time to time so that all interested people can learn the fundamentals of Girl Scouting and carry on this very worthwhile and interesting work.

Mrs. Paul Briggs is Hostess To Class. Reapers church of the First Baptist church met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Paul Briggs, hostess.

Canning Methods Are Demonstrated By Homemaking Students

The summer homemaking students met Thursday afternoon at the high school for a discussion and demonstration of methods of food preservation. At this meeting Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Sanford, homemaking teachers, demonstrated methods of canning fruit in the hot water bath, and vegetables in the pressure cooker. Food canned will be used by the homemaking department.

Storage of root vegetables in sand was also demonstrated. Dried vegetables were exhibited. Methods of drying were discussed, and since pressure cookers are not available to all wanting to keep food for winter use, drying vegetables will prove practical to many families this summer and fall.

Some 46 girls are enrolled in the summer work. Most of these girls have been visited and are doing fine work.

Those who did not attend the demonstration Thursday are asked to be present at the high school on Tuesday, June 22, at 2 o'clock, at which time another meeting will be held for adults.

Cream Massage and Sports Will Banish Scrawny Necks

LANA TURNER: looks lovely in new low necklines.

This year's new lows in necklines are making it more important than ever that you keep your throatline lovely. Sweetheart, draw string and square-coll necklines are not at all flattering to a neck with hollows, jutting collar bones and noticeable cords. But these faults can readily be remedied in most cases, if a strict exercise and massage routine is followed.

"Sports is the best formula I know for filling out a thin neck," advises luscious Lana Turner, the number one pin-up girl of service men all over the world, and star of the current film, "Slightly Dangerous."

"Go in for tennis, golf and particularly swimming sports which bring all of the neck and shoulder muscles into play. Naturally," she added, "massage with a rich, nourishing cream in gentle, upward and outward strokes, is very important too."

Such a nightly treatment, the star finds, not only nourishes the tissues, but improves the color and texture of the skin because it promotes circulation.

Parachuting Yank Makes Faces Like Tojo So Zeros Won't Shoot Him After Big Air Battle

By NORMAN LODGE. GUADALCANAL, June 14 (Delayed)—(AP)—A birthday present in the form of two Zeros fell to the lot of Lt. Henry E. Matson, of Perry, N. Y., a week ago today on the eve of his 23rd birthday. The Saga of it is fantastic.

Matson, the son of a Wyoming county (New York) coal dealer, was leading a flight of P-40's on routine patrol over Russell Island when he was notified that numerous enemy craft were in the vicinity.

Five miles east of Buraku Island, he saw 15 enemy Zeros. From here on, this is his narrative: "My flight dove and passed through the flitter, then returned to engage the enemy. On the third pass I attacked a Zero which burst into flames. Soon I was attacked by another in a head-on pass. He fired at me but my burst started him burning and pieces flew off his plane in all directions."

"A collision of our ships followed and my engine and prop chewed through him near the right wing root. "After the crash there was a marked rise in the temperature of my cockpit (his plane was afire). I released by safety belt and found myself promptly thrown clear of my wrecked ship. This was at about 18,000 feet.

"The chute opened and I descended right down through the middle of a terrific dog fight. Three Zeros formed a lufbery (dog-chase-dog) around me as I floated down. "After waving vigorously, jutting out my teeth at times to look like Tojo, and making other gestures of friendship (!) giving them an overhead handclasp like a fighter after telling them he'll be right home, the Zeros rolled away and disappeared.

"On the way down I noted four Zeros crash into the sea and three going toward New Georgia, their props windmilling (just turning over without power) and their engines smoking considerably. "I looked at my wrist to see the time because I knew operations would give me hell unless I had an accurate check. I discovered then both of my hands and arms were burned and my face was black. "I got out a mirror to see how I looked and found both cheeks puffed up, and my mouth filled with plexiglass from a shattered windshield. I spat out the glass, took off my helmet and found my head thoroughly burned and most of the helmet missing. I reached for my first aid kit, extracted a morphine-syringe and administered myself a shot of dope before reaching the water.

"Upon landing, I inflated my boat and made myself as comfortable as I could, knowing I'd doze off from the effect of the morphine. I did doze off for awhile, using the seat of my "chute to cover my face from the sun. (Matson's face already was so badly burned the sun couldn't have made it much worse.) "After about two hours in the water, a crash boat picked me up. "He was badly burned about the head, face and arms, his right knee was dislocated and his shinbone splintered, but today—a week later—he was hobbling about the camp fretting because the Medicos refused to let him get near the planes.

By RUTH MILLETT. Uncle Sam is an understanding, human sort of uncle after all. Young mothers had cause to doubt it when they heard their husband's draft boards were making a distinction between pre-Pearl Harbor babies and those conceived after America went to war.

It looked to them as though Uncle Sam weren't so proud of his war babies as of his older nieces and nephews—nor so concerned with what became of them and their mothers. But now he has done something that shows he isn't going to ignore completely his newest nieces and nephews.

He says that fathers serving overseas can now be sent photographs, by V-mail, of their children who are under one year of age or born since their Dad left for overseas duty.

Uncle Sam must have a sentimental streak after all. He does seem to understand that the parents of war babies are just as pleased with them and as concerned about them as parents of children born any time.

UNCLE SEEMS PRUD. Even though he himself can't see his way clear to treating all babies the same when it comes to their fathers' draft status—he at least realizes that to their fathers, they are important.

So important that a picture of Mama holding baby can be sent V-mail to Dad to boost his morale, and to give him something to show around to his friends.

It's nice to know Uncle Sam is proud of these new kids who call him Uncle. They may be making life pretty hard for their parents right now. But they ought to be a fine generation. They were conceived in spite of the war, in spite of their parents' insecurity, in spite of "common sense." They were born when they were because their parents wanted them enough to fear waiting until the war is over to have them.

Livestock Farmers Oppose Subsidies

CHICAGO, June 21 (AP)—P. O. Wilson, secretary of the National Livestock Producers Association, today said livestock farmers were opposed to a government subsidy program which "has already reduced the price of cattle, hogs and sheep on the leading markets of the country."

The uncertainty and chaos caused by the subsidy program, Wilson said, "has served to decrease the actual production of tonnage of meat in this country and delay the whole meat producing process."

Wilson asserted "farmers want a fair price for their commodity—a price that will permit them to meet the added feed and labor costs and increase their production to maximum capacity—some of the theories followed by the OPA and other government agencies will have to be adjusted to a more workable and sensible program."

RAE WHITNEY: exercises.

By ALICIA HART. NEA Staff Writer. The bathing suit season is one time of the year when your figure faults can no longer be camouflaged. So the thing to do is correct them.

One of the most difficult to overcome is the undeveloped bust. Though the bust itself cannot be developed by exercise, it can be raised and made firm, to give you a much better contour. And here are two exercises which CBS songstress Rae Whitney, whose figure is a lovely as her strawberry blonde hair, recommends:

"Stand erect," she instructs, "lift arms shoulder high, bring tips of fingers together and press as hard as you can, without lowering your elbows. Repeat ten times." This forces the shoulder blades into proper position and develops the supporting muscles below the breast, Rae explains.

The other, she describes, is to extend arms out to sides at shoulder level, keep elbows rigid, and the arms in an upward and backward motion.

New Miami Station To Replace Depot Erected In 1888

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS. MIAMI, June 21.—A new Santa Fe depot is being erected in Miami replacing the present one which has been a familiar landmark for 55 years, having been built in 1888. The new depot will be frame and smaller than the present station, but with more convenient freight facilities.

There will be separate waiting rooms for Negroes and white people as is required by law, although there are not Negroes in Roberts county.

The building material has been assembled on the grounds for several months, waiting for the 1943-deed structure crew to arrive. Foreman Gene Haynes is supervisor of the work.

In early days Miami was the shipping point for a radius of 100 miles, and freight was received for old Port Elliott, by Captain Welch, Quartermaster agent, also for Mobetie and Plemons.

Frank Gould was the first station agent in Miami, he was succeeded by Dick Powers, and he was followed by H. E. Baird, now president of the First State bank, and who served as agent for 17 years.

Baird was followed by J. E. Marshall and H. J. Newman, then followed Frank Barron, St. Danley, and then R. A. Wyckoff. The late H. A. Talley and Johnnie Himphries served their apprenticeship here, and so did J. L. Heare, now agent at Tahoka. H. A. Talley later became agent at Pampa.

The present agent, R. A. Wyckoff, moved to Miami in 1923.

How the Battle of Bataan Was Fought

Chapter 19

DURING those first days when Corregidor was under heavy bombing attacks we were too busy keeping our skins intact to learn much about what was going on in Bataan. It was still terra incognita.

I watched the maps on the walls of the USAFFE tunnel and saw that our lines were holding pretty well. That was encouraging. It was the shocking discovery that the powerful army of more than 150,000 troops which we had imagined was defending Luzon had existed only in our imaginations.

Instead of sixty thousand American soldiers, there was only one regiment of infantry, the 31st, and in its biggest fight its front-line strength was only 636 officers and men.

There were less than thirty tanks in Bataan.

There were about ten airplanes. The American forces, including tanks, Air Corps personnel, Signal Corps, and Engineers, did not exceed five thousand on Bataan with another seven or eight thousand on Corregidor.

The remaining soldiers on Bataan were some thirty thousand Filipinos, of whom approximately half were well-trained Scouts and the remainder virtually untrained recruits.

General MacArthur did not have even enough troops to hold an unbroken line across the fifteen-mile-wide peninsula, and he had to leave part of the mountainous area in the rear undefended. The Japs quickly found that out.

The Battle of Bataan was fought from January 1 to April 8. The battle developed in three stages. We won the first round; the second was a stalemate; and the third was a black and bitter washing defeat.

The first phase of the battle extended from January 1 until February 10. After preliminary skirmishing while our advance units were still fighting delaying actions, the Japanese hit our main line of resistance on January 6 at Moron on the western flank. Having taken most of Luzon almost without a struggle they pushed on recklessly and captured Moron, the 26th Cavalry, which had borne the brunt of fighting in the Lingayen area, was ordered to counterattack. They recaptured Moron.

THEN the Japanese hit our right flank along the shore of Manila Bay and pushed back the lines of the 41st Division, Philippine Army. The Japanese suffered heavy losses for every foot they gained, for they were up a fire from our big 155 artillery. Then MacArthur ordered the 41st Division to attack. The 41st went forward under a blinding barrage. They regained their positions.

The Japs thrust at another place, a few miles inland up the slopes of Mt. Natib. Their agile soldiers found that part of the mountain was undefended and slipped through and into the rear of our lines. They climbed trees and began sniping, picking off our officers and the men carrying supplies to the front. Simultaneously they made a headlong attack against the 51st Division of the Philippine Army, which was holding positions inland and adjacent to the 41st. The 51st was driven back for a half mile.

MacArthur called on his lone American infantry regiment, the 31st, to restore the gap. In five days of dogged, foot-by-foot fighting, the 31st regained all but 150 yards of the salient. But by that time hundreds and hundreds of Japs had infiltrated over Mt. Natib and our positions were becoming untenable. On January 26 MacArthur had to withdraw his forces back to the second and final main line of resistance, extending from Pilar to Baguio.

There could be no further retreat.

THE Japs thought it was all over. They pushed forward, confidently marching down the east coast road in groups of five and six hundred. Our 155's blasted them off the road and the Jap drive was stopped cold. By the end of January the Japs had failed in their attempt to break our line in frontal assaults. Lieutenant General Marshall Haysama, the Japanese commander, gave up and withdrew his forces for a few miles.

YOUNG EVANGELIST Plan Discouraging Sales Is Offered

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Government officials and retailers' spokesmen were reported deep in dickering today on proposals of the War Production Board for discouraging sales of consumer goods to people who don't need them.

A series of suggestions for voluntary adoption by retailers has been presented by WPB's Office of Civilian Requirements as one means of helping to head off rationing of clothing and other consumer items and of assuring a fair distribution of goods.

Mexican Volcano Causes Injuries

MEXICO CITY, June 21 (AP)—The Ministry of Education reported yesterday that 75 children and two teachers were injured when two schools at Zamora, Michoacan, collapsed under the weight of ashes from the volcano.

Education Minister Octavio Velazquez ordered health crews to the site to help victims and aid in clearing the ruins.

Reports to the ministry said pupils in the schools were half-buried in the wreckage.

Paricutin volcano, about 50 miles south of Zamora, has been spewing ashes since February, when it suddenly sprang into existence in a cornfield. Recently the lava flow has increased since a second crater was opened near the first.

Spend a Day With Army Air Field Private

As Irish as Paddy's Pig and with just a trace of the "screwball"—that's Pvt. Leo Patrick Murray, 454th base headquarters and air field squadrons, Pampa Army Air Field.

Pvt. Murray came to Pampa Field from Long Island, N. Y., by way of San Antonio, Stamford, Texas, and the Aviation Cadets. A New Yorker, tried and true, he swears by the Great White Way, Brooklyn's Dodgers, the New York Times, and anything else that even remotely sounds like America's largest city.

"Long Island Leo" works in the Pampa Field public relations office pouncing out newspaper stories, cutlines for cadet pictures and so on. That he is doing this sort of work while at PAAF is no accident, for he's a newspaperman with a well-founded writing and editing background—exactly the sort of a guy that the army likes to have in its P. R. office.

Pvt. Murray was born some 26 years ago in Glen Cove, Long Island, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Murray. A graduate of Glen Cove High school, Murray was a better-than-average high school athlete, despite his medium height and slender build. Although weighing but 130 pounds, he was a "touch monkey" on the football team, playing quarterback as a regular in his senior year.

Tax Deduction Is Effective Next Month

It's time for Pampa and Gray county wage earners, along with thousands of others over the nation, to get together on setting up a system of accounting under the new plan of collecting income taxes.

First step is for the employee to fill out an employer's withholding exemption certificate, Form W-4, (collection of income tax at source of wages). Employees can secure this form from their employer to whom the treasury department is to send supplies of this document.

The plan goes into effect July 1 and workers are asked to fill out these forms so that their employers can adapt their accounting systems to the new collection system.

Henry Morgenstern, Jr., secretary of the treasury, points out that the tax withheld is not in addition to regular income and victory tax but goes toward paying that tax. The quarterly income tax installments paid March 15 and June 15, before withholding goes into effect, will apply to the tax on 1943 income.

Withholding of income is at the rate of 20 per cent on wages over and above withholding exemptions. Because of these exemptions, the sum withheld runs all the way from 0 to 20 per cent of wages.

Radar Saves Britain, Helps Defeat Japs

Hearts had been told the vitally important nature of their work. From that point of view, publicity about Radar was urgent. Moreover, thousands of recruits were needed for Radar's operation and these had to be raised by recruiting, which means publicity. So the barriers came down.

That makes it possible to report now the proper relationship between British and American Radar development and to disclose that, while official myopia might have stalled American progress except for the bit-in-teeth courage of the scientists, it was a series of researches and discoveries in this country which led to the creation of Radar not only among the Allies but apparently among the Axis nations as well.

The central figure in that early work, and the man who literally begged, borrowed and stole when necessary to transform his ideas on radar into reality, is slight, baldish, one-time physics professor whose professional career began in 1903 at the University of Wisconsin. Albert Hoyt Taylor now is chief navy physicist and superintendent of the radio division of the naval research laboratory here.

It is characteristic of him that when he is questioned about his part in the creation of Radar, he speaks first about the work of the men who helped him. Their story is an integral part of his own.

"Taylor's direct contributions to radio detection dealt mostly with the fundamental discoveries of how radio waves behave and with some of the first crude instruments and experiments. As the naval research laboratory expanded and Taylor's duties became more complex, it fell to the lot of a younger genius to develop the first modern Radar equipment and perfect many of the improvements which have made it a basic instrument of uncanny precision."

Bombing Italy's Big Toe

Reggio Calabria, at the toe of Italy's boot, has become a perpetual target of allied bombers as they blast important ports on the Italian mainland. Here fire and smoke mark hits on the city's harbor area. Map locates Reggio.

Serious Drop In Supplies For Army Is Cited

WASHINGTON, June 21 (AP)—Undersecretary of War Patterson and War Production Board officials agreed today that the U. S. needs accelerated war production, but differed on the meaning of recent output figures.

Patterson, criticizing both labor and management for "over-confidence and complacency," declared production of supplies for the army ground forces fell 5 1/2 per cent below actual needs in May, or 3 1/2 per cent under April's output.

A WPB spokesman replied that overall arms production went up an estimated 2 per cent last month, and ground forces production is only about a sixth of the total. Concurring with Patterson's assertion that a great acceleration must be achieved if the nation is to exploit its military victories, he observed that it is erroneous to suppose the entire war production effort has suffered a relapse.

Applications For Flying Increase

Inquiries and applications continue to pour into aviation cadet recruiting headquarters at Pampa Army Air Field at a fast clip as the half-way point is reached in the air forces' June cadet recruiting drive.

According to Lt. E. K. Shelby, Pampa field officer in charge of enlisting civilians and soldiers for air crew training, the number of applications filed and inquiries received thus far have far exceeded expectations.

Many of the enlisted men who applied earlier this month for air crew training, specifically those seeking this training for the first time, have already passed their mental and physical examinations, met the board of officers, and been placed on detached service awaiting transfer to pre-aviation training centers. These men, Lt. Shelby explains, can expect to receive their orders within six weeks, probably very soon. They will be sent to one of the many air forces college training detachments for five months of study and preparation, after which they will go to a classification center and thence to pilot or navigator-bombardier pre-flight schools. These men will train "in grade" until they reach pre-flight school, when they will be appointed aviation cadets.

For those interested in becoming aviation cadets and fighting in an active and thrilling branch of the service, the procedure is simple: enlisted men get details from their squadron orderly rooms; civilians apply to the Aviation Cadet Board, Pampa Field.

Cruiser Houston Is Launched In Virginia

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., June 21 (AP)—A mighty new cruiser Houston slid down the ways in the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock company Saturday, started on her way to avenge the sinking of another cruiser by that name in the naval sea battle with the Japanese fleet a year ago.

Texans, headed by Governor Coke Stevenson, crowded on a flag-decked temporary stand at the prow of the vessel as Mrs. Claud B. Hamill of Houston, sent a bottle of champagne crashing against the olive-drab painted hull.

Secretary of Commerce Jesse H. Jones, himself a Houstonian, joined in the ceremonies with words of tribute to Virginia, the birthplace of Sam Houston, first president of the Texas Republic.
