Revised Layout On Airport Is Studied By Subcommittee

Plans for revising the present design of Pampa Municipal Airport are now under scrutiny by airport subcommittee members brought before a full committee hearing at 1:30 p. m. Friday. The plans arrived late Monday from Big Spring where they were prepared by J. D. Church, district CAA airport engineer. Church will be in Pampa Friday for the hearing. The subcommittee, composed of Farris Oden, Bert Howell, and County Judge Bruce Parker, are to make a report on their findings from the drawings before the full committee when it meets Friday. Both drawings show acreage to be used at 113 or 136 acres of land. According to the design the field would consist of one paved runway running north-south and two sod runways criss-crossing it at two different angles. According to a relative location inset at the top of each drawing, no take-offs or landings would be made from the present runway. Early this morning E. O. Wedgeworth, C of C manager, prepared the plans for studying and mounted them on heavy pasteboard sheets. The plans will also be studied by the full committee Friday afternoon after the subcommittee makes its report. This was the latest move in the local game of chess over location of a county airport—retain the present site on E. Browning, for which the plans have been drawn, or move the site to some other location, chiefly the northwest site. Cost estimates on the latest revision were being run today and may continue until tomorrow, but are expected to be completed by Friday for the committee meeting.

Communists Attempt To Split Allied Lines On Central Front

Russia To File Two Charges Of Aggression

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — Two Russian charges of American aggression against Communist China came up for final deposition by the United Nations General Assembly today. They have already been rejected overwhelmingly by the 60-nation political committee, with only the five Soviet bloc countries voting for them. The same fate awaits them today. The first Russian resolution charges that President Truman's order to the Seventh Fleet sailing off Formosa constitutes aggression against Red China. It was defeated in committee 49 to 5 with Burma, Indonesia and Yugoslavia abstaining. The second alleges that American planes flew 328 sorties over Manchuria killing 16 persons and injuring hundreds thus committing deliberate aggression against Communist China. It was defeated in committee 50-5 with Burma and Yugoslavia abstaining. The U. S. said that the Formosa order was given to prevent the spread of the Korean conflict and that any flights over Manchuria were accidental. It offered compensation for damage. Even India, generally considered Communist China's best non-Communist friend, refused to endorse the charges against the U. S.

BLOW YE WINDS—High winds and dry, swirling snow cut visibility in Pampa to about two blocks at times this morning as winter put an end to unseasonably high temperatures. A low of 12 degrees arrived at 7:30 a. m. The above picture, taken from the top of the new Hughes Building, shows the poor visibility. The arrow indicates the LeNora Theatre Building. Red Strength Is Underlined By MacArthur

TOKYO — (AP) — Chinese Communists shifted the direction of their massive attack in central Korea today and headed down mountain corridors in an effort to split the allied lines between Wonju and Yoju. General MacArthur visited the western front and warned on his return to Tokyo that the enemy still has plenty of manpower and supplies. The first Red onslaughts denuded allied lines as much as 20 miles and swept United Nations forces out of the road center of Hoengsong, 10 miles north of Wonju and 80 air miles east of Seoul. But this apparently was on the eastern wing of a heavy attack now gathering momentum. Leadoff columns of at least seven Chinese divisions in the area west of Hoengsong a north of Chipyong struck south Chipyong, 19 miles west of Hoengsong, and headed down two mountain valleys toward Wonju-Yoju road. Other Chinese forces surrounded Chipyong and Tuesday night launched an attack on the town. Tanks or self-propelled guns pounded Chipyong from the southwest while artillery mortars were firing from the northeast. Other attacks came from the north and east. Mortar fire was falling inside Chipyong. The Chinese were moving bands numbering up to 100 men. Allied planes in low-level strikes aimed to break up the mounting thrust to the north-east-west road in northern South Korea. Once in possession of the road the Reds would be in position to strike east or west behind allied lines. They would menace the four or more divisions along the western front in the area, and 10th Corp units holding the central front line near Wonju. There was little ground fighting Tuesday compared with Monday's blazing battle around Hoengsong. American and South Korean troops had fought the way out of the trap sprung by a 10,000-man Red force that had taken up new defensive positions. Much of Tuesday was spent by both allies and Communists in regrouping for new fighting. But there was one clash in the area. An allied force drove back into the hill a Red column striking from Wonju-Yoju road. Allied aircraft also destroyed quantities of allied ammunition and supplies left behind when the Hoengsong perimeter collapsed. Some field artillery heavy (See COMMUNISTS, Page 2)

Further Checking Planned In Deaths

AMARILLO — (AP) — State poisons expert Durwood Nollner, who said he found carbon monoxide in the bodies of three children who sickened and died while on a picnic, said he was going to make further tests at Austin. The children were John Wesley Patton, four months; Jerry Allen Patton, 18 months; and Katherine King, 15, the boys' aunt. Robert Henry Patton, 34, of Amarillo, father of the boys, brought the bodies here Sunday. His wife, Eula, 22, was seriously ill. Patton said all but the four-month-old boy became sick after eating scrambled eggs and calf brains while on an outing in Palo Duro Canyon, near here, Saturday night. The baby had only its milk formula and prunes juice, he said. Patton said he also became ill and the party was forced to spend the night in the canyon after his car got stuck in a stream bed. He said he ran the car heater and engine for not more than half an hour. Nollner said his unofficial findings showed a large quantity of carbon monoxide in the body of the girl and strong traces in the bodies of the boys. No charges have been filed.

'Sammy' Spring Backs Down As Winter Stages Comeback

"Willy" Winter sent "Sammy" Spring back to his corner for further instructions yesterday with a chilling punch that sent the mercury scoting from a mild 34 degrees at 1 p. m. to a nippy 34 at 3:30 and then on down to 24 by 6 p. m. Low for the 24-hour period in Pampa came at 7 a. m. this morning, according to the weather station at the KPDM transmitter. Light rains were also reported coming down at such scattered points as Longview, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas and Waco. The strong wind that accompanied the movement of a new cold front kept the snow swirling and dancing and made a measurement of the amount fallen inaccurate. Light snow was falling this morning in Dalhart and Amarillo with the temperature being 14 degrees at both places. Abilene had freezing drizzle. Light rains were also reported coming down at such scattered points as Longview, El Paso, Fort Worth, Dallas and Waco. The weather Bureau warned ranchers to protect livestock in North and West Texas, and home owners to wrap up their pipes and shrubs again. Temperatures may drop as low as 8 degrees above zero in the Panhandle and extreme north portion of East Texas tomorrow, the forecast said. However, the experts did not expect the cold blast to equal the near-blizzard of two weeks ago.

Railmen Face Second Suit

CHICAGO — (AP) — Government prosecutors mapped plans today to press the second contempt action against a railroad union for the recent 10-day "sick" strike of switchmen. U. S. Attorney Otto Kerner, Jr., served notice on the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen yesterday he will ask a federal judge today to set a date for hearing the action. The government charges the union with violating a temporary restraining order forbidding it to engage in a strike. The brotherhood, which represents the some 12,000 switchmen who last week ended their walkout, was fined $25,000 in the government's first contempt action. Judge Michael L. Igoe found the BRT guilty of violating a strike - end injunction during the switchmen's "sick" walkout last December. Union officials said they were considering an appeal of Judge Igoe's fine. The fine, imposed last Friday, has not been paid, the federal court clerk's office said.

Hunt Pressed For Lost Baby

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — A search for a missing 1 1/2-year-old girl was hurried up today as a chilling norther bore down on this East Texas city. Judy, the chubby and blonde daughter of Mrs. Bertie Youngblood, Jacksonville cafe waitress, has been missing since about 3:30 p. m. yesterday. Temperatures were in the 60's as the police, Texas National Guardsmen, sheriff's deputies and volunteers took up the search this morning. But the norther was expected to hit before noon, dropping temperatures below freezing. About 300 persons searched for Judy last night until the hunt was called off at 11:30 by officers. The search was resumed at 6:30. Among the searchers was the father, Joe Youngblood of Nacogdoches, who is separated from his wife. Officers went to Nacogdoches last night to pick him up for questioning. After talking to him yesterday afternoon, the father said he might join the hunt. Appeals for more volunteers were broadcast today over radio station KEFE of Jacksonville. Officers were told that the missing youngster and two neighborhood children were playing early yesterday afternoon in a ditch near Mrs. Youngblood's home, which is about a half mile east of the Tyler highway. At 3:30 p. m. the neighbor children returned to their homes. At 4:30 p. m. a member of the family phoned police that Judy had not returned when the other children did. The estranged couple have another child, a boy.

Rogers Would Tax President's Expense

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Walter Rogers (D-Texas) has introduced a bill to make members of Congress, the President and vice-president pay income taxes on their expense accounts. The tax-exempt allowances of the President is $50,000, that for the vice president and speaker, $10,000 each, and $2,500 each for other members of Congress. The assembly is expected to refuse to debate the items again formally, but lengthy "explanations of vote" can be expected from the Soviet bloc delegates. Also on the agenda for today's assembly is a decision on where the assembly should meet next year. It voted in December to convene in Europe next fall but no European country has agreed to act as host. Secretary General Trygve Lie recently recommended that the assembly reconvene its earlier plan and vote to stay in New York.

County To Pull Up Courthouse Trees

The elm trees around the Gray County Courthouse will be pulled up, it was decided by the county commissioners court, Monday afternoon. The decision was unanimously approved by the commissioners. In the course of the discussion concerning the pros and cons of removing the trees, it was revealed that during recent weeks, a woman was injured due to cracks in the sidewalks around the courthouse. These cracks were caused by the roots of the elms pushing up through the concrete. It was also stated that the roots pushing through are so damaging the walks beside the courthouse that rainwater runs toward the building instead of out in the street. An average of $75 a year is spent by taxpayers getting roots from the trees out of the sewer line, which comes from the courthouse and runs down N. Russell. The line has to be rodded out about once a year to clear it of great balls of roots which find their way into the line and stop it. The first step in the removal of the trees has already been taken with the pruning of limbs which has been going on during the past week. Now, the operation will be extended and the trees removed entirely. The commissioners voted also to raise the mileage of all county employees who draw mileage from eight cents a mile to 10 cents.

Yesterday's testimony indicated that the defendant will plead self-defense in extenuation of the shooting. The state's case was conducted by Dist. Atty. Tom Braly.

Herbert Noble Struck Again

DALLAS — (AP) — Gambler Herbert Noble's private club and nine nearby business firms were damaged today by a bomb explosion. No one was injured by the blast which shattered windows and doors. Night Police Chief John Daniel said he believes the explosion was a "nuisance" strike at Noble, rather than another in the long series of attempts on the gambler's life. Philip Stein, Noble's partner in the club — the Airmen's Club — said it looked "like a spite thing" to him. The blast occurred at 2:20 a. m. and tore a gaping hole in the door facing of the club entrance. There was no one there at the time, police said. Six squads of police who answered the alarm found shattered glass ankle deep around the entrance. Daniel said the odor of dynamite was strong in the wreckage. "The explosive presumably was tied to the bottom of the door," Daniel said. Several pieces of charred wire were found nearby. Noble couldn't be reached immediately for comment. Last Wednesday a similar bomb wrecked the floor and roof at Stein's Foods, scene of a tussle between Noble and Jack Todd Dallas police character. Todd then was under bond on charges of carrying explosives aboard an airplane. Noble, who claimed he was trying to find out the source of explosives which killed his wife, was charged with assault to murder as a result of his altercation with Todd.

Louisiana Sets New Car License Law

BATON ROUGE, La. — (AP) — No more $3 Louisiana automobile license plates for out-of-state motorists. State Revenue Collector W. A. Cooper said Louisiana license tags were bought in quantities and shipped out of the state. He said as many as 100 plates were sold to one applicant. The new law requires an accurate description of the car on which each set of tags is to go.

College Announces New Lincoln Letter

FAIRFIELD, Ind. — (AP) — A handwritten letter by Abraham Lincoln, still in remarkably good condition, was announced yesterday by Parsons College here. The college said the letter, dated March 9, 1865, ordered the promotion of Col. Lewis B. Parsons Jr., son of the founder of Parsons College, to the rank of Brigadier General. The letter, addressed to the then Secretary of War Henry Stanton, was discovered in a padlocked tin box containing personal papers of General Parsons. The box was opened a few days ago.

Nation Responding To Jacquelyn's Plea

ATLANTA — (AP) — Frail little "Miss Beautiful," the kid with cancer who whispered she would like to be a valentine, was happily holding the hearts of a nation today. It is a warm, snugly feeling for 12-year-old Jacquelyn Marre to be loved by you. "Over and over she murmurs, 'mother, why, oh why, is everybody so good to me?'" And because she is your valentine, she wants you to be hers. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Marre, said Jacquelyn insisted on sending a paper heart to everybody whose address she has. That will, of course, officially make you sweethearts. This is an especially nice valentine season for Jacquelyn because you see, last year she was unconscious most of the time. She had to undergo three major brain operations and it was after the second, said her father, that the doctors declared the cancer incurable. It was then, continued Marre, an athletic instructor and crack amateur golfer, that "we took her out of the hospital and brought her home to be happy." Life can be pretty dull when you have to spend 90 percent of your time in bed and this year Jacquelyn said it would make her mighty happy if she could be somebody's valentine.

Navy Says Saucers Just Huge Balloons

NEW YORK — (AP) — A Navy official confirmed today that "flying saucers" really existed, but actually were huge plastic balloons used in high-altitude cosmic ray studies. Dr. Umer Liddel, chief of the nuclear physics branch of the Office of Naval Research, made this disclosure in an article in the current Look magazine. Liddel, in Washington, discussed the Look story further when newsmen queried him. The Navy balloons, Liddel declared, were 100 feet in diameter and sometimes rose to a height of 19 miles. He added that winds might sweep them along at 200 miles an hour.

New Army Growing For China Invasion

TAIPEI, Formosa — (AP) — Chinese Nationalist leaders spoke today as though successful reconquest of the China mainland from the Communists was a matter of course. Premier Chen Cheng told the cabinet that a new army had been trained in Formosa and its morale is high. In an indirect reference to invasion of the mainland, he said the Nationalists must have enough food to feed one million people for a year.

Redistricting Of State Step Nearer With Okay By Senate

AUSTIN — (AP) — Senatorial redistricting was a step nearer completion today, but there were loud cries of "unfair" treatment. Most bitter denunciations of the plan approved yesterday by the Senate, 24-7, was Senator George Nokes of Corsicana. He charged the Senate with re-arranging his district in a manner designed to punish him for opposing the bill. "It is in utter disregard of the Constitution," stormed Nokes. "Sometimes I don't trust anybody in this senate but myself and my secretary, and I'm beginning to doubt her." The senate bill went to the house, where a redistricting committee still was trying to thrash out differences on how to reapportion house districts. 'New Experience' Is Provided By The Singing Trapp Family

By GEORGIA SMITH

A new experience was met last night by members of the Pampa Community Concert Association. The Trapp Family Singers were new in their simplicity and their charm. The elegance and stateliness of old nobility came from the past onto the stage at the junior high school when Mrs. Maria Augusta Trapp, her four daughters, two sons and their youngest conductor, Fritz Wagner, appeared for their program of pre-classical music.

Only four daughters appeared in the Pampa concert instead of the scheduled six, because of illness.

In spite of the sudden cold winds from the north, concertgoers turned out almost en masse for this program.

The cathedral-like softness and purity of the blended voices were shown with the opening numbers, which were several early Christian chants and motets. Costumes of the family's native land, Austria-Tyrol, reflected the dignity of the members of the chorus and the songs they sang.

Mrs. Trapp was dressed in a black lace frock with a gold crucifix as its only ornament. The two sons wore black suits of their native land and the girls, white floor-length dresses with black bodices. The only color of the costumes were the roses tucked in the bodices.

A Mozart composition, frolicsome and gay, ended the series of the pre-classical. Mischief shone from the dark, bright eyes of the hearty family.

Ancient instruments were featured in the program's second part. Recordings were played by the sisters and young Johannes, for whom the family shows obvious pride. He played a solo on the soprano recorder, accompanied by Father Wagner on the spinet. Werner, the elder son, was featured on the viola de gamba, a six-stringed instrument similar to the modern viola.

Following the intermission, the group sang several folk songs from their home land. The audience was transported into the Austrian Alps by the sounds of yodels and their echoes. For the first time, the family appeared in the more festive costume of the Tyrolean natives.

The Trapp family closed their program with four folk songs from other lands, including "Old Black Joe." Their last number was "Evening Prayer" from Hansel and Gretel and as an encore, Brahms' "Lullaby."

This was the season's second concert. Appearing next will be Mari Slavenska, ballet variate, on Feb. 22.

mortars and ammunition were showered with gasoline bombs before the Chinese had a chance to salvage the allied weapons.

Lt. Col. Matt Hosko, Carmel, Calif., a divisional operations officer on the western front, described the upsurge in Communist activity as:

"A delayed reaction to our reaching the Han River. They buttoned up on their defensive line north of the Han and are sending patrols down to heckle us. South of the Han River they are trying to hold where they still have men."

For the first time Red tanks were reported moved in to bolster the Communist defenses along the north shore of the Han and inside Seoul.

Southeast of the Han, savage local fights flared.

Fresh allied troops jumped off early Tuesday and gained 2 1/2 miles east of embattled Sansong. They seized five important hills.

Inside the walled fortress of Sansong southeast of Seoul allied foot soldiers failed for the third day to wipe out a suicide Chinese force.

Allied mortars, artillery and air strikes also failed to wipe out Reds holding outer positions on a high ridge-line cutting northeast from Sansong toward the Han.

Communist infantry attacked and won a 369-foot hill five miles southeast of Seoul and one mile south of the Han.

The Communists launched their big push on the central front after the allies had made sweeping gains all along the front in a "limited" offensive that began Jan. 25.

Guards Due Korea Service

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army says draftees and volunteers trained with federalized National Guard units are being pulled out of those units to bolster forces in Korea.

No precise figures were given but calculations indicated some 70,000 men from that source might go to the combat zone.

The men being shifted are not national guardsmen but others who were assigned to the four divisions and two regimental combat teams from the guard which were called into federal service last fall, an Army spokesman said.

Other sources are being tapped, too, for men to go to Korea. The spokesman said artillery, anti-aircraft, signals and other units have been called upon for men.

With the additions, the Army said, units in Korea will reach full strength next month for the first time since hostilities started.

UN Officials Meet Today With Israel, Jordan To End Feud

JERUSALEM — (AP) — United Nations officials sit down with representatives of disputing Israel and Jordan today in a new effort to ease the tense situation caused by alleged violations of the Palestine border between the two nations.

As the Jewish and Arab leaders prepared for the high-level meeting with the UN chairman of the mixed armistice commission, Israel charged Jordan with two new transgressions of the Rhodes armistice agreement.

One complaint accused Israel's neighbor of sponsoring Arab infiltration into the Jewish state.

House Okays Bill To License Nurses

AUSTIN — (AP) — The House yesterday gave final approval to a bill providing for licensing practical nurses. The measure must be passed by the Senate before it becomes law.

The bill passed, 110-28, after author Lamar Zavley of Temple out-talked Rep. Carlton Moore of Houston.

Moore said he wasn't against the bill, just opposed to calling the licensees "practical nurses." He said the title conflicts with the rights of a Texas corporation known as "The Practical Nurses Association of Texas, Incorporated."

Thieves Line Nests With Flower Petals

VANCOUVER — (AP) — Charles Weir found the thieves who took the blooms off 168 large chrysanthemums in his flower shop. Pack rats under a nearby storage room had lined their quarters with the petals.

"That's too expensive a lining," he said as he called the exterminator.

HADACOL May Relieve Cause Of Distress If Due To Lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A healthy childhood is the basis for a healthy adult life. Little Lee Horton, age four, of 108 74th Avenue, Houston, Texas, is a deficient in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron and just didn't have an appetite at all. His father, Mr. F. W. Horton, said that they just couldn't get Lee to eat. He said he had a hunch they were missing something.

Lee Horton heard about HADACOL on the radio, and decided to try it for Lee. After taking HADACOL, said Mr. Horton, Lee's appetite picked up and he started eating three hearty meals a day. Now Lee has gained weight, has more energy, and never has to be coaxed to eat.

Here is Mr. Horton's own statement:

"Lee was very weak and run-down and just didn't want to eat at all. We heard about HADACOL on the radio and decided that was what Lee needed. After he started taking HADACOL his appetite picked up right away. He started gaining weight and eats real well now, and has been feeling real good. HADACOL has been good for Lee and I heartily recommend it to everyone."

Israel Prefers Classics To Jazz

TEL AVIV — (AP) — "What surprises me most in this country is that nobody seems to care for jazz," Larry Adler, a famed harmonica player, said here.

At the end of each concert here, which ranges from Bach to Stravinsky, Adler usually asks his audience what else they would like to hear. Jazz music, he says, is generally a favorite. But not in Israel.

People here, he said, ask for Mozart, Brahms, Schubert, Tchaikovsky and for "Bab el Wad," a soldier's song from the Arab-Jewish War.

'Improving World Outlook' Is Theme Of Delta Kappa Gamma Meeting

"Improving Our World Outlook" was the theme of the February Delta Kappa Gamma meeting held Saturday afternoon in the City Club Room.

Special music was presented by Miss June Gull who played two piano selections, "Etude" by Liszt and "General Lavine" by Debussy.

Guest speaker of the meeting was Miss Gertrude Golladay of White Deer, who gave a book review of the 1950 Cokesbury Award winner, "Here I Stand" by Roland Bainton.

Miss Mary Dean Dozier presided over a short business meeting after the program, during which a new member from Miami, Mrs. Lois Chambers, was welcomed into the club.

A letter from the club's "adopted teacher" in England was read by Mrs. Aubrey Jones; and minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Kenneth Walters, secretary.

A valentine motif was used in decorations throughout the club room. A large valentine served as the guest register, presided over by Mrs. L. K. Stout. The candlelight tea table was laid with a white linen cloth and red ribbon streamers and centered with a large plastic foam cupid and an upright red ribbon heart. A colorful refreshment plate was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. John I. Bradley, Mrs. J. E. Gibson, Jr., Mrs. Sam Irwin, Miss Olive Carter, and Mrs. L. K. Stout.

Members and guests registering were Misses June Gull, Gertrude Golladay, Marye Dozier, Claud Everly, Olive Carter, Pearl Spough, Minnie Allen, Josephine Thomas, Bernice Larsh, Lella Clifford, Lillian Mulina, Daisey Childers, and Mary Ewing, and Misses Perry O. Beauty After Forty

Do you expect a valentine? Will your husband send you one? No? Well why not? Ah, you say that valentines are for sweethearts! And you would suspect your husband if he should send you a valentine! Why?

I asked these questions of several mature women at a luncheon party several days ago. They were rather shocked, I think, to be asked. And do you know why? I believe that they, and too many other wives, won't get valentines because they have lost their sense of vanity!

Many women today are not vain enough. They lack the feeling for romance, they are too factual, too matter-of-fact, about life and everything pertaining to their lives as wives and women.

How long since your husband has given you a compliment, bought you a box of candy, brought you a new book, a gift of selected a bottle of your favorite "swallow"? How long since he has selected a bottle of your favorite perfume as a gift to you? Or haven't you got a favorite perfume? Do you just forget to wear any?

Lost your feminine "know how"? Why? Because you are not in love with your husband or because you feel that he isn't romantically interested in you? He could be and I will wager that he would be if you had vanity enough to make yourself as charming and attractive as you can be.

Make up your mind to look lovely, to engage the attention and the interest of your husband and be sure that next Valentine's Day you will have a valentine sent to you by your husband. That's really fine for After Forty!

If you don't get valentines (they are, you know, the symbol of interest and affection) it's probably because you don't care enough. Think this over and try caring and be vain enough to receive valentines every day!

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

No wonder men claim they don't understand us.

A woman will see red if her husband ventures the smallest criticism of her housekeeping — yet spend three days cleaning up the house before she thinks it is ready to meet the critical eyes of her bridge club.

A woman will set herself up as the final authority on how the children should be reared — yet when one of them gets beyond her control she will tell his Dad "you simply have to do something about that child."

A woman will pick out her husband's neckties and expect him to wear them, but will quietly exchange the wearing apparel her husband picks out for her as a gift.

A woman will treat another woman like a long-lost friend, and then when she is alone with her husband declare that she never could stand her.

STYLISH-BUT "EXCLUSIVE"

A woman will slavishly follow fashion so as to look like every other woman, and then be completely crushed if she goes to a party and sees another woman wearing a dress exactly like the one she has on.

A woman will spend years building up a man's ego, and then resent his finally coming to believe that she is pretty lucky to have him.

A woman will announce calmly

DIFFERENT DESSERT

Packaged white cake mix may be baked fresh in a loaf pan and served hot, as you would a cottage pudding, with a sweet sauce. You can melt currant jelly and use it for the sauce, if you like, or you can use chocolate sauce.

that some people who bore her husband to death are coming for dinner, and then fell put upon if he wants to entertain someone she doesn't care about.

A woman will find time to spend two hours in a beauty shop or an afternoon at canasta and then when her husband complains that she didn't sew the button on his coat, she will say with injured feelings that she was so busy she didn't get around to it.

Sausage, Pineapple Form Team

The popularity of sausage links and patties for breakfast is an accepted fact. Sausage served for dinner can provide some interesting main dishes, too, and will help to keep the food budget in line. One happy way to serve pork sausage patties for dinner is in combination with pineapple slices.

Form two pounds bulk pork sausage into eight flat patties, a little larger than pineapple slices. Partially cook patties in a skillet, browning lightly on both sides. Spread eight pineapple slices lightly with prepared mustard and place in an oblong shallow baking dish. On the slices lay the sausage cakes. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Baste once or twice during cooking with a little pineapple sirup. Serves four.

fact that General Franco knocked the spots off the Soviet foreign legion, gave Soviet Russia her only military licking to date and in the entire European continent, not excluding Great Britain, and the only one fit and willing to fight the Kremlin.

So, after inquiries made by me at the Waldorf Tower where this mysterious power has his lair, I called up to ask for the extent of the Goldsmith menace in that encounter. Mr. Goldsmith said he wouldn't talk but that, if I would write him a letter, he would answer it. A few minutes later, one of the three secretaries employed in his three-room apartment where the half-dozen propaganda layouts do business under the letterhead address of 100 East 50th Street called back to say that while Goldsmith was willing to answer such a letter, he wouldn't promise to answer any or all questions that the letter might ask.

Now, I ask you, what do you make of a rich man with a consuming hobby of creating propaganda through a bunch of letterhead societies and hiring money to run his public elections. He would not protest too independently of public opinion or to sacred lest the truth be told, to answer questions about his activities?

So I called up Herbert Bay-ard Swope, who for years before and during his editorship of the Camp McClellan, had been in the mid World War one of the best reporters we ever had in this country. I put it up to him, to put it up to Herbert because Herbie has become a joiner himself in his old age, which, I am sorry to have to say, is an infallible symptom of stuffiness. He said he has never had a letterhead, adding, however, his opinion that most of these things have no real existence and don't amount to a dam.

Roman Democracy

By DAVID BAXTER. PART THREE. Continuing our discussion of Catholic Hierarchical political policies, it seems to be their custom to slap someone and then, if criticized, to accuse the critic of attempting to start a commotion.

It plays right into the Communist's hands, for Marxist policy is to "divide and conquer." If the Pope is the diplomat he's cracked up as being you'd think he would have known that before bringing up the present divisionist issues, I have heard some mighty fine Catholic friends deplore the pontiff's actions and one of them, the late George E. Sullivan, a prominent Washington attorney, wrote a serious article demanding Pius' immediate removal.

It is difficult for many Americans, accustomed to liberty, to more probably the result of the disease than a cause of it. In the particular problem mentioned it would be wise to take the son to a brain specialist (psychiatrist) to see if he needs any treatment and at least to relieve his worry.

Q-Are there any surgeons who are interested in curing nervous or mental disorders through operation? I believe possible cures could come from: (1) Relaxing the nerve area by severing the nerve near it; (2) Operating on the nerves to the left and right of the midline; (3) Operating on the nerves to the left and right of the spinal cord in the neck; and (4) Operating at top back of head to let blood into the brain better.

Q-Is dementia praecox hereditary or could it be the result of self-abuse? I know a young man who is terribly worried because his father has this mental disease. Can anything be done to prevent it in the son?

Q-Attempts to trace an hereditary pattern for dementia praecox have almost always failed and it is rarely passed on from father to son. The self-abuse is that it might provoke Russia to enter warfare, seems to have been exploded by events. The Reds are already in the fighting up to their necks.

Q-I have read that glutamic acid is good for retarded children. Where can I get some for my child?

Q-Although there have been some interesting studies on the effect of glutamic acid on mental performance it is far too soon to try this generally on mentally retarded children. It would be hazardous to pin too much hope on this.

Bid For A Smile

A teacher, annoyed with his clock-watching students, covered the clock in the classroom with a sheet of cardboard. On it he lettered these words: "Time Will Pass. Will You?"

Q-There are many surgeons who specialize exclusively in operations on the brain and other parts of the nervous system. They have developed some wonderful operations, but cannot, of course, do everything. Your suggestions are interesting: cutting the sympathetic nerves near the spinal cord is some times done for certain conditions, and there have been some experiments made on attempting to increase the blood flow to the brain. All ideas are welcome, but they do not all turn out to be practical.

Reapers Knock Off Horace Mann Of Amarillo, 37-30

Bond Leads Pampa Hoopsters To Victory With 31 Points

Pampa's rambling Reapers took possession of first place in Panhandle Junior High School Basketball League Monday afternoon when they spilled Horace Mann of Amarillo, 37-30. It was Pampa's seventh victory in nine starts, and Horace Mann now trails the Reapers by a half game.

The small partisan crowd was ready to cash in losing cage chips at the start of the final quarter. Pampa was trailing 27-26, and the Amarillo crew looked like it could control the game the last six minutes. Then Jimmy Bond drilled four straight field goals through the net to give the Reapers a seven-point lead and the ball game.

SPECK SPECULATES

By SPECK REYNOLDS

I still can't see how the Chiefs can be charged with so many mortal and venial AAU sins by the Amarillo AAU committee. The Chiefs are not members of the AAU. They have not made application for AAU membership.

Therefore, how can the committee, which includes Frank Godsoe, Duke Nally, Harry Gilstrap, Sheet Gibson, Homer Cowan and Les Kilgore, declare the Pampa quintet ineligible.

In a telephone conversation with the AAU prexy, Kilgore, yesterday, he listed a few more AAU rules to me that Pampa broke.

1. The Chiefs didn't have an AAU travel permit to play in Clovis, N. M. This is in violation of the AAU rule book.

2. Don Loyd, center for the Chiefs, jumped from one club to another without request. Kilgore said Loyd was playing with Rapid Robert Dowells' quintet before joining the Chiefs.

I asked the AAU president to list the names of the coaches on the Pampa team, and J. W. Malone and Cliff McNeely are the two cagers. McNeely is not a coach; however, he's one of the best instructors of basketball in Texas.

Sports editors and sports writers have called him Coach McNeely, but we're all wrong. The word coach isn't in his contract. He should be called Professor McNeely like that one best or instructor McNeely, or teacher. He looks to me like the committee did more speculating at the meeting because facts are lacking.

The committee, in their letter to newspapers, said the Chiefs had played professional teams. Mr. Kilgore listed the game with the Wizards and he said we had a game pending with the Vagabond Kings of Detroit.

He's wrong about the Chiefs having a game pending with the Detroit team. I received a letter from the tub thumper back anything in the Panhandle, and what happens? They won't let us play in their cage tourney. The tournament is scheduled the second week of March.

I still say you can't break the rules when you're not a member. I'm in favor of another meeting.

Mr. Kilgore didn't give me the name of the player on the Chiefs roster who signed a professional baseball contract, but he's supposed to inform me today.

I'm in favor of hiring a Philadelphia lawyer and air this thing out. I would say Pampa is being discriminated against. We have a ball team that can't make anything in the Panhandle, and what happens? They won't let us play in their cage tourney. The tournament is scheduled the second week of March.

Wildcats Edge Oklahoma A&M For First Position In AP Basketball Poll

NEW YORK — (AP) — Almost State is the high-light of this week's balloting of 119 sports writers and broadcasters. Just take a look at how it has moved:

In the season's fifth poll, the K-Staters barely made the exclusive Top Ten, holding down the No. 10 spot. Then, in succeeding weeks, they've advanced to ninth, seventh, fourth and, finally, third.

Jack Gardner's crew has won 17 of 19 games, including the last 13 in a row. Its only losses were to LIU and Indiana, the first by one point and the second by six. Currently, Kansas State leads the Big Seven Conference with a 7-0 record.

Kentucky, in leading for the fourth straight week, attracted 65 first-place votes for 1,698 points. Oklahoma A&M drew 31 top ballots for 1,019 points to finish only 44 points behind the Blue Grass lads.

Kansas State pulled in 13 first-place votes for 749 points. Then, in order, came Columbia, St. Louis, Indiana, St. John's, Bradley, North Carolina State and Villanova.

Bradley and Indiana each slipped three places. Columbia moved up two notches. St. John's held its No. 7 position while NC State and Villanova traded places at the bottom of the list.

LIU, which three weeks ago placed second to Kentucky, was 19th in the latest rankings.

Bucks Battle Samnorwood Quintet Tonight At White Deer In District 3-B Playoff

The White Deer Bucks engaged the strong Samnorwood quintet at 8 o'clock tonight. It's the first game in the best two out of three to decide the championship in District 3-B. White Deer annexed the North Half Division, and Samnorwood captured the South Half Division.

Coach Kenneth Gibson's Bucks have garnered 12 victories in 19 starts this season. They halted Claude last Friday night at White Deer in a playoff game to decide the championship in the north half.

Samnorwood has stopped the Bucks once this season, 41-25 at the Canadian tournament. The Samnorwood roundballers have dropped two games this season while notching over 30 wins.

Coach Gibson will choose his five starters from his top seven cagers. Gibson has switched his starting lineup around this season. His starting five will be picked from Ronnie Buchanan, Jackie Freeman, Charles Meadows, Carl McCabe, Dale Imel, Floyd Travis or Guy Thornburg. The leading point maker for

Harrison Nudges Ford By 1 Stroke In Playoff Match

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, with more than $2,000 added to his bankroll for winning the Texas Open, moved on to Harlingen today for a crack at the championship of Rio Grande Valley Open.

Harrison, veteran of 17 years on the tournament trail, took his second Texas Open title in a span of a dozen seasons yesterday when he beat out Doug Ford of Briarcliff, N. Y., by a stroke in an 18-hole playoff.

The St. Andrews, Ill., old-timer to championship golf and the 27-year-old Ford tied for first place in the Texas Open Sunday with 72-hole totals of 265.

Harrison fashioned a four-under - par 67 over dusty 6400-yard Brackenridge Park Course.

Outdriving Ford consistently and playing carefully, the 40-year-old Harrison led virtually all the way. Ford managed to even things on No. 18 when he slipped in a five-footer for a birdie while Harrison barely missed an 18-footer and took a par.

But on 17 Harrison's drive carried 360 yards onto the green and he two-putted for a birdie while Ford took two to get on and his eight-footer hung on the lip. Both birdied 18 and Harrison accepted the $2,000 first money.

Ford took a $1,400 check as a runner-up prize.

Lindie Castle, sophomore on Kentucky's basketball squad, is the youngest member of the team. He is 19 years old.

Border Conference Votes In Freshmen

THE BOCK — (AP) — The Border Conference threw open varsity competition to freshmen in all remaining sports for the 1951-52 period.

The circuit's members yesterday voted seven to one to allow freshmen to compete, but turned down the request that they be allowed to play in the current basketball campaign.

Dr. J. William Davis of Texas Tech, the conference president, declined to name the school opposing use of freshmen. He announced the result of the vote yesterday.

Dr. Davis said the vote was the same in turning down the proposal that first year men be used the remainder of the basketball season.

Results of a poll to determine whether players who transfer to Border Conference schools from institutions that drop sports will be eligible next fall have not been announced.

The vote yesterday means freshmen can participate in golf, track, tennis, baseball, football and basketball next year.

GAME POSTPONED COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — Texas A&M's basketball game with the University of Houston Saturday night has been postponed until March 2, it was announced.

Tyler Signs Prejean

TYLER — (AP) — J. C. (Bud) Prejean, Lufkin High School coach, has been given a three-year contract as head football coach and athletic director at Tyler High School. He will resign for his new duties "as soon as possible" said school superintendent Dr. Mortimer Brown.

Prejean was head grid at Pampa in 1941 and 1942. The Heavens rucked the Amarillo Sandies, 20-12, in 1941 to his 20-game winning streak. He started his coaching career at Shamrock.

Lisa screamed and jammed on the brake of her car. "My God!" Angus exclaimed. "They watched helplessly, paralyzed, while the wheel chair with its frantic occupant swept down the first terrace, then rocked and picked up speed, twisted and turned and pitched unbelievably down the second terrace and then, striking a rock on the very edge of the lawn, it hurtled its shrieking passenger headlong into the steep ravine. Lavinia Grenable's screams tore the stillness into little quivering shreds. It came back, echoing and re-echoing from the depths, and then there was nothing. "Court Grenable's mother," he inquired, turning to look at her. "You know him?" she tried to keep her tone even. "I've met him," he said briefly. "I've heard a little about the family from Tim." She didn't know why she felt she had to say it so quickly, so defensively, almost afraid he would go on before she did. "Court's the only normal Grenable there is," she told him. "That's why Tim's going to marry him." "Oh," he studied her for a moment. Then he looked ahead at the road. "He's a very lucky man," he said gravely. The Fort Sheridan guardhouse siren had fallen away and only the soft, sighing sound of the wind through the ravine disturbed the quiet. As she made the turn in the clearing she glanced back at the Grenable house. It was a moment she was never to forget. "There was a quietness about Angus Kent, a thoughtfulness that didn't ask for subterfuge. He motioned back at the manoristry on the hill, the Grenable house, and it came back to her by mistake, thinking it was Elsworth's. I walked over from the railroad station. The agent there wasn't too clear about directions." Lisa Farwell started the car, feeling like a traitor to Court Grenable for her sudden awareness. She was not a friend of Angus, separated from the rest of the world, defiant, its broad lawns and dipping terraces like a painted landscape in the amber light. And there in the center of the painting was Lavinia Grenable herself, sitting like a stone statue in the wheel chair that was her sole means of mobility. She rolled the chair down the upper terrace... no... she... "Angus!" (To Be Continued)

Gray's Prison Total Declines

HUNTSVILLE — Despite a slight trend upward during the last three years, Gray County's number of persons sent to the Texas State Prison system per year has decreased during the second half of a 22-year period. The average per year during the second 11 years was slightly under eight as compared with over 10 per year in the earlier period. These figures were revealed by Dr. Rupert Koeninger, director of classification at the prison and head of the sociology department at Sam Houston State Teachers College. His advanced students aided in the survey which dates back to 1928. The 1950 figure was nine, there were four commitments in 1949 and 13 in 1948. The 1948 figure was the highest since 1935 when 15 persons were sent up. Highest of any year was 22 in 1938.

Methodist Pastor Leads Shamrock In Prayer Observance

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Rev. S. M. Dunnam, pastor of the Shamrock Methodist Church, led the "World Day of Prayer" service at the Irish High School here Friday morning. High school students were reminded that there are many powerful material forces—trains, automobiles, airplanes and the potent atomic energy—but that none of them equals the power of God. Dunnam led a prayer for the individual student, for the community, nation and world, for Christian concepts in all things. "The hope of the world lies in these principles," he emphasized. "There is no other solution for our complex problems."

Disaster Care Is Developed

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Red Cross has prepared a quick course in emergency care of bombing victims, including those of atomic attack, and has urged its chapters all across the nation to help with a mass training program. The four-hour addition to the Red Cross standard 18-hour first aid course was prepared in cooperation with the Federal Civil Defense Administration. The course lists burns and wounds as the most common casualties and says that contrary to popular belief "radioactive damage would be relatively minor." In another move, the civil defense organization said its film, "Survival Under Atomic Attack," will be ready for public release in March. The film parallels a booklet with the same title, already released.

McLemore Suggests Possible Name For State Of Georgia

By HENRY McLEMORE — With the passing of his father, of Gene, Herman Talmadge automatically became my most favorite governor. Some of the other 47 states may have governors who don't exactly add lustre to the gubernatorial mansions in which they dwell, but they don't quite come up (better still come down) to Herman for demagoguery. To mention all the things Herman and, before him, his gallus-mapping, spitton sharp-shooting dad, have done or tried to do against the simple rights of man, would require a book. And I'm in no mood to write a book this afternoon. All I want to do is say a few words about his latest effort to silence the voices which would speak against him and his Dark Ages approach to government of men and women. Word comes from Atlanta — and what a lovely city to have been the dateline for so many stories of persecution and unenlightenment — that Governor Herman seeks to slip the muzzle on Georgia's newspapers, particularly the two most influential, the Atlanta Journal and Constitution. Under the guise of breaking up a monopoly he wants to bend Georgia's newspapers to his will. Because former Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio owns both the Journal and the Constitution, Herman wants to dissolve that ownership. Everyone with so much as one fragment of sense in his head knows that Herman's "hate" of monopoly is as pure a mask as ever worn by the Ku Klux Klan. Name me one Georgian who does not owe his living to Herman's patronage, or one Georgian who has enough sense to know the monkey is athen with a ford, who doesn't also know that Herman, if the Georgia papers were solidly behind him, wouldn't stoop to anything to keep them going full blast. What a laugh that a man who spends all his time and writes on holding a monopoly on an entire state should get so all-fired het up about one man owning two newspapers in one city of the state. In all fairness to Herman his interest in newspapers comes naturally. His father, of wool hat Gene, owned and published a weekly sheet. Its name I do not remember, as who would. It was the worst journalistic effort I ever saw, and if it's still going to press I'll bet even money it's just as bad if not worse. The copies I saw consisted of attacks on anyone who, through either nausae or anger, attacked the state government of Georgia. And the attacks sounded as if they had been written by an eight-year-old child who had fallen off his tricycle and landed on his head while pedalling into the editorial sanctum. What has Georgia done to deserve the Talmadges, per at file? It is an original 13th state. Its sons fought gallantly in the Revolutionary War. It contributed its share in World War I and World War II and World War III, as the Korean War will sometime be known. There are lots and lots of fine, solid people who live in my home state, but due to an electoral system that makes about as much sense as Herman, himself, some very odd characters make inaugural addresses in that state. If Herman succeeds in muzzling the newspapers I suggest we change the name of Georgia to Talmadge and raise the hammer and sickle over the capitol. (Distributed by McNaught) Syndicate, Inc.)

SHAMROCK — (Special) — S. J. Beaman is the new Rock Island station agent here, succeeding F. E. Stevens, who retired recently after completing more than 50 years in railroad work. During the war he again took up telegraphy for the railroads. He worked in Caldwell, Kan., four years before coming again to Shamrock.

Water Canned For Attack

BOSTON — (AP) — Your only safe drink will be canned water size which will keep it sterile if you city has been A-bombed. That's the view of Dr. Myer Selby, Boston chemist who says he has invented a way to put up water in cans of convenient size which will keep it sterile for years. "So far as water supply is concerned, this seems the best solution in atomic warfare," Dr. Selby said. He explained that in an A-bomb blast the water supply of an area may pick up deadly materials, bit of plutonium or other poisons. Canned water should be kept in buried stockpiles, he says.
