UN Allies Lunge Forward In New 'Killer Campaign'

Advances Reported Up To Eight Miles

TOKYO (AP)—Allied forces smashed northward today on a 60-mile rainswept front aiming to kill, maim or capture all Reds in the mired mountains and valleys of central Korea. Advances in this new offensive—"Operation Killer"—ranged up to 12 miles on the east-central sector and up to 8 1/2 on the central valley, north of Wonju. Resistance was spotty most of the day but was stiffening at dusk as allied spearheads neared the main forces of the dug-in Chinese and North Korean Reds. An estimated 40,000 Reds are south of Parallel 38. The allied objective is to wipe them out. General MacArthur announced the new push today, nearly 24 hours after it began without fanfare.

Contract For Bridge Is Let

The contract for the construction of the bridge across the Canadian River in Hemphill County was let yesterday by the State Highway Department. The Austin Bridge Co. of Dallas won the contract with a bid of $847,748, the biggest money job of 43 bids let yesterday that totaled nearly $6,000,000. The Canadian River bridge job includes two miles of bridge and roadway approaches to be constructed just north of Canadian.

Gold Smuggler Is Arrested

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—An attempt to smuggle $40,000 worth of gold into Germany in meat cans has led to the arrest of an American official of the International Refugee Organization (IRO). U.S. District Attorney James F. Phelps of Houston told an American court that the U.S. arrested IRO Administrative Officer Arthur Gershon when he picked up several cans marked "Kosher Meat" at the U.S. Army post in Bremen.

City Engineer Is 'Down To Earth'

City Engineer Ray Evans was brought down to earth Wednesday afternoon in the office of City Manager Dick Pepin. "And it was an inanimate object that embarrassed the 30-year-old engineer. Evans was sitting comfortably, so he thought, when the chair gave way. When last seen, Evans was sheepishly crawling up from under the CM's desk and going for another chair. Damage was negligible and there were no injuries other than a slightly hurt pride.

Canada To Send Troops To Korea

OTTAWA (AP)—Canada soon will have a full brigade of 5,000 men in Korea, Defense Minister Brooke Claxton told the House of Commons last night.

McIlhenny Readies Bill Making Child Drivers Responsible For Actions In Traffic Cases

A bill to make child drivers responsible for their actions in traffic is being prepared by Rep. Graydon McIlhenny, Wheeler, 122nd Legislative District, for introduction to the 52nd Legislature. A rough draft of the bill is now being scrutinized by Pampa City Attorney Bob Gordon for suggestions on altering, adding or subtracting.

Trash Fire Spreads To Blacksmith Shop

The roof and rear wall of the blacksmith shop owned by Ray Ripley and Ben Gull at 1509 Ripley were destroyed by fire at 1:05 p. m. Wednesday as flames from a grass fire melted the tin-aluminum sections under the heat.

Smaller Guard Units Still Will Be Called

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army plans to call up more National Guard units to help with the 32nd annual convention of the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers, President Robert B. Underwood, of Richmond, Va., said.

"The mass of citizens in these United States mean well, and I firmly believe they will always do so whenever they can obtain a right understanding of matters." —George Washington.

Chiang To Korea Is Still A Live Issue

TOKYO (AP)—The prospect of using Chinese Nationalist troops in the Korean campaign remains a live military issue here, informed sources said today. But they added that this has no connection with the visit of Vice Adm. Arthur D. Struble to Formosa.

First Intent For City Filed

The first candidate for city commissioner in the April 3 municipal election filed his intentions to run with City Secretary Ed Vickers at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Committee Charges Perjury Hindering RFC Investigation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today obvious perjury is hampering their inquiry into charges of influence in the making of huge government loans. They talked of possible prosecutions. The statements came from members of a banking subcommittee digging into accusations that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation (RFC) has yielded to pressure from E. Meri Young, White House aide Donald Dawson, and others.

Conflict Is Stalling Vote On Tax Levy

Conflict between a constitutional amendment and its companion enabling act is holding up tax levy elections by counties over the state wanting to take advantage of the repealed state ad valorem tax. This came to light here Wednesday when County Judge Bruce Parker said the Gray County Commissioners Court would follow "hands off" policy in calling for an election to authorize the 30 cent tax levy for road or flood control purposes.

Tickets For Kiwanis Show 'Moving Fast'

Reserve seat ticket sales for the 1951 Kiwanis Club benefit show are reported moving fast at Clyde's Pharmacy. The annual show will be held next Monday and Tuesday night in the Junior High School Auditorium.

"Texas 'n Trouble" this year's play, is a comedy under the direction of Bunny Schultz. It's a story complete with terror, comedy and romance. Playing the lead role will be Pete Welborn, well-known KPDR radio star. In the romantic line the feminine lead goes to Irma Francis Morris, above, who is being silently adored by bashful Pinky Shultz, also pictured above, the ranch foreman. In addition to the regular plot, there will be special feature dances by Jeanne Williamson, Ruth Samples and Mrs. Williamson's dance class, special music by Dorothy Peacock and Humpy Matheny; and an eight-piece Dixieland band, all made-up of local musicians.

Proceeds from the show go to the underprivileged children's fund of the Kiwanis Club to help take care of children in the community who need medical or other types of attention that they could not otherwise receive.

API Campaign Rotary Told Closing Friday Of Yugo Ruin

A few tickets remain for the annual dance sponsored by the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute. The affair is to be staged Friday at the Clover Club starting at 8 p.m. The Mellow-Aires will play for the dance.

The chapter is running a drive for memberships concurrent with the dance.

Institute officials are emphasizing a greater membership in the organization this year in an effort to stall administration attempts to cut the 27 1-2 percent depletion allowance to as much as 15 percent. The allowance is granted the industry to compensate for the decline of oil and gas reserves.

Local industry representatives point out the depletion is vital to the oil industry and a necessity for the Panhandle field and others of its age. They say production of oil in this area could not be continued on a profitable basis without the allowance.

Since drilling of new wells is the only way in which reserves can be replenished, industry spokesmen say consideration must be made by the Treasury Department concerning the funds needed to drill in these new wells.

The depletion allowance, 27 1-2 percent of the gross income or not more than 50 percent of the net income, has provided the necessary funds for drilling these new wells. Without the allowance, new reserves could not be drilled. Wildcatting is an expensive venture and the allowance is the only incentive provided for exploring new areas.

Development of the older fields would have to be discontinued, API officers say.

Since so many persons outside the industry benefit from products made available by the oil industry, local officials feel these persons should have a chance to maintain the industry in this area. For this reason, memberships are open to any interested person.

For a Lifetime.. If You Prefer!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

It is reassuring, when you buy a Cadillac, to know that you yourself will make the decision as to how long you wish to keep it—and how far you wish to drive it. The car will be at your service throughout your pleasure.

Give it reasonable care and reasonable usage, and there is no practical limit to a Cadillac's utility. Authenticated records show various Cadillacs well into their second five hundred thousand miles of service.

Of course, the original owner seldom has any requirement for such exceptional mileage. Being progressive, he wishes to change his cars sufficiently often to keep pace with Cadillac's advancement in design and appearance.

But he benefits, all the same, from this wonderful capacity for service. It means that, month after month and year after year, his Cadillac performs magnificently—with the minimum of care and attention.

The great Cadillacs for 1951, now gracing America's streets and highways, are built in the finest traditions of Cadillac quality. If you have not inspected them, you ought to do so. We'd be happy to see you—at any time.

We are sorry indeed that delay in delivery of new Cadillacs continues unavoidable. Not only is the demand beyond all precedent, but much of the company's materials must, of necessity, be allocated to defense production. Thousands of Cadillac's craftsmen are already engaged in this effort. If you are waiting for a Cadillac, please be patient—but hold to your purpose. There is no substitute for the "Standard of the World."

Comic Is Back In Slavic Papers

BELGRADE (AP) — For the first time since the war, an American comic strip (Donald Duck) has reappeared in a Yugoslav newspaper. It is running in the "Sunday Information," a new weekly started this year. In pre-war Yugoslavia American comic strips were very popular and were published in many daily and weekly papers. During the German occupation they were cut out. And they stayed out after the Liberation and the founding of Marshal Tito's Communist government until this lone entry.

The rugged front extends in an arc from a point near Yangpyong, 27 miles east-southeast of Seoul, to Pyongchang, on the east-central sector. Wonju, 25 miles west of Pyongchang, is roughly in the center of the kick-off point.

The biggest Communist force was dug in in the lofty mountains about six miles south of Wonju. Red soldiers rushed for those positions in order to cover after brief delaying actions.

A senior staff officer said fresh Chinese Reds of the 196th Division with 10,000 men and other Chinese units were in the Hoengsong area. He said the Chinese had orders to hold the town at all costs.

Hoengsong is 10 miles north of Wonju. It fell to the Chinese in their recent attempt to sweep down the middle of the peninsula to the key mountain passes below Wonju. But the allies cracked that drive wide open with devastating fire power that killed thousands of Reds.

Trouble Dogs 14-Year-Old Boy

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Jackie Wyatt, 14, wouldn't have got in trouble if the dogs hadn't started barking. On the other hand, Jackie leaned out of an upstairs window to see what the family Dalmatians were barking about, lost his balance and tumbled out. He slid down a porch roof, flipped in midair and broke his right leg when he landed. The boy couldn't arouse the family, but the dogs kept barking. Two hours later, Jackie's father, John Wyatt, heard them and looked outside to investigate. He found the boy trying to crawl toward the house.

Nancy Haven's Edge on Pies

You'll really please His Nibs with this Beet Sugar Cherry Pie. Just tart enough, just sweet enough - just perfect! For a sure seal, cut top crust 1/4 inch larger than pie pan, seal edges together, lift up the bottom crust and tuck top crust underneath. Edges won't shrink if you press the fluted points against the pie pan and tuck under the rim. Remember - your baking's always best with pure Beet Sugar - a 100% American product and as fine as sugar can be.

OLD FASHIONED CHERRY PIE

Pastry for 2-crust, 9-inch pie. Use your favorite pastry or pastry mix.

1 1/2 cups Beet Sugar	1/4 cup cherry juice
4 tablespoons cornstarch	1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1/2 teaspoon salt	12 drops red vegetable food coloring
2 cups drained, red pitted cherries (with-stems)	2 tablespoons butter

Sprinkle pastry-lined pie pan with 1/2 of the sugar, cornstarch and salt combined (if syrup-packed cherries used, reduce sugar to 1/4 cup). Fill by layering cherries and dry ingredients alternately. Last, add combined juice, extract and coloring. Dot with butter. Cover with cherry-cut decorated crust; seal edges and flute. Brush top with milk and sprinkle with 2 tbsps. sugar. (Add sparkle and eye-appeal.) Bake in hot oven (325° F.) 10 minutes, reduce heat to med. (350° F.) and bake 40 min. longer. Serves 6.

• Before placing pastry on pie: With tines of fork mark off top pastry into eights. Cut cherry cluster design using edge of thimble for cherry pattern. Cut stems and leaves with paring knife.

40th Birthday Proves To Be Harrowing Day For Writer

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK — (AP) — I looked into the mirror and saw a boy I used to know. He was the boy I used to be. I looked closer — the boy was kind of glimmering — and I saw the man that had kind of grown around him. The man was me. He didn't look too good. It was his 40th birthday — my 40th birthday. And this is what I saw: a guy growing old. A guy with his scalp showing through on the top and a gray nest building on each temple. A guy bulging in the middle and sagging at the shoulders. I looked again for the boy I used to be. And there he was — just as young and eager and confused as he had ever been. He looked back at me from the mirror. But all that was left of him was his eyes — two blue pools of doubt, two wells of childhood reluctant to cloud over. I shaved the man in the mirror from force of social habit, and went about the stale duties of the day.

And the more I thought about being 40 years old the more I got mixed up. Because the boy that sometimes shows in a man's eyes always lives in a man's heart. I went into a bar. My wife, Frances, said I could. I told the bartender I was forty years old and he began to cry. And I began to cry. Then an old fellow down the bar rail slipped down to us — keeping one foot on the rail so he wouldn't lose balance — and said: "The next fifteen years of your life will be the best years of your life. Be sure to use them well." Then he started crying. I got to thinking that after all I should share this historic occasion with the lady who caused it all. So I put in a long distance phone call to my mother in Kansas City and asked her how she felt about me being 40 years old. She said in her sweet Irish voice, tempered by 43 years of trouble and fun: "Why, just live another 40 years, son, and try to remember to call your mother again." That's the best advice I got. Getting to be 40 years old has happened to millions of other people, and they managed to survive. I guess the only reason I got upset about it is that it is the first time it ever happened to me.

Prague Youth Is Given A Warning

PRAGUE — (AP) — Official policy in the Czechoslovak Union of Youth is that "the old undignified bourgeois attitude toward girls must be ruthlessly suppressed." "Youth union groups," a Union edict also declared, "must also combat eccentric American dances such as the samba, which express the general degeneration of the culture and morals of the capitalist states." The samba is still popular in Czechoslovakia despite the efforts of the union and other cultural reformers.

Big Bend Officials Want Better Roads
SAN ANGELO — (AP) — The superintendent of Big Bend National Park believes that good roads in the park will mean an additional $36,000,000 income for Texas. Ross Maxwell, head of the park, attended a business meeting of the Big Bend Trial Assn. here, Monday. He said 250,000 persons would be attracted to the area annually when the park's highway network is completed. He said he believed those tourists would spend an average of $20 per day each and they would spend at least six days in Texas.

LEFORS — (Special) — Frankie Dee Quarles and Ray Dickerson will represent Lefors High School at the fourth annual Plains Personality Pageant at West Texas State College on March 2. The Student Association of the college is sponsoring the special event. The personality king and queen of the campus will be crowned during the pageant. The speech department of the college will present a play for the visitors in the afternoon, followed by a tea. A banquet will be held that evening, after which the coronation ceremony will take place at a formal dance.

Vernon O'Kelly Is Science President

LEFORS — (Special) — Vernon O'Kelly was chosen president of the Science Club at a meeting held on Jan. 30. Other officers elected were Carroll Welch, vice-president; Barbara Sanders, secretary-treasurer; and Hugh Braly, sergeant-at-arms. The president appointed Marie McPherson, Gloria Bewley, and E. C. Lette to serve as a program committee.

FHA Sweetheart Is Presented

LEFORS — (Special) — Melba Joyce Hill, the FHA sweetheart, was presented on Wednesday, Feb. 14, at 7 p.m. Melba received a locket from her escort, Bob Burchfield, the FHA king. The attendants were Fern McCathern, Mozelle McKnight, Fryda Howell, and Frankie Quarles, who were presented boxes of candy. About sixty high school students, parents, and teachers were present.

A TIP TO THE THRIFTY HOUSEWIFE: You wouldn't throw away good money! You can get the biggest return for your money at your local independent grocer. The reason is: when you trade with him the big majority of your food dollar stays in Pampa and part of it eventually will wind up back in your own pocket, a good part of the rest goes to pay the grocer's help, and an improvement in his store to better his service to you. Also another part goes for civic projects for the betterment of our city... which you in turn—being a citizen of this community—will enjoy.

18-Year-Olds Said Not Best Fighters By Veteran Of WWII

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Rep. Teague (D-Tex.), a World War Two officer who was wounded six times in European fighting, says 18-year-old soldiers don't make the best fighters.

Advocating a universal military training program emphasizing a large and active reserve corps, Teague in a newsletter said he believed the Defense Department "has not made a case" for drafting of 18-year-olds.

He declared that before such a step is taken there should be a thorough screening of men in the 18 to 26 age group, and added:

"Many argue that the 18-year-old boy with a few months of training makes the best soldier in the world.

"This is not true from my experience during World War Two as our best all-round fighters were more mature men who could withstand extreme mental and physical punishment. Recklessness does not make for the best combat soldier."

Henry Finds Prices Cheaper In Munich; Food Plentiful

by HENRY McLEMORE
MUNICH. — I wrote about food yesterday and today there will be no change of pace. Just more about food.

To land in Munich after having been in London a few months ago is to wonder if the world isn't in the middle of setting an all-time record for topsy-turviness.

Munich was beaten into a pulp by bombs and is an occupied city. Yet the citizens of Munich are eating food that Englishmen haven't eaten since 1939. London papers (on sale here) tell of the minute meat ration and how almost everyone with a shotgun or rifle is taking up poaching to bag a rabbit for the family table.

If the men, women and children of Munich aren't plump it is their own fault. In a ride about the town — still devastated from the terrific aerial attacks of Britain and the U. S. — I saw literally hundreds of shop windows piled high with eggs, ham, poultry, sausages of all sorts, and a tremendous variety of canned goods, there for the buying.

The Munich restaurants have menus which would make the mouths of Englishmen water for an hour. Such soups as Leberknodelsuppe, Schinkenknodelsuppe and Speckknodelsuppe — clear soups filled with dumplings of liver, finely chopped ham or bacon.

Meat dishes: Gedampfter Rosensnitz — loin of beef with gray and vegetables. Rostbraten — beef fried with onions. Kalbierenbraten — roast veal with kidney. Weisswurst — unsmoked sausages filled with chopped raw veal and bacon.

Maybe I'm extraordinarily thick-headed, but for the life of me I can't understand why in Dachau, only a few miles from Munich, the people have infinitely more to eat than do the people of Coventry, Liverpool, Manchester, or Oxford.

I don't begrudge the Germans the feed, mind you. Just can't figure out the reason why. This is a jolly city from all appearances. Always happy folk, the Bavarians haven't allowed the war to slow them down. You'd be hard pressed to find a gayer place than the celebrated Hofbrauhaus in the Platzl. It has three floors and is patronized by all classes from the highest to the lowest. Singing, shouting, dancing.

U.S. Oil Output Maintains Pace
TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Some of winter's severest weather failed to retard the nation's crude oil production during the week ended Feb. 17. The Oil and Gas Journal said.

Daily average output for the week, the Journal said, reached 5,850,175 barrels, an increase of 51,375 barrels.

Kansas, with a jump of 84,200 barrels to 319,250 barrels, was the top gainer.

Major loser was Oklahoma, which fell 19,250 barrels to 485,950.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,980,450 barrels.

eating and beer drinking goes on almost around the clock. Famed the world over, Munich beer is consumed in Niagara-like quantities at the Hofbrauhaus. A Bavarian who can't handle three or four gallons is a rare creature and a youngster who can't put down five or six steins is considered a sissy.

If I weren't afraid of wearing out my only good walking shoes I'd take pleasure in kicking myself around the block today. Last summer I shopped and shopped all over Switzerland to find a bargain in binoculars. Finally, in Zurich, I ran across what I thought was a steal.

"They weren't. Here in Munich a beautiful pair of Zeiss glasses can be had for forty — three dollars.

There may be better scissors made than those turned out by Heckels, but what's their name? So what did Jean do in Luxembourg last year but load up on scissors of all shapes and sizes at a price triple the Munich cost.

Cameras are a great bargain, too, but never having mastered the box Brownie even, I am leaving the cameras alone. Besides, postcards are much cheaper and much prettier.

From my window I can see boys and men curling on the frozen canals. Having never curled, even in a beauty parlor, I think I'll go out and get in a game. No use bringing long underwear this far and not using it.

FFA Boys Carry On Pig Project

DES MOINES, Iowa — The Graettinger High School Future Farmers of America chapter has set up a pig-raising project. The chapter borrowed $2,500 from a Graettinger bank with a dozen local citizens signing the note. Dale L. Schirring, faculty advisor for the chapter, says it is hoped to pay off the note in two years. The chapter has 49 members.

Each boy cooperating in the project will be given a gilt this spring by the chapter. In order to pay back the loan, the FFA will be given first and third choice of the first litter produced. The boy receives all remaining pigs and full ownership of the sow. With some exceptions, all pigs of the first litter are to be sold at a cooperative boar and gilt sale.

Fellow Will Feed Wife, Kids; No Dog

CHICAGO — (AP) — Hyma Zussman protested in court when his wife, who is suing for separate maintenance, asked that the family dog be included in his support payments.

Zussman, 40, made no objection to his wife's plea for support for herself and their three children. But when his wife, Sally, also 40, asked to include the dog, Zussman suggested she sell it for his estimated $1,000 value.

The dog, a 150-pound prize-winning Great Dane, eats like a horse, Zussman said. Judge Daniel A. Roberts, ordering Zussman to pay $45 a week and rent for Mrs. Zussman and children, told the couple to settle "this trivial matter" — the dog's upkeep — among themselves. A hearing was set for April 13.

'What A Man' Says Writer Of Nation's First President

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON — (AP) — He was a big, reddish-haired man with a flaming temper he made himself control. He didn't laugh much. He wore a stern aloofness as a kind of protective shell. Sometimes the shell cracked, and a blending of kindness and wry humor shone through. He had his weaknesses. But Lord, the strength he had! He led and goaded and sometimes seemed to haul a half-starved, ragamuffin army to victory in a war that he often despaired of winning. Then, more than any other man, he welded 13 jealous and squabbling colonies into a nation and laid the foundation of what a later president has called "the greatest republic the sun ever shone on."

He was a great man, was George Washington. But first of all, he was a man. We sometimes forget that as we hang out the flag on his birthday. We've been schooled — and "schooled" is exactly what I mean — to think of Washington as some sort of marble statue or plaster saint. Too perfect to be human. That's the impression I got in my school days, anyhow. I didn't like Washington. I thought he was a stuffed shirt. And I think it was that confounded cherry tree story that did it. You remember: Here was the family cherry tree, chopped down. Here was young Washington's father, looking at the tree, madder than blazes. And here came little George out of the bushes, chirruping: "Father, I cannot tell a lie. I did it with my little hatchet." Now of course I knew that was noble of George. I knew it was what any right-minded little boy should do. But I had my own opinion of little George for doing it. By now, I suppose, everybody knows that the cherry tree story is nothing but a yarn made up by an old faker called Parson Weems to help sell a book he wrote. I hope they don't teach it in the schools any more. It can't really be good for kids to grow up with the idea that George Washington, man or boy, was a little Lord Fauntleroy. He was anything but that. He was a two-fisted fighting man. He was a hot-blooded Virginian. He was an awkward, back-country kid who had to learn how to handle himself before he learned how to handle men and armies and some of history's most heart-breaking problems. Great man? You bet he was. Put — what a man!

Stork Pays Visit In Traffic Snarl

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — (AP) — Mechanist Cyril Kuchler had his hands full when the stork suddenly arrived. He was driving his wife, Frances, to the hospital when his car was tied up in traffic. Then things began to happen. Mrs. Kuchler gave birth to the baby, a nine and one half pound daughter and the couple's sixth child, in the front seat of the car. Kuchler didn't stop. He helped his wife as much as he could, clutched the baby in one hand, and kept going the final three blocks. He said: "I was so busy holding the baby in my right arm, driving with my left, and honking the horn with my elbow I didn't have a chance to get excited until it was all over."

Parisian Decorator Is Using Her Noodle -- Makes Jewelry

PARIS — (NEA) — Mme. Valentine Welter doesn't know the old American expression, but nevertheless she is using her noodle. Also her husband's noodle and any other noodle she can lay her hands on.

The noodles she uses are the edible kind. She makes things with them, things like necklaces, earrings, hair ornaments and the like.

Mme. Welter is a graduate of the Beaux Arts and is a well-known Parisian interior decorator. But her doctor condemned her to a long diet of noodles. After she'd been decorating her own interior with noodles for a while, she became fascinated by the slippery little things.

She discovered that they come in many tricky shapes and sizes. Her artistic sense prompted her to fashion them into different forms, then enamel them in gay colors.

"There are something like 80 different kinds of noodles," says Mme. Welter. "I use them all."

When noodles were rationed in France, Mme. Welter would exchange her precious ration tickets for other things, getting noodle tickets in exchange. For people who preferred steak, it was a good deal all around.

Now she finds her noodly knickknacks have become a good source of income. Don't tell anybody, but a bride at a fashionable Paris wedding wore a diadem made out of solid noodle. Everybody thought it was ivory.

MARBLE DANCERS — Roy E. Swain, Huntington Park, Calif., consultant engineer, points to one of his picturesque signs showing two Spanish dancers which is made of approximately 15,000 brightly colored glass marbles.

Eisenhower, Wife Arrive In France; Begin Settling Down

VERSAILLES, France — (AP) — The general and his lady, Atlantic Pact Commander Dwight D. and Mrs. Eisenhower, arrived in Europe today — he to command the West's international army, she to rule a suite in the Hotel Trianon Palace here.

A cutter brought them ashore through high seas early this morning at Cherbourg, from the Queen Elizabeth. After a brief "champagne breakfast" and a few well-chosen words, the couple and their party flew by Constellation to Paris.

After an hour in the air and a few minutes at the French capital's Orly Field, the group set off on the half-hour drive to Versailles.

From their hotel here they could see nearby the massive palace of King Louis XIV, scene of the signing of the short-lived peace of World War One.

The Naval Academy at Annapolis was established in 1845.

Wholesale Foods Keep Up Advance

NEW YORK — (AP) — Wholesale food prices, as measured by the Dun & Bradstreet index, continued to advance this week and were less than one percent below the record high set in mid-July of 1948.

The index advanced six cents from last week to 57.31, which compared with 55.96 at the outbreak of the Korean war and was 25.4 percent over the year-ago index of 55.83. The record high is 57.35, established July 15, 1948.

The index represents the total cost at wholesale of a pound each of 31 foods in general use.

Prep School Goes-On Air For 'Letters' Back Home Project

By NEA Service

POTTSTOWN, Pa. — (NEA) — The teen-age boy leaned close to the microphone, and rattled off a stream of excited high-speed Spanish. From the receiver came the answering voice, an old woman's voice. The boy smiled happily. It was another triumph for WSMWL.

The boy is a student at the Hill School, a prep school for boys here. The old woman was his ailing grandmother, in Caracas, Venezuela. The two were brought in contact by WSMWL, an amateur radio station at the school and one of the few "ham" stations attached to a prep school.

The outfit is run by the school's Radio Club, under the direction of faculty advisor Ken Jackman. On almost every Saturday and Sunday morning, foreign students at the school cluster around the station, talking with their parents via WSMWL and pre-arranged contacts with ham operators in other countries.

Recently they heard a station in Germany calling anybody in the U. S. They answered and were told that a GI, stationed in Germany, had just received his transfer orders.

Beauty Expert Raps Hairdos

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — A top beauty expert of Hollywood has rapped the younger crop of male actors for their "sloppy" hairdos.

"They're messy, all of them," exclaimed Patricia Stenz, who operates what appears to be film-doms' only male beauty salon. Her specialty is restoring and treating hair, and her customers have included Dick Powell, Gary Cooper, Fred MacMurray, John Lund, Jose Ferrer and Mel Ferrer.

"I just shudder when I see some of the young actors," she shuddered.

"Farley Granger is one of the worst. He wears sideburns and lets his hair dangle over his forehead. I suppose he thinks it looks cute. I think it only makes him look unkempt."

John Derek also looks in need of a good combing, she added. As for Burt Lancaster — "he looks as though he had just stepped out of a shower and run his hand through his hair."

Rory Calhoun appears to have "combed his hair with an egg-beater."

Capitulation review: "Royal Wedding" is a musical delight. Thanks to some imaginative directing and three or four inspired musical numbers, the MGM musical factory has turned out one of its best productions. The slim plot — about a brother and sister dance act with romantic complications — isn't allowed to become too important or too wearing. Fred Astaire and Jane Powell are given free reign for their unique talents and come through handsomely. Peter Lawford and Sarah Churchill supply the romantic interest.

Cathey Named WTCC Official

ABILENE — Alden L. Cathey has been appointed as manager of the Public Relations and Membership Department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Formerly employed by the Chambers of Commerce at Fort Arthur and Waco, Cathey also directed the major portion of the last statewide USO campaign.

Experienced in all phases of chamber work, Cathey will work in community-level activities of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce in that part of its re-organizational program designed to strengthen its relations with local Chambers of Commerce.

His work during the past two years in membership activities has brought him widespread recognition in Chamber of Commerce circles.

He was graduated from Texas A&M in 1942 with a degree in Business Administration.

In military service for four years, he was discharged with the rank of captain.

Cathey will reside at 2723 South Eleventh, Abilene, with his wife, Catherine and two children, Cotton and Christy.

Cathey is a native of Fort Worth and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed V. Cathey of that city.

Horace Mann P-TA Plans Chili Supper

A chili supper will be held from 8 to 7 p.m. Friday at the Horace Mann cafeteria.

Hamburgers, pie and coffee will also be served. The dinner is sponsored by the Horace Mann Parent-Teachers Assn.

Notes A Waste Of Time Professor Says

EDMONTON — (AP) — Too much time is wasted by students in taking notes during lectures, says Prof. George M. Dunlop, professor of psychology at the University of Alberta. He says that unless the notes are reviewed within 24 hours students forget half the lecture.

PAMPA'S ONLY HOME-OWNED AND OPERATED TRADE STAMP PLAN

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — This may land like a bazooka shell in the I-always-knew-she-was-from-Brooklyn camp, but I have to report today that Carmen Miranda is speaking English.

Laurence Olivier's brand of English.

Wrap me in corn husks and call me tamale if fiery, language-murdering Carmen didn't flip words like "modulation", "pedantic" and "polychronic" at me.

No accent to amount to a hill of chili peppers, either.

Carmen widened her orbs and protested:

"You're not going to say that I speak good English? Wait a minute, honey. You'll ruin me!"

I arrange my features in what movie scripts describe as a "stony demeanor" and looked the other way.

Carmen clapped a hand to her forehead.

She muttered that her husband, David Sebastian, was to blame for everything. He's been correcting her grammar.

"But now I'm gonna louse it up good for you," she said, eyes flashing and bracelets jangling. "Nobody quotes Carmen Miranda without an accent."

The Deborah Kerr inflection disappeared and Carmen was back to her old, pre-Sebastian lingual mayhem.

PLEASE THE PUBLIC

The more wrung I'm spiking, the better pipples is like it," she bubbled. "It give me screeps in fine Inglis. I'm change it. Chop up terrible. Very fonnee. Last pechture I'm make for Joseph Pasternak, he is saying, 'Wot de hail wrung weeth Miranda?' She spiking good Inglis. She can't do dot to me."

When I wanted to know, had Carmen swapped pidgin English for Walter Pidgeon talk?

"It crimp up gradual," the Brazilian star confessed. "I'm say wrung thing and Dave looks fonnee. I'm say wot I say wrung, switty? He tell me. Pretty soon I'm spiking too good."

"Bot wen I'm come to America, I don't know nawtheeng, 'honey. I'm have dose seax boys beek of me. We spik Portuguese all time. I mek first movie. Director come to me and say so-and-so-and-so, Mees Miranda. I'm say, 'Heh?' They give me ticher. I'm oct in Inglis and theenck. In Portuguese, My head, she got big ache."

Had anything else changed about Carmen? I asked.

The fruit salad on her noggin, for instance?

Carmen looked pained.

She wailed that her pear-shaped vowels were getting her into hot water. Sebastian would have to stop correcting her mistakes.

"Pipple get beeg-insolt wen I'm leaving off de pineapple and bananas," she said. "You be surprise how disappoint is my public. Once I am try and give any saying weothout bananas I am not Carmen."

The Miranda repertoire, then?

Had Carmen traded "I Got a Lovely Bunch of Mangoes" for "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life"?

HORSE LAUGH

I got her loudest haw-haw.

"Honey, I'm surprise on you. Can you see me singing ballads? Once on stage, I am horse around and sing to de pipples."

"Som' day, he com along. 'De man I'm love...'"

"My public is shocked to pieces. I'm hear them say, 'Wot de hail wrung weeth Miranda?'. She nois or some-thing?"

But wait a minute!

Come to think of it, Carmen decided there had been another change.

"Only was lung, lung time ago wen I'm first on Broadway. I'm wear bra and bare midreef, only I'm cover bra with moch beads—is nawtheeng to see but beads. One show girl is asking why and I am blash. I am tell her I got beeg bust and I am moch shame. She loff at me. Is good to have beeg bust in America, she tell me. Next night, honey, I am throw beads away."

Her marital boat, she winked, is no "honky-dearie."

"Tak me pretty lung time learn how to handle my hoosban. He's like a beeg boy. Betwinn us is only leetle fights. We're much hoppy. I got out of town, he-calling me every night. He say, 'Gee, babee, I loff you so moch.'"

Her hubby is in the business of converting little TV screens to big ones.

I said I'd be seeing Carmen and she called after me:

"About the accent. Nobody will believe you if you say I don't have one, honey."

Use Of Fluorinated Water Spreads -- Cities Battle Decay

By RICHARD KLEINER
NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y. — (NEA) — People around here won't taste it, but they're going to get a little something extra in their drinking water soon. It's fluorine, a chemical which reduces tooth decay.

The New Rochelle area is the latest in a long list of cities to switch to fluorine. Since the early 1940's, a fluorinated tidal wave has been sweeping the U.S. as news of the watery wonder spread.

Some U. S. localities have natural fluorine in the water. Dentists noted people in those spots didn't have the normal amount of tooth decay, then proved the same happy result could be obtained by artificially adding the chemical to local water supplies.

First, however, the idea was tested thoroughly. Controlled studies took place in Wisconsin, Michigan, New York, Texas and Illinois. Scientists decided the fluorine did do the trick, but with certain reservations. Such as:

1. It only works if the fluorine is taken when your teeth are calcifying. That is when you are a child. In the main, only children through eight get any benefit, and the most benefit goes to youngsters born and raised on the stuff. It won't help adults.
 2. It's not a cure — all. Even children who drink fluorinated water from birth will still have cavities, though not as many.
 3. It won't help the rural population at all. Only people served by a public water supply system, at present, will benefit.
 4. It has to be put in the water carefully. Too little will result in no benefit; too-much can mottle the teeth.
 5. Scientists point out that present data is still far from complete. For one thing, the recommended amount of fluorine to be added may be fine for tested climates but prove wrong for others.
 6. Tests are also incomplete as far as long range effect is concerned. None of the experimental cities have been using fluorinated water for more than seven or eight years. Perhaps results may change — for better or worse — over a longer stretch.
 7. It costs money to work even a junior grade miracle like this. Estimates are that the cost per person is somewhere between five and 15 cents a year.
- Despite the scientific hedging, however, it is clear that fluorinated water has proven beneficial, so far. Most authorities agree that if the chemical is properly supplied, dental decay can be reduced by from 50 to 65 percent in those who drink it from birth.
- To cite one example, a four-year test in Newburgh, N. Y., showed that the DMF rate—the number of decayed, missing and filled teeth in every 100 permanent teeth — dropped from 20.6 to 13.9 in the children tested. At the same time, the DMF rate in the non-fluorine control city, Kingston, N. Y., remained the same.
- Another of fluorine's good points is that it is odorless and tasteless. And moderate underdosing or overdosing does no apparent harm. In Newburgh, a companion research project—the dental one dealt with below—the chemical might affect other health factors.
- The pediatricians concluded that the fluorine did no physical harm whatever. But, they added, final conclusions should be postponed until the youngsters had been fluoride-drinkers for at least 10 years.

Determination, Complacency Swapping Places In The U.S.

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Some top government officials are saying privately they don't think the Russians will be ready to start a war for another two years or so.

seems to be entering a period of grim determination. An army has to be built, our allies are going to be helped, and weapons must be turned out. All this means sacrifices. And everyone now seems reconciled to that, more or less.

at least, we certainly were unprepared — thanks in part to the statements by some officials we could lick our weight in wildcats. The only trouble with that was this: We were a way under weight. And now we're trying to catch up.

en from the roof to the cellar, soared. In the fall the Chinese came in and kicked our brains out. American spirits fell into the cellar again. How could this happen to us? What next? Where were we going? What to do?

Nice, if true. It will give this country another two years to get ready for the worst, if it comes. Meanwhile this country, after suffering bewilderment and a couple of shocks,

All this can't be done in a week or months but will need years, as some officials recently have pointed out. So a kind of prolonged determination is needed.

This is a run-down on what happened to us and may lie ahead: The first shock came in the summer in Korea when we suddenly found how poorly equipped we were with men and weapons to fight any kind of war, even against the North Koreans.

Talk of quitting Korea snowballed. Now the tide has turned a bit. The Chinese are beginning to look bad. There's a more confident spirit in this country. And it's just possible that the Chinese Communist leaders will get enough of setting their own Chinese up as cannon fodder while the Russians, without risking a man, stand to gain by any United Nations defeat.

Then came the months when General MacArthur's troops mangled the North Koreans and American spirits, which had fallen

This will be fine — if the determination doesn't turn into complacency — for we'll be better prepared for any future shocks that may lie around the corner although not now in sight.

And although President Truman has asked for much higher taxes, Congress is taking its time on that.

And the Russians are having a little internal trouble in Europe where some Communists in other countries are breaking away from the Russian philosophy of "all good Communists will die for Moscow."

Meanwhile, the defense program has started rolling a bit; but nothing like the flood it should reach a year from now. True, there were weeks of shrill excitement, wondering when price and wage controls would come.

They finally came, almost a month ago, although the government still is fuddled up in working out the controls. Since this was expected, it hasn't caused gloom.

So all in all — with better news from abroad and the defense program rolling — things are looking up a bit and no one has been crushingly hurt in prices or wages. At least, the full pressure of the controls hasn't been felt yet.

All these things add to a feeling of comfort. And if we're lucky — we may be able to go on for quite a while, maybe indefinitely, building up strength and not suffering any real hardships.

It's also possible that the picture may not continue so peaceful. It's just possible the Chinese may throw a great force into Korea in a big try to win.

It's also possible the Russians may not sit on their hands particularly since they have already a great force in Europe — in spite of the pleasant hopes of the unnamed government officials mentioned at the beginning of this story.

Accessories Short First

By DAVID J. WILLKIE
DETROIT — (AP) — Long before new cars become scarce the hopeful buyer is going to find accessories hard to get. Some sections already report dealers short on radios and heaters. This is the way the National Automobile Dealers' Association appraises the situation: "Shortages in some accessory lines, including heaters and radios, which have been reported recently from various sections of the country, are expected to continue because they (heaters, radios, etc.) contain considerable scarce copper. In fact, one manufacturer is reported to be limiting his shipments of heaters to sections of the country where their use is most essential." "Demand is reported brisk for heaters, radios and many hard-to-get accessories, including automatic drives, turn indicators, windshield washers and other equipment."

tainly arises, though, from the fact in many instances would-be car buyers are being told their cars cannot be delivered until "some time in April or later."

What the accessories situation may be at that time isn't at all clear.

Encouraging in the outlook for radios is the fact the set makers have developed a satisfactory substitute for the cobalt used in speakers at the same time, many types of radio tubes already have disappeared from dealer stocks.

So far as has been disclosed no satisfactory substitute has been turned up for the small motors that activate heaters and de-icers.

The Spirit Of Washington; A Sure Weapon

All of us know that Washington and its ragged but gallant armies had to overcome extreme hardships before they finally defeated British forces and gained America her independence.

But perhaps not too many of us realize that for almost seven years Washington did not win a single major victory in the Revolutionary War. The record of those years is a dismal catalog of heartbreaking reverses.

The tide did not turn for Washington until the very end. The siege of Yorktown, begun in September of 1781, was a masterpiece operation.

Washington's victory unquestionably owed much to LaFayette's assistance. But basically it was a triumph of unquenchable spirit, the spirit that simply would not admit defeat.

The Nation's Press

The Jacksonville (Fla.) Journal During the year 1947, there was sent to the several States a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
My respect for Judge Michael Igoe of Chicago exceeds my regard for most of our judiciary, but

It would be well to read him a lesson on the essentially evil nature of our unionism. Judge Igoe revealed a want of knowledge in his pointless lecture from the bench in the switchman's case at an hour when most of the railroads were out of business.

He teed off with several irrelevancies, such as the hard and hazardous nature of the switchmen's work and the debatable "conditions" of their employment.

"Nobody has questioned" the patriotism of these men," he contended. "The only issue here is whether or not the sovereignty of the United States is going to be sustained."

If it please the court, but whether or not, these men went over the hill by a conspiracy that could not have been effective without orders from above.

Even though our American soldiers were formally disowned and consigned to a monstrosity called the United Nations, the switchmen, nevertheless, well knew that they were American soldiers.

So, yes, these switchmen were guilty of a deliberate, shocking, sustained violation of patriotism and Judge Igoe was guilty of flagrant, political soft-soapery in his gratuitous false statement that they were not.

law of the Presidency was that no incumbent would succeed himself more than once, that the vast powers of the office should vest in different persons every eight years, that the bureau and clique be unavoidable in Washington should never solidify in permanence.

That was good precedent. It became a matter of honor among our Presidents. It was recognized the world over, giving to our international negotiations a freedom and latitude in no other manner available.

Unless we adopt this amendment, we will encounter ever-broadening government by syndrophanic demonstration satellites, which will destroy our Freedom, make a mockery of our institutions and blight the justice and patriotism by which we have grown to greatness and security among the nations of the world.

Florida, in this coming session, must adopt the third term amendment. We cannot enthronize politics. We cannot rely upon mere men, we must place faith in proven institutions.

Better Jobs

advocates or Opponents of ex Supported Schools enemies of Mankind

I have been reproducing for the last couple of weeks questions and answers attempting to show whether or not tax supported schools are in agreement with the moral principles of the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

When the government says how much you shall get and no more, that is fascism. That interference violates your right of contract. Then, having delivered you into this fix under unionism, the government appoints a judge out of its own political ranks who says you violated her sovereignty of your country in going off the job, en masse, in protest against the insufficiency of the wages which the government has fixed.

The question as to whether or not public schools are good or bad—useful to mankind or harmful—of utmost importance. It cannot be discussed too much.

WASHINGTON — "With the numerous exemptions and deferments authorized," writes G. H. P., a retired major general of Myrtle Beach, S. C., "Washington now claims a manpower shortage between 10 and 26 to meet draft requirements for only 2,500,000 in the armed forces."

RECALL — Answer: United Nations headquarters is international soil that we have agreed to extend diplomatic immunity, or inviolability, to the members of other nations' delegations. They cannot be arrested without the consent of the secretary general. It is the same courtesy given to diplomatic representatives at Washington. It does not include clerical or manual employees.

DELAY — Answer: In answer to the general, and to many others who have written in similar vein, Congress may yet draft certain men in this category if it becomes necessary. Delay and caution, to be frank, are due to both human and political reasons.

SETTLED — But many thousands of men in this category, who were in their early twenties in 1942 and 1945, are now approaching the thirty-mark. Presumably, they have married and started a family. They may also have embarked on their lifework. In short, they are fairly well settled.

BRICK — "How can I get a brick from the old White House as a souvenir?" inquires S.M. of Wilkes-Barre, Pa.
Answer: Write to your Senator Representative. But, if he is a Democrat, don't write the sort of letter sent to a Jersey Republican, as reported by Passaic Herald-News correspondent Newman Wright. It read:
"I would like to have a brick. It would be a constant reminder of the good solid part of our country. The new White House will probably hollow U.S. very fitting, in view of the policies of the present incumbent."

For I will surely deliver thee, and thou shalt not fall by the sword, but thy life shall be for a prey unto thee: because thou hast put thy trust in me, said the Lord.—Jeremiah 39:18.

which he once held. Main reason he took the job after nine days persuasion by C. E. Wilson — was that if his son-in-law could go to Korea and fight, he could afford to give up his time for a government job in which he was needed. His only ambition was to get into the moving picture industry.

Never Satisfied

BY DAVID BAXTER

A reader remarks, "The citizenry, generally, seem quite satisfied with the international and domestic situation and, in spite of your occasional fire-branding, I presume you must be satisfied with your job."

As for myself, I'm never entirely satisfied. I'm not satisfied with my job, never have been satisfied with any job and if I should ever become so you will find this column settling down into a humdrum, self-satisfied, flabby, senile old age. The Revolutionist—the person who professes to believe in the principles of the American Revolution and its Declaration of Independence—is never satisfied.

But mind you, I said a good wheel revolves about a HUB. A revolving wheel without a hub is aimless, likely to be dangerous to anyone who gets in its way, and has no direction, which makes it a real liability to society instead of simply a useless relic like the motionless, rusty wheel.

Revolution is a matter of perpetual movement. It may stop for a rest or repair now and then but not for long. It can't stop permanently or it ceases to be a revolution. Civilization either moves forward or backward. It can't become stationary—static. Even Christianity, to be dynamic, must be revolutionary. While Christ, it's hub, is "the same, yesterday, today and forever," the Christian wheel has to keep moving. Spiritual growth doesn't stop any more than any other movement in this life.

The independence of the American individual is a goal. It has never as yet been achieved completely. Right now the revolution is more on the communistic and socialistic order—in reverse, backward, away from progress, collectivistic instead of individualistic. AMERICAN revolutionists are hard put to it to apply the brakes to slow up and stop the reverse movement toward individual slavery. It is going to have to be stopped before it can be started in a forward movement, toward individual independence.

And what about being satisfied with a job? The American Revolutionists of 1776 weren't. No sooner was the violent part of their Revolution over than they were right ahead with the movement of building a government based on the Declaration—a government of continual forward movement. Of course some of the more timid souls like Gouverneur Morris, the politician, came out from their corners when the war smoke blew over and wanted revolution to stop, keep a status quo and retire to a peaceful old age on what had been accomplished. Thanks to these men, the Constitution, when finally drawn up, was a compromise, watered down, and without the dynamic spirit of the Declaration of Independence. Many of the men who drew up and signed the Constitution AFTER the Revolutionary War had been far too soft to help draw up and put their names on the Declaration of Independence BEFORE the war, when an enraged British Empire put a price on the heads of such rash souls.

The original American Movement was never satisfied with its job. That very dissatisfaction led to more and better jobs—progress—action—perpetual motion. Many individuals today are "in a rut" because they are satisfied with their jobs. They are not American Revolutionists. They get stuck on a job and stay right there because of such self-satisfaction. The man who is NEVER completely satisfied with his job seeks to move ahead. He can't stand still and rest like an old wagon wheel. He tinkers with his job, improves his service, moves into better jobs accordingly. We need the same spirit nationally.

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D.

Anything which disturbs the sleep is perhaps even more annoying than the troubles which come in the daytime. One of the most common of these is described in the first letter published today.

Q—What is wrong with my husband? He gets awful pains in his knees and in the calves of his legs which wake him in the night. He has to get up and walk the floor and is most miserable.

A—This unpleasant condition seems to be quite common. The cramps are probably caused by inadequate local circulation of blood and perhaps they are more common at night than in the day because the muscular action of walking around helps the circulation.

Q—Please describe spinal anesthesia and the results after it.

A—The purpose of spinal anesthesia is to eliminate the sensation of pain in the lower part of the body so that operations can be performed on these regions. It is accomplished by injecting into the spinal canal some substance which temporarily deadens the nerves supplying the lower part of the body.

Q—Is there any way to build up the blood sugar? My doctor says that mine is low.

A—There are some people who apparently use up their blood sugar rather rapidly so that it is lower than normal. Some of them become quite fatigued and lack pep at those times when the sugar is low. If the condition has been studied, so that one can be sure that a disease is not at fault, it is often possible to remedy the situation by taking sweets or other small amounts of food at frequent intervals.

Seven-Day Diet Begins Today

By ANN WILLIAMS-HELLER
Written for NEA Service
Now that spring fashions are blossoming in shop windows and last year's wardrobes are emerging from winter storage, many women are beginning to find their mirrors are their worst enemies.

Gaping placket proves to model Joy Hart, as she tries to wriggle into spring dress, that reducing is in order.

Perhaps you, too, are discovering the danger signals that indicate extra pounds. If your zipper balks at closing, your belt requires new notches, your skirt bunches and hikes across your hips, it's time to begin a slimming program.

Don't cringe at the idea. Reducing diets need not be the one-lettuce-leaf-a-day torture many women imagine them to be. You can reduce your weight easily and safely with simple, inexpensive and tasty foods. You can expect to lose at least two pounds a week and perhaps as much as five pounds. You'll lose more if you're considerably overweight or very obese or both.

First, however, consult your doctor and find that nothing is wrong with you except your extra pounds. Then follow this simple diet.

MOCK FRENCH DRESSING
Mix the following ingredients in a bottle: 1 cup tomato juice, 1/2 cup soup stock, 1/2 cup unsweetened grapefruit juice, 1-8 teaspoon garlic salt, red and white pepper to taste. Shake well; chill at least 1-2 hour before use. Shake well before each use. Makes 2 cups dressing.

FIRST DAY
Before breakfast juice of 1/2 lemon in small glass of hot water.

BRREAKFAST
One half medium grapefruit, one egg, soft cooked or poached; one slice (4 by 3 3/4 inches) white enriched bread, or three slices melba toast (3 1/2 by 1 1/2 by 1 1/4 inches); one cup skim milk; coffee or tea.

LUNCHEON
Half glass tomato juice; broiled hamburger steak (2 inches diameter, 7-8 inches thick), or broiled bluefish (one piece, 3 by 2 3/4 by 1 inches); steamed white turnips (one-half cup sliced or diced); one medium raw apple; coffee or tea; one cup skim milk.

DINNER
Green salad bowl, large serving with two tablespoons mock French dressing; one graham cracker; pan-fried or broiled liver (2 slices, 3 by 2 1/2 by 3-8 inches) or broiled halibut steak (3 by 1 3/4 by 1 inches); steamed spinach, 1-2 cup, chopped; boiled or baked potato, one-half medium, 3 1/4 inches long; one banana; coffee or tea; one cup skim milk.

Sometime during the day: one teaspoon cod-liver oil (or equivalent in capsule form) with one (two inch square) salted cracker.

Wheeler Group To Send Girl To Girls' State

WHEELER — (Special) — Mrs. Clarence Robison gave a report on the advantages of sending a girl to Girls' State during the regular meeting of the Wheeler Legion Auxiliary.

The Auxiliary is now seeking a candidate to represent Wheeler in Austin when Girls' State convenes there in June. Candidates will be selected through the recommendation of the high school principal, ministers of the churches and civic organizations of the community.

Fancy Easter eggs will be the next venture of the Auxiliary. Orders will be taken during the next few weeks for fancy eggs by the dozen, and for special figurine eggs to be used for parties and decorations. Mrs. Virgil Jamison will be in charge of orders.

At a meeting of the Penhandlers Club in Shamrock, Mrs. Elmer Trostle read her "Personality Sketch" as an example of that type of article, and Mrs. Jesse Moore of Wheeler explained the interview article. Mrs. A. F. Hugg read an article she had written, "Spirit of Shamrock."

Roll call was answered by Mrs. H. W. Coffman, Wheeler; Mrs. R. Hugg, Shamrock; Mrs. J. M. Porter, Wheeler; Mrs. Elmer Trostle, Pecan Community; Mrs. Mettie Brown, Shamrock; Mrs. LeAnne Harvey, Shamrock; Mrs. Jesse Moore, Wheeler; and Mrs. Jon Buell, Shamrock.

The nominating committee submitted recommendations for officers. Pecan Community; Mrs. year and they were accepted by acclamation. They were Mrs. Marjorie Fleener, president; Mrs. H. W. Coffman, vice president; Mrs. John Buell, secretary and treasurer; Mrs. Jesse Moore, historian; and Mrs. A. R. Hugg, parliamentarian.

Play Is Vital To Child's Growth Expert Declares

By DAVID TAYLOR MARKE
AP Education Editor
Play is as vital to a child's growth as food and shelter. It is not merely something he does when he has nothing better to do. We would not dream of planning for children without food, and so by the same token, we cannot plan for children without play; both are essential to their development.

Mrs. Monica B. Owen, National Field Consultant, Play Schools Association, remarks to the Child Care Institute of the Federation of Protestant Welfare Agencies, in New York City: "Play is the child's natural way of learning; learning about himself and his relationships, learning to solve problems, learning to create. Through play children digest some of their experiences, their relationships with others, their places in their world, their hopes, their fears and their anxieties. They tell us in their play about their loves and hates."

"The child who sticks pins in his clay doll or pokes its eyes out is telling us of his feelings; the child who plays hospital and clinic or the child who plays baby or mother over and over, or policeman — each one is working out through play some basic emotion, jealousy or fear, love or hate, and through it is learning to handle this emotion and to drain it off safely."

Play also adds to social experience, says Mrs. Owen. Watch three or four boys building a complicated roundhouse with blocks, listen to their joint planning, their sharing ideas. Or watch children in their development of a play or a party to get together, or building a tree-house or a dam, where imagination, skills, and experience must be shared — all are a natural way of gaining experience. And the more a child is able to cope with relationships with others the more inner security he gains.

In a good play program, says Mrs. Owen, children need the kind of experience and outlets which are possible in the family setting as well. And these are not too difficult to provide. They need time to do something they really want to do, a place to do it in, the raw materials with which to do it and the leadership of an understanding and imaginative adult.

The raw materials of play, she says, can be blocks, paints and paper, clay, wood and tools, a doll or housekeeping corner with all the things that help to make a home; pots and pans and materials for simple cooking, books, puppets, records, sewing materials for doing simple science experiments. And for out of doors the raw materials through which meaningful play can be developed include packing boxes, barrels, kegs and boards which can turn into boats, houses, forts or corrals at a moment's notice.

One of the problems in play is intelligent adult leadership. Many of us are afraid to try such a play program. We think we must be "experts," think we haven't the "know-how," and that we must "teach" play. Parents and teachers alike should remember, says Mrs. Owen, that expert or highly developed skills are usually needed only in specialized fields, such as ceramics or block printing.

By and large, children do their own planning, inventing and developing their own way of play in, and that in itself is one of its values. Through these experiences, intelligent leadership can help them to "grow in the creativity that brings new life.

A regular meeting of the Woodrow Wilson Study Club was held Monday night in the home of Mrs. E. A. McLennan, 1084 E. Brown-

Mrs. John Sexton presided over the business and Mrs. G. M. Walls spoke on "Activities Out of School."

Refreshments were in keeping with Washington's birthday. Members present were Mrs. Dale Pison, Mrs. John Sexton, Mrs. J. R. Adkisson, Mrs. G. M. Walls, Mrs. C. L. Dittmore, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Perry G. Franklin and Mrs. E. A. McLennan.

Miss Frances McCue Tells Original Story For AAUW

Members of the American Association of University Women heard an original story, written and related by Miss Frances McCue.

"The Wishing Star" was the name of the story told by the fifth grade teacher.

Others on the program were Miss June Gull, pianist, and Miss Charlotte Call, flutist, who presented two selections. They were introduced by Mrs. Perry Gault, in charge of the program.

Pampa Women Attend Women Voters League Meeting In Amarillo

Several Pampans are attending a meeting of the Amarillo Provisional League of Women Voters at 2 p. m. today in the Herring Hotel, Amarillo.

Mrs. W. M. Penn of Midland will be the speaker. Mrs. Penn is a member of the Governor's Committee on the study and revision of Texas election laws.

A membership tea will follow the meeting. Those attending from here are Mrs. J. W. Garman, Jr., Mrs. Ralph Sidwell, Mrs. John E. M. Garman, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald and Mrs. George Hepler.

What's RIGHT?

You are invited to a large buffet supper given at a club or restaurant, rather than in the host and hostess' own home, and you accept the invitation.

WRONG: Feel that it won't matter much whether you show up or not, since the party is large and in a public place.

RIGHT: Feel obligated to go to the party — since you accepted — as you would if the party were given in a private home.

Reapers Rally in Fourth Quarter To Clip Elizabeth Nixon, 49-37

Jimmy Bond Pumps In 31 Points To Lead Pampa Crew

The Pampa Reapers climbed back into a first place tie with Horner of Amarillo Wednesday afternoon when they rallied in the fourth quarter to clip Elizabeth Nixon of Amarillo, 49-37.

It was a see-saw battle for three quarters, but the Reapers caught fire in the final period to win going away. Jimmy Bond continued his scoring pace in the conference, hitting 31 points. Bond flipped in 10 points in the last period to erase a Nixon threat.

Pampa was leading 34-33 at the end of the third stanza. E. J. McIlvain looped in four points and Kuntz hit a free shot to go with Bond's 10 points in the final chapter.

Coach Scoggin's hoopsters trailed 11-10 at the first quarter mark, but they moved out in front 22-21 at intermission. The score was knotted five times in the first three periods, but Pampa found its shooting eye in the last six minutes.

The Reapers were charged with 18 fouls and Lewis and Spencer left the game via the route. Pampa has more conference dates left, both with Sam Houston of Amarillo. Wednesday's victory was the Reapers' ninth against three losses.

The Reapers' B squad handed Nixon a 26-17 loss. Gary Griffin struck for 10 points to lead the Reapers. Johnson was high pointer for Nixon with 12.

Pampa grabbed an 8-3 lead in the first quarter and ballooned the bulge to 19-5 at the half.

Coach Scoggin had his seventh graders in the contest the second half, and Pampa was held to seven points. The Little Reapers hit two in the third period and five points in the final quarter.

LIU Cager Tells Reporter About Basketball 'Fix'

NEWARK, N. J. — (AP) — "I found myself sick of starting something I had never done before," the kid began.

It was Leroy Smith talking about his part in the Long Island University basketball fix scandal.

The kid they called the play-maker of Coach Clair 34's Blackbirds — the kid considered a sure choice for professional basketball — until . . .

"I guess $500 was enough temptation for me," he said slowly, thoughtfully, seemingly grateful for a chance to relieve some of the remorse that was gnawing at his insides.

"There were many times I couldn't eat."

He wrung his hands as he sat there in the living room of his simply furnished home, his mother sobbing softly in a corner.

"Nothing comes easy. Sure, the money looks big at the start, but just as soon as you fix your first game, you don't think of money any more."

"You think of everything and everyone else, all the people you will involve if you get caught."

He paused a moment as he told his story to Sid Dorfman of the Newark Star-Ledger last night, then plunged on.

"I knew we were going to get caught the moment the Manhattan thing blew up," the 5-11 Negro added.

He explained how he and all America candidate Sherman White and captain Adolph Bigos also involved in the fix that shook New York, talked things over after the Manhattan scandal broke.

Dressen Says Ace Pitcher Isn't Lazy

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — One of the most pleasant surprises in the Brooklyn Dodgers training camp, so far as Manager Chuck Dressen is concerned, is the zest for work being shown by ace pitcher Don Newcombe.

The husky Negro moundsman, weighing 244, has lost no time trying to work off some of that poundage.

"Look at him," said Dressen yesterday. "They told me he was lazy, but he's the only guy out there running around without being asked to."

part in four of the fixed-games for $2,000.

He said he spent about $200 of the money on clothes and shows in New York and gave the rest to police.

Class AA Quintets Battle Tonight For Playoff Spots

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

Five Class AA high school basketball teams tonight try to clinch places in the state tournament at Austin.

They hold one game victories in bi-district series, and one more triumph will send them to the Interscholastic League's annual cage carnival next week.

Borger is the only team that has clinched a spot in the Class AA tournament, to be held concurrently with the Class A and Class B meets.

The 32 Class A District champions and 96 Class B District winners also trim to state tournament size this week.

Bowie last night walloped Pleasant Grove, 66-44, to win the right to meet Crowell Saturday night in Wichita Falls in a Class A Regional game.

Port Arthur smashed Freeport, 33-27, to even this Class AA series. The final tilt will be played tomorrow night in Galveston.

Highland Park (Dallas), Waco, San Angelo, Palestine and Harlingen could clinch tournament spots tonight.

Highland Park plays Sherman again; Waco tackles Austin; San Angelo meets Stephenville; Texas plays Palestine and Harlingen tangles with Laredo tonight.

Roscoe takes on Andrews at Midland tonight and Hamilton meets Coleman at Brownwood to decide bi-district winners in Region 2-A. The winners play Saturday at Sweetwater for the championship.

Other Class A entries for the state meet will be determined in tournaments.

Eight regional tournaments will whittle Class B to championship size.

The Class AA, A and B boys tournaments will be held March 1, 2 and 3.

The first girls state tournament under Interscholastic League sponsorship will be held in Austin the following week.

The state tournament for the Texas High School Girls Basketball League will be held in Waco March 7-10.

The title hopes of Slidell, in Wise County, suffered a hard blow Tuesday when three first string players and two reserves were injured in an automobile accident.

The Slidell team, District 32-B champion, and where Coach Cliff McNeely of Pampa played in 38-39, was on its way to Denton for a practice game with the North Texas State College freshmen when the automobile in which the players were riding was in a collision.

Hospitalized in Denton were Robert Winder, Ray Hestande and Kenneth Kimbro. None of the boys were reported in serious condition. Injured were Ansel Portenberry and James Winder.

Reports from Slidell were that the school would not withdraw from the Region 3 B tournament at Dallas, but would compete with remaining members of the squad.

Class A Regional tournament sites are:

Region One — Opens Thursday at Tulsa. (Phillips, Memphis, Abernathy, Muleshoe, Canyon, Shamrock, Spur and Levelland — district champions and runnerups in Districts One through Four).

Region Four: At Commerce Saturday (Sulphur Springs, Van, Atlanta, Athens, district champions only).

Region Five: At Palestine Saturday (Gatesville, Huntsville, Hearne, New London, district champions only).

Region Six: At Austin Friday (Brenham, Lampasas, New Braunfels, Taylor, district champions only).

Region Seven: At Wharton Saturday (French of Beaumont, Lamar of Rosenberg, Beeville, Alvin, district champions only).

Region Eight: At Corpus Christi Saturday (South San Antonio, Sinton, Uvalde, Weslaco, district champions only).

The Class B tournaments will be at Lubbock, Brownwood, Dallas, Kilgore, Huntsville, San Marcos, Kingsville and Alpine.

Harvesters Open Spring Grid Practice With 37 Reporting

The Pampa Harvesters opened spring football practice Tuesday afternoon and 37 eager candidates reported to Coach Tom Tipps. The Pampa mentor sent his hustling grid charges through a lengthy calisthenics drill then the Pampans went through a one-hour practice session, with emphasis on learning plays.

Graduation will take 10 graders from the 1950 district champions' squad, and positions were wide open for 1951. Halfbacks Jimmy Hayes and Elmer Wilson, and fullback Carl Kennedy finished out their eligibility and it's a tooth-and-nail fight for the three vacant backfield slots. Quarterbacks De Wey Cudney and Sid Mills will supply the one - two punch in the signal calling department, but it's a guess who will be taking the handoffs next season.

One backfield combination Tuesday had Cudney barking signals, John Young at full, and Darrell Wilson and Charles Ely at halfbacks. Up front, Jimmy Cook and Roy Pool were running at ends; Jerry Walker and Buddy Cockrell at tackles; Charles Williams and Bill McPherson at guards; and Tolle Hitchens at center.

The Harvesters have 29 more practice sessions left and will finish just before the Easter holidays.

Cary Middlecoff Defends Title

HOUSTON — (AP) — Cary Middlecoff, who usually plays good golf when the winter tournament troupe stops here, began defense of his $10,000 Houston Open title today.

The former National Open Champion from Memphis was among the early starters as a field of 167 players teed off for the first of four rounds over the 6,967-yard, par 72 Memorial Park Course.

In his two previous tournament stops here, Middlecoff won the 1950 Open and finished one stroke behind the 1949 winner, John Palmer, Baton, N.C.

Last year Middlecoff won with a nine-under-par score after having seen a penalty shot he called against himself knock him out of a first place tie with Palmer a year earlier.

Jimmy Demaree, Houston's home town pride, was expected to draw today's largest gallery but he was not one of the pre-tournament favorites.

The former Houston caddy has not won a tournament here since 1946 when he took the Western Open title. He finished strong last year to take third place, six strokes behind Middlecoff.

Indictments Predicted Soon In Nation's Biggest College Basketball 'Fix' Scandal

MIDDLEWEIGHT GOLDEN GLOVES WINNER—Eugene Cooper of Pampa annexed the Texas Golden Gloves middleweight title at Fort Worth Monday night when he dethroned James Wortham of Amarillo. The Pampa plouster stopped Andy Domebo of Beaumont in a semifinal bout. Cooper will leave Saturday for the Chicago Golden Gloves Tournament, and he will fight Tuesday night. In 1948, Eugene won the Texas 147-pound Golden Gloves title and lost his second bout at Chicago to the national champion. Cooper is in the Army Air Corp and is stationed at Wichita Falls. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooper of Pampa. (News Engraving)

NEW YORK (AP)—Indictments are predicted soon in the nation's biggest college basketball fixing scandal.

A New York County (Manhattan) Grand Jury is delving into the mess involving some of America's best players.

Students at Long Island University — one of the schools hit by the latest bribery arrests — are protesting a ban on intercollegiate sports imposed by the LIU trustees.

At its opening session yesterday, the jury heard one witness, acting police Capt. William J. Grate-necker.

He headed the special detective squad that uncovered evidence of "fixed" games involving crack players of City College of New York and New York University as well as LIU.

District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the grand jury's first session disposed of "preliminary groundwork in the case, and he predicted indictments within a week or 10 days.

Hogan indicated the possibility of a general conspiracy indictment against eight accused athletes and the alleged "money man," as well as indictments charging individuals with the giving and taking of bribes.

The district attorney said he had no present information that other colleges were involved in the latest basketball expose.

Hogan followed his blasts at Madison Square Garden college games with a mention that "some" colleges go all-out to get their teams into the Garden.

Describing the Garden as "an unwholesome atmosphere for college basketball," Hogan added, "How do you get into the Garden? Only if you're a top-notch team. In order to get there they (the colleges) make scholastic exceptions for athletes. A great many other concessions are made to achieve that desired goal."

Students at Long Island University, stirred by banning of all intercollegiate sports after the scandal broke last weekend, and a subsequent hint that the school might continue a minor sports program, began clamoring for complete sports reinstatement.

By late yesterday, 2,000 of LIU's 4,200 student body had signed a petition urging that intercollegiate sports — including basketball — be reinstated.

A university spokesman said yesterday that there was "some disruption of classes" although no major demonstration was staged.

Informed that a big protest rally had been scheduled for today, LIU President Tristram Walker Metcalfe indicated it would not be permitted.

The athletes arrested for throwing games and attempting to shave the winning point margin for the benefit of Salvatore Sollazzo, ex-convict are: Sherman White, Leroy Smith

CHARGED IN BASKETBALL FIX—Ed Roman, left, and Ed Warner, both stars and co-captains of the City College of New York basketball team, leave the Tombs in New York City, after they were released on bail following their arraignment on charges of accepting bribes in connection with a gambling "fix." Al Roth, third CCNY co-captain, and Harvey Schiff, a NYU player, were also arrested on charge of "throwing" games at Madison Square Garden. (NEA Telephoto)

Sports Round-Up

By MURRAY ROSE
(For Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe the bookmakers will solve the problem of fixing themselves. A big bookmaker told us he has stopped taking bets on college basketball games. "By next year," he said, "none of the big money commissions will handle 'em. I got clipped for five grand on one dump and it's not going to happen to me again."

Marlene, Frank Loss

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Marlene Bauer of Midland and Frank Stranahan of Toledo lost out yesterday in the International Mixed Two-Ball Golf Tournament. Dot Kiely and Denny Champagne were the victors.

Oklahoma Aggies Improve Patrol Work In Recent Games

STILLWATER — Pressed to maintain the national defensive lead in basketball that they have owned habitually, the Oklahoma A&M Cowpokes apparently are improving their patrol work in recent games.

Cowpokes won 23 of their first 24 games. The total has been creeping upward in recent years.

A&M has held eight teams in the 30's this year of the 24 played under 40 points. Texas A&M is coached by John Leroy Floyd, who played his college ball for Iba at A&M in the early 1940's.

The Aggies curbed Tulsa at 29 points and held Detroit to 37, shoving the A&M defensive average

Our informant is a layoff man. In business, he might be called a wholesaler. He doesn't do much business with regular betters. Most of the wagers he handles are from other bookmakers in different cities. The individual betting money that he does not handle, however, is wagered by plungers. Most of the bets he takes are from $500 up, the "up" reaching into five figures. If he gets too much "action" he spreads some of the bets to bookies in other cities.

"Dumps are arranged by punks," said the bookie. "The regular dealer wants honest sports. We make our living by the vigorish (the regular percentage on commission for taking bets). We got the wig running for us and we've got to win out in the long run. The punk is out to clip us. He fixes a game and tries to catch us."

"How did I happen to get caught on a dump, you ask? Listen, I set a line on game and when I do that I'm open for business. But if I get too much one-sided action, I'll start laying off. If I can't lay off enough with other bookies, I'll 'wash the game off the boards.' (Won't take any more bets) . . . So I've stopped taking action on these college games. The other big guys will too. Oh, there'll be plenty of small books taking minor bets, say for $25, $50 and a $100. But with no 'office' to lay off those bets, the small bookie won't dare take too much money on a game."

"Big league baseball is my game. It's honest. That's all we want to know. I'll take action as long as it's dished out to me. Betting on baseball is big and getting bigger all the time. Tremendous amounts of money are bet on the major football games, especially Army-Navy and other traditional games. There's lots of action on the bowl games. The biggest plungers? They come from Oklahoma and Texas. Those oil and cattle guys will bet $100,000 on a football game without batting an eye. They bet like they were handing stage money. They back their schools big. All the way. If they lose—they will just go and dig another oil well."

International Cooperation Putting Factory On Its Feet

By JULIUS HUMM
TRIESTE — (NEA) — As an example of international cooperation, Trieste's new Fortuna shoe Co. is hard to beat. An American, using funds from the Allied Military Government, set up a plant in Trieste with Italian and Yugoslavian workers and raw materials from Madagascar.

BIGGEST OF THE ROSARIES—Members of the young people's club of the Holy Family Church, Cincinnati, O., pray with what they believe is the world's largest portable rosary.

Crimson Holiday

By Jane Holsinger

THE STORY: Uncomprehending, Lavinia Grenable was murdered, possibly by one of her own family, when the brake on her wheel chair was saved, causing Lavinia to plunge into a ravine. Ian Farwell, fiancé of Lavinia Grenable, was the accused in the tragedy. When questioned the next day by Sheriff Lane, Lavinia denied seeing anyone on the ridge nearby prior to the tragedy. Actually Lavinia had seen her father there and her father, Henry Farwell, had appeared Lavinia's escape. At this point in the questioning Andrew Grenable, the accused and Lavinia's father, appears and interrupts Sheriff Lane's questions on his and Lavinia's question. Andrew says: "I've been asking me for an alibi, go chase yourself."

Andrew Grenable seemed to be defying Sheriff Lane to accuse him of having anything to do with Lavinia Grenable's death. Still looking the sheriff straight in the eye, he went on: "I don't have any alibi, sheriff. I was in some taverns in Hilton. I don't even remember which ones—they're all the same anyhow." He leaned back in his chair.

Band Council Is Chosen At Lefors

LEFORS — (Special) — At a recent meeting the members of the band chose as their council for the second semester the following: Phyllis Barron, sixth grade; Skipper Bogard, seventh grade; Gwendolyn Thurmond, eighth grade; Vern Hogan, Freshman, and Fryda Howell, Junior. This council will make rules for the band to follow.

Officers selected were president, Margaret Cobb; vice-president, Gwendolyn Thurmond; secretary, Fryda Howell; treasurer, Alred Bennett; publicity chairman, Barbara Sanders; and sergeant-at-arms, Wanda Williams.

Hale Retrieves Stolen Pistols

ABILENE — (Special) — Monte Hale, western film star, is a two-gun cowboy again.

Juvenile officer J. Turney Sparks recovered Hale's two $100 pearl-handled shotguns Monday from the wall of a house where they had been hidden by a 16-year-old ex-reformatory inmate.

The fancy arms disappeared from the stage of a theater while Hale was making a personal appearance here Feb. 8.

If allowance is made for the increasing age of the population, U. S. death rates have declined 20 percent in the last 10 years.

Washington Was An Early Engineer

Engineers throughout the Texas Panhandle this week are celebrating Engineers' Week which was inaugurated by the National Society of Professional Engineers. Locally, affiliated engineers are known as the Panhandle Chapter of the Texas Society of Engineers. They number 12 and, like the man they are honoring this week, George Washington, the Engineer, they are interested in all phases of engineering. Panhandle engineers construct bridges, build synthetic rubber plants, get oil from the ground, create electricity and touch on about every phase of Panhandle life.

But, let's take a look at George Washington, father of our country, and engineer:

Sunday Drivers Can Look Forward To Ample Gasoline

NEW YORK — (AP) — There'll be enough gasoline for all the Sunday drivers and all the military forces this summer, without rationing and with about the same octane rating they now buy—barring an all-out war.

Oil economists say today they feel sure of this, but they add: the defense program—still in its warming-up stage—may put pressure on oil at the industrial-power and home-heating levels. The industry has the facilities to meet demands as now foreseen, but there might be a tight pinch.

And it could cost $5 billion or more, some oil economists estimate, to put the nation's oil facilities into a comfortable position to meet all military, industrial mobilization, and civilian demands in this highly seasonal industry and be ready for emergencies.

The nation is expected to want 10 percent more gasoline this summer than last. The oil industry has the facilities to provide it, and the Petroleum Administration for Defense says it has abandoned its plan to put ceilings on civilian gasoline octanes.

Military demand for gasoline will be only about five percent of the total consumed. Last year the armed services took an average of 240,000 barrels a day, and this year's daily average may rise to 375,000. It need not affect civilian supplies.

The real rub—if there is one—would come next winter. The rapidly increasing demand for oil products needed to power and heat the nation's expanding industrial plant, run its trains and ships, heat a sizable portion of its homes—all will reach the usual seasonal peak next winter, with defense production needs added.

To meet the expected new record demands the industry must make and store more surplus fuel oil this summer than it did last. Oil economists are warning the industry.

The American Petroleum Institute puts refinery capacity at 6,732,200 barrels a day, against only 4,956,599 in 1941. Last year demand for oil products went up

Postal Workers Say Can't Afford Kids, Beer On Little Pay

WASHINGTON — (AP) — What with no beer, no furniture and not enough pay to raise a family, things seem to be tough for postal employees.

An account of their plight has been placed in the Congressional Record by Rep. Kersten (R-Wisc), who asserted on his own "there is no doubt that the postal employees definitely need a raise in pay."

To back up that claim, Kersten included in the record excerpts from what he said were hundreds of letters from postal workers in the Milwaukee area. He said their plight is typical. Some of the excerpts:

"I am resigned to the absence of beer in the icebox."
"We have an empty house. How can we ever buy furniture for it?"
"We have no children. Why? And leave them to run around like little unfed and underclothed lumps?"

High School Students Write For New Arena

PRESTON, Ont. — (AP) — High school students here set to and typed 2,000 envelopes and folded letterheads for mailing to all former Prestonians living on this continent in the campaign for the new arena fund. Then they typed another 2,000 for a future mailing.

Great Bear Lake and Great Slave Lake in Canada are each about half as large as Lake Michigan.

India Is Seeking No Atom Bombs

NEW DELHI — (AP) — India is seeking out the raw materials of atomic energy and building plants to process them, but it plans to make no atomic bombs. This country's Atomic Energy Commission emphasizes that the uranium, thorium and beryllium being mined in India will be used for peaceful purposes only. Veins of uranium—some quite large—have been found in various parts of India. Beryl is common, and there are large deposits of monazite sands.
