Farm Machinery Purchases Are Made Easier

Farmers of Gray and other Texas counties will be benefited by a recent bit of red tape cutting on the purchase of rationed farm machinery.

All county quotas on rationed farm machinery were cancelled last week by the Texas USDA War board.

This means that a Gray county farmer, for example, can buy machinery from any dealer in the state, instead of being tied down to buy from a dealer located in the same county as where the farm of the buyer is located.

Helping out the farm machinery committee of the county, of which C. B. Bowers is chairman, is the change in the setup on applications for purchase certificates.

Under the new plan, the farmer goes out and finds where he can buy the machinery he wants. In Gray, the main equipment wanted is plows, planters, and cultivators.

After locating the equipment, the farmer then goes to the committee to get a purchase certificate. The

Quartermaster Corps Salvages Planes, Clothing, Even Food

"If it can be salvaged we'll salvage it" is the motto of the quartermaster corps at the Pampa Army Air Field, where an important role in the national army salvage program is carried on daily.

The program, which has resulted in the lightning growth of an idea for saving everything possible to be returned to the war effort into a multi-million dollar enterprise, is under supervision of Lt. Col. William A. Poe, post quartermaster.

Never in the history of warfare has there been such importance placed on reclamation and re-use of waste material as is being done by the quartermaster corps. Everything from the well-gnawed pork bone reluctantly cast aside by a soldier to the small center metal part of a worn out spark plug, is being reclaimed to be used later under a different form as a war winning instrument.

Although salvage work plays an important part in activities of the Pampa quartermaster corps, it is the quartermaster's chief chore of the organization, and whose primary duty is to see that American soldiers are well clothed, fed, and their equipment is in perfect condition and issued to them.

Salvage officer at the Army Air Field is Lt. Edward C. Alloo, who personally sees to it that nothing goes to waste, that everything possible is reclaimed and is sent back to war industries and battle fields.

Although his office is in the quartermaster administrative building, his work table is the entire field. Anything others don't want he asks for—and gets.

In mess halls and kitchens Lt. Alloo collects cooking greases, which are strained and sent to reclamation plants, where they are made into glycerin used in explosives. Grease is even strained from dishwasher. Bones and meat trimmings become Axis silencers after they are scrap-shorted, never thrown away by soldiers, are inspected regularly and those that need repair are completely reserviced and returned to the original wearer.

Shoes that are completely worn out are kept and sent to a huge United States shoe salvage company.

Burlap, used to wrap various engines and engine parts, is cut and sewed into sacks and shipped to Seattle, Wash. and then overseas to be used in the building of trenches and camouflage. Glass bottles are returned to factories for re-use.

Batteries and spark plugs, among other things, are collected at the motor pool and utilized in many different ways. The same is true of practically every part of a car, truck, jeep, tractor, and other vehicles.

According to Lt. Alloo, millions of dollars went to waste in World War I because America failed to see the value of salvage. This is not true today, he adds, for the quartermaster corps, whose jobs are many, is saving millions of dollars by the important role it is playing in the huge salvage program. The money saved is used to produce Axis destroying instruments of war.

Travelers reaching Stockholm reported that two of Germany's largest coal mines are out of commission as a result of the recent aerial bombing of the Moehne Dam. They said the flood waters released May 16 trapped hundreds of miners below ground and damaged equipment.

Gen. Charles DeGaulle won another round in the French family battle in Algeria when Gen. Auguste Nogues presented his resignation as resident general of French Morocco to Gen. The Chinese victory in the upper Yangtze area grew steadily greater as Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's forces captured a point on the outer defenses of Ichang, main Japanese base from which the invaders started their drive last month.

The Chinese high command also announced the capture of Kungang, 65 miles southeast of Ichang, after half the Japanese garrison had been wiped out. The fleeing enemy was said to be abandoning large quantities of arms and stores. One force of 4,000 Japanese was said to be surrounded at Tsingshih north of Lake Tungting and to be facing annihilation.

The ashes of Fleet Admiral Isoroku Yamamoto were buried near Tokyo after an impressive state ceremony, the last of the man who planned and directed the infamous attack on Pearl Harbor and whose aspiration was to dictate peace terms in the White House. Emperor Hirohito led the Japanese nation in prayer. Yamamoto's death "in action" was announced May 23.

Coal Strike Shuts Blast Furnaces

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Vital steel felt the effects of the big coal strike today, the Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation reporting 11 of its blast furnaces had been closed down because of the lack of bituminous coke—the source of which was choked off by the coal production stoppage.

This brought to thirteen the number of blast furnaces shut down. One had been closed by the Republic Steel corporation at Birmingham, Ala., and another by the Shenango Furnace company at Sharpsville, Pa.

Pampa's Passing Parade

PAMPANS AS WELL as all other Texans can get an amazing picture of Texas geography in "Mobile War Housing" publication of the Trailer Coach Manufacturers' association, Washington, D. C.

The booklet contains a map of the United States showing government-owned trailer communities. On the map, Etter is shown where Brownsville is located, Eagle Pass is near Dalhart, Borger is south of Lubbock, Marfa is shown in two different locations, neither one correct.

In one place Marfa is shown where Edinburg is located; the other "Marfa" is close to Brady.

Dalhart isn't in the Panhandle at all, according to the map, but is west of San Antonio and not far from El Paso.

At long last, Texarkana is really "in" Texas for the map puts the border town away off in North Texas, about where Paris is located.

AN AMATEUR photographer who has been "tinkering" all his life with picture making has developed a near-professional skill.

He is Vernon O. Lawrence, 32, painter, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lawrence, 421 N. Gray. The junior Lawrence was born in Pampa, graduated from high school here, and attended Texas Technological college at Lubbock for one year.

Two of his best pictures he presented recently to Mr. and Mrs. D. Emmett (Bob) Robinson. One picture is a mountain stream in Colorado, the other is titled "Questa Road." It was taken outside the town of Quetta, N. M.

Both pictures were made in the summer of 1942. The pictures themselves measure 7 1/4 x 9 1/4 inches, while the over-all size, around the frame is 17x21 inches.

Lighting and treatment of the subjects are excellent. Lawrence takes his pictures, develops and mounts them. He has been doing work of the type exemplified by the two pictures he gave the Robinsons for the past four years, using a Voigtlander 6x8 CM reflex camera.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence are the parents of two children and reside at 610 N. Wells.

J. W. (FATS) MUNDY, now of Houston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Z. H. Mundy, had a big time surprising old time friends in Pampa this week.

Fats used to play football for Pampa High school. His visit here was the first time he had seen R. C. Wilson, county auditor, in 15 years.

Wilson recognized him at once, but County Clerk Charlie Thut had to have a little time.

Visit of Mundy recalled to Wilson a trick the former Pampan played on Weldon Wilson, brother of R. C., and former Pampa policeman, now a guard at an Orange ship building plant, who has been away from Pampa two years.

Accompanied by a friend, Mundy pulled his cap low over his head and went to the plant. He was out there in connection with a business call and by chance learned that Wilson was a guard.

The friend did all the talking, saying the low-capped partner had a grudge with Wilson and had come out to settle it.

Wilson was puzzled, but replied: "I don't know what this is all about, but if that's the way he feels"—and prepared for action.

Mundy raised his cap, lifted his head, then Wilson recognized him. "You old whelp me!" he joyfully greeted his old friend.

FIRE CHIEF Ben R. White learned that there is plenty of wisdom in the advice not to travel in war time, unless you expect inconvenience, when he attended the recent firemen's school at Texas A. & M. college at College Station.

The chief went to the school with Newt Stokes and Dave Commons, both of Pampa, two Canadian and one Borger fireman. On the return trip to Pampa they found a room in Fort Worth only by using the sample room at the Texas hotel.

Sergeant Weaver Leaves To Attend Specialists School

S/Sgt. Kenneth J. Weaver, 28, son of Mrs. William Jenkins, E. Match Chunk, Penna., left Pampa Field Friday for Camp Maxey, Texas, where he will receive preliminary training before leaving for one of the major universities to attend an army specialist's school.

S/Sgt. Weaver entered the army July 23, 1941, and has passed most of that time in Texas, at Ellinger Field, Houston, and at Pampa. At both fields, he was assigned to work in the public relations office, being the chief non-commissioned officer of the office at Pampa.

A graduate of E. Mauch Chunk H. S., Sgt. Weaver won his B. A. degree at the University of Pennsylvania, where he majored in journalism, class of '39.

Prior to entering the armed services, he was a reporter and rewrite man on the staff of the Allentown Call Chronicle, Allentown, Pa.

His wife, the former Gloria Rodgers of Lansford, Pa., and their year-old daughter, Charlotte Ann, reside at 716 W. Francis St., Pampa.

Girls Of USO Club Attend Field Dance

Girls of the Pampa USO Hostess club traveled to Pampa Army Air Field on Friday night, guests of the soldiers stationed there, to attend an enlisted men's dance.

Music was supplied by the post orchestra, under the direction of T/Sgt. Albert Fish. Pfc. Barry Schuman sang the vocals.

An added treat was given to the musical side of the program when Warrant Officer Kenneth Carpenter, director of the Pampa Field band, appeared on the band stand, playing the saxophone. One of the regular saxophonists was transferred to another field earlier that day, leaving a vacancy that W. O. Carpenter volunteered to fill for the evening.

Jackson Hole National Park

In the midst of that little disturbance in far off Tunisia, you may not have noticed that diplomatic relations between the United States and the sovereign state of Wyoming have become very strained.

This may sound exaggerated or factious. It is, but only a little. It comes pretty close to describing what is happening since Interior Secretary Harold Ickes, slyly and in apparent defiance both of federal law and of the will of Congress, attempted to seize a piece of Wyoming about quarter the size of the state of Rhode Island.

Mr. Ickes had President Roosevelt sign an order proclaiming 221,606 acres of Wyoming land in picturesque Jackson Hole country as a national monument.

Mr. Ickes has full power, it appears, to make national park out of land already owned by the United States or surrendered voluntarily by private owners.

Five years ago a congressional committee found Wyoming citizens so opposed to retiring the Jackson Hole land from grazing service—last year it supplied 2,700,000 pounds of beef on the hoof—that the legislators declined to order its transfer.

Mr. Mr. Ickes just went ahead anyway. The first that Wyoming's senators knew of the action was when a constituent called one of them up from home to ask "What the heck?" Only he did not say "heck."

The area includes 147 homes, six postoffices, nine stores, 10 dude ranches, five hotels and cabin camps, and is used by 81 livestock owners with 15,610 cattle, 1095 horses and numerous hogs and turkeys and chickens.

So Governor Lester C. Hunt, a Democrat, has given public warning that he will use "all police authority at my disposal to evict from the proposed national monument any federal official who attempts to assume authority." He has notified the ranchers that they may call on him for state police if they have any trouble with national park officials. If he stands by his guns, there can be real trouble.

The Nation's Press
MACARTHUR-HALSEY CONFERENCE
(New York Daily News)

Yesterday it was reported by the Associated Press from Allied Australian Headquarters and by the United Press from an advanced South Pacific base that Gen. Douglas MacArthur and Admiral William F. Halsey Jr. had had an important conference on Southwest Pacific operations.

The object of the meeting was given in both stories as "closest cooperation" between the U. S. and Australian army forces led by MacArthur and the naval forces under Halsey.

The two reports diverged, however, on the question whether the two commands have been joined or remain separate. According to the U. P., MacArthur will command any joint operations that may result from this conference.

We hope the U. P. report is correct; or at any rate that some kind of unity in command and operations has been achieved. There have been more than enough independent Army shows and independent Navy shows in the Southwest Pacific, we believe, since this war. Halsey, however, has shown himself to be a skillful and offensive-minded sea fighter with a knowledge of the value of air power—which makes him a good bet, too.

THE SENIOR PARTNER REPORTS

We in America have heard Mr. Churchill at his best, the greatest parliamentarian of his age, justifying his policies. In theory, of course, the prime minister addressed congress as a distinguished visitor and the leader of our ally. Actually, he accomplished the brilliant feat of transplanting for a day the practices of Westminster in Washington.

He was replying to Sen. Chandler and other members of the senate the day before had demanded that the administration recognize what fact that Japan is our first enemy. Mr. Churchill replied because Mr. Roosevelt's record of neglect of the Pacific makes it inadvisable for him to discuss operations in that area, and because in the face of Sen. Chandler's arguments the New Deal leadership in the senate proved itself bankrupt. Mr. Churchill did not say Mr. Roosevelt what Mr. Roosevelt and his henchmen were incapable of doing for themselves, and in so doing established beyond doubt who is the senior partner in their political combination.

Sen. Chandler and others who participated in the debate of Monday had stated the American objectives in the war and, as Chandler had said, we have the right to make the decision on the basis of American interests. Mr. Churchill frankly and eloquently, as always, put forth the British point of view. It is the point of view that will be shared by all Englishmen. To them Hitler is the

THE APOSTLES CREED AND THE COMMANDMENTS

One wonders why church leaders do not more often in their services put in their program the repeating of the Ten Commandments rather than the Apostles' Creed. If the Ten Commandments were understood by the church people, this would be a wonderful country with unbounded happiness, tranquility and an ever-increasing standard of living.

On the other hand, the Apostles' Creed uses words that have a mystical, supernatural meaning. They require nothing but a confession of belief and are out of harmony with discipline. It uses words that have no scientific meaning and have an entirely different meaning today from what they had when the Apostles' Creed was established in the Second Century. They tend to cause confusion. We need now "the rectification of names," as Confucius contended was the need in his time.

The leaders of the church who put the Apostles' Creed in their program put themselves in an embarrassing position. Seekers after impersonal rules cannot know whether these church leaders want the people to believe that they have some wisdom and understanding that can only be had from them; that they are especially appointed agents of God to interpret God's changeable laws. Possibly this is what Andrew Dickson White, first president of Cornell University, had in mind when he said, "Too many of them (church leaders) were occupied in that most costly and most worthless of all processes, 'the saving of souls' by the inculcation of dogma."

It certainly seems pathetic that now when we have so far departed from the impersonal rules taught by Jesus and set forth in the Constitution and Bill of Rights that church leaders should be taking up the time of attendants with supernatural dogma that kept out of the church such men as Franklin, Jefferson, Lincoln, Emerson and Burbank.

We need religious leadership based on eternal principles and biological laws instead of dogmas and supernaturalism.

The Ten Commandments have specific, definite principles governing human relations. They are helpful to every man who practices them. But the Apostles' Creed establishes a variable, changeable God so that the people are constantly confused and bewildered. But so long as people will listen and contribute, dogmas and superstitions will be repeated by people whose talent consists in being able to memorize and repeat instead of reason even while we as a nation are abandoning the principles taught by Jesus and proclaimed in the Bill of Rights.

THINK IT, YOU HAVE IT

The editors of a magazine called, "Common Ground," send me a sample copy. Under the heading of "Freedom From Fear and Want," it has six lines in type. Then it follows with six pages of pictures of various scenes of people enjoying plenty.

But there is not a word as to how people can be free and make mistakes and still be free from want.

All the other articles in the magazine seem to confirm the same idea that all that is necessary is to think and say there is plenty for everybody and, presto change, everybody has plenty.

Incidentally, the heading at the top of this column was in use before the magazine, "Common Ground," started publication under that name. If the sample copy is any indication of the editorial policy of the magazine then the only "common ground" between this column and the magazine is in the heading.

first enemy. If Britain had fallen, the heart of the empire would have been pierced and the people of London, Coventry, Hull, and Plymouth will not breathe freely so long as the Luftwaffe is able to put a single plane in the air.

Their point of view, however, is not ours, and it will be fatal to our future if out of misdirected sympathy we should adopt their views and perils in the homeland may permit them to push to the back of their minds the memories of Hongkong and Singapore, but we cannot similarly dismiss Pearl Harbor, Bataan, Corregidor, Wake, and Kiska.

Mr. Churchill voiced the joint conclusion of himself and Mr. Roosevelt that while the defeat of Japan would not affect the fate of Hitler, the defeat of Hitler will make inevitable the defeat of the Japanese. This is forcing facts into the mold of preconceived theory, and the facts stubbornly will not fit. Hitler is beleaguered and tottering. Time can only worsen his plight. Japan has a freshly conquered empire and every month that is allowed for its organization means an added cost of thousands of American and British lives in the final reckoning.

Nor was Mr. Churchill's excuse of logistic difficulties convincing when he sought to palliate the failure of Gen. Wavell's army to obtain more significant results. The logistic problems, those of transportation and supply, are indeed difficult in the Pacific area. They were equally difficult for the Japanese when they were advancing their wave of conquest. They will become more difficult and not less the longer we give the enemy to dig in. The problems must be solved to give us victory, and postponing only aggravates them.

The two points of view have been made crystal clear. It now remains to see how many American citizens are going to be Americans and how many are to be English. This goes for newspaper editors, members of congress, and all administrative officials. Japan is our first enemy. We must turn our main strength against her, and we have a right to expect full cooperation from both Britain and Russia in return for the strength we have diverted to aid them against their first enemy, Hitler.

News Behind The News

By ALBERT LEMAN

LOAN—Business interests are jockeying for position in the post-bellum world. One of the latest is a struggle between certain banks and finance companies.

Wall Street says that the affair really started with Rolf Nugent's proposed small loan law which was sent to the banking departments of forty-eight states for consideration. Nugent is an expert of the Russell Sage Foundation and his proposition is supported by B. E. Henderson of the Household Finance Corporation.

They suggest that the older fiscal institutions abandon their traditional method of discounting a customer's note for, say, six per cent, in which the applicant either receives ninety-four dollars, or is obliged to pay back one hundred and six dollars. Under the new arrangement the cashier would inform the client that the service charge is 11.8 per cent per annum "on unpaid balances," the argument being that by paying back in monthly installments, the recipient does not have full use of his money for the entire year. The subject matter of the plan is technical but its broad principles affect millions of borrowers.

Should the banks be compelled to express their rates in this manner, it is likely that they in turn will force finance companies to tell the public that their fees of one and a half per cent to two and a half per cent per month are actually the equivalent of eighteen to thirty per cent interest per annum. In many cases, especially in commonwealths without protective legislation, the interest the debtor pays is even higher.

The matter is now causing discussion because establishments are putting their houses in order in anticipation of the post-bellum resumption of automobile and refrigerator purchasing on the installment plan, which should reach billions of dollars in volume.

Savings banks had planned to ask for laws allowing them to enter the personal loan field. The last word is that they are likely to postpone their requests fearing that they may become involved in a three-cornered scrap with the banks and finance companies.

BIDDING—New York steamship men learn that Rubber is selling for one a pound in Singapore. In the black market there it is even offered for as low as one-half cent. Large quantities are being sold by Japan to Russia. Argentina is in the process of importing elastics on her own boats from the East Indies. The rumor is that the United States had acquired some of these cargoes from Buenos Aires.

Manhattan importers in close touch with Latin American plantations say that we are pouring millions of dollars into Brazil. The price of thirty-nine cents per pound of coffee beans is a record. The mere planning of them, along with the present home and foreign front problems, is quite a load for one brain. If F. D. R. falls to win a fourth term, no one can tell what will be the fate of his roll of blueprints.

There is much more to the recent Morgenthau monetary measure than has yet been published. According to those with access to Treasury circles, both the Keynes and White projects have been under discussion for a year. Some of the current features originated in a suggestion set forth by Professor William Yandell Elliott, one of F. D. R.'s economic advisers.

Two or three aspects of the final proposition would be political dynamite in several nations and hence were withheld from this week's tentative project. But they will be released eventually.

Financiers say the proposed international bank is merely one link in a vast arrangement. Allied with it will be a commodity credit corporation to buy up surplus crops which glut world markets in regular cycles and often bankrupt countries producing raw materials. This set-up is patterned on the Government's domestic program whereby cotton and wheat are acquired and stored for distribution in lean years.

Other machinery for controlling international business problems is likely to be disclosed in the near future.

Extradition Denied For Ex-Convict, Now Model War Worker

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson has denied extradition to Illinois of Wilbur A. Hard, a war industry worker, who escaped from Joliet prison in a break 27 years ago and was arrested in Orange, Texas, last month.

Hard, who now uses the name Eugene R. Cole, gave a detailed account of his life in a personal interview requested by the governor. At its conclusion Stevenson told Roy Cortlon, the Illinois representative, that he understood it was Cortlon's duty to attempt to return Hard to prison but in this instance Stevenson didn't think it would be right.

Cortlon, present at the interview, agreed with Stevenson. The Orange county sheriff testified Hard was a model citizen and a letter from his employer was introduced saying his job at a Texas shipbuilding firm awaited him were he permitted to stay in the state.

Hard, who said he planned to plead in New York. He started writing a routine for the piano and accompanied him on the piano and in 1940 accompanied him to a preacher to become Mrs. Danny Kaye.

Watch For The 'Flying Wing'

By PETER EDSON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

THE next and perhaps the most radical development in flying to prepare for is the advent of the flying wing. This is the wide V-type airplane, with the fuselage and the tail eliminated to reduce drag, the rudders being placed near the tips of the wings, pusher-type engines and propellers being built out of the trailing edge of the wing instead of the leading edge, so that the plane itself flies in relatively smooth air.

Aircraft designers have played with this design for a number of years. It is flyable on paper. Bill Vice Chairman Edward Warner of Civil Aeronautics Board, delivering the 31st Wilbur Wright memorial lecture on "Post-War Transport Aircraft" before the Royal Aeronautical Society in London, has just given the flying wing a definite place in aviation development which indicates that its actual appearance in the skies is only a short time ahead. Main difficulties of the flying wing are in stability and control. Assuming that these may be overcome, Mr. Warner sees a real, though limited, place for this design.

Previous theorizing on the practicality of the flying wing has limited it to giant aircraft of 175 tons or more—as compared with the 12 tons of a standard commercial DC-3, or the 44 gross tons of a Boeing 314 Pan-American clipper. Routes on which a plane of that size could find traffic are, of course, limited. For an airplane designed to carry concentrated cargo only, however, Mr. Warner foresees that the flying wing could be used in substantially smaller sizes, and such a machine might have a cruising speed 10 per cent higher than that of conventional aircraft.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

LARGE PAY LOAD ESSENTIAL FOR 200-ton flying wings

FOR 200-ton flying wings, the speed might be 20 per cent higher and the cost of operation per ton-mile might be 20 per cent lower than for a conventional medium sized airplane of 30 tons, such as the DC-3. The flying wing, a four-motored Douglas Skymaster. The 200-ton flying wing, by comparison, would have a carrying capacity of some 350 passengers, would cruise at 280 to 300 miles an hour instead of 180 to 200.

If the future development of the flying wing reveals no shortcomings, Mr. Warner believes that there might be a place for such a craft on a trans-Atlantic route, or on trans-continent routes. Its limitations are that to secure these benefits of lower cost and greater speed, it must carry a high commercial payload. This would tend to limit the use of a flying wing to a single schedule a day, instead of to more frequent service is more suitable to the convenience of the passengers.

All these problems of commercial post-war flying reduce themselves ultimately to the limitations of how much paying business there will be to carry.

In the best pre-war years, trans-Atlantic passenger steamship travel averaged less than 800 passengers a day, each way. Less than 200 of those were first class or cabin passengers who might be expected to be potential customers for trans-Atlantic air travel.

BUY VICTORY BONDS

MAXIMUM TRAFFIC EXPECTED TAKING those facts into consideration and adding to them a possible 50 per cent increase to allow for the likelihood that Detroit automobile magnates having a deal to close in Europe will hop a plane instead of sending a cablegram, the maximum post-war passenger traffic to be borne will not immediately increase over 300 passengers a day, each way.

The question then becomes whether all those passengers will want to travel on one huge flying wing making one flight each day, or whether passengers will prefer to travel on smaller planes, flying on more frequent schedules. Mr. Warner leans now to the latter view.

Allowing for flights that may start from various points on the continent of Europe as well as from the British Isles, a normal traffic expectancy would be eight flights a day in each direction, the planes carrying up to 40 passengers a trip.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Writer

The outstanding point of interest for the Americas in the Argentine revolt is whether it will make Pan-American solidarity—especially as regards support of the Allies—more effort and post-war reconstruction—and the way things look seems likely that the new regime will have that tendency.

This revolution conceals more than it reveals to the outside world. There are many points which are yet clear and we shouldn't jump to conclusions. However, one remark cautions that the revolutionary government appears to be headed by solid citizens who are trying to escape from what they charge has been a reactionary attitude on the part of President Ramon S. Castillo not only towards foreign relations but domestic affairs.

Undoubtedly foreign relations figure heavily in the calculations of the revolutionists. They appear to feel that their country has been playing an isolationist role to its own disadvantage.

If this connection I hazard I guess that the straw which broke the camel's back was the fact that this great country received no invitation to the recent United Nations conference dealing with post-war food problems.

Apart from the question of principle, involving Argentina's stand in the war, her financial and trade interests have been involved heavily. Also, because of her "neutrality" stand she hasn't been eligible for lease-lend aid, and has seen her neighbors improving their military position through this assistance.

There is, I believe, another important aspect of the revolt which doesn't appear on the surface. The revolution strikes me as being marked with the "leftist" swing which we are seeing in so many countries. By that I don't refer to a radical movement, but to definite turn away from control vested interests. Castillo's opponent claims that his government stood for those interests.

If the new government brings Argentina into the Allied fold it will be a boon for the United Nations. Ever since the war started the Axis regime has been a hotbed of Axis spying.

Browns Trip Yanks 3-2 As A. L. Champs Charged With Four Errors

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—The New York Yankees and St. Louis Browns staged their third straight nip and tuck battle today but this time the Browns came out on top, taking a 3 to 2 decision in 10 innings.

The American League champions were charged with four errors, which helped some to explain their downfall, but the chief reason was the pitching of Johnny Niggeling, veteran knuckle-ball hurler. He limited the Yankees to five hits and struck out eight men to run his season strikeouts to 33.

Charley Keller's eighth homer of the year tied the game in the ninth but the visitors got a reprieve in the first of the tenth when, with one down, Nick Etten mugged up Mill Byrnes' bouncer. A wild pitch by Charley Wenzloff but Byrnes on second form where he faltered when Chet Laabs slashed a single through short for his third hit of the game.

The Yanks got one man on in their half of the tenth but Niggeling rose to the occasion and fanned two pinch hitters—Bud Metheny and Bill Dickey.

An error by Joe Gordon also figured in the Browns' first two runs in the fifth. Byrnes' single scored Rick Ferrell with one of them and Laabs' deep fly accounted for the other.

A wild pitch set the stage for the Yanks' fifth inning run. Bill Johnson got all the way to second on the pitch, the fourth ball thrown by Niggeling, and romped home on Wenzloff's single.

Three Teams Tied For Softball Lead

The 1103rd, 852nd and Post Exchange are pacing the 14-team league with records of two victories and no defeats. The PX boys moved into their top-spot the Thursday afternoon with a sensational 15 to 14 win over the Medics, who led at one time during the game by the comfortable score of 14 to 5.

However, the PX staged a rally in the last two frames to maintain their spotters record.

Redbirds Beat Phils 1-0 In 7 1/2 Innings

CHICAGO, June 5 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers dropped out of undisputed possession of the National League lead for the first time since April 24 today, surrendering to the St. Louis Cardinals when they lost to the Chicago Cubs 3 to 1 while the world champions were noosing out the Phils.

Leo Durocher used four hurlers in an effort to pull the game out of the fire after the Cubs had taken a two-run lead off Kirby Higbe in the fourth. They managed to drive Ray Prim from the mound in the eighth with a one-run rally but Henry Wyse promptly checked the threat.

Stan Hack's triple and passes to Ed Stanky and Phil Cavarretta loaded the bases for the Cubs in the fourth. Hack scored on a force play and an infield hit by Dominic Dalesandro brought Cavarretta home with the other.

In the fifth the Dodgers scored a run on singles by Dee Moore and Dixie Walker and a wild throw to third by Bill Nicholson but the Cubs bounded right back with one of their own in the seventh. Ed Head was the victim of this tally as he passed Prim, who moved up on Hack's sacrifice and an error by Moore. The Chicago pitcher scored on Cavarretta's single.

Singles by Arly Vaughan, Dolph Camilli and Billy Herman gave the Dodgers their second run in the eighth.

DOUBLE SQUEEZE ON YANKS

With bases loaded in 10th, everybody runs before Orval Grove lays down soft squeeze bunt to box. Bill Dickey stumbles over Wally Moses, who has home stolen in cloud of dust. Luke Appling also scores as Pitcher Marius Russo, with no play at plate, tosses out Pitcher Grove. Chicago White Sox score five runs in frame to win first game of double-header at Yankee Stadium, 10-5.

Air Base Will Soon Provide Boxing Bouts

Boxing enthusiasts at Pampa Army Air Field will be given a chance to exhibit their ring wares at the post recreation hall in the near future, according to Lt. James Livingston, athletic director at the local base.

Boxing bags and gloves, as well as a ring, have been secured at the request of several former boxers now stationed at the field, who have expressed a desire to add that sport to their athletic activities. Other servicemen interested in taking part in amateur, supervised boxing, may contact Lt. Livingston or any of his staff at the Rec Hall.

No "of the field" matches will be engaged in, and all ring shows that may be presented at the field will be held not for entertainment of the spectators, but for the physical development of the man taking part.

"If the men want to box," said Lt. Livingston, "we will give them all the cooperation they need. However, no one will engage in boxing until he passes a physical examination, and no boxing will be permitted unless a member of our staff is present to supervise them. Boxing can be a dangerous sport if not handled correctly, and we mean to see that only those who are qualified physically take part. We want the sport to supplement our regular physical training so that the men can use whatever training they receive to better equip their bodies for their military duties, either here or at other camps or bases to which they may be sent."

Among the enlisted men interested in initiating boxing activities here is Private Joseph Plumefreddo, 29, of Newark, N. J. Plumefreddo, who is attached to the 852nd TEF Squadron, has more than 135 fights under his belt, 105 of which ended victoriously for him.

Plumefreddo, performing under the name of "Young Kid Bedford," fought at various clubs in the New Jersey area, particularly at the Laurel Garden and Meadowbrook Bowl in Newark. He has expressed a willingness to aid in the training of the Pampa field soldiers who are anxious to take part in the proposed boxing schedule.

Rip Sewell Claims He'll Win 20 Games For Bucs With Ace Infield

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Truett Banks Sewell—more popularly known as "Rip"—is keeping stride with the major leagues' leading pitchers and confidently predicting he'll be a 20-game winner with "the hottest infield in the National League."

The 35-year-old, hard working Pittsburgh veteran has garnered six victories, as against one defeat, to date, and offers one of the main hopes for the rampant Bucs to stay in the first division—and perhaps become a pennant contender.

The Buccos, who are finally letting Frankie Frisch sleep nights, won 10 of the first 12 games of their current home stand.

"It's our infield that's making the difference," said Rip today in explanation of his twirling feats. "Last year, and in other years, I think we were guilty of more errors than any club in either league. But not now. We've got a dandy infield—the hottest in the league—and they're pulling up pitchers out of plenty of tight spots."

Shortstop Huck Geary and second baseman Pete Coscarart, Sewell thought, could be credited with improving the infield, and he commented "all the double plays they're pulling really makes a pitcher feel good." He expressed belief the Bucs were away ahead of last year in double-play killings—and he was right. The Bucs have 36 to their credit already. Last year they tied for last place in this department.

"Shortstop was our big weak spot last year," continued Rip. "Coscarart was out of position there but at second he's great, and he and Huck work swell together. Huck is a fine fielder—gets in front of balls nicely—and boy, what an arm!" he added.

"With that support, I believe I'll win 20 games. And I won't lose any 17 and 15 games like I did the past two years."

A's 6, INDIANS 5

PHILADELPHIA, June 5 (AP)—Elmer Valo's seventh inning homer gave the Athletics a 6 to 5 victory over Cleveland today. The Indians outbit the A's, 12 to 7. Orrie Arntzen had enough in the pinches to win out.

WHITE SOX 4, RED SOX 1

BOSTON, June 5 (AP)—The Chicago White Sox made it three in a row today, with a 4 to 1 victory over the Boston Red Sox. Lefty Thorny Lee held the home team to six hits, with Boston's only run Tony Lupien's homer in the ninth.

SENATORS 6, TIGERS 3

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—The Washington Senators lunched eight hits to defeat Detroit 6 to 3 today and regain second place in the American League race. The Senators gained a full game on the league-leading New York Yankees, who lost to St. Louis.

CARDS 1, PHILS 0

ST. LOUIS, June 5 (AP)—Stan Musial's single in the sixth inning ran his hitting streak to 22 consecutive games and drove in the winning tally in the St. Louis Cardinals' 1 to 0 victory over Philadelphia today in a game that was called after 7 1/2 innings.

GIANTS 5, PIRATES 1

PITTSBURGH, June 5 (AP)—Carl Hubbell hurled one-hit ball — a seventh-inning homer by Elbie Fletcher — as he chalked up the 26th win of his career in pitching the New York Giants to a 5 to 1 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Shipshape and navy fashion: At the Georgia pre-flight school they've put in a few new football rules that the boys seem to like. Instead of four quarters, regimental games are played in two halves and play is resumed after the intermission at the spot and down where the first half ended. . . . Entire games are played without time out, and they say that those games without any delays are really something to watch.

WATCH PRACTICE

Just before the Giants-Pirates game Thursday, a New York baseball scribe wandered into the Pittsburgh dressing room, where Manager Frank Fesch detected him looking at a blackboard chart telling just how to pitch each Giant better. . . . "Hey, you," warned Ombre Franz, "do you think I was going to go back and tell those fellows what their weaknesses are? Some of them don't know yet what they can't hit."

SCRAP COLLECTION

Will Harridge, the American League prexy, says he can't understand what has happened to Saturday baseball in recent years. If used to be that Saturday crowds were second only to Sunday's but they've dropped off until they are just like any other week day. . . . Incidentally, Harridge figures the week-day gatherings will pick up as soon as the weather settles down and the teams start playing off those 40-odd double headers that have piled up. . . . Although the record books show only about 150 fights for Chalky Wright, the Chalk says his mother, who never has seen him fight, has kept records ever since he started and now has more than 300 listed. . . . Although West Virginia U. has lost all but three of last season's 54-player squad and three-fifths of its coaching staff, the Mountaineers are going ahead with plans to play next fall.

Count Captures Belmont Stakes

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Count Fleet won the Belmont stakes and the triple crown today, but you'll never prove it unless you see the horses in the race—they were practically out of sight when it happened.

Topping off his Kentucky Derby and Preakness romps, Mrs. John D. Hertz's rangy brown lightning bolt just waited to a 30-length win this time in the 76th running of Belmont's ancient classic for three-year-olds to become the sixth triple crown winner. And, as he laughed his way home, he carried two new records with him.

One of these was his time 2:28 1-5 for the mile and a half gallop, which wiped out War Admiral's record of 2:28 3-5 for the Belmont stakes although falling three-fifths of a second short of the track and North American mark. Bolingbroke set for the distance last fall.

The other standard concerned the amount bet on one horse in one race in New York state. Today a comparatively scanty turnout of 18,190 cash customers sent $249,516 into the mutuels on him, thereby smashing the previous high of $196,192 tossed into the iron men on the count in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica in April.

With today's triumph the Count picked up a pay-check of $33,340, thereby boosting his bang roll to $250,300. Naturally, neither Fairyman Hurst, who grabbed the $5,000 second money in the Belmont, nor Deseronto, who made $2,500 for finishing third, knew anything about all this at the finish of the race, because they were so far away.

Diamond Shop Plays Army Colored Nine

Meeting their first negro nine, the Diamond Shop baseball team will play a colored team of the Pampa air base at 3 this afternoon at the air field diamond, 11 miles east of Pampa.

It will be the fourth game of the season for the Diamond Shop. They won two games from a soldier outfit at the start of the season, then dropped a game last week to a Borger team in a game played there.

Borger shellacked the locals 8 to 1, cashing in on seven hits. Errors were costly to the Diamond Shop nine. They made five to only one for Borger.

Mays and Stephens will compose the battery for the Diamond Shop, while Herbert Johnson, lanky 6-foot 10-inch hurler, will be on the mound for the negro nine.

Diamond Shop players are to meet at 1:30 this afternoon at the Diamond Shop for the trip to the air base.

Flyers To Play Borger Today

The Pampa Air Field Flyers, fast-developing into one of the region's top baseball clubs, will be in Borger this afternoon for a game at 2:30 with the Borger town team. This meeting, the first of a series between the two clubs, will be at the Old League park.

The Flyers "warmed up" for Sunday's game last Thursday against the Pampa Field negro nine in one of the best-played contests of the season, winning 4 to 0. S/Sgt. W. R. McInturf, player-manager of the club, used his three star hurlers, Minyard, Sams and Greek, who limited the colored boys to but three scattered hits.

Sgt. McInturf has lined up an attractive schedule of games for the Flyers. On June 13, they entertain the Amarillo Dodgers here, then play a return game at Amarillo the following week. Borger will come here June 27, with the Flyers taking to the road again for a July 4 game in Amarillo with the Pinkney Packers.

Following is the starting lineup for the Flyers in Sunday's game: Gullfoyle, ss; Gutteries, 1b; Henry, rf; Berry, 3b; Winslow, 2b; Travis, cf; McInturf, rf; Hopkins, c; Minyard, p; Sams, p; Greek, p.

Pampa Enlisted Men Leave For College Study

Back to college this week went a large number of Pampa Army Air Fields enlisted men, volunteers under the army's new specialized training program. Many of the soldiers went directly to Louisiana State University, while others went to Camp Maxey, Texas, near Paris, for classification prior to leaving for various universities and colleges cooperating in the army program. Selected on the basis of education and qualities of leadership, the men are being sent to college for courses in engineering, medicine, psychology, languages, foreign area studies and other subjects. As a general rule, men selected for such technical training will go to STAR units (the army abbreviation for specialized training and reassignment.) Officers in charge of the STAR units, located at colleges and training centers, will test, interview and recommend them for specific classes and terms. The program is divided into two phases—the basic stage, consisting of three 12-week terms, and the advanced course. Men assigned to basic courses will hold the rank of privates, seventh grade, but those in the advanced phase will take their training in grade, holding the rank they had when accepted for that course.

Soldiers may secure additional information on this educational opportunity by contacting their commanding officer or first sergeant. College credits will be granted for work completed. Many of the new trainees will go directly to officer's candidate schools upon the completion of their college courses, while others will receive technical ratings. Soldiers accepted for training must have completed their basic training, but will be kept in shape by a carefully prepared athletic program. The course of study will include about 59 hours of classes, study and laboratory each week. In the basic phase, the soldiers will study English, history, and geography in addition to the technical subjects.

Fines Add $380 To City Collectors

Pampa's police department added $380.50 to the city's funds in May, according to the department's monthly report, announced yesterday by City Manager W. C. deCordova. Fines assessed totaled $574.50, which $380.50 was collected. Days worked by prisoners totaled 39; days served in jail, 28 1/2.

Intoxication continued to lead as the cause of arrests. Out of 73 arrests, intoxication was the charge in 23, followed by "other traffic" in 10, and seven speeding cases. There were seven cases reported to higher courts. Other cases were affray, five; investigation, six; theft, four; vagrancy, two each; driving while intoxicated and sale of liquor without license, one each.

Nazis Are Active Over Bay of Biscay

LISBON, June 5 (AP)—Seven Canadian airmen who parachuted yesterday from their crippled bomber over the Bay of Biscay said today that their bomber was attacked by enemy planes which apparently were continuing patrols in that area. Earlier this week, an unarmed British commercial transport was shot down by planes Tuesday shortly after it had taken off from Lisbon for London. Leslie Howard, the film star, was reported to have been among the passengers, none of whom have been found. Unconfirmed reports said it was believed the bomber crashed into the sea.

R. B. Saxe Is Promoted To District Chief

R. B. SAXE, superintendent of the Pampa district of the Gulf Oil Corporation, has been promoted to district superintendent of the corporation's zone 7, covering Northwest Texas, and will make his home in Borger and headquarters at the zone's offices 4 miles south of Borger on Highway 117.

The change became effective Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Saxe have not yet moved to Borger but will do so soon. In the meantime, Saxe has been commuting between Borger and Pampa. As district superintendent Saxe succeeds S. G. Forney, who died last week after an illness of two years. Forney had been with Gulf for 33 years and had been in the Panhandle seven years.

Succeeding Saxe here will be T. A. Watkins of Borger, who has been superintendent of the Borger area, which included the Dial properties. Saxe was president of the Pampa Kiwanis club. He had formerly been a first and second vice-president of the club and for four years was a member of its board of directors. J. M. Collins, as first vice-president, automatically succeeds him as president. The new district superintendent was program chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, is present first vice-chairman of the chapter, and last year was vice-chairman for the Panhandle of the midcontinent district of the API.

56 Boys Will Start Work On Farms Shortly

Results of the farm machinery course taught to Pampa school boys by Hood Hills, Pampa High school agriculture teacher, will be reflected this week as work begins by the students who have completed the course. A total of 56 boys have registered for work on farms this summer. Out of this number, 23 have been placed on farms, 11 of them for steady employment throughout the summer, 12 for extra work, one, two, or three days at a time. This leaves 30 boys still without work. County Farm Agent Glenn T. Hackney said he was sure more boys would be placed as farmers became more familiar with the set-up. One farm is using five of the applicants, another three. A total of 10 farmers sought 28 of the applicants.

In a circular letter to Gray county farmers on the farm labor question, Agent Hackney wrote: "Office help has been set up to assist farmers in their labor problems. Some 65 town boys, 14 years of age and older, weighing from 100 to 160 pounds have registered in the county agent's office to work on farms this summer. If you farmers are going to need extra help this summer during harvest, I would suggest that you make application in this office immediately and take these boys now as they will be valuable help in the face of our labor shortage. These boys need training, lend your patience and encourage these boys and I am sure they will not disappoint you. "Assistance will be given cotton farmers this fall in securing labor at harvest time. It looks like we will be able to use prisoners of war to harvest cotton this fall as soon as the information is available in regard to the use of war prisoners, information will be given to the farmers by mail."

Trash piles were the cause of nearly one-half of the fires occurring in Pampa last month. There were seven fires, with trash as the cause of three. Gasoline used in cleaning a motor was the cause of another. Other causes were a defective stove, defective hot water tank. Cause of one car fire was listed as unknown in the department's monthly report, filed by Fire Chief Ben E. White. Insured loss to buildings and contents in the seven fires was $554.61, of which $446.26 was to buildings, $108.35 to contents. Not a single foot of hose was strung during the month in putting out the fires. There were 19 paid men at fires, part-paid, 24; paid men at station, 27; hours on duty, five hours, 40 minutes.

Overseas Soldiers Get New Duffel Bag

When soldiers stationed at Pampa Army Air Field transfer to an overseas training center and thence to some fighting front outside the United States, they will take with them numerous recently-developed articles, including a new type duffel bag, which replaces the two barracks bags now issued as standard equipment. The new bag has about a third larger capacity than the old bag, and is somewhat similar in design to the one used by the Marine corps. It has a carrying strap two inches wide of heavy webbing material which permits it to be carried horizontally like a suitcase or slung from the shoulder like a golf bag. Constructed of the heaviest available material, the bag is 37 inches high on a rectangular base 12 inches square, with a snap fastener at the top. Of olive drab color, the new equipment carrier can be locked with a padlock.

Suppose that sufficient time has elapsed so that everyone is making with the crack about "the little moron who always drinks a pint before bedtime because his mother told him to sleep tight." Then there comes a suggestion "to cafes that may start serving horse meat; Filet de Pilly." --Neigh, neigh! Say it ain't so! Speaking of horses--Schubert had a little horse named Sara, and everytime the band played Schubert's Serenade--Ummn this is my corner to turn...

A good time to revive the story about the two broken-down vaudeville hoopers--These hoopers were standing in front of the theatre, in the grim, hungry days following the crash of 1929. One of them burped. "Must've been somethin' I et--thank goodness."

Let's see the seventeenth goes out on the fifteenth and after the fifteenth, seventeen won't be any good--confusing isn't it? Just a reminder that the shoe ration stamp, namely stamp 17, will be null and void after the 15th of this month, and guys and gals that still have their stamp had better get to gettin' around to the shoe store.

It's wartime. The weather man's a woman. The doctor, chic but capable, wields a lipstick--lightly quickly--and the engineer confers via telephone, to clear soprano phrases.

It was not ever thus, and may not be, beyond the duration. But for the current eclipse of the world's accustomed brightness, all hands and every possible skill must be utilized to the hilt. Therefore, quite naturally, out of the muck and mire of war, opportunity is unfolding like a flower, for the feminine phalans, especially and particularly in the professional fields. The dragnet is out for them, subsidies are up for them, and employers beckon frantically, even pursue enthusiastically the more promising talent.

Scouts from the war plants now beat the academic bushes for recruits, in the manner initiated by Hollywood--in search of brains, but they are not detected if they happened to be teamed to beauty.

So it's opportunity, gals, practically knocking your door down, and it's no time to be sitting--and it all adds up to the fact that it took the war to bring into the light the capabilities of women, and they came through with flying colors. Problem is now--or will be when the war is over--will the women continue to hold down their husbands jobs, or will they be smart enough to play dumb, and scramble back to the kitchen and suddenly acquire an overwhelming desire for household duties?

There was a swell turn out at the U. S. O. dance held Friday evening at the Pampa Air base. There were so many Victory Belles that it took three buses packed to the limit to take the girls to the dance. And if soldiers could change from their regulation uniform into the traditional college zoot suit with rolled cuff, long coat, plaid shirt, striped socks, etc., one would think for sure that they had landed smack dab in the middle of a college prom from the looks at the extra fancy jitter-bugger that was going on... equivalent only to the most strenuous calisthenics.

Very many pretty Victory Belles were present, including one petite June Jarrell. Freddie Nell Beckum in a bright red dress, Etha Jones, with shy violets on her big white color, Mrs. Tom Rose Jr., with her attractive personality, Mrs. Chester Thompson, hostess, looking handsome in an up-sweep hair-do; Mrs. Lynn Boyd making sure that everyone had a good time; Mrs. Roy Bourland and Mrs. Roy McKernan giving a lending hand with coats and such; Mrs. Pagan, U. S. O. Senior hostess, having interesting looking conversations, giving counsel to a few of the soldiers.

Out in Calif. with male escorts as scarce as rib roast and new tires, University students decided to do something about it--they got their idea from the ration books. All deferred male students have registered with the "war manpower rationing board," and the girls take over from there. It works like this--every girl has 48 date points, and for every date so many points are used up, and then she becomes "dateless."

The other day a very angry young woman was trying to address a penny postal card at one of the writing tables in the Post Office. After trying every pen available and finding that they all had the same irritating scratch, she let go of the pen in the direction of the wastebasket, and stormed toward the door, muttering something about she "supposed she would have to go out and buy the United States Post Office a penny pen point"--Perhaps going a bit too far with her pet peeve, but it is nevertheless, very much the situation. Never have I seen a pen in a bank, hotel, or any other place where free pens are placed on writing desks that could be used to write one line that would come close to being legible.

A bulletin issued by the Department of Agriculture tells how to cook carrots, but doesn't say why.

Down in South Texas the Pampas (pronounced with a broad 'A' please) are putting on one of their most beautiful shows this time of the year. When pampa-grass is in bloom mile after mile of landscape is brightened by the great cream and white tassels swaying in the breeze on top of the long, slender stalks that have been sent eight to ten feet into the air... wish we had some pampas in Pampa.

Pvt. Cecil R. Birdwell of Henderson, Texas, is authorized to arrest Hitler, Goering and Goebbels at the first opportunity. Back home in the states, Birdwell was a deputy sheriff of Hopkins county, and is now serving in England, he received arrest warrants from the home town sheriff with a notice saying all three Nazis had been indicted in Hopkins county for murder and high crimes. Birdwell commented--"Back in Hopkins county the trees have strong limbs and the rope ain't rationed."

Buttons, buttons, who has the buttons! Something new that can be added in the button way--why don't you give an old dress a new look by adding buttons handwrought of coin silver? These come from New Mexico, are in sizes from one ones to the half dollar size. Since each is made by hand, they have the distinction that handmade articles always possess.

The "Bundles for Russia" drive will be over Tuesday morning, and Mrs. Roy McKernan urges that everyone who still has something in the way of woolen clothing, bring it around and leave it on her front steps before Monday as it will be packed and sent to headquarters on that day. The drive was a successful one, from the looks of the poundage turned in by various individuals and clubs, and congratulations to the committee, consisting of Mrs. W. R. Campbell, Mrs. F. L. Stallings, Mrs. Paul Kasishke and Mrs. Roy McKernan.

Thousands of can openers must be lying on shelves wondering what has happened to their careers, while thousands of housewives are wondering what is going to happen to them, too.

Mrs. K. E. Thornton and Mrs. A. D. Robinson are to be congratulated for their splendid work in recruiting! It's not WAACS, WAVES, SPARS or Lady Marines, but Girl Scouts for the Day camp which opens tomorrow morning. Around 170 girls have made plans to attend the camp.

The question arises--"Is it patriotic to spend the money and use transportation facilities to get them to camp?" Many Pampa parents have given thought to this question. From here, however, it seems as though children need the benefits which attending a good camp gives them more this year than they do in normal times. In doing all with we can to help the boys and girls in the armed forces, we must not neglect their younger brothers and sisters at home. However, this year, because of expense and transportation problems, an inexpensive camp has been chosen. Spending part of the summer with boys and girls near their own age, under the guidance of trained leaders, is a developing experience which every child should have if possible. Separation from their parents is a wholesome experience for both children and parents and helps children develop resourcefulness, self-reliance, and adaptability.

Are we going to starve??? In his article in the Sunday Oklahoman of May 9, Elmer T. Peterson seems to accept and give credence to the theory put out that there are just too many people in the world. At least he feels as though there are too many people to keep on feeding. It isn't his idea that a portion of our population should be exterminated, but he is worried about the fact that now, when half the world is fighting the other half and nobody much has time to fool around raising crops, we are getting a little short on food.

Maybe those international food conservers who are in session in Hot Springs are merely trying to teach the world that the best way to conserve food is to use hard liquor instead.

V Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

By Mrs. H. H. HAHN

With the departure of Mrs. Fred Roberts for California Pampa has lost one of its most capable citizens. Her absence will be noted in numerous circles, as she was an indefatigable worker in church, A. U. W., study clubs and Red Cross activities. Mrs. Roberts served as Production Chairman of the Red Cross during 1941, then she took over the writing of this column.

Out best wishes go with her and her family.

In recent weeks nearly three million acres in 106 counties of five states (Arkansas, Illinois, Kansas, Oklahoma and Missouri) have been inundated, affecting 39,362 families, and involving the sheltering of 24,701 persons in 107 refugee shelters and the feeding of 25,482 individuals daily. This is in addition to disasters affecting communities in Iowa, Kansas, Michigan and Nebraska.

This entire evacuation and emergency program with the cooperation of U. S. army engineers and U. S. coast guard and army personnel, together with the tireless efforts of the Red Cross Chapter workers and community groups, has been achieved with less loss of life than in any previous disaster in the past twenty years. Because farms were stocked as never before to meet world-wide demands, most stock that in previous floods is involved in rescue and evacuation work. On an emergency basis, the American Red Cross is supplying feed for thousands of cattle, hogs and chickens marooned on high ground or herded in special corrals. Much of this livestock has to come until farms are ready to be rehabilitated.

Red Cross Chapters within and contiguous to these disaster-stricken communities have responded promptly with their full resources to give emergency care to evacuees within their respective jurisdictions. The Disaster Preparedness programs of these chapters were a notable factor in this regard.

Already the early phases of rehabilitation are being undertaken. This will require months and large resources in funds. Chapters are authorized to receive voluntary contributions for this purpose.

Mrs. Frank Culberson, volunteer service chairman, reports that more workers are needed in both the production and surgical dressings departments. Now that school is out and the activities of graduation have been completed, it is hoped that many women will respond to the urgent need of speeding up this work.

Mrs. J. E. Massa, production chairman, adds that all who have taken out demolition gloves finish them and return them this week.

Mrs. C. P. Buckler, surgical dressings chairman, adds a plea for more workers in the surgical dressings room. The 2x2s are not very hard to make, she says, and with pa-

An ideal massage application for the numb, tingling or burning sensations of the skin. For the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs quickly absorbed. Delightful to use.

Mrs. Earl O'Brien states that officers of the day are needed in the production room. One is on duty during the two hours each morning and afternoon in which the production room is open. At times it is not possible for one of the regular officers of the day to be there, and it would be helpful, if a substitute was available. Mrs. O'Brien's telephone number is 773-M, and she will welcome volunteers. A knowledge of sewing is necessary, but one need not be an expert. Just telephone her, and she will put your name on her list.

Mrs. O'Brien also invites the women of Pampa to come in and get a garment to make at home. It may be returned within two weeks. Most of the cutting has now been done, but many hospital convalescent summer robes remain to be sewed; these are of chambray and are not difficult to work with.

Farm Butter Is Under OPA Rules

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—To "clarify a situation in which there had been some confusion," the OPA ruled today that butter manufactured on a farm is subject to the same maximum prices established for creamery butter.

The OPA said that it had not been clear how prices on farm butter were regulated.

Cotton Fashions Are Highlights For Hot Summer Months

Cotton suits have followed up last year's sensational success with an even more imposing parade of smart city types. Some of the fabrics make news, too. For instance, denim—both plain and striped—is seen in sophisticated suits for city wear as well as in war work garments. Ratine makes an interesting suit with red and white polka-dot lining. Striped ticking is clean and fresh looking in the tailored mode. Cotton tweeds in bold pastel plaids, as well as conservative glen plaids, look new and exciting. A giant warlike pique known as "Quiltweave" is dramatic in a suit as chic as anything on the market. A classic tailored cotton gabardine comes

Service Men Will Want All Comforts Of Home When War Ends, Writes Army Pilot On Ait

AN ADVANCED RAT ISLAND BASE IN THE ALEUTIANS, May 10 (Delayed) (AP)—"If you want the biggest story of the war," said Lieut. Col. Tom Hutton of the Eleventh Air Force, "tell the folks that this war has saved the American home. The men will go home determined to soak in its comforts within the nearness of people they like and love."

Following the lead of Colonel Hutton, of Washington, D. C., I went to an unmarried pilot, who has been in Alaska for nine months. He wrote this:

"We are learning more than handling death-dealing machines. We're learning the importance of home. "With few exceptions, each man in our armed forces spends many an off-duty hour lying on his cot dreaming of the home he hopes to return to or build when this war ends. "Room by room, he has planned his home, incorporating all the luxuries he is now missing because he intends to spend a good share of his remaining life in it. "The living room will have overstuffed chairs—a change from the pineboard benches and chairs. The dining room will have chairs and a spotless starched tablecloth and he will want more than one teaspoon so he won't have to use his coffee spoon for dessert. "Topnotch in his thought is the kitchen. All of us have been plotting nightly raids into huge refrigerators full of drumsticks, fresh eggs to scramble, a tall thin glass of ice cold milk, a wedge of lemon pie, tomatoes to be eaten whole with a pinch of salt and four-layer sandwiches. "And before dinner an old-fashioned. "He will want to sit up late at nights for foolish chatter while raiding the refrigerator. "He will order first of all the thickest mattress the furniture store has in stock to shed for once and for all the remotest suggestion of his tight sleeping bag and the no-give canvas cot. "Sundays he will want to wake up only in time for funnies and church. He will want to go to church. "He will want a lot of time in the bathroom enjoying the shower. "Be assured that regardless of where he is, his home will be the grandest spot in the world to come to—whether he will work in the office, in the woods or the fields. And he will want to find a wife waiting. "The pilot looked sheepish handing me the paper. He added: "It's hard to say but we will want to do a 'heap of living' in our homes when this war is over and we are determined to make those concessions which will go to keep a home functioning happily."

'Ball Boys' Of Flying Forts Boast Record

By LEO BRANHAM
AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN ENGLAND, June 5 (P)—"The 'ball boys,' a fortress squadron which has participated in most of the eighth air force attacks on Europe since its arrival in Britain, appears to be headed toward a record for keeping its losses down. To date, the squadron has lost one full crew and the walsgunner of another fortress in some of the thickest fighting over Europe. The outfit was dubbed 'the ball boys' because every fortress in the group bears the name of some kind of ball. When a new bomber was assigned to the squadron back at Biggs Field, El Paso, Texas, its commander, Capt. Clinton F. Ball, 25, of Waco, Texas, christened his ship "Linda Ball" after his year-old daughter. The squadron decided to expand on the "ball" idea in naming the fortresses. Some of the pilots, all of whom are first lieutenants, and names of their bombers: Max Pinkerton, 27, San Antonio, Texas, "Cannon Ball." William Peters, 22, Highland Park, Ill., "Snowball." William R. Smith, 26, Wilkes-Barre, Pa., "Fire Ball." Carl Wilson, 23, Alice, Texas, "Eight Ball." John Moss, 22, Des Moines, N. M., "Speed Ball." Robert Adams, 26, Decatur, Ala., "High Ball." Donald Norris, 23, Aurora, Ill., "Foul Ball." So named because its engines were troublesome at first. Names of other fortresses included office, in the woods or the fields. And he will want to find a wife waiting. "The pilot looked sheepish handing me the paper. He added: "It's hard to say but we will want to do a 'heap of living' in our homes when this war is over and we are determined to make those concessions which will go to keep a home functioning happily."

"Spitball," "Meatball," and "Screwball." Capt. Ball is a west point graduate and now is serving with the army in North Africa. Many members of the squadron's personnel are from the New England states. The fortresses named "Spareball" piloted by second Lieut. Joseph Mell, 24, of Brooklyn, is the squadron's only bomber casualty to date. Mell and his crew failed to return from their first raid. Sergeant Lonnie Owens of Belcher, Ky., tall gunner on "Speedball," said he saw what happened to "Spareball," which apparently was crippled by flak on the way home. "Soon after we crossed the coast I saw Mell drop out of the formation one engine on fire," Owens said. "As soon as he lagged behind six Pocke-Wulfs jumped on him. He was losing altitude fast. "I saw five men ball out—that's all. The Pocke-Wulf made another pass at the bomber and it went down in a spin for about 2,000 feet. Then its left wing broke off. A few seconds later the whole plane seemed to disintegrate. "The squadron's only other casualty was sergeant Lewis T. Baker, of Louisville, Ky., the waist gunner on the "Fireball."

Former Berlin Jew Lost on Plane
LISBON, June 5 (AP)—Wilfred Jacob Berthold Israel, one of 13 passengers of a British airliner shot down by Axis aircraft over the Bay of Biscay last Tuesday, was identified today as a former prominent Berlin department store owner whose British mother is now living in West Hollywood, Calif. Israel, his friends here said today, escaped from the German Gestapo during the Jewish purge. Owner of "Israel's," said to have been Berlin's biggest department store, Israel was active in aiding German Jews to leave Europe for Palestine and other countries of refuge, his friends said, and had been in Spain and Portugal arranging visas and transportation for refugees. He was returning to London with documents which they said would have meant freedom and safety for those people when the plane on which he was flying was downed.

Washington Scene Of Stevens Comedy

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON
Husky-voiced Jean Arthur is back in Washington again—not with "Mr. Smith"—but again she's a secretary in the jam-packed was time capital, in George Stevens' "The More the Merrier," opening a four-day run today at the LaNora.

Columbia's new comedy shows Miss Arthur, impelled by patriotic motives, renting out one room of her tiny apartment. Charles Coburn, business tycoon, persuades Jean to let him take the room despite her avowed intentions to rent only to a woman. Coburn rents half his room to Joel McCrea, engineer. With the three sharing the apartment a series of hectic incidents follow.

At the LaNora Thursday through Saturday is 20th Century-Fox's "Desert Victory," epic of General Bernard Montgomery's British Eighth army.

"My Friend Flicka," filmed in vivid Technicolor is a story, beautiful in plot as it is in the making. Touchingly is told this tale of a sensitive lad, Roddy McDowall and his liking for the filly, Flicka. Preston Foster has the role of Roddy's father, Rita Johnson of Roddy's mother. Story is based on the novel by Mary O'Hara and the picture was filmed among the mountains of Utah. It's at the LaNora Thursday through Saturday.

United Artists give their version of Texas in the period after the War for the Southern Confederacy in "American Empire," with Richard Dix of "Cimarron" fame, in the leading role. It's at the Rex today, tomorrow, and Tuesday. It's a typical Western, with the saga of the cattle barons of the 80s as the theme. Texans hope that U-A keeps its Texas geography straighter than the makers of "Crystal Ball," which had Paulette Goddard from some town called "Tidwater" which was "near Waco" and at the same time "not far from Ft. Worth."

Judy Garland is seen in her first adult romance in "For Me and My Gal," story of vaudeville and the historic Palace, from 1915 through World War 1. Gene Kelly and George Murphy have the featured male leads. At the State for three days, opening today.

After a hectic week of sharing her tiny apartment with Joel McCrea and Charles Coburn, Jean Arthur finds herself alone with McCrea in this romantic scene from George Stevens' Columbia comedy, "The More the Merrier." The film is now on view for local audiences at the LaNora theatre.

Ready to pull the trigger against an outlaw band of cattle thieves are Quinn Williams, Richard Dix and Preston Foster who do some good he-man shooting in "American Empire," the new United Artists release current at the Rex.

Every mother will understand the problems Rita Johnson encounters with son Roddy McDowall in Mary O'Hara's "My Friend Flicka," the Technicolor due Thursday at LaNora. Preston Foster is featured with them in the 20th Century-Fox film.

Clark Lee, newspaper correspondent, whose "They Call It Pacific," is currently appearing in The Pampa News, has this comment to make on "Bataan." Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's realistic story of the defense of the Philippines: "This picture has captured and recorded faithfully the spirit of the

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—Weather conditions and labor shortages, which have delayed digging of potatoes in Florida, South Carolina and Texas, led the office of price administration today to extend the higher differential for the early crop for longer periods. In Texas the $2.80 price, scheduled to drop June 15. After that date the price will be 2.70.

General Revenue Fund Is In Red
AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—Cash in state funds totaled $56,297,540 on May 31, the state treasury reported today. Outstanding warrants left a net balance of $28,822,353. The only fund on deficit was general revenue which was $21,790, 217 in the red.

FDR Says Relations With Stalin Excellent

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt said Friday that the understanding and accord between him and Premier Joseph Stalin of Russia is excellent, in commenting at a press conference on the return of his special emissary to Moscow, Joseph E. Davies.

The chief executive made his brief statement when asked whether he could disclose anything about the reply to his letter that Davies brought back from Moscow late yesterday.

Mr. Roosevelt, referring to the Soviet head as Marshal Stalin, said Davies had brought back a letter and that the understanding and accord between the president and Stalin is excellent.

That was all he said about it and reporters did not press him for details. Davies left Washington about a month ago with a sealed letter to Stalin.

Hold Everything

"I was flying my P-40 from a field near Clark and was up on patrol when the Japs came over. I saw a plane on my tail, way back. When he first opened up and I saw the blue flashes of his guns, I thought he was signalling to me. Then I snapped out of it and got in there and fought him. The sky over Clark was full of Jap planes and it looked like the entire field was on fire."

A pursuit pilot who had been at Iba Field, which was designed to pursue a field where there were bombers flying from Clark, told what happened there. "They caught us flat-footed. Our warning system failed but the main thing was that we were all green and inexperienced. The Jap high-level bombers took one pass on their way to Clark. Then the fighters dove low and strafed our planes. Nature took its course and we were all lined up in pretty rows. We didn't know any better then. We never had time to get one in the air. Only a few were still flying after the attack."

Why the Americans Didn't Bomb Formosa

Chapter 6 LATER I found out more about how our Air Force was destroyed, but I never established to my entire satisfaction why it was on the ground when the Japs came over, more than ten hours after we had received word of the Pearl Harbor attack.

As nearly as I could determine, the situation was this: The pursuit planes had been up patrolling in the morning, and the pilots had come down to eat and refuel their planes all together, instead of a few at a time.

The bombers were on the ground because it would have been impossible for them to fly around aimlessly while awaiting orders to bomb objectives in Formosa or Hainan Island.

Such orders could not be issued in the Philippines because we were not yet officially at war with Japan.

The planes were lined up in straight rows and not dispersed because our fliers had not had any experience and did not understand the necessity for dispersal. Underground hangars were being built, but were not yet finished.

Radio detecting equipment was inadequate. Shortly after the Clark Field attack, I ran into one of the survivors of the B-17 crews of the 19th Bombardment Squadron, who said:

"That first day of the war we went up in the morning, got our planes running perfectly, and then came down again. The pursuits had also been up and had come down to refuel and to let the pilots get lunch. For weeks we had expected that if our attack would bomb southern Formosa, we knew just where and what to hit.

"Right after lunch we pilots were called to the office. I heard our commander, Colonel Eugene Eubank, arguing over the telephone with someone in Manila. He was insisting that we be allowed to take off for Formosa, but apparently he could not get an okay."

"Anyway, Eubank hung up the phone and turned to a map on the wall. He was just pointing out our objectives on Formosa when someone came running in. The messenger shouted, 'The Japs will be here in twenty minutes.'"

"We started to get out and get to our planes. Two minutes later the bombs crashed down around us."

"We had about twelve heavy bombers left when it was all over. We flew most of them down to the field at Del Monte, on the island of Mindanao."

"From then on we were under the orders of General Wavell. We heard several times that MacArthur begged for planes to come up and give his troops a hand during the early days of Bataan, but instead Wavell sent us to attack the Japs at Borneo and other islands once or twice. Then we were ordered to Java, and then to Australia."

"I questioned them further about why we were surprised at Clark Field. That was one of the most crushing blows in the whole Philippines campaign. It lost us any chance to gain air control, and without air control we never had a chance to win. 'Then it is your impression,' I asked, 'that someone in Manila headquarters ordered our planes to remain on the ground?'"

"That is what we understand," they said. "We were told that we were forbidden to bomb Formosa because the Japs had not yet attacked the Philippines, and perhaps did not intend to. Inasmuch as the Philippines were a commonwealth and not an integral part of the United States, we had to wait to be attacked first."

"That last part didn't add up to me, because many hours before the Clark Field bombing we knew that the Japs had bombed Baguio and Aparri and Davao and many other points in the Philippines. I told one of the high officers of MacArthur's staff what the pilots had said.
