ITALY TURNS DOWN LEAGUE PEACE PLANS

VESSELS STEAM FROM GIBRALTAR ON A MYSTERY TRIP

By WADE WERNER
Associated Press Foreign Staff
GIBRALTAR, Sept. 18 (AP)—The second and sixth destroyer flotillas of the British navy, leaving two destroyers behind, sailed from here mysteriously today for an undisputed destination. Reports circulated that the great battleship Nelson and the battle cruiser Repulse, were expected to arrive here shortly. The two flotillas arrived here yesterday after a speedy run from England in the company of the battle cruisers Hood and Renown and the second cruiser squadron. These battle cruisers and destroyers still were in the harbor today and it was reported they would stay indefinitely.

GENEVA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Baron Pompeo Aloisi, head of the Italian delegation to the League of Nations, was expected in informed quarters to leave tomorrow for Rome for a conference with Premier Mussolini. It was understood that Il Duce wished not only to discuss the league's plan for a solution of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute but to gain his representative's impressions concerning the Geneva political atmosphere.

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Authoritative sources indicated today that an official announcement by the air ministry of a recent concentration of British aviation reinforcements in the Mediterranean area are expected soon.

This expectation came close on the heels of an official disclosure by the admiralty that the regular autumn maneuvers of the navy in the North Sea have been indefinitely postponed—war fleet maneuvers in the Mediterranean. The exact nature of the air ministry's communique was not predicted, but authorities in a position to know said they expected it to confirm recent reports that royal air force squadrons had been concentrated in Malta, Egypt, and elsewhere in the Mediterranean sector. Between 125 and 150 British warships today patrolled the Mediterranean in movements which authorized quarters frankly labeled as "precautionary."

British officials, however, were quick to deny there was anything provocative in Britain's action in assembling this fleet during the present strained relations between Italy and Ethiopia, especially in view of the presence of numerous Italian warships in the ancient Rome's "mare nostrum." Subjects of the British crown today received their first intimation of the extensive naval movements which the American public has known several days. Britons were kept in ignorance of the fleet transfer through a voluntary censorship by the British press.

GENEVA, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Italian delegation labeled as "absolutely unacceptable as a basis for negotiation" today summaries of Higher by 172 than the previous record of 3,400, enrolment in the Pampa school system at present totals 3,572, according to reports of Mrs. J. H. Blythe, school attendance officer. That figure does not include the enrolment of 32 at the colored school.

Distribution of enrolment by buildings and grades is as follows: High school, 735; junior high, 130; B. M. Baker, a total of 605 with 134 in the first grade, 94 in the second, 99 in the third, 90 in the fourth, 82 in the fifth, and 116 in the sixth. Woodrow Wilson school has 90 in the first grade, 90 in the second, 75 in the third, 87 in the fourth, 95 in the fifth, and 85 in the sixth, a total of 522. At Horace Mann school there are 113 in the first grade, 94 in the second, 76 in the third, 76 in the fourth, 74 in the fifth, and 115 in the sixth, a total of 548. Sam Houston school has a total of 522, with 115 in the first grade, 80 in the second, 96 in the third, 82 in the fourth, 90 in the fifth, and 75 in the sixth.

GOVERNOR DEMANDS CHAIN STORE TAX

Twinkles
Today's temperance plea concerns talking. An overworked tongue can run longer on less fuel than any other vehicle.

We have the best of good will for the teachers, who are, in our opinion, one of the finest body of citizens the world produces. All of them can read and some can write.

T. A. Landers' McLean News is 31 years old, or 3 years older than this newspaper. Maybe you didn't realize McLean's onetime importance in size.

Coronado's Spaniards told the Indians they could have the Panhandle plains. We took this section away from the Indians, but that was before the League of Nations was organized.

In case any school teacher thinks he or she can run this paper better than we can, we'll trade jobs for a few days. Such would be legal; we hold a good as new, never used, permanent teaching certificate.

Musing of the moment: A platter of huge, racy delicious apples is claiming more attention than anything else in Gray county's exhibit at Amarillo. They came from Paul Bruce's orchard on McClellan creek. Some fine Jonathans from the L. L. Palmer orchards are on exhibit. The Panhandle won first place over fast competition. . . . Gray county folk may be almost as surprised as other visitors when they see those apples. We have by no means developed all the resources of our county.

Brevitorials

WITH THE Harvesters' first game only two days away, it behooves this column to examine the team which carries the Green and Gold prestige this season. Leon Noblit, with ten regulars and four candidates for All-State mention, ought to give us a pretty good idea of how fast the locals are learning. For learning is the key word this year. We have only two lads who could be called regulars last year at J. R. Green and Leon Noblit. Six other squadmen saw more or less action. Others of this year's squad have never played with the Harvesters before.

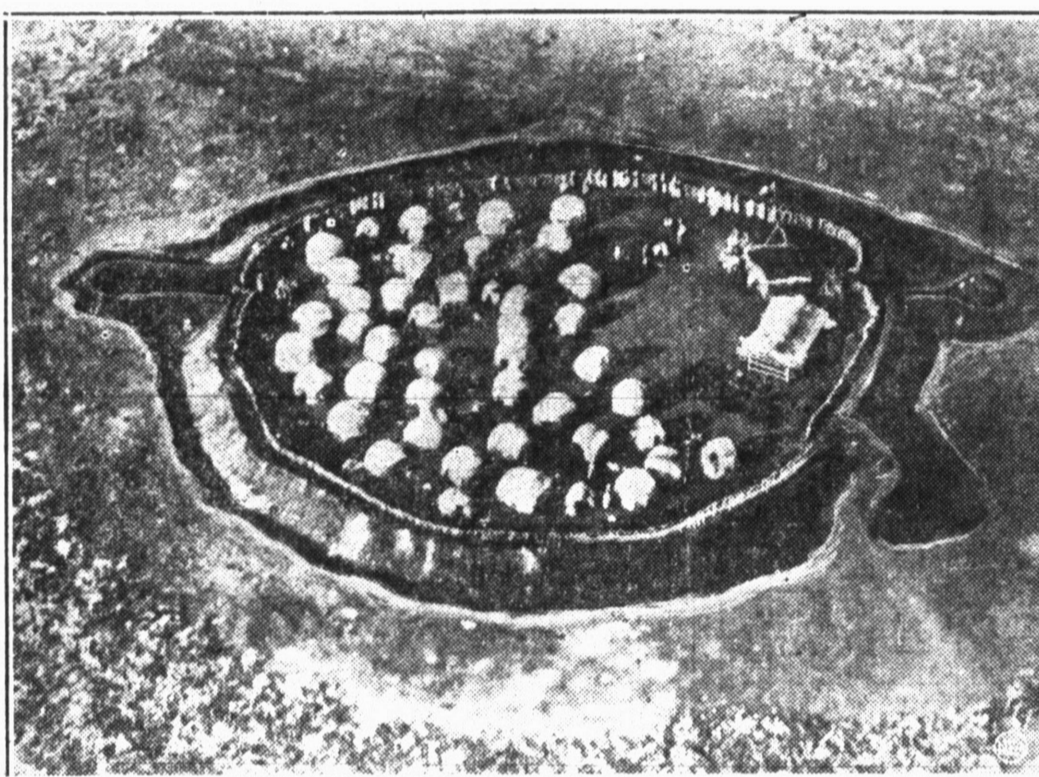

AFTER GETTING Coach Mitchell and Coach Prejean to guess at their starting lineup—J. R. Green, Hartman, Noland, Noblit, Brice Green, Stokes Green, George Nix, Red Fanning, Bob Drake, Chubby Stewart, and W. J. Brown—we rattled an adding machine for half an hour and came up with some interesting facts. The weight of the starting lineup is 1,907 pounds in the aggregate, which in our rusty arithmetic gives an average of 173.3. Now that's a hefty lineup and one that would compare well with the average college. If weight was the only factor, we'd be off.

WE FIND THAT the starting line averages 177.3 pounds and that the starting backfield averages 166.1. That is a good balance for starters. Reserves, however, are almost equally important in a long campaign. The total weight of the squad is 4,774 pounds, for an average of 159 pounds. The total age of the squad is 514 years, for an average of 17.13 years. Weight of all squad linemen is 3,284 pounds, or a 160-pound average. Weight of all backs is 1,485 pounds, for an average of 148.5 pounds. Some of the boys listed will, of course, never see action in important games. The usable lads, however, are far below the starting lineup in weight and experience. Some fans believe they have more fight than the regulars. Such pluck may raise them in the opinions of the coaches.

IN THIS DISTRICT, Amarillo has the most experience and the best reserves, although all squads have lost heavily. Lubbock was nearly annihilated by graduation, but no more than the Harvesters. Borger lost many good men and isn't touted very highly—yet. That leaves Plainview as the dark horse. And dark is right. However, here is a little light: Plainview has 13 out of 20 lettermen back—the most of any district outfit. Her backfield will be able and experienced—fast, with good reserves. The line has 50 per cent good new material, the rest veterans. Coach Madison Pruitt (All America-T. C. U.) is frankly optimistic, believing that this is his year to make the showing of which he is capable. He expects to beat Lubbock and, with luck, knock over

Ethiopian Fort May Be Cradle of War

This crude fort, the round mud huts of the garrison resembling mushrooms as seen from the air, may be the Sarajevo to touch off another great war. It is the Ethiopian fort at Wal-wal, near the Italian-Somali boundary, scene of a clash on Dec. 1, 1934, that brought to a head the long-standing differences between the two nations. Rome reported 110 Ethiopian casualties and an Italian loss of 30. Italy demanded heavy indemnity and honor to her colors, and Ethiopia appealed to the League of Nations.

Marvin Jones Pledges His Support To WPA Projects

Congressman Honored With Dinner at Schneider

Congressman Marvin Jones last night heard Pampans outline their WPA applications, then pledged his support in striving to push the applications through to a final allocation of funds. Mr. Jones attended a dinner at the Schneider hotel at which city officials, B. C. D. members, Jaycees, school board members, and others were present. He was accompanied here by John E. Hill of Amarillo. George Briggs, B. C. D. manager, opened the meeting and called on City Manager C. L. Stine to outline the City's requests. Mr. Jones and others asked many questions concerning local projects.

Mr. Stine exhibited a colored drawing of the fairground projects, or city park. The congressman commended the plans as worthwhile and well conceived. The fairground park would include a dam, administration building, display buildings, race track, grandstand seating 6,000, auditorium-symposium, and other improvements. Total cost, exclusive of the ground and engineering, would be about $112,000, furnished by WPA. The per man year cost would be $697.50. The maximum allowed is $890.

Mr. Jones explained that the purpose of WPA is to get away from the dole. And a turnaround of a project, he added, "doesn't mean defeat." He urged that reasons for rejections be ascertained and energetic steps taken to remove objections. C. T. Hunkapiller told of the rejection of a school PWA loan and grant but said that Julian Montgomery, state PWA engineer, was trying to remove difficulties. Conversation moved to the long-desired underpass on Cuyler street, now numbered first among the West Texas projects on secondary or feeder highways. Primary road projects will get first consideration. Mr. Jones said that he would endeavor to hasten action on the underpass. More than 1,000 school children must pass the tracks daily. Pampa's WPA applications are in San Antonio, hence contacts will be made there next.

I Heard . . .

A. C. Baldwin mumbled and grumbling while trying to remember the name of his new daughter. He finally came to the conclusion that it was Wanda Sue. No, "Ace" wasn't at all excited. Coach Odus Mitchell, when pinned down to making a statement about his football team, tell the story about the negro, who, the week before Thanksgiving, started praying for a turkey. No turkey arrived and the old darkey got worried. So the night before Thanksgiving he prayed that the Lord would send him out to get a turkey and on Thanksgiving morning he had one. (Figure it out for yourself!)

HE OPENS UP WHOLE FIELD OF TAXATION

ASKS BIGGER LEVY ON LARGE SULPHUR
PROFITS

AUSTIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—Governor Allred then open the whole field of revenue and tax legislation in a special message to the legislature today. He submitted the subject of revenue and taxation together with old-age pensions, calling on the legislature to devise means of meeting the added expense and the existing deficit in the treasury.

"In addition, Texas has inherited a tremendous deficit," Governor Allred said. "The rural aid appropriation was increased $2,000,000 by the regular session of the legislature and $3,000,000 was voted for the Texas Centennial."

"The governor recommended immediate enactment of a real graduated chain store tax," a sulphur tax, a tax on pipelines, a selective luxury tax and some corrective measures in franchise taxes advocated during the last session. He also submitted a number of local bills and a bill appropriating $200,000 for construction of a state courts building conditioned on obtaining federal assistance.

"The governor said the chain store tax was a plank in the platform of the state democratic party, that local merchants were entitled to a fair chance of sustaining themselves" and that the tax "can constitute a just and substantial contribution."

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 18 (AP)—The University of Mexico, oldest on the American continent, faced today a crisis which threatened its end as an independent institution.

The university council, lacking funds to continue classes, resigned rather than accept government subsidy which would mean a sacrifice of the right of freedom of instruction. President Lazaro Cardenas had promised the 400-year-old university the sum of 3,000,000 pesos (about $840,000) provided it would agree not to furnish instruction contrary to the government's socialistic education program.

The principal point of the present crisis arose from the length of courses in the preparatory school of the university. In accordance with its educational policies, the government insisted that the preparatory course be limited to two years, and that for the other three years of preliminary study, students be required to attend official schools.

Both because a large part of its income was derived from preparatory students and because it benefited by officers at between 100 and 150 persons, broke down doors and seized the negro; he was carried to a lonely side road, almost within sight of the state university, and hanged.

Amarillo Man Is Slain; Ex-Deputy Of City Is Held

Herman Wachtendorf
Held in Jail for Slaying

AMARILLO, Sept. 18 (AP)—R. W. (Pat) Graves, 29, of Amarillo was shot to death during a fight at a night club here early today. H. H. Wachtendorf, operator of the club and a former Potter county deputy constable, was charged with murder. Five persons, including a woman and Deputy Constable E. F. Timmons, were treated for injuries after the affray. Timmons and the woman remained in a hospital with bruises and cuts. Their injuries were believed not serious.

Three bullets pierced Graves' body. He died instantly. Sheriff Bill Adams quoted witnesses as saying that Graves and a brother, Jack Graves, took a gun from Timmons during the scuffle. Some witnesses said two shots were fired from the gun before Wachtendorf arrived on the scene.

Funeral services had not been arranged for Graves. He was an employe of an Amarillo fruit market. He was survived by his widow and two children. Wachtendorf was held in jail.

Herman Wachtendorf was a deputy sheriff here during the administration of E. S. Graves in 1929 and 1930. He also served as jailer. He was well-known in Pampa. Wachtendorf also was a deputy constable here for a time. Graves, a pugilist, was well known here by reason of his ring encounters.

High School Band Goes to the Fair

Fair-goers yesterday learned that it was "Pampa Day" at the Tri-State exposition. The green-gold clad Harvesters band directed by Winston Savage was the most conspicuous organization on the midway and at the attractions. Backed by the largest delegation of the kind ever to wear "Pampa" badges, the band aroused much comment and received much applause. It broadcast over station KGNC and gave a concert in the merchants' building. Mr. Savage took about 36 pieces.

AMERICAN ARMY CHIEF WILL RESIGN FOR PHILIPPINE JOB

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur announced today he would retire as chief of staff of the American army on December 15 to undertake the task of organizing the military defenses of the new Commonwealth of the Philippines. President Roosevelt detailed MacArthur to the assignment at the urgent request of Manuel Quezon who was elected first president of the new government in yesterday's election. Accompanied by Captain Thomas Jefferson Davis, his aide, General MacArthur will sail from San Francisco early in October, arriving in Manila in time to participate in the inauguration of Quezon November 15. Safety Council Meets Tonight In Auditorium restrained, and Emily's home was none of these things. It was correct and luxurious, with a great deal of emphasis upon the left or virtues, such as Duty to One's Parents, and Responsibility to the Poor. Fortunately, or perhaps unfortunately, the owner of the carnival was not an opportunist. Instead of angling for a reward he immediately found out her name and conducted her back to the paternal roof. Mrs. Felton was incredulous.

Safety Methods will be studied tonight as the Panhandle Safety Council meets in the city auditorium. The session which will be attended by persons from all over the oil field, will begin at 8 o'clock. The main speaker is to be Oral Jones, vice president of the City National bank of Wichita Falls. Other talks will be made, however, during the session. The Panhandle Safety Council is a new organization, with a program appealing to safety directors, firemen, peace officers, oil companies, all employers, and the public generally. Everyone is privileged to attend the meeting tonight.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

A GAME WE NEED TO LEARN

It is only a hopelessly idealistic person who thinks spending of more than four billions of dollars can be unattended by "politics." In fact, wire-pulling determines most of our attainments in public life. And if you do not pull your own wires, the same will not likely be pulled, or at least not when you desire.

Pampa's public officials and citizens generally have exhibited too little initiative and resourcefulness in pushing projects which would give us a share in the public extravagance, relief, or whatever you wish to term federal spending. But the time is here to use every resource. With hundreds of thousands of projects going to Washington, a big per cent cannot be cleared soon. First come, first served is still a customary procedure.

It has been and is daily being proved that use of influence speeds projects. Hundreds of delegations are on their way to Washington. Hundreds of others have already been—months ago on PWA applications. Pampa is beginning to contact Washington, and must line up an equally vital contact at San Antonio, on WPA applications. These are good steps but they must be energetically followed. Complications will likely arise. Quick action will remove most of these obstacles.

The City has perfected applications to the satisfaction of the Amarillo office. It now awaits action of the state office at San Antonio. Washington is next. Approval of the application however, is merely a preliminary step. Specific and detailed plans and drawings must be furnished. Unless these are ready by the time approval is given, or soon thereafter, more weeks of delay may result.

With millions being showered upon the states, Pampa and Gray county can get their share if those in authority are as resourceful and as well informed as officials of competing cities, counties, and schools.

If it takes politics to move dollars in Washington, we must use politics. And if you think it isn't a long and trying road to trace a project through Washington bureaus, just read "Washington Wild Life" in the current Saturday Evening Post.

AUSTIN, Sept. 14 (AP)—The governor, the secretary of state, and the attorney general compose the canvassing board which theoretically tabulates and certifies results of important elections.

Actually the work was done by two clerks in the secretary of state's office and three newspaper correspondents in the case of the recent election in which five constitutional amendments were adopted.

The correspondents pitched in when it appeared that unless extra help was provided they might have been all night awaiting the final result.

The assassination of Huey Long was the biggest news event in capital interest since the death of Will Rogers.

As probably was true everywhere, the fiery Louisiana senator's policies had strong partisans and bitter critics in Austin but all joined in denouncing the manner of his death.

There was an almost insatiable demand for extra editions of newspapers, the press rooms were besieged for information on Long's condition as he lay dying and for hours the shooting was the chief topic of conversation in corridors and offices.

It was recalled that Long once sharply criticized the Texas legislature for failure to follow his cotton-control program. That was during the administration of Gov. R. S. Sterling.

By resolution, the legislature repiled in kind, using some of the language Long excelled at.

How many persons are there in Texas today? State Auditor Orville S. Carpenter, using U. S. census methods, says 6,580,476.

He estimates there are 112,255 between the ages of 65 and 69, 82,708 between 70 and 75, and 87,236 over 75, or a total of 282,199 65 years and older. The population in 1930 was 5,824,715, of whom 232,459 were 65 or older.

Governmental reports show the number of aged people is increasing rapidly due to a decrease in the birth rate and an increase in human longevity.

OUT OUR WAY

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Further notes on lobbying: The "power trust" lobby, which for years has spent more money and hired more lobbyists than any other, probably will join the prohibition lobby as a has-been. Its devious, secretive methods are blocked by a provision in the utility holding company act forbidding anyone paid by a holding company or subsidiary from lobbying without publicly registering with the SEC.

You can get a rough idea how many resident lobbyists there are here by counting some 2500 lawyers and law firms in the city telephone directory. Several hundred other lobbyists don't profess to be lawyers. Nobody knows how many, among those who do, ever passed bar exams. Sometimes lobbyists start with an ace in the hole. A congressman who voted against the "death sentence" tells me he made a survey among colleagues who did likewise and found about 85 per cent of them either owned holding company securities or had members of their immediate families who owned some.

One of the most recent officials to resign and join the brotherhood is former Assistant Attorney General William Stanley, who has been representing certain financing companies which want more out of the Federal Housing Administration set-up than they've been getting.

Some congressmen insist on putting themselves under obligation to lobbyists. Millard of New York, who recently was yelling so loudly about the Jim Farley stamp scandal, requested the United Drydocks Co. to give some of its sheet metal work to a New York man. A company official sent an inter-office memorandum suggesting compliance with the request, "as, of course, a member of the House naval affairs committee may be very useful in future dealings with the navy."

About 20,000 lawyers and agents (most of them not Washingtonians) are licensed to practice before the Treasury. More than 200 have been disbarred, suspended or reprimanded in the past few years by a Treasury committee appointed to enforce ethical standards. The cream of this business is in tax refunds for corporations and rebates for huge estates.

A few newspapermen have deserted their trade to take up lobbying. Jim West, who left his job covering Hoover for a press association to become press agent for the Republican National Committee for a while, received $8400 from shipbuilding companies during the Senate munitions hearings and $7500 from duPont, Remington, and Curtiss-Wright.

Very rarely a correspondent is discovered to be on the secret payroll of an organization engaged in lobbying or propaganda, whereupon he is fired from the Senate press gallery if he hasn't formally disclosed the connection.

A political writer representing a Boston newspaper use d to brand such progressives as Norris and Wheeler regularly as "bolshheviks" until it was discovered he was working on the side for the New England Power Association, which then hired him as one of its officials. I observed him dining with Senator Walsh of Massachusetts at the Carlton not long ago.

ALLRED DOES NOT LIKE TO SHOOT DOVES

CAN'T REMEMBER ANYONE KILLING THEM AT BOWIE

AUSTIN, Sept. 18. (AP)—Governor Allred is not excited over the approach of the dove-hunting season. He doesn't like to shoot doves. "I never seemed to get a kick out of it," he said. "When I was a boy in Bowie, I can't remember anyone hunting doves. Anyway, I'm not such a good shot."

Senator John Redditt of Lufkin heard a number of requests for clemency while acting governor recently during the absence in Oklahoma of Governor Allred.

A man wanted a furlough for his son-in-law, explaining the convict's wife anticipated a "blessed event."

"That's not an unreasonable request," Redditt said. "What was your son-in-law's offense?"

"Forgery," the man said.

"How much was the sentence?"

"Five years."

"Well, well. How long has he been in the pen?"

"Two years."

The clemency was not granted.

Ed Clark, Governor Allred's secretary, usually accompanies his chief on trips but did not go to Oklahoma City. His wish to remain in Austin puzzled the governor.

"Well, governor," Clark explained, "I've been trying to get that San Augustine man out of the pen a long time and you won't do anything about it. Maybe when we get a good East Texan in your chair he will do better."

Redditt gave Clark's man a furlough.

Redditt and Clark, both East Texans, are great friends. In fact, Clark credits Redditt with getting him his job.

Therefore, Clark felt safe in taking three hours off for lunch on the day Redditt was acting governor.

Returning at 3 p. m., Clark found a note from the acting governor saying his services were no longer needed.

"But he was only governor for a day," Clark laughed.

Tampa Puts in Bid for Spanish War Vets Meeting

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18. (AP)—Tampa, embarkation port for thousands of American soldiers in the Cuban campaign, put in its bid today for the 1937 encampment of United Spanish war veterans.

The bid was supported by a $500,000 inducement which E. I. Weil told veterans convened here, would be spent on a Spanish war veterans' memorial to be built on Davis Island in Tampa Bay. Weil, past commander of the department of Florida, made the offer in behalf of the Florida city.

It was from Davis Island that Cuban patriots smuggled arms and supplies to their confederates in Cuba during their insurrection against the Spaniards, Weil said.

Weil conceded that Saratoga Springs, N. Y., should be designated as the 1936 encampment place.

Constitution day was commemorated at the 37th annual encampment, with Governor James V. Allred heading the list of speakers appearing before the veterans.

The Rough Riders of '98 hadn't forgotten "T. R." today, as the heroes of San Juan Hill joined with those of other fights in the Cuban campaign, the Philippine insurrection and the Boxer rebellion in the activities of the encampment.

Pombo Wins Hand Of His Senorita

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 17. (AP)—It took more than four months to do it, but Juan Ignacio Pombo has apparently succeeded at last—not only in completing his flight from Spain to Mexico City but in winning the hand of Maria Elena Rivero.

The senorita and her mother were packing their baggage for a trip of their own, back to Spain, but the mother said: "Now I have three children, one in Spain and two here."

Overcoming several delays due to motor trouble and bad weather, a forced landing that almost cost his life in Brazil and an acute attack of appendicitis in Costa Rica, Pombo finally landed here yesterday after his flight to pay suit to his childhood sweetheart.

As he met Senorita Rivero at the Spanish embassy, Pombo exclaimed: "I have kept my promise."

He escorted his sweetheart to the railroad station and accompanied her on the train to the nearby town of Guadalupe, whence she and her mother prepared to travel to Santander, Spain—where Pombo took off May 12 and where her father was buried several weeks ago.

As the train left the station, Senorita Rivero's mother appeared at a window of her compartment and shouted to the crowd: "Take care of my son," referring to Pombo. "I will leave him here with you."

NOVEL IDEA FOR OBSERVING CONSTITUTION DAY

MORNING STAR

— BY MARIAN SIMS —

"Not bein' able to laugh, for instance, or to slip the leash occasionally."

Mrs. Felton bridled. She felt that he was presuming upon the obligation she was under. "You see what happens when a child of eight does slip the leash, as you call it."

"Noin. This is what happens when she don't slip it occasionally." He turned to the tearful Emily. "Did you ever steal green apples, or run away and go wadin' before the correct day to go wadin'?"

Emily shook her head. Until this recent revolt none of the extralegal pleasures had seemed even a remote possibility.

"Then," he concluded, "that's why you ran away to join a street carnival. If I was you, ma'am," he suggested to Frances Felton, "I'd give her a little more rope."

Mrs. Felton's pretty chin looked stubborn. "I shall be the judge of that." She produced a bill and handed it to him. "I'm really very grateful to you."

He took the bill and looked at it thoughtfully. "I wouldn't take this," he said at last, with a disrespectful twinkle. "If your husband hadn't charged us too much for that lot."

With that one brief bid for freedom Emily's energy was spent.

When Emily was sixteen the question of college arose. Mrs. Felton considered it judicially with her husband.

"Ardmore is really an excellent school," Mr. Felton considered it too. Besides being president of the soundest bank in northern Alabama, he was big and shrewd and twinkling; but he was no match for his wife.

"Ardmore's no pink tea," he murmured. "I'd like to go to Bryn Mawr."

Emily put in knowing quite well that she would go where Frances decided to send her.

"But Ardmore has almost as high a standard, and it's near enough for us to see you every week or so," Frances pointed out.

That, Emily thought to herself, was why she put in for Bryn Mawr. Bryn Mawr was twenty-four hours from home, and she wouldn't have that uncomfortable feeling that her mother was apt to drop in at any time.

Her mother was wonderful, and Emily had no intention of doing anything of which she might disapprove, but college was supposed to foster independence, wasn't it?

Frances Felton didn't think so. Her idea of parenthood was careful supervision until the day when she could commit her daughter, in a state of pristine innocence, to the arms of some fine young man selected by herself. She was plump and pretty and deceptively soft; that type of woman who boasts of not cutting her hair or shortening her skirts because "John won't let me," thereby preserving her own illusion of complete submission.

She expected to rear her daughter in the same illusion; to hand on the torch to a young man of unimpeachable morals. A decade ago there were a great many women of her type; it is probable that there always will be. And Ardmore was chosen as her daughter's Alma Mater.

The next fall Emily entered Ardmore. She was seventeen, then; slight and dark, with a small, exquisitely chiseled face that might one day flame into beauty. Mrs. Felton had selected her wardrobe carefully; excellent garments appropriate for a child of seventeen.

She herself had been married at seventeen, but the fact had escaped her mind, and Emily's clothes, although quite as expensive, were not at all those of a bride.

Edwin Barnes came over the night before she left to say goodbye.

The boys didn't like him a great deal because he cramped their style; not intentionally, but thoroughly. He tried to laugh at their jokes, but it wasn't until everyone else had laughed that he realized they were jokes, and that made him difficult.

With Emily he felt thoroughly at ease, probably because Emily rarely laughed either. She had tried it once or twice with Edwin, but the result was discouraging, and she had relapsed at last into gravity.

They sat in a swing on the terrace, chaperoned by a flood of golden light from the living-room window. There was a moon shining, and the air was heavy with the sweetness of a nearby rose garden. But Edwin manfully kept his head and talked about college.

"I understand that Ardmore has the finest swimming pool in the South," said Emily, without enthusiasm. She was watching Ed-win's face in the luminous darkness and realizing for the first time that it had a certain delicate beauty. She had a sudden thrill of horror at her own depravity, that he would quit talking about swimming pools and take her in his arms. She had never kissed anyone but her own family, but this sense of closing a door on childhood was doing something to her.

Edwin was watching the small, quiet face near his own and longing to do the same thing, but the wholesale grocery business had been very uncertain of late, and the knowledge restrained him.

"Are you going to write to me sometimes?" he asked instead, with a wistfulness that might have betrayed a great deal to one who knew the signs.

Because she sensed that Edwin would never so far forget himself as to kiss a girl until he had proposed to her, and because tonight she was weary of caution, Emily's voice was sharp.

"What's the use? I'll probably be coming home every week-end."

He didn't insist. That was the worst of Edwin: he never insisted. He put forth a request of a suggestion as tentatively as an insect puts forth its legs, and at the first sign of opposition snatched it quickly back. Emily wondered idly about the grocery business: sure it required more aggressiveness than that.

"And can I see you when you're at home?"

"Of course. You always have."

Edwin was discouraged. He rose slowly from the swing. "Well, you'll want to get an early start tomorrow, so I'd better be going."

At the door of his car he turned and took her hand. "I—hope you enjoy it a lot," he said unsteadily.

She saw in his eyes that he wanted to kiss her, and her small face was suddenly alive and vivid. "I'll try."

He leaned swiftly toward her, and Emily's lashes drooped over shining eyes. Then as swiftly he caught himself and stopped. He pressed her hand, hard.

"Goodbye," he muttered, and got quickly into the car.

In her own room Emily rested her forehead against the delicately carved bedpost and closed her eyes. "He's like everything else I've ever known," she whispered wearily. "A careful and safe." Her mouth hardened suddenly. "I wonder if all my life is going to be that way?"

Tomorrow, Emily makes an invaluable friend.

HEAR THE NEW RADIOS AT YOUR DEALERS

The new all wave radios have been improved consistently during the past year. Now it is easy to obtain programs from all parts of the world. Imagine a symphony from Germany, an operetta from France. Educational talks from England, Hawaiian bands and popular music from all parts of the United States all in one evening. These and many more interesting features may be yours from the time the all wave radio enters your home.

The fidelity with which programs are reproduced by the all wave radios is marvelous were it possible for you to first hear bits of the actual program in the studio and alternately hear this same production over the new all wave radio it would be difficult to distinguish one from the other.

When you hear the all wave radio you will instantly realize that your old set is now obsolete. The new radios are reasonably priced. Perhaps your dealer can arrange convenient terms for you.

DANCERS AND SPECTATORS THROUGH COLORFUL PIONEER BALL

GRAND MARCH IS WITNESSED BY HUNDREDS

AMUSEMENT OF FORMER DECADE ATTRACTS OLD-TIMERS

The amazing and thrilling success which old-fashioned dances have achieved in Pampa in the past, was in striking evidence again last night at the Pioneer ball and square dance.

Bearing in mind the huge crowds that packed the high school gym during the last two Pre-Centennials, and taking note of the jammed gymnasium last night, one became aware that the favorite entertainment of the '30s and '90s was the favorite amusement 50 years later.

It also became evident that the old-fashioned dances such as the polka, the schottische, the square dance, new shoes, which are now so recent folk dances, stand a good chance to be revived in Pampa, with young people as well as their parents participating. An old-fashioned dance school would undoubtedly draw a lot of people.

125 Couples in March

At 10 o'clock last night when the Grand March began, every seat in the auditorium was filled. More than 600 spectators saw the dances at one time or another. Approximately 125 couples participated in the Grand March—undoubtedly the biggest Grand March ever held in the Panhandle. Despite the closely packed lines of men and women that participated in it, the March developed into a series of stately and beautiful patterns, and the dancers had little difficulty in following the leader.

W. A. Bratton and Mrs. Raymond Harrah. Scores of women and many men wore old-time costumes. Miss Frances McCue played the march and the piano music came out satisfactorily over a loud speaker. When the figures and patterns of the march were completed, the 125 couples moved into an old-time waltz. Mrs. E. A. Shackleton directed the march.

Set Draws Attention

The dancers came from many towns in this section. The youth of Pampa was present. The visitors came from farms, ranches, towns. There was a set that came from Spring Lake over on the river near Berger. This set whose caller was J. P. Garland was one of the best on the floor. They danced shaki and red handkerchief and presented a colorful and striking picture.

The dance was a Pioneer ball in more ways than one. It lasted until 4 a. m. this morning and at that time some of the old timers, one a great-grandfather and one a grand mother, were dancing just as strong as when they began at 7:30. The house was almost filled by 8 o'clock.

Many Callers, Fiddlers

There was an overflow of callers and fiddlers. Undoubtedly, the best fiddlers and callers in West Texas were present. Ten old-time fiddlers were entered in the old-fiddlers' contest. There were at least a dozen callers present. Most of the callers had their own sets. There was a horde of accompanists, including guitars, a mandolin and an accordion. The gym was not decorated as attractively as it might have been. The occasion demanded a more colorful setting.

Waltzes, square dances preceded the march which was followed by the contest dances. One "square" was danced at a time, then two at a time. The old fiddlers' contest began at 9:30 and lasted until 10 o'clock. Then followed more contest dances. The best costume prize was awarded to Mrs. Inez Carter. Judges found it exceedingly difficult to pick the "best" dancers from among a hundred couples most of whom were as good as the best. The costume contest was also unusually close.

Money Given To Clubs

The dance was a success for the three music clubs, the Philharmonic, the Treble Clef and the Junior Treble Clef, to which the proceeds were given to help finance the music clubs' convention here in October. The sum raised last night was sufficient to pay most of the convention expenses, it was believed.

Skirt, Blouse, Jacket Suit—Daughter

Just at Age to Appreciate Something Smart for Fall Days

By ELLEN WORTH

Growing daughter will just adore a little three-piece suit like this for first fall school days. It's so very practical, too, besides being smart!

Brown and aqua checked angora woolen made the model pictured. The detachable collar and cuffs of the jacket, matched the plain brown wool jersey blouse. Plain aqua blue cotton broadcloth blouse, would also be lovely by way of a change.

Twedy cotton in dark blue is effective with plain bright red cotton used for the blouse, collar and cuffs of this easily made suit.

Style No. 930 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for skirt and jacket and 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for blouse, collar and cuffs with 1 yard of 4-inch ribbon for bow.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

BY MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

A vegetable salad with toasted meat sandwiches is one of my favorite September lunches. I spread the meat mixture on a thick slice of buttered bread, roll it up like a jelly roll, cut it down in slices and toast the slices.

My salad I make of finely shredded Chinese cabbage and sweet green peppers with a border of sliced pickled beets. It is perfectly simple but it looks unusually attractive.

Easy to Make

But the sandwiches are the real achievement. We have named them corned beef rolls.

Two half-inch slices of bread, cut lengthwise of loaf, 1-1/4 cups finely chopped cold boiled corned beef, 2 teaspoons minced onion, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1-3 cup mayonnaise.

Use spread as fresh as you can cut it evenly, because the fresher the bread the neater the rolls. Remove crust and spread lightly with softened butter. Mix beef, onion and mayonnaise and spread on bread. Spread with mustard and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut each roll in four slices one inch thick. Place on a buttered baking sheet, cut side up. Brush with melted butter and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) until crisp and toasted. It will take about twenty minutes.

FIRST MEETING OF FALL HELD IN BAKER P-TA

GET-ACQUAINTED HOUR FOLLOWS BUSINESS MEETING

Welcoming new teachers and the mothers children just entering B. M. Baker school, the first Parent-Teacher meeting of the fall was conducted there yesterday evening with an informal program.

Committee chairmen for the year were announced, and a report on summer health work was heard in the business session. Mrs. Cecil Lunford's resignation from the office of president was received and accepted with regret. A new president will be named at the next meeting.

Committee chairmen named were Mrs. Jack Ross, publicity; Mrs. Claude Lard, program, with Mrs. R. K. Douglas and J. A. Meek as assistants; Mrs. Roy Holt, membership, with Mrs. Roof and Mrs. Homer Simmons as assistants; Mrs. M. D. Dwight, hospitality. Each chairman is to name helpers to her committee.

Mrs. Roof reported on summer roundup work just completed. She and her assistants called at 79 homes of prospective first-grade pupils, she said.

A get-acquainted program started with introduction of teachers by Principal Meek, songs led by Miss Evelyn Shanklin with Mrs. W. B. Bounds at the piano, and games. Prizes were given to the teacher and the mother who could identify the most members.

Mmes. Dwight, Harrison, and T. O. McKinney served refreshments after the program.

Announcement was made that the band mothers would meet at 2:30 Friday in the cafeteria room of Baker school. All mothers of prospective band members are invited.

This luncheon is apple candy.

Apple Candy

Three cups thinly sliced apples; 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup light brown sugar, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 3-4 cup flour, 1/2 cup butter.

Mix granulated sugar and cinnamon and combine with apples in a buttered baking dish. Mix brown sugar and flour and cut in butter with pastry blender. Sprinkle evenly over apples and bake forty-five minutes in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) Serve warm with whipped cream.

Another good luncheon for a hot September noon is built around stuffed eggplant. With this, seven raisin bread and ginger ale coolers.

Stuffed Eggplant

One medium sized eggplant, 3 tomatoes, 1 cup fine dried bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1 cup chopped shrimp, salmon or tuna fish, coarse buttered crumbs.

Boil eggplant until tender. Drain and cut in halves the long way. Remove pulp and chop. Add tomatoes peeled and chopped, fine dried bread crumbs, butter, salt and pepper and fish. Fill the egg-plant shells with this mixture. Cover with coarse buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) until brown on top.

Texan Rewarded After 23 Years For Brave Deed

UVALDE, Sept. 18. (AP)—Twenty-three years ago, D. A. Trousdale, railway express messenger, foiled an attempted robbery of the mail and express cars of a Southern Pacific train near Dryden by slaying two hold-up men. He now has been notified that President Roosevelt has signed a bill awarding him $1,000 for bravery.

Trousdale is a veteran employe of the express company and for many years has been on a regular run between San Antonio and El Paso. Immediately after the holdup he was rewarded substantially by the railroad, express and insurance companies, and the passengers bought him a gold watch.

One night in 1912, two men boarded a west bound Southern Pacific train near Del Rio and when near Dryden crawled into the engine cab, covered the engine crew with pistols and stopped the train. The engineer and firemen were forced to dismount from the cab, and as members of the train crew approached to ascertain the cause of the unscheduled stop they likewise were covered. The negro porter was forced to disconnect the mail and baggage cars and they were taken a mile farther down the track where rifling of the mail and baggage cars was started. On a pretext of wanting to obtain his coat as a protection from the cold night air, Trousdale got one of the bandits into the express car. In one of the robber's unguarded moments, Trousdale grabbed a heavy hickory mallet and struck him on the back of the head, killing him instantly. Lights in the car were extinguished and when the other robber went to the car to call his companion, Trousdale shot him in the head, killing him instantly.

The robbers were buried in a West Texas town without being identified.

HEARINGS FOR REPEAL BILLS START TODAY

FOUR PLANS WILL BE CONSIDERED BY LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 18. (AP)—Advocates of rival liquor control plans prepared today for committee hearings as the legislature tackled two other topics submitted by Governor Allred.

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogota completed all hearing salaries for officers removed from the fee basis by a constitutional amendment of which he was author.

Meanwhile, Senator Albert Stone of Brenham asked for early committee action on a revised bill to alter the Erasos river conservation and reclamation district under conformity to federal requirements for a $30,000,000 grant.

Hearings on a license system liquor control bill drafted by wet leaders were underway in the senate state affairs committee. Committees planned to hear other interested parties after Elbert Hooper, who helped write the measure, completed an explanation.

With three rival plans before it, the house liquor traffic committee scheduled its initial hearing tomorrow. It also would open with the license system bill, identical to that offered in the senate.

Friday it would consider a state monopoly plan offered by Rep. C. E. Nicholson of Port Neches, and Monday another state dispensary system bill proposed by Rep. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

The first liquor legislation to reach the house floor on a committee report would authorize charters for corporations to manufacture, distill and rectify spirituous liquors. It was approved 10 to 1.

Miami Lad Tells Of N. Mexico Trip And Many Sights

BY HERMAN HOSKINS JR.

Miami, Texas

I was born in Roberts county and reared in Miami, among the best people on earth. For that reason possibly I did not have to work as hard as some of the boys who went on a vacation trip offered to the carriers by the Pampa NEWS.

However, the trip was well worth trying for as you will see, and try I did and won.

So on Aug. 17, fourteen carriers ranging in age from 13 to 80 years and several adults of the NEWS force, directed by Mr. Nunn and Mr. Johnson, left Pampa for our trip. All were feeling fine and jokes and pranks were the order of the day.

We arrived at our camp in Holy Ghost canyon and simply devoured the dinner waiting for us. Next day was Sunday and we rested and leisurely spent the day sight seeing and enjoying the beautiful scenery near the camp.

Monday was a great day. We went to Santa Fe. There we enjoyed driving around looking at the beautiful Spanish structures, some of them very ancient. Next we enjoyed a delicious lunch prepared by our "famous" cook, Mr. Goodman. After lunch we called on the governor of the state, Mr. Tingley. I was very much impressed with this clever, friendly gentleman. He treated us royally and I felt it an honor to shake the hand of this great governor and pass a few words with him.

We were permitted to go through the mansion and saw so many interesting things I could not mention them all. We were a bit disappointed in not seeing Mrs. Tingley as she was away on a visit.

Leaving the mansion, I did not feel at all like I was being taken to the penitentiary, but before we realized it we were inside the big state prison gates, and of course just being visitors we were seeing the interesting side of everything.

We saw the everyday life as the prisoner lives it, saw them barbering, cooking, sewing, laundering, and working at other professional trades. We saw many hardened looking men.

We went into the death chamber and saw the electric chair. It is a comfortable looking chair, and I seated myself in it but did not sit long enough for anyone pushing a button. It was all very interesting but I certainly would not like to make it my home.

At the museum, which we visited next, we saw many old relics. The oldest church in the United States is also in Santa Fe. It is well preserved on the outside and looks as if it would stand many years more.

Next day we divided—some of us went to the mines and others to the Puye ruins. We came together again at Santa Fe. Another interesting evening was a visit to Earnest Thompson Seton village. There we heard a lecture by a man who told us how he was completing an Indian Bible.

We left for home Wednesday the 21st, a little tired but thrilled and happy over our trip. I must not forget to mention another thing I enjoyed very much. That was the rain—at least some of the older ones told me that was what it was. I am only 13 years old and lived in the Panhandle all my life and have seen very little rain, so that's why I enjoyed it so much.

It will be no trouble for me to remember this trip as long as I live, and I just don't have words to thank the men of the Pampa NEWS, the P. K. Service Station, the good people of Miami and everyone else who in any way made it possible for me to have such a wonderful trip with good eats and all my expenses paid. I thank all of you.

Mooney Believes His Hearing Will End in Failure

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18. (AP)—Thomas J. Mooney began a new fight for freedom today, convinced it will end in failure.

"I do not believe anything will come of this hearing," said the convicted 1916 preparedness day bomber, whose noted case will be reviewed by a referee appointed by the California supreme court.

He had just lost the first skirmish in which his attorneys had sought to have the referee, A. E. Walsh, rule on the admissibility of testimony.

The supreme court ruled all questioned testimony should remain in the record, to be ruled upon later by the court itself.

The referee's hearing, expected to last three or four weeks, is on a petition for writ of habeas corpus in which the Mooney attorneys contend he was convicted on perjured testimony.

"I have a feeling that whatever relief I may obtain eventually will come from the United States supreme court. That's my only chance," said Mooney.

Convicted of murder as a result of the bombing, in which ten persons were killed and 40 injured, Mooney already has spent 19 years of a life sentence in San Quentin prison.

LONG MACHINE IS IN DANGER OF EXPLODING

ALLEN'S LEADERSHIP IS QUESTIONED BY HIS RIVALS

BY RALPH WHEATLEY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18. (AP)—The political machine left by Senator Huey P. Long stood in danger of exploding from spontaneous combustion today unless a dispute among its lieutenants could be quelled.

Governor O. K. Allen, who became field captain of the forces after the death of Senator Long from a pistol bullet, was having a hard time keeping his ambitious lieutenants in the ranks. Too many of them wanted to be the captain.

The governor yesterday called in his leaders from the country parishes and started to tell them what he wanted done, as he had seen his chief lieutenant Long do. But the country boys began to ask questions and talk back.

The Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, "shure-the-wealth" organizer, threatened to take his followers, whom he estimated at 300,000, to another camp if his group was not consulted in framing a slate of candidates for the January election.

Until that happened it appeared that a selection might have been made between Allen J. Ellender, speaker of the Louisiana house, and Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe as the candidate for governor. That placed Noe and Ellender back in the running, with Ellender perhaps a stride in front.

Governor Allen did make clear, however, that an election would be held to fill the unexpired term of Senator Long. He pointed out that under the Louisiana law appointment cannot be made to the senate for a term exceeding one year, and that Long's term has a year and three months to run.

The governor plans to call a special election for the unexpired term on the same date as the regular election, when the democrats will nominate a senator, a governor and all state officials.

It has been nearly agreed that Wade O. Martin, public service commissioner, will run for the short term and Governor Allen will run for the regular six-year term starting in January, 1937. Thus Governor Allen could complete his term as governor expiring in May before going to the senate, if he should be elected.

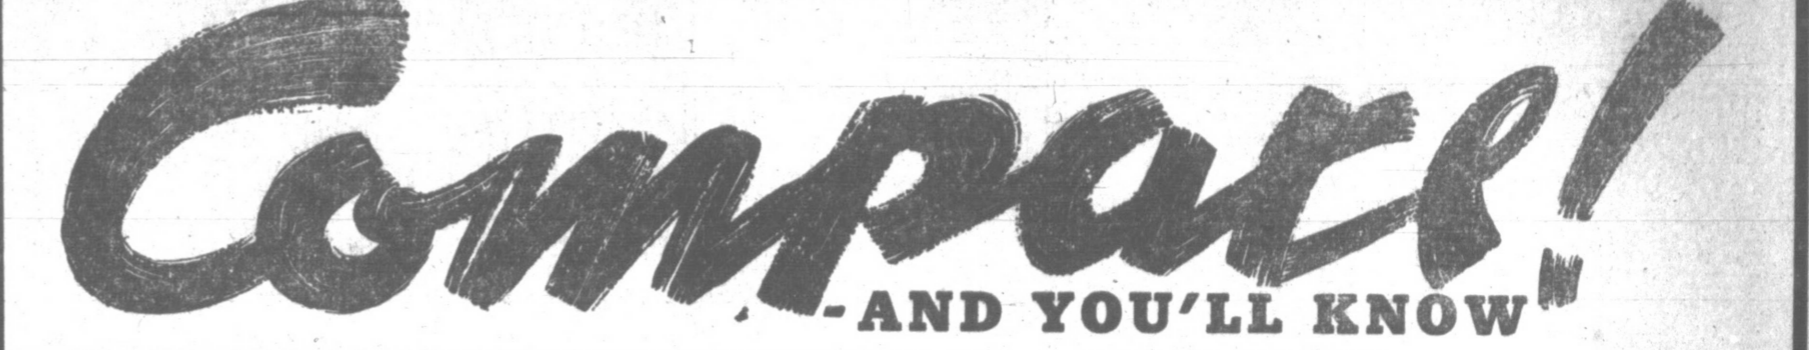

Earl Long, brother of Senator Long, also has gubernatorial aspirations. Some of the factions in the machine look on him favorably as a candidate for lieutenant governor, while others oppose his presence on the ticket.

The anti-Long organization watched the smoke rising from the Allen camp gleefully, as smoke also is rising from their field. They are having a hard time building up a united front, and they probably will wait until Allen announces his ticket before advancing their slate.

In this faction, the two congressmen, Cleveland Dear and J. Y. Sanders Jr., stood prominently in the battle over selection for the governor's race. Rep. John Sandlin and Eugene Stanley, former district attorney of Orleans parish, have substantial backing for the senatorial candidacy.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. DANCERS AND SPECTATORS THROUG' COLORFUL PIONEER BALL

AMUSEMENT OF FORMER DECADE ATTRACTS OLD-TIMERS

The amazing and thrilling success which old-fashioned dances have achieved in Pampa in the past, was in striking evidence again last night at the Pioneer ball and square dance.

Bearing in mind the huge crowds that packed the high school gym during the last two Pre-Centennials, and taking note of the jammed gymnasium last night, one became aware that the favorite entertainment of the '80s and '90s was the favorite amusement 50 years later.

It also became evident that the old-fashioned dances such as the polka, the schottische, the square dance, new shotes, with the recent folk dances, stand a good chance to be revived in Pampa, with young people as well as their parents participating. An old-fashioned dance school would undoubtedly draw a lot of people.

125 Couples in March

At 10 o'clock last night when the Grand March began, every seat in the auditorium was filled. More than 600 spectators saw the dances at one time or another. Approximately 125 couples participated in the Grand March, undoubtedly the biggest Grand March ever held in the Panhandle. Despite the closely packed lines of men and women that participated in it, the March developed into a series of stately and beautiful patterns, and the dancers had little difficulty following the leaders, Mayor W. A. Bratton and Mrs. Raymond Harrah. Scores of women and many men wore old-time costumes. Miss Frances McCue played the march and the piano music came out satisfactorily over a loud speaker. When the figures of the Grand March were completed, the 125 couples moved into an old-time waltz. Mrs. E. A. Shackleton directed the march.

Set Draws Attention

The dancers came from many towns in this section. The only one who was absent, although many old timers were present. The visitors came from farms, ranches, towns. There was a set that came from Spring Lake over on the river near Berger. This set whose caller was J. P. Garland, was the only one on the floor. They wore khaki and red handkerchiefs and presented a colorful and striking picture.

The dance was a Pioneer ball in more ways than one. It lasted until 4 a. m. this morning and at that time some of the old timers, one a great-grandfather and one a grand mother were going just as strong as when they began at 7:30. The house was almost filled by 8 o'clock.

Many Callers, Fiddlers

There was an overflow of callers and fiddlers. Undoubtedly the best fiddlers and callers in West Texas were entered in the old-fiddlers' contest. There were at least a dozen callers present. Most of the callers had their own sets. There was a horse of accompanists, including guitars, a mandolin and an accordion. The gym was not decorated as attractively as it might have been. The occasion demanded a more colorful setting.

Waltzes, square dances preceded the march which was followed by the contest dances. One "square" was danced at a time, then two at a time. The old fiddlers' contest began at 9:30 and lasted until 10 o'clock. Then followed more contest dances. The best costume prize was awarded to Mrs. Inez Carter, of Clyde Ridgeway, Pampa; J. O. Searl, Pampa; Buck Koonce, Pampa; M. H. Anderson, Quitaque; Homer Ratliff, LeFors; J. H. Searl, Pampa; Geo. E. Cottrell, Canadian, and Jas. Pool, Pampa.

Money Given to Clubs

The dance was a success for the three music clubs, the Philharmonic, the Treble Clef and the Junior Treble Clef, to which the proceeds were given to help finance the music clubs' convention here in October. The sum raised last night was sufficient to pay most of the convention expenses, it was believed. Mrs. J. M. Dodson was chairman of the finance committee for the dance and Archer Fullingim was general chairman. Mrs. J. Herman Jones was in charge of ticket sales. Before the dance the two women sold 69 tickets between them.

Prizes

The awards were as follows: Oldtime fiddling: First, Buck Koonce, Pampa; second, Homer Ratliff, LeFors; third, J. A. Moses, Pampa.

Best costume: Mrs. Inez Carter, Pampa.

Best caller: W. R. Palmer, LeFors; second J. P. Garland; third, Ernest Norman.

Skirt, Blouse, Jacket Suit—Daughter

Just at Age to Appreciate Something Smart for Fall Days

By ELLEN WORTH

Growing daughter will just adore a little three-piece suit like this for first fall school years. It's so very practical, too, besides being smart!

Brown and aqua checked angora woolen made the model pictured. The detachable collar and cuffs of the jacket, matched the plain brown wool jersey blouse. Plain aqua blue cotton broadcloth blouse, would also be lovely by way of a change.

Tweedie cotton in dark blue is effective with plain bright red cotton used for the blouse, collar and cuffs of this easily made suit.

Style No. 930 is designed for sizes 6, 8, 10, 12 and 14 years. Size 8 requires 2 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for skirt and jacket and 1 1/2 yards of 35-inch material for blouse, collar and cuffs with 1 yard of 4-inch ribbon for bow.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

BY MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

A vegetable salad with toasted meat sandwiches is one of my favorite September lunches. I spread the meat mixture on a thick slice of buttered bread, roll it up like a jelly roll, cut it down in slices and toast the slices.

My salad I make of finely shredded Chinese cabbage and sweet green peppers with a border of sliced pickled beets. It is perfectly simple but it looks unusually attractive.

Easy to Make But the sandwiches are the real achievement. We have named them corned beef rolls.

Two half-inch slices of bread, cut lengthwise of loaf, 1-1/4 cups finely chopped cold boiled corned beef, 2 teaspoons minced onion, 3 tablespoons melted butter, 2 tablespoons prepared mustard, 1-3 cup mayonnaise.

Use bread as fresh as you can get it, evenly because the fresher the bread the neater the rolls. Remove crust and spread lightly with soft-ened butter. Mix beef, onion and mayonnaise and spread on bread. Spread with mustard and roll up like a jelly roll. Cut each roll in four slices one inch thick. Place on a buttered baking sheet, cut side up. Brush with melted butter and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) until crisp and toasted. It will take about twenty minutes.

A delicious dessert to serve with

Tomorrow's Menu BREAKFAST: Plums, cereal, cream, crisp broiled bacon, bread crumb pancakes, syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Corned beef rolls, Chinese cabbage salad, apple candy, milk, tea.

DINNER: Cream of corn soup, baked cottage ham, glazed sweet potatoes, creamed cauliflower, fruit salad, toasted cheese cups, milk, coffee.

FIRST MEETING OF FALL HELD IN BAKER P-TA

GET-ACQUAINTED HOUR FOLLOWS BUSINESS MEETING

Welcoming new teachers and the mothers of children just entering B. M. Baker school, the first Parent-Teacher meeting of the fall was conducted here yesterday evening with an informal program.

Committee chairmen for the year were announced, and a report on summer health work was heard in the business session. Mrs. Cecil Lunsford's resignation from the office of president was received and accepted with regret. A new president will be named at the next meeting.

Committee chairmen named were Mrs. Jack Ross, publicity; Mrs. Claude Lard, program; with Mrs. R. K. Douglas and J. A. Meek as assistants; Mrs. Roy Hill, membership; with Mrs. Roof and Mrs. Homer Simmons as assistants; Mrs. M. D. Dwight, hospitality. Each chairman is to name helpers to her committee.

Mrs. Roof reported on summer roundup work just completed. She and her assistants called at 79 homes of prospective first-grade pupils.

The get-acquainted program started with introduction of teachers by Principal Meek, songs led by Miss Evelyn Shanklin with Mrs. W. B. Bonds at the piano, and games.

Prizes were given to the teacher and the mother who could identify the most members.

Mmes. Dwight, Harrison, and T. O. McKinney served refreshments after the program.

Announcement was made that the band mothers would meet at 2:30 Friday in the cafeteria room of Baker school. All mothers of prospective band members are invited.

this luncheon is apple candy.

Apple Candy Three cups thinly sliced apples, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 cup light brown sugar, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, 3-4 cup flour, 1/2 cup butter.

Mix granulated sugar and cinnamon and combine with apples in a buttered baking dish. Mix brown sugar and flour and cut in butter with pastry blender. Sprinkle evenly over apples and bake forty-five minutes in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees F.) Serve warm with whipped cream.

Another good luncheon for a hot September noon is built around corned beef rolls.

Stuffed Eggplant One medium sized eggplant, 3 tomatoes, 1 cup fine dried bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-8 teaspoon pepper, 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1 cup chopped shrimp, salmon or tuna fish, coarse buttered crumbs.

Boil eggplant until tender. Drain and cut in halves the long way. Remove pulp and chop. Add to tomatoes peeled and chopped, fine dried bread crumbs, butter, salt and pepper and fish. Fill the egg-plant shells with this mixture. Cover with coarse buttered crumbs and bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) until brown on top.

Texan Rewarded After 23 Years For Brave Deed

UVALDE, Sept. 18. (AP)—Twenty-three years ago, D. A. Trousedale, railway express messenger, foiled an attempted robbery of the mail and express cars of a Southern Pacific train near Dryden by slaying two hold-up men. He now has been notified that President Roosevelt will award him $1,000 for bravery.

Trousedale is a veteran employee of the express company and for many years has been on a regular run between San Antonio and El Paso. Immediately after the holdup he was rewarded substantially by the railroad, express and insurance companies, and the passengers bought him a gold watch.

One night in 1912, two men boarded a west bound Southern Pacific train near Del Rio and when near Dryden crawled into the engine cab, covered the engine crew with pistols and stopped the train. The engineer and firemen were forced to dismount from the cab, and as members of the train crew approached to ascertain the cause of the unscheduled stop they likewise were covered. The negro porter was forced to disconnect the mail and baggage cars and they were taken a mile farther down the track where rifling of the mail and baggage cars was started. On a pretext of wanting to obtain his coat as a protection from the cold night air, Trousedale got one of the bandits into the express car. In one of the robber's unguarded moments, Trousedale grabbed a heavy hickory mallet and struck him on the back of the head, killing him instantly. Lights in the car were extinguished and when the other robber went to the car to call his companion Trousedale shot him in the head, killing him instantly.

The robbers were buried in a West Texas town without being identified.

TEXAS COURSE OF STUDY FOR CLUB STARTED

CIVIC CULTURE CLUB IS ENTERTAINED BY MRS. DICKINSON

The groundwork for their course of study on Texas was laid by Civic Culture club yesterday afternoon, when a program on the geography of the state was given at the home of Mrs. V. L. Dickinson.

Mrs. H. H. Isbell was leader. Roll call required each member to name and locate a principal city of Texas, and the meeting ended with a map drawing contest in which the state boundaries, principal rivers and cities were indicated.

The best map was drawn by Mrs. C. P. Bradbury, who received a suitable award. Mrs. Isbell had discussed the topography of the state and the drainage system, and Mrs. M. A. McGowan the climate and rainfall variations.

Delicious refreshments were served to a guest, Mrs. Ward, and to the members, Mmes. Ralph Thomas, McGowan, Paul Jensen, Bradbury, B. C. Fahy, Irvin Cole, Hart, Isbell, and Katie Vincent.

Eighth Birthday of Boy Being Honored

Bob Farman Jr. is being honored on his eighth birthday this afternoon with a surprise party at his home, 620 S. Finley. Eight boys, his schoolmates at B. M. Baker school, are guests.

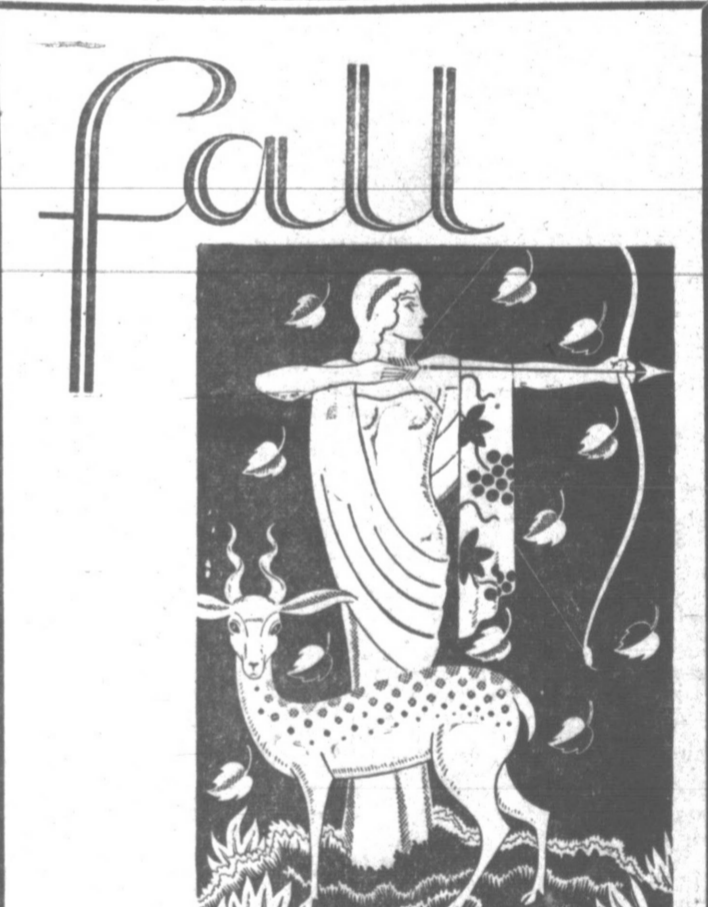

Outdoor games have been planned to entertain the group, and refreshments to end the afternoon.

Estimates of the population of Szechuan, largest province of China proper, range from 54,500,000 to 61,500,000.

HEARINGS FOR REPEAL BILLS START TODAY

FOUR PLANS WILL BE CONSIDERED BY LEGISLATURE

AUSTIN, Sept. 18. (AP)—Advocates of rival liquor control plans prepared today for committee hearings as the legislature tackled two other topics submitted by Governor Allred.

Senator Tom Dabney of Bogota completed his bill fixing salaries for officers removed from the fee basis by a constitutional amendment of which he was author.

Meanwhile, Senator Albert Stone of Brenham asked for early committee action on a revised bill to alter the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district act in conformity to federal requirements for a $30,000,000 grant.

Hearings on a license system liquor control bill drafted by wet leaders were underway in the senate state affairs committee. Committee members planned to hear other interests after Elbert Hooper, who helped write the measure, completed an explanation.

With three rival plans before it, the house liquor traffic committee scheduled its initial hearing tomorrow. It also would open with the license system bill, identical to that offered in the senate.

Friday it would consider a state monopoly plan offered by Rep. C. E. Nicholson of Fort Neches, and Monday another state dispensary plan proposed by Rep. George Moffett of Chillicothe.

The first liquor legislation to reach the house floor on a committee report would authorize charters for corporations to manufacture, distill and rectify various liquors. It was approved 10 to 1.

Miami Lad Tells Of N. Mexico Trip And Many Sights

BY HERMAN HOSKINS JR.

I was born in Roberts county and reared in Miami, among the best people on earth. For that reason possibly I did not have to work as hard as some of the boys who won a vacation trip offered to the carriers by the Pampa NEWS.

However, the trip was well worth trying for as you will see, and try I did and won.

So on Aug. 17, fourteen carriers ranging in age from 13 to 80 years and several adults of the NEWS force, directed by Mr. Miami and Mr. Johnson, left Pampa for our trip. All were feeling fine and jokes and pranks were the order of the day.

We arrived at our camp in Holy Ghost canyon and simply devoured the dinner waiting for us. Next day was Sunday and we rested, and leisurely spent the day sight seeing and enjoying the beautiful scenery near the camp.

Monday was a great day. We went to Santa Fe. There we enjoyed driving around looking at the beautiful Spanish structures, some of them very ancient. Next we enjoyed a delicious lunch prepared by our "famous" cook, Mr. Goodman. After lunch we called on the governor of the state, Mr. Tingley. He was very much impressed with this clever, friendly gentleman. He treated us royally and I felt it an honor to shake the hand of this great governor and pass a few words with him.

We were permitted to go through the mansion and saw so many interesting things I could not mention them all. We were a bit disappointed in not seeing Mrs. Tingley as she was away on a visit.

Leaving the mansion, I did not feel at all like I was being taken to the penitentiary, but before we realized it we were inside the big state prison gates, and of course just being visitors we were seeing the interesting side of everything.

We saw the everyday life as the prisoner lives it, saw them barbering, cooking, sewing, laundering, and working at other professional trades. We saw many hardened looking men.

We went into the death chamber and saw the electric chair. It is a comfortable looking chair, and I seated myself in it but did not sit long enough for anyone to push a button. It was all very interesting, but I certainly would not like to make it my home.

At the museum, which we visited next, we saw many old relics. The oldest church in the United States is also in Santa Fe. It is well preserved on the outside and looks as if it would stand many years more.

Next day we divided—some of us went to the mines and others to the Puye ruins. We came together again at Santa Fe. Another interesting event was a visit to Earnest Thompson Seton village. There we heard a lecture by a man who told us how he was completing an Indian Bible.

We left for home Wednesday the 21st, a little tired but thrilled and happy over our trip. I must not forget to mention another thing I enjoyed very much. That was the rain—at least some of the older ones told me that was what it was. I am only 13 years old and lived in the Panhandle all my life and have seen very little rain, so that's why I enjoyed it so much.

It will be no trouble for me to remember this trip as long as I live, and I just don't have words to thank the men of the Pampa NEWS, the P. K. Service Station, the good people of Miami and everyone else who in any way made it possible for me to have such a wonderful trip with good eats and all my expenses paid. I thank all of you.

Mooney Believes His Hearing Will End in Failure

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18. (AP)—Thomas J. Mooney began a new fight for freedom today, convinced it will end in failure.

"I do not believe anything will come of this hearing," said the convicted 1916 preparedness day bomber, whose noted case will be reviewed by a referee appointed by the California supreme court.

He had just lost the first skirmish in which his attorneys had sought to have the referee, A. E. Walsh, rule on the admissibility of testimony.

The supreme court ruled all questioned testimony should remain in the record, to be ruled upon later by the court itself.

The referee's hearing, expected to last three or four weeks, is on a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in which the Mooney attorneys contend he was convicted on perjured testimony.

"I have a feeling that whatever relief I may obtain eventually will come from the United States supreme court. That's my only chance," said Mooney.

Convicted of murder as a result of the bombing, in which ten persons were killed and 40 injured, Mooney already has spent 19 years of a life sentence in San Quentin prison.

ALLEN'S LEADERSHIP IS QUESTIONED BY HIS RIVALS

BY RALPH WHEATLEY, Associated Press Staff Writer.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18. (AP)—The political machine left by Senator Huey P. Long stood in danger of exploding from spontaneous combustion today unless a dispute among its lieutenants could be quelled.

Governor O. K. Allen, who became field captain of the forces after the death of Senator Long from a pistol bullet, was having a hard time keeping his ambitious lieutenants in the ranks. Too many of them wanted to be the captain.

The governor yesterday called in his leaders from the country parishes and started to tell them what he wanted done, as he had seen his lieutenant Long do. But the country boys began to ask questions and talk back.

Gov. Gerald L. K. Smith, "share-the-wealth" organizer, threatened to take his followers, whom he estimated at 300,000, to another camp if his group was not consulted in framing a slate of candidates for the January election.

Until that happened it appeared that a selection might have been made between Allen, J. Ellender, speaker of the Louisiana house, and Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe as the candidate for governor.

That placed Noe and Ellender back in the running, with Ellender perhaps a stride in front.

Governor Allen did make clear, however, that an election would be held to fill the unexpired term of Senator Long. He pointed out that under the Louisiana law appointment cannot be made to the senate for a term exceeding one year, and that Long's term has a year and three months to run.

The governor plans to call a special election for the unexpired term on the same date as the regular election, when the democrats will nominate a senator, a governor and all state officials.

It has been nearly agreed that Wade O. Martin, public service commissioner, will run for the short term and Governor Allen will run for the regular six-year term starting in January, 1937. Thus Governor Allen could complete his term as governor expiring in May before going to the senate, if he should be elected.

Earl Long, brother of Senator Long, also has gubernatorial aspirations. Some of the factions in the machine look on him favorably as a candidate for lieutenant governor, while others oppose his presence on the ticket.

The anti-Long organization watched the smoke rising from the Allen camp gleefully, as smoke also is rising from their field. They are having a hard time building up a united front, and they probably will wait until Allen announces his ticket before advancing their slate.

In this faction, the two congressmen, Cleveland Dear and J. Y. Sanders Jr., stood prominently in the battle over selection for the governor's race. Rep. John Sandlin and Eugene Stanley, former district attorney of Orleans parish, have substantial backing for the senatorial candidacy.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile to your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It kills. Use good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

BRITISH DENY PROSPECTS OF ITALIAN WAR

NOTHING PROVOCATIVE IN MANEUVERS, CLAIM. LONDON, Sept. 18. (AP)—A Downing street official said today nothing justifies any assumption that Great Britain's naval maneuvers in the Mediterranean are being made in anticipation of an outbreak of Anglo-Italian hostilities.

Concerning a war-like construction placed on the ship movements abroad, the official said: "There is nothing whatever to justify any such sensational observation. The movements are simply precautionary in view of the situation, and there is nothing provocative in them," he said.

It is most incredible to place such an interpretation on the naval movements. The possibility that the voluntary censorship which has kept the British public in the dark concerning the ship movements would be lifted was noted at Whitehall.

Fifty thousand British troops on maneuvers gave England a fore-taste of how quickly hostilities could follow a declaration of war. The soldiers were surprised yesterday by the general staff's sudden decision to advance by six hours the signal set for the opening of the biggest maneuvers known to "Britain in a decade."

At the zero hour, the opposing armies of "Eastland" and "Westland"—imaginary states created by military authorities for the maneuvers—were 30 miles apart. Despite the element of surprise, opposing outposts of the mechanized armies faced one another across a narrow strip of country within an hour of the declaration of "hostilities."

Armored cars seized strategic points such as crossroads and bridges and light tanks followed up in support. Prof. Howard Lee McCain of Columbia has concluded that "No fundamental change in our economic system, no far-reaching alteration in the relations of government about without changing the Constitution."

"We should not rush or drift into such important changes upon the high tide of an emergency. The common man should understand what is up." This point of view sympathizes with the supreme court's decisions such as NRA and railroad pensions.

The thing to do is to change the Constitution, so that the court must follow the new guide-posts. This fight for new economic liberty can be a victorious one without sacrificing any of the hard-won political or personal liberties which the Constitution was mainly designed to preserve.

Though most of the proponents of giving the federal government these new powers are somewhat vague on just what powers ought to be given and in just what terms they should be defined, they are clear that the right to enact wage laws, provide for pension and unemployment systems, and various means of controlling business practices are vital to nations of today.

Matters such as the power of the supreme court to invalidate laws of Congress which are not clearly defined in the Constitution, but have built themselves up, should be defined by amendments, they say, and the whole process of changing the Constitution, today an unwieldy, tiresome and long-drawn-out process, should be simplified. This winter's supreme court decisions on such laws as the Guffey coal control act, the Wagner labor relations act, the social security act, the banking act, and the holding company act, will amply show, this view contends, that the Constitution at present does not give Congress power to enact such laws.

Shall We Revise The Constitution?

BY WILLIS THORNTON NEWS Washington Correspondent. WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—Under heavy glass in a massive marble and bronze case in the Library of Congress here are several yellowing sheets of manuscript with fading signatures that were affixed 148 years ago. On Sept. 17, 1787, these very pages were adopted as the fundamental law under which "we, the people" of the United States, chose to govern ourselves.

The document was conceived in storm and stress, was bitterly argued and contested before being adopted, has been interpreted, contested, amended, and debated ever since. Twenty amendments have been added since those sheets were written and signed. The first 10, however, were really part of the original adopted as a portion of the original process of constitution making.

In the succeeding 148 years, only 10 changes have been made. Newton D. Baker has pointed out that out of 2,600 proposed changes, only these 20 have been accepted, five rejected, and the others not regarded as sufficiently mature even to be submitted to the people. It has proved one of the most durable written instruments in political history.

But on this 148th anniversary, a movement to scrutinize this document is spreading over the country. President Roosevelt himself, gravely and with deliberation, suggested, after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that NEA violated the Constitution, that within "five or ten years" American people must re-study their Constitution and determine whether basic law, devised for 18th century "horse-and-buggy days," is suitable in every way for a 20th century age of machinery, power, and close-knit national organization.

Following this lead, a flood of discussion instantly covered the country. Magazine articles, radio speeches, newspaper stories, pamphlets all aimed at informing people what the Constitution is, or persuading them that it ought or ought not to be changed. The 148th year of the American Constitution is definitely destined to be one in which the people will put it under a critical microscope and determine whether it needs overhauling.

Here is an effort to sketch the opposing points of view which will be advanced during the coming year: FAVORING Extensive Revision. Those who believe extensive or fundamental changes in the Constitution must be made in view of today's conditions argue somewhat as follows:

The Constitution was literally the product of a "horse-and-buggy" age, when the country had 4,000,000 people instead of 125,000,000, when communication was difficult, and life and business relations were simple. It was a charter of political liberty in days when economic liberty more or less took care of itself. Today, political liberty is assumed in America, and the battle for economic liberty is just beginning.

The forefathers could not foresee or provide for the rise of great corporations and financial structures, the network of communication between states, or industrialization which utterly changed the relations between a working man and his job. Therefore, in their zeal to protect state and individual rights, they denied to the federal government powers which are necessary today for control of industrial, communication, and financial conditions which may be handled successfully only on a national scale by the federal government.

Prof. Howard Lee McCain of Columbia has concluded that "No fundamental change in our economic system, no far-reaching alteration in the relations of government about without changing the Constitution." "We should not rush or drift into such important changes upon the high tide of an emergency. The common man should understand what is up."

This point of view sympathizes with the supreme court's decisions such as NRA and railroad pensions. The thing to do is to change the Constitution, so that the court must follow the new guide-posts. This fight for new economic liberty can be a victorious one without sacrificing any of the hard-won political or personal liberties which the Constitution was mainly designed to preserve.

Suicide Planned By Lon Koenecke Attorney Claims

TORONTO, Sept. 18 (AP)—The attorney for two Detroit armers, seeking freedom from manslaughter charges after their death struggle in mid-air with Len Koenecke of the Brooklyn Dodgers, expressed the belief today that the big league baseball player had attempted suicide. "Koenecke was deliberately attempting to commit suicide and trying to do it in one grand, glorious finish," said the attorney, E. J. Murphy.

He announced he would subpoena Casey Stengel, manager of the Dodgers, to testify at the coroner's inquest tomorrow night as to Koenecke's mental condition, and would call "anyone else that is necessary to prove that my clients fought in self-defense." Pilot William Joseph Mulqueeny and Irwin Davis, parachute jumper, spent last night in jail. Koenecke was clubbed to death with a fire extinguisher in the cabin of their ship yesterday as they flew from Detroit toward Buffalo.

Mulqueeny insisted that the baseball player, last year's star outfielder being sent home after hitting a slump this year, had become unmanageable and started to fight. He said it was a case of "one or three." Although Murphy protested it was "nothing but a tragedy" to jail the fliers, Attorney General A. W. Roebuck said "this matter has grave implications," and ordered the men held "so an investigation may be conducted."

Admitting the basic law to be the product of human minds in conflict in "horse-and-buggy days" which did not foresee today's mechanical world, they believe with Joseph Davis, Chicago attorney, that the Constitution accords with the great truths of human nature, which have not changed greatly during the period of recorded history. "It is based on deep fundamental truths; it recognized the weakness of man; it set up a rational influence; it was calculated to be of enduring character; it was the creation of some of the greatest minds that this country has ever produced."

Therefore, argues this point of view, no sweeping or fundamental changes ought to be made, even though it might be advisable to adjust some details for smoother working out of government problems in practice. SEE US FOR GOOD USED TIRES AND USED TRUCK PARTS. PAMPA HARDWARE AND IMPLEMENT COMPANY.

Pampa Most Inexperienced Grid Team In District One

GOLDEN BEARS' COACH TO LET MEN RUN CLUB

WOULD DE-EMPHASIZE PART MENTOR PLAYS

BERKELEY, Cal., Sept. 13. (AP)—Leonard (Stub) Allison has started his first full season as football coach at the University of California committed to the policy of giving "the game back to the boys."

"The students play the game, not the coach," said the mentor who moved from assistant's berth to the main coaching seat of one of the country's most important grid centers last season.

As part of his plan to de-emphasize the part of coach plays, he is working on an award to be given the most valuable man on the squad. The players will make the selection.

Sensational touchdowns making won't count any more than blocking and tackling efforts.

Coach Allison believes in fundamentals first and fancy maneuvers afterward. Powerful blocking, to him, is half the game, probably more.

"Knock down the enemy and you'll be knocked at the scoring gates," is his battle cry.

The California eleven of this season will be lighter and faster than a year ago by early indications. All four backfield men will come in for full lugging duties, instead of virtually the "one man" attack of preceding seasons.

More passes will be thrown than before, ground gaining activities will branch off a short punt formation much of the time. The "flanker play" will see service. A single wing back formation is mixed up in the maneuvers.

The squad is well fortified with experienced men and the outlook for help from the great independent team of last year, undefeated and untied, is considerable.

The schedule: Sept. 28—Whittier and California Aggies (double header) at Berkeley; Oct. 5—St. Mary's at Berkeley; Oct. 19—Oregon at Portland; Oct. 19—Santa Clara at Berkeley; Oct. 26—Southern California at Berkeley; Nov. 2—California at Los Angeles at Los Angeles; Nov. 9—Washington at Berkeley; Nov. 16—Pacific at Berkeley; Nov. 23—Stanford at Palo Alto.

Facts Dispel Popular Idea of State Papers

Texas papers are carrying stories and coaches are talking about Pampa's veteran football squad, but Pampa fans know differently. Pampa does not have a veteran squad. In fact, from point of experience, Pampa has the most inexperienced football team in District 1.

If the experience of the Pampa squad of 30 men was totaled, it would not equal that of the starting lineup of the Amarillo Sandies, and Amarillo is talking about having only two veterans back. Pampa lost 27 players from its squad of 35 men.

J. R. Green, Pampa end, is talked as one of the many veterans on the Pampa team. Yet Green has played only one year of Harvester football and less than a year of Go-hilla football. Leon Noblitt is the only other member of the 1934 Harvester team that was a regular last year. Six other boys were on the squad, but they played less than two games during the entire season of 1934.

Amarillo football players start the game in grade school, take two years of football in junior high, and a year on the Yanniens before graduating to the Sandies, where they are called beginners or green material.

Thus, an Amarillo boy playing his first year with the Sandies has had four years of experience. The same is true of most other teams in large cities.

Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan are working long and hard with their charges, trying to teach them the game of football. A tentative starting lineup has been selected, but the boys named have not clinched their positions by any means, coaches declare. Some of the "beef," as fans are calling the team, may be replaced by lighter boys who are showing up especially well in recent practice sessions.

The starting lineup in past scrimmage sessions weighs 1,907 pounds or an average of 173 pounds to the man. The line averages 177 pounds to the man and the backfield 166 pounds.

The tentative starting lineup with weights:

George Nix, left end, 160; Stokes Green, left tackle, 198; Philip Nolan, left guard, 166; Leon Noblitt, center, 163; Bruce Green, right end, 155; Fred Moore, left tackle, 198; J. R. Green, right end, 202; Darwood "Red" Fanning, quarter, 170; Bob Drake, left half, 153; W. J. Brown, right half, 152; Andrew "Chubby" Stewart, full, 190.

TEXAS LEAGUE FINAL SERIES OPENS TODAY

TEAMS TO SEND BEST PITCHERS TO THE MOUND

BEAUMONT, Sept. 13. (AP)—The Oklahoma City Indians and the Beaumont Exporters, their rivals in the Texas league pennant, were in high spirits, their rights, ready for the opening game in the final series of the Shaughnessy playoff here this afternoon.

The Indians, victors in their semi-final series with Tulsa, traveled from Oklahoma City yesterday while the Exporters rested from their grueling semi-final struggle with the Galveston Buccaneers.

Skipper Lorber of the Exporters said he would send Clarence "Red" Phillips, huge right-hander, to the mound against the Indians. John Niggeling was favored to do the hurling for Oklahoma City.

The Exporters, general favorites at the start of the season to win the pennant, were in high spirits, their inspiration coming from the great comeback they staged when they won three straight from Galveston after losing the first two games in the first round of the series.

After a second game at Beaumont, the teams will go to Oklahoma City for contests Saturday, Sunday and Monday. If other games are needed, a sixth will be played at Beaumont the following Wednesday and the location of the seventh will be decided by the flip of a coin.

Meet in National Singles Final

Wood, blind New Yorker, left, in the finals.

Deciding Game To Be Played Here This Eve

By hitting the ball far and often behind Lefty George Bulla's eight-hit pitching, the Pampa Road Runners last night tied the series count with the House of David, 11 to 4. The bearded boys took the opener on Monday night, 5 to 2. The rubber game will be played tonight at 8:30 o'clock at Road Runner park despite a counter attraction across the street from the ball park.

Bulla, besides pitching one of his best games of the season, was the batting star of the game, connecting for a triple, double and single in four official times at bat. Left-handed chinking had no terrors for Manager Brickell, who gathered a double and two singles. Six other members of the Road Runner aggregation hit doubles during the evening of base hits.

House of David's shortstop, Atwell, continued to appreciate Pampa pitching by hitting a home run, which nearly broke out lights on the pole in left centerfield, and scoring two men ahead of him. He also hit a single. "Joe Brown" Deck, formerly of Phillips 66 of Borger, hit three singles and did some great relief pitching. Spiesman started for the visitors but was sent to the showers before the first inning had ended. Dalsey, the lefthander who defeated the Road Runners the previous night, met no better treatment from the Road Runner bats: Deck held the birds to three runs and sent him hits.

Sensational play featured the defensive end of the game. McLary opened proceedings by making a great catch back of first. George made one of his sensational one-handed stabs to get Bass in the fourth. Brickell backed against the fence for Hutson's fly in the next inning. Atwell, bearded shortstop, made one of the greatest plays seen here this year when he came in fast and took a hopper with his gloved hand and threw to first in time to hit receiver. He took a bad hop as Atwell charged. Hanson handled nine chances at second without an error.

The visitors put on their pepper game to the enjoyment of the fans, but the applause was slight compared to that received by the Road Runner peep game team of Scolding, George, Hardin, and Nell, out after the bearded display. The bearded had the science but the Pampa boys had the fun.

The Road Runners opened the scoring with a six run barrage in the opening inning, and were never headed. Brickell collected two singles in the inning and George hit a double and drew a walk. Scolding made two outs, after drawing a walk the first time, and Nell made the other.

Bulla had a bad inning in the third when Cliff opened with a double, went to third on Deck's single, and both scored ahead of Atwell when he hit a homer. George made his first out to get the first out and Bulla tightened to fan the next two batters.

Daney and Bass will probably tangle in a mound duel tonight.

Although given little interference last season and forced to do most of the running, part of the kicking and all of the passing, Leemans gained over 1,000 yards.

The Colonials likely will gamble on a couple of sophomores to help Leemans. Joey Kaufman of New York will assume some of Tuffy's passing chores and give Leemans a chance to snag 'em for a change. Ross Marshall, a speedy 200-pounder from Olathe, Kans., will do the line churning and serve as Leemans' interference bodyguard.

The forwards aren't worrying Pickett. They allowed but one touchdown a year ago and the line appears just as strong now.

"We will be a stronger, smoother-functioning team than last season," Pickett says. "We'll give Alabama and Rice, our most powerful opponents, competition worthy of the name. I won't say we'll beat them, but we may."

PROS AFRAID LAWSON LITTLE WILL ATTACH NATIONAL OPEN

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—There's no longer any question of Lawson Little's place in the golfing sun. The California cannonballer has taken over the throne of amateur supremacy, abdicated by Bob Jones five years ago, and demonstrated convincingly over a two-year winning streak that he ranks with the great Georgians as a shot maker.

It is doubtful if Little ever will equal the supreme feat Jones achieved in 1930—the grand slam of four major championships in Britain and America. The Californian has a long way to go before he comes even close to rivaling the eight-year record of 13 national titles collected by the Georgian. Yet his developments has been so rapid and sensational within two years and his domination of the amateur field is so complete today that it is no longer safe to suggest where Little is going to stop or be stopped.

The professionals already are regarding the amateur king with considerable admiration as well as apprehension. They had had the open championship of California at home and abroad, since 1930 with the exception of Johnny Goodman's triumph in 1933. It appeared Goodman was the sinner-pure player most likely to attempt filling the big shoes of Jones. Johnny's still a fine shotmaker, but he is a class competitor but Little has jumped several notches ahead of him and the gap is widening.

"Little has improved at least 200 per cent in the last two years," said a prominent pro after watching the California Open. "He has the brains of a mathematician and the nerve of a champion. He is not only a great shot maker but he is now a greater match player than Jones was. He has the 'killer' instinct that the Georgian lacked, and he has the power and extraordinary concentration. He is not only a big hitter but there isn't a flaw anywhere in his game. He's deadly with every club and he is a superb putter."

"If Little doesn't add the National Open championship to his laurels within the next year or two, I don't see how he can justify his title as my guess. He has the shots and he has the confidence."

At Cleveland Little was exactly 19 strokes under par for 156 holes. This is unquestionably an all-time record in 36 years of American amateur championships. The amateur mark Jones compiled was at Minnikabka, in 1927, when he finished ten under par for 152 holes.

Like a true champion, Little was at his peak in the final match to repulse the scrappy challenge of Oklahoma's Walter Emery, 4 and 2. The Californian finished with an eagle—his second on the same hole in as many days—to end Emery's last hopes in one of the most exciting championship matches since George Von Elm beat Bob Jones in 1925 at Baltusrol.

Cubs Win 14 Straight Games To Gain Half Tilt On Cards

World Champs Split Twin Bill With Dodgers

By ANDY CLARKE
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs sweep on, leaving behind the riddled Giants, gathering steam for the Cardinal joust that lie ahead.

They made it 14 straight wins yesterday, these madcap Cubs who have come from the rear to gain a 2½ lead on the Cards and 5½ on the Giants.

They play two more with the New Yorkers, two more with Pittsburgh, then on to St. Louis where they will play five games with Frisch's naughty boys in the series that probably will decide where the pennant shall wade.

The Giants proved jittery under pressure yesterday as the Cubs beat them 5-3. Hal Schumacher hogtied them for five innings.

He injured his shoulder, however, and on his retirement Joe Moore and Hank Leiber made a pair of errors that handed the game to the Cubs.

St. Louis split a doubleheader with the Brooklyn Dodgers as only one of the Dean brothers came through as relief hurlers. Paul went to the mound in the final inning of the first game with one run in and none out to stop the Stengel boys and give the Cards a 4-2 victory.

The Cardinals called to duty with the Cards one run ahead in the seventh frame of the nightcap, failed and lost 8-7 as the Dodgers hopped on him for three runs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates collected five runs in the first inning of their game with the Braves and then coasted home to a 6-4 victory.

Philadelphia took a doubleheader from Cincinnati 3-1 and 1-0. Camilli smacked a homer for the lone tally in the second.

Wesley Ferrell of the Red Sox blocked the Tigers' royal road and defeated the American league leaders 5-4 as he chalked up his 24th win of the season.

Tony Lazzari came through with a pinch single in the ninth to drive home Red Rolfe with a run and a 4-3 decision for the Yanks over the St. Louis Browns.

The Cleveland Indians defeated the Athletics 5-3 as rookie pitcher Vallie Baves experienced difficulty in finding the plate.

Jimmy Dykes' double scored the run that gave the White Sox victory over Washington in a 14-inning struggle. The game had been a pitchers' battle between Stratton and Fisher of the White Sox and Earl Whitehill of the Senators.

Louis Confident Baer Won't Last Over Six Rounds

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., Sept. 13. (AP)—Joe Louis resumed his training at Max Baer today after two days that were pleasant for him but more pleasant for his sparring mates.

The two days were pleasant for Joe because he had nothing to do, and the only thing he would rather do than loaf is sleep.

The days were pleasant for his sparring partners because they brought temporary armistice from the bombs that are Joe Louis' fists.

Six rounds of boxing were slated for the Bomber today after which his trainer, Jack Blackburn, planned to rest him until Saturday. Joe then will hold his last strenuous workout before climbing through the ropes of the Yankee stadium ring.

Louis appears fit physically and mentally. He weighs 197 pounds, the weight at which he expects to enter the ring. He is confident that Baer won't be around much longer than six or seven rounds.

BAER ADOPTS QUEER CROUCH AND LOOKS BAD TO EXPERTS

BY EDWARD J. NEIL,
Associated Press Writer.

SFECULATOR, N. J., Sept. 13. (AP)—The closer Max Baer gets to his do-or-die duel with Joe Louis, the more perplexing a problem he presents to the prize fight business.

Here he is, former heavyweight champion of the world, expected to be determined to win this fight that he lives it every waking moment, dreams it when he's sleeping. He is so perfectly trained that he charges about his drifting ring and camp like a moose being broken to harness.

He is more serious, better prepared than he ever was for his triumph over Max Schmeling and Primo Camera; so serious that he will have Jack Dempsey in his corner in the Yankee stadium, with his $1,000,000 worth of customers, next Tuesday night.

Yet for all his efforts, he still looks so bad when he gets in there with his sparring partners that the experts who picked him moan and shake their heads.

Those who declared for Louis, the fastest, deadliest corner boxer has seen since Dempsey, go around shaking hands with each other.

"Listen," said Baer, as his worried supporters nailed him down for reassurance. "I'm fighting Louis next Tuesday night, not these sparring partners. I don't have to lick them. They don't fight like Louis will fight. I'm getting in shape my way. Stop worrying."

It is a matter of record that Baer was terrible at Atlantic City preparing for Schmeling—lethargic, uninterested.

He would box 12 rounds, never

SPORTS ROUNDUP

NEW YORK, Sept. 13. (AP)—Gene Tunney, looking very fit, is giving the hot spots an occasional play in the Baer-Louis fight which is a sell-out by Friday. . . only 14,000 reserved seats were left last night. . . Jim Weaver of the Phils has the biggest hand in baseball. . . Gene Sarazen says any one of four golf pros can take Lawton Little. . . all right, Gene, you and who? . . . John McVain, a pitcher with Charleroi in the Penn State association, is only 52 years old. . . Harvard grads are saving their dough to go to West Point and Princeton and see what Santa Claus Harlow has brought. . . the grape- . . says Donie Bush is signed, laid and all but delivered to Cleveland for next season, despite denials.

Jack Blackburn, who thinks Joe Louis is a combination Joe Gans, Sam Langford and Joe Walcott, ought to know. He fought Langford eight times and Gans three. Arky Vaughan, who may hit .400 this season, has the most unorthodox batting stance in either major league.

Minnesota's giant killers are not worrying about the Big Ten. . . It's the Nebraska game that's making Bernie Bierman's gray hair grayer. Charles Reitzel is the popular choice over Art Lasky in tomorrow night's ten rounder at St. Paul.

The Giants will be made over whether or not. . . Tarzan Parmelee, Mark Koenig and two or three others already are ticketed for Philadelphia. . . And you aren't likely to find Hughie Critz and Travis Jackson back in their field.

Lawton Already Has Victory in Gridiron Record

The Lawton, Okla., Wolves will come to Pampa Friday night with the taste of victory whetting their hope of making it two in a row with a win over the Pampa Harvesters of Coaches Mitchell and Prejan.

Lawton took an 18 to 0 game from Walter, Okla. on a muddy field last Friday night. The Wolves at times showed mid-season form. The backs, with Sheppards, 180-pound fullback, leading the way, ripped and skirted the ends for long gains and three touchdowns.

The Harvesters went through a long scrimmage session yesterday afternoon. Some of the boys showed up well, others being somewhat disappointing.

Game time will be 8 o'clock at Pampa Drug No. 1, Harvesters Drug, and Patheer Drug No. 4. The athletic committee urges fans to purchase their tickets downtown to avoid congestion at the field. General admission is 50 cents for the game.

COURT RECORD

Alex Smith has asked an injunction against Gray county to protect a piece of land which has been in similar litigation several times previously.

The county would, under the injunction, be asked to "restore such borrow pits in said east and west road between the SW 1-4 of section 79 and the NW 1-4 of section 80 to compel surface water to flow in its natural diffused state."

A hearing on the injunction was set for Sept. 26 at 10 a. m.

Southwest Loop Scrimmage For Games Saturday

(By The Associated Press.)

Southwest conference coaches, hoping to emerge from practice sessions by Saturday with teams ready for opening competition, are putting their charges through plenty of stiff scrimmages.

Coach Morley Jennings put the Baylor Bears through a prolonged scrimmage session yesterday. The Texas Christian Horned Frogs also went through a scrimmage session.

Scrimmage and defensive plays of all sorts were on the program at Rice Institute.

Signal drills, kick-off and returns preceded a short scrimmage at Texas A. & M.

The Arkansas Razorbacks took time off from stiff blocking and tackling drills to work toward perfecting aerial machinery.

Coaches Matly Bell and Vic Hurt expressed dissatisfaction after they had watched the Southern Methodist Mustangs in scrimmage—and the mentors ordered more hard work and the study of plays.

Workouts at the University of Texas—where the Longhorns were reported to be rounding into fair early season form—indicated that Coach Jack Chevigny plans to utilize the punt as an offensive weapon.

GOLF BALL PLAYS LEAF FROG REIDSVILLE, N. C., Sept. 13. (AP)—As Oscar Leath struck his golf ball, "there was a loud grunt. He's never heard a ball protest against being hit. He watched it sail clearly 100 yards. Then, into his line of vision another object fell. He investigated and found a bullfrog. His club had lifted both ball and frog into the air."

Europe's Tennis Stars and Native Sons Will Play

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 13. (AP)—Two of Europe's leading tennis stars faced a couple of those disturbing good native sons today as they sought to clear the third round of the Pacific Southwest championship.

Roderich Menzel, clouting Czechoslovakian who stands first in the foreign draw, goes against Charles Carr, University of Southern California player and A. Martin-LeGeay, France, must meet Gerald Bartosh.

Francis K. Shields, third ranking player of the nation, was expected to find little difficulty in beating Elmer Griffin, a local public courts player.

Wilmer Allison, national champion, encountered no end of trouble yesterday before he won from Bill Robertson, San Marino, Calif., 6-3, 1-6, 9-7.

Allison has a tough opponent in the offering for tomorrow in Jack Tibbalt, former national collegiate champion.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.)

Larry French, Cuba: Kept Giants' 11 hits well scattered while mates took advantage of four errors to win, 5-3.

Paul Dean, Cardinals, and Frenchy Bordagary, Dodgers: Paul's relief pitching stopped Brooklyn rally in ninth inning of first. Latter drove in three runs with a homer, double, and single in nightcap.

Dutch Leiber, Athletics: Held Indians to two hits last seven innings as relief pitcher but Tribe won on Baves' wildness in early frames.

Dusty Coker and Joe Cronin, Red Sox: Led 14-hit attack on Tiger hurlers with three hits each.

Bud Harty, Pirates: Found Brave

REVISIONISTS DEFEATED IN PENNSYLVANIA

CONSTITUTION VOTED ON IN SEVERAL STATES

By The Associated Press
Constitutional revision, much discussed as a possible issue in the 1936 campaign, was apparently rejected by the Pennsylvania electorate in yesterday's off-year primaries.

With virtually half the precincts in the state tallied, the vote on calling a constitutional convention stood today:

Take a Tip From the Ad Man

Broadway MELODY OF 1936

JACK ELEANOR ROBERT BENNY-POWELL-TAYLOR

Starting Sunday At The La Nora

Prevue Saturday

Will Be About the Greatest Screen Show You'll See This Season

For: 407,438; against: 538,625.

Governor George H. Earle, a new deal democrat, campaigned for the revisionist proposal and compared Pennsylvania's constitution, drafted in 1873, with a "worn-out automobile tire, full of patches."

Revision, Earle said, was necessary to realize in his state, the "more abundant life" of the Roosevelt new deal.

In New Mexico, change of the constitution was also an issue. The major change proposed—exempting property from taxation up to $2,500—was trailing in the early returns.

All the war veterans' organizations opposed the proposal, which would have given to all citizens the property tax exemption granted to veterans.

The sales tax issue, which enveloped the primary in New Jersey, was still unsettled.

Spaulding Frazer, vice-president of the sales tax repeal association, said a majority of the nominees to the assembly were pledged to repeal or modification.

Governor Harold G. Hoffman, sponsor of the tax, interpreted the renomination of two state senators, in counties where the issue was "clearly defined," as an indication the voters "realize the tax is necessary."

In New York City, James J. Dooley's leadership in Tammany Hall was undisturbed in the elections of district leaders. The threats of internal revolt were stamped out and the last vestige of the old rule of Boss John F. Curry was wiped out in the fifteenth district. Curry's follower, John E. Sheehy, was turned out by former Supreme Court Justice Jeremiah T. Mahoney.

Mahoney, some political observers believed, would eventually challenge Dooley for control of Tammany.

The New York balloting was extremely heavy for an off-year. There were no disorders of any consequence and the honest ballot association messaged Police Commissioner Lewis Valentine:

"This was the second successive primary that the members of the force showed, when left alone by politicians, they could honestly and fearlessly discharge their duties."

The voting in Philadelphia, likewise, was unusually heavy—brought out, principally, by the intense fight of the republican mayoralty nomination.

Complete unofficial returns gave the nomination to City Controller S. Davis Wilson, with a plurality of 22,901 over his nearest opponent.

ROPER UPHOLDS PEOPLE'S RIGHT OF AMENDMENT

Says Issue Must Be Decided Within Ten Years

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The question of the new deal's future stand on the subject of constitutional change aroused renewed interest today in the light of a speech by Secretary of Commerce Roper, declaring the right of amendment is the "heartbeat of our constitutional system."

The Roosevelt cabinet member, in a constitution day address last night at Alexandria, Va., declared: "If there is not sufficient constitutional authority for the federal government to deal properly with a devastating, nation-wide economic and social emergency, is it the will of the American people to amend their constitution so that the federal government, in times of acute distress nationally, may be bold, direct action avert utter chaos?"

"Unless the lessons taught by the depression go unheeded, as war lessons generally have, an unmet, clearly evident economic sign and portents are largely wrong, this is a question that must be answered during the next decade if our present economic and governmental system is to endure."

The Roosevelt aide projected this issue as the "one dominant question which sooner or later must be answered by the American people."

Observers wondered, whether the Roper utterance meant that the new deal might conduct an intensive effort for the constitutional amendment should other major administrative measures meet the fate of NRA in supreme court tests beginning this fall.

There was no authoritative answer to such a question, and it was noted that Roper mentioned 10 years as the period in which the decision must be made.

ETHIOPIA

The League of Nations collective assistance plan for Ethiopia current in league lobbies.

"There is nothing at all for Italy in this scheme," an Italian spokesman told the Associated Press. "It is like offering us $500,000 for a horse we think worth $10,000,000. In other words, the scheme is not reasonable."

Concerning a report that Ethiopia would cede Ogaden and Danakil to Italy, in return for grants by England and France of their Somalia lands to Ethiopia, the spokesman said:

"Have you ever been to Gaden and Danakil? Ogaden is nothing but a vast desert, uninhabitable by Italians. As for Danakil it has been truly described by travelers as the hell hole of creation."

The newspaper Jornale Des Nations described the report of the five-power committee set up by the league council to deal with the Italian-Ethiopian crisis as a series of suggestions, rather than a definite project to be accepted or rejected.

The plan was described as one for modernization of Ethiopia, providing for a principal foreign adviser with great powers, along the lines of the adviser which the league suggested for Liberia.

The chief adviser would have two assistants, all to be named by the league council, but not to be selected from any of Ethiopia's three neighboring colonial powers—France, Britain and Italy.

A spokesman for one of the major powers, discussing this summary warned that the committee's work was really not completed.

"We are trying to devise a plan which will be acceptable to Italy, although personally I doubt whether they will accept it," this delegate said.

The committee of five met again today and reached an agreement on the text of the Ethiopian report, which Chairman Salvador de Madariaga of Spain will present soon to Italy and Ethiopia.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 18 (AP)—An avalanche of selling that was largely to realize profits on the part of recent buyers forced wheat prices downhill today.

A lull in European demand for Canadian wheat had considerable bearish effect. Most traders construed European reports as more peaceful.

Wheat closed unsettled 1 1/2-1 1/4 under yesterday's finish, Dec. 98 1/2-1, corn unchanged to 1/2 down, Dec. 98 1/2-1, oats 1/2-1/4 off, and provisions unchanged to 20 cents decline.

Britain Holds Virtually All Speed Records

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah, Sept. 18 (AP)—Virtually every world land speed record of consequence belongs to England today.

Sending his frog-like racing juggernaut over the same salt beds where Sir Malcolm Campbell recently established his 301-mile-an-hour mark, Capt. G. E. T. Eyston last night completed a 24-hour assault against time which mowed down 14 assorted world records for racing machines.

With Eyston and two relief drivers, C. S. Staniland and Albert Denly, took turns behind the wheel of the "Speed of the Winds," which resembled the face of a frog when viewed from the front.

Although the contest board of the American Automobile association held up official announcement of speeds at the various stages of the endurance run, it was unofficially announced Capt. Eyston and his aids had captured the 24-hour record with a speed in excess of 140 miles an hour.

Only a few weeks ago, Ab Jenkins of Salt Lake City had established a record of 135.47 miles an hour for the day and night race.

Jenkins held several records captured by the Englishman, while others were held by John Cobb of London. These included records for 10 miles, 50 kilometers, 50 miles, 100 kilometers, 200 kilometers, 2,000 kilometers, 2,000 miles, 3,000 kilometers, 3,000 miles, 4,000 kilometers, 5,000 kilometers, one hour, and 12 hours.

tribution to needed state revenues."

He said the sulphur companies held amassed "astounding" profits from a negligible investment and should make a far more substantial contribution to the cost of government.

In accordance with a promise to the late Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield, he asked careful consideration of tax delinquencies, and suggested close study of tax changes recommended by the senate finance committee at the last session.

"These tax suggestions have been made not to confine the deliberations of this body to these specific measures alone," he concluded, "but are to be considered as cumulative of such other tax measures as the individual members may see fit to support in seeking to solve this comprehensive problem of taxation.

"We must be mindful that Texas has got to have a great deal of money in order to pay for its added activities."

ARMY CHIEF

posed that he undertake the task of organizing and training the Philippine army and forming the defense of the more than 1,500 islands of the Archipelago.

Quezon made the offer in Washington last summer after consultation with President Roosevelt, Secretary Dern, and other American officials. MacArthur announced his acceptance after receiving confirmation of Quezon's election.

He declined, however, any commitment on his plans in the Philippines. General MacArthur accepted his new assignment, it was learned authoritatively, because he considers the future security and independence of the Philippines to be of paramount importance to American interests in the Pacific.

As military advisor to President Quezon, MacArthur—who led the American army longer than any other man—will have the unique assignment of building an army from the ground up with raw material within the framework of the commonwealth government.

The Philippines now have only a small constabulary force, but are expected to acquire for the military equipment now in the islands when American troops now on duty there sail away.

When the United States withdraws from the Philippines on July 4, ten years hence General MacArthur expects to have organized a highly-trained, modern-armed military force and establishment adequate for the defense of the new republic.
