King Reveals Navy Plans All-Out Blows Against Foe

Aircraft Will Bear Brunt Of Heavy Attacks

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Shattering blows against the enemy "with all weapons that can be brought to bear, synchronized and coordinated with overwhelming assault," constitute the aim of the navy, Admiral Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the U. S. fleet, asserted today.

He told the national convention of the American Legion that attacks recently carried out with great damage upon Japanese positions on the Marcus and Gilbert Islands in the South Pacific are only "the shape of things to come."

King emphasized throughout his prepared address the importance of the navy's swiftly growing air arm now striking hard at enemy bases, particularly in the Pacific.

"The navy's strategy and tactics," he said, "have always revolved around those weapon-bearers which can hit the farthest and the hardest. In this present war these bearers are aircraft. This is thoroughly understood by all naval officers. Air-mindedness in the navy is by no means the exclusive property of the navy aviator."

But he laid great stress on the importance of close coordination of all branches in any engagement, asserting:

"Only and team work is the basis of the navy's fighting doctrine. It is the navy's aim to strike the enemy at any given point with all weapons that can be brought to bear, synchronized and coordinated in overwhelming assault."

Stating that "the ultimate test of a military organization is its performance in combat, its discharge of the vital and sacred duty to defend its country against the enemy," he said that the navy's strategy particularly "has met and is meeting this test. The record of Midway, the Solomons, the U-boat war in the Atlantic, bear witness."

The highlight of the closing session of the 25th annual Legion convention was the presentation of the Legion's distinguished service medal to Admiral King.

Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, received a similar medal Monday, and addressed the convention.

Election of a national commander to succeed Roane Waring of Memphis, Tenn., was the most important order of business before the convention. The most likely choice appeared to be 51-year-old Warren Atherton, Stockton, Calif., attorney and chairman of the legion's committee on national defense.

The Legion has not yet received any invitations from cities wanting the 1944 convention and the final choice will rest with the executive committee, with its decision to be made after invitations are received.

African Air Forces Hit Wide Areas

Walter E. Rogers, district attorney, will be speakers at a bond rally here.

Sale of Victory Bonds in Gray County has reached a total of $989,421.25 today, Chairman Stennis reported. Sales yesterday were $33,206.25. To reach the county's $1,385,200 quota, $390,778.25 worth of bonds must be sold by September 30.

The Gulf Oil company was the heavy purchaser of bonds today in the county campaign, with $10,000 bought.

At a meeting last night, the post-office credit union voted to buy $1,700 worth of Series F bonds and the purchase is being made today.

Stennis reported this afternoon the sale of $20,000 worth of bonds to the Continental Supply company, Dallas, to be credited to the Gray county quota. The notice was received too late for inclusion in today's total.

RAF Hits Hannover; U. S. Raids France

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Allied air forces threw a quadruple punch into enemy Europe with an RAF mass raid on the reich city of Hannover last night, a Flying Fortress attack on Nantes today and two U. S. Marauder assaults deep into France.

All were carried out within a period of 12 hours.

The air ministry said "a very strong force" of Britain's biggest bomb carriers roared into north central Germany during the night to attack the important railway and factory city of Hannover. Twenty-six of the bombers were listed as lost.

"Preliminary reports show that a highly concentrated attack was completed in 30 minutes, leaving very large fires with smoke rising to a great height," a ministry communication said.

Smaller British bomber formations attacked the port of Bremen, in the extreme northwest corner of Germany, and inland Oldenburg, a big army, airfield and railroad center east of Bremen.

The American Fortresses, streaking across the channel at dawn even before the British formations had returned, attacked naval installations at Nantes and two airfields at Vannes, Morlaix and Kerlin-Bastard in western France.

Following up their long-range visit late yesterday to Evreux-Auvalle, 45 miles west of Paris, American Marauders this morning attacked airfields at Conches, 60 miles west of the French capital.

The British night raid on Hannover was the fourth big Allied air blow in three months against Nazi rubber sources. Amid Hannover's big industrial concentration of refineries, locomotive and tank works at the Continent's Gummiwerke, Germany's largest rubber factory.

This plant was hit in July by American Flying Fortresses which in June had attacked the rubber factory at Huls. A week ago the RAF fliers laid their destructive bombs across the British Dunlop works at Montluisan, France.

RAF fighters swept into Holland and northwest Germany on intruder patrols during the night, the air ministry announced, and destroyed one enemy aircraft. Enemy airbases were the chief targets of the fighters.

THIS IS NAPLES — ALLIES' NEXT OBJECTIVE

German troops retreated farther on the approaches to burning Naples today as the American Fifth and British Eighth armies rolled up gains of 10 to 15 miles and captured three more towns on the southern Italian front. The Germans have scuttled at least 30 ships in the harbor at doomed Naples and blocked almost every usable berth along the docks.

Finschhafen Is Next Objective In Pacific War

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today the seaborne landing of Australian troops above Finschhafen, enemy base 60 miles northeast of Lae on the New Guinea coast, and the destruction of remnants of a Japanese garrison on Arundel island in the Solomons.

Under protection of warships and planes, the Australians went ashore against enemy opposition at dawn Wednesday six miles above peacetime mission headquarters and just below the Song river. At dusk on the previous day, Japanese bombers and fighters sought to attack ships involved in the operations but were intercepted between Lae and Finschhafen by P-40s which shot down four bombers and five fighters at a cost of one interceptor.

Capture of Finschhafen on the Pacific peninsula, which is more suitable for ground action than any other territory previously attacked by the Allies, would give MacArthur control of a gulf within easy overwater striking distance of Japanese-held New Britain and its strong-hold of Rabaul.

On Arundel, directly west of New Georgia, American jungle troops destroyed enemy troops and reinforcements on the island's north shore and also on nearby Soga Karasa island to move within artillery shelling distance of the Japanese guns at imperiled Vila immediately opened fire.

Nazis Driven Back Farther In Corsica

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Allied sea and air power threw a blockade around Corsica today, cutting off German troops fleeing from French and American troops closing in on Bastia, the enemy's last seaport.

It appeared doubtful that the Germans would be able to hold out on the small island much longer under combined air, land and sea pressure.

Allied warships bombarded the strip of coast where the road of retreat runs close to the sea, and supported the troops which carried out a furious attack near Solenzara, 60 miles south of Bastia.

Allied headquarters announced advantages of 10 to 15 miles central and southern sectors of Italy today in a forward sweep which was gradually forcing Field Marshal Albert Kesselring to uncover the inland approaches to smoke-smothered, dynamite-shattered Naples.

Victorious French soldiers in American Rangers pressed the Germans back farther into the north-eastern corner of Corsica while Allied air forces bombed and removed escaping Nazis from the evacuation port of Bastia.

Allied soldiers were within sight and sound of the systematic wrecking of Naples by German demolition squads.

As the sound of frequent explosions from the smoking city rolled over the hills toward the Americans and British, Allied headquarters announced that the Germans had scuttled at least 30 ships at Naples and blocked practically every berth along the docks.

Aerial photographs also showed large industrial area north of the docks had been wrecked by bombings and the railroad yards demolished.

"The extent to which this is going on indicates the enemy is determined to make the big port, one of the largest and best peacetime harbors in Europe, completely useless to Allied troops when they occupy it," the announcement stated.

In the inland sweep British Americans swung the right of the line forward toward the Adriatic with Salerno serving somewhat as a hinge, and straightened out several deep mountain bulges.

They advanced 10 miles north

MacArthur Busy, Says Stimson

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Brushing aside inquiries about the possible significance of the statement by General Douglas MacArthur that he had a "subordinate" role in the Pacific war, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that MacArthur was engaged in an extremely important operation.

He declined to speculate on the meaning of MacArthur's statement but told a questioner at this press conference that he knew of no proposal to call MacArthur to Washington for conferences.

"General MacArthur is a very busy man with a very important operation," said Stimson, "and I doubt that he would want to leave."

In connection with speculation that Lord Louis Mountbatten, Southeast Asia command high-overshadow MacArthur's Southwest Pacific theater, Stimson was asked whether there was any reason to believe that the two combat theater commanders overlapped at any point. He replied: "I have never heard it suggested."

A smile was Stimson's only response when he was asked about prospective assignment of General George C. Marshall as commander of all Anglo-American forces in the field.

However, when a reporter solicited comment on some news stories which implied that the army chief of staff was "being kicked upstairs," he retorted with a grin: "Have you been reading the press lately? Others have answered that completely and fully, and I don't care to add to it."

Doctor Says Every Polio Case Reported

There are no cases of infantile paralysis in Pampa that have not been reported, Dr. R. Malcolm Brown, city health officer, said today, definitely refuting a rumor to the effect that not all cases had been reported to the city health officer.

"I am in contact with doctors every day. They have been reporting cases and it is absolutely untrue that not all cases have been reported," Dr. Brown said.

In answer to another question, he stated that names of all known polio cases had been published in this newspaper.

Supt. L. L. Sone of the Pampa Independent School district made it clear today that the school board thought children who had been afflicted with polio should remain out of school until Oct. 4.

He said that while from a medical standpoint there was no danger in such students entering school now, the board though extra precaution should be taken, and had therefore requested parents of children who had been polio sufferers not to send their children to school until Oct. 4, or two weeks after the opening of the 1943-44 session.

"The school board is asking parents to cooperate with us or at least to advise us of the situation can adjust itself," the superintendent explained.

He added that brothers and sisters of children who had been polio cases should also follow this request and should not enter school now.

There are eight or 10 families affected by the report, he estimated.

Last of the high school students were registered today at the high school when an estimated 300 freshmen enrolled. Present enrollment at the high school is 557. With the freshmen this will give the high school an estimated total of 857 students.

Enrollment in junior high school totals 870.

Superintendent Sone said he did not have figures available this morning on ward school registration.

Labor Law Will Receive Test At Houston Tonight

HOUSTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—R. J. Thomas of Detroit, president of the United Automobile Workers, today announced "no change" in his plans to address the Pelly labor rally tonight and asserted that he would invite Humble refinery workers to join the Oil Workers International Union.

Thomas did not refer to a temporary restraining order issued to State Attorney General Gerald C. Mann in Austin yesterday forbidding Thomas to solicit union membership in violation of state statutes.

Under legislation enacted by the last legislature, labor solicitors lacking a license issued by the Texas secretary of state are subject to arrest up to 60 days in jail, a fine of $500 or both.

Explaining that he has no license, Thomas declared: "and furthermore, I don't intend to apply for one."

Earlier, Sheriff Neal Polk announced that the Thomas would be arrested if he invited workers to join the union. Assistant District Attorney W. K. Richardson asserted that Harris county prosecutors are prepared to try the case immediately if Thomas solicits memberships without the license prescribed by law.

Mann said in a statement at Austin that the court action was not taken in an effort to keep Thomas from speaking at Pelly in accordance with his constitutional right of free speech, but to uphold the state law that he could not solicit union members without first obtaining a state organizer's card as provided by law.

District Judge Harris Gardner instructed Thomas to appear at 10 a. m. Saturday in the Austin court show cause why a temporary injunction should not be granted.

Move of Beef Cattle Rises

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Hogs and beef cattle are beginning to move marketwards in considering more volume than during August and early September, but don't get excited. The increase doesn't necessarily foreshadow larger meat rations for civilians.

Following a normal seasonal course, the movement of beef cattle from western ranges has shown a substantial upturn in the last 10 days. Reports from 12 principal markets showed receipts last week totalling 288,000 head, or about 14,000 more than the record receipts of the corresponding week last year.

Receipts so far this week are running even further ahead of a year ago.

Predictions have been made in government circles as well as trade circles that the portion moving to feed lots this year would be much smaller than usual because of a narrow profit margin in feeding. These predictions, if borne out, would mean a larger supply of beef this fall than if a normal portion of the cattle moved to feed lots for fattening. Feed-lot cattle do not become available for slaughter until late in the winter or early in the following summer.

Reports reaching war food administration officials this week indicate, however, that a larger proportion by midwestern feeders for the western cattle are being further fattened than had been predicted. This is the chance of larger meat rations — that is, reduced point values, as well as earlier delivery, that the portion moving to feed lots this year would be much smaller than usual because of a narrow profit margin in feeding. ### Legion's Charge Denied by Fish

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Charging that the American Legion "has inadvertently been used to carry on a political and partisan smear campaign," Rep. Hamilton Fish (Rep. N.Y.) reiterated today his denial that he had permitted his congressional frank to be used to spread un-American propaganda.

Fish, a Legionnaire, made his remarks in a statement issued by him in answer to a resolution adopted by the Legion at its convention in Omaha yesterday.

The resolution charged that Fish "with certain other isolationist members of congress" permitted use of the frank by George Sylvester Viereck, an alleged pro-German propagandist, and the America first committee to disseminate propaganda "inimical to the United States."

Rise in National Debt May Be Asked

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Congress may be asked soon to boost the national debt limit to $300,000,000.

The Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) of the reported today the present rate of government spending is approaching appropriations committee told the present statutory debt limit of $210,000,000.

He estimated the present spending rate at between $7,000,000,000 and $8,000,000,000 monthly.

A $300,000,000 limit, Cannon said, may be sufficient "if the war doesn't last too long."

Present prospects, he said, are that war appropriations, which reached a peak for the current fiscal year, will begin to decline next year.

Prisoners Of War Will Get Food Supplies

Pampa Field men who have relatives and friends held prisoners by the Japanese will be interested to know that 140,000 especially-packed food packages are now en route to them, aboard the diplomatic exchange ship Gripsholm, Red Cross Field Director Ray L. Ellis said today.

Supplied by the U. S. government to meet the particular needs of prisoners of war in the Far East, the packages left on the Gripsholm from New York City Sept. 2, are destined for Marmagao, Portugal, and India.

"More meat, army butter spread, soluble coffee and cigarettes were put in the boxes, which were packed at Red Cross packing centers, and biscuits were left out," said Ellis, explaining the difference from the usual prisoner-of-war package. "Ascorbic acid (vitamin C) tablets were also added. It is estimated that this cargo will permit distribution of between four and five packages to each United States military and civilian internee in Japanese camps."

"Nearest of kin" parcels, mailed with labels furnished from the post marshal general's office, the first to go to prisoners of war in the Far East, make up a bulky part of the cargo," the Pampa Red Cross director added.

For military prisoners and a number of civilian internees who have no known next of kin in the United States, the Red Cross sent 500 parcels. Packages were also sent by the Red Cross to prisoners of war whose names came in to the office for the next of kin notification, medicines, drugs, surgical instruments and dressings sent by the Red Cross were prepared in cooperation with the surgeon general's office of the army. The 7,125,000 millivitamin capsules sent are enough to provide one a day for seven months for each American in the Far East.

Packages Can Be Mailed To Prisoners of War in Europe

The Pampa Red Cross chapter cannot accept private orders for special Christmas packages for United States servicemen held prisoner in enemy countries, Mrs. M. F. Roche, home service chairman of the chapter, announced today.

The American Red Cross is preparing 10,000 special Christmas boxes for distribution to United States prisoners, but these are being paid for by the army and navy and none are available to fill special orders from relatives of prisoners, she said.

Individuals who are not of kin of prisoners held in Europe, however, may mail Christmas gift parcels directly to these prisoners by using labels provided by the government, but these packages must be mailed immediately to insure their receipt by Christmas, because approximately three months are required for delivery, it was pointed out.

Labels for such parcels are furnished by the United States provost marshal general's office to the next of kin as soon as the government is notified of a prisoner's name and the address of his internment camp. It is not necessary to request the labels but they are provided only to next of kin.

One of these labels is provided each 60 days and they may be affixed to gift parcels for prisoners. This applies only to prisoners in Europe and not prisoners of the Japanese, Mrs. Roche explained. She said that Japan has not yet agreed to the transmittal of packages to persons it holds prisoner. However, an exception was made to this recently when the next of kin of Japanese prisoners of war were allowed to send Christmas packages on the Gripsholm which sailed for a neutral port the first of September.

In addition to the 10,000 special Christmas boxes, the American Red Cross also is preparing 400,000 standard food packages for distribution to prisoners of war during the Christmas season. These will be decorated with Christmas notices in red and green.

Standard food parcels contain lunch biscuits, cheese, chocolate, cigarettes, coffee concentrate, pork luncheon meat, corned beef, dried fruit, liver paste, powdered milk, oleomargarine, orange concentrate, salmon, soap and sugar. United States prisoners of war in Europe received one standard food parcel each week. Contents is provided by the United States government, but packing, shipment, and distribution are the responsibility of the American Red Cross.

Increased Mexican Sugar Output Due

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—President Avila Camacho has instructed the ministries of finance, national economy, and agriculture to map a plan to increase Mexican sugar production.

The plan is to include financing of cane growers to permit them to increase their cultivation; use of taxes on sugar to assist companies to improve their mills and plantations; and establishment of agricultural zones where only cane may be planted.

Exportation of syrup, candy and other sugar products is prohibited except when made with imported sweeteners.

United Nations Relief Program Is Drafted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A second tentative draft for a United Nations relief and rehabilitation organization has been completed and is being sent to Allied governments for approval.

Diplomatic circles predict that Herbert H. Lehman, head of United States foreign relief, will be director general.

Since the original United States draft was turned down by other governments, two important changes have been made.

One revision is based on suggestions from a number of smaller powers in the United Nations spearheaded by The Netherlands. It makes clear that the central committee composed of Britain, the U. S. S. R., China, and the United States would be completely responsible to the council of all United Nations delegates.

The Netherlands rejected the first draft because the committee would be "too powerful" and the plan did "not seem compatible with democratic principles."

The central committee is to function as an interim group when the council is not holding one of its planned semi-annual meetings. The first council meeting may be in November.

Unidentified Man Drops from Plane

SELENSOROVE, Pa., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Naval intelligence officers learned today in an investigation of the death of a man who fell from a high flying airplane near here and landed in a meadow.

The plane continued westward without slowing and there was no indication of its identity, point of departure or destination.

At Philadelphia, the fourth naval district reported that two service identification tags were found on the body, one bearing the name of a naval officer and the other the name of a coast guardsman.

A district spokesman added, however, that "we know no more about the man's identity than we do about the plane, which is nothing."

TOO TIMID

NEW YORK — The federal bureau of investigation reports a new excuse for ducking the draft.

A youth, recently apprehended by the FBI on draft delinquency charges, said he had not ridden on a subway since 1938 when he developed a mortal dread of the underground trains.

He said he feared that if taken into the armed forces, he would have to ride in a subway to the induction center.

Heiress Is Ordered Freed from Asylum

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Judge James Gay Gordon, Jr., has ordered the Pennsylvania hospital's department of mental and nervous diseases to discharge Cecilia Grant McCormick, 31-year-old Pittsburgh steel heiress who says she has been virtually a prisoner in mental institutions for 14 years.

"The court finds under the evidence presented that the relator is not insane," the common pleas jurist said after a short hearing on her writ of habeas corpus proceedings, "and she does not require for her own good retention and hospitalization."

Miss McCormick's foster-mother, Mrs. John McCormick, had said in a formal statement that the heiress was committed "voluntarily" and that she was welcome home at any time. The hospital also said she signed voluntary commitment papers.

Army Ordered To Evacuate Building

SEATTLE, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The army faced a federal court order today to evacuate a Seattle warehouse or be prepared to pay damages for holding it in violation of the judicial mandate.

Judge John C. Bowen signed the order after a hearing in which Assistant U. S. Attorney General Norman Little had described Judge Bowen's oral ruling against the army's appropriation of the property as unprecedented in the present war.

The judge, in the same case, refused to find Secretary of War Stimson and three other persons in contempt of court for taking over the warehouse in the face of a recent court ruling that the army had not shown justification for obtaining possession.

U. S., Mexico Will Help Tourist Trade

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 23.—(AP)—A subcommittee of the U. S. Mexico economic cooperation commission was named yesterday to stimulate tourist trade.

Chairman of the subcommittee, Alejandro Buelna, chief of the government tourist office, said he will propose a program including development of highway, airplane and railroad traffic, improvement of sanitation at tourist centers, creation of national parks, and particular encouragement of visits by newspapermen, teachers and students.

The projected program recommends formation of an "American federation," including Canada, United States and Mexico, for development of international tourism.

Servicemen's Wives Will Receive Aids

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The House appropriations committee today recommended an emergency appropriation of $18,620,000 to assist enlisted men's wives who become mothers before next June 30.

The allotment is based on a children's bureau estimate of a fan average cost of $44.50 a case and on the committee's estimate that federal assistance would be needed by nearly half of the 645,328 service men's wives who are expected to become mothers during the current fiscal year.

The program, started last March with an initial fund of $1,200,000, later increased by $4,400,000, is payable only to wives of men in the rank of commissioned officer. It is administered through outlying grants to states.

To be eligible for aid, a state must have an approved administrative plan. To date, only two states, Louisiana and North Dakota, have not submitted plans, nor Puerto Rico.

Photo Joes Are Plenty Busy In Burma Flights

By THORBURN WYANT
A UNITED STATES AIR BASE, India.—Correspondent of the Associated Press—Armed only with an ability to attain high altitudes and outpace any plane the Japanese possess, single-seated American aircraft fly over Burma daily photographing enemy installations and shipping which American bombers and fighters rip apart a few hours later.

These aircraft are called "Photo Joes." They are the eyes of the south U. S. air force. The young men who pilot the "Photo Joes" are busier than a peacetime paperhanger with the job. They sit in one place—unable to squirm more than two inches in any direction—for as long as nine hours. They do their own navigation. They take their own pictures. When over enemy territory, they scan the sky constantly for Japanese fighter planes, in addition to keeping constantly alert for juicy targets.

The "Photo Joe" pilots each fly over Burma two or three times a week. They seldom are intercepted by the Japanese because they flash fast long before the enemy can get into the air.

Capt. Don P. Webster, 25, of Lubbock, Tex., who graduated from the University of Texas in 1939, said how he was intercepted over Langson one day. "I looked up from my instrument panel and saw a Zero on my right and one on my left. I pushed the throttles forward and dove. The Japs couldn't keep up. They followed me many miles, but didn't have a chance of catching up with me—thank God! The only way they can get us is by surprising us—and we don't surprise easily."

Burma Is Hit By RAF Beaufighters

NEW DELHI India, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Flying through the difficult conditions of the declining monsoon, RAF Beaufighters destroyed and damaged a number of locomotives, tanks and trucks in a new series of blows at Japanese communication lines in Burma, it was announced today.

The principal attacks were in the Katha district, along the Irrawaddy and on Cheduba island along the coast.

Wavell Defends India Policies

WINCHESTER, Eng., Sept. 23.—(AP)—Field Marshal Viscount Wavell, viceroy-designate of India, told a Winchester audience today that Great Britain has little to be learned of and much of which to be proud in her dealing with India. Speaking during a ceremony at which he received the freedom of the city, Wavell asserted: "We have made mistakes in India, mistakes of omission and mistakes of judgment here or there, but very rarely blunders due to greed or fear."

WAKE UP AMERICA! Must China Be Freed for Air Attack on Japan?

As debated by
Rodney Gilbert
Far Eastern Editor, New York Herald Tribune
Hallett Ahens
Author of Forthcoming Book, "My Life in China"; Dean of Far Eastern Correspondents

MR. GILBERT OPENS: To win a victory over Japan, worth recording, her home islands must be occupied and subdued. Whatever the approach, her naval and air forces must first be destroyed and her power to replace equipment bombed into desuetude. Then land forces must be put on her beaches. These tasks will be approached, from many angles; but the map shows that the shortest flights and hauls for bombers and invaders would be from China. To use these advantages Japan's armies must be swept from the Chinese mainland. Will this be quicker and cheaper than any other approach, leaving Siberia out of reckoning? I think so; using Chinese manpower and Anglo-American naval and air support; but certainly not by the way of Burma alone. Neither could such a sweep be supplied by air and the Burma Road alone. Southern China, with access to railroads, must be opened to shipping. This presupposes the collapse of all but localized Japanese communications and almost total resistance south of the Burma Road is not due tomorrow; but not only Chinese air power but that of the United States must be used to soften and invade forces.

MR. ABEND CHALLENGES: Mr. Gilbert's proposal to reopen southern Chinese ports to Allied shipping, so that Chinese armies may be adequately supplied, would be a feat of almost impossible difficulty. We cannot use southern Chinese ports with any safety for our convoys so long as Japan holds Java, Singapore, Sumatra, the Philippines, the Spratlys, Hainan Island, Thailand and French Indo-China. And suppose we do capture Hong Kong and Canton? There is only one north-south railway, and that connects Canton and Hankow. There is no modern highway and no railway connecting Canton with Chungking and no decent highway from the south to the Yangtze valley. This suggested "short way around" may be the longest in time.

MR. GILBERT REPLIES: Unless Mr. Abend has an alternative approach, which he has not mentioned and which I cannot take into account, therefore, the recovery of all those territories is part of the job of defeating Japan anyway, isn't it? So isn't describing the defeat of Japan as almost impossible difficult? So what then? Maybe it wouldn't be so hard. A break through Sui, bombers and submarines based on the gulf, might maroon all Japanese further south. Railroads from Canton can deliver 2,000 tons daily to existing advance air bases—forty times Chennault's supplies heretofore. Multiply his achievements by forty.

Japs Try to Help Home Front Spirit

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Tokyo broadcasts today, the office of war information said, indicate that Japanese propagandists have begun an intensive campaign to rally their people behind the newly announced program to mobilize the nation's fighting spirit. The controlled Tokyo press, automatically reacting to the program laid down by Premier Hideki Tojo in a radio speech yesterday, issued simultaneous appeals to the Japanese people to back up the government, the broadcasts disclosed. Stress was laid on Tojo's demand that the nation's labor power be mobilized to the utmost and that the airplane and munitions output be increased.

Texas Harvest Shows Progress In Some Spots

AUSTIN, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Texas harvest operators made good progress in the week ending Sept. 19 except in the coastal area where squally weather set back somewhat the gathering of rice and cotton crops. The U. S. Department of Agriculture reported that drought continued unbroken in the high plains, the low rolling plains and cross timbers. A few counties in the extreme high plains had sufficient moisture for wheat seeding but generally the area was very dry. Moisture was received in part of the Edwards plateau area, south central, south and coastal counties but only local rains were received in other sections. Cotton harvest was practically completed in South Central Texas, and stalks were being destroyed in South Texas. Peak operations were passed in Central and East Texas, and most of the crop was open and ready for pickers in the low rolling plains. Harvest was getting well started in the south high plains. The large rice crop escaped the serious damage expected from the tropical storm that threatened the Texas coast. Local and heavy rains caused limited damage to matured crops, and delayed harvest. Peanut harvest continued through the week, although harvesting was delayed in many areas because of local showers, and a scarcity of labor. Harvest was not yet at a peak in the North Central area, but was generally under way. Yields continued light with some acreage making fair only. Corn was being gathered but much of the crop is out of the way. Except for the northwestern part, crops of corn, sorghums and hay crops was nearing completion. Fall crop commercial vegetable

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—American prisons are doubling—and more—their quotas toward the $300,000,000 bomber they will buy as their part in the $15,000,000,000 Third War Loan, the treasury reported today. The men and women behind bars will make the craft themselves in a contest to be conducted at the conclusion of the drive. Of 41 reporting institutions, out of a total of 130, the treasury said only one—not identified—has failed to exceed its goal.

Transport Service To Become Tight

FORT WORTH, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The transportation situation will become increasingly tight during the next 90 days and shippers should not be "too choosy" about specifying types of equipment to be used, says R. E. Clark of Washington, Manager of the car service division of the American Association of Railroads. Clark urged the southwestern shippers advisory board yesterday to make use of and conserve all equipment possible to expedite shipments.

Arrangements are to be made whereby a boy-fact survey will be made within the church to find the number of boys that are old enough to join the troop, and then give them a chance to become a Scout. Plans were also made to organize a Cub Pack providing it is approved by the church board and the boys are available to make this possible. The council mortgage plan and the six-point program of emphasis was explained to the group by Scout Executive H. O. Olsen of the Adobe Walls council.

A Vital Message To All Shoe Buyers

FROM THE
International Shoe Company

BECAUSE there has been considerable misunderstanding regarding the quality of shoes now available to civilians, it is important that you become acquainted with the facts. Perhaps this message from America's largest manufacturer of shoes will be helpful to you. At present, our Government has first call on shoe material. Millions of pairs of shoes are being manufactured annually for our armed forces. These shoes are built according to rigid government standards. Only the best materials and skilled workmanship are suitable. Neither you nor we would have it otherwise. Victory demands it. But—does that mean good shoes—dependable shoes—are not to be had by civilians? Not at all—you can still buy good shoes. The honor and integrity of the International Shoe Company stand behind that statement. We, as well as other shoe manufacturers, could make more shoes were we willing to disregard quality—but quality is the essence of this message—and this company is determined not to use present conditions as an excuse for lowering the moral standards of its products. Its standards have been maintained for more than forty years. Despite heavy demand from our armed forces, there is still a sufficient quantity of good, serviceable shoe material available to meet essential civilian requirements. We assure you that we will continue to manufacture shoes that will return full value for your dollar—and satisfactory shoe mileage. You may continue to have confidence in the shoes made for men, women, and children by this company. We shall keep watch with the weavers of our shoes.

Nazis Planned Invasion After Aerial Blitz

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—The gigantic air attack that Germany hurled at London three years ago this month definitely was the preliminary step toward invasion of Britain, it was disclosed today.

Twenty-five hundred barges heaped in ports across the English Channel and the North sea were to have carried Hitler's invasion forces to the shores of England as the climax of a five-week program culminating in mid-September.

The planned preliminary steps to have been the knocking out of the RAF and then the bombing of London to shatter the will and ability of the British people to resist.

This information, obtained from sources which may not be specified, presented a broader picture of events that occurred during those dark days than it was possible to give then or since.

The daring and tireless pilots of the RAF carried the major burden of throwing the enemy invasion program awry—the long program ago were immortalized by the words of Winston Churchill: "Never in the field of human conflict was so much owed by so many to so few."

The RAF then was out-numbered four to one by the German air force's 3,450 planes.

The force that battled back 400 German planes on Sept. 15, 1940 and 850 on Sept. 27 amounted to only 29 squadrons—less than 350 planes—some of which fought three times in a day.

Besides courage, the RAF's big assets were a radio location system, an efficient operational system, and the German's sequence of mistakes.

The Germans counted on dive-bombing, but evasive tactics which saved the States when they failed to work in Britain. Without them the Nazi bombers were forced into high altitude pattern bombing by daylight—a system in which they didn't believe.

British Want Women Aircraft Workers

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Urging every provision be made for "the titanic struggle facing us in 1944," Labor Minister Ernest Bevin said today that the British cabinet had given priority to aircraft construction and urged women up to 50 to go to work in plane factories.

In a review of Great Britain's manpower situation before the House of Commons he reported that mobilization has reached a stage not exceeded in any other country.

Nearly 23,000,000 out of 33,000,000 persons between 14 and 64 who are available for work are in the armed services, civil defense or part-time employment.

Seven million women are doing part-time work. More than a million women are doing voluntary, non-paid jobs.

Ninety-one percent of Britain's unmarried women between 18 and 40 are employed. Over 80 per cent of children's married women in that group also are working.

More than a million men and women over 65 are in the war effort.

Two and a quarter million more people are employed in munitions making than at the end of the last war.

Higher Dairy Prices Expected

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—(AP)—Some Texas congressmen, who do not wish to be identified, say they believe some action will be taken in a day or two to bring relief to the dairy industry.

"They expressed this belief yesterday after Texas members of congress demanded that Marvin Jones, head of the war food administration or some other government representative act immediately to bring such relief."

The delegation met at lunch with Jones, who formerly was a congressman from Texas.

Rep. Thomason (D-Tex.), chairman of the group, said the delegation was not going on record as favoring either of two principal proposals that have been made: raising the price of milk to consumers, through subsidies.

"We did emphasize, however, that something had to be done and done immediately," commented Thomason. "Dairy farmers throughout Texas are being forced to close down. I know the same situation prevails all over the country."

Jones gave them the impression some of the congressmen said, that the subsidy plan probably was about to be ordered into effect.

Dear Editor, We do not see any reason for canonizing Joe Stalin just because he has disbanded the Communist International. Have we forgotten that the Comintern was organized for the specific purpose of spreading the ideology of Communism? Have we overlooked the fact that Lenin and Trotsky planned a world-wide communist revolution? Are we ignorant of the fact that the quarrel between Stalin and Trotsky was based solely on the international policy of the bolsheviks? Are we so naive that we have no suspicions of the reasons which have prompted Brother Joe to remain silent, non-committal and evasive? Is it not possible that the disbanding of the Comintern is purely a deceptive smoke-screen? Is it possible that the bolsheviks have been converted to the ideas of constitutional democracy by the magic process of absent treatment, the Atlantic charter, the Casablanca or Washington conferences? Are we incapable of doing any sound thinking for ourselves? Must free Americans be silenced by the imperialistic New Deal bureaucracy and Rooseveltian communist propaganda?

Perhaps the Comintern was disbanded because it had accomplished its ultimate goal. Lenin and Trotsky planned a policy of attaining the goal of the Communist International by a sudden violent universal revolution. But Stalin disagreed. He considered it advisable to make Russia an impregnable state. His international policy was to bore from within and accomplish the goal by subtle destruction of all constitutional democracy. This has been accomplished admirably in England and the United States. The labor leader Bevin holds the balance of power in England.

Churchill is just the figurehead of a decadent imperialistic government, undermined by the very care by labor unionism, popularized by the church. In America, Roosevelt is nominally the commander in chief, but in reality he is the pawn of the labor hierarchy—which is immune from governmental control by the Clayton amendment—a cringing tool of the Comintern four-some: Lewis, Green, Murray and Bridges.

It is evident, therefore, that the Comintern has accomplished its goal. The reason for its continuance is that the imperialistic New Deal has been devaluated by New Dealism, our packed supreme court has recognized the void governmental powers of the labor union hierarchy, our citizenry has no legal recourse, no protection against this organized tyranny.

Stalin knows that it is a simple matter to transform our decadent democracy into a collectivized communist state—it is practically "in the bag." Brother Joe knows this, but to quiet the suspicions of the liberty loving people he made a grand gesture: another smoke screen to blind our eyes to the fact that we are headed to the destructive pit of communism—sold down the river by New Dealism.

But who cares about true Americanism? Have we not been promised Four Freedoms? Are we not being baited by promises of social security from the cradle to the grave? What more do we want? Will it not be a great step in our social evolution to become slaves to a despotic labor bureaucracy? Will not the profit and capitalism be banished from the earth? Will it not be a new expression of communism in the chain gangs of the Comintern? Will it not be enjoyable to know that we sold our birthright of freedom for a tasty fish of comintern potage?

Praise the Lord, and pass the haloney! We are being led like dumb sheep to the slaughter—blinded by the communist ideology of New Dealism. What a travesty of Christian democracy! What a reversal to paganism! What a deliberate stab in the back to our boys in the armed services, who do not yet realize that we are consistently betraying them by our failure to destroy the Communist International which sits enthroned in our national capital. We are unworthy of being called Americans unless we dare to protest and say: "they shall not pass!"

Today on the Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt's contention that in this war there is "no such separate entity as the home front" is illustrated by the army's efforts at home to get needs to the troops abroad.

So closely is this tie-in figured in military operations that in planning the Sicilian invasion General Eisenhower requested Linotype machines, presses and paper to be taken on the expedition.

One week after Palermo fell army newspapers were being printed in Sicily.

There are more than 700 camp newspapers, at home and abroad, provided by the army with general news and weekly clip-sheets containing cartoons and home town news.

The papers have names like the Round-Up, printed in New Delhi; the Blast, in Australia; the Midnight Sun, in Alaska, and the White Falcon, in Iceland.

The camp newspapers are in addition to Yank, the Army Weekly, which has headquarters in New York but is printed now in Iran, Egypt, India, Australia, Hawaii, Panama, Trinidad, Puerto Rico and London.

Outlying editions, made-up in New York, go to Greenland, Iceland, Bermuda and Newfoundland.

Daily the Stars and Stripes is published in England, Cairo and at Algiers, Oran and Casablanca in North Africa. The same paper is published twice weekly in Sicily.

As the army moves up through Sicily more papers will sprout behind the fighting lines.

Daily the army sends by radio a 2,000-word summary of each day's news—obtained from the great American wire services—to overseas posts all over the world.

When the news reaches the various centers it is printed locally and rebroadcast to other posts for the same use.

But the printing job sometimes involves something more than just the mechanical and editorial work.

The Army Dispatch in Teheran, Iran, is printed by Arabs who can't read English and made up by editors who can't read Persian. With the help of the American soldier-editors the printers pick out the necessary type.

Where possible the army uses local printing facilities. To fighting fronts the papers are often delivered by plane. In a place like Algiers Arab newsmen sell the copies on the street.

Each week more than 80,000 newspapers are distributed to troops at home and in foreign theaters to keep them informed of current campaigns.

Photographs and highlights of the week's news are printed beside the maps on whose reverse side is told a story such as the weapons of the German infantry, the insignia of Allied armies, silhouettes of enemy aircraft, or even how to abandon ship.

From time to time as campaigns develop, special maps are issued in conjunction with the newspaper. During the Tunisian campaign a special map of Tunisia was prepared. The day the Sicilian campaign was announced, a map of Sicily went to press and was distributed within a week.

Plans to Help Food Production Abroad Drafted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Plans for stimulating food production abroad so this country will not have to feed the world have been perfected by the war mobilization board and are now on President Roosevelt's desk.

Announcement of the global work to be undertaken may be forthcoming by this weekend, along with an executive order designating which federal agency is to administer the huge program.

The job may go either to the office of economic warfare or to the agriculture department. The state department probably will have general supervision insofar as foreign policy is concerned.

Eventually the program likely will be integrated into some United Nations organization in line with the Allied policy of sharing international responsibilities.

Agricultural experts here said the main work of promoting production abroad is divided into three steps: First, deciding where fertile lands and labor may be found; second, guaranteeing markets for the products; and third, making available the services of scientists and other men with "know-hows" as well as some machinery and seeds where needed.

The cost is not expected to be great since benefits from increased production probably will be able to pay for the food they get.

While some American producers may fear foreign competition, the advocates of foreign production say the United Nations food conference at Hot Springs last summer developed proof that the world never has had enough food and the problem essentially is not one of production but one of distribution.

Dry Texas Counties Will Receive Aid

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Special steps to help farmers in 220 drought-stricken counties—22 of them in Texas—hain production of livestock and dairy products were announced by the War Food Administration.

The drought area was designated yesterday as covering the State of Arkansas, most of Oklahoma and contiguous counties in Texas, Kansas, Missouri, Tennessee and Mississippi.

Feed users in the area will be given preference by the Commodity Credit Corporation in orders for government-owned feed wheat, soybeans from the 1942 crop will be shipped by the CCG into the area for crushing as soon as available, and hay buyers in the area are urged by the WFA to discontinue purchases intended for shipment to other areas.

A program of additional credit facilities for farmers needing financial assistance is included among other steps now being planned, WFA said.

The Texas counties: Wichita, Archer, Young, Throckmorton, Stephens, Eastland, Comanche, Keith, Palo Pinto, Jack, Clay, Montague, Wise, Parker, Hock, Somervell, Johnson, Tarrant, Denton, Cooke, Dallas and Kaufman.

Guadalcanal Raided By Jap Planes Again

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Shooting down two enemy bombers, American fighter planes drove off a Japanese bombing raid on Guadalcanal, the navy reported today.

The enemy raiding group, largest reported over the island in the central Solomons in many weeks, was composed of "12 or 16 enemy bombers."

Only light material damage and a few casualties resulted before the Japanese were driven off the morning of Sept. 21, Solomons time.

The navy reported also another raid by six Japanese planes which dropped bombs near the air strip on Guadalcanal. Only light damage was caused and no casualties were suffered in that raid on Sept. 20.

The two raids raised to five the number of attacks by Japanese planes in the Guadalcanal area since Sept. 13.

In the earlier raids only minor damage was caused and they had been considered, primarily as nuisance attacks made by reconnaissance planes.

Post-War Home Building Ready

CHICAGO, Sept. 23—(AP)—Abner H. Ferguson, commissioner of the federal housing administration, said today that the FHA is in a position to resume, "at a moment's notice," its insurance activities in the small home field and "to energetically press forward in the post-war building program."

Ferguson declared that some advocates of new methods of housing finance "seemed to have overlooked the fact" that the FHA needs no new legislation to go into immediate action in the small home field "the moment wartime restrictions are lifted."

The FHA commissioner, in an address prepared for delivery to the annual business meeting of the Mortgage Bankers Association of America, said there still was available "practically half a billion dollars of unused insurance authorization," which he said would be sufficient to finance the construction of at least 100,000 houses. Additional funds also might be available for the agency's post-war program, he said.

James Twombly, governor of the federal home loan bank system, predicted that a million homes would be built and marketed after the war on "packaged plans," and would be financed "at a mortgage interest rate unprecedented in our history."

Soldiers Not Paid For Picking Apples

NEWBURGH, N. Y., Sept. 23—(AP)—Soldiers from Fort Devins, Mass., began today their second week of apple picking in Orange county while orchard owners sought repeal of a war department "no pay" order.

Samuel B. Phelps, manager of the lower Hudson regional market, said the war department had notified growers the soldiers were on "active duty" and therefore ineligible to receive any pay other than their army stipends.

He said that meanwhile the money earned is held in escrow, and that if the soldiers do not get it, it will go to the U. S. treasury.

Mediterranean Love Note Gets Through

NEW YORK, Sept. 23—(AP)—It was a 4,750 to one chance, but Capt. Howard Treu made it. He arrived here from the Mediterranean war theater bearing a message, the main part being "I love you," from Sgt. John Sweeney to a "Miss Smith."

The captain had a telephone number but it turned out to be wrong—and there are 4,750 Smiths in the phone book. He inquired, he turned to the New York Daily News. His plight was unfolded.

Yesterday, Mrs. Helen Sweeney, the captain's mother saw the story. She informed her daughter-in-law-to-be, Irene Smith, who contacted Capt. Treu.

The Sweeney-Smith romance had added impetus today.

west of Potenza, 15 miles north of Sala Consilina and 10 miles west of Mottola which is north of Taranto, capturing the towns of Acerno, Avigliano and Ginosa.

Acerno is 18 miles east and slightly north of Salerno and six miles north of Campagna, reported captured yesterday.

Avigliano is 50 miles east of Salerno and about eight miles northwest of Potenza, also reported captured yesterday.

Ginosa is 25 miles northwest of Taranto and 14 miles inland from the Gulf of Taranto.

(The German communique today admitted "a dent made by the enemy in our positions near Contursi" but claimed the break was "cleaned up in counter-attacks. The enemy has brought up fresh forces in the eastern sector of the front without, however, so far commencing an attack."

(Contursi is between Acerno and Avigliano and apparently somewhat to the rear of the new Allied line.)

(The BBC in a broadcast recorded by NBC said the American Fifth Army had captured Contursi, 26 miles southeast of Salerno.)

North and northeast of Salerno, however, the Germans were putting up a stiff and stubborn battle on the direct, shoreline route to Naples and little advance was made.

"With the first phase of the battle of Italy, which took place at Salerno, over both our forces and the Germans are in the same positions as boxers sitting in the corner preparing for the next round," a military spokesman said.

He explained that both sides were regrouping for the next blow.

Meanwhile the Northwest African air forces held to their task of mopping up Nazi communications leading to the Naples area, with Mitchells, Marauders and Invaders striking at bridges, road junctions and moving transport.

Briton Says West Wall Can Be Broken

LONDON, Sept. 23—(AP)—The house of commons was told yesterday by a man who saw Hitler's vaunted West Wall from the inside that "it doubtless is very strong" but not so strong that Allied invaders couldn't break thru.

Naval Commander R. M. Prior, a Briton who escaped after being captured at Dieppe and finally reached safety by way of Spain after nine months of wandering in France, declared:

"In my view it could be assaulted and breached by a determined assault, well organized."

Prior walked through France disguised as a French workman after dropping from a German hospital train. He said that during his flight he had opportunity for a close inspection of part of the wall.

Bill Banning Dad Draft Faces Death

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Despite last-ditch protests by Senator Wheeler, (D-Mont.), administration leaders today charted toward a shelf his measure to block the draft of fathers.

Fortified by the army general staff's assertion that 7,700,000 men must be in uniform by Dec. 31 to insure victory, opponents of the Wheeler measure appeared confident they could either smother the bill when it comes up next Tuesday or bang it back to the military affairs committee, there to languish and die.

Meanwhile a million fathers with low order numbers awaited the calls which their draft boards will begin sending out in October to pick the 440,000 family heads for the military service officials say must be inducted by the first of the year. Rejections in this class have been running about 50 per cent.

OBJECTIVE

Kaipiti, which airborne Australians captured Sept. 18, headquarters disclosed that a Japanese patrol of 200 was encountered the night of the transport landings. The Aussies killed 120 of the enemy and routed the others.

Widespread air blows of the Allies augmented the latest ground operations. In the Madang sector northwest of Finschhafen, the already disrupted coastal supply route was pounded Tuesday by fighters which doubled the bridges destroyed to eight.

Across Dampier Strait from Finschhafen, Liberators dropped 60 tons of bombs on the airfield at Cape Gloucester, New Britain, and other planes raided the airfield at Gasmata.

In the New Ireland vicinity, reconnaissance bombers set a 5,000-ton enemy ship afire, sank a 1,500-tonner and bombed two other vessels.

The Japanese airforce caused slight damage and casualties with 18 fighter-escorted bombers which attacked Allied positions in the Watut valley well inland from Lae in New Guinea and also minor damage in a six plane bombing-rafting raid early Monday on Guadalcanal in the Solomons.

Stimson Reports Positions Good

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today success for Allied arms during the last week in all world battle areas will "make possible further deployment of our forces for a possible ultimate penetration of enemy defenses on all fronts."

At a press conference discussion of war activities covering the last seven days, Stimson asserted the Allied positions in the Salerno area are now "reasonably secure" against German counter-attack.

The advance of the Allies in the Mediterranean, Stimson commented, undoubtedly has accelerated the German retreat in Russia. He said the fall rains in Russia may prove more of an obstacle to Russian advances than German rear guard action.

"Jeep Nerves"—that's what Dan O'Neill calls the jumpy way some folks react to the strain of wartime living.

Not that Dan blames 'em. When you work 12 hours a day and travel in crowded busses—live in trailers and put up with inconveniences—it's only natural to get tense and irritable.

"Folks must learn to relax," says Dan, "and take it easy."

And Dan thinks he has the formula. Soon as he's through at the shop he comes straight home, picks out the comfortable chair and pours himself a tall, cool glass of beer.

Then he sips it—slowly and appreciatively—like good beer should be enjoyed.

And by the time that glass of beer is gone, Dan says his disposition is as good as new... and the day's work seems well worth tackling again tomorrow.

It's a real effective formula. I know; I've tried it!

Pampa Harvester Starters Chosen for Opening Game Friday Night

Sheehan May Draw Place As Fullback

A light signal practice under the lights and some work on defense will constitute the Harvesters last work-out tonight before their 1943 debut at 8:30 tomorrow night at Harvester Field when they play the Hollis, Okla., high school eleven.

Coach Otis Coffey today announced that his starters would be Cree, left end; Curtis, left guard; Winburn, center; McKinley, right guard; Turner, right tackle; Bridges, right end; Manly, left halfback; Jerry Kerbow, blocking back; Campbell, right halfback. Nobilit or Allen will go in at left tackle and either Co-Captain Boyles or Sheehan at fullback.

Choice of Kerbow as blocking back came as a surprise as he had played center and will play that position on defense and play a part of the game as center on offense.

Fans will have a chance to compare his work at center with that of Colvin, 146-pound all-state center on the Hollis team.

Lightest men on the field will be Pampa's Campbell, the Harvesters' 125-pound right halfback; the heaviest Hollis' Brooks, 202-pound tackle. Nobilit, Harvester tackle, is 2 pounds lighter than Brooks.

Probable starters for Hollis will be Barry and Fox, ends; Hempleton and Cole, guards; Manley and Brock, tackles; Covin, center; Williams, Whitman, Landrith, Cunningham, backs.

Missing from the Harvesters lineup will be Robbins, 185-pound back, whose knee hasn't mended sufficiently for Coach Coffey to take any chances on his getting injured by playing in tomorrow's game.

Officials in the game will be Goober Keys, former Lubbock coach; Jack Davis, Panhandle, and Ed Montgomery, a Texas A. & M. graduate.

Sheehan, who may start as fullback instead of Boyles, doesn't have Boyles' power nor can he punt as well as Boyles, but he is a smoother punter, just as good a passer, and a tricky and fast runner.

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP)—When it was announced in the press box that Rookie Joe Soskovic and old man Johnny Conroy would not accompany the Dodgers on their current western tour, the announcer explained: "Soskovic is going back to school and Conroy is playing hockey."

YOU PICK 'EM

Arthur Metheny, Yankees—the streets of St. Louis and Bud learned to play baseball on played on an amateur team that won the city championship—he's the kind of player who might be a series star or a bust, depending on how he's hitting against southpaws, who usually trouble him. Once hit .572 at William and Mary but it's safe to say he won't do that at Yankee stadium. Was a .295 hitter at Newark last season and currently is clouting .308 for the Yanks.

Stan Musial, Cardinals—Stan started out three years ago as a left-handed pitcher at Daytona Beach but soon saw the error in his ways. Never stayed in a minor league long enough to win an official batting title but a coach for the National League crown with a .356 average. Also leads the league in doubles and triples and has socked 13 homers. Not so hot afield, but who cares?

SHORTS AND SHELLS
Dick Sipke, Cincinnati farmhand who hit .335 for Birmingham this season, shouldn't have much trouble with umpires. He can neither speak nor hear—And Paul Florence, head-man of the Barons, sees him as the logical successor to two old time stars who were similarly handicapped, the Red's Billy Hoy and Luther "Dummy" Taylor of the Giants.

SAME OLD STUFF
Lent, Benny Leonard of the Maritime service, is a trifle annoyed that his old-time enemy, Lew Tender, actually has been caught training for their War Bonds exhibition in New York's Square tonight. "But it's okay," says Benny with a wink. "If Lew starts to get tough, I'll just whisper in his ear."

Y., army air field will be unofficially represented on the gridiron by a team of civilian employees called the "Cannibals" because they'll be coached by Tennis Pro Mel Kahan, athletic director at the base—When the navy ordered officers at pre-flight schools to participate daily in contact sports, the Del Monte, Calif., "Navigator" reported that the gold medal boys complied by slitting side-by-side during their checker matches.

Registration for six-man teams is incomplete but should push total enrollment to more than 600 teams, said Athletic Director R. J. Kidd.

Yankees Could Clinch Their Title Tomorrow

Permanent possibilities have never been so bright for the New York Yankees, whose lead in the American League is now 10-1/2 games over the Detroit Tigers' 4-2 yesterday and need only three more victories to eliminate the Washington Senators and two to dispose of Cleveland.

Defeats for the Senators and Indians would hasten the process so that the Yanks might get the job done in two ways.

Medic Softball Team Beaten By 454th, 1 to 0

The 454th BH and AB squadron softball team can win the Pampa Army Air Field championship tonight if it repeats the thrilling victory it chalked up Tuesday evening over the Medical Detachment team.

The 454th club won the opening game of the championship play-off series, 1 to 0, on short fielder Haje-cate's 7th inning homerun.

Tuesday's game was a real pitcher's battle from start to finish, with Horick, of the 454th, facing Alberts of the losers in one of the best mound duels of the entire softball season.

Horick was the steadier, allowing only two hits, while striking out seven Medic' batters. Alberts chucked effective ball, giving up only three safe blows, but got himself into frequent trouble by issuing four free passes.

However, brilliant fielding by every member of each team kept a possible runs away from the plate until the top of the seventh. Just when it looked as though the battle would last for "the duration plus six," the winner's shortfielder, Haje-cate, connected with a fast pitch for a well-hit homerun, and that was the ball game.

The Medics, who copped the first-

Early Critics of Marshall Had To Eat Their Words Later On

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Nomination of General George C. Marshall for the job of commanding all Anglo-American forces of land, sea and air lends a supreme touch of irony to the description given of him as a young man when he entered Virginia military institute.

In his early days as a plebe at V. M. I., the "West Point of the south" where his great ideal, Stonewall Jackson once was a teacher, Marshall was classed as "a clumsy, unpromising recruit, ill-looked upon by the exacting faculty of the ancient institute."

Early critics were destined to eat their words quickly, however. Marshall graduated from V. M. I. in 1901 with the highest military rank in the cadet corps—and a few years later, a high ranking American officer of the Philippines said of the then young lieutenant:

"Keep your eyes on George Marshall; he is the greatest military genius of America since Stonewall Jackson."

This bouquet was the result of Marshall's efforts in working out a practice plan for the defense of Manila. Marshall's commanding officer even recommended that he be promoted to brigadier general in one jump—a promotion that might have appeared almost "global" in its proportions to young Marshall.

But the recommendation was not acted upon. Marshall was destined to move up slowly into the military hierarchy.

Although he was described by General Pershing as "the finest officer of the first world war"—principally because he organized a secret movement of more than 800,000 men in 14 days in preparation for the Meuse-Argonne offensive—it wasn't until 1939 that Marshall won the rank of general.

It was then that he was appointed the nation's military "hot spot"—army chief of staff in a country where the rumble of Europe's guns already were being heard.

Not for long was the nation left in doubt as to what the rangy, lean six-footer had much to change about America's military condition.

"We are not ready for war. We are not even ready for defense," announced the blue-eyed field soldier with the short, pug-nosed nose.

But Marshall did much to change that. Under his leadership, the army grew from a "security force" of 174,000 to the present size that may reach 7,700,000 by year's end. Under him the armed forces changed from equipment to streamlined legions which fight on a half dozen fronts throughout the world and employ the world's finest weapons.

Munitions Output In August Spurts Ahead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23 (AP)—Munitions output spurred ahead in August, scoring its biggest gain since April, the war production board reported today, and now appears to be getting its second wind.

Chairman Donald M. Nelson's monthly report said overall arms production went up 4 per cent over July, while the total of warplanes delivered jumped from 7,373, to 7,612. Heavy bombers gained 11 per cent and fighters 5 per cent.

Deliveries of naval vessels hit a new all-time record, climbing 40 per cent over July, and total work done on naval ships, ordnance and equipment passed the one-billion-dollar mark for the first time. Destroyer-escort deliveries ran 20 per cent ahead of schedule.

Nelson has gone to London in an effort to further the integration of American and British production.

Articles Needed For Sun Room At Air Base

Sun-rooms at Pampa Field hospital need ash trays, humidors, pictures, vases, flowers, and plants, Ray Ellis, American Red Cross field director, told the camp and hospital committee at its meeting this week.

Furnishings are also needed for the enlisted men's day rooms at the McLean Internment Camp.

J. R. Martin, representing the American Legion, was named chairman of a drive for ash trays and smoking stands. The drive will not start at once but Pampanas are asked to take stock now of their surplus trays and stands.

If you have a contribution of any kind to make you should telephone Mrs. W. R. Campbell, 2370, in order that the committee may have a complete list of donations. Articles can be taken to the Pursey Motor company, 211 N. Ballard, or to the Red Cross office in the city hall.

Attending the committee meeting were Irvia Coje, chairman, and representative of the Rotary club; Mrs. H. H. Heiskell, Worthwhile club; Mrs. Roy E. McKernan, women of Holy Souls parish; Mrs. Glen Radcliffe, Girl Scouts; Mrs. Edgar W. Henshaw, Episcopal church.

Mrs. B. C. Fahy, First Christian church; Joe Key, Red Cross; James G. Sturgeon, Veterans of Foreign Wars; J. R. Martin, American Legion; Mrs. W. C. Walstad, Women's Society of Christian Service, First Methodist church; Mrs. F. E. Leech, American Association of University Women.

Mrs. Joe Key, council of clubs; Mrs. Gene Fatheree, Parish Education club; Mrs. W. R. Campbell, parent-teacher council; Mrs. Frank M. Culbertson, volunteer special services chairman; Mrs. J. B. White, executive secretary, Red Cross; Ray Ellis, Red Cross field director.

BLYTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 23 (AP)—Thirty-eight-year-old Buck Wesley, Hornersville, Mo., school teacher who picks cotton in his spare time, is the 1943 national cotton picking champion.

Wesley won the title on a delta farm near here Tuesday by putting together 121 pounds in two hours.

The feat won him a $1,000 cash prize.

Who Dares Not Lend His Money?

By JOHN STEENBECK
LONDON — I have seen the soldiers come down from the ships and stand in long lines on the docks, their "B" bags beside them and their packs on their backs and their rifles slung over their shoulders. They have come to a new country and it is strange to them. They are puzzled and although only a little time from home, they are homesick.

I have seen the supplies come in by the hundred shiploads, locomotives and tanks and trucks — acres of boxed food and great mounds of hams, shiploads of bombs stacked in iron keel to hatch and all materials that we need at home — steel for bridges and buildings, food for our own people, material enough to make all America well fed, well housed and well clothed. And all this dumped on the docks of a foreign country.

I have seen American railroad men shunting cars on the British line, men who got good pay on the B & O and on the New York Central and now with sergeant's stripes and sergeant's pay.

I have seen the men climb into the Porsess in the early morning and fly away waving with elaborate nonchalance and I have seen the gap in the mess when they did not come back and the empty bunks, the blankets thrown aside as they threw them, and the framed photographs on the steel lockers.

The men have gone up the gangways again to go into action, and they jump from landing barges to a beach, strewn with the bodies of their own people, and they claw their way like animals into a hostile coast.

I have seen the hospitals with the mangled men, the legless and blind, the fingerless hands and the burned faces — all the destruction that steel and fire can do to a man's body and mind. I have seen children hauled out of a blasted building; lumps of crushed, dirty meat in pinafors, and dead — boxed and buried. In God's name, what is it for except to get this horrible thing over with as quickly and as thoroughly as possible? And if this is true, it should not be a matter of "Who will lend his money?" But "Who dares not?"

Pair Who Tried To Kill Musso Freed; One Dies

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
Representing the Combined American Press, Distributed by Associated Press
WITH THE ALLIED ARMIES IN ITALY, Sept. 19 — (Delayed)—Two men who many years ago attempted to assassinate Benito Mussolini and were condemned to life imprisonment have been released by Allied authorities from notorious Penal islands but one of them, by a ghastly mischance, was killed by a German shell just seven days after he had been at liberty for the first time in 16 years.

The unfortunate victim was the less well-known of the two. He was an anarchist named Lucetti who, in the early days of the Fascist regime, threw a bomb at the duce but missed.

Lucetti was confined on the island of Santo Stefano and was freed by Allied forces Sept. 10. He was taken to the island of Ischia and was awaiting transportation when he was killed by a German shell on Sept. 17.

Far more famous was Col. Tito Zaniboni who was on the island of Ponza when he was liberated.

Zaniboni was one of Italy's world war heroes. He was colonel of a regiment of Alpine troops which all combatants in the last war recognized as one of the best fighting units in the world. He had every decoration for valor that Italy could give.

From the beginning of Fascism, Zaniboni declared against it.

In 1927 he made up his mind that the best thing he could do for Italy would be to kill Mussolini. He bought the finest high-powered hunting rifle with telescope sights.

One of the few places the duce could be relied upon to appear in public during the first half of the Fascist regime was the balcony of Palazzo Chigi, which Mussolini used to use as his prime ministerial office.

Zaniboni finally managed to rent a room about 100 yards from the Chigi balcony and overlooking it. Mussolini was a doomed man. Zaniboni lived in his room and waited for Mussolini to come out.

It was not to be. Zaniboni had entrusted his secret to one man, but that was one man too many.

His friend became penic-striken at the last minute and just before Mussolini appeared on the balcony agents of Mussolini's secret police broke into his room and overpowered him.

Of Zaniboni's 16 years in prison, three were spent on San Stefano, which Italians know as their Devil's Island.

German Prisoners Give DeCordova Gift

The German prisoners from the McLean Internment Camp, who have finished their work in cleaning up alleys in Pampa and gone back to the camp, gave a souvenir ash tray to W. C. deCordova, city manager.

The tray was made of wood with a tin can piece set in it and tin cans were used to carve the tray since the prisoners are not allowed to have knives.

A figure of a bulldog was carved out and is a part of the tray.

The Nazi sergeant presented the tray to the city manager, saying that all the men in the gang had a hand in making the souvenir.

Manager deCordova, a veteran of World War I, was at Coblenz, Germany, at one time and had mentioned this fact in talking to the German sergeant, on one of the manager's trips observing the prisoners at work.

War Of Movement

When Hitler's submarine weapon failed, as we believe now that it has, the Axis was doomed. If we had not licked the submarine then civilization, as we know it and want it to be, would have been obliterated.

The Allies almost lost World War I when German subs threatened to gain control of the seas. In that war the average round trip for a transport or materiel supply ship was only 6000 miles, across the Atlantic and back.

Now, with millions of men to be sent all over the world, and with this country the major source of Allied supply, the average round trip is much longer — up to 15,000 miles.

In World War I only 367,000 American fighters were transported overseas during the first year; in this war, 900,000 have been shipped and many were sent two or three times as far.

In World War I we were proud of getting 1-725,000 tons of supplies across the Atlantic in a year. This time we moved 10,500,000 tons in a like period, much of it to the far reaches of the Pacific or, if to Europe, by the long routes.

In World War I almost all of our soldiers went to France, direct or by way of England, and thereafter were not moved by water until brought home after the armistice. In this war, for the Sicilian invasion alone — a relatively small scale forerun of what is not far ahead — 3266 ships were needed to deliver men and armament and munitions and supplies.

Meanwhile, we have had to bring in, from overseas, millions of tons of raw materials to feed the almost unbelievably vast maw of our arsenal of democracy.

The shipping needs will grow from now until Europe is freed. They will not diminish materially until Japan is whipped. We might just as well recognize that, and adapt our civilian lives to it.

On Ending Wars

The aftermaths of World War I left us, as a people, satirical and supercilious about even a hint of the slogans which featured that struggle.

We fought then, officially, "to make the world safe for democracy" in a "war to end all wars."

No sooner did the guns fall silent on the western front than democracy, therefore on the wax, began to wane. It vanished in Russia. Italy was taken over by Fascism. Germany by Nazism, and in minor nations all over the world dictatorship sprang up or, already in existence, strengthened themselves.

Out of this movement into totalitarianism another and greater world war became inevitable. Now we are in its midst. And we are more than skeptical about the "silly idealism" of talk about ending war or associations for the purpose of preventing war.

Nevertheless, we now see as never before that no two major powers can go to war again without dragging in the whole world, and it won't take much more global war to destroy civilization.

The idea of ending all wars may be silly, but whether or no, we are forced to try. Which, presumably, is why day after day practical men, who a few years ago would have been isolationists in their international views, come out for intelligent post-war collaboration among nations of good will to do what is possible to avert, or at worst to postpone, World War III.

There are, of course, well-meaning but visionary schemes for "tight permanent organizations which will not be acceptable to Russians—or, for that matter, to British, French, Americans, Chinese—because they involve surrender of national sovereignty to international governments.

Practical men are talking about what may not be a final solution, but at least would be a big step in the right direction. This is an extremely defensive-offensive alliance between Great Britain and the United States, with looser but still close alliance with Russia and China, if possible.

Winston Churchill, President Roosevelt, and the winter-book Republican favorite, Governor Dewey, all appear committed to substantially such a course. So are dozens of lesser leaders, thousands of publicists who may be supposed to reflect developing public opinion.

Perhaps we can't end all wars yet. But we cannot afford not to do our bungling best.

The Nation's Press

HAS THE O.P.A. BECOME A GESTAPO? (The Los Angeles Times—By Sidney R. Gester)

So it has come at last—the final barrier that stood between the liberties of a free American citizenry and complete regimentation—perhaps subjugation is the better word—has succumbed to the constant attacks of the American Gestapo. I refer, of course, to that iniquitous and ubiquitous organization of professional busybodies and snoopers known as the O.P.A. and specifically to the proposed extension of the franking privilege to include the transmission of information relating to violations, actual or imaginary, of O.P.A. edicts and manifestos to their multitudinous officials.

This nefarious practice has been followed for several years past in Germany, the country whose government, systems and ideologies all real Americans abhor and the spread of which, as I understand it, together with all other Gestapo standards for, we are supposed to be fighting against. Maybe I'm wrong. Shakespeare said: "A rose by any other name would smell as sweet"—per contra a rotten system such as the one in question would certainly stink as bad regardless of whether it was practiced in Germany or the United States of America. No, I'm wrong—it would smell infinitely worse here because this is supposed to be the "land of the free," the Germans are used to being pushed around by petty officials.

INCENTIVES TO PRODUCE (New York Times) J. F. Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Electric Company of Cleveland, Ohio, urges that manufacturers of standard commercial products, with long-established costs determined by competition with prices frozen by the O.P.A., should be exempt from Government renegotiation contracts. Unlike this, he argues, efficient operations will be penalized, and wasteful, high-cost manufacturing...

Common Ground

By R. O. BOILES "I seek the non-word primer, I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which will exact have their counterpart." —WALT WHITMAN.

MILK TO BE SUBSIDIZED When the agents of "the Great Brain" at Washington talked about keeping down the cost of living to appease the union labor groups and get their votes, they talked about subsidizing three items, meat, butter and coffee. Now they propose to subsidize milk. They want to do this by selling the dairy man feed at less than cost. What a job this would be, to determine how much feed each dairy man consumed. All the people who were engaged in bookkeeping, checking and sniping and law making would be producing no wealth. They, however, would be consuming and reducing the supply that other producers need.

It is a delusion and a snare for "the Great Brain" at Washington to contend that he is not going to let the soldiers down when he will not even require the workers, who are staying at home and getting higher wages than they ever got in their lives, to pay the cost of their food.

But this is all a natural result of years of miseducation. It is a natural result of telling the people that education could be free, of telling the people that we could have a progressive tax and the poor would not need to pay taxes in proportion as they consumed wealth. It is the result of trying to teach the people that people need not live by the sweat of their brow; that they can live by voting.

It is discouraging to say the least that people are so confused that they cannot see the impossibility of the government rolling back prices by subsidizing. It is a mathematic impossibility for the government to keep down any prices without raising other prices. If administration officials actually believe they can do this they are stupid. If they do not believe it and still pretend they can do it they are dishonest.

To subsidize all food and bring the reward for labor in production and distribution of food to the same level as labor union demands would cost the government from ten to twenty billion dollars a year. If this money is secured by taxation on industry it will retard the accumulation of tools and thus reduce the production of labor and thus lower the wages they can receive.

If it is secured by bank credit it will raise the prices of things and require more regimentation, more price ceilings.

The fact of the matter is that the administration is at the end of its rope in fooling the people as to having some way of obtaining "social gains." There are no "social gains" when workers get dollars with which they cannot buy milk and butter and meat and the things they are entitled to have and could get if the government did not pass laws that interfere with the initiative of the 10 talent man.

No New Dealer can sight one single federal law that has been passed in the last 30 years that makes it easier for the 10 talent man to grow and develop and raise the real wages of the worker. Every law they have passed has retarded him in his ability to serve mankind.

ACCORDING TO NEEDS

The New Deal has practically put into operation the socialist shibboleth—from each according to his ability and to each according to his needs. The administration is attempting to determine by ration cards what each person should get and by refusing to permit him to change his job without the consent of the bureaucrats to determine what is his ability to produce.

The free enterprise way of determining what each man should produce and what each man needs were, by letting all the people establish what each man was worth. The longer we attempt to take from each according to his ability and to give to each according to his needs, and let the politicians be the judge instead of the people, the scarcer things will get.

rewarded. He makes an instructive comparison: Renegotiation is a $2 name for a very old and much-used policy. The previous name for it was piece-work wage cutting. Experience on it has been very long and very costly. It has done more to reduce efficiency of production than any other mistake that management has ever made.

The piece-worker originally received a contract at so much a piece. At first he went ahead on the idea that he could get that much for all the pieces he made. However, as soon as his skill increased his earnings beyond a certain point management cut the price. Labor took the obvious course and limited output, so that in 99.9 per cent of all factories of the United States limitation of output is a philosophy, disobedience to which results in a crack head of a man who breaks the established limited production.

We have recently had an increasing number of warnings from Government officials that war production has been less than it ought to be. But insufficient attention has been given to the effect of Government policies themselves in hindering maximum production. On the negative side, the Government has failed effectively to oppose the numerous "make-work" rules of many unions; in fact, some of its labor policies encourage such rules. On the positive side, its renegotiation of contracts has failed to take all factors into account. When a manufacturer can secure no advantage from introducing economies and efficiencies that conserve scarce manpower and materials, or that increase his production with the same manpower and materials, his incentive to be on the constant lookout for these is considerably reduced. The reduction of the individual worker and group of workers, also, could be stimulated by more attention to incentive wage payments, the "payment by results" principle so widely used in Great Britain.

THAT'S WHAT IT MEANS

(The Daily Oklahoman) Have you ever seen one of those resolutions calling upon Uncle Sam to take part of the money he borrowed to prosecute the war and use it to help pay the resolutions' grocery bills? Such resolutions are being adopted all over the United States and adopted every day.

Of course the purpose of the resolutions is not expressed in such frank and candid terms. The resolutions demand a roll back or cut back or government subsidies. But their real and only meaning is that Uncle Sam shall help the resolvers what they call their groceries. They are to pay yourself. Mr. MacLeish has a good sense about humor; this, however, is not his humor. He doesn't want to do him any harm, and his new poem is really something you shouldn't miss.

The title of the seven-and-three-quarter train is or are, "A Foot Speaks From the Gallery." MacLeish doesn't say so specifically any place, all modern poetry being a bit vague that way, but it is reasonable to assume that means the Visitor's Gallery in Congress. Whether he was on the House or Senate side, he doesn't say either. Visitors aren't allowed to speak from the galleries, but there's no law to keep them from writing poetry on their impressions.

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By ALBERT LEMAN

DREAM—The Baile of Salerno convinces financiers that Hitler cannot check the forward sweep of the Allies. The end of Armageddon is in sight—though distant—and heavy fighting is ahead.

Important industrialists in New York believe that we cannot survive the transition period after fighting is over without catastrophic deflation unless we frame plans immediately to cope with the effects of demobilization.

These capitalists scorn small-fry economists who ring the old refrain: "Remove regimentation and permit spending power will automatically bring prosperity." It might, but they think that accepting the doctrine of laissez faire and twiddling thumbs until tomorrow are mad gambles to the top.

Other master minds are mapping ways to lower corporation taxes, loosen certain SEC controls and dispose of surplus war commodities and facilities without disorderly dumping. But unless the majority of owners make definite arrangements at once for peacetime production, work for everyone will prove to be a mirage—and free enterprise a mockery.

OBSTACLES—New York bankers have just received an authentic, up-to-the-minute survey of the revived Brazilian rubber industry.

President Vargas's country now has seventy-four factories working. Exports are forty times the prewar volume. Although engineers had earlier calculated that thirty-two thousand tons of elastic might be manufactured, the estimate for 1943 has been revised downward to twenty-five thousand. The present level of output is even now greater than the capacity of washing and treating facilities.

More than twenty-three thousand men have been employed in the plantations and six thousand extras are awaiting transportation to the interior. Stupendous obstacles have been surmounted. It was necessary to construct highways, railroads, electric lines and irrigation ditches before production. In Mato Grosso more than ten thousand tons of para are stored, ready for conveyances. In Manaus one-quarter of available cargo space has been allocated to shipping.

The development is not merely an emergency makeshift. Rio intends to regain her supremacy in this economic orbit. Plans have been drawn to link the Amazon and Paraguay rivers in an effort to tap more of the Amazon basin. Adequate forces, engineers hope that the coming invasion of Burma will be more successful than the ill-starred Akab campaign.

When that futile attack petered out, the Japanese would give the Japanese a chance to rest.

MOCKERY—The magnates warn that we must reject the mistake of the Allied military commander in 1939—they fought this war with last war's weapons.

Management ought to realize that reconversion is not enough and that industry must expand. If it merely resumes its interrupted program it will vanish like Gamin's outmoded army. It cannot adopt a Fabian "wait and see" attitude, but should sketch tentative blueprints NOW. Surveys by huge corporations are sufficient; small plants and independent salesmen need to get out their scratch pads.

Steps are being taken. Commercial groups, operating within their own trade organizations, are compiling inventories of resources and markets. Community campaigns,

Archibald MacLeish—remember? He's the fellow who was head of OPI before it became OWI and Elmer Davis took over. He's the fellow who was always wrongfully accused of being a Communist, and who, though he had to give up and go back to being just Librarian of Congress.

Well, anyway, Mr. MacLeish has just written another poem. It rhymes and has stanzas and everything, and it's intended to thank people laugh.

Whether his new poem is funny or not, you'll have to decide for yourself. Mr. MacLeish has a good sense about humor; this, however, is not his humor. He doesn't want to do him any harm, and his new poem is really something you shouldn't miss.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

In 1923, Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough took a vacation trip to Europe. Twenty years later they compiled their romantic, teen-aged experiences in a delightfully amusing book, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," which last month became a best-seller.

Now Paramount is bringing the book to the screen and Cornelia and Emily have written a sequel, due to be published soon, of their adventures in filmtown which they are calling "We Followed Our Hearts to Hollywood."

We looked in on the set of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" today and found two sets of Cornelia and Emily. There were Diana Lynn and Gail Russell, who play Cornelia and Emily in the picture and the authors themselves.

Cornelia and Emily—the real ones—said the set was an irresistible lure. With the help of Hollywood, they were re-living their 20-year-old memories of London and Paris and the Ritz bar.

In fact, Cornelia and Emily said they were having a wonderful time, except for being dazzled by the beauty of Miss Lynn and Miss Russell. That was their only complaint, they said. Their film prototypes were too beautiful.

"If I looked like her 20 years ago," said Emily, nodding toward Miss Lynn, "I wouldn't have gone to Europe." Cornelia agreed. They said they've forgiven Paramount for this inconsistency, though, because otherwise the film is a faithful copy of the book. It should be. They helped write the screen play with Sheridan Gibney, who is also producing. Cornelia and Emily of the picture have two steady boy friends, which Cornelia and Emily of the book didn't have, but that, they said, was to be expected of boy-meets-girl conscious Hollywood.

CAUTIOUS CENSORS

Also, which they expected, the Hays office did a good deal of frowning on their "safety-pocket" sequence. Mothers of both girls had harnessed about Cornelia and Emily a large chamois movie purse which dangled at the knees beneath their skirt and slip and, when walking, "it would get swinging, catching between the knees and making us go into a gait of animated ice-bergs."

The censors sullen and reproachful, sat in on the writing of the "safety-pocket" sequence.

Diana is the former, concert pianist, Dolly Coehr, who made a hit as the brat with Ginger Rogers in "The Major and the Minor." Miss Russell is a former Santa Monica, Calif., high school girl. The film in preparation for this year's August, but thanks to United States scientists, the enemy has been steadily harassed despite the drenching cloudbursts which normally eliminate all jungle fighting.

Aviators on furlough in America describe how our meteorologists, co-operating with the Indian weather bureau, use their limited equipment so skillfully that they can accurately forecast climatic conditions over a target a thousand miles away. As a result, RAF and U. S. pilots can "dodge rindrops" and take advantage of the brief hours of partially clear skies. In July, for example, General Bissell's birdmen actually flew seventy-seven out of thirty-one days.

Such persistent sallies disturb the Nips dug into the mangrove bush. Supplies must be brought in over densely thicketed mountains through swamps and swifter streams. Mules stick in the mud. Sappers rely on tides. Rude arches span innumerable anyons.

Even in peace and sunshine communication is difficult. But now relentless planes chatter peck trains, river boats and bridges. Hirohito's forgotten men cannot get food and ammunition for guard duty, not to mention needs for building up a defense against the coming of and Moutbatten's troops.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst One of the many things the world likes about General Douglas MacArthur is that this great soldier speaks his mind as best a man of action, but his unusual statement in Australia, that however subordinate may be his role in the war, he hopes to play it manfully, leaves one with feelings of deep pleasure as to why he thought it necessary to issue it.

The general's declaration is wholly apposite to the American public, and the usual news sources in Washington profess to be equally at a loss. There's no indication of what inspired it beyond the fact that obviously something is troubling him.

Is it that the supreme commander of army operations in the Southwest Pacific feels that he has been in some way belittled? If that is what he thinks, he's wrong, for his position in the esteem of the American people is as high as the skies. He is one of our great national heroes and his place in our hall of fame is secure.

All sorts of guesses are being made as to exactly what is in MacArthur's mind. But nobody has got closer to it than that apparently he feels he is being circumscribed somewhat in carrying out his strategic conception for the Pacific theater. This, as he says, "contemplates massive strokes against only main strategic objectives," which would "obliterate the need for storming the enemy's possession." One of his most cherished objectives, of course, is recapture of the Philippines.

Many observers think perhaps MacArthur is talking about the coming Burma drive, and the appointment of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten as Allied commander in the Southeast Asia. It's hard to see how Mountbatten's appointment could subordinate MacArthur or detract from the latter's command. It might easily be, however, that the staging of the Burma show, which will call for the massing of vast striking-power in the Indian theater might temporarily deprive the general of resources which he would like for his own offensive.

Be all that as may, the Allied high command says the Burma show is to go forward.

Eviction of the Japanese from their positions in the Burmese jungles represents a vast operation. It calls for an amphibious expedition which will tax Allied resources if it's undertaken before the end of also gives two boys, Bill Edwards and Jim Brown, their first important roles in Hollywood. Edwards is a former New York model. Brown, one-time Texas tennis star, played "Tex" the fighter pilot, in "Air Force."

After 20 years, Emily Kimbrough still "attracts incident as blue serge attracts lint." It was Emily who made all the embarrassing mistakes of the traveler, who precipitated the maddest experience on that trip to Europe. And it's the same Emily in the 20-year-later sequel, "We Followed Our Hearts to Hollywood."

WASTED WARDROBE

The day they arrived in Hollywood, to help write the screen play of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," Emily and Cornelia decided to lunch at the smartest restaurant in town. They donned their finest clothes, including an expensive fur cape Emily had borrowed from a friend to make the trip to movie-town, and called a taxi. The hotel clerk said he was sorry, but there would be no taxis available for several hours. He suggested they eat at a drugstore around the corner. "Sweet home cooking," he said.

Cornelia and Emily looked at each other's fine clothes despondently, and headed for the drugstore stools. As she tried to eat, Emily's borrowed fur persisted in falling to the floor. Finally the girl behind the counter said she'd be glad to take care of it.

"And do you know what," said Emily, the girl took my expensive fur coat and stuck it between the vanilla and chocolate ice cream containers."

WARTIME HEALTH: Health Should Be Considered When Planning To Wed

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS

Written for The News One glance at the list of marriage licenses issued daily that appears in the newspapers is enough to impress forcibly upon any observer the extent of marrying and giving in marriage accomplished in wartime. Most of these marriages, it is to be hoped, will be permanent arrangements. Some of the fortunes of war will terminate. Still others will come to grief with the passing of years.

With emotion running high, as it always does on the eve of battle, and objective facing of all the probabilities, and issues that may arise in the course of time for two people undertaking a lifetime contract is unquestionably difficult. Nevertheless, when people marry at wartime, certain questions should come to mind, and the answers to these questions given fairly and honestly. No matter how much love impels its possessors into marriage, certain matters of sociological and psychological import should be considered into, even in the midst of a war.

HEALTH AIDS HAPPINESS

A happy relationship between a man and a woman, and parenthood are the major objectives of most marriages. A medical check-up of some sort may point the way to success or failure of marriage. Highly neurotic, unstable, immature people do not go into the serious business of marriage eager to uphold their half of the burden. For the most part, they are looking for someone to love or depend upon. Marriage should be a highly adult proceeding, calling upon the most grownup faculties. Those who have been the victims of mental breakdown or epilepsy are in danger of invalidism and of forcing extra burden of responsibility on their mates. Tuberculosis, diabetes, progressive deafness, etc., should likewise be taken into account before marriage is undertaken—all to be considered soberly.

HEREDITARY TRAITS

Parenthood, the subsequent and most tangible aspect of marriage, presents medical considerations such as these: heredity tends to a survival of the fit, and undesirable characteristics, generally speaking, are recessive. Nevertheless, before producing progeny offspring, man and woman should consider each other's heredity, both mental and physical. Here again, progressive deafness, hemophilia, (bleeding), harelip, diabetes, etc., are definitely observed to run in families. There is also evidence to believe the same of epilepsy, dementia praecox, schizophrenia, and manic-depressive psychoses. The appearance from time to time in a family of superior endowment of a phenomenon like the Mongol idiot is so rare and so recessive as to be capable of being ignored. But a general low-grade equipment, physical and mental, tends to be regularly inherited. A weighing of these points will not stop many unions from being consummated. It may, however, give even the most overweight youngsters pause before jumping hastily into a possibly unsuitable and potentially tragic marriage.

Don't Develop "War Nerves"

Dr. Masters' daily health column will help to keep you fit. —BUT VICTORY STAMPS— If agreements and understandings cannot be reached which will make a free world in which to trade, then man-made shackles again will restrict the free flow of goods.

J. R. Rovinsky, vice president Chase National Bank of New York. The European war, as we are led to believe is the intention unless Hitler collapses in the near future. Perhaps MacArthur's own operations might be delayed by this, though then man-made shackles again will restrict the free flow of goods.

It's about 5,000 miles from the Indian theater to New Guinea where General MacArthur has been doing long grand work, and that's a long, long trail for any one headquarters to cover.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—(AP)—Quiet selling in leaders today canceled a part of the gains achieved by the stock market in the last week or so.

Irregular at the start but ending soon entered a slow decline which left the majority down fractions to around a point for the first hour, but somewhat above the lows. Volume was approximately 650,000 shares.

The pleasing war news continued to register favorably on market sentiment but some brokerage quarters suggested a little selling may have been inspired by the treasury's general tax increase proposals.

Displaying a rather soft tone near the close were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Goodrich, American Gas, Westinghouse, Dow Chemical, Philip Morris, Gooden and Douglas.

Heavy throughout, several of the air transport shares went down a point or so in the last hour but they failed to develop activity at any time. Bids generally were off fractions.

Allegheny Corp., preferred and Pepsi-Cola moved against the trend for modest advances.

I'M HERE... the enemys just over the hill!

MAYBE I'm your boy—or the boy next door. You know, Mary's sweetheart, Joan's husband, Timmy's daddy. Your son, Father! Your boy, Mother! Anyway, I've got something to say to you. I've got to make you understand.

This is it. This is zero. This is INVASION!

I'm here, with a million other boys just like me. We're your INVASION forces. And we're going to stay. It wasn't easy getting here, and it is going to be a lot harder before we're through.

WE'RE GIVING ALL WE'VE GOT

I said we were going to stay. I promise that, even if it means the thing—well, the thing we don't like to talk about. Because we're giving all we've got: Our minds, our strength, our blood.

But you see, this isn't going to be enough. Not unless those planes we need snarl down out of the sky on the enemy just over there. Unless those tanks get here. Unless the supply ships get through. Unless there are enough bullets for this rifle.

YOU'RE ON THE INVASION FRONT NOW!

It's that extra $100 War Bond, all of them together, making up the $15 billion worth they're asking you to buy in September, that will prove that you are on the INVASION front with him.

Your part is at least one extra $100 Bond during the Drive—at least $100. Of course, that's in addition to your regular bond buying. A $100 Bond is the rock bottom figure. Some of you will have to invest thousands to put this Drive across. Take it out of your pay check—or out of that nest egg you were saving for a rainy day.

All you can spare is too little, all you've got is just going to be enough.

Look at it this way: You won't be giving anything. You will be investing in VICTORY—and your future. Things like safety for your family and money after the war to buy a new home, or to educate your children.

You're buying a stake in VICTORY—and that means America, yours and mine!

I guess that's all I've got time to tell you now. The enemy is waiting, just over the hill. Don't keep us waiting for you!
