COUNCIL WILL DRAFT
RECOMMENDATIONS FOR PEACE

BY JOSEPH E. SHARKEY,
Associated Press Foreign Staff.
PARIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—French officials said today that sanctions against Italy could not be avoided if Premier Mussolini's forces overtake Ethiopia. These officials predicted that the League of Nations council would make the aggressor nation in the impending conflict indefinitely liable to sanctions.

GENEVA, Sept. 26 (AP)—The League of Nations council today gave notice to Italy and Ethiopia that they cannot start war until Dec. 4 without violating the league covenant.

If either one starts aggressive hostilities before then, that nation will be deemed to have committed an act of war against all members of the League of Nations, thereby automatically calling for punishment by the other nations.

This notice was implied by a unanimous vote—with the Italian delegates conspicuously absent—to draft a report of recommendations for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict under article XV of the covenant and a decision that this article was in operation as from September 4.

This means three months must elapse from that date before hostilities can be undertaken without disregard for the covenant.

The action was taken in tense excitement and in the space of 70 minutes.

Previous to the momentous session, the corridors of the league building were filled with a mob of statesmen and observers. Foreign ministers elbowed prime ministers in the throng.

Climax Banged Out.
They viewed, with fast moving rippling faces, the final speech of the Italian delegation which stalked out of the building after a toast at the bar before the council's public session began.

When the final vote was over, one delegate inadvertently banged out the climax by stumbling into a large metal wastebasket at the head of the lobby stairs.

The metal container of castoff communiques bounced noisily down the steps in twelve clashes like the strokes of a bell.

Leaving out of the council's rapid but solemn discussion was the unqualified rallying by France to the application of the league covenant in "its letter and spirit."

This support, given by Premier Laval, France in a brief speech supporting Great Britain, was interpreted by many observers as indicating that France has received satisfactory assurances from Great Britain that in any future European conflict, Great Britain will insist on the same scrupulous application of the covenant as she is calling for in the dispute between Italy and Ethiopia.

See Secret Pact.
Some said they saw in Laval's speech a particular indication that Great Britain will stand by France in the event of any complications growing out of any attempt to destroy the independence of Austria.

The council will probably meet

Cooler Weather
And Rains Due
In Texas Soon

(By The Associated Press.)
Cooler weather was in prospect for Texas today after sizzling, thoroughly drenched the eastern half of the state.

Weather bureau observers said the wind would shift to the north late today and bring down a cool wave which would extend into South Texas.

Unsettled weather which brought rain to a vast area in the last two days still prevailed and downpours continued at Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Houston, and other points.

Fort Worth rainfall in the last 24 hours was 37 of an inch, Paris 2.17, and Beaumont 2.63. After 1.01 inches yesterday, it was still raining at Tyler. For the third successive day, it was raining at Galveston.

I Saw . . .

Letters from President Roosevelt to Gaston Peote and Lance Webb, local Methodist ministers, asking for their views on how conditions can be improved. The president sent similar letters to ministers all over the nation. Whether other local clergymen received such letters could not be ascertained immediately, but it is presumed they did. One Houston minister, according to the Associated Press, declared that he didn't intend to answer the letter. "That was just another circular letter to me. It is just politics. I suppose some sub-adviser to the president said it would be a good idea to send out letters and Roosevelt agreed it would be a good thing," he said.

Twinkles

Personally, we don't care who gets credit for better business; it is more logical to consider how we're going to pay for the cost of moving round the corner of a cycle which didn't appear to have a corner.

Maybe Europe is about to decide there won't be any war if Uncle Sam is too stubborn to finance it, mutters the West Foster group.

The army is using air-less vehicle tires, but the standard of army profanity will not likely be affected by the innovation.

Donley county Young Democrats are studying soil erosion. In a doubtful state, they would be studying mud slinging.

The Donley County Leader says that to succeed in politics you've got to have pull or be a half-wit. Or, more correctly perhaps, be a smart actor and appeal to the half-wits.

Musing of the moment: The new Texas Safety committee wants no Rangers or highway patrolmen who say "I seen . . ." Are we to assume that the commission wants its boys to high hat all the criminals? . . . Some of the polo players ought to reduce a bit in fairness to the myriads of huns, all against a background of evergreens and brilliant aspens. . . . Often we have resolved to take our mountain trips in such a season, instead of the heat of the summers. True, it is a bit cold at night in the mountains, but mountain cold is easily predictable and you can prepare for it easily.

Brevitorials

TRIPPERS RETURNING from New Mexico and Colorado mountains tell of the marvelous colors prevalent as Jack Frost paints the vines a brilliant red and strews the paths with leaves of myriad hues. All against a background of evergreens and brilliant aspens. . . . Often we have resolved to take our mountain trips in such a season, instead of the heat of the summers. True, it is a bit cold at night in the mountains, but mountain cold is easily predictable and you can prepare for it easily.

NOT A FEW Pampans are buying property in the mountains of New Mexico, building log cabins, and preparing for that day soon when such a log will not be obtainable at any price. Particularly desirable are sites on the federal parks and preserves where the scenery will be protected and tourists will not despoil nature's handwork. Good roads make a mountain cabin, literally a grip-out away. Many of the camps are very welcome. More and more will Pampans learn to relax. It is well.

PERSONS WHO go to Washington and take a look-in at the new deal come away with a grudge as a "mad house." Trying to spend nearly five billions in a hurry is not likely to be anything else. . . . Spending less, and writing its own ticket, the AAA is doing much better, has reduced its business to a machine efficiency, literally a grip-out away, and contracts. But every WPA application is different. . . . Pampans' applications are awaiting their turn for assignment of cash allotments. So are other applications which are piling up daily. Probably less, with a grudge, better if we were faced with a similar mountain of detailed work.

TEXAS' AUTO death rate is going up at an alarming gait. Pampa's traffic situation is serious, of a nature which will not be relieved until the inevitable results begin to occur. There is a common tendency to blame motorists. But Pampa pedestrians are little if any better in their observance of traffic ordinances and good practices. Students, especially, are ignoring stop-and-go signals, with a nonchalance which is simply astonishing. Streets are used as sidewalks even when sidewalks are available. The result may have a slowing effect on motorists, but you cannot depend on such an outcome.

COMPARATIVELY FEW persons seriously realize the automobile's deadly power, but, according to Dr. John W. Brown, state health officer, more than 1,500 Texans are

Old-Age Pension Tax And Liquor Warmly Debated

Tax Provision Upheld
In 76 to 56 Vote
By House

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The legislature today refused to override committee recommendations on old-age pensions and liquor legislation to bar open saloons.

The senate defeated, 17 to 9 with two pairs, an effort of wet leaders to recommit a bill by Senator Clint Small of Amarillo strictly defining an open saloon and prohibiting sale by the drink.

After the test, wet leaders obtained adjournment until tomorrow, preventing immediate floor action.

The house resumed consideration of a chain store tax bill killing an amendment to exempt appliance merchandising by public utilities.

An amendment to include wholesale chain stores was adopted and argument started on one to exclude branch stores of oil well supply concerns.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The house refused today to override its state affairs committee in reporting an old-age pension bill carrying a tax provision.

A motion by Rep. Rawlings Colquitt of Dallas to re-refer the bill to the revenue and taxation committee was defeated 56 to 76, and another to recommit to the state affairs committee with instructions to remove the tax section lost, 61 to 69.

Colquitt criticized the committee for voting to tax domino halls to raise an anticipated $25,000,000 but sponsors said the tax was included solely to open the way to major tax amendments from the floor.

A motion to send all bills in the revenue and taxation committee to state affairs was ruled out. The house ordered 300 extra copies of liquor control bills and set them for special consideration Monday.

College Student Admits Poisoning Aunt And Uncle

Pushed Bodies Off A Pier Into Ocean In Automobile

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 26 (AP)—Detective Lieutenant Frank Condruff said today 18-year-old Leroy Drake Jr. has admitted he slipped poison into the coffee his aunt and uncle drank a week ago and attempted to hide their deaths by shunting their bodies off a pier into the ocean in their own automobile.

Drake was booked on suspicion of murder of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinhour, both 60.

The confession of the curly-haired junior college student came a few hours after the bodies were recovered from the submerged automobile in San Pedro harbor.

He admitted from the start, Condruff said, that he had disposed of the bodies, but maintained for a time that his uncle was poisoned by his aunt, who then ended her own life.

"I was awaiting hearing on an application for probation on conviction of the death of an automobile," Condruff quoted Drake as saying. "I felt I had little hope of escaping a prison term and that the only cause the death of my uncle, Condruff said, determined the death of an automobile. The body was found in a drug store where he purchased a poison and several other chemicals to avoid suspicion.

FDR TO TALK ON SATURDAY IN NEBRASKA

WILL LEAVE TONIGHT ON TRIP ACROSS COUNTRY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The White House announced today that President Roosevelt would make four speeches on his trip across the country beginning tonight, the first a brief farm talk at Fremont, Neb., Saturday afternoon.

The other set speeches will be at Boulder Dam next Monday afternoon; at Los Angeles in the Hollywood Bowl, a brief speech Tuesday afternoon; and at San Diego, Wednesday afternoon.

Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, in announcing the speaking itinerary, said the Boulder Dam and San Diego addresses would be the main ones.

He added the Fremont speech, latest to be put on the itinerary, would be a brief word of greeting, either from the train platform or a speaker's stand alongside the private car. The address there, it was announced, would be intended to interest the farm states of the mid-west.

The Fremont speech must necessarily be short because the train will stop there only 20 minutes.

The subjects of the other speeches were withheld. However, the one at Boulder Dam is expected to deal with a history of the long fight culminating in this huge flood control works on the Colorado river which is being dedicated next Monday.

Belting To Be API Subject at Meeting Tonight

The manufacture and use of belting will be described tonight in the city auditorium when the Panhandle chapter of the A. P. I. holds its first meeting of the season.

Interested students between the ages of 16 and 20 were urged to make application by Friday at the high school. The school is already giving aid to eight students under the N. Y. E. A. student acceptance for enrollment under the provisions of the act will get $6 per month.

Pictures of manufacture of belting and its many uses will be shown by the manufacturer, J. M. Johnston of Borger, chairman, will present.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The governor of Texas and the chief of police at Memphis, Tenn., were at loggerheads today over whether a paroled Texas convict should live in Memphis.

Gov. James V. Allred recently paroled Carl Mack Thompson, serving ten years for robbery, to chief Will D. Lee without the latter's knowledge. The governor said he had paroled many convicts on good behavior to police chiefs without protest.

Back came the proclamation with a letter from Chief Lee saying "we have our own criminals to deal with and do not take kindly to having them imported from other states into Tennessee." Lee said the governor was "unfair" and Thompson would be arrested as a vagrant if he showed up at headquarters.

In a 750-word reply, objecting to being lectured, Governor Allred explained that Thompson's mother, wife and child lived in Memphis and he had expressed desire to return to them. Thompson's parole was recommended by the man who prosecuted him and the persons robbed, the governor said.

"This attitude on the part of a few police officers throughout the county is responsible for one of society's greatest problems, that of rehabilitation of convicted men," he said.

Governor Allred concluded that he had prevailed on the Salvation Army of Memphis to "undertake this responsibility" and had warned Thompson of Chief Lee's intentions if he went to police headquarters.

Legion Boos Wright Patman After He Urges Immediate Payment Of Bonus In Talk

FRAME-UP IS DESCRIBED IN MOONEY CASE

Defense Witness Declares Utility Detective Now Dead Made Proposition.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Cries of "frame-up" re-echoed today in Thomas J. Mooney's fight for freedom through habeas corpus proceedings—his latest recourse in California courts.

While Mooney and Warren K. Billings, both serving life terms for the 1916 San Francisco preparedness day bombing, listened from their seats at the counsel table, Israel Weinberg at yesterday's hearing accused a public utility company detective of approaching him with a proposal to "frame" Mooney.

Weinberg, acquitted as one of the five original defendants in the case, a jitney driver at the time of his arrest and now a Cleveland, Ohio, garment manufacturer, named Martin Swanson, now dead, as the man who offered the proposal.

Five days before the preparedness day outrage, which brought death to 10 and injuries to 40, Weinberg said Swanson showed him a circular offering $5,000 reward for arrest and conviction of persons who dynamited United Railways power poles during the strike involving that street railway.

"Swanson asked me to testify against Mooney and said: 'You are a friend of his, you won't have to say very much, because you know him and are his friend,'" Weinberg testified.

Testimony of several police officers that they saw the automobile on Market street just before the explosion excepted official one, was read into the record of defense counsel.

The prosecution charged at Mooney's trial that Ed Nolan, Billings, Mooney and Mrs. Mooney transported the bomb to the scene in Weinberg's jitney.

Lindy Stays in Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh and Harry F. Guggenheim Thursday morning were stranded in Wichita Falls.

A low ceiling and poor visibility prevented the takeoff at 6 o'clock for points east—destination unannounced as usual.

The two landed Wednesday afternoon shortly before 6 o'clock after flying from Roswell, N. M., where they had been visiting. Neither Col. Lindbergh nor Guggenheim commented on the tests which were carried out.

They spent the night here and arose in time to arrive at the airport at 5:30 a. m. The trip was delayed after a conference with the dispatcher who reported increasingly bad weather along the route from Dallas to Memphis. The men probably will leave as quickly as the weather clears sufficiently.

Weather Cooler; Mist Falls Here

Real fall weather arrived today. Real fall weather arrived today, dispatchers reported increasingly bad weather along the route from Dallas to Memphis. The men probably will leave as quickly as the weather clears sufficiently.

The authors of the report are Dr. W. W. Alexander, chairman of the commission on inter-racial relations; Edwin R. Embree, president of the Rosenwald fund, and Charles S. Johnson of Fisk university. Dr. Alexander is an assistant to undersecretary of agriculture, Tuller.

Declaring that the question is becoming more and more a white problem, they reported that more than 60 of every 100 cotton farms are operated by tenants.

The number of tenant families in the cotton belt was placed at 1,790,783, of which 1,091,944 are white and 698,839 negroes.

"It is but the blunt truth," the report said, "to say that under the present system the landowner is more and more protected from risk by government activity while the tenant is left open to risk on every side. Only after he loses first what property he may possess and then his tenure, does the tenant come to the form of risk insurance designed for him—relief."

"One obvious reason for the wholesale neglect of the tenant lies in the fact that the agricultural adjustment administration organized this program under the direction of the planters themselves."

The authors charged that in all areas the benefits of crop production accrued ultimately to the landlord and merchant and that the tenant received little therefrom.

CONGRESSMAN ALSO CHEERED BY DELEGATES

IS INTERRUPTED WITH FREQUENT CAT CALLS

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Delegates to the national American Legion convention today booted R. P. Wright Patman, of Texas, advocate of payment of the bonus by inflation, when he sought to obtain the floor during debate on a bonus resolution.

The Texas congressman, author of the bonus inflation bill vetoed by President Roosevelt, then was given a hearing but delegates interrupted him with frequent cat calls.

Patman's appearance was a few minutes after the legislative committee had recommended immediate payment of adjusted compensation certificates without inflation. When he said he favored immediate payment of the bonus the delegates shouted their scorn.

Patman was cheered, however, as he concluded his argument that the method of payment was secondary to the main issue. He talked less than five minutes.

The resolution presented to the convention read as follows:
"Be it resolved":

1. We request immediate cash payment of the adjusted service certificates at face value, with cancellation of accrued interest on loans, and refund of interest paid, and do hereby reaffirm the Miami convention resolution on this subject.

2. We request the immediate favorable action of the congress, and the approval of the president of the United States, upon this clear out and single issue without having it complicated or confused by other issues of government finance, cancellation of currency with which the Legion does not intend to become involved.

3. We hereby ratify and approve the efforts of National Commander Belgrano, and the national legislative committee on behalf of the

AAA PLUNGED COTTON TENANTS DEEPER INTO SLAVERY, REPORT

ATLANTA, Sept. 26 (AP)—The cotton tenancy system is called "our greatest social humiliation" in a publication just issued by three educators after two years' intensive study in the south.

The trio declared that the government under the agricultural adjustment program "has assumed many of the risks of the landowners and thrown them on the tenant."

RAIN DELAYS CARDINAL-CUB CLASH TODAY

Doubleheader To Be Played at St. Louis Tomorrow, Beginning at 12:45 p. m.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Rain today forced a postponement of the second game of the Cardinal-Cub series to definitely determine if the world champion St. Louis club can halt the rampaging and pennant bound men of Grimm.

A double-header will be played tomorrow, the first game beginning at 12:45 p. m. (C. S. T.).

Hoping against hope that the rain, which began early this morning, might slacken, the Cardinal management held up a definite postponement announcement until nearly 11 a. m. (C. S. T.).

Library to Close On One Afternoon

The Pampa Public library will be open from 9 a. m. to 12 noon Saturday instead of Saturday afternoon as usual.

The change for one week only, is caused by refinishing of floors in the city hall. Ordinarily the library is closed Saturday mornings while relief clients are being given their checks or commodities.

Mrs. Joe Duby of LeFors was a shopper in the city yesterday.

White and Black Boys Fight Over Louis-Baer Bout

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26 (AP)—Police rushed squads to the Oyer Junior high school today as white youths and negro students fought. Some of them said, over the result of the Joe Louis-Max Baer fight.

No arrests were made. John Downer, principal of the school, asserted "as far as I know, the children of the school were not responsible for the trouble. Classes are proceeding as usual."

But he added, however, that he had signed permits to allow parents of 35 white children to take their children to home for the day, and police struggling to disperse the throng on the viaduct advised the 100 negro students of the school to return home and remain away from school until next Monday.

U. S. GOVERNMENT ALLOCATES $1,200,000 TO CONSTRUCT TWO CENTENNIAL BUILDINGS

Exhibits Will Be Prepared By Federal Agency; Negro Exhibits Are Assured

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The United States-Texas Centennial commission announced today the allocation of $1,200,000 for the Dallas exposition would be used to construct two buildings, one to be the house federal exhibits and the other for negro exhibits.

William B. Yeager, representing the governmental agency, said the federal exhibits building would cost about $325,000 and about $50,000 would be spent for the negro structure.

"The federal exhibits building will contain an exhibit prepared by the United States government in cooperation in certain connected instances with private agencies," the commission announcement said.

"The policy with regard to this exhibit is in the process of formulation and an additional announcement on this subject will be made later. The negro exhibits building will house a representative and distinctive negro exhibit national in character."

Yeager said that the rest of the $1,200,000 would be used almost entirely for assembling and maintaining the exhibits in these buildings. He said the commission, composed of Vice-President Garner, and Secretaries Hull, Wallace, and Roper had not decided yet on the exact type of exhibit for either buildings.

The commission statement said allocations of funds for the Dallas central exposition were approved Monday and a letter containing the endorsement went today to Cullen Thomas of Dallas, commission general of the 1936 celebrations.

HARVESTERS DETERMINED TO MOW DOWN BEARS WITH FURIOUS OFFENSIVE

COACH WANTS REVENGE FOR 1934 REMARKS

LAST YEAR'S INJURIES RECALLED WITH BITTERNESS

The Harvester offensive will be thrown into high gear tomorrow night and remain in motion until the season's adding machine is filled or the scoring spree blocked by a determined Bowie high school line, Coach Odes Mitchell announced yesterday following a stiff practice.

Coach Mitchell is determined to give El Paso the type of game that he anticipated last year when papers in that city remarked: "We expected to see a great Panhandle football team, something of the Amarillo type, come to meet the Bowie Bears but instead the underdogs lost only 21 to 6."

The remarks "burned" the Harvester coach. The El Paso papers failed to remember that the Harvesters scored two touchdowns in the first few minutes of play and then coasted as injuries came up and stars went to hospitals.

With the exception of B-b Drake, halfback, and "Moose" Hartman, tackle, the starting Harvester machine is in excellent condition. Drake's sprained ankle is still bothering him considerably, cutting his speed materially. Hartman received a bad hand bruise in the Lewiston game. Both will be in the starting lineup, coaches said yesterday.

The other Harvester casualty is Woody Woolridge, midget substitute halfback, who has a sprained ankle. He bruised it again yesterday and was limping badly in the Lewiston game. Both will be in the starting lineup, coaches said yesterday.

Denell Sparlin was in uniform yesterday, gradually getting back into shape. Sparlin was pawed by a horse during the summer vacation and scrimmaged only once with the team. He is a big fellow and expected to add to his play this year if his shoulder and arm respond to treatment.

The Bowie team will drive to Clovis, N. M., tonight to work under the lights, and proceed to Pampa tomorrow morning. Coaches Guy Davidson and Jewell Wallace are bringing 24 players out of a squad of 37 boys.

Unless the weather changes, the Bears will see real winter weather, which might be bad on the Harvesters.

Dizzy Will Make Desperate Try To Stop Chicago Today

Pennant Is Lost If Cubs Win Second Battle

BY PAUL R. MICKELSON, Associated Press Sports Writer.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Frankie Frisch called on his final hope, Dizzy Dean, today in one final, desperate attempt to cheat the Grimm reaper of 1935 major league baseball, the Chicago Cubs.

Four games down and only four to go to a club that has cut down opposition 19 straight times since September 4, the disappointed leader of the St. Louis Cardinals hoped almost against hope that the Great Dizzy could revive the winding spark of his men and then go on to salvage the wreckage of the once proud and unbeatable team that captured world's championship honors against Detroit a year ago.

But it was a hopeless outlook. The question "what" who would win the pennant all more. It was: "How long will it take?" The lights were low for the Cardinals. They were blaming for the Cubs, who were cock sure of victory when they thronged the National League today behind their young rookie "General" Bill Lee, a right hander who has won 49 and lost only six this season. The best the Cardinals could hope for was four straight victories and a playoff.

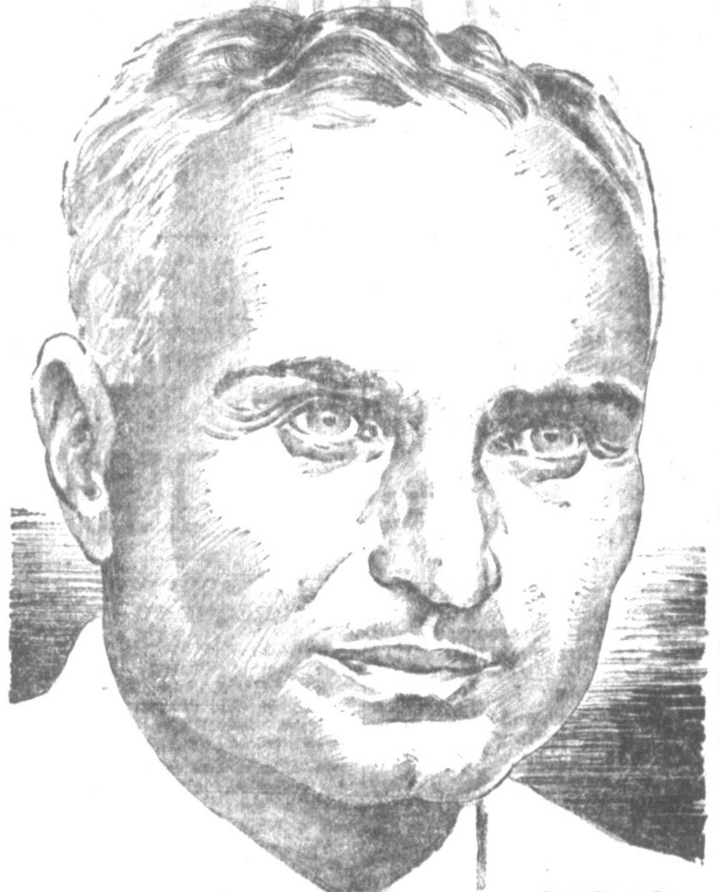

Louie Varneke and 19-year-old Phil Cavarretta released the fumes that all but apocalyptic the last lingering hopes of the famous "gas house gang" yesterday when they combined to drap them on the ropes with a 1 to 0 shutout in the first struggle of the 5-game series. Cavarretta produced the winning blow with a long second inning home run.

Warneke pitched so superbly he allowed but two hits—a single by Lynn King in the fourth inning and a fluke double to Ripper Collins in the eighth. The cold, calculating Cub right-hander, the type of fellow who wouldn't risk his voice if the house caught on fire, pitched it only 28 batters, struck out four and allowed only Collins to get beyond first base.

Paul Dean, Dizzy's younger and silent brother, allowed but seven hits, none of them harmful except the long blow that Cavarretta propelled over the right field wall.

"We'll clinch the pennant today," shouted the midget Cub leader, Charlie Grimm, "but we're not going to slow up. We're going after five straight."

GOPHERS' GENERAL

BERNIE BIERMAN
MINNESOTA MENTOR, IN SPITE OF LOSING FROM HIS UNDEFEATED 1934 CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM OF THE BIG TEN, HAS BRIGHT HOPES FOR ANOTHER WESTERN CONFERENCE TITLE...

The Gorillas, future Harvesters, didn't know what they were getting into when they matched a game with the Whittenburg team for tomorrow afternoon in Borger, but like all true Pampa high school football players, the little fellows are determined to go through with their bargain, regardless of the outcome.

Coaches E. N. Denard and Bill Anderson will take their midgets to Borger by bus. Game time has been set for 3:30 o'clock. Whittenburg will field eight or nine players from last year's Borger Bulldogs, who have been sent to Whittenburg by transfer. Five of the players were first string Bulldogs last year. It was learned yesterday.

The largest Gorilla in the starting lineup will tip the scales at 148 pounds. Most of the boys are fat under that weight. Since avoidoids doesn't mean everything on a football field, the Gorillas will depend on speed and strategy. The midgets have been responding to coaching and are doped to give teams of their own caliber stiff opposition.

The coaches were well pleased with the work of their charges yesterday when they scrimmaged the Junior high team, coached by Tom Herod and W. S. Bennett. Although outweighed several pounds per man, the Gorillas were into the scrimmage with a will that would have pleased the most hard boiled coaching staff. Junior high has a promising squad of boys coming up.

The probable starting Gorilla lineup tomorrow will be: "Poppy" Reynolds, lb; Nelson, lb; Dedman, lb; Reed, c; Cotham, rg; Cox, rt; Watt, re; Graham or C. Drake, qb; Entler, lb; Turner, rb; Clements, fb.

Canadian Will Play Football Game at Night

CANADIAN, Sept. 26—Canadian will give its first night football tomorrow night when the Canadian Wildcats meet Polley in what is doped to be one of the best games of the season. Game time will be 8 o'clock.

The new football field was to be completed the day before the opening game. It is located near the soft ball diamond which was so popular during the summer months.

STUDENT IMPROVED

DENTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Miss Helen Brand, College of Industrial Arts student who underwent an operation yesterday, remained in a serious condition today but hospital attendants said she was slightly improved. She is the daughter of E. C. Brand, who retired this month as banking commissioner.

Mrs. R. B. Haines of Miami was a visitor in Pampa yesterday.

Crackers Need One Victory to Clinch Crown

ATLANTA, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Atlanta Crackers were within one game of undisputed possession of the Southern association baseball championship today.

Defeating New Orleans 7 to 3 last night for the second time in the final series of the Shaughnessy playoff, the Crackers needed only one more victory to clinch the title while the Pels faced the task of taking three straight to win the four-game contest. Atlanta won the opener 4 to 1.

The teams moved to New Orleans today and the series will be resumed there tomorrow. The winner of the Southern pennant will meet Oklahoma City of the Texas league in the annual Dixie series.

GORILLAS ARE SURE OF HARD GAME FRIDAY

FOES HAVE 5 FORMER BORGER BULLDOGS ON ELEVEN

The Gorillas, future Harvesters, didn't know what they were getting into when they matched a game with the Whittenburg team for tomorrow afternoon in Borger, but like all true Pampa high school football players, the little fellows are determined to go through with their bargain, regardless of the outcome.

Coaches E. N. Denard and Bill Anderson will take their midgets to Borger by bus. Game time has been set for 3:30 o'clock. Whittenburg will field eight or nine players from last year's Borger Bulldogs, who have been sent to Whittenburg by transfer. Five of the players were first string Bulldogs last year. It was learned yesterday.

The largest Gorilla in the starting lineup will tip the scales at 148 pounds. Most of the boys are fat under that weight. Since avoidoids doesn't mean everything on a football field, the Gorillas will depend on speed and strategy. The midgets have been responding to coaching and are doped to give teams of their own caliber stiff opposition.

The coaches were well pleased with the work of their charges yesterday when they scrimmaged the Junior high team, coached by Tom Herod and W. S. Bennett. Although outweighed several pounds per man, the Gorillas were into the scrimmage with a will that would have pleased the most hard boiled coaching staff. Junior high has a promising squad of boys coming up.

The probable starting Gorilla lineup tomorrow will be: "Poppy" Reynolds, lb; Nelson, lb; Dedman, lb; Reed, c; Cotham, rg; Cox, rt; Watt, re; Graham or C. Drake, qb; Entler, lb; Turner, rb; Clements, fb.

SHERMAN CLUB MENTIONED TO WIN DISTRICT

FOURTEEN LETTERMEN BACK FROM LAST YEAR'S SQUAD

SHERMAN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Ballyhooped by rival coaches and sports writers as the team that will cop the 1935 District Six championship, Sherman high school's Bearcat griders are driving hard in practice sessions in an effort to fulfill the prophecy.

The prognosticators cite 14 reasons why they believe the Bearcats will nose under the wire ahead of such strong teams as Highland Park, 1934 district champion, Gainesville, McKinney, Denton and Denton.

Coach Verde Dickey's 14 returning lettermen from the rather mediocre squad of last year are the 14 reasons. In addition the Bearcats have a wealth of willing but rather light and inexperienced reserves.

At Highland Park Coach Redman Hume is experimenting with a new shift, admiring a couple of husky tackles and attempting to select a starting lineup from his squad of 52 players. As a nucleus he has five lettermen back from the 1934 championship aggregation.

Gainesville's Leopards, who lost nine of their last year's starters are still considered dangerous, largely because of impressive showing in spring.

The Denton Yellow Jackets boast the greatest collection of heavy weights in the district, but Coach Logan Stollenwerk says his squad is short in numbers, experience and lettermen.

North Atkins' McKinney Lions, only fair in 1934, are believed out of the running with last year graduation taking most of the stars. Denton's Broncos have a fast backfield but an extremely weak line which is sure to find it difficult to open holes for the backfield ball luggers.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Flight echoes: Joe Louis collected $18,000 for each of the 12 minutes he was in the ring with Max Baer... Between his marriage and the main bout, Joe relaxed by reading the funnies.

Some of the scalpers were hit almost as hard as Baer... Tickets marked at $25 were offered for $15 as early as 9 o'clock.

Baer told one reporter he thought all Harlem was in the ring with him... The first thing Max asked for after the fight was a bottle of beer... Louis said he'd take a piece of fried chicken for his supper.

There was a lot of weeping from fans who thought they had ringside seats but found themselves a block or so away.

And just a few weeks ago a Chicago newspaper was conducting a contest entitled "what's wrong with the Cubs?"... Gil Dohie, at Cornell, is moaning louder than ever... He has a pretty good backfield, but is fresh out of dependent linemen.

The Red Sox will wind up with three of Connie Mack's stars

COOL MILLION IS LOUIS' GOAL WITHIN YEAR

TO TOUR EUROPE AND LATIN AMERICAN CAPITALS

BY ALAN GOULD, Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Joe Louis, the first uncrowned fistic king to contemplate a world tour in royal style, expects to reap a million-dollar harvest within the next year for himself and his backers.

Already an international sensation, the 21-year-old negro probably can capitalize his current fame to the tune of $500,000 on a fighting tour of Latin America and European capitals next winter.

He can collect at least another half million for two "big shots" in New York in 1936, the first bout in June with Max Schmeling, German ex-champion, and the second against James J. Braddock in a title match in September.

These are the main features of the fighting program expected to take shape under the direction of Mike Jacobs, ticket broker who has become kingpin among fight promoters. Jacobs and the negro's managers have come to terms on a 5-year agreement giving the promoter exclusive rights to the battling bridge-ropes fighting services.

Louis wants to fight as often as opponents can be produced. Romance hasn't lowered his affection for the roped arena. He dashed from the altar to the Yankee stadium to smash Max Baer into fistic oblivion.

He is booked for his next match in New York the end of November for charity, with either Walter Neusel, the German, or the giant Ray Impehitiere, but the possibility of being out of the ring for two months looks slim.

With an acumen sharpened by the million-dollar evidence of the Louis drawing power, Jacobs has several possibilities in mind as an outlet for Joe's fighting enthusiasm and an income for all concerned.

Jack Sharkey, the retired former heavyweight champion, has manifested an interest in a comeback match with Louis—"providing," he says, "they put it on the line."

Sharkey saw Louis knock out Baer. He went away impressed but remarked he was close to fighting weight, that he would be in a receptive mood for a "good proposition" and that he would like a "shot" at the bomber. Jacobs may accommodate him.

Louis will emulate the renowned John L. Sullivan and take on "anybody in the house."

Gallant a champion as Braddock may be, there's no doubt in the minds of those who have seen Louis at his craft that the Chocolate Soldier will whip the Jersey-man anytime they meet. Game as they come and a good boxer, the champion might extend Louis, but it is difficult to imagine him lasting long under the drumfire of Joe's attack.

There's no telling how great Louis will be or how long he may rule the heavyweight roost as, to all intents and purposes, he does right now. He has everything now except the title.

If and when he captures it, Louis conceivably might outlast the reign of any Marquis of Queensberry champion.

Jack Dempsey wore the crown seven years, longest of them all.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

COURT RECORD

Mr. Smith is trying to compel the county to restore the grade of a highway passing his land in order, his petition states, to prevent damage by washing. W. M. Lewright has been employed by the county to assist in its defense. Mr. Smith has sued the county several times previously on account of the conditions set forth in this and similar litigations.

New automobiles: Chevrolet coach, R. H. Magee; Chevrolet truck, Radford. Grocery company; International truck, White House Lumber company; Chevrolet delivery car, Gray County creamery; Ford coupe, Athol S. Cambren; Buick sedan, D. H. Slaughter; Pontiac sedan, E. W. Ford; Ford coupe, Chas. Thut; Ford Tudor, E. O. Barrett; Chevrolet coach, W. A. Rhodes; Ford pickup, Githa McConnell & Sons.

County commissioners yesterday purchased a Dodge pickup from Cullum & Son for precinct 3. The price was $525.00 plus trade-in of a Ford 1930 coupe for $150.

LOOK NOW AND CHOOSE YOUR NEAREST EXIT

By HARRY GRAYSON

If American racing ever saw such a poor lot of race horses as now competes for an ever-increasing number of rich purses, the time is long out of mind. The horses are not only mediocre, but fragile as well. The sound ones are about as scarce as hen's teeth.

Excluding the 2-year-olds—one seldom knows whether the juveniles are high-class or merely precocious, especially this year—there seems to be only about five first-class horses on the turf. If you consider sound ones, Discovery and King Saxon stand alone.

Identify the Man of War colt, which recently was laid on the shelf, probably has some claims to high class, even though he came from the ranks of the platers. This one is not actually broken down, but Trainer Buddy Stotler, who has an uncanny sense of suspecting these things, got the idea Identify might bow a tandem.

Buddy long has been thinking about that Santa Anita handicap which will be run next winter. He plans to send Discoverer for the richest prize in racing, but in case of accident to the handicap champion, he wants a capable substitute. And if the competition isn't any better than it was last year, Identify might win the event.

Identify probably could add another eighth to it. The 3-year-olds Today, Plat Eye, and Rosemont whipped him at a mile.

As for the longer distances, Discoverer seems capable of whipping Omaha at any distance horses are asked to go. He beat him by 12 lengths in the Brooklyn. And at Arlington he carried 135 pounds and broke Omaha's track record of a week's standing. Omaha had made his record in the Classic under pressure, beating St. Bernard a length and a half.

SPORT SLANTS

Black Helen certainly is a filly of worth, though by no means a Princess Doreen. She has scored some good victories for Col. Bradley, but she hasn't been up to beating Omaha, and in fact had her trouble beating such a lowly one as Count Arthur.

The 3-year-olds started the season with such cracks as Today, Plat Eye, Roman Soldier, Whiskolo, Commonwealth, Firehorn, Sun Portland, Rosemont, Boxhorn, and Nellie Flag. You probably have forgotten most of them.

The majority not only proved to be ordinary performers, but failed to stand training. The only one of the bunch which might truly have had class was Nellie Flag, and this one was raced to death in the early spring.

The net result is a total of about half a dozen top horses out of around 9,000 racers.

ILLINI ELEVEN IS LIKELY TO BE STRONG AGAIN THIS YEAR

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Sept. 26 (AP)—Bob Zupke is going about the job of putting together his 23rd University of Illinois football team in an unusually quiet manner, even for Zupke—which bodes no good for Illini opponents this year.

The crafty Dutchman, who seldom has anything to say about his prospects—he doesn't even moan—was quiet last year before the season opened. A few weeks later the football world was talking about the "flying trapeze." This year he probably will come up with something at least as mystifying in the way of modern open football.

He says this year's eleven, another band of middleweights and light heavyweights, will have to depend upon gameness and cunning to make up for the lack of weight. And he thinks they will do it.

"We lost a lot of good men," Zupke says, "men like Jack Beynon, Chuck Benis, Frank Froehauer and Crahn Portman. We have to replace those fellows."

"On paper we do not look as good as last year, but I have confidence in the courage and tenacity of our players."

The ace of the backfield probably will turn up in Les Lindberg, one of the Big Ten's finest kickers, good forward passer and a capable ball carrier. Wilbur Henry, a junior, is expected to replace Beynon at quarterback. Bo Grive, a sprinter on the Illini track team, and John Kamosky, one of the few notable sophomores, probably will divide a halfback job. John Theodore, a veteran, tops the fullbacks.

The line with Gene Dykstra the heaviest man at 185 pounds, and Cliff Kuhn the lightest at 175, will average less than 180, but Zupke expects it to be as fast as the light, "Iron Man" wall of last year.

The schedule: Sept. 28, Ohio university (Athens, O.) at Illinois; Oct. 5, Washington university (St. Louis) at Illinois; Oct. 12, Illinois at Southern California; Oct. 19, open; Oct. 26, Iowa at Illinois; Nov. 2, Illinois at Northwestern; Nov. 9, Michigan at Illinois; Nov. 16, Illinois at Ohio State; Nov. 23, Chicago at Illinois.

A casual glance at the box scores generally reveals the opposing batters hit his offerings freely. It is no uncommon thing to see a dozen hits chalked up against him even when he wins. The answer is that he is easy to hit—when hits do not mean runs. Auker makes no attempt to strike out every man who faces him, but when he bears down in the clutches—it is quite another story.

Last year with 15 winning performances he finished seventh in the list with an earned run average of 3.42 runs per 9-inning game. He allowed 103 runs and 78 were of the earned variety. Opposing batters hammered out 234 hits, but many of them came when they could do little damage.

Like many big league players Auker still gets a thrill out of the gridiron game. He frankly admits his victories on the pitcher's mound fall to afford him any thrills to equal those he experienced playing football.

He was a Big-6 first team all-star at Kansas state and there are few football men in the Missouri valley gridiron area who excelled Auker in all-around ability. He played all his football under Coach Bo McMillin, who won lasting fame as a member of Center College's greatest team.

Americo Polli, former St. Louis Browns' hurler now toiling in the uniform of the Milwaukee Brewers, recently tossed a no-hit shutout as part of his campaign to win another chance in the big show. He had to labor ten innings to earn his victory but that, added to the fact that it was scored over Lou Fette, of St. Paul, who spoiled Polli's bid for a no-hitter with a single last season, made the victory all the sweeter.

Polli's no-hitter was the first chalked up in the American association since Floyd Newkirk, of St. Paul, set down Kansas City with-out a hit on May 22, 1933. Milwaukee hadn't had a no-hit, no-run performance in the past ten years.

TREBLE CLEF STUDIES TEXAS MUSIC AND PLANS BENEFIT

PROGRAM WILL ADD TO FUNDS OF SHOE CLUB

COURSE ON MUSIC OF STATE IS BEGUN BY CLUB

Beginning a study of Texas music in honor of centennial year, the Treble Clef club yesterday heard a program on music popular during pioneer days of the state. Mrs. Sam Irwin was leader, and Misses Harry Lyman, Ray E. Huling, and Walter Wanner were hostesses in city hall club room.

Business of the club concerned the program to be presented by Treble Clef members Tuesday evening at city hall auditorium, sponsored by Parent-Teacher association of Pampa to benefit their fund to buy shoes for needy students.

Mrs. Irwin introduced yesterday's program by discussing the contribution of Americans to Texas music before 1860. Mrs. Ralph Dunbar spoke of music after the Civil war. Mrs. Dave Dodge contrasted Texas music of the early period with that of the eastern United States of the same period.

Illustrating these discussions were songs and a piano number. The entire club sang Silver Threads Among the Gold, as typical of songs popular in 1860. A medley of old songs was sung by a quartet, Misses Bob McCoy, W. L. Brummett, C. C. Dodd, and H. O. Roberts. Mrs. Phillip Wolfe played the piano accompaniments. The piano solo, Maiden's Prayer, was played by Mrs. Madeline Rountree in an arrangement with variations popular in the last century.

Roll call was answered with current musical events by the following members: Misses Alvin Pfeiffer, Dunbar, Dodd, J. W. Garmen, Roberts, Irwin, Lorene Thomason, Jack Horner, H. C. Price, Brummett, Dodge, Huling, McCoy, Wanner, Lyman, Walter Stein, L. McCullough, Wolfe, W. R. Chaffin, Frances Stark Sturgeon, James Searcy, Mrs. V. E. Fatheree and Mrs. F. E. Leach, honorary members; Mrs. E. A. Bratton and Mrs. Harry Hoare, associate members, were also present.

ABOUT NEW YORK

BY GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Sometimes while idling through the night in the cafes, the backstage dressing rooms—one witnesses an incident so lugubriously pathetic and yet amusing that one can only stare in disbelief.

Such an incident was this—in a nightclub, not far from Broadway. He was a little man, thin, a wistful, timid soul plucking nervously at the sleeve of a news photographer who was there to get pictures of celebrities for his paper.

Thrusting a crushed banknote into the surprised cameraman's hand, the little man whispered: "See that fellow with the girl at the third table? Please take his picture, but do it suddenly or he will object."

"Why?" the cameraman wanted to know.

Painfully embarrassed, the little man continued: "He's been flirting with my wife. He doesn't seem to care whether I mind or not."

The photographer, nonplussed, glanced at the girl, a beauty, and inquired: "Is she your wife?"

"No," whispered the little man eagerly. "He's with another woman. If you'll get this picture for me I can prove to my wife that he is being unfaithful to her."

He got his pictures, this little man who seemed so desperately embarrassed and troubled. One wonders with what curious content his wife must have held him when and if he showed it to her.

One wonders too how that head waiter must have felt at the scornful tongue-lashing given him by a femme patron at another nightclub recently. The incident was eloquent of the pass-the-buck attitude most New York head waiters adopt towards their cringing helpers.

Passing swiftly through the narrow lane between tables, the tables are always jumbled together in nightclubs—the headwaiter, a curt, Grand Duke of a fellow who lorded it over his lackeys—was so unfortunate as to sweep a glass of champagne with his sleeve into a lady's lap.

After a hasty apology, he turned and savagely berated the panic-stricken waiter for leaving the glass so near the edge. He delivered himself in a nasty voice, audible to all.

"Pardon you," exclaimed the lass whose black velvet gown was now dripping with champagne, "but he isn't to blame. I placed that glass there, and if you're interested I despise people who blunder and then try to shift the blame. Now suppose you get out of here before I call my uncle, who owns the place."

Crimson to his ears, he faded into the glow of the background.

What made it interesting was that the girl's uncle didn't own the place. As a matter of fact, she hasn't got an uncle.

Grand Central terminal scene: Hundreds, jamming the subterranean passages leading to trains, to the streets, perhaps even to China, turn to stare in the direction of a tiny confection shop. The crush is terrific. Cops hew their way through expecting a murder, or a drunk, or an epileptic. But this happens to be none of those. The thing that captures the fancy of the crowd is only a kitten lapping cream from a saucer on the confectioner's counter.

PLANTING DEPTHS GIVEN FOR FALL BULBS

Keep This Chart As A Planting Reference.

The fall-planted bulbs are as nearly fool-proof when planted correctly as any garden subject. Unless you set them so deep that they cannot hope to reach the surface in a whole season's growth, a crop of blooms is sure to result. A few general principles should be observed.

First of all, bulbs need good drainage. This is a prime factor, and if the soil is heavy and not well drained raise the beds 6 inches above the surrounding soil level to give the necessary drainage.

OFFICIAL FAILS TO RECOGNIZE ALLRED

UNVALDE, Sept. 26 (AP)—Governor James V. Allred, after a recent visit in John Garner's home, strolled over to the county court house to become acquainted with county officials.

He walked into a county official's office.

"My name is Jimmy Allred," the governor said crisply.

Surprised, the official retorted: "Well, mine's Mussolini."

Allred, however, firmly argued the official, whose name was not divulged, into believing he was Texas' governor.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, your body may take up some of these poisons, causing serious trouble. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 46 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

LEGIONNAIRES' MEET TO END BY NIGHTFALL

BASEBALL TILT NEARLY BREAKS UP SESSION ON THURSDAY

BY HOWARD W. FLEGGER, Associated Press Staff Writer.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 26 (AP)—The American Legionnaire, his star-spangled cap pulled by three days of intense contention, turned with a weary hand today to unravel a tangle of problems.

Before sundown he was to declare himself on the soldiers' bonus for a national commander and pack his bag for the homebound train. His seventeenth annual convention ends today.

Major league baseball took the play away from the Legion's major issue yesterday and National Commander Frank N. Belgrano Jr., looking down on a handful of delegates who had deserted the floor in favor of the St. Louis-Chicago baseball game, put off the report of the "committee on legislation" and adjourned the day's business session in mid-afternoon.

During a day of rare fire action, however, the delegates had sought their approval of a demand that this country withdraw its recognition of Soviet Russia, had urged the expansion and development of the army, navy, and air fighting corps, and asked that a 10-year barrier against immigrants be thrown up around the United States.

The bonus mandate, although considered by the Legion as its prime convention business, was not expected to bring any controversy into the meeting.

The choosing of a successor for National Commander Belgrano was not to be so smooth. For the first time in Legion history it was apparent that the selection would not be made on the first ballot.

Candidates for the honor, each claiming a considerable backing and none willing to predict victory for himself, included:

Harry W. Colmery of Kansas, J. Ray Murphy of Iowa, Earl V. Cliff of Minnesota, Vilas H. Whaley of Wisconsin, and Quimby Melton of Georgia.

Grave fears were held for the life of U. S. Senator J. The illness developed from an attack of asthma suffered by the senator after his arrival in Moscow from Berlin.

killed each year by autos. Very logically considered as a major recreational and useful mechanism, its ability prematurely to maim and kill makes little impression upon most of us. In fact, the daily list of casualties in the papers indicated indifference to the situation. Nevertheless, as a menace to life and limb the automobile unfortunately represents a real hazard.

In addition to its pleasure and utility factors, the motor-car has its devastating side also. Ductedly this fact should not be overlooked. And in this connection education alone can be relied upon to bring results. There is no surum, no bribe, no quarantine procedure, nor any effective mass control against the automobile's damaging power. Automobile accidents caused more deaths in Texas last year than the combined deaths from typhoid fever, smallpox, measles, diphtheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough, and infantile paralysis.

Whether human nature can be sufficiently bridled by public opinion as to result in more careful driving and more cautious walking remains to be proved. But the fact is that a major health and life problem is involved in the present circumstance.

Safe water, clean milk, disease control, slum clearance, sanatoria, and indeed modern medicine and surgery are all of small avail to the speed-maniac who kills himself and others. Medical science also is equally powerless to save pedestrians who are knocked down by the careless driver, or who carelessly connect with careful drivers.

Citizens generally could well seriously consider this ever increasing challenge to life and health. Upon them rests much of the obligation definitely to reduce the ever increasing casualties.

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Governor Allred today appointed San Fore of Brownsville and Henry W. Bell of Brownsville as members of the board of regents of the College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville. Mrs. Marion B. Stoner of Victoria was re-appointed.

GOP IS STILL ARGUING OVER PARTY LEADER

THEY MEET AND TALK BUT CANDIDATE IS UNKNOWN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The republican party machine was geared today for an early start on the campaign to defeat President Roosevelt next year, but there was no sign of an agreement on the candidate to run against him.

Plans for an early hard hitting campaign were laid yesterday by the national executive committee in its first meeting since before the democratic landslide last year. Members of the group were homeward bound today, cheered by reports of reviving republican sentiment.

Officially the committee was not concerned with candidacies. Unofficially, they were uppermost in everyone's mind. The big question marks in the speculation were Herbert Hoover and William E. Borah. Were they candidates? What were their plans?

Close friends of former President Hoover and some of the other men prominently mentioned in connection with the nomination were present in the hotel where the committee met. Mr. Hoover's friends refused to discuss his plans for publication. Chairman Fletcher denied the committee had considered candidacies.

In New York, however, the New York Times said Mr. Hoover's friends had "definitely informed" members of the executive committee that he was not a candidate for the nomination for president next year. His sole interest in the party, as its titular leader, they declared, was to see the nomination of a "standard-bearer uncompromisingly opposed to new deal policies and the adoption of an anti-socialistic platform."

When these reports were called to Mr. Hoover's attention at his California home by a close friend, he was quoted as saying he had no comment to make.

There was plenty of behind-the-scenes talk of Col. Frank Knox, and other possibilities for the nomination, but the very number of names entering into the speculation belied any concentrated movement.

Fletcher told newspapermen that the committee had concerned itself with finances, routine matters of procedure, and canvassing reports of sentiment in various areas.

These reports, he said, left "no doubt at all that the tide has turned definitely, and we are going to keep it turning." He spoke confidently of raising funds to conduct the election drive and announced he would soon appoint a finance committee to handle this vital job.

Sheriff Talley Repulses Bovine Attack on Lawns

Residents of "far eastern" Pampa were up in arms this morning. The cause was four jersey cows which insisted on trampling lawns and eating flowers. The police were called. Only the desk man was available and he couldn't leave. The city has no pound keeper. Residents chased the cows away but they returned. Again the police were called, but the desk man was still alone. The cows were chased away again. They returned. Desperate, residents called Sheriff Earl Talley. The sheriff answered the alarm himself and drove the cows east of the golf course. They had not returned at 1 o'clock. City Manager C. L. Stine said that the city contemplated hiring a dog catcher and pound man. Lack of a conveyance has held up the appointment, he stated. Lawns and flowers in front of the homes of J. C. Wheeler, E. W. Voss, E. A. Hampton, and others in the neighborhood were damaged by the animals.

Sour Gas Order Issued by Body

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Railroad commission's first order prohibiting sour gas production based on a new law, today set an allowable of 380,000,000 cubic feet daily for October. Proration of sweet gas became effective August 1 under the conservation act but restrictions on sour gas were inoperative until October 1. Cold weather needs caused increases in sweet gas allowances for the Panhandle field, source of fuel for numerous mid-western states. Allowable production in the West field was boosted 20,000,000 cubic feet to 380,000,000 feet, and in the East field by 1,000,000 to 95,000,000 cubic feet. Maximum production of gas permitted to one barrel of oil in the Panhandle was reduced from 12-000 to 10,000 cubic feet.

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 26 (AP)—All but seven of the about 250 workmen who went on strike in the Burkheimer oil field last week had the promise of employer's today that they would be given their jobs back without discrimination. The action of employers in allowing the men to return to work was seen as the end of the strike.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—After sagging during most of today's session, the stock market rallied quietly in the final hour and earlier losses of a point or so were shaded or canceled. The dullness of the decline induced some short covering and reinvestment buying. A number of issues, however, were still under water at the finish. The close was slightly irregular. Transfers approximated 1,000,000 shares.

LEGION

Legion's bill at the last session of congress. CONVENTION HALL, St. Louis, Sept. 26 (AP)—Shouting approval, the national convention of the American Legion today renewed its demand for immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus. Delegates and visiting Legionnaires who packed the convention hall roared a unanimous vote in favor of a three paragraph resolution that scored the vetted Patman bonus inflation bill. Dwight Sullivan of New York legislative chairman of that state's department, arguing for the resolution, declared a campaign of willful neglect had been carried on in congress against Frank N. Belgrano, national commander, in the fight against the bonus. Rep. W. B. McFarland of Texas obtained the floor but also was booed as he recommended that method of financing that payment be left to congress. "You have booted my comrade and your comrade, Wright Patman. Where were you back in 1928 when he was using his own money in an effort to get the bonus payment," he shouted. McFarland said the second section of the adopted resolution provided only for a bond issue "that would give the bankers of this country more than $2,000,000,000."

LEAGUE

(Continued from page 1) again tomorrow to discuss Emperor Haile Selassie's request that a commission of neutral observers be sent to the Ethiopian frontiers to follow the situation and to forestall any military clashes. The president of the council, Enrique Ruiz Guinazu of Argentina, presented the recommendation for procedure under article XV to "make and publish" a report on the case and recommendations—violations of which, if adopted unanimously would be considered an act of war against all league members, under article XVII, leading to sanctions. The Italians caused a brief whirl of excitement, just before the council's public meeting was opened, by their walkout. As Anthony Eden of Great Britain, Premier Laval of France, Maxim Litvinoff of Russia, and others went to the council chamber to cast their unanimous vote, the Italians met in a compact body. Included in their number were members of the delegation and other prominent fascists. They stroled up to the bar in the league's glass-roofed lobby, ordered drinks, stood stiffly in a circle, and raised their glasses high in a toast. Then, after downing the drinks, they ostentatiously marched down the steps and out from the building. As the occasion of the recent dramatic walkout by Baron Pompeo Aloisi, this meant the delegation's final departure or was merely a repetition of the previous gesture by Aloisi. A spokesman for the Italian delegation, however, later explained that the second version was correct—namely, that "Italy will not sit at the same table with Ethiopia." This time, moreover, the act was a little stronger, since the Italians had walked all the way out of the building. Sanctions Foreseen. Some observers said they saw in the speeches of both Anthony Eden of Great Britain and Maxim Litvinoff of Russia an indication that conversations on the "sanctions" which might be employed against Italy will be vigorously pursued. Eden said in his speech that while the council's report was being drafted, "the governments will have an opportunity to consider whether and if so how, anything further can be done to safeguard peace." Litvinoff was deemed to have made an even clearer allusion to sanctions when he said no doubt could be entertained regarding the response his government would give to "any proposals which the council may make for the safeguarding of the peace of Africa as well as other continents and for maintaining the league covenant." In connection with this angle league officials stated that the council has the power to put into its recommendations, if it wishes, suggestions for economic and financial sanctions and other general measures of restraint against a nation which launches a war after rejecting the recommendations.

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (AP)—Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois suffered a relapse during the night and his condition today gave rise to a new apprehension over his condition, the first sign of a spread of the pneumonia to his left lung having been noted. WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Secretary Ickes today announced allotments totalling $46,737,019 for 446 public works projects in 12 states. The total cost of the improvements is estimated at $84,077,074. New York state was allotted over half of the money—$23,869,374 for 163 projects whose aggregate cost will be $41,454,066. There were no arrests and local newspapers were not permitted to mention the incident. neck of the bonus," shouted Chas. Hallock of Indiana. "Take the road that will get you there. The bonus is popular with all the people. Inflation is not." A resolution opposing executive clemency for Grover C. Bergdoll, draft dodger now residing in Germany, was unanimously adopted soon after the bonus excitement subsided. Another resolution expressing the Legion's "deep regret" at the loss of lives of world war veterans in the recent Florida hurricane was adopted unanimously by a rising vote. An independent investigation by the Legion of the disaster was authorized. A committee of three is to be named by the national commander.

ROME, Sept. 26 (AP)—Italian officials said today "Italy will listen to what the League of Nations may say, but without promising to wait until after the bogy path to Addis Ababa becomes dry enough to support its army."

(The league council unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed with the Italo-Ethiopian deliberations under article XV of the league covenant, which automatically makes the aggressor any nation which initiates hostilities before Dec. 4.) These officials continued to declare that nothing can halt II Duce's expedition to East Africa and denied any fear that Great Britain's fleet will bar its way. Anxiety over the mobilizing of the British fleet subsided somewhat. Officials emphasized that Italy and Britain had assured each other that neither has "aggressive" intentions. ROME, Sept. 26 (AP)—Official Italian sources said today its was "premature" to express Italy's reaction to the reported proposal by the council of the League of Nations that Italy and Ethiopia keep the peace until Dec. 4. They said Italy now was awaiting a report from the council. Until this report arrives, they said, Italy was not expressing an opinion. These sources said they were not sure that article XV is the one which the league will envisage and

London Prepares For An Air Raid

Seven thousand men and women already were trained for emergency duty. Plans were pushed forward for instructing fathers and mothers in the East End how to protect their families from the effects of gas attacks. The program followed the elaborate air raid rehearsals in Mediterranean possessions, with the Italo-Ethiopian crisis apparently close to the breaking point. Toybee hall in the crowded commercial road area near the London docks, will be converted into a temporary first aid station Saturday, when members of the volunteer St. John ambulance brigade will give a demonstration. # REVENUES AND PENSIONS ARE HOUSE ISSUES

11 TO 9 VOTE KEEPS TAX SECTION IN PENSION BILL

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—The issues of revenues and old age pensions were linked today in the house of representatives.

Action of the state affairs committee yesterday in refusing to delete a tax section from the old age pension bill cleared a path by which more than a score of tax plans could be offered from the floor as amendments. The vote was 11 to 9.

A special sub-committee recommended the procedure as the only method by which money for pensions could be raised. Opponents argued it would delay final action on old age relief and was part of a scheme by pension enemies to defeat the bill.

Proposed taxes cover a wide range of subjects, from three per cent on retail sales to levies on dominoes, pool halls and playing cards. Committeemen predicted a wild scramble when the bill is presented.

"There will be more than a bushel of tax amendments offered," Rep. Conde Hosins of Gonzales estimated.

The pension bill represented the composite views of nine authors. It restricted payment to an estimated total cost of about $11,000,000 annually. There was little controversy in committee over administrative provisions and restrictions.

A senate committee continued pension plan hearings.

Over the suggestion of Rep. J. Bryan Bradbury of Abilene that it was useless to pass out revenue bills in view of the state affairs committee's action, the pension revenue and taxation committee reported a dozen new tax measures.

Rev. Walter Jones of Jourdan, chairman, commented Bradbury might ask the state affairs committee to refer the pension bill to the revenue and taxation committee as a tax bill or the latter committee might refer all its bills to the state affairs group.

Bills reported included: By Rep. E. L. Reader of San Antonio, to prevent unfair trade by a method of fixing the standard retail price of articles sold under labels, trademarks, and brands.

By Rep. W. O. Reed of Dallas, to bring penny vending and marble machines under the vending machine tax law.

By Charles D. Rutta of Columbus, to increase fees on racing meets.

By Bradbury, to tax incomes, with exemptions of $1,500 for single persons and $2,500 for married couples with $400 for each child.

A bill by Rep. Clarence E. Farmer of Port Worth and Jesse James of Cameron reducing the poll tax from $1.75 to $1 was killed, but notice of minority report given.

The committee set a bill by Rep. Franklin Spears increasing the sulphur tax on hearing Monday night, and two bills by Rep. William Schotner of Temple doubling the occupation tax on gross receipts of utilities and giving counties, cities and towns right to levy one-half of the state tax on hearing tonight.

There are more than three times as many automobile accidents during the four evening rush hours as there are during the four morning rush hours.

This means that we should drive more than three times as carefully on the evening as we do in the morning.

Chapter Eight EVEN THE DEAN

David was far more charming and more frightening than she had remembered him. Nothing but full retreat saved her from being kissed before an interested audience of at least twenty people.

David's affections, like David himself, were absolutely uninhibited.

"David!" she protested. "Would you blast my reputation?"

He looked surprised and hurt. "Then let's go somewhere else, where I can kiss you."

"There is nowhere else. I'm a freshman."

"Do you mean that we've got to sit in this—this mausoleum, with the entire student body doing picket duty at the door?"

"This mausoleum" was the freshman parlour; a thing of red plush and golden oak, redolent of past grandeur. Emily laughed.

"Then let's drive in to town. It's nearly dinner-time anyhow, and I want you to have dinner with me and go to a theatre afterwards. A nice, dark theatre," he added persuasively.

"My darling, I can't," she told him ruefully. "Only seniors can have dinner with men in town."

David ran an agonized hand through his hair. He looked more natural that way and Emily felt

"Oh, my God!" he groaned. Emily seated herself on the red plush sofa, beneath the portrait of the school's first president. "David, I'm sorry. If you had only given me enough notice I could have arranged to go home for the weekend. I want you to meet Mother and Dad, anyhow."

She felt a pang of uneasiness at the idea of that meeting. Mr. Felton would be all right, but her mother would be instinctively distrustful of anything so attractive and unrestrained as David.

"Child, how could I? I didn't know it myself. I sat down to write you a letter, and suddenly I couldn't remember what your mouth looked like! So I got in the car and came. And now I want to kiss you so badly I hurt. I'm going to see the Dean and ask her if I can't take you in town."

"I am," "David, you're not!" "Wait for me." "Miraculously, Dr. Markham was in her office and alone. David smoothed his hair and entered. Not even Deans made him conscious of his feet.

"I come as a suppliant," he announced without preamble. Dr. Markham looked startled, but not entirely displeased. Like most Victorian spinsters she was not insensible to men, particularly to handsome young men who weren't in the least afraid of her. It was a decided point in her favor; perhaps one of the secrets of her success. It enabled her to keep the common touch.

"A suppliant for what?" she asked. "A great favor. Suppose you were a young man," intentionally he flattered her powers of imagination, "that was terribly in love. And suppose you drove a hundred miles to see the object of your affections and found that just because she was a freshman—a falling she'll out-grow soon enough, heaven knows—you couldn't even see her except in a parlour that the entire freshman class was using as a race-track. Wouldn't it," he appealed, "make you tear your hair?"

Dr. Markham was charmed. She felt entirely divested of her awe-inspiring robes of state. She felt human and confidential.

"It would, indeed," she confessed.

casual, "seems to be grist that comes to your mill. There ought to be a law against you."

"They went in to dinner soon after that, and David was the focus of a hundred pairs of eyes. He seemed quite unaware of the attention, but Emily and Judith glowed with a reflected glory.

He left next morning, promising to be back very soon, and the days after that were merely days, with twenty-four interminable hours apiece.

Commencement. The campus was crowded with parents, radiant with pride for their daughters' achievements; with seniors, radiant with pride for their parents. There were innumerable festivities, in which freshmen had no part. Judith, who had a hearty contempt for pageantry and traditional observances, decided to go home.

"Exams are over tomorrow," she announced, "and there are plenty of dotting parents to sit around and doze, so I'll never be missed."

"Then I might as well go too," Emily decided. School without Judith had no charms whatever. "I wish you would come up home for a while first. After you get to Carrollton you'll never tear yourself away."

"I wish I could." That was inaccurate; whatever Judith wished, she could. She confessed at last: "To tell you the truth, I'm homesick. Why can't you come home with me?"

The prospect was alluring. "I'm afraid I can't. Mother's such a stickler for rules that she'll never let me come again until you've been up home."

"In that case I'll be there as soon as I've run home and kissed the family. Then you can come back with me."

They spent the afternoon packing. Emily packed carefully, mindful of her mother's scrutiny when the trunk was opened at home; Judith flung tennis rackets, Panama hats and shoe polish democratically in together.

"What about books and pictures?" Emily asked. "We'll get a big wooden box and store 'em. Then all we'll have to do will be to move 'em to Sophomore Hall in September. The rugs and blankets can go to the cleaners, and they can worry over getting those home for us."

They slept that night in a single bed, because all but two sheets had been packed, and because the prospect of a separation left them both a little shaken.

William arrived with the Felton car at ten, and Emily drove Judith to the station before she left. She went with her to the gate, where the conductor stopped her.

They looked at each other deeply, without speaking; then one corner of Judith's mouth lifted. "No flowers."

"No," Emily agreed. "And besides, you've promised to come back right away."

"I have. And we Carrolls keep our promises or die!"

She stooped and kissed Emily quickly, and the crowd edged back and the station was suddenly drab and empty and soiled.

HOPKINS' MAN ASKS INDUSTRY TO HIRE MORE

SAYS BUSINESS PICKUP CAN NOT SOLVE PROBLEM

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Harry L. Hopkins' "right hand man" expressed the opinion today that unless industry "shares increased business with workers," the unemployment problem will not be solved by a business pick-up.

The relief administrator's first assistant, Aubrey Williams, declared that there has been a gain in business, but that speaking generally it has put comparatively few people to work.

Asked in an interview to explain this seeming paradox, Williams attributed it primarily to increased efficiency which permits employers to produce more goods than before with fewer men.

"Unless industry is willing to adopt deliberately a policy of sharing increased business with workers," he said, "there is not much hope of the workers getting anything out of a business pick-up."

Williams said there had been a drop in the number of people on relief, but he attributed this largely to a "hardboiled" policy under which the rolls were "combed" of ineligible.

Latest figures show total persons on all forms of relief dropped from a peak of 20,655,512, of 17 per cent of the total population of the United States, to 16,128,163 in July, or 13 per cent of population. The decline has been gradual since March, which showed a little gain over February.

TOP KICK'S MISFORTUNE NEW YORK (AP)—Pete Daschowitz, world war veteran, had one compensation for the government's 17-year delay in recognizing his heroism in action near Soissons. He's out of the army now, and no one bawled him out for having a button on his coat unfaded while Col. Albert S. Williams pinned on the distinguished service medal.

DIDN'T ASK DAD PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Charles Edwin Fox Jr., 22, who wanted to be a Boy Scout answered all the questions until he reached the last one.

"And who," asked the examiner with a grin, "is Scout commissioner of Philadelphia?"

The boy racked his brain. The answer was, "Charles Edwin Fox, Sr."

HOGS AND HIDES

Did you ever put your brain to work? Here is a problem put to a shopper the other day. The shopper was buying bacon and was not saying anything good about the high price of hog meat.

The meat cutter was not in any mood to argue. "Well," he said, as he tossed the bacon rind in the box of refuse under the counter, "we buy bacon rind and all. You buy the bacon. Then you wonder why bacon is so high."

The fact is that hogs have to have something to keep themselves from falling apart. A porker without a hide would not look pretty—if there is such a thing as a pretty hog—and the packers naturally conclude that the hide goes with the meat when they fill an order from the Hicktown smirker.

If the clerk who does the meat buying should order pig that the packing house should "please take off the shuck" before sending the slab, the order filler at the other end of the transaction would consign the Hicktown buyer to the bug house.

All this being absolutely so, why throw away the rind? Is not the hometown purchaser entitled to the rind she knows belongs to the particular piece of hog she is buying? By all the gods in pigheaven why cheat the customer out of the encasement in which the good Lord saw fit to place the hog meat!

On the other hand, what's to hinder the customer from demanding that the hide go with the hog?

Does the customer buy the bacon with or without the rind?

In other words, does the hog go with the hide?

If the hide goes with the hog, then the hide should not be ruthlessly cast aside.

But if the price of the hide is not included in the price of bacon bought by the customer, then the meat dealer as the party of the first part, should do as he sees fit with the shuck he shears off the porker that was the victim of fate at the hands of the butcher.

That being the case, the hog should be weighed hide on and hide off and the customer be given the hide off price by the scales. Or if the purchaser is a maker of soap, the hide should be thrown in for the sake of cleanliness.

"But," said the innocent bystander, who was hoping to be next, "Why not buy the bacon slab with the rind on and do the carving at home. The rind might be used for seasoning the pot of beans or the dish of cabbage or the baby might chew the rind in case of teething."

But, alas, buying a whole slab of bacon is for rich folks. Poor folks can not afford even the rind that the clerk throws under the counter in the scrap box.

So, after all, we have used a lot of space and settled nothing. And that is the way it is in everything in this machine age when we would rather buy machine sliced bacon than use the butcher knife in the privacy of the home, where the head of the house intimates that the cook has been using the blade as an instrument with which to chop wood or pare her corns.—Higgins News.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Railroad commission, is quick at repartee. His thrusts enlighten many dull proration hearings.

Recently the representative of a big gas company was explaining why it needed a bigger outlet for its gas.

"Are you talking about sweet gas or sour gas?" Thompson asked.

"Sour gas," the attorney replied. "You mean it's sour on your hands," Thompson snapped.

For perhaps the first time, house members recently broke up a projected executive committee hearing. A majority of a committee which exonerated J. B. McDonald, commissioner of agriculture, of charges of official misconduct sought to consider a report behind closed doors.

Up one aisle and down another Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio marched solemnly. Behind him trooped a dozen members and press correspondents.

Into a committee room and out again Dwyer hurried, then back up the aisle and into other rooms. His escort followed closely.

"Listen, gentlemen," Dwyer finally protested, hand upraised, "nothing is going to happen. All we want is a little executive session to talk things over."

"We want to hear it," chorused the members. "We might miss something."

Finally Dwyer gave it up and invited everyone into a committee room.

The outcome was a demand by the majority composed of Dwyer, J. H. Good of Cooper and Leonard Westfall of Aspermont, for an auditor's report on the investigation which they claimed had not been given them by the chairman, E. E. Hunter of Cleburne.

Attorney General McCraw, who has dealt with oil in many legal battles, had it presented in a new form recently.

Employee of his department gave him a life-size painting of himself. The portrait was by Oscar Knutson, a brother-in-law of Assistant Attorney General W. J. Holt.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

By WILLIS THORNTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—In a rather quiet way, something happened the other night which may have far-reaching effects.

The American Federation of Government Employees slid an amendment into its constitution. This empowers the AFGE to organize all city, county, and state employees throughout the country.

This has never been tried before. Since there are estimated to be perhaps 4,000,000 such employees, you can see that the possibilities are without limit. If successful, this move might well create an organization so strong as to have a definite direct influence on government itself.

Since 1932, when the AFGE was established, there have been two union organizations competing for the 717,712 employees now on the federal payroll.

The National Federation of Federal Employees is the older, founded in 1918. It claims 44,000 members.

The AFGE, started in 1932 with American Federation of Labor backing, has something more than 20,000 members.

Between the two, with some 65,000 members, they have succeeded in organizing fewer than 10 per cent of the federal government workers. There is growing bitterness between the two organizations, and recent proposals to merge them were turned down with fierce decision.

But now the AFGE turns from the purely federal field to all employees of all governments, local as well as national. If it succeeds in building a broad national organization among them all, it would be by long odds the greatest "white collar" labor organization, and would command great influence.

That influence could be for good or evil, according to the leadership.

It could, for instance, be a strong influence against the spoils system and local corruption. And it could also build up the "vested interest" of government employees in their jobs to the point where reduction and economies in government payrolls would be forever impossible.

You read about the impressive tributes to General Pershing in Europe on the occasion of his 75th birthday recently. But you didn't see the informal greetings that came flooding into his office at the War Department.

Yes, the general still keeps an office there, a big, old-fashioned room with a sign above the door which says, "The General of the Armies."

Some of those greetings were really touching, cheap little penny postcards with a spot of blue ribbon, like one "From a mother who has a son in the service in the Philippines," or the letter: "Ten years ago you had your picture taken at Bahia, Blanco, Argentina, holding a baby in your arms. Since my birthday falls on the same day as yours, I want to send you best wishes. . . . I am very proud of that picture and also of the one of you which you autographed. . . ."

All such are gathered together by Capt. George E. Adamson, QMC, who has served as the general's secretary since Mexican border days of 1916.

He acknowledges them as best he can, and forwards them to Pershing. More than 400 of them came this year.

According to a news item, an Austrian model earns his living by standing still and doing absolutely nothing. A congressman moves around.

Annual Statement Of First Church of Christ Is Revealing

A call to renewed activity in the daily application of Christian Science was issued at the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., by The Christian Science Board of Directors.

Church officers in their reports divulged marked growth of the movement throughout the world and increased demand for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science.

George Wendell Adams, speaking as chairman of the board of directors, stressed the need for increased demand for the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, discoverer and founder of Christian Science.

Referring to the new Christian Science Publishing house which increased demand for Christian Science literature made necessary, Mr. Adams asserted that while wholesome activity in the movement continues, "the putting of the movement in the hands of individuals, but also in the general welfare of the world. Truth and Love hold guard over the whole world as well as over the minutest occupant of it," he directors said.

WOMAN KILLED

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 26 (AP) - Mrs. John W. Cunningham, 40, of Zephyr, was killed today when struck by a freight train as she walked along a track to a depot where she had intended to board a passenger train.

An increase of 205 per cent in the sales of Mrs. Eddy's works over the previous year was recorded by William M. Barrett, secretary of the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy. "The world's need for the healing truths of Christian Science has grown more and more pressing during the two decades just passed," Mr. Barrett pointed out.

The list of publications which in 1915 consisted of 39 items has expanded to more than 200; while new books and translations authorized and now under way, to be published within the next 12 months, will add 30 new items to the list.

150,000 Persons Attend A Midnight Pontifical Mass

Bishop of Amarillo Conducts Period Of Meditation

CLEVELAND, Sept. 26 (AP) - Nearly 150,000 men and women knelt silently in the darkness of Cleveland stadium early today and listened to the message of the Catholic church.

From the top tier of the stadium far out on the field a solid, shadowy assemblage watched quietly as Archbishop Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States, celebrated a midnight pontifical low mass.

As a spectacle of reverence it was the high point of the 7th national eucharistic congress, now nearing its conclusion.

Long before last midnight, the stadium was crowded to its normal capacity—80,000 persons. At 11 p. m. came the holy hour. The aisles were filling up and the crowd was pushing out on the field.

During the holy hour of which Bishop Joseph E. Ritter of Indianapolis was celebrating, it was necessary to close the gates. Stadium Commissioner Walter Davis estimated the attendance at approximately 150,000.

There was a meditation period, conducted by Bishop Robert E. Lucey of Amarillo, Texas. Then came the benediction of the holy sacrament. As time for the mass came the lights of the stadium faded out. Only a single light burned, that above the altar, down on the field.

Soon after the mass started, candles began to flicker in all parts of the structure. Worshippers struck lights to the candles they held and soon the soft glow of 75,000 tapers illuminated the reverent gathering.

When the time came for the eucharist in holy communion as had been planned, there was a pause. Because of the immense crowd, it was necessary to announce that this could not be done. Instead, the men and women were asked to join in a "spiritual communion" with Archbishop Cicognani.

The crowd broke all previous attendance records for the stadium. Some of the entrance gates were opened for the first time since 1922 when 90,184 persons gathered there for a baseball game.

Today crowds will stream into the stadium again to hear the benediction of Pope Pius XI, in a special broadcast from Castel Gandolfo, his summer residence.

The addition of 78 new branches of The Mother Church, 47 in North America, one in South America, 17 in Europe, two in Asia, two in Africa and four in Australia, were listed by Miss Rosamond Wright, manager of the Department of Branches and Practitioners.

An increase of 205 per cent in the sales of Mrs. Eddy's works over the previous year was recorded by William M. Barrett, secretary of the trustees under the will of Mary Baker Eddy. "The world's need for the healing truths of Christian Science has grown more and more pressing during the two decades just passed," Mr. Barrett pointed out.

The list of publications which in 1915 consisted of 39 items has expanded to more than 200; while new books and translations authorized and now under way, to be published within the next 12 months, will add 30 new items to the list.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

AUSTIN, Sept. 26 (AP) - Letter of a Texan who, living in the South, yet was a Northern sympathizer and received the customary treatment accorded those persons convicted of anti-South sentiments, have been brought to light in the papers of Richard Rodgers Peebles, now deposited in the family archives collection of the University of Texas Library. Dr. Peebles' letters to his friend, David Baldwin, likewise in opposition to the cause of the South, revealed all too clearly his attitude toward the South's campaign. He was arrested, imprisoned, and banished. At the close of the war, among other political prisoners, he was released. It was due to the interest of his brother, J. Scott Peebles, that these letters, and others written by the Texas doctor, were later collected. It is interesting to note that the letters which Dr. Peebles had written to Baldwin and which had occasioned his arrest, were voluntarily returned to him at the close of the war by one of the Southern officers who had held him prisoner.

Doc. R. R. Peebles:
Houston, July 5th, 1865.

I have enclosed the letter written by you to D. J. Baldwin, and found in his possession when he was arrested. Mrs. Baldwin some time since requested me to obtain her husband's papers, and though I had given them up a year ago, when I resigned my position on the staff of Gen. Magruder, I put myself to some trouble and found them for her. Among those papers were the enclosed letters, and after some conversation with a friend of yours, I concluded to send them to you instead of Mrs. Baldwin. Mrs. B. has ever treated me with kindness and politeness, or I never should have volunteered to find her husband's papers. You I believe appreciate the delicacy and kindness which characterized my course toward the political prisoners, when I was acting under orders, and in the performance of what I considered my duty.

I restore these letters from a sense of duty, and from no other motive. I have no favors to ask, nothing to trouble my conscience, so far as my conduct toward you is concerned, and but few regrets, save those induced by the failure of the South to achieve her independence after so severe a struggle and the loss of so many of her sons upon the battlefield.

Yours respectfully,
Horace Conner.

'Appreciation' Banquet To Be Given M. Jones

DALHART, Sept. 26 (AP) - Two bands, a dozen barbecued beefs, addresses by prominent Panhandle officials and citizens, including Old Tack of the Amarillo News-Globe will comprise part of the brilliant program planned for the Marvin Jones "appreciation day" in Dalhart next Saturday, Sept. 28.

Everything is free, including the barbecue which will be served in a down town location. There will be plenty of "trimmings." The veteran Panhandle band and the Dalhart band will furnish music. Loudspeakers will carry entertainment and addresses to all parts of the crowd, estimated somewhere over 5,000.

Chairman S. E. Brown of the general committee said every town, city and community in this section is being invited "so that our congressmen can know first hand the deep appreciation of the home folks for his work in their behalf at Washington."

ALL ALIKE TO HIM
JACKSON, Mich. (AP) - "Where do you look in?" Captain Fred Boucher asked a bewildered first hand of the Southern Michigan prisoner. "I dunno," came the reply. "All these cells look alike to me." The prisoner produced his handkerchief, bearing his number, and

BORGER HORSE SHOW WILL BE WEEK-END ATTRACTION

BORGER, Sept. 26. (Sp)—Cheyenne may have the biggest rodeo in the world, and Kansas City may have one of the biggest horse shows in the country in connection with the annual American Royal, but Borger will have a combination horse and wild west show this week-end that will go on record as of much more entertainment value to this country than either of the afore-mentioned events that are nothing but newspaper stories in this country.

The junior chamber of commerce is sponsoring the event and hopes to present an exhibition that will make the first show of its kind in the southwest one that will go down in the records as a success from the spectator's viewpoint as well as the contestants. It is hoped that the success of the show will justify the repetition of it each year from now on.

The program will open with a parade on Main street Saturday at noon and the first show will be presented that afternoon. The horse show will be presented at that time as well as the wild west show. The wild west show will be repeated Saturday night and given again Sunday afternoon in conjunction with the horse show.

The finest horse flesh in the Panhandle will be entered in the horse show. Included in the number of fine animals who will be here for the competitive exhibitions will be Santa Clara, owned by Walter David of Borger, Man of the Hour, owned by Miss Jane Austen of Amarillo, Hallejush Boy, owned by Miss Mary Alice Burnett, will be here and she will also show Red Velvet, formerly of the Caranton Stables on the Pacific coast. Virginia Giglio, owned by Cotton Wiley, manager of the Sunset stables at Amarillo will also show. These are but a few of the fine animals that will compete in all classes of the horse show exhibitions.

OSAGE COUNTY IS STILL A HOT SPOT OF MIDCONTINENT FIELDS

TULSA, Okla., Sept. 26. (P)—Osage county in northern Oklahoma, where fabulous fortunes were made for operators and Indians alike in years gone by, remains one of the active "hot spots" of the midcontinent oil world.

Rival companies yesterday bid $812,875 for leases on 70 tracts in a spirited auction that brought memories of a decade ago, when the sky was the limit.

Keweenaw Oil and Gas Co. paid $342,000 for a single 160-acre tract, the largest lease bonus offered in five years. Gypsy Oil Co. (Gulf Oil Corp. unit) paid $153,000 for an adjoining quarter-section.

Keweenaw has been one of the more active firms in recent lease sales, and paid $312,000 for a similar tract earlier this year. That price established a five year record at the time.

The all time high was $1,999,000 for 160 acres, paid about 1924. Several times has $1,500,000 or more been paid.

Extension of the South Burbank pool by several good wells recently has brought about the fight for leases to the south of the old Burbank pool, once one of the state's leading producing sections.

Field activity in the district has quickened, with 13 wells in the county last week.

The week also brought an improvement in the refinery market after a brief period of softness.

In the Chicago area, jobbers were back in the market again after prices firmed when surplus stock was cleaned up. At Chicago third grade gasoline was steady at 43-4 cents a gallon. Regular was 5 1/2-5 3/4.

Prices continued strong in Oklahoma and Texas as refinery production was held at a level to meet the market demand.

Rome Describes Walkout Without 'Significance'

ROME, Sept. 26. (P)—The walkout of the Italian delegation at Geneva before the League of Nations council unanimously adopted a resolution to proceed under article 15 of the covenant in the Italo-Ethiopian deliberations, was declared today by a government spokesman to be "without significance."

He added that the covenant requires that any controversy between members shall be considered by the council in the absence of the involved parties. The Italian delegation, he said, may be called in later.

The council decision authorized it to "make and publish" a report on the Italo-Ethiopian conflict and make recommendations. Violation of these recommendations if adopted unanimously, would be considered an act of war against all league members, under article 16, leading to sanctions.

Italy cancelled today the sailing of some 10,000 troops, drawing up to embark for Libya to guard the frontier bordering on Egypt.

With an expressed sense of relief that tension with Great Britain had passed, the Italian government officials awaited League of Nations developments.

732,000 barrels but this was partially offset by a gain of 170,000 in foreign crude.

A substantial jump in crude production was disclosed for the week ending September 14 by reports from the industry, along with a decline in imports and a comparatively small advance in crude runs to stills. The week's total demand averaged 3,141,000 barrels daily, comprising 2,815,000 barrels produced, 103,000 imported, and 23,000 taken from stocks. The demand was said to be only slightly below the weeks of July and August.

Crude runs to stills were estimated at 2,700,000 barrels daily, or about 45,000 barrels over the previous week's average.

Crude Stocks In Sharp Drop

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26. (P)—The bureau of mines reported that stocks of domestic and foreign crude oil aggregated 307,319,000 barrels on September 14, a decline of 1,562,000 barrels from the previous week's total.

Domestic crude stocks fell off 1-
