Gray County Over The Top In Third War Loan Drive

$1,385,148 Is Total Today In Bond Campaign

BULLETIN
EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced here this afternoon the nation's Third War Loan drive goal of $15,000,000,000 had been met.

Gray county again did its part in aiding Uncle Sam when it exceeded its quota of bond sales in the third war loan drive today.

The quota was $1,380,200; bonds sold totaled $1,385,148.25 or an excess of $4,948.25 over the quota. Although pleased that the total amount of bonds sold in Gray county was above the quota, S. D. Stennis, chairman of the county bond committee, regretted that the total number of purchasers represented only one for every eight of the county's population.

As a final salute to celebrate the going over the top of Pampa's Third War Loan Drive, Radio Station KFDN, in cooperation with the Public Relations office of the Pampa Army Air Field, will present the Post Dance Band tonight from 5 until 5:30 p. m. in a special War Bond program under the direction of Pampa Officer Ken Carpenter. Pvt. Barry Shuman, popular network vocalist, will sing with the orchestra in today's radio program.

"With a population of 23,911, the percentage should have been much higher than this," Chairman Stennis declared. "We ought to have had more than 3,170 bond purchasers. Are we backing the attack as we should?"

Even though the quota has been exceeded, he stressed that Gray county residents should keep on buying more bonds.

"Do not wait for someone to call on you. Go to any of the issuing agencies, buy a bond, and buy it now," he urged.

"We were asked to purchase $523,000 Series E bonds. We are short in this class of bonds about $250,000 but we have gone over the quota in the other classes."

Among the purchasers putting the county over the top in the campaign, which opened September 8 and is to end Saturday October, were:

Pampa Independent School district, $20,000; Skelly Oil company, $10,000; Griffith Amusement company, $2,500.

Employees of the Cabot companies purchased in Association of $12,000; Dangler, $10,000; Columbia Carbon company, $2,500; C. R. Anthony employes, an additional $1,200; Humble employes, $2,500; additional; Bovard Supply company.

ANOTHER NAZI SUB GOES TO THE BOTTOM

Churning the sea, a Nazi submarine begins to settle by the stern, her bow rising as members of the crew cower in the shadow along the conning tower (top photo). This picture is the fourth sub attacked by Grumman Avenger piloted by Lt. Robert P. Williams, USNR, who recently made history by bombing three submarines in 4 days. His plane took off from an escort carrier. At bottom, an injured captain of a Nazi sub comes aboard the escort carrier from which the torpedo bomber took off. Approximately 30 survivors were rescued by the destroyer from which the transfer is being made. (NEA Telephotos).

Gray Fathers Due For Call In November

Selective service boards are permitted to start tomorrow inducting men who became fathers before Pearl Harbor. Many Texas boards say they will be in no hurry to take such men, others report fathers will be needed soon to meet quotas.

C. P. Buckler, chairman of the Gray county draft board, said he did not think it would be necessary to call any fathers for October but that fathers probably would be called in November.

Commenting on the action of the Lubbock county board in taking fathers who volunteered, he said the Gray county board had been accepting fathers who volunteered for service in the armed forces all the time.

Draft boards at Port Arthur, Corpus Christi, Marshall, Borger and Lubbock said that at present they planned to call no fathers during October, though some may be needed in November.

Houston boards planned calling the fathers tomorrow unless new instructions were issued from selective service headquarters.

Chairman Van D. Anderson said at Paris that Lamar county draft board No. 1 would begin drafting fathers tomorrow by order number and without regard to dependency status.

San Antonio boards saw no immediate necessity of drawing heavily on fathers in October.

The next call at Big Spring was expected to contain many fathers because a report September call nearly exhausted rolls except for fathers and youths coming of age.

Amarillo boards planned to take dads as their numbers and quotas come up. No definite plans had been announced by boards at Dallas, Austin and Plainview.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—With congress still debating the wisdom of it, the draft of fathers for military service starts tomorrow and an overwhelming majority of states will start inducting family heads immediately in order to meet their quotas.

Selective service authorities considered the draft of fathers for military service as a matter for local boards to determine. Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford Jester has been informed in answer to an inquiry he addressed to the national selective service office.

'IT COME OUT'

Al Dexter (above), author of "Pistol Packin' Mamma," says he "just got to thinking and it come out."

Here He Is, Folks; He Done It, But Put That Pistol Down!

By ELTON L. MILLER
JACKSONVILLE, Tex., Sept. 30.—(AP)—A lanky youth from the piney woods of East Texas, whose first guitar was a home-made, sweet-gum contraption he built himself, is the author of the nation's most-acceptable current cowboy tune—"Pistol Packin' Mamma."

He is Al Dexter, a Jacksonville self-styled hillbilly, a former painter and decorator.

Record shops over Texas cannot supply their gamms for his catchy tune. It has been featured on Bing Crosby's and Kay Kyser's programs and has zoomed high on America's hit list. Even doughboys on the far-flung battlefronts are singing it.

It's pure corn—even Dexter admits that—but it's popularity has gained a try-out for Horace Heidt's nationally-known Musical Knights.

About the most surprised person of all when the nation started singing "Pistol Packin' Mamma" was the tall east Texan himself.

"How come?" he said. "I dunno. Just got to thinkin' and it come out. Folks seemed to like it, so I put it on record."

"That was a year ago, but it was only recently that it caught on and since every juke box in the country has it available for a nickel."

Dexter has been foolin' around with music since he was 15. He played a French harp and banjo and learned to finger an old reed organ his folks at Jacksonville used to have.

Said he: "I got in the habit of singin' while I worked stid o' whistlin' like most folks. Guys and gals would gather round and listen. Kind of encouraged me, I guess, and that's the way it happened."

His first "gitt-tar," he said, he made from sweet-gum strips that he picked up around a Jacksonville box factory and from a white-pine drain board from a dismantled kitchen sink. Then he got his first radio job singing over a Fort Worth station.

Americans at Foot Of Vesuvius; Nazis Leave Naples Afire

U. S. 5th Army troops drove beyond newly-captured Pompei at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius today and dispatches from Allied headquarters said the Germans had apparently fled into Naples and on to the north after machine-gunning women and children in the streets. The German-controlled Italian radio said "at this moment the British fleet is bombarding Naples." Simultaneously, the Cairo radio declared that 5th Army forces were swiftly investing the burning, dynamite-wrecked port.

By WES GALLAGHER
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The American Fifth Army rolled across the coastal plain at the foot of Vesuvius today toward the towers of smoke and flame that marked the city of Naples, Italy's second greatest port.

Overrunning Pompei, the modern town of 4,000 people built on the ashes of its ancient namesake that was destroyed in 79 A. D., troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark drove to the southern slopes of 3,900-foot Vesuvius and began the last stages of their approach around the base of the volcano.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique announced the capture of both Pompei, 10 miles along the coast from Naples, and Mercato San Severino, 22 miles southeast of the big port which has been shaken and swept for a week by the explosions and fires set by German demolition crews, and ridden by vengeful machine-gun squads reported to have excited a reign of terror among the people.

But it was probable that the troops were much closer than disclosed by the communique which usually contains no information of operations later than 6 p. m. of the previous day.

The Cairo radio said the Fifth Army was rapidly investing the city from the south and southeast.

The German communique, broadcast from Berlin, said that harbor installations had been destroyed in an effort to prevent Allied landings, and that "very severe measures were taken against communist riots which are flaring up."

While Clark's army continued its unbroken advance, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth Army along the Adriatic continued to consolidate the newly won air bases at Foggia, only 160 miles from Rome, and branched out to reach Manfredonia on the coast in a 20-mile advance.

On the approaches to Naples the "enemy continues to cover his withdrawal by extensive demolitions," the war bulletin said.

Medium bombers of the North African air force look to the air and rained Cannello, Benevento, Formia, Piano and Amorosi—all along escape routes that German forces must use in withdrawing before the advancing Allied troops.

The communique said road junctions were hit around Cannello, 13 miles northeast of Naples, near Amorosi, 27 miles to the northeast, and around Piano.

Fighters and fighter-bombers also were hit around Cannello, 13 miles northeast of Naples, near Amorosi, 27 miles to the northeast, and around Piano.

Home Front Has More Casualties Than War
CHICAGO, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Accidents on the nation's home front, since Pearl Harbor, have caused more deaths than the number of American casualties on all battle fronts, the national safety congress said today.

Since Dec. 7, 1941, accidental deaths to wartime workers, on and off the job, totaled 80,000, with seven million injured, the council said. It reported casualties to the U. S. armed forces included some 20,000 dead, 28,000 wounded and 32,000 missing.

Parents: Here's How Newspaper Boy Can Help In War Service
The boys of America who are too young to fight have a job to do in this war. Their parents find their teachers should make it clear to them.

It's a patriotic job. They can earn money and help to buy War Stamps and Bonds. The money they spend this way is a vital aid to their soldier brothers fighting overseas and at the same time an investment for the boys themselves.

One of the ways a boy can earn money is by carrying a newspaper route. Selling and carrying newspapers is declared by leading business and professional men everywhere to be the best privilege offered in America today for boys to find a career through their own initiative and resourcefulness.

The newboys are performing a vital and incomparable war service. A newspaper boy can turn his available man hours into cash for investment in War Stamps and Bonds.

A newspaper boy performs a patriotic service in delivering the news to the people, for newspapers have been declared vital to the war effort.

Dorothy Brown Dies Suddenly

Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Brown, 28 wife of Delbert R. Brown, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Landrum, 1501 N. Russell, who had given pilot training to 75 men now in the nation's service, died of blood poisoning Wednesday morning in a Clinton, Okla., hospital, following a wisdom tooth extraction she underwent the preceding Sunday.

The body is in state at the Landrum residence here. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a. m. tomorrow at the First Baptist church by the Rev. E. Douglas Carver, pastor. Burial will be in the Fairview cemetery.

In June, 1940, with her husband, Mrs. Brown became interested in aviation, and progressed so that she won a commercial pilot's rating, one of the few women to hold this distinction, as well as being an instructor.

She taught flying at Pampa, Pampa, Lubbock and Oklahoma City. At the time of her death she had just finished training a naval aviator.

Spectator Killed At Baseball Game
WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Clarence D. Stagemyer, 32-year-old government employe, died early today a few minutes after he had been hit on the head by a baseball while attending the night baseball double-header between Washington and Cleveland at Griffith stadium.

The accident occurred in the ninth inning of the first game when Cleveland's Ken Keltner grounded to Sherry Robertson at third and Robertson threw to Micky Vernon at first, the ball falling over Vernon's head into the stands.

Mayor Outlines Post-War Needs

Accomplishments of the city of Pampa in the past three years and needed improvements for the post-war period were outlined in a talk to the Pampa Rotary club at its regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday at the Schneider hotel by Mayor Fred Thompson.

Mentioning that war conditions that eliminated the possibility of cities obtaining street building and other equipment, because of the vital material shortage, the mayor told how such sums previously allocated for this purpose were now being saved.

He told of the city's gas meter repair shop and of the amount of money that had been saved by its use; also, of the city's two modern garbage collection trucks and the city's garbage disposal system that has merited commendation of the state association of cities.

Looking into the future, he named state association of cities.

1. An enlarged sewage disposal system as the present one is over-taxed.
2. A larger water supply.
3. More paving.
4. Installation of a water softener device for the city's water supply.

Entertainment on the luncheon program was two songs sung by Miss Willie Dean Ellis, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Douglas Carver, Hugh Ellis, father of Willie Dean, was a guest.

Gen. Montgomery Has No Guess on War's End

AT GENERAL MONTGOMERY'S HEADQUARTERS IN ITALY, Sept. 26.—(Delayed)—Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery isn't venturing a guess when the war will be over.

"I expect you correspondents to tell me things like that," the general said today, and thereupon asked: "When?"

A correspondent speculated that the war in Europe would end in the spring.

"But when in the spring?" the general asked.

"March."
"When in March?"
"March 15."
"Hm," said Montgomery. "Hm, March 15."
But his cool gray eyes offered neither confirmation nor denial.

Correspondents Have Close Call On 'Crazy Day' In Italian City

By BELMAN MORIN
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 28 (Delayed)—(AP)—The German army, finally hurled from its mountain strongholds, was in the plains of Naples tonight, half a step ahead of Allied troops who had won their greatest victory since the battle of Italy began.

It was a triumphant and at the same time a completely crazy day. Five American correspondents, in blissful ignorance of their position, "captured" one town a half hour before British patrols arrived.

In the morning we were ducking German and British tanks, bombers and flying lemons and persimmons with which we were greeted by the Italians. Before the afternoon ended we were huddled in doorways, caught between shells from German and British tanks.

We left headquarters early in the morning intending to visit mountain sectors where the British for five days previously had been hammering German defenses beautifully chosen to hold passes commanding the entrance to the Naples plain.

The Germans had made good use of the natural advantages of the terrain and apparently expected to hold their line for some time. Nobody expected the break that came so suddenly today.

We had expected to stop at the ruined hamlet of Camerelle, but when we arrived there we saw a convoy winding through the mountains ahead. Somehow at our surprise we reached the major city of Nocera. A few British reconnaissance vehicles were pushing along the road beyond and we were told American troops were already in possession of the neighboring city, but information

Jack Benny Home After Foreign Tour

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Comedian Jack Benny is home after a 10-week air tour of American army camps in Italy, Africa and the middle east and his only complaint is that newer motion pictures haven't been sent to the fighting men.

In Iran, according to the current films, Shirley Temple hadn't been born yet, and Francis X. Bushman had just won the popularity contest," he remarked yesterday in an interview.

Benny's troupe of entertainers, who toured under the auspices of the USO camp shows, was the first to follow the Allied army from Sicily into Italy's "toe."

No Rescue In Sight For 7 Men On Raft Until Oregon Bond Sale Goes Over The Top

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 30.—(AP)—What started out as a light-hearted publicity stunt was grim reality today for seven raft-sitters in the Portland harbor. They jumped onto a navy raft in the Willamette river, pledging to get along on shipwreck rations until Oregon filled its $104,000,000 quota in the third war loan campaign. Since they didn't expect this to last long, they ate heartily at first. Now, ten days later, Oregon has raised only 62 per cent of the quota and the coast guard has taken a very liberal attitude about simulating shipwreck conditions. The men are down to their last two days of chocolate rations and are eating only two meals a day of what other rations remain. They told reporters they were "tired, hungry and cold." The coast guard not only has refused them additional food but also blankets, long underwear and soap. One waterfront businessman offered to send out a bar of soap. The coast guard turned him down. "As far as we're concerned these men are in the middle of the Pacific ocean," a guardsman said. Unless bond sales spurt, the men won't be rescued until the third war loan campaign ends Saturday.

Recluse Lived With 20 Dogs and 7 Cats

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Officials of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals have raided an old house here where, it was charged, Miss Anna Leary, 60-year-old recluse had kept 20 dogs and seven cats imprisoned since spring. The raid, staged Tuesday, was the third made on the premises by the ASPCA in seven years, according to the society. The first time, 40 dogs were seized and the second raid resulted in the removal of 25. The animals taken Tuesday were destroyed yesterday after the society discovered they were suffering from various ailments. Miss Leary was given a summons charging cruelty to animals. Only comment made by the elderly woman, the ASPCA said, was: "This is my way of expressing myself."

Huge Mark-Ups On Fruits, Vegetables Denied By Grocers

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Defending grocers against charges of exorbitant profits on fresh fruits and vegetables, President P. M. Brinker of the National Association of Retail Grocers told the annual convention of the Texas fruit and vegetable growers and shippers. "Anyone who claims that the legitimate retailer is adding 100, 200 or 400 per cent markups on fruits and vegetables is talking about the chiseler and the profiteer and not about the legitimate retailer who chooses to remain in business after the war."

A free country is one in which the citizen is privileged to "cuss" the government and then remain at home on election day.

Dairies Ask For Milk Price Hike

A petition signed by dairymen in the Lubbock, Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Dumas and Dalhart regions urging that price ceilings be increased from $3.55 to $4.50 per hundredweight on the amount they received for milk, or by 1 1/2 cents to 2 cents a quart when sold to the consumer, was submitted to the Office of Price Administration in Washington yesterday by Rep. Mahon (D-Texas).

Pampa dairymen signed the petition drawn up for this area, which, if it is passed through the Office of Price Administration will mean that Pampans will be paying two cents more on each quart of milk. The petition goes into lengthy discussion of the problems relative to the milk consumer and producer, giving exact percentage of feed prices. An example submitted to dairymen was that milo maize has gained 180 per cent in price this year.

Normally there are two districts of dairymen in Texas, the Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and El Paso area; the Lubbock, Amarillo, Pampa, Borger, Dumas and Dalhart area. The Fort Worth-Dallas area has for the past seven months been receiving 1/2 cent more per quart of milk than this area. This area petitioned to obtain an equal rate. Local dairymen think that milk production in this area will give a 25 to 50 per hundredweight increase on the amount they receive for milk, to be paid by the Commodity Credit Corporation, if the subsidy is granted.

Uncle Sam Wants Those Tin Cans!

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Housewives were given a reminder today that enough steel goes into U. S. tin cans every year to build 900 destroyers as the War Production Board issued an appeal to "reuse" it working. Calling for immediate intensification of the tin can salvage collections, WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson said two out of every three used tins are being thrown away and that their salvage is vital to the adequate production of copper, tin and steel for war goods.

John Lewis Wins Again

The Germans surrendered to the United States in Africa and the United States surrendered to John Lewis at home—as predicted. In terms of capitulation is ignominious as this republic has known, the War Labor board (no doubt under orders from FDR) says Lewis can't break the Little Steel formula. We'll die in our tracks before we give an inch on that but, John, listen, you fool, you've got us on the spot. We know that. And we don't like it. Absolutely, we don't like it. But listen, can't we fix things up? You were swell back in '36 with those 500 grand. Maybe you've got something coming. We can't give you the two bucks right off the thumb. That would be a wage increase. You know we can't give a wage increase. The Old Man has told us. But, John, you old stinker, tell you what: you go back to the operators and tell 'em to give you portal-to-portal and it'll be jake with us. You got 'em in the groove, John. They gotta fall for it, John. The gov'ment's got their mines, hasn't it? And they can't get their mines back until they straighten things up with you.

So, you get your portal-to-portal. They'll give you boys two bucks a day extra but it won't be a wage increase! D'ye get it, John? It won't be a wage increase. But your guys'll have the two bucks. And we'll get OPA to up the price of coal so the operators will have the bucks to give your boys. The public'll pay the freight same's ever but they won't know it. And, John, next year—you know the chief—Well, you know. Maybe you can do something for him. Nothing like getting the public to pay for a campaign. Now, John, this is for the record. We think it was damned unparliamentary for you to strike when our boys are fighting those treacherous Japs and being bit by spiders in the New Giney jungle. We sincerely trust that you won't do this again. Course, with the price of coal going up and groceries and fuel your boys might have to sue some more before we're through. If so, John, tip us off, quiet like. No more strikes. You got the formula all fixed up. Portal-to-portal is a sweet one. The next time we may stretch it out and give your boys travel pay from the time they leave the house until they get back at night. That'll give 'em more pay without a wage increase. But don't tell the rest of the working stiffs how you did it, John; otherwise, the whole passel of 'em will be on our necks. Everybody'll be wantin' pay from the time they get out of bed 'til they get back in again. In fact, John, considerin' how it's necessary for a person to sleep in order to work, they'll probably want pay while they're sleeping and time-and-a-half if they oversleep! You started a bad precedent, John. Those strapbangers on the tube in little old New York, will want pay while hanging onto the strap. A lot of 'em work, hands hanging onto the strap than they do on the job. And besides they travel underground same as you guys do, portal-to-portal. With the gov'ment buying 80 per cent of everything the working stiffs make, all these portal-to-portals will be charged to the public debt. That'll leave more to the boys in uniform to pay when they get home. But they'll forgive all about that. Meantime, we give 'em the 1944 bump.

Oklahomans Fill Gaps in Texans' Grid Schedules

The invasion is on. More than ever before Texas Panhandle football teams are playing Oklahoma teams this year.

Weatherford High school, whose team plays the Harvesters here at 8:30 Friday night, will be the second of four teams from the Sooner state the Pampa eleven will play this season.

In the opener, the Harvesters gained some valuable experience and an insight into football as played in the 46th state when the powerful Hollis team beat the Pampa gridsters 13 to 9.

It was a sweet inter-state victory for the Hollis Tigers as they had previously been trounced by the Vernon, Texas team, 25 to 0.

Coach Otis Coffey of Pampa has secured an Oklahoma team to fill the next to last open date on the Harvesters schedule, when the Mangum team comes here on November 19.

Next week the Harvesters face an Oklahoma championship team when they play Lawton there on October 15.

Pampa's No. 1 conference rival, the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo, has two Oklahoma teams on its schedule. First will be Norman at Amarillo on October 15. The Norman eleven has beaten the Sandstorm in the past and has always given the Potter county team plenty of opposition, so the usual hard game can be anticipated this season.

On October 30, the second Sooner team will play in Amarillo when Shawnee sends its team there, a month before the Sandstorm comes to Pampa for the November 25 Panhandle gridiron classic.

Pirates To Play Twice In Austin

ARLINGTON, Tex., Sept. 30.—(AP)—Austin will get to see the Southwestern University football team in action twice this year.

Saturday, the Pirates play Texas in the "capitol city," Oct. 15. Southwestern meets North Texas Agricultural College in House Park, Austin, in a night game.

Coach Klepto Holmes of the Aggies said today the Southwestern-NTAC game scheduled for Oct. 16 at Georgetown had been transferred to Austin.

Holmes also announced scheduling of a game with the 15th training regiment of Camp Fannin in the Tyler high school stadium the night of Oct. 9.

SPORTS for Victory

Short Name Surplus Stock On SMU Team

DALLAS, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Southern Methodist University's football team can claim the title of "sports writer's dream."

There's certainly nothing "Ford-hamish" about the names of the starting lineup because there are only 58 letters for all 11 players.

So short are the names that the S. M. U. athletic publicity department has challenged any other senior colleges to match them.

Only one of the top eleven—blocking back McClintock—has a three-syllable name, and five—tackles Pool and Holt, guards Hill and B. Shaw and tailback W. Shaw—have four letter monikers. Three other—center Cleard, fullback A. Allen and end Croft—each contribute five letters, with wingback Redman adding six and end Johnson seven.

District 2-A Sets Birth Certificate As Age Criterion

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS. WHITE DEER, Sept. 30.—The executive board of District 2-A, Supt. Chester Strickland, chairman, at its meeting here Sept. 23 voted that beginning in 1944, certification of ages in determining eligibility would be based on birth certificates.

It was decided also that an all-district team would be chosen by the coaches after the bi-district game is played.

A dinner was served in the high school cafeteria to Supt. Charles Douglas and Coach Clarence Lewis of Canadian, Principal Stephens and Coach Tom Slack of Perryton, Supt. Bob Vaughn and Coach "Chesty" Walker of Phillips, and Superintendent Strickland and Coach Tyson Cox of White Deer.

Dictated But Not Read Was Georgia Tech's Touchdown

ATLANTA, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Coach Bill Alexander of Georgia Tech is telling the real story of Eddie Prokop's 80-yard touchdown gallop against North Carolina last week.

Alex sent in Prokop to replace Tailback Frank Broyles. Broyles had been calling signals. Prokop couldn't. The team went into a huddle. Finally, an alert lineman asked who was calling signals. They guessed it was Quarterback Wilbur Stein.

Stein, speechless, couldn't even remember signal, but blurted "off tackle to the right." So Prokop "off tackled" for his spectacular run.

1942 Cards Captain Sees Team Again As World Series Winner

CARACAS, Venezuela, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Pvt. Terry Moore of the U. S. Army, picks the St. Louis Cardinals to repeat the victory he helped them win in 1942 over the New York Yankees in the coming World Series.

If the word "private" before Moore's name causes some confusion, remember that the captain of last year's Cardinals recently joined the army.

"Mort Cooper and Stan Musial will prove too much for the Yanks this year," Moore predicted while here playing for an army team from Trinidad against the local champions.

Pirates To Play Clarendon Friday Night At LeFors

War does funny things to grid schedules.

For example, Clarendon High school didn't play football last season. It looked like they weren't going to play this season, either. Then they decided about a week ago to resume football but their decision came too late to get into district 3-A conference competition.

Regardless of whether it is conference play or not, the LeFors Pirates are eager to play the Donkey county eleven when the latter comes to Shaw park in LeFors at 8:30 Friday night.

Waloped last week by Shamrock's Irish, the Buccaneers have an idea that the time has come to change the picture and that Clarendon is it.

Probable starting lineup for the Pirates:

W. C. Houchin or Donald W. Vincent, left end; Donald Stonecipher, left tackle; Kenneth Tubbs, left guard; Noel Clemmons, center; Daniel Johnson, right guard; Fred Browning, right tackle; Paul Kennedy, right end; Jack London, Wesley Daniel, Fred Brock, Carl Ferguson or Lovel Hughes, backs.

The Rev. N. S. Daniel is coach.

Belmont Futurity Turns Into 'Rodeo'

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—The field for Saturday's $80,000 Belmont Futurity began to shape up today as a 17-horse "rodeo," which gave the knock-down-the-favorite society a loud laugh over what might happen to Pensive and Boojiana.

These two—Warren Wright's solidly-built unbroken Flier and Lt. Col. Sonny Whitney's fast Little Lady—figure to fight it out for the big end of the bankroll on the "dope," but a field containing as many as 17 is going to make it strictly crowded once they start their cavally charge down the Widener straightaway.

As a result, the K-D-T-F society began picking out the outside threats from the potential field today and two brand new names among the baby stars got quite a shake. These were "Tambo, the son of Mr. Jones from Mrs. Payne Whitney's barn, who hung on for a head in the Futurity trial yesterday and George Widener's Platter, aptly named son of Pilate and Let's Dine, who came zooming out of the pack in the final sixteenth of the same spring to take fourth money.

Farmers Can Get Shotgun Shells

Gray county farmers and ranchers were given a slight break by the war production board in its decision to make a concession on the sale of ammunition.

Reason for the boon to the farmers in the nation-wide lifting of restrictions was to provide them with ammunition to kill praportary animals.

Under the new program approximately 100 million shotgun shells, 12 million center fire rifle cartridges and 100 million 22 caliber rim-fire cartridges are available to ranchers and farmers over the nation.

Application blanks have been mimeographed by the office of Glenn T. Hackney, county farm agent, acting for the Gray county USDA War board, and distributed at sporting goods and hardware stores in Pampa and Meclan.

Silk Pajamas And Sweaters Taboo In Ohio War Factories

CLEVELAND, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Silk lounging pajamas are taboo as working garments at the Ohio Crankshaft Co.'s five plants here, the regional war labor board ruled today. So are sweaters. But slacks are mandatory for the women.

The board's directive otherwise was concerned with such matters as voluntary membership maintenance and dues check-off, sought by and granted the CIO United Automobile Workers union as representative of about 3,700 employees.

1101st Squadron Has Party Tuesday Night

The 1101st TEFT squadron of Pampa Army Air Field took over the Southern club Tuesday night for one of the most successful air base squadron parties held since the field was activated nearly a year ago.

Members of the 1101st and their guests were afforded the party by their squadron commander, Lt. Henry L. Myers, and Lt. U. M. Young, blood, squadron commander. It was in the nature of a "get acquainted" party, since the squadron is comparatively new, having been formed recently through the combination of two former air base squadrons.

The affair was a dinner-dance and started at 5 p. m., or as soon thereafter as the men finished their day's chores at the field. The popular post orchestra, directed by T/Sgt. Albert Fish, furnished music for dancing, which lasted past the regular week-day curfew time through special arrangements effected by Lt. Myers.

Additional entertainment was furnished by a colored quartet from PAAFP's 328th squadron.

Many officers of PAAFP were in attendance at the party as specially invited guests, including Lt. Col. W. B. Marschner, Pampa Field's executive officer; Major S. P. Gilley, post operations officer; Major Ray Casey, sub-depot officer; Capt. J. T. McKinney and Capt. D. R. Curtis.

Members of the Twentieth Century Culture club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Frank Culberson, 1121 Christine for coffee, with 15 members present.

Mrs. I. B. Hughes, past club president, introduced the new club president, Mrs. Roy McKernan.

After a short business meeting Mrs. McKernan presented Mrs. Freeman von Gal, guest speaker, who gave a short talk on Mexico City.

Mrs. von Gal discussed the mode of living in Mexico and displayed several pieces of hand-work which were from the City.

Following her talk Mrs. Joe Gordon was nominated for vice-president, and two new members, Mrs. J. W. Garmon and Mrs. Carl Wright, were welcomed into the club as new members.

Here's Why 'Yes, We Have No Bananas'

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 30.—(AP)—The last of the big fruit boats on the west coast Central and South American run went into government service today and that is why there will be fewer bananas in the nation, even the green ones for ripening at home.

There will be no more bananas shipped from the west coast by rail to the east and middle west, says C. D. Doswell, west coast manager of the United Fruit company, one of the world's largest banana growing and importing concerns.

Some will trickle into the eastern half of the nation through Gulf and Atlantic ports, however.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pain are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start causing backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sensations show these poisons are doing wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

LEARN THE TRUTH ABOUT BOWEL WORMS

Nobody is sure to escape. And roundworms can cause real trouble inside you or your child. Watch for the warning signs: uneasy stomach, nervousness, itchy nose or seat. Get Jayne's Vermifuge right away!

JAYNE'S is America's leading proprietary worm medicine; used by millions for over a century. Acts quickly, yet drives out roundworms. Demand JAYNE'S VERMIFUGE.

Houstonians Warned Of Fever Epidemic

HOUSTON, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Houston is overdue for a dengue fever epidemic, warned Dr. Asa E. Chandler, state consultant for dengue mosquito control in urging the city government to collect tin cans and other objects to prevent breeding of dengue fever mosquitoes.

"We haven't had such an epidemic for 20 years," he explained, "but last time there were 70 per cent of the people in Houston and Galveston affected. Such an epidemic now would work great injury to the community and to the war effort here."

C'mon Boys, Tear That Thing Down!

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(AP)—Civic organizations have termed it an insult and an eyerore. Some more beligerent persons have threatened to storm the place and tear it down.

But, today the New York City department of parks was erasing the unpleasant memory... underway was the razing of the building which was the Japanese pavilion at the World's Fair.

later he married Miss Jo Taylor. The family moved to Hereford in 1932 and engaged in farming for two years, then returned to White Deer to operate a grocery store.

Mr. Skaggs was a member of the Methodist church and the Masonic lodge. He was serving as a member of the board of trustees when the White Deer School district was organized and has always taken an active interest in school and civic affairs.

He is survived by his widow, three sons, Frank, who is in the U. S. Army, Glynn of Hereford, Calif., and Taylor of White Deer; four daughters, Mrs. Leonard Clark of Hereford, Mrs. W. W. ### Soldiers Do Not Like Optimistic News Sent Home

PEARL HARBOR, Sept. 30—(AP)—Greater frankness in war news presentation today will prevent cynicism and lack of confidence in our leaders later, U. S. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., (R-Mass.) said in an exclusive interview after war front visits where "I saw the reaction of our fighting men to habitually optimistic news reports."

"We will report to congress that our fighting men are mad because of the false optimism of our news."

"It's a general condition of our news reporting, our communiques, our radio commentaries and our desk writers," he said.

He noted that censors perhaps overlook the fact that, unlike the last war, the news they censor gets back by radio within 24 hours to the men who make the news, who are wounded and who have fallen comrades.

"Our present news censorship as I saw it at the front enrages and disillusiones our fighting men in the truthfulness of their leaders and at home it breeds apathy," Senator Lodge said.

"Whom our rosy censorship and propaganda helps I do not know. If anything, it helps the enemy by getting us to underestimate him. Our fighting men rapidly are learning that our propaganda which makes all our Allies good and all our enemies bad is bunk."

He told of seeing American soldiers befriend Italian and German prisoners but said no such camaraderie exists in the Pacific.

"Our fight with the Japs is a fight to the finish," he said.

"The Japs made it that way. They tortured our prisoners, shot down our parachutists, executed our Doolittle fliers in cold blood and our litter bearers are their favorite targets."

"These truths of the Japs should be driven home, too."

tion admittedly fragmentary.

We decided to push on and raced down the road in our jeeps, occasionally passing a British reconnaissance car proceeding with caution.

This town was full of crazy people, literally insane with joy. They were so happy they were forcing cigarettes on all of us instead of begging them.

Meanwhile the bells were ringing and it was like a fete day, with the war far away.

That didn't last long. On the road leading from the town to Pompei a German tank and two self-propelled artillery pieces boldly emerged. The tank planted itself squarely in the center of the road. Its big gun was pointed at the turn in the street. Nothing could come around that turn, not even a big British tank, without the Germans getting the first shot and it would prove fatal at that short range.

For a few moments we stood on that corner, practically looking down the barrel of the tank's big gun. It was utterly silent and seemingly dead there in the road. We saw British mortar shells exploding all around it and still there was no sign of life anywhere in or around the tank. We must have been standing full in the gunner's sights but there was nothing to indicate that there was anyone looking through them.

We came to the conclusion that the tank had been abandoned. Crossing the street we began approaching it with the curve of the road sheltering us. A British tank reconnaissance vehicle clattered up behind us.

Suddenly there was a crash that seemed to shake the world.

What felt like a blast furnace shot past us. A massive stone house trembled from the concussion and the street was suddenly filled with dust and smoke. It happened too swiftly for realization. We felt only the heat and the shock. Then I looked back over my shoulder.

The corner of the building where we had been standing ten seconds before was blown to bits. Two figures, terribly still, lay beneath in a hole where the shell struck. They were Tommie with whom we had been talking. One had borrowed a match from us.

The British returned the fire and for a few sickening moments we pressed ourselves against a stone wall with shells passing in both directions. During a brief lull we escaped back down the street. The dancing Italians had all vanished. There was nobody in the streets but Tommies lying flat on the sidewalks.

By that time the show had lost all charm for us.

tend that 446,000 fathers must go into uniform between now and the first of the year to meet the demands of the armed forces.

Draft officials of 24 states, including most of the south, said they definitely expect to call pre-war fathers back into duty any time after September 1, October. Only ten states reported that they could postpone it until after November 1.

The war department, which has insisted that there should be no blanket deferments for any group such as fathers, indicated a willingness to act on criticisms of lawmakers who have bucked the father draft idea. General staff men, meeting with a group of senators, discussed plans to deny government employment to any able-bodied draft-age non-father unless he is considered indispensable, and to bar from Washington desk duty any commissioned officer in that same draft category.

NATIONAL GOAL EXPECTED TO BE REACHED BY NIGHT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—(AP)—Although the third war loan appeared certain to go over its $15,000,000,000 goal by tonight, a treasury tabulation disclosed that not a single state has yet been credited with meeting its quota for individual bond sales—the so-called "small money" sector of the drive.

Total reported sales up to last night amounted to $14,738,000,000 or $261,000,000 short of the goal. Sales over the last several days have averaged more than $500,000,000 a day.

An official breakdown on sales through Tuesday, latest available, showed that while corporate investments were more than $1,120,000,000 over the $10,000,000,000 big money quota, individual sales amounted to only $3,104,000,000, or 62 percent of the small money goal.

The same recapitulation placed Georgia as the only state within immediate striking distance of its individual sales objective. It had sold $68,000,000 worth to reach 97 percent of a $70,000,000 quota. The state was ninth on the list of overall reports with the same percentage for its $127,000,000 quota.

Gov. Coke Stevenson issued a proclamation urging qualified Texas women to join the corps, and instructed the Texas defense coordinator to mobilize defense councils in the recruiting campaign.

In his proclamation Stevenson called on every woman to "consider the fact that, unless she is engaged in some other vital war work, her place is with the armed forces of her country. She can serve well and with high honor in the women's army corps." Women between the ages of 20 and 50 and otherwise qualified are eligible.

Capt. Winifred L. Stillwell, Wac staff director for the Eighth Service command, explained that under the recruiting plan outlined to the governor, women from Texas will be sworn in as a state unit and will

Durocher Is Out As Manager of Dodgers

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball season may be closing, but the open season on managers is just starting.

It might be said to have begun yesterday with some double talk by Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who announced that he was giving Leo Durocher his outright release as player-manager although he may later consider him for a bench manager.

Rickey explained to a press conference at Pittsburgh that "I have not thought of hiring anyone other than Durocher, but by giving him his release he will both be free to talk about next year without any feeling of compulsion on either side. If he wants to make a connection elsewhere, either in baseball, or radio, or the movies, he will be free to do so."

The whole substance of Rickey's remarks seemed to be that he had opened the door for Durocher to leave the Dodger household, either under his own power, or otherwise.

Before making his announcement Rickey watched the Dodgers score nine runs in the eighth inning to beat the Pirates 14-7 and out Pittsburgh from third place in the standings.

The St. Louis Cardinals clipped the Boston Braves 3-2 for the Redbirds' 19th triumph in 22 games with the Braves this year but rookie Alpha Brazle gave nine hits, walked six and fanned only one.

Johnny Vander Meer pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-0 dejection over the Phillies with a four-hit performance and the New York Giants battled 14 innings to a 3-3 draw with the Chicago Cubs. All the Bruins' runs were gifts, one on an error and two on walks which forced in runs.

The Washington Senators clinched second place in the American League by cutting down Cleveland twice in a two-light night doubleheader 5-2 and 7-4. This will be the first time in seven years the Senators have finished in the first division.

The New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox split a pair of shutouts with Bill Dietrich winning 3-0 for the Sox in the first game in a pitching duel with Lefty Mathews. Bussos and Charley Wendell retaliating with a 4-0 whitewashing in the nightcap.

Detroit divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia, the A's taking the first game 8-2 behind the seventh huriling of Jesse Flores and the Tigers coming back to win the afterpiece 9-1 with Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitching a six-hitter for his 19th triumph. Rudy York hit his 34th home run and batted in three tallies to help Trout.

Vernon Stephens beat the Boston Red Sox 4-3 in 13 innings for the St. Louis Browns in the first half of a doubleheader, but the second game ended in a 3-3 draw when darkness halted play after nine innings.

Pampans To Face Tougher Going Friday

If the Pampa Harvesters thought they were seeing weight when they played the Hollis, Okla., Tigers here last Friday, well they ain't seen nuthin' yet.

Take a look at the Eagles of Weatherford, Okla., who play the Harvesters football team here at 8:30 tomorrow night.

Only one man on the squad hasn't had at least two years on the team. One man has three years. Their weight runs all the way from 145 to 190 pounds.

Jack Beeson, the Eagles fullback, has had two years experience, and besides that is plenty fast as he is Oklahoma runner-up in the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

That's just a sample of the opposition the Green and Gold will confront tomorrow night.

Coach Odus Coffey today announced his tentative starting lineup, along with that of Weatherford. He hasn't decided yet whether to send in Boyles or Sheehan at fullback but that is the only position hanging fire at present. All of the Harvesters are in fine shape except for little Johnny Campbell, back, who has a bruised hip as the result of some blocking practice, and Murel McCracken, also a back, whose knee has been hurt, not badly, but enough to keep him from coming back with his old-time speed.

George Neef will start at quarterback and Gene Robbins at right halfback.

Probable starting lineups:

Irish To Battle Phillips Mighty Hawks on Friday

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
SHAMROCK, Sept. 30—Coach Bob Clark and his crew of Irish grid warriors are this week serving notice on the Phillips Blackhawks that they are out for revenge for the 32-0 licking they handed them last year.

The Irishmen invade the gridiron of Coach "Chester" Walker's Blackhawks next Friday night for a non-conference game, and the third battle of the season for the local lads.

Coach Clark will take 23 of his gridmen on the journey and will leave about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The starting whistle for the contest will be blown at 8:30 o'clock.

"According to advance stories of the Blackhawks, they have a team which averages 152 pounds to the man," Coach Clark stated Tuesday, "but we will be expecting to meet a team which will average 165 pounds per man."

The Irish team will balance out for an average of between 160 and 165 pounds, he added.

"The Phillips club has practically ruled this conference play for the past three years, having lost only three or four games during that time. We are determined to give

The Irishmen invade the gridiron of Coach "Chester" Walker's Blackhawks next Friday night for a non-conference game, and the third battle of the season for the local lads.

Coach Clark will take 23 of his gridmen on the journey and will leave about 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon. The starting whistle for the contest will be blown at 8:30 o'clock.

"According to advance stories of the Blackhawks, they have a team which averages 152 pounds to the man," Coach Clark stated Tuesday, "but we will be expecting to meet a team which will average 165 pounds per man."

The Irish team will balance out for an average of between 160 and 165 pounds, he added.

"The Phillips club has practically ruled this conference play for the past three years, having lost only three or four games during that time. We are determined to give

Didrikson Still At Top In Sports

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 30—(AP)—Babe Didrikson, once acclaimed the world's greatest all-around woman athlete, is still one of the best.

The Babe just about out-clubbed the entire masculine field in a Baldwin park golf tournament yesterday. Only Buck Weaver, Fox Hills club champion, kept pace with her. She and Buck posted 77's, and that is a high figure for Miss Didrikson, who in private life is the wife of George Zaharais, professional wrestler.

George, incidentally, was second with a 79.

Irish To Battle Phillips Mighty Hawks on Friday

Flying Round the World

So many folks have flown around the world of late that only the passengers themselves find anything very thrilling about such trips, and they become pretty blasé after the second or third trip.

Because of the war, civilians, however willing to pay the cost, can not step in and buy tickets for some far corner of the world as a matter of routine.

It was not thus on April 6, 1924, when eight Army flyers set out from Seattle, Wash., in four planes specially designed and built for the venture by a young man named Donald Douglas.

There were a major, a captain, three first lieutenants, two sergeants, and one civilian with the temporary rank of second lieutenant. It was their assignment to fly something more than 25,000 miles around the world. Nobody, up to that time, ever had flown around the world.

On Sept. 28, 1924—more than five and a half months later by elapsed time, during which they had been actually in the air 363 flying hours—two of the planes, piloted respectively by Lieut. Erik H. Nelson and Capt. Lowell H. Smith, landed back at Seattle. They had covered 26,345 miles. With Nelson was Jack Harding, civilian. With Smith was Lieut. Leslie P. Arnold.

The other two planes had been forced down, one, piloted by Maj. Frederick L. Martin, in Alaska. The other, flown by Lieut. Leigh Wade, sank in the North Atlantic after flying across the Aleutians to Japan; across the East China Sea to Shanghai; thence by way of French Indo-China, Siam, Rangoon; across the Malay peninsula to Burma; across the Indian Ocean to Calcutta; then to Bagdad, Constantinople, Paris, Vienna, Strasbourg, London, and Iceland on the way back toward the United States. He and Sgt. Henry Ogden, who was with him, were rescued.

That flight was possible only through intensive organization and preparation. Ground men went in advance to each projected landing spot and arranged for supplies.

On the basis of that then spectacular adventure, experts say that our astonishingly successful Air Transport Command in this war rests. Repair and weather bases, established along the route blazed by those flyers, make possible achievements in air transport which can hardly even be suggested until the war is over.

To the eight intrepid flyers this country and the world owes a lasting debt of gratitude.

Doughton Hires Ace Expert

Millions of taxpayers must have howled with glee when they read that Chairman Doughton of the Ways and Means Committee had to hire an expert to prepare his Sept. 15 estimate of income tax due—that innocent-looking bit of cheap paper, that inanimate wolf in sheep's clothing known officially as 1040-ES.

Mr. Doughton did not dream up the law that made our misery inevitable. In fact, he was against it. He was so against the pay-as-you-earn principle that he aided the Treasury in putting over the amorphous monstrosity that has culminated, temporarily, in 1040-ES, with more and greater headaches yet to come.

Mr. Doughton was fortunate that he could afford to hire an expert to do the dirty work. Millions of taxpayers couldn't.

New Automobile Designs

The motor car industry now lets it be known that radical changes in automobiles will be introduced slowly after the war, so that each can be tested out and sold to the public.

This is good enough policy. But there is—let's be frank—another reason why innovations will be held back. Advances in automobile style and operation are made to sell cars. When the war ends, most machines will be obsolete, there will be a lot of war bond money, and millions of new cars can be sold without much promotion.

The real advances will come after post-war replacement has slowed down so that an inducement is needed to promote sales.

On the Job

The War Shipping Administration reports that absenteeism among merchant seamen and officers since March 15, 1943, has been less than 6 1/2 per cent. That is, only about one out of 16 neglects to reshuffle after returning from a voyage.

Of 104,000 merchant seamen who have shipped from U. S. ports since that date, only 6,600 stayed ashore on their return and the administration says that most of those gave up the sea for health reasons.

WHAT FOOD SURPLUS? (The Chicago Tribune)

For a number of years before the war the government was engaged in reducing the quantity of food available to the general public. The object was to put up prices. Carrying out this purpose, food was purchased in the open market and distributed gratis to persons on relief or to public institutions.

In Illinois the state public aid commission was the agency which had charge of disposing of food surpluses for the government. For this purpose it maintained warehouses and a distributing organization. Last year, due to the decline in the number of persons on relief, the commission closed its warehouses and abolished the distributing system.

Last week the commission was asked to reconstitute its organization and again become the agency for distributing excessive supplies of food. The United States food distribution agency wrote a letter to the commission explaining the need for such action. The letter said that the operation might become necessary in order to eliminate

Common Ground

"I speak the language of the people. I live the life of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of." - WALT WHITMAN.

FULL EMPLOYMENT

Dr. Wriston in his book, "Challenge to Freedom" points out how our government planners are going to use a catch phrase that we must have "full employment" as an excuse for the government assuming more and more dictatorial powers. He says this concept deserves far more analysis as a primary objective than it has had.

He quotes from the London "Economist" as follows: "For if one thing has been made abundantly clear, it is that the mass of people in every country rate full employment, and the individual security it brings, higher than almost any political object. If liberal democracy is not compatible with full employment then it is liberal democracy that will go."

"If liberal democracy should 'go,' what would take its place? Politics abhors a vacuum, so some other system of government would replace democracy. The real alternative, therefore, in this deceptively clear analysis, is between democracy and free enterprise on the one hand and totalitarianism and a managed economy on the other.

"That is an issue which had best be faced. Yet it is seldom drawn into the clear light of day. In overhighlighting economic security, political consequences are cast into a deep shadow and virtually hidden. Even in high quarters freedom from want is stressed with no parallel emphasis upon the political freedoms to which the Bill of Rights gave such clear priority. Perhaps that is why it is currently suggested that Bill-of-Rights democracy has been 'over-emphasized.' Language has been used which seemed to interpret freedom merely as more nourishment, better clothing and housing for the 'underprivileged third,' with very little accent upon the intangibles. Indeed it has been boldly said by Vice President Wallace that freedom could have no meaning to a hungry man: 'Men and women cannot be really free until they have plenty to eat.'"

Ways the Pilgrims Wrong? "If a balanced diet is the indispensable preamble to liberty, the Pilgrims must have been wrong after all, for they fled from plenty to scarcity in order to secure freedom. Sentimental materialism makes mockery of all the heroes whose lives have shown the falsity of its assumption. It neglects utterly the contemporary heroism of the Chinese who would rather abandon home and trek to western China, enduring terrible hardships, than be fed and submissive in Japan's shoddy co-prosperity sphere."

"Freedom from want is a good thing under certain circumstances—to wit, if it is earned, if it does not lead to stagnancy, if it does not deliver man into bondage. Those 'ifs' are important; they are not mere rhetoric. Because of their vital importance no great civilization ever did or ever can make full employment its predominant objective. To do so is to put the accent on material goods rather than virtue. If we encourage men to desire things before all else, they will soon discover that things do not bring the good life. No authentic prophet ever made so gross a preachment. If it is accepted now as a war aim, all hope of peace should be abandoned."

Then the author goes on to explain that there is bound to be unemployment for man and leader are free. They are bound to make mistakes that will cause temporary unemployment. That there are certain groups of people who are not capable of being employed. That depressions and unemployment are necessary to weed out the inefficient and start out on better foundations. That the inefficient will not last long if the government does not interfere. Let him explain it. I quote:

"Depressions weed out the weak, the inefficient the submarginal producer. Sometimes the weeding seems cruel and haphazard, but weeding there must be; so far no gentle method of condemning obsolescent industry to death has been found. Competition is the best method yet discovered; it is at once the greatest stimulant to efficiency and the most effective eliminator of the unfit. It is the best road to lower costs and more goods for consumption. Public ownership is the poorest instrument for weeding out obsolete plants, industries, and skills, for political pressure resists economic law. That is why without competition we shall have the most persistent and most pernicious unemployment at the cost of progress, full employment at the present unsatisfactory standard of living, full employment at the expense of welfare."

Here is another statement: "The latest report of the Social Security Board reveals that three million men and women drew some unemployment benefits, and in even this year of mounting industrial activity nearly thirty-two million weeks of unemployment were provoked."

Yes, this is a thought provoking book, worthy of the attention of every lover of American way of life.

burdensome seasonal surpluses, stabilize prices or dispose of lend-lease merchandise not wanted for the purpose purchased.

The Illinois commission said it would be glad to accept excessive food supplies as a gift for the state institutions, but declined to handle the food in small lots as it did before because a full load is not large enough to justify the expense of setting up the machinery that would be necessary.

What are the surplus foods the government wants to give away? Is butter one of the items? Possibly. It has been produced in large quantities and the stores don't have it for sale. It must be accumulated. An earlier experience may supply a clue: On April 1, 1939, when there was 79 million pounds of butter in the warehouses of the country, the government determined that there was a burdensome surplus. A government agency had been carrying on a price rigging operation and had acquired 92 per cent of the amount available. The Federal Surplus Commodity corporation resolved the problem of reducing the amount of butter on hand from the 79 million pound figure by giving large quantities of it away thru the relief rolls.

Keep in mind that 79 million pounds of butter was a burdensome surplus. But on July 1, 1943, there was 158 million pounds in storage in the United States, twice as much as in 1939, when the surplus was regarded as burdensome. The government again owns most of the supply.

To most people it would seem incredible that the government should try to have an organization set up to give away what it won't let the housewife purchase. But those who have had experience with the ways of the government realize that it could happen. In March of last year Paul McNutt, the director of federal health and welfare service of the WPB, urged housewives to cut down their purchases of beans so that there would be enough for the army and for lend-lease. While Mr. McNutt was telling the country there was a bean shortage, the surplus commodity corporation was offering an inducement to persons on relief to increase their consumption of beans so as to reduce the burdensome supplies.

Any one who can't get enough to eat should write to the food distributing agency at Washington and offer his services in reducing the food surplus.

BEACHES—Military scientists believe that when the complete story of Salerno is pieced together it will be found that once the Reichswahr intelligence service was superior to our own. Twice we caught the Axis napping off first base and lagged it out in Morocco and Sicily. But the toe anticipated our striking below Naples and was on the alert when our Commando vanguard waded ashore.

Eisenhower's G-2 section collected such detailed information on topography, enemy dispositions and other vital data in Sicily that a captured Italian general admitted the Anglo-Americans knew more about his island and forces than he did himself.

Army officers in the U. S. A. report that reconnaissance indicated only three Boche divisions to dispute our landing on the Salerno coast. But two extra divisions had been cleverly concealed, or rushed to the front eluding our scouts. It is suspected that Italian Fascist diehards tipped off their Nazi buddies to our approach.

The plight of our plucky doughboys and Tommies on the exposed beaches was intensified by the nature of the terrain. Which was more difficult than Dieppe. Our troops could not dig slit trenches because crumbling sand walls would have so widened the holes that the excavations would have shown as large spots from the air-clear-cut targets for the dive bombers.

KNOCKOUT—Chief credit for holding the narrow strip so long apart from that due to Clark's heroic foot soldiers—will undoubtedly be given to the versatile Flying Portresses. Their well-filled gasoline tanks made it possible for them to stay aloft and pound the artillery strafing our unprotected infantry.

Tacticians fear that the casualties will be the heaviest to date and may approximate the record of the blood-drenched Argonne Forest. Although the attack was a risky maneuver, especially as the headlands gridding the shore are unusually steep, they explain we have to gamble if we are to smash the heaviest of the German offensive by forcing Hitler to bring his troops into battle and not permitting them to escape unscathed from southern Italy.

An overseas expedition consumes supplies in such enormous quantities that we cannot afford to waste them by the heaviest to date and may approximate the record of the blood-drenched Argonne Forest. Even if every deferred toiler should be conscripted—an unthinkable exigency—the muster roll would not complete the muster roll. Around seven hundred thousand khaki-bodied men are theoretically available for camps and the front but the fighting forces require at least six hundred thousand recruits before December 31, not to mention next year's demand.

Battling For Edson: YOUR UNCLE SAM IS SAVING SOME MONEY

During Peter Edson's absence on vacation this column will be written by another member of NEA's Washington staff.

By JAMES THRASHER Staff Correspondent

The United States government is saving money.

No your glasses don't need changing and it's no mistake the printer's. You read it right the first time. The United States government with the biggest budget and the biggest national debt in history, is saving money.

It isn't saving much, to be sure. But you can take the solemn word of Mr. Harold D. Smith, director of the Bureau of the Budget, that Uncle Sam is managing to save a little away. It is the Budget Bureau's job to see that he does.

Along these lines, Mr. Smith and his staff are constantly checking on various government operations to see if time and manpower and material resources, as well as money, can't be saved.

Mr. Smith thinks that the government is setting a good anti-inflationary example, even though he is keenly aware that mistakes have been made and failures have occurred, and frankly some mistakes and stumbling will occur in the future.

He points out that, while our present danger of inflation is greater than it was in the last war, we have

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Not all the ingenuity of Hollywood is visible on the screen. Behind the scenes, inventive minds are working harder to get their owners into pictures than Hollywood ever did to get out of a pair of handcuffs. Sometimes the cunning schemes of these movie-shack matchmakers prove as brilliant and chutchie with appreciation. But more often they fail, and the story is lost among the shards of broken hopes that litter the back alleys of movie town.

There was, for instance, the young man who wrote to a producer, told several years' experience with stock companies on the stage. He enclosed his photograph. He said he had just been told by his doctor that he had only a year to live.

"All I want," he wrote "is a chance to act before the cameras. Any little part will do—just enough for me to prove to myself that I have what it takes to be a star before I die."

It was a touching request, with an element of drama that might appeal to any Hollywoodian. Furthermore, the young man was no amateur, apparently, but a professional actor, and judging by his photograph he was handsome. But the producer was wary. He wrote back and said that if the young man would get an affidavit from his doctor, a small part in a picture was his.

That ended it. The young man waited a month, but finally wrote confessing the whole thing had been a hoax. It was just that he wanted a chance in pictures so very, very much.

P. S.—He did not get the chance.

FAKE PUBLICITY

Bob Cummings arrived at screen stardom by way of two neatly executed stunts, one of them rather elaborate. He went to Hollywood, made a study of the scene, and had a printer set up numerous phony clippings about "Bryce Hutchins, leading juvenile of the English stage." Hutchins was the stage name he had decided to take. He also hired a theater manager to set the name in lights on a London marquee. He photographed this and began bombarding New York producers and editors with pictures and clippings.

Then he returned to New York and had himself interviewed in character of the hero. It was no time until he had landed the juvenile lead in a Broadway play. In fact, the hoax had worked so well that he had landed a job on it, and she worked it with equal success.

Coming to Hollywood, Cummings heard that Producer-Director King Vidor was looking for a young Texan to play the juvenile lead in "So Red the Rose." Vidor is a Texas boy himself, and must have been hard pressed to keep the job as the genuine article.

UNWITTING EXTRA

Harold Lloyd dressed pictures by smearing makeup on his face and sneaking through the gates of a studio with a crowd of extras at a set and mingled with some extras in front of the camera. He did this for eight days, hand running, until a director singled him out to do a bit part. He clicked, and when the picture came to pay him, it was found that his name wasn't even down on the list, an "oversight" that was quickly adjusted.

What with Central Casting and the Screen Actor's Guild, of course, the Lloyd trick couldn't be worked today.

More recently, a bright young man who has since become one of Hollywood's best directors, one of whom we wouldn't want to embarrass by mentioning his name here, arrived in Los Angeles as a deck-hand on a ship. He came to Hollywood and let it get around that he was the son of a British lord, working as a sailor for a bark. Suddenly, conscious Hollywood began to honor him, and having become pals with the right people it was no time at all until he had sold his first screen play—but strictly on his own merits.

The town loves a good hoax, provided it is backed by real talent and doesn't hurt anybody.

Milk cows on U. S. farms are valued at $2,684,129,900.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

As an Allied War Analyst, The Balkan theater is being pressed steadily and dangerously deeper into Fuehrer Hitler's side by the business-like progress of the Allies in the conquest of Italy, as marked today by the reported investment of the strategic port of Naples.

The Fuehrer's chief reasons for closing Italy is to protect his hold on the explosive Balkans, just across the Adriatic. Each day of success on the Italian Peninsula adds to the Allied ability to raise the Balkans from the air, and his also is bound to increase German fears of invasion. The situation in this cockpit of southeastern Europe is indeed a thorn in Hitler's side, for it is a terrible menace to the right flank of his body-manned haffel-front in Russia.

The Fuehrer's chief reasons for closing Italy is to protect his hold on the explosive Balkans, just across the Adriatic. The situation in this cockpit of southeastern Europe is indeed a thorn in Hitler's side, for it is a terrible menace to the right flank of his body-manned haffel-front in Russia.

Not only are all his small satellites—Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary—trying to break away from him, but the occupied countries are uniting 'tilt hip and thigh. Today, for instance, a patriot communique from Yugoslavia reports that gerilla troops have forced the Germans to retreat at many places in the northwestern part of the country. There is heavy fighting on the Dalmatian coast.

Thus all the Balkans, both friend and foe, are serving the Allied cause well, either by design or by circumstance. Actually all the United Nations need to do to keep the pot boiling is to continue to support their friends with all aid short of invasion, meantime tossing bombs and moral ferment among the little Axis states. The Balkans will do the rest themselves, until such time as either Russia or the Anglo-American Allies can send armies into the Peninsula.

Lend Lease To Allies

Over 15-Billion Mark

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Lend lease supplies to the Allied nations now total nearly 15 1/2 billion dollars.

The overall figure was disclosed yesterday by President Roosevelt with his announcement that supplies for August set a new peak at $1,261,000,000—$211,000,000 over the July figure of $1,050,000,000.

The president's announcement of the August totals came after a hint of the possible trend of next year's invasion campaigns implied in the disclosure by Lieut. Col. William S. Gaud, Jr., of the army general staff that 10 per cent of military lend lease shipments for 1944 have been earmarked for such countries as France, Belgium, Norway and Greece.

Many persons, when consulting a doctor, feel that the time spent in obtaining a family history is wasted, and is an unnecessary inquisitiveness that could not cast any light on the aile or pain then under consideration. But long before there was any knowledge of the mechanism of the transmission of inherited traits, there was an impression that certain diseases ran in families.

With the development of the modern science of genetics, it became evident that what was put into a mating appeared in the offspring with mathematical precision. Thus the doctor may gain considerable knowledge of the diseases he should anticipate and therefore search out, of the susceptibilities and the stuff out of which his patient is made.

INHERITED TRAITS

Congenital defects are those with which one is born, and the term implies that the disturbance had its origin during the developmental period of foetal life. Hereditary traits are those that are the result of characters inherent in the germ cells, and are passed on to the next generation by the process of heredity.

Terms are neither mutually exclusive nor inclusive. Congenital defects exist from birth; hereditary traits like, for example, longevity, which is known to run in families, may require a very long life before their existence becomes evident.

There is no difference between familial diseases and hereditary diseases, except that as the terms have been used, the appearance of familial disease is not evident in the ancestors. This failure of the trait to appear in an unbroken series of generations is due to the fact that many hereditary traits are latent or recessive.

At one time, certain infectious diseases like tuberculosis were thought to be hereditary. Diseases due to germs, however, cannot of themselves be passed on, but it is obvious that all people exposed to the infection do not succumb. This succumbing is caused by the fact that a predisposition to certain infections may be hereditary. We have learned to control infectious diseases by improved hygiene, vaccines, chemicals and other means, and have thus in part been able to overcome the effects of hereditary predisposition in this group of diseases.

HEREDITY

Such conditions as cancer, diabetes, high blood pressure, which appear to have their basis largely in inheritance, have shown little improvement in their incidence, and with more people living to show evidence of such hereditary disorder, heredity becomes progressively more important as a cause of death.

The role of heredity in mental diseases is far more controversial than in many people are willing to believe. Certain types of mental disease may have a strong hereditary component and in a few instances appear to be exclusively hereditary, but other factors like congenital defect and even infection appear to be capable also of producing mental disease.

The study of disease involves a recognition of interaction of the inherited capacities to develop and the environment in which a man is placed, and a doctor must see his patient as the product of both. As time, as in infectious diseases, the environmental factor predominates. Sometimes the hereditary aspect is so important that the environment becomes insignificant. Both in the understanding of the disease process itself and in evaluating the individual's ability to cope with it, a recognition of the inherited qualities or defects is necessary.

Flier Imprisoned by Nazis Makes Pies With No Flour, Longs for 'Begin the Beguine'

OAKLEY, Utah, Sept. 30—(AP)—A prisoner of war in Germany, young Lt. Leo O. Frazier, navigator of the fallen Liberator bomber "Devil's Playmate," bakes pies without using flour and longs for a phonograph record of "Begin the Beguine."

His story must be much like that of other young Americans captured by the enemy.

With letters and snapshots—apparently taken by a German photographer—the 26-year-old lieutenant has brought life in a prison camp 90 miles from Berlin close to Oakley, little Summit county community 30 miles east of Salt Lake City.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert V. Frazier, run a general store and the postoffice at Oakley.

Judge Labels OPA Suspension Orders 'Pure Dictatorship'

DALLAS, Sept. 30—(AP)—The office of price administration (OPA) suspension or "shut-down" order system, employed against business firms and individuals found by a hearing officer to be violating rationing regulations, was ruled unconstitutional today in an order issued by Federal Judge W. H. Atwell.

Atwell described the OPA hearing administrator who issues suspension orders as "a modern instance of pure dictatorship" in granting the petition of Foy O. and Amos F. Wilemon, operators of the Good Luck oil company, for an injunction restraining the OPA from enforcing a two-weeks' shut-down order against their seven gasoline service stations.

The judge upheld, however, the right of the president, under congressional law, to make wartime allocations of commodities, adding that the act itself supplies punishment of criminal prosecution or injunction, not orders to require a firm to suspend business.

"This decision should not be construed as going any further than is specifically indicated, to wit, an order which fixes a penalty under this act such as was entered here is invalid," the judge said.

He ruled out the contention of OPA attorneys during the hearing to arguments that the suspension order is a "remedial" action and not a "penalty," as held by Attorney Howard Dalley for the plaintiffs.

Dalley, in filing the suit, charged that the order's enforcement would tend to usurp the powers of the courts and to deprive his clients of their property without due process of law.

OPA Official Says Congress Has Power To Control Agencies

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30—(AP)—Geoffrey Baker, of the Washington office of price administration (OPA), said today that if congress does not like the way war agencies are operating it can control them by regulating their appropriations or by changing the laws which created them.

He told the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Association that critics were untruthful in leaving an impression that OPA is beyond congressional reach.

Baker declared it was impossible to get out a regulation that all will like because growers, distributors and consumers must be equally considered. Price control, he added, is an American but that war demands that inflation be controlled.

He said criticisms of OPA usually are general, and that comments would be of more value if they gave congressmen an idea of what to vote for and gave the agency a specific idea of imperfections.

London May Be Spot For Tri-Power Meeting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—(AP)—London, instead of Moscow, may be the scene of the forthcoming American-British-Russian conference.

Secretary of state Hull has informed colleagues he definitely expects to attend the meeting and, in view of his dislike for air travel, indications developed today that the conference might be shifted from Moscow to shorten his trip.

Hull will join Foreign Minister Anthony Eden of Britain and Foreign Commissary Molotov of Russia in an attempt to promote greater cooperation among the three Allies, both in the field of actual warfare and in the realm of post-war planning.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—(AP)—Congressional leaders reported after a conference with President Roosevelt today that he expects to send a message on "the food situation" in the near future.

With Barkley at the White House were Vice President Wallace, Speaker Rayburn and house majority leader McCormack.

OPA Fixes Ceiling On Potato Prices

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30—(AP)—Ceilings designed to hold the average retail price of potatoes between 4.5 and 5.5 cents a pound from October, 1943, through June, 1944, fixed today by the office of price administration (OPA).

Maximum prices for country shippers and intermediate sellers were set on a sliding scale by months, to absorb increased storage charges. Retail prices will be based on fixed mark-ups added after country shipments are purchased. Prices in the Maine and Idaho potato areas range from $2.15 per 100 pounds in October to $2.75 in June. Minnesota maximums were fixed at 10 cents less.
