Second Main Position On Attu Attacked

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—United States troops have wiped out the Japanese position in Chichagof Valley, one of three major areas held by the enemy on Attu Island, the navy announced today.

Army heavy and medium bombers and fighter planes supported the continuing assault, a navy communication said. The planes bombed and strafed enemy positions in the Chichagof area and started fires.

The Chichagof Valley sector was cleared of enemy forces on Monday. Although there was no report of enemy casualties, it was assumed here that the dwindling Japanese units on the bleak North Pacific island had again lost heavily and that those which survived the attack fell back upon Chichagof Harbor for a final stand with their comrades in the ridge overlooking the narrow coastal plain.

The communiqué said that on May 23, the small United States auxiliary vessel Niagara was attacked by Japanese planes east of Cape Surville, San Cristobal Island. Considerable damage was inflicted on the vessel, which was subsequently sunk by U. S. forces after members of the crew were taken aboard accompanying naval units.

On May 24th, American Torpedo bombers and Wildcat fighters bombed and strafed Japanese installations at Ringi Cove, west of Vila on Kolombangara Island.

On May 25th, Dauntless dive bombers, Avenger torpedo bombers and Wildcat fighters bombed and strafed Japanese installations at Rekatai Bay, Santa Isabel Island. Ammunition dumps were exploded and large fires were started. On May 24th, United States Army ground troops cleared out both sides of Chichagof Valley. An assault was made by combined northern and southern forces along the ridge north of the valley and was reported as continuing. Assisting in the assault were United States army air forces consisting of Liberator heavy bombers, Mitchell medium bombers and Lightning fighters. These planes bombed and strafed Japanese positions in the Chichagof area and started fires.

Since the Attu action disclosed the Japanese situation in the Chichagof Harbor, at the northeastern tip of the island, Chichagof Valley which lies southwest of the harbor and the north side of Lake Nicholas which lies still further south and to the east of the valley.

Loss of the auxiliary vessel Niagara, as reported in the communiqué, according to reports received by the navy here, a spokesman said. The commanding officer was Lt. David Duncombe Coleman, 37, of Williams, S. C., whose wife, Mrs. Williams Coleman, now lives at La Mesa, Calif.

A 1,333-ton craft when she was in private use, the Niagara formerly was the yacht Hi-Esmara. As a yacht she carried a crew of 40, but there was no word of her complement as a naval vessel.

The report estimated the increases would add about $204,000,000 to the carriers' annual payrolls and added: "It is the considered judgment of the board that the recommended wage increases do not, under prevailing circumstances, provide a basis for increases in railroad rates or for resistance to justifiable reductions in such rates."

The increases would be retroactive to February 1. All retroactive payments would be made on War Bonds.

Diplomats Doubt Italy Will Be Invaded; Germany to Get Blow

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK (Former Chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Rome)

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Diplomatic observers expressed doubt today that Italy would be invaded by the Allies this summer, although they said the threat of invasion would hang constantly over that unhappy peninsula.

These observers, who have concentrated on the Italian situation from day to day, said the major drive in Europe would almost certainly be made against the Germans, with Italy a secondary factor in the invasion planning.

Since Berlin is the major objective in Europe, it was believed here that easier roads lie through countries other than Italy—France and the Balkans for instance—because of Italy's peculiar geographical formation with the Alps blocking the upper end of the peninsula.

Pending the invasion of the continent, probably at several points, the American-British policy apparently is to bomb Italy out of the war.

If Italy collapses, deserted by the Germans, four major developments are expected:

1. The Italian army would offer only brief resistance to Allied occupation, with the Italian people accepting it as a deliverance from Fascism.

2. Premier Mussolini would take his government in exile to Germany, to escape retribution and to avoid the surrender of his last vestige of personal power.

3. King Vittorio Emanuele would abdicate, probably in favor of his 6-year-old grandson, the Prince of Naples, in the hope that he, too, young to be tarred with the brush of Fascism, could keep the monarchy alive.

4. United States Army officers, trained in the school of military government at Charlottesville, Va., would set up a purely military administration in Italy until the end of the war.

Italyans got an informal invitation from Prime Minister Churchill today to disown their leaders and get out of the war, while Russia received an indirect bid for eventual cooperation in destroying Japanese might.

So far as another fighting front in Europe is concerned, the prime minister appeared to project action into a somewhat indefinite future, for he said at a press conference yesterday that no steps had been taken to select an Allied commander for such a stupendous project.

But Italians, he said, would be very well advised to throw themselves on the justice of those whom they so grievously have offended.

The conference yielded no clue as to when his war talks with President Roosevelt would result in adding new land and sea offensives to the stimuli of continued aerial poundings.

The prime minister said he certainly had not felt that he should request his government to ask more of the Soviet Union. Then he added:

Their strength may grow as time goes on and they must know that Japan has watched them with a purely opportunist eye.

Britain's war leader was speaking in answer to a question whether he thought it would be to Russia's self-interest to fight in the pan after the conflict in Europe is won.

Ramparts Of Italy Again Bombarded

(By The Associated Press) With blockbusters and ordinary bombs, with cannon and machine-guns, Allied air armadas numbering 300 or more planes, stormed at another of Adolf Hitler's broken ramparts and the fire-rimed island ramparts of Italy in a two-front assault, war announcements from London and Africa said today.

Duesseldorf, Rheinland city of 420,000 of which 300 acres already had been laid waste by previous assaults, was the target last night of approximately 500 of the RAF's giant bombers in the RAF's fourth super-raid of the month. The attack approached or equaled the record 2,000-ton bomb assault on Dortmund of two nights ago.

From northwest Africa yesterday nearly 400 planes again swarmed over the battered islands of Sicily, Sardinia and Pantelleria—the outer defenses of the Mussolini homeland—and delivered their heaviest bomb loads on Messina, the Sicilian ferry terminal.

Yet another large force of U. S. liberators from the African desert dropping 175 tons of bombs on Messina, teamed up with waves of flying fortresses to knock at the shaky resistance of Italy. Already, it was reported, Italy was confronted with a refugee problem similar to that of fallen France in 1940, as Italians sought safety from the bombed centers of the south.

Other war headlines today: GERMANY—Purge of Nazi party hinted. FINLAND—Finnish radio says Allied invasion of continent certain, and Russian front will become secondary.

RUSSIA—Tense calm prevails on the long front as a whole, but the Russians shifted the center of their "feeler" attacks from the south to the sector northwest of Moscow where they announced the capture of four settlements.

BALKANS—The greatest German pressure was reported being exerted on Rumania, dispatches from Turkey said, to send another large army for a summer campaign in Russia.

Twenty-seven planes of the RAF's raiding force were lost in the Duesseldorf attack, which the British air ministry said was in "very great strength"—the same language it used to describe the record 2,000-ton bomb load that was dumped on the flood-ravaged Ruhr and Dortmund Sunday night.

At least three-fourths of the 500 bombers were the four-engined block-buster carriers, observers said. An informed source added that "it would not be surprising to hear that the weight of bombs" dropped on Duesseldorf approached or equaled

Potato Prices Cut Slightly

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The OPA juggled prices on potatoes today, favoring the shopper slightly and granting farmers a higher sum in hopes of overcoming the scarcity that has lifted the lowly spud almost to the category of a rare delicacy in many communities.

Price Administrator Prentiss Brown decreed a seven per cent cut in consumer prices and a 30 cents per hundred pound increase to farmers. Thus potatoes that sold for six cents a pound in Washington now will be in "very great strength" at five cents a pound.

The order was applied to the 1943 crop, one official explained, that farmers who had held back their potatoes in hopes of higher prices later, now might be induced to start shipping. Ten cents of their 30-cent increase is compensation for changes in the parity index, OPA said, and the additional 20 cents is to increase and encourage production.

Onion prices were modified, too, wholesalers being held to a markup of 40 cents per 50 pounds. The savings, yet to be calculated, are to be passed on to the consumer.

Today's Best LAFF

YOUNG DELUXE COLUMBUS, Ga., May 26 (AP)—The sight of two 25-passenger buses tearing along a Columbus street at 50 miles an hour aroused the suspicions of policemen. Giving chase they nabbed two negro boys, who explained that they saw the empty vehicles parked in front of a garage, decided to use them. Both started out in one bus, they added, then returned to the garage and got one apiece.

Air Base Land Case to Open

Value of land, crops, and improvements on four sections of land, on which is now located the army flying school, 11 miles east of Pampa, will be the issue in a federal court case opening tomorrow in Amarillo. The government acquired the land on May 12, 1942 and aside from the landowners who took advantage of the federal plan whereby they could obtain a portion of the sum offered, the original owners have not been paid a cent for their property.

Tomorrow's trial is a sequel to the federal government's appeal from a decision of a commission here, composed of C. P. Buckler, chairman, John Turcotte, and C. L. Thomas, in which the base figure was given as $50 an acre. Average price offered by the government was from $32 to $35 an acre. These prices applied to the land value only. In tomorrow's suit, styled in the odd legal manner, "United States of America, petitioner, vs. 2,240 acres of land in Gray county," W. M. Sutton, Amarillo, will be the special and Frank Potter, Amarillo, the regular federal attorneys representing the government, while the other side will be represented by W. J. Smith, S. D. Stennis, R. F. Gordon, all of Pampa, and H. L. Adkins, Amarillo.

8-Cent Raise Suggested For Rail Workers

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—An emergency board of the National Railway Labor Board recommended today a general increase of 8 cents an hour for the more than a million of the nation's railroad employees. The 15 so-called non-operating unions involved had asked an increase of 20 cents an hour with a minimum wage of 70 cents an hour, and the union shop. The board declined to recommend these proposals.

The recommendations are not based on the Little Steel formula of the War Labor board, but the emergency board said "we certify" that the increases are within the national stabilization program.

The increases, said the report, are "the minimum, non-inflationary adjustments necessary to correct gross inequities and to aid in the effective prosecution of the war."

The WLB, in addition to its Little Steel formula, may justify further increases under the same language.

The emergency board's report is not subject to action by the War Labor board. Only Stabilization Director James P. Byrnes, acting for the president, may modify it.

An executive order provides that unless the stabilization director otherwise directs, the recommendations shall become effective 30 days after they are filed with the president.

The report estimated the increases would add about $204,000,000 to the carriers' annual payrolls and added: "It is the considered judgment of the board that the recommended wage increases do not, under prevailing circumstances, provide a basis for increases in railroad rates or for resistance to justifiable reductions in such rates."

The increases would be retroactive to February 1. All retroactive payments would be made on War Bonds.

Southern Hospitality Touch: 'Dam' Taken Out of 'Damykankee'

ODESSA, TEX., May 26 (AP)—Just a little more of that southern hospitality, huh.

This has been brought about because hundreds of soldiers at two air schools near here hail from the north.

AUSTIN, TEX., May 26 (AP)—The court of Criminal Appeals today overruled a motion for rehearing in the case of Rex Beard, West Texas paper sack bandit, who was sentenced to death for the slaying of Deputy Sheriff Charles W. Willis in an attempt to break from the Taylor county jail.

Beard pleaded guilty of slaying the deputy sheriff who was shot to death February 12, 1942. Testimony at his trial was that when Willis attempted to place handcuffs on him, after calling him from his cell, Beard drew a pistol and shot Willis.

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Edsel Ford, son of Henry Ford, died today at 1:30 a. m. at his home at Grossette Point, a Detroit suburb.

The younger Ford, who was chief executive of the Ford company for 24 years, died from a condition developing from a former stomach malady for which an operation was performed 16 months ago. Undulant fever also was present.

Edsel became seriously ill 10 days ago, although he had not been feeling well since he returned from a trip to Florida about a month ago. Although there was an improvement in his condition during the week end, he took a turn for the worse last night.

His four children were here at the time of his death. The three sons, Henry, Benson and William, all of whom are in the armed services, had been granted leaves so that they could return to the family estate.

The daughter, Josephine, lives here. Edsel, at the time of his death, was in the midst of one of his company's greatest efforts, an all-out production of war materials to help this country and its Allies in the war.

It was under Edsel's guidance, that Ford performed its tremendous conversion to war production, and from its plants flow 4-engine bombing planes, tanks, jeeps, amphibious jeeps, anti-tank units and much other war equipment.

Edsel Ford, Son Of Henry, Dies At Detroit Home

DETROIT, May 26 (AP)—Edsel Ford, 49, the only son of Henry Ford, now 79, founder of the vast Ford Industrial Empire, died today at 1:30 a. m. at his home at Grossette Point, a Detroit suburb.

The younger Ford, who was chief executive of the Ford company for 24 years, died from a condition developing from a former stomach malady for which an operation was performed 16 months ago. Undulant fever also was present.

It was under Edsel's guidance, that Ford performed its tremendous conversion to war production, and from its plants flow 4-engine bombing planes, tanks, jeeps, amphibious jeeps, anti-tank units and much other war equipment.

Edsel was regarded as one of the leading executives among the world's industrial leaders, despite the fact that his father's fame overshadowed him.

Just how much of the assets of the Ford company were listed in Edsel's name always has been a family secret, it continued so today. Secret also remained the ultimate disposition of the Ford fortune.

What if any changes are to be made in the executive management of the company probably will not be decided for several days. For the time being, it was assumed in sources close to the company, direct management will be undertaken once again by Henry Ford himself, who will be 80 years old next July 30. In this undertaking he would have the aid of Charles E. Sorenson, long time associate and production genius of the company.

Solons Believe Tax Compromise To Be Accepted

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—House and senate conferees who finally "struggled to a compromise on pay-as-you-go income tax collection raged against the legislative clock today to put it into effect by July 1, only five weeks away.

Prospects look good for speedy senate and house approval, leaders among the conference group declared.

Designed to put the nation's 44,000,000 taxpayers on a current basis without the compulsion of paying two year's taxes in one, here, stripped of detail, is what the bill would do.

Cancel a whole year's income tax liability for persons owing the government $50 tax or less.

Cancel 75 per cent of a year's liability for all others, with the remainder to be paid half in 1944 and half in 1945.

Impose a 20 per cent withholding levy against the taxable portion of wages and salaries, to be applied against income and victory tax liability.

Require quarterly payments of the current year's tax by persons with income from sources other than wages or salaries, and from persons in upper salary brackets.

Chairman Doughton (D-Nc.) of the house ways and means committee, who headed the house conference delegation, said he hoped the bill would be accepted by both houses this week and approved by the President.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) ranking republican member of the finance committee, told a reporter he did not think there would be any serious controversy about the measure now that the conferees have ended a five-day deadlock.

Group Limits Use Of Funds by President

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The Senate appropriations committee voted today to strip President Roosevelt of authority to use war emergency funds to finance operations of federal agencies denied specific appropriations by Congress.

The committee wrote this restriction into a $143,639,501 deficiency appropriation bill. It broadened a provision in the House-approved bill which sought to prevent transfer of presidential funds for use of the national resources planning board or the home-owners loan corporation.

The committee removed a house provision to bar payment of salaries to Goodwin B. Watson and William E. Dodd, Jr., employees of the federal communications commission, and Robert Morris Lovett, secretary of the Virgin Islands government.

War Hopes Refer To 'Hopeless' Chest

By BETTY MacDONALD NEA Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, May 26—War brides are beginning to refer to it as their "hopeless" chest. Those days of a hope chest stuffed with luxurious, satin-bound woolen blankets, delicate Irish linens, French and Belgian lace, are waning with the war.

The wartime June bride stows her hope chest now with serving trays of plastic instead of silver, linen, and silver plate instead of tablecloths of cotton instead of sterling.

And, barring an heirloom gown, she'll probably walk down the aisle in rayon instead of silk. Her veil, if any, will be pre-war, because scarves that once made lace are now making camouflage nets.

Guests, if the yellow economists' hints, will throw flower petals, instead of traditional rice—to save food.

Kitchen showers for the bride won't net that nice aluminum ware, unless the donor can discover some pre-war stocks. Instead there'll be flame-proof glassware. She'll get new paper dust pans, just on the market, and papier-mache garbage pails.

Only 12 cooking utensils are now being made of cast iron, including skillets, griddles, dutch ovens, flat irons and muffin pans. There'll be no enamel ware. The bride can get wartime can openers, but she may be short of cans, if she doesn't watch her ration coupons.

The still may be a trickle of linen arriving from Ireland, but not enough for all the hope chests of America. Table linens will be made of cotton. Sheets and blankets are shorter by several inches and the popular candlewick bedspreads are becoming scarce because the laborers in the South, who did the hand tufting, are now in war plants. Her chances of buying a good utility blanket now are better than they were six months ago, but these luxurious feather quilts are pretty much out, as is kapoc for pillows—it goes in life preservers now.

The wartime June bride will have to wait until after the war to fill her silver pattern. She can buy sterling, but only in trickles and at a higher price. The silver plate she buys has a steel base, which rusts quicker than nickel did, but still is satisfactory. Silver service sets are disappearing, and you'll find plastics—modish white sets and translucent—in vogue. They are much cheaper, too.

As for jewelry, the bride still can get gold ring sets, but diamonds have gone up, because most of the cutters were in Holland. Platinum is frozen, but she can get palladium, which looks something like it. A few wrist watches are coming over from Switzerland, but the local supply is dwindling.

Pampa Schools Wind Up Work

Seniors of Pampa High school were told they were "carrying a greater burden today than ordinarily would be the lot of students" but their opportunities were envied, in the commencement speech given by Travis Lively, chamber of commerce director, in the graduation program held last night in the high school auditorium.

Attendance at the commencement was 1,000, or 200 more than the attendance at the vespers service held Sunday.

Last night marked the end of the seniors student careers in Pampa. Sophomores and juniors are taking examinations today. There will be no classes tomorrow. Report cards will be issued to students of all Pampa public schools Friday.

Date of the start of the 1943-44 session of Pampa High school has not been set, but will probably be the day after Labor day. Principal Doyle F. Osborne said this morning.

Prescription for Morale: Think of Your Victory Motor Trip!

It's a blessed relief just to putter around fixing up the trailer more efficient-like... and sort of pipe-dreaming where you're going. But will you need a new car? All reports say it will be a long time after Peace before you can hope to get one. Be ready to go—in your present car... and why can't you?

Since rationing began you've probably "saved" more car-mileage than you ever made on your grandest tour. After Victory you'll have those "stored-up" miles to use, especially if you don't allow present restrictions to cause acid-damage. Vicious acids are formed by normal combustion in any engine. When it stops it's an acid trap. It used to get rid of acids fairly well by warming up on long fast runs. But now it often "just sits" with those acids inside, and what can you do?

You can have your engine OIL-PLATED internally to combat acid corrosion... much as other parts are chromium-plated to combat water's corrosive effect. All it takes to OIL-PLATE your engine is the change to Conoco Nth motor oil. Patented Nth oil seemingly "magnetizes" OIL-PLATING to metal—much longer than just temporarily.

This steadfast OIL-PLATING, joined direct to inner engine surfaces without all draining down to the crankcase while standing, is your shield against acid. Now when even new parts are scarce—let alone new cars—you'll cast off a big worry for the present and future by having your engine OIL-PLATED. Just change to Nth oil—at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

City Saves Tax On Alcohol

A saving of $60 a year for the city was effected in an order passed by the city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday morning by which the city can obtain alcohol for the health department without paying the federal tax.

The order passed by the commission authorizes City Manager W. C. deCordova to execute all instrument, application blanks, forms, reports, and other papers in connection with the purchase or procurement of alcohol tax free.

Plans to get the federal tax eliminated were started last February by the city manager. The city paid the tax in 1942. War conditions made the tax zoom in the latter part of the year.

A lot of red tape had to be cut to get the tax eliminated. First, the federal government wanted a copy of the city charter. Next, they wanted to know by what authority the city manager could handle the matter. The order passed by the commission yesterday was the answer to that.

The collector of internal revenue at New Orleans has been the federal official with whom the city has transacted the business.

One of the man uses of alcohol by the city health department is in connection with giving blood tests.

Other business of the commission yesterday included an order to continue the clinic, operated by the department, for another year, and approval of the departmental budget.

Cost of the department is $2,000 a year.

Buckner, Boss of the Alaska Offense

Below, barrel-bulldozed Maj. Gen. Simon Bolivar Buckner is the big boss of our Alaska-based offensive in the Aleutians. Alaska is one-fifth the size of the U. Tough-looking, white-haired Kentucky-based Buckner is a forceful officer who never dodges a decision. At 56, he

South Hopes Senate Kills Poll Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—Routed Southern congressmen looked hopefully to the senate today to kill legislation outlawing the imposition of poll taxes in national elections.

Passed late yesterday by the house on a roll-call vote of 265 to 110 over almost solid southern opposition, the legislation is similar to previous bills approved by the house and talked to death in the senate.

Opponents professed to see in the present senate makeup an even better chance to halt the measure, since the veteran George Norris, of Nebraska, who was influential in bringing the bill to the floor in past years, no longer is a member.

Debate was enlivened when a United States sailor nimbly leaped to a railing in the visitors' gallery yesterday and started making an

2,000,000 More Women Wanted In War Plants

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—"Come out of the kitchen" is the war manpower commission's renewed plea. A campaign to get 2,000,000 more women to take over civilian war jobs by the end of this year is planned.

This figure, manpower chairman Paul V. McNutt says, doesn't take into account the additional numbers needed to replace women who leave their jobs. Nor does it include any replacements for women who quit other jobs to enter war work; it's directed at the non-working housewives, primarily those of 18 to 45 with no children under 16 years of age.

Two things stand out in recent publications on the subject:

1. The census bureau reported the number of women working in non-agricultural jobs dropped by 200,000 from March to April—from 14,300,000 in March to 14,100,000 in April.

2. The office of war information's "progress report on manpower" points up the difficulties in finding the requested number of additional women workers willing and able to take jobs. This publication lists the same difficulties we have noted previously when it says: "most housewives live far from war-plant communities. Another limiting factor is the extent to which day-care for children can be provided for working mothers."

Another factor, which doesn't appear in the governmental publications, is lack of incentive (including health reasons and present high family income) to take jobs outside the home.

However, it appears that manpower officials are counting, at least in part, on the incentive which will be provided by the financial effects of the drafting of married men for the armed forces of whom some 2,000,000 are slated to go during the remainder of 1943.

Presumably many of their wives will seek work.

"The progress report" says: "It is definite that we have in this country about 4,000,000 non-farm housewives under 45 and without children to care for, and 8,500,000 more with children under 16 to care for, plus over 9,000,000 more over 45."

Governmental welfare agencies are campaigning to convince women with children under 16 that it's more patriotic for them to stay home and take care of their children, if they can make the grade financially without working.

That would leave the 4,000,000 non-farm housewives with no children under 16. One of every two of them—or replacements from other groups—would be required to take up the slack with McNutt forces.

Rubber Tires Bill
The so-called Rubber Tires Bill, introduced by Senator Ellender of Louisiana on behalf of himself and six other senators, is not very dramatic in its humdrum phraseology, but it is well worth reading beyond its innocuous formal description as "A bill to provide for the effective inspection, conservation, and distribution of motor-vehicle tires, and for other purposes."

The rubber director is directed to buy or requisition all repair recapping and retreading equipment he finds in the shop of anybody who is not an "independent tire dealer" if, in his opinion, it is not needed to serve the area in which it is located.

The bill defines "independent tire dealers" with meticulous care, by inclusion and by exclusion so that there can be no misunderstanding.

It would bar scores of thousands of country stores with gasoline pumps and tire service sidelines, which are the only agencies available to perhaps millions who live in rural areas.

The only exception made is in the case of mail order retailers and farm co-operatives which were in the business before June 1, 1942.

The bill is, of course, the newest version of the drive against chain stores, and must stand or fall on that basis.

So accustomed have we become to letting Winston Churchill and Franklin Roosevelt handle the strategy of the war that we scarcely realize that they began to handle as well the strategy of the peace.

Mr. Roosevelt, through an authoritative article in the Saturday Evening Post called "Roosevelt's World Blueprint," written by Forrest Davis, has told us that Great Britain, China, Russia and the United States are to police the earth and that international adjustments are to be left to a flexible system of regional understandings or conferences.

Mr. Churchill in the House of Commons has stressed regional councils as the basic machinery and has left it to be implied that Russia and Britain will run Europe, the United States will run this hemisphere and China will be given a free hand in Asia.

This is an astounding outline. Perhaps world opinion has been quiescent about it mostly because the plan is incredible and because it has everywhere been assumed that nothing tangible has really taken form anyway and that the principles of a world order remain still to be promulgated.

Common Ground

"I speak the pass-word primal. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

THE GREATEST COMMANDMENT
Here is one of the two prize winners for third honor in the greatest commandment contest. It was judged by the orthodox committee.

Those who "dine at the gory banquet of Liberty slain", prepared for their impious feast virtually making it a treasonable offense to be loyal to the "first and greatest commandment" of divine revelation. But even in the Christian democracies we are endangered by a spiritual inflationism produced by the disproportionate concentration on the second greatest commandment to the neglecting of the first.

By way of defining our terms let us say that by "God" we mean the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, who, though dwelling in light that no man can approach unto, is yet, in the Person of His Son our Saviour definitely related to His creatures from whom He justly claims an all-embracing love. The most important thing to remember about the God we are to love is that while it is true He may be known to some extent in creation and providence it is in Christ and Christ alone, that men may personally learn to know and love God. Therefore our love to God will center in our attitude to and relationship to Christ. By "love" to God we mean that all-inclusive affection which responds to God's grace in Christ with all that our rich personalities can offer, an affection which develops into a transforming friendship with God, and is manifested in a dedicated life of service.

Jeff and Pat, who kissed and made up after blacking each other's eyes in the headlines, will leave here on an Army bomber to inspect plants turning out the materials for tires, airplane petroleum and corvettes. They will try to ascertain the needs of the various war manufactures and then re-allocate supplies on the basis of their findings.

Among the places they will visit are Baton Rouge and Lake Charles, Louisiana, Beaumont and Houston, Texas, and numerous centers in California. Accompanying them will be James Forrestal, Under Secretary of the Navy, and Ralph K. Davies, Deputy Petroleum Coordinator.

Strictly speaking the unregenerate man is incapable of keeping the first and greatest commandment, for we must first know and believe the love that God has toward us. Even so the commandment serves to reveal to him his sin and need, and if he follows its implied rules he will be led to accept God's Son as personal Saviour, and then will open up before him an unending vista of opportunities for obedience.

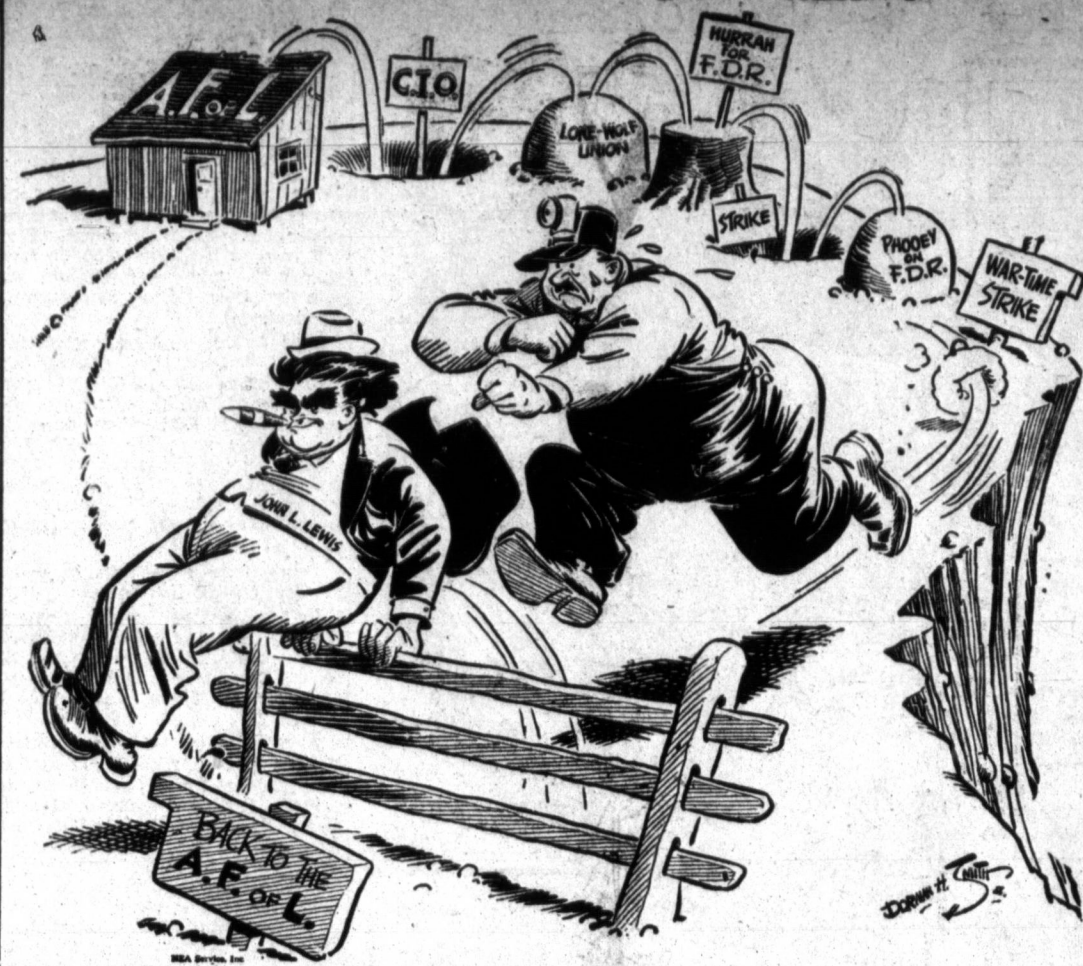

Our leaders apparently are suffering too much from the exhilaration of personal power wielded in a crisis of unparalleled proportions. We must turn their minds back to the humble philosophy of a government of laws and away from reliance on a government of magnetic personalities.

THE GERMAN high command informs us that Marshal Erwin Rommel, the old fox of the desert, is recovering from a serious affliction that seized upon him in North Africa. He has been improving steadily, we assume, ever since he arrived in the Fatherland, and is champing at the bit for a new chance to show those Anglo-American so-and-so's what he would have done if the Fuehrer had not called him home.

On the other hand, there are stories that Marshal Rommel has been in the Balkans, looking over the defensive situation there.

One of the most delicious cuts on the hog is the one that brought down points.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER
FUEL-The Jeffers - Patterson slugfest on the subject of rubber versus high-octane gasoline and es-cort vessels will near a final show-down late this week when the principals in this major controversy will tour the nation in their search for an answer to the dilemma. The pair will go hunting the bluebird of victory.

But people from the rural districts in the Tar Heel State recount an even worse case of Federal negligence. Millions of pounds of produce are likely to be lost through manpower, packaging and other shortages. Foreseeing this predicament, a group of local experts experimented with tobacco redrying devices adapting this available machinery for dehydration of carrots, cabbages etc. From Maryland to Georgia this equipment lies idle nine months of the year.

These men brought the matter to the attention of Secretary Wickard with the suggestion that he utilize the idea elsewhere in the belt. He replied that he would be pleased to read any report which the citizens might make of their activities. But none was sent from Washington to investigate, and a discovery which might have saved valuable food-stuffs seems to be ignored.

ADVICE-From national political leaders who stop in New York to chat with Hoover, Farley and other mentors come the following comments: Bricker is surrounded by hometown guides who know Ohio but not necessarily the rest of the country. They will not listen to outsiders. Their whole strategy is to sit tight and expect the nomination to drop in the governor's lap. Harding was a provincial statesman. However, what people forget today is that he had an exceptionally sagacious counselor in Editor George B. Harvey who understood every section of America.

THE BRICKER crowd is not asking Taft for advice. The Senator stepped aside to allow his fellow Ohioan to make a trial run. If Bricker slows down later, Taft probably will be brought back into the contest because the Middle West has not had a Presidential candidate for years and wants one now. Although Willkie was born in Indiana he is not considered a Hoosier since he lives in Manhattan. Besides he hasn't opposed Roosevelt even on domestic issues.

Governor Warren of California is a typical Westerner and also a profound specialist in law. He was a call boy on the railroad. His father, also a transportation employe, was killed by bandits while defending a pay satchel.

They became friends and it wasn't very long before other children began taunting them with "Kenneth loves Wally." He carried her books through grade school and through high school. Graduation from high school brought their first separation. She went to a distant university-he to another college. At first they wrote weekly letters to each other. Then, for two years, they didn't write. College home town and by accident he was joined the Army Air Corps as an aviation cadet.

He presented her with his pilot's wings, and it wasn't many evenings later that the home-town folk knew they were engaged. The lieutenant went off to India. His dating and success in battles with the Japs made newspaper headlines. Decorations were bestowed upon him, followed by his promotion to a captain. Fate dealt kindly with the girl, too. Cheap Chiselers 'Work' On Public

By PETER EDSON
Pampa News Washington Correspondent

This is not intended to be a scare story, but—the amazing ingenuity of the cheap chiselers who seek to profiteer on wartime shortages is perhaps most strikingly illustrated by their liberal heading in of egg yolks. The Food and Drug Administration has had to take on to protect the public from adulteration, filth, decomposition and just plain crooked cheating.

Coffee has been found mixed with roasted cereals. Dried grass has been sold as tea. Imported spices, hard to get because of shipping shortages, have been found adulterated with from 20 per cent to 50 per cent cornstarch.

White poppy seeds have been dyed the same color as the better "blue" variety, in order to get the premium price which the latter bring on the market, now that imports of Belgian seeds have been stopped.

Violators in minority, but...
These are some of the most glaring examples of wartime food adulterations, but it should not be imagined from this list that every canner of sardines, every packer of tea, coffee, spices or processed foods is guilty of these abominations. Violators are decidedly in the minority, and as a matter of fact, many of the reports on violations come from responsible food handlers who are as much interested as the public in seeing that the fringe of outlaw operators is clipped off the carpet of respectability.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Hitler couldn't knock England out by bombing, what chance have the Allies of blasting Germany into submission now?
Actually, of course, nobody in authority has claimed that Hitler could be beaten by air alone, although British premier Churchill says it's an "experiment well worth trying, so long as other measures aren't excluded"—with accent on that last clause. There has been no indication that the Allies intend to wait for airpower to turn the trick.

It's reasonable to expect them to start invasions of the continent as soon as the raids have reduced Axis strength so that armies can be landed without being mowed down. Hitler's bombing of England and the Allied bombing of Germany involve different circumstances. Take, for example, the distribution of war industries.

Britain's plants were largely decentralized—scattered all over the country. The Nazi bombers, on the other hand, were concentrated here and there, but knocking out on manufacturing city or half a dozen couldn't disrupt the country's production.

Many of Germany's essential industries, however, are centralized because of circumstances over which Hitler has had no control. His greatest armament works are concentrated in the Ruhr, because both iron and coal are there. Closing down of the Ruhr manufacturing center would be a major catastrophe which the all highest could scarcely survive.

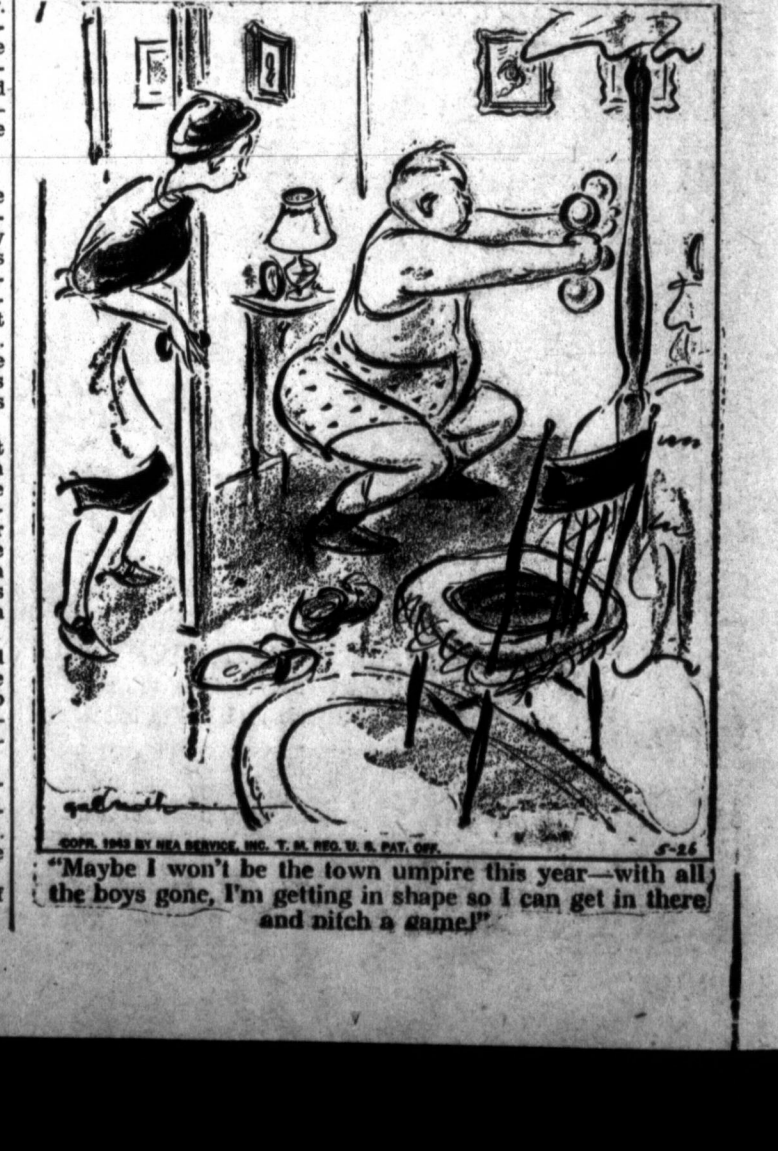

One of the biggest elements in John Bull's favor was the fact that he was able to depend on Uncle Sam for supplies. Despite bombs and U-boats, the Allies have continued to pile up striking-power in the British Isles. There is still another vital difference between the job which we are doing over western Europe and the Nazi bombing of Britain. Far greater explosive power is being unleashed against Hitler, it's being done more systematically and the objectives selected are vital parts of his war machine. The Germans loosed some terribly destructive bombs over Britain but the latest Allied bombs are both blockbuster and heat-seekers. It is, as Mr. Churchill suggests, an interesting experiment.

So They Say
Man's mind has opened up more frontiers than his labor has exhausted. The challenge of the new and the novel is more present than ever before in history. These are terrible times to live in, yet they are times that every courageous person would not miss.
-President John S. Mills of U. of Vermont.

Carrier and Child

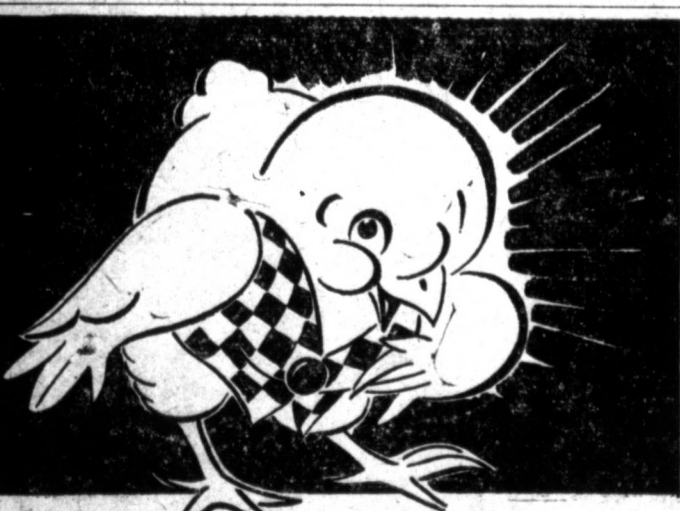

Biggest and newest of Britain's aircraft carriers is the Indomitable, a veritable floating airbase that has seen action and suffered slight damage in the Mediterranean. Landing on the Indomitable's deck, bottom, is a Seafire fighter—sister plane to the Spitfire.

Potatoes—Remember?

Happy senators gaze with delight on piles of potatoes in a capital corridor. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, right, the Louisiana "potato king," brought them north to ease spud shortage, sharing them with Nebraska Senators Hugh Butler, left, and Kenneth Wherry, and others. It is said some will be given to the Smithsonian Institution so posterity can gaze on the vegetable now virtually extinct at corner groceries.

SERIAL STORY
Beth Carter, WAAC
 BY LORETTE COOPER

PLUNGE TO EARTH
 CHAPTER XV
 To complicate matters, Rick was coming to, and the Jap probably would be in a few minutes. "Can you fly this plane?" Brit asked Beth.
 "Sorry. They made us everything except flyers at Des Moines." "Then it's up to you to keep the folks in the back seat under control."
 Beth took care of Rick first. He was kicking around, and it was obvious that the captives' feet would have to be tied, as well as their hands.
 Brit turned the cabin lights on. Beth looked for something she could use to tie the ankles together. Attached to the wall were three parachutes. Beth pulled one of them apart and cut a length of strong cord, borrowing Brit's knife to cut the material.
 Then she went to the Jap. She reasoned that it would be better to tie him immediately, then struggle with Rick, than to take a chance on having to fight both of them—particularly since the Jap might know some tricks with his feet.
 She put the cord around the Jap's ankles and made it secure. "Now it's your turn," she said to Rick.
 There was a firm set to her jaw. SHE watched Rick carefully as she neared his feet. This was going to be a problem. Then she saw his solution almost as soon as she recognized its dangers.
 She fastened one end of the cord firmly to the Jap's ankles. Then she formed a running loop in the right of the cord.
 She started toward Rick.

Donna Declines

Despite Andy Hardy fans' clamor to see more of her as Mickey's sweetheart, lovely Donna Reed forsakes the screen series to play the romantic lead in Charles Laughton's new picture.

Braniff Avers
Globe Starts
On Main Street

The swift expansion of our nationwide air transportation system into a coordinated international operation has initiated much thought and discussion concerning the need for post-war air transportation plans. Understandably, major emphasis has thus far been placed on the global phase of such plans. This is a natural tendency in wartime when we are chiefly concerned with the movement of men and supplies to our theatres of action abroad," says T. E. Braniff, president of Braniff Airways, Inc.

The great interest in international air transportation, however, should not eclipse our local interest. Following the peace, improvements in aircraft and operating techniques tested in the furnace of war can make air transportation available to thousands of communities and millions of Americans not now affected. And we must not forget that it is along the Main Streets of these friendly communities, of your community and the hundreds like it throughout the land that the economic backbone of our country is formed.

"Though our national interest is today focused principally on a map of the globe, tomorrow our interests will again be much closer home. Any post-war air plan must be both local and global in scope—must bring benefits to the average folks on the many Main Streets of our country just as it brings benefits to nations and hemispheres. Whether you and I live in a village or a metropolis, there must be no limit to the markets we can seek for our products nor the sources we can tap for our raw materials.

"Properly guided, air transportation can enrich our lives and our communities more fully than any other integral part of our day-to-day activities at prices all can afford. It can speed commerce, making available to merchants the time-saving services of air freight, mail, it can have far reaching, cost-cutting effects upon merchandising and distribution, eliminating for all time the discriminatory transportation rates under which many areas now suffer. It can unite cooperative economic units, yet at the same time make accessible areas now remote.

"It's new and fascinating for all of us to think, as we are now doing, in global terms. Think we must for the future peace and prosperity of the world—but by the same token we must not forget that for John Jones, the globe starts on his Main Street—a trip to Shangri-la starts when he steps outside his front door."

Chiropractor Bill
To Become Law

Austin, May 25 (AP)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson today filed in the Secretary of State's office without his signature a new bill licensing and regulating chiropractors which will become law next Aug. 9.

The measure one of the most contested at the last general session of the Legislature, also creates a nine-member chiropractic board which will regulate the profession and give examinations to applicants for licenses. The law gives chiropractors legal status in Texas for the first time.

The governor has not yet appointed members of the board.

Generally, the bill sets up minimum educational requirements for members of the profession, permits them to treat certain diseases and prohibits chiropractic treatment for infectious and contagious diseases and establishes standards for chiropractic schools.

Devers, Boss of the European Command

World War I: Artillery teacher Fort Sill, Okla. Devised method to vastly increase accuracy.

1940: Made commander at Fort Bragg, N. C. Raised strength 13-fold and made Bragg the largest post in the nation, bigger than any German base. Banned vast construction program.

1941: Went to Fort Knox, Ky., as Armored Forces chief. Boosted armor from 4 to 14 divisions in 14 months.

May 1943: Takes over as commander of American forces in European war theater to key the final invasion battles.

On alert, good-humored Lieut.-Gen. Jacob L. Devers, new chief of American forces in the European war theater, weighs the staggering task of preparing the A. E. F. for invasion. He was master of his job before he got it, for tanks have been his bedfellows, artillery his voice, physical fitness his watchword. As Armored Forces chief, "Jackie" Devers himself nipped out the land dreadnaughts and self-propelling artillery we're winning with. At 55 he's the youngest of his rank. A West Pointer '09, he served in Panama, in Hawaii, in France; he supervised building of the bases we got from Britain. 131 Days Adrift Makes Chinese Dizzy

MIAMI, FLA., May 26 (AP)—Stolac Foon Lim, who spent 131 days adrift on the Atlantic aboard a lifeboat, disclosed here that his long, lonely and aimless voyage made him dizzy several times.

The torpedoing of his ship, a British merchantman on which the 25-year-old Chinese was a steward, launched him on his one-man odyssey on Nov. 23, 1942. The old year ended and three months of the new year passed before his rescue on April 3 off the coast of Brazil by a fishing boat.

This was 43 days longer than men ever before were known to survive on a raft or lifeboat. Basil D. Izzi, of South Barre, Mass., and two Netherlanders survived 43 days on a raft in the South Atlantic in 1942 after their ship was sunk.

Foon Lim said he also had slight attacks of fever and an empty feeling in his stomach, but he climbed aboard the rescue craft and walked off under his own power and days later in Brazil.

He rested up in a Brazilian hospital, then came to Miami where he arrived last night.

Much of his strength Foon Lim credited to the effectiveness of a bent nail as a fish hook and the shiny spring of a flashlight as bait. He caught several small fish and in turn used them for bait for larger fish, some weighing as much as 50 pounds.

Churchill made it clear that he was counting on the force of arms rather than an internal crackup to knock out the Axis powers.

While Churchill had told congress in a speech last week that it was well worthwhile to experiment with attempts to bomb the Axis into defeat, he said yesterday any interpretation that he favored postponement of other measures would be the most distorted deduction.

Three Electrocuted In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY, May 26 (AP)—Three persons, one of them more than half a mile away, were killed Monday when a high tension cable broke as the result of dynamite blasting near Mexico City.

Rocks hurled upward by the dynamite struck the cable, which dangled over a road. Eleuterio Zamudio and his six-year-old daughter drove across the wire and were electrocuted. In a different part of the city, a man repairing a telephone wire which had come into contact with the broken cable was electrocuted.

the tonnage left at Dortmund. Dusseldorf, a city of 429,000, is 50 miles southwest of Dortmund and the third largest inland port in Germany. It is a tank, gun and armament center on the Rhine where 190,000 persons were reported homeless last December as a result of the RAF's offensive.

The raid—marking the second extension of the bombed offensive since Prime minister Churchill declared the elimination of Germany from the war by air assault might be worth trying if other methods were not excluded—was the fourth "saturation" attack of May. Two were against Dortmund, one against Dusseldorf, and another against Duisburg.

The mounting assault on Italy, already reported attempting to deal with swarms of refugees trying to escape from the threatened Italian "toe" and imperiled island outposts, was paced by joint attacks on Messina by flying fortresses from the northwest African air force and heavy U. S. bombers from the desert air force.

The Rome communique said "Messina was repeatedly attacked and important damage was done, mainly in the center of the town."

Allied communiques said that 11 planes were lost.

Communications from Cairo and Allied headquarters said a large explosion was set off in the naval base, and that the naval oil depot, railway sidings, the dock area and power station were covered with a blanket of bombs.

Warhawks and Mitchells again scored Pantelleria, and paid devastating visits to Terranova, Olbia, Licata, Porto Emedocle, Portoscuso and Bobba Di Falco, in Sardinia and Sicily.

Other cracks on the moral armor of the Germans and Finns appeared.

The Berlin radio quoted Robert Wagner, German gauleiter for Alsace and Baden, as hinting at a purge of the Nazi party. He said party members here expected to set an example in times of the heaviest fighting, and weaklings "will have to leave our community."

A Finnish broadcast said an Allied landing in Europe this summer was almost a certainty and as a result the German campaign on the Russian front might be of secondary importance with Germany forced to limit her objectives in Russia.

Disaffection of another German Satellite, Rumania, was reported in dispatches from Ankara which said the Germans had promised to reconsider the status of Transylvania, ceded to Hungary by Rumania as a result of Axis dictation, in order to get the Rumanians to send 18 to 25 divisions to Russia this summer.

Russian military commentators declared the Germans had not yet been able to recover from the blows inflicted on them at Stalingrad, along the Don and in the Caucasus.
