Labor Recruiting For Farms Opens In Gray County

Through the office of County Farm Agent Glenn T. Hackney, registration of farm labor for Gray county farmers is now underway.

Registration began Tuesday here. It is likely that a similar registration will be held at the start of the cotton picking season in McLean.

By June 20, the rush will be on for a sufficient number of hands for the 1943 wheat crop.

Means of helping relieve the farm labor shortage may be the use of students. Courses are being taught by Hood Willis, agriculture teacher, at Pampa Junior High school boys on the care and operation of tractors and other farm equipment. The course is 20 hours.

County plans for registration and placement of farm labor has been worked out by members of the Gray County Agricultural Victory council, Hackney said. This followed an extension service conference at Amarillo May 27. Attending from Gray county were Mrs. Julia E. Kelley, home demonstration agent, David F. Eaton Jr., assistant farm agent, and Hackney.

"We realize that Texas ranchers and farmers will not be able to obtain the quantity and quality of labor to which they are accustomed but we hope to be able to help them get enough workers to prevent the wasting of crops in the field and the dispersal of livestock," Hackney explained.

Truck Owners To Get ODT Rulings

Gray county operators of truck fleets (three or more vehicles) can get the answers to any questions on office of defense transportation problems today and tomorrow by talking with Charles H. Weaver, Amarillo, ODT examiner, at the county rationing board office.

Two changes in regulations will be a boon to fleet owners. One of these eliminates the necessity of keeping a record on the reverse side of the certificate of war necessity; the other lops off 10 of the 24 questions on the quarterly report, but records must be kept adequate for the report.

British King Honors Eisenhower, MacArthur

LONDON, May 27 (AP)—The honorary rank of Knight, Grand Cross, of the Order of the Bath, military division, has been bestowed upon American Generals Dwight D. Eisenhower and Douglas MacArthur by King George VI in recognition of "most valuable services" in commanding Allied troops.

If the generals were British subjects the awards would carry with them the title of "Sir," but the United States constitution forbids American citizens holding office from accepting foreign titles without the consent of congress.

In Australia, General MacArthur commented that the appointment reflected honor primarily on his "comrades in arms" in the Southwest Pacific.

Hospital Ships Attacked

LONDON, May 27 (AP)—A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons today that German and Italian planes and coastal batteries had made 56 attacks on British hospital ships since the start of the war. He said four of them were sunk.

Ridge South Of Harbor Is Seized

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—American forces supported by a naval bombardment and attacking army bombers and fighters have won a foothold on a ridge south of enemy-held Chichagof harbor after two days of hard fighting, the navy reported today.

Despite the ferocity of the fighting on Attu, secretary of war Stimson reported today, the American casualties have been relatively light, with preliminary reports indicating the army has lost 127 killed, 399 wounded and 118 missing.

The navy department communique said that a United States naval vessel bombarded Japanese shore installations in the Chichagof area and started numerous fires. Army Warhawk fighters bombed the main camp area at Kiska. Hits were scored in the vicinity of gun emplacements and other installations.

On May 26th all buildings in the Chichagof area have been destroyed. United States army troops, after hard fighting, in a coordinated attack along the ridge of Chichagof succeeded in gaining a foothold on the high ground south of Chichagof harbor and a line of United States army's southern forces is opposed by Japanese force dug in on a ridge south of Lake Corie. Air support was provided by army liberator (consolidated B-24) heavy bombers and Mitchell (North American B-25) medium bombers which attacked Japanese positions in the Chichagof area. Army lightning (Lockhead P-38) fighters assisted in strafing attacks.

From the communique and the war secretary's discussion of the situation it appeared that the main enemy position is that at the head of Chichagof harbor, which is being heavily pounded by sea, air and ground troops.

However, the communique brought out, although Stimson did not develop it, the fact that the Japanese also still have a force in the area north of Lake Nicholas which lies south of Chichagof harbor and about three miles away. The two enemy positions were obviously isolated from each other.

So far there has been no report of any heavy American action against the force in the area south of lake Corie which is north of lake Nicholas.

The attacks on the ridge dominating the area around the head of Chichagof harbor began on Monday, yesterday's communique revealed. The action was carried out by combined forces from both the northern and southern forces in the island and authorities here believe once the high ground is taken the Japanese position would be entirely collapsed.

The ground overlooks the area in which the village of Attu formerly was located.

Flood Families Returning Home

(By The Associated Press) Farm families in many parts of the six-state midwest flood zone, evacuated after rising water from scores of rivers threatened their lives, were returning to their water-damaged homes and inundated lands today to begin to reshape their summer program of food production.

The evacuees in many of the flooded areas returned to their homes as the danger of further rising waters passed, but thousands of others remained in refugee shelters, mostly in Southern Illinois and Eastern Missouri. More than 100,000 persons were driven from their homes by the floods.

Other thousands in communities along the Mississippi and Illinois rivers still were plagued by the disorderly conduct of the two surging streams. The situation in many river towns, although somewhat improved, remained critical, said army engineers.

Wheat Harvest Starts in Texas

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—Harvesting of the winter wheat crop—an important, basic grain in the 1943 battle of food production—is already underway in some sections of Texas, the weather bureau's weekly crop summary said today, and the outlook for the bread cereal in most states is favorable.

Against this promising prospect, the bureau's summary noted that great crop damage had occurred in Illinois and Indiana, particularly delaying planting of corn. Seeding of spring wheat and other grains is nearing completion in northern states, the bureau added, with crops "looking well" in most localities.

The bureau's break-down for Texas—wheat is ripening fast and harvesting has started in central sections. Prospects of late corn greatly improved, with progress excellent in north and east.

Write Cheerful News to Soldiers

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The accent is on cheerful news, the office of war information indicated today in outlining the kind of letters our soldiers like to receive from home.

After a survey among men in the armed forces in this country and overseas in cooperation with the special service division of the army service forces, the OWI advised: "Write about him and you. Recall the people he knew and the things he did. Tie in the things of today with the past in which he had a part. When you start to write him, forget that you have any troubles.

"Tell him about the good things that happen. Cheer him about the present and the future. Write often. Don't wait for his reply before writing.

Russians Happy About Something

MOSCOW, May 27 (AP)—Joseph E. Davies announced today he had received a written and sealed reply from Premier Stalin to the secret letter from President Roosevelt which he delivered at the Kremlin last week.

Davies said he was leaving directly for the United States. Davies conferred with Stalin again last night at the Kremlin in the presence of Soviet Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov. A Tass announcement of the meeting gave no details.

Limit Urged On Clothing Sales

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—Retailers of men's and boys' wearing apparel should limit sales to avert "panic" buying to avoid rationing of clothes, believe heads of two large men's wear manufacturers.

Unless the retailers adopt such a policy the situation "may provoke rationing," they were told yesterday at a meeting of the Chicago men's and boys' wear market by Harold Mittelstadt, president of Wilson Brothers, and Alfred Decker, board chairman of Alfred Decker & Cohn.

The retail merchants from 15 midwest states also were told by the two clothing company executives that labor and machinery shortages rather than any decreases in raw materials would affect deliveries by manufacturers this year. Mittelstadt said an increasing number of women textile workers are leaving the industry to seek higher wages in other war work.

CIO Strikes At Rubber Plants End

AKRON, O., May 27 (AP)—CIO unionists ended strikes at three major Akron rubber companies today, complying with the noon deadline set in a presidential ultimatum concerning a five-day production stoppage that threw more than 50,000 into idleness.

A small shift returned to war jobs at the B. F. Goodrich company just as the deadline approached after United States Rubber workers unionists there decided to observe the commander-in-chief's order.

The back-to-work movement started earlier at the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. and the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co.

Employees straggled into the plants throughout the morning and six hours after the first men reported on the 6 a. m. shift, Firestone guards estimated 50 per cent of the force was on the job.

A company spokesman who declined use of his name said about 2,000 reported at the beginning of the first shift at Goodyear, and others straggled into the plants for several hours. General Tire & Rubber Company reported a full working force on the job.

Only a few employees entered the Goodrich gates until after a 10 a. m. meeting of the company's day shift workers. George H. Bass, president of the Goodrich local, announced the men decided to resume production at once. The meeting also approved a June 16 deadline for reconsideration by the War Labor Board of a wage decision that touched off the stoppage.

Union leaders said they expected full shifts to report at 2 p. m. at all four plants. A Goodyear spokesman indicated that normal operations could not be resumed immediately, however asserting it would take "all day and a good part of tomorrow" to balance up our production.

After urging Goodrich workers to return to their jobs, Bass declared: "I think the strikes have achieved the results we wanted—the reopening of the War Labor Board wage case. Now we'll wait and see what they'll do with it."

The president, acting as commander-in-chief of the army and navy, termed the work stoppage a "flagrant violation of the no-strike pledge" and asserted: "If this strike is not ended by 12 o'clock noon, Thursday, May 27, your government will take necessary steps to protect the interests of the nation."

Walkouts at Akron's "big three" and the General Tire & Rubber Co. started with the news last Saturday that the National War Labor Board had reduced to three cents an hour its panel's recommendation of an eight-cent wage increase.

Production soon stopped on a multitude of such items as self-sealing gasoline tanks and deicers for war planes, anti-aircraft guns, gas masks and combat tires.

Rain Accompanies Electrical Storm

The third greatest rain of the month, accompanied by an electrical storm, brought 39-inches of precipitation to the Pampa area last night and boosted the May rainfall total up to 2.48-inches, annual to 3.51.

Scattered thundershowers in the Panhandle with little temperature change this afternoon and tonight was the forecast.

Although there was much lightning last night, there was no report of injury to anyone or damage to property from the electrical storm.

Yanks Bag 74 Nazi Planes in One Raid

U. S. EIGHTH AIR FORCE HEADQUARTERS, ENGLAND, May 27 (AP)—British based United States heavy bombers established a record for a single day's bag by destroying 74 German planes May 21 during the unescorted raids on submarine construction yards at Emden and Wilhelmshaven. It was announced today.

Twelve bombers were lost in this joint action.

The record bag of enemy craft brought the total to 301 destroyed in eight raids which embraced 16 targets during May.

Germans Fall Back in Kuban Area Fighting

LONDON, May 27 (AP)—Reuters quoted a German news agency dispatch broadcast by the Berlin radio tonight saying that German troops, yielding before a Soviet offensive, had evacuated a strip of the Kuban bridgehead several miles wide and a mile and a half deep.

Both Russian and German reports had indicated a violent upsurge in the land and air battle for the Kuban River zone held by the Germans from Novorossisk northward to Tumryuk, on the Azov Sea.

The Russians announced in their midnight communique that they had smashed back two counter-attacking German battalions totaling about 1,600 men, and a special broadcast from Moscow later reported 67 German planes shot down in the area northwest of Novorossisk, with a loss of 20 Soviet planes.

A DNB dispatch broadcast from Berlin later declared, however, that 63 Russian planes were shot down yesterday against the loss of five German aircraft. The high command communique, recorded by the Associated Press, said violent Russian attacks against the eastern sector of the Kuban bridgehead were repelled by a counterattack.

The German radio asserted 400 Russians had been killed and 600 captured in fighting near Temryuk, but acknowledged that the Russians had regrouped their forces and that heavier fighting was in prospect.

The Germans, too, issued reports that other sectors of the long Russian front had come alive, with heavy Russian attacks that dented the German lines southwest of Velikie Luki and large scale Soviet scouting activity south of Staraya Russa.

The Germans said their troops were forced to withdraw temporarily from the main defense line below Velikie Luki but that a counterattack reestablished the position. Velikie Luki is 270 miles west of Moscow and 90 miles from the Latvian border.

Tax Agreement Reached Again

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) leaving the senate house pay-as-you-go tax conference, said today the conferees had decided that taxpayers should not be given a $50 deduction in addition to the 75 per cent abatement of one year's taxes.

The conferees met after a disagreement developed among them as to details of the abatement features they wrote into the compromise tax bill Tuesday.

When the conferees announced a compromise agreement Tuesday, a spokesman said the measure provided cancellation of a whole year's personal income tax liability for taxpayers owing $50 or less, and 75 per cent abatement for all others.

Later, however, some conference members said they understood the compromise stipulated not only that persons owing more than $50 would get a 75 per cent abatement but also an additional abatement of $50—which would mean complete cancellation for persons with a tax liability of $200 or less for the abatement year.

Pool Lifeguard Is Ex-Navy Man

A man who has received an honorable discharge from the U. S. navy and who was formerly a life guard at San Diego, will be one of the two guards employed this summer at the Pampa Municipal Swimming pool.

He is R. P. Duncan, who was honorably discharged from the navy 90 days ago due to a physical disability. Duncan has successfully passed all Red Cross swimming and life-saving tests and can use all-known swimming strokes but four. City Manager W. C. deCordova said today.

The other guard will be Frank Friant, Pampa student who was a guard at the pool last year.

When the pool is to be opened has not been decided nor have the hours been set, but the city manager said it was planned to open the pool as soon after June 1 as the weather permitted.

Due to the "fall-spring" Pampa has been having it has been difficult to determine just when the weather will be warm enough for swimming.

A military policeman will also be on duty at the pool, assigned from Pampa Field. His special job will be to maintain order when soldiers make use of the pool.

A. L. Jones is the manager of the pool for the 1943 season, with Mrs. Jones as cashier.

They said Rotarians from all over the world attended, including the representative from China. The international organization is headed by a member from Lima, Peru. AFL Loses Half Million Machinists

WASHINGTON, May 27 (AP)—The International Association of Machinists with a reputed membership well over half a million, announced today it is quitting the American Federation of Labor as of May 31 because of a long standing jurisdictional row.

The A. F. L. thus lost almost the same numerical strength it stands to gain by the prospective readmittance of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers. The jurisdictional fight involves chiefly William L. Hutcheson's carpenters' union, which the machinists contend has been "muscling in" on its field with the sanction of the A. F. L. executive council.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Bill Barry was reflecting back on the last war and what the boys used to do when they got a furlough.

"We weren't a hard-drinking bunch particularly, but that was in Prohibition," said Bill, "and forbidden fruit always seems worth goin' after. We'd hunt up a bootlegger, which was easy, and buy a bottle.

"So, instead of a beer or two, well—I guess we generally drank too much... wonder what the boys are doing this time?"

I got out the official report the Office of War Information made and read him this: "The fact that there is vastly less drinking among soldiers in this war may stem in part from the sale of beer in camps."

From where I sit, it certainly doesn't look as if we had to worry about our boys. We learned our lesson in the last war, and I'm glad to see we're on the right track now.

Air-Borne Invasion Is Sword Hanging over Hitler's Head

Uncle Sam's versatile new air-borne troops are completely self-sufficient, carrying with them every type of soldier and equipment needed for the job in hand. The photo above shows a bicycle suit of the modern flying army practicing loading on a "mock-up" transport plane.

By THOMAS M. JOHNSON
NEA Military Writer

Herr Hitler today emulates the celebrated Sister Anne who, from Bluebeard's Castle, scanned the horizon for "anybody coming."

But Sister Anne looked for friends, north, east, south and west. Hitler looks for enemies—and he must also look upward. For, like every fortress today, his "Europa" may be attacked not only from the ground, but from the sky.

1943 has a name for it—"vertical envelopment." This new tactic makes possible a variety and multiplicity of strokes hitherto undreamed. Like a terrible swift sword it hangs over Hitler's head—the danger of attack by troops and weapons dropped from the air.

MAY OVERCOME LANDING HAZARD

With Tunisia completely cleared, the only forward moves open to British and Americans involve that most difficult military operation, a landing on a strongly defended shore—whether in the Pacific, the Mediterranean or the English Channel.

Men in open boats are peculiarly vulnerable to attack by shore-mounted artillery which is more accurate than ship-mounted, and by shore-based aircraft, which are more deadly. But that danger may be reversed if those men are aided by an air-power that is greater than the defenders possess at that time and place—and such air power includes the newest and most distinctive of all units of a 1943 Army—air-borne divisions.

Germany started them, still has them, may use them in a desperate last-chance invasion of Britain. But what she started, we and the British are finishing. We have several divisions, including Sergeant's old 82nd, and the new 101st.

Officers and men are volunteers excelling in intelligence and leadership and trained to be especially self-sufficient. Only a fraction are paratroopers; one regiment is trained to ride into action in gliders towed behind big transport planes. All carry rifles, Tommy guns, mortars and machine guns.

This versatile division also moves by air all its own artillery, from anti-aircraft and anti-tank guns of 37 or 40 millimeter to millimeter howitzers which may be dropped whole or in parts to be assembled on the ground by the gunners, who drop—simultaneously. Parachutes have colors varying with their loads. They include not only condensed food and ammunition, but explosives with which a special engineer battalion, who also fit downwind, will blow up bridges and strongpoints.

There are detachments to feed the infantrymen, bind their wounds, mend their weapons and set up the radio-telephones that enable all, whether afoot or a wing, to act as a team.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pain by pains, loss of sleep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passage with smarting and burning sensations shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisons and waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

stein said, has been "fairly accurate" and has been reported to the proper officials.

Haan told the committee yesterday that Premier Tojo closed during a party at his Tokyo residence recently that rear admiral Katsuro Miyazaki had been chosen to command an invading naval force against the United States and that Gen. Shunroku Hata was to head a landing expedition.

Haan said Gen. Jiro Minami was reported to have told the Japanese privy council last December that Japan would be ready to strike this country between June and October 1943.

Gist of speculative talks in Japan, Haan said in a prepared statement, was that Miyazaki would have at his command 60 per cent of the imperial navy in the planned attack, that general Hata would have more than 100,000 picked troops from the Kwantung army; and that submarine and air strength would play the most important part in the attack.

Dickstein said Haan had registered with the state department as a member of the Korean organization which, the New Yorker said he believed had an organization of spies which "seems to get more information than our own government."

Commander of Tank Destroyer Unit Moved

TEMPLE, May 27 (AP)—When Camp Hood reservation opens a new cantonment Saturday, Major General A. D. Bruce, creator and builder of the tank-destroyer center, will be assuming a new command elsewhere.

Major Bruce, commanding general of the center since its formation December 1, 1941, has been made commanding general of the 7th Infantry Division, now on maneuvers in California.

The center announced that he has been succeeded by Major General Orlando Ward, former commanding general of the first armored division, who returned to the United States in April following injury from machine gun fire received in action in North Africa.

North Camp Hood, second cantonment within the 160,000-acre confines of the Camp Hood reservation, will be formally opened Saturday to complete the tank-destroyer plan. Because of the urgency of his orders which require his immediate departure, General Bruce will not be able to attend the ceremonies.

General Ward received the silver star citation in North Africa and he also holds the oak leaf cluster and order of the purple heart. He is a veteran of World War I.

units—land, sea and air—the air-borne division strikes down into rear areas hitherto safe, to help ground forces break through by blocking an enemy withdrawal or disrupting movement of his reserves or by capturing fortifications or airdromes, or key ground, like a beach-head.

The new technique bids fair to solve the problems of a landing like Dieppe, which was undertaken without air-borne troops. Yet they might cross from Britain to France in a quarter-hour, from Tunic to Sicily in a half hour. Our Paratroopers have taken off from carriers and landed in water with rubber boats.

Everything depends upon an exact time-schedule. First the heavy bombers must smash the enemy's supply centers, railroads and reinforcements. Then dive-bombers swoop down upon his artillery and pillboxes. Finally, crying "Geronimo!" the parachutists leap. Some set up machine guns in bomb-craters, others blow up enemy planes and radio sets, cut telephone wires. Still others clear a space for the gliders to land.

But during all landings there must be overhead an umbrella of fighter planes, protecting the helpless men dangling in air or exposed in gliders. Last of all come engineers trained especially to repair damage to an airdrome, install a warning system and searchlights, and even bring in gasoline from the sky.

The aim is instantly to get the field ready for our fighters and heavy bombers to take off in time to cover those men in the open boats as they come ashore.

Dispersed aircraft and hangars at Villaciro air field were hit by bombs of other lightnings, which also shot up a train.

After scoring direct hits on the Tirso power station, which supplied a large part of Sardinia with electricity, lightnings sped on to shoot up Axis gun emplacements and small vessels.

Edsel's Death Places Burden On His Father

DETROIT, May 27 (AP)—The death of Edsel B. Ford Wednesday placed back upon the shoulders of the almost 80-year-old Henry Ford executive direction of the far-flung industrial empire the elder Ford started 40 years ago with an initial paid-in capital of $28,000.

Edsel Ford's death came not long after the resignation of two key Ford men—Peter E. Martin, vice president, and A. M. Wibel, purchasing agent. Both had been with the Ford organization almost since its inception in a small Detroit carpenter shop.

Martin had installed the first mechanically operated conveyor system in the Ford plants; Wibel long had handled the responsibilities of Ford purchasing along with other executive responsibilities.

Outstanding of the other key men in the organization now is Charles E. Sorenson, Danish-born production genius and a master foundryman by vocation. Ford long has attributed to Sorenson an amazing capacity to put into actual practice the ideas that developed in Ford's mind.

It was Sorenson who created the moving assembly in the Ford factories.

The Sorenson name is on many of the fundamental Ford patents and he initiated many of the basic changes in the Ford engines. One of his most recent achievements was the designing of the great Ford Willow Run bomber plane factory's production processes.

A large part of the destiny of the Ford company long has been shaped at a daily "round table" luncheon in a private dining room at the Ford River Rouge plant. At these luncheons, the elder Ford, Edsel, Sorenson, Martin, Wibel and others met to exchange ideas. The ideas frequently materialized in practical application somewhere in the vast Ford organization.

Best guesses among sources close to the Ford company are that for the time being at least the administration of the company's affairs will continue largely to be influenced at daily meetings of key men of the executive and engineering departments of the company, with the elder Ford and Sorenson leading the way.

With the death of Edsel Ford the next in the family line is Henry Ford II, his eldest son, a lieutenant (j. g.) in the United States navy. Unlike his father, the younger Henry Ford did not take an early training in the Ford factories. Born in 1918, he completed his formal education three years ago at Yale, majoring in sociology.

The other children of Edsel and Eleanor Ford are Benson, born in 1920; Josephine Clay, in 1922, and William Clay, born in 1925. Benson and William also are serving in the armed forces.

Here's What To Do About "Bundles For Russia"

At the Council of Clubs meeting recently held in the City Club Rooms, the necessity for speeding up the collection of wool and furs for the "Bundles for Russia," project was stressed in a speech made by Mrs. Raymond Harrah.

Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, is heading this project and hopes to have a carload to send by June 1. Any club member having used woolen clothing, bedding or old furs, should contact their club president or chairman appointed for this work. Any person wishing to contribute to this may contact Mrs. Paul Kasishke, or Mrs. R. E. McKernan. Articles may be left at the door at either of these homes. If the articles are available, but no transportation, either of these women will call for the bundle if they are telephoned.

This is an urgent appeal for the people of Pampa to do their part in helping the allies of this country in the grim fight against the enemy and the weather.

June 1 is the deadline. Everyone contributing should estimate the poundage and number of articles given. If sent through the clubs, the club should estimate the size of their bundle.

Band PW Club Has Monthly Social

Twentieth Century Culture Club Studies Alaska

The regular meeting having been postponed from May 11, the Twentieth Century Culture Club met this week in the home of Mrs. H. Paul Briggs.

During the business session the club voted to notify senators and representatives of its approval of the continuation of reciprocal trade agreements.

Mrs. Joe Key, president, appointed committee members for the fall breakfast as follows: Mrs. Rufe Jordan, program; Mrs. J. P. Wehrung, menu; Mrs. Douglas Carver, program.

The chairman of the project committee reported that 16 comfort kits for the Red Cross had been given by club members.

Mrs. H. H. Kahn made the report of the Seventh District Convention which convened in Amarillo on May 4.

"Alaska" was the subject studied, with Mrs. Lysle Owens, program leader, discussing "Alaska Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow." She stated that "this is a country of extremes, of the very old and the berries, of dog-sleds and airplanes, berries, of dog-sleds and airplanes. Two thirds of Alaska lies below the Arctic circle, and the maximum heat in Central Alaska is about the same as that of New York city."

Mrs. Henry Ellis spoke on "Across Alaska by Rail, and by Car," and gave an interesting account of the Alcan highway.

Mrs. Garnet Reeves discussed "Alaska, the U. S. frontier," and stated that the Aleutian Islands are an accusing finger pointing to the broad expanse of the Pacific. She said that the line from the tip of the Aleutians to the Panama Canal is 9,000 miles long, and would be almost impossible to defend were it not for our air power.

Refreshments were served to the following members during the social hour: Mrs. Douglas Carver, J. M. Collins, Henry Ellis, H. H. Hahn, V. L. Hobbs, Rufe Jordan, Joe Key, Lysle Owens, Garnet Reeves, Fred Roberts, Frank Smith, Fred Thompson, W. B. Weathered, J. P. Wehrung.

Marine Reservists To Finish College

HOUSTON, May 27 (AP)—Marine reservists now attending a college which is selected as a marine war college and who have not received a degree as of July, will be sent back to that college as marines for preliminary training, Marine Captain Andy B. Davis announced here.

At a discussion of what will happen to marine reservists on southwest conference football teams, Captain Davis said reserves now attending a college which is not selected as a marine war college, will be assigned to the nearest marine institutions.

Reserves who need a term or less to complete their course of study (seniors as of July 1) may at their own request continue on an inactive status at their colleges until they obtain degrees if the need for officer material is not too immediate.

Marine trainees will be permitted to engage in all extra-curricular activities which are open to civilians and which do not interfere with their military training and 17-hour per week course of study, Captain Davis declared.

The captain said institutions which will be designated as marine war colleges are to be selected within a month by authorities in Washington from colleges which have naval units.

Pittsburgh Pirates Smother Dodgers 17-4 with Barrage of Hits

Boston Beats Cards 4 to 3 In 11 Frames

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

Somebody must have sneaked a supply of the original balata (pronounced baloney by the players) balls into the major league parks under cover of darkness last night.

There were two games played in the daylight yesterday and in one the Pittsburgh Pirates punished the Brooklyn Dodgers 17-4. The two teams made a total of 28 hits. In the other the New York Giants beat the Chicago Cubs 4-2 and there were 22 hits.

But after the sun had set, look what happened.

Cincinnati nosed out the Phillies 1-0 and Washington whipped the St. Louis Browns by the same score. There wasn't a swat in either game longer than a single and the four teams together made a total of only 19 hits.

Another flood-lighted affair was an 11-inning scramble at St. Louis with the Boston Braves beating the Cardinals 4-3 and even though it included a couple of Cardinal home runs, it also was a pitching party.

Left fielder Walker Cooper sent homers for two of the six hits given up by Al Javery as he counted his fourth victory against one defeat. The Braves touched Mort Cooper for 10 safeties, bunched four of them with an error for three runs in the fifth and then won the game in the 11th when Eddie Joost led off with a single and ultimately came home on a single by rookie Charlie Workman.

This boosted the surprising Braves within half a game of the second place St. Louis Cardinals.

In the two 10 games the winning pitchers were the hitting pitchers. At Cincinnati Bucky Walters and Charley Fuchs pitched magnificently and neither team scored till two were out in the last of the ninth.

Walters singled in the inning, went to second on a balk and came home on a single by Eddie Miller, the sixth hit allowed by Fuchs. Walters gave only four.

At Washington the lone run of the game was counted in the sixth inning on three singles, the middle one by Dutch Leonard and then the Browns to four one-base blows. The Senators made just five singles off John Niggeling and George Caster.

The day games were a striking contrast to these duels.

At Pittsburgh the Pirates scored 15 runs in the first three innings off Max Macon and Les Webber, getting five of their runs in the second and in the third frame scoring nine times after two were out.

Vince DiMaggio hit two home runs, one of them with a grand slam and the other with two and his teammates added an assortment of hits. But what really piled up the score was a series of walks by Webber, who issued nine bases on balls and forced six runs across the plate.

Fred Fitzsimmons took over in the fourth and cooled off the Buccaneers, although they added two final runs in the eighth on a triple by Tommy O'Brien.

At Chicago the Giants scored all four of their runs in the first three innings off Paul Derringer. The fact that they were out 12-0 and could do nothing in the later innings made little difference.

O yes, a certain Mad Russian, whose name has been in the public prints so much it doesn't need repeating, made his 1943 debut and was the only Chicago pitcher except the pitcher who failed to get a hit.

Wild Bill Donovan Had Control Pitching Detroit to Three Flags

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Writer

THERE were times early in his career when William E. Donovan experienced difficulty locating the plate, but Wild Bill had things under control pitching Detroit to successive pennants in 1907-08-09.

Donovan was a formidable right-hander with blazing speed and an old-fashioned side-arm inshoot and quick out-drop.

In later years, as manager of the Yankees, Phillies and minor league clubs, Wild Bill liked to talk of pitching, pointed out that the trouble with most hurriers was that they could not curve the ball.

"They have a freak delivery of some kind, but they do not take the trouble and pains to master a real curve," he would stress, adding that the good curve ball pitcher was as successful as ever. He could not understand the neglect of the curve.

Donovan was a good looking man with a contagious smile. He was one of the best liked players of the game enjoyed the same popularity as a manager. A trim fellow who did not run to excess weight, he stood six feet one, came in at 185 pounds.

Wild Bill broke into the big show with the Washington Nationals, learned more about baseball under Ned Hanlon in Brooklyn, jumped to the new American League in 1903.

KEPT HIS FAST BALL HIGH

Donovan kept his swift one high with the idea of having batters pop up. While the rule reads the same, "between knees and shoulders," umpire of Wild Bill's day carried it out to the letter, whereas in more recent years umpires have regarded the arm pits as the top of the strike zone. Thus the tendency to pitch low in an attempt to force batters to hit the ball into the dirt.

Donovan was an Iron Man, a willing worker. He pitched 33 complete games in his first year with Detroit, was one of two pitchers to win more than he lost with a fifth place aggregation, but did not scale the heights until 1907, when he was practically unbeatable.

Wild Bill bagged 43 games while losing no more than 11 in '07 and '08. In '23 and '24 in '27 making him the league leader with .862. Only two pitchers have had a higher winning percentage in the majors—Smoky Joe Wood of the Red Sox in 1923 and Robert Moses Grove of the Athletics in '31.

Donovan pitched many games that are still discussed, but one that stands out is the 17-inning, 10-10 tie with the Athletics at Philadelphia's old Columbia Avenue Park in September, '07, in which the Tigers staged a comeback which inspired them to go on to the pennant when it appeared that they were almost hopelessly out of it.

Had not Donovan resided in Philadelphia, where he was a magnetic attraction, Hughie Jennings undoubtedly would have had him out of that one, for he was no mystery for seven rounds, the home guard sporting a 9 to 3 lead when the Tigers scored four runs. Then, in the ninth, Wahoo Sam Crawford doubled and Tyrus Raymond Cobb man-

Jess is serving as greeter at a cafe here.

"I'm getting along pretty good," the 285-pound Jess grinned when asked his financial status. "I made a million and a quarter out of fighting—or rather, I made most of it in show business as a result of that one, for he was no mystery for seven rounds, the home guard sporting a 9 to 3 lead when the Tigers scored four runs. Then, in the ninth, Wahoo Sam Crawford doubled and Tyrus Raymond Cobb man-

Willard didn't bat an eye. "It was 120 degrees in the shade," he grinned. "We had fought an hour and forty-four minutes before the knockout. If Johnson was going to throw the fight, don't you think he would have done so sooner instead of going through all that?"

"Then too, as I have often said: I'm sure glad Johnson quit, if he did quit, because I was about to quit myself." Also, there were 100 prominent writers covering the fight. Don't you think it's a reflection on them, that years after the fight they are told it was a frame-up? Yet, at the time, those capable, experienced men didn't see a thing wrong."

Henry Observes An Anniversary

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP)—It is just a year now since Henry Armstrong started to prove to the folks that the only thing washed up about him was his laundry every Monday, so the hammer is having a little anniversary celebration around town for a couple of days before hitting the road again.

This is the road incidentally, that started out as a comeback trail and which Henry now believes is a one-way street back to the lightweight championship.

The little buzzaw outlined a tentative schedule for the rest of the summer, beginning with his June 11 party with Sammy Angott here, fights with Willie Joyce in Los Angeles and Jim Garrison in Portland, and some warm-weather ball-park betting against lightweight champ Bob Montgomery in Philadelphia and Ray Robinson in Pa. Knickerbocker's village, although these last two are a couple of clout parties which are still in the talk stage.

After that, he expects the road may lead him back to the lightweight title—although "that won't come off until I can get a crack at the undisputed championship." At the moment, Montgomery owns part of the title while the National Boxing Association doesn't recognize anyone, but wants Bob and Angott to fight it out. When all the shooting's over, Henry is going to start taking target practice on the survivor—and he has no idea of retiring.

All Star Grid Game Is Due In August

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—The annual All Star football game will be held in August again this year with pro griders once more opposing a selected squad of collegians, and their similarity to the nine previous charity events just about ends.

Instead of Soldier Field where 101,000 persons saw last year's clash, the game will be played at Dyche Stadium in Evanston, Ill., (capacity 50,000)—to restrict attendance as far as possible to fans in the Chicago area in conformity with the wishes of the office of defense transportation.

Wild Bill Donovan died with his boots on.

That is the way he would have liked to go.

Henry Observes An Anniversary

NEW YORK, May 27 (AP)—It is just a year now since Henry Armstrong started to prove to the folks that the only thing washed up about him was his laundry every Monday, so the hammer is having a little anniversary celebration around town for a couple of days before hitting the road again.

This is the road incidentally, that started out as a comeback trail and which Henry now believes is a one-way street back to the lightweight championship.

The little buzzaw outlined a tentative schedule for the rest of the summer, beginning with his June 11 party with Sammy Angott here, fights with Willie Joyce in Los Angeles and Jim Garrison in

All Star Grid Game Is Due In August

CHICAGO, May 27 (AP)—The annual All Star football game will be held in August again this year with pro griders once more opposing a selected squad of collegians, and their similarity to the nine previous charity events just about ends.

Instead of Soldier Field where 101,000 persons saw last year's clash, the game will be played at Dyche Stadium in Evanston, Ill., (capacity 50,000)—to restrict attendance as far as possible to fans in the Chicago area in conformity with the wishes of the office of defense transportation.

WHAT HAPPENED ON THE FOOD FRONT, (Collier's—By Geo. Creel)

Much of the damage is beyond repair, but agricultural authorities agree that the danger point can be avoided if Washington will face the realities of the situation. As they see it, the thing for Chester C. Davis, the new food czar, to do is not to do any of the things that have been done.

The way out of the mess, they insist, is to quit the policies that got us into the mess. ...

Working on a farm will have its advantages. You'll be in close contact with food.

Common Ground

By R. C. MOILES "I speak the pass-word universal, I give the sign of democracy, by God I will accept nothing which will not have their counterpart on the same terms."

THE FIRST COMMANDMENT Here is one of the second prize winning presentations in the Greatest Commandment contest. It was awarded by the orthodox committee of judges.

The student of the Bible cannot fail to realize how intensely practical was the Son of Man in all his teachings. Though He spoke often in parable, an analysis of His words will show the complete workability of His precepts.

In delivering His greatest commandment Jesus demanded all that the human being is capable of giving when He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord Thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul and with all thy mind."

Simple indeed is this mandate, simple in thought and in meaning, yet it has been confused into something not understandable.

Jesus spoke of the three attributes that lift Man above the lower animals. Created in the image of God, Man combines a thinking quality, a living quality and a spiritual quality which sets him higher than any other living thing, which makes him indeed of Divine origin.

His heart, that part of him which supplies the tenderness, the emotion, the courage and the understanding, is the first attribute mentioned by the Master in the great commandment.

The soul of man, that intangible living spark which is the immortal part of his being, links him directly with his Divine origin and supplies the spiritual part of his make-up. Bible usage gives the soul as the equivalent of "life." And this living attribute Jesus made the second of his demands.

The third attribute demanded by the Master was the mind of man, that part of him which dominates his thinking processes, his intellect and his rational faculties.

Application of these three attributes, as demanded by Jesus would result in a practical demonstration of the great commandment. If the human race would combine the tenderness, courage and understanding prompted by our hearts with the living spiritual force we call our souls and the thinking qualities of our Divine given intellect, the perfect whole would spell "Service."

A service prompted by high thinking, and wisdom and justice. A service prompted by effort and unselfishness and spiritual thinking, and a service prompted by the warm tenderness of an understanding heart.

With this understanding of the great commandment shall come an understanding among nations, a common meeting ground between employer and employed, a sympathy for the unfortunate and a willingness to serve.

There is nothing complex about the teachings of Christ, and all are summed up in his greatest commandment. To love humanity, never to judge or condemn, to live purposefully, to be unafraid, and to know that life is beautiful and noble, and that to degrade and dishonor life is to degrade and dishonor God—these are the demands of the great commandment, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul and with all thy mind."

MEXICAN FARM WORKERS WANT TO COME Some of the Mexican workers who have just arrived in California to pick oranges and work on the farms report that some of the workers in Mexico City stand in line as long as eight days in order to get the necessary credentials to be permitted to come to the United States to work as farm laborers.

They all have to congregate in Mexico City. If this were not the case, so many would congregate on the northern border lines who would not be able to cross the lines, that that section of Mexico would have a relief problem.

This shows how well off American workers are, compared with those below the border line.

The pay for one day on the farm in California equals the pay of fifteen days in Mexico.

The result of the mayoral election in Baltimore is significant. Running for his fifth term, Democratic Mayor Howard W. Jackson was defeated by Republican Theodore M. McKeldin. CRACKING

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER

REPUBLICAN—The American Legion is more anti-Administration now than it was in the days of the war which its members tried to prevent. Veterans who once thought they were making the world "safe for democracy" have grown conservative in their middle age.

In a remarkable session held at Indianapolis recently the A. L. executive committee, spanked P. D. R., despite fast footwork by New Deal lobbyists who always attend these conferences. Besides condemning Mrs. Roosevelt's plan to enroll conscientious objectors as members of Herbert H. Lehman's foreign relief staff, the Legionnaires attacked Washington's apparent attempt to gain control of the American educational system.

They disapproved of the Thomas bill providing a Federal grant of three hundred million dollars for subsidizing public schools, most of the money to go for the payment of teachers salaries. Since school-marks were specifically exempted from the Hatch Act's concluded that the Utah Senator's proposal looked toward using the instructors as a partisan organization in 1944.

The Indiana decision reflected a sharp reversal in sentiment. Only last November the Legion's legislative representative in the Capital endorsed the idea of Government financial aid before a Senate committee. The factors behind the reversal are not clear, but the Indiana decision reflected a sharp reversal in sentiment.

RESENTMENT—"Too much bureaucracy and Roosevelt domination" was the explanation which a prominent leader of the Legion offered for this change of heart. But the reason for the desertion of the 1917-18 fighters lies deeper.

The A. L. has officially censured the use of Professor Harold Rugg's "What and Economic Textbook" as subversive and as subordinating the individual to a formidable centralized state. The body has declared a boycott of his works and aims to oust them from school courses. It lately scored its first real success when San Francisco banned the volumes.

The Legionnaires have supported the distinguished group of savants which, as the result of a quiz of high school students, found that American history was being woefully neglected or flabbily taught in our institutions. But on both these issues the Roams Waring patriots were opposed by Administration spokesmen, including representatives of the supposedly nonpartisan National Education Association.

The Federal Government's deliberate mobilization of agents to block the backlisting of the Rugg publications and present-day methods of teaching history aroused the suspicion of Legion advisers and crystallized an embryonic belief that many of the things they fought for in France were being sidetracked in Washington.

The importance of this powerful element's new attitude cannot be underestimated. Its object is to enlist most of the men now serving overseas. And future veterans' letters indicate that they are not happy over goings-on back home.

Their V-mail expresses resentment concerning strikes in munitions plants, alleged bungling of the war effort, failure to establish a second front, lack of supplies, especially food, and plans for reforming the world before victory is won. They want to lick the Axis and, like their dads before them, come home "tout-de-suite."

OUTFIT—The opinions of junior naval officers may not be important to the higher-ups, but the youngsters are staging a private "mutiny" against Frank Knox's order that summer uniforms and insignia be a sea gray instead of khaki, although seemingly a simple sartorial ruling, it threatens to damage morale below decks.

The Secretary softened his regulation by saying that commissioned personnel need not discard their present apparel until it is worn out. But he sidesteps a significant issue: What captain will stand for a staff that looks like a cross between Coxy's army and Robin Hood's motley crew, some clad in brown and others in gray?

The young man who seeks promotion by winning commendation from his immediate superiors—and that is the only way to go upward in the Service—will buy the official rig no matter how deep a dent it makes in his small pay. The ruling incidentally, is a windfall for David Dubinsky's and Sidney Hillman's unions, whose firms enjoy juicy navy contracts.

Sailors complain even more seriously about another aspect of the decision which may not have occurred to the head of the Navy Department, who maintains that his protection in battle. Less than five per cent of the higher ranks are within sight of the enemy during an engagement. Except for those on the bridge, the crew operates below. And if the superstructure is hit, it is doomed.

Lastly, the style a la Knox may increase the casualty list. For a man wearing an outfit the color of the water will be harder to spot by the rescuers who are dressed in the more discernible olive drab.

BUY VICTORY BONDS Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent For a girl who says she's no actress, Ann Corio, is doing all right in Hollywood.

The strip-teaser, once billed as the girl with the "Epic Epidermis," was lurching in a booth at the Brown Derby, peeling off the leaves of an artichoke with the dexterity of her profession and with the company, we are sure, of every pair of male eyes in the room.

"It's this way," said the Epic Epidermis. "I'm sure the movie audiences can't tell the difference between good and bad acting. They can't possibly after the fan letters I get praising MY acting."

"So despite what some people say about the picture, I'm going to keep my nose in the Hollywood feedbag. Do you know how much I get for a picture?" she asked. "Well," she said, "I got $7500 and 20 per cent of the profits of my last film, 'Savong Girl'." They made the picture in seven days. That's easy money, don't you think?"

We thought it was very easy money, indeed. "So who cares," continued the Epic Epidermis, "if I can't act. I make money, the producers make money, the fans write letters praising my acting and everybody is happy."

EAS' TO LOOK AT Like Dorothy Lamour and Hedy Lamour and some other screen glamour girls we know, none of whom are great shooks as actresses, Ann Corio is doing all right in Hollywood because she is very easy on the eyes. When you watch her on the screen you are not thinking about acting.

She's an optical treat. Or didn't you see the Epic Epidermis in her first two motion pictures, "Swamp Woman" and "Jungle Siren"? "They were awful," she admits, "but they made money. I was awful, too. I didn't even know what a microphone was. But I'm learning."

Ann Corio does not strip in her pictures. There was just a suggestion of a tease in her first film.

It was as Tondeluyo in an eastern revival of "White Cargo" that the Epic Epidermis attracted Hollywood's attention. For several years previously, moviegoers had heard of her boxoffice appeal as a strip-teaser in burlesque but no one ever thought of putting her in front of a camera.

"A gentleman named Henry Briggs, who said he was president of a movie outfit called P. R. C., called me on the telephone, said he'd seen 'White Cargo' and wanted to put me in pictures. I thought it was a gag and told him to quit kidding. I'd never heard of Henry Briggs or P. R. C. Then one day

Air Warfare Is In Infancy

By PETER EDSON Pampa News Washington Correspondent

DESERT TRAINING CENTER, Calif.—Aerial warfare today is still apparently in its infancy. As a branch of military science, it is still grounded in its cradle. This in spite of the apparent high degree of "perfection" with which air battles are being fought every day over Europe, Africa and the Pacific.

Planes are better mechanically, bombs are constantly being made more deadly, while aircraft machine guns and cannon are heavier and have longer range. Yet, even before this war is over, it is inevitable that there will be still bigger, better and longer range planes, cannon, and guns.

Aerial weapons of today have their definite limitations. Bombing today is "precision" bombing in name only. Strafing as it is known today is effective only against undefended positions, and when strafing is conducted against battle lines or supply lines which are well defended, it is extremely costly to the attacking aircraft.

Finally, the tactics of air-ground combat—that is, the method of employing air force to co-operate with ground troops—is still in a decidedly embryonic state of evolution.

THESE are the combined views of many air officers and ground force officers who have seen service in various theaters of operation, and of officers who are in command of a number of training centers where air and ground troops are being given their final precombat instruction. They represent also the experiences of the British command in their operations.

All these problems are being constantly studied by responsible staff officers of every army, who shift their plans of operation and training as new doctrines are decided upon, and as newer and more powerful weapons of all arms are developed, put in production and made available to the services. What this points to is the possibility of marked changes in tactics of aerial warfare, certainly for the next year, and a decided possibility even before this war is much older.

In the last war, the airplane was useful largely for dog fighting, though acrobatics and observation did come into use in conventional aerial warfare. The weakness of the territory would capitulate when the homeland had been pounded into impotence—though one admits that there might be the bare possibility of Jap generals and their armies setting up a new regime on the continent and fighting it out.

BUY VICTORY BONDS Today on The Home Front

By James Marlow and George Zielke HOT SPRINGS, Va. (AP)—They were lonely once but not now. Now the newsmen at the International Food Conference are overworked.

Among themselves they had called the shot perfectly—that any attempt to put even a small barrier between them and the 44 foreign nations' representatives at the conference would fail.

That was when this government sales tax on the newsmen couldn't go closer to the hotel than the Casino on the hotel grounds' rim, that it would be all right if the delegates wished to visit the Casino, but otherwise.

Huddling with themselves in the boarding houses, debating over their coffee cups, the newsmen said the restrictions wouldn't work because food delegates are like people who: Like to get their name in print; like to impart information even if it means saying "don't quote me, pal"; will hunt up a newsmen to speak their piece.

Once the conference started the delegates by twos, three and in bunches were wandering over to the Casino, having lunch on the lawn with the newsmen—the government eased the restrictions, let the newsmen into the hotel to see the delegates between 6 and 9 p. m.

Delegates pop in and out of the Casino, or their publicity men do, or there is a special conference, or a new announcement is posed on the Casino blackboard by M. J. McDermott, state department press relations man for the conference.

When he appears with mimeographed statements, they are snatched up like hot biscuits by newsmen who quickly disappear into the Casino and beat the statement into stories on their typewriters.

Even the reason for not quoting some of the American delegates directly was off the record.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press Writer

The fierce defense being made by the Japs in the face of our determined attack on their positions among the volcanic crags of Attu provides one of the outstanding lessons of the protracted battle on his tiny, fog-shrouded Aljutan island.

More than once in this war we've seen the Japanese battle until the last man was dead.

There could be no more pointed warning of the need of the utmost speed in cleaning up Hitler so that he enter Allied striking-power can be turned against the Japanese at the earliest possible moment. The enormous force which the United Nations will be able to mass, when once the Axis is beaten, will do the job, but it becomes harder with each passing day allowed the Japs to consolidate their positions.

The burden of speeding up rests in large degree on intensification of our own efforts. If we provide the resources, the fighting services will do the rest.

The Nipponese are well established in their main conquests, and it's going to take a lot to shift them. Their greatest strength outside of the Japanese mainland is in China and Manchuria.

The new Jap offensive along the Yangtze towards Chungking has raised a fresh problem for Chinese defense. It may even envisage capture of Chungking itself.

Should such a program be achieved it probably would give the Japs control of all China. The Allies would have to start from scratch to fight their way onto the continent without the help of the Chinese army.

This would be a task which might take years, but for one thing. That is air power.

Second Quarterly Installment Of Income Tax Must Be Met June 15

WASHINGTON, May 27, (AP)—Under the compromise pay-as-you-go legislation, all taxpayers must meet by June 15 the second quarterly installment of the return they filed March 15 on the basis of 1942 income.

After this is paid, the two quarterly installments will be applied as follows: 1. If the taxpayer's 1942 income was lower than income expected for 1943 the abatement will apply to 1942 and the two installment payment (March 15 and June 15) will be transferred as a credit against the liability on 1943 income.

Those with income other than wages and salaries will make an estimate of their 1943 income tax on September 15, subtract the amount of the March 15 and June 15 installments, then pay the remainder of the 1943 obligation in two installments September 15 and December 15.

These persons whose income was lower in 1942 than in 1943 would have a total 1942 obligation erased, if the debt is below $50. But if above $50, they will pay only 25 per cent of the debt, one half March 15, 1944, and one half March 15, 1945.

2. If the taxpayer's income is lower in 1943 than 1942 he will owe 1942 in full, plus 25 per cent of his liability if it exceeds $50. On July 1 he will have paid one half of the 1942 liability through the March 15 and June 15 installments.

3. If a taxpayer already has paid on the full liability against 1942 income, he nevertheless will come under the withholding levy July 1, assuming he is a wage or salary earner, and at the end of the year he will be half a year ahead on payment.

The population of Human and Hupeh, two provinces in China, exceeds one third that of the United States. All taxpayers will file returns on 1943 income next March 15. On this return adjustments will be made for differences between the estimated and withheld tax and the current tax reported by the taxpayer.

Texan, 90 Years Old, Enjoys His 4th War Effort

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

from Bataan to the Solomons.

"They Call It Pacific" is recommended reading as the only story of our war in the Pacific from Bataan to the Solomons. The author, Clark Lee, traveled 40,000 miles to write it. It's a best-seller. It is called "correct in every military slant" and it has enough action to flavor a dozen novels. Watch for this great story starting in this newspaper.

said, "I know I will."
In the civil war Peck dodged shells while spading a victory garden near Gettysburg; during the Spanish-American fracas he built vital railroad bridges and in the last war he had a planing mill. The mill, with Peck the sole operator, hums even on Sundays and in his spare time the nonagenarian cultivates his newest victory garden.

Peck tap-dances for friends at a barber shop and exercises daily to keep in condition. He walks miles without tiring and until five years ago he could put both feet back of his head.

"I was limp as a rag until I was 85," he explained. "Then I began to age a little."

He outlived two wives and was married for the third time at the age of 64. His youngest daughter is 18 and his oldest son is 56. He has eight living children.

Peck dismissed rationing as nothing new.
"We had it in the Civil war," he said. "We were rationed by high prices. Wheat flour was $25 a barrel and the poor folks couldn't even afford to smell it."

He saw Lincoln a number of times and was present when Lee and Grant met in Appomattox court house.

Peck fought comanche Indians in his early days as a railroad builder but said he won his biggest battle with the chewing tobacco habit.

"By chewing six cigars a day," he declared, "I was able to limit myself to one small plug of tobacco a day. In spite of my bad habits, here I am, 20 years ahead of the gang."

A native of Pennsylvania, Peck lived in 20 states before moving to Corpus Christi in 1908.

His hearing is remarkably acute and he reads without the aid of glasses.

"I wore those things 45 years thinking I needed them" he explained. "Then one day I took them off to clean them and happened to look around. I saw a fly on a screen door 100 feet away and that cured me of wearing spectacles."

He is looking forward to his second hundred years.

"I'm surer of the second hundred than I was of the first. I'll begin them able to walk and talk and I'll have just as much hair and more clothes."

Essen Resembles Stalingrad Now

MOSCOW, May 26 (AP)—Tass reported today that a letter taken from a dead soldier said that oft-bombed Essen "looks like Stalingrad."

"You wrote that it is not so bad in Essen," the news agency quoted a German girl as writing to her soldier sweetheart. "You don't know what you are talking about. I see the cellar and wait for death."

Another letter, Tass said, reported that Essen had been "converted into a pile of ruins."

FROG TRAPS BIRDS

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP)—W. V. Montgomery found a bull frog in his back yard and inside the bull frog were two sparrows. Montgomery said the frog apparently captured the birds when they flew to a backyard fish pond for a drink.

Witness Says He Saw Dempsey's Wife, Another Man Asleep In Bed

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., May 27 (AP)—A former pal of Benny Woodall testified in state supreme court Wednesday that he saw Hannah Williams Dempsey and Woodall, named as a co-respondent by Lieut. Commander Jack Dempsey in his divorce suit, asleep in Mrs. Dempsey's Manhattan apartment bedroom.

Mrs. Dempsey, the former musical comedy star whom Dempsey has accused of intimacies with former lightweight boxing champion Lev Jenkins and Woodall, Jenkins' former trainer, was not in court today.

At the start of the afternoon session, it was announced that Mrs. Dempsey was indisposed, and that the trial, as a result, would be postponed until Tuesday. Application for the delay was made by her attorney.

The witness, Harry Goldman of the Bronx, testified before official referee J. Addison Young that he fell asleep after attending a party at Mrs. Dempsey's apartment and woke up in the morning in the living room.

"I walked through the bedroom and saw Woodall asleep with his trousers on and shoes off," Goldman said.

Arthur F. Driscoll, attorney for Dempsey, asked, "what did you see about Mrs. Dempsey's dress?"

"She was covered up," Goldman replied. "She was in bed. She had blankets on."

He testified that he attended many parties at Mrs. Dempsey's apartment and said he drank quite a bit and in many instances was unable to recall what had gone on.

Later under cross-examination by Mrs. Dempsey's attorney, Gerald Donovan, Goldman was asked: "You say you saw Mrs. Dempsey and Woodall together?"

"I seen Woodall lying on the bed with his clothes on and Mrs. Dempsey lying right beside him," Goldman testified. "I don't know what Mrs. Dempsey had on. She was covered up. Woodall had on his trousers and socks."

Mrs. Dempsey has filed counter-suit for divorce against the former heavyweight champion, but her allegations have not been made public. Both seek custody of their two children, Joan, eight, and Barbara, six.

Driscoll asked how Mrs. Dempsey and Woodall behaved on other occasions and Goldman replied: "They were kissing one another in the car and in restaurants they'd be kissing each other."

"In public places, in the car and on the street?" asked Driscoll.

"Yes, sir," Goldman replied. He testified that Mrs. Dempsey bought Woodall a camel's hair coat, shirts and a "self-timing wrist-watch" for Christmas presents.

"Did you ever see anyone run out the back door when Mr. Dempsey came in the front door?" Driscoll asked.

"No," Goldman said. "Occasionally they would run for the back door when they heard a bell ring."

Pressed for a specific instance, Goldman said: "I was sitting in at the bar and Joan and Barbara came in. A bell rang. We thought it was the doorbell but it was the telephone. I saw Benny Woodall run for the back door."

All of us are doing things we do not like, but this is the time for sacrifice. I make $64 a month and I used to make that in a week. We in the service do not want to kill and do not want to die. But we do want to win the war. Strikers should remember that.

Pampa's Passing Parade

MEET THE WINNER and new champions in the placard-poster-list posting in public buildings. Time was when the bulletin board on the first floor of the court house held that distinction, but the draft board and the rationing board have left the first floor on the lurch and are leading by a dozen documents.

The draft board, located on the first floor, has a board containing nine lists pertaining to selectees. This is on the south wall of the lobby. Then there's a "Keep 'Em Flying," "What Women Do in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps" poster, and another addressed to "Citizens of Canada" listing the conditions under which Canadians living in this nation can join their own army.

There is also a red-penciled scrap of paper reading "draft board."

The county rationing office has also gone into the billboard business in a big way. On the board are lists such as "approved truck tires", sundry admonitions on rationing, a table of office hours is posted on the door. Continuing the "art exhibit" there are seven posters, in color, on the interior of the office.

EVER NOTICE the typical "in action" scene of various Pampans? Here's the way Ramon C. Wilson, county auditor, appears most of the time:

One hand on a calculating machine, the other edging a ruler across a long row of figures. Occasionally, add one of the numerous pipes from his collection.

W. C. deCordova, city manager, is always ready with a joke, no matter how busy he may be. He always appears busy to jump somewhere, always on the move.

deCordova was formerly city tax officer and the habit of being in that office is still strong, so he makes frequent trips across the hall from the city manager's office to the tax department. To the picture, add the pocket collection of cigars he invariably carries.

Garnet Reeves, chamber of commerce secretary, is most frequently seen trying to reach someone on the telephone, dictating a letter, or looking for some document, letter, or newspaper.

When Police Chief Ray Dudley talks to you his eyes fairly blaze with alertness. Chief Dudley talks softly, distinctly, and has an easy, casual way about everything he does. He moves fast and thinks fast but never seems in a hurry.

Mayor Fred Thompson has a penchant for blue suits. He's a neat dresser. The mayor speaks his words carefully before speaking but always gives a direct answer. He never rambles in his talk but sticks right to the subject.

County Judge Sherman White's office is nearly always full of citizens waiting to see him. The judge possibly has more callers than any other county official. Judge White gives unhurried consideration to all, never gets excited.

W. B. Weathered, county superintendent, has baseball as a hobby. He's tall and red-headed, and every move he makes reminds of a typical pitcher going to the mound.

"P. S. The new cartoonist is really all right. He has improved your paper lots."
