Union Man Charged In Labor Test Case

PELLY, Texas, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Texas' new labor law was before the courts today in a test brought by Vice President R. J. Thomas of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, who was arrested under the statute which he branded as abridgment of freedom of speech.

organizers were arrested on a charge of violating the law passed by the last legislature requiring persons seeking members for a union to hold a license from the Texas secretary of state. They made bonds of $400 each before Justice of the Peace R. Zierlein at Goose Creek.

Scrap Metal Drive To Open October 1

After all the scrap metal Gray county gathered and turned in to Uncle Sam in 1942, you'll think there was enough junk collected to keep the factories going full blast until the day the Axis is blasted off the map.

too and it looked like the situation was in hand. Now it appears that there was only a drop in the bucket, for Uncle Sam is again calling on us to bring in the scrap for the scrap. The drive will open Oct. 1, end Nov. 15.

Labor Supports FDR, Says CIO Official

HOUSTON, Sept. 24.—(AP)—The Republican old guard will sidetrack Wendell Willkie in 1944, forcing the nomination of a reactionary candidate, and President Roosevelt, if he accepts a fourth term nomination, will win in a walk, R. J. Thomas, president of the United Automobile Workers and vice president of the CIO, asserted here today.

Dr. Otto Stader of Ardmore, Pa., who developed the famous Stader splint now widely used by the armed forces, especially the navy, will speak at Amarillo at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Sept. 29, at the Herring Hotel. Capt. Henry J. Apple of the Pampa Field veterinarian's office, announced today.

Two Childers Officers Killed

CHILDRESS, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Capt. John E. Sayer, pilot, of Richmondville, N. Y., and Maj. Gustavus W. Thomasson, Jr., a flight surgeon, and former Dallas physician, were killed yesterday in the crash of a training plane near Matador, the public relations office at Childers Army Air Field announced. The plane burned.

Principal provisions of the pending legislation are: An "overseas war ballot," printed on paper suitable for V-mail processing, for voting for president and members of congress. The war and navy departments would print, distribute and assemble the ballots with commanding officers of all service units responsible for seeing that any eligible service man or woman obtained one. An oath of eligibility would be the only legal requirement, with poll taxes and state registration laws waived. Wherever possible, voting for state and local officers would be permitted.

'Dead Eye' Keeps Busy Helping To Kill the Japs

"Dead Eye" Dickson, the aviation-ordnance officer most feared by the Japs in the Southwest Pacific, flew into Washington recently to make a secret report to Gen. H.F. Arnold, air chief, and to Capt. L. H. Campbell, Jr., army ordnance boss.

The 3,000-mile flight took only five days. "Dead Eye" returned almost immediately to New Guinea to assist in the Japs with a new series of improvising miracles.

Col. John R. V. Dickson is an ordnance officer of the fifth air force. According to an unusual aviation-ordnance memorandum received by Lt. Col. R. M. Bacher, commanding ordnance plant, Dickson is being sent to do the job impossible in a hurry.

Just prior to the Bismarck Sea engagement, Dickson worked like a madman. According to his recent report, the difficult task of developing, testing and manufacturing a four-second delay fuse for bombs that varied in size from 500 to 2,000 pounds. Such a fuse would enable our pilots, safely and effectively, to attack enemy surface vessels from extremely low altitudes. Although handicapped by the lack of ordinary manufacturing facilities, Dickson succeeded in making a workable fuse only 48 hours before a Jap armada was sighted beating its way down from Rabaul.

He was then called on to do the impossible — to produce sufficient fuses, using only simple field equipment, to enable our bomber crews to strike the Jap fleet at masthead level. Dickson delivered the goods. While every form of bombing was used on the Japs in the Bismarck Sea battle, Dickson's skip bombing fuses added enormously to the complete victory. Twelve Jap transports and 10 warships were destroyed.

Australia, the aviation-ordnance base of supplies, is as distant from New Guinea as Denver from New York. While waiting for a cargo to arrive, it is frequently necessary to make ordnance items out of whatever is on hand. "Dead Eye" frequently scrounged New Guinea junk piles to keep the fifth air force bombing and strafing. Out of odd pieces of scrap metal he makes everything from machine gun parts to bomb handling equipment.

"Dead Eye's" principal job, as ordnance officer, is to pass the ammunition to bomber and fighter pilots — bombs to drop on Salamaua and Vella Lavella, bombs for our long-range fighters smashing at Jap installations on Vitu Islands and Jap shipping off New Ireland, machine gun and cannon ammunition to blast Zero fighter planes over Japan's big air base on South Bougainville. There is magic in his of the day or night, sufficient ability to conjure up, at any hour munition for "for just one more raid."

Major Gen. Ellis Whitehead, commander of the fifth air force, has several times commended "Dead Eye" for "extraordinary speed in meeting urgent ordnance problems. Some weeks after the Bismarck Sea battle, "Dead Eye" was told that a newly established forward air base on the other side of a high mountain needed a truck badly. Without a moment's hesitation "Dead Eye" tore down a heavy army ammunition truck and loaded the parts into two big Douglas twin-engine transport planes. The job was done so well that ordnance troops at the forward air base were able to put the truck together again in one hour, using only a few hand wrenches. The Japs were then quickly blasted from a new quarter.

Aviation-ordnance in the Southwest Pacific is today employing jungle tactics of infiltration, by-passing and getting in behind the enemy. To be successful, these tactics demand speed, daring, surprise and improvisation.

"Dead Eye" still has a bag full of ordnance tricks to confound the badly nettled Nipponese all the way to Tokyo.

Land-Based, Carrier Planes Join in Raid

PEARL HARBOR, T. H. Sept. 24—(AP)—For the first time in the Pacific war, carrier planes and heavy land-based bombers have teamed up in a smashing offensive against Japanese island possessions.

This was disclosed by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz in amplified reports on operations the night of Sept. 18 and throughout the day Sept. 19 against enemy installations in the Gilbert Islands area.

Land-based planes from both the South Pacific and Central Pacific joined with carrier planes in making more than 200 sorties over a 500-square-mile area against islands near the equator about 2,400 statute miles southwest of Hawaii.

Formosans, Koreans Must Serve Army

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Inhabitants of Formosa, Japanese island off the coast of China, and Japanese-occupied Korea have been made liable to compulsory military service, the Domei news agency said in a broadcast recorded by U. S. government monitors.

The dispatch quoted President Elji Emau of the government information board as saying, "both the people of Korea and the people of Taiwan (Formosa), will assume the honor of military service and be accorded the privilege to serve as a shield for his majesty, the emperor, in the defense of our country."

Laundry Costs Man $600 in Houston

HOUSTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—Laundry service cost a married manufacturing salesman from New York $600 here yesterday—but he shelled out without a murmur.

Unable to get his socks and shirts laundered at a downtown hotel, he told his troubles to Mrs. Howard Levy, chairman of a War Bond booth in the lobby.

"Well, why don't you buy a $100 bond and let me wash your socks?" asked Mrs. Levy.

"And why don't you buy a $500 bond and I'll wash and iron your five shirts," chimed another bond saleswoman at the booth.

The salesman agreed.

The two women put out the laundry and Harris county moved $600 nearer its bond quota.

Leather Supplies Will Be Studied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—A study of leather supplies, now being made by the office of civilian requirements, will determine whether civilians may have to get along with fewer shoes.

This word came today from the Office of Price Administration when it was asked about reports in the leather industry that shoe rationing might be cut to two pairs a year. The present ration is three pairs.

Shortage of Cards For Christmas Seen

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 24—(AP)—You can get that holiday mailing list out of the bureau drawer and strike off two-thirds of the names, says Carl Austin, greeting-card wholesaler who today predicted a shortage of 1943 Christmas cards.

The supply will be about what it was last year, Austin said, but on the basis of present orders the demand will be from two to three times greater than in 1942, which was a record year.

Government regulations limit the use of paper for cards this year to 60 per cent of that used last year, Austin said, but he explained that production was being maintained through manufacture of thinner paper. He said that millions of new cards stored by manufacturers can not be packed because of shortages of envelopes.

Austin said the lack of labor had forced manufacturers to discontinue taking wholesale orders last July 1 and that only from 30 to 80 per cent of the orders have been delivered.

He predicted a more severe shortage next year of Mother's Day, Valentine and greeting cards of all kinds.

Chester Beasley Is Held by Germans

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
SHAMROCK, Sept. 24—S/Sgt. Chester Beasley, son of W. C. Beasley of this city, is a prisoner of war in Germany. This information was received here Tuesday in a telegram from the Red Cross at Washington, D. C.

Sergeant Beasley, a tall gunner on a B-17 in the European war zone, was reported "missing in action" by the war department on Aug. 31. The second message followed the first by 21 days.

The last telegram stated that the family would receive more information later.

The Shamrock youth has been in military service since Aug. 7, 1942, and received his gunner's wings in a camp in Utah. He had been overseas since June of this year.

His wife, the former Ima Lee Pepper, and seven-month-old daughter, De Lores Ann, reside in Shamrock.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"The more I read about it, Judge, the more I realize the tactics and requirements of this war are as different from the one I fought in 25 years ago as night is from day."

"Yes, and I can give you an example of how true that is, Fred. In World War I the chief uses of alcohol produced for war purposes were found in smokeless powder, medical supplies and chemical warfare materials. In this war the need for this product is far more vital because it is also used as a fuel to propel torpedoes, to make shatterproof glass for airplane windshields and instrument covers, to make lacquers used in camouflage equipment and as a base for synthetic rubber needed for tires, gas masks, paratroop equipment and dozens of other things."

"Every time I think of it, Fred, I realize how fortunate we were in having a beverage distilling industry in existence when war broke out... ready and willing to convert 100% to the production of this critically needed war product. I'm mighty sure bootleggers wouldn't have."

"Sorry-I've Done All I Can"

Don't tell that to the Invasion Troops!

3RD WAR LOAN

15 BILLION DOLLARS
(NON-BANKING QUOTA)

AMERICA is proud of the way you have responded to her call for help. In the First and Second War Loan Drives you opened your hearts—and your purses—and invested generously.

But this is no time to say, "Sorry, I've done all I can."

Not when our troops are smashing ahead on every front.

Not when the cry from every front is for more tanks . . . more guns . . . more planes to strike the knockout blow.

Not in your country's most critical hour.

Today, everyone who possibly can, must invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond. More if you possibly can. That's in addition to your regular War Bond subscriptions. Some of you must invest thousands in order to reach our national quota.

A big job? Yes! But INVASION is a big job, too! And that's what the 3rd War Loan is for—INVASION!

And it's for your loved ones, too . . . for the sons and brothers, sweethearts and husbands who are doing the fighting.

Can you look into your heart and say to them, "I've done all I can"?

Can you tell that to the Invasion Troops?

Of course you can't! No true American could! So NOW . . . when America needs your help as it never has in all history . . . make up your mind to do MORE in September. Invest in the safest way in the world! Invest out of current income, out of idle or accumulated funds. Back the invasion with at least one extra $100 War Bond this month.

Hold up your head and say, "I've done MORE!" Just as our boys are doing more all over the world today.

Safest Investments in the World

Victor Petriilo
James C. Petriilo, president of the American Federation of Musicians, has long been exercising the nerve powers of a dictator in his special field.

Before we come to the astounding legal and political implications of all this, let us look at it from the economic side. In a time of unparalleled labor shortage, when only the most essential work should be performed, Mr. Petriilo is trying to create unnecessary jobs.

But even if it were otherwise—even if it were true that musicians would benefit from the Petriilo policy at the expense of the rest of the country—there would be no excuse for permitting such high-handed action.

The Administration, Congress and the Supreme Court have among them placed in the hands of James Caesar Petriilo the power to force practically every musician in the country to join his union.

Common Ground

By H. C. MOLES
I speak the pass-word primal, I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms.

USUALLY NOT A RIGHT OR WRONG WAY TO REGULATE THE PUBLIC

If reports are correct we have one man in Washington who seems to realize the importance of freedom. It is Senior Deputy Administrator Chester Bowles, of the Office of Price Administration.

The only error in the statement is that there are thousands of wrong ways to regulate the public by price ceilings and rationing.

SECURITY NOT OPPORTUNITY

What most people have failed to realize is that all these laws intended to help the man with one talent, emphasize security and not opportunity.

And there can be no opportunity when people attempt to have security through government. Opportunity cannot follow when security is based on self-reliance and opportunity.

When the Railway Mediation Board failed to settle the dispute, they designated F. D. R. to appoint an emergency group to consider their position.

CRITICISM CAN BE COMPLIMENTARY

People who resent being criticized evidently do not realize criticism can be and often is complimentary.

This is true because no rational person would attempt to criticize the acts of an individual if he did not believe the individual could improve or do better.

Invariably it is not the man who compliments another that helps him the most. It is the man who is consistent and attempts to help other people in being consistent.

by the changing of ship models and methods, a turnover of 3600 workers per month seems to have dangers which cannot be over-estimated.

Again we point out that the danger of this system of "cost plus" or "set free" or whatever name you give it is that it brings on inefficiency.

Unless a curb is placed on public spending and unless unions are made accountable for the great sums of money they are collecting we will end up with vast sums of money in the hands of a few corporations and a few unions who will control our economic life.

It is public money from our taxes going into these huge pots and it is time we put a stop to it or establish regulations as to how this money is to be used.

News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER
SHOWDOWN—President Roosevelt recently conferred with the heads of railroad non-operating unions and his press secretary made a statement to the effect that "a good time was had by all."

The critical zone is New England. Owing to transportation problems its families rely on anthracite and furnace grates are fashioned accordingly.

People from Maine to Connecticut are disturbed because Italy will probably require the black diamonds from Britain which the mother country normally ships to Canada.

SECRET—Queen Anne lost all of her eighteen children through the ignorance of her doctors. At Pearl Harbor not a single patient reaching the operating table alive and whose wounds could be healed subsequently died.

This dramatic contrast is made in "A Hundred Years of Medicine" by D. H. Kossuth, entitled, "Treat Do Grow in Brooklyn."

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
There's an old Hollywood legend that movie queens buy their books by the yard to match their drapes.

The title of the book is "How to Be Attractive." You don't have to look at Joan Bennett twice to know that she knows the secrets.

There's even a chapter the men should read, "How to Attract Men." In which the star explains what she calls three popular myths.

Joan wrote in longhand. It took her a year and nine months. "Just a year longer than to have a baby," she laughs.

How to write a book. Joan said she started thinking about the book two years ago. She couldn't decide whether to write about raising children—she's the mother of three—a cook book or a book of beauty hints.

Actual writing of the book was strictly unorthodox. First thing she did, Joan said, was to figure out the chapter headings.

So I wrote and wrote some more and finally the publisher sent me the galley proofs.

Some of Joan's advice to the ladies on how to attract men: "Never publicly correct a man — for his manners, his English or his opinions."

Miraculous "sulfa drugs" were concealed at first through cupidry. Dr. Gerhard Domagk experimenting on cloth dyes for the German Farbenindustrie in 1932 stumbled on it.

AD INFINITUM

Various one-minute speeches objecting to the draft of fathers and reprinting of newspaper articles on that subject which the members should have seen anyhow, if they read the papers at all.

A one-minute speech by William P. Lambertson of Fairview, Kan., objecting to OPA price rollbacks to reduce the cost of living.

When you get back into the appendix of the Record, the going is even worse. What do you get?

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst
The great withdrawal of Hitlerian forces on the Russian front has taken on so much of the nature of a rout as to rank with Dunkerque as one of the pivotal crises of the whole war.

What started out as a planned withdrawal has deteriorated so rapidly under the pile-driver blows of the Red forces that the German high command is now faced with the problem of whether the Nazi armies can reach their prepared defenses west of the Dnieper river and avert a major disaster.

As this is written the unbelievable Red armies are almost at the gates of Kiev, the strategic capital. They're just about where they were two years ago when Hitler was smashing them back with arrogant assurance.

The whole unwieldy German right wing, stretching 750 miles from Smolensk in the north to the Crimea in the south, is shivering and cracking under the fierce Red assaults.

Moscow is watching the battle for these two cities with intense expectancy. Smolensk is one of the important crossings of the upper Dnieper. This ancient city is the gateway to Moscow.

Whether the Nazis hold on the Dnieper, we are witnessing the breaking up of Hitler's power. He is definitely on the defensive, and will so continue, with lessening resistance, until the end.

WE DON'T HEAR OF MANY PEOPLE SLIPPING ON A BANANA SKIN NOW. Make friends with your creditors, but never make creditors of your friends.

PRODIGAL SON (to his father)—What is the best way to approach you for a little loan? FATHER—Well, if I were you, I'd make the request by telephone, then hang up before you receive an answer.

"How times have changed! I can remember when that salesman would threaten to sue the railroad if his berth wasn't made up on time!"

WARTIME HEALTH: Naturally Thin? It's No Sign Of Health Disorder

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS
Written for The News

Leanness is a state that is frequently considered to be the result of poor health. This erroneous conclusion is probably due to the fact that many people who are lean have lost weight as the result of disease.

Weight-loss is, of course, a common sign of illness, and to consider the conditions so associated with weight-loss would be to review the majority of all diseases.

Many people are considered to be lean whose weights are still within the lower limits of the normal. Active, growing children of apprehensive parents are usually in this group.

Many individuals are thin because they have inherited a predisposition to that physical build. Under such circumstances, leanness is not a symptom of ill-health.

EMOTIONAL CONFLICTS
At times, extreme underweight results from emotional conflicts. This condition is usually associated with a distaste or disgust for food and not just a lack of appetite.

Doctors are scarce. Dr. Masters' daily column in this newspaper will help to keep you well.

SEATTLE—A technical engineer for an aircraft company asked the court to make his name Philip Max Kaye.

Bill—Jack, if you had five bucks in your pocket, what would you do? Jack—Check up to find whose pants I had on.

First Londoner—What do you do with your old razor blades? Second Londoner—Since the first six months of the war I've been shaving with them.

The trouble with a lot of public speakers is that they pass up too many opportunities to sit down.

a compound which later was proved a cure for certain infections in human beings. The company withheld any announcement until it could patent the specific, called by the trade name Protosil.

"Since Domak's original discovery," comment the authors, "nothing of real value has been contributed by German laboratory experts. Has this apathy been due to limitation to research by the Nazi regime?"

REMEDY—Behind the Red Cross blood bank, there is another interesting story told by Haagenes and Lloyd. Dr. L. F. Shackell of St. Louis in 1909 worked out a new method of drying fresh foodstuffs such as meats, fruits and vegetables. The material was thoroughly frozen and dried in a vacuum. (It could be kept in this way indefinitely.)

The doctor later tried out this preserving method of blood serum and plasma with the result that today the yellowish particles stored and shipped to battlefields and there mixed with sterile water are saving unnumbered lives.

Physicians once thought toxic breezes from marshes engendered the fever which now attacks so many United States soldiers in the tropics. They therefore named it mal (bad) aria (air). They have since learned that swamp mosquitoes spread the plague.

Contrary to popular conception, quinine is not a perfect corrective. The drug "exerts hostile action on certain phases of the life-cycle of the parasite in the blood. It has little or no action on other phases."

Plasmoquine and atetrin, also have controlling influences. Thus the two synthetics—say the writers—are "valuable not as substitutes but as auxiliaries to quinine." The search still goes on for an ideal remedy.

VIOLENCE—Reasons for the mysterious strikes which erupted in Portugal following the flight of Mussolini are clarified by a newly arrived client of a New York bank. They were only coincidental with Il Duce's fall. Local conditions, not foreign, primed the discharge.

While Lisbon batted on the fruits of neutrality, the rest of the country was not so fortunate. Profiteers cornered food. Factory workers staged the walkouts in order to force better distribution of the limited supplies. Chief disturbances occurred along the capital's water front and in plants owned by British investors. Not until cavalry patrolled the streets was order restored. The extent of the violence was hidden by the censors.

Irish, Tigers Due To Topple Pitt And Penn

By OLEO ROBERTSON
NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Having stuffed their pockets full of good luck charms, disposed of the neighbor's black cat and consulted the various sectional experts we plunge head-first into football's annual guessing game.

Pittsburgh-Notre Dame—Pitt has Coach Clark Shaughnessy, his "T" formation and host of youngsters. Notre Dame also has the "T" plus Angelo Bertelli to make it click. Notre Dame by a wide margin.

Pennsylvania-Princeton—A couple of Ivy-clad schools getting together earlier than usual. But there appears to be too many ex-Penn players at Princeton so it's the Tigers.

Northwestern-Indiana—Otto Graham is back at Northwestern plus plenty of reserves. Nough said.

Minnesota-Missouri—The Gophers are not the powerhouse of old but still should whip the big boys.

Great Lakes-Iowa—Purdue beat the Sailors last week but the Hawk-eyes aren't the Boilermakers, so we'll strong along with the Gobs.

Michigan-Western Michigan—A breather for the power-lined Wolverine and the writer.

Ohio State-Ohio Pre-Flight—Looks like Ohio State will drop its first opening game since 1894. The navy boys have too much experience for Paul Brown's 17-year-old student eleven.

Louisiana State-Georgia—Too many bayou freshmen for Georgia's lightweights.

Georgia Tech-North Carolina—Tech is touted as "the team" of the war-riddled Southeastern Conference but North Carolina has a squad of 92 players, including 40 backs. So a weak vote for the Tarheels.

Navy-North Carolina Pre-Flight—The Navy can field an all-veteran team while the Cloudbusters have rebuilt since last season's successful campaign. Without hesitation, the Middies from Annapolis.

Army-Villanova—This may be one of the best Army eleven in recent years so until proven otherwise we'll go along with Earl Blaik.

Camp Grant-Wisconsin—The Soldiers.

Marquette-Purdue—The Boilermakers.

Duke-Richmond—A light workout for the Blue Devils.

Yale-U. S. Coast Guard (New London)—Yale.

Rochester-Colgate—Rochester whipped Yale but can't see De-Groot's squad making it two straight Colgate.

Penn State-Bucknell—Bucknell should profit by that one-point defeat at the hands of Cornell, Bucknell.

Cornell-Sampson Naval Station—The Collegians.

Southern Methodist-Tulsa—The Oklahomans, forfeited by 4-F's and transfers get the nod. Tulsa.

Southern California-U. C. L. A.—The Trojans have too much line power and experience for the Uclans.

St. Marys-California—St. Marys

Warren; Colorado College over New Mexico; College of Pacific over St. Marys Pre-Flight; and on Sunday Dartmouth to start off a winning season against Holy Cross.

Housing Bill Passes House

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—A bill increasing by $400,000,000 the federal housing authority's fund for insurance of loans for housing in war production areas was passed by the house Thursday and sent to the senate.

The measure extends the life of the insurance operations from July 1, 1944, to July 1, 1945, and increases the authorization of insurance for war housing loans from $1,200,000,000 to $1,600,000,000.

Convicts Want To Join Army

MALESTER, Okla., Sept. 24—(AP)—Fighters, Inc., a group of 350 state penitentiary inmates who volunteered for war training, have issued a new appeal for chances to fight.

In letters to congressmen and selective service officials, the organization announced that it was making a petition to be decorated with a gold star for each member freed to enter the army.

"It will honor the only man (in Fighters, Inc.) who has been paroled for induction — Phil Kennamer," the letters stated.

Kennamer, son of retired Federal Judge Franklin E. Kennamer, was paroled after serving about seven years of a 25-year manslaughter sentence and was immediately inducted into the army.

The convicts asked members of congress for public statements on their efforts to obtain induction of prisoners who have served part of their sentences and are morally, mentally and physically fit.

They suggested that acceptable convicts could take the places of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers and asked Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, to expediate the classification of prisoners.

A similar request was addressed to Gov. Robert S. Kerr and Col. Clive Murray, state draft director, and the state pardon and parole board was asked to make a public statement of its attitude.

Eleanor Roosevelt Returns to States

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24—(AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt arrived here at 9:20 a. m. Pacific war time, Thursday after a tour of New Zealand and Australia, and said she was particularly anxious to visit her son, Lt. Col. James Roosevelt.

Mrs. Roosevelt's plane flew the 2,400 miles from Honolulu in the unusually fast time of only 10 hours and 35 minutes.

She was to hold a press conference and then leave immediately for New York to see Colonel Roosevelt before he has to report for duty.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who began her tour Aug. 17, covered 23,145 miles by air in 107 hours and 45 minutes of actual flying time.

She made 17 island stops, in addition to other eight-day tour of New Zealand and an 11-day tour of Australia.

HELP PROBLEM

BOISE, Idaho—For 10 days three trustees in the Idaho state penitentiary labored, canning fruits and vegetables — but the pile of peaches, pears and tomatoes grew and grew.

Finally the men fled.

Warden Sam Porch hopes they'll be captured soon.

"These peaches are getting riper every minute,"

Civilian Destruction in Italy Is Terrific; Many Are Killed

By HELMAN MORIN
WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Sept. 23—(Delayed)—(AP)—The village carpenter was making coffins.

He had to make them swiftly, for people were waiting. They had come out of the mountains after the battle had passed and found their dead lying in the streets or buried beneath the wreckage of stone huts. And so they waited outside the carpenter's shop.

He worked fast, nailing rough boards together with a few quick blows. It took a little more time to make a cross for each one and tack it on the cover. Then he would gesture to the peasants and they would take another coffin away.

This was in Altavilla shortly after the Americans occupied it. Battipaglia has been virtually wiped off the map. There's not a single habitable dwelling nor usable building. It's been bombed and shelled out of existence.

From Battipaglia to Eboli stretch fields where the Americans duelled with German tanks, heavy artillery and giant bombs. The road is so pitted with craters that it's hardly passable. It passes a field so chewed and torn that it looks like ploughed ground.

For miles and miles the brown clay has been thrown up in mounds over the grass and wheat.

Concrete culverts are smashed beyond recognition. Broken wires from an electric railway hang from poles still standing. Rails are twisted upward like the curved eaves of a Chinese temple.

Eboli is a miniature Battipaglia. Fires still are burning there, crackling in the silent streets.

"Let them burn," said an Italian policeman. "Perhaps it's better that people find nothing when they come back."

The people all left Battipaglia and Eboli weeks ago when the bombers first began coming and when they knew the war would pass this way. They are trudging back out of the hills now, carrying their bundles, leading children by one hand and perhaps a donkey or goat by the other.

But in Altavilla most of the people stayed.

That is why the horror is greater there. They scooped out holes in the dirt floors of their houses and covered them with timbers and stones, and like animals they clung to their homes. Death and mutilation found them as the shells and bombs fell and the walls toppled. Fear still stamps the faces of the living.

Americans had set up a first aid station where people came crawling to their homes. Death and mutilation found them as the shells and bombs fell and the walls toppled. Fear still stamps the faces of the living.

Mothers and fathers appeared carrying the lifeless forms of children. Doctors gently sent them away. A woman walked down the center of a street, her eyes glazed and staring. She murmured over and over: "Maria! Maria!" Suddenly she screamed and began smashing her head against a wall. A soldier lifted her and carried her to a hospital.

As groups passed carrying coffins people crossed themselves and averted their eyes.

A sudden explosion somewhere in the hills above sent the street into a panic. People ran, stumbling and falling over each other.

When an airplane passed overhead they trembled and asked the soldiers: "Americano?"

The soldiers told them yes and that the war now had gone ahead — away from their village — and that they had nothing further to fear.

SHIPYARD ART

SAN FRANCISCO—Painters at Marin shipyards in Sausalito, Calif., demonstrated their activities are not confined to slapping paint on ship plate.

The shipyard workers have hung a representative group of canvases at the San Francisco museum of art.

California Is Hot & Bothered
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24—(AP)—Blistering temperatures were recorded at various Southern California points again Wednesday, the U. S. weather bureau revealed after its 24-hour war-imposed silence.

In Los Angeles the mercury mounted to 103 at the bureau's rooftop station and 107 at its ground station, highest figures since a week-long heat wave in September, 1939, which shattered all records. Highest temperature reported Wednesday was 113 degrees, at Riverside, while nearby San Bernardino registered 112 for the second successive day.
