TO INSIST ON PRESENTATION OF HIS SIDE

REFUSES TO STEP OUT AS CENTENNIAL HEAD IMMEDIATELY

DALLAS, Sept. 28. (AP)—Walter D. Cline said tonight he would not "step out" as managing director of the Texas Centennial central exposition without getting a "fair" presentation of his side of the question before the public.

The directorate of the central exposition voted to accept Cline's resignation this past week. Officials said he had resigned effective Oct. 1 when they informed him they planned to cut his salary and restrict his authority. Cline said he was forced out.

"There are only two things that matter much in this," Cline said, "and the first is that I brought a fair reputation to Dallas from west Texas and I intend to take one back when I rejoin my family."

"The second is that I am willing to step out of my position as managing director of the exposition but I want to do that without muddying the water and injuring this great enterprise."

He said his statement was prompted by his failure to find a letter from the executive committee outlining changes which were contemplated in order to divide authority of those planning the exposition and also reducing his salary.

"R. L. Thornton promised to send me a letter outlining these proposed changes ten days ago, but I went through my mail carefully today and could not find anything from him. I want them to lay something on the table."

ACT DESCRIBED AS PRIME AID TO RECOVERY

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF AAA UPHELD AND PRAISED

FREMONT, Neb., Sept. 28. (AP)—President Roosevelt today hoisted the flag over the agricultural program to challengers in apparently unflinching his first issue in the 1936 reelection campaign.

In the heart of the nation's farm lands before farmers of the important northwest states, Mr. Roosevelt asserted a $5,300,000,000 increase in agricultural income over the 1932 level, and emphasized the agricultural adjustment act as a prime aid.

He said the effort of the AAA to provide cooperation among farmers and crop control "is the true function of government under our constitution."

WORCESTER, Mass., Sept. 28. (AP)—From the reluctant lips of Newell P. Sherman, husky 28-year-old choir singer, charged with drowning his 22-year-old wife, the state today forced an admission of illicit relations with the other woman in the case.

JAMAICAN AND CUBAN CITIES HIT BY STORM

27 DEAD AND 300 ARE INJURED IN CIEN-FEUGOS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. (AP)—Red Cross disaster workers at Belle Glade, Fla., notified national headquarters tonight that 80 per cent of automobile-owning residents of the Lake Okechobee area already had evacuated.

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 28. (AP)—Red Cross relief trains speeded evacuation from the treacherous Everglades sections tonight but the fierce tropical hurricane which had raged toward Miami for 17 hours suddenly veered off and headed up the Atlantic, 40 miles off Florida's east coast.

The weather bureau said that Miami and cities along the lower Florida east coast, believed earlier to be in the direct path of the storm, would apparently escape the brunt of the hurricane which had taken 27 lives as it ripped across Cuba and Jamaica.

Evacuation of the Lake Okechobee area was ordered late today as a tropical hurricane which killed at least 27 persons and injured 300 in Jamaica and Cuba threatened Miami and the south Florida coast.

In the Lake Okechobee area in 1928, 2,000 persons were killed when hurricane-lashed waters overspread surrounding rich farm lands.

Cutting 150 mile path through three Cuban provinces after striking Jamaica, the disturbance was expected to pass near Miami early tonight.

Negress Is Held For Beating Aged Marshall Woman

Further search revealed a bloodstained dress, which a neighbor identified as one worn by the negress, she saw fleeing from the Bailey home.

The negress arrested denied any knowledge of the incident when questioned at a negress dwelling, Deputy Hamp Little, however, noticed the three bloodstains and forced her to remove her shoes. Bloodstained currency was found in one.

WTCC States Tax Policy

With the Texas state deficit estimated at 10 millions and the potential costs of old age pensions estimated all the way from $7,500,000 to $56,000,000 a year, the officers and directors of the West Texas chamber of commerce have addressed a letter to West Texas members of the legislature outlining their attitude on current legislative proposals.

WTCC leaders fear that the "unconscionable burden" on real estate will be hopelessly burdensome as a result of the pensions. Although admitting frankly that new sources of revenue must be found, the chamber notes in West Texas "a growing and insistent demand that the total load of ad valorem taxes be decreased permanently rather than increased." Constitutional limits in many political subdivisions have been reached. Assessed values often are equalling or exceeding market values. The statement adds:

"In all fairness and justice the tax load on real estate should be lightened. It is not fair for real estate, representing only one-third of the wealth of the state, to bear 75 per cent of all the taxes of the state and its political subdivisions. It is not just either for taxes to consume so great a percentage of the net returns from property. It is stated by authorities that ad valorem taxes are consuming on an average of 99 1/2 per cent of the net earnings of property. Our staggering amount of tax delinquency estimated at $150,000,000 is proof of the fact that property is not earning its taxes and that these taxes are becoming confiscatory. Surely every reason of justice and fairness exists for giving the property owner some tax relief.

"This is an especially important matter in West Texas. All we have in West Texas is our lands, livestock, and other visible property. Our welfare is dependent upon our net earnings from property, and the ad valorem tax load is stagnating West Texas. Because of taxes, land tenantry is increasing and our lands, homes and property are reverting back to Eastern and Northern bond holders. There is little investment in, or exchange of property and this only at ruinous low prices, which leaves the property owner stranded and on the relief roll. In addition our assessed values are higher in West Texas than elsewhere and we pay proportionately more into the state treasury than other sections. We feel that nothing would contribute more to the recovery and prosperity of West Texas than taking some of the burden of taxes off real estate.

"Many other states in the Union have lightened the tax burden on real estate and we believe that Texas should and must do the same thing. Now, when the question of new revenues and taxes confront us in order to provide relief to the destitute and unfortunate, it is imperative that we, like other states, also give the destitute property owner relief. We, therefore, suggest that at least one-half of new revenues raised be used for the purpose of supplanting and replacing present taxes on real estate and visible property, and we request your support of this proposition."

The chamber's statement further pointed out that in other states voting old age pensions need was made the condition of grants. These range from "total destitution" to "resources of not more than $30." It is assumed that the legislature will insert a similar requirement. There are said to be about 283,000 persons in Texas over 65 years of age, of whom 41,787 are on relief rolls. To give a pension to all would require 56 millions annually, which is twice the amount of money now being spent annually on Texas public schools. It is suggested that pensions to the needy would amount to no more than $7,500,000 annually.

But where can Old Man Texas get the $7,500,000 when he is not making ends meet now? In supporting a general sales tax, the statement concludes:

"In the end, the consumer pays nearly all of the taxes any how, and why not now, when the state must have additional revenue. Here is a square and honest sales tax stripped of subterfuge and evasion. A gross receipts tax is merely an evasion, not supposed to be passed on to the consumer, but which will be passed on to the consumer in a greater percentage than a definite sales tax. The consumer should not be tricked into believing that he is not going to pay his tax when the facts are that he will pay it. It would stagnate and ruin the merchant to absorb a gross receipts tax and the welfare of the state demands that merchants be not penalized by an additional tax. Natural resource taxes will not produce enough money and besides we can't tax out of existence our best means of giving employment to people. The income tax field is already occupied by the federal government and will in future years be greatly added to by the government.

"There remains only the general sales tax paid by the consumer from which to raise adequate revenues. Twenty-eight other states including three of our bordering states have adopted it in order to provide for welfare needs and to relieve ad valorem taxes. A two or three per cent sales tax would raise from thirty to sixty million dollars. Here is an ample fund from which to take care of the old age pensions, to give property some tax relief and to balance the state's budget. From such a fund the state could abolish the state and school ad valorem tax, thereby relieving property from a portion of its unfair tax load. We urge your support of a general sales tax providing at least one-half of the revenue therefrom be used to supplant ad valorem taxes."

DOGS HAVE THEIR DAY, WITH BEST BEHAVIOR BEING SHOWN

Fido stepped out in society yesterday afternoon, and, in keeping with the occasion, he left his customary bad manners at home. There was not one fight at the dog banquet and show attended by scores of dogs and their owners in front of the Home Supply grocery and market. There were big dogs and little dogs, handsome dogs and ugly dogs, but all of them were surprisingly courteous.

James Mannatt, grocery store manager, was in charge of the event, which was sponsored by Swift & company, and ten cans of dog food were given each winner of the contests. H. D. Tucker and Frank Hunt were judges.

Although most of those attending were canine guests, Jack Cooper was present with his flag-adorned pony, and Robert Bank of White Deer brought his 8-month-old swift gray fox which he found near Adrian.

One of L. S. Young's stately Russian wolf hounds, Andy, won the prize for having the longest tail. Mr. Young brought both of his wolf hounds. They had been rabbit hunting Saturday morning.

Led by Mary Robinson, an impressive silver gray German police. Lady, was awarded the prize for being the largest dog present. Smallest among the dogs was a Boston terrier puppy owned by Mrs. Guy Perry and her daughter, Dolores. The pup, being too small for the usual variety of harness, wore a tiny silk harness made at home. It was carried to the show in a basket.

Sonny Boy, a wire haired terrier entered by Harold McMurtry, was considered the ugliest of the dogs. Prize for being the best all-around dog went to Dynamite, the double nosed bird dog owned by Mrs. Oscar Dotson. Because of the unusual nose, a picture of the dog appeared in the Denver Post four years ago.

Skippy, a little fox terrier belonging to Norma Baker, was judged the trickiest dog. The dog, in dress coat and bonnet, stood on a tricycle several minutes while his owner pushed the tricycle before the crowd.

Many dogs which were not entered in the contests also drew much attention among spectators. There were, for instance, two Chihuahua puppies, one of them white, in the arms of Mrs. G. C. Henshaw of Shelytown. Mrs. Henshaw explained that these dogs could do numerous tricks at home but that they were afraid of the crowd. Billy Waters carried a tiny rat terrier wrapped in a blanket.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McKay and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Wade are spending this week-end in Carlsbad, N. M., visiting the famous cavern.

MORE ATTRACTIVE HOMES ARE GOAL OF NATIONAL FURNITURE WEEK--PAMPA DEALERS READY

BIG NEW STOCKS TO BE SEEN IN EACH LOCAL STORE

National Furniture week, opening tomorrow, will be observed by Pampa dealers.

Large stocks of the newest in furniture will be displayed during this week in all local furniture stores. Special prices, guaranteeing savings, will be offered shoppers.

Furnishings of all kinds—fresh from the industry's factories—the ready for the fall season, when America, after a summer of outdoor recreation, returns home for the winter months. From the basement to the attic, from the living room to the kitchen . . . for the farm home and the Park avenue penthouse . . . for the two-room kitchenette and the forty-room mansion . . . nothing has been overlooked.

"National Furniture week has only one purpose," it was asserted in headquarters at Chicago, "and that is to focus attention everywhere on the importance of the American home and its furnishings."

Furniture Factories Busy

Cooperating with the four national furniture associations, are thousands of factories producing literally tens of thousands of items that go into the furnishing of the modern home and the furniture and department stores of the nation, bringing these new creations to every city and town in the country.

"If you need new furniture, buy it now, but whether you invest a cent in new furnishings, devote some thought to your home this week," the home makers of the nation were advised. "Attend the displays, arranged by furniture dealers. You'll find new ideas in decoration on view . . . new ways to make your home more comfortable and more livable. Restructure the rooms you haven't touched for years . . . freshen them with new ideas, new furniture, or both. Make America's homes this fall better places in which to live and in which to rear Americans of the future," is the word.

Prices for furniture and related lines have risen little from the depression low. It was pointed out, thus affording an opportunity to accomplish much, at relatively small cost, that may not be repeated. By next January, according to forecasts by authorities in the industry, prices will be 10 per cent higher, due to steadily increasing costs for raw materials and the continuation, practically throughout the industry, of NRA wages and hours.

The last few years have brought great changes in the home furnishings field, leaders have pointed out. The well-furnished home, 1935 model, bears as little resemblance to its predecessor of 10 years ago as do the modern motor cars compared to 1926 models. While certain general styles, favorites for generations, continue in vogue, as

CONGRESSMAN JONES TALKS ON GOVERNMENT TO STUDENT BODY

CANYON, Sept. 28.—Congressman Marvin Jones addressing an audience of more than 1,000 college students and citizens of Canyon Thursday defined policies and principles of government. This was the first program of the West Texas State Teachers college in connection with its observation of the Texas Centennial. Said Congressman Jones: "A policy of government has to do with changing conditions. Principles of government might be compared to machinery. The same laws of mechanics apply to simple and complex mechanisms. These laws of mechanics are comparable to principles of government and the way they are applied is comparable to policies of government."

Continuing his discussion Congressman Jones said that for 25 years the government of the United States had been in a static period and that the time had arrived when changes were necessary for it to keep up with changed ways of living.

The Farm Credit association is the one phase of the new deal of which Congressman Jones is most proud, according to his own statement. He has been identified with problems of agriculture ever since he became a congressman. In connection with the problems of farmers, he said: "If there had been no tariff and no special organization for other industries the farmer would have needed no special legislation but since these things prevailed, agriculture's problems had to be attacked vigorously to keep the farm population of the United States from being reduced to peasantry."

Jones is spending his brief vacation in Amarillo and vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Baum of Elk City, Okla., and Mrs. Maude Gaines and daughters Beverly and Jean of Amarillo are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schwartz.

AT FALL WINDS
when you protect your skin this way!
A dab of Cara Nome Foundation Cream rubbed gently into the skin before applying face powder and rouge. That's all. Rich oils prevent winds from drying and coarsening the skin. Make-up stays on longer, too.
