This one's going to hurt !

INVASION COMES HIGH—in blood and money.

Part of the cost must be paid with human life. That means deep and lasting hurt for many and many an American family.

Part of the cost must be paid in cash . . . this September. And that's going to hurt, too!

The 3rd War Loan Is Here!

To pay for invasion—to get the money to keep our fighting machine going—you, and every man or woman in America, are asked to invest in at least one extra $100 Bond in September.

$100 EXTRA, mind you—for everybody!

No man or woman can hold back. No man or woman can point to his Payroll buying and say, "They don't mean me!" No man or woman can say, "I'm already lending 10% or 12% or 20%—I'm doing enough!"

Sure—it's going to hurt. It's going to take more than spare cash this time—more than just money that might have gone for fun. It's going to take money we have tucked away. It's going to take part of the money we've been living on—money that might have meant extra shoes or clothes or food! Money that might have gone for anything that we can get along without!

Sure—it'll be tough to dig up that extra money. But we've got to do it—and we will.

We'll do it partly because of the look that would come over the faces of our fighting men if we should fail. We'll do it partly because the cheapest, easiest way out of this whole rotten business is for everybody to chip in all he can and help end it quick. We'll do it partly because there's no finer, safer investment in the world today than a U.S. War Bond.

But mostly, we'll do it because America is right smack in the middle of the biggest, deadliest, dirtiest war in history.

And we're Americans.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The stars were shining bright when Sgt. Carl E. W. Bell of Rising Star, Texas, stepped into the Hollywood Canter.

The red-haired and freckled soldier with 11 years in the army and 10 months in combat zones to his credit stared a bit bewilderedly when Miss Dietrich, Deanna Durbin and Lana Turner met him at the door and formed a guard of honor.

Bell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bell, reside in Rising Star, but his wife and two children came to Pomona, Calif., to be nearer him when he was invalided home after serving in New Guinea, where he was awarded the Purple Heart.

Melody Leads Weekly Parade of Pictures

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON

There's fall music in the air in the films coming to Pampa screens this week. Only one of the bookings listed has war as its theme, all the others center around music with the exception of a Red Skelton picture, and that has "whistling" in the title.

Briefly, the yarn is about Judy as a young singer, who tries to crash her way into the attention of a producer, played by Walters, (Okla.) Van Heflin, manages to make his prima donna jealous, but finally comes out winner musically and romantically.

Judy Garland and her newest leading man, Van Heflin, in a romantic moment from M-G-M's "Presenting Lily Mars," now playing at the LaNora theater. The film follows the rise of a young actress to stardom.

On the glamorous Broadway angle is "Du Barry Was a Lady," musical extravaganza in technicolor, with Red Skelton, Lucille Ball and Gene Kelly, as the principals.

Plot centers around the time Red, a checkroom attendant, wins the sweepstakes. May (Lucille Ball), floor show star, agrees to marry him but plans hit a snag when Red accidentally drinks a micky and dreams he is Louis XV of France and May his Madame Du Barry.

The Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the LaNora, has lovely girls, lilting Cole Porter songs and Tommy Dorsey and his orchestra.

Henry Aldrich got his usual quota of trouble in the newest of the Paramount series "Henry Aldrich Swings It," with Henry's headaches set to classical music that insists on swinging.

Opening a three-day run at the Crown is Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Whistling in Dixie," starring Red Skelton as the radio detective who encounters crime face to face with deconcerting results to "I Dood It."

On the serious side is Columbia's "Commandos Strike at Dawn," based on the Cosmopolitan magazine story and starring Paul Muni. Hundreds of war-trained commandos enact real-life roles in this picture, directed by John Farrow of "Wake Island" fame.

The cast includes Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Robert Coote, Lillian Gish and Anna Lee. It is Muni's first picture in two years. The United States, Canada and Great Britain cooperated with Columbia in making this film. At the State three days beginning today.

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE
WASHINGTON, —(AP)—Expectant mothers in many war plants are fired or told to take a leave of absence when their condition is discovered.

This leads to concealment of pregnancy by a woman who wants to work or needs to work.

Those statements are part of a report by Dr. Charlotte Silverman of the labor department's children's bureau which studied policies in 170 war plants employing more than 250,000 women in 11 scattered states.

In the Child, the bureau's monthly publication, Dr. Silverman said: no plant in the study, with one exception, allowed pregnant women time off to go to prenatal clinics. No plant allowed time off for obtaining prenatal care from any other source.

Texas Showers Help Pastures, Maturing Crops

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Scattered showers in the week ended Sept. 12 aided pastures and some late maturing Texas crops but were not sufficient to effectively break protracted drought in a large part of the state.

The U. S. department of agriculture reported that pastures, range grasses, fall vegetables and later maturing crops of cotton, sorghum, peanuts and sweet potatoes benefited to a limited extent from rain.

The general situation was spotted. Drier areas were in the low rolling plains, the crops timbers, the western half of Edwards plateau and the trans-Pecos district. The areas most completely relieved are in the central, southern and eastern districts.

Precipitation received in the upper coastal area was not needed and delayed rice and cotton harvest operations. Harvest progressed satisfactorily in most other areas. Some progress was made in the seeding of wheat in the northwest but most of the acreage still remains to be planted.

Some sorghums in the northwest matured in localities favored by the scattered rains. Harvest on the high plains was becoming general.

Corn harvest was generally well advanced, although varying considerably between areas.

Most of the cotton crop was out in south and south central Texas, with stalks being destroyed, or livestock being turned into fields. Frequent showers slowed up harvest in the coastal counties and delayed remnant harvest in south central counties.

Peak harvest operations were still under way in northern and eastern counties, and had begun in extreme West Texas and in many northwestern counties. Scattered showers were of some benefit to late cotton in favored localities in the northeastern areas, but damaged open cotton in other areas.

Sweet potato prospects were improved in some localities by additional rains, as harvesting operations gained momentum.

Pastures and range feeds were in period of time so a mother could have a longer time at home with her infant and be stronger when she returned to work.

7. Cooperation among plant physicians, private practitioners and public health departments. Dr. Silverman ended: "Industrial maternity problems are part of community maternity problems and deserve the combined interest of all persons and agencies concerned."

1. Avoidance of penalizing regulations, so women will be encouraged to report their pregnancies as early as possible. Concealment, through fear of losing a job, may have serious consequences.

2. A health evaluation of every case. Such findings, and not pregnancy itself, should form the basis for any decision regarding the continued employment of a woman who becomes pregnant.

3. A job evaluation of every case and, if necessary, transfer to suitable, non-hazardous work. The health of the expectant mother can be protected and her usefulness as a worker continued if she is placed in a suitable job.

4. Periodic reports on physical condition. Such continuing health appraisal is a simple procedure and offers reassurance to employes and employer.

5. Reasonable protective minimum periods of leave before and after delivery.

6. Job protection for a reasonable

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Appearance of Julius Klorfein at a War Bond rally these days has become a signal for a sunburst of million dollar smiles on the faces of bond sellers.

KANSAS CITY—A TWA plane heard a strange radio call one day in mid-Atlantic, relates Otis Frank Bryan, vice-president of Transcontinental & Western Air, Inc.

The voice was that of a German submarine commander, he added.

WICHITA, Kans.—Frank L. Roe is being sought here by postal officials; in fact, they've been looking for him ever since the last war.

They want to give Roe his army discharge papers issued at Camp Funston Dec. 24, 1918.

Mexicans Load Governor With Numerous Gifts

By DAVE CHEAVENS MEXICO CITY, Sept. 12 (AP)—When Gov. Coke Stevenson returns home to Texas, he will look like a big game hunter home from the Rocky Mountains. His warm-hearted Mexican hosts all the way from Chihuahua City to the capital of Mexico, have showered him with gifts. Practically everything he audibly admired, except a 2,000-pound Swiss bull on exhibit at the Victoria Fair, and the Sierra Madre mountains, was forthwith handed over to him.

Ground Crews Make Possible Allied Attacks

AT A U. S. FORTRESS BASE IN ENGLAND.—(Correspondence of the AP)—Master Sgt. Leon Tribby and his crew have never flown back from the target with two engines out and their nose shot away. They've never destroyed any German fighters and never have come home to a breath-taking belly landing. But they have done as much as any men who have made the American bombing campaign against Germany a success. They've accomplished the impossible.

O'Daniel Asks 6-Year Term for Presidents

CHICAGO, Sept. 12 (AP)—U. S. Senator W. L. O'Daniel (D-Tex.) has proposed a constitutional amendment which would prohibit any member of congress or the president or vice president from serving more than six years. He suggested that the same amendment provide that one-third of the house be elected every two years, as in the senate now. O'Daniel made the suggestions in a speech Thursday at the national food conference, in which he denounced what he called "Communist theorists, fellow travelers and bungling bureaucrats in Washington."

Official Sounds Typhus Warning

AUSTIN, Sept. 12 (AP)—The fact that typhus is on a slight decline in Texas should not for one moment lull us into a false sense of security, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer declared today. "There is still entirely too much of this disabling and sometimes fatal disease," he said. Inasmuch as typhus is spread by the flea which feeds on typhus infected rats, control measures, according to Cox, depend on rat eradication through means of starving out and building out rats as well as trapping and poisoning them. He stated that regardless of what a fine garbage collection and disposal system a community maintains, it is practically worthless in rodent control unless garbage is put into a garbage pail and the pail kept covered at all times.

Balkan Patriots Contact U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12 (AP)—Isolated by German invasion armies for two years, the ingenious fighting patriots of Yugoslavia have established direct radio contact with the United States. The first messages from the guerrilla-operated station tells of "great excitement" in the Balkans over the Allied drive into neighboring Italy. The state department meanwhile confirmed that the station was being operated by the patriot forces of Gen. Draha Mihailovich.

Cholera, Plague Hits Japanese

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Cholera and the plague are marching against the Japanese in the Southwest Pacific.

Data compiled by The Netherlands information bureau here disclosed today that typhoid, malaria, dysentery and other epidemic diseases are waging guerrilla warfare against the empire-builders from Nippon.

Evidence of the serious difficulties encountered by health authorities in the Japanese-occupied areas is found, says the bureau, in recent Japanese-controlled news broadcasts in the Netherlands East Indies, French Indo-China and elsewhere.

A Domei (Japanese official news agency) reports from Bandung, Java, for instance, tells of alarming outbreaks of plague in western Java, where Japanese military authorities have ordered evacuation of the stricken districts.

Not only bubonic plague (the black death of the middle ages) but the more deadly and more infectious pneumonic plague has been spreading.

In the Celebes a malaria epidemic is reported raging. Malaria also is handicapping Japanese military operations on Southwest battlefronts.

Other reports broadcast by Japanese-controlled stations say that an epidemic of cholera which has been uncontrolled in Thailand since last June now has appeared in the Philippines.

FIRM DONATES $8,500 TO RED CROSS

Morris B. Zaie, (left) president, and Morris Goldfine, manager, of the Zale Jewelry company, Pampa, have contributed $8,500 to the overseas fund of the American Red Cross in the name of their firm.

Zale, who heads the firm which operates jewelry stores in Pampa and in 10 other Southwest and Midwest cities, praised the work of the Red Cross in caring for American fighting men on far-flung battle fronts.

The contribution included a $772.72 donation from Zale stores in each of the 11 cities and was acknowledged by B. F. McLain, regional director of the American Red Cross in the following telegram: "Your generous donation to the overseas fund of Red Cross is greatly appreciated. The work it makes possible among our boys in foreign service is a great contribution to their morale and general welfare."

Army Nurse from Texas Tells of Those Last Horrible Days on Bataan, Then Corregidor

(Editor's Note: Frances Long, writer of this story, now on the staff of the Associated Press in New York, was held as a prisoner of the Japanese in Manila until her release last year.)

By FRANCES LONG
NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Those of us who worry about not being able to get enough meat, nylons, and a hundred and one other items we have, for years, taken for granted, should meet Lt. Eunice Hatchitt, who escaped from the Philippines, just before the fall of Corregidor. (Lt. Hatchitt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace D. Hatchett, of Lockhart, Texas.)

Tall, slim and smartly uniformed, it is hard to believe that Texas-born Lt. Hatchitt went through the stark horror of the battle of Bataan and Corregidor. But looking into the reality of her eyes and hearing her talk, I found myself losing touch with the large army world we were in, the relaxing chairs, the blue carpet. Suddenly I was carried across the miles to Bataan.

"I left the United States in 1940 to go to Manila. I was excited because it was the first time I had been overseas. When war broke out I was stationed at Sernburg hospital in Manila." She was silent for a moment.

"But as everyone knows now, it wasn't long before we were retreating to Bataan. The nurses left by a small river steamer. It was under bombardment every moment. But I will always remember the picture of the soldiers who had come by land, straggling into the base on Bataan. There was one small trail and they had to march single file, their backs piled high with everything they could hold. They looked dirty, tired and hungry. I thought that was a terrible sight, but when the Japs started bombing and strafing us—her voice trailed off.

Living in the dense jungles of Bataan with only a few scattered tents for the wounded, eating when they had time, under bombardment 24 hours in the day, this small group of nurses fought bravely to save the lives of our soldiers.

"I hardly had time to think, I believe that if I had had a few minutes rest and started thinking, I would have gone crazy.

Then abruptly came the fall of Bataan on April 10th at six o'clock in the morning.

"But we were still caring for the wounded and did not get away from Bataan until ten o'clock. It's a miracle to me how we missed the Japs.

"The retreat from Bataan was horrible. Rowboats, small steamers, anything, were scurrying back and forth, taking the retreating soldiers to Corregidor. Although we had huge Red Cross signs on ships carrying the wounded, the Japs started and bombed indiscriminately. It was a mess. Some frantic people even tried swimming across but they didn't get far—"

It was soon apparent that living on Corregidor was no better than Bataan. An island of 20 odd miles, it possessed two large underground tunnels. But these were hardly enough for thousands of people to sleep, cook and tend wounded in. The wounded were placed in one of the tunnels, but more men, many sick with malaria and dysentery were pouring in.

"There was just no room to take care of them. We had two meals a day consisting of rice, tea and canned meat which was slowly undermining our health. Sanitary conditions were terrible, our medical supply was running low and our ammunition, too. There was about one cigarette per person a week.

Working in dirty G. I. coveralls, or "monkey suits," as Lt. Hatchitt calls them, the handful of nurses staved off starvation by death day in and day out.

"We couldn't let ourselves get depressed because we had to keep the wounded soldiers' spirits high. They were such a bunch of wonderful kids.

"All we seemed to talk about was the day when we would be free from the Japs and have food. Whenever I had time to catch a wink, I dreamed of huge steaks melting in my mouth.

Lt. Hatchett had been on Corregidor only three weeks—"They seemed like years"—when she and nine other nurses were ordered to leave. They boarded a navy plane and flew to Australia.

Lt. Hatchett hopes soon to get into combat again. She would like to be stationed in England although "I have such a seething hatred for the Japs, sometimes I feel I could fight them with my bare fists."

Gray Uncertain On Induction Of Family Heads

Some Texas fathers may expect to be drafted by the Oct. 1 deadline set by the government, but in most cases selective service boards probably won't call the heads of families until later, an Associated Press survey indicates.

For Gray county, the question hasn't been settled. C. P. Buckler, chairman of the local draft board, said the board hadn't yet re-classified fathers and said he could give no specific rule as to what would happen here, other than the board would obey the rules.

Lubbock county's two draft boards said it was unlikely they would summon pre-Pearl Harbor fathers, or at least not many, before November.

A Sherman draft board expects the supply of single men to be exhausted with the September quota.

Of 11 San Antonio boards, six expressed the intention of taking fathers in October, one said such a step would not be required, and four declined to be quoted.

Only one of eight Tarrant county draft boards expected to call fathers in October. The others indicated fathers might be drafted beginning in November or December.

Dallas boards were uncertain, saying it was impossible to determine until they had been apprised of their September and October quotas.

Corpus Christi draft boards estimated that 6,000 pre-Pearl Harbor fathers holding non-war jobs under their jurisdiction would escape military induction until November or later. There still was a sizable pool of 18-year-old youths who could be summoned before it became necessary to draft fathers, board members said.

Truck Delivery Ban Will Be Extended

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Restrictions on motor truck deliveries, in effect in the gasoline-starved northeastern states since last spring will be extended to the entire nation Monday, Oct. 11.

Joseph B. Eastman, director of the Office of Defense Transportation, said the action "is the best means of safeguarding the public's interest."

The order bans retail deliveries of packages weighing less than five pounds or measuring 60 inches or less in length and girth combined; prohibits Sunday deliveries except for ice, milk or cream; and restricts to once a week retail delivery of alcoholic beverages, tobacco, confectioneries, soft drinks, ice cream, magazines and flowers. Bread and bakers products, meat, poultry, eggs, fruits, vegetables and fish may be delivered only three times a week. Laundries, dry cleaners and tailors are held to two trips.

Taxpayers 'Take' Sicilian Hilltop, Writes Ernie Pyle

By ERNIE PYLE
SOMEWHERE IN SICILY — (by wireless) — One recent sunny afternoon I sat on a Sicilian slope and watched our artillery turn the German-held hillside across the valley into an insufferable peysing of dirt, rock, smoke, explosions, and flame.

Our own troops lay waiting until this appalling barrage finally forced human tenacity. We had plenty of shells, and we threw them in masses until the enemy hill was a pitiful thing.

In the midst of it the commanding colonel walked up and, sort of grinning, said: "We're letting the taxpayers back home take that hill this afternoon."

Juvenile Crime Increase Cited By FBI Chief

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—J. Edgar Hoover, expressing concern over an increase in juvenile delinquency, has called for greater effectiveness in the planning and operation of community-wide crime prevention programs.

"This is a problem which no community can neglect without suffering the consequences in terms of degraded youth and rising crime costs," the director of the federal bureau of investigation said.

In the first half of 1943, male arrests declined 29.3 per cent, but female arrests increased 18.4 per cent, compared with the same period of 1942.

For males and females combined the arrests of persons age 17 showed a 17.7 per cent increase; arrests of girls under 21 increased 64.7 per cent.

The predominating age for male arrests was 18, followed by 17; for females, 19 and 18 in that order.

Hoover based his report on an examination of 220,740 fingerprint arrest records received by the FBI during the first half of 1943, but said it was incomplete in the lower age groups because in some jurisdictions it is not the practice to fingerprint youthful persons.

Arrests of girls under 21 for offenses against common decency (drunkenness, vagrancy, disorderly conduct, prostitution and other sex crimes) increased 89.5 per cent, while arrests for crimes against property (robbery, burglary, theft and related offenses) increased 30.3 per cent. Miscellaneous arrests jumped 62.8 per cent, but arrests for assaults and homicides declined 8.3 per cent.
