The passing of another year, twelve months of the stress, the trials, the hardships occasioned by war, has brought us to another National Newspaper Week.

Through a period of seven days the American people in Pampa and every city, town and village in which newspapers are published, will pay tribute to the accomplishments of a free and independent press. They will accord recognition not alone to what the newspaper means to them under normal conditions, its place in our American way of life, but also what the press has accomplished in furthering the American war effort and war program.

To keep the steel furnaces going, scrap metals were needed and a failure to meet this need confronted the government. It was at that point the newspapers took over the problem, individually and collectively they agitated the demand for scrap. Thousands of newspapers, large and small, daily and weekly, organized community scrap drives. In response to these the metal poured in, the furnaces continued to operate and steel for ships, guns, tanks and planes was made possible.

The metal scrap drive was but one of many backed successfully by the newspapers. Advertising contributed or underwritten by the papers put over the sale of war bonds and stamps, financed the Red Cross and the USO; and now Pampa's combined War Chest drive, secured the needed blood donors that the lives of wounded soldiers might be saved; encouraged and promoted the organization of home defense; Red Cross ac-activities; the production and conservation of food and other projects for which support was needed.

But the greatest service rendered by American newspapers was in creating and holding public morale. Day by day, week by week, throughout the year, editors have promoted not alone the need of tangible things but with those, faith in the American cause and the assurance of eventual victory. The uniform support of that cause and the uniform assurance of victory have made all other things possible.

In the armed services of the nation, to the extent of thousands, are to be found newspaper publishers, editors, advertising and subscription salesmen, printers, pressmen, representative from every department of newspaper production.

With it all, with radically depleted personnel, the press has carried on through extra exertions and long hours on the part of those who have been to keep the home fires burning, that the America their associates and millions of others are fighting for may be the America to which they will return when the day of unconditional surrender of the enemy in Europe and Asia has arrived.

Throughout the past 12 months the American newspapers have performed a valiant service for the cause of freedom. They have given much under difficult circumstances. The observance of National Newspaper Week is a fitting recognition of the accomplishments of the American press.

Every Crop Acre Needed To Meet Nation's Food Demand

ALLIES CHASE NAZIS IN ITALY

WFA Calls On Farmers For All Facilities

By OVID MARTIN
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—With military and foreign relief demands for food steadily increasing, the War Food Administration has set 1944 farm production goals which call for use of every crop acre and every farming facility in the country.

Given average growing conditions, the proposed plantings would provide the nation with a harvest considerably greater than the record output of food expected this year.

The goals will be laid before congress on Wednesday, and before state agricultural war boards at meetings to be held this month. The first state meeting will open Monday at Denver, Colo., Manhattan, Kans., Baton Rouge, La., Jackson, Miss., Columbus, O., and Madison, Wis.

In addition to increased overall volume, the program proposes significant changes in the agricultural pattern. Some direct food consumption crops—such as dry beans, red peas, soybeans, peanuts, wheat, vegetables and potatoes—would get first claim on crop land.

Feed crops, particularly lower-yielding types, would give way to food crops and higher yielding feed crops. Because feed supplies are expected to be 19 per cent smaller per animal unit, goals call for reduction in some types of livestock production, particularly chickens, hogs and turkeys.

The goals suggest the following percentage increases over this year's expected production or acreage: Milk 3, eggs 1, beef cattle and calves marketed for slaughter 19, hay 3, corn 3, wheat 26, soybeans 22, peanuts 31, sugar beets 42, potatoes 2, sweet potatoes 8, fresh vegetables 10, vegetables for processing 6, dry beans and peas 18.

Percentage decreases suggested were: Farm chickens 3, commercial broilers 20, turkeys 4, hogs 17, sheep and lambs on farms 4, barley 2, sorghums 5, oats 9, rice 3, and flaxseed 1. No change was suggested for cotton and rice. A 10 per cent increase was recommended for tobacco.

The goals would utilize 380,000,000. See FARMERS Page 8

5 Die, 2 Hurt In Car Wrecks Near Amarillo

Five persons were killed and two injured in traffic accidents near Amarillo Friday evening.

Peggy Joene Reese, 1-12-months old daughter of Cpl. and Mrs. T. A. Reese, was instantly killed when the car driven by her father was struck by a pick-up driven by Roy Kretzmeier, farmer residing near Pampa.

Corporal Reese had parked his car, headed east, in front of the gate of Amarillo Field. He was turning the car to head back to town and had run out of gas. Kretzmeier said, when the pickup hit the right rear of Reese's Plymouth coupe.

It was raining at the time the accident occurred and neither Corporal nor Mrs. Reese saw the other car. Mrs. Reese said she and her husband and the baby were all thrown from the car, which was badly damaged.

Kretzmeier gave his name to the officer of the day at Amarillo Field and left to proceed to Amarillo.

A head-on automobile collision on Highway 60 one mile west of Amarillo, resulted in the death of Thelma Hedy Jones, 30, 10th Madison, Amarillo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Jones, Floyd, N. M.; Roy Turner Kindred, 26, 2401 Northwest 15th avenue, Amarillo; Guy Hush Solomon, 29, 902 N. Pierce, Amarillo; and John Calvin Grimes, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Grimes, 1322 N. Houston, Amarillo. All except young Grimes were Pantelex employees.

Injured were William Jackson Townes, Amarillo, chief project manager at Pantelex, brain concussion, head cuts, body bruises; Ralph Foster Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. E. R. Foster, Amarillo, broken left leg, broken collar bone, and numerous cuts.

All of the victims were taken to the Amarillo Field hospital. Kindred and Solomon were dead on arrival. The Grimes boy lived only a few minutes and Miss Jones survived for about 45 minutes.

THE ROAD TO NAPLES WHICH FELL TO THE ALLIES

Sweeping down onto the wide plains before Naples, the American Fifth Army is about to strike a killing blow against Nazi forces in this battle area. The arc of U.S. flags from Salerno to Ischia shows how Americans ringed Naples and new advances to Nocera, Castellammare and Pompei have opened the way for the capture of the city. With Nazis behind them and all-weather supply line firmly secured, Allied invasion forces fought their way northward toward Rome last night chasing the Nazis against stiff rearguard resistance that promised to yield few prisoners.

There was no indication from Allied headquarters how far Gen. Mark W. Clark's troops had progressed in the mobile fighting, but they probably had not yet reached the wide Volturno river, which would form a temporary defense line for the Germans some 20 miles north and northwest of Naples.

An Allied spokesman was quoted as saying that Benevento, 32 miles northeast of Naples, was "directly threatened" by Gen. Clark's forces and that "the road to Rome is now open." It was admitted, however, that the Germans were making their usual calculated withdrawal under the direction of Marshal Erwin Rommel and that they were likely to reach their next defense line more or less intact.

An Allied officer conceded grudgingly that Rommel probably would make a masterly retreat, because "he's done a damn sight more of it than anyone else."

Speculation centered largely on where the Nazis would stand and fight. One report emanating from Switzerland said they were digging in only a dozen miles short of Rome in the historic Castel Romani region, but Berlin dispatches to Stockholm said Hitler had ordered a "blood wall" built across Northern Italy against which the Allies could See ALLIES Page 8

Texas 15 Millions Over Bond Quota

TEXAS today stood $15,000,000 over its quota in the third war loan drive. With actual cash subscription totaling $425,000,000 forwarded to the U. S. treasury by the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

The state's quota for the drive that ended at midnight Saturday night was $420,000,000.

Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman of the 100,000 volunteer sales organization, emphasized that the $425,000,000 total, thus far officially tabulated does not include many thousands of sales not yet processed, nor does the blanket figure indicate buyers in Texas have individual buyers in Texas have responded to the need for war bond purchases by plain people.

Purge Launched On Jews In Denmark

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 2 (AP)—The Germans have launched a purge of Denmark's 6,000 Jews, they announced officially in Berlin and Copenhagen today, opening a gestapo-organized "troop" of terror which prompted Sweden to interfere quickly tonight with an offer of haven for the victims and a warning for the Nazi oppressors.

The Swedish government announced formally that it had asked Germany to permit Danish Jews to come to Sweden, but a Swedish spokesman said there were strong rumors that the Germans already had begun to deport the Jews to Germany and Poland.

Death Takes Father Of Colonel Campbell

Col. Daniel S. Campbell, commanding officer of the Pampa Army Air Field, left for his home in Booneville, Ind., Saturday afternoon following receipt of a telegram advising him of the sudden death of his father, Dr. D. A. Campbell.

Details concerning his father's death were not given in the telegram.

Dr. and Mrs. Campbell made a wide circle of friends in Pampa during a recent two-week visit here in July of this year. A pioneer physician who started his practice in Hopkinsville, Ky., where Colonel Campbell was born, Dr. Campbell had also practiced in Lexington, Ky., before moving to Booneville, where he had been located for the last quarter of a century.

In addition to his widow and son, Dr. Campbell is survived by two brothers, Joseph and Cecil Campbell, and a sister, Dr. Katherine Campbell.

Juvenile Delinquency Is Growing Problem

HOUSTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Thousands of children now attending schools will be criminals unless some substantial improvement is made to combat juvenile delinquency. Inspector L. D. Morrison, chief of the police crime prevention bureau, told a conference of Texas peace officers from the Gulf Coast region.

Speaking at the federal bureau of investigation sponsored meeting, Morrison asserted last night that "juvenile delinquency is not strictly a police problem, but it is a community problem."

Santa Claus Will Do His Best To Carry Full Pack For Nation's Youngsters Christmas Eve

CHICAGO, Oct. 2 (AP)—Santa Claus, apparently maintaining the same tireless energy in wartime as in days of peace, will pack an almost normal load of toys into his sleigh for distribution to the nation's youngsters this Christmas.

Although deprived of many of his old properties because of shortage of materials and vexed because of insufficient workers, Santa has been putting in an extremely busy year trying to meet a 20 per cent upturn in ahead-of-season demand for toys and games for the kids.

The toy and game manufacturers and distributors in Chicago's merchandise mart who help set the stage for Santa said today indications were that retail sales will total around $300,000,000—approximately 10 per cent under last year's total.

Holding sales at the predicted level was described as a highly creditable job by John C. Woodall, the Mart's general manager, considering the industry had to find alternate merchandise for many toys. These included metal wheels, goods, electric trains and mechanical toys, responsible before the war for $60,000,000 of the total annual toy and game business.

He said after new lines of toys and some old ones revived were put on the market and quickly taken by retailers there has been a continual stream of improvisations. These and scores of new type games will relieve serious shortages, he explained.

500 Reported Lost In Sinking of Ship

CAPTOWN, Oct. 2 (AP)—News of one of the worst ocean tragedies of the war—the sinking without a trace of the 18,700-ton British liner Ceramie with more than 500 passengers aboard last November—was officially released today by naval authorities.

The Ceramie was sunk, presumably by an enemy submarine, somewhere in the Atlantic while en route to Captown from England. The official announcement was withheld almost a year because of uncertainty over the fate of passengers and crew.

"Citizens of Texas, particularly civic, are called upon to emphasize the danger of fire and to encourage the enforcement of fire prevention rules and regulations in an effort to lessen the disastrous consequences of fire."

County Launches New Scrap Drive

Pampa Army Air Field will work side by side with various Pampa war agencies and committees in putting over Pampa and Gray county's share of the current nationwide "Scrap Metal Drive," it was announced last night by Lt. Col. William A. Poe, post quartermaster, and Lt. Edward Alloo, post salvage officer.

The campaign to dig up hundreds of tons of scrap metal for use in America's offensive-minded war machine is to last for two weeks, from now through Oct. 15.

Pampa Field will not only aid in the promotion of the drive through arranging programs and speeches by various officers, but will also furnish army trucks to collect the scrap.

Although plans are still in the formative stage, it is also likely that a "jaloop" parade will be organized by officials at the air base in this parade will appear several different military vehicles, into which goes a percentage of the metal reclaimed during these national scrap campaigns.

Jack Hanna, general salvage chairman for the local war production board and C. K. Treese, industrial committee chairman for the board are working with Garnet Reeves, chamber of commerce secretary, in completing plans for the drive. L. L. Sone, superintendent of the Pampa schools, will direct the schools' part in the drive. The Texas State Guard will also cooperate in collecting every bit of scrap metal that is available throughout the county.

According to the chamber of commerce, the oil fields around Pampa have been divided into sectors. See SCRAP DRIVE Page 8

Joan Berry Enters Hollywood Hospital

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 2 (AP)—Joan Berry, 23, entered a hospital today to await the birth of the child of which she asserts film comedian Charles Chaplin is the father.

Hospital attendants said she was admitted about 5 a. m., and that the baby was expected "shortly."

Chaplin denies paternity of the child. He agreed, however, to defray expenses incidental to the birth and to provide other sums pending paternity tests. Miss Berry had sued to have Chaplin declared the father, an dasked he be ordered to pay $2,000 monthly for his support.

Shortly after the suit was filed, Chaplin was married at Santa Barbara to Miss Oona O'Neill, daughter of playwright Eugene O'Neill.

Girl Hospital Technician Escapes From Asylum

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 2 (AP)—Atractive 20-year-old Mary Murray, 26, was safe here today after spending 29 hours as the prisoner of an inmate of Fairview, Pa., state hospital for the criminally insane, who forced her to accompany him in her car when he escaped from the institution Thursday afternoon.

Miss Murray, a technician at the hospital, ran into a taproom here 1:31 night and gasped to the bartender:

"Please call the police quickly. I just escaped from a dangerous man."

Later the girl told Detective Captain Augustus Koerner that the inmate, Eugene Carter, 32, formerly of Harrisburg, Pa., forced her to stay in her automobile with him as he drove about eastern Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Miss Murray said that what she first thought to be a "black auto" in Carter's hand turned out to be a carved piece of soap which he gave her before putting her out of the car in Camden. The car was found abandoned.

Thomas Rutherford, hospital superintendent, said Carter was "not vicious" but "potentially dangerous."

Miss Murray, whose home is in Zanesdale, Pa., appeared unharmed, except for shock, police said. A widespread search is under way for Carter, Koerner reported.

Aussies Take Japs Finschhafen Base

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sunday, Oct. 3 (AP)—The capture of Finschhafen, Japanese air and sea base in northeast New Guinea, was announced today by General MacArthur.

Australian jungle troops of the famed 9th division captured the town Saturday just 10 days after the first seaborne forces landed 6 miles to the north.

Finschhafen is the third major Japanese position to fall since Sept. 12 when Salamaua fell to the Allies. Lae was captured Sept. 16.

The Australian 9th division won fame for its action in El Alamein. Later it was brought from the desert in Egypt and given extensive training in jungle warfare.

Their capture of Finschhafen by breaking through fixed Japanese defenses gave the Allies complete control of Huon gulf which overlooks Japanese-held New Britain only 70 miles away.

MacArthur's spokesman said 100 bodies of Japanese marines, generally considered the enemy's best troops, were found at Finschhafen when the Australians broke through.

Cherokee Soldier Surprises Japs In Guadalcanal Fight

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 2.—When an American Indian marine sergeant went on the warpath at Guadalcanal, he provided a super-surprise for the Japs, says First Lt. Malcolm B. Loughridge, USMCR of Houston. Loughridge is stationed with the marine detachment at the naval air station, after having seen service overseas in combat areas. The sergeant, identified only as a Cherokee Redskin from Oklahoma, was with a patrol creeping up on the Japs. They came upon a small knoll and looking down from the top saw directly below a Japanese field-piece emplacement. Instead of tossing in a grenade the Indian tossed his hat, roped the field-piece and quickly drew it away from the startled Japs.

Govnor Predicts Gas Severance Tax

AUSTIN, Oct. 2.—A severance tax on natural gas exported from Texas to other states for industrial use is a distinct possibility, Governor Coke R. Stevenson indicated today.

At a press conference the governor, answering questions, said the tax "might have to be used" in order to encourage retention of gas for expanded industrial use in Texas.

He emphasized he had made no decision in this respect but it was one consideration in his study of the question whether more gas should be piped from Texas fields to areas in the East with big coal reserves.

Letter From Nazi's Sweetheart Casts Light On What Germans At Home Are Thinking

By DANIEL DE LUCE. COHETU-PERTICACA, Southern Italy, Sept. 24.—(Delayed)—(AP)—This isn't a story of bombings. It's the story of a dead German soldier and the girl he left behind in Berlin.

A half mile from Gerleto on the crater-pocked road westward lies a mangled Nazi army truck in which two Germans set out to lay mines to protect the retreat toward Potenza. One was killed outright by an Allied air attack and the other died within a few hours the Italians told me.

Beside the overturned chassis in the ditch was a Paris-made letter folder. Inside was a neatly typed message to "Mein Lieber Kurt" from a bitterly distressed girl who scrawlingly identified herself as "Bobby."

I've just read this letter—so depressing and war weary and anti-Nazi that it casts an amazing light on what the German home front has been thinking. It was dated August 1, 1943.

"It's now weeks and months that my last two letters have gone unanswered," wrote the Berlin girl to her soldier lover. "I had hoped you would surprise me by suddenly appearing on leave and I waited in the summer heat as if I were sitting on ice. . . . Are our diplomatic relations broken off? Are they to be replaced by enemy activity? . . . I hope that you are healthy, secure and in good circumstances and that times are well off under greater Germany's corporal . . ."

"Everything here is satisfactory. . . . Allied terror attacks are greater than ever. . . . Hamburg, which is spoken of as a 'general test,' suffered heavily. . . . Everything is satisfactory except that my 76-year-old father's home was hit and burned down. He was knocked unconscious and was taken to the hospital with grave burns. . . ."

"Reichsmarschal (Goring's?) whose mouth was always so full of words is not silent. He is called 'Tendemann' (name of a German chain system of restaurants) because in so many towns he has had defeat. . . ."

"That letter mocking Germany's 'corporal' and 'reichsmarschal' reached 'Kurt,' according to the postmark about the time he and his Nazi comrades were fighting in the desperate withdrawal from Sicily. . . ."

"His complaints were hardly calculated to raise his morale. But he didn't tear it up. In the long, harassed Italian retreat he kept it among his baggage. And five days ago when he was killed it lay in the corner of an Apennine road until enemy hands picked it up and enemy eyes read it. . . ."

Texas Sailor Loses His Roll In Boston

BOSTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A cafe manager and a waitress today awaited sentencing for conspiracy to steal and larceny of a part of a large roll of bills with which Corporal Philip A. McCusker of Denison, Texas, testified he entered the cafe upon his return from Greenland in August.

McCusker contended that he had lost $1200 of $5000 he had when he went into the cafe in Boston's West End Superior Court Judge Walter J. Collins found Manager Louis Gallo and Mrs. Emily Re, the waitress, guilty of conspiracy and, while adding that he was not convinced that McCusker had $1200 taken from him, "I am convinced that Gallo is guilty in a sum exceeding $1000." The court found Mrs. Re guilty of larceny of a $100 bill which McCusker testified he had consigned to her for a drink. He said he never received any change.

McCusker said the money was partly his accumulated army pay and partly sums won in gambling with other soldiers during 11 months in Greenland.

Mrs. Re's sentence historically had to be carried from the courtroom and Judge Collins postponed sentence to Monday.

Cox Resigns As Head FCC Quiz Committee

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga.), who has been engaged in a bitter feud with members of the Federal Communications Commission in his capacity as head of a special committee to investigate the FCC, has resigned the chairmanship of the committee. He will continue as a member of the inquiry group.

Cox announced his resignation to the house after conferring with Speaker Rayburn. His resignation had been demanded in a petition filed on May 13 with Rayburn by Clifford Durr, a member of the FCC, who charged that Cox was unfit to conduct the investigation because of a connection with an Albany, Ga., radio station which had business pending before the commission.

County Spends And Invests $85,043.59

Gray county spent approximately $80,000 more in September than the county received.

The situation, however, isn't as bad as it seems for $67,000 of the amount spent was in reality on investment as the county purchased $67,000 worth of certificates of indebtedness in the Third War Loan. Expenditures of the county for September totaled $85,043.59 while receipts were only $5,371.77. B. C. Wilson, county auditor, said Saturday.

Among the expenses was the payment of $1,441.70 for the "Iron Lung" purchased by the county commissioners. Other expenses were the routine operating funds.

Britain Fast On Diplomatic Front

By JACK BELL. WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—A critical report on British commercial and diplomatic activities may be laid before the senate in executive session by members of a five-man inspection committee which just returned from a 40,000 mile trip to the world's battlefronts.

While committee members declined to discuss publicly this phase of their extensive inquiries in the war zones, there were indications they feel that American diplomacy and economic activity are falling far behind that of the British.

The gist of their complaint, it was said authoritatively, is that British postwar policies already are functioning in a practical way while American representatives are at a loss to know what this nation's attitude will be on many important world questions when the fighting is over.

As a result, the committee members were said to have found that the British and to reap postwar benefits from many American lend-lease contributions to other countries.

Senator Brewster (R-Me.) said the British have had representatives of cabinet rank in intimate touch with their military leaders in North Africa and the Middle East. He said the American diplomatic front is "undergoing some strengthening that is encouraging," but added that the situation in India is "mixed up."

Horror Pictures

Having been consistently on the side of those who want the whole story of this war told to the public as fast and accurately as national security permits, we feel free to express disgust of the horror pictures of American wounded which are being released from time to time.

These have resulted from insistence of the Office of War Information, inspired by Third War Loan publicists who feel that the picturization of American gore will make the public more realistic in its reaction to the war, and thus will sell more bonds.

With this we disagree heartily. We feel, as we have said frequently, that the news of the war should not be sugar-coated. When Americans land in North Africa, or on Sicily, or at Salerno, ships are blasted, men are killed and wounded, material is destroyed. This the public should be told with all pertinent and illuminating detail.

A landing barge suffers a direct hit. Many American soldiers are killed outright, more are injured. The Germans know it. The Americans should be told, so that they will realize that this is no Fourth of July picnic, no fox hunt with the Germans riding gloriously into the fray and the Germans doing all the running and dying.

But is it necessary or desirable to picture the broken bodies of the men who died on that barge? Isn't it enough to note that 12 or 20 or 250 or 5000 or "very heavy" casualties were suffered in the operation, without harrowing the feelings of those whose boys were participants in the battle?

This isn't a matter of propaganda so much as one of good taste and common decency.

Anybody who handles news pictures knows the intensive imagination of newspaper readers. Every mother, wife, adult daughter, sweetheart, watches the pictures in hope that her darling will appear. She sees the mangled body of a lad about five feet eight inches, weighing around 150 pounds, with an indistinguishable face that might be that of her boy.

What does she do? She calls the editor and asks if the name of the victim isn't Jim White. He doesn't know. Well, can she see the original, which might be more distinct? It isn't. But that time she is persuaded that the battered remains are those of her Jim, from whom she hasn't heard for weeks.

If Jim is reported dead, she never will be convinced that he wasn't mangled. If he proves to be alive, she has suffered excruciatingly and unnecessarily. And she, probably, is only one of dozens who have been victimized by a single picture.

By all means, let's have truth and realism in war news and pictures. Let's realize that this is mighty serious business that deserves everything we can give it. But not that way—not with gruesome pictures. With restraint, and good taste.

The Nation's Press

Three different authorities (you can find them on page 8 of the July Reader's Digest) estimate the number of Russians in slave labor camps at from 10 to 15 millions. There are millions "ill-fed, ill-housed, ill-clothed, despoiled, and suffering," Joe Stalin has put them there because of brutal repressions that seem sufficient to him.

On his visit to Russia, Wendell Willkie saw some of these harbed wire concentration camps. In his article in the Reader's Digest he mentioned them but there is no mention of them in his famous book. Who persuaded him to delete that vital information?

We don't know, but the fact that he was persuaded drops Mr. Willkie to the stature of a person with very ordinary moral courage. If that's the best he can do in keeping faith with the American people, then the sooner he withdraws from the political scene, the better.

EXPOSING THE TYRANT (The Chicago Tribune)

State Rep. Lottie Holman O'Neill obtained a transcript of one of the kangaroo court hearings of the office of price administration here and turned it in to State Sen. Walker Butler, who is entering for submission to the American Bar Association, evidence of the unconstitutional practices followed by the OPA.

In the transcript W. M. McFarland, chief regional hearing commissioner for OPA, interpreted the rules by which that agency conducts its star chamber examinations. Mr. McFarland is quoted as saying that the hearings are an exercise of the President's war powers, that every merchant or employee who deals in rationed goods is regarded as a government agent, and that the purpose of the hearings is to determine whether the merchant on trial is "a trustworthy agent of the United States government."

He pretends to excuse the OPA for violating citizens' rights to have counsel, to call witnesses, and to refuse to incriminate themselves by saying that the "proceedings are conducted as non-judicial hearings, lawsuits, or prosecutions."

Mr. McFarland added that any agent who is not frank with his employer is an improper agent. Therefore, he reasoned, if a merchant on trial refuses to give factual answers to every question OPA puts to him, "his failure to do so will... be some evidence at least of his being an improper agent."

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE—WORSE THAN TREASON

By DR. GUS W. DYER

(Installment Three)

The right to strike is more hazardous to the life of human society today than treason. Treason is an attempt to injure or overthrow the recognized government. Treason may be a virtue. The founders of our government were technically guilty of treason. The life of society is of far greater importance than the life of a form of government.

Life of Society in Jeopardy

The right to strike under modern conditions is the right to attach and place in jeopardy the life of society.

In the past society was made up of thousands of independent communities that had little connection with each other. That condition has passed away. Through industrial progress society has been transformed into an industrial organism similar in nature to the organism of the human body. No community now lives to itself. The life of each community is dependent on the whole, and the life of the whole is dependent on the life of each part. When a working man buys his groceries for the week on Saturday, he is served by hundreds of groups cooperating in giving him service. When a strike is called in one important group, it is an attack on the life of the whole—just as a strike called by the cancerous germ union in the throat of the individual places the life of the whole body in jeopardy. A strike by the transportation workers would be a serious threat to the lives of millions of helpless people in the large cities. A strike by dairy workers would endanger the life of millions of babies and small children. The idea that any sane person would justify the right to strike in any industry that would threaten the health and life of the helpless is almost unthinkable. If labor unions have a right to threaten the life of society in order to obtain unjustifiable gain for themselves, then doctors have a right to strike and close the hospitals, and undertakers have a right to strike and refuse to bury the dead, and farmers have a right to strike and force the people in the cities to meet their selfish demands or starve.

Strikes Should Be a Felony

The right to strike is a barbarian savage, an outlaw weapon, antagonistic to justice, morals and social order, and can have no place in a society based on civilized principles. It is far worse than treason. Any attempt to organize a strike against the life of society under modern conditions should be made a felony, and those guilty should be punished as deadly enemies to the social order.

In the position here taken, it is not meant that those who defend strikes and those who have engaged in strikes are bad men. The great majority of those who have engaged in strikes doubtless are good men and mean well. They have been misled, it is believed, by radicals, selfish politicians, ignorant reformers and ignorant college professors, and hence don't understand the nature of their acts. Saint Paul was not a bad man when he joined with the crowd that stoned Stephen. He was ignorant of the nature of what he was doing.

If a dairyman in a community should strike and threaten the life of babies by refusing to sell milk to their parents, many doubtless who defend strikes would join a mob to lynch the dairyman guilty of such inhuman acts.

The complexity of modern society is such that it is easy to lead good men to engage in activities that are fundamentally bad and destructive.

Under American constitutional democracy no man has a right to injure anybody nor to threaten injury to any one. Under our system of constitutional freedom, force and compulsion can never be permitted in contractual relations of any type.

If the administration continues its policy of protecting, defending and promoting the conditions that make the strike more and more effective, American industrial progress, it is believed, will be no more. Clubbed with the almost unlimited irresponsible power that the right to strike gives, labor unions, it is believed, will do damage to postwar industry.

Still another innovation was the method of discharge. To provide replacements for the older men returning from the Army of Occupation and elsewhere, conscription was retained. Youngsters were called up and trained quickly as overseas guards.

News Behind The News

MUTINIES—Prime Minister Churchill's plan followed in demobilizing Britain's 1914-18 army will probably be adopted by this country at the time around twelve million fighters return to normal life. Although that day may still be distant, each American mother and father is thinking of the hour when a son will walk in the front door.

England's present leader on assuming the War Office discovered that a muster-out program had been formulated by civilian officials. Based on mechanical rather than human considerations, it brought a protest from General Sir Douglas Haig as "most objectionable and prejudicial to discipline," but the marshal was overruled. Churchill also disapproved.

Having in view solely prompt re-employment of home industries, the arrangement provided that skillful key workers should be discharged first. In most instances these were the very men who had been enrolled last because of their importance in the manufacture of munitions. Then again, private and political influence were employed on behalf of "favorite sons."

At least thirty cases of insubordination and three serious mutinies (in Folkestone, London and Calais) which had to be quelled by force, broke out among soldiers who had spent two to four years in trench mud.

Mr. Churchill took their side. Their reaction, according to him, was only natural. But for a while he had grave fears of the nation's ability to withstand the spreading rebellion, which was aggravated by "Bolshevists."

SCHOOLSBOYS—The War Minister lost not a moment in developing a substitute scheme. He dashed to France with his proposal and won the immediate endorsement of Lloyd George, then Prime Minister.

NEW—An indication that we intend to carry the war to the Indian Ocean and to Asia is the fact that the Standard Oil is building in Arabia one of the largest refineries ever erected abroad. Details are withheld because they would give information about pipeline, installations, railroads and harbor facilities.

Batting For Edson: RUMORS ON MARSHALL ARE SPIKED

(During Peter Edson's absence on vacation this column will be written by another member of NEA's Washington staff).

By JAMES THRASHER Staff Correspondent

Pass the opium, Pappy, and let's have a look at the general situation. What general situation? Why, the general situation as regards generals, but naturally.

Let's see now, how do we stand? Gen. George C. Marshall is going to be removed as chief of staff and rendered completely powerless by being given command of all American and British forces.

The contention that the British are gunning for the chief of staff because he wants to invade Europe from across the channel is equally surprising. Not only did Mr. Churchill spike that in his recent speech to commons, but he asked General Marshall to accompany him and Anthony Eden to Africa (where they conferred with General Eisenhower) and to England, after the last Washington conference. Seems a queer way to deal with a general who would give information of any kind that might lead to a general strike strategy you distrust and disagree with.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

The title of this dispatch should be "The Moth Ball Girl," or "They've Got Me Buried."

It's a typical Hollywood story about a beautiful young lady who makes a sensational hit in her first picture and then was completely forgotten.

All her friends, she says, started calling her "The Moth Ball Girl." Her name is Lenore Aubert, and she was an actress in her native Vienna before the war. Her boss, Samuel Goldwyn, who is still paying her a nice salary every week, says she's the "most beautiful girl in Hollywood since Vilma Banky."

Lenore was very happy. That was a year ago. Since then, even a few days ago, she hadn't even seen a movie camera. Or even a still camera. Or her name or picture in the newspapers.

"I went to the studio every day," Lenore said, "and took dramatic lessons. They continued to renew my contract. They even paid me salary. They gave me a lot of publicity for a few weeks and then nothing happened."

Nothing else happened, in fact, for a year. Other studios, she says, asked Goldwyn to borrow her for their pictures. Goldwyn turned them all down. Lenore says she went to Goldwyn and said, "Please, Mr. Goldwyn, I'm getting tired of doing nothing. I believe in you."

Even if Goldwyn did believe in her, Lenore and her agents tried to get into Australia will have to come from the Middle East. Although there are great oil fields in Iraq and Persia, machinery there for converting into gasoline and high grade lubricants has not been adequate for the war.

Our stake in Arabia will be an important factor after the war. At present fifty-nine per cent of the world's petroleum refining and sixty-six per cent of cracking capacities are in the United States.

Without detracting a bit from the high ability, Roosevelt, Churchill and the dictator place their legs under one table.

Practical considerations seem to give weight to this policy. Should Britain and the United States make pledges to the Muscovites at the proposed meeting, and should Hitler later come to terms with Hitler, it would leave our President in an embarrassing position. By the same token, Congress would look foolish if it palsy-waisied with "Uncle Joe" before he tipped his hand.

NEW—A new discovery in wheat on the plains is under three hundred thousand bushels, compared with last year's final figure of more than five hundred thousand.

Rot prevails in many potato regions, especially in Quebec and the Maritime Provinces although in British Columbia a plentiful supply of fruit, including apples, pears, peaches and peaches, is not up to par but there was a normal amount of plums.

Substantial acreage increases in the seeding of Fall wheat are reported from many districts in Ontario. Apple crops there are good but pears and plums are less satisfactory.

Petroleum for action between Ceylon and Australia will have to come from the Middle East. Although there are great oil fields in Iraq and Persia, machinery there for converting into gasoline and high grade lubricants has not been adequate for the war.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MacKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The grave famine on the densely populated eastern seaboard of India, to which this column drew attention a week ago, is reported to have grown worse, with hundreds dying of starvation despite government efforts to expedite importation of foods and grains from foreign countries.

There is deep concern over the situation not only among impartial British and Indian circles but in important American quarters. This plague of hunger comes on top of the British-Indian political crisis which has been marked by bloody disturbances during the past year. There is fear that unscrupulous people may be able to ulterior purposes to merge the discontent growing out of these two situations, thereby creating a nasty combination.

The point of American concern is, of course, the fact that India is the principal base for the coming offensive against Japan through Burma, across the way from Bengal. American interest is multiplied by the fact that a fresh effort be made to settle the political imbroglio. From their viewpoint a disunited and unhappy Indian is bound to act as a brake on the efficiency of this great arsenal, even if it's conceded that the British government can keep the lid on and prevent disorders. At best it's an uncomfortable situation. At worst it would be terribly dangerous.

That's not the whole picture. Though, if India arrives in the post-war period with the political problem, it could be a disaster. With the great Indian political leaders like Gandhi still locked up, as they are now—there may be a repercussion which will affect not only the British empire but all the United Nations. Indian resentment might result in alienating this great country with its 400,000,000 people from the Allies of the western world.

My investigations in India convinced me that the Indian leaders now would welcome a reopening of the case and would be prepared to compromise on issues which heretofore have precluded a settlement. That being so, the gateway to political peace could be opened if the British government found it possible to reconsider its decision to refuse to resume negotiations until after the war.

America doesn't propose to inter-talk him into firing her so she could accept the other roles. Goldwyn refused.

Finally, after a year, Goldwyn put her to work. But not in one of his pictures. He loaned her to RKO for the feminine lead in a film titled, "Dangerous Journey."

It isn't a pretentious movie. But Lenore is happy. She's acting again.

ROUNDABOUT ROUTE

How Lenore Aubert crashed Hollywood in the first place is quite a story.

As Hitler rose to power she fled her native Vienna to France and then to New York. She arrived in America with very little money and went to work as a model. Then one day she bought a bus ticket to Hollywood, hoping to get a job in motion pictures.

WARTIME HEALTH: Cleanliness Best Treatment For Good Complexion

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS Written For The News

The skin is a favorite focal point for men's fondness for medication, but cleanliness is the most successful method of maintaining a clear and healthy complexion. The skin is of great importance in appearance, and from early adolescence on is the cause of more embarrassment and mental suffering than almost any other part of the body. It is also a superficial indicator of general health, and the cosmetic industry and advertising have combined to make the public acutely conscious of the condition and look of the skin.

The structure of the skin is simple enough. It is composed of two parts. The outer part or epidermis, is made of several layers of flat cells. With the multiplication of the bottom layer's cells, the top cells are pushed up and flattened and form a thickened, closely knit protection.

OUR PROTECTION

The function of the skin is to protect the body and its contents. It insulates against heat and cold, controls the temperature of the body by radiation, sets up signals of injury through the nerves, contains and helps to heal the body from germs. The skin is remarkably elastic, and stretches with relative ease. When stretched too far, the inner layer breaks, and heals with scar tissue.

Most boys and girls in adolescence have some difficulty with pimples and blackheads. Careful habits of cleanliness, good diet, and normal glandular adjustment with time do a good deal to soften the skin, and with the possibility of permanent marring for the majority of people.

Wrinkles inevitably appear with the onset of age. The skin becomes progressively thin, inelastic, and wrinkled, and nothing can effectively be done about it except by plastic surgery or face-lifting which is often followed by even more pronounced wrinkling. Older people are prone to carelessness about cleanliness, and since wrinkles are a good place for infection to form, they should be taken into consideration in daily cleansing.

BLEMISHES

Birthmarks and moles present special problems, best referred to the physician. Moles are seldom dangerous, except when susceptible to constant irritation; birthmarks are usually caused by abnormalities of blood vessels under the skin, and are best treated in infancy. Fortunately, excellent preparations have been devised for concealing disfiguring birthmarks, and much mental anguish has been put to an end by their use. Superfluous hair is properly removed by the use of the electric needle, a few hairs at a time, and operated by a trained physician—for the ordinary pulling out of hairs makes a good entrance place for infection.

Summations of reasonable duration do no harm, and some good—though blonds and redheads must be particularly cautious about them. Real burning can cause serious damage, systemic as well as local. Protective ointments and creams may be of benefit in softening the skin, and the claims of individual creators notwithstanding, the basis of them all remains the same—i. e., a standard cold cream. Powder and lipstick are purely decorative, and in no way curative of dermatological ills.

WPB Establishes Pulpwood Offices

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 — (AP) — Underlying the critical shortage of pulpwood, which in turn causes shortages of paper products, the War Production Board today established seven regional pulpwood production offices charged with solving manpower, transportation and price problems adversely affecting output.

A. B. Hansen, deputy director of the WPB pulp and paper division, said the regional offices heads will be named soon, with the sole function of stimulating pulpwood production.

The office will be located in New Orleans for the South Central region.

Reviewing the pulpwood shortage problem, Hansen said an estimated 2,500,000-cord deficiency in production threatens military and essential civilian requirements. Pulpwood receipts for the first half of 1943 declined 24 per cent in comparison with the similar period in 1942.

State Railway May Yet Make Some Cash

PALESTINE, Texas, Oct. 2 — (AP) — A 32-mile railroad—owned by the people of Texas—may make some money after all.

One of the only two state-owned railroads in the United States, it was built 33 years ago between Palestine and Rusk to provide an outlet for smeltered byproducts in the days of iron ore operations at Rusk. Old-timers say the road never was a financial success.

Hopes of the Southern Pacific lines, which leased the road from the state in 1921, have risen with announcement the War Production Board finally has approved construction of a $3,500,000 iron ore blast furnace at Rusk provided financing arrangements are approved.

NATIONAL FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Oct. 3-9

The kind of "accidents" that cause fire—need not, must not happen—especially now that we are at war and every kind of waste sabotages the work that must be done to win! Fire brings in its wake loss of life, or at least injuries that can keep people from war production. Fire means loss of property which must be reconstructed: yet there are no supplies to spare, for building for civilian use. Fire must take our volunteer firemen from essential war work, interrupting their productivity until the fire's out. Every one of us must feel it a personal responsibility now to prevent fires—both by "accident," and by incendiary bombs which may be visited upon us. Follow the simple instructions outlined below. Equip your home for fire prevention and you not only protect your own welfare and interest—you make another contribution toward Victory... just as every time you buy a War Bond you speed up Victory!

Principal fire causes in home and industry through which nearly one-half billion dollars in property are lost annually are due mostly to carelessness.

OBSERVE THESE SAFETY RULES

Scarcity of materials and labor make it especially necessary for every American to take precautions against fire—to avoid set-backs on our road to VICTORY!

but their heads until they became discouraged.

There was no wall Hitler could build to keep out the bombers, though, and one after another of his cities continued to go up in smoke and rubble. Flying Fortresses, escorted by Thunderbolt fighters, struck at the North Sea port of Emden again by daylight yesterday, the second time within a week. They bombed it last Monday and the RAF poured in a load of explosives the same night.

On Friday night the RAF bombed the Ruhr industrial city of Hagen, 10 miles south of Dortmund. It is the junction of several important railroads, with important steel and iron foundries and engineering and armament works.

The RAF lost only two bombers, though the Ruhr has been called the most heavily protected region in Germany, not excepting Berlin.

The inference was that the Nazis' fighter defenses, at least, had been seriously sapped by the steady Allied forays by day and night.

The Russians, retaining their customary reticence between announcements of major victories, reported in yesterday's communique merely that 320 more towns had been taken in their drive into Russia, and that three fortified German positions were captured in the Kuban.

The German radio was more expansive. It said the Russians launched a "fresh and particularly massive" assault yesterday morning at an unspecified point along the Dnieper, "preceded by artillery fire on German positions, which heralded a massed offensive by battle planes and bombers." It said the attack was beaten off.

The Allied occupation of Naples was announced to the Russian people in a four-line dispatch in Moscow's newspapers.

Yugoslav Guerrillas were reported attacking German reinforcements moving from Italy toward the Yugoslav coast.

From the Turkish capital at Ankara came reports of a large-scale fight raging for inner islands of the Aegean Sea, apparently between the Nazis and British and Greek forces trained in the Middle East.

The Germans announced they had begun a purge of Denmark's 6,000 Jews. A Swedish spokesman said there were strong rumors the Jews were being deported to Germany and Poland.

Predicting that an invasion of Burma was not far off, Brig. Gen. Howard C. Davidson declared at American air force headquarters in India that aerial pounding had crippled the enemy in Burma to the extent that a "successful defense by the Japanese is nearly impossible."

The latest Japanese effort to break through the Allied blockade in the Central Solomons has cost him two cargo ships and probably a destroyer and a third merchant ship, a communique from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters said Saturday.

acres of cropland, by far the largest ever used.

The national goals for the various commodities have been apportioned among the states on the basis of their productive possibilities. The state goals will be divided among farmers. However, with the exception of certain types of tobacco, farmers will be free to abide by or ignore their goals.

The WFA will announce later price supports—that is, minimum prices upon which farmers may count—for the various commodities.

WFA estimated that there will be enough corn and other feeds to raise 105,000,000 head of hogs to an average weight of 230 pounds. Production this year reached the record of 126,000,000 head.

WFA suggests the greatest reduction in hogs be made in wheat-raising states, in general farming areas bordering the corn belt, and in northeastern and Great Lakes states. In the corn belt, hog production would be maintained at relatively high levels.

A suggested 17,000,000-acre increase over this year's wheat acreage would take place mostly in the Great Plains, from North Dakota to Texas.

One of the features of the drive will be a "Scrap Bank" to be located at a prominent downtown location. Pampans are expected to make "deposits" at this bank of everything from Juniors' old electric train to bulky and rusty steel girders.

Any pieces of scrap metal too bulky to be moved by individuals to the "scrap bank" will be taken over to Pampa Field soldiers, who will transport them to the "bank" in army trucks.

When MBS comes to KPDN it will furnish local radio listeners with such big names as the News commentator world as Brooks Carter, Cedric Foster, Raymond Clapper, Phillip Keyne-Gordon, Gabriel Heatter, Fulton Lewis, Jr., and many others.

Each day at 5:30 p. m. "Mutual's Overseas Reports" direct from the war fronts will be heard.

Name bands will be heard direct from their orchestra shells at spots scattered throughout the nation.

The Mutual Broadcasting System has many other nationally-popular radio features which will be carried regularly on KPDN, including "Confidentially Yours," with Arthur Hale; Jimmy Scribner's One Man Show, Superman, The Cisco Kid, American Forum of the Air, Shady Valley Funks, Bill Hay, Vincent Lopez, The Quiz Wizard, Mutual Goes Calling, Duke Ellington, Lome Rancier, Kentucky Karnival, Hank Lawson's Music Makers, This is Our Enemy, Dale Carnegie, and a number of other features in addition to the on the spot broadcasts of football, baseball, and boxing and sports events of national interest.

Elliot Roosevelt, son of the President, is president of the Texas State Network, which also will bring to KPDN listeners the outstanding programs and events in Texas.

Complete details of the KPDN tie-in with the network will be announced as soon as the connections are made within the next few days.

Later, at a dedication program KPDN will go on the national network with a special program originating in Pampa to be broadcast to the rest of the nation.

Lewis Funeral To Be Held Tomorrow

Funeral services for Loretta Helen Lewis, 33, who died in Abilene Friday morning, will be conducted at 2 p. m. Monday at the chapel of the local funeral home by Guy V. Caskey, minister of the Francis Avenue Church of Christ. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

Survivors are a sister, Mrs. Gene Adams, Amarillo, formerly of Pampa; brother, F. B. Lewis, Brownfield; father, Ed Lewis, Dallas.

Mrs. Lewis, mother of the deceased, died here in 1936 and her grave is in Fairview cemetery.

FIRE? WHAT FIRE? BUT THERE WAS ONE

It was quite a fire while it lasted even if nobody seemed to be sure just where it was.

A Pampa fire truck went out W. Foster at 9:40 Saturday night. Inquiry at the fire station revealed that the fire was at the Cabot companies, or whether at the main offices, ordnance plant or shops, remained unknown.

When the shops office, located west of Pampa on Highway 80 was called, the girl said she didn't know of any fire, but to wait a minute while she went outside and took a look at the sprawling 5-acre shops and ordnance plant.

"Nope, no fire," was the substance of the answer. Shortly after the shops manager called and said the fire had been located. It was a lime pit in the ordnance plant, had suddenly flared up, but the shops manager said that apparently it was under control 15 minutes after the fire truck had answered the call.

10th Cadet Class Goes Into Training

The 10th class of Aviation Cadets to receive their advanced pilot training at Pampa Army Air Field since the twin-engine aerial university was opened last year arrived at the base Friday and Saturday and plunged immediately into the "processing" routine.

The cadets came to Pampa from almost every state in the Union for the last stage of their nine-months precision training to fly Uncle Sam's dreadnaughts of the sky.

The new class, 43-K, assembled here from basic flying schools at Winfield, Kans.; San Angelo, Texas; Sherman, Texas; Waco, Texas; Independence, Kans., and Garden City, Kans.

If You Think This Is Fun, Try it on Your Fountain Pen Awhile

Capt. Jo B. Ferruson, of Belfast Mills, Va., Pampa Field's post quartermaster officer, hasn't been a "had boy" but he has to write his name 165,000 times, just the same.

The situation bringing on this overdose of writer's cramp is the Army's recently-inaugurated mess system, which necessitates use of a separate ticket for each meal eaten by Aviation Cadets and men of separate rations.

These meal tickets had to be signed, individually, by an officer, and the current rubber shortage caught Capt. Ferruson without a rubber stamp.

At last report, Capt. Ferruson had just passed the 60,000-mark. He's beginning to weaken!

Final Figures Put County $55,700 Over Top in Bond Drive

Still climbing Saturday was Gray county's total in the third war loan campaign, which ended, except for Series E, F, and G bonds, yesterday.

Total sales were $1,435,936.50, which means that Gray county exceeded its $1,380,200 quota by $55,736.50.

The drive remains open until October 15 on Series E, F, and G bonds, but the money must be in Dallas by that date to count on Gray's quota. To be sure that Gray county gets the credit, bond buyers in this class should make their purchases not later than October 13, S. D. Stennis, county bond chairman, cautioned.

"We appreciate the fact that the citizens have responded so well to this drive," said the chairman. "After all, it is the people who put this drive over, not the committee."

The Negro population of Gray county did its share in the campaign with purchases in excess of $5,000, although the Negro population is only 348.

Adding to the list of oil companies that have bought bonds were the employees of the Texas company, $12,000 and an equal amount from Magnolia employees.

Students bought in excess of $12,500 worth of bonds.

Among the schools represented was Sam Houston of Pampa, of which J. Aaron Meek is principal. Pupils of Sam Houston bought $165 worth of stamps alone, in addition to bonds ranging from $5 to $100 bought by 40 students.

Last spring the same school, in another war loan campaign, bought $12,284.95 worth of war bonds and stamps.

Marriage Business Booming in Pampa

Sub-Depot Employees Hold Barbecue Party

More than 250 civilian employees of the 362nd Sub-Depot, Pampa Army Air Field, together with their families and special guests attended an old-fashioned chuck wagon barbecue Friday night at the Saunders Ranch near LeFors.

The barbecue was sponsored by the Sub-Depot Welfare Association, and was the first social event held by the newly-organized association, whose president is Bill Huston.

Among the P.A.A.F. officers invited to attend were Col. Daniel S. Campbell, Lt. Col. W. B. Marschner, Lt. Col. William A. Poe, Major Jack Marr, Major Clifford Nash, Major Jamle Gough, Capt. Dennie R. Curtis, Capt. James T. McKinney, Capt. William Beazley, Capt. Oliver Stiverson, Capt. James R. Roberts, Major Stancel P. Gilley, Lt. Edward E. Janney, Lt. Harold B. Smith, Capt. John E. Selden, and Capt. Paul E. Daugherty.

"I believe the decision will be favorable to use and that the commission is going to direct the reconstruction of the freight rate structure so that there will be new opportunity and new hope for us in the south and in the west to come into our industrial own."

Pepper also disclosed the Florida congressional delegation, together with those of California, Texas and Arizona, would meet Monday to discuss ceiling prices for Citrus fruits.

"We are going to make a determined fight for equitable ceilings," he added.

Of Cabbages and Queens by Jane Bara

FIRST DAY OF SCHOOL
By Eleanor Aletta Chaffee
He has lived all summer in a timeless dream.
Walked in the dew and felt the warm earth yield
To bare feet, known the mountain stream
And every burrow in the pasture field.
Now he must trace in pages of a book
Strange rivers and new mountains and their names;
Learn from a map how further things look.
Bounded by figures in their measured frames.
But still the spell is on him: restlessly
He shuffles at his desk, and stares at space,
Wondering if the spring is running free.
The deer still walking in the shadowed place,
And idle labels school a scholar's face.
Where nothing's taught one really wants to know.

Ophelia says... "Bread is the staff of life, but that is no reason why the life of our staff should be one continual loaf... Which reminds me of a sign hanging in a local cafe... 'Be kind to our help, they are harder to get than customers.'"
Miss Martha Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pierson of 1121 Mary Ellen, has recently become a pledge of Alpha Delta Pi sorority at Southern Methodist University... Congratulations Martha, and we in Pampa wish for you a successful school year and that you will soon become a full fledged member of A.D.P.I.
"She's one of those modern women—keep's her husband on leash." E. B. E.
With the first hint of fall in the air, Pampa flower lovers are looking forward to the Chrysanthemum show sponsored each year by the Pampa Garden club.
A tentative date has been set for Friday afternoon, October 22 in the City club rooms. This date is always subject to change depending upon the whims of the weather an "Ol' Man Frost."
"Since the regular general fall flower show was not held this year," to quote Mrs. Hugh Morrow, "flower growers may exhibit any and all flowers they wish. Only chrysanthemums will be judged, and the Gertrude Fisher annual trophy will be awarded for the most perfect chrysanthemum."
So all you Pampans who 'grow a mean flower,' will have an opportunity of showing a fine specimen and perhaps winning the award.
People who climb the tallest trees
Go around with Mercurerone on their knees.
Miss Billie W. Bradstreet, daughter of Mrs. Dick Patton, 918 E. Frederic, is attending Business school in Riverside, Calif., this fall. Lucky girl! No such thing as 'bottled sunshine' is there?
Looking very smart and pretty was Mrs. Walter Haynes, formerly Miss Idabelle Waggon, in a herringbone tweed suit with British tan accessories... Somehow these new brides always have a very special smile for you.

Miss Ellen Mary Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Haley, 801 N. Gray, has been elected president of the Science club at Saint Mary College, Xavier, Kan. The Science club is a major campus organization composed of the students working in this field and is aimed at promoting an extra-curricular interest in scientific development.
Miss Haley, a graduate of Pampa High school, is in her senior year at Saint Mary where she is majoring in Chemistry... Our congratulations and best wishes Ellen Mary!
In talking of war marriages, why do the psychologists and educational leaders dwell so much on the percentage that they predict will be failures?
Why not give a little encouragement and a pat on the back to the young couples with their feet on the ground, without a hint of bitterness or an ounce of self-pity, are going ahead and marrying with a firm resolve that their marriages will be good and lasting marriages?
They're the kids who are starting their marriage in one room of somebody else's house, who often don't get to see each other but once a week, and who are neither afraid of the future nor unwilling to plan for it.
There are thousands like them. You probably know several yourself. They are supremely happy just being together whenever the war permits. Though they haven't much in the way of possessions, they think they are plenty-lucky to have each other.
If they can find life as good as they are living today, chances are their marriages will turn out all right.
Why not give them a pat on the back?

There's pictures to the right of us, pictures to the left. Besides the customary wedding photographs we send off for making cuts, there's the avalanche of our men and women in service. Already, we have enough for a couple of companies, and the stack grows like a snowball rolling down Pike's Peak.
What are we going to tell our grandchildren when they asked what we did in World War II? As the years now stand, it's like this:
"And that, my little grandchildren, is how your grandmother served her nation in the Battle of Pictures in World War II, winning thereby the Pulitzer prize, O. Henry award, a scholarship at Oxford, three hamburgers, two pawn tickets, the Victoria Cross, Red Cross, Blue Cross, until we got all crossed up—and won the royal rump-eevee."
Oysters are what writers like to write about in September, and since September is not more than two days gone, I shan't pass up the opportunity—besides shoe strings that break and dresser drawers than hang—Oysters are my pet peeve... but I started thinking how sort of funny it was that I was sixteen years old before I knew oysters came in shells except for the illustration in Alive in Wonderland, because the only way I ever saw them in Texas and the middle west was in cardboard ice cream buckets, the kind with the flaps and the tin handle which bent. These were doled out with a big dipper out in front of Mr. Koepplinger's store. I would be sent for a quart of oysters and then we would have them for supper only I never ate any, which was hard lines considering I had to go get them and carry them home in a bucket which had "Ice Cream" printed on the outside.
Oysters are very untidy food to eat off the half-shell and I cannot remember anybody ever doing it who didn't drip a little and wipe his chin when nobody was looking. Oysters are supposed to be a gourmet's delight and also very good for you but they cannot be very when we cannot get even one down since my brother Bill said they were alive all the time you ate them.
I realize lots of nice people who are nice to their mothers like oysters but I am not among them. I will eat your little crackers and your horseradish and even squeeze your lemon but you may have the oysters.

Wants to know a new trick? Well, one of the Pampa Victory Belies had this all tucked up her sleeve to pull at the very first opportunity... She was forever saying, "I'd love to wear my hair up, but my ears are too big and I look like a freak..." Then one evening I saw her with her hair stacked high—the answer to her problem was to tuck a flower just above each ear so that it covers at least half of it... now she's happy and so is everybody else.
So if you have the same trouble, stack on a couple of posies and lose your complex!
Everyone is buzzing around with a lot of energy, pep, vitality and so-forth these days, and it's all because of the fall weather that was officially ushered in with the rain... which reminds me... all those Pampans who snubbed the rain and mud and turned out to see the Pampa-Weatherford football game the other night really must have been lovers of the old pigskin because no end of cars were stuck, people were sliding in and out of ditches and things were pretty messy in general—but we went away happy—and we're proud of everyone of the Harvesters!

The pilot hood at right, above, is of white broadtail, with huge ruffled collar to match. Like a crown for the Glover Queen is the tiny black felt hat at right. ### Rev. E. B. Bown Is Speaker Thursday At High School Parent And Teacher Meeting

Highlighting the first High School Parent-Teacher meeting held at 8:00 Thursday evening in the high school auditorium was a tour of the building and reception of the teachers.

Bown, pastor of the First Methodist church, contrasted the present day of modern schools with the synagogues which were the centers of learning in the days of the Roman Empire. He related how, in the Middle Ages it became the only intellectual center of the community. He also explained how it was used as a court of law. The building occupied an important place in the lives of the people. Rev. Bown further related. He then compared the first school with the present high school building and the place it holds in the community.
Mrs. Russell G. West, new president, was assisted by Mrs. O. L. Johnson, hospitality chairman, in serving the refreshments of coffee and doughnuts to the members.

V Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

By MRS. H. H. HAHN

A definite announcement about the schedule for night classes in surgical dressings will be made within a few days, according to Mrs. C. P. Buckler, chairman of surgical dressings. Plans are being made now, and it is hoped that many can attend. Mrs. Buckler is encouraged by two factors which have been evident since the resumption of the surgical dressings program: the response to the call for additional workers and the beautiful work that is being done. However, it is emphasized that still more workers are needed in spite of the fact that all classes are larger than previous ones noted. Thousands of surgical dressings are needed on the battle fronts now, judging from the appallingly large quotas.

Some idea of the tremendous task surgical dressings workers face may be gained from a study of the following figures: on a national basis 680,699,745 surgical dressings have been furnished to foreign war relief, army and navy since 1941. The increase from 1942 to 1943 numbers almost 500,000,000.

Continuation of the special knitting classes taught by Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, knitting chairman, is not contemplated at present. However, anyone who is interested in learning to knit can go to the production room any afternoon from 2:30 to 4:30. There is at all times a woman in charge who will be glad to be of assistance. We have many wristlets, gloves and mufflers to be made now, Mrs. Kinzer stated. Also, we should like to encourage those who have navy turtleneck sweaters checked out to get them in on time. In this way we can speed these needed garments on their way to the men who need them.

Mrs. W. J. Kiser completed five mufflers during September, and two days before the end of the month she checked out two more.

This week a lay instructor course for First Aid instructors is being held at Skellytown. Two men from Pampa have attended the classes: Mr. P. L. Stallings of the sub-depot and Mr. Frank Walker of the ordinance plant. Mr. J. H. Owens of the American Red Cross area office in St. Louis has been giving the instruction. Mr. Homer Cone, local First Aid chairman, has visited the classes on several evenings.

Homesickness is a gremlin that can work havoc within the army ranks as well as among students sent away from home to school for the first time in their lives.

Take the case of Private Benson on duty in Australia. Always a forthright soldier, willing to do his share of the hard work, he was a natural candidate for a promotion. After getting overseas his mood of friendliness changed to one of hopeless despair. An only son, the army had not seemed such a bad place as long as he heard regularly from his parents and friends.

Now, away from home, among almost strangers, his loneliness was proving almost more than he could bear. His work suffered, his buddies complained about him to one another.

What was worse, his 20th birthday was only two days away. At home his mother had always made a great fuss about "his day" as she called it. There was always a cake, candies, ice cream and all the trimmings. He dreaded the day and so did his top sergeant. The "top" knew that if Benson didn't "snap out of it" that promotion would never materialize. And promotions are great morale builders in the army and the men need them, particularly Benson.

In desperation the "top" went to the American Red Cross field director and explained to him about Benson. "That's all right," said the field director, "just leave everything to me."

On the day of Benson's birthday the wheels of the Red Cross began to turn. A group of Benson's buddies assembled in front of his tent and conducted him to the field director's office where, resplendent with pink icing, candies and ice cream complement, stood a birthday cake. All this was a gift of the girls serving in the canteen corps. Benson "snapped out of it" all right. He realized that, although many miles from home, he still wasn't forgotten and was still among friends.

Life behind barbed wires is made easier for the American fighter who finds himself a prisoner of war. Food packages provide him with additional sustenance under conditions where food rations are often uncertain to soldier as well as to civilian. Bulk shipments supplement food requirements and provide needed clothing and comfort articles. Communications with his family ties him to the world from which he has temporarily been separated. Under the most trying circumstances, American Red Cross and International Red Cross have worked doggedly to set up this program of service, determined to see that our men who unfortunately fall into enemy hands do not become forgotten men.

1,004,000 prisoners of war parcels have been shipped up to Dec. 15, 1942. Red Cross packing centers in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and St. Louis have a combined capacity of about 100,000 prisoners of war packages per week.

One bulk consignment to American prisoners in Japan, China and the Philippines included: 20,000 Red Cross parcels, 1,000,000 cigarettes, 10,000 tins of tobacco, medicines, clothing and shoes, supplied by the U. S. army and navy.

Signed receipt cards for 21,157 food parcels received by the American Red Cross in one month from identified Yugoslav, Polish, Norwegian, British, Dutch, French and United States men in uniform.

Senators Think Soldiers Abroad Entitled to Rest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2 (AP)—Powerful senate support gathered today behind a proposal to speed up replacement of troops long overseas with fresh units fully trained in U. S. camps and restless for action.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.), a member of the senate war inspection committee just back from a 42,000 mile tour of world battlefronts, said he would make an immediate recommendation to the war department for such a policy.

The five globe-circling senators made a point of talking to the rank and file at every stop, and came back convinced, they said, that the morale of America's fighting men is solid. Nevertheless the most pressing question from Johnny Doughboy was: When do we go home?

With the submarine menace minimized, return of war-weary veterans to the continent is entirely practical, the senator said. "I think it would make better soldiers and sailors of them," Russell declared in an interview.

Senator McCarran (D-Nev.) pointed out that American bomber crews soundly defeated the Japanese in English bases can look forward to relief after 25 missions. Some ground troops have been taken out of the tangled swamps of the South Pacific and given a rest in Australia. Russell told of talking with men who had spent 24 months in Iceland without seeing action.

"That's too long to keep men in a place like that," he said. "Of course it would be impossible to fix a flat number of months for service and say you'd have to bring the men home after that was up. Organizations couldn't be torn to pieces by pulling out all the key men at once. It would be a very difficult thing to legislate on. About all congress could do would be to adopt a declaration of policy."

Lodge thought the policy could be put into effect without legislation, and so did Senator George (D-Ga.) who considered it a technical matter for the war department to work out.

George said in his opinion no soldier should be kept in an active combat zone more than a year—perhaps only 6 or 8 months in some particularly difficult area—if there are trained men capable of replacing him.

Cordell Hull 72 Years Old Today

By HAROLD D. OLIVER
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—(AP)—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, master of many a tough job in his long public career, celebrated his 72nd birthday today resting for one of the biggest—perhaps even historic—tasks ever thrust his way.

With Mrs. Hull, he vacationed at Hot Springs, Va., awaiting a presidential assignment expected to take him on his first Atlantic crossing by air to either Moscow or London for a momentous conference with British and Russian emissaries. It may point the course for the post-war world.

Hull is expected back at his desk in the state department the first of next week. His associates say all present signs point to his going abroad to confer with Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Foreign Commissar Molotov, pending only selection of the time and place. The conference is to pave the way for a meeting of President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Marshal Stalin.

Youth Arrested For Cutting Raft Cables

San Diego, Oct. 2—(AP)—A 22-year-old aircraft worker faces prosecution on charges of damaging government property by cutting life raft cables on Liberator bombers.

Robert E. Burch, Jr., assistant U. S. Attorney, said George William Cooper, formerly of Garrison, Texas, as who was arrested by FBI agents had admitted cutting the life raft cables on five bombers last August, but had denied any intent to sabotage the planes.

Harold Nathan, FBI chief here, said the youth declared he cut the raft ejector apparatus to call attention to what he considered poor assembly methods. Cooper, held in the county jail, went to work at the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corp. plant two years ago.

Foster Field Turns Out Many Texans

VICTORIA, Tex., Oct. 2—(AP)—Wherever you find a group of army air force pilots who were trained at Foster Field you'll more than likely discover a touch of Texas.

Fifteen per cent of all the young men who have won their wings at this single-engine advanced pilot-training school since it was opened two years ago were Texans.

Texas, by way of Foster Field, has supplied more than twice as many pilots as any other state in the union.

Senators Call For Broad Post-War Plan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—(AP)—Three senators who have seen American military, economic and diplomatic operations in the war zones at first hand declared today that this country ought to enunciate a broad postwar foreign policy now for the rest of the world's guidance.

Senators Mead (D-N. Y.), Russell (D-Ga.) and Lodge (R-Mass.) told of finding, during an around the world inspection trip, widespread confusion about American policies not only among foreigners but among American representatives as well.

"A declaration by congress of foreign policy would have a very wholesome effect upon our activities in parts of the world in which we have vital interests," Mead told a reporter.

Russell said that while he believed a "definite" foreign policy should be established, he did not think congress could attempt to "fill in the details" at this time.

Lodge said talks with Americans in the field convinced him there were two general impressions abroad—that many people expect gifts and favors the United States is not in a position to grant and that others greatly fear a postwar expansion of American foreign trade and aviation.

Tax Receipts Show Dwindling Supply

AUSTIN, Oct. 2—(AP)—Mirroring an apparent decline in the liquor supply, the state treasurer today reported distilled spirits tax stamp sales in September declined $371,713 from the $778,367 collected for the same month a year ago. It was the largest comparative drop yet reported.

Wine stamp sales declined from $54,544 a year ago to $26,887, and beer stamps from $273,213 to $215,628.

Cigarette stamp sales, however, increased from $923,145 to $1,106,774.

Just about five years too soon, 12-year-old Norman Flebotte of Springfield, Mass., set out to join the marines. But when police spotted him in mixed attire of army sergeant's coat and marine hat—which he had purchased at a clothing store—young norman's military career was cut short.

Stiff Tax Boost Program Shaping Up In Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—(AP)—An administration revenue program involving stiff tax increases in the $5,000 to $25,000 income brackets and providing for post war rebates of cash or government life and annuity insurance shaped up today for presentation to congress. Apparently a controversial reception was in prospect there.

The program, reported in preparation last week, was outlined in greater detail to a group of members of the congressional taxing committees yesterday and will be submitted formally to the house ways and means committee Monday.

It proposes a new refundable tax credit personally to president Roosevelt, who was reported to have overruled objections of secretary of the treasury Morgenthau to this form of compulsory savings.

Although conferees declined to discuss all details, this tax apparently would be added to the regular income levels, with the present wage and salary withholding rate being increased from 20 per cent to 30 per cent above fixed exemptions. The present 5 per cent victory tax would be abolished.

The effect, it was said, would be to increase the government's immediate collection from all individuals by $6,400,000,000 yearly, thus furnishing the major share of the $10,000,000,000 revenue the program is geared to raise.

The rebate provision suggested by the president, however, would have the net effect eventually of reducing the tax against net incomes of less than $2,000.

Post war rebates would be provided for all individual taxpayers, but the total amount rebated on any one year's tax could not exceed $500. Thus the maximum rebate would be reached on an $11,000 annual net income and those above would receive no more.

Rebates, payable shortly after the war ends, could be taken by taxpayers in the form of cash, if they chose, but that way they would get only 75 per cent of the money credited to them, the treasury retaining the remainder.

If they elected to take government life insurance or government annuity insurance, these benefits would be entered in the full amount

Pampans Attend Meet To Outline War Chest Plans

Plans for the United War Chest campaign in the Panhandle, a part of the state and national projects, were outlined at a meeting of committeemen from Panhandle counties at a meeting held at 3 p. m. Friday at the Herring hotel in Amarillo.

Attending from Gray county were J. W. Garman, chairman of the Pampa United War Chest campaign; Hugo O. Olsen, executive; Alois Walls county, Boy Scouts of America; Garnet Reeves, secretary of the chamber of commerce; and Col. Daniel S. Campbell, commanding officer, Pampa Field, all of Pampa; and T. A. Landers, publisher of The McLean News.

No over-all quota has been set in Pampa for the campaign which here is to merge all local money-raising drives with the War Chest drive. Gray county's quota for the United War Chest, which is for the benefit of United Nations relief, and 17 agencies in all, approved by President Roosevelt, is $19,000.

The local campaign has been set for October 25, November 5, with advanced gifts part of the drive to start on October 15.

Lawrence Hagy, Amarillo, Panhandle United War Chest chairman, presided at the meeting Friday. The program included talks by Ross Rogers, former mayor of Amarillo, and Van W. Stewart, Perryton publisher and Ochiltree county war chest chairman, banquet, and the showing a special motion picture built around the plot of an American soldier held in a Japanese prison camp.

Attendance at the meeting totaled 75.

Outlook Better For Three-Power Meeting

LONDON, Oct. 2—(AP)—Russia's brilliantly successful offensive on the eastern front—with all its immense implications for the whole course and duration of the war—has led to a definite decision for early and intimate American-British-Soviet military staff discussions, even in advance of the forthcoming three-power diplomatic meeting.

This was learned today from a non-British source.

The rush of events on the fighting fronts—at a pace that had not been foreseen—has now made it plain that a meeting here will have a military flavor more marked than had appeared likely only a few weeks ago.

It now is very probable that Russian staff officers will participate in it, in fact that military men of all three countries will take part not only in a general conference along with their diplomatic chiefs, but have their own sessions among themselves.

The London Press today printed reports that Gen. George C. Marshall, himself the prospective Allied commander-in-chief for the mortal blows being prepared against the enemy, probably would come here with secretary of state Cordell Hull in the likely event that this is the scene of the big three meeting.

Best Pig Wins Pampa Boy Jersey Heifer

A Pampa boy, Robert Sailor, exhibited the best pig in the pig show held here Saturday on the vacant lot east of court house, sponsored by Sears, Roebuck and Co. in conjunction with the Texas Extension service.

His prize was a registered Jersey heifer.

Sailor was one of the eight Gray county boys competing for prizes offered by the mail order firm, in a contest in which pigs were given the boys last spring.

His gift and prize-winning boar of Johnnie Baggerman, Crown, will be shown in Amarillo Saturday in a contest with pigs from 18 other counties, a sequel to the county contests.

Judge of the pig show here was Homer Brumley, Hereford hog buyer.

Winners in the county contest, besides Sailor and Johnnie Baggerman, with awards, were:

L. M. Watson, Back, 100 chicks and $5; Vernon Baggerman, Groom, 75 chicks; Johnnie Spearman, Pampa, 50 chicks; James Gray, Grandview, 50 chicks; Leon Taylor, Pampa, 50 chicks; David Abbott, McLean, 50 chicks; Johnnie Joe Hutchinson, McLean, 50 chicks.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—(AP)—It was another of those active markets today, so far as stock buyers were concerned, and while fractional gains were to be found in most departments near the close, small losses were plentiful. Transfers for the week were around 250,000 shares, among the smallest for the year to date.

Wall Street was cheered by the over-subscription of the Third War Loan and financial thinkers felt that, beginning next week, attention might be paid to corporate securities.

Stocks in front at intervals included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Western Union, Consolidated Ed., U. Y. Central, Southern Railway, Standard Oil (Ind.), Goodyear, Johnson & Johnson, Allied Chemical.

Among backward performers were Bethlehem, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Texas Co., Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, General Motors, Goodrich, United Aircraft, International Harvester, Kennecott, Westinghouse, Du Pont and J. C. Penney.

In the curb resistance was shown by Brazilian Traction, Banker Hill, Aluminum, Am. L., Lake Shore, Venable Petroleum and Sherwin Williams.

Errand for Q-74

By Malcolm Taylor

THE STORY: Capt. Raymond Imhof, Q-74, U. S. Army Intelligence, has been assigned to follow a certain important information which has been unable to bring out of Germany. Imhof is about to parachute into enemy territory from a RAF observation plane when there is a sudden change in the flight plan—Officer Danforth stumps over the wheel.

FORCED LANDING

CHAPTER VI

ONE look at the figure at his side was enough for Imhof. His only thought now was to bail out of the plunging plane. He reached up to open the emergency panel. But it would not budge. He tried to smash it.

"Easy!" came the sharp, clear command, quite audible in the engineless descent.

Sheer surprise, rather than the command itself, stayed Imhof's hand.

"Sit tight! I'm bringing her out or this."

As the pilot spoke the spinning motion grew less, then ended. Next moment the abrupt transition from vertical to horizontal flight pinned Imhof's shoulders to the back of his seat.

"You're not hurt?" he asked incredulously.

"Not a scratch," the other answered, doing things with the throttle. But the engine did not speak. Only the plane's momentum spun the propeller.

Danforth nosed down into a glide again, but the shallowest of glides this time, just preserving flying speed.

"Orders?" he said crisply.

"She won't fly?"

"Fuel lines cut. Have to land." Imhof thought fast. Bail out? Or stick with the plane?

"Think you can land without breaking our necks?" he demanded.

"Characters and situations are fictitious. Any resemblance to actual persons or happenings is coincidental."

That's all right. Hold everything just as it is.

Imhof nodded, they exchanged places, and in what seemed no time Danforth got rid of his parachute and straps, kicked off flying boots and peeled out of his heavy flying suit.

When Danforth slipped back into his seat again the plane was low down and the river not far ahead.

"Where do we splash," he asked. They were approaching the Moselle at the upper end of a straight reach of considerable length. Imhof looked and suddenly recognized the spot. Those steep high cliffs rising from the river on the left bank! Of course! The Ulen! That was Cobern at the bend above. Winnings would be round the bend downstream. What luck!

"See those cliffs on the near bank?" he asked. "The river's pretty deep close under them. Set her down as near the base of those cliffs as you can."

"Can do," said Danforth.

THE plane, now in a steeper glide, swept towards the river, Imhof going to hit the water upside down," Danforth announced to Imhof's surprise. "She'll sink a lot quicker," he explained swiftly. "Keep your safety belt unfastened, but hang on to it when I flip the plane on her back. Shoot your legs through the emergency exit and let them dangle out. Face the tail and wait. When I say 'Let go,' let go in a hurry. Got all that?"

"I got it," said Imhof. "But what about you?"

"I'll get out all right." Suddenly Danforth nosed down in a steeper glide, putting pace on the machine, till it seemed to Imhof that they were but hundred feet or so above the water. The next instant the wing on his side shot away below and as if tipped out of a wheelbarrow, his body rolled out of the seat, and slid along the side of the cockpit.

Then the plane was on her back and he was hanging half out, half in, through the emergency opening, the wind whistling through his legs.
