Crew Boards Boats As Fire Sweeps Ship

SEATTLE — (AP) — Driven to their lifeboats by a raging fire and explosion that killed three men, 27 seamen awaited rescue today in rough Pacific ocean waters while their ship burned fiercely from bow to stern.

Seven of their number had been rescued by a Japanese merchant ship. It was attempting the difficult task of bringing aboard the remainder of the fire-seared, cold-chilled crew.

Four other vessels were speeding toward the scene, 300 miles west of the Washington coast where the American freighter George Walton was slowly succumbing in a funeral pyre fed by 9,500 tons of grain.

But, 13th district Coast Guard officials at Seattle said, rescue of the remainder would not be easy at the stormy disaster scene. And, in confirmation, came the tersely worded message from the Japanese freighter Kenkon Maru which reached the scene at 10:30 p.m., Pacific standard time (12:30 a.m., CST) last night.

STEER HARD

"I steer very hard in rough sea so still not pick up men. Still trying," short while later, it reported seven of the 34 men were rescued, chilled and weakened by exposure to the cold Pacific air and wind.

The George Walton radioed for aid at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, reporting its engine room and crew quarters swept by

Suspects In Cattle Theft Wait Charges

The three men charged yesterday in the daylight theft of 47 head of cattle in Hutchinson county, had not been arraigned by 11 a.m. today, according to Gray county Sheriff Ruel Jordan.

The three, E. A. Ramming of White Deer, Carroll Banks who has been in this area about six or seven weeks and Ralph R. Brecht, ex-convict, are charged with theft of cattle valued at more than $7000 from John Hankins of Pampa.

They were arrested in Pampa Monday just two days after the theft from Hankins pasture in southern Hutchinson county.

Of the $7865 taken in the deal from two Pampa cattlemen, the trio had withdrawn about $2500 from the bank after the sun was deposited.

Officers are investigating the possibility the men may be involved in a number of cattle thefts in the area. Jordan said yesterday he expected to solve several thefts in this area within the next two weeks.

Ramming, who allegedly signed a statement admitting the theft and implicating the other two men, is being held in Pampa in Carson county jail. His accomplices are in county jail in Pampa.

Pension Proposal Would Give Wide Powers To Legislature

BY HENRY S. GORDON

The amendment providing statewide retirement and disability pensions for county appointive officers and employees provides almost limitless power to the legislature in enacting laws to establish and operate the system.

It is also a near duplicate of a constitutional amendment now in effect that provides for retirement of county employees and appointive officers.

The difference, however, between the proposed amendment and the one in force now is the administrative method. Paragraph B, Sec. 62, Art. 16 states each county shall have the authority to provide for and administer a retirement, disability and death compensation fund for employees and appointive officers.

In addition, the present authority limits the amount deductible from the employee's salary. No more than five percent may be deducted provided the county matches that amount. In dollars and cents a maximum of $180 per year is set.

NO LIMITATIONS

The proposed amendment imposes no such limitations and does not include death benefits. The amendments put before the voters does not include death benefits; does not limit the amount contributed by the employee or the county; and does not limit the latitude of the legislature in setting up the system.

The amendment also says that "administration of such a system may be committed to the same body as may be set up to administer the municipal retirement system" which is now in effect.

When the municipal retirement system was provided for in 1944, the amendment prescribed a limitation of 7.5 percent contribution by employees to be matched by a city participating in the fund. The wording of the proposed amendment affecting the legislature does not prevent the legislature from passing a law limiting the contribution to 7.5 percent.

The total Gray county payroll estimate for 1952 — appointive officers and employees only, including Highland General hospital is $361,337. If the retirement would be in force here, the approximate added cost to the taxpayer would be $27,100 on the 7.5 percent basis which would represent the county's contribution to the fund.

PROPOSERS

Those upholding the amendment say the centralized system would cost less to operate and that it also provides that the amendment cannot be adopted unless voters of the county approve it in a special election.

Those opposed claim the present authorization is sufficient and permits home administration and that county commissioners are now authorized to place county personnel under federal civil service.

Opponents to the amendment also point to a statement made in 1912 on the floor of the U. S. Senate by Sen. Joseph W. Bailey who said then:

"For my part, I am opposed to all provisions for the retirement of any man. I believe — that every man who serves his government ought to receive a fair compensation for his services and he ought to save it or spend it according to his own folly or prudence, and then he ought to suffer the consequences of his folly — or enjoy the reward of his prudence.

"I suppose the time will come when we will contrive some way to pension the taxpayer. Just exactly how a system for that can be devised is past my comprehension."

Reds Submit Truce Offer Similar To Allied Plan

Ike Tells Needs In Europe

WASHINGTON — (AP) — New conferences by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Europe and some inventory-taking by each of the Western European nations will be needed before the U.S. is ready to translate its broad assurance of a speed-up in arms aid into specific promises on tonnages and percentages.

In his Washington talks with White House, military and defense production officials, Eisenhower was assured that the flow of arms to the Western European forces would be increased.

But he also was reported to have been told that he should hold an early meeting with W. Averell Harriman, head of the Mutual Security agency, who left Washington for Paris late last week. Moreover, it was noted that Defense Production Administrator Manly Fleischer planned to start for Europe today to talk with defense chiefs of the North Atlantic Treaty organization nations in Paris and London.

From the findings by Harriman and Fleischer and the reports by Eisenhower, pieces of the problem can be fitted together — how much each NATO member has now in way of military equipment, how much more it can produce and how fast. Only then can the United States be in a position to make specific promises on tonnages and percentages.

Mrs. Hyden described the object as "really pretty."

"It may have been because the sun was reflecting behind it," she said, "but the colors were really pretty."

She said the object was shaped something like a rocket or a dirigible and left a long tail that lingered in the sky for more than 15 minutes.

Gene Owen, station manager for Central Airlines, said he received a number of calls from Pampans wanting to know what the object was.

He said he called Gage, Tucumcari, Albuquerque and Amarillo air stations. New Mexico pilots reported the meteor as northeast of Gage.

Mrs. Hyden's first impression was that she was seeing a jet airplane or a rocket.

"I thought it was similar to a flying saucer but I didn't want to report something like that," it took me a little while to think to call about it."

She said she and her husband watched until it disappeared before the sun set.

County Tax Schedule Draws Fire From Local Businessmen

BY HENRY GORDON

At least part of the city commission yesterday began wondering if the city made a mistake by allowing the county to use its tax survey card system. The reflection came after local businessmen found their personal property valuations had been boosted as high as 400 percent over last year. Generally, the protest wasn't centered around the actual amount of tax dollars being paid but on the sharp increase put on the businessman and the next to meaningless increase put on farm property.

Firey Meteor Sweeps Over Panhandle Sky

A sun-bright meteor, described by a Pampa woman as rocket-shaped, swept over Panhandle skies early today and disappeared into the east.

Airline officials at Amarillo said the meteor traveled east of Amarillo, moving north to southeast. They said it left a white trail of smoke, with its core the color of the sun.

The police dispatcher at Wichita Falls said he picked up radio reports that the meteor disintegrated between Plainview and Lubbock, in the South Plains.

Wichita Falls residents said the "ball of fire" crossed the sky north of there, and appeared to be moving west to east. This is the direction Mrs. Hyden said she saw it travel. Some said they saw it "break into pieces" before it disappeared.

Bunny Shultz, 632 N. Wells, said he saw the meteor while eating breakfast.

Shultz said the object left two smoke trails and bright blue flames were coming from it. He told The News he believed it fell "a long way off."

Differences Bring Quick 'No' From UN

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Red truce negotiators submitted a new buffer zone counterproposal today strikingly similar to the Allied plan — but with crucial differences.

United Nations representatives turned it down. But they said they might talk about it in tomorrow's sessions at Pannunjon.

Under the Red plan a buffer zone would be created now along the existing front. If subsequent fighting changed the front lines materially, either side could propose a change in the military demarcation line for the zone. But there was no guarantee the other side would agree to the change.

"No adjustments could be made in the demarcation line as the Communists obviously would not agree," said Maj. Gen. Henry L. Hodes, head of the UN subcommittee.

"It would be a de facto ceasefire. It's the same thing they have brought up for three days."

However, Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, UN spokesman, said the Allies had made no "final judgment" on the Red plan.

Nuckols said the UN felt the Communist proposal had "many ambiguities and many contradictions."

SUERFICIAL SIMILARITIES

He said the Red and Allied plans had "superficial similarities and fundamental discrepancies."

Both would accept the actual battle line as the basis for a demarcation line and demilitarized zone. However, the Allies would provide for "appropriate adjustments" while the Reds would permit either side to veto an adjustment.

Tax Inequity Is Discussed At Realtors Meeting

A law concerning relief home owners gain from a tax inequity was discussed yesterday at a meeting of the Pampa Real Estate board.

The new law provides when the sale of a taxpayer's principal residence is followed within a year by the purchase of a substitute or when the substitute is bought within a year prior to the sale, gain will be recognized only to the extent that the selling price of the old house exceeds cost of the new.

A new home must be used as the taxpayer's principal residence within 18 months after the sale of the former house. Relief is available even though a person moved into the new home and rented the old one temporarily before its sale. The taxpayer is not required to have been occupying an old residence on the date of its sale.

Three new members admitted to the board are: Mmes. Faye and Jean Kirkham, who recently opened a real estate office at 1704 Christine, and Mrs. Elizabeth R. Martin.

Line Will Not Halt Culture

TEXARKANA — (AP) — You can't halt culture with a mere state line.

Texarkana, Tex., donated the site for a new public library and book store yesterday by voters of Texarkana, Ark., only a hypothetical line down main street, away from Texarkana, Tex., voted a mill tax on themselves to support the library.

Banks Are Honored By Pampa Story In The News Today

Pampa today honors its banking institutions.

Banks are featured in The Pampa Story appearing today on Page 12 of The Pampa Daily News.

An indication of the growth, development and future of a community is the condition of its banking institutions. These are vital factors for industries to consider. Their well-being depends upon adequate banking facilities.

Banks are where the people and industry of a community meet. Their common interests are served here.

The aid and support of the Pampa banks have figured in every noteworthy project in the city and area and have contributed much to the development of Pampa and the O' Texas.

The two banks and savings and loan association in Pampa are housed in modern buildings and have combined resources of more than $20,000,000.

Without them, the cattlemen, oilmen and farmers who built Pampa and the area could not have operated their tremendous ranches, farms and businesses.

Pampa's banks form an industry that serves industry.

Call Issued For Clerical Workers

The Civil Service commission yesterday announced applications for various clerical work in the federal service now are being accepted.

Application forms and additional information may be secured from the postoffice or from the regional director, 14th U.S. Civil Service region, 210 S. Harwood, Dallas.

GOP Picks Up Seat In House, Loses Quaker City In Four Special Elections

(By The Associated Press)

Republicans picked up one seat in the House of Representatives by capturing all four special elections held yesterday, but they lost their 65-year grip on the nation's third largest city, Philadelphia.

The off-year balloting, generally regarded as having no great national political significance, also brought victory to New York City to Rudolph Hallley of Senate crime and television fame and the defeat of James Michael Curley in an attempt to come back as mayor of Boston.

Surprising few observers, Democrats appeared to have retained the Kentucky governorship, returning to the state house Gov. Lawrence Wetherby and his state of eight state candidates.

The city hall at Little Rock, Ark., fell to the Republicans for the first time in 55 years, and the GOP also took the majority in Indianapolis, home of the new Democratic national committee chairman, Frank E. McKinney.

CLEAN GOVERNMENT

"Clean government" campaigns were waged by the New York and Philadelphia winners. Hallley won New York's city council presidency, second highest position in the metropolis, over Democrat Joseph T. Sharkey and two others. Hallley, running on the Independent, Fusion and Liberal party tickets, rolled up a plurality of 163,000 votes.

Theater Eviction Case Is Settled In Federal Court

Technical differences between H. A. Gilliland, owner of the La Nora building, and Griffith Theaters Inc. that resulted in an eviction action taken against the theater by Gilliland, were settled yesterday afternoon in Federal court, Amarillo.

Paul West, manager of the theaters here, told reporters the suit was settled and the theater granted a 20-year lease by Gilliland.

The suit was originally filed in the Justice of the Peace court here but was transferred to federal court on motion of defense attorneys.

Gilliland alleged the theaters had violated lease agreements in several instances; the theaters claimed they had not committed the violations. The stipulated lease breaches were of an involved and technical nature.

Truman Talks To Nation Tonight; Expected To Challenge Russia To Join Actions For Peace

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Diplomats look for President Truman to challenge Russia tonight to join the United States, Britain and France in a series of specific international actions to ease east-west tensions and give the world real hope for peace.

But he probably will remain cool toward the idea of a personal meeting with Premier Stalin of Russia.

The President will address the nation by radio and television at 10:30 p.m., EST from his White House office.

In what has been officially described as a major foreign policy speech, he is reported planning to talk about a new peace plan worked out by the big three western foreign ministers and due for imminent unveiling.

DESCRIBE PLAN

Responsible informants here and in Paris, where the United Nations general assembly is meeting, described the plan as calling for (A) disarmament based on a global census and continuing inspection of atomic and other weapons, (B) an end to the fighting in Korea, (C) steps to create a unified and independent Germany and (D) other measures to resolve issues long in dispute between Moscow and the West.

Diplomats looked to the President's speech to set at rest, at least by implication, speculation about the possibility of an early meeting of Mr. Truman and other Western government leaders with Stalin.

Mr. Truman is understood to regard suggestions for such a conference with disfavor on the ground that in the present state of world affairs it could make no real accomplishments for peace.

Although this government's view is known in London and Paris, such suggestions continue to come from the highest British and French officials.

BY NEGOTIATIONS

Addressing Parliament yesterday, Prime Minister Churchill called again for an attempt to settle the East-West conflict "by negotiation at the highest level."

Addressing the UN assembly opening, French President Vincent Auriol suggested that "the distinguished men towards whom all anxious eyes are turned" should attend the UN meeting and exchange ideas on reducing "the disagreements which paralyze the world."

In the American view, numerous negotiations with the Soviet Union over the past few years have produced no concrete evidence of Kremlin good faith, and there is no point in making a top-level new effort.

American policy, as repeatedly declared by the President and Secretary of State Acheson, has been to create Western strength in opposition to Soviet strength and thus bring about a balancing of Eastern and Western power. It is hoped here such a balance will eventually force some basic changes in Soviet policy. American officials contend that they see no evidence of such changes at present.

Reapers Grab JH Title With 37-0 Whitewash Of Poodles

The Pampa Junior High school Reapers, their head coach home in bed with virus influenza, captured their seventh straight game of the season and the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic League football championship along with it yesterday afternoon. They defeated the Berger Poodles, 37-0, at Bulldog Stadium in Berger in a hard-fought, rough game.

Harold "Greaser" Lewis continued his offensive onslaught, counting 25 of the total points scored. The other two touchdowns were turned in by E. J. McIlvain and back Johnny Morse.

The rough game cost the Reapers the services of a pair of players. With their final game coming up at Harvester Park Friday afternoon against the Elizabeth Nixon whirlwinds of Amarillo, they will be missing end Gary Griffin, who saw his first action in three weeks yesterday only to receive a recurrence of the knee injury that had sidelined him. Back Kenny Hinkle received a sprained ankle and probably will miss the season's finale.

The first quarter was scoreless, but the second started out fast. The Reapers took over on downs on their own 38, and on the first play, Lewis went 62 yards up the middle to score. He missed the conversion.

TWO RECALLED
On the final offensive play of the first half, quarterback Buddy Sharp fired a perfect aerial 19 yards to the end zone and into the waiting hands of end E. J. McIlvain for the score. Again Lewis missed the conversion.

Midway through the period two touchdowns were recalled, one a Sharp to Lewis pass for 32 yards and the other a 62-yard scamper by Hinkle.

Shortly after the second half kickoff, Lewis took a pitchout from Sharp and raced 41 yards around right end to score, again missing the conversion.

The Reapers scored three more times in the fourth period. A short punt gave the Reapers the ball on the Berger 19. A five-yard penalty moved it back to the 24 and then Lewis ripped over left guard from there for the score. The next touchdown saw Lewis bull over from the three yard stripe.

The final touchdown was set up by Damon Rudson, who flopped on a fumble on the Berger 15. Two plays later Johnny Morse went over from the eleven for the touchdown. Lewis converted this time for the final scoring.

Regardless of the outcome of the Friday afternoon game, the

Sam Snead In Favorite's Role As North-South Opens

PINEHURST, N.C.—(AP)—Sam Snead, a hard man to handle on any golf course, and particularly on the No. 2 championship layout of the Pinehurst Country club, was in his familiar role as the man to beat today as the 49th North and South Open Golf tournament's first round got under way.

Snead, who registers from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., has won this tournament the past two years and three times in all. On four occasions he's been second. Three of those years saw him take runner-up money behind Ben Hogan, but with Hogan not around, Snead overhauled the field of 111 more than ever.

INTERNATIONAL TALENT
This 72-hole, $7,500 fee party carries a $1,500 first prize and the betting is that when the final count is in late Sunday afternoon Snead will be accepting another first place check. Single rounds will be played daily over the 7,007-yard par 72 course with the exception of Saturday, left open to avoid football conflict.

Snead was paired with one of the few players given a chance to upset the calculations in the opening round, drawing Max Faulkner, British Open champion, whom he subdued in a Ryder Cup match here three days ago. Competing one of the classiest threesome ever to walk these ancient fairways was Pinehurst's Dick Chapman, reigning British Amateur champion.

Reapers have brought the junior high title to Pampa.

District Titles On Line Friday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

have been determined and several others are on the line this week in a 226-game schedule of Texas school football.

There are 80 districts in the four divisions that play to state championships. Next week will see the Class AA and Class A divisions wind up their district campaigns and square off for the play-offs.

Three more weeks are ahead for the Class AAAA and Class AAA divisions before district titles are all crowned.

One district champion in Class AAA is expected to be determined this week, however. Texas, leading District 5, is unbeaten and with one game to win to sew it up, plays Waco at Waco Friday night in the pay-off.

In Class AAA Grand Prairie will be at Paris and the winner will become a prohibitive favorite for the title of District 3.

Grand Prairie and Paris are tied for the lead with 8-0 records. Grand Prairie also is one of the state's undefeated, untied teams, sharing this honor in Class AAA with Palestine.

In Class AA Tahoka already is champion of District 6 although not one of the undefeated, untied teams over the season route.

In Class A Abilene holds the title of District 3 and is one of the unbeaten, untied teams.

In Class AAAA has three undefeated, untied teams — Lubbock, Ray (Corpus Christi) and Lamar (Houston). None appear in danger of falling this week although Lamar plays Reagan (Houston), its 1950 nemesis. Lamar was in the same boat at this time last year — picked as one of the top teams of the state. Then Reagan upset it.

Palestine plays Nacogdoches this week and shouldn't have much trouble keeping its perfect record.

In Class AA the unbeaten, untied, teams are Anson, Levega, Lampasas, Lamarque, La Porte, Cuero and Gonzales, while Brownfield, Shamrock, Pittsburg and Center are unbeaten but tied.

In Class A Canadian, Dimmitt, Iran, Abilene, Wink, Edin, Eldorado, Wylie (Abilene), Newcastle, Giddings, Whitney, Farmerville, Hawkins and Honda have perfect records. Elkhart, Wilmer-Hutchins and Fair are unbeaten but have been tied.

Arlington State leads in running with 1,490 yards in seven games.

Don Bloom of Arlington is the league's leading scorer. He's made 32 points this season on five touchdowns and two conversions.

Sandies Offering Top Defensive Line

Harvesters Offer Stronger Offense

When the Harvesters buck up against the Amarillo Sandies Saturday afternoon at Harvester Park they will smack into what has quietly become the best defensive ball club in the district.

The Amarillo front wall, which averages 47 pounds per man, the same as the Harvesters, has given up only 799 yards rushing this season, for an average of 117 yards per game. The Harvesters' front line, which has been tough through the first five games, has been run through pretty well the last two contests, and now has allowed an average of 145 yards per struggle.

The Harvesters' offense has also been slowed the past couple of games, cut down to an average of 273 yards per game as compared to the well over 300 earlier in the season. The Sandies have averaged 238 net yards rushing this season. The actual difference in the two clubs thus becomes a negligible four yards per game. The comparative statistics of the two clubs thus far this season are as follows:

COMPARATIVE STATISTICS

Pampa	Amarillo
Games	5
First Downs	108
Opp. First Downs	79
Opp. Yds. Rushing	1058
Opp. Yds. Passing	429
Opp. Yds. Pn. Sing	184
Opp. Points	107

As the statistics show, while their defense has been strong, the Sandies have given up more points than the Harvesters, indicating that when the chips are down, and a stand is needed, the Harvesters can produce, as they did so well against the Odessa Bronchos time after time.

Leading that Amarillo line are five lettermen, flanked by a pair of husky, speedy ends, Stanley Ehill and Donald Carter, both co-captains of the club. In the top post is Fred Way, husky center. The other two lettermen in the line are tackles Jim Raleigh and John Spencer. The guards up front are Stanley William Armstrong and Leon Eggleston.

The Sandies have been rated tenth in the state this week by the Dallas Morning News as compared to a fifth place berth for the Harvesters in both the News and the Star-Telegram. In the latter the Sandies drew a thirteenth spot.

The Sandies' six victories were 19-7 affairs over both Childress and Plainview, 25-14 over Fort Worth, 26-0 over Ysleta, the top club in district 2-AAA, and then 40-19 over Berger and 41-7 over San Angelo in conference play. The lone loss was a 47-8 shellacking by Lubbock.

Tickets for the game were reported moving slowly, but the tempo should increase as kickoff time nears for this traditional battle on which hinges the prestige of the Texas Panhandle. Tickets may be obtained at the school business office in the city hall.

Frogs Weaken On Offense, But—

FORT WORTH—(AP)—What was Texas Christian's offensive loss was its defensive gain.

It's been going like that all season for the Southwest Conference leaders. Every time it lost a quarterback one came up who played even better.

This time it's a wingman. Ted Vaught, the compact and agile end from Lubbock is one of those players who can hold down almost any position — either on offense or defense. A top pass receiver and slashing blocker, he was a top performer in the Christian's first six games.

Then after the battle with Southern California, in which the Trojans damaged the right side of the Purple line with running plays Ted got orders to report to Coach Dutch Meyer's defensive unit "just learn what to do if needed."

"I knew the minute Ted reported on the sop 'em side of the field I'd lost a great end," grinned assistant Coach Abe Martin who has been tutoring the Frog offense all fall. "I've known all along Ted could play defense as good as anybody we have — but man, he can also go on that offense too! Sure hate to lose him—but we have to plug the worst holes first."

Ted played defense against Baylor — and how. Although he hadn't looked at an enemy from the defensive side of things all season, Vaught turned in a great exhibition, and he ended up by dropping back in the flats to intercept two Larry Isbell's passes, the last one leading directly to the Frogs' third touchdown in the 20-7 victory.

The presence of two other fine offensive ends makes the switch on Vaught possible. They are senior Wilson George and junior Bob Blair of Texasarkana. Among them, Vaught, Blair and George have played every down of offensive end for the Frogs through seven games. Blair is the "wing man." He plays either end and has started games on either side.

The Frogs also have a top defensive end in Wayne Martin, the tall boy from Shamrock, smart and quick. Wayne has intercepted four enemy passes during the season, some of them in crucial spots. He's also rugged against runs.

Daughter For Billy

HOUSTON—(AP)—A daughter was born yesterday to Mr. and Mrs. Billy Buskhalter. The father is a Rice Institute backfield star.

In the fall, water holes near White Sands, N. M. often turn red in color. Chemists say algae, which thrive on sulphur water, are the cause.

Guerillas To Battle Yans

The Pampa Guerillas, conquerors of Class B Turkey's Turks for their only win of the year, will go to Amarillo tomorrow afternoon to engage the Amarillo Yans for the third and final time this year.

This game will be against the White team, winners over the Guerillas two weeks ago, 13-8. Earlier, the Gold squad downed the Guerillas 7-4 at Pampa.

Kickoff time is 3:30 and the game will be broadcast by radio station KPND, starting at 3:15.

TWO GAMES LEFT
Only two other games remain on the B squad schedule, both at Pampa. They are Berger and Plainview on the next two weekends. For those games the Guerillas should be materially strengthened by the addition of members of the Resper squad, who will have concluded their schedule by that time.

The probable starting lineup for the Guerillas tomorrow will see, in the backfield, Bobby Wilhelm, John Darby, Jimmie Keel and Jean Martindale. The line starters will probably be Travis Taylor and James Pippet at ends; Bob Prigmore and Ronnie Elliott at tackles; Dwayne Green and Eugene Beatty at guards and Bill Pippet at center.

The Guerillas have been hitting the practice field hard the past two weeks, regardless of the weather, in preparation for the Yans in an attempt to even the score. Only some poor defensive play in the game two weeks ago allowed the Whites to continue their season undefeated. The White team is sparked by a diminutive quarterback and shifty runner, Spooky Canova, who personally accounted for both touchdowns two weeks ago.

McLean Cubs Win 1-A JH Crown
McLEAN—The McLean Junior High School Tigers Cubs rolled to a 34-victory over the Skellytown Panthers here last night to capture the District 1-A junior high school football crown. The game was a meeting between the east and west half winners.

Halfback Gary Nicholson scored four of the winner's touchdowns as he broke loose on runs of 25, 55, 15 and 57 yards. He also ran over all four of the extra points the Cubs scored. The other tally for the winners was made by Glen Sparlin on a 60-yard scamper.

Skellytown's lone touchdown came on an aerial from Horace Preston to Don Carlton, the play covering 40 yards. Preston ran over the extra point.

Illinois End, Tennessee Tackle Linemen Of The Week

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK—(AP)—Rex Smith, Illinois end, and Bill "Pug" Pearman, Tennessee tackle, were selected today as the linemen of the week in the weekly Associated Press poll.

Smith caught the forward pass that brought the Illinois a 7 to 0 victory over Michigan in the last 30 seconds of their crucial Big Ten game at Champaign, Ill. That earned him the nod as the offensive lineman.

The work of Pearman against North Carolina made him tops among the defensive boys. Those who saw the game at Chapel Hill, N.C. lauded Pearman's key tackles that stopped the Tar Heels in their tracks and was a major factor in Tennessee's 27-0 victory.

Pearman's feat's additionally helped keep the Vols in the number one spot in the AP team poll. Smith's ability to get clear in the Michigan end zone to catch Tommy O'Connell's aerial boosted Illinois into the No. 2 spot.

COMPLETE LIST
Jim Cordial, Oregon State end; Sam Duca, tackle for Arizona State (Tempe); James Fowler, Texas A&M center; and Leo Sugar, Purdue end, were four other linemen commended for their noteworthy play against Washington, West Texas, Arkansas and Penn State, respectively.

The complete list of linemen nominated this week:

Guards — Ray Beck, Georgia Tech, Bill Athey, Baylor, Harley Sewell, Texas, Will Alexander, North Carolina.

Ollie Matson, of San Francisco university, and Keith Flowers, of Texas Christian, were named yesterday as the backs of the week for their sterling performances against Santa Clara and Baylor, respectively.

In The State of Texas

HERE'S WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT THE NEW TEXAS "SAFETY RESPONSIBILITY LAW"

- Enforcement Begins January 1, 1952. On this date, the new Safety Responsibility Law, as passed by the Legislature, goes into effect. This law was designed to protect you against financially irresponsible drivers and owners of motor vehicles involved in accidents. It affects all drivers and motor vehicle owners (except Federal, State, County and City-owned cars).
- What Must You Do After An Accident? Under existing laws, you must file a written report to the Department of Public Safety if your car is involved in an accident where there is a death, an injury or property damage in excess of $25. Under the new law, a written report must be filed within ten days if your car is in an accident resulting in death, injury or property damage in excess of $100.
- You Don't Have to Carry Liability Insurance, But . . . If you are not insured against bodily injury and property damage liability, you must be able to deposit with the Department of Public Safety security equal to the estimated damage, not exceeding $15,000.00, to cover all claims growing out of an accident anywhere in Texas in which you or your motor vehicle were involved. If you cannot establish financial responsibility for the future, your driver's license and your motor vehicle license plates are automatically suspended.
- It's Easy to Establish Financial Responsibility with a motor vehicle liability insurance policy. If you do not now have such a policy, call your local insurance agent today. He is a qualified insurance counselor who will be happy to advise you concerning your needs.
- What is the Minimum of Your Liability? The law permits each driver to establish the following minimum limits of liability: up to $5,000.00 for injuries sustained by one person; up to $10,000.00 for all personal injuries resulting from one accident, and up to $5,000.00 for property damage. You do not have to establish such liability but it is the easiest way.

WARREN'S ARM UP

By Warren Hesse—News Sports Editor

CONGRATULATIONS to the Junior High school Reapers and their two coaches, Marvin Bowman and Wayne Tripp. They have done an excellent job of winning the Panhandle Junior High School Athletic League football championship, going through the first seven games undefeated. They will close out their season Friday afternoon at Harvester Park against the Elizabeth Nixon whirlwinds.

Coach Bowman has had a hectic year of it, working hard with the boys during practice and being forced to miss several of their games because of an emergency appendectomy and then yesterday a bad case of influenza bedded him down for the clincher game. He expects to be back on his feet in time to close out the season with his fine youngsters.

One thing we can be most proud of the boys for is their fine display of sportsmanship at all times. They have been the target of the other schools in the district because of their fine record. And it was never more openly displayed than yesterday at Berger.

The Poodles offered a preview of just what the Harvesters can expect when they meet Berger ten days hence. It was an example of the type of rowdy football that took place in the Berger-Amarillo contest and a sample of why the Harvesters stomped the Bulldogs last year, 71-6. When a team starts slug-ging and rough it up, all sense of football leaves the team and they usually take a severe whipping. That's what happened to the Poodles yesterday.

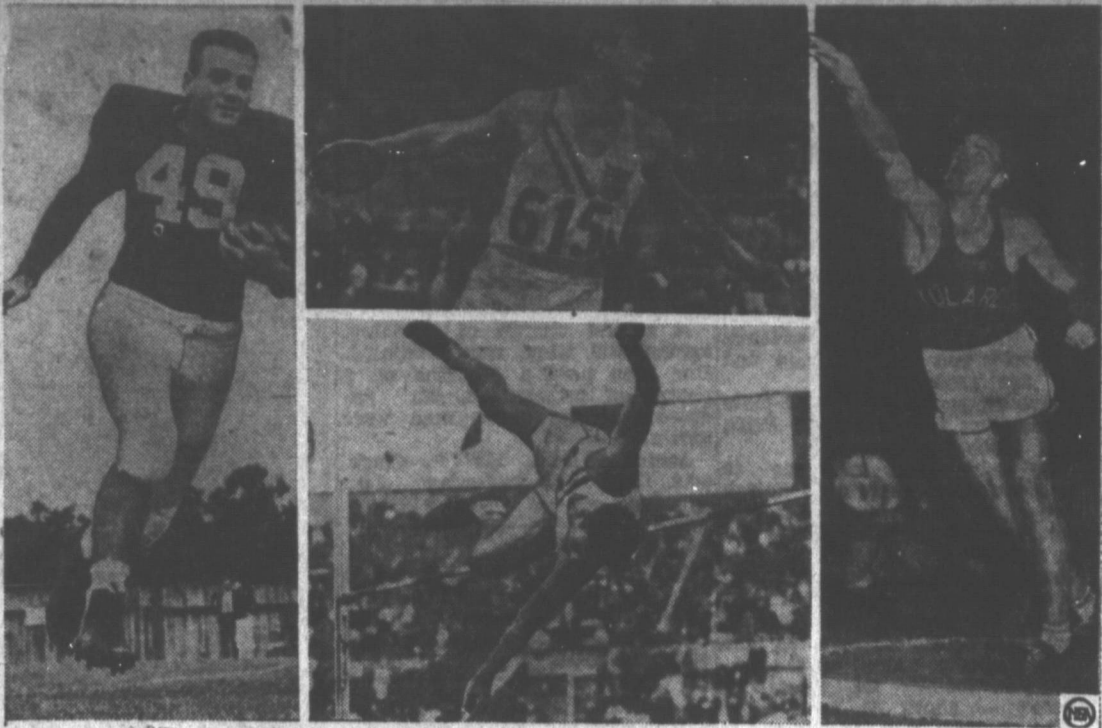

Harold Lewis, one of the finest young footballers to come up from Pampa Junior high, was the main target yesterday. And after him was Joe Del Rogers, husky Poodie halfback. Rogers tackled Lewis in the end zone after Lewis had taken a pass for an apparent touchdown, and while Lewis was on the ground Rogers made no bones at all in slugging him. Everyone in the stands could see the obvious action, but not the referees.

The touchdown was recalled by a rule infraction, and on the next play Lewis took the ball again. He was tackled while on the ground Rogers came over and viciously kicked him in the hip, again most obvious. No penalty called, but Lewis had to be helped off the field. And while Lewis was being helped off, the Poodles rejoiced in their huddle, congratulating each other on a job they thought was well done. Even their coaches, J. D. Covington and H. D. Trammell, stood on the sideline grinning.

The few fans sitting in the stands could hear the coaches yelling from the sidelines for the boys to "tackle the ball" and see them motioning with their arms to slug. There were five obvious cases of unsportsmanlike conduct by the Poodles before a penalty was called against them for it. Two Reapers left the game with injuries that will probably sideline them the rest of the year.

That type of football has been going on in Berger for the past few years, and it is high time that something was done to stop it. It seems that the game over there is being played like the professional Chicago Bears reportedly used to play it, with the front office offering special bonuses every time one of the Bear players could break a leg or arm of an opponent, certain bonuses established for certain injuries inflicted.

Reports had run rampant about the conduct of the Bulldogs and their coaches during the Amarillo game a few weeks ago. We can now easily believe them. If such actions continue, it is time that the Bulldogs were

ALL-AROUND MAN—Bob Mathias added fullbacking to his numerous athletic accomplishments scoring two touchdowns that gave Stanford a 21-7 victory over UCLA. The Olympic and record-holding three-time national decathlon champion is equally at home throwing the discus, high jumping, putting the shot and whatnot. (NEA)

Sports Round-Up

BERGER BASKETBALL COACH TEX HANNA IS ALREADY CLAIMING THAT HE HAS A BETTER TEAM THIS YEAR THAN LAST. He lost Keith Lane and Red Hooper, tubercularly, but it hasn't hurt. Hanna finished third at state last year, and if this season's club is better, you can see what Hanna is figuring on.

Last week the Bulldogs scrimmaged the West Texas Freshmen team and reportedly gave them a going-over. Hanna might be right.

1942 — Amarillo 39, Pampa 7. "Bloodthirsty?"

"Bad Days" Not For Larry Isbell

WACO — (AP) — A "bad day" for Baylor's Larry Isbell is such a rarity that everyone has been slugging him. Everyone in the stands could see the obvious action, but not the referees.

The touchdown was recalled by a rule infraction, and on the next play Lewis took the ball again. He was tackled while on the ground Rogers came over and viciously kicked him in the hip, again most obvious. No penalty called, but Lewis had to be helped off the field. And while Lewis was being helped off, the Poodles rejoiced in their huddle, congratulating each other on a job they thought was well done. Even their coaches, J. D. Covington and H. D. ## Smith Quits Indiana Post

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. — (AP) — Indiana University today began looking for something it never has had — a football coach who can win consistently in the Western Conference. Officials had no idea who he could be.

Clyde B. Smith is the tenth who couldn't make it. He resigned yesterday, effective at the end of this season, with two years to go on his contract.

Alvin N. (Bo) McMillin, Smith's predecessor at Indiana, came closest to a winning record in Big Ten competition. His 14 I.U. teams broke even in the tough circuit, winning 34, losing 34 and tying six. His 1945 team won Indiana's only conference championship.

Smith, a short muscular man who refrains from liquor, tobacco and profanity, walked into athletic director Paul (Pooch) Harrell's office and said he was quitting because "I'd like to be happy for the next three weeks and coach the boys like they deserve to be coached." He did not elaborate.

Smith's four teams at Indiana have won eight games, lost 24 and tied one — well under the university's all-time 218-220-36 record. In the Big Ten they have won four and lost 17, also

Turkey Shoot Sunday Sponsored By 20-30

A turkey shoot, sponsored by the Pampa 20-30 club, will be held at the trap located at Recreation Park next Sunday, Nov. 11. Shooting will start at 12 noon.

Contestants must furnish their own guns and ammunition.

Fat, corn-fed turkeys have been promised by the 20-30 club as prizes.

under the 67-148-18 record.

Scattered alumni began sniping at Smith after his current squad, expected to be his best, lost one-sided games to Notre Dame and Michigan and defeated Pittsburgh by only one touchdown.

The glamor subsided for a time after Oct. 20 when Indiana upset Ohio State, 32-10. The team since has lost to Illinois and Wisconsin but made creditable showings in both games. It plays at Minnesota Saturday and finishes with home games against Michigan State and Purdue.

An Indiana athletic department member said there had been no organized opposition to Smith and his resignation was unexpected. Asking that his name be withheld, he said Indiana's perennial football troubles are a puzzle to all concerned.

The winning company team is honored at a special banquet following the completion of the football season.

The Little Dutchman To Do Scouting Job Personally

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Coach Dutch Meyer of Texas Christian is going to personally scout Texas at Austin Saturday.

The Horned Frog mentor has been doing this for years and he has come up with some of the greatest upsets in Southwest Conference history as a result.

Meyer will watch Texas against Baylor because TCU has an open date this week.

However, it may be the last time that Meyer will be able to scout Texas himself. In 1952, the Frogs have scheduled a game with Wake Forest for the Saturday before Texas, moving their open date to the week before Baylor.

Walter Roach, freshman coach who saw the Longhorns beat Southern Methodist, reported that the Frogs had "no chance" against Texas.

"They'll hold the ball on us all afternoon," he moaned. "They hammer you for five, eight, three yards and keep possession. I don't think we can get often enough to win."

The Frogs will take things fairly easy this week. They hope to get all their injured back in top shape. This may include Gilbert Bartosh, the junior quarterback who has been nursing a bad ankle for almost a month.

Malvin Fowler, who played the last few minutes against Baylor, stood up well. A hard tackle failed to unhinge his bad knee. I Fowler and Bartosh can back up the sensational soph. Ray McKown, the Frogs will have top strength on Nov. 17.

ANNONA, IN Roman mythology, was the name given to the personification of the produce of the year.

When did Isbell last have such a day?

The answer: Oct. 14, 1950, in Fayetteville against the Arkansas Razorbacks. He hit but five of 21 passes, none for touchdowns, that day and Baylor lost, 2-6. Since then, the brilliant T-quarterback, who leads the Southwest Conference in total offense and forward passing, has been slightly terrific every Saturday. Larry: (1) Played a leading role as his team won nine games, lost one and tied one in its last eleven games. (2) Tossed 19 touchdown passes in eleven games. (3) Scored three touchdowns in his team's last five games, and set up numerous others with his passes and runs. (4) Passed for at least one touchdown in nine of his team's last 12 games. (5) Made more touchdowns and more yards than any other T-quarterback in the conference. (6) Spurred game after game as a punter and ball-handler.

Until last Saturday, Isbell never had more than three passes intercepted in a single game. TCU hooked onto five of his throws. Larry had no alibies or excuses — he said: "Some days you just can't hit 'em."

For Isbell, a "can't hit 'em day" sticks out like a sore thumb, because he just hardly ever has one.

Temple Tops In Class AAA Ball

DALLAS — (AP) — The mighty Temple Wildcats for the sixth straight week remained atop the Class AAA school football ratings in a poll of sports writers taken by the Dallas Morning News.

Only one team invaded the top 10 this week. Conroe of Dist. 6 took over tenth place, while Brownwood, in ninth place last week, dropped from the select circle.

Biggest shakeup came when Stephenville, fourth a week ago, dropped to ninth after taking a 23-13 shellacking at the hands of Breckenridge, which moved from third to second.

The top 10:

1. Temple
2. Breckenridge
3. Palestine
4. Grand Prairie
5. Longview
6. Midland
7. Cladwater
8. Vernon
9. Stephenville
10. Conroe.

COUNTY

County officials this morning admitted the county's tax structure was far from being equalized but added that legal notices of the county equalization board hearings on personal property tax had been published and held one week before the real estate hearings. Only one businessman appeared before the board but entered no protest, Judge Bruce Parker said.

Robert E. Knott, working with the county tax office on property valuation, said personal property of farmers has also been raised and that cattle has been boosted from $2 to $26 a head for taxable purposes.

"REFUSES TO PAY"
Knott told a reporter one farmer came into the tax office and paid the tax on his real estate but refused to pay the assessment on his personal property including tractors, cattle, etc.

During commission meeting yesterday Atkinson said he was wondering whether or not the commission unknowingly did the businessmen of Pampa an injustice when they agreed to allow the county to use the city card system.

Another local businessman told a reporter last night his valuation had been raised just about 400 percent and said he knew county expenses were up and the taxes had to be raised, adding he thought "this $100, $150 and $175 per acre wheatland should not be permitted to stay on the rolls at 52 and 53 per acre."

The consensus voiced by several other business men was about the same — local business firms are getting the sharp increases on personal property while the farmers are getting little, if any, boosts on real estate valuations.

Russ Says She Won't Attack U.S. But Could

MOSCOW — (AP) — Soviet Marshal Rodion V. Malinovsky, speaking in Red Square to massed thousands today, declared that the Soviet people can rely upon their armed forces against "any aggressor."

He told the crowds in a speech commemorating the Bolshevik revolution's 34th anniversary that the USSR "does not contemplate attacking the United States of America or any other country."

Leading members of the Politburo, headed by Lavrenty P. Beria and Georgi M. Malenkov, reviewed a parade of Soviet armed might from the Politburo's traditional position atop Lenin's tomb.

Rig Bombers and Jet Fighters and Bombers zoomed overhead in an aerial show led by Prime Minister Stalin's son, Lt. Gen. Vassily Stalin.

Malinovsky, top commander of Soviet forces in the east during World War II, said the Soviet Union today is "fully armed."

Politburo member Beria, a deputy prime minister, declared last night in an anniversary eve celebration at the Bolshoi theater that the Soviet Union would crush any attack on it and had the weapons to do this.

ATTACKS U. S.

Taking up this same theme, Malinovsky bitterly attacked the United States government, saying its leaders are conducting a policy of aggression and preparing for a new war, while the Soviet leaders aimed at "peace and cooperation among nations."

The policy of U. S. leaders, he added, "is to establish domination of the American monopolists over the peoples of other countries — to rob the working masses and worsen their living standards." He called Soviet talk of Soviet warlike intentions mere "inventions."

The Air Force section of the parade which began after Malinovsky's speech was briefer this time than for many years. Led by a big four-engine Bomber and four Jet Fighters, it consisted of 18 four-engine Bombers, 30 twin-engine Jet Bombers, and 38 single engine, speedy Jet Fighters.

While these planes streaked overhead, motorized and mechanized Army units rolled rapidly through Red Square. All types of equipment were noted in the parade, including tanks, self-propelled artillery pieces, powerful cannon, long anti-tank guns, and trucks.

Beria keynoted the celebration with an important speech last night.

Tax Collector Free On Bond

DALLAS — (AP) — A Dallas attorney, who says he helped about a fourth of Texas 254 counties collect delinquent taxes, was free on bond today on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The attorney, Horace Walker, was indicted last week in Fort Worth by a federal grand jury. The indictment was not made public at the time. He was arrested here yesterday.

The charges are an outgrowth of embezzlement complaints filed against Walker in Eastland county. Walker's attorney, Ivan Irwin, claimed the Eastland indictments had political implications. He said the Walker case was an important political issue in Eastland county last June. The commissioners court voted 3 to 2 to hire a special prosecutor, Frank Sparks, to help the county attorney in the case.

Walker yesterday appeared before U.S. Commissioner Madden Hill less than an hour after his arrest at his fashionable Dallas home. A hearing was waived by Walker and bond set at $3,500. It first was set at $5,000 and then reduced after a consultation of attorneys. The bond was put up immediately.

Autos Damaged In Collision

An accident at 12:20 p. m. yesterday at W. Foster and N. Russell involving two vehicles resulted in damage estimated by police at $70.

Drivers were Mrs. J. L. Jones, 1309 Starkweather, and William T. Strickland, 708 E. Scott. Police said Strickland failed to grant right of way when making a left turn from Foster onto Russell, colliding with the car driven by Mrs. Jones, who was traveling west on Foster.

Mrs. Jones was ticketed for driving without a license and Strickland for failure to grant right of way.

In Critical Condition After Heart Attack

Lee O'Grady, 1820 Wilks, was in critical condition this morning in Highland General Hospital following a heart attack he suffered at home early today.

Hospital attendants reported he was brought to the hospital at 3:30 a. m. and was given emergency medical treatment by physicians there. There was no improvement in his condition by noon today, hospital authorities said.

ENTRY GRANTED

LAREDO — (AP) — The city council has granted the U.S. corps of engineers right of entry to municipal airport. It will be reactivated as a jet pilot training center at a cost of $5,577,000.

The council yesterday also authorized lease of land for a new municipal airport.

The Spratly Islands are located in the South China Sea.

Rayburn Advises Keeping Demos In Corporation Court

DENISON — (AP) — Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, pointing to American prosperity, advised American voters last night to think of their present living standards before voting for a change in political parties.

"The present party has guided the United States to the greatest prosperity ever," Rayburn said. "You have the greatest prosperity you ever had now and you are sure of that."

Rayburn spoke at a $10-a-plate appreciation dinner at the Bells, Tex., Methodist church.

The only direct reference to the Republican party was: "things have certainly been different since we last heard of that grand old party."

Rayburn said the national income last year was about $226 billion, the highest ever. He said that figure almost equaled the total property value of the nation — "lot by lot, house by house" — about 20 years ago.

The dinner was in honor of John Cliff, state editor of the Denison Herald, Rayburn and other speakers paid tribute to Cliff for his aid in rebuilding the Bell church after it burned in 1950.

Before the dinner, Rayburn told reporters he had no more idea whether President Truman planned to run for reelection than

Four Fined In Corporation Court

Four men were fined a total of $30 this morning in corporation court on traffic and intoxication violations.

Russell D. Byrd paid a $3 fine for running a red light and Raymond Cox was fined $2 on a similar charge. Earl R. Winegert was assessed $10 for speeding.

A second charge of speeding, against Bill King, was dismissed. One man paid a $15 fine on a charge of intoxication. No addresses of the above men were available.

James Willson, 1127 S. Clark, was fined $10 yesterday for speeding.

WON HIS BET

HOUSTON — (AP) — To win a $100 bet, Sam Cash, 250-pound ice dealer, ate 18 dozen oysters yesterday. He topped off the meal with eight steins of beer.

He did whether Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower planned to be a candidate.

Navy Announces New Plane; Sets Record For Altitude

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., — (AP) We have a rocket plane, the Navy's Douglas Skyrocket, so speedy that air friction can make it hotter than boiling water.

This plane has gone higher than 72,000 feet, (more than 13 miles) the highest published flight of man.

We have three of these planes and the facts uncovered by them, mostly still secret, are expected to benefit many combat planes which still are in the designing board state.

These reports were made by A. M. Mayo, of the Douglas Aircraft Co., Inc., El Segundo, Calif., to a symposium on the medical and other human problems of speed and flight up near the borders of outside space.

The symposium here is the first of its kind. It is sponsored by the U.S. Air Force School of Aviation Medicine, Randolph Field, and the Lovelace Foundation, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Physicians, physicists, flyers, airplane designers and astronomers are on the four-day program.

The air friction that is hotter than boiling water, Mayo said, comes at low altitudes. It is met by a refrigeration system in the cockpit. As the rocket ship reaches 70,000 feet the friction is no longer so hot. But above that altitude there is so little air that the heat of the sun's rays becomes intolerable, unless a cooling system is used.

The cooling above 70,000 feet will have to be different than present cooling for lower altitudes, Mayo said. He predicted liquid oxygen for cooling as ships go still higher. And ultimately, he said, the difference in temperature on the sunny and shady sides of a ship can be used for cooling.

There is, he said, one terror which is not going to bother us much, namely the astonishing heat of very thin upper air. At 33 miles this temperature is 170 Fahrenheit and at 100 miles it is 4000 degrees. But the air particles are so far apart at those altitudes they probably will not even be felt as heat. These fast planes run away from the noises they make, because they travel faster than sound. But Mayo said there is cause to worry about the super-sonic vibrations of jet and rocket engines. They are not audible, but no one else is sure whether they may harm the men inside the plane.

Yule Complete With Snowfall Is Gift To Captain

DETROIT — (AP) — It was Christmas Sunday for a veteran Army captain who soon will be back on active duty.

John P. O'Connell, 33, his wife, Patricia, and their three-year-old daughter, Janice, had a real Yuletide celebration, complete with decorated tree, presents, an extra-special dinner, and even an early snowfall.

Mrs. O'Connell said she planned the celebration as a surprise when her husband was recalled by the Army because "he was gone so long during the last war that I couldn't let him miss Christmas again this year."

The captain, who expects to be in Japan or Korea by the end of next month, was pleased but not completely surprised. He said he had "a hunch" that something was up so he wrapped up the presents he had bought for his girls.

"A lot of guys over there," O'Connell said when the festivities were over, "will have a pretty dismal Christmas. But I'll have memories of a wonderful day."

TO REACTIVATE FIELD
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Plans to reactivate the World War II Army Air field at Eagle Pass, Tex., and the Pinto Auxiliary Field No. 2, Kinney county, Tex., were announced here yesterday.

The Air Force said the two fields would be used as auxiliary flying centers of the Laughlin Air Force base at Del Rio, Tex.

Pampa Anti-Freeze Supply Is Sufficient

Winter should hold no fears for Pampa motorists as far as the anti-freeze supply in town is concerned.

A survey taken late yesterday showed that there should be enough to go around unless a hard, sustained cold spell set in. The survey included wholesalers, automobile dealers and service stations. The consensus seems to be that Pampa has a normal winter, there will be plenty.

The supply wasn't distributed evenly throughout the three outlets, however. Most of it seemed to be concentrated in the stocks of local automobile dealers.

Nearly all said they were in good shape in both the permanent anti-freeze and in alcohol. Some said they had plenty while others said they would probably have anti-freeze left over for next year.

Wholesalers, for the most part, are just about out and see little prospect of more deliveries in the near future. Some were already out of such leaders as

England Pokes Fun At U. S. A.

LONDON — (AP) — More than 5,000 London university students staged a two-mile Guy Fawkes parade Monday night. Many of the floats goodnaturedly jibed the Americans and nominated Britain to be the 49th state of the United States.

A member of the London University Student union said the American embassy had told the union it did not object to the playful digs and "thought it all rather funny."

The big parade — plus beer and fireworks — was part of the English celebration of the legendary failure of Guy Fawkes in his plot to blow up the houses of Parliament on Nov. 5, 1605.

One of the floats carried a version of the Statue of Liberty holding aloft a bottle of Coca-Cola, with one foot atop a globe and the other trodding on the British flag. Others depicted the Boston tea party, a dude ranch and an American style "pub."

Wage Line Neither Frozen Nor A Sieve

New York — (AP) — Economic stabilizer Eric Johnston said Tuesday that while the wage line is not frozen, neither is it a "sieve for wage inflation."

Johnston, in an address prepared for the national CIO convention, said the government's wage policies are fair and assure "real earnings."

At the same time, he added, they provide "a strong framework of overall wage stabilization."

The basic policy of allowing pay increases to keep pace with cost of living rises is fair, Johnston said, and was hammered out by labor, management, and public representatives "working together in good faith on the wage stabilization board."

"It is a policy which assumes we can hold the cost of living within bounds," Johnston said. "And if we're to do that, then wage rates must also be held within bounds."

Baby Sitter Rescues Seven In Blazing Home

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — (AP) Margaret Galassi, 17-year-old baby sitter, rescued seven children from their blazing four-room frame home Sunday.

The fire was discovered by one of the children — ranging in age from 14 months to 12 years — and Margaret started guiding them out of the house. She had six out when the oldest, 12-year-old Joyce Pitts, realized that the youngest child was still in the burning house and went after the baby. Joyce couldn't find her way out because of the smoke, but the baby sitter re-entered the house and brought both of them to safety.

erred significant, even though he has submitted his resignation to be effective probably before Dec. 1. That's the date when CIO President Philip Murray begins negotiating for a new contract in the steel industry. He heads the million-member steelworkers' union which is demanding about a 20-cent hourly pay hike.

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

Price Controller Michael DiSalle has been most critical of the meat packers of late. According to him, they are deliberately attempting to destroy the whole price control system.

DiSalle is entitled to his views, but other observers draw very different conclusions from the present confusion in the meat industry. For example, news dispatches from Chicago said that, in a recent week, the 95 leading meat processors were handling 35 percent less beef than a year before.

The Journal then observed that the total supply of livestock coming to the market was about the same as a year ago, and continued: "Where did the rest of the livestock go? And why? It pretty obviously went to other processors, and there's a sneaking suspicion that quite a bit went to black — or at least a gray — marketer. There's also a tiny suspicion that it went to these rather than the 95 leading processors because of a matter of price. The leading processors pretty much have to stick to the letter of the price control rules because quite apart from a matter of honesty they have too much at stake."

It may be that attacks on the meat people and other business represent an effort to avoid the fact that price control always produces confusion and disrupted markets, and to pass the buck for the government's failure to realize this. No one should be deluded by such a stratagem. Apparently the packers are being abused for obeying the law.

Accurate Prophecy The Freeman magazine recently reprinted a statement made by Senator Benjamin Harvey Hill in the U.S. Senate in 1918. The Senator spoke during a discussion of the possible dangers of industrial monopolies. He observed, "I have said I do not dread these corporations as instruments of power to destroy this country, because there are a thousand agencies which can regulate, restrain and control them; but there is a corporation we may all dread. That corporation is the federal government. From the aggression of this corporation there can be no safety. If it is allowed to go beyond its bounds, the well defined limits of its power, I dread nothing so much as the exercise of ungranted and doubtful powers by this government."

"If this great, ambitious, ever growing corporation becomes oppressive, who shall check it? If it becomes wayward, who shall control it? If it becomes unjust, who shall trust it? As sentinels on the country's watchtower, senators, I beseech you watch and guard with sleepless dread that corporation which can make all property and rights, all states and people, and all liberty and hope, its playthings in an hour and its victims forever."

Senator Hill was a prophet of a high order. We have met the problem of the industrial corporation, and dealt with it. We have retained the virtues of, and abolished the evils. But the government has grown greater and greater, more costly and more costly — and more and more it has gone beyond the control of the people. It has undermined the foundations on which our freedoms rest. It has come to dominate our lives in a thousand ways. That is the trend which, unless it is checked, must result ultimately in tyranny — as the whole history of the world proves.

THE NATION'S PRESS HAPPY HUNTING GROUND OR CLEANUP? (Chicago Daily Tribune) New federal taxes on gambling and ambling become effective Nov. 1 and the internal revenue bureau has announced plans to recruit 4,000 additional agents to enforce them at a cost of 40 million dollars a year.

The law requires professional operators of handbooks, betting pools conducted for profit, and numbers or policy lotteries to pay the government 10 percent of each year's net receipts. The minimum penalty for failure to pay is five years imprisonment and a $10,000 fine. The law also provides that persons subject to the 10 percent levy, their agents and employees must pay an annual occupational tax of $50. Failure to pay this subjects the violator to a $5,000 fine. Operators failing to post stamps denoting payment of the $500 annual tax are liable to a fine of $250.

In registering for the occupational tax, operators must give addresses of their residences and all places where they conduct gambling business, together with the names and addresses of their agents. When the agents register, they must list their employers. The lists of names are to be open to public inspection, which means that the police, the sheriff, and the state's attorney will know the name of the operator and the location of every gambling establishment.

This is certainly one of the most curious laws ever enacted by congress. Except in Nevada and perhaps one or two other states, gambling is illegal. Yet the federal government proposes to license criminal activity and to raise revenue from it.

This scheme was one of the by-products of the investigations of a Kefauver crime committee. Advocates of the tax provisions proceeded from mixed motives. Some of them said that the tax would produce at least 400 million dollars a year for the treasury. Others held that this was a sure fire way to force the gamblers out of business.

The bureau of internal revenue apparently intends to regard the legislation as a means of producing new revenue. But whether things work out that way remains to be seen. There are some fascinating possibilities. First, the gamblers may be so scared between the twin fears of falling afoul of the man with the whiskers and of being put on the spot for a pinch and conviction that they may choose to shut up shop. If the congressional reformers think that the end justifies the means, they may acclaim the result. As a matter of morals, however, this method of suppressing gamblers has about as much to commend it as getting Al Capone for income tax evasion in disregard of far greater crimes.

What Causes Better Jobs Since this column is dedicated to discussing things that will produce better jobs, it might be well in the first place to determine what is a good job.

A job that is a good job for one man probably is not a good job for another man. Briefly, a good job is one that enables an individual to use all the talents that God gave him, and thus serve his fellow man to the best of his ability, which he receives compensation equal to what any other individual would do the same job for. This causes the worker to have the happiness or pleasure that results from accomplishment.

A good job is not one that enables him to receive more than what another individual would do the same job for. In other words, a job where an individual receives a gift wage is not a good job. It is not a good job because the individual becomes only interested in pleasing his employer—whether he be his foreman or whatnot, who gives him the gift wage.

A good job is one that teaches the individual how he can be more useful to mankind and thus earn more and is not subject to the whims of any one individual. If an individual gets a gift wage or a wage under coercion, as is the case with labor unions, he tends not to be so much interested in improving his ability to serve. Men working under labor unions have to satisfy the labor union bosses rather than improve their jobs so that their employer is compelled to pay them more in order to keep them.

Good Jobs Result From Virtue The only job that is a really good job is one that results from the individual's desire to develop. He must have good tools with which to work. He must have an unlimited market to sell what he produces. There must be an unhampered division of labor. And he must get all he produces as arrived at by a free market.

One of the primary things that prevents jobs from being good and being constantly improved is the government compelling individuals to pay for the use of tools that they do not use and labor unions that interfere with the individual finding the niche that he is best qualified to fit. Labor unions and governments and any restrictions in a free market of goods and services are road-blocks to better and better jobs. Better jobs are a result of better tools and an unlimited market and a competitive division of labor; and these are a natural sequence of the virtues that go with the individual.

If every individual and every group and every government respected the inherent rights of every other individual, not only in his own country but in every land, the real wages of all workers should increase probably from 10 to 100 percent a year, depending upon the rapidity of the accumulation of knowledge and skills.

If these virtues were practiced by individuals, there would be no long periods of unemployment, no ever increasing government costs, and an ever increasing real wage.

Accurate Prophecy The Freeman magazine recently reprinted a statement made by Senator Benjamin Harvey Hill in the U.S. Senate in 1918. The Senator spoke during a discussion of the possible dangers of industrial monopolies. DAVID BAXTER

LATHER IN YOUR EYE Down in Odessa, Texas, a barber named J. T. Wilson figured he had a right to earn a living. He had a little shop, lived in the rear of it, and he worked with his family and as far as I know attended to his business.

That's the trouble with living in a growing dictatorship. If you mind your business you're looked upon as too all-fired independent to suit people who are determined to make your business THEIRS.

Barber Wilson recently was looking for another job. The Texas board of barber examiners closed him out. He was "examined," all right. His rights were torn up, jumped on and spat upon in a way as I've come across before.

Wilson wanted to teach barbering—particularly to his own 16-year-old son Walter, who wanted a trade by which he could work his way through college. Matter of fact, Wilson had managed a barber college in Dallas and owned one in Brownwood.

The barber took it for granted that his application to the examiners would be okayed so he started teaching his son the barber trade. The young man became very proficient, according to his dad. It was explained to customers, however, that young Wilson did not have a license as he was a student. They didn't care, a shave was a shave.

Well, instead of granting his request for a barber school permit, the state barber dictators slapped an injunction on Wilson and, when he continued teaching his son the trade, handed him into court and gave him the works.

After that he stopped letting young Wilson work but kept up his own trade. Then, on Tuesday, Oct. 8, his own license was suspended. Since all of the Declaration of Independence hadn't been beaten out of him he went right on cutting and shaving folks until some inspectors invaded his shop, "carrying blackjacks in their hip pockets like I was a criminal," Wilson told newspapermen.

After being jailed, Wilson was tried in justice court, fined $38 and turned loose to graze on whatever range he could find since he couldn't go back to work barbering.

That's that. Reckon you'd better get out the handcuffs and legions, you'd feel another first rate explosion coming on and it could be violent.

These state bureaucrats everywhere are getting to be as dictatorial as a bunch of political gangsters as has existed since the days of Stalin. He's a real one, around like so many flunkies. Looks like "Remember the Alamo"—that symbol of fierce independence—has become a hollow mockery and the good Texas folk have surrendered to an even lazier gang than old General Santa Ana and his Mexican hordes.

There was one thing about old Santa Ana. You knew where he stood and what he was. He didn't wrap himself up in an American flag, call himself a "planner" or "state examiner" and fool the public. He was an open, unabashed, plain, unvarnished man. But, plain, old Santa Ana was a gallant knight in shining armor compared to low-down, double-dealing political hacks who gradually undermine and do away with the God-given rights of a people—all in the name of "law."

California has some screwy laws and dictators protecting monopolies, too, but you can expect that in California. Bless Bess, you can expect anything in California, where they raise bumper crops of overzealous politicians along with more profitable crops. Separating wheat from tares is a man-sized job anywhere.

Like some other states California lets unionists and monopolists in given trades get together and set code prices for everyone in the trade, whether union members or not. In barbering, for example, a barber who has surrendered to a majority of barbers in a certain area decide to whack your hair off for not a cent less than $1.25. That minimum becomes law and any barber who charges less will have his carcass thrown in the jug.

Individual rights of each citizen to run his own business the way he wants to run it and charge what he thinks his services are worth, are not even considered. Individuals don't have rights, according to these fool laws and dictators.

But I can't imagine TEXAS tolerating such un-American nonsense. Hasn't anyone ever read the Constitution of the United States? Personally, I'd like to see those kind of tradesmen like Wilson deliberately, knowingly and willfully violate these dictatorial fiat in a mass protest against un-American activities. I'd like to see such people go right on working at their trade. And I'd also like to see some honest judges, either throw bad laws out as unconstitutional or, if compelled to enforce them, to hand out $1 token fines or suspended ones as fast as defendants are brought into court.

First-rate musicians heard about it and were not moved by sympathy. They only knew that one of America's best musicians was having it the hard way and that this was a chance to get some lessons for themselves and their children. That way he kept his pride and they learned what he could teach them. They paid him on the dot after each lesson and never asked him if it was enough or did he need something. He would have broken his clarinet over their heads if they had. The chances are that they knew that.

They got a note the other day. From Philadelphia. It told her how Papa was and how pretty the place looked in early fall. It said that by Thanksgiving, the trees would be bare and the countryside drab. It said that nothing would make them happier than to have all three down for dinner. Just a family dinner, family style. It left them pretty cold until they came to the last line.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

He is a musician. He is such a good musician that other musicians hire him to teach their children music. Some other musicians even hire him to teach them music. And he's waiting for Thanksgiving. He'll get a good meal, then.

He was in a band back there a few years ago. He wasn't a headliner and he did few solos, but when the going got hot, he would get up with his clarinet and tear holes in the air with it. The band got a date to play a dance in Philadelphia and during the dance a girl came walking over to the bandstand all by herself and asked him to play for her. He didn't number. Lots of girls do that. It doesn't mean a thing, unless it is that they want to hear a certain number. He told her he would.

He didn't ask what about her escort and she didn't say anything about her escort. He hasn't asked her yet and they've been married three years.

They were married about two months after that sandwich date and if two people ever loved each other, these two did. He knew her, he would have jumped off a building for her and he would have himself sily earning the bucks to keep the apartment going and the larder full. Then they had a baby and she wrote the first and only note that ever was sent to her family. It told her parents about the baby and suggested that they might want to see their only grandchild. I suppose I'll have to say it plain: they didn't. At least, they didn't write and say so. Or telephone, either.

Things began to get rough. He wasn't with a band any more, and his pick-up jobs got fewer. Some depends upon the good faith of the bureau of internal revenue, and the flood of sonnets involving almost every collection office in the country don't exactly provide reassurance in this respect. If the revenue agents run to recent form, the law offers the greatest opportunity for shakedown and payoffs that has ever been presented. A possible consequence would be a breakdown of public morals approaching that making the prohibition era a more enjoyable time than it is.

Third, what are state and local law enforcement officials going to do about it if the gamblers pay their taxes and register publicly? As most citizens are aware, much of the gray that keeps political machines running comes from selling protection to gamblers. If the gambler pays his cut to the government, will he think it necessary to continue buying immunity from other night," it said, "and he talked for half an hour about your husband. He told us what a great musician he is."

Visit Of Princess, Husband Shows Hypocrisy Of America

By HENRY McLEMORE

America is 48 states, bounded on the north by hypocrisy, on the south by hypocrisy, and on the east and the west by the same.

It took the recent visit of Princess Elizabeth and her husband to reveal to me just how un-square this country is. America stands as the most powerful country in the world today because it broke away from kings, queens, dukes, and earls. Our forefathers founded a nation on talent, not the accident of birth.

Princess Elizabeth was hailed throughout Canada, and in Washington, as a superwoman. The face is, she is nothing of the sort. She is like millions and millions of other women throughout the world — kind, gracious, but with no extraordinary talent of any sort.

Can you imagine "South Pacific" with Princess Elizabeth, and not Mary Martin, in the leading role? Can you imagine her jumping at the horse show with Mrs. Clare Durand of the American equestrian team? Would you bet on her against the best shot in this country?

No, you wouldn't. Nor would you match her for prettiness against a million girls you could name. But, because she is a princess, America, the country that finished off the British Empire, if you want to be plain about it, gasped when she arrived.

The press, radio, and television got just as excited about her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh. He's a right fair looking man, but there are hundreds of guys who work in diners in this country who are better looking. Why didn't this country just accept them as two nice people on a visit?

So They Say

Never in a moment of his mind did the great, effective method for the defeat and humiliation of the United States than to inflict us with deprezzed youth.

The three cents in the military dollar we now devote to atomic weapons buys 25 to 30 cents of security.

The people know the issues. Under the Truman administration they have corruption, inflation, high taxes and war. If Mr. Truman wants to shut his eyes and pretend they don't exist, let him enjoy the dream while it lasts.

The King (George VI) is the best patient I ever had. Not only is he brave, but he is full of humor. And he is just like an ordinary individual to deal with.

Either the new law will produce a nationwide cleanup, knocking the props from under the corrupt political machines of the big cities, or it will prove the greatest happy hunting ground for childers in the various levels of government that the mind of man has ever conceived. Only time will tell which.

National Whirligig... Ballyhooed Baseball Probe Has Turned Into A 'Bust'

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The ballyhooed baseball inquiry on Capitol Hill will not produce a legislative squeeze play, in the opinion of veteran members disgusted with this wholly unnecessary squint at our national sport. It has been such a "bust," in view of current developments, that it probably will not be mentioned or resumed at the next session.

Frank E. McKinney, the new Democratic national chairman and former co-owner of several major league teams, will have plenty of sympathy from members on both sides of the aisle, if he argues against legislation in this field.

He will have the support of House Minority Leader "Doc" Martin, a rabid roofer. Another who sees no need for federal action is Chief Justice Fred Vinson, a semi-pro star in his younger days.

UNJUSTIFIED — Inasmuch as courts have held that baseball is not interstate commerce in the legal sense, the inquiry was completely unjustified. It was conceived in the fertile and publicity-conscious mind of Representative Emanuel Celler of Brooklyn, chairman of the House Judiciary committee. "Mannie" will do almost anything for a headline.

Committee members knew beforehand that such baseball problems as the farm system, the reserve clause, the extension of major league ball to the southern and western sections of the country and television arrangements for this or any other sport, do not fall under the jurisdiction of the federal government.

They simply agreed to go along with Celler for the front-page ride and the fun of it. It gave them a chance to see some of the game's stars at close range.

SACROSANCT — Even if the law could conceivably be stretched to blanket the playing field of America, baseball would remain sacrosanct as practical matter. Members recognize that, if the cold hands of a government commission or Department of Justice lawyers were ever laid upon the national game, as they have been on almost every form of activity, it would kill the sport.

Federal intervention could demoralize players, owners and spectators. Sectional and political rivalries among members of Congress would apply in this realm as well as they do to railroad rates, price controls, subsidies, union favoritism, allocation of factories etc.

PRESUMPTUOUS — An attorney general's or a federal commissioner's ruling might determine the pennant winner. Finally, there are more questionable characters in government circles, as recent investigations of executive departments have demonstrated, than there are in baseball.

The Black Sox affair, baseball's last scandal, occurred in 1919. The extent of Washington skulduggery has not yet been revealed, and probably never will be.

In other words, baseball has become cleaner, while politics has become dirtier. Therefore, it seems presumptuous for Congress even to consider the question of regulating and regimenting sportsmen.

JURISDICTION — Current interest in future relations between government and professional sports has been aroused by the Department of Justice's anti-trust suit against the major football leagues' television restrictions.

Young lawyers in the football division contend that prohibition of television of games in adjacent areas, which is designed to promote home attendance, is a monopolistic action.

For this contention to be upheld by the courts, football would have to be adjudged an interstate activity subject to federal jurisdiction. If this view should prevail, it follows that baseball may likewise become a federal pawn. The same principle would hold, according to legal experts.

UNTOUCHABLE — Numerous prominent lawyers with D of J contacts believe that McGrath did not realize the implications of the football suit on the baseball problem, when he permitted young lawyers in the anti-trust division to bring this action.

The politically minded McGrath, it is understood, thought the attempt to increase the television audience would prove popular among set owners now unable to view games played at their homes. Already the politicians are beginning to talk of the "television vote" in the same way they refer to the "veterans vote" and the "labor vote."

Luckily, the Supreme Court frequently views judicial questions from the practical as well as the legal standpoint, even though it necessitates strained interpretations.

The Doctor Says

By EDWARD P. JODRAN, M. D. Written for NEA

In a moving picture I saw not long ago, reference was made to yellow fever. I was highly amused when a young doctor, after sitting behind me, remarked that the didn't think that she had ever had yellow fever.

What course she had had, he said, but she didn't think it was yellow. In a way this was a highly encouraging conversation because it showed that this youngster had never before heard of yellow fever which in earlier days was one of our most serious killers.

But the almost complete conquest of this dangerous disease carries some lessons as well as being a most interesting story.

Between 1668 and 1821, there were about 20 epidemics of yellow fever in Philadelphia, 25 in New York, eight in Boston and seven in Baltimore. In 1733 an epidemic in Philadelphia took 4044 lives and 3900 more in 1803. In 1803 there was an epidemic in New York with 606 deaths.

More recently, yellow fever (or yellowjack) has apparently existed only in South America, Africa, and Panama, east of the Canal Zone. This terrible disease has been cast out of our continent because it was learned that it is carried by which it is carried by the bite of the mosquito, Aedes triseriatus.

Screening of living quarters and active measures to destroy all mosquito breeding places were begun. In less than a year, Major (later General) Gorgas, a sanitary specialist, was able to rid Havana of yellow fever.

He also directed the campaign against yellow fever-bearing mosquitoes in the Panama Canal Zone and succeeded in freeing this area by 1905. Now D. D. T. and other insect killers can be used to aid in the battle against yellow fever in South America and other areas which are still in danger.

'Working Together' Is Parent Education Aim

Mrs. Bob Curry gave a presentation of the Federated Women's clubs at a meeting Tuesday of the Parent Education club which met in the home of Mrs. Gene Fatheree.

Following the theme, "Federation Means Working Together," Mrs. Curry started with the founding of the GFWC in 1890 and traced it to the present day with its membership of 11 million women in 38 countries. There are over 17,000 clubs, she said, working out of the national headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Headquarters is a five-story mansion which was purchased in 1922 and which keeps a permanent staff of 28 busy. The house, Mrs. Curry explained, cost $70,000 and was purchased by contributions from state federated clubs and individuals. The house was built in 1875 by Admiral Radford and was later bought by the people of the United States and presented to General Miles of Indian and Spanish war fame.

General Miles, Mrs. Curry pointed out, was a great lover of horses and at the rear of the house, his fine old stable still stands but is now a famous house with the original stalls, iron hay racks and harness hooks intact.

Mrs. Curry, in presenting a picture of the national headquarters, made an imaginary tour through the mansion, giving highlights on the decor and purpose of each room. First floor of the headquarters is devoted to offices, mailing rooms and receptionist and guides.

A hand-carved stairway, considered the finest and most beautiful in Washington, leads to the second floor reception hall with walls and draperies of aqua.

Mrs. Curry described the grandfather clock, grand piano and art treasures in the reception hall, and the furniture in the long and decorative drawing room. The walls still have the paneled mural paintings which were in the house in 1875.

All second floor furniture, Mrs. Curry explained, is arranged in conversational groupings. She described the white Italian marble fireplace, French furniture, crystal chandeliers, formal draperies and gleaming silver pieces.

The third floor of the General Federation of Women's clubs headquarters, to which many Pampa clubs belong, is devoted to the executive officers and the fifth floor is occupied by the chairman of the General Federation Council of International clubs.

Preceding Mrs. Curry's program, Mrs. Joe Key discussed the "Purse String Primer."

Attending the meeting were Mmes. R. W. Clark, Charles Cook, Curry, Clinton Evans, John Hines, George Hofess, Homer Johnson, Julian Key, Joe Key, Myron Marx, Jr., Albert Reynolds, Tom Rose, George Snell, and Fatheree.

Mrs. Bob Clark will be hostess to the group at its next meeting.

PAMPA

A CITY OF FINE BANKING INSTITUTIONS

The cattlemen, oilmen and farmers who built Pampa and the Top O' Texas Area could not have operated their tremendous Ranches, Farms, and Businesses without the assistance of good banks. Pampa has been fortunate to have adequate, substantial, financial institutions since its establishment by its founding fathers.

The aid and support of the Pampa banks have figured in every noteworthy project, and have contributed much to the development of Pampa and the Top O' Texas Area. Pampa's two fine banks, housed in new modern buildings, and savings and loan association, have a combined resource of over $20,000,000.

Pampa can well be proud of these fine institutions, their friendliness and business foresight, are contributing factors that help make Pampa The Heart to American Industrial Future.

The pictures below are typical of Pampa's industrial growth and are reasons why Pampa is called "The Key to the Heart of American Industrial Future."

In the interest of building PAMPA, the following individuals, business, industrial and professional firms join in presenting this series of informative pages designed to show why PAMPA is a better town.
