Pampa Voters Give Approval Of All Five Bond Issues

Pampa voters yesterday backed their citizens committee and told the city commission to issue $575,000 in bonds to improve city water, sewer, street and park facilities, as 36.8 percent of the eligible voters turned out at the polls to carry all the bond issue proposals.

The $153,000 sewer extension project was given the largest plurality — 613-370, while the $78,000 street improvement program ran second — 580-408. The $323,000 water improvement program went through 587 to 417 for a plus of 170 votes, just two under the street issue plurality. The proposal finding the least favor, rest rooms for the city parks, squeezed through by 76 votes, 527-451.

Although all issues were turned down 2-1 in Wards 3 and 4, Wards 1 and 2 turned in sufficient "yes" votes to overcome the resistance of the other two. Wards 2 and 4 is where the two largest extensions of water and sewer lines will be laid, in addition to the increased water pressure available to residents in the east section of town.

Ward 1 turned in the following count: water improvements, 318-154; sewer extension, 335-117; streets, 333-127; parks, 292-187. In Ward 2 the count stood water, 318-194; sewers, 263-108; streets, 332-128; parks, 170-140. The "no" votes won out against the "yes" votes in Wards 3 and 4 by the following tabulations:
In Ward 3: water, 76-36; sewers, 71-42; streets, 76-35; parks, 77-34. Ward 4: water, 73-34; sewers, 74-33; streets, 77-30; and parks, 77-31.

A total of 1025 of the eligible 2800 voters took part in the election between 8 a. m. when the polls opened, and 7 p. m. at closing time.

Voting was light during the morning hours but showed the usual increase a few hours before the polls closed when most people stopped on their way home from work.

Results of the bond election will mean $323,000 in water distribution improvements for the city, including 16-inch main stockpile of water pipe for future use, especially in the eastern section; another water well, extensions for new additions, additional fire hydrants and a stockpile of water pipe for future use.

The sewer system will be improved with a new outfall line, relieving the choked up line being used now; additional collection lines in the south and west sections of town; and a new carrier to the present lift station southeast of town.

Close to $78,000 will be available for bridging Kentucky and Yeager Sts., providing a walkway and sidewalk on Duncan installation of at least four new traffic signals, and installation of culverts at various points in the city.

The $21,000 to be spent improving parks will provide for one rest room in three of the four parks and two rest rooms in Central park. The vote on the bond issue (See PAMPA, Page 10)

Hope Held That Demo Split May Heal Before Convention

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Anderson (D-NM) said today he believes the Democratic party split over President Truman's civil rights program can be closed in time to "give us a united front" in the 1952 elections.

But Senator Byrd (D - Va), a leader of the Dixie opposition to the controversial program, declared the indications at this time "appear to be all against" a new unity.

Byrd pointed to Mr. Truman's prediction yesterday that his "fair deal" program, which includes civil rights legislation, will be part of the platform the Democrats adopt at the party's nominating convention next July.

Mr. Truman told his news conference at Key West, Fla., that he would be the case regardless of whether he runs again or someone else heads the Democratic ticket. And he repeated that he won't disclose his intentions until after he sends his annual series of messages to the new session of Congress convening in January.

"If the President is right in his forecast about the party platform, especially as to civil rights, it will touch off a bitter new fight," Byrd told a reporter. "The Virginian recently blasted the Truman administration in an Alabama speech, and he called on Southern Democrats to 'keep themselves free to take whatever effective action may be necessary for our fundamental freedoms.'"

Just what that action might be in the 1952 campaign is "still under study," Byrd said today. Anderson, chairman of the Democratic senatorial campaign committee, said he is optimistic that an end can be put to the intra-party strife over civil rights.

He added he hopes a civil (See CONVENTION, Page 10)

Churchill Gets The Bird; Pelicans Are On The Way

By JAMES T. CARTER
NEW YORK (AP) — The pelican, a bird of Galveston, Tex., headed for a life of ease in London's St. James park — was poised today for the second lap of their 5000-mile journey after having completed the first at 380 miles per hour.

The bag-beaked Texas birds arrived in Newark, N. J., from Galveston yesterday afternoon. The big Constellation (Eastern Air Lines) made the scheduled six-hour flight in five hours and 15 minutes.

The four big-billed gifts of the state of Texas, the city of Galveston and the Galveston Daily News — will be flown from here today to London for presentation to Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

And I'm the guy who's nursing them all the way, as Texas' honorary ambassador extraordinary at large in this good-will tour.

It's run in a way, and then again it's a mass of detail and care that prompts me to challenge any one else to try the same transoceanic delivery.

LA. COULDN'T
Certainly nobody in Louisiana, the so-called pelican state, could do it.

Otherwise they would have accepted Texas' challenge and also heeded Great Britain's request for the American pelicans to replace Peter and Paul, two long-tail bag-beakers who recently died in the London park across the way from Buckingham Palace.

But all Louisiana could do was huff and puff and blow its own house down when it comes to capturing and transporting pelicans across half a continent and over an ocean.

(A race to supply some pelicans had started between Texas and Louisiana when London's shortage became known. But Texas got the jump on its Gulf of Mexico neighbor in actually sending the birds on their way.)

New Curbs Will Hit Metal For Civilians

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Production officials predicted today that new cuts ordered in civilian use of scarce metals after Jan. 1 represent the worst that will befall industry and consumers.

The National Production Authority announced last night that the auto-truck industry will be allotted only 60 percent of the steel plate needed to meet scheduled production of 930,000 cars and 24,000 trucks during January, February and March.

This could mean an ultimate rise in price ceilings on cars and trucks. NPA Administrator Manly Fleischmann asked the industry to make up the plate shortage by using a more expensive but less critical form called "conversion steel."

NPA also announced last night that manufacturers of "less essential" consumer goods will get an average of only 10 percent of aluminum and 50 percent of steel, as compared with their pre-Korea usage.

On this list of drastically curtailed items are sporting goods, lamps, venetian blinds, springs and mattresses, dolls, toys and games, cigarette lighters, Christmas decorations, umbrellas, jewelry, signs and advertising displays.

A long list of "more essential" products also will be curtailed but not as severely. Fifty percent of steel, 35 percent of copper and 35 percent of aluminum will go to the makers of refrigerators, washing machines, radio and television sets. Lawn mowers and other products ranging down to zippers, buttons and pins.

The entire field of consumer hard goods, both more and less essential, now is receiving about 58 percent of the steel, 48 percent of the aluminum and 54 percent of the copper it consumed in the first half of 1950.

Officials said the new curbs, which apply to metal allocations for the first quarter of next year, but probably will continue until July 1, may cause some business casualties.

What the tricky open field running joy and his chief assistants, Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodges have been doing lately was to get them out of the trap they almost got caught in.

That would have given the Reds exactly what they wanted by a cease fire and freedom from UN arms planes and battleships without having to agree to a full armistice.

Reds Would Rather Not Face Queries

TOKYO — (AP) — A highly placed officer said today the unscheduled announcement that Red troops murdered more than 5,000 American prisoners has stripped the veil of mystery from what has been holding up Korean armistice talks.

The general officer, who is exceptionally well informed on truce negotiations, said: "The Communists don't want to answer questions about what happened to their prisoners."

Since the talks began July 10, both the Communist and United Nations delegations have done several abrupt about faces. Each change has been explained by thousands of words of propaganda.

Tired mimeograph machines have given up tiresome communications. But every time the UN reversed itself, or the Reds either, the same basic problem was still at blame.

The problem is in the objectives of the two delegations. The Reds want a cease-fire. The UN wants an armistice.

In fact the UN delegation, led by Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, almost got their mouse-trap sprung on agreeing on a buffer zone which would divide the opposing forces before the other armistice details were agreed upon.

Exes Stream To Lefors Celebration

LEFORS — Ex-students and former teachers began streaming into Lefors early this morning as Lefors High school staged the first homecoming in its history.

School officials said it was a success already. By 10 a. m. today, more than 150 exes had registered in the high school and many more were expected to come in later in the day to take part in activities scheduled this afternoon.

A parade, made up of 20 floats, bands and riders, got started on schedule this morning, led by McLean band.

"This is the biggest thing Lefors has had, said one school official, "and everybody's excited."

At 9 a. m., registration tables in the high school lobby were lined as ex-students and teachers from over the Panhandle and Oklahoma signed up for the day's program to be highlighted at 8 p. m. with a football game between Lefors Pirates and McLean Tigers. The Pirates have been picked to win the tilt on Shaw field.

At noon today, the graduates turned out for a free barbecue and were guests at an assembly at 2:30 p. m. Open house was held from 3:30 to 6:30 p. m.

Prizes were to be given during the assembly to members of the oldest class present, graduate with the largest family, teacher with the earliest date of employment and graduate coming the longest distance to the homecoming.

At half-time activities of the football game tonight, Miss Elaine Poarch, football queen, will be crowned.

Meanwhile, it was learned here, seven or eight persons have been offered the wage-price policy but have turned it down. Presidential associates at Key West described the search for the right man as a difficult one.

Some administration advisers were said to have urged Mr. Truman to select as Johnston's successor someone who has the confidence of organized labor.

WAGES MAIN PROBLEM
These advisors contend that wages rather than prices will be the major stabilization problem in the next six months.

Charles E. Wilson, director of the office of defense mobilization, has the task of finding a man to replace Johnston. Speculation as to a successor has been widespread.

Published reports that the job might go to John D. Small, chairman of the munitions board, were denied yesterday by Presidential press secretary Joseph Short. Short told reporters at Key West that "the President needs Mr. Small where he is."

PRAVDA CLAIM
MOSCOW — (AP) Pravda today claimed the United States ordered photographs taken of delegates applauding Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky at the UN assembly so the State Dept. could keep America's "satellites" in line.

Witness Calls M'Gee Insane

EL PASO — (AP) — A University of Texas psychiatrist testified yesterday that Richard W. McGee is hopelessly insane.

The McGee sanity trial is the fifth court attempt by his attorneys to save him from the electric chair.

McGee has been convicted of slaying R. L. Allston, Lubbock grocer. Witnesses in earlier trials said Allston was shot when he objected to McGee's attentions to Allston's daughter.

The university resident psychiatrist, Dr. Paul White, testified yesterday the youth fancies himself a prophet of God and fancies he is endowed with power to save his fellow man.

He said that when he visited McGee in jail here, McGee would quote scriptures instead of answering questions.

He related that in 1947 he was called to investigate McGee's strange behavior when the slayer attempted to enroll at the university.

White said he found McGee lying nude on the floor of a gymnasium shower. He said he knew McGee was mentally ill at that time and swore out an affidavit to that effect to commit him to the veterans hospital at Waco.

Community Concert Season Opens Here Saturday Night

Vivian Della Chiesa, soprano, will open the eighth season of the Pampa Community Concert Assn. at 8:30 p. m. Saturday night in the Pampa Junior High school auditorium.

Miss Della Chiesa is a well-known radio personality, averaging more than 40 appearances a year as the featured soloist on the Firestone Hour, Harvest of Stars, Carnation Hour, American Melody Hour, Cities Service show, American Album of Familiar Music and the Bing Crosby show.

Last year, she toured the United States and Canada and appeared as soloist with the Seattle Symphony and the Toronto Philharmonic. She has also appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic and was an honored guest at a Republican Party rally at New York's Carnegie hall.

A membership card must be held by each person attending the concert, according to Dr. Douglas E. Nelson, president of the local concert association.

Murray Tosses All Demands In Move For Wage Increase

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — Philip Murray tossed all Labor's traditional demands at once at a prying steel Jan. 1, was simply amended from time to time.

The average hourly pay in the steel industry is estimated at $13.2.

President Benjamin F. Fairless of the United States Steel Corp. said last night that "selective bargaining probably will fail to bring agreement on the union's wage demands."

PAY INCREASE
Fairless indicated that the question of a pay increase for the steelworkers and its size "will apparently have to be decided finally in Washington."

"I believe," he said, "that any further increases in steel wages at this time will only result in an increase in the cost of living, and that it will contribute definitely to the inflationary spiral."

Fairless indicated that a steel price boost would follow a wage increase.

It was indicated here that the steelworkers' union was ready to board's present formula. Murray said the union would not be satisfied with an increase of five cents an hour, which is all that the workers would be entitled to under the present rules. They had a raise last fall. Murray did not set a figure on what raise will be sought.

Twentieth Century Forum Hears Discussion Of Albert Ryder's Work

Mary Keough Is Honored With Party

Miss Mary Keough, bride-elect of Pfc. Pat Spelman, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Sunday afternoon in the Parish Hall. Hostesses were Mrs. M. F. Roche, Mrs. E. E. McKernan, Mrs. D. J. Gribbon and Mrs. A. D. McNamara.

The hall was decorated in blue and white, the honoree's chosen colors. The centerpiece for the serving table was of white chrysanthemums with a bride doll dressed in the traditional white and the groom in soldier uniform in the center. Candles and silver wedding bells tied with blue ribbons completed the table decorations. The table where the gifts were displayed was also decorated with wedding bells.

Mrs. J. F. Schwinn and Mrs. Lynn Boyd poured coffee and Mrs. McNamara assisted in serving individual cakes.

Mrs. A. B. Zahn registered the guests.

Mrs. McKernan, Mrs. Gribbon, the honoree, and her sister, Miss Ellen Keough, were in the receiving line. The bride-elect and her sister were presented with bouquets of white chrysanthemums tied with blue ribbon.

The program included a skit giving high-lights of the honoree's life. As Mrs. Roche told the story, the bride-elect was asked to name the titles of songs played by Bill Haley to complete the tale. The skit was climaxed by Mrs. Boyd singing "Oh, Promise Me," accompanied by Mr. Haley. Gene Finkbeiner entertained with piano selections to conclude the program.

About 45 guests registered. Several who were unable to attend sent gifts.

The work of Albert Ryder, said to be one of truly great American artists, was discussed at a meeting of the Twentieth Century Forum this week in the home of Mrs. Aubrey Steele, 1334 Charles.

Mrs. Crawford Atkinson and Mrs. Luke McClelland presented the program.

Ryder's work, Mrs. Atkinson pointed out, reflects the bustling world of New York where he lived. His paintings depict shadowy, moonlit scenes of Greek architecture, characters from the Bible, Shakespeare, and weird forest scenes.

The artist didn't receive acclaim until after his death in 1917, living most of his life in obscurity.

Mrs. McClelland discussed interior decoration, explaining that the way color is used in a home reveals personality as surely as an individual's handwriting. A color scheme may be taken from a painting, a lamp or a favorite piece of old china.

"One should never lose sight of the fact that skillful blending of your favorite colors sets the stage for the eye appeal of your home," Mrs. McClelland said.

Indications are, she said, that Texas and other Western states are ahead of other regions in accepting new ideas and demanding the best for their homes.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. M. X. Beard, Roy Bourland, E. J. Dunigan, J. R. Holloway, Biggs Horn, Dick Hughes, W. Calvin Jones, Frank Kelley, McClelland, M. C. McDaniel, Bruce Pratt, Henry Rose, O. L. Statton, Arthur T. and the hostess.

The group made plans to send a Thanksgiving cheer box to a shut-in.

Four visitors were present and the following members: Mmes. Winnie Flowers, Jo Lewis, Roberta Woods, R. B. Leonard, Joyce Beatcamp, and Mmes. Pondergrass and Prock and Taylor.

The Geneva Wilson circle met this week with Mrs. Jack Holligan as hostess. Mrs. Don Warren opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. Bob Huffines gave a part of the mission book, "Pioneering With Christ in Chile." Mrs. T. C. Stark dismissed the meeting with prayer.

Attending were Mmes. Bob Anders, Forrest Washburn, Henry Holtman, H. S. Atkinson, J. L. Durham, Merrel Sparks, Jack Nat Lunsford, and Mmes. Warren, Huffines, Stark and Holligan.

Brannan Declares Water Is Limiting Factor To Growth

HOUSTON — (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Brannan has declared that water — through its excesses and shortages — is becoming more and more a limiting factor to American progress.
"There is serious need," he said, "for improved measures that will permit us to make more effective use of the rain that falls on the land and water that flows from it — not only for agriculture but for the entire economy."
In a talk prepared for an annual meeting of the Assn. of Land Grant Colleges and Universities, Brannan said floods and droughts this year should make the nation realize the need for more effective water control and conservation measures.

Unitization Okayed For Diamond "M"

AUSTIN — (AP) — The Railroad commission has reported approval of a unitization agreement for 4625 productive acres of the Diamond "M" field, Scurry county.
The unitized area contains 112 completed wells, and calls for inclusion of other tracts which might want to join the unit later.
Pushed by the Lion Oil Co., the agreement is designed to improve secondary recovery operations for oil and gas.
Commission Chairman Olin Culberson concurred in approving the agreement but said he did not think it should be approved in full.
Culberson objected to inclusion in the agreement of a formula which says the participation factor in the unitized field will be based on 75 percent "gross reef thickness."
"This is too indeterminate and uncertain and is in conflict with our production formula in this field," Culberson said, adding:
"I think the terms of participation of interested parties are matters for them solely and that this commission should only approve the agreement only so far as it meets the expressed objective of the statutes and no further. Here we have an approval of a formula which will soon confront us in the fixing of rules for the production of oil. This commission has studiously avoided consideration of 'sand thickness' in oil formula heretofore as being 'too conjectural' as to be practical.

Accident Victim Is Recovering

Walter Spoonemore, Jr., 617 N. Gray, hospitalized Nov. 1 with a back fracture suffered when the car he was riding in turned over, was reported as getting along "very nicely," by doctors at Highland General hospital this morning.
Spoonemore was a riding to Pampa in a convertible driven by Keith Hayes of Dalhart, when the car struck an icy spot on the road while passing a truck and turned over.
Hayes suffered a fracture of one vertebra and was released from the hospital several days later. Spoonemore suffered what doctors called a "compression fracture of the back" with one vertebra broken and chips knocked out of two others.

Homes, Schools Important, Not Bombs, PTA Told

DALLAS — (AP) — The president of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers said last night that the country's strength lies primarily in ability to create, express, control and implement ideas.
The president, Mrs. H. G. Stinnett, Jr., Plainview, added in an address at the PTA's annual convention:
"It will be our homes, churches, schools and colleges and other educational agencies of all kinds, not bombs, that will make or break our country."
"If we intend to live as free people, we must study to learn a double art," Mrs. Stinnett said. "The double art is to enjoy our own liberty without endangering the equal liberty of anyone else, and to see to it that no one, or no group, under the pretense of exercising freedom, manages with impunity to endanger that of another."
Dr. William E. Goslin made a plea for an educational system equal to that deserved by American youth.
There was an attempt Tuesday to prevent Goslin from speaking. His program of teaching children to become part of a group society in stead of stressing individuality has caused considerable controversy.
Mrs. H. F. Godeke, Lubbock, read the nominating committee's slate of regional vice-presidents. Election was to be held Thursday.

Investigation Slated For Custodian's Office

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) has called for "a thorough look see" into the affairs of the alien property custodian's office. He's received many complaints that it is a multi-million dollar "super-gravy train," he said in a statement Wednesday.
The office is the federal agency, under the Dept. of Justice which seizes and disposes of property of enemy aliens. During and since World War II, it has handled more than $300,000,000 worth of assets in this country formerly owned by Germans, Japanese and Nationals of other wartime enemy nations.

Gets Rid Of Toothache By Setting Brush Fire

WEST WARWICK, R. I. — (AP) — Antonio Petrarca has rid himself of a toothache — by setting a brush fire.
Petrarca, a recent Italian immigrant, had a terrible toothache yesterday. He doesn't speak English so he set a small brush fire off Main Street to attract the attention of any passerby who spoke Italian.
Italian-speaking patrolman Joseph Fontarelli directed Petrarca to a hospital.

Highower Had Need For Ball

DALLAS — (AP) — Time grows short for Dick Highower in college football — just 180 minutes — but he already has become an immortal in Southern Methodist University athletics.

Chances are that the big fellows will play all of those 180 minutes, but they aren't needed to add to his stature as one of the finest centers college football ever had.

He has combined endurance, consistency and brilliance in three varsity seasons. His endurance is shown by the fact that he has averaged 43 minutes per game this season. Against Rice he went 58 minutes. Highower has demonstrated his consistency by playing a steady, rugged game every time SMU has taken the field.

At a school where they still talk about the greatness of Doak Walker and Kyle Rote, they also hold fanfests over the defensive plays of Highower.

WANTED BALL

There was the time against Ohio State when the big fellow from Tyler hit all-American Vic Janowicz as he came hurtling over the line toward the goal and knocked him back towards his own goal line. Against Notre Dame this year, Highower made so many tackles that sports writers asked if his brother wasn't doing the announcing. Then he recovered a fumble to start SMU on the way to the winning touchdown.

Against Texas, Highower was credited with participating in 19 tackles.

During his three years Highower has taken a decisive role in victories over Notre Dame, Ohio State, Kentucky, Texas and other national leaders. It is doubtful if he wanted the Mustangs to win any game more than last week's with Texas A&M.

There was a sentimental reason. His pal, Pat Knight, was in a hospital with a crushed cheek bone suffered in the Texas game. Highower determined to bring Pat the game ball. Highower played a great game in helping SMU to a 14-14 tie with the Aggies. As is customary, the rival captains tossed a coin to see who could get the ball. Highower won and he held the pigskin in his arms all the way back to Dallas where he gave it to his buddy, Pat Knight.

IMPORTANCE of the Lubbock-Odessa game this afternoon is evidenced by this cartoon showing the Harvesters playing the Bulldogs, but thinking about, and listening to, the Westerner-Broncho Mt. A Pampa victory today, plus another over San Angelo next weekend, PLUS an Odessa win today, would give Pampa a coin-flipping chance at the district crown. A Westerner win today gives Lubbock the title, clear cut. A Pampa defeat would knock the Green and Gold out of the race.

Lubbock - Odessa Tilt Feature Of Schoolboy Schedule Today

(By the Associated Press)

Thirty-eight of eighty districts in Texas schoolboy football have decided their champions and the bulk of the remaining 42 will be determined today and tonight.

Class AAAAA crownd another champion last night as Lamar of Houston completed an unbeaten, untied march by taking the District 7 championship with a 24-13 conquest of Austin (Houston). Lamar joined Ysleta which won the District 2 title last week.

Today and tonight the titles of Districts 1, 6 and 8 go on the line. Lubbock plays at Odessa in District 1 and needs to win this one to end the campaign unbeaten and untied. A loss by Lubbock would throw the race into a tie. Ray of Corpus Christi plays Laredo tonight in District 6 and can clinch the championship with a victory, which the Corpus Christi team is highly favored to win.

In District 8 Port Arthur and Baytown get together to determine the championship.

One champion was crowned last night in Class AAA. Edison of San Antonio whipped Burbank (San Antonio) 19-6 to take the District 7 pennant. Other titles go on the line in this division tonight but the feature game matches Temple with undefeated Palestine at Temple. Palestine can win the championship by licking Temple but if Temple wins it will require another week should Bryan beat Lufkin.

Class AA did not determine a district champion last night but Class A did. Cedar Bayou finished the District 20 campaign unbeaten and joined 13 other district champions decided last week.

In AA, Beville kept its hope alive in District 30 by beating Edna 40-7 but Cuero can win the title tonight by beating Yoakum. Otherwise Cuero and Beville will end up in a first place tie for the championship.

Irish Hope For Undefeated Year; Meet Broncs Tonight

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Irish fans may think they are seeing things at the Clarendon game here tonight, because they'll probably see big Dwayne Hager, tackle, carrying the oval as a converted fullback, and other linemen such as Bill York, center, Mack Terry and Billy Pavlovsky, guards, also in the backfield.

What's this? Yes, it's true, if the main Irish backfield—Francis J. Pennington, P. Hartwick and Carlton — rack up an early substantial lead, as they are expected to do over the Bronchos. McCall said he planned to use the backs who have smashed seven times to victory and twice to ties in pushing the Broncs back.

Then Hager will go into the backfield with York, Pavlovsky, Terry and perhaps other c e linemen. Think the Irish linemen will fight hard to open holes so the backs can build up their early lead?

Hager, at 205, is one of the toughest tackles in the area; but so are Bill Harris, Mack Terry, Bill York and B.11 Pavlovsky tough. Whether as backs they would pulverize the Broncs remains to be seen. Someone wants to know, who would block for them?

Fans can see all this, plus the crowning of a football queen, at a touchdown.

Baylor - Wake Forest at Waco — A hefty vote for Baylor in a scoring duel.

Rice - Texas A&M at Houston — Rice is just the team to slow down that Aggie whirlwind offense; the Owls by a hair.

Promotions For Irish B String

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach Scott McCall promoted several of his B team boys to the A squad as the Irish prepared for the Clarendon Bronchos.

Among those upped are Gene Sanders, Carol Copeland, Clarence Jones, J. R. Stansell and Bobby Chaffin.

Jones is a senior, but the rest will be back for the 1952 grid wars.

and if all goes well, the first Irish undefeated season since McCall came here in 1946.

TCU Needs Win Over Texas Saturday

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas Christian can come mighty close to sewing up the Southwest Conference football championship tomorrow if two things happen.

Texas Christian needs to beat Texas at Austin while Texas A&M downs Rice at Houston.

That sounds fairly simple except that there's nothing simple in this up-and-down circuit of many offenses and defenses to match.

And the team that wins today may take a blistering from somebody tomorrow that lost to the team they beat yesterday.

Texas is favored to win over Texas Christian and keep its dim hopes of the title alive. This despite the fact that Texas Christian beat Baylor and Baylor last week toppled Texas.

But anyway, if TCU were to win, it would have two games to go and boast a margin of a game and a half over the next contender.

BEARS RESTING

Rice, the second-place team at this writing, has lost one game. If A&M beat Rice tomorrow while TCU was licking Texas, Baylor would push into second place and be a game and a half behind Texas Christian.

Baylor doesn't play a conference game. The Bears meet Wake Forest in an inter-sectional test at Waco.

Southern Methodist and Arkansas, a couple of also-rans, get together at Dallas.

Upwards of 160,000 will see the four games with the biggest turnouts at Houston and Austin where probably 80,000 and 50,000 respectively will be in the stands.

Southern Methodist is a six-point favorite over Arkansas while Texas is given six points over TCU. Baylor 12 over Wake Forest and A&M is a three-point choice over Rice.

It's homecoming at Rice where the Owls make their last stand in the battle for the title and A&M seeks its first conference victory in five starts.

It also is homecoming at Texas, which makes things tougher than ever for TCU.

CHOICES

Our average last week in the guessing league was better than the previous effort but still lacked much of the sensational. We hit one out of three and there was one tie. It's bound to be different this week since there are four games to miss instead of three. Here goes:

Texas - Texas Christian at Austin — The Horned Frogs are in their best condition of the season and really ready; we'll take TCU in a close one.

Arkansas - Southern Methodist at Dallas — Arkansas is up one week and down the next; it was down last week so should be up this time — but SMU is bound to break out sometime and this could be it; Southern Methodist by a touchdown.

Baylor - Wake Forest at Waco — A hefty vote for Baylor in a scoring duel.

Rice - Texas A&M at Houston — Rice is just the team to slow down that Aggie whirlwind offense; the Owls by a hair.

PASS INTERCEPTION

The Bullpups attempted a drive in the second period, but James Phippen intercepted on the ten to send the teams to the dressing room with the Guerrillas leading, 12-0.

The Bullpups came back the second half and took immediate advantage of a Pampa fumble, recovering on the Guerrilla's 29. The touchdown finally came on a pass to Don Lowrey from Melvin Mills, the play good for 27 yards. The same two combined efforts for the extra point.

But then the Guerrillas went back to work. Wright flipped a screen pass to Jimmy Keel and Keel raced 58 yards behind fine interference to score.

Keel again accounted for the final touchdown, intercepting a Borger aerial on the Pampa five and racing it back 95 yards to score, picking up good blocking on the way.

Borger held the statistical edge in the game but it wasn't enough. Bob Prigmore, Bill and

ONE — Guerrilla halfback Bobby Wilhelm breaks past the Borger Bullpup secondary on his way to a touchdown in yesterday's game at Harcest Park. Wilhelm ran 41 yards on the first offensive play of the game by the Guerrillas to lead the way to the 24-7 victory.

Guerrillas Rack Up Second Win; Defeat Borger 24 - 7

The Pampa Guerrillas scored two touchdowns the first four plays they had the ball yesterday afternoon and then went on to defeat the Borger Poodles, 24-7, for their second win of the season.

The game was played in bitter cold, with a biting, snow-blowing wind at Harvester Park. The Guerrillas will close out their season next Wednesday afternoon at home against the Plainview Bullpups.

On their first offensive play of the game the Guerrillas scored. J. N. Wright handed off to Bobby Wilhelm who skirted his right end, got some fine blocking, and then outran the secondary to go 41 yards for the score.

A few minutes later, still in the first period, the Guerrillas took over on the Borger 43. On the first play, Wilhelm raced 35 yards on the same play, being shoved out of bounds on the eight. Two plays later Richard Radcliff cut over his own left end and seven yards to score.

IS TOUGH ONE

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock has scored 188 points in winning seven and tying two so far this year.

With only one contest to go during the regular season, the Irish have held opponents to 63 points. Last year the potent Irish line held opponents to 62 points, but they had harder opposition this year, substituting Childress for Lockney and Dumas for Wheeler.

Only three teams have been able to dent the big Irish line for more than one TD. Wellington made three TDs, Phillips and Dumas two each.

Childress, Lefors and Memphis are held scoreless, but McLean, Feaynton and Dalhart each tallied one TD.

Not many teams have held opponents to an average of one TD per game. That's how tough the Irish line is.

Stanford, Illinois Make Strong Bids For Rose Bowl Invitations Tomorrow

NEW YORK — (AP) — If they're ever going to sidetrack those two Rose Bowl expresses — Stanford and Illinois — tomorrow is the day to do it.

These two unbeatens who have been bowling over their opposition all year, clash with rough hounds in Oregon State and Ohio State, respectively.

Oregon State's youngsters, while not boasting a particularly impressive overall record, have been coming along fast, and that narrow 6-0 defeat at the hands of Michigan State should not be forgotten. But with it all, the Indians should win the game, then start looking forward to their meeting with California. Illinois automatically gets the nomination for the Rose Bowl if Johnny Karras and his smooth functioning operatives can get past Ohio State. The Buckeyes, master and his Tigers are 21 point favorites to ring up No. 21 in a row.

Penn goes outside the league for its opposition, but still is figured to give Army a trouncing in Philadelphia.

IN THE SOUTH

In the South, Maryland and Kentucky, both have easy tasks. The undefeated Terrapins, No. 5 in the country, play North Carolina State, and the blue grass boys, who have been going well after a poor start, have a date with George Washington.

Georgia Tech, which already has accepted an invitation to the Orange Bowl, may be in for a rough afternoon against Alabama. The Crimson Tide is another team that had difficulties getting its gears to mesh. But it has won its last three.

In the Big Seven, Oklahoma, defending champion, should score another conference victory, this one at the expense of Iowa State.

Other leading games include: Texas Aggies at Rice, Arkansas at Southern Methodist, Wake Forest at Baylor, Idaho at Arizona (night); Washington at UCLA, Oregon at California, Montana at Washington State, San Francisco at College of Pacific (night), Utah State at Denver, Duke at William and Mary, S. Carolina at Virginia, Clemson at Furman, Auburn vs Georgia (at Columbus, Ga.), Florida at Miami, Mississippi State at LSU, Tuane at Vanderbilt, Colorado at Nebraska, Kansas at Oklahoma A&M, Kansas State at Missouri, Detroit at Marquette, Cornell at Dartmouth, Brown at Harvard, Navy at Columbia, Colgate at Syracuse, Fordham at Temple, Penn State at Rutgers, W. Virginia at Pittsburgh, Villanova at Boston College, Texas Tech at Tulsa.

TUCSON, Ariz. — (AP) — Dunny Goode, the lithe and elusive half-back of the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, has charged far to the fore among his Border Conference rivals in rushing and total offense.

Switched from right to left half this season, Goode has been the ground gainer mainstay of the Cowboys, who will fight it out with Texas Tech for the Border crown.

Last year Goode, whose given name of Frank is seldom if ever used, was known primarily as the ace target of pass-pitching John (Model T) Ford. But with the graduation of Ford, Goode has come into his own as a rusher.

Nationally in that department, with 1,045 yards, he ranks second behind Ollie Matson of San Francisco who has 1,279. Add to his honors the fact he comfortably leads the conference scorers with 72 points.

RUSHER LEADERS
This marks the second straight year that a rusher has led the league in total offense. Last year it was Wilford (Whizzer) White of Arizona State College at Tempe who paced the nation in rushing and conference in both rushing and total offense.

Three Arizona State backs follow.

Lubbock Moves To Odessa Today

LUBBOCK — (AP) — More than 6,000 Lubbock football fans will go to Odessa today to see the Lubbock-Odessa football game.

One of the largest crowds ever to see a schoolboy football game in West Texas, an estimated 22,500, is expected for the crucial district 1-A-A-A-A contest.

A Lubbock victory would give the high flying Westerners the district title. A Lubbock loss would toss the race into a three-way tie.

It is the second time within five weeks that more than 6,000 persons have followed the Lubbock schoolboys — that number going to Amarillo for a district tilt.

McDougald, Mays Get Nod As Outstanding Rookies Of Year

NEW YORK — (AP) — Handy Gil McDougald of the world champion New York Yankees and Willie Mays of the New York Giants share rookie-of-the-year honors for 1951.

Selection of McDougald and Mays was made by the same 24-man committees of the Baseball Writers Association of America (three from each league city) that picked the most valuable players.

McDougald barely edged out Orestes (Minnie) Minoso of the Chicago White Sox by a surprising 13-11 vote. Surprising that is, for Minoso outranked McDougald by a wide margin in the recent most valuable player balloting. Mays was an easy winner.

Voting for most valuable player in the American League—won by Yankee Yogi Berra with 184 points — the writers named Minoso fourth with 120 points and McDougald ninth with 63 points.

On season averages, the Cuban Negro outhit McDougald, .326 to .306 and led the league with 14 triples and 31 stolen bases. The Yankee freshman hit more homers 14 to 10.

McDougald came up to the Yanks from the Beaumont farm of the Texas League, highly touted by Rogers Hornsby, his minor league boss.

Dumas beat Hereford 33-0, while Phillips won only 7-0 in the final minute of play. Yet Phillips has an awesome reputation on the High Plains and probably will be favored.

—About as many Irish fans will be at Phillips as down at Denver field here in Shamrock, because the Irish play Clarendon, a District 1-A school, in a non-conference clash, with the Irish favored substantially.

Even a tie would give the Irish the crown, because Phillips would have two victories and two ties against three victories and a tie for the Irish. Meanwhile, many an Irish set of fingers is crossed.

Minoso came up from Cleveland's San Diego farm but was traded to Chicago by Cleveland April 30 as part of a three-way swap among the Indians, White Sox and Philadelphia A's.

Pavlovsky Seeks Backfield Post

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Billy Frank Pavlovsky has been waiting a long time for his chance. Because Shamrock has such ace tacklers and guards as Dwayne Hager, Billy Harris, Eugene Collinworth and Mack Terry, Pav hasn't got to play all the time, as he undoubtedly would have at a school with only a normal line.

Friday night the boxing ace (160-pound Golden Gloves winner) went in at guard, Somerton or a lot of someone hit the Dumas backs so hard the ball squirted into the end zone and Pavlovsky recovered for the first TD against Dumas.

Billy Frank, a senior, plans to attend college next year, probably at West Texas State. But a lot of schools would like to have him — or other top Irish linemen.

In most of the hill country, deer were reported fat and sleek. In other areas, they generally were not in good shape.

Throughout most of the deer area, day hunting leases were difficult to find. A few scattered lease sites were available.

Deer were numerous, but turkeys were hard to find except around Junction.

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Jim Thorpe, famed Indian athlete, is being discharged from Lankenau hospital today after an operation for a hip cancer.

Doctors at Lankenau said the surgery, performed last week, was successful.

The 63-year-old Thorpe will go to New York within a few days to resume performances with his traveling all-Indian show.

The Orange Bowl junior international invitation tennis tournament is slated for Dec. 29-30.

Will Mr. Truman Tell The Truth?

Come January, Congress and the nation will again be favored with a triple dose of President Truman's oratorical abilities. This will be when he delivers the "state of the union" budget and economic messages. As surely as the coming year's fiscal news arrives, the presidential reports on what the federal government as done, is doing, expects to do — and on how much.

Naturally speculation arises as to the content of these messages. Will Mr. Truman speak of "state of the union" or will he again resort to political rhetoric, a practice at which he seems to be particularly adept? The few times he has led up to the honest important issues, he has skirted them quickly with another "tighten your belt, America, for patriotism" grandstand play. That the need for further sacrifices should not exist in a land so abundantly productive as the United States is a fact he patently needs to mention. Something is evidently wrong.

But the explanations of these wrongs apparently are negative to the Truman administration so he burns a bright flame of patriotism which is neither the source nor the cure for the sorry "state" of the union.

He would do well to admit that a crucial situation is at hand — or is the truth so hard to come by and so easily for a Pendergast protégé explained away?

Whatever speculation there is as to some points of the "state of the union" address it can be expected that the President will persist in his demands for full enactment of the so-called "Fair Deal."

Would Mr. Truman dare to tell the people the "Fair Deal" really is an invitation to socialism?

It is a "fair deal" that is driving the intelligent, self-reliant individuals to the subversive practice of keeping their right hands out to receive the forced charity that is NOT charity because their left hands are blindly shelling out to pay for it. The government is not the benevolent "giver" caring for its horde. It exists to deal with the increases with each dollar.

Intrinsically the "Fair Deal" with all its federal projects, social securities and forced charity, rights is socialism and socialism is parallel to communism. The only difference between the two is the methods of realization into an acting, controlling authority. After that realization is accomplished the difference is only in the spelling.

In view of all the facts, figures and outright robberies, the budget message should really be a challenge.

The exorbitant budget is, of course, a necessity. How else can the bureaucrats, with their peculiar license for authorized robbery, have sufficient amounts of cash to lift? Now they could eliminate some of the bureaucrats — but that's really too simple a solution for our highly complex government to consider, isn't it?

Then there is the pin-money of a few billions of it to be squandered for the sheer joy of it. Also, the federal government has quite a roster of — say about 2,500,000 — civilian employees on the payroll. They must be paid or else take a job in the productive field and that would obviously be an aid to the march back to sound economy.

There are all the little items that should be taken into consideration, too, that have to be financed: government meddling in civilian projects, social securities, subsidies and all the rest of the paternalistic gee-gaws.

All in all Mr. Truman has a great deal to say when January arrives, Congress seats itself and the electorate lends him its waiting ears.

But can he justify a forced government paternalism that is confiscating, along with the wealth of the nation, the individual property and the personal initiative that is derived only from the individual himself? Yes, here is much he can say and the people should demand all of the truth about the REAL "state of the nation."

An athlete who had won many running races was boasting of his achievements when a man sitting near interrupted him.

Stranger—I'll race you and you'll never lose me if you give me a three-foot start and let me choose the course.

The athlete looked at his challenger, a short and rather stout man and laughed.

Athlete—I'll bet you I will. Where's the course?

Stranger—Up a ladder.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

I want to do something I have never done before. I want you to give $3.60 and one night of your own security. What you have to do is go out and buy a book. The book is "The Voice of Asia," by James A. Michener. I want you to do this because we are a wonderful but strange people: We have to have a hole in the head before we realize the least we need is a haircut.

Mr. Michener once wrote a book called "Tales of the South Pacific." It became a miraculously successful musical comedy called "South Pacific." It may have made Mr. Michener's wallet and his banker happy, but it has plagued him. Then he wrote another book about a revisit to the South Pacific: "Return to Paradise." It had moments of doom in it. Enough of them to send him on still another trip through Asia to talk to Joseph Doakes, or the Asiatic equivalent of Joseph Doakes. Mr. Michener didn't talk to high officials, people with a motive, or propagandists. He talked to men and women literally in the streets and of the streets: the units who, by millions, comprise the man-mass of Asia.

These units don't like you. They don't like you because you. They don't like you so much that they foresee your end. The one, the only comfort to be had from them is that they don't like Russia, either. By the millions they don't like Russia. They want Asia for the Asiatic and then the world for the Asiatics—and neither the United States, the Soviet Union nor the United Nations enter into the picture. These are the simple little brown men working rice paddies in breech cloths. These are thinking, sensible human beings and they know how to organize, fight, make guns and strategize. You'd better inform yourself about them.

Are you bewildered by our role in Korea? Do you feel that it has never been stated clearly, having been clouded by a confused and confusing set of statements, falling in a "policy action"? This below is our role in Korea, and why someone in the State Department could not state it for you as Mr. Michener does is still another matter.

The German-Japanese attempt to organize Asia failed. But the basic problem remained and today we are right back where we were in 1911. The basic alliance is Russian-Chinese one, but its purpose is the same: the organization of Asia. I believe without a shred of doubt—in fact I am more certain of this than of any other thing about modern Asia—that if we had not stepped into Korea, the Russian-Chinese alliance would today control INDIA, CHINA, MALAYA, THAILAND, BURMA and possibly INDONESIA and parts of AFRICA. As it stands the Russian-Chinese alliance would be approached the success which included the German-Japanese coalition.

The capitals above are mine, not Mr. Michener's. Success of such an alliance in inevitable turn engulfs Africa and then Europe. And Mr. Michener counts to this inseparable conclusion: "It is unrealistic to expect any such alliance to be effective most ultimately destroy the United States by monolithic pressures if not by actual war."

Think the little man of Asia and the little man of America, not necessarily helpless units in a raging flood of humanity, must get to know that most Asiatics want to re-arm Japan and gamble on Russia. It is not the Asiatics who are being managed by Japan in the past, they respect Japan's way of getting things done—manufacture as well as Murder—done. They realize we have made the wrong choice in our threats later.

And they are plain, blunt and direct in this: the day of the white man in Asia is over. It may take 120 years wholly to erase him, but the clock is ticking.

I beg you, I entreat you, to buy this book and inform yourself. There is no other source for this information. You won't like it, but it may make you a more valuable citizen.

RUSSIA AND COMMUNISM

By George Peck

A century and a half ago, a jingler who styled himself the "Corn Law Ripper," poetically defined communism. It is a very good definition and so, I quote it: "What is a communist? One who hath yearnings of equal division of unequal earnings, idler or bungler, or both he is willing to fork out his penny and pocket your shilling."

Using this definition as a yardstick, it is quite apparent that Russia today is not a communistic nation. Contrary to popular opinion, wages are not on a dead level in the Soviet Union. Actually, there is a complete system of incentive bonuses in industry and this financial stimulus is being widely used to increase output for war purposes, as well as for domestic use. The better and more industrious Russian worker gets better pay, lives in a better home, wears better clothes and eats better food than his inferior and less industrious co-worker.

Another erroneous impression held by some is that a Russian is restricted to ownership of only such things as clothes and food. This is far from true, as a Russian may own property as well. The governing principle in this ownership of property is one which applies to Soviet life in general, that a man can profit by his own labor, but cannot sell at a profit the product of the labor of other men.

For example, a Russian can buy and own a home, but he cannot sell it at a profit. If it were possible to build his own house without hired help, he would then be privileged to sell it for whatever price it would bring. He can sell at a profit what he grows in his garden with the labor of his own hands, but not if same is done with hired help.

On the collective farms where the families derive a shared income from these public enterprises, each family has for its personal property a small plot of land attached to the dwelling, and its personal property, a subsidiary establishment on the plot—a dwelling house, livestock, poultry and minor agricultural implements. This entire establishment is permitted to operate at its own and sole advantage.

Of course, this basic Russian rule that a man cannot make a profit on the labor of others, is diametrically opposite to our own American Capitalistic System. On the other hand, it is a fact which must be acknowledged that even here in America, under our capitalistic system, the masses of the people, while privileged to sell at a profit the product of their own labor, but not if same is done with hired help.

Another misconception about Russia is that no premium is placed on brains and executive ability. This, also, is untrue. Just as here in America, technicians, managers and executives are paid larger monetary rewards than the rank and file workers—with this difference that in Russia they perform their executive duties for state-owned instead of privately-owned concerns.

From the foregoing it must be concluded that Russia definitely is not a communistic nation; that today it does not even remotely practice communism. On the contrary, it is a totalitarian dictatorship, governed by a few despots who by force impose their will upon the many.

Communism, though impractical, as has been proven by experiment time and time again, is idealistic. On the other hand, the economy existing in Russia is realistic. Just for the very fact at the top and tyrannical for the great mass of the Russian people at the bottom.

Bride—Do you still take an interest in everything I do? Groome—Certainly. For example, I've spent all day wondering what you put in those biscuits we had at breakfast.

How to understand the language of "Planned Economy"— WHEN YOU SEE THE WORD, "GOVERNMENT," SUBSTITUTE, "TAXPAYERS" (SEE BELOW)

Cartoon by Reg Manning showing a man shouting 'TAXPAYERS? THAT'S YOU & ME!' while a list of government services is shown. The list includes: SUBSIDIES, GIFTS, AND GRANTS ARE PAID FOR BY THE GOVERNMENT! 'FREE SERVICES' ARE CHARGED TO THE GOVERNMENT! THE GOVERNMENT FOOTS THE BILL WHEN YOU GET 'SOMETHING FOR NOTHING' FROM WASHINGTON, D.C. — 'OH, LET THE GOVERNMENT PAY FOR IT!' POLITICIANS WIN VOTES BY GIVING AWAY THE GOVERNMENT'S MONEY. NOBODY WORRIES AS LONG AS IT'S ONLY THE GOVERNMENT'S DOUGH THAT'S WASTED — HARDLY ANYBODY TRIES TO SAVE GOVERNMENT MONEY!

Inquiring Photographer

THE QUESTION: What do you think of the latest elevation in taxes?

THE ANSWERS:

H. M. Shew, 519 Starkweather: "If the tax money would go to the boys fighting in the front lines, I'm all for it. If not, I'm all against more taxes. Personally, I would give up all of my wages in taxes or any other way if I thought it would be of real help in winning a lasting peace. My son was in service the last war and I know how it is."

H. E. Grey, 4064 1/2th Street, Miami, Fla. 8: "I think they are taxing too much. It might be beneficial in the long run but I can't see it now. Let the countries across the pond take care of themselves. We need help out here. I think since Churchill went into office England will show more relief."

Mrs. E. N. Franklin, clerk, Route 2, Pampa: "The general opinion is if it will help keep our world the democratic world it should be it is just fine and dandy. I am for it. After all we can only hope and pray we are doing the best."

Miss Jewel Beckham, clerk, 417 Doucette: "I think the government is thinking of itself in our country. For example, in our store some of the articles have the taxes raised on them. The old fatted must still be sold at old prices while the same things — newer merchandise — must be sold at a higher price. If they could set a level on things and keep it there it would be fine. I'm not for the tax raise myself, but I don't know much about it."

The Doctor Says

By EDWARD P. JORDAN, M. D. Written for NEA

A reader asks for information concerning rabbit fever, and whether I know of any herb roots that will cure it.

Before discussing this condition I should like to warn this reader and others against relying on herbs to cure anything so serious.

Rabbit fever (tularemia) is so-called because many of the cases of the disease have been caught by eating or skinning cotton tail rabbits. However, squirrels, woodchucks, cats, dogs, foxes, coyotes, muskrats, deer, mink, raccoon, snapping turtles, range sheep, meadow mice, rats, horned owls, chicken hawks, pheasants and cat fish have all been responsible for some cases.

The first sign of tularemia is usually the appearance of a lump on or under the skin. This comes about one to four days after exposure to the infected material.

The lesion is located most frequently on the hands or arms. The lump tends to ulcerate after about a week. Enlarged lymph glands in the arm pits follow the skin lesions after only a short time. These enlarged lymph glands are tender and painful and may become filled with pus.

Fever rises rapidly, usually reaching around 104. The victims of this condition are often left with severe fatigue which may take months or years to get over if they have not been promptly and properly treated.

SHOULD WEAR GLOVES Tularemia is caused by a germ and the disease behaves like many other germ diseases. The best treatment is to avoid infection—this means that those who are engaged in skinning animals which are likely to be infected should wear gloves or protect themselves in some other way. Rabbit hunters beware!

Probably the best treatment for tularemia is the penicillin relative streptomycin. This drug is of real and definite value for tularemia and is now the preferred treatment for anyone who is unfortunate enough to acquire this disease. It seems to be highly effective in all forms of the disease, including that in which the lungs are involved.

Professional Labor Leaders Afraid They'll Lose Power

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The most disgruntled and baffled politicians in the country today are the professional leaders of organized labor.

Recent 1952 presidential management maneuvers involving such top figures as President Truman, General " Ike " Eisenhower and Senator Robert A. Taft make them fearful that the political power they have wielded for almost 20 years will end next year.

As of today, the union bosses are not satisfied with any of the leading candidates for both parties' nomination, including the man in the White House.

He has been criticized severely at both the American Federation of Labor and the CIO conventions for his failure or inability to keep his pledges to those organizations. Their private comments on his labor record are unprintable.

GRUDGING — Although labor may be forced to support almost any Democratic nominee next year, the backing will be reluctant and grudging. At recent elections in numerous industrial cities and states, showed the "big shots" — William Green and Philip Murray — will not be able to influence the votes of the workmen and their wives.

Perhaps the only labor chief, still happy over the present situation is John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers. Eleven years ago, in the 1940 campaign, he was a true Messrs. Green, Murray and Walter Reuther that some day they would rue their utter and unquestioning endorsement of a single political party, meaning Franklin D. Roosevelt and his New Deal.

ATTITUDE — In his finest Shakespearean manner, he advised them to remember that the union labor's attitude toward both the Democrats and the GOP should approximate the sentiment reflected in the bitter comment: "A plague on both your houses!" Now, he stands on the sidelines and says with a grin: "I told you so."

As he forecast, both the AFL and the CIO will find it advisable next year to withhold active ballot-box and financial support from both the major parties. Instead, they will concentrate on the Senate-House elections.

MANIFESTATIONS — President Truman's reported effort to obtain the Democratic nomination for General Eisenhower aroused a sharp suspicion in labor ranks toward the Chief Executive's sincere interest in their behalf. "But there had been earlier White House manifestations which antagonized powerful figures inside the unions."

The head of the building trades group, which is the dominant unit in the A F of L, declared the Truman record to be so full of "flaws" that labor should consider voting for a Republican. Walter Reuther, boss of the United Automobile Workers, has attacked the administration's wage stabilization, policies, its price control failures and its tax amortization favors to great corporations. He says, in effect, that "Truman favors the rich."

FAILURE — More international-minded leaders are angry over European labor's failure to obtain proportionate benefits from the $12,000,000,000 of Marshall plan funds.

Their overseas comrades, they have told President Truman and Mutual Security Administrator W. Averell Harriman, have not benefited in the form of higher wages, shorter hours or improved working conditions from our vast expenditures.

The Green-Murray agents in this field are especially chagrined because, in their talks with European opposites, they won foreign approval of the Marshall plan by promising labor they would be among the principal beneficiaries. It has not worked out that way, with the result that a schism has arisen in the whole international labor movement, to the discredit of the American promoters.

POISON — As a Truman substitute, Chief Justice Fred Vinson would spark no enthusiasm with the leaders or the masses of organized labor. For one thing, they have a natural prejudice against a Southern politician. Secondly, Vinson has written several pro-Taft-Hartley decisions inimical to their demand for repeal of the statute. They don't want General Eisenhower as a Republican or Democratic nominee. In a formal statement, a top CIO official referred to his supposed animosity toward Taft-Hartley repeal and too generous Social Security and pension payments. Moreover, military men in civilian posts have always been poison to labor leaders.

FAVORITE — Senator Taft, of course, is the principal hate of the professional labor bosses. But his smashing victory last year, as well as a study of the industrial voting in the Nov. 6 elections, suggests that their hostility is not shared by factory workers and their families. A majority of the well-populated cities elected Republicans, especially in Pennsylvania, New York and Indiana.

The fact is that a possible may refuse to pay a political subscription to his union without fear of reprisals.

The conclusion is in firm because, although the public law relieves him of compulsion to show down, it cannot protect him from the organized psychological persecution which is a familiar weapon of the racketeering and Communist in American unions. Members of the American Newspaper Guild and non-members who had the gumption to fight back at the Communists in the days when Heywood Broun was prosecuting a divine mission to deliver all his colleagues to John L. Lewis and the CIO, will know what organized psychological persecution is. And the British unioners, being professionals of long experience, also know what it is and how to keep it off the record. They know what pain a dissenting brother would suffer from the silent treatment in the shop and that he could find it hard to stand firm for a fine principle, and a couple of shillings, when his child came home crying that the other children were spoiling childhood's happy hour by similar means. All this runs in favor of the stalwart friends of the common man who run the British unions and the Labor party.

We in the United States have heard so much about the scrupulous conduct of the British unions that this inquiry was first on my list. We live and learn and I am learning that unioners are brothers under the skin as they, themselves, would be the last to deny.

Thanks to the Messrs. Shane and Walton, I can tell you that in 1952 Parliament passed a law permitting unions to take up subscriptions for political use provided the members endorsed the proposition by formal ballot and provided further that all who objected to any particular collection should be permitted to abstain without prejudice. The phrase for attention is "to contract out."

This seemed so handsome of political fund of the union," Walton said, "and the man who has done more for the history of the restraint on unions in taxing the members for politics, told me that after the general strike of 1926, the Conservatives reversed the "Contracting out" process. The Conservative change of the Law thereafter a man personally had to "contract in." It took an affirmative act on his part. The unions and the Labor party mourned this subtle evil until they got the power and in 1946 they turned it inside out again. Once more, the individual had to take the onus and the social risk of refusing to show down his shillings for socialism.

"Why did you want it that way?" "Psychological effect," Walton said. "A man is more likely to forget to contract out than he is to remember to contract in."

In other words, my words, he is more likely to be afraid to refuse than passively willing to comply.

Damn clever these unioners, but the more I see of them the less difference I see.

They told me that of 185 unions in the T.U.C., only 83 belonged to the Labor party and that, last year, they paid 122,000 pounds into the Labor party's kitty. That would be about 305,000 of our 50-cent dollars. These unions used the remainder on political literature and meetings, specially in local contests. We got into the area of psychology when Walton traced the history of the restraint on unions in taxing the members for politics, told me that after the general strike of 1926, the Conservatives reversed the "Contracting out" process. The Conservative change of the Law thereafter a man personally had to "contract in." It took an affirmative act on his part. You In The Church
 The Church In You -
 Form a combination for good. We should attend church regularly Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the CHURCH. Be Faithful! Be a Churchman.

Wm. H. Meyer
 For Work Terms

The poet has well said, "It takes a 'heap' of living in a house to make it a home." Architects design houses. Builders put them together. But only the spirit of the Lord of all the earth builds homes. Is your house a Home? Have you learned the difference? You may find how to make your house a home through the teachings embodied in His church. "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it," Psalms 127:1.

From the beginning days of Adam and Eve, Home has been man's pride... man's delight. Home is our refuge, our castle, our playground and our world. Home is the practice ground for Democracy. It is a "place to practice religion in a character clinic." Are the occupants of your home Christian? Does your household attend Church? Home implies mutual affection, genuine forbearance; a place where every child knows he belongs. Is yours a House or a Home?

will not be canvassed until during city commission meeting. Following that, the legal technicalities of having the bonds approved by the state attorney general's office, approval by credit houses, advertising for bids on the bonds and selling the bonds will have to run their course.

The next steps will be to draw plans and specifications on those programs, including such action and advertising for bids on the projects. When those bids are finally awarded — sometime next year — work will start on the various projects.

Executive Speaks At Lions Meeting

"Be different. Be yourself. Don't just be an average man." So said E. E. Casey, district manager of Firestone Tire and Rubber Co., Oklahoma City, yesterday during a weekly meeting of the Lions club.

Casey appeals to members to do their own thinking, he advised them to make up their own minds as to what is right and wrong. "Sometimes we don't know what we are or what we think and resort to letting others form our opinions," he said. "But if you don't accept the challenge to think independently, we can have any of the brand of 'isms' that often have been prevalent throughout the world."

He added that a code of ethics does not mean anything unless it is one's personal code. "No one knows what value to place on a man. It is determined only by personal actions. This group has no moral standards other than those reflected personally."

One should picture himself as a thread of cloth in a suit, he said. "Our lives are like that thread in that they will be as pretty as the color the thread gives the entire suit."

rights platform plank can be worked out along the lines of the one drafted by the platform committee at the party's 1948 convention.

That plank endorsed civil rights in general terms, but was ditched after a floor fight led by Senator Humphrey (D - Minn). Adopted instead was a plank committing the party to a comparatively specific program.

The result was introduction in Congress of administration bills calling for a fair employment practices commission, a federal prohibition against lynching, laws against segregation, and other steps. Senate filibusters launched by Southern lawmakers have been the principal traditional means of blocking action on the measures.

HAD TRUMAN'S APPROVAL

Anderson said he doesn't know what Mr. Truman's current thinking on the issue is, but he said the original civil rights plank he drafted by the platform committee in 1948 had the President's approval.

Full Investigation Is Ordered In Atrocities

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Young (R-ND) said today the way reports of atrocities against U. S. soldiers in Korea were made public raises the question whether the administration is "trying to minimize the tragedies of the Korean war."

"These atrocities are terrible and I would think anything as important as that would find our levels officially informed," Young told a reporter.

Young and two Democratic senators, Edwin C. Johnson of Colorado and Olin D. Johnston of South Carolina, expressed puzzlement in separate interviews at the surprise voiced by top military and government officials over the report.

At Supreme Allied headquarters in Tokyo, where some sources had expressed skepticism over the report that 5,500 U. S. prisoners had been killed by the Reds, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway ordered a full investigation.

Ridgway, the supreme commander, directed his press information officer, Col. Patrick Weich, to go to Pusan, Korea, to interview the officer who made the report, Col. James M. Hanley.

Charges Pending Against Trucker

Charges are pending today against Lee Kitchens, Miami, who was involved last night in an accident on Hwy. 70 north of Pampa "about 300 yards into Roberts county," officials said.

Deputy Sheriff Shirley Nickols said the accident happened when Kitchens, driving a truck north, hit a post on the right side of the road turning his vehicle in the opposite direction and striking the front of a car driven by Clark Stanton, Lefors.

Slightly injured was Kay Stanton, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanton. Also passengers were Stanton's wife and 17-month-old daughter, Karen Sue. County officials said Kitchens previously has been convicted of driving while intoxicated. He was held last night in county jail.

OFFICIAL CLEARANCE

Hanley, chief of the judge advocate's section of the Eighth Army, had said he understood he had official clearance to give out the report. He said his aim was to caution United Nations troops in Korea what they are up against.

Ridgway's headquarters declined comment until the inquiry is completed.

President Truman told his news conference at Key West, Fla., yesterday that the reported atrocities are a horrible thing, true, he added, it is the most uncivilized thing that has happened in the last century.

The reports touched off new demands from members of Congress and elsewhere for use of atomic weapons against the Communists in Korea, but all information available here indicated the government is standing firm against that alternative.

Indications in official quarters were that there might be a change in the policy, or certainly a restudy of the problem, if current truce talks end in failure. Mr. Truman declined comment on that point.

One factor which was used as an argument by those advocating atomic warfare was the reported recent proving of smaller A-bombs suitable for use against troop concentrations.

SHOULD ISSUE WARNING

Senator Young said the report of Red atrocities should lead to "an ultimatum from the highest level warning all Communists that if these continue we will use retaliatory measures," possibly including atomic weapons.

"The Communists are certainly inviting that," he added.

He reiterated his contention that the Korean war could have been avoided.

Senator Johnston (SC) said he long has advocated use of the "A-bomb, H-bomb or any other kind of a bomb" against Communist concentrations in Korea.

"We should hit them in Korea, in Manchuria or in China," he added. "There is no sense in trying to fight a war by dilly-
