GERMANS

Adriatic coast in the face of increasing resistance by reinforced Nazi troops, the British Eighth Army captured Petacciano nine miles west of Termoli, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's infantry made a successful attack on the village, converted by the Germans into a heavily fortified zone, with the support of British tanks and artillery.

South of the Adriatic coast, other Eighth Army units beat back a heavy enemy counter-attack on Montecifone, occupied Monday.

Sharp clashes occurred in the area of Baranello, 30 miles northwest of Montecifone, where the enemy massed large reinforcements to hold the mountain heights controlling the main lateral road—west and northwest from Vianitudo.

"The Germans are offering much stronger resistance all along the Eighth Army front, and obviously they brought up fresh troops to aid the tired troops in the line, some of whom were badly knocked about in Africa and Sicily," a headquarters officer said.

The British lines were advanced as much as seven miles in their latest attack.

It was disclosed officially that the veteran British 78th division—described by some Allied commanders as one of the finest infantry divisions in the world, is with the Eighth Army. The 78th was the major British unit in the landings in the Algiers area last November, and carried the heaviest fighting in northern Tunisia last winter. It fought in Sicily, where its mountain veterans were credited with one of the most difficult and spectacular feats—the capture of the mountain of Centuripe.

With the enemy driven far back from the Volturno river tanks, the Fifth Army was free to pour reinforcements and supplies across at all points, and Lt.-Gen. Mark W. Clark sent up a steady stream of troops, guns, and tanks to pursue the withdrawing Germans.

The drive north from the Capua area to Pignataro put the Americans astride the road fork from which two main highways run to Rome slightly over 90 airline miles distant.

One of these—the famed Apennine way—runs in a westerly direction through a narrow gap in the new Nazi mountain line to Gaeta, and the other—the Casilina way—northward through Cassino. It also passes through the narrow valley dominated by the German-held hills.

Past 24 Hours Are Germany's Blackest

STOCKHOLM, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The past 24 hours, in which the Red army cracked the German eastern front defenses in a major break, were the blackest of the war for Germany, Swedish correspondents reported today from Berlin.

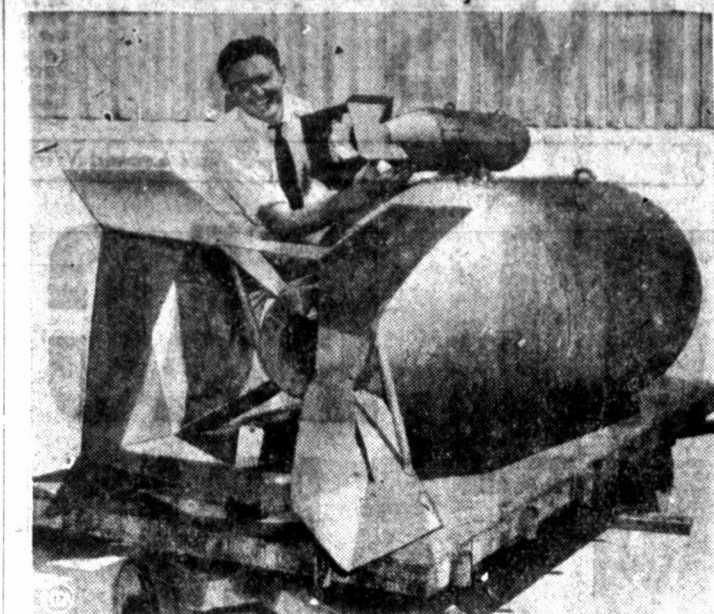

The Berlin correspondent of Aftonbladet said that if Soviet troops can follow up their smashing breakthrough the Germans realize it can't mean anything but a catastrophe that would put Stalingrad in the shade.

"As a whole, the war reports since yesterday have given Germany its blackest day since the war started, even counting Stalingrad," said the Aftonbladet dispatch, which passed German censorship.

"It is obvious to every German that the Russians, not the Germans, have the initiative, and Red army forces, instead of growing weaker, grows stronger, piling up great troubles for the German army. Even the most optimistic German hesitates now in viewing what is going to happen."

Senator Pledges Public Speech

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Two of the five senators who aroused the British press recently by their critical observations on lend-lease and other Allied operations called today for a frank discussion of Anglo-American relationships.

If "minor problems" can't be settled now, said Senator Russell (D-Ga.), "it dims my hopes for international collaboration in the peace—and I have great hopes for such collaboration."

Senator Chandler (D-Ky.), another member of the party that favored Allied battlefronts, said the returning senators had spoken more in sorrow at the shortcomings of American representatives abroad than in anger at the British.

Russell said he planned to repeat publicly in the senate a speech he delivered at a closed session, out of which came reports that the traveling senators had charged, among other things, that the British were transferring American lend-lease goods to other countries under British labels.

Russell does this, any complaints he may have made will be spread upon the record. Prime Minister Churchill told the British house of commons yesterday that while a reply was being prepared, the charges attributed to the senators were not on record and he had concluded that "there would be no advantage to his majesty's government taking part in this wordy warfare."

Garrison Flays Youth Neglect

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—State police Director Homer Garrison said today that the drafting of fathers will mean more neglect of youth, and placed the burden of responsibility for delinquent children upon the home.

Garrison emphasized that "I hold no brief for or against the drafting of fathers," adding that many mothers are in war or other work, or gadding around.

"The children are left alone while mother attends to these duties, and they are still alone when mother comes home too tired to bother with being a companion to them," he said.

This situation is considerably worsened by the fact that in many such families the father is away, too either working or serving with the armed forces.

"The socialist can not correct this situation," he said. "Neither can the policeman or jurist. Our moral decay is everybody's problem."

Garrison urged parents to extend more love and affection, give their children a sense of importance at home and utilize "a little time and intelligence to bring their children up as good citizens rather than letting them run wild and drift into crime."

"Did you touch the body?" "If you walk into a room and find your best friend you do everything possible."

"Look at this photograph," the attorney said during the questioning, "does it look like a living man?" "No, but the body still was warm when I first saw it."

"You didn't have much hope of saving Harry's life?" Higgs demanded.

Christie lifted his voice and almost shouted his reply:

"Yes, I had hopes of saving my best friend's life."

The courtroom was packed, and spectators sat on the edges of their chairs after red-robed, white-wigged Chief Justice Sir Oran Bedford Daly had read from his hand-written record the end of yesterday's proceedings and Higgs launched into his vigorous cross-examination.

Wheat Pasture Outlook Same

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Harvest of Texas crops continued under mostly favorable conditions in the week ended Oct. 17, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.

Corn, feed and peanut harvests neared completion in the southern and eastern portions, and progressed well elsewhere. The sweet potato harvest was general and gathering of pecans began. Rice harvest was at near peak as labor conditions improved by a supply of war prisoners for field work.

The department reported also that truck crop conditions were generally good for the first half of October, although rain interrupted field work somewhat in the Lower Valley. Growing crops made excellent progress but prospective tonnage of early vegetables will be fairly light because of drought conditions that prevailed in September.

Fairly good progress was made by early seeded winter crops including beets, cabbage, carrots and spinach.

Peak cotton harvest was limited to the northwestern counties. In some counties schools were on a part-time schedule, relieving local labor conditions somewhat. East, central, coastal and south central harvest was about over, only scrapping operations remaining in many sections.

There was little change in the range feed or wheat pasture outlook in the northwest district but over most other parts of the state pastures and ranges continued to improve. Most livestock will go into the winter in fairly good condition except some of the more severely affected drought areas.

LABOR

worker to ask a fellow worker to join a union is not a commercial enterprise subject to regulation but an essential right of an American granted by the constitution.

"The supreme court of the United States, particularly in recent years, has determined that unions are protected by the 14th amendment to the constitution as to freedom of speech, assembly and press," he declared.

The section of the law requiring organizers to obtain a permit from the secretary of state defeats the objective of unions which is the collective efforts of workers to contract for benefits, he added.

"If an organizer is not able to obtain a permit card at an opportune moment he loses the opportunity to solicit a membership or if he does not obtain one and asks a person to join a union he is subject to $500 fine and 60 days in jail," Goodman continued.

The court will not rule immediately on the case. If Thomas loses he has 15 days in which to file a motion for rehearing and if rehearing is denied he has 30 additional days in which to appeal to the supreme court of the United States.

"A second test on the law is pending in District Judge J. D. Moore's court here. The Congress of Industrial Organizations and the American Federation of Labor asked for a declaratory judgment and an injunction against the law, alleging its enforcement would cause irreparable damage to unions and perhaps destroy them.

Chinese Communist Quarrel Settled

CHUNKING, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The Chinese national government, speaking through its new minister of information, Liang Han-Chiao, voiced assurance today of the prospective settlement of a quarrel with Chinese Communists and declared there would be no civil war in China.

Liang said the attitude taken by the Communists after September sessions of the people's political council, China's bidding parliament, had been "rather encouraging."

In response to a question he said developments of the next 6 months would show what he meant.

The people's political council adjourned Sept. 27 with a strong denunciation of the Chinese Communists accusing them of a "disobedient attitude and subversive activities."

This climaxed recriminations between Chunking and Yenan, headquarters of Chinese Communists, in which each accused the other of disrupting national unity and hindering prosecution of the war.

Railroad Man Rejects Four-Cent Pay Boost

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20.—(AP)—President A. F. Whitney of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen said today he would not recommend acceptance of a four-cent hourly pay increase approved last month by the president's emergency board for railroad operating employees.

Whitney made his announcement as he prepared to attend a meeting of Brotherhood General chairmen in Chicago Friday and as railroad workers indicated a nation-wide strike vote might be taken.

Four other brotherhoods which, with the trainmen, asked a 30 percent wage increase will meet in Chicago the same day and the attitude of these five organizations is expected to determine whether a strike vote is conducted.

"I will not recommend to that cent increase which the president's emergency board reported on Sept. 25," Whitney declared in a prepared statement.

"This wage case, which involves more than 350,000 transportation workers, has been kicked around by government stabilization functionaries since the hearing of the case was concluded by the emergency board in mid-July."

"Further Red army progress was reported north and south of the Ukrainian capital of Kiev. Here Soviet troops 'completed the annihilation of remnants' of motorized Nazi units striving to prevent encirclement of the great stronghold, the communiqué said.

Make Biscuits from Milk Left in Empty Bottle; Herbs Grown on Window Perks up Winter

By ANN STEVICK
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—It may be news to you, but the British long ago discovered that there is enough milk left in an "empty" can or bottle to make a batch of biscuits. British nutritionists have counseled mothers to rinse out bottles and cans and use the last bit in cooking. By such methods the British have taken pains to see that children get full benefit of the extremely short milk supply. Scones and cookies are made of similar remnants of sour milk.

The British National Milk Scheme, in effect since 1940 has involved rigid zoning of deliveries, special priority allowances for infants, permits for condensed milk, allocations of dried milk to certain individuals.

It is unlikely that the U. S. shortage will be that critical. But the War Food Administration is scheming to make milk go around for drinking, for making cheese, evaporated milk and butter. British conservation methods are appropriate.

SHORT SEASONINGS
Herbs grown on your own window sill can help perk up drab winter meals, and replace some of the vanishing seasonings. Parsley, chives, basil, sweet marjoram and spearmint will thrive as house plants with good soil, plenty of light, and regular watering. A box eight inches deep with an inch layer of broken stones and a couple of holes for drainage can be your miniature Victory plot.

It should be filled with one part sand two parts loam, some fertilizer and a little bone meal. Chives which grow readily from bulbs, will carry on all winter, once started, and may come in handy when onions are short. Basil is being suggested as a substitute for cloves, which are only a memory on grocery shelves.

Singer Does Jaw, Neck Routine For Throat Lines

JEAN TENNYSON: Firm chin.
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
The new neck lines for fall draw immediate attention to your throat. If yours is inclined to be crepey and sallow, give it a daily "facial" and tightening routine, such as concert and radio soprano star Jean Tennyson follows for a firm, smooth throat.

"I sit in a backless chair, relax my head, shoulders and neck completely for a few seconds, then lean my head as far back as possible," Miss Tennyson explains. "With my chin tilted upward until I feel my skin pull taut, I open and shut my mouth 10 times in a chewing motion so that the jaws are exercised and the muscles in the neck and throat contract and relax rhythmically."

The singer follows this firming exercise by covering her face and throat with an anti-wrinkle astringent. "Milk diluted with water is very refreshing," Miss Tennyson suggests, "but ordinary witch hazel also suits the purpose. I apply it with a small sponge or piece of cotton, using a gentle, rotating motion beginning at the base of the neck and working up the column of my throat, over the chin and my entire face."

Constant practice of these two beauty routines will help keep your neckline young and unlined.

Relax Fidgety, Fiddling Fingers By Playing the Piano on a Table

ADELE MARA: Table chop sticks make poised hands.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Do your hands give you away? Fingers that fiddle with a lock of hair, twist a ring 'round and 'round or pick at polish, deny the perfect poise you otherwise convey.

Relax hand tenseness by "playing the piano" on your desk or table, as does starlet Adele Mara, who will soon be seen on the screen in "Destroyer."

"I also find that walking my fingers back and forth across the table relieves the pent-up feeling that sometimes comes from too intensive work."

Then, too, Adele points out, if you keep your polish in perfect repair, there will be no little nicks to invite fingers to fidget. Daily smoothing with an emery board and a handy bottle of polish in your desk at the office or locker to cover chipped tips will help.

"Otherwise," Adele laughed, "I guess the only way to stop fingers from fidgeting is to sit on them."

A new motion picture camera has been developed that operates at 8,000 "winks" a second—160 times faster than the wink of the human eye.

Fire On Hearth Adds To Fun Of Informal Party

Simplicity is the key-note in home entertainment these days. A few friends, simple refreshment, and quiet conversation in congenial surroundings—these are the ingredients of true hospitality. And clever is the hostess who asks her friends to draw up a chair close to the glow of the fireplace. For there is nothing like the magic of the blazing hearth for producing contentment.

The warmth of the burning logs is more welcome than ever these fuel rationed days. Everyone is trying to keep the house comfortably warm on the least possible fuel oil or coal and using the fireplace saves fuel on chilly evenings. It's a good idea, too, to draw the window shades as soon as it gets dark. The insulating layer of between the shade and the glass seals warm air in the house.

When the evening's activities center about the hearth, refreshments may be of the old-fashioned sort. Chances are your guests will find it fun to roast apples by the fire. Select medium-sized apples which are ripe but still firm. Wash and polish them and set them out in a row quite close to the fire. After a little while you want to turn them so that they toast to an even, hot juiciness.

Hot mulled cider is a cheering drink sure to appeal to guests of all ages. Serve it piping hot in cups or pre-heated earthen-ware mugs, accompanied by fresh, hot doughnuts.

Big Texas Road Program Aired

AUSTIN, Oct. 20—The expenditure of $542,250,177 in the immediate postwar period will be necessary to meet the minimum traffic requirements on Texas roads and highways. Charlie Simons, executive vice-president of the Texas Good Roads association, said a survey had determined. "Persons interested in specific road projects are taking for granted that if the program goes through as now planned, every pressing road and traffic need in the state will be fully met," Simons said in a statement. "This very definitely is not the case."

Civilians May Get Radios from Army

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)—Civilians may be able to buy new radios sooner than expected after the war if the surplus equipment of the armed forces is made available to the public. The radio industry, generally, today praised an announcement by the war production board that a wide assortment and a large volume of government-owned radio mechanisms would be released soon after the war. Strict government censorship prevents discussion of how amazing new war discoveries in radio and electronics may be applied to civilian use, but scientists and technicians familiar with this field have already expressed several post-war commercial development, manufacturers said. Frequency modulation, an improvement in radio reception which eliminates all local noises and static, is all set for wide public distribution as soon as manufacturers again are allowed to use critical materials. Television also will be made available throughout the country through techniques which have been implemented by the war and television sets will come within the purchase range of all, R. C. A. recently predicted.

Hello-Girls Want Salaries Raised

CHICAGO, Oct. 20—(AP)—What it costs the telephone girl in Chicago to live, together with a graphic presentation of her charms and abilities, was under consideration of a special panel of the war labor board today. According to the Chicago telephone traffic union, which is currently seeking higher wages in the WLB hearing, these are the weekly costs for an operator: Room and board... 1938 1943 Clothing... 3.01 3.76 Cigarettes and candy... 50 62 Church... 12 15 Entertainment... 1.84 2.05 Income taxes... 0.00 4.00 War bonds... 0.00 2.50 On the other hand, Leslie Hackett, attorney for the company, presented a glowing description of the qualities of a telephone girl. She is, he told the panel, a glamorous girl with "the voice with a smile." Her qualifications include a good voice, good health and endurance, ability to withstand public abuse, mechanical dexterity, tact and aggressiveness, and good personal appearance. In addition, according to the testimony of Emma I. Jasot, union president, the hello-girl must deliver the messages for people too busy to call themselves, handle conversations for the hard of hearing, speak for persons unable to speak, and be a "good girl" in general. English, give information concerning hotels, train times, and places of amusement, advice on how to save money by placing calls at certain times, and have even given money to help service men caught in difficulties. All in all, she's quite a gal, and the panel decided to ponder the union request for increases averaging 85 weekly. The original contract expired April 4, 1943. Military supplies valued at $10,800,000,000 will be delivered to nations allied with the United States in 1943-44.

Los Angeles Wants Gas Plant Closed

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20—(AP)—Enemy planes aren't responsible, but this town has been having gas attacks—and the city's official indignation has reached the court stage. On windless days, thin blankets of fumes enveloped the city hall's proud 25-story spire and drifted lazily across the metropolis. Eyes moistened and smarted. Smokestacks of feverish war plants are largely blamed, particularly the Southern California Gas company's factory producing butadiene, an ingredient for synthetic rubber derived from crude oil. On city council instructions, City Attorney Ray L. Chesbro filed a federal court injunction suit to halt the plant's operations, charging it emits "obnoxious and offensive gases and fumes detrimental to the health, safety, comfort and property of citizens."

Railroads Seek Airline Routes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—An application to operate a complete air transport service in the Southwest has been received from the Missouri Pacific and the Texas and Pacific railroads companies by the civil aeronautics board. The proposed new line would be called Eagle Air Lines. No hearing date has been set. The line would run through these cities, among others: St. Louis, Kansas City, Pueblo, Texarkana, San Antonio, New Orleans, Baton Rouge, Shreveport, Houston, Fort Worth, El Paso, Fort Smith, Little Rock, Hot Springs, Waco and Corpus Christi. —BUY VICTORY STAMPS— The natives left when the Japanese came, because the Japanese do not smell good and the natives have good noses. —John Bitimbull, Munda tribal chieftain.

American Oil Men Visit in Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The presence here of a number of American oil men and expected visits of more gave rise today to belief the United States was planning to take more oil from Venezuela and might be endeavoring to secure additional oil land in this country. Among those here now are Harry Sinclair, head of the Sinclair interests; George McDonald, member of the same firm and prominent Miami businessman; Clarence Stark of Bartlesville, Okla., representative of Phillips Petroleum; Leonard Henry of Standard Oil of California; Henry Phillips of New York, president of Consolidated Oil, and his geologist, Hugh Russel of New York.

Scheduled to arrive later are C. H. Lieb, New York, president of Creole Petroleum Corp.; H. C. Weiss, Houston, Tex., president of the Humble Oil Refining company; Ralph W. Gallagher, New York, president and director, and Eugene Holman, director, of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

Glazner Takes Exams For Joining Seabees

Pampa may be without a driver's license examiner soon. Dean Glazner, who has been stationed in Pampa by the Texas department of public safety for the past 18 months, has taken preliminary examinations for enlistment in the Seabees.

His application for enlistment comes at a time when driver's licenses are expiring as the driver license system in Texas went into effect Oct. 1, 1941, with licenses good for two years. These, of course, expire this year. There has been a considerable number of renewals since the first of this month, Glazner said.

The examiner held his first department of public safety job in Pampa, as he was employed by a private concern in Dickens county before coming to Pampa a year and a half ago.

TRICK OF THE WEEK

SALT LAKE CITY.—It was the "infernal bomb" ever seen at police headquarters. It was set up inside a soft drink bottle. A glass vial contained half a dozen round chunks of copper-colored metal immersed in liquid. Extending through a makeshift wax cork were two pipe cleaners, and between them was fastened an empty .22 caliber rifle shell. After examining it gingerly for several minutes, police blushed. Pranksters again!

Pension Rules Are Changed

A new set of rules went into effect for old age clients of the Texas department of public welfare and other counties of the state.

Reason for the change is given as "limitations imposed by the current appropriation."

This month 182,305 Texans received old age pension checks totaling $4,258,093. Only $3,776,807.80 was available for payment. Since the old age fund lacked $481,285.20 to pay the full grants, $2.64 had to be deducted from the certified amount of each grant in writing checks.

Under the new rules, budget allowance for incidentals, bus fare, stationery, small church contributions, tobacco, stamps, newspaper, is cut from $2.64 to $2. for individuals living alone. $1.25 if living with a family group.

Health care is taken off the allowed list and limited to $6 a month except in cases of chronic illness; glasses, limited to $15; life insurance, cut from $4 to $2; dentures, from off allowed list to $40.

Ample Quotas In West Texas Are Assured

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The railroad commission has unanimously assured operators in four West Texas fields that they would be granted allowable increases in the spring to fill a demand which will be created there by completion of two new pipelines.

The assurance was made with the proviso that storage facilities be made ready.

Master Nixon, chairman of the industry's oil supply sub-committee, gave a report on a progress survey made on the Stanolind line from the Slaughter field in Yoakum county to Drumright, Okla., and on the Magnolia line from Midland to Comstock. This survey was made at the request of the transportation division of the petroleum administration for war.

Nixon said the Magnolia line would be finished March 1 and the Stanolind line April 1. It will require 200,000 barrels of oil to fill the Magnolia line; 500,000 barrels to fill the Stanolind line and 107,000 barrels daily to keep them operating at capacity.

The commission's assurance of increased allowances was made in response to his request for such boosts.

This is what completion of the lines will mean for the fields involved: (In barrels daily)

Field	Sept. allow.	pipelines
N. Cowden	17,800	25,800
Semirole	10,700	25,000
Slaughter	45,800	65,000
Wasson	50,500	91,000

Frank Speller of Tyler, engineer who said he represented several independents in the East Texas field, urged the commission to adopt measures to control the "pattern" of salt water injection in the field.

Otherwise, Speller said, the injection program might do more harm than good.

On the west side of the field, he said, an "alarming condition" had resulted from inside injections causing pollution. These injections, he added, sometimes hit "soft spots" and caused wells to make excessive water.

H. P. Nichols, who said he was speaking for the East Texas Oil and Gas association, again recommended that East Texas field's producing days be reduced to 20 from its present 23 per month.

Nominations of purchasers for November totaled 2,996,438 daily, a net increase of 53,717 over last month.

Rationed Food Can Be Obtained

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The office of price administration has outlined two procedures for obtaining rationed foods for gift packages to American prisoners of war or service men and women overseas.

Persons preferring to make such shipments themselves may get the necessary points by applying to their district OPA office.

If they want the dealer from whom the food is bought to make the shipment, they may make the purchase without giving up stamps and OPA will replace the point value of the food the dealer exports.

Meat Rationing Held Necessary

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Abandonment of meat rationing would mean a return of shortage and confusion rather than orderly supplies equitably distributed, Max McCullough, administrator of OPA region five, said.

The administration said slaughter quotas had been removed not because of present feed shortages, but "to encourage a steady flow of beef to slaughterers to insure adequate supplies for army, navy and lend-lease requirements and in addition to make available for civilian consumption, enough meat to satisfy outstanding rationing points."

McCullough's statement followed a declaration by J. E. McDonald, Texas agricultural commissioner, that meat rationing was unnecessary.

"The removal of quotas on slaughtering did not effect any change in allocation for civilian use," McCullough said. "The agricultural commissioner's proposal that after army, navy and lend-lease requirements are supplied the rest be released to the public without rationing" is highly unsound and indicates the commissioner is not adequately acquainted with all the facts regarding the meat situation from a national and international viewpoint.

"After army, navy and lend-lease requirements are filled, it is necessary that the remaining supplies be rationed in order that all civilians might share that supply equally," McCullough continued.

"The Texas agricultural commissioner points to the increase in cattle population, but apparently does not recognize the increases in demand for meat. In spite of his statement that there was sufficient cattle on hand to meet all requirements without rationing, the war meat committee, which considers over-all requirements, has been unable to allocate additional supplies for civilian use and at the same time fill the requirements of our fighting forces."

Workers Cheer Wallace During Dallas Speech

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—(P)—Union labor cheered the suggested re-election of President Roosevelt and Vice President Henry A. Wallace at a meeting at the UAW-CIO hall at Grand Prairie last night and the vice president responded with a boost for union labor.

Harold H. Young, former Dallas attorney now serving as Wallace's assistant in Washington, told the joint meeting of CIO, AFL and Railway Brotherhood members:

"President Roosevelt has a hard working, sincere, honest and able vice president and I think he and our president should be—and will be—re-elected."

Union labor rebel yells filled the crowded hall for a full minute. During his address, Mr. Wallace said:

"There is a small group with power that seems to hunger and thirst for a showdown with labor. If it becomes necessary to meet power with power—let's do that at the time comes."

Speaking on the future of business, labor and agriculture, the vice president said survival and success in the critical post-war period would revolve around full employment, and added:

"Some business men are scared to death of the national debt. It will be two hundred billion a 1944, higher in 1945. The only secret to meeting it is full employment."

"Full employment may help solve the whole post-war world picture and prevent future wars."

Mr. Wallace will make a second address here tonight (9 p. m. CWT). His subject will be post-war transportation, including aviation, and its relation to unemployment.

In interviews several hours before the Grand Prairie meeting, the vice president had said he had no com-

U. T. Regents Meet In Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(P)—The University of Texas board of regents will meet here this week-end instead of going to El Paso as originally scheduled, Secretary Leo Haynes announced.

Haynes said he was not informed whether representatives of the American Association of University Professors would be present.

Seeking re-instatement of three economics professors, the association has written the regents in regard to a date for a meeting to discuss faculty tenure.

Haynes said inability of several members to make the El Paso trip resulted in the decision to meet here.

Foaming Suds Make Appearance Again

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(P)—Foaming suds of the home-made variety are making a comeback in Texas.

The state liquor control board reports 69 complaints, 51 convictions and $4,147 in fines as a result of its inspectors' encounters with home brew beer makers in September.

Reason for the increased manufacture of home brew, a rarity since 1933 when it became legal, is the shortage of the brewery product, the board reported in its monthly publication, the Review.

Most home brew complaints were filed in the dry counties of Lubbock, Grayson and Angelina, which had eight each, but the product was also found in Bowie, Gregg and Dallas, where beer is legal.

Labor Organizes To Swing Elections

DALLAS, Oct. 20.—(P)—Capital has the finances, but labor has the votes and they are going to talk in the 1944 election, says W. H. Winchester, state railway Brotherhood leader.

Speaking to railroad workers here yesterday, Winchester said the groundwork had been laid to form a voting committee of American Federation of Labor, Congress of Industrial Organizations, Railway Brotherhoods and Typographical unions, which will meet soon to lay plans for swinging the 144 national election.

He said that almost all big legislation passed in the interests of railroad men had been under the present administration and "naturally we love Roosevelt." He added, however, that the unions had no names in mind yet for announcement of support in state or national elections.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—(P)—In a sudden departure from the "master race" theory, Fritz Sauckel, Nazi high commissioner for employment of all labor, was quoted today in a DNB broadcast as saying that Germany "respects the foreign worker as a co-worker and human being with spiritual and cultural needs."

Evidently striving to placate the millions of foreign workers slaving in German-occupied territories, Robert Ley, Nazi trade union commissioner, was quoted as speaking in a similar vein, asserting that he was convinced that "millions of those who felt no interest when they came here today become friends of Germany."

Meanwhile, Gen. Miguel Badillo, commander of federal troops hunting bandits, reported that two outlaw leaders who called themselves "generals" were killed in gun battles in Puebla state.

Pan-American Road Building Delayed

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Oct. 20.—(P)—Construction of the Pan-American highway through Central America will continue, but on a lower and more economical basis by civilian workers, Edward G. Trueblood, charge d'affaires of the U. S. embassy, explained yesterday.

Trueblood said construction of the road as a military project had been dropped because Allied successes in the war are reducing the danger of Western Hemisphere aggression.

Army battle plans are revised every six months to conform with the number of men and amount of material available.

State to Aid Wives Of Enlisted Men

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(P)—The state health department is authorized to enter into a plan for emergency maternity and infant care of wives and infants of enlisted men in the armed services and administer federal funds for that purpose, Attorney General Gerald C. Mann advised in an opinion requested by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer.

Mann said, however, that federal agencies in charge of the program do not require the health department to obligate the state for payment of such services.

Mann construed federal law and rules of the children's bureau of the U. S. department of labor to mean that the state health department must assume responsibility only for the policies and aspects of administering the federal funds.

HOW TO FIX YOUR OWN PLUGS AND CORDS
THESE DAYS almost every housewife has to be her own repairman at some time. By making simple repairs on your own lighting plugs and cords, you can save the time of lighting service men so urgently needed for vital war work.
Of course, it's always preferable to get new cords and plugs and to use new wire. If you can, you can do a good job of patching up the old by following these suggestions.

• Inspect your lamp cords where they come out of the lamp base. They fray and crumble quickly at this spot.

1. RIGHT AND WRONG WAY TO WIRE A PLUG
WRONG: Wires not put around the prongs first.
RIGHT: Wires put around the prongs. When cord is pushed or jerked, pressure is put on the prongs.

2. CORD FRAYED IN THE MIDDLE
Clean away the frayed or crumbled part.
Tape up each wire separately, using electrician's tape.
Then tape wires together. Adhesive tape cures and cracks very quickly.

3. CORD FRAYED NEAR PLUG
Unscrew screws and pull wire out.
Cut off frayed part of the wire.
Reinsert wire in plug, and screw in place.

4. PLUG SHOULD FIT SNUGLY
Where "A" doesn't fit snugly into "B," plug "B's" springs may have lost their "tension."
Bend plug "A's" prongs apart with your fingers. Just enough to get a snug fit.
Or bend out the ends of the prongs with a pair of pliers.

Running Into Trouble

Typical of opposition opponents of College of Pacific encounter is this picture showing California's Jed Garthwaite about to be swarmed under by Amos Alonzo Stagg's boys, first of whom are Earl Klappstein, 38, and John Verutti, 26. Close instantly fourth COP man behind Verutti with Harry a blocker in sight. COP remained unbeaten, 12-6.

Harvesters at Par For Brownfield Game

Up to full strength—and they need all of it—are the Pampa Harvesters today as they train for their first District 1-AA conference game against Brownfield here Friday night.

For the first time this season, the Harvesters have a full, injury-free bunch of gridsters to turn loose against their opponents, with the exception of Dick Manry, 158-pound back, who injured a leg in the game here against Weatherford, Okla.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)— Next week's Sammy Angott-Stugger White fight for the N. B. A. lightweight title will be the first outdoor night bout on the West Coast since Pearl Harbor and Promoter Joe Lynch is talking hopefully about a $50,000 gate.

George Munger, Penn coach, says that if Bob Odell has missed a tackle in two years, he didn't see it, either on the field or in the game movies.

Rattlesnake Matheson, Detroit Lions guard, claims that playing football is his vacation—even after five years in the big league.

Wonder what the W. M. C., which okayed the Bears, would say in that case?

QUOTE UNQUOTE
 Carl Hubbell (back home in Oklahoma): "When someone asks me where the Oklahomans finished, I just tell him we finished in St. Louis and I was glad it was the end of the season."

SWEET SEVENTEEN
 After appearing in two games, Bob Fenimore, the Oklahoma Aggie's 17-year-old freshman halfback, was called the best runner, best passer, best kicker and best pass defender the Cowboys have had in some years.

Then, not satisfied with all those superlatives, he came down with the worst charley horse the Aggie's athletic heads could remember any athlete suffering.

TEXAS TAIL ONE
 You can blame Dick (Houston Chronicle) Freeman for the publication of this yarn.

Lieut. Lynn Bishop, former Arkansas U. tackle from Beeville, Texas, went hunting and/or fishing in Alaska recently.

He had just tied into an 18-inch rainbow trout when he saw two ducks approaching. Dropping his rod where he could hold it with one foot, the lieutenant grabbed a shotgun, downed the ducks with two shots, then resumed playing the trout.

Just as he reeled in the fish, the ducks floated by and Bishop grabbed them.

And to the amazed Eskimo soldier who accompanied him Bishop explained: "That is the way we usually do it in Texas."

SERVICE DEPT.
 Johnny Kelley, who was discharged from the army this summer, has won the National A. A. U. 20 and 25 kilometer running titles, the New England 15 kilometer crown and wants to go to San Francisco for the 30 kilo state in November.

Wonder if he was let out because he couldn't march.

Army trainees Dick Wittenbraker, Warren Lewis and Neil Funk, who helped Indiana earn second place in the Big Ten basketball race last spring, have been returned to I. U. and are helping to prepare freshman candidates for the coming season.

When Capt. Edward S. Mandel, former Penn State soccer star, uncovered a statuette of two booters at Palermo, Sicily, he sent it to the Penn State Alumni association to be awarded to the Nittany Lions outstanding soccer performer each year.

 We (Republicans) cannot win by a process of negotiation. We must offer an affirmative program, both as to domestic policy and as to relations of the United States with the rest of the world.

—Wendell L. Willkie.

This afternoon, Coach Otis Coffey and Charles Criswell put the Pampa High school squad through a stiff practice in receiving and kicking formations, extra point play, pass defense and offence.

Brownfield has a heavy team, averaging 170 pounds. One of their linemen, Snodgrass, right tackle, weighs 280 pounds, while their backs range from 157 to 190.

Lineup of the Brownfield eleven, name, position, number and weight: T. Jones, le, 19, 160; B. Jones, it, 29, 170; Carrey, lg, 28, 170; S. Jones, c, 22, 140; Lincoln, rg, Snodgrass, rt, 31, 280; Chisom, re, 11, 162; Grop, lb, 21, 161; Perry, fb, 30, 190; Sears, bb, 14, 167; Moore, rrb, 12, 157.

Bobcat Star Doesn't Run Often But Good

SAN ANGELO, Oct. 20—(AP)—Milton Rathbone doesn't run with the ball much for San Angelo High school—that is, he doesn't run many times. Territory covered is something else.

Keyman of a fast-clicking T formation that has swept through five games undefeated, most of his time is spent handling the pigskin but when the 151-pound Bobcat star does take out across the West Texas prairie it's here he comes—there he goes!

He has made 10 touchdown dashes for an average of 54.9 yards per run. If any footballer in the country can tie that he could become a Boy Scout without passing the knot test.

Rathbone has run 549 yards because:

1. He does 100 in 10 seconds.
2. He's hard to hold as an eel dipped in hot grease.

His touchdown jaunts include two for 85 yards, one for 79, one for 70, one for 65, one for 58, three for 32 and one for 11.

Very unusual fellow. He passes with his right hand, kicks with either foot—depending upon which side of the field he's on—and placekicks with his left foot.

He now has 64 points and would have more except for his modesty and team spirit.

Milton passes the goal-kicking honor around—ends, tackles, backs and all. They predict out here he'll call the center back some night after that fello snaps the ball to see if he can convert one.

Grid Attendance Holds Own Despite Hurr Shicklegruber

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—(AP)—In spite of makeshift schedules and other wartime handicaps, football attendance at colleges still playing the game has shown a comparatively small decline from last year's turnouts.

A nationwide survey by the Associated Press of almost three-score colleges and universities disclosed today that attendance for 133 of their home games this season has been 1,827,454 while 138 games by the same teams in approximately the same period last year attracted 2,111,990.

This is a net drop of 284,536 spread throughout the country and counting five fewer games. The trend for all schools has been virtually uniform.

Senators Are Surprised At British Feeling

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP)—Three of the five senators who recently toured Allied battlefronts voiced disappointment that their reports to the senate had been interpreted by some British newspapers as a reflection upon the English people.

Senator Russell (D-Ga.) chairman of the group, expressed a conviction that British and American interests now and in the postwar period are "inseparably linked."

Russell, long an advocate of Anglo-American collaboration, asserted he and his colleagues on the tour shared a warm affection for the English and added that whatever criticism was voiced at the executive session was directed at correcting "situations we felt needed correction."

"We're not mad at anybody, except Hitler and Hirohito," remarked Senator Brewster (R-Maine) another of the group.

Senator Mead (D-N. Y.) called attention to an address he made to the senate last Tuesday in which he asserted "no one leveled one iota of criticism at the British war effort," and "we have a huge appreciation of the courage and heroism of the people of England."

Sensors Lodge (R-Mass.) and Chandler (D-Ky.), the others who made the tour, were out of town.

The giant Panca originated in Western Nebraska 20 million years ago, paleontologists believe.

Basketball Schedule To Be Played Same As In 1942 Season

Pampa High school will handle its basketball schedule this year the same as last, with Pampa in the northern loop along with Borger and Amarillo, while Plainview, Lubbock and Brownfield, the other Class 1-AA teams of the conference, will compose the southern loop.

Winner of the northern loop will play the winner of the southern. This arrangement has been made in order to eliminate war time transportation difficulties as much as possible, Supt. L. L. Sone of Pampa, said today.

A. & M. had been appointed coach of the Western team, succeeding Lieut. Don Paur of the Iowa navy pre-flight school. Norton will work with Orin B. "Babe" Hollingbery of Washington State College in selecting and preparing the Western squad for the New Year's Day classic.

Time For Checker Season

LIBERTY, Mo., Oct. 20—(AP)—Pre-war football coaches who moaned about graduation losses should feel better now.

Little William Jewell College, victor over Kansas State 19-6 last week, will watch the eighth naval pre-flight battalion graduate Friday—and will have left: One end.

Overweight Oil makes Old Cars Older—Fast

A Light grade of oil can make good, with your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

You can change to an OIL-PLATED engine by changing to any grade of Conoco Nth motor oil—from lightest to heaviest—and you can change to any grade of Conoco Nth at the same popular price. But the lightest possible grade of oil that's fit for the Winter change your car needs now will help to save your battery—your gasoline—your engine. The more the oil is overweight the greater the wear, and when that makes you try still heavier oil you get still more wear—still more oil and gasoline consumption—worse and worse and worse. Short-circuit this ruinous process by having your engine OIL-PLATED.

OIL-PLATING is distinct from the familiar liquid type of high-strength oil film also provided by Conoco Nth oil. Both oil film and OIL-PLATING are paired against wear every mile. Every time your engine rests, however, any liquid film drains down to the crankcase. But OIL-PLATING doesn't all drain down. It tends to stay wherever attached by Conoco Nth oil's "magnet-like" action—achieved synthetically. Often now you don't use your car for days. Yet when you start, the OIL-PLATED surfaces are still ready-lubricated... "faster than instantly." That's how the former fierce wear of cold starting is reduced by OIL-PLATING your engine. All other wear, too, meets its match in your OIL-PLATED engine. Change at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station—today. He knows the lightest grade of Nth for you, Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid Fought by OIL-PLATING
 Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops.
 Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids.
 But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Russia's Alternative In an attempt to clarify what many consider the puzzle of Russia's attitude toward post-war collaboration with the United Nations, James B. Reston, head of the New York Times' London bureau, has produced a thought-provoking piece based upon "the conclusions of the most responsible sources open to this correspondent" in the British capital.

Superficially the analysis is reassuring, but throughout run disturbing undertones. Putting these together, it appears that the highest British diplomatic thought foresees trouble with Russia—unless...

Mr. Reston did a good job of objective reporting. So he did not note what immediately comes to mind—that the Atlantic Charter, and the democratic doctrine of both Britain and the United States, would be violated to the point of destruction if we were to concede Russia's right to take such small nations...

Plans For Defeat Some two million Americans came home from France in 1918-19 with the story that the major German weakness, as fighters, was lack of imagination, initiative and the ability to extemporize in a hurry.

When World War II began, it appeared for a time that two million doughboys were wrong, or else German mentality had been completely revamped in a mere 25 years. Nazis invading Poland, France and the Low Countries showed great capability whether in the mass, under skilled officers, or off on their own in little units ranging down to individuals.

Now we learn that the A.E.F. was correct. Germans can not fight except according to plan. They resemble a football team under an autocratic coach. They are given a wide variety of plays, each to fit a particular need, and are drilled intensively in recognizing the occasion for each play and executing it efficiently.

So long as no emergency unforeseen by the war college strategists arises, they look good—and are good. The moment a set-up arises for which they were given no play, they can think of nothing except to fight blindly and take a whipping.

These thoughts arise from new details about the 1940 Battle of Britain which have come to hand. If the Nazis had not been completely dependent upon slavishly following elaborate plans, Britain would have fallen three years ago and the Axis would have won the war.

The invasion of Britain was to follow a minute-scheduled air blitz—so many days to demolish coast fortifications, so many days to destroy the airfields, so many days to break morale by razing London and to smash the island's communications—five weeks of bombing, and then the end of the British Empire.

But the schedule was a trifle off. The blitz left the coast just as it was about to achieve its objective there; it left the airfields just as it threatened to them up disastrously; it failed to break British morale by the damage to London.

A little variation in that plan—or better yet from the dictators' standpoint, a last-minute shift to substitute summer invasion for the preliminary blitz—and there would no longer be an England.

It is comforting to think about such things. It is because of them, and Hitler's errors, that we are on the way to victory.

The Nation's Press BUTTER (The Chicago Tribune) Since the middle of last week there has been a sign in the window of a Chicago grocery reading: "No Butter Today! Why?"

His customers did not find the answer to the question when they read in yesterday's Tribune the announcement that, starting Sunday, a pound of butter will have a ration value of 16 points. It was raised from 10 to 12 on Sept. 3, having been advanced to 10 from 8 on Aug. 1. The latest advance in point value won't affect many people because they couldn't find butter on which to spend their points at the old price.

The shortage of this extremely important food is something of a mystery. According to government figures, civilians would have about as much butter as usual if it were not for the war—that is, a little more than last year, but not quite as much as the average from 1935 to 1939. Because of rationing and the lack of butter at the stores, we have not been eating it as freely as in other years. The stores have not been able to get the butter because the government has required the creameries to set aside for government use a large part of their production—recently 30 per cent, but earlier 50 per cent.

As consumption has been held down while production amount has been going into storage. On Sept. 3 there was more butter on hand in the country than ever before. The total runs to 231 million pounds.

But all history is evidence that the more we violate His laws, the more we are in opposition to God's will, the more wretched and the more helpless we will become.

This socialistic "ability to pay" tax theory will lead to complete inflation or regimentation if we do not abut-face and put ourselves more nearly in harmony with God's law and expect each individual to contribute to the government in proportion as the government protects him in his right to consume in peace and comfort the product of his labor.

It is foolish to continue to try something decade after decade with the results we are seeing. Especially is this true since no place in all history has a graduated or discriminatory tax on production succeeded in improving the lot of mankind.

supply of butter in the country. It isn't reaching the stores because the amount that is free to be purchased by civilian sources is the smallest since records were kept. Of the 231 million pounds, the government's three agencies which have been monkeying with the butter market for several years own nearly 165 million pounds and the army quartermaster corps another 61 million pounds. That makes a total of 226 million of the 231 millions in all cold storage warehouses.

The army expects to eat substantially all the butter it has and some of that possessed by the other government agencies. The lend-lease clients will get most of the remainder of the government's holdings. Thus, Russia alone has been allocated 90 million pounds, most of which has been held here for cooler shipping weather.

Butter making is highly seasonal. In the spring, early summer production is large and in the winter it is small. The season of declining production is at hand. It has never been possible to produce enough in these months to take care of the demand. The shortage has been provided for by setting aside part of the production in the high production months. As none has been set aside for civilian use the butter outlook for months ahead is grim. The only prospect for relief is to get the government agencies to disgorge a part of the supply they have hogged.

"HARRY THE HOP" (New York Herald Tribune) "The President calls him 'Harry the Hop,' others call him 'The Shadow' and still others 'The Colonel House of the Roosevelt entourage.' We refer, of course, to Mr. Harry L. Hopkins, who, with his family, is living at the White House and has the President's ear beyond any one else in the world. The intimacy goes back to the days when the President was governor of New York and picked this social worker to direct the state's temporary emergency relief administration. In Washington, as we all know, he has been heard of the former works progress administration and secretary of commerce and is today, as chairman of the munitions assignment board, a key man executive. But his titles, past and present, mount up to little importance compared with his personal relationship to 'the boss,' one so close that in their daily exchange of ideas, according to a recent Associated Press report, a not infrequent passage between them is 'Nuts to you!'

Very possibly a man in the President's job needs a confidant at his elbow with whom he can confide in this manner, getting back as good as he gives and, meanwhile, testing his proposals and theories in the crucible of a quick mind. (Most kings of old had their court jesters to take the starch out of their lives and act as idea buffers.) And if we grant the need we must also agree that no one but the President himself can choose the person to fill it. The familiar you have to run the rattle of senate approval unless he is clothed with formal power.

But there's the rub in Hopkins' case. Mr. Hopkins is not only Harry the Hop, a gentleman to be relied upon at any hour for repartee, and well come comment; he is also the czar of lend-lease, about as powerful an official in the conduct of this war as exists below the level of commander in chief. And in that post he has never been denied by senatorial action.

The question whether he measures up to this post, it seems to us, is not one to be decided on the basis of a personal intimacy but one which the people, thru their accredited representatives should have a say in answering. They, too, might say 'Nuts to you!'

By ALBERT LEMAN PERIL—General MacArthur has just delivered a crushing blow to Rabaul, Hirohito's oceanic fortress. In what may prove a decisive engagement.

Does this amazing victory mean that the all-out drive against Japan will take the direction? A straight answer would let the military call out of the bag. However, a nutshell summary of Nipponese strategy and our own master plan, obtained from official sources, may interpret current events.

Peter Edson's Column: HERE'S PREVIEW OF POST-WAR AVIATION By PETER EDSON Washington Correspondent Post-war utilization of the military aviation radio and electronics devices, such as automatic pilots and altitude indicators for the direction and control of commercial flying, is envisaged by Col. Edgar S. Gorrell, president of the Air Transport Association of America, following a tour of several European theaters of operation to see the work which commercial aircraft are now doing to maintain military supply lines.

All these war-developed secret weapons of communication have admittedly made aerial combat and transport something fantastically different from anything contemplated a few years ago. Colonel Gorrell can appreciate this difference, perhaps better than almost anyone else in aviation today, for he was chief of staff for General Pershing in World War I, and he has watched and had a leading part in the development of military and civilian flying since that time.

Today, says Colonel Gorrell, "great aerial battles are being fought 'long distance' by an officer sitting in a map-covered room and hundreds of miles from the scene of the conflict. The development of new devices almost literally permits the commander to follow his own forces into action."

SHOW BUSINESS Well, we said, how about their new pictures? "It's a wonderful business," Allen said. "I came out to Hollywood three weeks ago to go into a picture. But nothing happens. The producer doesn't believe in time. There's not even a clock in his office. Or a calendar."

That was nothing, Haley said. For the last year he had toured the country with the glorified vaudeville show "Show Time." So RECO casts him as a vaudeville star in the film, "Higher and Higher." But the studio refuses to let him do his vaudeville routines in the film.

"They told me they didn't look like vaudeville routines," said Haley. "There's even a sun umbrella behind the eight ball."

"But just wait," said Haley, "until I buy that farm." He'd retire, he said, and thumb his nose at show business.

"Nertz," said Allen. "Just an ill-tempered, Show people never tell. All that land guys like us need is six feet to bury us in."

"But look at all the relatives I've got," protested Haley.

WACS—Labor leaders think that the Senate vote on the father draft merely disposes of one phase of the manpower crisis. Of the two million persons required in war work, at least one million three hundred thousand must be women. If they do not enlist, compulsory laws may be necessary.

Congressman Clare Boothe Luce has some definite views on how much legislation should be administered, but it is doubtful if Paul V. McNutt would take her advice after their tiffs on the subject in open hearings not long ago.

"If we must have a draft of women," declares the Connecticut Representative, "they should first be conscripted for the Wacs, Waves, Marine Corps Auxiliary and similar service organizations where they can be of immediate assistance to the war effort and at the same time, the protection of military supervision and discipline. This move would release desk soldiers for the front and indirectly slow down the calling up of fathers."

Librarians in the Brooklyn public library compose, translate and decode letters to and from men in the armed forces.

home a plea for uniform regulation of air traffic. Under present law there is nothing to prevent an individual state from regulating air transport movements in the space overlying that state, and he will need a lawyer at his elbow at all times.

Pending in Congress now is the Lea-Bailey bill which would provide for federal regulation of all air transportation, and which would prevent regulation by the individual states. All aviation interests are backing this provision as a sound foundation for the development of post-war civil air transportation and for adjusting legislative provisions to the tremendous technological developments such as the radio and electronic devices which have been developed during the war.

So preparations proceed apace—but that doesn't guarantee invasion in the near future. As remarked in this column before, the best we can say is that there's still time for the operation this year, although the season is late.

The Western Allies certainly have justification for proceeding with circumspection in this dangerous adventure. Failure would be catastrophic.

Assembly of the colossal invasion forces with supplies and equipment is only the beginning of the problems. We had an illustration of that in miniature in the invasion of Dieppe last year, when close to half a force of 6,000 or more men were killed, wounded or captured.

One threat, of course, lies in the fact that the great invasion fleet of barges and warships will be under intense fire of German land batteries, as well as all the bombers Hitler can muster. The recently published book "Combined Operations," British official story of the Commandos, reminds us of Nelson's dictum that "three guns in a well-constructed battery, properly placed, would beat off or destroy any ship in the world."

Another menace is mines—both sea and land. The employment of this defense against amphibious attacks has been developed to a fine point by the Germans.

The Hitlerites have every strategic point along the whole channel invasion coast heavily fortified. Dieppe and other landings have demonstrated that these defenses provide for intensive fire of all calibers, from big guns to rifles, and this can be concentrated on vital landing points. Barbed wire lines the shores, and tank barriers are terribly formidable.

Whatever way you look at it, the invasion is going to be a costly thing unless Hitler is rendered virtually impotent in advance. What the Anglo-American Allies have to figure out in answering Moscow is whether the present status of the war warrants taking such a chance right now.

A variety of vague Indigestions, including fatigue and lassitude, even failure to gain weight, and especially constipation are frequently attributed by the public to disturbances of the liver. Doctors approach the subject with much more reliance because they know that the liver has great reserve power and remarkable regenerative capacity, and that the signs of known liver disease are few and fairly distinct.

The most important sign of liver disease is jaundice. This is a condition in which the bile, normally secreted into the intestine, is instead backed up into the blood and ultimately into the tissues of the body, until the skin and the whites of the eyes become tinged with a yellowish green, and the bile is usually excreted by the kidneys into the urine. The condition may also be the result of a block in the duct that conveys the bile into the intestine, either by a gallstone or by inflammation and swelling, or it may follow various injuries to the liver cells themselves.

LIVER DISEASES Another sign of liver disease is dependent upon the fact that the veins carrying the blood from the gastro-intestinal tract pass through the liver. Obstruction of the free passage of the blood passing on its way to the heart forces a diffusion of fluid into the abdominal cavity, and the enlargement of otherwise inconspicuous vessels capable of bypassing the liver.

Changes in the size, shape, and consistency of the liver also indicate disease of this organ. Since the liver is the largest gland in the body, these alterations are usually readily detected and frequently give considerable information as to the character of the disease. Cirrhosis of the liver is the most striking cause.

In addition to the secretion of bile, which aids in the digestion of fat the liver serves as a reservoir for sugar. It not only has the ability to store sugar and release it into the blood as the need arises, but it also converts other substances into sugar for their ultimate use by the body.

CHEMICAL FUNCTIONS The liver also breaks down the building-blocks out of which proteins are formed and plans an important role in the utilization of fat. It manufactures substances concerned with the clotting of blood. It serves as a storage depot for a substance capable of stimulating the production of red blood cells, and a practical consequence of this function is the use of liver in the treatment of pernicious anemia. It also stores iron and copper necessary in blood production. Vitamin A is formed from its precursor, carotene, in the liver and the reservoir for Vitamin B is in that organ.

The liver begins its work before birth by forming blood, a function which is later assumed by the bone marrow. Various toxic substances that are absorbed into the bloodstream are carried to the liver, and there rendered innocuous. Because of the numerous reactions going on in the liver, it is a source of much of the body's heat.

An organ possessing all these and still other functions might easily go astray, but the liver is remarkably reliable, and rarely fails its owner.

Don't Develop "War Nerves" Dr. Masters' daily health column will help to keep you fit.

'Footslogger' Is Given Praise By Eisenhower

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 20.—The "footslogger," the infantryman who fights long and hard in Indian territory...

In an informal talk to war correspondents Gen. Eisenhower said the campaign in Italy now has become mainly a grim infantry battle...

He told how the infantry of the British Eighth Army had fought across the desert from El Alamein and how British and American infantry in North Africa had fought in the tough early days in this theater.

"Don't forget the foot fighter's days and night in mud, and cold and the endurance he has exhibited," Eisenhower said.

"In both Britain and the United States the greatest proportion of our fighting men goes into the ground forces and I don't think any of us in a war theater belittles their services," he said.

He said the postman in Indian territory is a little village in England—does he realize what these soldiers are doing, how they are performing?

"The accomplishments of this indispensable member of the air-ground-naval team will, when the story is fully told, fill many of the brightest pages of our war history."

Speaking with evident feeling, the general added, "this is something I have kept for a long time. It comes from the heart."

Corsica's Deadend Kids Plenty Tough
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Oct. 19.—Corsica's deadend kids, lean from hunger, their tough and bony bodies covered with tattered and patched rags...

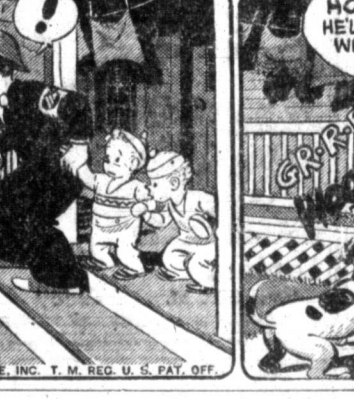

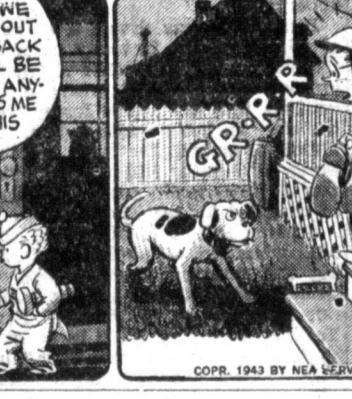

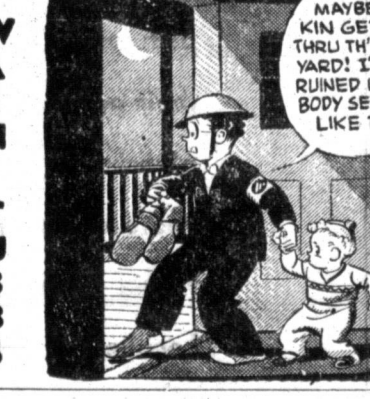

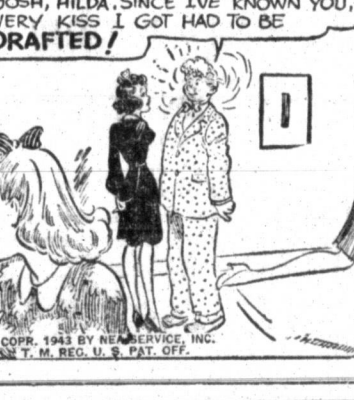

Now they want to follow the French army into France. A delayed story sent here from Corsica by Captain Karl Guelder, American liaison officer with the French, said of these Corsican teenagers and their guerrilla bands:

"One sees them everywhere. They are standing by the roadsides looking for lifts toward the front the story was written while fighting was still going on in Corsica. They are in the hills marching doggedly through the rain squalls that appear and disappear continually. They are traveling only in one direction... toward the boche who for more than three years has made their lives hell."

Public Enemy No. 1
DENVER. Patrolman Alfred Nielsen stepped into the loaded patrol wagon — then leaped out and fanatically tore away part of his trouser leg. Shortly thereafter bursts of gunfire echoed through the jail yard.

Officers charged out, ready for any emergency. They found Nielsen and two other patrolmen chasing a rat, which Nielsen's 45 finally disintegrated.

It had run up his leg in the patrol wagon, he explained. He changed his trousers and again set forth with his prisoners.

Application Blanks for New Ration Books Distributed

To speed registration for War Ration Book No. 4, the county rationing board yesterday sent out mimeographed application blanks to 50 Pampa grocery stores and also issued a supply of the blanks to the schools.

The mimeographed copies supplement the printed forms, as the quantity of the latter was insufficient here.

Persons applying for War Ration Book 4 can speed up the registration by presenting their application blanks already filled in when they apply on the registration days, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

In the schools, the application blanks were issued so that one child in each family could have a blank to take home.

As in the past, public schools will be the places of registration and school teachers will be registrars.

No. 1 rule on getting Book 4 is that applicants must have their Book 3 with them before the new book will be issued.

Housewives, or any member of the family, may sign up for the entire family group at this registration as they did at registrations for 1 and 2 books.

In Pampa the hours for registration will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. on all three days, with these two exceptions:

At the high school, registration will be on Thursday and Friday only; at the junior high, registration will continue up to 10 p. m. Saturday.

Over the county, the other registration places will be the schools of Alameda, LeFors, McLean, Furrington, Grandview, Back and Hopkins.

The book will be distributed to all persons except members of the armed forces who are subsisted or who are members of officers' messes, persons confined in institutions and persons who have resided less than 60 days in the United States.

The registration will be held Oct. 21, 22 and 23 in Texas, Arkansas, Missouri and Kansas and Oct. 25, 26 and 27 in Oklahoma and Louisiana.

War Ration Book 4, which will last approximately two years, combines point and unit stamps. It has eight pages containing a total of 384 stamps, printed on safety paper in blue, red, green and black inks.

The green stamps probably will be used as supplementary stamps. There are 86 stamps printed in black ink. The word "spare" appears on 72 of those stamps, which can be used in the case additional ration currency is needed for any of the programs.

Twelve of the stamps have the word "sugar" printed on them and an equal number is designated for coffee, which no longer is rationed.

Now that coffee rationing has been suspended and ration stamps are not required to buy it, these stamps will also be used as "spares."

LODGE HEAD DUE

For the first time, T. C. North, above, grand chancellor of Texas Knights of Pythias lodges, will visit the Pampa lodge when he attends a special meeting to be held at the castle hall, 100 1-2 S. Cuyler, Saturday night.

He will be accompanied by Dr. G. H. Ater, Lubbock, past grand chancellor, and O. E. Norman, Lamesa, district deputy, both of whom were in Pampa two months ago.

Grand Chancellor North, whose home is in Corsicana, has held every grand lodge office in rotation, beginning in 1936 as grand over-guard. He was elected grand chancellor in June, 1943.

Crippled Child Parents' Names Being Sought

Khiva Temple, Masonic organization, whose jurisdiction is comprised of 40 Panhandle counties, including Gray, is asking that names and addresses of the parents of crippled children in the temple area be submitted to Raymond Thompson, chairman of the crippled children's survey, Khiva Temple, 312 E. Fifth street, Amarillo.

Hospitalization of crippled children has long been a prime work of the temple. Since the shrine began building hospitals for crippled children, more than 86,000 patients have been treated.

Khiva Temple has contributed more than $15,000 to the million dollars required annually to operate Shrine hospitals.

The current survey to obtain the names and addresses of the parents of crippled children is being made by the 183 new Shriners inducted into the order last spring.

Persons writing to Chairman Thompson should supply this information:

Name of crippled child, name of parents, address of parents. A signature is desired but is not essential, the question of a signature being optional with the sender.

THE HOME FRONT

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Senators debating a bill to provide $300,000,000 a year for federal aid to the states for schools agree on one thing: That teachers as a group are underpaid.

The debate has drawn a picture of schools closing in many parts of the nation, of a teacher shortage growing because of entrance of teachers into the armed forces and transfer to better-paying jobs, of hiring of substitutes who, in the words of Senator Hill (D-Ala.), "in normal times would not be considered qualified for teaching."

Senator Hill, a co-author of the bill, submitted a tabulation showing the average weekly wage of teachers, on a 52-year-a-week basis, ran from a high of $50.08 in New York to a low of $10.75 in Mississippi, in 1940. "And, remember," he said, "There has been no uniform increase since."

He added that 50 per cent of the teachers got less than the average.

The bill would divide the proposed appropriation in this way:

$200,000,000 to be apportioned average daily attendance in elementary and secondary schools, the money to be used only for payment of salaries—on condition that the states continue to pay out of their own funds the average annual salaries they paid on Feb. 1, 1943.

$100,000,000 to be used to equalize the amounts spent for education in the various states. Senator Taft (R-Ohio), opposing the bill, declared this would result in $50,000,000 of the $100,000,000 being paid to 13 states.

Argument over the proposed appropriation has centered on these points:

Against the bill—opponents argue that federal subsidies for schooling would ultimately destroy local self-determination in education, lead to federalized bureaucratic control and ultimate federal domination. If the federal government foots the bill, they contend, it can say who is to be the teacher and what shall be taught.

They argue further that schooling is a local and state responsibility. In reply, proponents of the measure contend that there is no question of federal control involved.

In discussing illiteracy, Senator Hill told his colleagues that "if we had given this help even five years ago, we would not be forced at this hour to draft fathers, with all the consequences of this action—in fact, the overwhelming chances are that we would never have been forced to draft fathers."

"If we had given this help, the army would not have been forced to expend on the illiterates who have been inducted from $300 to $600 per man in an effort to teach them to read and write, sum of money more than sufficient to pay for educating a child for eight years in many good schools throughout the nation."

Gray County Scouts to Stage Camp-O-Ral This Week-End

Boy Scouts of Pampa and five other Gray county localities will gather at the Cething ranch near Mobeetle Saturday for the second camp-o-ral of the Gray county district this year. The camp will be held Saturday and Sunday, beginning at 4 p. m. Saturday and ending at 4 the following afternoon.

First camp-o-ral of the district this year was held May 1 and 2 at Lake McClellan, 25 miles south of Pampa.

Attending the camp-o-ral this week-end will be 10 troops from Pampa, LeFors, McLean, Hopkins, Kellerville, and the Shell camp, 7 miles south of Pampa. An attendance of 150 is expected, according to Hugo O. Olsen, Pampa, Adobe Walls council executive.

In preparation for the trip to the 25-acre camp site, Pampa troops will meet either at their troop meeting place or other designated location, early Saturday afternoon.

Each troop will bring its own camping equipment and food for three meals, supper Saturday and Sunday breakfast and dinner, and troops have also been advised to take along enough bedding and tents.

Wayne LeCron, Berger, field executive of the council, will be in charge of the camp-o-ral, which has been arranged by L. G. Langston, chairman of the Gray district camping and activities committee.

Trucks will be the main type of vehicles used in transporting the troops to the camp site, use of which has been donated by the ranch owner.

Man's Ear Hurt In Attu Attack

By NORMAN BELL

AT AN ALEUTIAN ISLAND, Base, Oct. 15.—(Delayed)—A single casualty—and slight at that—was reported today as the only injury or damage inflicted by the Japanese at Attu in the first Aleutians air raid since the enemy fled the northern islands last summer.

The injury: A piece of bomb splinter hit an American soldier's ear. But Col. Jean K. Fogle, intelligence aide to Maj. Gen. Davenport Johnson of the army's 11th air force said today the Oct. 13 attack on Attu only served to stir up the unit's fighters.

"They're eager as beavers now," he said.

Fogle said Japanese timing was good. Eight two-engine Mitsubishi bombers struck just before 8 p. m.

"At that period of the day they had good visibility below," he said, adding that the raiders were then able to escape pursuing fighters in the darkness which fell shortly after 9 o'clock.

Five hundred bombs were dropped in a string pattern which Fogle said indicated the attack was aimed at the landing strip or shipping in

Cattle Feeding Drop Is Noted

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Marked reduction in numbers of cattle, sheep and lambs to be fed for the coming winter and spring markets was indicated by the United States department of agriculture in a roundup of conditions.

The survey included Texas. Developments in the cattle feeding situation to the end of September point to a "rather sharp" reduction as compared with a year ago.

"Reports from the various feeding states show that the causes of the probable reduction in feeding are associated with prices of feed and cattle, and not with the availability of cattle for feeding," the survey said, noting that prices of feed grains, high protein feeds, and hay are much higher than a year ago.

A MESSAGE ABOUT ORANGE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, AND ITS PRODUCTS

Once A King's Delicacy ... Now An Important Part of America's Diet!

Avocados

Grown In Orange County, California

Four hundred years ago the explorers of tropical Latin-America wrote picturesquely to their kings of the strange fruit they found flourishing in their paths, "It is like butter, and is of marvelous flavor, so good and pleasing to the palate that it is a marvelous thing..." Today, after years of importation, scientific testing, and experimental culture, California growers have developed avocados better than "fit for a king", because of their superb eating and keeping qualities and high nutritional values — yet today, they are within the budget of everyone. Try some today!

Shown in a sharp silhouette against a beautiful background of rolling Orange County Hills and Verdant Green Groves is a picture-like frame of Avocados and Foliage.

Modernize Your Menus With Avocados

Fruit-Filled Half Shell 2 medium-sized avocados 2 cups grapefruit sections 1 1/2 doz. stuffed green olives French dressing

Prepare Half Shell. Scoop out flesh, leaving a thin layer to hold shells in form. Cut portions removed into cubes and sprinkle with salt. Cut grapefruit sections into cubes. Cut olives into rounds. Toss fruits together lightly and refill shells. Add dressing and chill. Serves 4.

Baked Half Shell Scallops 2 avocados 1 1/2 cups standard white sauce 1 1/2 cups diced asparagus 1 small strip crisp bacon

Halve avocados lengthwise, remove seeds, and sprinkle cut portions with salt. Combine white sauce, pimiento, and asparagus, and heat, stirring as little as possible. Put fruit halves into baking pan, skin side down, fill centers with creamed mixture, and top each with 2 strips of bacon. Pour enough warm water into pan to cover bottom and place in moderate oven (350° F.) not longer than 5 minutes. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

VARIATIONS

Instead of asparagus, use flaked crab meat, shrimp, lobster, salmon, tuna, oysters, or any left-over boiled fish; cubed lamb, veal, ham, clipped beef; chicken or turkey; hard cooked eggs; mushrooms. Replace bacon with buttered, toasted bread crumbs or grated quick-melting cheese.

Jellied Sliced Mold

1/2 lbs. granulated gelatin 1/2 tsp. salt 1/4 cup cold water Few drops Tabasco sauce 2 1/2 cups tomato juice or puree 2 avocados 2 bay leaves 1/2 cup diced celery 5 whole cloves 1/4 cup chopped lettuce hearts onion

Moisten gelatin in cold water. Combine tomato juice or puree, bay leaves, cloves, onion, salt, pepper, and Tabasco sauce; boil for 10 minutes. Strain. Add moistened gelatin and stir until dissolved, cool. When gelatin begins to set, stir in one cubed avocado and celery. Mold in a ring mold. To serve, fill center of ring with lettuce hearts and remaining avocado sliced. Serve with desired dressing.

Avocado Spread

1 cup sieved Avocado 2 tsp. grated onion 1/2 tsp. lemon or lime juice Few drops Tabasco sauce

Combine all ingredients and blend thoroughly. Use on any usual hors d'oeuvre base of cracker or toast variety, or on potato chips. This same spread makes a delicious stuffing for celery.
