PORTLAND, Ore.—James Munn is district OPA rationing official, in charge of distributing 1,500,000 ration books.

The first all-girl show to play before Pampa field officers and soldiers is expected to draw a capacity crowd to the post recreation hall when it appears at 8:45 Thursday night, Nov. 4.

Entitled "Come What May," the show is produced and presented without a cent of service men by USO-Camp Shows, Inc. of New York. A musical revue, consisting of seven acts, it is headed by Maude Hilton, above mistress of ceremonies who has just returned from a 10 month tour of Australia on the Tivoli circuit.

Another outstanding member of the cast is Key Taylor, top dancer. She has appeared at the Chez Paree, Chicago; the Vanderbilt Hotel, Miami Beach, and other similar clubs and hotels, and was featured in the Broadway show, "Too Many Girls."

Included are other notables of the show world. Carol Dexter, singer, has recently appeared at the famous Book-Cadillac Hotel, Detroit. Catherine Westfield, puppeteer, who operated a troupe of life-size dolls, played theaters in the New York area and clubs throughout the South and Canada.

Yanks Like Naples Because Of Pretty Girls, Hospitality

By DON WHITEHEAD
NAPLES, Oct. 24 (AP)—Delayed here—Practically every doughboy here says Naples is about the best town he's seen since he left home.

In a popularity vote among American troops, such romantic places as Algiers, Tunis, Oran or Casablanca would run a poor second.

Why? Well, mainly the friendliness of the Neapolitans and the abundance of comely girls.

After almost a month of Allied occupation, Naples slowly is recovering from the horrors wrought by the Nazis. Many of the city's scars are disappearing. Debris and wreckage are being cleared away.

Commenting on the return of residents to make the American feel at home, Pvt. Donald Connor, of Detroit, said:

"If we want directions to reach any place, they not only give the directions but go out of their way to take us there themselves."

Said Pvt. John Moore of Ohio:

"The day we got here we couldn't find but one guy who could speak English, but he took the day off to show us around."

The pretty girls appear in large numbers, and they are no less friendly than the other Neapolitans. Joe Yank likes that.

The ladies at home will be interested to know that Naples has a seemingly inexhaustible supply of good silk stockings. They sell for around $2.50 a pair—and they are not rationed.

Nor are there runs on the stores, for most Naples women go bare-legged.

Usually, their shoes are wood-soled "wedgies" with cloth or leather straps.

Small shops are reopening and displaying stocks of souvenirs, the prices of which have soared. In many cases the Allied military government has stepped in to curb profiteering and set ceiling prices. But price control is difficult.

At the city's few restaurants, food is scarce. Business is far from normal, too, although the markets have ample stocks of apples, nuts, persimmons, mangoes and other fruits.

Italian Village Is Wiped Out

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 (AP)—A dispatch to the Columbia Broadcasting System from the European continent quoting diplomatic informants, said that enraged German troops wiped out an entire Italian village of 2,000 "in the same manner that they destroyed Lidice" in Czechoslovakia.

The account said the Italian Alpine village of Boves, near the French border, was leveled by flamethrowers. It continued:

Italian Alpine guerrilla fighters—warring on the German occupation forces—visited Boves in quest of food. The patriots easily overwhelmed the few German troops in the village and carried four of the Germans away to the mountains as hostages.

Within a few hours a German motorized detachment arrived in Boves from Turin. The German commander called in the local priest and told him he would give the populace two hours to go into the mountains and bring back the four German soldiers.

The people of Boves tried to make contact with the guerrillas, but the time was too short.

The deadline expired and the German commander ordered a flame-throwing detachment into action. Every house in the village was set afire, and two hours later Boves was a smoldering ruin.

IMPOSSIBLE. BUT—

KANSAS CITY—On a train trip east Mrs. Allen Francis and another woman struck up an acquaintance and the conversation turned to stockings.

"I have nine pairs your size that won't fit me," the woman told Mrs. Francis, "and I'll send them to you as a gift."

"Oh, yeah?" thought Mrs. Francis. But awaiting her at home she found the nine pairs—all nylons.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—American women—next to more food, fuel and better transportation—want elastic. They want it for girdles, for garters; for scanties and panties for women and girls; and for shorts and drawers for husband and son.

That's what the office of civilian requirements says it found after a preliminary survey among women at home and in factories in every State.

They were asked no specific questions. They were urged to tell what, among other things made scarce or inconvenient by war, came first to mind as things they thought they needed most.

After Pearl Harbor no more rubber thread was permitted to be made for girdles or elastic in waistbands. Manufacturers, to space out what thread they had on hand, had to put less and less into their products.

Their stocks were good, lasted a long time, began to dwindle eventually.

Zipper girdles were replaced by hook-and-eye arrangements, buttons and strings began to substitute for elastic in scant-pants and drawers.

Before the war women were able to climb into their girdles feet first and tug them up into place around their hips, all bulges gone.

Or, wrapping the zipper-kind around them, they could take a deep breath and pull the zipper securely closed, all bulges gone.

"The day when a husband put his knee in his wife's back while he laced her corsets had practically disappeared."

One of the main benefits of those pre-war girdles was not only the attached garters to keep up their stockings but also their two-way stretch which gave them a "give" up and down and sideways.

One woman questioned in the OCR survey told this story:

"Here I had to do with a wartime one-way stretch and everything was all right when I stood up but when I sat down I popped out all over and my stockings got torn because the garter didn't give."

This presented another war problem, an OCR official pointed out, because if garters with poor elastic garters tore stockings, then women would need more stockings and the more the stockings the more the need for rayon to make them.

Livestock Quotas Suspended Again

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 (AP)—The war food administration announced that quota limitations on the slaughter of livestock would be suspended for another month to Dec. 1.

The quotas, which fix the quantity of livestock a slaughterer can kill and sell, originally were suspended for only September and October. They were designed to help distribute meat supplies among all areas and between civilian and military needs.

Officials said inasmuch as this is a heavy livestock marketing season quotas were deemed unnecessary.

TODAY ON THE HOME FRONT

By JAMES MARLOW
And GEORGE ZIELKE
WASHINGTON—(AP)—If you never have paid much attention to the phrase "cost of living index" this would be a good time to look at it, for it's under attack and the outcome affects you.

For years this index, published monthly by the government's bureau of labor statistics, has been an important factor in the money you earned and the money you spent. It has been most important since the war started.

The government has used it as a yardstick in determining whether prices which consumers of moderate income pay for goods and services are going up or down, on the average.

And, thus using it, the government has set wage controls and price controls.

The index often has been criticized for various alleged shortcomings. Now organized labor has complained to President Roosevelt that the index doesn't truly show living costs at all, that living costs are higher than the index shows.

Labor leaders announced after making their complaint that the president would ask the war labor board—which controls wages—to appoint a committee of three or its members to examine the index and the methods used in compiling it.

If the committee agrees with labor after examining the index, the results could be far reaching, for this reason:

Long before Pearl Harbor and for months afterward, prices and wages shot upward. Not all prices, not all wages. The WLB and the office of price administration were created to control, respectively, wages and prices.

In May, 1942, OPA began putting ceilings on rents and prices, but wage demands still had the WLB sitting up nights. At last, in the autumn of 1942, WLB hit on a plan called the "little steel" formula.

WLB pointed out that the index showed a 15 per cent rise in living costs between January, 1941, and May, 1942, when OPA began sitting on rents and prices.

But WLB still holds to the "little steel" formula's 15 per cent wage increase while labor, wanting higher wages, says living costs are higher even than the index shows.

If the WLB committee examining the index decides labor is right in its contention, the result might have to decide whether labor was entitled to more than the 15 per cent limit imposed by the "little steel" formula.

Wheat Seeding Is Delayed By Moisture Lack

AUSTIN, Oct. 28—(AP)—Shortage of both surface and subsoil moisture over most of the High Plains and low rolling Plains counties is seriously delaying wheat seeding, the United States department of agriculture reported today.

Harvest of sorghums continued in the northwest, with much of the forage crop cut, and combining of the grain in full swing in the High Plains. Peanut harvest is still general in northern areas, with some late peanuts being harvested in southern counties. The harvest of sweet potatoes and pecans was generally well under way.

Rice harvest made good progress during the week, and the labor situation was improved over most of the area.

Small grain seeding continued in northern and central areas, under favorable conditions, with some fall sown oats ready for grazing.

Peak of cotton harvest was reached in the High Plains counties, and harvest progressed under favorably weather conditions in the low rolling plains.

Harvesting started in most fall-crop commercial vegetable areas. Supplies were limited mostly to tender crops such as eggplant, squash, tomatoes and radishes.

Growing conditions were favorable in all areas; dry-land plantings of spinach are up to a good stand and crops in the irrigated districts promise good yields. All growing crops made good growth, but insect damage reported in the coastal bend districts was causing some concern.

GOVERNORS

These non-oil producing states are interested in one thing—to get sufficient gasoline and fuel for their people. It is the duty of the oil men to let these states know that under the present program they are going to get less gasoline—not more. Tell them that because of low price of crude oil, independents can't afford to go out and hunt for more oil.

"When they find out the only way they will get more gasoline is through a higher crude oil price, you will get the price raise."

Govs. Coke Stevenson of Texas and Andrew Schoepel of Kansas, who is chairman of the oil compact commission, agreed to Dempsey's suggestion to invite all governors to join.

The IPAA convention, in resolutions, urged "a reasonable increase in the price of oil to permit the industry to function properly," and recommended to the war manpower commission that it designate the petroleum equipment supply industry as essential with appropriate essential job classifications.

The association's committee on crude oil requirements submitted a five-point program to "increase the available supply of oil and prevent the nation from becoming a dependent nation so far as petroleum is concerned. Briefly the program is: (1) Increase wildcat drilling, (2) Increase development drilling, (3) Increase secondary recovery operations, (4) Recondition stripper wells and rehabilitate wells shut down, (5) Prevent premature abandonment of stripper wells.

Price Ceilings On Beef Opposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Two members of the house agriculture committee proposed that the new beef subsidy plan announced by the Stabilization Director Fred M. Vinson established, in effect, price ceilings on cattle.

The committee heard from Richard Gilbert, office of price administration economist, that the plan was not being promulgated under the price act but was a modification of subsidy regulations.

"Any patriot will have to wage a fight against a thing like this," said Rep. Kieberg (D-Texas). "This whole hodge-podge is a production of the exercise of skilled and talented artists in the field of evasion and skullduggery."

Rep. Poage (D-Texas) declared the action would gain support in congress for a bill reported favorably by the house banking committee to prohibit use of subsidies.

"Since the order was issued under the price act, congress can do nothing except to prohibit subsidy payments," said Poage. "It is another clear evidence that subsidies are not being used to help the consumer. Not a penny of this subsidy would reach the producer."

Homeless Nazis Stone British War Prisoners

LONDON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Germans who had lost their homes in bombing raids stone working parties of British prisoners at Nazi camps, a repatriated-British seaman said today.

"German morale is falling fast," said Seaman Fred Salisbury, who told of seeing a German soldier in tears because he had been ordered to Russia. "They dread Russians."

"I shall never forget the things which happened while I was a prisoner in Pampa today. German people were very incensed against the British. Refugees who had lost their homes stoned our working parties."

Douglas Bland, a seaman attendant in the royal navy, said that food in the prison camps was of poor quality and that prisoners would have been in a bad way except for Red Cross parcels.

The first prisoner-of-war exchange of the war passed through its final phase at Barcelona, where 1,083 British, Australian, New Zealand and Indian service men, 464 of them wounded, were transferred to British ships in exchange for 1,061 Germans of whom 465 were wounded.

Meanwhile the Berlin radio, in a broadcast heard here by the ministry of information quoted a Swiss Red Cross representative as predicting another prisoner exchange involving only Americans and Germans would take place soon, probably at Barcelona.

U. S. Field In Egypt Is Vital

CAIRO, Oct. 28—(AP)—A bright future was visualized today for Egypt Field, New Allied airport—and also for Maj. Norris B. Shumate of Stillwater, Okla., the youthful engineer who supervised its construction in the record time of 58 days.

War-time use of the big airfield, which was dedicated by Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce, chief of all American forces in the Middle East, is likely to be connected with the eastern theater of operations, since huge transports lumber in and out of it with vital supplies to throw against the Japanese.

Three alternative retrospective ratings were given to the field by John Payne, Austin, Texas, killed last January on an operational flight over enemy territory as a member of a ninth airforce bomber squadron. It is expected to be one of the key airplane junctions of the world.

If Pampa Man's Cousin Had Accepted Job In 1922, He Might Not Now Be General in Army

If Crawford Atkinson of Pampa had been faster in getting in touch with his cousin when the latter sought a job back in 1922, Joseph Hampton Atkinson, his cousin, might not today be a brigadier general.

During the 1922 depression, the Dalhart man wired Crawford, who was then attending a Hutchinson, Kas., business college, to get him a job.

"I walked my legs off," Crawford relates, "I finally hiked out along the railroad to a construction outfit that I heard wanted a bookkeeper. Then I rushed back and wired Hamp I had the job, but it was weeks before I heard from him. He had joined the army and finally the telegram caught up with him at Ft. Bliss."

General Atkinson was the principal speaker at the Pampa Kiwanis club's regular weekly luncheon at noon here last Friday.

The general joined a national guard company at Dalhart in the closing days of World War I; Crawford joined too but was dismissed when he was found 1 1/2 years too young.

After he joined the regular army in 1922 and had six months as a buck private, Atkinson passed the examination for flying cadet. In October, 1924, he graduated at Brooks field, as a second lieutenant. He was then in the reserve corps a couple of years during which he worked for the Iren Biscuit company, in Dallas.

Back in service, he was assigned to Ft. Riley, Kas., where Gen. H. H. (Hap) Arnold, now chief of the army air forces, was his commander.

During two summers he flew President Coolidge's mail from Chicago to his vacation resort, one year in the Black Hills, the other in Wisconsin.

In November, 1941, General Arnold called him to Washington as a member of his staff. He was then a major but two months later was a lieutenant colonel.

There wasn't enough action at a Washington desk for Atkinson, even though he helped plan such daring raids as that of Doolittle on Tokyo. He had buddies overseas and he insisted on joining them, going to England as a colonel, becoming a brigadier general in Africa.

General Atkinson wears the Distinguished Flying Cross for a raid he and Major Joe Thomas of Pomona, Calif., led against Lorient, France, from England. He was awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in action in North Africa and five Oak Leaf clusters to it for combat over Occupied Europe and operations against the enemy from African bases.

General Atkinson was born in Dublin, Erath county, in 1900. When 6 months he was taken to Jackboro, then in 1902 his family moved to Dalhart. He attended Dalhart ward and high school and graduated from the Jackboro High school where his father had returned briefly to look after a grocery and meat market. Then he attended the Metropolitan Business college in Dallas, prior to enlisting in the army.

"Suddenly 10 Japanese planes appeared overhead. The light was poor for shooting and it was feared that the enemy, rendered desperate by the loss of their own carriers, might make a suicidal attack upon the Lexington and inflict serious damage by crashing their planes. Baker was ordered via radio to turn off his landing lights and under no conditions to attempt a landing.

"He sized up the situation instantly. During the radio exchange in Japan he located his position and were closing in. Without hesitation he turned his plane away from the carrier and headed for the open sea, luring the Japs after him. The men aboard the Lexington saw his plane disappear into the night, mistakenly facing certain death at the hands of the enemy or the ocean to make certain that his carrier was safe."

Baker, incidentally said Wood-Baker, incidentally said Wood-Cmdr. Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare had piloted earlier, shooting down 5 Japanese bombers and driving off four others which attacked his carrier.

Pilot Sacrifices Life to Save U. S. Carrier

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—(AP)—A young navy pilot—his gasoline tanks nearly empty—flew into the darkness to lure away Japanese pilots and save the aircraft Lexington from attack early in the war.

The sacrifice of Lt. (JG) Paul Baker, San Diego, Calif., now listed as missing, was told by Admiral C. H. Woodward in a Navy Day address.

"On the eve of the coral sea engagement," said Woodward, "an American task force of which the Lexington was part, caught up with the tail-end of the main Japanese invasion force near Tulagi and accounted for three enemy carriers. Baker had brought down five Jap aircraft. Towards nightfall, he was hovering over the Lexington awaiting the signal to launch with only a few gallons of gasoline left in his tank.

Federal Food Losses Cited

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28—(AP)—Government food losses running into hundreds of thousands of pounds including huge quantities of canned meat and fish, vegetables, and milk—have been reported quietly to congress by the Commodity Credit Corporation.

The figures were turned over to the house banking committee by J. B. Hutson, CCC chief, in the request of Rep. Crawford, (R-Mich.), who sought the information in connection with a bill to extend the CCC's life.

The losses were attributed to such causes as rusty cans, flood damage, weevils and contamination.

Hutson explained that the report covered the conduct of food procurement programs for "some 50-odd claimant agencies, including lend-lease" by the Federal Surplus Commodities Corporation for the period March, 1941, to Sept. 30, 1943.

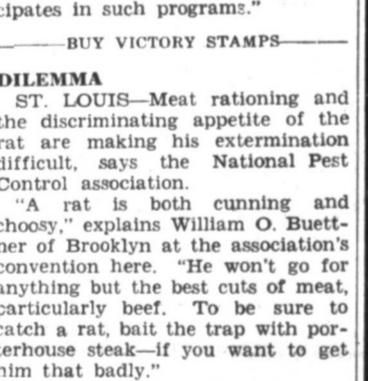

In dollars and cents, he figured the definitely-established losses at $641,426 on purchases amounting to $2,193,438,311. On top of that sum was an additional $177,579 listed as "marine losses" and "chargeable to lend-lease."

Hutson declared that "the losses as determined here amount to two one-hundredths of one per cent of total purchases. This is the equivalent to the loss of one dollar on every $5,000 of purchases."

Crawford contended however, that the figures "are not only enlightening but evidence of the enormous losses in actual pounds of food which often occur when government participates in such programs."

San Antonio Wins Power Contract Suit

AUSTIN, Oct. 28—(AP)—The supreme court has ruled again that the board of trustees of the San Antonio Electric and Gas system were without authority to question in court a contract between the city of San Antonio and the Guadalupe-Blanco river authority under which the authority sought to operate a steam plant generating electricity at New Braunfels.

In a written opinion by Associate Justice Richard Critz, the court overruled the trustees' motion for a writ of error.

The effect of the action constituted another victory of the river authority in the long series of legal disputes over who will ultimately operate the steam generating plant at New Braunfels, known as the Comal plant. It left standing the action of the court of civil appeals at San Antonio in dissolving a temporary injunction sought by the trustees to prevent the city of San Antonio from turning the Comal plant over to the GBRA.

When the supreme court refused the original application for writ of error, legal counsel for the trustees at San Antonio announced that if their application for rehearing were denied, they would join with the city of San Antonio in its efforts to bring about a dissolution of the contract.

CHARLOTTE, N. C.—The soldier dropped in at a service men's information center in the vague hope of tracing a WAC friend with whom he had been in touch some months ago.

He didn't expect to find her in Charlotte, he explained, but had heard that several groups of WACs had been stationed here.

The hostess telephoned the WAC orderly room at Morris Field, explained the situation and gave the name.

"That's me," said the girl soldier.

Florida Holds Up Oil Leases

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Oct. 28—(AP)—Granting of new oil leases on state-owned land will be deferred "until clearer information on the discovery of oil" in the everglades is available, the Florida cabinet has decided.

The cabinet's decision, left pending offers for leases covering nearly all state land in the everglades. One came from former Governor James V. Alfred of Texas, who sought to lease 1,000,000 acres.

State Geologist Herman Gunter this week confirmed the recovery of oil from the Humble Oil Co., well at Surliland, southeast of Fort Myers.

From where I sit
by Joe Marsh

Ned Buxton was home on furlough last week. And you ought to see the fuss the town made over him. Seems like almost everybody wanted to give a party, or a testimonial dinner, or stage something special in the way of celebration.

Of course, Ned acted grateful. But he told me later, all he really wanted was to sit down with a few old friends, enjoy a glass of beer or two, and talk about old times again.

I guess that's how many soldiers feel. They don't want a lot of fuss made over them, with formal celebrating and such.

What they really like are the simple pleasures—one of Mom's home-cooked meals, visiting with friends over a glass of beer—enjoying things that mean home and comfort and security.

From where I sit, our biggest job, apart from helping win the war, is making sure those things are waiting for our men when they come back home for good.

YOU can see with half an eye that designer Sophie had a smart idea when she made the jacket of this satin evening suit half black and half white. The white half is decorated with an all-over diamond pattern worked out in black jet beading. Incidentally, the half-and-half idea is not a bad hunch for the home seamstress who has too little of one material to make a full jacket.

WHAT DO YOU LIKE ABOUT COFFEE?

Freshness!

TRUE ENOUGH—for it's vitally important! Freshness preserves the various qualities that are blended into a fine coffee.

Admiration's robust, delightful fragrance, always pronounced when a package is opened, is achieved by careful blending. This type for aroma, that for strength, another for richness, and so on. Together, they produce the mellow, exquisite flavor you enjoy so much in Admiration and in Admiration alone. Moisture, varying temperatures, absorption of odors, handling, and delay from roasting oven to coffee pot—all cause deterioration in freshness. To prevent any such losses, Admiration provides two strong, fail-proof safeguards—Thermal-Roasting and The Lamofilm Package.

Lamofilm is really four packages in one. The inner-liner is made of two sheets of grease and moisture-proof paper bound together with a patented, rubberized cohesive. Tear a piece off it and hold briefly over a match. The sheets when heated separate. The inner-liner is contained in a lithographed paper bag—a third protection. Then the whole package is wrapped in moisture-proof cellophane, which in turn is heat-sealed. No air can get in. No freshness can get out.

These days of intense activity and extra effort, a cup of Admiration at mealtimes, in-between periods, parties, or on other occasions gives just the right lift to appetite and spirit! The piquant, lingering flavor, the taste of richness, the elusive aroma combine to make a beverage that's truly the Cup of Southern Hospitality. Here's coffee satisfaction that never varies! One cup after another and each is always a good cup.

Schooling For Ex-Servicemen Is Recommended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28 — (AP)—A billion-dollar program to provide postwar educational opportunities for men and women in the armed services has been recommended to congress by President Roosevelt.

The program was developed by a special committee of educators which Mr. Roosevelt appointed last November when he signed into law the drafting of men 18 and 19 years old. In sending it to the capitol the president urged prompt legislation to put its broad outlines into operation.

Suggested by the committee, and approved by Roosevelt, were recommendations that the federal government make it financially possible for every man and woman who has served six months or more in the armed forces since Sept. 16, 1940 (effective date of selective service) to receive a year's training in an educational institution to equip them for gainful pursuits in peace time.

Wickard Fears Big Land Boom

CHICAGO, Oct. 28.—(P)—Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard declared that a big concern of agriculture "is the currently threatening land boom," and that the increase in both sales and values of land in many areas "is alarming." Wickard asserted that two things which could be done now "to ease out post-war problems," and which would not be challenged as interfering with the war effort, "are to help people realize the absolute necessity of holding the line against inflation and the almost equally important job of heading off a land boom."

Wickard said that "neither real nor fancied inequities in our stabilization program justify any action which fosters inflation, for neither real nor fancied inequities in our stabilization program can be of any consequence when the alternative is inflation."

The secretary urged full support of the president's hold the line program and asserted that dissatisfaction expressed with the stabilization program "is based not so much upon the hardships of a particular group, as it is upon the fact that some other group appears to be getting a slight advantage one way or another."

"These groups feel that there is inequity of sacrifice. But all groups should remember that in war it is

WAC Physical Training Is Valuable Asset

Trim figures, draped in snappy uniforms bearing the shoulder insignia of the army air forces, became more than a mere wish for the young women of the Texas Panhandle today.

An army air forces recruiting team, headed by Lt. Evan K. Shelby of Pampa Army Air Field, is currently touring the area for the purpose of enlisting women in the WAC with the assurance given each applicant that after basic training she will be assigned for service with the great U. S. air force.

Artificial aids to health and a good figure may be thrown in the ash can, pills and all, Lt. Shelby said, by the woman who wants a trim figure and the romance, glamor and adventure of service with the air forces at the same time.

"When you join the WAC you'll be sent to one of their training centers for a brief training period and then be assigned to an army air base impossible to achieve equity of burden or sacrifice. For instance, nothing will equalize the loss of sacrifice involved in the wounding or death of some of our boys at the front."

At the training center," he declared, "you must be prepared to have that slump in your shoulders improved and aching arches cured because you're in for a series of simple, progressive exercises that will send you miraculously along the road to excellent health and posture."

This training, he explained, is to prepare each woman to take her place alongside the cadets, flyers and enlisted men of the army air forces. She must be fit to do this, he emphasized.

Further information on the advantages offered today to the WACs may be secured at the WAC recruiting offices located in the basement of the post office building in Pampa. The opportunity to enlist for service with the air forces as a member of the WAC is declared to be available for only a short time.

Trade, Industry Continue Gains

AUSTIN, Oct. 28.—(AP)—The University of Texas bureau of business research reports trade and industry in Texas continued to gain in September, but at a slower rate.

The composite index for September was 196.1, only two points higher than August's 194.1, but well above last year's September figure of 160.7.

Teams of Former Pampa Coaches Battle at Lufkin Friday Night

Football Sisler

Marine Pvt. Cass Sisler makes valiant bid for top billing at Penn State. Fullback Sisler, who came from Western Reserve of Cleveland via Navy V-12 program, is nephew of George Sisler, immortal first baseman.

Contest To Be Prejean Vs. Mitchell

If any Pampa football fans are in Lufkin tomorrow night, the plays of Lufkin and Marshall will look mighty familiar. Reason is that J. C. (Buck) Prejean is coach of the Lufkin team and Odus Mitchell is coach of the Marshall eleven. Mitchell was Harvester coach here for a dozen years. Prejean came here as his assistant, later took Mitchell's place when the latter went to Marshall, and in all was a Pampa coach for seven years.

Lufkin and Marshall are rated with the top six in the Texas school-boy gridiron parade. In addition to matching undefeated, untied teams, the Lufkin-Marshall joust will determine the power of East Texas in the state play-off between 16 district champions starting the week after Thanksgiving.

Harold V. Ratliff, Associated Press sports editor, says the Lufkin-Marshall game takes the spotlight for the week. Otherwise interest rests on important conference games in Districts 2, 3, 5 and 15.

In District 2 Vernon and Childress clash in a battle expected to furnish the eventual champion. Vernon is a heavy favorite over Childress, although the latter is unbeaten in conference play. Amarillo crushed the Bobcats while Vernon gave the Golden Sables a very interesting evening indeed in recent inter-district struggles.

San Angelo's mighty Bobcats tackle the first of two strong challengers for the District 3 crown when they meet the Odessa Bronzes at Odessa. Sweetwater, undefeated and untied, will be the other. San Angelo playing the Mustangs Nov. 19.

District 5's first major battle is between Denison and Paris Friday night at Paris. Denison is undefeated while Paris has dropped a couple of games, but the Wildcats will be tough for their traditional foes, who have shown strong signs of slipping.

District 15's championship is due to be on the line when Austin battles Brackenridge (San Antonio) at Austin. These two teams are rated top in the district and Brackenridge offers a rugged hurdle indeed for the defending state titlists.

There are 51 games on the week's schedule in Texas with 34 of them conference affairs. Here is the schedule by districts:

1—Friday: Plainview at Brownfield (conference); Saturday: Pampa at Lubbock (conference); Friday: Shawnee, Okla., at Amarillo.

2—Friday: Childress at Vernon (conference); Burnburnett at Quanah (conference); Electra at Olney (conference).

3—Friday: San Angelo at Odessa (conference); Lamesa at Sweetwater (conference); Tahoka at Big Spring, Abilene at Midland (conference).

5—Friday: Denison at Paris (conference); Sherman at Gainesville (conference); Durant, Okla., at Bonham.

6—Friday: Greenville at Arlington (conference); Highland Park (Dallas) at Denton (conference); Sulphur Springs at McKinney (conference).

7—Thursday: Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) vs. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) (conference); Friday: Fort Worth Tech vs. Masonic Home (Fort Worth) (conference).

8—Friday: Crozier Tech (Dallas) vs. Forest (Dallas) (conference); Saturday: Adamson (Dallas) vs. North Dallas (conference).

9—Friday: Cisco at Brownwood (conference); Breckenridge at Weatherford (conference); Mineral Wells at Ranger (conference); Dublin at Stephenville.

10—Friday: Henderson at Tyler, Gladewater at Athens (conference); Nacogdoches at Kilgore.

11—Friday: Marshall at Lufkin, Mexia at Palestine, Conroe at Livingston, Longview at Jacksonville.

12—Thursday: Reagan (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston) (conference); Friday: Lamar (Houston) vs. Jeff Davis (Houston) (conference); Saturday: Austin (Houston) vs. San Jacinto (Houston) (conference).

13—Friday: Galveston at Beaumont (conference); Goose Creek at South Park (Beaumont) (conference); Saturday: Orange at Port Arthur (conference).

14—Friday: Brackenridge (San Antonio) at Austin (conference); San Antonio Tech at Laredo (conference); Corpus Christi at Kerrville (conference).

15—Friday: San Benito at Robstown (conference); Brownsville at Mission, Harlingen at Pharr-San Juan-Alamo, Donna at McAllen.

Baker Eleven Whips Mann, 12-6

Starting off football among Pampa ward schools, although not the starter of the official league schedule, was the game between the B. M. Baker and Horace Mann schools yesterday afternoon at Harvester park. Don by Baker 12 to 6.

Baker scored in the second and third quarters. First touchdown was made when Gerald Matthews, halfback, threw a pass to Bobby Ray Seitz, tailback, good for 15 yards. Seitz ran from midfield to score the touchdown.

In the third quarter, another pass accounted for Baker's score when Junior Richardson, halfback, caught a pass from Eugene Favrow, end.

Mann's lone marker came in the final period when Carl Hefflin, back, intercepted a pass by Richardson and ran 40 yards to score.

Irish Play Mangum At Shamrock Friday

Special To The News.
SHAMROCK, Oct. 28.—Two undefeated teams will clash in battle here Friday night when the Tigers and Mangum, Okla., invade Denver Field to test the strength of the unscathed Irishmen of Shamrock.

The non-conference tilt will begin at 8 o'clock. Both the Irishmen and the Tigers have played six games to date this season and each team has five wins and one tie to its credit. The Irish victories have been more decisive while the Mangum eleven, leaders in the Southwestern conference, has merged victors by the narrow margin of 7 to 6 in four games.

Coach Bob Clark's green and white clad youth will still be handicapped with at least three or four regular starters out of the line-up.

The Mangum lads, on the other hand, are reported as coming out of their last fray with Frederick, Okla., in the pink of condition.

Coach Clark's teams while he was in the ranks of Coach Welson Spivey four times, the net results being one win and two ties.

Sammy Angott Retains Crown

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 28.—(P)—Sammy Angott is still the lightweight champion, and the very last fellow to dispute it would be Luther (Sluggo) White, Baltimore negro, who got the boxing lesson of his life last night in 15 rounds.

It was one of the most interesting and unusual fights ever held here. As the boys started the fourth round a generator failure plunged the Hollywood Baseball Park into darkness. It was an hour and seven minutes before electricians repaired the trouble.

The crowd sat good-naturedly through the interm without any marked display of displeasure. The boxers retired to their dressing rooms after waiting in their corners for the first half hour, blankets piled over their bathrobes to shut out the cold night air.

When the fourth round got under way again, 10 seconds had been pared from it. That was the elapsed time from the instant they rushed from their corners and included in one exchange before the arcs went out.

Angott was complete master of the situation. He went out in the first round to steal the play from the fast-punching White. He danced away and around the negro and came back to deliver any number of hard, de-

Randolph Team To Play Mexico Varsity Saturday

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 28.—(P)—The Randolph Field Ramblers, unheralded powers of Texas service football, branch out into international play Saturday night when they meet the No. 1 team south of the border—the University of Mexico.

No one expected Randolph to have more than an average team this year; some of the colleges took them on as "breathers." But three days before the Ramblers opened the season one Glenn Dobbs arrived. He had been sent to the field for ground duty when he was turned down on White over a long period of time, and in the fourteenth and fifteenth he seemed on the verge of being knocked out.

Dobbs was an All-American at Tulsa University last year. He's been an All-American with Randolph, too, carrying the Ramblers to five straight victories.

So they got ambitious, scheduled Mexico U. and announced they'd also like to meet some high-powered team in a post-season game.

This Randolph-Mexico game is due to bring out a crowd of 20,000 fans. The game is a natural for San Antonio—a town with a large Latin-American populace, steeped in Latin-American history, and surrounded by eight large army camps and air bases.

The Mexico eleven is coached by B. A. Hoban, former Harvard player. Football south of the border now is challenging baseball and bull-fighting for favorite sport honors.

Harvesters Seek To Avenge 14-13 Loss To Lubbock

With the recollection of the game last year in which they were nosed out 14 to 13 by Lubbock, Pampa High school's football team put extra vigor into their work-out as they prepared for the game against the Westerners in Lubbock Saturday.

To Jerry Kerbow, center, and Gene Robbins, right end, the 1942 game is especially vivid as they were on the Harvesters starting lineup in the game played here on November 1. Curtis, McCracken, and Berry are others of this year's team who saw action in last year's Harvester-Westerner battle.

In the 1942 game, the Harvesters had a heart-breaking loss, as they had held the Westerners scoreless in the first half.

Playing in the Pampa-Lubbock game this Saturday will be Reginald Bridges, blocking back, one of the finest blockers on the Pampa team. Bridges has not been a flashy player and has not attracted the fans' attention as much as some of the others, but has played a reliable brand of football all season. He is a strong defensive player, and fine receiver of passes, 17 year old, and weighs 155 pounds.

The Harvesters will taper off their work-outs today, with light practice, working on receiving, kick-offs, try for extra point, signal drill, and dummy work on defense.

Leathernecks, Navy Take 22 of 28 Grid Players of NTAC

ARLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 28.—(P)—North Texas Agricultural College is losing 22 of its football players this week and it is unlikely that any of them will play in the game at Waco Saturday with Blackland AAF, it has been announced.

Included in the list of departing marine and navy trainees are all of the first string backs and a good part of the starting line, but Coach J. G. Holmes says he will still be able to put a good team on the field for all remaining games.

THE NATION'S PRESS

HOW TO FINANCE A CAMPAIGN (The Chicago Tribune)

President Roosevelt has asked congress for an additional 5 million dollars for the office of war information. The budget bureau reported the money is needed "in conjunction with actual or projected military operations."

Congress took OWI's measure in the last session when it cut off the funds of the OWI domestic branch. Surely it has seen enough of the Communist inspired fourth term activities of this model of New Deal bureaucracy...

The Roosevelt buttons and phonograph disks and the profusely illustrated Roosevelt campaign literature in OWI's overseas magazine, Victory, are evidence enough. The OWI's disloyal criticism of Gen. Eisenhower in North Africa and the miserable subservient broadcasts of the OWI's "John Duerce" are still fresh in the public mind.

President Roosevelt is, in effect, asking congress to underwrite a 5 million-dollar fund for his fourth term campaign. There can be only one reply to that.

CURBING THE BUREAUS

A fair sample of what it means to be at the mercy of bungling, automatic bureaucracy is afforded by the experience of the laundrymen of Kansas City...

Bureaucrats know what is good for you and you will wait until they see fit to get it or apply to do nothing. If you are losing money in business and have to close down your business...

Common Ground

"I speak the plain-worded truth. I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which all cannot have their consent." -WALT WHITMAN.

GAS RATIONING AND COVETOUSNESS

The reason we have to have gas coupons out from four to three gallons is because of the covetousness of people. In fact, if it were not for the covetousness of people, we would not have any coupons.

We would have enough oil to supply the needs of all the people who render equivalent service to the cost of the oil if it were not for our covetousness.

It is covetousness that has caused the discriminatory tax laws and put off price ceilings that has practically stopped the drilling of new wells. It is covetousness that has passed discriminatory labor laws that prevent people from using their talents to the full.

And this covetousness comes from the erroneous belief that industry or production is like war, that the success of one man means the failure of another. But instead of being like war, the success of one man is helpful to every other man producing a different commodity or service.

This country became the richest in the world because prior to the last three decades and especially the last decade, we had less covetousness, less interference with private initiative and the natural rights of man than any other people in all the world.

And these laws resulting from covetousness will lead on and on to more and more rationing as things become scarcer and scarcer until we become as poverty stricken as the old world.

No one would object to having his gas allotment cut if it were necessary and not the result of bureaucrats fixing oil prices so low as to curtail the supply.

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER

An Associated Press dispatch reports that Bishop Edwin A. Penick of North Carolina at an Episcopal Conference at Cleveland, Ohio, said, "A separatist's policy of isolationism that beguiled us into imagining that we were not our brother's keeper, though now we have discovered that our neighbors need us and that we need our neighbors desperately."

It is strange how so many church leaders get the idea from the Bible that we are our brother's keeper. They evidently get it from the question asked by the murderer Cain after he had killed his brother, "Am I my brother's keeper?"

There is all the difference in the world between being one's brother's keeper and being one's brother's helper or brother. Being one's helper is a Christian attitude. Being your brother's keeper is an un-Christian attitude.

Our trouble has been that we through our government have been attempting to be our brother's keeper. Germany deems themselves as keeper of the human race.

It is certainly too bad that Bishops and men in high places in organized religion so often misrepresent the essential principles taught by Jesus. That is that we must respect the rights of every human being to such an extent that we are not willing to use the force of the state, as is necessary in every case, in order to be our brother's keeper.

It moves to its momentous decisions—when it chooses to move. Sen. Truman steps into the laundrymen's case and urges a prompt answer to the plea, pending since last June 11—while bureaucracy takes its time.

In the months he has spent in Washington this year Rep. Roger C. Slaughter of Kansas City has learned the ways of bureaucracy and now proposes a legislative curb that would help in the plea. It would take away the legislative and judicial powers the bureau has assumed for themselves requiring that rules and orders of the agencies should be filed with congress before they could become effective.

It has been objected that the Logan-Walter bill would paralyze the executive branch of the government and make action difficult or impossible. It would not do anything of the kind if the action were sensible and necessary. If it were of the nature of typical bureau procedure paralysis would be a mild affliction for it. Sometime and in some way the expanding power of bureaucracy must be broken. Blocking its rank growth is the essential service to the people. It can and should be made to confine itself to war time necessity.

OIL 'ON ORDER'

BUT DO WE GET MORE OIL, GAS? (The New York News)

President Roosevelt at his Tuesday press conference gave what was understood to be his answer to the complaints about Allied oil supplies which have been voiced by three of the five Senators recently back from a tour of Allied War theaters.

The three senators (Brewster of Maine, Lodge of Massachusetts and Wood of New York) reported that the United States, though now producing only 25 per cent of the world's petroleum supply, is furnishing 65 per cent of the oil and oil products used by the Allies; also that Britain is hoarding its Middle East oil.

Mr. Roosevelt says the British have not been hoarding their oil, but shipping stringencies have been to blame for the disproportionate drain on American oil. Now that the Mediterranean has been reopened, he assures his fellow countrymen, the British have begun to contribute a larger proportion of oil, and things are going to be nicer now.

We hope so, but somehow we can't help thinking in this connection of the President's "on order" phrase of several years ago. He used to tell us, you remember, when most of us had the jitters over the fall of France, that we had empty-ump battleships "built on order," so many thousand planes "built on order," and so on. "On order" didn't mean a thing as far as actual fighting strength went.

We'll feel happier about this Presidential reassurance on oil when and if an oil-starved and slowed-down nation gets a boost in its gasoline and fuel oil rations.

QUALITY OF LOSSES

(Memphis Commercial Appeal)

Moscow reported a few days ago that the Red Army's offensives this summer had regained a total of about 115,800 square miles. The figure, as encouraging as it is, does not properly illustrate the losses suffered by the Germans. The quality of Russian gains and German losses, is what counts most in this instance.

The Germans have been driven far from any hope of getting the oil of the Caucasus, the minerals of the Donbas, and the grain of the Ukraine and the Don steppes. German casualties have been heavy, and much valuable equipment has been captured by the Russians. In addition, the Germans have had to abandon large amounts of stores. But all these things pale a bit by comparison with being driven from the chance to exploit natural resources. All in all, it has been a hard summer for Germany.

By RAY TUCKER STUNNED—The Willie suggestion which really floored G. C. P. Congressmen at their recent convulse here makes Wallace's offer of a quart of milk a day seem like a piker proposition.

There are about two billion two hundred million people in the world. Wendell is reported to have said, "but only two hundred million enjoy liberty—chiefly those in the U. S. A. and the British Commonwealth. We cannot make an alliance with the English, so it is up to us to undertake the task of giving freedom to those who do not now possess it."

His listeners were so stunned at the prospect that they did not catch their breaths in time to inquire for particulars.

LOSER—The Hoosier left behind a worried bunch of Republicans as a result of his forthright address and his apparent assurance that he can get the Presidential nomination if he decides that it is worth having. He madened them by his belittling attitude and his ill-concealed contempt for their views, but he also impressed them.

Capitol Hill leaders who hate him have been in a huddle since the moment he departed. With Governor Thomas E. Dewey and General Douglas A. MacArthur unavailable they must choose the man to present before the 1940 "interlopers" and sweep the convention again.

Worse still, they fear that no other man in their camp—Taft or Bricker of Ohio, Vandenberg of Michigan, Warren of California—would have so good a chance of defeating F. D. R. or any other Democratic candidate. It begins to look as if they must decide whether to take the Philadelphia gate crasher, who has an outside chance to win, or to get rid of him once and for all by naming someone else, although the newcomer may be a sure loser.

VOICE—They confront virtually the same problem which the party faced in 1912. The Penrose regulars preferred to sink with Taft and remain in control of the partisan machinery rather than risk a possible victory with the unpredictable Theodore Roosevelt.

Mr. Willie apparently found his cue for defiance of the Congressional bloc in what happened at MacKinnon's trial. He said in a conference a minute rift separated the gubernatorial faction from the Washington coterie. Harsh words passed between them as to which group should dominate.

The State bosses served notice that they intended to have a great voice in higher councils than ever before. So the former utility magnate is stringing along with the local crowd, which is closer to the voters, instead of with the Martin-McNary clique.

HUNT—A deft political play has apparently shifted the official life of Harry P. Slatery, head of the Rural Electrification Administration.

ONE-ALARM CALL "SOUTH GATE, Calif.—"Quick!" cried Ernest Chavez as he drove his truck into a downtown service station, "my wife is having a baby!" The attendant called the fire department.

Fire Chief Bill Carleton found Mrs. Chavez in the cab, three children crying in the rear of the truck and Chavez standing by, wringing his hands.

Carleton delivered the new son, then mopped his brow. "This is the second time I've had to do this," he sighed.

Peter Edson's Column: EFFICIENT FIRMS MAKE THE PROFITS

By PETER EDSON The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

Information to show how the government permits more efficient manufacturers to retain higher rate of profit even after renegotiation of their contracts by Price Adjustment Boards to recover what are considered excessive earnings, is revealed by the War Department in the case of the Dixwell Corporation, the High Standard Corporation and the High Standard Manufacturing Company.

These two firms hold the war contracts and make the machine guns. On the face of it, this may look like another war profiteering case, but a second look reveals an entirely different story. Both the High Standard Corporation and the High Standard Manufacturing Company have had their books examined by the War Department Price Adjustment Board.

The result of the renegotiation is that the High Standard companies they make only $22,417,000, instead of the original contract price of $46,650,000. The saving to the taxpayers in this case is $24,233,000.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON You've probably never heard of Tom Kingston, who plays the role of a faro dealer in Columbia's "Klondike Kate." Kingston once was a professional dealer in Reno, Nev., and Tijuana, Mexico, but never bet a card in his life.

Six years ago a gambler and fixer Kingston knew—Les Bruneman—was murdered by the mob. Next day Kingston decided it was a good and healthy time to clear out of his profession. He turned to bit playing in the movies and has been sent variously as a bartender, western gunman and in other tough-guy parts.

By the turn of a card Kingston drops $20,000 to Sheldon Leonard in "Klondike Kate." "I'm shot at," Kingston explains, "but it isn't for keeps. Might have been if I hadn't acted smart six years ago."

Nelson Eddy is just about the happiest guy in town with his role in "Knickerbocker Holiday." Sings only gay "light numbers and, as he says, "throws things away." Eddy sings one number while removing his shoes. "We don't take ourselves too seriously," he says, "and that's what I like." None of that heavy "New Moon" or "Lover Come Back to Me" stuff.

After a long rehearsal the other day Frances Langford was approached by a very homesy woman with a request for one of her photographs.

"Would you like me to autograph it?" Frances asked. "Oh, no," giggled the woman, "I'm going to put my name on it and send it to a man in North Dakota who's looking for a wife."

"But won't he refuse to marry you when he finds out you've fooled him?" Frances asked. "Well," explained the woman, "he sent me a picture of your husband (Jon Hall), so I figure that when we meet we'll just forgive each other."

ONE NIGHT about 9 o'clock, Schwartz telephoned Loesser at home and said, "Here's a little thread of a tune, maybe it will suggest some words." Schwartz ran over a few bars on the piano.

At 3 o'clock in the morning, Loesser called Schwartz. "Hate to wake you up, Art," he said, "but just give me that line of music again—I got so interested I wrote all the lyrics."

Schwartz said nothing on me," said Schwartz. "I went to work and completed all the music." They tried the lyrics and music out on each other over the telephone and haven't changed a word or a note since!

MISTAKEN IDENTITY Spike Jones just back from a record-breaking theater tour of the East, tells this one on himself. In Minneapolis, the City Slicker was asked by a woman to act as godfather at the christening of her two-month-old baby.

"My husband and I," the woman said, "have admired your playing on the screen and radio so much we'd be greatly honored." Spike put on his best blue suit and met the woman and child at the church.

After the christening, the woman turned to Spike and beamed. "Oh, thank you so much, Mr. Cagney." Spike, often mistaken for Jimmy, gulped and fled.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MacKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

The battle of giants in the great west of the Dnieper has reached a magnitude and a ferocity reminiscent of Stalingrad, and like that epic struggle the present conflict casts a grim shadow of disaster across the Nazi armies on the eastern front.

However, I think we should go slow in forming judgments as to the extent of the German difficulties. The world-beating Hitler is in a bad hole, but we shall do well to stick with the admonition that "sufficiency unto the day is the evil therefor," and not make grandiose forecasts.

True, the picture is gloomy for the Nazis. Even Berlin has been forced to the unwelcome task of preparing for the long-suffering German people for another catastrophe. The only question remaining is what the extent of the calamity will be.

The Nazi capital has broadcast news of a large German withdrawal movement in the Dnieper bend. Worried Hitlerite Charlie McCarthy has passed on to the people the bitter information that a large part of this thousand-mile line has been forced back.

Moscow tells us that the Germans are throwing everything they have into the battle to stem the Red onslaught—fresh troops, tanks, warplanes and artillery. Indications are, however, that this bloody resistance is being made, not with the idea of holding the present positions, but to permit of the general withdrawal of the long, unwieldy front without a colossal debacle.

A huge number of Nazi troops—originally totaling maybe half a million—have been or still are in danger of being trapped by the on-rushing Reds in the Dnieper bend. As previously remarked in this column, the position is such that wholesale disaster might grow out of it.

When the German high command has salvaged all that speeding time will permit, the Hitlerites will try to make an orderly withdrawal of the whole line and fall back on other prepared positions.

Of course, the Germans are in a terribly dangerous position. Should a rout be started anywhere on their front, there's no telling how far the collapse of morale might spread.

The depth of their retreat naturally will depend on pressure from the Russians. One would expect them to hope to make a stand on the so-called Odessa line, thus protecting the gateway to the Balkans.

The delaying campaign which the Germans are waging with so much success in Italy fits in with this picture. This Nazi stand on the Italian peninsula is calculated to protect the Balkans and so the dangerously placed Hitlerite right wing in Russia.

WARTIME HEALTH: 'Rabbit Fever' Makes Hunting Dangerous Sport

By DR. THOMAS D. MASTERS Written for The News

Indian-summer, with its lingering warmth that sometimes lasts, off and on, until Thanksgiving or into early December, makes hunting one of the pleasantest ways known of enjoying the autumnal out-of-door. Even this pastime, however, has dangers—and tularemia, commonly called rabbit fever, is not the least serious of the medical hazards met by the hunter. For in addition to the rabbit, tularemia may be found in the "possum, squirrel, muskrat, groundhog, skunk, coyote, red fox, deer, quail and sage-hen. The South, the Middle West and the Far West are the scene of its flourishing existence.

Wood-ticks, rabbit lice and fleas, deer flies and houseflies are the carriers of the organism responsible for tularemia. These insects carry the germ from animal to animal, but do not bite man, and so do not directly infect him. Because men hunt rabbits and other game most often ground-hog, skunk, and coyote, these are the months that show the greatest incidence of tularemia. This winter, in particular, people are going to want to increase their meat supply with the results of hunting expeditions and trappers, shooters, market-men and housewives. In short, all who handle the carcasses of the animals will be in danger of contracting the disease.

Abrasions are the commonest ways of infection, and handling an animal, followed by an ulcer at the site of a scratch, accompanied by fever, malaise and swelling of lymph-glands, are the chief progressive symptoms of tularemia. Intestinal infections, inhalation into the lungs, eye infections, and bites are all ways that tularemia may enter the body. The disease is prevalent in November and December, but is slow, taking as much as two or three months' time. Death claims about 5 per cent of those afflicted. The rest achieve immunity for life. Treatment involves a serum.

Preventatives The best control of tularemia lies in prevention. Avoid contact with infected animals. Be wary of rabbits too sluggish to run away from the hunter. Wear gloves when skinning and dressing carcasses. Keep a scratch away from the eyes, scratches and abrasions. Wash the hands thoroughly after touching even so little as the fur, and cook all meat thoroughly. Immunization is possible by vaccine, but prevention is much surer. If more meat is wanted to add to that available on ration points, domestic rabbits, bred in hutches, have never been known to cause tularemia.

...from our graves WE THANK YOU

We died in the London Blitz, or was it Chungking...or Stalingrad? Our children were left behind...without care and shelter. Do you wonder we have worried so?

Now we are at peace for we know they are warm with good clothing. Their little bodies are getting strong again. They even laugh again. It is for this we thank you...for the mercy and generosity of your dollars.

Good old American dollars...your dollars, Mrs. MacDonald...your dollars, Mr. Greenbaum. Silver dollars from California...hard-bitten dollars from the farm country...toil-won dollars from laboring men...crackling new bills from Fifth Avenue. Yes, your dollars have wrought miracles of human love and compassion.

They have healed broken bodies, fed the hungry and sheltered the homeless on all the United Nations Fronts, They have provided hospitals, nursing homes, doctors and medicine...here and abroad.

They have helped care for the needy in your own home area...people who have been left behind on the home front while their sons or fathers are off at war.

They have brought cheer and "home" to the men in our Armed Forces through the splendid work of the USO.

They have given the "barbed wire legion," the war prisoners of all nations, a new lease on life.

Seventeen great services are now a part of the National War Fund, which is joined with our community's own war fund, thus making an efficient over-all organization serving on all three fronts...the Military Front, the United Nations Front and the Home Front. This year instead of giving many times to these different agencies, you give just once. So give generously; give all your heart can spare.
