Truman Gets Set For Tough Tiff With Southern Democrats

KEY WEST — (AP) — President Truman left it clear today he is ready for a no-holds-barred contest with Southern Democrats in his party's 1952 convention. His executive order setting up machinery to encourage all government contractors to open their payrolls to Negro and other minority groups gave new evidence that he is ready for battle. The committee he set up yesterday is not a Fair employment practices commission (FEPC) of the type which some of his supporters want, but it can be expected to create new friction between the Chief Executive and Southern who oppose all his civil rights program.

Close associates of Mr. Truman, who argue that his party's hope for a return to power in next year's elections rests upon a platform around which organized labor and minority groups will rally, said the President acted deliberately, and with full knowledge that this new step would stir up new protests in the South where he lost four states in 1948. "What else can he do?" asked one presidential confidante who may not be named. "Some of the most outspoken political leaders in the South are going to fight his program, no matter what he does." Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, Senator Byrd (D-Va.) Senator Russell (D-Ga.) and others from the South have indicated they would oppose Mr. Truman should he seek the Presidency again.

NEWSMEN'S SURPRISE VICTORY — Newsmen recalled that shortly after Mr. Truman told a dinner gathering that one of the things which he was proud was that he was without carrying New York, Pennsylvania, and the solid South. The men around the President are divided in opinion whether Mr. Truman will seek re-election. They agree, however, that he has made no positive declaration of his intentions to anyone on the staff. But the President himself has disclosed his intention to be in the thick of the 1952 campaign. At a recent news conference here, he told reporters that the "fair deal" will be a part of the "State of the Union" message he will deliver to Congress in January.

He added that he could guarantee it will be a part of the 1952 Democratic platform, too.

AFTERMATH — Col. James Stell, left, Capt. Charles Robison, center, and Sgt. William D. Mitchell, right, look over what was once Pampa National Guard armory. The three men are standing on the building's west side just before starting to poke through the rubble to see what they could find. Because damage was so extensive from last Wednesday's fire it was impossible to trace the blaze to any one particular point and determine what caused the fire. (Pampa News Photo)

Guard Files Fire Origin 'Unknown'

The fire that a week ago destroyed the local National Guard armory at Recreation Park was of "undetermined origin," according to Col. James L. Stell of the Texas National Guard Adjutant General's office. Col. Stell, who yesterday investigated probable causes of the blaze, said there was no indication that the fire was purposely started. Last night, guardsmen met in American Legion hall which is being used for temporary headquarters. Work was started on building temporary records to replace those lost in the fire. Col. Stell will leave Pampa tonight after finishing his work of surveying the damage. A member of the State Armory board is expected in Pampa sometime today or tomorrow, according to Capt. Charles Robison, battery commander.

Cold Front Moves Clouds Over Pampa

Heavily overcast skies were the only indication in Pampa of the cold wave which moved into the Panhandle early today. Temperature here showed little variation as the mercury registered a low of 42 degrees and a high of 55 Monday and a 35-degree low and 48 degree high today.

Freezing rain dotted parts of the Panhandle in the wake of the cold front according to an Associated Press report today. The norther, which dropped temperatures only a few degrees over the state, also churned up showers in East Texas and along the middle and upper coast.

The heaviest rain in the past 24 hours was 1.81 inches at Beaumont. The lowest overnight minimum was 30 degrees at Amarillo. Skies were fair in East and Southeast Texas. North and West Texas had considerable high level cloudiness. In South Texas, an early morning fog extended to as far north as the San Antonio area. Drizzle was falling in the Corpus Christi - Victoria area.

Other rainfall totals for the 24-hour period ending at 6 a. m. included .77 of an inch at Houston, .43 at Galveston, .37 at Texas, .29 at Galveston, .21 at Palestine and .09 at Tyler. Except for Amarillo, overnight minimums generally were above the freezing mark. They included: Dalhart 34, Lubbock 36, Texas 39, Waco 40, Dallas 41, Austin and El Paso 47, San Antonio 50, Houston 54 and Brownsville 67 degrees.

Yesterday's maximum ranged from 85 degrees at Corpus Christi to 56 at Dalhart.

Politics Not To Sway Choice Of GOP Floor Leader -- Taft

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said today he isn't going to attempt to influence the choice of a Senate Republican floor leader. Taft told a reporter in a telephone interview from Omaha he hopes the Republicans can agree on a successor to the late Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska without any squabble which might divide the party. "I don't think it is clear yet who the candidates will be and it will be up to the conference to fill the place," he said. He alluded to the conference of all 45 Republican senators which will meet probably late this month to elect a successor to Wherry.

NO DIRECT COMMENT — The Ohio senator would not comment directly but it was clear almost anyone would be acceptable to him who could be classed as a neutral in what may be a race between Taft and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the GOP Presidential nomination. Friends said Taft had no special interest in placing one of his outspoken supporters in the floor manager's job, since he will continue a good grip on the party reins as chairman of the Senate GOP policy committee.

So far as he is concerned, Taft apparently left the field wide open except that he could be expected to oppose any such avowed supporter of Eisenhower as Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the present assistant leader.

LONG SERVICE — Saltonstall, who filled in for several weeks during Wherry's illness at the close of the last session, left on a Latin American vacation trip without indicating whether he will become a candidate. Republican Senators discussed the leadership vacancy informally at Omaha, Neb., after funeral services were held for Wherry yesterday at Pawnee City, Neb. While there was no agreement, Senators Bridges of New Hampshire and Millikin of Colorado emerged as possible compromise candidates. Neither was said to want the job on a permanent basis but friends thought either might be prevailed upon to take it for the 1952 session to avoid an open battle between opposing Presidential factions.

LONG SERVICE — Bridges, the Republican with the longest Senate service, has not come out for any candidate. Millikin is regarded as a Taft supporter but hasn't taken any leading part in the Ohioan's campaign for the nomination. Taft apparently would regard as satisfactory to him the choice of Senator Knowland of California as the new floor leader. Knowland backs the bid of Gov. Earl Warren of California for the GOP Presidential nomination.

Whether Knowland is a candidate, however, may depend upon the action of some other senators with longer service records. While seniority isn't compelling in the election of a floor leader, it nevertheless is somewhat persuasive.

Thus far, none of the senators with seniority — such as Brewster of Maine, Ferguson of Michigan and Hickenlooper of Iowa — has indicated publicly any interest in seeking the post.

City Tax Officer Wants Early Start On Payments Here

City Tax Assessor - Collector Aubrey Jones said this morning he believes in getting an early start on taxes to avoid future delays or inconveniences caused by last-minute forgetfulness. So he went about the annual task of publicly reminding property owners they may start now to render their property for taxation on the 1952 rolls. Property owners, he said, have until March 31, 1952, to render property. Thereafter the tax assessor, by state law, must render it to them and pass it on to the board of equalization. "One thing we would like to get clear to new property owners," Jones said, "and that is loan companies do not render your property for you. You, as the property owner, render that property as its owner."

Plane Crashes Take At Least Nine Lives

MANILA — (AP) — Hibok Hibok volcano in the central Philippines erupted today, killing 141 villagers. Rescue workers, clawing frantically in smoking ashes which covered half a dozen settlements, expressed fear the casualty toll would reach several hundred. The Red Cross reported the toll and said the figure was growing hourly.

Scores of Filipinos burned by red hot ash or streams of lava were treated at makeshift hospitals set up on Capiguin island. The volcano blew its top like an atomic explosion. It spread a layer of thick ash over half a dozen sitios, crossroads clusters of farm houses. It's still smoking. RED HOT ASHES

The Philippines weather bureau seismologist said about 4 square miles on Camiguin island was covered by red hot ashes. The seismologist reported the ash and noxious fumes limited the rescuers to working on the outer fringes of the volcano's destruction. Miss Bonifacia Caid, Red Cross representative on Camiguin, appealed for plasma and other medical aid.

A U. S. air force amphibian plane will leave early Wednesday with needed supplies and several doctors. A U. S. Navy seaplane will follow with Red Cross workers and more supplies. Land planes cannot reach the island directly. The nearest air base is 40 miles away on Mindanao island.

The city hall at Mambajao, principal city of Camiguin, was transformed into the primary emergency hospital to treat burned victims. The weather bureau seismologist joined the Red Cross in a plea for help.

Probe Slated In Student Uprising

LEXINGTON, Va. — (AP) — A sweeping investigation was underway today into a noisy and destructive uprising by students at Virginia Military Institute. Before the Sunday night Monday morning affair was over, the historic "West Point of the South" saw windows and lights shattered, furniture burned, property destroyed and some rooms flooded with water.

The cadets — wearied by the 40 minutes of "protesting" — went to classes early yesterday with only about two hours sleep after a five-mile, three-hour hike to "cool them off" and discipline them. Some cadets termed the damage heavy. A VMI spokesman said, however, that it was "not extensive." He said the cadets will bear the cost of repairs.

The spokesman said there had been some recent "resentment by cadets" to a "general tightening up" of VMI regulations. He added: "The disorder presumably was in protest of this tightening up. It is presumed that it was precipitated in protest over enforcement of a regulation concerning the time cadets were required to return to barracks on the night of a dance held the preceding weekend."

But cadets themselves said the uprising came as the result of the strict "bed checks" by one officer. They said they waited until the officer, not identified, again was officer on the duty. That turn came Sunday night. Cadets estimate 75 percent of the 900 students participated in the protest. School officials placed the total at about 200 students. Here are a few of the things that happened.

Some 100 windows were broken, a fire was built against the door of the tactical officers' headquarters; furniture was moved from the officer of the days' office and part of it was burned.

Elections in Germany Cause UN Furore

PARIS — (AP) — Over violent Russian objections United Nations special political committee today voted to ask representatives of East and West Germany to take part in its debates on all-German elections. Russia's Jacob Malik had told the committee earlier that the question of German elections was none of the United Nations' business and the Soviet Union could not favor extending an invitation to the Germans to take part in the discussions. Malik's attitude appeared to rule out any chance of East Germany accepting an invitation, since the Communist-dominated East German regime closely follows the Soviet line. Pakistan had proposed that the invitations be issued.

U. S. Plans Stiff Demand To Hungary

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States is planning to serve a vigorous demand on Communist Hungary, possibly today, for the prompt release of four American airmen and an Air Force cargo plane. The demand was drafted yesterday by Moscow, belatedly disclosed that the unarmed plane, missing for nearly two weeks, had been forced by Soviet fighters to land in Hungary. The note was sent to George Abbott, in charge of the American legation in Budapest, for delivery to the Hungarian foreign office. Diplomatic officials forecast a separate protest might go later to Moscow, in view of the direct Russian role in the latest episode to embitter American relations with the Soviet bloc.

"We have been playing a good deal of two-handed Canasta," writes an Atlanta correspondent, "and we don't seem to pay much attention to the discard pile. We play your variety of the game, in which you draw two cards from the stock pile but discard only one card."

"It seems to us that with your hand growing larger all the time because of the double draw and single discard, you don't really discard the discard pile. Is that what the experts find also?"

Before answering the question, I want to point out that this is an excellent game for two players. Many of my married friends play two-handed card games for an hour or two nearly every night of the week.

They keep switching around from Canasta to Gin Rummy and to Cribbage, Piquet, Casino, and other games—but they keep returning to Canasta because it is so fine a game.

As my correspondent points out, your hand increases by one card at each turn whenever you draw from the stock pile. It isn't necessary, therefore, to win the discard pile in order to accumulate enough cards for the two canastas that are required before you can meld out.

Nevertheless, most experts do struggle for the discard pile. The reason is that the discard pile enables you to add a large number of cards to your hand, whereas the stock pile will give you only one additional card.

Quantity isn't everything to be sure. If the discard pile consists of six or seven cards, of which only one or two are slightly useful, it isn't worth the trouble of picking up. In that situation it is better to draw from the stock pile in the hope of getting one or two useful cards.

Even if the cards you draw from the stock pile turn out to be useless, at least they won't clutter up your hand as much as the four or five useless cards you would have obtained from the discard pile.

When the discard pile contains eight or more cards, it is almost always useful. This is particularly true at the beginning of a hand. The player who wins the first pile has an excellent chance of controlling the pile for the rest of that hand.

Mind you, this doesn't leave the opponent helpless. The opponent can concentrate on building up his hand, and he may meld out before any damage has been done. But occasionally the opponent is slow in melding out, and then the player who controls the discard pile runs up a big score.

Search Widens For Missing Great-Grandmother

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—Searchers used prayer and a fortune teller's map today in a forlorn hope of finding a 76-year-old great-grandmother missing for two days.

Mrs. Ann Bragg disappeared from her home on rugged Double Oak mountain Sunday morning. No trace of her has been found despite an intensive hunt by three light planes and ground parties that totalled 350 persons at one time.

Birmingham police also said they were investigating the possibility that Mrs. Bragg may have flagged a bus to Birmingham, 15 miles northeast of her home, and caught another bus bound for Washington.

Relatives say she has two sons, Irvin and Arthur Bragg, believed to be living in or near Alexandria, Va.

The fortune teller's map was brought into use last night after all except about 20 of the searchers quit the hunt following heavy rains in the area.

Relatives of the missing woman said they appealed to the fortune teller at Goodwater, Ala., for help. They added that she sat down and sketched a map ending at a sheer cliff but said she was sure the aged woman had not fallen from it.

Most of the searchers attended a prayer service conducted by Rev. George Holmes, a Baptist minister, at the home of Mrs. Bragg's son, Ernest.

Strict Immigration Laws Demanded

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Labor Dept. had under consideration today a proposal that immigration laws be strengthened to clamp down on use of Mexicans as hired help on American farms.

A proposal that penalties be imposed on those who wilfully harbor, conceal or transport aliens who are illegally in this country was advanced by farm spokesmen from all parts of the country who met here last week with Secretary of Labor Maurice J. Tobin.

Serving as an advisory committee to the Labor Dept.'s farm placement service, the farm representatives recommended the rounding up of illegal aliens in industry as well as agriculture.

Referring to the farm labor situation generally, the committee called for a program "to more effectively utilize the domestic farm labor force and provide for legal foreign workers when necessary to supplement the domestic labor supply."

Tobin told the committee that the high crop goals for 1952 would make the farm labor situation tighter than this year. More than 150,000 Mexicans entered the country legally to help on farms this year. The proposal under study is aimed at only those entering the country illegally.

Communists Claim Capture Of Islands

TOKYO (AP)—The Communists said Red troops had recaptured three Allied-held islands about 100 miles north of Paralell 38 off Korea's west coast.

A communique broadcast by the North Koreans' Pyongyang radio said more than 500 Allied soldiers were killed.

It identified the islands as Taewha, Sowha and Yoi. The three islets were in the Yellow sea midway between the 39th and 40th parallels, some 40 miles southeast of the mouth of the Yalu river. The largest, Taewha, is no more than two miles in diameter. The others appear to be less than one mile across.

There was no immediate Allied comment.

Sunday the Allies offered to swap all islands it holds off North Korea in exchange for Communist concessions on a program for supervising an armistice.

The Pyongyang broadcast said the three recaptured islands were occupied by South Koreans and

The Song Of Christmas

St. Francis of Assisi is considered by many authorities to be the originator of the Christmas carol of familiar type, though not of the hymn carol.

The story goes that St. Francis one Christmas Eve presented a nativity scene in the little church in the town of Greccio, near Assisi. Priests and people viewed the scene. Priests sang new songs, clarifying the meaning of the incarnation.

From this time forth, carol singing found its way into miracle and mystery plays and Nativity celebrations, laying the foundations for our own interest in Christmas carol singing.

Mrs. Shaw's Bequest Wasted; Irish Don't Need Improving

NEW YORK — (AP) — Why did the late Mrs. George Bernard Shaw leave $283,000 to teach the Irish people "the social graces?"

If a London court now considering the bequest does rule it is valid, how should the Irish spend the money? Do they, as Mrs. Shaw intimated, need lessons in "self control, elocution, deportment, the arts of personal contact, and social intercourse?"

These questions have stumped a number of the Ould Sod's ex-terminative sons here.

James McGurkin, president of general of the American Irish Historical society, suggested that Mrs. Shaw made the bequest because her playwright husband had been painfully shy and awkward in public. But as for the Irish as a race, well, says McGurkin:

"Although Mrs. Shaw was herself born in County Cork, I'm afraid that her knowledge of her native land was either very defective or her use of its dis-tinguished."

"During her own early years in London the most brilliant talkers at the English dinner table were Irish — Oscar Wilde, Justin McCarthy and T. P. O'Connor."

"Curiously enough, Shaw himself was an outstanding exception. According to Mrs. William Morris, wife of the poet, he was the only awkward and reticent Irishman she had ever met."

And then McGurkin delivered this verbal shillelagh:

"My own suggestion about the request is that it be used in England to promote a sounder knowledge of Irish history, life and character. For anyone who knows Ireland is well aware that in the arts of deportment, courtesy and natural eloquence the Irish people need neither advice nor instruction."

A reporter who entered an Irishman's bar and brought up the subject was first made to show his credentials to remove any suspicion he was a British spy.

He subsequently noted down the following observations by the patrons:

"The whole thing must be a fraud. Now, who ever heard of an English judge handing down a decision that would give $283,000 to Ireland?"

"Self control, is it? I'd like to see anybody try to teach me self control."

Oh, pshaw, Mrs. Shaw. It's hopeless. The Irish like themselves as they are — shy though they seem to the rest of the world."

Workers Warned On Social Security Cards

Social Security administration have warned that any person who plans to work during the Christmas holidays must have a social security card.

The administration said that anyone who works for wages in private business or industry must show his social security card to the employer promptly.

Applications for cards for persons who have never held them or who have lost their card may be had at the local office of the Texas Employment commission. It must then be sent to the Social Security administration, Amarillo. The card will be returned within a few days.

A representative from the Amarillo social security office is in Pampa at the Texas Employment commission each Monday morning.

PRESSURE FOOTBALL, NO. 1 University Of Oregon Needs Outside Help In Fast Company; Aiken Gets It, Gets Fired

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

PORTLAND, Ore. — (NEA) — Oregon and Oregon State must have outside help to keep up with the pressure football Joneses.

Too many good boys go out of the state.

Jim Aiken was a lusty creature who whipped, cussed and ridiculed his charges. I don't believe he was ever popular. He could keep a winner going, but if things began to get tough he couldn't hold them together.

Coach Aiken got into trouble at the University of Oregon and with the Pacific Coast Conference two years ago when they discovered that his P.E. 190, a physical education class at summer school, was mostly the football squad getting in early licks for fall practice. Oregon got a stiff fine for this one.

The purity code says the staffer must first contact the school. Aiken barged in and let them know they were wanted, and was too honest to deny that he was doing it. Aiken's son married the daughter of the president of the University. They once said he had a tenure for life.

$15,000 FINE THREATENED

He resigned at the conference meeting in Spokane last June after first jumping a plane for Eugene and talking to the president.

The talk was that the conference was going to assess Oregon the heaviest fine in history — $15,000 or more — for the alert coach's activities.

Twenty-four of 64 Oregon players are from outside the state. The new fullback find, Tom Novikov, brother of Mad Russian Lou of minor league baseball fame, is from Los Angeles. Ten states other than Oregon are represented. Ten of the knocker-downers come from California.

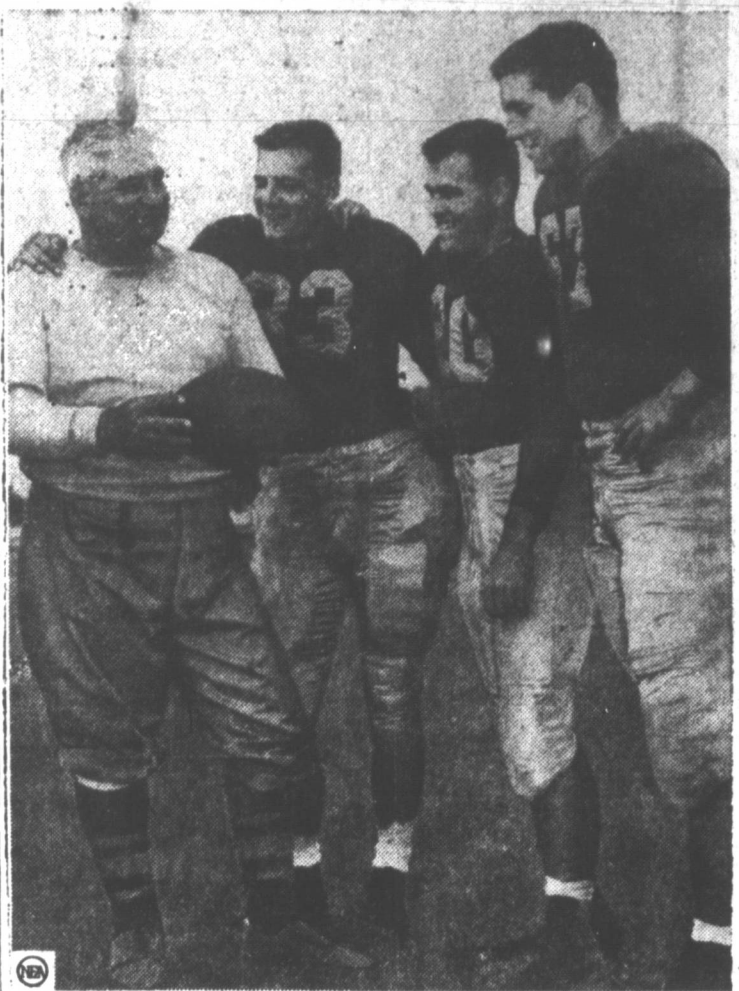

Bill Bates, a six-foot-two-inch, 215-pound sophomore tackle, is from the "neighboring" state of Alabama, and has a year of junior college experience.

Oregon and Oregon State are in stiff competition with what amounts to a very small outlet for good material, so both work out of the state quite a bit. Both have taken junior college or high school players turned down by California, Stanford and even Southern California. Oregon State offers a fair agricultural course, so can sell some of the big farm hands from the South.

Forty of Oregon State's 71 destroyers come from afar.

Washington gets the bulk of its players from the state, and they grow some large ones. A good player, with grades, has little choice. Washington has little competition from other schools around there. Washington State College, of late, doesn't give the Huskies much of a battle, not when Seattle alumni go after a guy.

Jimmy Phelan and Pest Welch combed the Chicago area when they were there. Phelan organized a farm system. A prominent Chicago surgeon shipped him raw beef on the hoof by the carload. Phelan farmed the lads out to neighboring junior colleges and normal schools, the boys being eligible upon enrolling at

Washington. The plan still is followed, though not on such a mass scale.

In 1949, someone acting for Washington did a slick recruiting job at Campton, Calif. Junior College, a Southern California athletic subsidiary at the time coached by Tay Brown, the old Trojan tackle. Hugh McElhenry, the remarkable fullback, was picked off in this one. Oregon got Halfback Bill Fell and a couple more of this extraordinary Compton squad.

Seventeen of Washington's 57 destructive young men are from the Chicago district.

Washington also gets boys from southern California. It has the darndest organization of alumni down there you ever saw. I don't know how they duck the purity regulation, but other than that $5000 fine of some years ago they seem to have done so.

Remember this, in connection: Lots of those kids down there are pretty ripe to come up here, anyway, which is how Oregon and Oregon State land so many of them.

BETTER CHANCE IN NORTH

They figure the big schools will have such big squads that they must be phenomena to make them, and that by going to smaller schools they'll have a better chance. That's how the brilliant passer, Norm Van Brocklin, came to Oregon. Add a real organization like Washington's to give 'em a push, and there you are.

Last year a southern California newspaper, in Pasadena, it mentioned a list of the Washington organizers in that community, and it was a long one.

There is an influential group in Berkeley called Bear Backers. These men sponsor a player, agree to "father" him while he's at the University of California. Of course, they're not supposed to help him financially except to guarantee a job. But you know the gimmick. "Son, you probably need a little spending money, clobber." And who can't do that from buying the block and tackler a suit, or even an automobile?

This organized plan—I think a Waldorf baby — is the slickest one I know of to beat the sanity code, or whatever you call it. Pappy knows best.

NEXT: Carnegie Tech had the answer.

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS — (AP) — An all-star football game in Texas doesn't have to have high school coaches or administrators working with it or furnishing public school facilities to run into the Inter-scholastic League's ban.

The Milk Bowl, a game for kids 100 pounds and under, has felt the league's new rule which says no one connected with an interscholastic League member school can have any connection whatsoever with an all-star game, nor can public school facilities or equipment be used.

The Milk Bowl will be played at Marlin next Saturday. It had been planned to use the Marlin High school band but under the rule, voted in by the schools this year, it can't play at the game or else Marlin High school would be subject to suspension from the league. That would be high school student body participation in the staging of an all-star game.

So, despite the fact that the boys playing in the Milk Bowl are not under the jurisdiction of the league (the league takes over only when a boy is in the ninth grade or above), the band won't be able to furnish the music for the affair.

Perhaps the Oil Bowl at Wichita Falls now, can feel better about the situation — at least it knows that the rule will apply to everybody and that there are no loopholes.

DISTRICT 5

Speaking of the interscholastic League, District 5 of the Class AAAA football plan has declined to vote Texarkana in next year. Texarkana, without sufficient enrollment to be an AAAA member, has to be voted in by the upper classification order to compete. It was last year, but this time it didn't get the unanimous vote of the district, thus will have to compete in Class AAAA next season.

District 5 schools said they voted against it because of the long trip involved in playing football. It was too expensive, they claimed, and it hurt school spirit: the student body wasn't making the trips. Besides the crowds weren't big enough.

District 5 appears to be the only one with such troubles, however. Take District 1-AAAA where Abilene, Amarillo, Borger, Pampa, Lubbock, Odessa and San Angelo are members. Those trips are just as long but here's the record:

This season Pampa played to more than 50,000. Lubbock more than 100,000. Odessa over 100,000.

Earl Scudday of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal observes that the only drawback to the new setup is that it was created with only 52 schools in the entire state, is that two or three very good teams will be eliminated in district competition each year — teams that undoubtedly would be winners in other districts. He is speaking of District 1 where only one team — San Angelo — lost to an outside school this season.

But this situation can't be helped. There just aren't enough schools with 1,000 enrollment to bring an even distribution of stronger teams — and besides, some districts always will be that way under any set-up. There were such districts even when schools with 500 enrollment or more made a class of 100 in the upper division of the league.

BROWNWOOD STAR

One of the best college football prospects in the state would be Leonard Fry, star back of Brownwood High school — that is, in 1952. A mile is 1,760 yards and two miles 3,520. Well Fry, in two seasons, has made 3,562 yards passing and running. And he has another one to go.

This season was really something. He gained 652 yards carrying the ball and 1289 passing. He never was thrown for a loss on a running play. His average of completions in passing was 577.

Fry also kicked 25 of 34 extra point attempts. And he also did the kicking off. And he averaged 33.34 yards punting 41 times.

"He may make a fine coach of me," says Al Houston, the Brownwood mentor who doesn't want it known that "we did not use him in the concessions stand at the half."

ANOTHER BOY

And there's a youngster at Allen Academy who should fit in with some Southwest Conference football team.

He's Bob Anderson and, playing with a team that won only four games out of nine this year, he completed 97 passes for 929 yards and five touchdowns. Besides being a standout passer, Anderson is an excellent ball-handler and broken field runner. He averaged 6.4 yards per try carrying the ball.

You judge a football player on what he can do against the good teams. Well, Anderson passed this test and how! Allen was beaten 54-0 by Navarro County Junior college, the conference champion, but Anderson completed 14 of 15 passes.

He weighs 170 pounds, is fast and a smart quarterback.

Big Seven Has Good Cage Open

LAWRENCE, Kas. — (AP) — Kansas University, favored to take the Big Seven basketball crown this season, won its opening game here last night from Baylor, 47-46.

It also was Baylor's opening game. Both teams played ragged ball.

Clyde Lovellette, KU's all-America center, collected 28 points for scoring honors.

Kansas State combined a sharp fast break and rugged play off the backboards to trounce Ohio State, 75-54, at Manhattan.

Of four Big Seven teams in action last night, Oklahoma was

Shamrock's Irishmen Place Five Men On All-District 1-AA Dream Eleven

SHAMROCK — (Special)

Shamrock's Irishmen, winners of both the 1-AA title and the bi-district playoff, placed five men on the District 1-AA grid team, chosen by coaches of the five leagues.

Van Pennington, pass-smatching sensation, landed at end, while Bobby Campbell, other Irish end, was reported to have tied for one of the four spots allotted, but then left off.

Big Dwayne Hager, 8-foot-5 Irish terror, landed at one of the tackle slots, and the Irish hit with both regular guards — Mack Terry, 180-pound punt-blocker, and Eugene Collinsworth, 175-pounder. Both Terry and Collinsworth were listed as all-district and all-regional in 1950, when the Irish were in the old District 2-A with Wellington and Memphis.

YORK UNANIMOUS

Billy York, named all-regional last year, took the center position with unanimous support in the league. York also was told as honorable mention in 1950 for all-state center.

One of the biggest disappointments to Irish fans was in not landing any in the backfield. Irish fans felt that Jimmy Pennington and Don Carlton, halfbacks, should have hit. Both knocked off 74 points, Pennington 100 yards rushing and Carlton about 800. Reports from the session said Jimmy Pennington was tied with Buster Hodges of Phillips at one point, but was later left out in favor of Hodges.

OTHER SELECTIONS

Committee members selected eight backs, two centers, and four each of guards, tackles and ends.

Other selections gave Phillips and Dumas five each. Winners were: Rusty Lammus and Byron Engram, Dumas; and Clois Howells and Van Pennington, ends; Bud Carter, Phillips; Hager, Donald Cooper of Perryton and Chester Dye of Dalhart, tackles. Dye died in a crash on the way home from the Shamrock-Dalhart clash.

Billy York; and Buddy Gray, Phillips, centers.

Mack Terry, Eugene Collinsworth, Shamrock and Jack Gauding, Dumas, Dennis Carter, Perryton, Guards.

Backs are Cessun and Ritter, Dalhart; Alexander, Hodges and Wells, Phillips; B. R. Pletcher, Perryton; Berry and Mowrey, Dumas.

Only Three Southwest Conference Fives Remain Undeclared After Two Weeks' Play

By the Associated Press

Here it is only the second week of the Southwest Conference basketball campaign and only three teams are undefeated and one of those hasn't played yet.

Last night found five of the seven members in action, three in inter-sectional games, and Texas State 48-43 and Rice took a 68-60 trouncing from Louisiana State.

Texas A&M, defending tri-champion, went down in its opening game of the season to North Texas State 46-43.

FROGS WIN

Texas Christian, which with

Texas is the only undefeated team left, lashed Abilene Christian 76-43. It was the Christians' second straight win. TCU tied A&M and Texas for the title last season.

Arkansas, Rice and Texas Christian were the only teams playing last week. Arkansas and Rice each won one game and lost one.

Texas controlled the jumps, rebounds and free throws to down Oklahoma, using superior height to advantage. Ted Price, the big Texas center, led the scoring with 13 points.

All-America Clyde Lovellette was tough for Baylor to handle as Kansas downed the Bears in their opening game. Lovellette flipped in 23 points. Norman Mullins got 24 for Baylor but didn't have as much help as Lovellette.

The score was tied twice in the Rice-LSU game but after the first period the Owls never could get ahead. Joe Dean rammed in 22 points in leading the Tiger attack.

AGS LOSE OVERTIME

North Texas State beat A&M in an overtime game, getting six points in the extra period. The Aggies led for three periods but when all-conference center Buddy Davis and Leroy Miskch fouled out, the Eagles took over.

Big George McLeod netted 16 points to pace Texas Christian in its victory over ACC, the

Guerilla Grid Affair Scheduled

A football banquet honoring the 1951 Pampa Guerilla football team has been scheduled for the Senior High school cafeteria on the night of Dec. 21.

It is hoped that jackets will have arrived at that time for distribution to the winners.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT — Mrs. Horace McBee, 408 N. Somerville, is pictured with a collection of dolls for whom she has been making costumes in recent weeks. The dolls include Jack and Jill, Little Bo Peep, Red Riding Hood and many other favorites from nursery rhymes. Mrs. McBee crochets the doll costumes including hats and shoes. "The work is long and tedious," Mrs. McBee explains, but she enjoys making the dolls for children, and she likes having a part in bringing Christmas gifts to so many youngsters. Mrs. McBee is accomplished in other handiwork, and also did the painting in the photograph above. (News Photo)

Youth Problems Discussed At Wheeler Meeting

WHEELER — (Special) — Youth Conservation was the program of the Wednesday Study club which met recently in the home of Mrs. Floyd Pennington.

"Listening to youth is more important than telling them" was the point brought out by the leader, Mrs. Max Wiley. Talks by Mrs. Frank Wofford and Mrs. George Porter pointed to some local problems among young people.

Following the talks, a round table discussion of local youth problems and possible solutions was held and the organization of a Youth Council proposed. Mrs. H. M. Wiley presided over the business session in the absence of Mrs. Harold Nash, president.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Frank Walker, Mrs. J. I. Malloy and Mrs. Bob Rogers.

Ruth Millett

"There's no happiness like being in love and I'd like to be in love again," a Hollywood actress is quoted as announcing to the world.

Any woman with that idea will never be happy for long. She isn't grown-up enough for lasting happiness. For the happiness that comes from the state of "being in love" is a fleeting thing.

The woman who expects that kind of happiness to last is always being disillusioned with one man — she gets married — and looking longingly toward a new start with another man.

Lasting happiness comes to the woman who doesn't expect "being in love" to make her happy. But who, when she falls in love and marries, makes up her mind to try to make her husband happy. She sticks to him through good times and bad, and to find her own happiness through worthwhile use she makes of her own life.

The trouble is, there are a lot of women who share the adolescent attitude of the actress quoted above. And a lot of men, too.

They don't usually make sound marriages. They want eternal romance and when they find they can't have it with one person, they cast their eyes around to look for someone else to give them that "being in love" feeling.

They don't see that they are to blame for their own unhappiness and broken marriages. They think each time the "being in love" feeling wears a little less that they have been gypped — that the only way for them to find happiness again is to fall in love again, this time with the "right" person.

They don't need to fall in love again. All such people really need is to grow up and face the fact that there is a lot more to living and loving than "being in love."

CHRISTMAS TREE

You can make artificial snow for your Christmas tree with soapuds. Use a minimum of water, whip up thick dry soapuds with an egg beater or electric mixer. Apply them to the tree and they will cling indefinitely. If you still want to sprinkle powder ed "snow", use soapuds as a base.

Every optometrist must have an eye for business.

CHRISTMAS MAGIC — These two 4-H girls are making corsages of Christmas bulbs, pipe cleaners, bits of ribbon and aluminum foil. Some of the girls are topping packages with the festive corsages, and others are giving them as gifts. County 4-H advisor Ruby Poits is teaching the girls to make the corsages. Citizenship Earned Hard Way In Odessa

ODESSA — (AP)— Sore muscles and blistered hands were marks of good citizenship in Odessa today.

This West Texas oil and ranch center staged a mammoth clean-up drive yesterday in an effort to halt an epidemic of polio sweeping through the city and Ector county.

A total of 62 persons have suffered from polio since the first of the year—including three new cases reported yesterday. Nine have died.

Also prompting the cleanup were 53 cases of infant diarrhea which developed last week. The clean-up campaign turned out thousands of citizens in work clothes. Many stores closed. Others operated with skeleton crews of women. Neighboring towns sent 120 trucks and drivers.

Housewives furnished hot coffee, food and water for the workers.

Between 500 and 1000 truck loads of trash were hauled to two emergency dump grounds outside the city and burned.

Hundreds of children have been evacuated from the disease-stricken city since the siege began. Yesterday only 4,780 of the 9,885 enrolled pupils attended school.

There have been 50 cases in the city in November and December. Two were reported elsewhere in the county.

The new cases yesterday were: Letia Ann Searcy, 18 months and Mary Anne Harris 2 1/2, both of Odessa, and Mrs. C. Robertson, 29, Tenwell, Tex., about a mile southwest of Odessa.

Refugees Due In L. A. Today

EL PASO — (AP)— Alexander Ranezy, the one millionth displaced person and his family were due in Los Angeles today for a second try at settling down in the United States.

The Czech refugees landed in Midland, Tex., on Nov. 18, sponsored by oil geologist William Y. Penn. However, after two weeks they decided to move to the West Coast.

Penn said they left because they had "a deal more suited to their needs." He sponsored them with the understanding Ranezy would do gardening and his wife house work.

L. Y. dia, Ranezy's 21-year-old daughter, said here yesterday that Penn was planning to sponsor another DP family. She said there had been no misunderstanding between her family and Penn.

The Catholic Resettlement organization said yesterday the Ranezys were moving because of better opportunities for the family.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Watch All Bidding If You Want To Win

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
A strong contingent of Canadian players usually attends our national bridge tournaments, and this year the Canadians will undoubtedly turn out in large numbers since the scene of the national championship is Detroit.

The hand shown today was bid and played by two Canadian experts in our 1949 national championship, and it has stayed in my mind for two years because of the very neat bidding point involved.

At most tables South decided to risk a contract of three no-trump. North usually raised clubs, and South then took the plunge in the hope that the opponents would open the wrong suit or that even their opening lead would not give them more than four immediate tricks.

Whenever three no-trump was tried, it went down. A spade opening was pretty automatic from either side of the table, and it always provided five immediate tricks to set the three no-trump contract.

At one table, Mimil Roncarelli, of Montreal, held the South hand and decided to try for game by making the invitational bid of three clubs. John Wiser, also of Montreal, responded with three hearts to show the location of his side strength.

This was a highly informative bid—not only for what it said but also for what it failed to say. Wiser promised heart strength with his bid, but he also denied spade strength. If he had held strength in two suits, he would have gone to three no-trump instead of three hearts.

Miss Roncarelli saw the handwriting on the wall. Her partner

Shamrock Seniors Present Program

SHAMROCK — (Special)— Seniors presented a variety program at the high school auditorium Thursday. Kenneth Laycock, sponsor, is also assembly program director for the school.

Billy Bob Laaster, B. D. Harrington and Ronnie Alexander opened the program with an instrumental trio number, followed by portrayal of Cousin Minnie Pearl and Willie of the "Grand Ole Opry," played by Pat Cooper and J. W. Strickland.

Billy Parsons contributed two funny jokes, then big Dwayne Hager, Irish football tackle, appeared as a child on a quiz program, against Colleene Payne, a tiny girl contestant. Their mothers were played by Leea Bettie Morgan and Patsy Brown.

Laaster then appeared as a guitarist, playing "Something Old and Something New."

Other numbers included Fannie Brown and Ronnie Alexander.

Northern California Lashed By Storms

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP)— Another storm blew into Northern California Monday but less severe than the gale which lashed the area Saturday.

Rain started falling late last night from San Francisco Bay north. High winds were expected today as the new storm moved inland and southward.

Northern California still was repairing power and communication lines and clearing debris left by Saturday's deluge, the heaviest ever reported in some areas. Two duck hunters were drowned and several others endangered by the storm.

Golden Gate bridge engineers said the broadside buffeting did not damage the structure, worst longest single suspension span.

"It is in perfect alignment," said Bridge General Manager James E. Ricketts. "If the bridge can take a gale like that, it can take anything."

Ricketts said the bridge was closed nearly three hours Saturday night as a precautionary measure to protect motorists in the 48-mile wind. He said instruments recorded a center swing of 24 inches to each side.

Accident Results In $500 Damage

An accident yesterday at 5:45 p. m. at E. Francis and Starkweather resulted in damage to two vehicles estimated by police at $500.

Involved were D. J. Hopkins, Box 855, and Carl J. Mayberry, 712 S. Reid.

Officers said Mayberry failed to give the right of way at the intersection where there was a stop sign and was in collision with the other car traveling east on Francis.

Mayberry was given a ticket for failure to grant right of way.

BOMBERS TO RETURN

FORT WORTH — (AP)— B-36 bombers which landed Casablanca, Morocco, Monday after a 5,000 mile non-stop flight from here will return to Texas "within a few days."

A Carswell Air Force base spokesman said last night the exact time of return could not be given but it would be soon.
