wise said he was certain Al Reyes — key witness in a Murder, Inc., slaying investigated by O'Dwyer, was murdered while being guarded in a hotel room by six policemen.
O'Dwyer told the committee last week he thought Reyes died in a fall from a window.
Reyes was to have been the state's chief witness against Albert Anastasia, a suspect in two murders who went free after Reyes' death. Anastasia was released last night from a Passaic, N.J., hospital and committee officials said he may be recalled for testimony.
He was on hand for several days during the group's New York hearings but when they got around to calling him he was suffering from an eye infection and was excused. O'Dwyer has called him one of the key figures in Murder, Inc.
Tobey also disclosed yesterday that the crime probes will go to New England, Maryland and other parts of the country if the committee's life is extended.
One place that especially needs investigating, Tobey said, is Washington, D.C.

"TERRIBLY EMBARRASSED BY HOT FLUSHES"
But I Get Wonderful Relief Now With Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

"I hated the very thought of change of life. So many women I know from 38 to 52 years suffer from nervous, irritable, weak, tired feelings due to this functional middle-age period peculiar to women—the time when fertility ebbs away. I was terribly embarrassed by hot flushes, but I find that now I can get amazing relief by taking Lydia Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms. Lydia Pinkham's Compound also relieves miserable high-strung, cranky feelings when due to this cause."
"I find that by taking Lydia Pinkham's Compound faithfully, it helps build up resistance against such middle-age distress. I can well understand why it's called 'the woman's friend.' Me for Lydia Pinkham's Compound every day."
P.S. Pinkham's Compound is very tasty in a little fruit juice. Or you may prefer Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS with added iron. Handy to carry in your purse.

Acheson is expected to urge the 21-nation foreign ministers' conference to adopt a resolution directing the inter-American defense board to prepare strategic plans for hemisphere defense. These would provide the outline to guide development of the aid program.
He also plans to urge the ministers to stimulate action by their governments to prepare military units to help the UN General Assembly deal with any future aggression which, like that in Korea, required unified action.
The kind of military situation which the U. S. is trying to forestall in this hemisphere developed in World War Two. At that time 140,000 U. S. officers and men had to be diverted from other duties to guard the Panama Canal approaches and South Atlantic area against possible German or Japanese action.
During the last war the Central and South American countries, with the exception of Argentina, received lend-lease assistance. Since the war, however, except for some surplus military equipment they have had to obtain whatever they needed from the U. S. through purchases.

Closet in any or Basementless Home

By MR. FIX
Written for NEA Service

Not long ago we suggested a few ways to hang a few of your wife's cleaning things alongside the cellar stairs to get them out of the way and tidy up the old homestead a bit.

A fine idea, commented a reader, but how about all the new homesteads built these days without cellars, and therefore without cellar stairs?

The answer to that is a housekeeper's closet. It can be as easy as putting in a few hooks or hangers, but it's a project you can build yourself some nice rainy weekend, thereby keeping out of mischief and making your wife happy.

What you need, besides lumber, screws, nails and tools, is a corner a little under four feet wide and a little less than a foot and a half deep. The dimensions in the drawing are not hard and fast; you can vary them to suit the space you have, and you can even build the closet right up to the ceiling if you want to.

First, build the framework out of 1x2 lumber — four uprights and four pieces at top, three braces about halfway down, three at the bottom, and a single piece across the back (for a hook strip) about a third of the way from the top.

Now put in the shelves. The arrangement here is variable, too; you may want to work it out a little differently to fit a particular vacuum cleaner or other gadget. You can use three-quarter-inch lumber, or three-eighth-inch plywood, but the latter may give you trouble on the two big shelves.

Next apply the outside panels and ceiling of three-eighths-inch plywood. You won't need a back panel if you screw the rear uprights into the wall, and you may or may not need a ceiling, depending on height. But if you're in a rented house, put the back panel on the ceiling on anyway; then you can take your closet with you when you move.

The doors should be heavier — about one and an eighth inches thick, because you'll want to put hooks in them and hang up things. If you insist on plywood, you won't argue, but be sure brace the doors on the inside with 1x2s. And in either case, use three hinges in each door so they won't sag.

After you've adapted the sketches to your own needs and drawn up your list of lumber:

Longer Life Expectancy Is Changing Home Designs

The life expectancy of males has increased 20 years since 1900, and of females about 23 years. This lengthening of human life is largely the result of advanced medical science, better nutrition and higher living standards. It has far-reaching implications for government and industry.

Among its important effects is the need for changes in housing standards. It has far-reaching implications for the comfort and safety of older persons. Any satisfactory home environment must provide for the livability of the older members of the family.

Protection must be afforded against falls and other mechanical injuries. There must be facilities for getting about the house and performing ordinary household tasks without undue physical fatigue. Fire hazards must be reduced to a minimum.

Construction and design of new homes and of older ones that are modernized should take these needs into consideration, it is suggested by the Construction Research Bureau, national clearing house for building information. Elimination of stairways, for instance, will prevent frequent climbing which leads to exhaustion. This is one of the valuable features of the ranch house in which all rooms are on one floor.

In a building of more than one story, ramps are less fatiguing to older persons than stairs. A ramp should have about a 12-degree angle of ascent with floor covering of non-skid surface. A continuous handrail that can be grasped easily is recommended for ramps more than two feet long. The handrail should be placed at a height of 32 inches. Ramps more than 44 inches wide need handrails at both sides.

For the outside entrance, gently sloping walks or ramps are preferable to steps. The slope should be graded to one foot rise for each 8 feet of length. A uniform, non-slip surface is needed, comparable in traction to sand float or scored cement.

The entrance level of platform porch or terrace should be about even with the inside floor which is stepped onto directly. This area should be adequately lighted, preferably with a minimum fixture that gives down-light on the entrance level and is shielded, preferably with a built-in face should be of non-slip masonry.

The house design should provide for easy traffic flow with a minimum of obstructions and abrupt turns. With a carefully located hallway there will be little necessity for going through one room to reach another.

Some elderly persons require requirements, you can have the lumber supply house cut it to your specifications, although it makes the price a little higher. Whether you do it that way or cut it up yourself, if you're ambitious you'll double the order. Then some other weekend you can build another closet for your garden tools or for your cellar workshop, and save a lot of time.

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind. — (AP) — Climb out of that foxhole, soldier, your bath is coming up. The Army Quartermaster Corps has set up the 519th bath company for training here to provide front-line baths for the fighting men.

Czechs Observe Time Of Prayer
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia — (AP) — People throughout Czechoslovakia observed two minutes of silence Saturday by order of the interior ministry, which had told them to observe in that way "they will fight to peace."

The gesture also, as in the days before the Communist ascendancy, was in memory of the nation's war dead.

ORIGINATED BOX
The novelist, Anthony Trollope, a British postal employe, is believed to have originated the corner mail box, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

There is no internal mail system among the 5,000 people on the island of St. Helena, but a large part of the government revenue comes from the sale of postage stamps to collectors.

The Davis has a narrow rectangular plan with a gable room which presents the most economical framing with consequent savings in carpenter labor. Main supports in this plan run through the center allowing use of short lengths.

First floor provides a kitchen-dining room, living room, two bedrooms and bath, with two more bedrooms and bath on second floor. All rooms are well supplied with closets.

Other features include full basement, picture window, fireplace with book shelves, open stairs, linen cabinet and recessed tub.

Exterior finish is siding, asphalt shingles, brick chimney, concrete steps, iron railings, shutter and flower box.

Dimensions are 40 feet by 24 feet. Floor area is 960 square feet while the cubage totals 21,120 cubic feet.

For further information about The Davis, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn.

Building Associations Agree To Housing Bill Compromise

State building associations have agreed to a compromise on the controversial public housing bill pending in the Texas Senate and House of Representatives.

The bill, as outlined by advocates in the House and Senate, would permit city governing bodies to institute low-cost rental housing in their city.

Groups have opposed the bill, saying the increase in taxes to income-tax paying individuals as well as property owners would be affected.

These groups have agreed to the following: 1. That the law if passed, will not affect commitments already operating. 2. The City governing body must advertise notice for two weeks that it intends to enter into a contract with the Public Housing Authority.

During this two weeks, if 5 percent or 2,000 total, of the voters present a signed petition the governing body must bring the proposition to a vote of the qualified voters. If no reaction after two weeks they can go ahead without a vote of the people.

The following data comes from the Housing and Home Finance Agency Handbook on Public Housing Act of 1949, Pages 12 and 13: You pay (as a local taxpayer through increased property taxes $4,283.00). Taxpayers pay 60 percent of the Public Housing — you pay (as a federal taxpayer through increased income tax, etc.) $8,522. Tenant pays $8,004. Tenant pays 40 percent. Total rent bill per unit of public housing (not including utilities) $20,789.00.

Tin Smelter Lease Under Consideration
WASHINGTON — (AP) — Sen. Connally and Rep. Thompson want the government's big tin smelter at Texas City sold or leased to private enterprise. The Texas Democrats put up a bill Tuesday to do that.

The smelter is operated under contract with Tin Processing Corp., controlled by Billeton Co., a Dutch concern. Congress authorized the plant last year to keep operating for the government until mid-1950.

The smelter is the main tin plant in this nation. It produced about three fourths of U. S. tin during the war with ores mostly from Bolivia.

Fair Enough-Pegler

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Will bust him in the smoot in due time, and to date I haven't had as much as a post-card from Mr. Goldsmith...

Senator Gillette of Iowa, chairman of the subcommittee on privileges and elections, Gillette refers to a telegram which had sent to Senator Mike Monroney of Oklahoma...

I proposed that Arthur J. Goldsmith, the Kaok Dragon of the Waldorf Tower, and Albert Lasker and his wife, a pushful, third-rate Eleanor the Great, should be hauled down to Washington and given the business just as other citizens get it who work for the Republicans...

Goldsmith and Lasker are scared stiff of a real going-over in public hearings. Goldsmith is so secretive in his operations as a dragon that he hides the pompous luxury of his Waldorf address, which is his home, mind you, not his business office...

I wrote, asking pertinent questions, but saying a few others about his dealings with David K. Niles, the selfless secretary in the White House, with which world against tyranny... it began to stink a long time ago...

When we tried to find out the reasons for squandering billions upon billions of dollars taken from us and strewn over earth we were given the same old lie we've given now when we try to find out the reasons for squandering thousands upon thousands of American lives in Korea...

The New Dealers were going to save them for democracy if they had to make a pauper of every American to do it. At least that was the gist of their noise—the noise they're still making, with Mr. Truman and Mr. Acheson right up front banging away on the old tub for all they're worth...

War gets down to brass tacks. It's brass tacks, all right, for the men doing the fighting. The time is long past for getting down to brass tacks in answering the big question: Why are we in Korea?

There's a possibly serious human link to this chemical chain reaction, too. Dr. Robert Enders, Department of Agriculture research specialist at Swarthmore College, Pennsylvania, has gone into this business pretty thoroughly...

That's how potent a compound is this "diethylstilbestrol"—to give its full name—that a few poultry raisers have been monkeying with. Their dose for one young broiler has been 15 milligrams. Of this amount, about half has been consumed by the chicken in its four to five-week fattening period...

Children Being Punished For Sins Of Fathers

Many people are of the belief that the iniquity of the fathers is not visited upon the children of the third and fourth generations. They contend that modern science has disproved this. They overlook that fact that when Moses gave the admonition he was speaking about worshipping other gods than the One God—the true God...

Moses was not referring to the individual violating God's law about eating or over indulgence or being slothful. People are confused because what people put in their stomachs is not inherited...

Moffatt says about the same thing in this manner: "For I the Eternal, your God, am a jealous God, punishing children for the sins of their fathers, punishing those who hate me, down to the third and fourth generation, but showing kindness to thousands of those who love me and obey my orders."

Well, that is exactly what is happening. The parents who through their iniquity and slothfulness and their desire to shirk responsibility and wanting to use compulsion and coercion to make other people help educate their children are visiting their iniquity on their children and children's children...

Burton K. Wheeler, formerly senator from Montana, flatly charged that Lasker and his wife wrote a draft for $1,000 payable to Senator James E. Murray, also of Montana, and that Murray cashed the draft and sent his own check for $1,000 to the check of Wheeler's opponent in the 1946 Democratic primary...

I carry no torch for Wheeler or his politics. But what was his deal? He was in charge of slush money into our public elections to nullify our votes. If it is wrong for corporations to do that, it is wrong for Goldsmith and his old lady to do the same thing. Their money speaks for their ideas. My vote speaks for mine...

Moses was a wise philosopher. He knew what he was talking about. He could see ahead. He could see the inevitable result of parents shirking their duty—and a parent shirking his duty is committing a sin. The result is that the children are confused and their children's children are confused...

Writer Thinks Newfoundland Town Sits At End Of World

By HENRY McLEMORE

GANDER, Newfoundland—This is the end of the world with a fire department, the jumping-off place with a mayor. Also it is one of the most important and busy airports in the world. Trans-Atlantic passengers usually touch here headed for the other side and always touch here coming back...

I am cooking up this column, and picking it out on a typewriter, with a left hand that needs only bread crumbs and tomato sauce to double for a vegetable. With a dexterity, a skill, a know-how that I didn't know I possessed, I almost cooked it by the simple act of lighting a cigarette from a packet of book matches...

So I am writing this with the index finger of my right hand. Unless you have tried this sort of typing you never know how complicated it is. I started over at least seven times, and was just about to start an eighth time, when I figured that if my readers did not have enough sympathy to forgive me, then they must be able to read my column. I should get up at dawn every morning and milk three cows, all show judge, or a tea taster to day, instead of a newspaper columnist...

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—The RFC scandals might not have fallen with damaging effect on the Truman Administration and Democratic Party, especially the hard-right Missouri clique, if it had not been for the obnoxiousness of a small White House group headed by Dean Acheson...

It was Acheson, who as an important member of the Hoover commission on government reorganization, prevented that agency from recommending abolition of RFC, although the Hoover "task force" handling this problem had proposed discontinuance at the first convenient date...

LIBERAL—Supporting Acheson in his pro-RFC stand were James K. Pollock, James H. Rowe Jr., and Senator Aiken of Vermont. They forced—or persuaded—the Hoover Commission to water down its surveyors' report with the threat that Mr. Truman would resort too harsh an indictment...

Pollock is an economics professor at the University of Michigan. Regarded as an ultra-liberal, he had held many important assignments during the Roosevelt regime. Rowe had been a member of F.D.R.'s secretariat. His colleagues refer to Senator Aiken as a "Truman Republican."

FAVORITISM—Although the Hoover Commission rejected the proposal for full and immediate liquidation of RFC, which might have led Congress to kill or reorganize the agency, it did refer to the political abuses, possible

So They Say

If the H-Bomb cannot be built, I want America to find that out. Otherwise, an enemy is liable to stand up and say, "We have the hydrogen bomb." There will be no way to tell if he is bluffing, unless we try to build one ourselves...

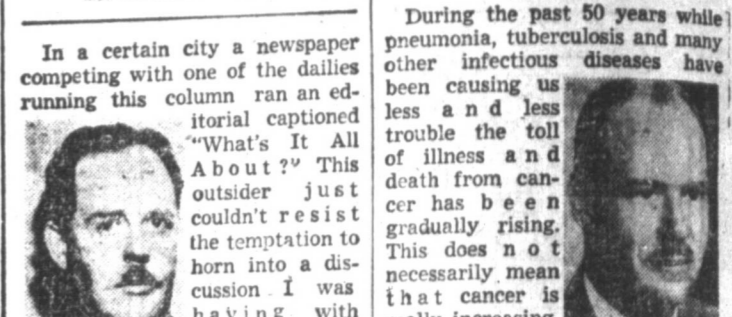

SAFE—It is true that many unbound, unnecessary and politically motivated loans were in effect or negotiation before March, 1949, when Acheson praised and defended RFC and saw no chance for business reorganization. But, and this is an aspect which the Fulbright Committee has not stressed sufficiently, the most scandalous deals were not consummated until after Mr. Truman's surprise election in 1948...

And the secretary of state by Truman appointment used whatever prestige he possessed to give them a lift!

What Its All About

BY DAVID BAXTER

In a certain city a newspaper competing with one of the dailies running this column ran an editorial captioned "What's It All About?" This outsider just couldn't resist the temptation to horn into a discussion I was having with Paul Hallett, of the Denver Catholic Register, which appeared in the paper running our column...

He stated that "the reading public is tortured" with circuitous discussions on "What Is a Catholic?" etc. He accused the paper running this column of being "one-sided" and that I assumed an "all-knowing wisdom" and "all-encompassing analysis."

Asserting that "theologians and laymen alike resent this intrusion in church affairs" and that "freedom of the press does not mean to invade the sanctity of any religion" he winds up by saying, "In times like these, when Americans are preparing to defend the freedoms inherent in democracy, can a display of poor taste serve any useful purpose? We are confident the people will spurn such nonsense."

"FREE" PRESS Since this fellow seems to want to get in on the game, I'm quite willing to accommodate him. To begin with, the first thing I noticed about this editor's paper was that it carried a union bug. That means that he has bowed the knee to collectivism and has surrendered his right to individual independence, his right to run his business the way he wants to, and is willing to let a labor boss tell him who can hire or fire and under what circumstances he may run his paper. He is a splendid character to be lecturing more independent-minded on a "free press" and what should or should not be written. He is rather bold even to mention the word "free" in his paper. His labor boss might not like it. They might think he even had a few independent ideas and strike him by way of punishment.

Now as to his accusing me of "torturing" the public by asking "What is a Catholic?" the fact is, I haven't asked such a question. I have no slightest objection to anyone who likes the Catholic religion enjoying it to his heart's content. That goes for Protestants or Jews or atheists or anyone else. As for alleged "all-knowing wisdom," etc. nothing could be more false. I write about a variety of subjects but in most cases it boils down to a defense of rights of man against attacks on those rights by collectivists and totalitarians, in whatever shape they may appear. I quote facts and figures in most cases and pass on to readers interesting information (checked to truth. But as for my personality, I try always to practice the Christian virtue of remaining humble. My job is simply that of an INSTRUMENT, a messenger-boy, not a cocky know-it-all.

There is nothing "one-sided" about the papers running this column, as anyone with any intelligence knows. Have you seen some of the letters from readers for and against which those papers publish in a fair, impartial, fact-finding manner? There is nothing one-sided about that.

Nor have I intruded in church affairs or invaded the sanctity of any religion. I have merely DEFENDED when CHURCH AFFAIRS intruded in the rights of man and attempted to interfere with those rights. A religion only

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, MD.

During the past 50 years while pneumonia, tuberculosis and many other infectious diseases have been causing us less and less trouble...

This disease is one which attacks during the middle and later years of life and since fewer people nowadays are killed off during youth by infections, more are living to the years when cancer is most likely to strike.

What is cancer? Our bodies are made up of tiny cells of slightly different appearance under the microscope and having various functions: building bones, secreting stomach juices, permitting muscular contractions and many others.

When everything is going all right these cells live with each other in harmony and when one gets worn out it is replaced by a new one. In cancer, something goes wrong with this orderly arrangement and growth of cells and in one place some of the cells start to divide like mad, producing more cells than are needed and abnormal ones at that. The question which is still unanswered is why they do this and why it happens in some people and not in others.

Although there are many kinds of cells in the human body some of them are more likely to grow wild—cancer—than others. This is why cancer is more likely to start in certain organs than in others. Although there are some differences between men and women in this respect, the stomach region is one of the most important places for the start of a cancer. For this reason stomach symptoms should not be neglected but prompt and thorough studies should be made to catch cancer of the stomach during the early curable stage.

VULNERABLE SPOTS The intestines below the stomach are almost equally important since many cancers start along this passageway. In women the breasts and womb or uterus are vulnerable and in men cancer of the prostate is too often a source of trouble. Cancer can start in other places, such as the skin, bone, lungs, mouth, and liver, but the places mentioned first account for more than half of all cancers.

enjoys the cloak of "sanctity"—that is, sacredness or holiness—when it attends to its own knitting and doesn't attempt to run everyone else's affairs. When any church group or religion invades public affairs it is subject to the same public scrutiny and criticism as is focused upon any other public force. It can't hide behind the mask of "sanctity."

I have discussed the public activities of certain churches and their political activities which can affect all of us, without in any way reflecting upon the purely religious beliefs—the theologians—of their adherents. I have protested when any segment of organized religion, whether Catholic or Protestant, forsook their theological pursuits and invaded the field of politics, attempting to assume political power and control or interfere with the rights of others to freedom of worship and conscience.

It seems to me such open discussions do serve a useful purpose. And last, but not least, there is no freedom "inherent" in "democracy."

There is no reason why the government couldn't make surplus potatoes, eggs and butter available to hospitals that have been consistently losing money year after year.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Andy Carey, bonus third baseman, was ordered to report to the New York Yankees' Kansas City farm base at Lake Wales, Fla., today. Carey is highly regarded by the Yank brass.

LAKELAND, Fla.—(AP)—Larry Jensen, New York Giants' right-hander, who is always well up in the "home run ball club" is a member in good standing once again. Jensen had eleven scoreless innings to his credit when Mike Guerra of the Boston Red Sox shattered his streak with a three-run homer yesterday in the second inning. The Sox won, 6-1.

LAKELAND—(AP)—The big bat that made Hoot Evers the Detroit Tigers' leading hitter last season is stepping up its 1951 production. Yesterday Hoot collected a single and a home run.

The ninth-inning homer by a man on base broke up the game and gave Detroit an 8-7 win.

SARASOTA, Fla.—(AP)—Boston Manager Steve O'Neill plans to use all his regulars except shortstop Vern Stephens, when the Red Sox play Philadelphia's Athletics in an exhibition game here today.

BRADENTON, Fla.—(AP)—The Boston Braves, who played two games at different sites yesterday, will play only one today, a return engagement here with the Cincinnati Reds.

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—(AP)—Don't be surprised if George Strickland opens the season as the Pittsburgh Pirates' regular shortstop. General Manager Branch Rickey has this to say of Strickland: "He has shown me more than I expected to see at shortstop. He's going to be hard to get out of the lineup."

TUCSON—(AP)—Flush from a four-game foray of the Pacific Coast League, Cleveland's Indians could be resting up today. But they're not. Competition for regular positions keeps them hustling, especially the outfielders. Larry Doby has centerfield

The Harvesters will be in the North Half of District 1-AA. It includes Pampa, Amarillo and Borger. The winner of the north half meets the winner of the south half for the district title. Berg Leads Going Into Final Round

PINEHURST, N. C.—(AP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis, Minn., leads off the final round of the $3,000 Sandhill Open Golf Tournament today, four strokes ahead of the field. Play was over the tricky Pinehurst No. 2 Championship course.

Miss Berg picked up her margin in yesterday's second round over the Mid Pines course. Her record-breaking 70 bettered men's par by two strokes, and was four strokes better than par for women.

Coupled with her first round 76, her 146 gave her a four-stroke lead over second place Pat O'Sullivan, an amateur from Orange, Conn.

The 64-hole tournament is in rounds of 18 holes each on three courses in this area. New proceeds will benefit the R. D. Cross.

Miss Berg's competition today was expected from Babe Zaharias of Tampa, Fla., in third place five strokes off the pace.

Baseball Congress Picks Tourney Site

WICHITA, Kas.—(AP)—The National Baseball Congress today announced that a diversionary National State Championship Tournament will be staged at Allamogosa, starting tentatively July 20. HUTCHINSON, Kas.—(AP)—Tyler, Tex., is National Junior College Basketball Champion for the second time in three years. The Texans won the 1951 title Saturday night by defeating the Northeast Mississippi in the final game of the five-day tournament, 92 to 75. They also won the championship in 1949.

His club turned the biggest upset of the tournament, beating second-seeded Oakland 62-50 in the third round. Nolan shone in that win.

Doering Leads At Greensboro Open

GREENSBORO, N. C.—(AP)—Arthur Doering, a soft-spoken 34-year-old pro who plays out of Richmond, Va., on his way to his first major victory as the final round of the Greensboro Open Tournament began today.

The former Stanford link star held a four-stroke lead over Jackie Burke of Houston, Texas, the year's No. 3 money winner, after carding a three under par 68 in yesterday's third round for a 54-hole total of 209.

Burke came up with 67, the $10,000 tournament's best round, for second place 213, but was sweating out a protest today before tee off time.

A players' committee was to decide on the protest before play began today. If found guilty, delaying tactics, Burke, Stewart and Shields each could be penalized two strokes.

Two Tired Cage Teams In Finals

MINNEAPOLIS—(AP)—If you believe everything you hear, it will be two tired teams squaring off tomorrow night for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's basketball championship.

Kansas State is weary from its 68-44 victory over Oklahoma A&M Saturday night in the Western playoff at Kansas City, Kentucky, winner of the Eastern playoff with a 76-74 decision over Illinois is after its third NCAA crown. The Wildcats are tired because they have played 33 games and travelled 16,000 miles, says Coach Adolph Rupp.

"I'm beginning to show," he said after arriving by plane yesterday. "We've only played one good game in the last nine compared with our early season form. Thin, too, we really had to go to sneak that one through against Illinois."

Tom Lynch, a former umpire, was once president of the National Baseball League.

Forrester Fights With Golden Bears

BERKELEY—(Special)—Emmet Forrester, "though 1000 miles from home, doesn't show any signs of homesickness when he gets into the ring for the Golden Bears of California. The 116-lb boxer from Pampa has proved one of the shining lights on the Berkeley boxing team this year.

The popular "Tex" is spending his second year on the Varsity in 1951, and although he didn't win a letter in '50, he has proven tough to beat this season. Tall (5' 11") for his weight classification, which is usually either 130 or 135 pounds, he has scouted his reach with a powerful right hand to knock out two of three opponents this year.

An injury has limited Tex's action a little this year, but when he has fought, it has usually been a TKO. He cooled Stanford's Bob Neighbor in 2:37 of the first round, Cal Poly's Charles Jackson in 1:30 of the second upon his return to competition last week. He will be entered in the Pacific Coast Championships next week, and upon his success there will depend a trip to the NCAA tourney at Michigan State College—April 5, 6 and 7.

Nat Holman, CCNY basketball coach, once proclaimed that Lou Boudreau of Illinois was the finest dribbler he ever saw. It's the same Boudreau who formerly managed the Cleveland Indians and now is with the Boston Red Sox.

Studebakers Finish High In 1951 Mobilgas Economy Run

It was with justifiable pride that Wes Lewis, local Studebaker dealer, received the news last week of the outstanding performance of the Studebaker cars in the 1951 Mobilgas Economy Run. Official figures for the run reveal the superiority of the Studebaker gasoline mileage in comparison with other cars. One of the chief reasons for this outstanding economy is the high engine efficiency; this simply means that the engine extracts a maximum of energy from each drop of fuel. Following is a copy of the bulletin informing Lewis of the results of the run.

Studebaker cars finished first, second and third in miles per gallon in regular classifications in the Mobilgas Economy Run last week. The Champion, Commander and Land Cruiser were highest in actual miles per gallon of all the 26 cars entered. The brilliant performance of the three Studebakers — equipped with overdrive transmissions — over the 840-mile course was as follows:

The Champion averaged 28.621 miles per gallon.
The Commander V-8 averaged 28.401 miles per gallon.
The Land Cruiser V-8 averaged 27.644 miles per gallon.
The Champion had the highest actual mileage of any car in regular classifications — and the actual gas mileage of the great new Commander V-8 was higher than that of any other 8-cylinder car entered in regular classification. The Land Cruiser's gasoline mileage was higher than all other 8's and all 6's in regular classifications, except the Commander V-8 and the Champion. These records are a glowing tribute to Studebaker engineering and craftsmanship.

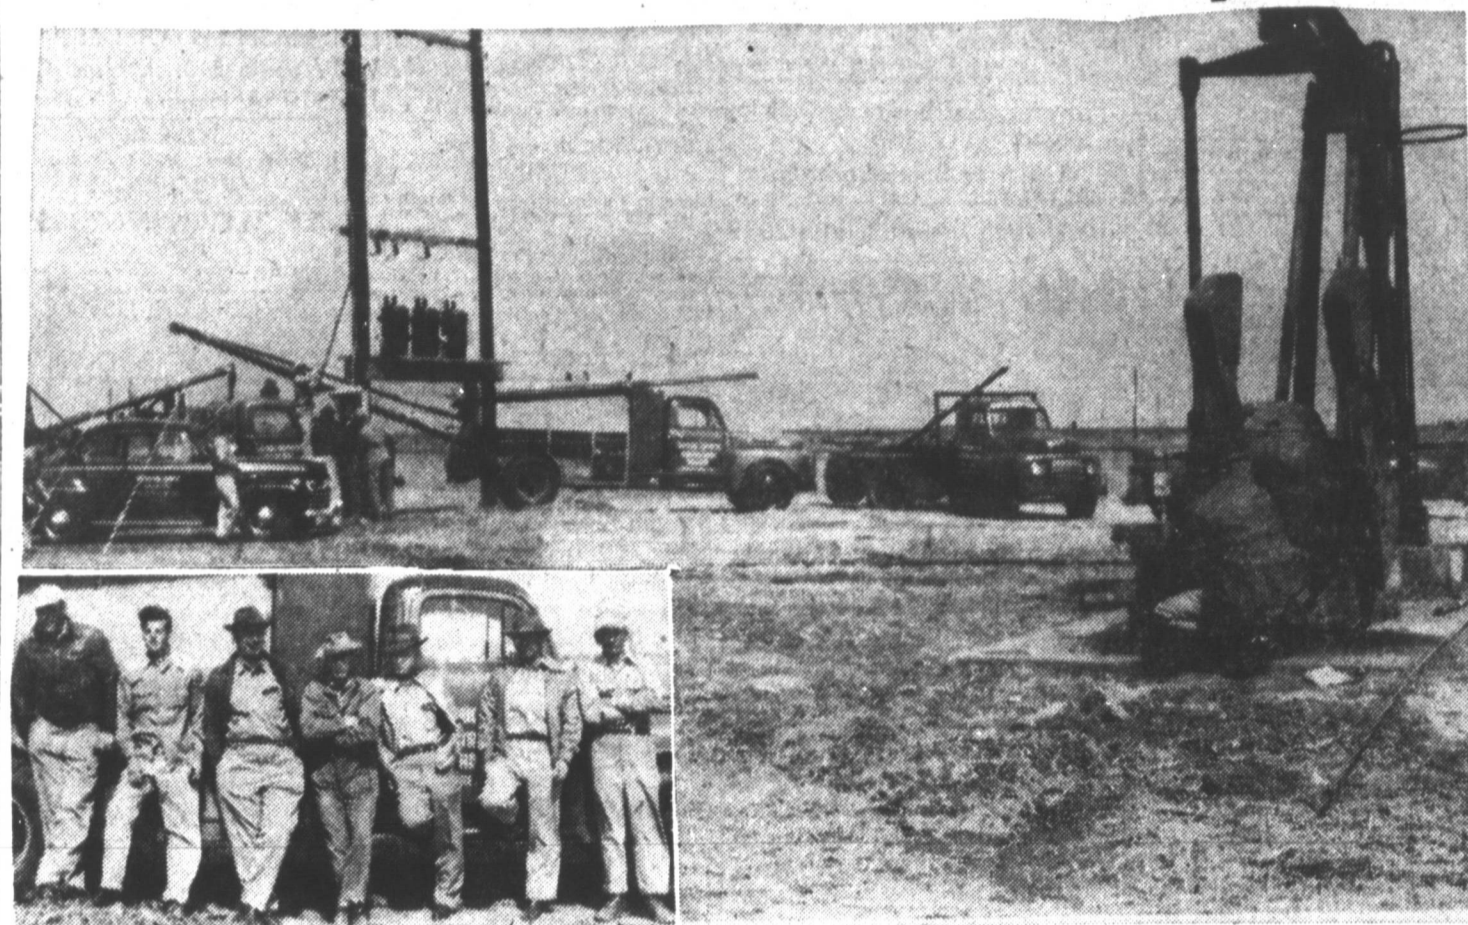

Official awards in the contest are based upon ton-miles per gallon of gasoline. So that you may better understand what is meant by ton-miles per gallon — here is the quotation from the official rules:

"Each car finishing the regulation Run will have its economical performance determined as follows: Gross vehicle weight including allowable load, in tons, divided by the 'ton-mile total', divided by the number of gallons of fuel consumed. The resultant figure is the 'ton-miles per gallon.' The Commander won the first place official award in price class B with the highest ton-miles per gallon of 58.173 and also had the highest actual gas mileage of 28.001 miles per gallon.

In price class A, the Champion's actual gas mileage was 28.621 as compared with 25.994 miles per gallon for the Ford V-8 which was given the official award with 54.587 ton-miles per gallon. The Champion was next with 54.381 ton-miles per gallon.

The Land Cruiser, in price class C, had the highest actual miles per gallon, averaging 27.644 as compared with Mercury's 25.945 actual miles per gallon. The Southard disconnects and another lease starts pumping with electricity. The above picture depicts the final operation in putting the B. L. Hoover, Barrett lease, to pumping with electric power. Shown in the inset is the crew of the Electric Supply. From the left they are: W. W. Brooks, Bob Knight, James Elson, Lewis Gallimore, Marshall Shuler, 'Suds' Southard and Dale Southard. Not shown is Rowland Renner.

Electricity is the cheapest, the most convenient and the most modern way to pump oilwells today. In many cases oil can be pumped for as little as one and one-quarter cent per barrel by using electric power. If several electric motors are used they usually can be maintained for one dollar per horsepower per year. A ten horsepower motor, if used with several other electric motors, can be maintained for only ten dollars for one year. In the field of electricity, there are several requirements that must be fulfilled. The first of these is the use of top quality materials. The second is the knowledge gained through experience, engineering and study. Third is having men who are properly trained to do their job and willing to do a good job. The fourth and one of the most important is to have the proper equipment to perform the particular job you are doing.

official award went to Mercury on a ton-mile basis with the Land Cruiser a close second.

Inventors are ever busy improving present conditions, recently they have developed motors, having sealed bearings, guaranteed to run for five years without being greased.

There are many advantages to electric pumping other than those already mentioned. One is the labor saving automatic starting and stopping of periodic pumping which in many cases increases production. It is also better for the well since the electric clock can be set to shut the well down at a predetermined time.

There are no two jobs alike, therefore each job must be taken in consideration and must be planned in order to gain the maximum in efficient and satisfactory operation. The crew from the Electric Supply tries to do the best possible job in the field. They take real pride in their work.

The owner and head man in the Electric Supply Company is Ellis (Suds) Southard. 'Suds' started as an electrician with General Atlas Carbon Company in 1935 and has been in the contracting business for ten years. He still works as an electrician and linesman whenever help gets short or the crew gets behind. However, 'Suds' says that it is a full time job keeping the wheels rolling in this firm.

Marshall Shuler is the manager of the Electric Supply and has been with the firm since his return from the army in 1946. The head electrician of the firm is James Elson. Elson has been with the firm since 1945 when he was discharged from the Marine Corps. Another ex-Marine, Lewis Gallimore, is an electrician and linesman. Gallimore has been with the firm for three years.

W. W. Brooks, an ex-Navy man, is the line foreman and has been with the firm for two and one-half years. Dale Southard has been a linesman with the Electric Supply for four and one-half years.

Rowland Renner, with the firm for two years, is an apprentice electrician and hole digger operator. Serving as truck driver for the past year is Bob Knight.

All of these men have been trained to do a good job no matter what the odds may be. They will go out of their way to help you with your electrical problems, whether in the oil field, in the home, or in your place of business.

You can be sure that the Electric Supply has the qualified men, the equipment and the material to do a first class job for you and they will guarantee their work. So the next time you have electrical problems or a lease, get in touch with the Electric Supply. They can do the job for you.

Bert A. Howell, Headquarters For All Boating Supplies

Every year the boating season is officially launched at the opening of the National Motor Boat Show in Grand Central Palace, New York, in mid-January. This year it was launched in gala fashion under the friendly theme of "Join the Boating Fraternity." Sportsmen around Pampa and the Panhandle are indeed fortunate in having a man like Bert Howell around. Bert gives them every opportunity to join the "Fraternity" for he literally has everything for the boat!

Take a trip up to 119 N. Ward and let Bert show you the 1951 line of Johnson Motors, America's No. 1 choice for dependability. There are four new models, ranging from the world's lightest to the world's most powerful. Here, in only four motors is everything you could want in outboard power... your choice of top speeds, yet each of the four models is capable of slow trolling speeds! The four motors are: 2 1/2, 5, 10 and 25 Horsepower. The new 25 h. p. gear shift will be on display soon. All the other models are now on display at Bert Howell's and are available for immediate delivery.

The Sea-Horse 2 1/2 motor only weighs 31 pounds and is your motor where extreme portability is an important factor. It is a full-fledged, perfected alternate firing twin with traditional Johnson ruggedness — plus amazing power for its size.

The Sea-Horse 5 will give you twice the power and is only 13 pounds heavier than the 2 1/2. It has the new Shock Absorber Drive and that great, new outboard convenience, Johnson Neutral Clutch. This is the world's favorite fishing boat according to repeated independent surveys.

The Sea-Horse 10 is a thriller in performance and maneuverability. It's a Johnson Gear Shift motor with Neutral-Forward-Reverse and a long-range motor with separate Mile-Master Fuel Tank.

Then the all-time sensation in outboard motoring is the new 25-horsepower motor with small-motor simplicity of operation. A sleek 85-pound middleweight that travels better than 30-m.p.h., the 25 is a superb performer on "big" waters, on outboard cruisers and in water sports. And what you'll really like is that it has the features fishermen want, including easy starting, easy handling, slow, steady trolling speed and Johnson DEPENDABILITY. You'll agree that it is half-a-dozen motors in one!

Among the boats that you will find at Bert Howell Co. are the Kelson Kraft glass covered Boats; Arkansas Traveler; America's most complete fleet of Aluminum boats; Thompson Canvas covered Boats; and, Starcraft Metal Boats.

Also to help you join the "fraternity" you'll find boat trailers, boat paints and hardware, brass screws, marine plywood and literally everything for the boat. That's at Bert Howell Co., 119 N. Ward.

AT LAST! A GEAR-SHIFT MOTOR for outboard boating! The new Johnson QDI New Performance. Breath-taking acceleration. Packs the sloop of ten full horsepower (OBC certified brake h.p. at 4000 r.p.m.) — yet trolls beautifully!

Mile-Master fuel tank separate — carry it easily — plug it in, "click" — put it anywhere in your boat — cruise for hours! Fuel gauge, rubber mountings, automatic motor speed controls, light weight, 40 great features. A new kind of outboard. Now ready. See us about delivery.

4 other great models, priced as low as $132.50. Time payments available.
