Allied Troops Rip Into Red Hold On Dam

TOKYO —(P)— Allied troops ripped into Communist forces on Korea's east central front today in the swelling battle for the huge Hiwachon Dam.

The Reds' man-made smoke screen began to lift late Tuesday afternoon. United Nations warplanes roared into action with jelled gasoline bombs, rockets and machineguns.

On the ground allied infantrymen battered the Reds with artillery and rifle fire.

Thousands of combat-ready Communist soldiers were massed in the hills north of the dam. The allied attack was aimed to keep them off-balance and block their long-expected spring offensive.

Rigid new censorship regulations issued by Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, new Allied supreme commander, banned all references to the exact size and location of Chinese and Red Korean forces.

On the western front United Nations troops maintained their pressure south of Chorwon. The town, 17 miles north of the border, was destroyed by artillery and air attacks earlier this month. It is still an important Chinese base and road junction.

Yonchon, on the road leading northwest to Chorwon, was abandoned by the Reds. The allies hold high ground on all sides of Yonchon, but had not entered the town itself.

Actively on the east and west coasts was limited to patrol actions.

Dive-bombing U.S. F-80 Shooting Star jets struck Communist rail facilities Tuesday for the third straight day. Pilots reported five locomotives and 37 rail cars destroyed.

Beaming GIs Come Home

TAEGU, Korea — (P)— A plume of battle-weary but beaming GIs took to the end of every doughboy's dream — home.

They were among the first men transferred from Korea back to the United States to become instructors of America's new army.

The flight took them to Japan, where they will draw shiny new uniforms, baths and a few steaks under their belts before beginning the long journey home.

"I don't know yet how I feel about this. I'll know better after I get to Japan and wash this Korean dust out of my throat."

Sgt. John Belcher, 35, San Antonio, Tex. A veteran of nine months in Korea and the European campaign in World War II, Belcher expressed the feeling of most of the war-weary veterans.

All had been in Korea more than eight months. All had seen their share of the fighting.

"This is the one we've been waiting for" and "let's get this show on the road" were some of their impatient remarks.

Just before their plane roared down the runway, a field artillery battery began firing on a mountainside practice range nearby.

"I've seen all of that stuff I want to," one muttered.

The skymaster went ripping down the asphalt then and they were gone.

Those aboard included: Sgt. James L. Mahan, Fort Worth, Tex.; Sgt. Vernon Peltch, Fredericksburg, Tex.

Republicans Urge 24-Man Group For Study Of Far East

Community Chest Arguments Heated

Skepticism and confidence clashed in a meeting Monday night of some 60 Pampa club members who met to discuss the possible establishment of a Community Chest here.

Aubrey L. Jones, 712 E. Francis, was elected temporary chairman for the group during the preliminary organization period. He will steer the group until it is decided whether the Community Chest plan can function here and until permanent officers are elected.

About 24 local clubs and organizations sent delegates to the meeting to speak officially for their respective groups.

The consensus was that a Community Chest is needed and wanted here provided all organizations go into the chest.

As one businessman said, "From the merchant's standpoint one drive a year would be more effective and more convenient. We could arrange our budget at the first of the year, make out one check to the Community Chest and be through with it."

One local man asked of the organizations responsible to national headquarters, "What difference does it make how money is raised as long as the quota is reached?"

A housewife present said to those who claim Pampa is too small for a Community Chest, "This plan is working in the larger cities so it can work here. . . if we have a good, sound plan. After all, compare it with housekeeping. Women go about keeping house the same way in a one-room house as in a five-room house."

One individual pointed out that many budgets would not stand a lump contribution of $50 or $60 to the Community Chest but could stand $5 or $10 every month or so when a fund-raising campaign is underway.

This brought vehement answers from two "small businessmen" (World War II) Life Insurance who said they would contribute if they will get a united drive underway, and get the dozen-and-one money making drives out of our hair."

One public-spirited woman said she is strongly in favor of a united drive, and pointed out the number of organizations who had agreed to give their time including the Scouting groups.

GI Insurance Change Near

WASHINGTON — (P)— Any veteran who wants, but doesn't have, government life insurance must act fast, the American Legion advised today.

Issuance of new policies will be discontinued under the new bill which would provide $10,000 free death benefits for members of the armed forces, Legion Commander Erie Coker, Jr., noted in a statement.

The change becomes effective as soon as President Truman signs the new bill into law, as he is expected to do. It was passed by Congress Friday.

Existing policies held by veterans not in service are not affected. But new policies of U. S. government (World War I) life insurance and National Service (World War II) Life Insurance will no longer be issued. Both types of policies may be obtained by qualified veterans now, but Coker said the former service men "will be deprived of the right" unless applications have been filed before the President signs the new measure.

He said that "there are many thousands of persons in these categories."

Youth's Condition Said Satisfactory

The condition of Wayne Rithaler, 313 S. Russell, who was injured in an accident Monday at the Panhandle Packing Co., was said to be satisfactory at noon today.

Rithaler said to be about 18, was working at the sausage mill when his left arm got in the mill and was chewed halfway between the elbow and shoulder.

Officials at the packing plant said the accident happened so quickly no one was aware of it. It is the first accident of that type to be recorded here.

Declares Ex-Chief Jeopardizing Peace

CHICAGO — (P)— Gen. Omar N. Bradley, five-star peer of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, today declared Asia military policies advocated by the deposed commander would "jeopardize world peace."

Bradley was the first of the homecoming general's five-star brothers in rank to speak out publicly against the theory of carrying the war to China since President Truman dismissed MacArthur last week. Bradley did not mention MacArthur's name.

Last year's quick United Nations action in Korea, Bradley declared, may have stayed the Kremlin's hand as it was about to precipitate World War III.

Bradley roundly backed the President's stand against MacArthur's ideas and defended the administration's policy of limiting the war in Korea. As chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, Bradley has a large part in policy making.

1. The Korean war, under present conditions, may be headed toward a stalemate, but it can be brought to an honorable conclusion.

2. The United States will not wage a preventive war.

3. The one price the U. S. will not pay for peace is appeasement.

4. The use the Reds have made of air bases in Manchuria to date has not warranted UN bombing of them.

5. Action against aggression in Korea upset Communist plans in Asia, at least temporarily preventing Red moves in Indochina and perhaps saving Thailand and Formosa.

6. Any attempt to settle the world crisis by an ultimatum to bomb Russia is militarily impracticable and might backfire.

In places, Bradley's viewpoint on the situation was the same as MacArthur's. He disagreed on what to do about it.

Bradley made it plain that he had no intention of entering the foreign policy field or even writing a particular policy in the conduct of foreign affairs. Conduct of foreign affairs is a civilian responsibility.

But, he added, "a soldier can offer strategic perils the layman might overlook. It is fundamental that our foreign policy must be based upon our military capabilities to back it up."

Bradley agreed with MacArthur's recently expressed view that the war in Korea may be headed for a stalemate. The joint chairman declared:

"There is no early end in sight to the Korean war under present conditions. As far as we can see now there is nothing transitory, nothing temporary about the Communists' determination to drive us out of Korea, and, if possible, to destroy our forces completely."

MacArthur recommended in a series of statements and a letter to Rep. Joseph Martin (Mass.), House Republican leader, that he force completely.

Group Orders Investigation For Senators

WASHINGTON — (P)— An investigation of whether Congress members have peddled their influence with the RFC was ordered today by the Senate Banking Committee.

The action was taken after a closed door discussion of reports President Truman once made and later discounted charges that some Congress members had received fees for helping applicants for RFC loans.

The investigation job was handed to a subcommittee headed by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.). Senator Maybank (D-SC), who heads the full committee, said staff members of Fulbright's office would start at once a preliminary survey of approximately 800 letters written by Congress members to the RFC concerning loans.

Mr. Truman is reported to have said he "deduced" from his own study of the correspondence that "a great many lawmakers look fees for helping applicants to obtain RFC loans, but could not prove it."

Senator Fulbright (D-Ark.) said a study through enough to prove or disprove the President's deductions should be made. Fulbright is chairman of a banking subcommittee which has been investigating RFC operations.

Bell Workers Back On Job

DALLAS — (P)— At least 1,400 Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. workers walked off the job yesterday because the company fired a woman employee. Four hours later most walked back.

Both company and union said the cause of the walkout was a dispute over the firing of Mrs. Ruth Noe, a clerical employee.

Supervisory employees manned switchboards while operators were off. Long distance operators and others due to work started returning about 5 p.m.

R. W. Staley and T. E. Webb, international representatives for Communications Workers of America (CWA), said it was a voluntary protest by union members of the March 30 firing of Mrs. Noe, a widow with three small children.

The company spokesman said the union had filed a grievance complaint in Mrs. Noe's case; that hearings started Friday and hadn't been completed. Another is scheduled today.

Union spokesmen said though Mrs. Noe was fired technically for "bad attendance" the real reason was because of personal clashes with a woman department supervisor.

Senator Indicates New Atomic Tests

TOKYO — (P)— A touring Senator indicated today America's new atom bomb tests will be run off soon at its mid-Pacific Eniwetok Atoll proving grounds.

Perhaps significantly last night's announcement gave no figures in non-ferrous metals — non-iron. Nor did it claim Soviet production targets in this important field had been met.

This recalled recent hints of trouble in Russia's non-ferrous industry and reports that she is suffering from shortages in such things as nickel, copper and cobalt.

The announcement also admitted there was a lag in construction of agricultural machines. The government-controlled press recently has blasted the agricultural machine building ministry and accused it of using defective equipment, defective materials and producing defective output.

The broadcast verified reports that much of Soviet industry has stopped to sleep.

Gas, Electric Boosts Due City Hearing

Utility rate increases for Pampa's gas and electric users are expected to consume a major portion of the city commission's time this afternoon.

The proposed to prevent electric rate hike ordinance will be up for its second reading and, in all probability, will be passed.

It will also be the second discussion between the commission and J. W. Carman, president of the Texas Gas and Power Co., over a request for a 10 percent gas rate boost.

Outside the utility rate increase business only approval of a part of the Derrick Addition, located in the 1500 block N. 17th, is due to appear on the agenda.

Explosion Brings Fire To Gun Shop

An explosion yesterday followed by a fire was checked by local firemen who arrived at the scene in time to prevent widespread damage.

The accident happened at the Gunsmiths Gun Shop where a cleaning fluid was spilled onto a hot plate, causing an explosion which quickly caught the wall on fire.

The shop is located at 108 W. Foster and was reached by members of the fire department a few minutes after the accident happened at 3 p.m.

British Sub With 75 Aboard Vanishes In English Channel

PORTSMOUTH, England — (P)— The British submarine AF-103, with 75 men and officers aboard, vanished today after a month's patrol between here and Patuxent Bay, Md., in the English Channel.

The Admiralty quickly accepted a radio report from 8 and 9 U. S. Navy off of help and an daily.

An admiralty spokesman said the submarine commander, war hero Lt. John Hixbottom, might have mistook the order on making the voyage.

A big four-engine RAF Lancaster bomber led the search along a stretch of sea 75 miles long and 25 miles wide off the south channel coast for the 1,600-ton craft, which is equipped with a snorkel breathing apparatus and escape devices.

Zig-zagging along the Affray's assigned course, airmen watched for oil slick, debris or emergency beacons around the point where the submarine went into the sea at 8 p.m. (2:15 p.m. CST) Monday, about 25 miles south of the Isle of Wight. She was to end the assignment at this hour.

The Lancaster search bomber carried a small boat and rescue apparatus to be dropped by parachute if survivors were sighted. The rescue ship Reclaim stood by, equipped to send divers as far as 335 feet down. The channel in the area runs only about half that depth. The Reclaim carries an underwater gun with which a diver can fire a 57-pound bolt into a sub's side. Commanders of the search party were informed that the Affray was overdue.

Fabulous Texan Who Came Up The Hard Way, Dies Of Cancer

BALTIMORE — (P)— Sam Maceo, the Italian immigrant who became a fabulously rich man after coming to this country as a barber, died today of cancer.

The colorful Texas night club operator died early last night in Johns Hopkins Hospital. He had been operated on March 28 for cancer of the digestive tract. Complications set in a few days ago.

The 57-year-old Maceo was once accused by the U. S. government of being a part of a $5,000,000 to $25,000,000 wide conspiracy to violate federal narcotics laws. He was acquitted in New York in 1942, nearly five years after the indictment.

His Hollywood dinner club was once a haven for "big names" on the entertainment world and he booked such bands of those of Ben Bernie, Guy Lombardo, Phil Harris and Harry Richmond.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said MacArthur in his "every courtesy" in his appearance before Congress, but the five-star general will become a target for "a barrage of propaganda, innuendo, smear and denunciation." Shafer told the House that some administration leaders he didn't name are likely to join in the attack. Senator Millican of Colorado, head of the conference of all Republican senators, told reporters yesterday that the Republicans don't need a sponsor MacArthur's appearances and aren't going to "set ourselves up as manager of his affairs or movements." Senator Brewster of Maine, a GOP policy committee member, added he feels the congressional investigation ought to be aimed at "fundamental issues of policy." "The fewer personalities that get into it, the better," Brewster told a reporter. "This is not a question of Truman versus MacArthur, it is a question of how we got into the mess we are in in Korea." All this seemed aimed at centering Democratic efforts to hang a "war party" label on the Republicans. Some Democrats have argued the GOP is pushing for all-out hostilities with Communist China. Congress, he added, is a question of how we got into the mess we are in in Korea.

They used the same trick last November, just before they opened their drive down the heart of the peninsula. The new field commander of the U.S. Eighth Army in Korea, Lt. Gen. James A. Spring was breaking fast in Red Korea as Van Fleet made his first frontline tour. Roads again were dry and dusty. In the mountains west of Inje, 11 miles southeast of the dam, allied forces found lessening Red resistance. Red Korean forces on the east central front were described by one American general as "very much inferior" to the Red forces that battled the allies in the early stages of the war. Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U.S. 10th Corps, said the Korean Reds showed inadequate training. He said lower grade officers and non-coms were definitely inferior. Almond credited allied artillery attacks with keeping the enemy off balance. B-29 Superforts plastered the Pyongyang airfield Tuesday with 90 tons of high explosives. They met light flak but no enemy fighters. Pyongyang is the Red Korean capital. Allied carrier-based planes bombed and strafed Red troops and supply centers Monday in northeast Korea. Surface warships attacked Communist transport routes in the Wonsan-Songjin area. Naval aircraft hit Red Monday at Red troops on the west coast. The attacks were near Pyongyang. The South Korean navy reported that one of its frigates shot down one of four Communist planes Monday in the Yellow Sea, northwest of Pyongyang. One other plane was damaged. The frigate was strafed. (Continued from Page 1) "We must look at the plan with extreme optimism," she said. "Biggest blamper on the Community Chest were national headquarters to whom the Tuberculosis, Infantile Paralysis and Red Cross organizations are responsible. A Red Cross representative explained that the local chapter must contribute a part of all money raised to the national office. If the people vote to put Red Cross in the Community Chest, we will go. BUT the local chapter will use its national charter. "That will mean," the representative said, "if Pampa should have a disaster, we could not call on the national headquarters for aid. And the Community Chest does not provide an emergency fund." A spokesman for the Gray County Tuberculosis Assn. said the board of directors were opposed to such a plan. "One sole source of revenue is the seal sale where no personal contacts are made, and not more than 50 persons are asked to work in the drive. Should we join the Community Chest plan, we would lose our state charter, and would have no local voice in disbursing the funds." A Gray County Polio Chapter spokesman believed that no circumstances could the March of Dimes be included in the Community Chest plan. The following organizations were represented at the meeting: Lions, Council of Clubs, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, Salvation Army, Red Cross, Disabled Veterans, Veterans Foreign Wars, Tuberculosis Association, Cancer Association, Ministerial Alliance, Parent Teachers Association Council, Business and Professional Women, Gray County Polio Chapter, Veterans Foreign Wars Auxiliary, American Legion, American Legion Auxiliary, 29-30 Club, Kiwanis club, Rotary, Jaycees, Century Forum, 20th Century Culture and El Progresso. Meeting, Chairman Jones will present the Community Chest plan, and present at the next meeting of the group. The committee will work out such problems facing the group as who will be included in the Community Chest, how the funds will be disbursed, the collective agents for the funds, getting the plan before the public, and to find, if at all possible, some way of obtaining the cooperation of the organizations responsible to national offices. The meeting was summed up by one man (said to wear out a pair of shoes a year) soliciting money for worthy groups who explained, "We must think of both the advantages and disadvantages of such a united drive, and then do what is best for the community and organizations concerned." One woman believed local people would not be satisfied until the plan has at least been tried here. One outsider phrased this question, "Many individual drives are falling short of quotas. If one concentrated drive will give organizations the necessary momentum, why not try it." "There is just the chance that money-raising groups will gain more than they lose by joining a Community Chest," he said.

TEXAN

(Continued from Page 1) was padlocked in 1940 after a Texas Rangers gambling raid. Since the formation of the Texas House Crime Committee, the newspaper frequently asked committee members if they planned to hear Maceo on gambling. "I had assumed we would read State Rep. Waggoner Carl of Lubbock, a member of the investigating group. "We had never discussed the matter specifically. Excuse me," Maceo said, "I was mentioned Sam Maceo's name was mentioned." Maceo's place in Galveston life was secure. He was active in civic work, the Community Chest, Red Cross, and American Cancer Fund drives. During Maceo's trial, his lawyer pictured him as a "kid who came from Italy at the age of eight. . . . hard working, who went to Galveston and learned the hard way the value of money. Later opened a soft drink place, and later expanded into the night club business. Maceo admitted on the stand that he sold liquor in his "soft drink place" and his attorney later said in court that while Maceo's career gambling was available in Maceo's night club. His body is to be flown to Galveston today.

(Continued from Page 1) pressed air is then forced through the belt to drive water out of flooded compartments. The search and rescue plan for such emergencies is called "Operation Submarch," and it was ordered into operation last week as the Albatross failed to surface on scheduled mission. Maritime radio stations began sending out hourly messages saying that a submarine was missing and possibly sunk between the positions 50 degrees north and one degree 45 minutes west, and 45 degrees 40 minutes north and four degrees west. Vessels in the vicinity are requested to keep a sharp lookout for survivors and to report wreckage or other indications to the command-in-chief, Portsmouth. Depth of the channel in the arch area ranges from 30 to 1 fathoms, or 180 to 210 feet. Texas Flyer Sets Allied Plane Record TOKYO — (AP) — Capt. Sherwood T. Nationalist Says Russia Plans Army

TAIPEI, Formosa — (AP) — A high Nationalist official today asserted Russia and Red China have agreed secretly to unleash a huge international communist army in Korea. Russia, he said, would supply 200 tanks, 500 warplanes and about 80 submarines, and Soviet satellite nations would send troops. The charge was made by H. P. Tseng, a member of Chiang Kai-shek's powerful 16-man central reform committee. Nearly 10,000,000 head of livestock are grazed on U.S. public lands part of each year.

U.S. Jets Kicking MIGs Over Korea

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Swift U. S. jet bombers, in the first appearance of such aircraft in any war, are being used to take long distance pictures of Communist airfields and other bases in the boundary area of Manchuria.

The Air Force says a few RB-45 (Reconnaissance Bombers) are in operation in Korea. While several types of Air Force and Navy jet fighters have been in action since early in the war no jet bomber types had appeared until recently.

There has been a terse reference in overseas dispatches to a "B-45" encountering two Russian-made jets but reaching its home base safely. An Air Force spokesman, in answer to queries, has explained that plane and the two or three others in the Far East are converted bombers, with their bomb-carrying equipment and guns removed and fitted with cameras.

Texas Building Breaks Record

AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas construction awards last week nailed up a record-smashing $116,084,238 total.

It is assumed this photo reconnaissance equipment includes a huge new aerial camera developed by the Air Force about which few details have been made public. However, it is described as a "horizon-to-horizon" instrument capable of taking, in one picture, a huge ground area. Other conventional aerial cameras, with telephoto lens and using infra-red film and filters to penetrate haze, could photograph in fair detail, fields and buildings dozens or scores of miles beyond the Manchurian boundary.

Pyramided on another all-time record breaker $297,916,078 for the first quarter of 1951. The tabulations were announced by the Texas Contractor, weekly trade publication.

United Nations planes are under exact instructions to stay on the Korean side of the Yalu River boundary. However, they work close to that line, so close that the Korean end of bridges across the river have been blown up by bombs.

Award for the approximately $80,000,000 Reynolds Aluminum Plant near Corpus Christi was the big boost for the current week. Added to it was another $17,242,825 in non-residential awards, $9,689,446 in residential work and $9,152,267 in engineering awards.

The North American RB-45 is classified as a light bomber, the first jet bomber which was put into operational use by the Air Force. Now powered by four General Electric J-47 engines, the bomber is rated in the 550-mile-an-hour class. Because of its speed and room to pack in cameras and other equipment, it can do work that the smaller but faster jet fighter can not do.

Award of the $70,000,000 Daininger steel plant during first quarter of the year was the biggest boost toward the topping of the former quarterly record of $254,246,039 set in the first quarter of 1949.

It has a combat radius (the distance which it can operate from base, make the necessary runs over the target and get back home) of over 1,200 miles — ample to reach the Yalu River area from UN bases. This radius is made possible by the use of two wing tip tanks, each carrying 1,200 gallons, to supplement the normal B-45 fuel supply.

For the quarter, non residential awards led the field at $158,026,863 despite federal restrictions on commercial construction. Residential awards amounted to $56,318,776, down about six million dollars from the comparable quarter last year. Biggest gain for the period came in engineering awards at $36,507,439, up nearly 20 million dollars from the 1950 quarter.

In tests made in the United States before the RB-45s were sent to the Far East, pictures of American cities were made above heights of 40,000 feet.

Last month's construction fell short of a record, but remained in the high brackets at $68,841,892.

When used as bombers, the B-45s have a load capability of 10 tons maximum, although at less than the 1,200-mile radius. Some B-45s in the United States are assigned to tactical bomber outfits including two squadrons (about 32 planes) at Langley Air Force Base, Va. and one squadron at Barksdale, La. A substantial number of the first bombers have been converted to use as reconnaissance aircraft. Recently some of these recon-bombers were flown to England on trans-oceanic flights. Those sent to the Far East made the trip under their own power, their range providing for the longest of the trans-Pacific hop, the 2,200 miles between the West Coast and Hawaii.

Non-residential work led the March activity. Contracts in that category totaled $25,633,385. Residential awards amounted to $21,266,746.

Production of B-45s has ended. A total of 139 were ordered, of which 33 were reconnaissance type. North American now is working fulltime in production of the F-86 fighters and on Navy aircraft.

Through this week's record-breaking activity, contract awards for the year totalled $476,245,774, the publication reported.

Air Force spokesmen said the B-45s would be succeeded by the British-designed Canberra, which will be produced in the United States by Glenn L. Martin.

Owls swallow whole pieces of their prey intact.

Lightweight Coats Herald Spring

By GAILE DUGAS
NEW YORK (NEA) — Lightweight wool is cut into both the top and the greatcoat this spring. A wool that weighs only 12 ounces a yard, for instance, may have the texture look of a fine, heavy fleece. And a greatcoat cut in this porous wool weighs little more than a dressmaker suit.

A handsome topper designed (left) by Mangone is pure white virgin wool, suitable for summer as well as spring. Mangone gives this topper a long reverie collar, detailed sleeves with split cuffs and beautiful white bone buttons. The deep pockets are slanted and detailed to harmonize with the cuffs.

In practically every British mystery film ever made, the sleuth turns up at some point in a greatcoat. Monte-Sano has done the feminine version of a greatcoat (right) this spring. It's a distinct departure from the well-known pyramid.

It's a coat with character, light in weight, yet having the necessary bulky look of the greatcoat. The appearance of fullness is gained by a gored skirt and back. Cuffs are deeply turned back and the collar has long flaring points to be worn curved under or spread wingwise. "Bovine panels" are used just above the waistline.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"Please outline a treatment for tired eyes and lines around the eyes. Also, what can I do about crepey eyelids? I wear glasses. They are perfectly adjusted. — Mrs. H. C."

The eyes should be cleansed with an eye lotion, then place cotton squares, saturated with warm water, on the eyes. Press gently and relax. Remove after five minutes and apply eye cream, "finger-printing" it on the lines and on the eyelids. When you put on makeup always use a touch of eye cream on the lids for that moist, dewy look.

"My wrists are very unsightly. Should I wear some special type of sleeve to hide them? — Alice."

If the wrists are stiff, try the rotation exercise. Arms out at sides, then slowly turn the hand left, right, left, right, as far as possible in each direction. As you master the exercise, go faster and faster. As to sleeves, yes, long sleeves, close-fitting at the wrists, are perfect for me to wear. They are perfectly adjusted. — I am 56, entertain at home a great deal. My husband objects to the hostess gown. — Mrs. D."

A hostess gown, well fitted, of attractive style, in velvet, crepe or any suitable material, is perfectly correct for receiving guests at home. A hostess gown differs very little from a dress but it must be kept from any hint of the boudoir.

"Do you think a lace blouse and short skirt would look right at an informal afternoon wedding? I am the aunt of the bride but take no part in the wedding. — Auntie."

Yes, a lace blouse and street-length skirt would be smart. Wear a small hat with a veil and long gloves.

"Are pointed nails in bad taste? — Charlotte E."

Pointed nails are not flattering to the hands. Nails should be evaluated by filing gently. And always file in one direction, not back and forth. Never cut the cuticle, and be gentle in using any instruments in doing a home manicure.

Having Company? Serve Pork Roast

SUCCULENT PORK ROAST is center of an appealing menu.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

For "company" dinner select a succulent pork roast. Fresh pork is in good supply, and a roast, beautifully browned, makes a wonderful gala dish.

How does this menu appeal to you? Sparkling cranberry juice or well chilled tomato juice comes first. With the roast serve baked sweet potatoes. Frenched green beans or asparagus with butter-branched slivered almonds, then a grapefruit and orange salad. For dessert, serve a frosted white cake with a delicately tinted coconut.

Beth Bailey McLean, director of Home Economics, Swift & Co., planned the menu and gives these instructions for roasting the pork.

For ease in carving the rib or loin roast of pork, have the meat dealer saw the backbone free from the ribs. In self-serve counters this will be done before the meat is wrapped. The backbone is left in place to act as a rack to hold the meat off the pan during the cooking, but is removed before the meat is brought to the table for carving.

Place the roast, fat side up and resting on the sawed-off backbone, in a low roasting pan in a 325 Deg. F. oven. For a well browned, tempting coating of brown sugar, mustard and vinegar on the fat. This will melt and run down over the surface and produce a beautifully browned appearance at the end of the cooking time.

Plan to roast the meat 35 to 45 minutes per pound or until a roast meat thermometer, inserted in the thickest portion of the meat, registers 185 Deg. F., indicating that the meat is thoroughly cooked.

For the special festive touch garnish with spiced pears.

Pampa To Have Own Provisional League Of Women Voters

At 8 p. m. Wednesday a group of women will meet in the City Club Room to take initial steps toward organizing a provisional League of Women Voters. Officers will be elected at that time. Pampa women have been working for some time as a part of the Amarillo league, but it has only recently been learned that a local provisional league will be possible. The local unit has been under the temporary chairmanship of Mrs. J. W. Garman.

The League of Women Voters is for the purpose of promoting political responsibility among women voters. It is non-partisan; its purpose is to inform, not sway, its members.

All women of voting age are eligible to join this organization.

they don't understand her at all. How much more sensible if they would show their concern for their daughter, not by saying "No" to all dating, but by seeing to it that she dates only boys they approve of, by going only to places they know about, limiting her dates to, say, one a week, and insisting that she be in at a certain hour.

Parents can't just turn a 16-year-old loose, letting her do whatever she insists all the other kids are permitted to do. But they can, within the framework of their own rules, let her take the first boy-girl steps when the parents and girls her own age are taking them.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

An unhappy 15-year-old wails: "All the girls I know have dates for the movies, school parties, etc. But my mother and father not only won't let me have a date with a boy, even when they know him and know he is nice, but they won't let me talk on the telephone to a boy."

The other day a boy in my class at school called me up. Mother answered the phone and she was so rude to him I was ashamed. She hung up without letting me speak to him.

"I wish I could quit school and not have to face the other kids." That's a sad story, because the parents are probably trying to do right, as they see it. The trouble is, they're treating their 15-year-old like a child, as though by being strict enough they can keep her safe. They are trying to put off all boy-girl relationships until the day they decide she is old enough to look after herself, and they won't have to worry about her.

MORE SENSIBLE WAY

But that is a foolish mistake for parents to make. In being too strict and showing no understanding, they are making their daughter ashamed and rebellious, convincing her that

Nan Fights Subs With Electrons

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
AKRON, O. —(NEA)— The world's biggest non-rigid gas bag will soon make its first flight. It's the very latest thing in the way of defense against submarines.

Called the "Nan" after its official "N-type" designation, it is 324 feet long, 92 feet high, 71 feet wide and will hold 875,000 cubic feet of helium.

Except for a few braces that run out from the nose cone, the inside pressure of the gas is the only thing that gives the huge inflated sausage casing its shape.

It's about one-third the size of the old Akron and Macon, the big rigid airships which were lost in tragic accidents during the '30s, leading to the abandonment of their type by the Navy.

Nan is the first airship designed especially for anti-submarine warfare. Its chief asset for this purpose is an extreme long range. The record for an airship staying up is a little more than a week. Exactly how long the Nan can remain aloft on a mission is a secret, but it will break that record easily.

The only purpose of the Nan is to get a "black box" full of electronic submarine detection gear out over the ocean. The armament is secret.

An 80-foot gondola will house the 3-man crew. Because of the long patrol missions the crew will be required to make, emphasis has been placed on comfort.

There are special nylon bunks. A light-weight 20-cubic-foot refrigerator will provide fresh fruit, vegetables and meat. One-third of it will be for frozen foods.

In order to save weight on the amount of water which will have to be carried, current is provided for electric shavers. No man flying a mission on the Nan will be permitted to shave with water.

When it takes off the nose points up into the air, just like an airplane. With no rudder sticking straight down in the rear, as on the old-type airships, the pilot can push the nose up at a greater angle.

The bag fabric is a special tough material—about the thickness of two ordinary sheets of paper—called fortisan rayon. Its chief advantage besides strength is the fact that it does not stretch under pressure.

The first Nan is costing the Navy about $5,000,000 and is being built by the Goodyear Aircraft Co. There are four more being made which will cost much less.

Soprano Spurns Gold For Music

NEW YORK —(AP)— Marjorie Lawrence, American concert soprano now on tour in Australia, recently wrote to friends here that she had found a young Anzac who preferred singing with her to having a share of a gold mine.

Miss Lawrence said that James Wilson, a baritone with the National Opera Company, was in rehearsal when notified that his father-in-law, David Butterick, had struck gold at Wedderburn, Australia. Wilson was offered a share of the claim.

"If I had gone digging for gold, I wouldn't have had the chance to sing with Marjorie Lawrence," he was quoted as saying, "and I'd sooner do that than own all Australia's gold claims."

Two standard reciprocating aircraft engines will power the huge airship. They are mounted so they can be repaired and refueled during a flight. They will provide a speed of about 85 miles per hour.

The Nan is guided with a new type of airship fin called a "rudervator." Instead of four fins rigged at 90-degree angles from the center line, they are in pairs, 45 degrees off center. This provides more maneuverability and gives more clearance at the stern for take-off.

GI Insurance Pays $10,000 To Family

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON —(AP)— This is an explanation of the new — and free — $10,000 government insurance for servicemen. Congressmen approved it Friday. President Truman will shortly sign it into law. It covers all men in service on or after June 27, 1950 and for 120 days after getting out. What of those who died as a result of service on or after June 27 and before this new insurance becomes law?

The next of kin will receive $10,000 insurance. It will not be in a lump sum but in monthly installments of about $92.90 for 120 months, or 10 years. Until now, men in service had no insurance unless they bought what is called National Service Life Insurance (NSLI). For this they had to pay. They could buy up to $10,000 worth, or any part of it. Many didn't buy it.

When those who did buy it got out, they could keep the insurance. But they had to pay for it, of course. But they could get USLI "term" or permanent insurance. The most they could have was $10,000.

Most World War II veterans dropped the NSLI when they got out. Only about 4,000,000 veterans of that war still have it, although it's cheaper than the regular commercial insurance.

Some, but not all, of the men who entered the service since World War II have bought, and have been paying for, this NSLI. The many veterans who kept NSLI after the war and were called back since June 27 have kept on paying.

Now comes a question: what about the man who had — or didn't have — NSLI and was killed on or after June 27, 1950. How much of the new free $10,000 insurance will his next of kin get?

If he had $10,000 NSLI, his survivors will get the full $10,000. If he had some NSLI, but not $10,000 worth, the government will pay the survivors the difference between his NSLI and the $10,000 free insurance. If he had no NSLI at all, the survivors will get $10,000 free.

In short, the purpose of this soon-to-be law is to see that the survivors of a serviceman get $10,000 insurance, but no more, from the government, provided he dies as a result of service or within 120 days after getting out.

None of this free $10,000 will be taxable in any way. And none of it can be claimed by creditors of the dead serviceman or his family. Now come some more questions.

Suppose a man now in service, or one called back into service, has some NSLI for which he's been paying. Now he can be protected with $10,000 insurance free. What can he do about his NSLI? One of several things:

1. If he has NSLI "Term" coverage, he doesn't have to pay for it while in service. When he gets out he can simply resign paying on that NSLI "term." And he won't have to take a medical examination to get it again.

2. If he had permanent NSLI, he can keep on paying for it while in service but with much smaller payments than when he was out of service. So, when he again is out of service, he'll still have his NSLI permanent policy and will resume making the regular payments.

3. He can surrender his NSLI for its cash value. Within 120 days after leaving the service, he can get his NSLI back, by applying for it, but —

Then he'll have to pay back to the government the cash surrender value which he received and pay up a small part of the premiums he would have been paying if he hadn't surrendered the policy at all. He can resume his old NSLI without a medical examination.

4. Or, if he gave up his NSLI, got the cash surrender value, and now is out of service and wants to resume it but doesn't have that cash value to pay back, he can resume the policy but at the rate of his age when he does resume. So the premiums in that case will be a little higher than formerly since he first took out that policy at a younger age.

But what of the men now in service, or who will be going in, who have no NSLI but will be examination. But the price of it will increase every five years as the man gets older. This "term" insurance, for the man who never had it before, can't be converted into a permanent policy.

(When a serviceman who had bought the old NSLI insurance before this law — got out, he could get it changed from "term" insurance to the permanent kind. That's a big difference made by the new law. Now a many buying NSLI for the first time can't get permanent insurance unless he's disabled).

2. If he was disabled in service, making him ineligible for normal commercial insurance, a man when he gets out can buy NSLI on a term or permanent basis, and, of course, he'll have to start paying for it.

3. If totally disabled in service, a man when he gets out will get government insurance up to $10,000 for free so long as he is totally disabled.

Reapers Check Two Teams To Take Triangular Meet

Apaches Squeeze Brownsville, 4-3

(By The Associated Press) The Apaches are on the war and are rampaging unchecked through the Gulf Coast area. They are in that section are mending what to do to stop them.

Although no one is in danger of losing their scalp since the rampaging Apaches are the Laredo club of the Gulf Coast League, there is a chance that the fast moving Indians will make a run-away of the Class B League race. They edged Brownsville last night, 4-3, for their sixth victory of the season without a defeat.

In other games over the circuit Corpus Christi nipped Laredo, 3-2; Galveston defeated Port Arthur, 7-3, and Harlingen beat Texas City, 8-5.

Home runs continued to be a feature of the games with four being pounded out of the parks last night, two by Laredo's George Lopez.

Marty Errante went the distance for the Apaches and was touched for eight hits, only one more than Laredo was collecting off Brownsville hurling, but the hitting of Lopez helped him to win. The Charros scored first in the top of the second inning but Laredo took the lead in their half of the same frame and it was never behind again.

Right handed Jesus Valenzuela curved-balled the Lake Charles Lakers into submission to pitch the Corpus Christi Aces to victory in a neat pitchers' duel.

Valenzuela tied up with Lefty Bobby German in the duel, stopping the Lakers with one hit in the last seven innings.

The Harlingen Capitols picked out three Texas City pitchers to pound out an 8-5 victory. The Texans took a three run lead in the bottom of the first inning but couldn't hold it. Harlingen got two of the runs back in the second, tied the game in the fifth and took the lead in the sixth.

Little Ramon Roger, Cuban left-hander, notched his second victory of the young season as he pitched the Galveston White Caps to a 7-3 win over the Port Arthur Sea Hawks. Roger, a 21-game winner last season, limited the Hawks to nine hits while his mates were exploding for five runs in the fifth frame to hand him the victory.

Grand Jury Frees Micou At Canadian

CANADIAN (Special) — Bill Micou, charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the March 29 shooting of a fellow railroad employee, Raymond H. Stands, was freed by a Kempen County grand jury here this week.

The grand jury returned a "no bill" verdict after questioning Micou in regard to the shooting which sent Stands to the hospital with three bullet wounds, and released Micou from the $2000 bond under which he had been held.

Micou had made bond a few hours after the shooting, which occurred in front of Micou's home at 112 South Sixth St. Stands was released from Hemphill Memorial Hospital April 6, after receiving treatment for the bullet wounds from a .38 calibre automatic pistol which Micou admitted using. Stands was subpoenaed for questioning by the grand jury in connection with the shooting.

On the grand jury, which was empaneled for a six-month term, were Earl Blackmore, Charles Wright, Bert Babitzke, W. P. Varnell, Joe S. Morgan, R. L. Hines and David Kiker, R. L. Hines and David Kiker.

Movie Tackles Medical Issue

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (P) — Having tackled all other kinds of problems, Hollywood is now taking on the issues of the medical profession.

Twentieth Century-Fox has already dealt with anti-semitism, anti-Negro feeling and snobbery in college sororities. Its latest "problem" feature is "The Dr. Fraetorius Story," a comedy with overtones of medical controversy.

It is being written and directed by Joseph Mankiewicz, the man who snagged four Oscars in the last two years.

Dr. Ben Sacks, a retired New York heart specialist who is technical advisor on the film, explained the issues in the film: "It's the story of the conflict of two schools of medical thought. Dr. Praetorius, played by Cary Grant, believes in modernizing hospitals and medical treatment. He is opposed by an anatomy professor, who believes Praetorius is destroying the dignity of the profession."

"Praetorius believes that a doctor has the duty to treat the patient, not just the disease. In other words, he feels that it is not enough to cure the ailment alone; the doctors also must get the patient in a healthy mental and emotional state."

"The modern principles of psychiatry and psychosomatic medicine are followed by Praetorius. He knows that many diseases, organic as well as functional, are caused by mental conditions. Also, he has a disregard for hospital procedure. 'I will not have my patients awakened from health-giving sleep so they can take a bath on schedule,' he says."

DON'T ROB YOURSELF OF POISE AND SELF-ASSURANCE

Are you so conscious of your excess weight that your poise and self-assurance is suffering? You needn't be that way—just take a few minutes each day to take a few extra pounds without starvation diet or tiresome exercises.

It's simple. It's amazing how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful.

Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly blot disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

HERE IS THE PROOF
"I have gotten wonderful results taking Barconate," writes Louise Bonham, Brookston, Texas. "When I started I weighed 220 pounds. I now weigh 150, a total loss of 70 pounds. I feel 100% better and am glad to recommend Barconate very highly to anyone."

Real Paris Invites Mayors To Attend Parisian Party

PARIS — (P) — Twenty-three towns and villages named Paris — 14 of them in the United States — are being invited to send their mayors to the 2,000th birthday party of Paris this summer.

Although the French capital will be celebrating all summer long and well into the fall, the R.S.V.P. invitations all are made out for July 8.

"No one agrees just when Paris was really founded," said a member of the organizing committee. "We had to choose a symbolic date."

With the mayors from all the foreign Parises will come, it is hoped, those of world capitals, of chief towns of the 90-odd departments (counties) of France and the biggest cities in the French union overseas.

The American mayors invited will be those from the Parises in Arkansas, Idaho, Illinois, Kentucky, Maine, Maryland, Michigan, Mississippi, Missouri, New York, Ohio, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia.

July 8, climactic day of the Paris anniversary celebrations, will begin with French and foreign military bands converging on the immense central Place de la Concorde, coming from the city's "gates" in the north, south, east and west.

Together the massed bands will march up the famous Avenue des Champs Elysees, then turn across the Seine and on to the big Esplanade before the Invalides near Napoleon's tomb, for an open air concert.

After each band has played the national anthem of its native land, they will march back across the river and up the Champs Elysees to pay tribute at the grave of France's Unknown Soldier underneath the Arch of Triumph.

An evening of pageantry will follow at the Invalides, where the provinces and the French union will salute the capital. As night falls, the sky will flame with fireworks retracing the greatest moments of the city's history.
