Says Bombing Best Hope To End Conflict

TOKYO (AP)—The top British military officer in Japan has voiced support of General MacArthur's proposal to bomb Red Chinese bases in Manchuria.

Gen. Sir H. C. H. Robertson, administrative commander of British Commonwealth forces in Korea last week told a confidential conference of British newsmen that MacArthur's proposal offered the best hope of forcing the Chinese Reds out of the war and preventing a costly stalemate. He said the only alternative would be to send a tremendous land army—larger than anyone has contemplated—into Korea.

The Australian general is the first important British Commonwealth officer to speak in favor of bombing Manchuria. The British Foreign Office and Commonwealth governments have strongly opposed MacArthur's program for fear it would spread the war.

A man who attended the conference said Robertson expressed his off-the-record view April 10—the day before President Truman dismissed General MacArthur.

It was presumed Robertson, like MacArthur, had spoken without consulting his home government. Robertson said failure to act would result in a disastrous stalemate. He saw little hope of maintaining an allied defense line along Parallel 38 and even less of holding positions farther into Red Korea.

The Australian general repeated MacArthur's argument that the farther the allies go into North Korea, the harder it will be to supply them and the easier it will be for the Reds to supply their troops.

Robertson left the impression that serious consequences face United Nations forces in Korea if the Reds' Manchurian bases are permitted to operate freely as the supply funnel into Korea.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, top allied commander, has based his Korean war strategy on the theory that if the Reds are hit constantly—even on a limited scale—they can't organize for an effective drive.

Oil Allowable Is Increased

AUSTIN (AP)—The Railroad Commission today ordered a 30,471 barrel daily increase in Texas' May crude oil allowable.

After a 16-minute statewide hearing, the commission set the May allowable figure at 2,363,323 barrels daily.

This swift action followed predictions that little change would be ordered for May.

The order first places the state on a general 24-day production schedule, compared to 23 for April. The East Texas Field continues on a 19-day schedule, as do Willmar at 12 and Pantex at 14.

Only five oil company representatives testified at today's hearing. Two others spoke briefly on matters not directly related to the crude allowable.

Commissioner William J. Murray, Jr., said national crude stocks decreased slightly the first week in April despite a decrease in crude processed at refineries and increased production.

"We are somewhat at a loss to understand this situation," he said. "We now believe there is a lag in the obtaining of statistics on crude stocks and that figures for the second week in April will show an increase."

Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson said a preliminary report from the U. S. Bureau of Mines indicates stocks for the week ending April 13 will show an increase of 706,000 barrels.

Complaint Filed In Dalhart In Shooting Of W. F. Davenport

A formal complaint was to be filed in Dalhart today in connection with the fatal shooting of William Frank Davenport, Dalhart county farmer, according to District Attorney Floyd H. Richards.

Davenport, 53, was slain by a shotgun blast about 11 p. m. Monday as he knucked at the front door of his farm home on the 4. Sedan road, about 33 miles west of Dalhart.

Johnston Sees End To Inflation Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP)—The labor-industry fight over new wage board powers boiled on today. But a top administration official claimed the stop-inflation drive is starting to pay off.

Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston said last night the inflation spiral is being checked at last. In fact, he said prices for consumer goods may take a tumble in the next few months because of abundant factory stocks.

Johnston conceded that "we have not yet been successful" after two months of effort in setting the Wage Stabilization Board's program. He questioned the wisdom of a proposal recommended to the President yesterday.

This revived speculation that a wage board of all public members may soon be established.

Up to now the administration has been trying to put a board of labor, industry and public members back into business.

President Truman's 17-man mobilization advisory board came up with a plan for a new board late yesterday. It was approved by the advisory board's public, labor and farm members.

The plan of the advisory board's majority would have a 16-member board of public, labor and industry members.

Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) told the committee that the board would be "deliberately" evaluating the service of subpoenas for their appearance.

Chairman Wood (D-Ga.) told newsmen no similar situation had arisen during his service in Congress.

Before the House is called upon to pass the resolution, however, it first must be approved by the full committee. An official committee go-ahead seemed all but certain.

The committee is to act either tomorrow or Friday.

Under authority resting in Congress, either the House or Senate can vote to have witnesses listed before it and require them to post bond. The Senate followed this procedure in the case of missing witnesses in the recent crime investigation.

Legal groundwork for the House action was taken yesterday when investigator William A. Wheeler read into the record the names of nine persons he said are evading subpoenas.

He named them as: Michael Bris, free lance writer; screen writer Fred Finkle, radio script writer Georgia Backus Alexander; screen writer Hugo Butler; actress Karen Morley; Jack Berry, a screen director; writer Lew Solomon; writer Leonardo Bertolucci; and writer Edward Huebach.

Three of these have been named by previous witnesses as one-time members of the Communist Party. They are Uria, Heisey's Crystal, Lewis Hdw.

Commission Sets Hearing On Gas Boost

A public hearing on the proposed 10 percent gas rate boost was set for 10 a. m. April 24, as the city commission moved from afternoon to morning sessions by resolution yesterday afternoon.

The public hearing follows a precedent laid down by the present administration when Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. first asked for a rate increase.

J. W. Garman, president of Texas Gas and Power Co. presented the commission with two proposed schedules, both amounting, roughly, to a 10 percent across-the-board increase.

But it was a proposal made by the gas company that made the commission balk at taking definite action before a public hearing is held.

The gas company would raise all brackets 10 percent, including the minimum charge, and consolidate the schools on one bill.

On the other hand, the company would apply a 10 percent bracket, retaining the present minimum of $1.50 but keep the schools under separate billings. Since the school billings do not fall under the company's franchise, the commission backed away from taking action on the school system.

The latter Mayor C. A. Huff, City Manager Dick Pepin and Commissioner W. B. Neal agreed it is "none of the commission's business."

Presenting his request Garman told the commission his company had paid only one dividend to stockholders since the company was formed, the profits being turned back to expand the system and purchase additional gas wells.

He claimed by retaining the present minimum bill, the company would lose $3,000 revenue annually, but could make it up by keeping the school on separate billings. This, he added, would amount to an actual 8.7 percent boost instead of 10 percent.

Army Cuts Draft Call

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today cut its May draft call from 60,000 to 40,000 men.

The action follows the halving of the April call which was cut from 80,000 to 40,000. Both cuts were based on the increase of volunteer enlistments, the Army said.

Since January 64,000 men have volunteered for the Army. This is 24,000 more than the Army anticipated.

The Army said lighter than expected casualties in Korea also influenced the decision to reduce the number of men needed through the draft.

Release For Reserves Due

WASHINGTON (AP)—Assistant Secretary of Defense Anna Rosenberg said today the Army hopes by September to begin releasing enlisted reservists who were called to duty involuntarily.

She testified before a House armed services subcommittee which is holding hearings on the reserve program.

Mrs. Rosenberg added that the Army also has planned to release other reservists, officer and enlisted.

Little Chance Seen For Early Meeting

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There is a little likelihood of a meeting between President Truman and General MacArthur in Washington tomorrow unless a direct invitation comes from the White House.

"There is no plan whatsoever for such a meeting so far as I know," said Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, spokesman and close advisor of the general.

Whitney told reporters that MacArthur still is working on the speech he will deliver before a joint session of Congress tomorrow.

"The general started working on it as soon as he found out he would be invited," Whitney said.

MacArthur is expected to set forth in full his opinions on defeating the Chinese Communists with limited extension of the war in Korea.

MacArthur has strongly advocated allied air attacks on Manchurian bases and aid to the Chinese Nationalists in amphibious assaults on the Chinese mainland.

Whitney said the general had "no comment" on the Chicago speech of Gen. Omar Bradley, chairman of the U. S. joint chiefs of staff.

Bradley opposed both bombing Manchuria at this time and supporting amphibious assaults on the Chinese mainland. He said either step would spread the war.

Whitney said MacArthur would go to Chicago some time next week.

A visit to Milwaukee also is being considered.

MacArthur's personal physician, Col. Charles Canada, declared the 71-year-old general is in fine condition.

"There's no question of him holding up," Canada said, and laughed "but it's a question if he can."

Whitney said there was no indication what post may be assigned MacArthur, if any. "His position is that of a dismissed commander, without assignment."

"He's taking this thing in stride," Whitney added.

He said there has been no decision on Remington-Rand, Inc.'s offer to MacArthur to become a director.

The bid, first made Dec. 24, 1949, was a fluid one, based on a time when his work in Japan would be completed. It was reported a $100,000 a year post-forum.

Walter Cosgriff, an outgoing director, told the Senate Expenditures Committee at a recent hearing that a man "would have to be a glutton for punishment" to want the job Symington has agreed to undertake.

Senator Maybank (D-SC) announced the Senate Banking Committee which he heads would start hearings on the nomination Tuesday. He predicted Symington (See SWIFT, Page 2)

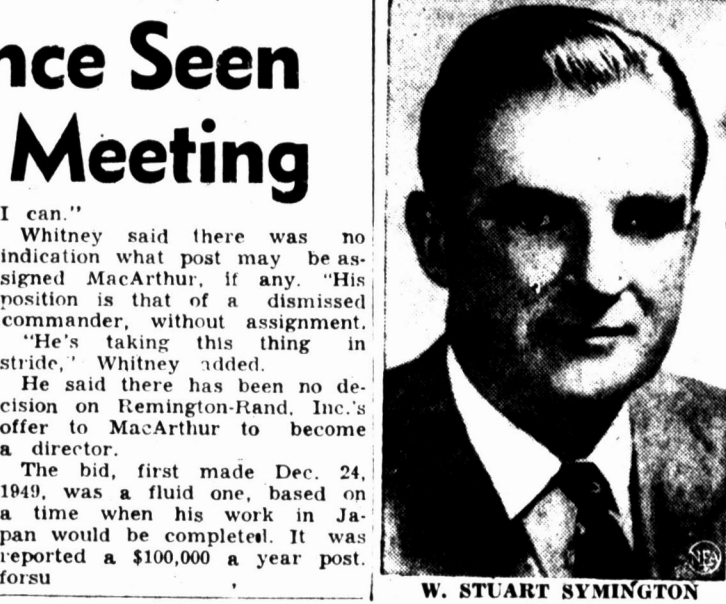

Allied Troops Beat Out Gain Behind Air, Artillery Attack

TOKYO (AP)—Allied troops advanced 2,000 to 3,000 yards on the west Korean front today behind heavy air and artillery attacks.

The Reds gave that ground 1-3 to 2 miles grudgingly.

The big gains were south and southeast of Chorwon, a five-highway hub about 19 miles inside Red Korea.

One allied infantry team pushed up a valley road within two miles of the hubbed city. The doughboys met Chinese mortar and rifle fire and withdrew.

W. STUART SYMINGTON

Swift Approval Of Symington Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration leaders predicted today swift Senate approval of W. Stuart Symington for a new job—boss and trouble shooter at the Reconstruction Finance Corp. (RFC).

There was no sign of serious opposition to his appointment. President Truman announced yesterday selection of Symington to head the huge government lending agency, now under fire in Congress on charges that its loan policies have been influenced by a ring with contacts in the White House.

A strong move is afoot to abolish RFC entirely.

Symington, a former secretary of the Air Force, now is chairman of the National Security Resources Board. In that job, he acted as overall coordinator of the defense mobilization program in its early stages.

Mr. Truman chose him for the newly created post of RFC administrator, to take over from the agency's board of directors, whose jobs were abolished in a reorganization plan freshly approved by Congress.

As dusk settled over the field there were about 10,000 spectators jammed into a wire-fence enclosure. Other thousands were unable to get in.

Excitement mounted as MacArthur's plane—the Bataan—nearly the field on its 300-mile-an-hour dash to Hawaii. Then the big plane swept over, the lights twinkling, and settled on the runway as the crowd cheered.

The ship touched the runway at 8:29 p. m. (11:29 p. m., EST). It rolled up before a crowd and flood lights gleamed on its silvery sides.

The plane rolled to a halt. A woman gave a high, hysterical scream that signalled the temper of the crowd.

The cheers swelled into a roar. The official greeting party included Gov. Earl Warren, Mayor Elmer Robinson and high-ranking officers of the Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines. They moved forward to shake hands with the MacArthurs.

Spectators, newsmen and photographers surged forward and the welcome almost got out of hand. Police shoved a way open for the honor guests.

Faint Signals Spur Search For British Sub In Channel

PORTSMOUTH, Eng. (AP)—Faint underwater signals spurred a blind search today for the British submarine Affray, stuck on the bottom of the English Channel. Time was swiftly running out for any of the 75 officers and men aboard who might still be alive.

The submarine, trapped in the initial drive of a training cruise, had been under 198 feet of water for 40 hours when the Royal Navy announced at mid-afternoon that it had been unable to make any physical contact with the craft. Its normal oxygen supply would last the men on board 40 hours.

A naval expert said reserve supplies might last the 75 aboard five another eight hours, but "that means 2100 hours (2 p. m. CST) the situation inside the vessel would be extremely dangerous."

The last faint signals from the submarine were heard at 8:30 a. m. (1:30 a. m. CST). Then came hours of ominous silence. There was an atmosphere of mystery about it.

Why, the rescue crews asked, could not the trapped men begin coming to the surface through escape hatches, using emergency breathing gear? Why had the submarine failed to release its emergency marker buoy to guide rescue craft? Why, if there had been disaster, had the rescue fleet failed to find any debris or even an oil slick?

Late today a Royal Air Force search plane said it spotted a yellow object floating 29 miles east of Portland light. This is 60 miles from the area where the searchers are waiting for a sign of life from the trapped men. But it is along the route the submarine was supposed to follow on its practice war patrol maneuver which began Monday night, and surface vessels were being directed to the spot on the chance the object might be a marker buoy from the Affray.

The Admiralty said the signals, from a super-sonic telegraph set, were so weak that rescue ships were unable to fix the exact position of the luckless undersea craft.

The only previous signal from the sub, heard at 12:30 a. m. to 1:30 a. m. (See BRITISH, Page 2)

The Welcome Foreshadows First Return

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—General Douglas MacArthur's dramatic homecoming was growing today into the wildest emotional jag this city has seen since the tumult of V-J Day.

Tens of thousands of bay area citizens poured out of their homes to give the ousted general a second-day welcome overshadowing the riotous greeting he received last night on his first return to the mainland in 14 years.

MacArthur captured San Francisco as surely as his troops conquered Manila and Leyte and New Guinea in World War II. And his parade through cheering thousands this morning (starting at 8:45 a. m., — 12:45 p. m., EST) climaxed the hysterical homecoming party.

Once the official welcome home was extended, the general turned to the grim business of hurrying to Washington to defend before tomorrow the Asia policies which costed President Truman to fire him.

Already the dispute between MacArthur and President Truman has the Republicans and Democrats hurling at each other the angry and bitter accusation of "war party." And this deep rift has people throughout the country choosing up sides.

But the hundreds of thousands who greeted MacArthur last night left no doubt of their deep admiration of the hero soldier regardless of how they felt about his Asia policies.

People began gathering at the city airport three hours before MacArthur's big shiny Constellation transport was due from Hawaii.

As dusk settled over the field there were about 10,000 spectators jammed into a wire-fence enclosure. Other thousands were unable to get in.

Excitement mounted as MacArthur's plane—the Bataan—nearly the field on its 300-mile-an-hour dash to Hawaii. Then the big plane swept over, the lights twinkling, and settled on the runway as the crowd cheered.

Petition On Airport Out

Petitions to the county commissioners court calling for a $288,500 special bond election to improve Pampa Municipal Airport, and the airstrip at McLean, were being circulated among property owning taxpayers this afternoon.

Twenty-five copies of the petition were received at the chambers of commerce office late this morning and distributed to members of the McLean Junior Chamber of Commerce, the joint aviation committee and members of the Pampa Pilots' Assn. for circulation among voters.

The petition was left intact following a conference Tuesday afternoon between aviation interests of Pampa and McLean. The McLean group readily agreed to a $25,000 participation of the $288,500 for the strip located on the old POW camp there.

A minimum of 150 names must be signed to the petitions before the commissioners court may recognize it and call a special election. Signing the petition is not obligatory in voting but is necessary to bring the question before the people for approval or rejection.

ton's confirmation "with very little opposition" and told reporters: "I don't believe the President could have a made a better choice."

Senator Schoeppel of Kansas, a Republican member of the committee, told a reporter: "I've heard of no opposition to Symington in all the time since his name first was mentioned. From all I've heard, he's an excellent administrator, careful and practical in his approach to problems. I believe the President has picked a good man for this difficult position."

To go ahead with hearings on Symington's nomination Maybank cancelled plans to invite former President Herbert Hoover to testify before the committee Tuesday on bills to abolish the RFC.

Maybank said Hoover and Jesse Jones, a former RFC head, would be heard later in the week, instead.

Pending before the banking committee are bills by Senators Bricker (R-Ohio), Kern (R-Mo.) and Eyard (D-Va.) to put the RFC out of business, and a rival proposal by Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) to order revisions in its practices.

Symington, if the Senate confirms him, faces the task of heading an agency still under a grand jury and Senate investigation. A banking subcommittee headed by Fulbright has accused three members of the outgoing board of yielding to influence in granting loans.

Fulbright's subcommittee yesterday launched a new inquiry into the basis for charges attributed to President Truman that "a great many" Senate and House members got fees in recent years for exerting influence on the RFC.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) told the Senate last week he recorded a phone talk with Mr. Truman in February in which he said the President made the accusations. Later, Tobey said, Mr. Truman said in another telephone talk he had "deduced" from some Senate and House members' letters to the RFC that "a great many" of the writers had got fees, but could not prove it.

The Fulbright subcommittee's staff immediately started digging into a pile of 800 copies of letters from Congress members to the RFC. They are the same letters Tobey said were mentioned by the President.

Pampa To Extend Welcome To Sooner Goodwill Boosters

The welcome mat will be put out when the Oklahoma City goodwill tour makes its first Texas stop here Wednesday, April 25.

At a meeting Monday of the local goodwill and reception committee of the Chamber of Commerce entertainments for the Oklahoma group were planned, including a dinner at the Pampa Country Club.

The Oklahoma group, including the Scottish-clad, all-woman Kiltie band, will be met at the edge of the city by local officials and escorted to the LaNora theater where the band will perform at 8 p. m.

Paul Brown was selected by the committee to act as master of ceremonies at the downtown program and at the dinner which follows.

Local businessmen who would like to attend the special dinner in honor of the Oklahoma businessmen are urged to buy a ticket for themselves and one for a guest. They are asked to call the Chamber of Commerce for reservations.

Entertainment plans are also being made for the Kiltie band, who will not attend the dinner.

The Oklahoma City goodwill visit here is the first in a series of stops in Texas Panhandle cities. Many leading representatives of Oklahoma City business firms will be present.

Members of the local goodwill and reception committee include Coy Palmer, chairman and include Frank Fata, Frank Wilson, Paul Brown, Kirk Duncan, C. P. Puraley, Morris Enloe, John Kinard, Rusty Ward, D. L. Parker, Joe Tooley, Pinky Sims, Ray Evans and Aubrey Jones.

itary ceremonies given a five-star general. But a wave of excitement swept the crowd and swamped the well-laid plans.

Flash bulbs popped and the general was caught in the glare of television lights. The color guard snapped to attention. Artillery pieces boomed out a 17-gun salute.

Governor Warren and Lt. Gen. Albert Wedemeyer, 8th Army commander, were beside MacArthur as he emerged from the first milling crowd.

The general halted abruptly to salute the colors. He posed briefly for photographers and then walked slowly to inspect the honor guard standing stiffly at attention.

Old friends grabbed his hands and shook them. Men and women patting him on the shoulders and surged around him. There were rolling cheers from the mass of people hemmed in behind the fence. The general waved and smiled.

MacArthur walked swiftly before the guard on an inspection that was almost a mob scene. Scores followed and pressed around him—trying to keep pace while police frantically worked to clear a path.

Mrs. MacArthur and young Arthur bouquet of American Beauty roses which had been handed to her by a tiny South Korean girl. The youngster—seven-year-old daughter of a South Korean government official—had shyly tendered the roses while clasping a little South Korean flag.

Young Arthur watched the tumult in wide-eyed wonder. Lt. Col. Anthony Story, MacArthur's personal pilot, threw his arms around Arthur protectively to shield him from the jostling throng.

"How does it feel to be home?" someone asked the boy who was seeing the mainland for the first time.

"It feels fine," he smiled.

Mrs. MacArthur was smiling. Her eyes were wet with tears. "It's simply wonderful," she said. "It's simply wonderful. We have looked forward to this."

Auto Production Halt Not Seen; Design Freeze Likely

DETROIT — (AP) — Materials controls may swing auto output up and down but a full production halt isn't in the cards. A one-year design freeze is much more likely.

The car industry has been operating under materials restrictions for a couple of weeks. It expects a lot more regulation. Of course, the full impact of the new restrictions will not be felt until perhaps mid-year.

By that time the industry may welcome an easing off in production volume. Most industry experts agree dealers will have more cars than customers during the July-December period.

The idea of a possible design freeze stems from the fact the tool and die shops will be tied up with defense work exclusively after the close of the year in construction for passenger cars have been delivered. There will be design changes in 1952 models; work on the tools needed for these models was too far advanced to be halted when the defense program began to take shape.

But it takes many months to implement model changes. Orders for the needed tooling often is placed as much as a year in advance. So what follows the 1952 models will remain uncertain until the tool and die industry again can book orders for civilian production.

Most guesses currently are that the 1952 models will have some bright work, although it will be less lavishly used than in the current vehicles.

The car makers and their retail divisions appear to have become so accustomed to high volume sales that a modest easing of sales starts an immediate rash of gloomy predictions. Overall there has been a slight leveling off in retail deliveries during the last few weeks.

But indications are that retail new car sales for this year's first quarter totaled 1,350,000. There were 1,286,437 retail deliveries in last year's first three months.

The first quarter this year may have borrowed something from the April-June volume but there is no reason to believe this year's second quarter sales will fall below 1,400,000.

If there is any revision of this indicated six-month total of 2,750,000 cars it almost certainly will be upward. To it must be added truck sales totaling around 600,000 for the same period.

That accounts for a sales volume equaling anything the industry ever did in a like period. Of course the sales volume was heavier in the latter half of 1950 than it was in the first half.

When the industry last year built 8,002,000 cars and trucks, and sold most of them, it reached a new production and sales plateau. Some industry representatives seem reluctant to believe that just can't be done every year.

The industry overall will make a substantial profit this year — and pay a lot of taxes.

Dick Powell Explains Reasons Behind New Adoption Agency

By BOB THOMAS — HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Dick Powell today gave the background on why he, his wife, June Allyson, and 30 others are forming an agency for the adoption of children.

"This is not a Hollywood organization," the actor explained. "As a matter of fact, June and I are the only ones in it from the picture business. Most of the others are doctors, lawyers and people from ordinary walks of life."

"The organization grew out of another group we belong to — the Adopted Children's Assn. That's a group of parents of adopted children. They meet for picnics and also have done a great deal of good in improving California's adoption laws."

"Some of us felt there was a great need for another agency to take care of the tremendous demand for adopted children. So we started drawing up the organization. It has been a tremendous chore. There are dozens of papers to be filled out and everything has to be just right."

"One difficulty is that you have to have money before you can get a license. But the state says you have to have a license before you can start making money. We are managing to overcome that by private donations."

The actor, who is completing plans for the group while working "One Never Knows," said the state welcomes such agencies. "There aren't enough of them," he said. "Too many adoptions are done privately, through doctors and lawyers. A lot of those are not successful, because there is no attempt to fit the child to the new parents.

"When you have a big file of prospective parents to choose from, you can make a more successful matching of child to parents. For instance, if you have a red-haired baby with black eyebrows, you can reach into the file and find a parent with the same characteristics."

Powell expects the organization to be licensed in a week or so. It will be called the Adoption Home of California and will be non-religious and non-profit — "in fact, it will cost us."

"But I don't think financing is going to be a problem," he added. "Ever since the announcement was made, I have had dozens of people call me and say they wanted to help in any way they could. I have been in a lot of organizations, but never have I seen the response that this one has brought."

The actor, who is the reluctant president of the group, said it will keep an extensive list of prospective parents. The group will be publicized so that families and mothers with children to put up for adoption will know where to go. The home will also draw from the many small hospitals and maternity homes in this area.

"There are 35 parents for every child who can be adopted," Powell cited. "I hope our organization will do something to lessen that ratio."

"That is something that no hopeful parent can understand; why do we have to wait three years to adopt a baby when the orphanages are always full?"

The sailors of Phoenicia sailed to Cronwall to trade for tin.

Arthur MacArthur: First U.S. Visit For Mac's Son—

Thirteen-year-old Arthur MacArthur, will be seeing his own country for the first time, as his father visits it for the first time in 14 years. The boy was born in Manila, February 21, 1938, was four years old when the MacArthurs fled Corregidor just before it fell to the Japanese in 1942. He has been educated by private tutors in Australia and Japan. General MacArthur is said looking forward to having his son attend an American school.

The four-year-old boy plays "soldier" in the entrance to a Corregidor tunnel in March, 1942.

Two years later — a refugee with his mother in Australia.

He grows up — a Cub Scout, right, he salutes the colors in Tokyo.

Far across the sea is the homeland he's never seen. He may have pondered this during his first destroyer ride, off Japan, in 1950.

DPA Allocates Steel For June

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Defense Administration has allocated 1,400,000 product tons of steel for 24 special defense-related construction programs in June.

The figure represents about one-fifth of the nation's expected steel output for the month. It compares with 1,700,000 tons allocated for 19 special programs in May.

Along with June allocations are 308,000 product tons of steel for freight car construction, 40,000 tons for locomotive building, approximately 140,000 for oil field pipe, 185,000 for electric power facilities and 31,000 for ship construction.

Steelmakers Undertake Huge Ore Transportation Program

By T. E. APPELGATE — NEW YORK — (AP) — Steel for your 1956 automobile probably will be made from iron ore now scattered in far corners of this hemisphere.

Duncan Hard On Chinese

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD — SOMEMWHERE IN KOREA — (DELAYED) — (AP) — "I never saw a man so hard after the Chinese as Duncan was," said the captain. "Maybe it was because his brother was killed in the first part of the war."

Capt. James S. Miles, Erie, Pa., was talking of his friend-tali, husky, Lt. John Duncan, of Youngstown, Ohio, who was wounded in Korea early this month.

"Duncan took so many chances," Miles went on, "that they pulled him out of the infantry line and made a communications officer out of him. That should have slowed him down, but it didn't. Whenever he heard of an area the Chinese were supposed to be infiltrating, that's the place he'd select for a night wire-laying mission."

"I don't think he had any sense of fear. If he did, his anger with the enemy completely overcame it. But the bitterness he always felt toward the Chinese never affected his disposition. He was easily the most popular man in our (First Cavalry) battalion."

Miles, leaning on the fender of a jeep, added: "You've heard of morale boosters; there's one in every outfit. Well, he was ours, always talking and laughing and kidding. It made you feel good to be around him."

"I'll never forget how happy he was about a month ago when he got word that he had a new daughter. He has another little girl — two years old."

"Duncan's best friend in the battalion was Lt. Edward Jacobs of Keota, Iowa, the surgeon of this outfit. Whenever Duncan had spare time on his hands he liked to go over to the medical tent for a bull session."

"Well, Duncan and the doc had chow together yesterday and after they got through eating they headed back to the medical tent."

"I heard the explosion. I was in my tent with some other fellows. We knew by the sound that it was a mine. Duncan had stepped on it and it had shattered his leg.

"The doc wasn't hurt. It was lucky he was there and I guess he never worked faster. He whipped off his belt and when we ran up he had already fixed a tourniquet around Duncan's leg."

"When we saw who was hurt not a one of us could stand to stay there, that's how bad we hated it, and we couldn't say a word. We just had to turn around and walk away."

Jaycees Hear Chest Report

Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce held a business session at their luncheon meeting Tuesday in the Palm Room with President Roy Taylor presiding.

Jim Leverich reported to the group on the work of the Community Chest meeting held Monday night. He said the Jaycees were represented as being in support of the Community Chest, but that no definite decisions were made and a committee was selected by the group to investigate possibilities for having a chest here.

The president announced the public meeting to be held Tuesday at the district court room, when Clyde R. Seeley of the YMCA will discuss the possibilities of a community center for Pampa.

Directors meeting will be held each first Monday of each month, it was announced. Their first business will be the discussion of the constitution and by-laws.

Reds Report Peace Drive

HONG KONG — (AP) — Red China's Peiping radio has reported another campaign for world peace on Communist terms. This one is centered in Red Korea.

But it looked more like a propaganda maneuver than a real peace feeler.

The broadcast, heard in Hong Kong, said the drive started Friday to collect signatures on an appeal for peace talks by five powers — the United States, Russia, Great Britain, France and Red China.

This is a part of the proposal put forth last February at the Communist Warsaw Peace Conference and launched April 5 in Red China.

The Red program sets three goals: Withdrawal of foreign troops from Korea, withdrawal of the U. S. Seventh Fleet from Formosa waters and entry of Red China into the United Nations.

The Warsaw proposals, in addition to the five-power talks, cover the proposed Japanese peace treaty.

Dumas Men Given Fines

Judge John V. Andrews imposed fines of $34 on Slagle for mis-use of farm license plates, $14 for lack of registration papers on semi-trailer, and $14 for no registration papers on truck.

Frasier was fined $19 for not having trailer brakes, $19 for no muffler and $10 for not having a valid commercial license.

One local man was fined $14 for disturbing the peace.

Labor May Call For Powder-Puff Brigade

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — (AP) — The powder-puff brigade will be manning the factories in increasing numbers again by the end of 1951 if current manpower defense goals are reached.

That was forecast yesterday by Manpower Mobilizer Frank P. Graham to a group of northeastern area employment officials.

He said nearly 2,000,000 women, older folks and the handicapped must be recruited to build up our minimum defense program working-fighting force to 67,000,000.

'Springtime' Theme Sets Scene For White Deer Junior-Senior Banquet

WHITE DEER — (Special) — The weather was a bit uncertain about it, but it was "spring-time" in the Schneider Hotel, Pampa, Saturday evening, when the juniors entertained the seniors of White Deer High School there with the annual junior-senior banquet.

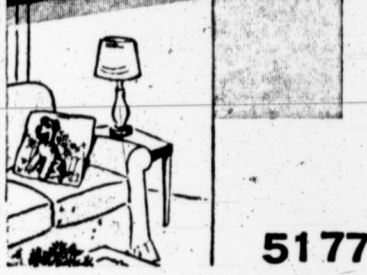

Tall baskets of pink gladioli were arranged about the room. In the center of each table for four was a pastel-colored candle in a holder of lemon leaves, against which were nestled favors in the form of carnation boutonnieres for the boys and colonial bouquets of carnations for the girls in colors matching their formal dresses. The hand-painted programs, designed by Ethan Noble, were tied with shaded ribbons; and pastel-colored nut-cups added to the array of spring hues.

R. Y. Corder, one of the senior sponsors, gave the invocation. Jackie Freeman, president of the junior class, served as master of ceremonies and welcomed the guests. Jerry McCoy, president of the senior class, responded. John Martin, speech teacher, gave a humorous reading. Music on the program included three vocal solos: "Thinking of You" by Ernestine Thornburg, accompanied by Billy Joyce Adams; "Sleeping at the Foot of the Bed" by Jimmy Mosteller, who played his own guitar accompaniment; and "It's a Grand Day for Singing" and "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Margaret Moran, accompanied by Billy Joyce Adams.

After the dinner, a number of students remained for dancing to recorded music.

Sponsors of host class are Mrs. Lloyd Wells, B. J. Thompson, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mullings.

Meatless Main Dish For Spring

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer
Here's something good — a lot of vegetables combined with dairy foods into a wonderful meatless main dish.

You can use leftover vegetables to avoid wasting them. The cheese and milk provide first class protein and the dish is thrifty, too.

Springtime Vegetable Flan
(Serves 4-6)
One baked cheese pastry pie shell 3-4 cup milk, 3-4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 2-1/2 cups diced, cooked vegetables — carrots, celery, onions, peas, turnips, parsnips, beans, potatoes — 2 tomatoes, peeled and cut into eighths, 1/2 cup grated cheese. Scald milk and add to eggs. Stir in salt, sauce and vegetables. Pour into baked pastry shell. Arrange tomatoes on top and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (350 Deg. F.) for 35 minutes or until set.

Cheese Pastry
One and one-half cups flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1-2 cup butter, 1-2 cup grated Cheddar cheese, 2 tablespoons cold water.
Sift together flour and salt. Cut in butter, add cheese and mix well. Add enough water to form into a dough. Roll out 1/4 inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim edges and prick all over with fork. Bake in a hot oven (450 Deg. F.) for 15 minutes. Make one 9-inch pie shell.

Cheese Luncheon Chowder
(Serves 4-6)
One-quarter cup butter, 1 cup diced celery, 1 cup diced carrot, 2 tablespoons grated onion, 1-2 cups cooked or canned whole kernel corn, 1-2 cup water, 1 teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 cups evaporated milk, 2 cups water, 1 cup cooked pears, 2 tablespoons chipped parsley, grated American cheese.
Melt butter, add celery, carrot, onion, corn, 1-2 cup water, salt, pepper and sugar. Cover and cook for 1 hour. Add evaporated milk, 2 cups water and peas. Heat, add parsley and sprinkle cheese on each individual serving.

Varied Program Set For Legion Auxiliary
A varied program is being planned for the American Legion Auxiliary meeting at 8 a.m. Thursday in the City Club Room.

Mrs. Jack Foster will talk on the Pan-American countries. She has lived in Venezuela. Mrs. Frank Shotwell will be in charge of the program and Mrs. Frank Yates is in charge of refreshments.

Also on the program will be films on cancer control. All old and new members are expected to attend, as well as prospective members.

Party Compliments
Leona Attaway On Fourteenth Birthday
Mr. and Mrs. Truman Attaway gave a party for their daughter, Leona, on her 14th birthday.

Mrs. Attaway served refreshments and the group played games.

Those present were Murline, Loyd and Betty Attaway, Bobby, Barbara and Mae Tackett, Bobby, Martha and Jack Hulsey, Joe and Betty Walker, Betty Holsingworth, Jay Moore, Sandra Hollis, Erma Dean Marchmah, Linda Taylor, Jerry Collins, Mrs. J. W. Hulsey, Mrs. Bill Tackett and Mrs. Lester Attaway.

SAVORY CASSEROLE
If you have a little leftover tongue add it to canned lima beans for a savory casserole dish. Season with onion, catsup, thyme, and a little vinegar if desired.

Children need more milk every day than do adults because the calcium in milk helps build and keep their bones and teeth strong.

Budget Suits Are Hard To Resist

By GAILE DUGAS
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — The budget suit, trimly tailored and priced under $20, is clothes bait to many women these days. It becomes even more tempting when it's made of worsted-and-sheen gabardines, or nylon-and-acetate cord that washes with spectacular success. These fabrics are hard to find in budget suits. And detailing in many budget suits equals that found in far more expensive designs.

The suit that's a perfect travel companion (right) is washable, is in gray and white stripe nylon and acetate cord, is a Lampl design. This is a suit classic, but-toning from stand-up collar to the waist with pearl buttons. The shoulders have a hint of spaullet; the skirt is straight and slim.

Another good travel companion, this time in pink worsted and sheen gabardine, is a suit (left) with a tricky button-down collar. This motif is repeated in hip pocket tabs. Good, classic lines make this slim suit easy to wear.

"THE NEXT VOICE YOU HEAR"

Critic Has High Praise For 'Next Voice You Hear'

Once in a lifetime motion picture producers in Hollywood make high praise for a movie that merits an opportunity to be seen by everyone who might perhaps see it.

Such a motion picture, titled "The Next Voice You Hear," will be shown at the Morley Theater in Borger starting Friday and continuing through Saturday.

You'll see a special private preview of "The Next Voice You Hear" in the story of the first time that God ever spoke over the Atlantic in a simple manner with the force of an atomic bomb, especially designed to cleanse the souls of men.

The picture is not an epic, as epic films are known to the layman. There's nothing of the colorfulness of the "King of Kings" or the "Princes of Peace" stars in the cast, but every member of the cast does a remarkable job with a gripping human interest story to come up with a production that people will talk about long after the show has come and gone.

The simple story has to do with the life of a typical American family over a period of one week. Actually, in viewing the film, you'll become so engrossed in the deep drama that you will be apt to see it as a mirrored record of yourself and family.

If the Morley Theater is filled to even near capacity during the showing of this film, it is our prediction that the local churches will see a heavy increase in attendance next Sunday.

This picture is that good . . .

The Tolling Bells

General of The Army Douglas MacArthur came home last night to a possibly the most spontaneous welcome ever afforded this nation by the American people. Over the nation, celebrations were touched off when he stepped foot on American soil for the first time in 14 years.

Futility Pattern

The Big Four powers have been at it for a month in Paris now. In case you've forgotten, they are the United States, Great Britain, France, and the Soviet Union.

The Doctor Says

WRITTEN FOR NEA BY EDWIN J. JORDAN, M.D. The finger nails and toe nails are taken pretty much for granted, but anyone who has temporarily lost a nail realizes how important these structures are.

Cranston And Fagan.

BY DAVID BAXTER

A short time ago Alan Cranston, national president of the United World Federalists, addressed a group in Santa Ana, California. What he wanted, in short, was more authority for the United Nations.

I wish Mr. Cranston would show me an authoritative document issued by Russians in which they have attacked world federalism. I wish he would show me any Communist literature condemning the idea of one-big-world-government, which Karl Marx and Lenin themselves made the very core of their scheme for world communism.

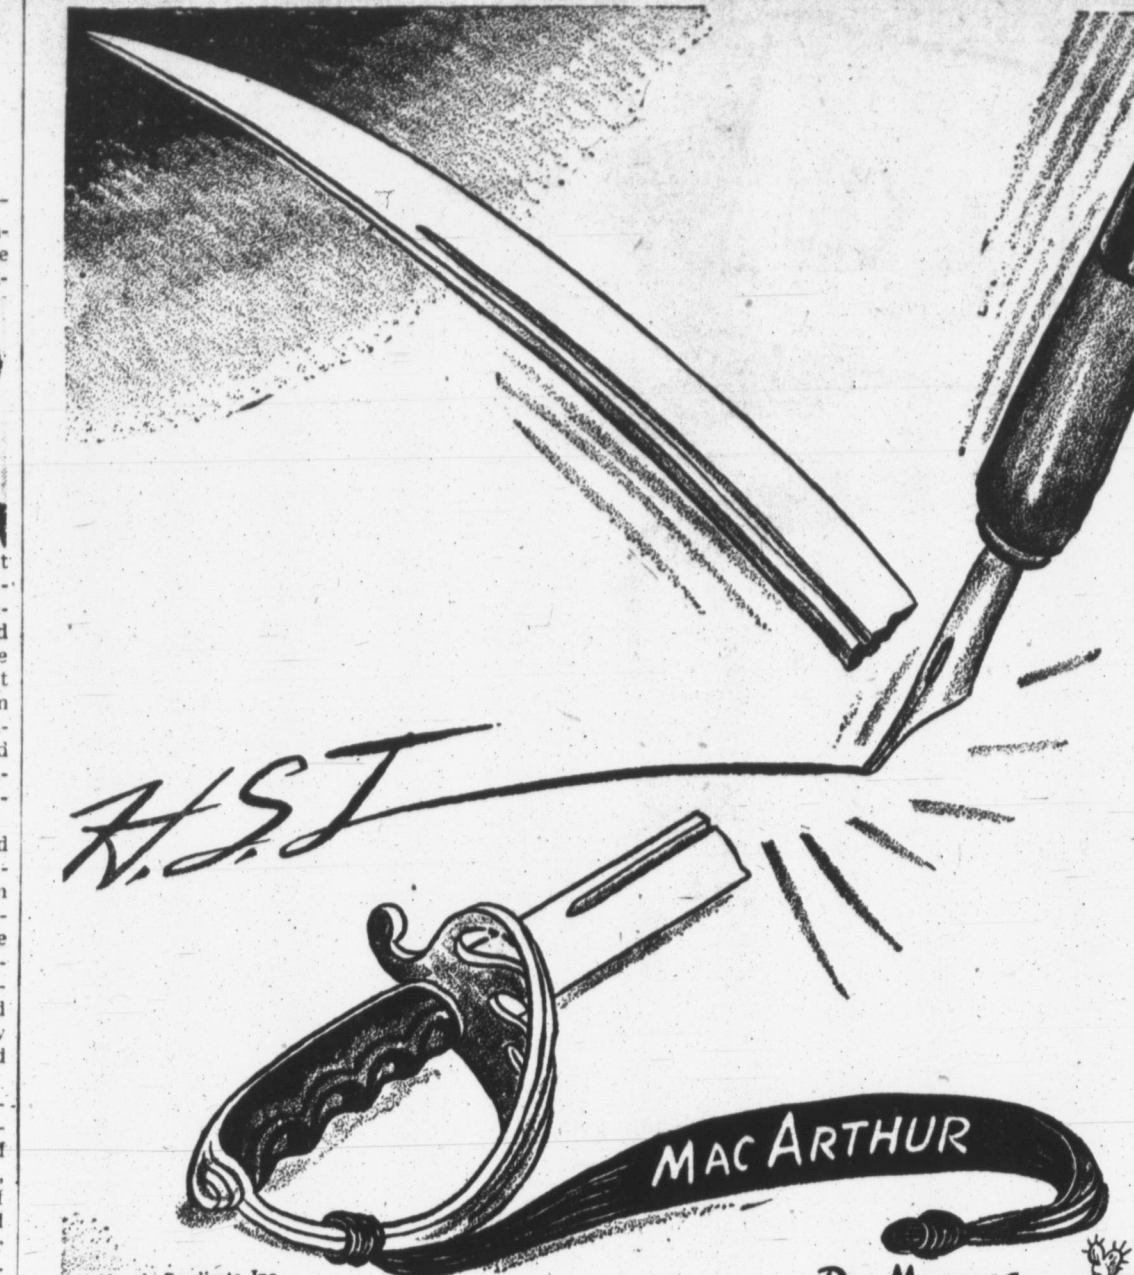

No attempt was made to refute the facts and concrete evidence I presented about world federalism in a series of columns, nor was any refutation made of charges brought against the world government organizations by other critics. Instead, Mr. Cranston referred to the patriotic people and organizations opposed to world government as "fanatics."

Myron C. Fagan, head of the Cinema Educational Guild, Inc. is unquestionably a stormy petrel in the battle to keep America out of foreign entanglements and to rid the movie industry of Reds, but to call him a "fanatic" without any definition of what is meant is merely to smear him. It is about on a par with attempts to smear Fagan as an "anti-Semite."

The story is the old familiar one, of course. The Russians and the West can't get together. If the West makes a concession, Russia's Andrei Gromyko comes up with some new demand. If he gives a little ground, he sets it with some other impossible qualification.

The Doctor Says

Washington... by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A Ring of 14 one-million-watt broadcasting stations to surround and blanket Russia and the Communist orbit of satellite states is now being planned for the Voice of America.

Locations of the new transmitters have not been revealed. Known U. S. foreign transmitters are now at Tangier, Munich, Salonika, Honolulu and Manila. Their power is to be increased. One of the new transmitters is to be aboard a psychological warfare ship, to move into troubled areas. It would be completely equipped with a plant for printing airplane-drop leaflets, posters, pamphlets and the whole range of information services.

McLemore Still Stunned Over Firing Of General MacArthur

By HENRY McLEMORE It has been a week since the piano player played his sorriest tune, and almost everything that can be said has been said, but I'm still stunned.

MacArthur fired. Done and finished. Stove in by a man who wears ventilated shoes, a harness horse driver's cap, and the power of the Constitution, a document drawn up by men who, I daresay, never thought it would be used in such a fashion.

The architects of the Constitution were brave men. Men willing to go to any lengths to uphold the dignity of Americans and free men everywhere. Mr. Truman used it to humiliate a brave American. Does Mr. Truman have anyone in his Cabinet, or in his personal entourage, to compare with MacArthur? If he does, won't he bring them forth?

Let us go a step ahead of that, even. Does Mr. Truman place himself in the same class with MacArthur? Does he think he is the equal in stature of the general who humbled behind the official seat of the United States? If he does, he'll have a hard time proving it.

I suppose he knows as much law as does MacArthur, and I would give him the edge in knowledge of political machines, including the Pendergast one, but outside of that my bet rides with the general.

One of the things that turned my stomach, and it isn't easily thought by the way, was a paragraph of the presidential communique to MacArthur. I quote it: "You are authorized to have issued such orders as are necessary to place as you select."

A gracious thing to do to a man who has given so much to his country. I say flatly that a paragraph like that to General MacArthur proves the signer a petty, little ill-tempered man. Not a gentleman as the world knows a gentleman. To go on, I think a man who would do that is a great risk to a great nation, and from here on out we should be a little more careful of our ballot.

Better Jobs National Whirligig

By R. C. HOILES

"Undermining the Constitution"

Undermining Our Livelihood

I have just been reading a new book by Thomas J. Norton entitled "Undermining the Constitution, or a History of Lawless Government." It is published by the Devin-Adair Company. It is a much needed book. It was just completed and published in 1951. Mr. Norton in 1922 wrote the book "The Constitution of the United States" of which over 500,000 copies were sold.

It seems to me a better name for this book would be "Undermining Your Livelihood." Few people are interested in the Constitution. They do not know that a real Constitution is necessary for them in order to have good jobs and an ever increasing livelihood.

I have a much clearer conception of the meaning of the Constitution now than I had before I read this book. It is the clearest presentation of the difference between the Federal Constitution and the State Constitutions that I have ever read across.

EDUCATORS NEGLIGENT

Mr. Norton seems to think that a lot of our trouble is due to the kind of education we have been receiving. Listen to these words: "The National Education Association, theoretically representing the teachers of the country, had for years been passing resolutions favoring whatever was before the public of un-American import, especially for getting the imperial Government at Washington, through 'Federal aid', to take over the shaping in school of American ideas."

There is evidence to support the theory that even General Marshall, Bradley and Eisenhower surrendered their firm convictions in many major disputes at the demand of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, former Prime Minister Churchill and Harry S. Truman.

General MacArthur expects to elaborate these views when and if he is permitted to appear before the Armed Services Committee of the House and Senate. He may divulge many hitherto unknown episodes as proof of his theory.

reality a majority rule country. Listen to this statement: "Did the United States have no Constitution, the Nation would nevertheless possess all the powers essential to its existence—to raise an army and a navy; to appoint ambassadors; to make treaties; to issue money; to levy taxes; and to take other steps found necessary to its welfare as a Nation among nations."

"But when a Constitution is written and adopted, it is for the purpose of preventing those inherent powers from being exercised at large and at will. The powers enumerated in the Constitution must be exerted as it directs."

"It was said by the Supreme Court in 1936 that the United States has inherent powers of sovereignty in foreign relations external to the Constitution; and so it could forbid its citizens to ship arms to South American countries in conflict."

"But it was unnecessary for the Court to drag in a Diagonal Clause, empowering Congress to regulate Commerce with foreign Nations, was authority enough to control the shipment of arms."

"Inherent power" in the President or the Congress over matters with which the States severally cannot deal has always been definitely rejected by the Supreme Court, it declared as late as 1936. In the foregoing case an opinion by Justice Stone written 17 years before, was quoted to show that the General Government can claim no powers which are not granted to it by the Constitution; and the powers actually granted must be such as are expressly given, or given by necessary implication."

Many people contend that this country is a democracy or a majority rule country. None of these people, however, ever answered the question as to why we had a Constitution if this country was

Although his alternative program is not known in detail, his outspoken testimony may be a tough of a spectacular and historic debate on the question of whether a President alone can continue to make decisions on such vital matters as war and peace, and on the conduct of military and diplomatic conflicts.

CRITICISMS — The first, open evidence of the MacArthur attitude was disclosed when he sat as a member of the court-martial board which tried the late Brigadier General William Mitchell, then head of the Army Air Force, for insubordination. As he revealed to the writer in 1948, MacArthur was the only man to vote against conviction.

Now the Mitchell affair paralleled closely the current MacArthur case. In fact, the airman's criticisms of the White House - War Department's policies on development of aerial warfare were far more violent than MacArthur's recent statements. Like the former Korean commander, Mitchell presented his views to Congress and the public in an attempt to force their acceptance by the Coolidge administration. He was appealing over their head to the people.

COURAGE — The problem involved was far more vital to national defense than MacArthur's ideas on how the Far Eastern War should be waged. For Mitchell was trying to force a hard - shelled, hide-bound and economy - minded administration to realize and admit that the airplane had changed the whole complex of war.

Indeed, had his ideas been acted on in the mid - twenties, and had the United States and Britain built powerful armadas, they might have mustered the courage to cut down both Hitler and Mussolini when those dictators moved the first aggressive moves that led straight to World War II.

DISREGARDED — MacArthur's agreement with Mitchell and his unwillingness to see the prophet of air power sacrificed for political interests, was only the opening act in the drama that entered a new and more exciting stage the day "Mac" was fired.

As chief of staff from 1930 to 1935, MacArthur saw the year-by-year reduction of our military strength at the very time when Germany, Italy and Japan were rearming. In annual reports that infuriated former President Hoover, he begged for funds to increase personnel, build more modern tanks and experiment with new planes and the just developed Grand rifle. His proposals were disregarded as a result of White House pressure on Congress.

POLITICAL — World War II showed presidential disregard for military-diplomatic advice on an even larger scale. And General MacArthur was in a strategic spot to note how such men as Marshall, Eisenhower, Bradley and their advisors sometimes waged a political war at the behest of the White House.

He was denied men and supplies at critical moments because of the administration's concentration on Europe. He saw the military and experiment permitted the Russians to grab half of Europe and all of China. He saw both Britain and Russia allowed to enter the war against the Japanese at the eleventh hour, although our Far Eastern enemy was already crushed, even before use of the atom bomb.

HANDICAPS — Korea, of course, impressed him as conclusive evidence that the present confused and disjointed system is wrong and dangerous. Only five months after Secretary Acheson had declared that Korea was not within our Pacific defense line, virtually inviting the Reds to invade the southern area, he was ordered by the White House to toss his relatively few and untrained troops into that conflict.

Oilers Test Gold Sox At 8 Tonight in Local Ball Park

Pampa Baseballers Seek Fifth Win in Exhibition Play

Pampa baseball fans get their last peek at the Oilers in an exhibition game at 8 o'clock tonight at Oiler Park. Manager Buck Paueit's Amarillo Gold Sox will furnish the opposition.

Manager Grover Seitz's baseballers will be shooting for their fifth straight win against WT-NM League competition. Pampa has stopped Amarillo once, 10-3, and had checked Lamesa once and Borger twice.

Probable starter for Pampa tonight will be Lefty George Washington Matthews. The smothering southpaw worked five innings against Borger here Saturday night. He let the Gassers down with two scratch hits and no runs.

Tonight's tilt will close the exhibition season for the West Texas-New Mexico League. The eight clubs get down to serious business Friday as the season opens.

Pitcher Mel Kramer joined the Pampa squad Tuesday. The Oilers are fixed in every department except pitching. Shreveport has a promised the Oilers with two hurlers before the season opens. However, Uncle Sam has been putting his stamp on baseball timber and the Sports are having trouble finding two hurlers.

Pampa's infield is shaping up and it looks like this on the eve of the season opener:

Virgil Richardson is handling the first base job. Nelson Davis is at second base; Gil Castillo at shortstop; and Luis Suarez at third.

The outfield has Francis Rice in left; Deck Woldt in center; and Hank Chiller in right. Bill Withers handles the number one catching assignment.

Big State League Starts Season

(By The Associated Press)

The crowds were below expectation but the action was brisk last night as the Class B Big State League opened its fifth season with games at Wichita Falls, Waco, Temple and Texarkana.

Waco reported the largest crowd, 3,000, as chilling winds cut into the attendance at all parks. Texarkana, the defending champions, had the lightest attendance, 1,485, while Wichita Falls reported 2,236 fans and Temple, 2,041.

On the field, Sherman-Donson defeated the champion Bears 4-2; Wichita Falls 4-1; Trimmont-Gainesville 7-2; Tyler defeated Waco, 11-3, and Temple topped Austin, 5-4.

The Tyler East Texans, making their debut in the Class B League and generally picked for the cellar position, showed surprising strength in swamping the Waco Pirates. The Pirates collected ten hits, the same number as the East Texans, but the wildness on the part of the three hurlers who saw action was costly.

The Sherman-Donson Twins, with a gaudy exhibition record, proved that it was no fluke as they defeated the Bears, 7-0, in the ninth, when the Twins scored two runs each, accounted for the victory. Dean Stafford hit a two-run home run in the fourth frame; Manager Billy Capps duplicated the feat in the ninth to ice the game.

Little Carmen Ferrullo pitched the Wichita Falls Spudlers over their opening victory over the Gainesville Ows, scattering nine hits over route. The Spudlers got nine hits off three Owl pitchers but bunched them for runs.

Right-hander Don Spyster pitched and batted the Temple Eagles to their victory over Austin, stopping the Pioneers with seven well scattered hits while collecting two himself, one a two-run homer. Fred Bell also homered for Temple while Len Atty and Lon Goldstein each had three hits.

Harvesters Play At Borger; Panhandle Trips Pampa Nine

The Harvester baseball nine goes after its first conference victory this afternoon at Gassers Park in Borger. Pampa takes on the Bulldogs in a District 1-A-A baseball tilt.

Pampa lost its loop opener to Amarillo here last week, and Borger dropped a 4-1 decision to the Sandies at Amarillo Tuesday afternoon. Today's game will be a battle for second place in the North Half of the conference.

The Pampanos were defeated 12-11 by Panhandle Tuesday afternoon on the high school diamond in a practice game.

Coach Lyon was looking at pitching prospects Tuesday. Tolle Hutchens, regular first baseman, started for the Harvesters. He was touched for six hits and six runs in the first inning, with the big blow being a circuit knock by first sacker Jim Howard with two mates aboard.

Panhandle got to Hutchens for 10 runs on 9 hits in four innings. Second baseman Elmer Wilson pitched the fifth and sixth frame. He allowed two runs on two hits. Ed Dudley hurled the last three outs. He set Panhandle down without a hit and run.

The Harvesters outthrew Panhandle 14-11, but the visitors left only eight men stranded on the base while Pampa had 11 players stranded.

A seventh inning rally was one run short for the Harvesters. Bob

Eagles Stop Fort Worth Cats, 3-1

By WILBUR MARTIN Associated Press Staff

The Texas League season's first big argument over an umpire's decision proved — that's right — the umpire was right.

The row came in the tenth inning of San Antonio's 3-3 tie with Houston last night. Houston players were involved, but the tie didn't change the Bulls' standing at the top of the standings.

In other games, Beaumont beat Shreveport, 4-2; Dallas downed Fort Worth, 3-1, and Oklahoma City went ten innings to shade Tulsa, 8-7.

The dispute at Houston came with one out, runners on first and second. Pinch hitter Van Harring hit a short fly into right field that got away from second baseman Jim Dyck.

Omer Tolson picked up the ball and threw to third base, where umpire Richard Nash, after calling for a walk, ruled the fly safe, reversed his decision and called him out. George Hausmann threw to second to double Lou Cioia, who had started back to first.

Buff Manager Al Hollingsworth and Billy Costa yelled loudest over the ump's decision.

Wall Lanfranconi set Fort Worth down on five hits and Jim Fridley hit a homer as Dallas won.

Bill Henry held Beaumont to four hits, but three of them — singles and Art Mazmanian's triple — in the fifth inning, plus three walks, gave the Roughnecks all their runs.

Three runs in the ninth inning tied up the game for Oklahoma City, and John Cree's triple scored the winning runs.

The Houston-San Antonio game was halted to enable both teams to catch a train.

Houston went to Shreveport, where it plays tonight; San Antonio to Beaumont. Other games tonight put Dallas at Oklahoma City and Fort Worth at Tulsa.

Laredo Checked By Harlingen

(By The Associated Press)

Laredo's Redskin express was derailed last night after rampaging for six nights unchecked. When they left the track they went all of the way.

The Harlingen Capitols threw a road block in their path to stop them cold with a three-hit, 3-0 shutout. It was the first shutout for the Apaches in seven starts this season.

In other games Brownsville eked out a 6-5 victory over Texas City while Corpus Christi and Lake Charles had easy pickings in Port Arthur and Galveston, respectively. Corpus Christi defeated Port Arthur, 11-3, and the Lakers trimmed Galveston, 12-3.

(By The Associated Press)

Cold weather dampened the ardor of fans yesterday as the 1951 major league season got into full swing but it failed to slow the defending champions. The World Champion New York Yankees and the National League Champion Philadelphia Phillies won openers.

The cold cut attendance for the eight games to a mere 171,675 paid customers. Last year 252,700 fans paid to see the opening games.

In the American League the Yanks shut out the Boston Red Sox, 5-0, before the largest crowd of the day, 44,860 fans. In other games Chicago swamped St. Louis, 17-3; Cleveland edged Detroit, 2-1, and Washington clipped Philadelphia, 6-1. The latter game was played under the arc.

In the National League the Phillies trimmed the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-2; New York shut out Boston, 4-0; Chicago defeated Cincinnati, 8-3, and Pittsburgh nipped St. Louis 5-4.

OKAY, BUT IF YOU'RE HOPING OUT ON ME—WANNA TAKE THAT FLITCASE YOU LEFT IN MY LOCKER?

Kefauver Pushing Tighter Tax Laws

NEW YORK — (AP) — Tighter tax laws are needed to get "some of the sorely needed millions" which criminals now withhold from the government, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) says.

The first step, he adds, will be several amendments to the internal revenue laws to be proposed by the U. S. Senate Crime Investigating Committee.

Kefauver, chairman of the committee, writes of the proposals in the current Saturday Evening Post.

Also, his latest article on crime in the U. S. singles out Cleveland, Ohio, for praise as an example of how a "well-intentioned local administration," backed by the state, can "take some of the profit out of crime" by harassing hoodlums.

One of the committee's tax proposals, Kefauver says, would require "persons who admitted profit from illegal operations — that is, the gambling-casino operators, the 'policy' wheel boys, and so forth — to file complete financial statements, itemizing their sources of income, along with their annual tax returns."

Kefauver also says that the committee will seek more stringent regulations of attorneys and accountants who prepare tax returns for known criminals and are "quite aware of the fact that these returns do not comply with Bureau of Internal Revenue regulations."

Moose Install New Officers

Installation of new officers and initiation of new members will be held at 8 p.m. today by Pampa Lodge 1385, Loyal Order of Moose, in the lodge auditorium, 401 E. Brown.

Junior Past Governor J. B. Maguire, Jr., installing officer, will place the collar of office and read the oaths to the following officers-elect: Henry S. Gordon, junior past governor; L. P. Eakin, governor; Earl F. Miller, junior governor; Joseph Mullins, prelate; B. M. Behrman, treasurer; and Kenneth Boehm, trustee for three years. The new officers will assume their official duties at midnight, April 30.

Following the installation ceremonies the lodge degree staff will initiate candidates who have successfully passed the investigating committee and elected to membership.

A buffet luncheon will be held following the meeting.

Acting Secretary Bryan Kearby, Jr., and Club Manager L. M. McWhirt announced all plans for the lodge's stag chicken barbecue, set for Thursday night, were complete as well as arrangements for the Saturday night dance with the Texas Swingsters.

Sugar fixed in green plant leaves yearly is estimated to represent energy equal to 300 million tons of coal.

THEY'RE FUSTEST WITH THE MOSTEST—Fred Schoville, 44, and his wife, Edith, 40, with their 20 children, arrived en masse in Chicago to appear on a television show and claim the world's record as the youngest parents of the most single-born children. Children of the Soldiers Grove, Wis., oil salesman and his wife range in age from one month to 25 years. They filled four rooms in a Chicago hotel.

Culberson Reports Texas Production

AUSTIN — (AP) — East Texas oil wells are producing more crude but vital bottomhole pressure is slowly rising, chairman Olin Culberson of the Railroad Commission commented today.

Culberson reported average pressure as of April 1 stood at 1,019.85 pounds per square inch. This meant pressure has mounted .21 pound per square inch during March.

East Texas allowable for the month, Culberson added, was 8,492,611 barrels. The average daily allowable was 273,956.

"The pressure increase per one million barrel oil withdrawal during the 31-day period was .02473 pounds per square inch," the commissioner said.

He reported the daily average salt water injection during March was 408,924 barrels. Injection during the short month of February was 417,418 barrels.

Reds Begin Games In Eastern Germany

BERLIN — (AP) — Soviet armies in east Germany, reinforced by new jet planes from Russia, have started their 1951 war games along the West German frontier, allied officials have reported.

The East German police-army has been assigned a minor non-combat role in the maneuvers, the officials said.

Late model jet fighters fresh from the assembly lines were flown to East Germany late in March for the maneuvers. Most are MIG 15s, one of Russia's best fighters with a speed exceeding 600 miles an hour.

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil" says H. T. Fitzgerald, Newspaper Man, St. Louis, Missouri.

"50,000 MILES-NO WEAR!"—PROVED HERE:

After a punishing 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence... in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts.

AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that new Conoco Super, with Oil-Plating, can make your car last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil.

"YOUR NEW '50,000 MILES—NO WEAR' OIL is the best we have ever used," says George M. James, Manager, Metro Motors, Ford Distributor, Murray, Utah. "We use Conoco Super in all our demonstrators and recommend it highly to new car buyers."
