TO THE RESCUE—After a fearful struggle as he sat atop the 386-foot Ambassador bridge Harry Sandlin (arrow), 24, was finally rescued by maintenance men and brought down from his lofty perch. It took over one hour to get Sandlin, an unemployed factory worker, down from the bridge which spans the Detroit River.

Four Reds Fail To Show For Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Only seven of 11 top convicted Communists appeared today in federal court when their names were called to surrender to begin serving prison terms. The reason for the failure of the four to appear was not immediately disclosed.

The initial reaction here showed no objection to accepting the Communist proposals on time and place. The specific dates suggested were July 10 to 15; the place, near Kaesong, a town two miles south of the 38th Parallel. Hopes for an early end to the war in Korea were steadily mounting, although State Department officials kept a tight rein on any strong optimism.

Pampan's Hold Out Little Hope For Cease Fire Here July Fourth

City police held little hope for a cease fire in Pampa July 4 in spite of an ordinance banning the sale of fireworks and related weapons inside the city limits. However, Chief of Police John Wilkinson estimated the local casualty list can be kept to a minimum provided patrons exercise a little more caution in inspecting youngster's fire equipment before he advances down the street with his allies.

Armistice May Spell Controls End

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senator Aiken (R-Vt.) said today an armistice in Korea might cause Congress to let price and wage controls die at the end of this month.

Will Consider Individual Cases:

Accompanied by Atty. Guy Hardin, Shamrock, representatives of the league contended tax valuations in the two wards were out of line "because they are not assessed according to state law."

Tornadoes And Hail Hit Over Panhandle

While tornadoes whipped through other Panhandle communities Sunday night, Pampa had a severe electrical storm that brought 4.1 of an inch of rain, but winds reached only 20 miles an hour. There was extensive crop damage, but there were no deaths or injuries reported in the tornadoes that struck Olton and Key.

 three of his Czech national associates in the Prague AP bureau. They are translator Tomas Svoboda, translator Pavel Wodjnek and chauffeur Peter Munz. They disappeared one by one during the month before Oatis' arrest.

There are no western newspapers left in Prague to report the trial. The last two, Russell Jones of the United Press and Robert Bigio of the British Reuters agency, left Prague after Oatis' arrest.

Richard G. Johnson, third secretary of the U. S. Embassy, and Mary Horak of the embassy secretarial staff are expected to phone factual reports of the trial twice daily to the U. S. high commissioner's office in Frankfurt. Associated Press coverage of the trial will be compiled from these sources, plus information from Miss Beata Tornova, a Czech national still employed by the AP in Prague, is able to gather from accounts in the official news agency, the official radio and the Prague newspapers.

The trial is expected here to last three days and to give the Communist government an extra chance for anti-American demonstrations on July 4.

The Czech statement distributed yesterday by the official news agency declared the AP employed worked closely with U. S. diplomats and a "terrorist" group. It said they collected important military, political and economic information at the direction of the head office of the AP in New York.

RIDGWAY

 sonable steps' to find out if the Reds are sincere.

Qualified informants said terms which the United States would like to see negotiated had been sent to Ridgway at Tokyo Saturday. They were described as tentative, pending full consultation with other nations with troops in Korea.

They are reported to provide principally for a 20-mile wide buffer zone between the hostile forces along the present battle line which cuts across the 38th Parallel in the west.

If the armistice calls for the troops to stand in this area, they will have better defensive positions and shorter lines to worry about on both sides, military experts here said.

The main item which this government feels must be included in any true arrangements, however, is one for inspection of forces on both sides through an international, United Nations, cease-fire commission.

Washington feels this group charged with preventing armistice violations, should have authority from both sides to investigate throughout Korea during the period from the end of the fighting to the establishment of a political settlement. That would be the next objective and it would take a long time to work out.

 Court until Saturday, and it did not arrive in this city, I am informed, until this morning.

Sacher argued Saypol wired each of 11 defendants last Thursday, before the mandate reached here. He said under federal rules of procedure the defendants must have time before the notice is offered. He claimed no notice by telegram was illegal.

Judge Ryan interrupted by stating: "I rule the court has jurisdiction and I intend to sign the order" committing all 11 defendants, including the four missing men, to prison.

 40 percent for properties not on paved streets and 25 percent for properties on paved streets.

The board held a preliminary decision in the face of a threat of court action when Mitchell Hill asked that the league be given all the names of the board members and other city officials.

"I'm sure we might as well get this thing over with because it's here in the courts," Mitchell said.

The league showed signs of withholding any injunction suit against the city and school after the board told them they had decided "long before you came in" to recommend a city taxing agency look into the overall tax structure with the sole purpose of erasing existing inequalities and possible future inequalities.

The board made it clear they would consider individual property owner's complaints, but would not consider a blanket reduction sponsored by any group acting for, or in behalf of, individual property owners.

Today is the first of a two-day public hearing by the two boards on real estate property valuations. The second, and final, day will be tomorrow, July 3.

 east of Arlington and the state extended the western Washington logging shutdown through July 4 except in a few coastal districts. Logging was halted in Oregon except in two counties.

The Pacific Northwest's biggest fire was in British Columbia where an uncontrolled blaze raged over 20,000 acres on Vancouver Island. Foresters said only rain could stop the fire, but there was no rain in sight.

Two states were hit by floods — Kansas and Missouri — and a half million acres of bottomland have been inundated. Although flood waters have been generally receding, the big Arkansas river in Kansas washed away dikes despite efforts of volunteer workers. A 90-foot breakthrough north of Moline, Kans., sent ruinous water over thousands of acres of ripe wheat. Missouri towns below Jefferson City in the Missouri River area were still troubled and 40,000 acres are endangered at St. Charles, Mo., where the river is expected to crest at 35.5 feet tomorrow. The Missouri topped one levee and broke through another near St. Charles flooding some 8,000 acres and forcing some 200 farm families from their homes.

Country All Mixed Up; Seed Store Selling Clam Steamer

By HENRY McLEMORE

Along with threats from half a dozen stores, this morning's mail brought an advertisement from one of the country's largest seed stores.

The advertisement didn't have so much as a mention of petunias, roses, gardenias, fertilizer, or sweet peas. Its sole topic was the bargain in the seed store was offering in a clam steamer — yes, a clam steamer.

Now who in the world would think of calling up a seed store when he wanted a vessel for the steaming of clams.

On second thought, why not? American merchants have gone haywire in the past two or three decades in the matter of what they sell.

Drug stores were the pioneers in this field. There was a time when a drug store was a drug store, but we all know that doesn't hold good any more. Today, drug stores handle pills and airplane propellers, banana splits and baby carriages, lipsticks and lampshades, bath salts and ballroom tires.

There was a time, and all of us in our forties can remember it, when a dry goods store was just that. Muslin, sheets, dresses, shirtings, ribbon, elastic, and bath towels. Now, in the year 1951, dry goods stores occasion no great surprise when they advertise a sale of goldfinches, goldfish, shetland ponies, and automobiles.

My fear is that there will come a day, not too far off, when a man won't know where to shop for what he wants. If he wants an ice cream freezer he won't be sure that the hardware store handles ice cream freezers, and he'll walk his feet off going from place to place until he finds out that linen stores are the only establishments well stocked with ice cream freezers.

New York is the home of mixed-up merchandise. Where do you think you'll find the most expensive dresses and underwear for little girls? Why, at George Jensen's, the silversmith, naturally. There, quite at home among the Danish silver, a few dresses and slips and panties for little girls.

I foresee the day when a woman who wants a foundation garment will turn to the National City Bank, and the man who wants a hat will forget all about Knox, Stetson, Adams, etc., and turn into the nearest candy store for his homburg.

I also foresee the day when a fellow who is in trouble and needs a lawyer right quick, will look in the classified section of the phone directory for a butcher, the butcher having taken up law and the lawyer having gone in for western beef and dressed poultry.

What will be the end of this? Nothing serious. Only more confusion in the world.

And we of the world have learned to take confusion as a kitten does heavy cream. Confusion is as much a part of our lives as the moon, the tides, and the popularity of fan dancers.

Indeed, to take confusion out of the world today would only add to the confusion. Citizens wouldn't know what to do if all were orderly.

Take a quick look around the world. Russia is selling and peace. America selling strength of heart and appeasement. England selling nationalism of industry and getting ready to go to war against it in Iran.

Oh me, oh my.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Some players react to a long suit as a cat does to catnip. The result is usually more pleasant to cats than to bridge players.

South, in today's hand looked lovingly at his long spades, doubled East's shabby overcall with resentment, and declined to let the double of one no-trump stay in. He just had to play the hand as spades.

It was a poor idea to run out of one no-trump doubled. West would have suffered a loss of 300 or 500 points without much of a struggle.

As it was, West opened the five of diamonds, and dummy won with the queen. Declarer next led a trump from dummy. East naturally played low, and South finessed the eight. This lost to West's queen, much to South's disgust.

West led another diamond, and dummy won with the king. Now South decided that East must have all the high cards since his spades were obviously very weak. Hence he led a heart from dummy and put up the king from his hand.

West won with the ace of hearts, and South looked accusingly at East. West next led a third round of diamonds, dummy played the ace, and East ruffed.

South should have over-ruffed and should have tried to make as many ruffs as possible. Instead he discarded the losing heart. At this point the defenders had three tricks.

East led the queen of hearts, and South ruffed. Now he made the fatal mistake of laying down the ace of trumps. The rest was just hopeless. East was bound to get his ace of clubs and two trumps.

There was no excuse for laying down the ace of trumps. West was marked with only a singleton trump since he had run out of one spade doubled.

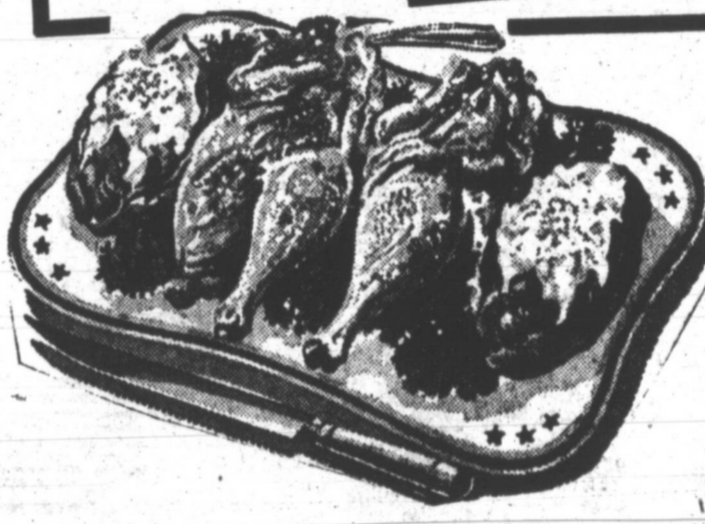

Correct play is to ruff the queen of hearts and lead a club to dummy's queen. East's best play is to win and return a club. Dummy wins, and declarer cashes a heart and ruffs a heart or a diamond. Now he has three trumps, and so does East. A low trump gives one trick to East, but then South makes the rest.

The moral is easy to see: Don't insist on playing the hand as declarer unless you can get all the tricks there are. If you're that good in the play, why bother to bid badly? A good partner fares a lot better than a good individualist.

Tax Supported Educator Eulogizes His Work

Dr. David H. Russell, professor of education at the University of California at Berkeley, has written an article in the journal of the National Education Assn. under the heading "What's Right With the Public Schools." It is a masterpiece of propaganda. It should satisfy the ego of such men as Dr. Russell. He makes statements without a scrap of evidence to substantiate the truth of the statements. He says: "The public school is the greatest agency for citizenship we now have."

Stalin Dictates Our Moves

Again it's Joe Stalin doing the dictating in regard to American foreign policy. One of the biggest and most tragic blunders of the career of Mr. Truman was the sending of American troops to Korea. Citizens from one end of the country to the other recognize that what a tragic state that country is in. Many of them are not "honoring" the President and his policies. But did Mr. Truman do anything to end the tragedy he had caused?

Shame, Shame

By DAVID BAXTER

Some time ago I printed what amounted to an open challenge to anyone in these Benighted States to debate the issue of world federalism—one world government—one world government. He is Allen Beek of Balboa Island, Calif., and in a letter to me he expressed a keen desire to take on any person sufficiently familiar with the world government issue to give him a tolerable argument. He would prefer to hold the debate at some southern California college or, failing that—anywhere in the area.

Church Group Has Social Meeting

The Kathleen Mallory Circle of the Calvary Baptist Church met in the Lions Club Park for a social. A birthday party honored three of the members.

Games furnished entertainment and refreshments were served. The three honorees, Mrs. Charles McGahan, Mrs. George Moore and Mrs. W. T. Broxson, received gifts.

Others present were Mrs. Clyde Prince, Mrs. Garnet Reeves, Mrs. Travis White, Yvonne McGahan and several children.

will pitch in to help, even though the "picnic" is just on the porch or in the yard.

Promise the kids a swim or an afternoon at the park if they'll help with the housecleaning and watch the work get done in a hurry. Maybe it won't be as thorough as Mom would have done it alone, but it will be good enough for vacation living.

SKIP DINNER INVITATIONS

Asking friends to come by after dinner or on week-end afternoons instead of inviting them for dinner makes entertaining in the summer simple and easy. There's no fun in it instead of hard work.

Moving the living room out of doors helps, too—both in saving work and in saving temper. An outdoor living room doesn't crowd a family up so that they get in each other's way.

Asking "Is this job really necessary?" helps, too, to cut down on household drudgery when the mercury soars.

All of those things comprise taking a vacation attitude toward living. And the woman who adopts it is sure to get more enjoyment out of the summer months than the woman who isn't willing to let down.

As for giving the girls notice of a date, that is the least a fellow can do, although most of them are pretty darn inconsiderate. The majority of girls get an inferiority complex when called the last minute for a date. If they love to accept, particularly if it is a nice boy, but it puts them on the spot: Has he tried everyone else before calling and should she encourage him in spite of the fact that he is thoughtless in calling her so late? Then again, if she turns him down, will he call again?

It is unfair to put girls on the spot this way. But if girls would make a pact to stand together on this and other issues involving dating, boys might get the pitch. The trouble is there always are a couple of girls who spoil it for the rest of a group.

The sooner girls get back to the old-fashioned, no-strings-attached, letting the boys pursue them, the better. The way matters stand today young romances think nothing of calling a girl the last minute, making a date with her, and then breaking it when she comes better company.

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
Here's a tip to the boys... Don't kiss a gal goodnight after a first date. Instead, ask her for another date, and she'll manage to let you know when she wants to be kissed.

That bit of advice is passed out for free to the pipe smoking set by a panel of University of Wisconsin coeds. The coeds were put on the spot by the students' a forum on "dating."

The girls didn't mince words. They told the boys that a date and something more.

In respect to that old dating problem—the boy who always calls at the last minute, the girls say this: We want Monday night to be "phone call night" for weekend dates. "Give us plenty of time." The girls believe the deadline for a Saturday or Sunday date should be Wednesday.

A formal affair is a different kettle of fish. Two weeks notice is the least they should expect to get their wardrobe in shape, they say.

The girls don't expect to be taken to dinner before a formal dance. But if the date insists on feeding his dancing partner he can keep the expenditure within bounds by suggesting "what's good" on the menu, or he can adopt the policy of ordering the meal and letting the lady eat it or leave it. Fair enough say the girls who understand the shrinking dollar is a problem.

Blind dates get a bit of advice, too. If a boy doesn't want to date a strange girl because he doesn't want to throw his money away on a date who might not appeal to him, he can take a cue from the girls. Why not, they ask, make the first date an ice-cream soda affair.

It gives you a chance to find out if you like the girl before you spend a month's allowance on her. After you get a chance to know one another then you can decide whether you want to break the piggy bank for a big date.

All of this is very timely advice judging by the numbers of letters written by girls complaining about their dates' thoughtlessness and rudeness. Sometimes a boy is just plain rude when he meets his blind date and decides she doesn't measure up to his usual standards. The first date "on a shoestring" would eliminate that crushed feeling the boy has when he sees his wallet emptied for theatre tickets, dinner and dancing for a strange girl whom he never wants to see again.

As for giving the girls notice of a date, that is the least a fellow can do, although most of them are pretty darn inconsiderate. The majority of girls get an inferiority complex when called the last minute for a date. Summer Has Its Own Beauty Tricks And Secrets

Even in summer, when the living is easy, this young woman avoids declaring an off-season on beauty. Elaborate make-up and hair-care routines are shelved until fall, but quick and easy essentials are retained. Casual, outdoor girl gives her lashes a last-minute upstroke before joining her date for tennis (left). Good-looks aids are her colorful sunback dress and her carefree but attractive hair-do, which requires only a quick wash with a brush to arrange (right). Although terrace suppers replace indoor dinners, she is careful to look her best despite informality of occasion (center).

Carefree is the word for summer. Clothes are casual, make-up minimal, entertaining easier—all in all, a fine time for enjoying yourself.

In this quest for lazy living, however, it's easy to slip from the carefree into the careless, to tuck your grooming routines away until the more formal routines of fall re-awaken your beauty consciousness.

There are many ways of leaving off beauty extras without neglecting the fundamentals of good looks. Skip fingernail polish if you like, but make certain your unadorned nails are clean and well-shaped.

The same rule applies to your hair. Elaborate coiffures may be eliminated until autumn festivities revive their suitability. But it's not a good idea to forget hair care altogether.

Your best bet is a casual arrangement that requires little more care than brushing it into place with a brush. Not only will you save time by stepping out from under your old pin-curl, wave-set routine, but you'll also improve the gloss of your hair with the resultant brushing. This is important during the season when sunning and swimming rob your hair of much natural oil.

Since applications of cosmetics are inappropriate for summer—not only because of problems of perspiration and increased skin oiliness, but also because a heavily-lipsticked and eye-shadowed face just doesn't fit the light and airy outline, but you'll also improve the gloss of your hair with the resultant brushing. make-up kit, but supply great quantities of self-confidence in your looks. These midgets, which come in their own button-down plastic carrying cases, have scissors handles for efficient tweezing.

Also purse-sized for easy carrying are eyelash curlers, which are handy for last-minute touch-ups of your wide-eyed look. Although the bow of the curler is of the regular size, a folding arrangement makes it compact and convenient.

A small space-saving tube of lash pomade is a double-duty beauty aid, making your lashes pliable for curling as well as darker in effect. A small amount of this cream applied to your lids gives them a healthy shine as well.

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

"Please tell me, should a mature bride carry or wear flowers? I am to be married for the second time, at home, wearing navy organdy with white accessories and white hat—Mrs. B. T. B."

"Flowers are suitable for brides of any age. They give that festive touch. For you I suggest one perfect white orchid, worn head up as they grow. And don't let the florist tie any ribbons on it!"

"Do you think grandmas look right in summer cottons?—Mrs. M."

"Of course! Why should grandmas be uncomfortable in this day of good looking grandmas? They can wear a clever version of the bareback dress with a brief bolero or cape jacket. And please don't forget—pretty colors, such as soft blues, pinks and mauve cottons are perfect for grandmas."

"I am much overweight, age 61. Should I go on a low calorie diet without professional advice? I feel fairly well, headaches occasionally.—G. A."

"No one should go on a strenuous diet for reducing without the advice of a physician. See your doctor and be sure of your physical ability to take a reducing program."

"I am 49. I was a business executive before I married twenty years ago. Now, as a widow, I must go back to work. How should I prepare myself for this? I have six months to myself.—Mrs. L. M."

"You are fortunate to have time to prepare yourself for a new life. Have a physical checkup and get yourself in good shape. Examine your skin and hair, work at beautifying and youthifying your face and figure. Do your hair in a new way. Color it if you like. Buy a good basic outfit. Then, when you get into the business world, you will be ready. And Good Luck! Tomorrow—For You!"

"Please settle an argument about the most desirable discard," requests a Detroit reader. "Both sides needed 90 points for the first meld, but the pack became fairly big and nobody had melded. Finally my turn came. I drew from the stock, and held:

Joker, K-K-K, Q-Q, J-J, 10, 4, 2-2.

"The four was a safe discard, but none of the picture cards was safe. I discarded the four, and it got by safely.

"When my partner's turn came, however, he could not find an obviously safe discard. He did not hold a single wild card, and therefore could not freeze the pack. He had to guess, and his guess happened to give away the pack.

"He said that I should have frozen the pack with a deuce instead of discarding my four. What you comment on this?"

The advice of my correspondent's partner is sheer madness. If he didn't have a safe discard, the presence of a deuce in the discard pile would not improve matters for him. It would merely give the opponents a deuce instead of a four when they picked up the pile.

Just remember that freezing the pack is not the answer to every problem. You freeze in the early play only when you expect your side to win the pack. You do not freeze because of a vague hope that matters will magically turn better.

As a matter of fact, the hand described by my correspondent is interesting for another reason. The best play is not merely to discard the four. He should meld K-K-K, Joker-Q-Q, and J - J-2. Then he should discard the four, saving the ten and a deuce.

Since all the high cards are unsafe discards, it is likely that nobody has previously discarded a picture card. In that case, it is likely that partner will fit at least one of the melds and that he will be able to make a canasta very soon—perhaps immediately.

Social sciences will have a far greater significance in fashioning the pattern of our society of the future than has been the case in the past.

—Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., chairman of board, GMC.

Surely if partner can make a canasta, the first meld will go out very quickly. If partner puts down three tens, a very strong possibility, an immediate meld out may be expected.

What if partner fails to make a canasta at once? The chances are that the canasta will be made very quickly and that no great loss will result—even though the opponents will then probably win the pile and make a few good melds.

ELECTRICAL TIPS FOR THE HOME

If Your Bathroom Light Casts Annoying Shadows and Glare...

DON'T think you have to center one fixture over the bathroom mirror. A lamp placed in this position casts shadows on the neck and chin, makes shaving and other close-seeing jobs difficult.

DO install two fluorescent or incandescent fixtures—one on each side of the mirror. For shadowless, glarefree light, center the lamps at 5 feet, 2 inches high and cover them with translucent shields.

New Bathrooms Planned To Improve, Beautify

Until recent years, few bathrooms were really planned for comfort and convenience. New ideas, materials and equipment now make it unnecessary for any bathroom to be outmoded.

An awkward arrangement of fixtures creates a crowded bath. This can often be corrected by reconfiguring lavatory and toilet or installing a compact combination tub and shower.

The bathroom should be colorful, to follow the modern trend. Walls of colored ceramic or plastic tile, harmonizing with the floor, are distinctive design, and upper walls and ceiling in bright contrasting color help make it modern.

New for bathrooms is the vanity-type lavatory, a washbowl set into a counter of a color to match the colored fixtures. Excellent storage space can be provided underneath if the unit is built as a cupboard with shelves. Twin lavatories avoid bathroom congestion. They require

Safe Floor Advocated To Reduce Accidents

In 1951 follows the pattern of previous years, nearly 17,000 persons will die this year as a result of home accidents. Home injuries and falls are second only to automobiles as the nation's worst accidental killer, says the National Safety Council.

Falls on stairs and slippery floors account for a large percentage of the 5,000,000 fatal and non-fatal home accidents each year. National Bureau of Standards has made extensive tests to determine the safest type of floor. These tests show that a person is less likely to slip on Kentele than on any other flooring material commonly used in homes.

When clean and dry under a rubber heel, asphalt tile was given an anti-slip coefficient of .87; battleship linoleum had a rating of .80; oak .79; and smooth-surfaced cement .56. People wearing leather heels are more likely to slip on any kind of floor than if rubber heels are worn, NBS reported. The anti-slip coefficients of dry and clean surfaces under a leather heel were: asphalt tile .56; battleship linoleum .43; smooth cement .44; oak .28.

Ways Told To Keep Home Cool

Summer heat is a comfort problem in homes in most parts of the country. Fortunately there are things that can be done to make homes many degrees cooler in hot weather.

It is most important, as a rule, to begin at the top of the house for protection against the summer sun. This means proper insulation and ventilation of the roof and attic space to keep out the heat as much as possible and to remove the heat that does enter.

If insulation was not built into the roof originally, the omission can be remedied easily. Among the various materials available for the job is insulating board, which can be applied right over the attic rafters. In using insulating board which is factory-decorated, it is possible to insulate the attic and convert it into a needed room at the same time.

If the attic is to be left unfinished, it is preferable to insulate along the attic floor line rather than the roof, so that there will not be so much space to heat in winter. Insulation of the house sidewalls and interior walls and ceilings also contributes to comfort, summer and winter.

Attic heat may be removed by the natural ventilation of windows, left open three or four inches, or open, louvered vents. Forced ventilation by an attic fan, properly installed, can prove highly effective in cooling a house at night.

There are comfort tricks in the opening and closing of windows in summer. The time to open all windows wide is at night, when cool air is admitted. On the other hand, opening windows in the daytime usually lets in the air instead of a refreshing breeze.

An electric exhaust fan installed in the kitchen will prevent the cooking stove from performing the unwanted function of a "furnace," and it will remove smoke and odors along with the heat.

Various objects that shield the house or its windows from the sun are valuable aids to summer comfort. Shade trees render good service in this regard, but they cannot be obtained in a hurry. Windows are frequently shaded with awnings, louvered screens and ventilated awnings. Many homes have extended roof overhangs for sun-shades.

If the summer heat is bad enough, it may be desirable to make the house exterior a light color that will reflect the heat away. A paved patio or walk outside the house, however, will reflect heat to the inside, where grass will be cooler.

Building Slowdown Hurts Furnishings

NEW YORK — (AP) — The slowdown in home building under federal restrictions on credit is now expected to have an impact on home furnishings and other retail dealers.

Frederick E. Gibson, president of the Long Island Home Builders Institute, reports that surveys show that new home buyers spend an average of $1,450 for furniture, electrical appliances, hardware, draperies, dishes and other household items.

"A total of 64,000 dwellings were built in the four Long Island

GI Greetings Return

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — (AP) — Greeting cards expressly designed for service men have returned after an absence of five years, the Hallmark Co. reports. Similar to millions sent overseas during World War II, the cards are suitable for GI's birthdays, anniversaries and similar occasions.

"If 1951 production drops 60 percent, as now indicated, this will mean an expenditure of about $27,000,000 for such accessories instead of the $92,000,000 spent by buyers of 1950 homes."

Blisters In Paint Warn Of Moisture

WASHINGTON, D. C. — A blister on your heel can make its presence known — in no uncertain terms. But a blister in the paint that safeguards your home can broadcast no painful signals to warn you that trouble's brewing. If a paint blister could make a warning sound, it would probably be the piercing wail of a police siren to inform you that an enemy's within your walls is under attack.

What causes paint to blister, anyway? It's the force of moisture behind it. A drop of moisture, in itself, does not appear to be dangerous. But when countless drops of water gang up on you, look out for trouble. Be thankful, however, that the warning the paint blister gives you. If it weren't for its presence, you might not know of the danger that lurks within your walls.

We've always known, of course, that we must safeguard the exterior surfaces of our homes against the attacking force of moisture in all its forms. We've carefully painted wood and masonry surfaces. We've

Child's Room Should Double As Play Space

A child's room should double as play space, as well as sleeping quarters. To make it serve all purposes, first give it a wall finish that cleans easily with a damp cloth. Gloss or enamel, not flat paint, should be used because of its greater washability.

Flooring should resist rough usage and stains, should be easy to clean, quiet and safe underfoot, and add interest. Since the child will be playing in the room, it is widely specified by interior designers and children love the special picture tiles with such designs as letters of the alphabet, numerals, animals, birds, stars.

Furniture in the child's room should be comfortable, safe and resistant to hard knocks. Colorful plastic upholstery wears well and is easy to clean. Cupboards with shelves and sliding doors will install neat, orderly habits. These should be firmly attached to wall or floor so they cannot be pulled over. Cupboards should be 12 inches deep or more for maximum toy storage. Three feet is a good height. The cupboard tops provide space for display of prized possessions. All shelves and other facilities a pre-school child uses should be kept within a 36 inch height so he need not climb up to reach any object. Hanger rods in clothes closets can be raised gradually as he grows.

When fitting out a nursery, select furnishings that will have permanent usefulness, such as unpainted chests of drawers which can be finished in a pastel color. When the child passes babyhood, the enamel or paint can be removed and the pieces refinished with wood stain, such as maple, or with enamel in colors more suitable for an older child.

If more than one child occupies the room, double-deck bunk beds save space which can be devoted to the play area. Show cut-out pictures of momentary interest on door panels; affix the cut-outs with rubber cement or scotch tape for easy removal when interest wanes.

Since all children are possessive by nature, treat the child's room as his very own property. Do not use it for general household storage. Consider the child when planning colors for his room. Individuality can be achieved by inserting the child's name right into the asphalt tile floor as part of the design.

Even when a room is used as a nursery, the modern trend is to avoid over-doing traditional pink and blue. Instead, use yellow, dusty green, rose, warm gray or other interesting colors accented with strong contrasting ones.

A boy's room should have an air of masculine ruggedness, with a theme suggested by the youngster's own special interests, such as aviation, nautical, military, sports. Girls like ruffles and flounces on bedspread, dressing-table and curtains; shelves for books and ornaments.

Color, Utility Essential In Attic Spaces

In an expansion attic finished into additional living space, the rooms should be made attractive and livable with harmonizing color for walls, floors and draperies. Attics usually having less window area than other portions of the house, it is important to use light and gay colors there to create a cheery atmosphere. Pastel walls, and white or ivory ceilings will reflect the light from the small windows and brighten up the rooms.

Adequate storage space will be needed. Several doors located in the low side walls will give access to otherwise waste space between walls and eaves, which can be utilized for storage. Make the doors the full height of the sidewalls, and wide enough to admit trunks and other bulky objects. Joists in the storage area should be covered with flooring.

Many square feet of space that would be taken up with freestanding furniture in attic rooms can be saved by building chests and shelves into the walls, their fronts flush with the wall surface.

Dormer windows also can be made space-saving assets. If the recess is shallow and has a single window, a chest of drawers, desk or shelved cupboard can be placed beneath the window. If the dormer is wide and deep, an easy chair, reading lamp and small self-table can be placed there.

Not Necessary To Destroy Rugs

After installing corner cupboards, the home-maker may ponder the question of cutting off the corners of the rug, which may have years of service left. Economy suggests that it be left intact. Clean it thoroughly, treat with moth crystals, roll it in moisture-proof paper and store it for future use.

The floor of the room where the cupboards were installed can be covered in a distinctive design and color to harmonize with walls and furnishings. Since diagonal tiles are available in all the marbled and plain colors, it is easy to fit this floor covering to the new angles formed by the corner cupboards.

Mrs. Duenkel Wins Third City Women's Golf Crown, 2 And 1

CHAMPIONS — Jean Duenkel, (left above) yesterday captured her third city women's golf championship by defeating the tournament medalist, Beth Heiskell, 2-1. The match ended in the annual tournament, which this year was at its finest.

"This is the last time. Three times is enough," said Mrs. Duenkel after she ran down a putt for a half and a 2-1 victory in the women's city championship yesterday afternoon at the Pampa Country Club.

The narrow margin victory gave Mrs. Duenkel her third women's city title — and her last, according to her. "It makes me too nervous to be playing in the tournament. It's just not worth it."

She had found all the competition that she wanted in the tournament's medalist, Beth Heiskell. Had Mrs. Heiskell's putter been working, the count might have been reversed as she consistently missed putts that could have reasonably been made.

Both ladies shot 41's on the front, several strokes off their normal games, a strong breeze undoubtedly taking some effect.

Little Lisa Austin roared to the championship flight consolation crown with an easy victory over Oak Allie Whitlie.

Maysia De Howell took the first flight championship with a 2-2 victory over Alice Howard and Lois Watkins engaged past Edith Hughes with a 2-1 win for the second flight crown.

In the consolation bracket of the first flight, Sally McGinnis defeated Hedy Kinard and Lillian Thompson for the consolation crown in the second flight.

PGA Looks Like Another Benefit For Sam Snead

OAKMONT, Pa. — (AP) — The 33rd PGA championship looks like another $500 benefit for Samuel Jackson Snead.

The West Virginia slammer with the bulging bank account went into today's 36-hole semifinals over Oakmont's existing record of $1,000.

Snead has won the play-for-pay classic twice and was runner-up on two occasions. His foes never have made a dent in the national going picture.

His immediate foe for today's fray was 29-year-old Charley Bassler, long-hitting ex-Marine from Catonsville, Md., who in his PGA debut a year ago failed to get past the first round.

Against the opposition, survivors of 140 starters, Snead looked like a shoo-in. No one saw any hope that he wouldn't add the top prize to the $205,854 he's dug from the tournament trail since storming out of the West Virginia hills in 1937.

In eliminating Freddie Haas, Marty Furgol, Lloyd Mangrum and young Jackie Burke, Snead has pushed a side a quarter of his country's most brilliant performers. And he has been as frugal with strokes as with his winnings for his 12 strokes under par for 108 holes of match play.

No one else in the tourney can make that statement. The drawing 37-year-old had his poorest round yesterday afternoon. After going four up on Burke, 28-year-old Texan, with a blistering 68 in the morning, Snead went two over par in the afternoon and Burke whittled his lead to a single hole. But Sam — who has been dubbed a putter — ran down a 17-foot birdie on the 35th to end it at 2 and 1.

Official Scorer Bounced By Ump SWEETWATER — (AP) — You've often seen or heard umpires banish players from a baseball game but did you ever know of an umpire to order the official scorekeeper out of the press box?

That's what happened here Friday night midway in the second game between Sweetwater and Artesia of the Longhorn League. Plate Umpire Skillin, under the impression that score keeper Bud Wortham was joining in with the fans in booing his decisions, halted the game and ordered Wortham out of the press box.

The scorekeeper kept the official records from the grandstand the remainder of the game.

Bev Hanson Wins First Pro Meet READING, Pa. — (AP) — Beverly Hanson, the national women's amateur champion, was certain today pro golf "is just as much fun and much more profitable."

The 24-year-old willowy, bespectacled Californian via Fargo, N. D., left the amateur ranks last week to play for pay. Yesterday she hit the jackpot in her first time out as a money-seeking barnstormer as she took the $1,000 first prize in the third annual Eastern Women's Open at the Berkshire Country Club.

"You know, I think I'm going to like this being a pro," she laughed as she completed a one-under par 215 to upset Babe Diridrikon Zaharias and defending champion, Patty Berg.

Millers Take Opener From Lobos On Hyde's 6-Hitter; At Home Tomorrow

LAMESA — (AP) — Mack Hyde's six-hit pitching and a timely ninth inning single by pinch-hitter Nelson Davis gave Pampa's Oilers a tight 2-2 win over the Lamesa Lobos here Sunday afternoon. The loss dropped the Lobos into fourth place in the West Texas-New Mexico League standings.

The Lobos fell three percentage points behind Lubbock as Hyde gained his sixth win in outpitching Lou Ballard and Ed Arthur, who replaced Ballard in the seventh and suffered his seventh defeat.

A Sunday crowd of 605 fans watched the Oilers break a 2-2 tie in the final frame. Jack Phillips opened with a single to the right, was sacrificed to second by Joe Fortin, and came home with the winning run on a line single to center by Davis, who hit for Jimmy Banks.

Pampa scored two runs in the first frame, bunching a quartet of singles by Luis Suarez, Manager Virgil Richardson, Fortin and Bill Whitehorn.

Lamesa scored once in the second on a walk to Don Stokes, another pass to Mel Hicks and a single by Yogi Marti. They added a final run in the sixth on a triple by Glen Burns and a single by Stokes.

All the Oilers' ten safeties were singles, and Lamesa's only extra base blows were Burns' triple and Glen Selbo's wasted double in the third.

Each team made two double plays. Lamesa's was engineered by Selbo.

Jack Phillips, Oiler leftfielder, had three singles in five trips, while Hyde allowed no more than one base hit to any member of the Lobo lineup.

The two clubs conclude Lamesa's home stand Monday night at 8:15 with Ted Wyberance the likely starter for the Lobos. Al Kavenagh is expected to charge the Pampa offense.

The Oilers will return to Oiler Park tomorrow night to open a three-game series with the Albuquerque Dukes. There will be a single game tomorrow night and a doubleheader, starting at 7 p. m. on July 4.

Between games of the Independence Day doubleheader there will be a giant fireworks display at the field.

Feller Reaches Peak On Big Comeback With 3rd No-hitter

(By The Associated Press) Bob Feller, king of active major league pitchers, sits on a pedestal as the only modern day hurler with three no-hit games to his credit.

The 32-year-old Cleveland right-hander, making a great comeback after two mediocre seasons, held Detroit without a hit yesterday as he pitched the Indians to a 2-1 victory in the first game of a doubleheader. The Tigers were limited to only four hits all day as rookie Bob Chakales shut them out, 2-0, in the nightcap.

Feller's performance capped an afternoon of brilliant pitching that included a lost one-hitter, a pair of two-hitters and a four-hitter. Bob's no-hit masterpiece overshadowed the Chicago White Sox fall out of the American League lead and Bobby Doerr's feat of making his 2,000th hit as a Boston Red Soxer.

Compared to Feller's achievement, Ed Lopat's six-hitter wasn't much, but it was good enough to give New York a 5-2 triumph over Boston and move the Yankees into first place, four percentage points above the White Sox. It was Lopat's 11th win against three losses. Bobby Doerr got his 2,000th hit as a Red Soxer.

Ned Garver's two-hit twirling gave the St. Louis Browns a 3-nightcap victory after Chicago had won an 11-inning opener, 2-1, on Monday.

It dropped the White Sox out of first place for the first time since May 28.

Russ Meyer held Brooklyn to one hit but the Dodgers beat his Philadelphia Phils, 2-0. Don Newcombe pitched a seven-hitter for Brooklyn. Pee Wee Reese got the Dodgers' lone blow of the temperamental right-hander. It was a booming three inning triple.

Followed walks to Roy Campanella and Cal Abrams, accounting for the only runs of the game.

Paul Minner handcuffed Cincinnati with two singles in the opener as the Chicago Cubs swept a doubleheader from the Reds, 7-0 and 7-5. Larry Jansen scattered seven hits in pitching the New York Giants to a 4-1 win over Boston's Braves.

In the only games where pitching did not shine, the Philadelphia Athletics downed the Washington Senators twice, 10-7 and 12-2, and the St. Louis Cardinals whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates, 6-4 in 12 innings. Elmer Valo hit three homers for the A's.

In pitching his third no-hitter, Feller realized a five-year dream. It was on April 30, 1946, just after he had held the Yankees hitless, that he set a third no-hitter.

And Marti, Selbo and Hicks; left on bases: Pampa 14, Lamesa 6; bases on balls off of Hyde 4, Ballard 2; Arthur 2; strike outs by: Hyde 2; Ballard 2; Arthur 1; hits off: Ballard 2; Hyde 2; 10 1/2 innings; winning pitcher: Ballard; losing pitcher: Arthur; umpires: Roberts and Nugent; time, 2:08.

Defending Champ Eliminated As City Meet Enters Semifinal

In one of the top days of play in the men's city golf championship yesterday, defending champion Grover Austin, Jr., was eliminated by steady shooting Max Hickey, 3-2. Hickey, shooting an even score, moved into the semifinals of the four remaining spots in the battle for the now vacated city crown.

In another battle slated as tops for the day, Clare Freeman, cool, mechanical hitter blasted to a 2-2 win over C. F. McGinnis. Freeman dropped in four birdies on the final six holes of play to eliminate McGinnis.

Top battle of the day was put up by young Dick Oden. Oden, four down at the turn to veteran Harry Wilbur, undauntedly told club pro Johnny Austin, "I've got him on the ropes," and then went out to prove he was right.

Still four down at the end of the eleventh, Oden got fired up and had the match tied at the end of 16 and then went on to win it, 1 up, on the eighteenth green.

In the other match in the lower bracket of the championship flight, Chasley Douglas, who last week eliminated the medalist, yesterday continued his steady shooting, with a 2-1 victory over lethead Mickey Prigmore.

Douglas will face Oden and Hickey will meet Freedman in the semi-final rounds which are to be played by noon next Sunday.

In the championship flight consolation, Johnny Forman defeated Mark Heath, 2-1, to move into the semifinals against Melvin Watkins, who edged R. M. Samples, 2-1. Henry Rose moved into the finals with a 19-hole, 1 up victory over Dr. Elder.

The pairings for the semifinals of the other flights are as follows: First Flight: Al Prigmore vs. Ed Ethridge; Tommy Cox vs. Marvin Harris.

Second Flight: Bill Miller vs. Dick Weaver; B. T. Adkins vs. the winner of a consolation match between Bill Smith and Dr. Frank Kelley.

Belgian Champ Calls Sugar Ray Best Boxer In World

TURIN, Italy — (AP) — Belgian champion Cyrill Delannoit, nursing eyebrow to wasteline collection of black and blue marks, glumly said today: "Nobody can beat Ray Robinson."

Robinson, with an easy three-round victory over Delannoit under his belt and a $20,000 check in his wallet, wasn't around for comment. He was enroute to Paris

By JACK

The former European middleweight littleholer knew what he was talking about. He was striking with the speed of the cobra, battered Delannoit all over the ring until the Belgian threw up his hands in surrender.

That's the world middleweight championship bout against Randolph Turpin, European and British empire middleweight king, in London week from tomorrow.

"That Sugar is just too strong," Delannoit said.

"If I couldn't stand up against him no other middleweight in the world can. I tried my best but had to quit."

The fight drew nearly 25,000 fans but only 15,000 were paying customers. The promoters complained they had to let in 2,000 factory workers, 500 policemen, 150 boys club members and a long list of free loaders.

The gross receipts were $14,000. The card cost $40,000. Paul Agnelli, heir to the Fiat motor fortune, made up the difference. Kingsiders predicted Robinson will be at least a 2 to 1 favorite over Turpin.

Crystal Palace Offers Relief From Old Sol

There is no denying that this is mighty hot weather that we are having these days. You can't help wishing that you could spend all of your time in the old swimming hole or at least in some nice cool shady spot. This isn't Utopia, however, so we must carry on as usual with our daily routines whether it means a place in the business world or doing necessary shopping.

Surroundings can go a long way in creating a cooler atmosphere and the Crystal Palace rates high in this respect. What a relief to enter this cool spot after being out in the sweltering heat. The mirrors make the room seem so much more spacious and the green plants are a refreshing touch. Then they bring your favorite fountain beverage, whatever it may be, with the ice lightly clinking in the glass — it even sounds cool. When you sip it you soon feel refreshed for an iced drink can definitely give you a lift!

Do right by yourself and visit the Crystal Palace at 121 North Cuyler often. Remember, too, that they have wonderful condy there including some that is homemade.

Summertime should be funtime — for housewives too! And it can be with the help of Johnston's NO-ROACH. This wonderful liquid that kills roaches so effectively. Just paint it on surfaces where you're likely to see a roach, around sinks, garbage pails, pantries. You can get Johnston's NO-ROACH at Cretney's and you'll be mighty glad you did.

Whether it be installing cylinder sleeves, doing pin fitting, grinding valves, installing valve seat inserts, doing reamer grinding or doing cylinder grinding. Take it to them for a thorough, dependable job.

Most Vacation Supplies Available At Cretney's

Vacation time is here again and the open road is beckoning. Your vacation trip can be much more enjoyable if you will take the time to do some careful planning before starting forth. To have the necessary equipment for it can add much pleasure. Many of the things that you will need may be found at Cretney's Drug Store.

Sunglasses are a necessity and so is a good suntan lotion. Some good remedy for sunburn might be a wise purchase; Rexall Gypsy Cream is good for this. In your car you should have a first-aid kit, cleansing tissues, and a flashlight, all of which are available at Cretney's. Be sure that you have the correct supplies for your camera because you are going to want to make a picture of your memorable trip. If you have been planning to get a new camera now would be a good time to see about it.

Whether you are picnicking in the back yard, the city park, or someplace out of town, the right accessories can make it a lot more fun as well as a lot easier. Cretney's has everything you need from paper plates and paper napkins to lovely fitted picnic hamper. One of the joys of that great American institution, the picnic, is its informality and another is its need for so little work, so put those paper articles to use and save yourself much needless effort. A thermos jug or bottle is also a wonderful thing to have. If you don't yet own one you will be surprised to see just how handy they are. A portable radio is another item that will give you much enjoyment on a picnic and on many additional occasions as well.

To the parents of small children who will be traveling we offer this suggestion; surprises can make a long auto ride much less tiring to the small fry. Of course they will take a few favorite toys but why not take along a paper bag containing a few new and interesting ones. Then when the little tots grow restless you can bring out some new toy. These need not be expensive, just different.

Do visit Cretney's Drug Store before you start on your vacation. They have all of the items that we have mentioned and many more which can help you have a nicer vacation. Have fun!

Vitamin research studies of leading universities in the United States found that carrots stored in ice showed apparent gains in Vitamin C content and kept their fresh flavor, crispness and firm texture. Carrots without ice protection were too wilted and tough, as well as flavorless, to use.
