Iran Refuses To Recognize World Court

TEHERAN, Iran. (AP)—Iran refused today to recognize the jurisdiction of the international court in the dispute with Britain over nationalization of Iranian oil resources.

Deputy Premier Hossein Fatemi announced that the Iranian foreign office rejected world court of the complaint lodged there Saturday by Britain and the Anglo-Iranian Oil Co.

The British earlier had notified Iran of referral of the dispute to the world court at the Hague, asking that the United Nations-sponsored body name an arbiter.

The deputy premier said Foreign Minister Bagher Kazami informed the court Iran would not send a representative for any hearing on the matter.

Iran's Communists were moving to take advantage of heated nationalist emotions stirred by the oil dispute.

Red front organizations scheduled country-wide mass meetings tomorrow to "fight imperialistic oil companies." The government, headed by Premier Mohammed Mosaddegh, reportedly was arranging for tanks, armored cars and special troops to maintain order.

Meanwhile non-Communist Moslem fanatics, who have threatened a holy war against the British-controlled Anglo-Iranian Oil Co., grew more restive.

They pointed out that although (See IRAN, Page 2)

Woman, Boy Found Dead

GULFPORT, Miss. (AP)—Law officers trailed thread-like clues today trying to identify the pregnant woman and young boy found bludgeoned to death on a rocky strip of beach yesterday.

A footprint, signs of scuffling, some stained clothes and the victims' description were most of the leads the officers had to work with.

The woman was found by a Pass Christian, Miss., fisherman, William Lee Sprinkle, lying face down in the surf clad only in brassiere and panties. Her skull was fractured and her forehead was slashed. About 100 yards away was the boy, about seven or eight years old. His head had been crushed "like an eggshell" from repeated blows with a blunt instrument, Sheriff Laz Quave said.

He said both victims were dark complexioned and apparently of Latin extraction.

An autopsy showed the woman, an attractive brunette between 25 and 30, had not been criminally assaulted, in the fifth or sixth month of pregnancy, he added.

Wheeler 4-H Girls Go To Encampment

WHEELER. (Special)—Three 4-H girls left at noon today to attend the district encampment at Canyon, Mrs. M. E. Hastings, home demonstration agent, will accompany the group. Mrs. Carl Oneal is adult supervisor.

Among the girls attending are Donna Speck, Wheeler; Peggy Sue Brewer, Mobeetie.

Ray Seigmund, county agent, will sponsor a group of 4-H boys who also left today for the three-day camp.

Caddy Carts To Deliver Mail

WASHINGTON. (AP)—The Post Office Department has come up with a new idea: downtown mail delivery via caddy cart.

Downtown, the caddy cart is as foreign as a fairway. But Assistant Postmaster General J. J. Redding says it may put in an appearance "any time" to take the load off the postman's shoulder.

Known as the caddy's best friend, the caddy cart holds a bag of golf clubs and is pushed around the course from shot to shot.

It is a distant cousin of the kiddy cart.

Redding disclosed the new use planned for the caddy cart over yesterday's "Facts We Face" television program.

Car Collision Kills One, Injures Four

DALLAS. (AP)—A Dallas woman was killed and four other persons injured in a two-car collision at Terrell, Tex., early today.

The state highway patrol here identified the dead woman as Mrs. Alice Howard, Negro. Her husband, Matthew Howard, 24, and two other persons in the car were injured. The driver of the second car, Perry Campbell, Horatio, Ark., received minor injuries.

Red Resistance Stiffens As Allies Extend Attacks

Seek Opinion On Date For Bond Election

County Judge Bruce Parker and County Attorney Bill Waters were attempting this morning to secure an opinion from Attorney General Price Daniel on how soon Gray County can hold another bond election for airport improvements.

Doubt as to legality of holding another election immediately arose this morning after attorneys read opinions affecting local option elections, and learning such elections may not be held within a year from the date originally held.

Because the bond issue for another airport, i.e. the northwest field, would be a different issue, in some respects, there is some belief an election could be held at an earlier date than May 26, 1952.

The circumstances that would make another bond election a different issue would be centered around several facts:

1. The northwest site is county property and a bond issue would be for developing or improving it.

2. The May 26 bond election was the acquisition of new land and improvement thereon.

3. The next bond election, if any, would also be for a lesser amount of money — in all probability.

4. By press time today, a complete opinion by the attorney general's department in Austin, was being awaited by Judge Parker and Waters.

All Of Pampa's Methodist Pastors Are Reappointed

All three of Pampa's Methodist ministers were re-appointed for another year at the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference held in Abilene last week.

The ministers are Dr. Orion W. Carter, First Methodist, Rev. F. C. Armstrong, Harrah Methodist, and Rev. E. H. Martin, McCullough Methodist.

Others in this area for the ministry of Methodist churches are Rev. W. B. Hicks, Lefors; C. W. Farmer, McLean; Grady Adcock, Miami; A. D. Moore, Shobeet; Rev. S. M. Dunnam, Shamrock; Rev. S. M. Bean, Shamrock Circuit, and Rev. Darrell Egger, Wheeler.

Appointments were made by Bishop William C. Martin. He preached to an overflow morning crowd. In the afternoon of the closing day Saturday, he ordained deacons and elders.

Saturday night, the conference passed a resolution denouncing the utterance of Marine Brig. Gen. Lewis B. "Chesty" Puller. Reportedly, Puller had urged a "get-tough" policy for service men. The resolution passed by the conference urges President Truman to take away Puller's military standing.

Famous Polar Explorer, Lincoln Ellsworth, Dies

NEW YORK. (AP)—Polar explorer Lincoln Ellsworth, 71, a pioneer in aerial survey of the Arctic and Antarctic, died Saturday night.

Ellsworth, several times explored lost during years of exploration, died of a heart attack in his apartment in the Hotel Carlyle.

The funeral will be private with burial at Hudson, Ohio, where Ellsworth's parents are buried.

Ellsworth's wife, Mary Louise, was with him when he died. The explorer's last major trip of exploration was a flight into the interior of Antarctica in 1939, when he claimed 81,000 square miles of territory for the United States.

In 1936, he had claimed another 300,000 square miles of the Antarctic continent for the U.S. At the time of the last exploration, he was a lieutenant commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Vandenberg Claims U.S. Operating On 'Shoestring' Force

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg said today the United States is operating with a "shoestring" air force and can not afford now to adopt Gen. MacArthur's proposed strategy of bombing Red bases in Manchuria.

Testifying at the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal, Vandenberg also said he believes there are "reasonable chances" of getting a negotiated peace in Korea without such bombing.

Vandenberg, the Air Force chief of staff, said he believes the full power of the U. S. Air Force were thrown into the balance in Korea "there would be a good chance of forcing them (Chinese Reds) to negotiate."

But he contended it would take the full weight of the Air Force to compelling Manchuria and the Air Force cannot afford to do it lest it be called upon to meet a Russian attack elsewhere.

MacArthur had contended no material increase in air strength already assigned to the Far East would be needed to carry out his plan of bombing Manchuria.

Asserting that the U. S. Air Force remains the single largest deterrent to any Russian attack that might start World War III, Vandenberg said he thinks the fighting in Korea can be halted without all-out use of air there.

He added: "I believe that there are reasonable chances of success in achieving a negotiated peace without endangering that potential that we have, which has kept the peace so far, which is the United States Air Force."

Vandenberg said he concurred in the orders to MacArthur not to bomb north of the Yalu River boundary between Korea and Manchuria.

Vandenberg also told the senators:

1. The Russian-built MIG-15 fighter plane used by the Chinese Communists has a jet engine "superior to any we have."

He said he surmised it was developed with the aid of German technicians.

2. The Russians now have the "capability" for mass production of first rate aircraft.

On the question of bombing

O. V. Gomer, 56, Lefors father of Mrs. Herman Wagley, 1314 Market, died Sunday afternoon from a heart attack. Funeral arrangements are pending.

Survivors include his wife, two sons, O. V. Jr., Sunray, and John A., Fort Bliss, Tex.; two daughters, Mrs. Dennis Rise, Japan and Mrs. Wagley; one brother, two sisters, and five grandchildren.

Mr. Gomer was engineer for the Texas Pipeline Co. He had been a resident of Lefors for about 17 years, moving there from Olney.

Ellsworth's father died believing his son had been lost. A year later, in 1926, Ellsworth and Amundsen succeeded in flying over the North Pole in the dirigible, Norge. They crossed the pole on May 12, Ellsworth's 46th birthday.

But Admiral Richard E. Byrd and Floyd Bennett beat them to the pole in a plane by three days.

In 1936 Ellsworth disappeared in the Antarctic. Radio failure had isolated him and his pilot. An Australian patrol ship rescued them.

Ellsworth made several other polar expeditions, including one by submarine, and also explored the jungles of Yucatan and the peaks of the Andes Mountains.

He financed many of his trips with the fortune he inherited from his father, a wealthy mine operator.

Safety Council Forecasts 110 Will Die Over Memorial Day

CHICAGO. (AP)—The National Safety Council forecast today that 110 persons will lose their lives in traffic accidents during the Memorial Day holiday Wednesday.

Ned H. Dearborn, president of the council, said "cold figures indicate that immediate traffic deaths . . . may reach 110 or more."

He added that "extra care, common sense and courtesy" by motorists might hold the death toll below 100. Dearborn said: "Actually we are hoping that the toll may be held to 85 . . . That would be the lowest toll for any holiday since World War II. The only other to go below 100 was New Year's 1946."

Since Memorial Day, May 30, falls on Wednesday this year, the holiday period will last only 30 hours, from 6 p. m. local time, May 29, to midnight, local time, May 30.

First Term For Big Shot Racketeer:

HACKENSACK, N.J. (AP)—Big shot racketeer Joe Adonis was sentenced to two to three years in state prison and fined $15,000 today for violating New Jersey gambling laws.

It was the first jail sentence ever imposed on the 48-year-old Adonis, who was named by the Senate crime committee as one of the nation's most notorious gamblers.

Superior Court Judge J. Wallace Leyden, who imposed sentence, also suspended an additional five-year prison term.

Receiving similar sentences were four New Jersey associates of the Japper, Brooklyn-born underworld figure, Salvatore (Solly Moore) Moretti, 46, of Demarest; James Piggy Lynch, 46, of Palisades Park; Arthur Longano, 46, of Englewood, and Anthony Guarini, 58, of Hasbrouck Heights.

All five were accused of operating a plush $100,000 North Jersey dice gambling empire.

They each faced a possible sentence of 18 years in prison and $18,000 fine.

Woman Dies After Being Found Tied In Wrecked Auto

LUFKIN. (AP)—Mrs. Bessie Lee McAllister, 42, her hands tied and a gunshot wound in the arm, was pulled from the wreckage of an automobile near here yesterday. She died soon afterwards.

Sheriff Leon Jones of Angelina County said murder charges had been prepared against a 34-year-old man who was seen arguing with Mrs. McAllister in front of her home in the Odell community, about 15 miles east of here.

The wrecked car was found about 8 a. m. yesterday. The man was arrested about 2:30 p. m. after he had stopped at a farm house about three miles from the scene of the accident to ask for a drink of water.

Jones said an autopsy was being made to determine the exact cause of the woman's death. "She received injuries in the car accident and she lost considerable blood from the gunshot wound," he said.

85th Victim Of Train Wreck Dies

RED BANK, N. J. (AP)—A 28-year-old Fair Haven man died yesterday in Riverview Hospital to become the 85th victim of the Feb. 6 Woodbridge train wreck. He was Leroy A. Bennett.

Most of the victims of the disaster, worst U. S. rail accident since 1918, were killed instantly. A few died within a week.

Eighth Army Reports Many Red Prisoners

TOKYO. (AP)—Communist resistance stiffened today as United Nations troops pushed deeper into Red Korea after taking the war's greatest bag of prisoners.

But Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet said the Chinese Communists had lost their nerve and retreated when they couldn't crack the U.S. Second Division.

"He (the enemy) lost his nerve. He just quit and hauled out," added the UN ground commander.

U. S. Eighth Army headquarters announced 3,000 Reds surrendered Sunday. Another 2,000 were taken last week.

Most of the 5,000 were captured in a great box-like trap, 25 miles across and ten miles deep. The lid of the trap is the Hwachon Reservoir with UN forces anchored at each side in Inje and Hwachon. Both are in North Korea.

UN forces drove new prongs Monday across the 36th Parallel, already punctured at half a dozen points. South Koreans smashed into Sakchang, 4 1/2 miles north of the parallel and 10 miles west of Hwachon. Americans moved up on their western flank.

Reds put up stiffening resistance against advancing forces Monday. And fewer surrendered.

However, on the east coast resistance was negligible and 14,000 Koreans raced to Sokcho, 14 miles north of the parallel.

In the east-central sector where most of the 5,000 Reds were trapped, a UN officer said: "The enemy apparently has withdrawn the bulk of the Chinese troops. North Koreans are being thrown into the line and they are slowing our advance."

The report phase of the Chinese retreat seems to have ended.

Dutch and American troops made a day-long fighting advance against Reds dug in on the ridges north of Hysan on the road to Inje.

Red mortars and self-propelled artillery opened up on Americans inside Inje.

A strong allied task force showed ten miles beyond captured Inje into North Korea. It was turned back by withering fire from a Red road block near the village of Hanye, nine miles north of the parallel. This UN force had driven from another Hanye, 27 air miles south, from which the allied counteroffensive jumped off last week.

With isolated exceptions, the Reds were in full retreat.

But the retreat, "fast as it is," said Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, does not necessarily mean any end to the war.

"How far he (the enemy) will retreat I do not know," the UN ground commander said. "He still has plenty of reserves and great latent capabilities. He can smash (See EIGHT, Page 2)

Chinese Announce Tibet 'Liberation'

TOKYO. (AP)—Red China has announced it is taking over Tibet — under the guise of a treaty of "liberation."

The Peiping radio in a broadcast heard here said the terms provide for Red Chinese control of Tibet's national defense, foreign affairs and trade.

The Chinese Red army invaded the lofty Himalayan land of the Buddhist Lamas (priests) last October. Tibet's rag-tag troops were routed in eastern Tibet without putting up a major fight, but the Chinese were unable to take Lhasa, the capital.

With his priestly government, the 17-year-old Dalai Lama—Tibet's spiritual-temporal ruler—fled over the windy, snow-mantled passes from his capital at Lhasa to Yatung on the Indian border.

How this was to be achieved was not explained.

The treaty provisions would place all the mountain country squarely under the Red thumb. It provides:

Tibetan troops will be "integrated" into the Red Army. Tibet will banish "imperialistic influence and revert to Red China."

Red China will handle Tibet's foreign affairs and trade. Tibet's religion — of Buddhist (See CHINESE, Page 2)

Summer Makes Debut For Pampans

Good ol' summertime weather has finally come to Pampa with thunder showers.

Convertibles with tops down were seen Sunday riding around Pampa, which were the first signs of real summer. The mercury rose to 86 here with a low of 58.

This first "hot" spell brought on a thunder storm early last night all across the Plains and North Texas.

East Texas was a relatively calm. Thunderstorms boomed and winds reached 60 miles per hour. Childrens and Lubbock and other points had blowing dust with visibility reduced at times to one-quarter mile.

Freah temperatures were reported in the Childrens area. At 2:30 a. m. today, Childrens had 71 degrees; an hour later it had risen to 85; at 5:30 it had dropped to 68.

Areas surrounding Childrens had temperatures 15 and 16 degrees lower. The hot air came from New Mexico and Arizona, where temperatures had soared to record heights.

A few thundershowers were in prospect for the Panhandle, South Plains and the Upper Pecos Valley eastward with temperatures remaining about the same.

Funeral Rites Slated Today For Pigtailed Patty Jean Hull

BUENA PARK, Calif. (AP)—Leonard Dale Hull, it also is a funeral rites for pigtailed Patty Jean Hull will be held today in the tiny white-spired First Baptist church where she attended Sunday school.

The church is only a block away from the modest home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Dale Hull. It also is only a block from the movie house where she saw a cops and robbers matinee last Saturday. The ten-year-old fourth grader never made the short walk home from the theater. Instead, her beaten body was found in shallow woodland grave after a six day search by thousands of townspeople, deputies, firemen and U. S. Marines.

In the Orange County jail as nearby Santa Ana, hulking Henry Ford McCracken listened to hymns sung outside his cell yesterday by a visiting choir. The cowboy guitarist and convicted sex degenerate is accused of luring Patty from the theater and murdering her.

Two thousand Communists surrendered Sunday on the central front near Chunchon, the Eighth Army reported. They were tired, bewildered and hungry. It was the largest catch of the war.

An Eighth Army spokesman attributed the mass surrenders to the "cumulative effect of the long and intense fire to which the enemy has subjected since the start of the last offensive. The rapid pursuit by UN forces which cut off large pockets of the enemy, and the Reds' lack of food and disillusionment."

Reds abandoned huge stores of ammunition in their flight. Airmen reported the Red retreat in central Korea resembled a rout. The Far East Air Forces said.

The allied advance cut off escape routes and may have knocked the Reds out as a serious threat for at least three months. U.S. Eighth Army officers said.

The allied advance was general across the 325-mile front. It penetrated the 38th Parallel boundary of Red Korea on almost every main highway.

Hwachon, seven miles inside Red Korea on the front, and Inje, four miles above, on the border on the east-central front, were firmly in United Nations hands. Both are key towns on Red escape highways.

South Korean troops were back in Yangju, eight miles north of Parallel 38 on the east coast.

In the west tanks led a task force almost to Yonchon, six miles across the border and 35 miles north of Seoul. Other tanks tumbled through Yongpyong, 32 miles northeast of Seoul and five miles across the border.

South of the border a key escape route was sealed when Americans captured Hyon, a road junction on the east-central front, southeast of Inje.

UN tanks and infantry pushed north Monday from all captured points.

VANDENBERG (Continued from Page 1) if the Air Force were forced to operate in any other area of the world with full power. "We would not be able to."

"The fact is that the United States is operating a shoestring air force in view of its global responsibilities," Vandenberg declared.

He said the aircraft industry will be unable "until almost 1955 to do much of a job to avoid supplying the airplanes that we would lose in war against any major opposition."

Vandenberg called the Air Force "the single potential that has kept the balance of power in our favor."

"It is the one thing that has kept us up to date, kept the Russians from deciding to go to war," he said, adding:

"In my opinion, we cannot afford to let what I would like to call, peck at the periphery as long as we have a shoestring Air Force."

IRAN (Continued from Page 1) Mossadegh fathered the nationalization law which ostensibly seized the properties of the billion dollar AIOC. 26 days ago, the company is still doing business without interference.

Mossadegh is in further trouble because the company stopped paying royalties after the passage of the law. These royalties make up most of Iran's income and consequently the government is living from hand to mouth.

Observers feared that in the present unsettled atmosphere, either of the two extremist groups might stage a lightning coup and seize control of the country.

The AIOC made a conciliatory gesture yesterday to try to calm the troubled waters. Board chairman Sir William Fraser, in a letter to Iran's finance minister, announced that the company's resident manager, N. R. Seddon, would attend one meeting of the oil nationalization board "as a measure of respect to the imperial government and the Iranian parliament."

The government had given the company until May 30 to send representatives to the board to help it with the details of taking over the company's holdings. The counter-offer said only that the representative would be an observer and would not attend proceedings back to London. He was given no authority to help with the nationalization.

Sir William reiterated the company's willingness to try to resolve the dispute by discussion and agreement but declared Iran's one-sided action in trying to take over the company without such discussion was a breach of its 60-year contract signed in 1933.

Voice To Reach Stalin's Home

NEW YORK — (AP)—The Voice of America has started broadcasts aimed at Premier Stalin's native Georgia, a region in Southern Russia.

The first broadcast in Georgian, beamed to Russia Saturday night, included a message from Secretary of State Dean Acheson, who said:

"The Voice of America will from now on bring you in your language the truth which the Communists fear and try to keep from you."

"We shall tell you what goes on in the world at large, including the aggressive militaristic actions in the name of peace for which the Communist leaders are responsible."

Ukrainian and other languages of the Soviet Union will be used in other Voice broadcasts.

Ancient records show that Babylon, China and Rome took censuses.

ROSSING, N. Y. — (AP)—Atom spies Julius and Ethel Rosenberg have permission to write each other one letter a day from their separate cells in Sing Sing prison death house. The letters are censored.

Prison officials say neither writes daily.

The correspondence is the first between man and wife inmates at Sing Sing in 78 years.

Their electrocution has been delayed by court appeals.

Discovery Saves Military Train

BERLIN — (AP)—Russian Kone railway workmen discovered a split rail this morning in time to prevent a possible wreck of the American military train enroute from West Germany.

The train was eased over the split at a creep of less than two miles an hour until the last coach was safely across.

The incident occurred at Potsdam near the Russian Army headquarters. What caused the rail sections to part was not disclosed.

Anglo-Iranian Oil Dispute Is Grave

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Iran's blunt rejection of Britain's proposal to negotiate the dispute over nationalization of the huge Anglo-Iranian Oil Co. has increased the dangers of an already grave crisis.

The seriousness of the situation is further emphasized by the fact that the United States has felt impelled to appeal for friendly negotiation between Iran and Britain. This U. S. action brought a charge of interference from a Tehran government spokesman, national front deputy Maki. He added a warning: "When the Iranian people find themselves in a situation in which the roads are closed from every side, the foundations of communism and revolution will be prepared. It is Britain and the United States who are pushing us towards Russia."

Certainly the intervention of Bolshevik Russia is one of the grave possibilities. Prevention of this contingency is, of course, one of the main aims of both Washington and London.

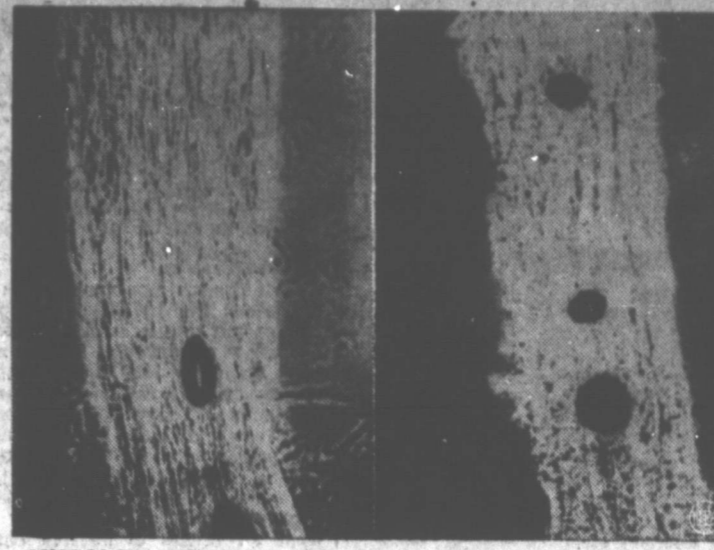

Close relations with Iran are the keystone of the western powers' strength in the Middle East. This is partly because of the strategic position on the Persian Gulf, and even more because of her wealth in petroleum, upon which the West depends so heavily.

Thus Russian domination would completely change the mid-eastern picture and consequently the whole world position to the advantage of bolshevism. For generations the Russians have been regarding Iran avidly, both because of her strategic position and because she would afford them a warm water port on the Persian Gulf. They won't overlook any wide-open opportunity to take over now.

However, Moscow isn't likely to move rashly. So far as one can judge her best opportunity would arise if there were revolutionary developments in Iran. This might give her an excuse to send troops into Iran under terms of the Russo-Iranian agreement of 1921, which provides that Russia can intervene for self-protection.

This being the position it isn't strange to find Communist fifth-columnists working overtime in Iran, and especially in the capital, to start a revolution.

As yet, the American statement referred to above contains a paragraph which is interpreted by Washington diplomatic authorities as a warning to Moscow not to use the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute as an excuse

Not Many Area Farmers Mad Because Of Heavy Rainfall

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Staff

Rains the past week or ten days have washed seed out of the ground, torn down stock tanks, erased terraces and made the fields too wet for plowing in West Texas and some other areas.

But are the farmers mad? Not many. Some of them hadn't seen enough rain to settle the dust since last September—seven to eight months.

This was particularly so in the Panhandle and South Plains. A little more drouth and many farmers would have written off a year's work and headed for the bank to borrow enough money to seed next season's crop.

For in West Texas, much of the wheat crop had failed. A few more weeks without rain would have meant these farmers couldn't have banked on two late-planted money-makers, cotton and grain sorghum.

A survey this week showed that almost all of Texas had all the rain it needed.

However, the rains this season have not been sufficient at some scattered points—including the San Angelo area in central West Texas and Marshall in northeast Texas.

The Rio Grande, a dry stream bed not many weeks ago, has an abundance of water for irrigating the fertile farms. It has so much water that at one time farmers were afraid they would have to move their irrigation pumps from the river banks to prevent their inundation.

The big news for Texas economy in general is the manner in which farmers have turned to row crops after a disastrous wheat season cut prospects to for moving into Iran. This paragraph said bluntly: "The United States has repeatedly expressed its great interest in the continued independence and territorial integrity of Iran and has given and will continue to give concrete evidence of this interest."

The British note to Tehran warned that a refusal to negotiate would have serious consequences. This was emphasized by the action of the British war office in getting ready a 4,000 man parachute brigade which is used for emergencies. The war office declined to state how this brigade might be used, but the world has left to infer that it might if necessary—be sent to Iran.

Such a gesture is pretty strong mustard, as the reaction in Tehran has clearly demonstrated. It is the sort of gesture which has to be made with extreme discretion if it is to attain the desired result and not create even greater antagonism in Iran. Proof of this is seen in Deputy Maki's threat of a holy war (Moslem) if Britain uses force to settle the issue.

On the whole one would think that this is a moment for the western powers to move with firmness but with great discretion in dealing with a harassed Iran, which naturally is anxious about her independence.

Mexico To Have New Boys' Town

MALLEN, Texas—(AP)—The people of the Lower Rio Grande Valley are going to help Mexico establish a Ciudad de los Ninos Boys' Town patterned after the famed boys' home in Nebraska.

Father Carlos Alvarez—"Mexico's Father Flanagan"—launched his campaign for a Mexican Boys' Town after seeing the movie "Boys' Town." The Mexican counterpart will be in Villa Guadalupe, on the outskirts of Monterrey. President Miguel Aleman's wife laid the cornerstone for the first building recently. So far about 6,000,000 pesos has been raised. Two million more are needed.

Russia Stops U. S. Food To Prisoners

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—The Kremlin's "Halt America" campaign has broadened even to include types of food sent to German prisoners of war in Russian prisons and camps.

Food packages containing canned goods with American labels or other items that U. S. officials never reach prisoners. Although Russia has claimed that all German prisoners of war she took have been repatriated, a recent United Nations estimate placed at "thousands" those still held.

Recently German Red Cross officials told relatives of war prisoners not to try to send American goods. Although the Russians have made no formal statement, the Red Cross officials made it plain that such consignments never reached the prisoners.

County Agent Joe M. Glover said farmers will need only one more big rain, and if he was ordering it, the rain should come about mid-June. Corn, sorghums and rice all are in excellent shape.

Rio Grande Valley farmers who irrigate faced a prospect of a dry river only a few weeks ago. But now it seems there will be plenty of water for some time.

One point reporting that it still didn't have enough rain by mid-week was Marshall, where moisture has been too little for good cotton growth. Observers said all crops needed moisture.

Cotton was three weeks late and some still was being planted while some was being chopped. Generally, cotton stands were poor.

Writer Sketches A Personal Portrait Of Beauty

Collette Carlyle, who has made a career of developing the loveliness of other women, demonstrates her techniques for achieving hip-to-the good looks. After determining her client's type, she sketches a proper wardrobe (left) and designs a correct hair-style (right) to enhance this particular kind of charm. Suitable make-up and tricks of behavior round out the picture for this "portrait beauty."

By ALICIA MART
NEA Staff Writer

It Collette Carlyle's philosophy of beauty could be boiled down into one sentence, it would probably be limited to two terse but meaningful words — "know thyself."

Miss Carlyle, whose new book, "Individually Yours," was recently published, has made a career of developing the inherent loveliness of other women.

Through the studio interviews, lectures, television programs and now through her "guide to personal beauty and charm," Miss Carlyle conducts her followers toward good looks and happiness.

To make the best of your particular brand of beauty, Miss Carlyle stresses the importance of self-knowledge. This should not be based upon faded memories of your pink-and-gold girlhood charms, nor upon the treasured compliments of kindly friends. You mirror, she stresses, "has all the answers, so learn to use it."

It's important, Miss Carlyle points out, to type-cast yourself, and then to play that natural role to the best of your ability. She lists six types, emphasizing the fact that she's referring to physical appearance, not to personality inclinations.

"You may not care a fig for golf, tennis or anything more strenuous than walking," yet you still may possess the good bone structure and muscles without fat that are referred to as athletic.

If your build is an athletic appearing one, make the most of it with tweeds, leather accessories, sturdy jewelry and color. She advises, "As a general rule, bows and ribbons, frills and frothing will 'make a mockery' of your sturdy frame."

Next on Miss Carlyle's list is the gamine or ingenue type. If you are small and slim, you'll find it good policy to stress daintiness and delicacy in your costume and make-up.

The most feminine of this type, the coquette, can present with great effectiveness a Valentine prettiness complete with lacy hankies, flowery hats, veils and tiny nosegays.

The secret of success for the dramatic type is a "wrapped-in-catharine" appearance. Grooming and neatness are of utmost importance. If you're a fair for the arresting and striking in your wardrobe, coiffure and mannerisms, make certain the picture is not marred by such fuzzy-at-the-edges details as unkempt nails or a hanging slip.

The patrician type, according to Miss Carlyle, "does not need the props provided by jewelry, flowers, feathers and fuss." To accent subdued elegance and quiet reserve, subtlety is your best bet. Groups of subdued color and good cut provide a just-right background for the monograms, handmade accessories and heirloom jewelry that speak of quality and breeding.

The romantic type is the truly feminine woman. Miss Carlyle continues. Usually cuddly, warm and charming, she "makes men aware that here is a kind of woman who needs male protection," preferably that of the particular male at hand — be he six or sixty. If she chooses lace vestees, flounces, muffs, puffs with bows, her clothes will faithfully reflect her personality.

About the sophisticate, Miss Carlyle remarks, "her loveliness is streamlined, her theme modernity." She scorns last year's leftovers; she avoids like the plague the fashions everyone else is wearing. She is very much herself, her individuality pointed up by some distinctive touch that serves as her trademark — a rare perfume or an unusual brooch.

Start with what you have, Miss Carlyle urges, and make the most of it. Think, plan and act! A sleeping beauty rarely attracts a prince, except in fairy tales.

Home Progress Club Of Miami Has Social Meeting

MIAMI — (Special) — An afternoon of forty-two was spent in the home of Mrs. Frank Gracey Thursday when the Home Progress Club held the closing meeting of the club year. Refreshments were laid, and at the conclusion of the games Mrs. Elmo Gill held high score for guests, and Mrs. R. B. Mathers for members.

Mrs. E. E. Webster, the retiring president, presented Mrs. W. C. Scott, the new president, who gave a short talk.

As a special entertainment feature Mrs. Gracey's daughter, Laurel, and son, Lynn, played piano solos.

The social committee assisted Mrs. Gracey in serving a refreshment plate to Meses. Mabel Arrington, Mattie Shackleton, Eimo Gill and J. B. Saul, guests, and Meses. W. C. Scott, W. L. Lord, R. E. Mathers, A. H. Gordon, R. E. Webster, C. W. Bowers, Howard Mulkey, R. E. Thompson, J. P. Coffey, W. F. Locke, J. K. McKennie, and W. L. Russell, members.

What's Cookin' In Gray County HD Club Work

INTERESTING BACK YARD
Meses. Lester Dymart and Lester Campbell of McLean are next door neighbors. These families have built a big barbecue and utility furnace with an opening on the Campbell lawn. Both families can use the furnace at the same time. The rock terrace, lawn tables and chairs, shade trees and beautiful shrubs and flowers make these outdoor living rooms two of the most complete we've seen anywhere.

OUTDOOR LIVING ROOMS
Gray County home demonstration club women have learned that outdoor living rooms should be thought of as an extension of the home itself. Mrs. E. E. Melton's outdoor living room is located in her back yard. She has a barbecue furnace, lawn table and chairs and flowering shrubs for beauty and screen purposes.

If you need help on outdoor living room furnishings, come by the agent's office. We have blueprints for barbecue furnaces, lawn chairs, lawn tables, serving trays and wheel tables.

DAIRY FOOD TEAM
Jaquelin Robertson and Barbara Edwards, members of the Gray County 4-H Clubs Dairy Food Team, competed for district honors in Amarillo yesterday. District winners? We hope so.

PICTURES IN THE HOME

"Pictures in the Home" will be the demonstration given during June. No one will want to miss this demonstration.

Picnic Fare: Baked Lima Beans

BAKED PICNIC LIMAS and round brown bread will make a hit on the Memorial Day picnic.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Staff Writer

Planning a picnic for Memorial Day — on the porch, in the back yard or in the country? Well, for a very good eating time without any fuss, try this combination. Carry the dishes, hot, wrapped in many thicknesses of newspaper to the eating place — unwrap and enjoy hotly, delicious warm food. Bake both dishes in the oven at the same time.

Round Brown Bread (about 8 servings)
One and one-quarter cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking soda, 1 1/4 teaspoons salt, 1 1/2 cups dry bread crumbs, 1 1/2 cup shortening, 2 eggs, 1 1/2 cups buttermilk or sour milk, 3/4 cup molasses, 3/4 cup seedless raisins.

Sift together flour, soda and salt. Mix in dry bread crumbs. Cut in shortening with pastry blender. Beat eggs well and combine with buttermilk, molasses and raisins; stir into well greased 1 1/2-quart heat-resistant glass bowl. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 1 1/4 hours.

Picnic Baked Limas (8 servings)
Two and one-half cups dried lima beans, 7 cups water, 2 1/2 cups tomatoes (No. 2 can), 1 1/4 cup diced green pepper, 1 1/4 cup minced celery, 3/4 cup minced onion, 1 1/4 cup molasses, 1 1/4 cup dark brown sugar, 1 tablespoon prepared mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 3-8 pound salt pork.

Wash beans well, boil in the seven cups of water for two minutes. Let soak for one hour in same water. Cook beans for one hour in same water. Drain beans and combine them with all other ingredients, except salt pork, in a 2 1/2-quart heat-resistant glass bowl. Cut salt pork into small squares and place them on top of the bean mixture. Bake for two hours in a slow oven (300 degrees F.).

Wayside Club Studies Outdoor Living Rooms

At a meeting of the Wayside Home Demonstration Club, held in the home of Mrs. Doyly E. Osborne, roll call was answered by giving one improvement in landscape.

Mrs. Mary Anne Duke, home demonstration agent, showed slides on outdoor living rooms. She suggested screening the area with tall shrubs for privacy. She also mentioned glassed-in outdoor living rooms. Mrs. Duke said the outdoor living room should be a place for family recreation.

Mrs. J. S. Fugus, president, called the meeting to order.

Attending were Mrs. Lowell Osborne, Mrs. R. E. Montgomery, Mrs. Guss Carruth, Mrs. Marion Osborne, Mrs. Bill Greene, Mrs. F. T. Rogers, Mrs. W. R. Dunn, Mrs. J. Redell and Mrs. R. Graham.

Memorial Day 1951

It is time to LOOK BACK...and pay tribute to those who sacrificed their lives for freedom.

It is time to LOOK AHEAD...with a firm resolution that we, the living, shall do our utmost to work for peace and freedom, to fulfill the dream of the legions of Americans who died for this ideal.

In observance of Memorial Day, this bank will not transact business on May 30.

Relative Cost of Houses Down 40% in Last Decade

National Association of Home Builders
 The cost of shelter is taking less and less a bite out of the family budget dollar, reports the National Association of Home Builders, quoting official Government figures. Shelter costs took 18.1% of the family dollar in the 1935-1939 period, and now takes only 11.2%. Statistics prove that housing definitely is not out of line with other items in the cost of living, says NAHB.

America Spending Less For Housing

More money for clothes, recreation, television and less for housing. That's the way the average wage earner spent his money in 1950, as compared with the 1935-1939 period.

Paint Peeling Costly For Home Owners

By JIM CHANDLER
 (Secretary, National Association of Real Estate Editors)
 Written for NEA Service
 Home owners lose $1,000,000 a year because of paint peeling caused by moisture trapped in walls of their homes.

That is just the price of other-wise unnecessary repainting. It is just a conservative figure. It does not count loss by rotting timbers or siding.

Conditions vary in different areas. Generally, expert surveys found ruinous paint-peeling conditions in developments of newer (10 years or younger) homes. Blisters occur most frequently on small houses.

On one block were counted 13 of 15 homes with serious scars on their painted surfaces, where sun's warmth had drawn water from soaked siding, sheathing and possibly insulation.

In older neighborhoods occurrence of paint peeling might be as infrequent as one in 30. Not so many old homes have been sealed up with storm sash, weatherstripping and insulation.

Rules to stop paint peeling when it occurs or to prevent it from happening to any home include:

IMPROVE facilities for ventilation, winter and summer.

GUARD against excess humidity in your household.

INSTALL barriers to halt the attack of moisture before it gets under way.

As to ventilation, we can review the case of the home of W. J. Chamberlain at 1355 Homeland Dr., Rocky River, Ohio. The Chamberlains installed an automatic clothes dryer in the basement laundry room. In 18 months the paint fell off the inside basement walls.

Installation of a direct vent to the outdoors corrected this condition, but then paint peeling on the outside of the house was noticed. That probably was from moisture trapped in walls before the vent was in use.

Now weep holes have been bored in the siding where the moisture was gathering and when the wall is dry again it will be safe to repaint. Such stories could be told by the score.

At the University of Illinois Small Homes Council we are told that best ventilation is controlled ventilation rather than reliance on cracks around doors and windows.

Air brought into the home by ventilation should be heated, except when brought into unheated attics. If home is heated by warm air furnace, an outside air intake can be added to the heating plant.

Ventilation can be arranged in attics under roof peaks and at eaves. Best solution to moisture in attics is to prevent it reaching the attic by use of moisture vapor papers, foils or paints.

To ventilate attics by exhaust fan, one and a quarter air changes an hour are recommended.

It has been found in actual practice in this area that kitchen, laundry and bathroom exhaust fans control excessive humidity and used when needed except for a moisture meter in a home is a good form of insurance against wet walls and paint peeling.

By watching the moisture meter often as you consult your room thermometer you will know when to bring ventilation controls into use.

Just as humidifiers are helpful for excessive dryness, dehumidifiers are excellent in too-wet homes. They run by electricity and work automatically except that the water they take out of the air must be emptied occasionally.

Here are humidity control rules:

When outdoor temperature is under zero, keep relative humidity under 25 at indoor temperatures of 70 degrees. When it's between zero and 10 above outdoors, hold indoor humidity at about 35. At outdoor temperatures above 10 degrees indoor humidity should not exceed 40.

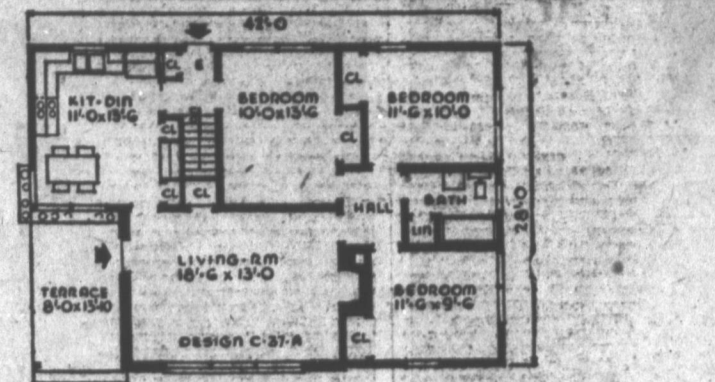

Here is another "commandment" in the war against water: Prevent exterior moisture from getting into your home by repairing defects in construction and making sure your paint protection is adequate.

Tighter and tighter seals, inside and out, are not the only answer to excessive moisture produced in everyday living.

Controlled ventilation is urged by experts who know the cause of multi-thousand paint failures. Does your home have controlled ventilation? Does anybody's?

I predict that the home of the future will have automatic humidistats that will move moisture-removal equipment into action before furniture, walls and paint are endangered.

The house of 1960 — in the upper price brackets — will have such control, and you won't even have to push a button. It is most needed, however, in the smaller, lower — bracket homes where just as many people are bathing, cooking and washing clothes in smaller space.

THE CAMBRIA has many interesting features, worthy of study. The kitchen, for example, has a 3-way exposure, with the front area reserved for dining under three corner windows. A double compartment sink is located under the rear window, the refrigerator on the left and the refrigerator on the right. Two closets are also provided, with a sideboard built in.

Each bedroom has a large wardrobe type closet with overhead storage. The front and rear entrances have coat closets. Double windows in the corner bedrooms are high in order to increase wall space.

The center bedroom, convenient to the kitchen, can be used as a work or play room.

The exterior finish is wide siding and asphalt shingles. Stone or brick face the front living room walls.

The dimensions of the Cambria are 42 feet by 28 feet. The floor area totals 1,088 square feet, while the cubage, including a full basement, equals 21,578 cubic feet.

People's Yen For Knowledge Sets Marquis Up In Business

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Life has become so complicated today that people are interested in facts as well as fancies.

And many would rather pay some one else to find out what they want to know than wear out library steps themselves.

This odd fact led Pierre Marquis to start an organization known as Facts, Inc., which now answers 400,000 to 500,000 questions a year for about $500,000 a year.

Who are his customers? Well, people like Gypsy Ross, Lee and Faye Emerson — and institutions like General Electric and the International Business Machines Co.

Marquis, a slender 29-year-old lawyer who was wounded during the battle of the Belgian bulge, started his unique enterprise a couple of years ago from scratch — about $1,500 in scratch. Today the firm has a card index file of 1,000,000 facts, 15,000 reference volumes and 50 fulltime researchers.

"There are a lot of things people want to know," Marquis said happily.

And individuals pay $35 a year and business firms up to $2,500 to get his answers.

His biggest current job is to find a pretty gal relative of Bathsheba, the Biblical siren. This commission came from the 20th Century — Fox film studio which poured out $3,000,000 on a technicolor movie called "David and Bathsheba." It is looking for a glamorous Twentieth Century female descendant of Bathsheba to help publicize its venture.

Marquis, who has a trained geneologist on his staff, says the task isn't as hard as it sounds.

"There are at least several hundred thousand descendants of Bathsheba alive today," he said. Among them, his research has disclosed, is probably all those who trace their ancestry back to William the Conqueror, the Norman tourist who made the last successful amphibious landing against England.

"This leaves only a 900-year gap for us to bridge," said Marquis. One of his bridges across this little gap led to Senator Saltonstall of Massachusetts, he added but that didn't fill the bill.

"We are looking for a lovely young girl who is descended from Bathsheba," said Marquis. "We may find her anywhere in the world — in Stockholm, Tokyo, or Wichita."

He has no fear of failure in his quest. It may take more time to answer, but he doesn't think it is basically harder to solve than any number of other odd queries put up to his organization. Such as, "where can I buy a pair of black swans?"

"That took us three days," Marquis said. "We found them in New Jersey."

Or, "how many toes does a tiger have?"

A prominent museum told him tigers usually had five toes on each of its front feet and four on its hind feet. Dissatisfied, he checked further and found the nearest live tigers had five toes on each paw.

He notified the museum. They rechecked their stuffed tigers and the bear so often mentioned in Scriptural writing is the Syrian bear, distinctive for its gentle disposition.

Auction Proves America Has Appreciation For 'Culture'

By HENRY McLEMORE
 For many years Europeans have looked down their noses at vacationing Americans as cultural bores, completely lacking in appreciation of the beautiful, the old, and the historic.

I am glad to say that Europeans aren't likely to adopt this superior attitude toward us this summer. But even if they do, they won't be able to make it stick, because Americans, in recent weeks, have proved themselves as aesthetic as the most European European.

From now on we won't have to take no lip of nobody.

This upsurge of interest in the old, the beautiful, and the historic started with the government's sale of leftovers from the renovation of the White House, and reached a rousing, but refined climax in the sale of the furnishings of New York's Ritz-Carlton Hotel, which will be demolished to make way for an office building.

I wish that some of the snooty Europeans could have been with me at the Ritz-Carlton auction. It would have opened their eyes. I doubt if a Rothschild, or the Duke of Alba, would have bid as high as these supposedly uncultural Americans did for old brass bedsteads, door knobs, frayed chests, caps, rubber doormats, chipped egg cups, and other beautiful things, many of which date back as far as 1815.

Every American in the auction room could not help but hold his head a little higher when Amon Carter bought one of the Ritz-Carlton's pre-Raphaelite Otis elevators to convert into a powder room in his Fort Worth home.

Wouldn't it be delicious if Carter went to Paris this summer and the director of the Louvre told him where he could buy the genuine Goya at bargain, and Carter answered, "A Goya? What would I want with a Goya? I've already got a Ritz elevator for a powder room. A Goya would be gilding the lily."

That'd put that ol' director in his place, wouldn't it?

I was a real lucky fellow at the Ritz auction. I got a bathroom plunger (circa 1947) after spirited bidding against a half dozen other bathroom plunger lovers.

The way Americans, from Coney to Catalina, have spent their money for treasures from the torn down part of the White House, proves their deep-rooted love for lovely things. If Italy had placed the contents of the Uffizi Gallery at Florence on sale, Italians couldn't have responded more fervently than Americans have to the White House sale.

American homes are going to be much more beautiful, thanks to this White House opportunity. Homes which have never had a lath on the mantelpiece, are now going to have a three or four-foot section of plaster-coated lath to enhance the beauty of the entire room.

Living rooms which never have had old bricks and half-bricks scattered about, are now going to have them.

The American passion for information is so high that in ten years, Marquis estimates he will have 50 branch offices and a $25,000,000 business.

"There are still a lot of things people want to know," he said, contentedly.

Oilers Defeat Pioneers In Eleventh Inning 8-6

C.F. McGinnis Defeats Bud Abbott For Phillips Golf Crown, 3-2

Play Hubbers in Ladies Night Tilt Here Tonight

CLOVIS — (AP) — Mack Hyde pitched and batted the Pampa Oilers to an 8-6 victory over the Clovis Pioneers in 11 innings here Sunday afternoon in a contest delayed 20 minutes by a dust storm in the bottom of the tenth. Hyde propelled a home run over the rightfield wall with two away in the top of the eleventh to fracture a 4-4 score which had existed since the eighth when Virgil Richardson cracked a round-tripper, his sixth, for Pampa to knot it up.

Doubles by Red Dial and Gil Castillo added an insurance tally following Hyde's unexpected circuit smash. The Pampa right-hander had fanned in three previous trips.

Tonight the Oilers return home for a two-game series with the Lubbock Hubbers, a series that will open a four-day fight for possession of third place in the league.

Tonight's game will be Ladies Night again, the fourth attempt this season to give the ladies a special night. The other times the weatherman interfered. The ladies will be admitted for the price of tax plus a small carrying charge.

George Payne is expected to throw tonight's game, in search of his sixth win of the year.

Hyde was the third of three Pampa pitchers, following Al Kavanaugh and Len Dunn to the mound in that order. Hyde relieved Dunn in the third and promptly proceeded to baffie the Pioneers for eight and two-third innings. He limited the Clovis club to one run and five widely scattered hits during his service.

Pete Trabucco's homer into left in the sixth was the only damage the Pioneers committed at the expense of Hyde.

LADIES NIGHT

Tonight the Oilers will try once again to give the lady fans a night. It will be ladies night, with ladies admitted for payment of taxes and a slight carrying charge.

Pat Randall, gunning for his third victory, picked up his fifth loss instead. He was relieved by lefty Dick Myers after Dial's two bagger in the eleventh.

Four home runs were pounded in the fracas — two by each side. Hyde and Richardson were the marksmen for the Oilers; Trabucco and Bob Pennington smashed on each for the Pioneers.

Pennington's sock was an inside the park blow which hit the top of the right field wall and bounded away from Joe Fortin. Fortin crashed into the barrier attempting to make a spectacular catch and was shaken up. By the time the ball was retrieved by second baseman Gil Castillo in foul territory, Pennington had circled the bases. The punch drove in two runners ahead of Pennington.

Fortin was able to continue after several minutes of rest.

In the top of the tenth, third baseman Len Suarez hurt an ankle sliding into third and had to be assisted from the field. Extent of the injury was not immediately determined. Deck Woldt came in from centerfield to replace Suarez at third when Pampa took the field. Francis Rice shifted to center and Dial went to left.

Hubs, Dukes Split Pair, 5-1, 6-3

ALBUQUERQUE — (AP) — Albuquerque had to settle for an even split with Lubbock last night in a West Texas-New Mexico League doubleheader, winning the first game 5-1 and dropping the nightcap 6-3.

Don Cantrell earned his sixth win of the season in pitching the Dukes to victory in the opener. Steve Catudal handcuffed the locals in getting the win in the second game.

The nightcap was marked by constant argument between plate umpire Ross Selbeck and the Dukes. The witty Frank McCormino was called out for falling to tag up at third after Hal Abbott's deep fly. The play coast Albuquerque a possible tie and ended a budding rally.

A double steal featured the two-run Lubbock first. Bob Fugatch and Al Kubski executed the play after getting on with singles. Earl Hochstatter followed with another single.

The leftfielder smashes over the leftfield wall with a mate aboard climaxed a three-run third for the visitors. Mendoza doubled to right to score Kubski with the sixth run in the fifth.

Jackson Twins

WHAT'S ALL THE EXCITEMENT, TWINS?
JILL GOT A LETTER FROM ONE OF THE AGENT BOYS WHO WAS ON THE TRAIN WITH US TO SEA CITY LAST MONTH!
BUT HE GOT OUR NAMES MIXED UP! HE MEANT TO WRITE TO JAN!
HOW DO YOU KNOW?
WELL, FOR GOODNESS' SAKE, LISTEN TO THIS!
IT SAYS HERE A WOMAN SHOT HER HUSBAND MERELY BECAUSE HE WOULDN'T HANG UP HIS CLOTHES AT NIGHT!
HE DESCRIBES THE TWIN WHO WAS LAUGHING AND CHATTERING AND CRACKING JOKES!
HE COULDN'T HAVE MEANT ME! I COULDN'T THINK OF A THING TO SAY! I HARDLY OPENED MY MOUTH!
CHEER UP, SOME DAY HE'LL APPRECIATE 'YA!
DAD SAYS THE RAREST THING ON EARTH IS A WOMAN WHO NEVER OPENS HER MOUTH!

Blondie

SWISH
I HUNG MY PANTS OVER THE CHAIR, MY SHIRT ON THE DOORKNOB, MY TIE OVER THE MIRROR AND MY UNDERWEAR OVER THE DOOR

Alley Oop

ALLEY OOP IS IN A HOSPITAL UNDERGOING WHATEVER IT IS THEY GO UNDER TO DETERMINE THE CAUSE OF A PAIN IN THE STOMACH.
THIS IS THE HOSPITAL... CAN YOU COME OVER RIGHT AWAY?
HELLO... WON'T YOU SPEAKING... EH? WHAT'S THAT?
GOSH, OOOOLA, I JUST CAN'T IMAGINE WE'LL HAVE TIME TO DO.
THE QUICKER WE GET THERE, THE LESS IMAGINING WE'LL HAVE TIME TO DO.
MR. OOP, YES, RIGHT ON UP, DOCTOR FISH IS EXPECTING YOU!
WELL, HI, FOLKS! C'MIN, C'MIN! GLAD TO SEE YOU!

Bo

NOW THE ZOO KEEPER HAS GRABBED JUNIOR AS WELL AS BO. IF THEY'RE DUMB ENOUGH TO STICK AROUND AND BE CAUGHT, THEY DESERVE TO TAKE THE BLAME.
WE'LL SEE WHAT THE HEAD KEEPER HAS TO SAY ABOUT THIS...
YOU'D BETTER LET HIM GO, HIS FATHER IS AN IMPORTANT GUY...
GO RIGHT ON IN...
THIS SON OF A BIG SHOT SICKED HIS DOG ONTO OUR COW AND GOT THE ZOO ALL STIRRED UP.
HM...M...

"Hereafter let's not snicker quite so much at my golf swing, eh, Waldo Smiley?"
"It's like Dad says—the small business man certainly has no bed of roses these days!"

Mutt & Jeff

OH, JEFF, I OWE YOU FIVE DOLLARS! REMEMBER?
OH, I NEVER GIVE IT A THOUGHT. ASKER I GO TO BED LAST NIGHT!
I BORROWED IT FROM YOU SIX WEEKS AGO. REMEMBER?
VEH, SIX WEEKS, TWO DAYS AND FOUR HOURSAGO!
OVER AT THE DUTCHMAN'S YOU WERE SO NICE ABOUT IT AND EVERYTHING!
OH, THAT'S O.K.!
THAT WAS SOME NIGHT! WE HAD FUN AND...
VEH, WHAT ABOUT THE FIVE BUCKS?
OH, I JUST WANTED YOU TO KNOW THAT I HAVEN'T FORGOTTEN IT!

Bugs Bunny

GIANT HOT DOG 15¢
DON'T BUY IT, MELVIN, WE CAN GET BIGGER CAGES OVER THERE.

THERE 'YA ARE, AN I' HOPE 'YA ENJOY EVERY BITE!
GOSH!
OH, BOY!
MUSTARD?

Private's Pep

YES, THE LADIES BETTERMENT LEAGUE IS RAISING FUNDS TO COMBAT GAMBLING!
GOOD IDEA! YOU CAN PUT ME DOWN FOR $5.
WHY MR. NUTTCHELL! HOW GENEROUS OF YOU!
WELL, YOU CALIGHT ME IN A GOOD MOOD.
TODAY I WON $20 IN THE OFFICE BASEBALL POOL!

OUT OUR WAY

By J. E. WILLIAMS

THAT'S A HORSE! CAN'T YOU TELL A HORSE? US KIDS FOUND A SWELL BED OF CLAY AND I WAS JUST TRYIN' IT OUT TO SEE IF IT WOULD MAKE GOOD CERAMICS EX. POTTERY!
WELL, FOR A FLASH I THOUGHT THE DOGS HAD NEVER MIND WHAT I THOUGHT—WARM ME IN ADVANCE—I MEAN—
EGAD, TWIGGS! LET ME WARN YOU—NEVER MENTION THAT $30 YOU LENT ME! SOME DAY I'LL REVEAL THE GRIPPING STORY OF HOW I USED IT TO REMOVE AN UGLY MENACE FROM HOOPLE MANOR—HAR-RUMPH!
YOU FOOL ME ABOUT AS MUCH AS A HALLONEN PUNKIN, MA. SO? YOU GAVE BELASCO BACK HIS ADVANCE BOARD TO GET HIM OUT? WHY? BECAUSE HE HAD TAKEN A JOB WITH AN EMPLOYMENT AGENCY?

Little Doc

TWO—PLEASE
C'MON, CINDY, TAKE OFF YOUR SHOES
THEY'RE HAVING A SNEAK PREVIEW

Vic Film

I'LL TAKE YOU TO DOC SCALPEL. HE'LL FIX YOUR HAND WATCH FOR A CAG WE CAN SWIPE. THIS ONE'S HOT!
THERE'S A COUPLE CHARACTERS IN BACK OF US IN A HOT ROD FIX. WHAT ABOUT THAT?
I'LL HAVE YOU AT THE POLICE STATION IN NO TIME, SHERRY! THE LITTLE NUBBER WILL DO 125 MILES AN HOUR!
STATE POLICE SAY TWO HOODLUMS KILLED A DOCTOR IN MEADVILLE. THEY MAY BE THE ONES WE'RE AFTER. NOW ABOUT THAT IDOL, FLINT—

Wash Tubbs

NIGHT PERFORMANCE—AND DON IS STILL MISSING
DON KNOWS THE CIRCUS WILL BE LOADED AND GONE BY MIDNIGHT!
NO ONE'S SEEN 'EM SINCE I CALLED HIM A QUITTER, ROSE. IF ONLY I COULD TAKE BACK THOSE WORDS!
MAYBE HE'LL BE WAITIN' AT THE NEXT PITCH, MR. CARVILLE.
THE ELEVEN-TON CANVAS TOP BILLOWS TO EARTH, AND SOON THE TRAVELING CITY OF 1500 PEOPLE IS STOWED IN FOUR TRAMS.

Spook

OH, MY DORY—HONEST TOSH! YOU KEEP GETTING THINGS MIXED UP! WE START OUT WITH A SIMPLE LITTLE QUESTION ABOUT HOMER'S "LIAD" AND END UP WITH WHO INVENTED THE STREET-CAR!
HOW'D YOU EVER EXPECT ME TO PASS?
WHO SAID I EXPECTED YOU TO?
GEE, I'VE PRACTICALLY WORN OUT THESE REFERENCE BOOKS!
AND I HOLD 'EM HIGHLY! I'VE LEARNED A HEAP THAT I NEVER KNOWN BEFORE!

Mickey Finn

RED'S MOTHER AND FATHER ARE GOING UP TO SAWPTS FOR THE WEDDING, AREN'T THEY, MICHAEL?
OH SURE! RED IS COMING HOME TOMORROW AND THEY'LL GO BACK UP WITH HIM!
IS IT GOING TO BE A CHURCH WEDDING, MICKEY?
YES—BUT NOTHING ELABORATE, FLOSSIE! NO USHERS—OR ANYTHING LIKE THAT!
IT MAY NOT BE THE QUIET LITTLE AFFAIR THAT RED THINKS IT'S GOING TO BE, MICKEY—IF THE FANS UP THERE HEAR ABOUT IT! HE HAS THEIR PRIDE AND JOY—FOR TWO SEASONS!
I KNOW, TOM—BUT A FEW OF JEANIE'S FRIENDS WILL KNOW ABOUT IT—UNTIL IT'S OVER!
WELL, I'M SURE GLAD YOU TOLD ME, DON'T FORGET PHIL! I'LL MAKE THAT A GOOD STORY!
AND—WELL, I'VE LEARNED A HEAP THAT I NEVER KNOWN BEFORE!

Funny Business

I JUST FORGOT TO GET IT, FATHER. I'M JUST ABSENT MINDED.
FORGETFULNESS IS SIMPLY MENTAL LAZINESS. ABSENT MINDEDNESS IS INEXCUSABLE MENTAL SLOPPINESS!
LIKE THE OTHER NIGHT WHEN YOU TOOK A SHOWER AND FORGOT TO TAKE OFF YOUR WRISTWATCH?
THAT WAS ENTIRELY DIFFERENT...
MY MIND WAS PREOCCUPIED WITH MATTERS OF EXTREME URGENCY.

THE GAME BETWEEN SHADYSIDE AND KINGSSTON HAS BEEN CALLED BY RAIN!
AT LEAST WE WERE AHEAD WHEN THE GAME WAS STOPPED!
YEAH, AHEAD ON THE FIELD, BUT WE DON'T SCORE IN THE PORCORN DEPARTMENT!
THE BEST CHANCE I EVER HAD TO GET RICH, AND IT'S WASHED AWAY BY A CLOUDBURST! PHOOY!
WELL, THEY SOLD SOME POPCORN! LET'S GO AND COUNT THE TAKE!
WHERE'S MORRIS MORTON?
WHO KNOWS? MAYBE HE FLOATED AWAY!
OR, MAYBE HE JUMPED OFF THE MAIN STREET BRIDGE! FOR A NICKEL I'D JUMP AFTER HIM—IF I HAD AN UMBRELLA!

Bert A. Howell & Co. Recives 100% Plaque

ictured above is the crew of Bert A. Howell & Company which represents over fifty years of experience in air conditioning and heat. They are from the left: Bert A. Howell, A. H. Bowen, Maurice White, E. C. Tracy, Lee Halbert, Joe Scarberry, Edgar Johnson, Ray Browning. Not available for the picture was Jearl Nichols, manager of the Borger store.

Article Will Appear In June Issue Of G. M. Magazine, "Frigidairing"

With the personnel pictured at left, Bert A. Howell & Company is certainly well prepared to take care of your heating and air conditioning needs. This personnel represents more than fifty years in commercial refrigeration, heating and air conditioning service and installations.

Bert A. Howell & Company was one of the few air conditioning organizations to receive the 100 percent Plaque from the Frigidaire Corporation for 1950. This is indeed quite an honor and Pampa should be proud to have a local organization qualifying for such a recognition. We understand that an article about Bert A. Howell and Company with a very glowing account of Pampa will be released in the June General Motors magazine "Frigidairing." This magazine is distributed in every state in the United States and all of her possessions as well as a large number of foreign countries.

Howell says that only in a community as progressive as Pampa is it possible to qualify for this 100 percent club. According to information received, there are more tons of Frigidaire air conditioning per population sold in Pampa in 1950 than any other town in the Southwest. Pampa is ahead of any of the larger cities including Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston and any town in the surrounding states in the sale of Frigidaire Air Conditioning installations. Howell says that it looks like 1951 will be another record year for Pampa in Frigidaire installations.

Bert says that there is not a home too small or too large for air conditioning with Frigidaire units because they are small enough for a single bedroom and large enough for the largest home or commercial building. You need not be without this convenient, comfortable, modern Frigidaire cooling system. The larger systems are usually installed as a combination heating and cooling unit.

Bert also has the washed air coolers from the small $39.50 model up to coolers large enough for commercial buildings. His service crew is prepared to install a new cooler, repair and replace old coolers or furnish you with new pumps, copper tubing, and pads. Filter pads are made to order in the shop and are available in any size.

The sheet metal shop, located in the same building at 119 North Ward, is prepared to take care of any metal work. By fabricating their own metal, every heating and cooling job is tailored to fit the individual home or store. This assures the user of a system actually built to their individual needs, and guarantees an even, adjustable temperature in all parts of the house. If you need a new gutter or need your old gutter and down spouts repaired to take care of our rainy Pampa, they are prepared to do the job right. With a good stock of metal on

Mead's Bread Gives Energy For Youngsters On Vacation

It won't be long until that young boy or girl of yours will be able to do what he or she has been thinking about for several weeks—stay home from summer school for the summer. Vacation time is practically here and most mothers know that it is the time that requires more watching over the health and welfare of the small ones.

Mead's, like all good business firms who are interested in customer welfare as well as the welfare of their product, keeps a watchful eye on the seasonal performance of the younger generation. Although they suggest Mead's Fine Breads as a major item in the year round diet, they point out that spring and summer are the seasons during which the youngsters burn up a lot more energy than at other seasons of the year. Hence, the call to mother to feed more bread, more Mead's Fine Bread to the children. It is the energy food. An extra slice of bread at every meal will go a long way toward maintaining the level of energy that growing youngsters need at their play.

Mead's Fine Bread is delivered in Pampa by Oscar Cox and his rapid-moving crew. Especially baked for high-energy content, Mead's is ideal for children. The finest in materials, highest grade recipes, excellent supervision and scientific safeguarding of your health and well-being are baked in every loaf of Mead's Fine Bread.

The distinctive Mead's wrapper covers the loaf of bread—bread that is fresher-iced to stay fresher longer. Mead's bread comes in two size loaves and in different slices—one for every use, on the table, for sandwiches or for toasting. Mead's Fine Bread just naturally draws the hands of housewives when they go shopping.

Mack's Shoe Shop Ideal Place To Solve Your Gift Problems

Graduation time again has passed—usually someone is forgotten or your gift list. Maybe graduation arrived so suddenly that you simply forgot about getting gifts for anyone. Maybe you just couldn't think of the "right gift" to give and could only think of choosing a gift like the one "you got yourself" or something you heard was given by a friend of a friend to another friend.

Well, friends, your worries are over for out on South Cuyler there is a place called Mack's Shoe Shop where you can find a world of gifts for him or for her. Mack's is a rare western store that features many leather goods and coin silver oddities. You will find your time well spent if you go to Mack's and look around for that "something different" in the line of a graduation gift or something for yourself.

For a few suggestions, you'll find that Mack's has a good supply of beaded toe Moccasins, Mexican style, and wedge and flat heel moccasins. These are in a variety of colors and most all sizes. Maybe you would like to give something more in the Texas tradition. Then you can be right in line by giving a western shirt. Mack's has a large selection of western shirts for both men and women in many different fabrics. Another suggestion would be a fine pair of handmade boots. Mack's has a few pairs left in some styles that they are discontinuing. Among these are some Tony Lama and Mexican boots. These are handmade in several different styles that are reasonably priced in spite of the price increases in other commodities.

You will also find several styles of Cactus Jack boots that are being discontinued.

If the suggestion of footwear doesn't find favor, you'll find many styles of big western hats from only five and a quarter up to fifteen dollars.

But there are many other gifts that you will have to make a trip down to Mack's to see them. To be sure you get the right place, that's Mack's Shoe Shop, 308 South Cuyler.
