Guard Battles Rioters

CICERO, Ill. (AP)—Bayonet-swinging National Guardsmen and police battled a hooting, jeering, unruly mob of hundreds for a riotous two hours in Cicero streets last night and early today.

Eleven persons, including three soldiers and three policemen, were hospitalized in rioting which stemmed from a racial housing dispute. Some of the civilians were cut by bayonets. Others were injured by stones and bricks hurled at the soldiers and police from among the incensed throng of about 4,000.

An undetermined number of civilians suffered bruises and cuts in the melee between the mob and steel-helmeted soldiers and police in one of the worst riots in the Chicago area in several years. Police rounded up 50 persons after the crowd had dwindled during the early morning hours. They were taken to the Cicero police station for questioning and were held without charge.

Order was established at the scene—a residential district in this community of 70,000—shortly before 1 a. m. (EST), more than two hours after the fighting broke out.

About 250 guardsmen were assigned to remain on duty at the scene all night. Last night's rioting climaxed three nights of violent disorders at the apartment building at 6139 West 19th Street.

The first disturbance came after Harvey E. Clark, Jr., 29, a Negro bus driver for the Chicago Transit Authority, and his family moved furniture into the apartment he rented. The furniture was damaged.

Woman Fires Hail Of Bullets After Bombers In Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—A hail of bullets fired by a widowed Negro woman routed bombers who tried to blow up her home in south Dallas late last night.

Police officer Stavix Ellis, attracted by the shots, found a two-pound dynamite bomb and clipped the end from the smoldering fuse with his pocket knife to keep it from exploding.

The bombing attempt came only a few hours after Mayor J. B. Adoue appealed to Dallas citizens to help solve a series of bombings in mixed Negro and white, and all Negro neighborhoods for the last 18 months.

Last night's bombing attempt was at the home of Mrs. Birdie Mae Sharp, in a mixed white and Negro section. She told police she was sitting in a back room when she heard a car approach and stop. She heard a thud as something fell in a low shrub in a flower garden, about 20 feet from the house.

Mrs. Sharp grabbed a pistol and ran into the yard. As she opened the door a car roared away. She fired several shots at it.

Officers in one of the eight special police cars which were patrolling the south Dallas area heard the shots. Ellis cut off the bomb fuse then dumped a bucket of water over the dynamite and fuse to make sure.

The 11th bombing in south Dallas since Feb. 8, 1950 happened Wednesday night. Dynamite wrecked the rear of a new bungalow that had been completed just a few hours earlier.

The house was in an all-Negro section.

Firefighters Battle Tank Farm Blaze

WILMINGTON, Calif. (AP)—Civilian and military firemen battled through the night to quell the final flames of a Union Oil Company tank farm fire that may have caused $2,000,000 damage.

Four 80,000-barrel gasoline tanks exploded, set four others afire and, for a while late yesterday, threatened Army, Navy and Coast Guard establishments in the Los Angeles harbor area.

Flames were still smoldering in several tanks and connecting pipelines and ditches, barring further explosions. Firemen expected to extinguish the blaze today.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation will have 82 channels for television broadcasting. The communications commission announced yesterday it has decided definitely to reserve 70 channels in the ultra high frequencies. There are now in use 12 channels in the very high frequencies, "Ultra" and "very" are technical terms denoting position of the frequencies in the radio spectrum.

The commission did not say when the new channels will be opened up for use.

At Least 11 Are Dead:

Spreading Floods Paralyze Kansas

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Complete and immediate evacuation of the central industrial district on the Missouri side of the Kansas River was ordered today by City Manager L. P. Cookingham.

TOPEKA, Kas. (AP)—Spreading flood waters virtually paralyzed eastern Kansas today, handing some of the most vicious blows to two major cities.

At least 11 persons have died in Missouri and Kansas floods during the past week. Thousands are homeless. Scores of communities are inundated.

Kansas City, Kas., and Topeka—the state's second and third largest cities—were the newest areas to feel the full force of overflowing rivers.

All types of aircraft were pressed into service to aid in evacuations and help isolated communities.

The swollen Kansas River swept over a levee this morning into the heavily industrialized Armourdale district in Kansas City, Kan. The majority of the 15,000 residents had been evacuated.

Factory whistles sounded shortly after the water poured over the dike, warning the remaining residents to flee. All traffic into the area was halted except for emergency vehicles.

Chief of Police Earl Swamer said most of the residents who waited until the last minute fled in automobiles loaded down with bedding and other prized possessions.

Property estimated at $40,000,000 was in the path of the surging waters.

Earlier the river smashed a dike protecting another Kansas City area, flooding the 4,000-acre Argentine district. Water 12 feet deep swirled around some homes and business establishments.

Some 3,500 persons in the district were evacuated.

In Topeka, the state capital, refugees poured into the Municipal Auditorium, the Masonic hall, hotels and private homes. Almost 20,000 persons in the city of 80,000 have been forced to flee their homes.

Two bridges linking the north and south sections of the city have been swept away by the Kansas River.

Wichita, the state's largest city, was preparing for flood waters. The little Arkansas River was expected to sweep into the city tonight.

The smaller towns were taking a beating too. Frank Tiffany, an Associated Press reporter who flew over east central Kansas, gave this description:

Community Chest Is Tabled

As City Shows Little Interest

Plans for a community chest in Pampa were "tabled" last night at a meeting that indicated little interest on the part of merchants and citizens. Only 24 persons attended.

After three months preparation, the fact-finding committee elected at the April 16 meeting, presented information gathered from other towns of Pampa's size where a community chest is in operation.

The committee, headed by Aubrey L. Jones, listed facts and figures, and outlined reasons why various local organizations could or could not participate in a community chest program.

One local man praised the work of the committee explaining, "this is the finest preliminary work on a community chest I have ever seen, and I have worked extensively with programs of this sort."

The fact-finding committee mailed questionnaires to local business leaders, and 127 requested that a community chest be set up. Four businessmen attended the meeting last night.

"We do not know whether the businessmen who signed their support of the community chest realize that there are some organizations affiliated with national foundations who could not, under any circumstances, contribute to such a fund."

General Gives Ultimatum On Resuming Peace Talks

Allies Advance Three Miles In Heavy Fire

U.S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP)—Allied troops today advanced up to three miles through heavy Red gunfire in a limited objective attack on the east-central front.

The fighting, southeast of the Red base of Kumsong, was the main ground action in the Korean war.

U.S. night fighter planes shot down two small Red planes near the allied peace camp at Munsan, one Thursday night and the other Friday.

While cease-fire talks in Kaesong remained stalled, there were persistent reports of Red buildup behind the lines.

But an allied officer on the western front said there was nothing to indicate the Reds were preparing to launch an offensive in the immediate future.

He said, however, their "capabilities are increasing." Latest estimates placed enemy strength at 350,000 men across the front and immediately in reserve.

An allied patrol in the west Thursday observed a Chinese Communist company southeast of Kaesong, at the edge of the neutral zone between Munsan and Kaesong.

Further southeast of the neutral zone, the same allied patrol was fired on by about 50 Reds.

AP correspondent George A. McArthur reported from the eastern front that allied infantrymen from the Hwachon Reservoir to the east coast relaxed Friday for the first time in six weeks.

Only one allied patrol made contact with Reds in that area. McArthur said the patrol used mortars and artillery harassed allied lines Thursday night but were silent Friday.

U.S. Far East Air Forces planes flew 500 sorties Thursday through low clouds and rain. Communist light bombers and fighters kept up their attacks on Red airfields and supply and transportation points.

Republicans Can't Talk Ledrick Into Heading Campaign

Wichita Falls Republicans apparently are not so sure of Mickey Ledrick on the idea of running their candidate's campaign in the coming Sept. 8, special 13th Congressional District election.

Ledrick, this morning, told The Pampa News he didn't believe he was interested in getting "mixed up" in the election. He declined to say who the GOP candidate would be saying, Republican forces there would announce him sometime next week.

Ledrick spent Thursday in Wichita Falls conferring with Republican leaders after they put in several calls to Pampa in an effort to interest him in handling their campaign. The Pampa News has reported on the successful handling of former Rep. Ben Guill's special election campaign here in 1950.

The special election for the 13th Congressional District was called after Rep. Ed Gossett resigned to accept a position with a Texas utility.

Knoxville Police Confiscate Dope

KNOWLEDGE, Tenn. (AP)—More than $4,000 worth of narcotics—largest amount ever seized in Knoxville—has been confiscated.

Police Capt. Elmer Dyke said patrolmen investigated when they noticed Ralph Owens, 43, leaning against a downtown building apparently in a semi-conscious condition. He had a paper bag in his hand. That's how the subject rests today. All information compiled by the committee is available in the local chamber of commerce. The committee includes: Jones, Mildred Lafferty, Charles Cook, Lillian Jordan and L. N. Atchison.

Columbian Strike Still Possibility

Possibility of a strike still hung over the head of Columbian Carbon Co. today as members of International Oil Workers Union (CIO) and company officials remained deadlocked.

Negotiations were broken Wednesday when terms for a new contract could not be worked out. Union officials met Wednesday in Berger, but refused comment on the meeting.

BON VOYAGE is bid to Kenneth Williams, left, and Herman Watkins, directly behind him, by Mayor C. A. Huff, far right and Gene Fathore, president of the Chamber of Commerce, center. The boys plan to leave at 2 a. m. Saturday with Isabel, the Ford that made a 3500 mile trip last summer. Plans for this summer are to take the 21-year-old Ford about 4000 miles. (NEA Photo)

Izzy Is Just Wanderer--But Trip To Canada May Prove Too Much

By KENNETH WILLIAMS Isabel is gonna try it again! Yes sir, we are dumb enough to try it twice. Except that this year we are going about a thousand miles further.

Oh, you might like to know what I'm talking about. Well, last year Robert Dixon and I took my Model A Ford to Yellowstone National Park. We drove it about 3500 miles that trip. I said after we got back that I would sell "Isabel" (the model A) to the first sucker that even looked like he was interested in her. Well, when it came to selling her I felt like I would be selling one of my own brothers, if Izzy was disposed of.

Izzy was kept purely for sentimental reasons until last Monday. Monday was a very eventful day. 7:30 a. m. I got out of bed; 8 a. m. went to work; 9:30 a. m. Herman Watkins came into the place where I work; 9:35 a. m. we planned to go to Glacier National Park, leaving Saturday morning; 9:40 a. m. we talked to Bob Gettymy, editor of The News; 9:45 a. m. we agreed to write a series of articles describing our trip; 9:46 plenty happy; 5:15 p. m. Isabel breaks an axle on the way home; 5:15 1/2 p. m. not so happy; 9 p. m. start fixing the axle; 2 a. m. give up in disgust.

That's just about the way it went. Wasn't thinking any thing about taking a trip when we got up Monday morning but with in a few hours a trip was planned, a deal was made, and all we had to wait on was the leaving hour. And, while we were walking on air with our heads in the clouds, Izzy had to go and break down!

Of all the luck! Herman and I were nearly sick. We finally got Herman's father's pickup and pulled Izzy down to Herman's house. Herman and I started to work on Izzy about 9 o'clock and practically had her fixed by 11 but we hit a snag. All we lacked was hooking the axle to the spring with the shackle. But we might as well have been trying to move the Hughes building with a spoon for all the good we did for the next three hours. We tried every conceivable method known, but it wasn't any use. One eighth of an inch was all ways between victory and defeat. And defeat it was. We gave up at two in the morning.

This all wouldn't have been half as bad if Herman's Dad hadn't gotten up the next morning and fixed it in a half hour! How do you like that, we work on it for three hours to no avail, then Herman's Dad fixes it in half an hour! Oh, well, such is life.

Now for some introductions. The most important member of this little expedition is, of course, Isabel. As I've stated before, Izzy is a 1930 Model A Ford and she shows every year of it! She is painted kind of a sun-brown while or you might call it a very bright maroon. How far she will go this summer is a deep dark mystery. We will be trying for four thousand miles but we just might end up hitch-hiking home. We don't think about that though.

"We" include Herman Watkins and me. Herman is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Watkins of 1209 S. Clark. Herman will be a senior in Pampa High in the fall. I am Kenn Williams. My folks are Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Williams of 1344 Garland. I graduated from PHS last year and plan to attend Texas A&M in the fall.

The safari plans to be to Colorado Springs, Denver, Cheyenne, Wyo., Helena, Mont., Glacier National Park, Canada, Yellowstone National Park, Salt Lake City, and Santa Fe, N.M. Sounds like it might as well be to the moon since the top speed we can travel is 30 miles an hour. Think about it, only 30 miles an hour for four thousand miles! Maybe we better change the name of Isabel to "the Turtle."

You'd be surprised, though. Thirty miles an hour enables a person to see all of the country that he goes through, and that seems to fast becoming a lost art in this day of 135 horsepower motors and such.

We have another purpose in going besides just to have fun. We go as official ambassadors of His Honor, Mayor "Lettie" (See TRIP, Page 2)

UN Demands Armed Guards Be Withdrawn

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—The allied command told the Reds today: Korean war cease-fire talks will be resumed only when United Nations delegates have unrestricted movement in an area free of armed guards.

Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway sent that virtual ultimatum to top communist commanders after the Reds rejected an allied demand that news correspondents be accepted as part of UN personnel in the conference area.

The supreme commander demanded: 1. The Reds get their armed guards out of Kaesong—original site of armistice talks—or agree to meet somewhere else.

2. End "unreasonable and unnecessary" restrictions on his negotiators and let them move freely.

3. Accept anyone he names as part of the UN delegation.

Ridgway's message was broadcast just two hours and 20 minutes after the Reds rejected the third point, originally made yesterday by Adm. C. Turner Joy, chief UN negotiator.

The rejection came from North Korean Gen. Nam Il, chief Red cease-fire delegate, in a reply to Joy.

Nam suggested the delegates meet at 1 p. m. Friday (10 p. m. Thursday, EST) for further discussions.

The UN answer came at 1:45 (See RIGWAY, Page 2)

Damage Heavy In Accidents

Two accidents west of Pampa, Wednesday resulted in heavy damages and total destruction to one vehicle, highway patrolmen who investigated the accident said today.

One man was injured and a car demolished in an accident that occurred late Wednesday night at the Letors highway and Farm Road 749 intersection.

Involved were Mr. and Mrs. Howell S. Saunders, Pampa, and Donald A. Bond of Corpus Christi. Bond is pilot for the Celanese Corp. An occupant in Bond's car, William L. Paul, was taken to the hospital, but released after treatment. He is co-pilot for Celanese.

Bond was charged by patrolmen with running a stop sign. The car he was driving is owned by the Tom Rose Ford Co. It was a complete loss. About $600 was estimated on the Saunders car.

An accident at 7:35 a. m. occurred on the McCollum lake detour when a 1949 pickup driven by Melvin Leroy Tedder, Borger, and a 1950 coupe operated by Clarence C. Campbell, 521 Magnolia, were in a head-on collision.

Tedder was traveling east and Campbell was going west at the time of the accident. Damages were estimated at $300 on each car. There were no injuries.

Campbell was given a ticket for driving on the wrong side of the road, officers said. Investigations in the accidents were completed Thursday.

Lattimore Being Quizzed By Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Owen Lattimore, teachers and writer on Far Eastern affairs, was questioned behind closed doors today by the Senate Internal Security Committee. Members said they would ask about "any Communist influences" in the Institute of Pacific Relations.

Lattimore, a professor at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, came to the capitol in response to a subpoena.

As the hearing got started, there was talk among the senators that they might check later into State Department suspension of two high-ranking career diplomats pending hearings on security charges. The department announced its action last night.

Lattimore has served occasionally as a consultant to the State Department. He was a central figure last year in the Senate inquiry into charges by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) that Communists and Red sympathizers had infiltrated the department.

Wouldn't Tell Why She Didn't Meet Him: Braly Slates Interview With Pampan In Woman's Death

Willie Derrett, held in the fatal knifing of Ella Mae Harris, was to be interviewed by District Attorney Tom Braly sometime today before official charges are lodged against him.

In the meantime, Derrett signed a statement in full before County Attorney Bill Waters, acting for the district attorney in the latter's absence.

Braly returned late last night from Lipscomb and Hemphill Counties where he was prosecuting several men before grand juries in alleged cattle rustling activities.

Derrett, in his signed statement, said he stabbed the Harris woman in the chest after she refused to say why she failed to meet him at the Busy Bee Cafe at 9 p. m. Wednesday.

He also said, in his signed statement, the woman (who died at 10 a. m. yesterday from internal bleeding caused by the stab wound, according to Waters) refused to tell him where she was when she failed to show up before 12:30 a. m. Thursday. Derrett said the woman went for an ice pick after he "showed her" his opened pocket knife.

The district attorney this morning headed for the court house from his private office in the Combe-Worley Bldg. where he said, he would read Derrett's statement.

The men were working in a 20-foot square building, D. E. Montgomery, assistant manager of the company, said the building was a gelatin cartridge plant in which explosives in a gelatinous form were placed in paper shells for manufacturing of small caliber bullets.

Lipscomb Jury Indicts Three In Cattle Theft

Three men were indicted in Lipscomb County Thursday on charges growing out of cattle-theft investigations made known last week by Hemphill and Lipscomb County authorities.

Four men were indicted Wednesday in Hemphill County, charging Hurdis Smith, Glazier, with receiving and concealing stolen cattle, and Billy Schaffer, Leroy Price and Dennis Williams with cattle theft.

In Lipscomb County, Smith, Jimmy Schaffer, and L. G. Brown were indicted on similar charges.

In addition to the cattle-theft, the Hemphill County grand jury returned indictments against Jimmy Woodruff for forgery and against L. F. White for theft by bail.

Woodruff has been held in jail here since receiving a three-year sentence in Perryton a few weeks ago. Officers stated all men were under arrest except White.

No trial date has been set.

Four Men Killed In DuPont Blast

SENECA, Ill. (AP)—Four men were killed last night when a ton of explosives went off at the Du Pont powder plant. All that remained of the small frame building where they worked, authorities said, was a hole in the ground.

The body of one man, who was outside the building at the time, was recovered. Coroner Clark Davis of Grundy County said only parts of the other three men were found.

There were no other casualties reported.

The men were working in a 20-foot square building, D. E. Montgomery, assistant manager of the company, said the building was a gelatin cartridge plant in which explosives in a gelatinous form were placed in paper shells for manufacturing of small caliber bullets.

White Deer Student Sails For Six-Weeks' Study In France

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Tom Horn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Biggs Horn, White Deer, sailed from New York Tuesday on the S. S. Europa for Paris, France, where he will study French literature for six weeks at the University of Sorbonne.

While there, he will live in a French home and will receive credit both for his studies at the Sorbonne and for his language study, through an extension plan established by Baylor University under the direction of Reynold Arnould, head of the art department at Baylor. Mr. and Mrs. Arnould, native Parisians, spend six months of each year writing, while in Europe, he will go to London for a visit with friends of Mrs. Carroll, and will return on Sept. 15 to re-enter Baylor.

A freshman there last year, Tom served as a campus guide under the supervision of the personnel department and was also a freshman track star, winning the half-mile race in each contest entered.

As a student in White Deer High School he won the Class B state championship in the half-mile race in 1949 and again in 1950. He was also outstanding in dramics, and participated in the Inter-scholastic League one-act play contest for four years. During that time the White Deer play won first place in the state contest in 1949, second in 1950, and fourth in 1947, and placed second in the regional contest in 1948. Each year, Tom was named best actor in the regional contest at Lubbock, and was on the all-star cast in the state meet in 1949 and 1950.

Inventor Plans Treasure Hunt With Waterscope

WINDSOR, Ont. — (AP) — A 33-year-old Windsor inventor plans an underwater treasure hunt in Lake Erie with a new "waterscope" on which he's completing work.

The treasure seeker, Peter J. McLean, tested his invention recently in the Detroit River. He plans to start looking for cargo-laden sunken wrecks on Aug. 1.

His waterscope is a long tube, equipped with a 3,000-watt light and reflecting surfaces at the base and a revolving eyepiece at the top. McLean says with it he can see for at least 60 feet in any direction from its underwater end.

With it he plans to investigate sunken hulks. Once he identifies a sunken ship with valuable cargo, a salvage company will take over.

Among the vessels he plans to seek is one which carried 110 barrels of whiskey and $300,000 in gold bullion when it went down. Another sunken ship was loaded with oak timbers valued at $175,000.

The deepest sounding recorded in any of the Great Lakes was in Lake Superior at a depth of 1,290 feet.

Controls, Shortages Hit Auto Industry

DETROIT — (AP) — Production of 24,568,000; sales 22,500,000.

Ford's Automotive News reports that the auto industry's six years of postwar production up until July 1 this year. The trade paper reports that with this volume of passenger car production behind it the industry again faces the prospect of a long period of government-planned materials scarcities and price controls.

The production outlook for July, Automotive News reports, is for the lowest volume since December, 1949, when a majority of plants suspended operations for model changeovers.

Labor Shortages More Widespread

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Labor Department says labor shortages are "more widespread and troublesome than at any previous time since Korea."

Robert C. Goodwin, head of the department's Bureau of Employment Security, said while no overall labor shortage has developed so far, the employment situation seems to be tightening, especially for skilled and semi-skilled workers.

At the same time, Goodwin said, workers in some areas are beginning to lose their jobs because the predominant industries — autos, for example — are running short of strategic materials going instead into defense.

VFW To Sponsor Town Hall Meetings

If bondsmen are to be tossed to any person or group around Pampa, we suggest a carload of children be heaved into the laps of the Veterans of Foreign Wars anytime within the next three minutes, so to speak.

The organization's goal of rejuvenating an old American custom — the town hall meeting — is one of the smartest moves to be suggested around here in a long time.

In fact, it is a practice America should never have dropped. Partially because America has dropped this living symbol of democracy in action, the people have left themselves wide open to the almost totalitarian form of government we have today.

But the VFW can't, and doesn't expect to get the job done alone. They need cooperation from every corner of the country.

Unless our rank and file citizens as well as business, social, industrial, and other civic leaders do their part by attending, the program will fail.

We have long felt the American public has placed too much emphasis on entertainment and left the important and serious issues "up to Charlie."

When people will turn out in droves to be entertained by a free feed, a free beer bust, pay to see some sporting event or outdoor show, but when public gatherings where people are seeking knowledge and understanding, somebody is on the skids.

America has too long succumbed to the path of least resistance of "Oh, let Charlie do it." This attitude on the part of the general public has led us to the place we are today — under an almost complete economic dictatorship out of Washington.

The same holds true for elections on every level and the result is apathetic voting. Elections results over the past two decades will bear this out. Pampa is a shining example with nearly 2,500 eligible voters and less than 50 percent turning out at the polls during the last municipal election.

The same held true for the recent airport election. The voting record at last year's tax re-allocation election was a disgrace to any community.

The move on the part of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, to our way of thinking, is highly commendable and should be rewarded by consistently good turnout at every one of the scheduled monthly meetings. In fact, we would like to see them so crowded they will have to move to the district court room where there is a balcony.

Perhaps the first few meetings will not be all that VFW members hope they will be. Such is true with anything new, but we feel sure that these men who risked their lives for perpetuation of our freedoms will not give up just because the first few sessions do not come up to expectations in program or attendance. By the same token it would be well for all of us to "bear a hand" to make each VFW town hall meeting a bigger and better affair. Let's back the VFW all the way and attend the town hall meetings every month.

Bid For A Smile

Friend—How are you getting along in your driving?

Woman—Oh, well, yesterday I went 10 miles an hour, and tomorrow I'm going to try opening my eyes when I pass another car.

Harold—Just about time the baby said "Daddy."

Mrs. Harold—So, dear, not yet. He's tried my little, who you are until she gets stronger.

Employer—To newly hired stenographer—How I hope you'll thoroughly understand the importance of punctuality.

Steno—Oh, yes, indeed, I always get to work on time.

The owner of a high-powered car was being driven along at a steady 45 miles an hour. For some time the hooting of a baby car behind had irritated him.

Driver—Pull up! The big car stopped, and the baby car drove up just behind.

Angry Owner—Look here! Do you want to pass?

Driver of Small Car—Not I! Just wanted to see my front bumper disintegrated from your rear one.

One way to start a bunk account is to live on less than you can afford.

Hostess (at evening party)—What, going already, Professor? And must you take your dear wife with you?

Professor—Indeed, I'm sorry to say I must.

Better Jobs

Beams In Our Eyes

Most Americans are horrified at the Iranian government confiscating the oil properties of the British in Iran. It is natural to believe that when the wealth has been discovered and made available for those who made the wealth available, given wealth that is made available does not benefit those who made it available then the creation of wealth is retarded.

The oil in the ground before it was discovered was not wealth because it was not available for use. But why should the American people be horrified at the Iranian government taking over the oil of the British? We had much better pull the beams out of our own eyes rather than be interested in the beams in the eyes of foreign governments. It makes no difference whether a government confiscates wealth or whether it is confiscated by any other natural wealth or whether it is confiscated by orders or whether it is confiscated by orders for wealth such as credit and paper money. Why should we Americans be so excited about the socialism and lack of respect for rights in property in foreign countries when we in America so often have done this same thing?

Did we not in America borrow money and guarantee to pay it back in money in equal weight and fineness and then six months later make a law repealing this contract? In other words we confiscated wealth to guarantee to pay it back from those who bought bonds.

Have we not since 1913 had a progressive income and inheritance tax that confiscates the savings of those who created the wealth and gives absolutely nothing in return for this wealth?

Did we not when we established rent controls confiscate part of the fruits of labor of those who owned houses and give the profit of it to those who rented them? Did we not do this because there were more votes, power, on the side of renters than on the side of the landlords?

Did we not confiscate wealth when we established the Federal Reserve System that gave the bureaucrats the power to regulate credit rather than those who had the money to loan?

Are we not in each community confiscating the savings of individuals with the idea of controlling the price of schooling? For the majority of the people it is to pay for a thing called education, which in reality is nothing but socialism, is even more harmful to society than confiscating natural things like oil. One poisons the mind and the other simply takes from A to give to B.

We have a big beam in our eyes when we pass laws that permit labor bosses to tell who can work and who cannot work. We give labor bosses the power to pick the pockets of the humblest worker. By doing that we greatly reduced production and kept wage levels below what they would be.

Yes, before we get excited about the lack of morals and the hard-boiled attitude toward the work we better pull the beams out of our own eyes before we attempt to pull the beams out of the eyes of the rest of the world.

"Children Grow Up Like Alley-Cats"

George E. Sokolsky in his column analyzing the case of the Jewish immigrant children of New York, the youth of the land, makes the following statement:

"Furthermore, strictly secular, amoral education, for children without parental restraints, does nothing to build character. No matter what progressive educators say about the social value of self-expression in a democracy children who grow up like alley-cats, without moral restraints and inhibitions, will not resist the temptations of their environment. Those restraints and inhibitions must be developed in the home."

Then he stresses the value of the Jewish and Christian ethics in the following statement:

"I have a personal familiarity with similar conditions which existed among the Jewish immigrants on the East Side of New York. They came in large numbers and crowded into the East Side. They also were without American traditions and habits. But their religious and family life was not only beautiful but intense. One hears of the very few gangsters that came out of that area but rarely of the hundreds of thousands of men and women who created for themselves a fine and noble life in this country. It was religious consciousness, centered about the family, which saved these personalities from the disintegrating influences of a transplantation from one culture to another."

How can we expect any development of character when the youth of the land is short-changed in tax supported schools that cannot teach by example the great principles of the Jewish and Christian religions?

We are reaping exactly what we are sowing.

BULLETIN TO PHYSICIANS

By DAVID BAXTER

In a bulletin issued to physicians May 21 the Orange County health department had this to say:

"In view of the approaching Civil Defense Mass Immunization Program, we are running information to which the physicians may refer as necessary. This is the first of the series.

All material has been checked against recent literature and is authoritative. The method of smallpox vaccine is included because a columnist in recent issues of a local newspaper grossly misrepresented these facts."

"I'll give you 10 guesses who the columnist is the bulletin referred to and if you still can't guess I'll give you 10 more. Apparently the guardians (and sometimes LETHAL GUARDIANS) of the fellow's health don't approve of this columnist's description of vaccine preparation. In any event, having 'grossly misrepresented' it according to the health people's allegation, let's see how THEY describe it. Here is how their bulletin explains vaccine preparation:

"Smallpox vaccine is prepared by the inoculation of the shaved, sterilized abdomen of a healthy heifer less than seven months of age. Sanitary precautions are meticulously observed in this process, ranging from the strict sanitary requirements of the state to final autopsy of the calf following extraction of the vaccine material. The vaccine is carefully tested for freedom from the tetanus bacillus and other contaminants. Finally a bacteriostatic agent is added and the vaccine is sealed in capillary tubes and released for use."

From this it would seem that doctors themselves did not know how vaccine was prepared. They needed a bulletin from their health department to explain it to them. The remark this columnist made about "sick calf pus" was what set the drug monopoly and medical monopoly teeth edging health was supposed to be "gross misrepresentation."

Well, I notice one thing. The health department bulletin mentioned an autopsy being performed on the calf. I don't know what given smallpox and the pus extracted from her. That calf may not have been sick but it certainly doesn't sound to me as though she were sick. I don't know what. Undoubtedly the calf was healthy before she had her belly shaved and inoculated with smallpox. My reference to a "sick calf" had to do with her condition afterward. If smallpox would make her sick I don't know what would. The health people, seemingly shocked at my having described her as a "calf" point out how I "grossly misrepresented" this by referring to the calf as "sick."

Another thing the health watchdogs emphasize is the terrific sanitary precautions taken in the shaving of the abdomen and getting the "heifer" ready for inoculation, as well as strict sanitation clear up until the time the autopsy is held. I had said nothing about that but if there is anything about the heifer after she gets smallpox or about the reservoir of pus — pardon me — vaccine — that is formed, then I am in need of information. Is it or is not "sanitary." In any event, the pus is finally extracted from the diseased (or "healthy," if you prefer) heifer, put in the tubes sent to the doctor and shot into the arm of the patient.

If there is any difference in the health department's description of smallpox vaccine preparation and the one I gave it is simply in an added pretense to force everyone to be vaccinated.

Not that I object to anyone's having sick calf pus or health filth shot into him if he wants it. That's the way every individual and his own convictions. The trouble is that the drug trust isn't willing to let it go at that. The people who profit from serums violate the rights of man by getting laws passed to compel people to be vaccinated. That's what I object to. My protest against compulsory vaccination is a defense of human liberty, the rights of man.

In passing, it is hardly necessary to mention that the health department bulletin led up to its subject by saying in view of the approaching Civil Defense Mass Immunization Program."

Are we to infer from this that the drug and medical monopolies intend to use civil defense as an added pretext to force everyone to be vaccinated?

FAIR ENOUGH--PEGLER

NEW YORK — I have investigated the crimes for which Ralph Howard Alsop, the reigning dictator of the corrupt American press, was sentenced to prison for life. Such is not the disposition of the cow and cactus states so, for his latest crime of shooting one of his subjects, a poor working stiff, in the body, Alsop was convicted of a comparatively petty charge of "assault with intent to inflict bodily injury." The maximum sentence is two years and a fine of $10,000. Alsop took an appeal. According to many precedents in the American Federation of Labor, the union subjects, through their compulsory dues and special assessments, can be forced to pay the legal expenses of this process. They can be forced also to pay Alsop's fine for shooting one of them.

Alsop went free on another gun-charge in Las Vegas a few months ago.

Alsop is president of the Central Labor Council of Clark County, vice - president of the Nevada State Federation of Labor and a criminal by trade. He holds the portfolio of business agent of the Las Vegas Plumbers' Union but is not a qualified plumber.

Alsop came from Eastern Texas. There he began his notorious criminal career by helping a prisoner to escape from a reformatory for younger criminals. For that he got two years in Huntsville prison. He served the full term because he was on report for misbehavior twice and forfeited his "good time."

Alsop's major exploit in Texas was a stickup family reminiscent of the Northfield raid of Jesse James and the Youngers. It was cheap stupid venture denoting a dumb mentality and a brutal nature.

About midnight, April 20, 1932, Alsop and two companions drove into the town of Celina, Collin county, Tex. and parked their car near the city hall. The other stickup men were Jack Hammett and Paul Rogers. Alsop claimed to be 20 years old, but there is no record of any clemency consideration on account of his age. Rogers was 23. Hammett's age is not revealed.

The mayor and the city marshal of Celina approached the three strangers to ask what they were doing about at that time of night. Rogers pulled a gun and took the marshal's pistol. Alsop pulled a gun on the mayor and the three gunmen then made the mayor and marshal walk before them toward the railroad. The marshal had a second gun, but when he started to pull it, Alsop shoved him on the side of the head and over the shoulder.

Humpty-Dumpty Days Of War, Peace

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — (AP) — These are the extraordinary humpty-dumpty days when we have war without fighting and fighting without war.

For more than a year we've been fighting in Korea without calling it a war, officially.

For more than six years we've been fighting with Germany without fighting and fighting without war.

Monday President Truman asked Congress, which declared war on Germany on Dec. 11, 1941, now to declare it over.

The main reason is psychological: to boost German morale and link that country closer to us.

(Other nations allied with us in the war with Germany will do the same. Britain, New Zealand and Australia ended their war with Germany, Canada will do so shortly. The cabinet to France has approved the action, but its effectiveness is uncertain because the cabinet is due to resign soon.)

Since Germany is one of the main keys to the future of Europe, this country wants to keep the Germans on our side and out of the hands of the hungry Russians.

We have helped them economically, in rehabilitation, in getting trade going, and so on. Gradualism has helped them move closer to more participation in the affairs of the rest of the world.

Toward this end, we've allowed them to set up their own government, although this country, Britain and France still retain a strong veto over what that German government can do.

But so long as war officially exists, Germans are in an awkward position trying to find their place alongside the rest of the world.

Any time they sit down with the allies, whether it's in United Nations activities or elsewhere, they are officially enemies of the men across the table from them.

For example, so long as war officially exists, a German who is a member of the United Nations cannot sit on the Security Council.

It is not a secret to be proud of. We hear daily appeals from high officers of the Government that we should have a bipartisan foreign policy, that the people and Congress should have faith in the men who are experts in foreign affairs and not debate or question them. But in this sort of record to deserve united support or to breed confidence?

If the men who run the Government do not trust the people with the truth it will not be long before the people denied the truth will come to trust the men who lie.

It is well known that one's mind can be trained to do with the physical conditions of one's body. The later years of life should therefore be faced calmly, confidently, and with the definite aim of making the most of them.

National Whirlwind

WASHINGTON — It is doubtful if any Truman appointment has caused so much soreness as a nomination of a state executive to judge the Supreme Court.

The Governor's young nephew, a politician of both major parties as the shift of Governor Luther W. Youngdahl from error Youngdahl from Minnesota and the national political scene. On the other hand, it may improve Mr. Truman's standing with farmer-labor independents, left - center Republicans, and civic and religious organizations.

There is hardly a Truman enemy in both parties who was not hurt by elimination of the party and favoring Governor Youngdahl from Minnesota and the national political scene. On the other hand, it may improve Mr. Truman's standing with farmer-labor independents, left - center Republicans, and civic and religious organizations.

It places the bipartisan critics and opponents in a difficult spot. Youngdahl's record as a judge and state executive admittedly qualify him for his new assignment. And, although members of the judiciary have been named for political reasons almost since the founding of the Republic, rarely have cold-blooded, baited agency and vote-getting completely in choosing a man for the important court at the Capital.

There is hardly a Truman enemy in both parties who was not hurt by elimination of the party and favoring Governor Youngdahl from Minnesota and the national political scene. On the other hand, it may improve Mr. Truman's standing with farmer-labor independents, left - center Republicans, and civic and religious organizations.

It places the bipartisan critics and opponents in a difficult spot. Youngdahl's record as a judge and state executive admittedly qualify him for his new assignment. And, although members of the judiciary have been named for political reasons almost since the founding of the Republic, rarely have cold-blooded, baited agency and vote-getting completely in choosing a man for the important court at the Capital.

Reynolds' masterpiece was doubly scoreless inings as it came over Cleveland's Feller, king of the no-hitter.

Feller, only hurler to fashion three no-hitters since the turn of the century, surrendered only four hits himself. One, however, was seventh-inning homer by Indian outfielder Gene Wood, a fluke that gave the Yankees a 1-0 triumph.

The Red Sox took a full game lead over the White Sox by sweeping a twilight doubleheader in Chicago, 3-2 and 4-1.

The Red Sox won the twilight doubleheader in Chicago, 3-2 and 4-1, in the 17th inning to establish an American League night game record. Philadelphia and Cincinnati established a major league mark of 19 innings Sept. 15, 1950.

A Hymn Is Born

BY CLINT BONNER

Alas! And Did My Saviour Bleed

A preacher's visit lasts 36 years

The Lord Mayor was there. Like other elite members of Mark Lane Church, his honor rarely missed a sermon by the renowned Dr. Watts.

Isaac Watts was young for the pulpit at Mark Lane. He was now, but he had been at the big church ever since he was 26. He was small, just five feet—and his big head made his small body look even smaller and his long hook nose made his homely face even uglier. He was sickly, too. Hardly had he seen a well day since smallpox nearly killed him when he was 15. At Mark Lane he rarely preached two Sundays in succession, but the congregation wouldn't let him quit. They hired an assistant and told Dr. Watts to preach when he felt like it.

A few years after his illness Watts was sought out by a beautiful lady who fell in love with him through his poetry. Her name was Elizabeth Singer and Watts fell hard over heels in love with her. He proposed marriage, but Miss Singer shied away in disappointment and said she "admired the Jew" but could never love the "casket." Abandoning hope of marriage, the little man wrote, "How vain are all things here below . . . How false and yet how fair."

Isaac Watts preached that Sunday in 1712, but he didn't look like it. So the Lord Mayor and Lady Abney carried him out to their mansion in the country. A week's rest, they said, would do him good.

At the Abney home Watts fell in love again—with the three little daughters of his host. He wrote verses for them about "the busy little bee" and dogs that "delight to bark and bite" and a cradle song that began, "Hush, my dear, lie still and slumber; Holy angels guard thy bed." The Abneys became so attached to their guest that they wouldn't let him leave. In 1720 Watts collected his juvenile verses into his classic "Divine and Moral Songs for Children." The book sold 80,000 copies a year and six generations were raised on it. Watts died, still a bachelor, at the Abney home in 1748—35 years after going there for a week's rest.

Perhaps the little man was thinking of his poem-marked face and dwarf body when he wrote one of the greatest hymns that has ever been written . . .

Alas, and did my Saviour bleed?
And did my Saviour die?
Would He devote that sacred head
For such a worm as I?

Was it for crimes that I have done,
He groaned upon the tree?
Amazing pity! Grace unknown!
And love beyond degree!

Well might the sun in darkness hide,
And shut his glories in;
When Christ, the mighty Maker, died
For man the creature's sin.

But drops of grief can ne'er repay
The debt of love I owe;
Here, Lord, I give myself away,
'Tis all that I can do.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

Christian Science declares the oneness and alms of God in the Lesson-Sermon titled "God" to be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, July 15. The Golden Text introduces this theme. It reads, "There is none holy as the Lord: for there is none beside thee: neither is there any rock like our God" (I Samuel 2:2).

One of the Bible citations states, Now unto the King eternal, immortal, invisible, the only wise God, be honour and glory for ever and ever" (I Timothy 1:17). And from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read this statement: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is: Spirit, Life, Truth, Love, combine as one, — and are the Scriptural names for God" (page 275).

Cotton Export Quota Up In August-Novem

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The cotton export quota for the August-November period has been raised from 2,500,000 to 3,500,000 bales.

The 1,000,000-bale increase over the export allocation set June 12 was announced by the Agriculture Department. It followed a department report that farmers had increased cotton acreage this year by 58 percent.

The report indicated that the government's production goal of at least 16,000,000 bales will be met.

Civilians Instead Of Military Have Spurred Oil Industry

By SAM DAWSON
 NEW YORK (AP)—It's the average citizen—not the military—that's built the fire under the oil industry.

The average citizen's unforeseen and unprecedented demand for oil products for his car, his furnace and his factory—and not the need of oil for the Korean war, large as that is—sends oilmen:

1. Scrambling for steel to expand facilities and seek new oil sources.
2. Pooling resources to stall off any shortages of heavy oil for industrial plants on our East coast, in Europe or the Far East, should Iranian oil be lost to the West—a plan for this is to be submitted today to the government.
3. Building storage space this summer for the home heating fuel oil needed in next winter's peak demand.
4. Talking of ordering some eastern factories to use coal instead of oil, if the Iranian squeeze develops.

True, the military demand for oil is twice what it was a year ago. And true, aviation gasoline has soaked up a lion's share of the highest octane quality.

But the American Petroleum Institute points out that demand is still only five percent of the total petroleum production in this country.

It's insignificant when you look at the unprecedented rate at which civilian demand has mounted. Consumption of oil and its products went up 12 percent in 1950 and an estimated 10 percent this year. That means the industry has to find 24 million more gallons of oil each day than it did in 1949.

In that earlier year Americans used 5.8 million barrels of oil and its products each day; last year 6.5 million and this year they are expected to use an average of 7.1 million barrels a day.

The institute quickly points out:

that the American oil industry has kept pace with the demand—even if it proved greater than anticipated. In the peaceful five years between V-J Day and the Koran outbreak, the industry spent $10 billion on new plants and equipment. Refining capacity was raised 26 percent, and daily oil production went up from 4,584,000 barrels daily in 1945 to 5,200,000 barrels daily in mid-1950.

Production is now in excess of 6,000,000 barrels a day. And refining capacity is being expanded by another 200,000 barrels a day to reach 7,061,360 barrels a day by the end of the year, to take care of domestic production and imports.

And the industry has gone on finding and developing new oil fields so that today, in spite of the heavy production, the nation has larger reserves of oil than ever before, API says.

Where does all the oil go? Well, there are more than 48 million motor vehicles in the country. There are more than 5.2 million oil burners in homes and factories. There are four million tractors on American farms. At the start of the year there were 4,303 more diesel locomotive units on order by American railroads. And world trade, reaching high levels this year, is carried in ships powered by oil.

If demand for oil continues to grow at the indicated rate, oilmen figure they may have to expand facilities further in the next few years at a cost of $3 billion with an additional $1 billion needed for repair and replacement of plant and equipment.

The industry is now spending around $100 million a year in research, compared with the $15 million it spent in 1925. How that research has paid off is outlined by E. V. Murphree, president of Standard Oil Development Co.

He says that research into the best utilization of oil fields has led to a 25 percent additional recovery of oil from the ground that under the old methods would have been lost. He thinks that it is possible that this research eventually will add 46 billion barrels of oil to the reserves under the United States.

Research also has increased the effectiveness of gasoline by 67 percent since 1925, Murphree says. Measured by work that can be performed on a knock-free basis, one gallon of gasoline now is 67 percent more powerful than a gallon in 1925. The wholesale price at the refinery has gone down from 12 cents a gallon then to 10.5 cents a gallon now.

In other words, 10.5 cents worth of 1951 gasoline gives the same amount of energy in your car that 20 cents worth of 1925 gasoline gave you.

WHAT STRENGTH IS HERE! Steam and electricity, heat and pressures; but also men at work! Power harnessed for a nation that feels its duty to help mankind. Millions of men at the front and millions more preparing to go. Millions of other men at home being saved by the cold wet soldier on the firing line. How much they depend on good materials we can send them! We are making the sinews of war. They are the warriors. We are partners together. Each serves the other and we win or lose together.

THE SOLDIER at the front may save our bodies from disaster but he cannot save our soul. God must do that. We cannot be men of truth and character if we let those fellows down. They are risking their lives in our military service. Let's gird ourselves for the task. Let's be brothers of the spirit with our fighting men wherever they may be.

OUR JOB is pleasant work compared with what our great armies are doing. Let's not complain. Let's pay our taxes with a smile. Let's honor the men who are dying for us. Let's nerve them to fight their best by not failing them on the home front. May the great industrial power of the Democratic nations of the earth together with the very best from every citizen, defeat the tyrants of greed and hate.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU
Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Thus we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCHGOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Contract Let For Repairing White Deer School Buildings

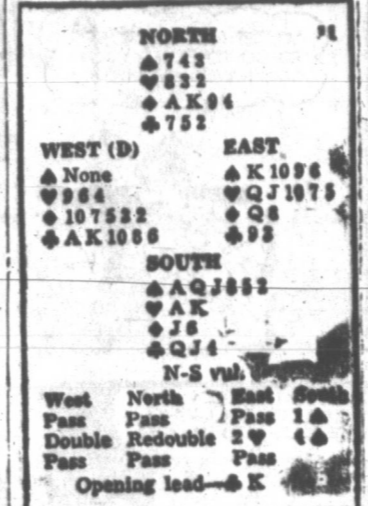

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Contract for the repair of the vocational building which housed the agriculture, shop and music departments of the White Deer High School has been made with Neil Singleton of Amarillo and the work was begun Tuesday. The building is expected to be ready for occupancy by the time school starts, September 1. Supt. Huey Laycock announced also the school board has purchased eight one - room cottages, formerly used at Dalhart while the school building there was being erected, and these will be moved to White Deer within a short time to provide temporary housing for the high school. Arrangements are being made to conduct the grade school classes in the various church buildings. No definite plans for reconstruction of the grade and high school buildings has been made. However, settlement with the insurance companies has been completed, and Supt. Laycock will spend several days this week inspecting outstanding school plants and gathering ideas for the permanent structures.

Price Specialist In Pampa Monday; Conduct Interviews

A price specialist in the industrial materials and manufacturing products branch of the Office of Price Stabilization will be in Pampa Monday to give information on the OPS pricing program. The price specialist will conduct interviews in the local chamber of commerce office, or will make appointments elsewhere, if desired. Merchants are urged to take part in today's hand. East was very happy to ruff the third round of clubs. He wasn't so happy about it later. After taking the third trick, East returned the queen of hearts. South won, entered dummy with a diamond, and finessed the queen of spades. When that worked, South got a dummy once more with a diamond and took a second trump finesse. The queen of spades then drew East's last trump and South spread his hand to claim the rest of the tricks. The right defense is very ably and humorously pointed out by Otto Feuer in a recent issue of The Bridge World. East must not ruff the third round of clubs. He must discard a diamond, allowing South to win the queen of clubs. Now South can get to dummy advantage of this offer to bring their firms into conformance with the law.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Watch Trumps Before Ruffing

Written for NEA Service
It's always a great pleasure when your partner opens the king of a suit in which you hold a doubleton. You hopefully play the higher card of your doubleton, and follow with the lower card when your partner takes his ace. This leaves you in position to trump the third round. Lovely, isn't it? That's what I thought when West opened the king of

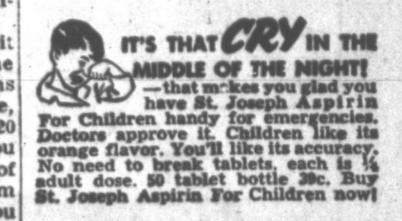

JACOBY ON CANASTA Tips End Scoring Arguments

Written for NEA Service
"I'm ashamed to say that we still have trouble about scoring in Canasta," admits a Cincinnati reader. "We're really not beginners; in fact we play pretty well — in our opinion. But we still have arguments about the right way to score. For example, last night my wife and I had one canasta and all four red threes down on the table. In our hands we had cards that added up to 215 points. We discovered that fact when one of the opponents melded out unexpectedly. The cards in our canasta happened to be five sevens and two deuces — totaling only 65 points. We wanted to pay the 215 points for cards in our hands by cancelling part of our canasta bonus. The opponents insisted that we had to break up our red threes, thus getting a much smaller bonus. Please tell us exactly what should be done in this case and also in general. When a hand comes to an end, your first step is to count your bonus points. That includes the bonuses for canastas, for red threes, and for melding out. Before you do anything else you write those bonus totals down on the scorepad. Only after you have written down your bonus points is it time to count up the card points. You begin by counting the cards still in your hand. Then you count the cards that you have melded. If the melded cards come to more than the cards in your hand, you score the difference in melded cards come to less than the cards in your hand, you score the difference against you as minus points. only once with a diamond. This allows him to take one trump finesse. After that he can wriggle and squirm, but he must still give up two trump tricks to East. Don't let this hand stop you from ruffing the next time you have a doubleton in the suit your partner leads. But look at your trumps a second time before you ruff. If the ruff uses up a trump that would pretty surely be a trick anyway, you can always make up your mind then and there not to ruff.

You, Too, Can Look Good In Bathing Suit, Designer Says

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Don't despair, girls; you can look like a movie queen on the beach this summer. Well, almost like one, anyway. Or so claims Edith Head, the ace fashion designer of Paramount Studios. Now that the swim season is here I went to her for some words of wisdom. First of all, I got her to climb way out on a limb and select the 10 best bathing suit figures in Hollywood. Her choices: Corinne Calvet, Joan Crawford, Mona Freeman, Betty Hutton, Ginger Rogers, Jane Russell, Jan Sterling, Elizabeth Taylor, Esther Williams and Jane Wyman. Miss Head remarked that she would like to design swim suits for any of these actresses. In fact, she created one for Liz Taylor to wear in "A Place in the Sun." Miss Head claimed that Liz would look good in any kind of suit, and who is there to argue? However, most women aren't as well endowed as Liz. How should they go about buying a suit? "If they shop correctly, there is no reason why they can't look good in a bathing suit," the designer remarked. "Manufacturers have created outfits which will complement all but the most impossible of figures. "The trouble is that most women don't take time to pick the right suit. They should spend more time selecting a beach outfit than they do a dress. You see, a woman shows more of herself on the beach than she does at any other time, outside of the bathtub. "Here is one thing to remember: don't shop for a bathing suit alone. Most women just hold in their stomachs, look in the three-way mirror and say 'I'll take it.' But the true test of a bathing suit is whether it looks good when you're walking away. Take someone in the store with you to help you decide."

'Voice' Estimates Hungary Evicts 30,000 From Homes

WASHINGTON - (AP) - The State Department report estimates that 30,000 persons have been evicted thus far from their homes in Budapest during a reported Hungarian Communist purge of "undesirables." The "Voice of America" in a broadcast overseas this week said such evictions have also now begun in the Czechoslovak cities of Brno and Bratislava. One account from Hungary told of evacuees living in forced silence in a stable, beaten and otherwise treated like animals. Two members of the American legation staff at Budapest who were ordered out of Hungary by the Communist regime said in their arrival in Vienna last week that probably 14,000 had been evicted in the past seven weeks. The "Voice" said in a report broadcast in many languages over the radio that "facts are known to the West - facts which have been smuggled out from behind the Iron Curtain or which have been brought out by refugees who themselves were marked for deportation and who managed to escape."

WILD WEST CHARITY STANDISH BY CHARLES JUDAH

THE STORY: After going to New Mexico to forget his fever, Charity Standish prepares to leave to meet Douglas Kent, the man who won her heart. Doug left at his own accord to see Angel, who was $5000 in debt to Angel, one of the partners, who says that he must be "poor" until the debt is repaid. There still remains what Charity thought, to find out what happened. So she goes to the West to see Angel, who is a dark beauty who drove men crazy. Angel looked up; the smile with which she had regarded Charity Standish faded. She glanced towards the dice table where Duke Rogers presided. The tall intruder repeated the question "Was Doug drinking?" Angel shrugged. "Men come here to drink." "Doug doesn't, if he's playing." The man turned towards Charity scrutinizing her out of eyes half amused half puzzled. She stared back, indignant that anyone should be so impertinent as to eavesdrop on a conversation between ladies. He was tall and lean. He held himself, as Angel did, with easy grace, and like Angel his skin was warm and olive; but unlike Angel his eyes were gray, and his hair sand-colored. His mouth was as big as hers was small, as generous as hers was cruel. "I don't know how you fit in this picture, m'am," he said to Charity. "But I doubt if you belong at all. I'd go back to the Astor if I were you." Under other circumstances Charity might have been flattered at being classified with the Astor's fashionable clientele. But she was in no mood for flattery. "I can take care of myself, thank you," she snapped. He grinned amiably. "I doubt it." ALL her bitter disappointment in Douglas Kent, all the im-

Marxist Banks Run On Wheels

HONG KONG — (AP) — Red China's state-owned banking system in Chahar, Mongolia, is literally rolling in wealth. The banks are on wheels — a sort of financial copy of America's mobile libraries.

A Tientsin newspaper says the scheme is so popular that new deposits in the last few months alone are "greater than the total private deposits at the end of 1950." The paper added that from an original 25 mobile banks in October of last year, the number has increased to 219.

The mobile banks handle savings, banking and insurance in the same way as a regular bank, the paper added. Through their efforts, Chahar peasants already have insured 20,000 head of cattle. Two-thirds of all bank deposits have been advanced to peasants needing help, while one-quarter of the deposits have been directed toward developing "handicraft production."

Pleasure Seekers

COLLING, Ia. — (AP) — Sheriff Ivan Shalley toted up loot taken by thieves who entered the Glen Shuey farm home while the family was away.

Net loot: Two-thirds of a chocolate cake. Three phonograph records — all love songs.

BIG MOUTH — You're looking down the throat of the battleship USS New Jersey, big guns of which have been giving valuable support from the sea to fighting ground forces in Korea.

Feed Condition In 17 States Rises One Point

DENVER — (AP) — Feed conditions on ranges in 17 western states improved about one point during June and were three points higher than a year ago. However, conditions are about three points below the 10-year (1940-49) average.

The report of conditions on July 1 was prepared by the Denver western livestock office of the U.S. Bureau of Agricultural Economics.

Range feed improved during June to give good grazing conditions in Montana, North Dakota, Wyoming, eastern Colorado and northern Texas.

Local dry spots were reported in northwest North Dakota, southeast Montana, northeast Wyoming and along the mountains in central Colorado.

Hot dry weather dried ranges and pastures in west and south Texas.

South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma range and pasture feeds made a larger than usual gain in condition, with much better grain than a year ago.

Drought conditions continued in New Mexico and Arizona, with poor range feed and stock water shortages. This has forced continued feeding of livestock.

Range feed is poor to fair on the lower ranges of south central and southwest Colorado, southern Utah and southern Nevada. There is good dry feed on lower ranges in California and good pasturage on late ranges and irrigated pastures.

Northwest Colorado, northern Utah and northern Nevada have good range feed.

Idaho, Washington and Oregon have good grazing with dry cured feed on the lower ranges and good feed on the higher ranges.

The reported condition of range feed in the 17 states was 84 percent, compared with 82 percent last month. It was 81 percent a year ago and the 10-year average is 87 percent.

The reported condition of cattle and calves on July 1 was 87 percent. It compared with 88 percent last month, 88 percent a year ago and the 10-year average of 88 percent.

Uniformed Children Has Our British Cousins In A Tizzy

This question has our British cousins in a mild tizzy at the moment.

The grownups over there have been doing a lot of things alike for years, sharing their wealth and health, watching the same government radio programs and eating the same number of eggs a week.

But there are signs of rebellion. The British Army has come up with a new rifle that sneers at the standard-sized ammunition used by the rifles of other Atlantic powers. And there was instant reaction against a proposal by Tory Sir William Darling that British children up to the age of 14 wear a "standard uniform" in order to cut the cost of clothing.

Chief critic against this idea was John Taylor, the aptly named editor of "Tailor and Cutter," a London trade journal.

"If all children are to wear the same uniform," he said, "then the fundamental advantage of a uniform — that other people are not eligible to wear it — will immediately vanish."

I don't think this argument holds water at all. It is typical of another old-fashioned British idea — that parents have any choice in what their children will wear.

Here in America the kids tell Papa what they want, and Mama goes out and buys it for them — and there's no nonsense about Congress having any influence in the matter.

Without the lawmakers ever even considering the subject, American children have pretty much achieved Sir William Darling's goal in this country. They have adopted a uniform — the cowboy suit.

It is now standard with both sexes from the ages of two to about 16. Up to about 8 they seem to gallop about in full regalia — guns, bandanas, chaps, lassos and sombreros. After that they go around like cowboys off-duty, wearing only a pair of battered blue levis and a sloppy shirt with the tail sticking out.

More and more the girls after the age of 10 are cutting their hair short like the boys, and how they tell each other apart is a mystery to me — and, of course, none of my business. What difference does it make anyway? Girls will be boys if they want to.

The problem of even identifying their offspring at all is a task growing more harassing to the parents of small offspring. Under a 10-gallon hat how can you tell one small cowboy from another? It takes a real knowledge of movie horse operas.

Returning to my tenement home the other day, I met a worried mother who asked if I had passed her little son. She said he was wearing a cowboy suit.

"One gun or two guns?" I asked.

"One."

"Roy Rogers, Gene Autry, or the Cisco Kid?"

"I believe he calls himself the Cisco Kid," she said.

"Certainly, madam," I told her. "The Cisco Kid is on the other side of the playground. A young lady who calls herself Miss Hopalong Cassidy has got him down and is beating his head on the pavement. She says he is a horse thief, and maybe you had better hurry."

My advice to the British people is that if they do vote their kids into a standard uniform they choose something besides the cowboy suit. Maybe a nice durable canvas straitjacket. It'll be more peaceful — and save bloodshed.

GERMAN ENVOY — After a 10-year lapse, diplomatic relations between the U. S. and Germany were formally re-established with the arrival in Washington of Hein L. Krekler, newly-appointed charge d'affaires for the West German Republic. Since Germany is still an occupied country, Krekler can not have the title of ambassador.
