DiSalle Says Some Prices Going Up Despite Revision

WASHINGTON (AP)—Price Stabilizer Michael V. DiSalle said today some prices may go up even if Congress changes the economic controls law as President Truman requests.

He told the Senate Banking committee elimination of the three provisions which Mr. Truman has bitterly denounced would give the Office of Price Stabilization a "workable program."

Crime Group Seeks Probe For Capital

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Crime committee, ending a dramatic crusade against gangsterism and lack of law enforcement, called today for a probe into crime in the nation's capital.

But it guarded well the secret of other recommendations it will make to the Senate in a report which will officially end its 15-month career of searching into dark places in big and little towns across the land.

The report probably will call for contempt citations against a number of reluctant witnesses.

The group, headed by Senator O'Connor (D-Md.), pushed to complete the report in time to hand it to the Senate Friday or Saturday and then turn over to another committee for urgent action.

Staff employees said the Commerce committee—under Senate orders to "continue the study and surveillance" of organized crime and how to destroy it—will find the wallet nearly empty.

The Commerce committee, led by Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.), agreed yesterday to take a look at the records and check with the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) before deciding its next step.

Word of the empty coffers may have a bearing on those plans. Johnson noted crime committee leaders showed a balance of nearly $55,000, but his staff said later that unpaid debts would just about eat that up.

The crime committee, originally headed by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.), disclosed last night that its report contains a section urging a thorough study of organized crime in the District of Columbia.

Its hearings had brought a smattering of testimony that the gangster, the narcotics peddler and the hoodlum have operated freely in this home of the government. Congress governs the District of Columbia.

McGee Wins 60-Day Stay Of Execution

ASTIN (AP)—Richard W. McGee won a 60-day reprieve yesterday to allow time for his sanity trial.

Gov. Shivers granted the stay on execution, the third time he has ordered delay of McGee's date with the electric chair on recommendation of the pardons board.

Convicted of slaying Lubbock grocery executive R. L. Allston, McGee had been scheduled to die Sept. 1. He now will face the chair Oct. 31 unless his sanity trial produces a verdict of insanity.

A trial to determine his mental condition was ordered recently by the court of criminal appeals, which overruled District Judge Daniel Blair's refusal to grant such a trial in Lubbock.

Blair resigned this week. Gov. Shivers has not yet appointed his successor.

Indictment Of Newsmen Seen As Threat To Press Freedom

LAKE CHARLES, La. (AP)—The indictment of five newspapermen for alleged defamation was viewed by an official of an anti-vice group today as a threat to freedom of the press.

The newspapermen are on the staff of the Lake Charles American Press, which has campaigned against gambling in support of the Peoples Action group (PAG).

The organization was formed to fight gambling and the corruption of Calcasieu parish (county) public officials. The five men were charged with defaming the characters of 16 parish officials and three admitted gamblers.

James Dewey O'Brien, lawyer and chairman of the crime commission of the PAG, said of the indictments: "The crime commission feels that the attack was aimed at the two key points in our procedure to obtain law enforcement—one, the free press, through which the people are informed; two, the attack upon three of our workers is aimed at the basis of our operation, the affidavit by private citizen."

"If they can knock us out of operation, the wide open gambling could be resumed."

O'Brien's statement came after a statement by Sheriff Henry Reid, first of the alleged defamed officials to comment since he had indictments were returned last Monday.

Reid said all gambling was closed in the parish, and that he courts would hand jail terms to anyone convicted in the future on gambling charges.

U.S. Casualties Increase By 416

WASHINGTON (AP)—U. S. battle casualties in Korea have reached 51,422, the Defense Dept. yesterday said the increase in the week through last Friday was 416.

Of the total, 12,118 were killed in action, 37,025 wounded and 2,279 missing. Total battle deaths, including those who died of wounds, were 15,917.

Continual Violation By Allied Aircraft Is Charged

British Deny Locating Two Missing Diplomats

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign office denied today that British secret agents have located missing diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean. William Ridsdale, head of the Foreign office news department, said reports published in two London newspapers this morning were completely "without foundation." The Foreign office kept silent for hours after the reports first appeared before issuing the denial.

Ridsdale conferred with top officials for an hour before making his comment. He said that the search for the two is exactly where it was before the stories were printed in today's issues of the Daily Herald and the Daily Express—in other words, Britain is still hunting for the two officials.

The newspaper stories quoted agents of the British secret service as saying they had located the two diplomats who vanished without a trace last May 25.

Ridsdale said the agents claimed they made no such statements. He refused to say whether the secret agents had made any statements at all which might indicate a new development in the Europe-wide search for the two Britons who were in a position to know many of the West's top secrets.

The London Daily Herald said the Foreign office learned the whereabouts of the two after a three-month search by British agents and Western European police. It said MacLean had communicated with his American-born wife, Melinda, who is vacationing with their three children on the French Riviera.

The Herald is the newspaper of the governing Labor party and has close government connections. The conservative Daily Graphic, in a dispatch from Paris, said the same story was current there and added that Mrs. MacLean had left her Riviera villa for a secluded spot in the Var mountains 50 miles away.

Neither story gave any hint where the men supposedly are and did not indicate one way or another (See BRITISH, Page 2)

Copper Strike Tossed Back To President

WASHINGTON (AP)—The four-day-old nationwide copper strike was tossed back to the White House today.

The Wage Stabilization board (WSB) stepped out of the controversy late last night after the union, Mill and Smelter Workers union refused to call off the strike.

The board apparently found little hope of breaking the deadlock which has halted most of the nation's production of copper, a critically short defense material. A possible next step would be for the President to appoint a board of inquiry to report to him on the facts in the case, but such a board would have no authority to propose an actual peace settlement. The strike could continue while the board investigates.

And Attorney General McGrath would have to wait until the board reported before he could seek a court injunction to end the walkout under the Taft-Hartley act.

However, if the President should see there is little hope of settlement and the walkout is creating a national emergency he could bypass court action and order government seizure of the mines and smelters.

The strike has already cut off 95 percent of the country's copper production and dealt heavy blows to the output of sulphuric acid—a key ingredient in the refining of aviation and high test gasoline—and lead and zinc.

Union leaders told the WSB yesterday the strike will continue unless (1) a negotiated contract settlement is reached, (2) the government seizes the struck works, or (3) a court injunction is issued against the stoppage.

Sinclair Stakes Two Wildcat Wells In Anadarko Basin

The Panhandle's Anadarko basin has been given two more chances to prove itself.

Sinclair O&G Co. has staked two wildcat locations in the basin: one in Ochiltree county and the other in Roberts.

The company staked No. 8 Charles Lips Tract H, in section 31, Black A, H&GN Survey, 22 miles northwest of Miami. The test, slated for 8900 feet, is 10 miles west and one mile south of the pool opening No. 1 Lips brought in early in 1949. Contract has not been assigned.

The other test, in Ochiltree county, is a 10,000-foot test located 15 miles southeast of Farnsworth in section 218, block 43, H&TC Survey. The test is the No. 1 Hoover estate. Warren Bradshaw is drilling contractor on the well which is to be drilled nine miles due east of Texas Company's No. 1-B McGarrugh, an oiler brought in recently for 264 barrels in 24 hours.

Operators were preparing to set a whipstock at 8600 feet on the No. 7 Lips.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. staked its No. 1 J. C. Hamilton well in Briscoe county, two miles east of Quitaque. It is located in section 1, block 3, T&P RR survey and is to test a zone at 8600 feet.

Reds Accuse Ridgway Of Lies, Slander

TOKYO (AP)—Red China's official Peiping radio asserted today American planes violate the Kaesong neutrality area in Korea nearly every day.

The charge was injected into broadcasts accusing Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway of lying, slander and distortion.

The latest asserted violation was early Wednesday. The badly garbled broadcast heard in Tokyo said an American bomber dropped a flare over the site of the now suspended Korean war truce talks.

The radio said it happened at almost the same time Ridgway flatly refused to reopen an investigation of Red charges that an allied plane bombed Kaesong Aug. 22.

Peiping called it an attempt "to cover up the flagrant lies that he handed the world."

The broadcast made no mention of the UN commander's offer to resume truce negotiations any time the Communists are willing to do so. He made the offer in the note that refused to reopen investigation of the asserted bombing.

Top Red commanders, to whom the message was addressed, had not replied. There was no indication when they would reply.

In its sweeping accusation, the Peiping radio said as many as 41 American planes had flown over the Kaesong neutral zone in a single day. The neutral area extends for a five mile radius around Kaesong.

"American aircraft," the broadcast asserted, "have incessantly, illegally and constantly flown into the sky over the neutral zone."

The radio devoted most of its attention to Ridgway. The Communist attitude ended to support a theory the Reds want to delay a decision on Korea until after the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.

Peiping's broadcasts dampened a cautious optimism expressed in a press release from General Ridgway's headquarters.

The release suggested the Red proposal to reinvestigate the Kaesong bombing charge "may contain some hope for resumption" of truce talks. Communists broke off negotiations Aug. 23, a few hours after they said a UN plane bombed Kaesong.

The Red broadcasts said Ridgway's latest note on the incident "again distorted facts" and was "full of contradictions because he is lying."

It only "creates more bureaus, departments and necessitates additional employees. You can't balance the budget that way."

On the cattle question Rogers said "there is no need to fear any further rollbacks in prices, but the thing to watch is DiSalle's attempt to reestablish the quota system. This is unfair because the plan is based on 'ex-

Rogers To Speak For Women Voters

The Pampa Provisional League of Women Voters scheduled an informal luncheon-meeting Monday at noon in the basement of the First Methodist church when Rep. Walter Rogers will be the principal speaker.

Mrs. H. H. Hahn, secretary of the organization, said late this morning reservations for the luncheon should be made by calling her at 392-M no later than Sunday. It will be an open meeting.

Allied Warplanes Knock Out 270 Red Trucks During Raid

U.S. 8TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea (AP)—Allied warplanes knocked out 270 Red trucks last night and early today in their continuing fight to disrupt Communist convoys rushing munitions and supplies to the muddy Korean battlelines.

On the ground United Nations troops backed out limited gains along the eastern front yesterday, general headquarters reported. Red counterattacks were smashed back.

The Navy announced its warships, using "sniper like tactics," helped "embattle ROK (Republic of Korea) troops fighting to consolidate their positions on the east coast by shelling Red concentrations. Guns of two British frigates cleared Reds out of a west coast village south of Kaesong, site of now disrupted truce talks.

Warplanes flew 860 sorties Wednesday and followed up with 90 raids through the night.

Pilots reported spotting 1,300 Red trucks, including one convoy running boldly with its lights turned on.

The President would not comment on the copper strike.

He described Moscow press reports accusing the United States of trying to start World War III as nothing new. He added it isn't true of course, and like all the rest of Soviet propaganda, it is not founded on fact at all.

Once again, Mr. Truman refused to be drawn out of his 1952 political intentions.

Asked if he intended soon to continue correspondence with the president of Russia regarding friendship between the American and Russian people, he said he meant what he said recently on this score, but that there is no hurry about it.

Pampa School Teachers Get Salary Boost

Teachers in Pampa schools will have an increase in salary during this school year with base pay set at $2820 for a bachelor's degree, but with the understanding that unless other revenue is obtained this year, the increase will be taken away.

Last year's base salary was $2700 with a top-salary of $4250. All salaries have been boosted $120 per year.

This was announced at a meeting last night of the school board as the 1951-52 school budget was approved. The salary increase has been made possible, not through tax on evaluation increases, but through the bank balance accumulated over about six years.

This balance will be gone by the end of the school year and if the salary increase is to remain, it will be necessary to raise taxes.

It was pointed out by the board that the Pampa tax rate is one dollar and other cities of this size have higher rates.

Balance will be lower next year because of the higher cost of equipment and the cost of the schools' new buildings.

A break-down of the main school expenses show tentative costs: administration, $37,910; instructional services, $628,400; operation of school plants, $61,495; $29,780; auxiliary agencies, $45,405; fixed charges, $81,000; capital outlay, $49,500; debt service, $99,740; with a total of $960,330.

The proposed budget was approved after a 20-minute discussion.

Following the budget hearing, the board went into session with a group of local insurance agency representatives, who were asking a portion of the school's insurance coverage, which has been increased with the new building program.

Herman Whitley, vice-chairman of the board and chairman of the insurance committee, reported that he and J. C. McWilliams, committee member, had asked a group of insurance men to set up a proposed schedule for the board to discuss.

Ray Duncan of the Duncan Insurance Co., reported for the insurance group. He presented a compromise proposal, which gave seven companies a part of the distribution with eight percent remaining to be prorated by the board.

Policy of the board in the past has been to give the school insurance to agencies in business in Pampa at least five years. It was decided to retain this policy.

Final approval was given to the group's plan and the following schedule was passed by the board: Panhandle Insurance Agency will receive 25 percent; Hughes Insurance agency, 22 percent; William T. Frazer & Co., 22 percent; Harold Wright Insurance agency, nine percent; Duncan Insurance agency, 16 percent; H. W. Waters Insurance agency, three percent and Martin & Turner Insurance agency, three percent.

The board appointed Farris Oden of the Panhandle Insurance agency chairman of the insurance group, which includes Ray Duncan, Joe Fisher of Hughes Insurance agency and W. T. Frazer. This group will set up the school insurance schedule and Oden will report their findings to the board.

An estimated total insurance coverage of the school properties is $2,649,782.

Plan Check On Scooters

Juvenile Officer Homer Doggett will begin a thorough check of Pampa's young "two-wheeled" drivers this week.

County officials have learned that an increasing number of young people are driving motor bicycles and motor scooters without license plate and permits to drive.

County Judge Bruce Parker said today that some 11- and 12-year-olds are driving motor scooters.

"A child must be 14 years old before he is eligible to drive or apply for a license," Judge Parker said. "He must know all the traffic rules, and get an operator's license just as the operator of an automobile must do."

The proper procedure for obtaining a driver's license for a motor bike or scooter is for a youth to appear with one of his parents before the county judge.

The permit is then presented to the drivers' license examiner who gives the driving test.

Officers said that as soon as school starts, they are going to clamp down on the operators of the motor bikes and scooters.

Philippines And U.S. Sign Defense Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States and the Philippines bound themselves together today in a new defense pact pledging each to help the other fight aggression.

President Truman called the treaty a "strong step towards security and a peace in the Pacific."

"It demonstrates to all nations that we intend to continue our common course and to work together in the future, as we have in the past, for peace for all mankind," Mr. Truman said.

The treaty, pledging the U.S. and Philippines to come to each other's aid to meet common danger, is the first of a series of defense agreements to shore up Pacific defenses against Communist aggression.

The others, with Japan and New Zealand and Australia, are to be signed in the next two weeks.

Philippine President Quirino said that while the new treaty has "unavoidable connotations of military action" it is "wholly dedicated to peace and to the methods of peace."

Secretary of State Acheson likewise described the treaty as a "natural outgrowth of the relationship" between the two countries and said it "seeks to sell the rest of the world that the Philippines and the U.S. stand together in the Pacific."

Sharp Increase In Taxes Studied By Finance Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Proposed sharp increases in the taxes on liquor, cigarettes, automobiles, gasoline and other common American purchases came up for decision in the Senate Finance committee today.

The House voted excise tax increases totalling $1,252,000,000 as part of its $7,200,000,000 tax boost. So far, the Senate unit has whittled about $1,500,000,000 off the House total, principally from individual and corporate income taxes. If the senators decide to try to recoup any of this, the excise field offers the last big chance.

The House went less than halfway toward meeting the administration's recommendation for a $2,000,000,000 increase in excises (sales taxes).

Under the House bill, the tax on whisky and other hard liquor would rise from $9 a 100-proof gallon to $10.50 on beer from $5 a barrel to $9; on cigarettes from seven cents a pack to eight; on gasoline from 1 1/2 to two cents a gallon; on automobiles from seven percent of the manufacturer's price to 10 percent.

The taxes on wines would be increased, and additional household appliances would come under a 10 percent manufacturers levy.

Beyond this, the House reckoned on taking in $400,000,000 a year from a new 10 percent tax on the gross take of bookmakers and "numbers" operators.

After its cuts in individual and corporation income taxes, the finance committee yesterday voted for $150,000,000 more revenue to be derived from taxing mutual savings banks, building and loan associations, and some now-exempt co-operatives.

South's Mid-Bid Causes Over-Bid

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Today's hand came to me in a letter from Chicago. I got the North hand only and a question about the bid of three clubs. "Was this a good bid?"

In the same mail there was another letter from Chicago, enclosing the South hand to me. "Should South bid four no-trump after North bids three clubs followed by four hearts?"

It didn't take much detective work on my part to discover that the two hands belonged together—especially since both letters came in exactly the same sort of envelope. And of course it's much easier to bid a hand wisely ly when you can see both hands of the partnership.

But it should be possible to bid this kind of hand wisely without peeking. All you have to do is set up some reasonable standard requirement for the jump take-out to three clubs.

When your partner opens the bidding, you are entitled to make a jump take-out in a new suit if your hand is better than a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. If your strength is partly distributional, you are entitled to count a singleton as though it were a king and an ace as though it were a void. A doubleton is not worth quite as much as a queen.

Let's look at the North hand on that basis. The high-card strength is just about what you'd need for a minimum opening bid of one no-trump. (Mind you, it wouldn't be proper to bid one no-trump; it's just that the high cards are right for it.) But we agreed that we need better than such a hand for a jump take-out. So it is not normally

Reds Said To Have Seized Orphanage

TOKYO — (AP) — The communists' Mukden radio today said Chinese Reds have seized another Christian orphanage on grounds of "cruelty" and "unsanitary conditions."

The broadcast, heard in Tokyo by Radio Press, said Changchung City authorities seized the orphanage Monday.

The broadcast alleged more than 400 orphans had died "because of cruel treatment and unsanitary conditions."

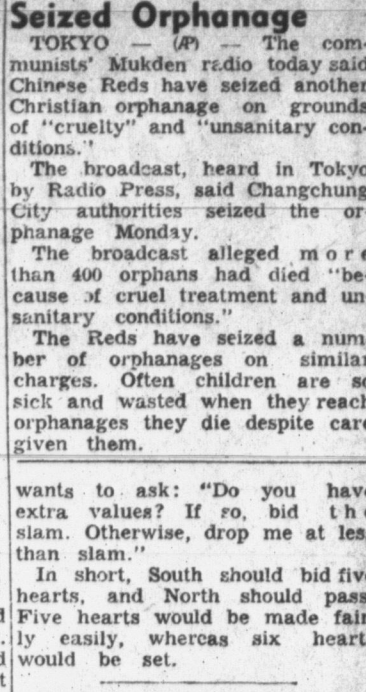

The Reds have seized a number of orphanages on similar charges. Often children are so sick and wasted when they reach orphanages they die despite care given them.

He wants to ask: "Do you have extra values? If so, bid the slam. Otherwise, drop me at less than slam."

In short, South should bid five hearts, and North should pass. Five hearts would be made fairly easily, whereas six hearts would be set.

Later on, South must not bid four no-trump. He doesn't want to know about North's aces. He

All In A Lifetime

India Changes Cow To Unsacred Horse

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The cow became a horse, and now it's quite all right to shoot the beast.

It's a tale of mystic India, told in testimony at Senate hearings on the new foreign aid bill.

A big wild animal of the antelope family and known as the "nehil gas" was causing extensive damage to crops in the field. But the farmers would not harm it because "nehil gas" means "bliss cow," and the cow is sacred to the Hindu.

So the Indian government has changed the name to "nehil gas" — which means "bliss horse." Horses are not sacred, and so now the beast can be killed to protect the crops of food-short India.

Horace C. Holmes, assigned by the Agriculture department to India under the Point Four program, told the story to the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

Japan Is Reaching For Independence

(Editor's note: This is the first of two articles summarizing the occupation of Japan. They were written by Russell Brines, former chief of AP's Tokyo bureau, who has just returned to the United States after serving continuously in Japan since the end of the Pacific war.)

By RUSSELL BRINES

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Six years ago Japan was a devastated, floundering country, badly beaten in war. Its people were numbed by fear of starvation, its government and industry paralyzed by uncertainty.

Today, Japan is reaching for independence again as a confident, stabilized nation.

The transformation is the most tangible result of a long and expensive occupation.

In August, 1945, hundreds of occupation officials poured into the battered country with only one mission: To destroy Japan's militarism and tear down the social, political and economic structure which nurtured it.

They began enthusiastically. A home defense force of over 4,000,000 men was demobilized with astonishing speed. War equipment of all types was destroyed — guns, half-wrecked ships, mounds of ammunition and even a cyclotron for atomic experiments.

Some 250,000 career military officers and civilian leaders during wartime were removed from positions of influence. Dozens of war criminals were prosecuted.

A flood of directives from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters demanded basic alterations in virtually every field of national life.

The Emperor was transformed on paper from a demi-god to a tax-paying civilian. A new constitution blueprinted popular rule. The centralized Tokyo government was weakened and 44 subservient prefectures became little states.

A complex economic empire which gave little power to a handful of men was attacked in anti-trust legislation. The schools technically were set free of the men who had made them teach militarism and obedience to the Emperor's autocratic power. State support for Shinto, the national religion, was abolished, to close another channel for the same teachings.

The downtrodden and voiceless were given a legal break. Women were proclaimed equal to men and given the vote. Tenant farmers bought their own land under a reform abolishing absentee landlords. Labor unions were given their first official encouragement. Fishermen and farmers banded into cooperatives, designed to end exploitation.

The theory was that Japan's millions had waged imperialistic war in blind obedience to the autocrats who ruled them through the powerful symbol of the Emperor. The planned remedy was to infuse the people with democracy — a sense of individual freedom — as a check against a duplication of this pattern.

Officials say the most that could be done in a few years was to erect a legal structure for republican government and try to get the Japanese to use it. From that view, the occupation in general accomplished its reform mission, with some rough spots.

But the Japanese are a long way from being democratic. It learned as much in the brief span of years as could reasonably be expected.

The reform program became the most controversial part of the occupation. But it was pursued intently for only the first two years and eventually became a secondary phase.

Post-war circumstances gave a higher priority to these programs:

1. To put Japan back on her feet economically.
2. To thwart Communist designs on the archipelago and to keep Japan in the western bloc.

In the beginning, official American occupation policy was to make the Japanese solely responsible for economic rehabilitation. But it soon became apparent they would not, or could not, get the sinking nation afloat unaided.

The American government poured more than $1,000,000,000 into relief funds for food, vital raw materials and some rehabilitation projects. American officials virtually took over economic policy. At various times, they did everything from helping the government collect taxes to enforcing a strict deflationary program.

This help and Japanese energy started the country's economic blood circulating. Industrial production is 140 percent of the 1930-34 level. The currency is sound. The Japanese have their financial troubles, but they are surprisingly well fed and unafraid of the future.

Korean war orders gave Japan a minor boom. It is only temporary, and permanent problems are yet to be solved.

But limited recovery made it easier to halt a definite Communist grab for Japan, which is in somewhat the same position to Asia as Western Europe is to Iron Curtain countries.

A small but aggressive Communist party rode unrest and the early freedoms of occupied Japan to a menacing position. A series of counter moves, ending with dispersal of its leaders by a purge order, beat it down, at least temporarily. No important sabotage occurred in Japan's vital supply bases during the first

MAKING ROPE MAGIC — Pampans who were on hand when the boosters for the Woodward, Okla., Elks rodeo arrived in Pampa saw Dixie Reger, Woodward, give a short performance of rope twirling. Dixie has been doing this sort of thing for 15 years, along with clowning rodeos. On Sept. 18 she will compete in a matched calf roping contest for women. Campaign In Korea Strangest In History Of American Arms

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The campaign in Korea still is the strangest in the history of American arms.

For two months now more words than bullets have been fired in anger back and forth across that weary peninsula. Instead of trying to call each other's shots, each side has been calling each other names.

Only a year ago the North Korean order of the day was "on to Pusan." And the fledgling American army's grim instructions were to "stand or die" on the Nakdong river line.

The present philosophy of all adversaries seems to be that comfortable old schoolyard slogan: "Sticks and stones may break my bones, but names will never hurt me."

year of the Korean war.

Now the Japanese government is ready to conclude a mutual aid agreement with the United States. The people overwhelmingly approve.

This will give Japan the protection she needs in tumultuous Asia. It will permit the United States to maintain a beachhead in the Orient.

The agreement results partly from expediency, partly from conviction for the Japanese. It would have been impossible if this one-time enemy nation bore a deep or widespread grudge as the result of the occupation.

What kind of an ally has America gained?

Rider To New State Loyalty Oath Ruled Unconstitutional

AUSTIN — (AP) — The attorney general has declared unconstitutional that part of the new state loyalty oath requiring state employees to swear they have not belonged to the Communist party or other subversive organization for the past 10 years.

Attorney General Price Daniel said the "non-subversive oath" required by a rider in the general appropriation bill for the next two years is unconstitutional if used to bar present members of subversive groups.

He knocked out the retroactive application because such a law would be a matter of general legislation and therefore invalid in a general appropriation bill.

The opinion had been requested by a 5-4 vote on the board of regents of the University of Texas, with chairman Dudley K. Woodward Jr., of Dallas leading the majority who wanted a ruling.

"It is commonly known that Communists and other subver-

Classrooms Set Up For White Deer

Destruction of the White Deer school building in last spring's tornado has made it necessary to set up temporary classrooms in the town. These locations have been announced by Superintendent Hueylyn Laycock.

First grade will meet in the basement of the First Baptist church; second grade, Sunbeam hall of the Baptist church; third grade, Presbyterian church; fourth, Methodist church.

The fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades will meet in Parish hall. High school classes will meet in buildings near the old school building. School cafeteria will be in the Baptist church.

Junior and senior students register Tuesday morning and buses will begin their regular schedules Wednesday.

THIS IS DIFFERENT!

Strictly in the best washbuckling tradition, this packs a few extra thrills in the harrowing climb up and over the face of Osage castle, particularly since it is done by the hero as a child. It is this and other action in the picture, plus the children in the first scenes, that redeem this from the usual costume drama to a semblance of action pictures laid in more modern settings. There is the usual swordplay but there is also fast riding—and a minimum drooping from trees. The color is pleasing and Barbara Hale glamorous in costumes of the period. It's an interesting, colorful, frequently suspenseful and well done historical drama that emerges in this adaptation of the Richard Blackmore tale of England in the times of Oliver Cromwell.

Some Poisons Able To Kill Cancer Cells

NEW YORK — (AP) — Some kinds of cancer cells can't carry out a simple chemical reaction to protect themselves from cell poisons, Dr. John A. Jacques of Sloan-Kettering Institute reports.

If exposed cancer cells and normal tissue cells, in test tubes, to a poison that damaged both. When a second chemical was added, the normal cell was protected from the poison, by performing a reaction between the two. But the cancer cells didn't have this mechanism, and were damaged. Cancer tissue showed less ability to make this chemical step than normal tissues, he found, and some types of cancer couldn't do it at all. The study may offer a step toward better chemical control of cancer.

Uncertainty Shrouds Prospects For Dove Hunting This Year

AUSTIN — Uncertainty shrouded hunting prospects as Texas prepared to open the northern zone mourning dove season at noon Sept. 1.

Reducing Diet Containing Fat Reported A Success

ITHACA, N. Y. — A reducing diet containing fat has been reported by Cornell University's school of nutrition.

PRE-SHRUNK FASHIONS— Hoping that the designers of the dress she is wearing had enough foresight to allow for shrinkage, model Evelyn Averill receives helping hands from three other models as she emerges from the pool of the SS Mauretania in New York City. The girls were modeling the latest fashions in a shipboard style show when Evelyn took one step too many and plunged into the pool.

"We are never certain about mourning doves especially early in the season," said the executive director. "The shooting generally is spotted during the first phase of the shooting."

"For one thing, doves may be abundant in one area for the first day or two and then more or less disappear in the flush areas only to re-appear elsewhere where the opening hunt had been poor."

Drop In Production Of Food Foreseen

KANSAS CITY — A federal official foresees a 20-percent drop in the nation's food production unless farmland damaged by floods in Missouri and Kansas are rehabilitated quickly.

A. E. Howse, federal flood rehabilitation coordinator, said "It's tragic to see these fertile lands laid waste at a time when the federal government is asking agriculture to produce 10 percent more than it did last year."

because of the lack of humidity in the air, which is needed to complete the hatching process."

He said knowledge of the nesting and feeding habits, as well as migratory traits of mourning doves, is being increased each year through the banding program. Hunters bagging doves with bands around their legs were asked to forward the bands to the game department in Austin along with the date and place the birds were harvested.

Dove hunting will be limited to afternoon hours this season by federal ruling. The bag limits are ten per day and ten in possession.

Camera News

By ROBERT A. WANDS
Wide World Photo Photographer
 Among the many explanations that can be offered by a photographer for poor pictures, and is very rarely used, is the fact that the camera was dirty.
 It is amazing how many photographers pay little attention to the cleanliness of their equipment. While they go to great lengths to avoid getting the camera wet during a rainstorm, little attention is paid to the dust and grime that naturally accumulate on any object.
 Dust is probably a photographer's greatest enemy. On the lens it can decrease exposure and help produce soft focus pictures. In the shutter it can increase the exposure and its abrasiveness can damage the delicate mechanism. Inside the camera bellows dust will soon produce the annoying pinholes on negatives that are so well known, or gather in the film track to eventually cause a film to jam.
 With very little effort on a photographer's part this great enemy can be kept under control. A clean camel's hair brush will remove dust from the lens, with the special lens tissue and lens cleaning fluid sold by photographic stores for use when the greasy finger marks show on the front lens element, or when a dog licks the lens as you attempt to make a real closeup of him.
 Avoid using cleaning fluids manufactured of ordinary glass, and never wipe the lens with a handkerchief. If your lens appears to have dirt on the inside elements let an expert clean it. While cleaning the lens it is always a good idea to check for loose lens elements. Some lenses have a tendency to work loose.

often the vibration of an automobile will gradually loosen a front or rear element. Naturally this will change the focal length and in some cases the slight motion of a camera shutter will move a loose element to produce a negative that appears to be blurred with camera movement.
 If you find a loose lens element use only your fingers and thumb to tighten it.
 If the back of your camera can be removed, it is a good idea once or twice a year, oftener if conditions warrant, to open up the camera and to brush or blow out the dirt. Don't be surprised at what you find in there. It is amazing how much dirt will find its way into a camera, especially one using film pack or cut film holders. The brush used for this job should not be the same one as used on the lens, keep that soft camel's hair brush just for the lens. An old toothbrush will be fine for cleaning the inside of the bellows and the film track. Air pressure will blow the dirt out of the camera, even if it is you who puffs and huffs while manipulating the brush.
 While the back is off the camera it is a good idea to test for bellows leaks. In a darkened room place a small flash light or light bulb inside the bellows. Any small hole in the bellows, will readily be seen. A temporary patching job with heavy paper tape will keep your camera operating for a considerable length of time. A series of pinholes, or a large hole means a new bellows, easily installed by your local camera repairman.
 Dust inside a shutter is a problem for an expert. Do not attempt to open up a shutter, stick to the program of brushing away dirt and dust on the exterior of the shutter. Keep your camera case free of dirt at all times, a clean camera inside a dirty camera case will not stay clean very long.
 Keeping a lens clean requires

HST, Douglas May Patch Up Dispute
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — Chairman McCarran (D-Nev) of the Senate Judiciary committee says "a rumor is about" that President Truman and Senator Douglas (D-Ill) may patch up their dispute over two Illinois judgeships.
 The committee has put off for at least two weeks a decision on the nominations.
 Mr. Truman named Cornelius J. Harrington and Joseph J. Drucker to the northern Illinois district bench over Douglas's head.
 The Illinois Senator had recommended two other men, Joseph J. King, Jr., and Benjamin F. Epstein. He termed the nominations "personally obnoxious."
 This term, when used by a senator from the state involved, usually denies the nominee Senate confirmation.
 period ending July 1, and may remain at present levels the rest of the year in most areas, particularly where livestock is raised. The department says land values, including improvements, were 17 percent greater than on July 1, 1950. The four-month increase was the largest since the department started making such estimates in 1942.
 "It appears that the level of farm income during the rest of 1951 will be sufficiently high in many states to maintain land values at their present levels," the department says.

Farm Income May Equal 1947 Record
 WASHINGTON — (AP) — American net farm income this year may be almost as much as 1947's, the agriculture department reports.
 Further, American farm land values increased a record five percent during the four-month period ending July 1, and may remain at present levels the rest of the year in most areas, particularly where livestock is raised. The department says land values, including improvements, were 17 percent greater than on July 1, 1950. The four-month increase was the largest since the department started making such estimates in 1942.
 "It appears that the level of farm income during the rest of 1951 will be sufficiently high in many states to maintain land values at their present levels," the department says.

UN Observers Think Reds Stalling Talks So Korea May Be Used As Jap Treaty Tool

TOKYO — (AP) — Some allied observers say the Communists want to prolong the stalemate in Korean peace talks so the Reds will have a trading point at the Japanese peace treaty conference in San Francisco.
 That trading point is the threat of full war in Korea.
 All the Russians have to hold over the heads of the countries they want to follow their line is fear. If they suddenly make peace in Korea, their threats and threatening oratory won't carry the same sting.
 Japanese business men, preparing to do business again in the Asian sphere, realize that a war with Russia would delay this country's recovery for years.
 China's going Communist along with Manchuria and North Korea, already has robbed Japan of 60 percent of her old outlet for imports. A war would cut off the other 40 percent.
 If the North Korean and Chinese Communists still are battling UN forces in Korea, the Soviets must feel that Japan will be a little more reluctant to sign unilateral treaties, once the major document has been approved and signed.
 Some observers say the appointment of Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols as General Ridgway's representative at San Francisco is a recognition by the United Nations of the linkup between the Kaesong truce and San Francisco meetings.
 But Nuckols himself has said there is nothing to it.
 He also denies a report that the advance United Nations headquarters at Munsan, Korea, would be linked by direct line to San Francisco.
 "All we have are the Army telephones," Nuckols said. These connect Eighth Army headquarters in Korea with Ridgway's headquarters in Tokyo.
 Nuckols will leave Tokyo Friday for San Francisco.
 He will be the UN's expert on affairs in Korea. Nuckols has attended most of the Kaesong talks. His job was to brief correspondents about Kaesong may stall them.
 At one point in the Kaesong discussions, the Reds' chief delegate, Lt. Gen. Nam Il, almost agreed to revise their demands that until the Russians have had

Skellytown HD Club Has All-Day Meeting With Demonstration On Proper Lighting

The home of Mrs. Shade Young was meeting place for a recent meeting of the Skellytown Home Demonstration Club. Mrs. J. C. Waters gave a report on the club project for the summer, reading and story telling. Purpose of the project was to help members select good books to read and instruct them in how to best fill a story. After a business session with Mrs. W. H. Harris presiding the meeting was turned over to the HD agent, Miss Charlotte Tomkins, and her assistant, Miss Georgia Lambert, who gave a demonstration on "Proper Lighting of the Home." Points discussed were proper kind of lighting, right amount and right location of lights. They said reading lamps should be tall enough to provide proper light on paper or book, and mentioned that light colors for lining in lamp shades would give more light than darker colors. They also said that light colored walls give off more light than dark walls and that

Good Grooming Should Begin With The Very Young

This small girl, learning about grooming essentials at an age when such feminine chores are fun, is building foundation for future beauty. Her own manicure kit (left), her own bubble bath and soap mitt (center) and her own spray bottle of lightly scented toilet water (right) all contribute to her pride in personal appearance.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Most child experts are agreed that the best way to lead your daughter down the paths of good behavior and desirable habits is to take her firmly by the hand at the moment that she herself indicates an interest in exploring these particular by-ways.

You hand her a toothbrush of her own when she begins reaching for yours; you provide a tiny pan and a small wad of dough when she begins begging to cook. The same rule, in modified form, applies to her training in routines of grooming and good looks. This doesn't mean, of course, that she's to have her own lipstick as soon as you discover her leaning over your disordered dressing table admiring her smoky red mouth. Nor are you supposed to order for her a duplicate bottle of perfume the day she appears reeking with your favorite scent.

In teaching your small daughter to make the most of her looks, the first thing to stress is cleanliness. Whether she was endowed with paper-doll prettiness or not, her beauty will be enhanced if she learns to keep herself immaculate.

To make her tubbing an adventure rather than a chore, try providing a bubble bath for her. One firm which specializes in children's toiletries offers envelope bags of lightly perfumed bubble bath powder, packaged in a cardboard container that resembles a doll house. It may be used for play when its contents are long-since washed down the drain.

Also designed to interest little sister in her daily scrubbing is a small soap mitt offered by the same company. Made of terry cloth, it's filled with fragrant soap. Mother's whose children forget to return soap to its dish, allowing it to melt away in the tub, may find this combination bathcloth-soap source particularly helpful.

Cleanliness alone is not the sole requisite for a well-turned-out little girl, however. Grooming's important, too. And the sooner she learns to take care of her own beauty routines, the greater her competence is likely to be when she grows up. Avoid doing everything for her. Of course, it's easier and quicker for you to comb and brush her hair but she needs not only to learn how to manage these grooming tools, but she also needs the sense of accomplishment that comes from doing it herself. In introducing her to grooming essentials, hand care is a good place to start. Even a very young child can learn to wash her hands, scrub her nails and smooth on hand lotion from her own special bottle. A manicure kit for beginners, offered by a well-known nail-products firm, provides, in addition to lotion, emery boards, cuticle lotion, a buffing orangewood stick and cotton pads. Paste polish, too, is included, which should forestall premature experiments with your most livid shade of nail enamel.

Vanity, too, is an important element in your small daughter's awakening beauty consciousness.

Often this is expressed in an urge to be as personally fastidious as mother. Nudge these fledgling desires in the right direction by presenting her with a bottle of delicately-scented toilet water. A good choice is a plastic spray bottle, which boasts as a top plastic daisy with fragrance-matched solid perfume hidden in its center. This may be detached

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLET
NEA Staff Writer

"It doesn't make any difference to me." That is the most wishy-washy declaration in the English language.

And yet a lot of women have the idea that when they make that statement, they are being agreeable, easy - to get along-with, and somehow, a little better than the people who know what they like and say so. Take the wife, for instance, who is the it-doesn't-really-matter-to-me type.

Her husband asks if she would like to go to a movie and instead of saying "Yes" or "No" - she goes "noble" on him. "If you want to, it's all right with me," she says in a namby-pamby voice.

Or she makes a suggestion and he doesn't instantly agree. So, rather than stand up for her idea, she shrugs it off with, "Well, it was just a suggestion. It doesn't really make any difference to me."

Such a woman rarely brings any new interests to her husband or inspires him to do anything he hasn't thought up himself. Because she doesn't stand in the way of the things he wants to do, she thinks she is being helpful and understanding wife.

Don't be wishy-washy about your ideas, beliefs, opinions and plans - unless you want to be a wish-washy person who makes few definite contributions to any relationship.

If you like good music, say so. If you hate something say so. If you want to go somewhere, be positive about it. If you don't want to go, be just as positive.

At least, then, you're somebody - a real person. And others can get to know you because they know your likes and dislikes.

The "it - doesn't - make - any-difference-to-me" person is never much more than just a pale shadow of the person she is within.

And actually she isn't even honest. For it does make a difference to you whether you do this or that. Pretending it doesn't is just being afraid to speak your own mind and to assert your own individuality.

USE EGG YOLKS

Poach leftover egg yolks (when you're using the whites for meringue or angel food), cool and rub through a small coarse strainer as a garnish for a vegetable salad.

SPECIAL SANDWICHES

Chopped chicken and sweet pickles mixed with cream cheese makes a delicious sandwich filling.

QUICK TOMATO SAUCE

To make a quick tomato sauce for a Spanish Omelette, heat chili sauce with cooked peas and finely diced onion.

DON'T BE WISHY-WASHY

Don't be wishy-washy about your ideas, beliefs, opinions and plans - unless you want to be a wish-washy person who makes few definite contributions to any relationship.

KNOW YOUR LIKES AND DISLIKES

The "it - doesn't - make - any-difference-to-me" person is never much more than just a pale shadow of the person she is within.

AND ACTUALLY SHE ISN'T EVEN HONEST

For it does make a difference to you whether you do this or that. Pretending it doesn't is just being afraid to speak your own mind and to assert your own individuality.

Summer Bachelors Are Not So Gay

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures

A phenomenon of the cities during the hot months is the character called the "summer bachelor."

You've seen them. They are the slightly unpressed fellows at the drug store lunch counter ordering the full breakfast special, including hot cereal, when the rest of the customers are poised for a second, quick cup of coffee. They are the relaxed and slightly morose gents who clutter the bars at the cocktail hour, quaffing a solitary glass and looking lonesome. Or the last people to leave a party.

There are two classes of summer bachelors. The first and probably the largest numerically is the group of bachelors whose families have gone to the beach or the mountains, where they occupy rented or owned cabins or bungalows during the hot months. A class A, by virtue of his employment, stays in city apartment or suburban home four or five nights a week, and gets away from the office as early as possible Friday to rejoin the family for a week-end.

The second class is composed of married males whose wife and children have been entrained or enplaned for what is usually called a visit with her folks. For some reason, the usual length of time set for these excursions is the most unhappy of the two and his disillusionment is easy to see.

The Class A summer bachelor - one who week-ends with his family - leads a tolerable, albeit dull, life. For the most part he spends as little time as possible at home which his wife has carefully prepared to weather the vicissitudes of summer weather. Apartment or house, furniture in the living room, dining room and all bedrooms other than the master's, are swathed in ghostly dust covers. All the rugs have been taken up, the shades are drawn and windows carefully locked, giving the place a haunted, deserted appearance. The ice box is empty except for an adequate supply of canned beer and perhaps some cheese. The kitchen shows evidence of disuse except for a collection of used glasses. The bedroom and bathroom, however, show signs of wear and tear.

Generally speaking, home is just a place to sleep during the summer, but a Class A bachelor can get through the whole season with a minimum of acute unhappiness because every few days there comes a time when he gets away from it all and back to the tender ministrations of his wife. If he's responsible for keeping the lawn mowed and has a few other domestic chores to keep him busy, he seems to get through the period better, and even is apt to tell how nice and quiet the place is and how he can turn on the television set or radio to his favorite ball game without opposition from spouse or children.

The Class B bachelor is the guy who has trouble adjusting. From the time his wife starts to plan for the visit back home, her husband starts thinking about all the things he will be able to do. It will be just like being a bachelor again. No more clock watching so he'll make the 5:30 to Resthaven. He can go out on the town - modestly, but no explanation required. He can play golf two full days a week and he won't eat a vegetable or a salad for the whole time she's away.

Then he discovers that it does not work out. His best pals are away on their vacations. It's hard to find companions for a night on the town. And worst of all, he finds that in his wife's absence there are numerous little chores which he himself must perform. Besides, the neighbors pity him and deluge him with invitations to dinner.

I know one class B who dreamed great dreams until the moment of departure - and he spent the whole glorious three weeks of freedom racing home from the office so he can feed the cats and let the dog out for a run.

Wives may worry about their husband's getting into trouble during vacation time. Rather than they should worry that they are bored to death.

Try Franks For Economical Meal

ZESTY PICKLES and beans stuffed into franks makes a delicious and economical dish.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Pickles add zip to inexpensive foods, taking the monotony out of budget meals.

Stuffed Frankfurters
(Makes 4-6 servings)
One 1-pound can pork and baked beans, 1-4 cup sweet pickle relish, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 10 frankfurters.

In a mixing bowl, mash the beans slightly; mix in relish and chili sauce. With a sharp knife, split frankfurters lengthwise without cutting all the way through. Fill with bean-pickle stuffing. Place in a baking pan and bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 20 minutes.

If desired, wrap each stuffed frankfurter with a strip of bacon before it goes in the oven and increase the baking time to 30 minutes instead of 20 minutes.

Here's a zesty variation on the old beet theme.

Orange Pickled Beets
(Makes 4-6 servings)
One tablespoon cornstarch, 1-4 cup pickle liquid, 1 1-pound jar or can sliced beets, 1-4 cup brown sugar, 1-4 cup thinly sliced sweet gherkins, 1-2 teaspoon grated orange rind, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1-2 teaspoon salt, freshly ground pepper.

Mix cornstarch and pickle liquid to a smooth paste in a 1-quart saucepan. Drain liquid from beets; measure 2-3 cup beet liquid; add to cornstarch mixture, stirring to blend. Cook over medium heat 5 minutes, or until mixture thickens. Next add brown sugar, sweet gherkins, orange rind, butter or margarine, salt, pepper and drained beets. Heat thoroughly and serve.

Bell HD Members Work On Trays At All-Day Meeting

Members of the Bell Home Demonstration Club worked on aluminum trays at an all-day meeting held recently in the home of Mrs. Lloyd Collis. The women took a sack lunch and spread it on the lawn at noon. Mrs. Collis served home made ice cream as dessert.

Club members gave their favorite summer drinks. These included orange juice with lemonade, prepared cold drinks with ice cream, tea with lots of lemon juice, wild plum juice with lemon juice, sugar and water; frozen pineapple juice and frozen grape juice with lemon juice.

Attending the meeting were Mrs. Carl Smith, Mrs. Emmett Osborne, Mrs. H. Bates, Mrs. Jack Morris, Mrs. Walter Noel, Mrs. J. B. Jones, Mrs. Conner O'Neal, Mrs. Nolan Cole, Mrs. D. W. Swain and the hostess.

The next meeting will be a tour of demonstrators' homes to see the accomplishments made during the year. The members will meet at the home of Mrs. Walter Noel at 10:30 a.m., and will then take a covered dish of foreign food to the home of Mrs. Emmett Osborne for a luncheon. The meeting will be on Sept. 7.

Here Is Good Exercise For Midriff Sag

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

When their abdominal muscles begin sagging, many women feel they've been dealt an unjust blow below the middle. Fate, it seems, is notoriously poorly grounded in the rules of fair play.

This being the case, there's little point in walling about the figure malformations that nature handed you as the result of child bearing, increasing age or whatever. It's better to take positive action.

Exercise is frequently an aid in tautening these muscles. Lying flat on your bed, raise your legs without bending your knees until the bottoms of your feet are facing upward toward the ceiling. Then lower your legs slowly until they are touching the bed again.

Another flat-of-the-back exercise involves lying upon the floor. A firmer support is needed for this one. Stretch out straight, with your legs together and your arms extended at shoulder height. Then draw your legs up until your knees are high in the air and your heels as close to your hips as you can get them. The next step is to raise your torso as high off the floor as possible, supporting your weight on your feet and your shoulders. Your body will slant downward from your knees to your shoulders, but you should try to arch your back a bit as well. Tauten your hip muscles as much as you can.

possible, supporting your weight on your feet and your shoulders. Your body will slant downward from your knees to your shoulders, but you should try to arch your back a bit as well. Tauten your hip muscles as much as you can.

To bring yourself back to the floor, avoid relaxing and collapsing all at once. You'll derive more benefit if you ease yourself down, starting at your neck.

Dry Cleaning, Too, Has Gone Modern!

Did you know that many, many, different solvents must be used—alone or blended—in a dry cleaning plant? Wool requires one kind... nylon another... acetate still another. In addition, different solvents must be used for ink, for grease, for fruit stains. Hence, each cleaning job we do is practically a custom job.

Baxter's Views

By DAVID BAXTER

ANSWERING FIELD Dr. Oliver Field, ex-Federal Food and Drug Dept. agent who is now the American Medical Association's chief undercover man, is quoted as having said, "They (the quacks) capitalize on Koch's Ph. D. Dr. William F. Koch's bona fide Ph. D. from the University of Michigan, which gives an aura of respectability."

For Dr. Field's information (and for the information of the AMA's past president who made only 48 in anatomy) I wish to mention that the Michigan Ph. D. is not Dr. Koch's only background. He has a Bachelor and Master degree from the same university, a Medical Degree from the Detroit College of Medicine of Wayne University, was an instructor of histology and embryology in the University of Michigan and a professor of physiology at Detroit Medical College. While in the latter post he was also the pathologist to the Women's Hospital in Detroit.

It seems obvious to me, at least, that the famous Michigan medical Ph. D. is not the only one to be a "quack" in order to earn a living. He was already at the top of the heap while still practically a young man. In fact, if the truth were known, I think it could be known that Dr. Koch's "great deal in material affluence" which he made his discoveries and, imbued with an independent spirit, bucked the AMA and monopolies of all kinds. He "went along" he would undoubtedly have been one of the most widely-known political-machine doctors in the land, instead of patiently and almost in poverty going about his research in the jungles of Brazil.

THE REMOVBABLE DALE I probably committed the worst sin known to polite and cosmopolitan society recently in denying the infallibility of the Grand Duft of parlor politics, Dale Carnegie, author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

By not always saying the proper thing at the proper time I have won some friends, but I've violated Carnegie's twelve commandments by also reaping a bumper crop of enemies as well.

In this connection, while every-body may not be on my side in a Carnegie, I much prefer something to a "quack" in order to earn a living. He was already at the top of the heap while still practically a young man. In fact, if the truth were known, I think it could be known that Dr. Koch's "great deal in material affluence" which he made his discoveries and, imbued with an independent spirit, bucked the AMA and monopolies of all kinds. He "went along" he would undoubtedly have been one of the most widely-known political-machine doctors in the land, instead of patiently and almost in poverty going about his research in the jungles of Brazil.

THE REMOVBABLE DALE I probably committed the worst sin known to polite and cosmopolitan society recently in denying the infallibility of the Grand Duft of parlor politics, Dale Carnegie, author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People."

By not always saying the proper thing at the proper time I have won some friends, but I've violated Carnegie's twelve commandments by also reaping a bumper crop of enemies as well.

In this connection, while every-body may not be on my side in a Carnegie, I much prefer something to a "quack" in order to earn a living. The Nation's Press

THE ONE-WORLD FRAUD (Los Angeles Examiner)

One of the great frauds perpetrated against the American people during and after the recent world conflict was the promotion of the idea that the solution of all the ills of humanity would be found in acceptance by all nations of a super-world government.

It was not very carefully noted by the majority of the American people at the time, but it became painfully evident to most of our people in due time that the advocates of world government and the admirers of the Red Fascist system of government in Soviet Russia were often the same people.

So it is not a difficult matter to look back, now that Soviet Russia and the whole international network of Communist satellites are our avowed and active enemies and understand that the ultimate one-world sovereignty envisaged by many of the proponents of so-called world federalism was the sovereignty of Soviet Russia.

The surprising thing is not that such a proposition was advanced by the Communist conspirators and their dupes, but that so many supposedly informed and intelligent and sincere Americans fell for it.

It seems an utterly incomprehensible thing now, but it is an actual fact that the Legatures of twenty-three American states, nearly half of the total, adopted resolutions during the early postwar years favoring a form of world government which would mean the great impairment and eventual destruction of the last vestiges of American sovereignty.

Seventeen of the twenty-three states have since repudiated and repealed their infamous action. In just a superstitious—Mrs. C. A. A—Heavy drinking of alcoholic beverages would certainly be unwise. Some doctors do allow moderate quantities for those with high blood pressure, however. The effect of anger and excitement is not a matter of mere emotion, it often causes the pressure to rise 30 or 40 points in a few minutes.

Q—What is the value, if any, of gargling the throat daily?—H.H. A—None that I know of if a person is in normal health.

Q—If an ovary from one woman was transplanted into another could the second bear a baby from that ovary?—J. S. A—Almost certainly not; the whole idea seems entirely impractical.

Rainfall records were not kept in Europe until the middle 1600s.

Q—When I am working in my garden I have terrible itching from bites. They are big bumps, mostly on my legs but sometimes all over. What could cause this?—L.C. A—This sounds like a pretty clear case of sensitivity to some insect in the garden.

Q—My husband has high blood pressure. Would the drinking of alcoholic liquors have any effect?—E. S. A—Anger and excitement bring the blood pressure up or is that

Q—Please enlighten me on a tumor removed from your eye. It was larger than a football and consisted of teeth, hair, bone and other things. Where in the world did that come from?—Mrs. C.A.G. A—The tumor described is known as a dermoid cyst. It is classified as a developmental tumor and was present at birth although it presumably enlarged later.

Q—Is there any way of doing away with a case of chronic indigestion?—S. M. A—Chronic indigestion is term used now far less frequently than in the past. Most disorders which are called by this name are really something else such as spastic colon or ulcer of the stomach.

National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — The incredible Paul Douglas, who is one of those almost too-good-to-be-real statesmen, has asked the several hundred registered lobbyists at the capital to give him suggestions on his plan to create a constitutional or semi-constitutional commission to elevate the ethical standards of federal officials.

"Is he kidding or am I dreaming?" remarked one of the nation's highest-paid special pleaders when he received the formal letter from the Lincoln Square senator from Illinois. "I feel like a condemned man who is asked on the eve of his execution by the warden whether he would like turkey or rare roast beef for his last supper."

The request, however, is a testimonial to Senator Douglas's honesty and sincerity. He recognizes that official morality cannot be improved unless the Adams and Eves among the unofficial tempters cooperate. In his opinion, it is more sensible to take counsel from potential sinners against the code than from the official victims of their cloakroom and cocktail party operations.

Oilers Divide With Dukers; Payte, Hurler, Bats Victory

The Albuquerque Dukers and the Oilers divided a doubleheader here last night. George Payte, veteran righthander, pitched and batted the Oilers to an extra-inning, 3-2 victory in the opener. The Dukers jumped on three Oilers hurriers for an easy 14-5 win in the nightcap.

Tonight the two clubs meet in a single game, starting at 8 p. m. The game will mark the final appearance in Pampa this season of the popular Dukers. Tomorrow night the Abilene Blue Sox arrive for two games and the end of the 1951 home season.

The first game started and finished in a pitchers duel between Don Cantrell, who lost a tough one-hitter to the Oilers here last time out, and George Payte.

The Dukers got to Payte for two runs in the first inning on a single by Earl Harriman and consecutive doubles by Art Cuitti and Allan Maul. But that was it. Payte shut them out on but one hit the rest of the way, a seventh-inning double by Bill Hinson.

The Oilers chiseled one back in the third on three hits, Jake Phillips scoring the run after doubling.

They tied it in the sixth when Richardson led off with a double, went to third on an infield out and scored on a short fly to center off the bat of Red Dial.

The winning run scored in the bottom of the ninth. Dial opened with a line single to left center and went to second on a sacrifice by Nelson Davis. Payte then rolled a hit past the bag at first to plate the winning run.

In the second game the Dukers started out in the first inning with consecutive singles by Abbott and Harriman and an infield out putting them in the lead.

They added two in the third on a homer by Cuitti with Harriman aboard and then in the fourth Fortin hit the first of a pair of homers and Haller followed with a triple, scoring later on a single by Ronnie Mahrt to make the score 5-0.

The Oilers got three in the fourth on one hit and two walks.

But in the fifth the Dukers exploded for three more and then added five in the sixth for good measure. Mahrt scored in the seventh after opening with a double to end the Dukers' scoring.

Cuitti led the second game attack with four hits, hitting for the cycle.

Enid Sophomore To Guide T For Punt-Pass-Prayer Army

WEST POINT, N.Y. — (AP) — Frederick Meyers, a 178-pound sophomore quarterback from Enid, Okla., will be a key man in Army's "punt-pass-and-prayer" football fortunes this fall.

He will be the field general of the Cadets' T-formation maneuvers Coach Earl (Red) Blaik indicated today the youngster may have to carry a near 60-minute lead in every game.

"He is about the only man we have for the spot who can handle the ball and direct a T-attack," Blaik said. "We'll probably use him until he's too tired to play any more, and he'll play on both offense and defense."

Blaik said he hoped to continue two-rotation play as much as possible but he may substitute more conservative play, if necessary.

"Every offensive man will have to learn defensive signals and be ready to go in at any call," the coach said.

Blaik who lost virtually his entire varsity squad in the recent exam-cribbing scandal, announced the restyled Army team of 1951 would have to revert to more conservative play.

"We will play position football, more fundamental football," he declared. "That's the kind I coached 15 or 20 years ago."

"We'll rely on the kicker, something we haven't had to do for years. We'll be more inclined than ever before to relinquish the ball."

That's the "punt-pass-and-prayer" technique perfected by Fielding H. Yost at Michigan back in the early part of the century.

Yankees Go To National League For Stretch Drive Strength; Buy Sain

(By The Associated Press)

The New York Yankees won the 1949-50 pennant with late season acquisitions from the National League. Today the Bombers are banking on another Johnny-come-lately from the senior circuit to insure success in their current drive for the American League flag.

Johnny Sain, veteran righthander, is the latest Yankee importation from the National League. The Yanks acquired Sain from the Boston Braves yesterday and celebrated the purchase by trouncing the Browns, 15-2, under the lights in St. Louis.

The win gave them a first place tie with Cleveland, which dropped a 3-0 decision to Philadelphia in the afternoon.

Sain, picked up for $50,000 and named pitcher of the year, pitched one frame, win against the Indians, 1-0, in a 15-inning game. He struck out 11 batters and walked only two and drove in two runs with a double and single.

The Lobos jumped on Royce Mills and Bob Leonard, who pitched one frame, for 17 hits and sent runs home six different stanzas.

Four-Day Show To Get Started Friday

A pro-amateur field, expected to draw close to 100 contestants, will get the 1951 Top O' Texas Golf Tournament underway tomorrow afternoon at the Pampa Country Club. The pro-amateur will see all of the top pros from the Panhandle captaining a team of amateurs in a low ball, 18-hole match.

Tea-off time is 12:30 and all entries must be in by that time.

Saturday will mark the final day of qualifying and the only day on which contestants vie for positions in the championship flight and for medalist honors may qualify. Qualifying on Saturday will start at 9 a. m. and golfers may continue teeing off until 2 p. m. No entries will be accepted after that time.

Saturday afternoon at 6:30 a driving contest will be held and then at 7:30 a lunch and the Calcula pool will be staged.

Sunday morning at 6:30 the first round of championship play will be started with the second round teeing off at 12:30 that afternoon.

Monday the semifinal rounds start at 7:30 with the finals leaving the first tee at 1 p. m. At 6 p. m. Monday the prizes will be presented.

Among the pros who will be here for the pro-amateur tomorrow are Joe Houck of Borger, Vern Farquhar of Phillips, Dick Turner and George Aulbach of Amarillo, and many others from the Panhandle.

This year's tournament, the 18th annual, will see the largest field in the history of the meet, an estimated 170 golfers, battling for the title now held by Grover Austin, Jr., of Pampa. Contestants have already entered from Shamrock, Perryton, Electra, Childress, Altus, Amarillo, Canadian, and other outlying areas.

The 6,300-yard country club layout has been neatly manicured by club pro Johnny Austin and his staff of workers in preparation for the heavy traffic which will travel over it this weekend. Only the weatherman can jumble up the works now, as everything else has been well-planned and well done.

Blue Sox Clinch First Place Tie

ABILENE — (AP) — The Blue Sox clinched at least a tie for first place in the West Texas-Nexico League's final standings with a quick 6-3 victory over the Clovis Pioneers here tonight.

Tall Artur Hamilton had a four-hit, 6-1 lead going into the ninth then gave up singles to Pete Babuco, John Tabor and Joe Borrego to score twice. The latter two hits came after two outs.

Fort Wayne has won the last four national semipro titles. In other games last night, the Bellingham, Wash., Bells eliminated Thomassville, Ala., 1-0 and the Honolulu, Hawaii, Marines ousted Barksdale Field, La., 5-4.

Chisox Protest Is Disallowed

CHICAGO — (AP) — American League President Will Harridge has rejected the Chicago White Sox protest of a rained-out game at New York July 27 and also has censured Manager Phil Niekro for statements attributed to him.

The game was called by umpire Hank Soar with two out in the Sox half of the ninth inning after Chicago had scored three runs to go ahead 4-3. The decision against the Sox was made at the end of the eighth inning, giving the Yankees a 3-1 victory.

The French and Indian War peace treaty was signed in Paris in 1763.

R. B. Anderson Due Degree

FORT WORTH (AP) — R. B. Anderson, Vernon rancher, lawyer, oilman and civic leader, will receive an honorary doctor of laws degree from Texas Christian university Sept. 25.

Anderson will be the principal speaker at the convocation in Ed Landreth auditorium that morning. It will be the first official function of the new school year.

Anderson is general manager of the W. T. Waggoner estate. He is a former Texas legislator, assistant attorney general, tax commissioner, racing commission, state tax board member, and chairman of the Texas Unemployment commission. He also was a professor of law at the University of Texas.

He is chairman of the Texas Board of Education, president of the Vernon Board of Education, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Assn., deputy chairman of the Board of the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas.

INVENTOR AT WORK — C. E. Ward operates his invention at his shop on S. Starkweather. The machine manufactures "chairs" or stabilizers, for reinforcement rods on foundations. It has a daily output of 4000. The U-shaped stabilizers replace bailing wire used by many builders on foundations. Before Ward perfected the machine, he made the stabilizers by hand. (NEWS PHOTO)

$2.17 Support Set On Wheat Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture department has announced the price of wheat produced in 1952 will be supported at a national average of not less than $2.17 a bushel. The national average support price now is $2.18 a bushel.

The $2.17 level is 90 percent of the July 15 parity price of $2.41 a bushel.

Secretary Brannan said the minimum support price was being announced at this time in accordance with provisions of the farm act. He added that if the wheat parity price as of July 1, 1952 — the beginning of the marketing year for the 1952 crop — is higher than the July 15 price, the support level will be increased to reflect 90 percent of parity at that time.

Parity is a price the Agriculture department calculates is equally fair to the producer and consumer.

Asks Conservation Of Sucker Rods

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Petroleum Administration for Defense has asked oil well operators to save on the use of sucker rods made of nickel-bearing steel.

Sucker rods are used in pumping oil from wells. Nickel-bearing steel is required to resist erosion if the oil was a high sulphur content.

Druce K. Brown, deputy petroleum administrator, advised operators that the present production of sucker rods from nickel-bearing steel will be cut. He said nickel-bearing rods now make up about half of all the rods produced. Due to the nickel shortage, only about 35 percent of future rod production will contain nickel.

Wake Up To More Comfort

Without Numbing Backache
Numbing backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer from aching backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages. Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these distressing conditions—help the 16 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Pampan Invents Machine That Makes Rods For Foundations

C. E. "Charlie" Ward, 908 Christine, is a man who knows what it is to make something and make it work.

The local builder this week announced to the public the completion of a new invention—the second during his lifetime. In 1908 Ward made an attachment for a cultivator, and now he has invented a machine to manufacture wire "chairs" or stabilizers for reinforcement rods on FHA and GI home foundations.

Ward has had the idea for the machine two years and made the wire chairs (that look like croquet hoops) by hand before the machine was put into operation. Now he can produce 4000 stabilizers daily, using nine-by-nine wire.

The stabilizers are U-shaped with two grooves where reinforcement rods are placed. The stabilizers are placed every six or seven feet; it takes 30 on top and bottom for a foundation. They replace the bailing wire many builders use on foundations.

Already the stabilizers are in use in Amarillo, Canadian, Shamrock, Lubbock and White Deer. Five builders in Pampa employ the new stabilizers built on Ward's machine.

The machine is a waist-high square built on four legs. There are two pedals operated by foot that cut the wire and push it into place. A hand-operated lever on the table top twists the wire into a U-shaped pattern with grooves, all in one quick motion.

Ward was a farmer in 1908 when he completed his first invention, but building has always been his hobby. He once built a hay baler, a stalk cutter and a wagon. Finally in 1918 he became a builder and now operates the Ward's Cabinet shop, 321 S. Starkweather.

Though he's spent over two years perfecting the new machine, Ward has not invested a lot of money on it.

"An inventor must get something cheap to make," he advises.
