Sewell Gas Bill Backers Move In Frat House

AUSTIN — (AP) — The capital city is on the verge of seeing one of the biggest waiting games in Texas legislative history. Dogged backers of the Sewell natural gas tax Saturday began moving into an abandoned fraternity house. They vow they'll live there and keep the legislature in session until the Senate gives in and accepts their tax plan.

The barny, two-story house at 1700 Rio Grande Street was bustling with moving-in activity Saturday. A van-load of beds, lamps, chairs, dressers — volunteered by a hotel manager — was expected any minute.

A sympathetic housewife dropped by to offer her victory garden to ease the food shortage. A telephone was being installed. And the plumber was on the way.

The cooperative housing plan is designed to save money. Legislators now are drawing $5 a day. The gas tax backers fear the pinch of living expenses is the big loophole in their freeze-out strategy.

They now hold a slim majority in the house, but they're afraid some of their weaker supporters may get discouraged and vote for a compromise so they can go home. A handful of votes would turn the tide.

Nineteen house members have signed up to live in the roomy old house. More are expected. "We can take care of a majority of the house," joked youngling Clyde Whiteside of Seymour, one of the floor leaders for the Sewell plan.

Sewell, a young Blooming Grove lawyer who lost his eye-sight in World War II action, will continue to live alone with his wife and child.

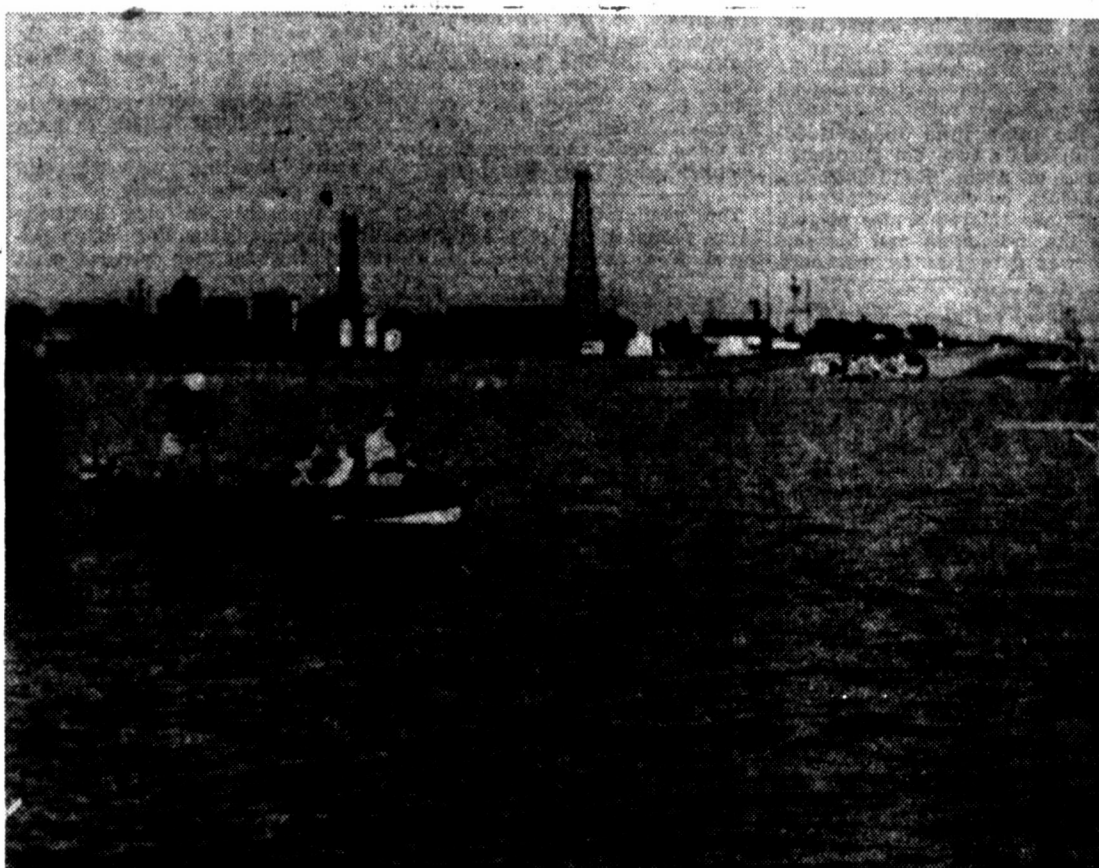

"But Jim'll be dropping by to see us all the time," explained Rep. Doug Crouch of Denton, another staunch rebel.

Crouch, 29, and Whiteside, 24, are about typical of the inhabitants of the improvised dormitory. Most of Sewell's supporters are fairly young and many of them are serving their first terms in the Legislature.

Martin Dies Speaks For Chamber Drive In Pampa Oct. 11

Martin Dies, former congressman from Orange, of Lufkin will be the speaker at the annual chamber of commerce membership banquet set for October 11, Gene Fathereese, president, announced Saturday.

Dies is now in private law practice at Lufkin. He was chairman of the Un-American Activities Committee while a member of Congress.

SOUNDING FOR THE ROAD — James Barrett, 725 N. Banks, sounds for the Berger Highway and found it to be six feet below. Others have said the road, in some places, is over seven feet deep. With Barrett are his wife and daughter and Jim Davis. The tops of telephone poles alongside the highway can be seen at the right. (News Photo)

Suitable Detours Give Highway Men Trouble

The Berger highway will not be cleared of water until frost. So says G. K. Reading, State Highway Department district engineer. Suitable detours around submerged portions of Highway 152, Pampa to Borger, brought oil industry representatives, chamber of commerce members and Reading together Saturday morning.

The group was called to seek some means of providing roads to Borger and the oil field west of Pampa. Oilmen say their operations are suffering from the submerged roadways and sought some assurance their work could be returned to normal as quickly as possible.

Reading stated his department was doing everything possible to provide a detour. He held little hope the main highway could be opened soon. He said that with an average evaporation of one inch per week, the road would be cleared of water by fall. That is, if no more rain fell.

It has been estimated seven feet of water covers the highway at the deepest point. Chamber members offered no suggestions, but told Reading the group would help any way possible. One chamber committee will be in Austin Tuesday to confer with state officials on completion of the Pampa - Pertyton Highway.

Reading said his problem had three phases: getting emergency traffic over the road, providing some temporary bypass and finally, working out a permanent solution to the submerged road problem.

The first, he said, has been accomplished. The second, setting up a temporary route, is being worked out now. He said there was more work involved in getting the detour than merely State Highway 152.

Borger - bound traffic, including trucks, will have to use the same detour and go into White Deer, then travel north to Skelton where they can reach State Highway 152.

Work in Ward II was inconspicuous, so city trucks will be in work in that area as soon as the allies are passable. The local Lions club is responsible for the publicity in the northeastern section of the city.

Clean-up activities in the northern part of Pampa comprising Ward I will begin immediately after work in Ward II is completed. The Rotary club is sponsoring clean-up advertising and publicity in Ward I.

City Manager Dick Pepin announced Saturday that the DDT spraying machine did not go into operation last week. "That project, too, will have to wait until the weather is better," he said.

Commies Ease Drive; Ready New Attacks

TOKYO — (AP) — American troops Saturday broke up a suicidal North Korean assault on the outskirts of Seoul and stemmed a new Chinese smash on the east central front while holding firm in the center. Shocked by the unprecedented cost in blood of their four-day-old spring offensive, the Communists eased off in their attacks late Saturday but were reported frenziedly regrouping for a new attempt at any moment.

In at least two places, American tank teams stabbed out northward to determine the enemy's intentions. One found the road empty as far as 11 miles north of Seoul; the other bumped into a fanatic Chinese infantry attack northeast of Seoul. Officers of the U.S. Second Division, which weathered the furious storm on the east-central front, estimated Chinese casualties totalling 35,000 or more in that narrow sector alone since the great Red push began Wednesday. It was the most concentrated single assault of the entire Korean war, with 96,000 Chinese almost but not quite succeeding in overrunning a single U.S. division.

Four battalions of North Koreans (possibly 2,400 to 4,000 men) slammed against Seoul's outer defense in broad daylight Saturday. They were repulsed with tremendous slaughter after charging into allied mine fields and barbed wire.

Allied defenses stood fast in the central front "anchor" against steady Red pressure. Thundering air and artillery attacks held the Reds at bay.

Field dispatches said the whole 100-mile wide Korean front quieted somewhat Saturday afternoon while the Communists regrouped their shattered legions.

On the east-central front AP correspondent William C. Barnard said the U.S. Second Division and two South Korean divisions had been hit by 125,000 Chinese shock troops beginning Wednesday.

As the offensive gathered momentum, the two South Korean divisions were quickly routed. With its east flank thus exposed, the Second Division was hit by an estimated 96,000 Reds.

Three battalions and two companies of the Second Division, 2,200 or more men, including French and Dutch units, were engulfed when the South Koreans gave way. But the trapped force broke out and rejoined the division.

Clean-Up Postponed

When "the rains came" last week they halted Pampa's 1951 clean-up campaign and city workmen are now waiting for dry weather before completing the project.

Work in Ward II was inconspicuous, so city trucks will be in work in that area as soon as the allies are passable. The local Lions club is responsible for the publicity in the northeastern section of the city.

THE GENERAL VISITS A PRIVATE — Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway stops at the bedside of Jacky E. Hays, son of Mrs. Maude Hays of Pampa, to see "how he's getting along." Pfc. Hays was wounded in Korea a few weeks ago and is reported much improved. He is in the Uokusuka, Japan, Hospital. (News Engraving)

Senator Suggests President Testify On M'Arthur Firing

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A suggestion that President Truman volunteer to testify in the Senate investigation of the firing of Gen. Douglas MacArthur was tossed into the big foreign policy committee subcommittee by Sen. W. (R.) Wiley.

"If the President refused, the joint committee might very well consider subpoenaing him," Wiley said. "If the President refused, the joint committee might very well consider subpoenaing him," Wiley said. "If the President refused, the joint committee might very well consider subpoenaing him," Wiley said.

While Wiley was campaigning to get Mr. Truman as a witness, MacArthur was assured an opportunity to reply in detail to recent comments by the President and top military leaders about his ouster.

"It is very likely that Gen. MacArthur will testify again," Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), chairman of the investigation, told reporters. "If he desires to testify or clarify anything, we will hear him."

Skies Clear; Olney Digs Out Of Ruins

(By The Associated Press) Balmly fair weather blanketed Texas Saturday night after a week of heavy rains, floods and a destructive tornado at Olney. Generally fair weather was forecast for the whole state Sunday.

Olney in north central Texas was digging from the shambles of a Friday tornado which left two dead, 100 injured, and 1,500,000 worth of ruined damage.

The weather bureau had no rain reports in Texas. Some rain here and there in East Texas but the west was reported generally fair. A little early morning fog prevailed at Houston, Victoria and Bryan.

Streams flooded by heavy rains earlier in the week were receding. High water drained away from Littlefield where several families had been forced to evacuate.

Ranges brightened. Tender cotton thrived. Farmers washed out in West Texas deluges planned replanting for there still was time.

Construction of new grandstand bleachers at the rodeo arena will be completed by the end of the month. A committee composed of Doug Mills, Bill Graham and Irving Cole will complete plans for the construction.

Government Looping Price Lariat Around Beef Cattle

CHICAGO — (AP) — The government will loop a price lariat around the nation's beef cattle today in its program to pull back the butcher shop price of beef nearly 10 cents a pound by Oct. 1.

The new price ceiling will require packers to buy cattle at prices averaging 10 percent below January levels. Housewives are expected to find little, if any, immediate change in their meat costs, however.

C Of C Committee To Austin Tuesday

Completion of the Pampa-Pertyton highway and initial construction of a bridge on that road will be asked by delegates of Gray, Roberts and Ochiltree counties when they meet Tuesday with the State Highway Commission in Austin.

Attending the meeting from Gray County will be Gene Fathereese, president of the local Chamber of Commerce; G. S. "Pinkie" Vineyard, Art Rankin, member of Highway 70 committee; and E. O. Wedgeworth, secretary of the local chamber.

Classes for local and area businessmen covered under this regulation will begin at 9 a.m. in the city court room, City Hall.

Rogers Predicts Collapse For Cattlemen In OPS Beef Order

If price stabilization boss Michael Disalle attempts to keep the price rollback on beef-on-the-hoof in at least from Rep. Walter Rogers, he's headed for a battle.

Ired by the price order, Rogers predicted financial collapse for cattlemen; an uncontrollable black-market in cattle and less meat-on-the-table for every American family.

Maj. Gen. Clark J. Ruffner, held new defenses north of Hongchon Saturday.

Official frontline reports said 12,000 Chinese were killed trying to wedge through the allied east-central lines.

Various officer estimates indicated the Reds may have suffered at least 35,000 casualties—killed and wounded—from ground and air action on this front.

In the Seoul sector, the North Koreans were massacred in an attempt to crack perimeter defenses from the northwest. They tried vainly to seize a jagged ridge running due south almost to the Korean capital building.

AP correspondent John Randolph reported 80 dazed prisoners, said they had been told by their commanders that UN troops had abandoned Seoul. The Reds thought all they had to do was push through screening forces into a deserted city.

Withering fire from machine-guns, mortars, artillery and the like, chewed them to bits as they tried to scramble through barbed wire defenses. Earlier a small black-uniformed North Korean force tried a pre-dawn feeler sneak but was wiped out when caught in the wire.

An armored U. S. patrol stabled northward along the main north road from Seoul to abandoned Uijongbu, 11 miles above the capital, and returned without drawing fire. Chinese forces occupied the battered town Friday but apparently had pulled back into the hills.

Another UN armored patrol met a hot reception northeast of Seoul as it stabled eight miles northward on the west-central front above Kungong.

Kumgong is 12 miles east of Ewoul.

Swarms of Chinese jumped on the tanks in a deluge. Tankers fired deliberately at one another's tanks to brush off the Reds like ants.

A tank leader on that front told AP correspondent George A. McArthur "some of the Chinese blew themselves to bits with satchel charges and pole charges while trying to get the tanks. They threw everything they had at us."

Another tank driver who went on the foray said that his tank was "plastered" with the flesh of enemy dead.

Reds Launch Six Central Front Hits

ON THE CENTRAL KOREAN FRONT—(AP)—Chinese Reds launched six attacks on the west central front last night and early today, forcing allied troops to make limited withdrawals.

The attacking forces, ranging from small patrols to battalions, centered their assaults in the Changgong sector 25 miles northeast of Seoul. The Reds have a bridgehead on the Pukham River in that area.

Chinese battalions were reported cut to pieces by counter-attacks by U. S. troops, who charged with bayonets. This fight occurred southeast of Changgong.

Committee Named To Fight Disease

LIBERTY—(AP)—A committee headed by a Harvard specialist was named to seek a cure or treatment for a mysterious ailment nicknamed "PMD."

The disease is progressive muscular dystrophy—a relentless wasting away of the muscles. The specialist is Dr. D. Denny Brown, professor of urology at the Harvard School of Medicine.

Dr. Denny Brown's appointment was announced by the National Muscular Dystrophy Research Foundation, Inc.

NPA Managers Meet Monday

DALLAS—(AP)—Nine National Production Authority district managers from four states will open a two-day meeting here Monday.

Application of the Controlled Materials Plan whereby beginning July 1 steel, copper and aluminum will be allocated by NPA to more than 80,000 manufacturers will be one of the subjects to be discussed.

NPA field offices are expected to process manufacturers' applications for the three basic metals by Oct. 1.

NPA district managers will come from El Paso, Houston, San Antonio and Lubbock, Tex.; Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.; New Orleans and Shreveport, La., and Little Rock, Ark.

Court Grants Boy Damages

Fourteen-year-old Richard Hinkley was awarded $2,000 damages in an agreed judgment approved Friday in 31st District Court from Southwestern Public Service Co., and the City of Pampa for burns he received when he fell into high voltage line last year.

The youngster was playing in the trees on May 24, 1950 when he tumbled into the wires and was severely burned.

The judgment also awarded his father, Fred Hinkley, $7,000 for medical and hospital care.

The original suit asked for $20,000 for Richard and $7,000 for his father as reimbursement for the medical care and hospitalization.

Friday afternoon Judge Lewis M. Goodrich approved foreclosure of a chattel mortgage against the Pampa Baking Co., owned by Clifford E. Estes, by Frank Rapstine, former owner.

The trial was heard before the court after both parties waived a jury hearing.

At the same time Judge Goodrich imposed a two-year suspended sentence on Alvin "Red" Hiltbrunner, Lefors, on charges of forgery. Hiltbrunner entered a plea of guilty to the indictment and the sentence was passed on by the court.

Tri-State Pilots Holding Breakfast Here This Morning

Between 75 and 100 pilots of the tri-state area will arrive at 10 a. m. today, weather permitting, for the annual fliers breakfast.

The visiting pilots will be met at the Municipal Airport by members of the Pampa Pilot Assn. and the aviation committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce.

The local organization will be hosts to the out-of-town fliers at a breakfast at the Moose hall at 10:30 a. m. Transportation will be furnished from the airport to the hall.

Entertainment will be provided by Miss Helen Blocker, vocalist, and Miss Phoebe Osborne, pianist.

Following the breakfast a business session will be conducted with the president C. V. Timmons presiding.

Members of the local aviation committee of the chamber of commerce include Hugh Burdette, chairman, and the following: Ed Myatt, Hans Davis, Henry Reynolds, L. W. "Cap" Jolly, C. V. Timmons, Frank Culbertson, Fred Oden, Fred Thompson, Charles Duenkel and Veri Haganman.

Dr. Donna Rites Due Monday In Enid, Oklahoma

Funeral services for Mrs. Donna B. Mills, 64, will be held Monday afternoon in Enid, Okla. She died Saturday night at a local hospital.

Mrs. Mills had lived in Pampa for about 18 months, moving here from Beaver, Okla. Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens, Pampa, and Mrs. Alva Howard, Logan, Okla.; four sons, Sterling, Enid, Kaidella, Cleveland, Okla.; Henry, Joplin, Mo.; Everett, U. S. Navy; three sisters, Mrs. Lillie Malone, Frankewing, Tenn., Mrs. George Boling, Enid, Mrs. Henry Par-rack, Garber, Okla.; 12 grandchildren.

Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home was to send the body to Enid this morning.

The department would have detours as soon as possible. He didn't know whether the detour would be topped by caliche, oil or dirt. He said portions would have to be hard-surfaced.

Other area roads received little attention at the meeting. However, Reading said the problem was not so great where Mear's Lake crosses Highway 70 to Clarendon.

ROGERS

tion; when you create shortages you're adding fuel to the fire of inflation," he said.

He predicted, too, the nation's 84 million cattle population will drop to 70 to 74 million head instead of the 85 million programmed for by 1955.

"This rollback won't save the consumer a darn cent," Rogers declared, "because there will be a shortage instead of abundance. In addition the nation will lose millions of pounds of beef because it will not be produced."

Continuing, he said "the reason (they will not be produced) is, when an animal is raised for market the stockman feeds it out as far as he can on grass and grain puts it on a feed lot to bring it up to all weights on grain or other cattle feed. On a feed lot a steer puts on two pounds per day at a cost of 85 cents to a dollar a day. For every two pounds this animal puts on in the feed lot the stockman can hope to recover only 60 cents at the outside under the DiSalle setup. This, of course, creates a loss of 25 to 35 cents a day per head and will eventually break the cattle industry."

Rogers could see only a fertile field for black market operations and possible increased cattle thefts as a result of the rollback.

"The housewife faces two alternatives; pay blackmarket prices for beef or do without beef for the time being," he added.

Rogers' attitude toward Secretary of State Dean Acheson's plan could not be ironed out, the change of command, if necessary, should have been handled in a business-like manner."

He said letters and telegrams received by his office and other congressional offices, were overwhelmingly pro-McArthur.

The 18th District representative plans to wind up his short tour home early today by flying from Amarillo to Washington. He hopes to have sufficient information on the rollback effects in a few days to lay in DiSalle's lap in an effort to relieve cattlemen.

The California condor is a slow-breeding bird and there are only about 60 alive today.

Work Out Problem Collegiates Faced

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

The Intercollegiate Contract Bridge Tournament, an annual event begun in 1940, brings the best college players of the country to Chicago to play in a championship event. This year students came from colleges as widely separated as Harvard and Washington State.

It was very interesting to see what happened in one of the hands played by all of the contestants in the first round of the tournament.

The bidding was much the same at all tables, and the opening lead was almost invariably a heart. Dummy won with the ace and returned a trump in all cases.

West took his ace of spades and could not see that the setting tricks could come only from the club suit. The problem was to make sure of three club tricks — if possible.

Most of the West players were too inexperienced to recognize the situation, and only a few were able to work it out on the spot.

Most of them led the deuce of clubs. This gave declarer a chance to hold the loss to two club tricks.

South simply played a low club from dummy, and East had to play his ace to win. Now a club return would set up dummy's queen, while any other return would allow declarer to get rid of his losing clubs on dummy's diamonds.

In all, only about five percent of the college students made the correct play. In an expert game, only about five percent would miff it. Still, I'm not so sure that more than five percent of the experts would figure out an absolutely new situation in actual play (as the students did). The experience of the experts carries them over many a hurdle.

The correct play? West must lead the jack of clubs. That

Keep Your Eye On KPDN

By PHIL SOLBERG

Signs of the times: Gordon Anderson, continuity director here at KPDN and of the program "Gordy Gleans for Deluxe," left last Friday night for a short vacation in his home in St. Paul, Minnesota. Good luck Gordy, have fun!

Most women elected "Queen For A Day" on the Mutual Week-day Cinderella fun feature 10:30 to 11 every morning wish for common things. But since Jack Bailey has had so many uncommon requests, he's no longer stumped by the ladies. "For example," he points out, "one lady asked to have her ears fixed. She said they stuck out. Another wanted an adding machine for her rabbit farm. But the gal who really threw me was the lady who wanted an electric refrigerator because her husband refused to buy one for her. She explained he was an iceman!"

Following a most successful six-week tour of eleven major metropolitan centers, the program returns to its Hollywood studios to continue its fabulous role of waving magic wands over women's heads. Jack Bailey will emcee as usual.

This last week with all its rains brought news coverage at its best. Wednesday night the complete staff of KPDN, male members that is, were standing by in the studios to cover the situation at Lake McClellan. The flood water made a serious threat to the dam and it was reported to KPDN through the sheriff's office that the dam had gone out. Our main objective up here was to flash to those people down there in the valley in and around Alameda that they were in peril. Fortunately the report was erroneous. Soon after the first report, KPDN's Coy Palmer, Rudy Marti, Gordy Anderson, and Kay Pancher left with the National Guard patrol to the area. They reported back at 12:15, the station staying on the air until we had the report complete.

The following morning Coy Palmer and Kay Pancher journeyed back to the area for a look in the daylight and Rudy Marti and I were taken over the dam and the complete area for a birds-eye view of the Lake. We have Bert A. Howell of Pampa to thank for that trip in his own private plane. Then we all returned to the studio, sat down and made a complete report on the situation to you out there. Thanks a million to all the fine people that cooperated with us so very much so that we could bring the exact story to you listeners.

Here are some notes for this coming week you might keep in your good listening notebook: "The Clyde Beatty Show" Monday, Wednesday, Friday, over KPDN. The famed animal trainer and trader has three exciting adventures on tap this week. His Monday program, titled "Gun-bearer," is back-grounded in the African jungles.

The meanest lion that ever lived, "Bad Cat," causes Clyde's for Friday it's back to the African jungle to tell what happened to the "Stranded Safari."

One of the best things about the Clyde Beatty show is that although it is beamed primarily to the youngsters, it is also interesting to adults. So while the radio keeps the "young-uns" occupied while Mom is preparing dinner, she is entertained, also.

Speaking of entertainment, one of the most popular dramatic programs on KPDN is "The Family Theater," presented each Wednesday 9:30 to 10 p.m. This Wednesday night, due to the repeated requests by its listeners, this program will re-present the drama, "The Golden Touch," starring Jack Benny and Lucille Ball.

This will be one of Mr. Benny's rare radio appearances in a dramatic role. He will play the part of King Midas in the story of the ruler of Phrygia who received the power to turn into gold everything he touches — an inconvenience that causes him starvation and extreme thirst. This drama was originally presented last January 17th.

Those of you who love the good music presented on "The Chicago Theater of the Air" will be hearing Bruce Foote, baritone star, next Saturday evening. He will return as the concert soloist for the broadcast that evening.

Co-starred with him will be soprano Trudy DeLuz. The "Career Performance" artist, auditioning that evening will be mezzo-soprano Evelyn Reynolds. Robert Trendler will conduct the orchestra and Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher, will be heard in another topical dis-

Amarillo Camp Is Filled For Summer

The Amarillo established Girl Scout camp will be unable to accommodate any out-of-town scouts this summer, according to a letter received at the local headquarters Friday.

Some Pampa girls had been planning to attend the camp. However, Mrs. H. F. McDonald, Jr., scout executive, said that she has received some information about the established camp in Albuquerque, N.M. that girls will be interested in.

Awards for the week, here goes: Happiest man up here at KPDN Gordon Anderson of course. He is home with his family on vacation. Not so happy is Coy Palmer our Sunshine Man, his folks have a farm in the flooded area near Lake McClellan. "Pluff of the week" comes straight from the networks this time. Fulton Lewis Jr. reporting very colorfully each evening at 6 p.m. nightly. Getting all kinds of frogs in his throat and figured that his mike was turned off for the moment.

He tried vainly to clear his voice and right over the air. On top of all that he jokingly asked for the "Hadaool," laughed a little, then signaled for his mike to be turned on. But Mr. Lewis you were on the air all the time and we shared the joke. Keep smiling and your umbrella handy and by all means keep that dial stuck with glue to tops in listening KPDN 1340 on your dial.

Airmen Wary Of Manchuria Strikes

OKINAWA — (AP) — Should the United Nations strike at Communist bases in Manchuria? Many Air Force men at the big bomber base here — he men who would do the job — are not convinced it's a good idea. They are not sure the benefits of any such move would outweigh the drawbacks. Here is the way many said they see the problem: If U. S. bombers were assigned to hit Red targets north of the Yalu River border of Korea, they could do serious damage to the Communists' war effort. Many enemy bases could be put out of operation. Much of the Communist supply network feeding Red field armies could be disrupted. Communist supply points and production centers in Manchuria could be destroyed. Troop movements far behind the front could be harassed and slowed. Air Force men agree such attacks would be of tremendous help to the UN armies fighting on the ground in Korea. It would certainly make the Eighth Army's job of killing Communist soldiers a good deal easier. If that were the whole story, Air Force men say, there would be no doubt about the military advantages of bombing Manchurian bases. But there is another side to the purely military problem of any venture north of the Yalu by allied air power. The air experts say that if B-29s flew to Red target areas very much north of Antung, Manchuria, at the mouth of the Yalu, they would have to travel without fighter escort. Without jets flying cover, the Air Force would expect heavy losses of superforts. Communist pilots have shown conclusively that Russian-type MIG-15 jets can knock down the big bombers even with the friendly air cover in the sky. Such losses of big bombers could not quickly nor easily be replaced, they say. The result would be a sharp drop in allied air power. In their initial strikes, U. S. planes could do serious damage to the enemy's war effort. It is at least doubtful whether the Air Force could long maintain that level of effectiveness — not if they suffered the losses they say it could be expected. At present, the Communists are using their air effort over North Korea in what looks like an effective training program for their pilots. U. S. airmen who have met enemy jets say they have noticed a big difference from day to day, from plane to plane, in the skill of Communist fighters. They explain, looks as though the Reds have a big turn-

Sunspots Affect Communications

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A severe magnetic storm, the result of a large sunspot, may affect radio communications during the next two or three days. The Bureau of Standards has cautioned the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Army, commercial radio stations and other agencies. The CAA in turn passed on the warning to airplane pilots. The Bureau of Standards said the sunspot is large enough to be seen with the naked eye, but officials cautioned against looking at the sun without some such protection as smoked glass. over of pilots. When a man becomes really capable, he may be pulled out to instruct others and give less experienced pilots a chance at the most realistic "training" schedule possible — actual combat in the sky against an armed enemy. Allied airmen say the Communists are steadily improving. But UN pilots are getting the same kind of invaluable training. It works both ways. A series of heavy blows at enemy air bases in the Manchurian "sanctuary" would play havoc with the Red air force. It would also mean the loss of many of our top airmen. The Air Force is quick to agree that bombing Manchuria would have serious implications. The big question is: would the Communists retaliate with their own

FESTIVE PHILATELY — The set of special commemorative stamps has been issued in connection with the Festival of Britain. The 2/6d stamp shows Lord Nelson's flagship HMS Victory. The five-shilling stamp depicts the white cliffs of Dover. The 10-shilling one depicts St. George slaying the dragon. The one-pound stamp bears the Royal Arms. The 2/4d design is a cornucopia, symbol of abundance, crossed with the caduceus, carried by Mercury, god of Commerce. Four-pence stamp has Festival of Britain symbol.

bombers on U. S. installations in Japan and Okinawa? Would bombing Manchuria mean the beginning of World War III? The airmen say that is a question for higher authority. But just on the military merits, many think the present "ground rules" that make Manchuria immune from allied air strikes may actually operate in the allies' favor.

Teacher Retirement Boosts State's Needs $3,000,000

AUSTIN — (AP) — The gap between the state's revenue and need for revenue has grown another $3,000,000, Senator R. A. Weinert of Seguin reported today. The increase came with passage of a bill providing that teachers with creditable service in other states shall be given credit for half of such service under the teachers retirement system, he said. Weinert is Senate chairman of the House - Senate Conference Committee seeking a compromise between the two houses on the tax problem. He issued a statement that said in part:

"The director of the teachers retirement system has advised the comptroller an additional location of $3,000,000 for the biennium must be made to the teachers retirement system to meet the provisions of this act. Accordingly, we are now looking for an additional $11,000,000 instead of $8,000,000. This, of course, is very discouraging to me." The comptroller's last estimate of needed revenue, not considering the retirement bill, had indicated the Senate - passed omnibus tax bill would bring about $50,000,000 — about $8,000,000 short at that time. Disclosure of the additional need in revenue came after the five big guns had been trained on Gov. Allan Shivers in the House - Senate cold war over taxes and rural roads. The guns were five big questions. They were asked yesterday by spokesmen of the county judges and commissioners association to clarify, they said, the governor's position "on this pressing problem to the people of our state." What the commissioners and judges wanted to know from the governor was this: "Did he think the state should shoulder the financial burden of providing all - weather roads for school bus routes made necessary under the state's wide-spread consolidation of school districts? 2. Did he favor continuance of the Colson - Briscoe plan for the construction of farm - to - market roads? 3. Did he favor a continuance of the present allocation of monies from the so-called road bond assumption surplus for building farm-to-market roads? 4. Did he favor the Sewell - Nokes bill which would provide money for the counties for rural roads, cities for street improvement, and public schools? 5. Would he sign the Sewell-Nokes bill if it were passed by the legislature?

Two Accidents Cause Arrests

Two accidents Friday caused little property damage, but resulted in two arrests, police said today.

One accident involving three cars occurred on Finley street, just south of Campbell. Beryl Pelpman, 716 E. Malone, was charged with driving without an operator's license.

The Eeeman car was parked on Finley when Marice Roberts, 838 E. Murphy, skidded in mud and hit the bumper of the parked car.

Traveling in the same direction, Ben Ingram, 719 Denver, attempted to pass the two cars when he skidded, hitting the fender of the Roberts car.

Only damages were reported on the Roberts car.

Another accident Friday happened when Henry Eurl Lewis, Pampa, is said to have struck the side of a car driven by J. C. Smith, 729 Zimmers.

The accident at the Frederic and Houston intersection happened as Lewis attempted to pass Smith, who is charged by police with failure to give hand and arm signals.

The Smith car turned over, but there were no injuries or damages reported.

Violinist Finds 'Lost' Concerto

NEW YORK — (AP) — The manuscript of a hitherto unknown violin concerto by the immortal German composer, Felix Mendelssohn, has been acquired by Yehudi Menuhin, the American violinist.

Menuhin, who announced his discovery yesterday as he departed for a recital tour in Australia, said the work was written when the composer was 13 years old.

He said the concerto, in D minor, "has already all the germs — in fact, more than germs — of Mendelssohn's genius."

E. L. Henderson presided at the meeting in the absence of Leslie Hart, president.

Women Seek To Ban Pickets At Funeral

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The Los Angeles County Federation of Women's Clubs wants legislation to prohibit union picketing at funerals.

The subject came up yesterday when the Federation President, Mrs. George Turechek told how she had to buck a picket line to attend a funeral at a local mortuary.

The AFL International Firemen's and Oilers' Union seeks to unionize embalmers.

The women will discuss the matter Monday at an executive board meeting.

WARREN'S WARMUP

IT'S JUST A lucky thing that I didn't go all out to get rain or it might not have stopped by now. We were pretty desperate for moisture or I wouldn't have gone as far as I did to get it.

First we put the fire hose all over Oiler Park and turned it on all day Monday and flooded the field but good. And just to increase the possibility of getting moisture, I stopped by the city water department and had my water meter put on summer rates.

Just think how much water would have fallen if I had gone all out and washed my car, too!!

Got a mighty fine letter from ex-Oiler catcher Jim Martin, now Pvt. Jim Martin, US 54-09-007, Co. C, 5CRTC, Camp Gordon, Ga. Jim says he is due for 10 days leave in a couple of weeks and is going to try to get to Pampa to watch his teammates play.

Jim says he is playing with the Camp Gordon Ramblers, local "A" team, and is "having a helluva year." Just what he means, I don't know. But he says he has 18 runs batted in, 5 home runs, 2 triples, 9 doubles and is hitting a weak .307—that's right, six-decimals!

A week ago yesterday they played the Parris Island Marine Base team and beat them, with old Lightning Rod getting four-for-four, including a homer, a double and two singles.

He also says there is a possibility of him getting discharged early because of a bad sinus condition caused by being hit in the nose by Ray Faust last ball in Amarillo last season.

JENSEN, MCDUGALD HOMERUN! The eight-column headline in the San Francisco Examiner in other words, "Local Boys Making Good." Both Jensen and young McDougald are from Frisco, and the town is mighty proud of them. It isn't every right that can come from Frisco.

Called up Mrs. Jess Clay yesterday morning to find out how Randy is doing and where he is stationed. And the voice on the other end of the phone was that belonging to the New York pro footballer himself, home on a three-day pass from Fort Sam Houston at San Antonio.

Pvt. Randy, whose address and serial number are (he's only natural, ex-GI's, he likes mail call, too) RA 18-348-286, Hdqrs. Det. Med. Fld. Service School, B.A.M.C., Fort Sam Houston, is stationed with the medical corps. He's all of the cases coming through are wounded from Korea.

Randy says they will have a good football team in the fall with many ex-college stars on it. Incidentally, the Air Force at San Antonio (Lockland Field) thought they had convinced Randy he was going to enlist with them. But the big fullback fooled them and went over to Brooks and volunteered there. Headlines in the San Antonio papers last week read: "Nothing But Stars! The Army Air Force But Clay!"

It's our sincere hope that Randy will soon be able to get back into civilian life along with all the other GI's and pursue the great pro football career that was ahead for him.

TOM KRUTA, veteran left-hander on look with the Oilers, was returned to El Paso Friday, who in turn immediately sent him to Berger.

WARREN HACKER, former Oiler hurler, has been optioned out to Los Angeles by the Chicago Cubs.

Big JIM MARSHALL, former Duke first sacker, is really making good his first year with Oakland of the Pacific Coast League.

the kid's been cracking the ball hard. MERLIN HUBBARD threw a win for Sweetwater in his first start with the Longhorns last week.

A. L. PUGH, of Pampa, lettered as manager of the Rice University basketball team.

night's game. Oiler Outfielder FRANCIS RICE must have held some sort of record, getting on base safely, by hook or by crook, his last 17 times at bat.

Aggies Uncertain About NCAA Play

COLLEGE STATION — (AP) — An answer was awaited today from Texas A&M on whether the Aggies will try for a place in the National Collegiate Athletic Association baseball tournament.

The Aggies downed Texas 4-1 here Friday to finish in a tie with Texas for the Southwestern Conference championship.

Texas announced before the final series with A&M that if it lost the games it would withdraw as a contestant for the NCAA District 6 place.

As a result A&M was designated Southwestern Conference representative in the District 6 playoff, the Border Conference.

However, Barlow Irvin, A&M athletic director, asked time to decide if the Aggies would continue in baseball.

If A&M decides not to play, the place in the NCAA tournament at Omaha, Neb., next month probably will go to Arizona by default.

Blue Sox Romp Over Gold Hose

ABILENE — (AP) — The Blue Sox romped over the Amarillo Gold Sox, 10-1, in a 15-7 series opener Friday night for the Amarillo Gold Sox.

Charles Schmidt, who has hit safely in all but one game for Abilene this season, hit a two-run homer in the sixth for one of the night's four extra-base blows.

The score was tied twice, each side scoring twice in the first inning. Abilene added three in the third and Amarillo duplicated in the fourth. But the Blue Sox worked out a five-run deal in their part of the fourth to go ahead and stay.

Amarillo . . . 200 310 100-7 12 2 Abilene . . . 203 308 108-15 14 2 Zollicoffer, McCloughlin and Mufcaby; Schmidt and Bowland.

Lobos Rally In Eighth To Win

LAMESA — (AP) — Glenn Burns belted his eighth homer of the season, a two-run shot, in the eighth to give the Lobos an 8-6 win over the Albuquerque Dukes here Friday night.

A crowd of 970 fans watched the Lobos come from behind twice to snap a three-game losing streak. Righthander Ed Arthur, the star of the week in the West Texas-New Mexico League, gained credit for his fifth victory against two losses.

Bull's Rosen set the Dukes in order in the ninth to preserve Arthur's victory.

Southpaw Bob Spence went the route for the losers and suffered his third setback against a single triumph. Both hurlers received poor support as Spence allowed only nine hits and Arthur gave up eight safeties.

The Dukes collected only three earned runs and Lamesa earned only two tallies as six errors, four by the Dukes, accounted for nine.

Gavilan Captures Welter Crown

NEW YORK — (AP) — They whooped it up for Kid Gavilan in Havana and New York today. The Cuban had a rougher time with his jubilant countrymen than he had with Johnny Bratton in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

The flashy hawk of Cuba won the world's welterweight championship by outclassing Chicago Johnny in their 15-round title scrap. The decision was unanimous and decisive.

It was Cuba's first boxing champion since the days of Kid Chocolate in the early thirties.

Game Commission Okays Split Duck Hunting Season

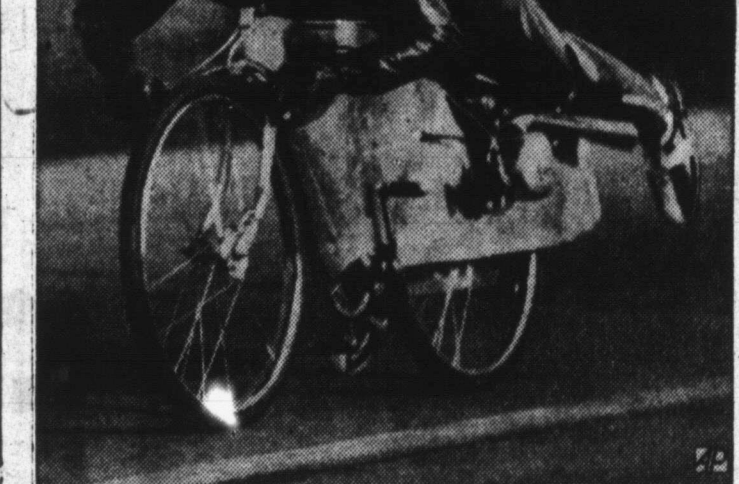

MCALEEN — (AP) — The Texas Game Commission today approved a plan to split the duck hunting season between the two halves of the state.

The commission met here yesterday and approved a resolution to the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service for the split season for ducks and geese. The state would be divided into a south and east Texas zone and a north and west Texas zone.

The commission also made plans for easing the shortage of game wardens, particularly in the Laguna Madre section.

Howard E. Dodgen, executive secretary of the commission, reported a force of 167 wardens at present, with 19 men enrolled in the warden training school which ends May 28. He said six wardens have gone into military service during the past year.

The commission instructed its administrative department to proceed with negotiations for purchase of additional land for enlarging existing game preserves.

Jones Leads Cards To Win Over Bums

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — Nippy Jones, recalled from the minors, led the St. Louis Cardinals to a single Saturday to lead the St. Louis Cardinals to a 6-4 victory over the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers.

Jones singled a run home in the first inning, doubled across another in the third and sent three mates scurrying home in the fifth with another two-bagger.

The defeat cut Brooklyn's lead over the runner-up Boston Braves to four percentage points. The victory pushed the Cards from sixth place to fourth in the hot pennant scramble.

Don Newcombe started for Brooklyn and surrendered all Cardinal runs. Chris Van Cuyk finished up and allowed only one hit over the final three innings.

The Dodgers pounded four Cardinal pitchers for 14 hits but three doubleplays held down the Brooks' scoring.

Bold Wins Running Of Preakness

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Bold, a flying Virginia colt from the Brookmeade Stable, ran away from seven rivals Saturday to win the $110,245 Preakness Stakes at Pimlico and gave Jockey Eddie Arcaro his fourth victory in the Maryland turf classic.

Master Eddie now has ridden more Preakness winners than any other jockey.

His mount, the Brown Son of By Jimmy Little Rebel, wore a one-eyed blinker over his right eye to keep him from drifting to the outside fence. He boomed down the stretch with a flash to whip C. V. Whitney's Countpoint by seven 1/2 lengths at the wire.

Bold's time for the mile and three sixteenths was a snappy 1:28 2-5, just 2-5 off Capot's Preakness and track record.

Countpoint, at 25-10-1, the longshot in the field for this 75th diamond jubilee Preakness, finished three quarters of a length ahead of the Hampton Stable's Alerted.

The race smacked Bold into the course 3-year-old picture, and provided a stiff challenge for the Kentucky Derby winner, Count Turf.

Jack Amiel's Count Turf won the derby two weeks ago, but wasn't nominated for the Preakness.

Irish Coaches' Summer Set

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock coaches will be busy this summer keeping in trim for the 1951 grid season.

Scott McCall, head coach, may work on his farm near Dalhart, McCall, a former all-state half-back at Masonic Home, and backfield star for the Texas Christian University Horned Frogs, is growing maize. He will return to Shamrock for the Aug. 27 opening of fall grid drills, in preparation for the Sept. 7 opener against the tough Childress crew.

Clarence Morris, end coach, "B" team coach and assistant in basketball, will be out selling a new brand of soil conditioner for which he is agent. Morris, a graduate of East State College at Commerce, holds both bachelor's and master's degrees, and is a former PT boat commander for the Navy in the Southwest Pacific.

H. W. Callan, boxing coach and line coach in football, will again be in charge of the Shamrock municipal swimming pool. He has done this for the past two summers. Callan, a graduate of Midwestern University, Wichita Falls, was a boxing star in the service, at Midwestern and also a former Irish gridman.

B. L. Hill, junior high basketball and football coach, assistant in senior high football and track coach, will take graduate study at Stephen F. Austin State College, Nacogdoches. He is a graduate of TCU.

Irish gridgers have a tough schedule in the newly-formed District 1-AA. Their conference foes include the potent Dalhart Wolves, the mighty Phillips Blackhaws, the Dumas Demons and the Perryton Rangers.

Last fall the Irish crushed the Dalharts, 31-7, and played a tense 13-13 tie with the Phillips crew. They beat Perryton easily, 27-0, but did not meet the Dumas eleven.

Although they lost the entire mainstaying backfield, Harrah Dunham, Don Lea, Vernon Tarbet and Kenneth Kidwell, and all-regional end, Vaughn Terry, the Irish have

Eagles Win 14-Inning 1-0 Battle From Tired Houston

DALLAS — (AP) — There have been only four 1-0 ball games played in the Texas League this season and Dallas has been in all of them — and won all of them.

The Eagles have been taking close decisions all season, not just the 1-0 affairs, and that's why they're firmly established in second place and along with San Antonio are pulling away from the field.

Last night Dallas won the fourth 1-0 affair, this one from Houston, but had to go fourteen innings to do it.

Jim Fridley singled through the box to drive in the tally that showed Dallas three games ahead of third-place Houston.

Meanwhile, San Antonio was kicking Fort Worth 8-7 mostly because Rex Barney, the ex-Brooklyn hurler sent to the Texas League to try to regain his accuracy, couldn't find the plate, and when he did get little help from his Fort Worth mates.

Barney, who set a Texas League record of 16 bases on balls in his first appearance for the Cats last Monday, walked seven last night in the three innings he worked. He also gave up six runs although touched for only three hits. Five of the runs made on him, however, were unearned.

San Antonio stayed three games ahead of Dallas.

Home runs decided the other two games.

Jack Matipin clouted the ball out of the lot in the seventh to furnish the margin for Beaumont in beating Tulsa 5-3. Hugh Radcliffe, former $40,000 "bonus beauty" of the Phillies and now

Junior Meet Due Monday

The Junior City Golf Tournament, which was originally scheduled to be wound up this afternoon, will get started instead tomorrow afternoon. The lengthy and heavy rains last week forced the delay in the start of the tournament.

All junior golfers who are entered in the big meet, and there are about 50, are asked to be at the golf course immediately following dismissal of school Monday afternoon.

The tournament has been divided into three classes, A, B and C so that boys of equal experience will be playing together. Fine prizes have been donated by Ham Luna, local sports enthusiast, to the two top golfers in each class.

The present city champion is Dick Prigmore, who will be back again to defend his crown.

Hubbers Wash Pioneers, 7-0

LUBBOCK — (AP) — Julio Moreno won his fourth game without a loss here Friday night, whitewashing the Clovis Pioneers, 7-0, behind the nine-hit attack of the Lubbock Hubbers.

Earl Hochstatter, with a single and a double, drove in four runs to pace the assault against Dick Myers, Mal Kramer and Orvil Jacoby. Al Kubski hit his second home run of the year in the seventh and had two other hits in three trips, including a double.

It wasn't until the eighth inning that Clovis pushed a runner as far as third base and a queer double play erased the only Pioneer scoring threat of the game. Up to that point, only Otto Reyes and reached second. He did it in the fifth when, with one out, he walked and moved up on an infield out.

Steps are being taken by the Office of Price Stabilization to enable slaughterers to continue killing and dressing beef, calves, veal, lamb and mutton while awaiting assignment of official graders by the Department of Agriculture.

Amendment 2 to Regulation 2 provides that slaughterers already having such authority may do their own grading for all types of meats through May 21, if the Department of Agriculture has informed them that there is no official grader available in their locality.

Slaughterers who have not applied for official grading service can do their own grading only for the two lowest grades of beef and the lowest grades of calves, veal, sheep and lamb.

Moscow Claims Americans Were Counter-Attacking

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Moscow's story is that the latest Communist offensive in Korea was really a counter-attack which resulted in a clear-cut victory for the Chinese "volunteers" and North Koreans.

State department officials said today that is the opposite of what they believe. They said the offensive was the failure of the offensive to make much headway against United Nations forces.

The outcome appears also to have made the Chinese Communists more cautious. Officials here told a reporter the Communists now are wary of predictions that the attack now building up will drive the Eighth Army into the sea. Officials said Moscow avoided such a prediction all along.

A Moscow military commentator named as Colonel Tolchenov gave the official Moscow version of Korean developments in a recent broadcast ordered by U.S. government monitors.

"The troops of the interventionists who over a period of several weeks, and at the expense of great losses, had managed to advance north of the 38th parallel, were repulsed southwards," said Tolchenov.

"But the U.S. command shows no mercy to its men. Early in May the interventionists embarked once more on several frontal attacks on costly counterattacks in their attempt to advance northward.

"Having begun their intervention against the Korean people, the U.S. imperialists continued a brilliant victory. One has had sufficient time since then to witness the utter failure of U.S. aggressive plans."

Tolchenov claimed serious losses were inflicted on U. N. forces.

He added:

"Keep in mind the fact that interventionist troops are receiving every support on the part of their air force and have, by comparison with the People's Army, immeasurably larger amounts of air transport."

Officers Have Own Idea On Great Debate

U.S. 5TH ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Korea — (AP) — Allied officers in Korea have their own version of America's "great debate."

The question here is: have the Chinese Communists finally massed enough strength to force a military decision in Korea—assuming they want to?

One group answers with an emphatic "yes."

Their argument: "The Reds have more tanks, more artillery, more reserves and—most important—more airplanes based in North Korea than at any time since they entered the war last December."

"The April 22 Communist push was not an all-out offensive. The Chinese attacked only because they were goaded by our incessant air and artillery attacks. That attack was premature. It was a reflex to our constant stabbing into their lines, like a swarm of hornets attacking when you prod their nest with a long stick."

"The Chinese are ready for the big one. They are getting replacements. Heavy rains are coming and they will hurt the mechanized United Nations army more than the Chinese. Low ceilings are holding down tactical air support."

"When the Chinese strike again they can mount an all-out drive designed to destroy the United Nations army or drive it into the sea."

That's one view.

Other officers are just as emphatic in rebuttal.

They say:

"The Chinese supply system is had. They haven't got the means to bring food and other equipment down from Manchuria. Our air force is playing havoc with the little transport the Chinese have. We have pretty well destroyed their supply routes."

"Therefore, the only thing they can do is mount short and shallow offensives, designed to penetrate our positions. Once that penetration has been made, the Communists hope they can find a new food supply. Then they can go on to exploit the breakthrough."

Lt. Gen. Edward M. Almond, commander of the U.S. 10th Corps, seems to agree with the latter view.

Last week he said the Chinese armies were "withering on the vine" for lack of supplies.

"It is a wonder to me how they are able to feed their mass army," he said.

He added that by tradition the Chinese have always "fought from one rice bowl to another."

"But we have denied them the graneries of Korea."

The key to the puzzle probably lies in the answer to this question: "Do the Communists actually want to reach a military decision in Korea?"

No one knows.

Perhaps, as one officer said, "they just want to keep us here in the hope that we will expend all our energy in a fruitless war

Minister Says Europe Change

HOUSTON — (AP) — "Simply terrific" is the way Mrs. Perle Mesta described the change in western Europe since the arrival of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower.

"The people are waking up. They're ready to get a gun and shoot," the American minister to Luxembourg declared.

What about these stories saying the Europeans are unwilling to fight again, the reporter asked.

Mrs. Mesta pointed a finger right at the reporter and declared: "Russian Propaganda. Russian Propaganda."

Look at my country of Luxembourg, she added. "It's the seventh largest steel producing country, and it has put everything at Eisenhower's disposal."

"It's simply magnificent — the

Traveled Across Gets Chance to Relax in California Home

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — It will take a baby to do it, but Deborah Kerr finally gets a rest from her world-wide film making.
The carrot-topped English beauty is expecting a child. Her discovery of that fact came just in time to excuse her from trundling to England to appear in "Ivanhoe."
"But please don't mention in print that I'm glad about getting out of the picture," she cautioned in mock seriousness. "The studio will think I did it on purpose."
On purpose or not, this will be Miss Kerr's first extended vacation at her California home. In the past two years she has become the film industry's most traveled actress.
First, she was sent back to her native England for "Edward, My Son." Then Ewana Metro hustled her off into the wilds of Africa in search of King Sol's Mines. The pursuit lasted five months through weather and conditions that strained (but did not break) Miss Kerr's even nature.
No sooner did she return to these shores than she was dispatched to Rome for the epic, "Quo Vadis." Six months and $3,000,000 later, she came back to Hollywood, only to be assigned to "Ivanhoe." Her reprieve came a fortnight ago.

I asked her which of the two big expeditions was worse.
"Funnily enough," she replied, "The trip to Rome was harder. Except for a couple of weeks when it was unbearable, the African trip wasn't too bad. But we worked in Rome during the hottest part of summer, and nothing in Africa was ever as bad."
"Even the natives said it was unusual (they sound like Californians. It was the hottest summer in 20 years. We were working indoors a lot, with great crowds of people under hot lights for the color film. Bob Taylor and I would come out of every scene wringing wet."
She added that the worst part of the African junket was spending the Christmas holidays in the field.
"We were thousands of miles from any place," she recalled, "with only some bad champagne to console us. Jimmy (Stewart Granger), Richard Carlson, my husband and myself sat around and got maudlin. Our greatest fear was: 'supposing after all this trouble, nobody wanted to see the picture!' Fortunately, "Quo Vadis" six months and $3,000,000 later, she came back to Hollywood, only to be assigned to

Young Chinese Stampede Home

SINGAPORE — (AP) — The lodging houses in Singapore — there are hundreds of them — are overflowing with "draft dodgers."
Thousands of young Chinese are flocking into this British crown colony city from the Federation of Malaya, all hoping to get quick passage to Red China. Most of these are Chinese between the ages of 18 and 24. The Federation Government a few months ago ordered a manpower registration of all within these age classifications. The government hoped to raise 20,000 men, some of whom would be assigned to fight against Communist terrorists in the dense jungles of Malaya.
Every lodging house here is jammed. Chinese are crowding halls, passageways and dining rooms. They sleep on camp beds and planks besides gunny sacks, bulging baskets and suitcases which contain their baggage.
A year ago, only 50 to 100 Chinese came to Singapore each month seeking passage to China.

You gentlemen go right ahead... We started at the 18th hole so we wouldn't be in anybody's way.

Army Pondering Non-Shooting GIs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Army wonders why all its soldiers don't shoot their weapons in battle.
Although in Korea American forces have a potential "fire power" far beyond that of any previous conflict, the mystery of the non-shooting soldier still persists — as it has in two world wars.
Some experts, among them Col. S. L. A. Marshall, retired Army officer and military writer, claim that in a fire-fight no more than one out of four men uses the rifle, automatic weapon or grenades he may be carrying.
The Army, in answer to a reporter's questions today, said it doesn't know the exact percentage or the exact reasons, but that:
"It is known that a significant number of infantrymen when actually engaged in combat fail to employ their individual weapons when observed and vulnerable targets (that is, something you could hit) are within effective range, the precise number, and the reasons for the behavior phenomena, remain alike unknown."
The Army's "operations research office" which delves into a multitude of curious little and big factors related directly and indirectly to fighting a war is analyzing the problem now on the basis of the Korean war, as well as on World War II records.
While these official experts are - not ready yet either to endorse or reject explanations which have been advanced, they did list some of them, including:

 - 1. Paralysis of fear.
 - 2. Lack of confidence in the weapon.
 - 3. Hoarding of ammunition.
 - 4. Lack of confidence in one's own skill in using the weapon.
 - 5. Lack of motivation or the will to fight and kill a specific enemy soldier, rather than the anonymous "enemy" — a failure to realize it is a matter of kill or be killed.
 - 6. Fear of provoking the enemy to direct, immediate retaliation — a desire to keep the front "all quiet."
 - 7. Apprehension about disclosing one's presence or the location of a friendly position by opening fire.
 - 8. A distorted notion of sportsmanship.
 - 9. Just ordinary indolence.
- The Army says there are other, more obvious factors that account for some of the men who don't shoot their guns. It often happens that the terrain of a battlefield or the position of a rifleman prevent him from seeing a target or from shooting at it if he does see it — for instance, if friendly troops are in the line of fire.
Moreover, while men in an infantry outfit may be issued rifles or grenades, their real jobs may be non-shooting — to operate field telephones or radio sets or cook for the company.

DISABLED VETS MAKE POPPIES — Making memorial poppies to be worn in honor of the war dead on Poppy Day is providing employment for thousands of disabled veterans, as demonstrated by Vincent De Silechts and James Lawrence. This is being done in hospitals all over the country, according to Mrs. M. E. Roche, poppy chairman of Pampa unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The work not only enables the veterans to earn money, but also is valuable as occupational therapy, Mrs. Roche said.

Disabled Vets Make Poppies For Memorial Day Sale Here

Saturday Pampans will honor the memory of America's dead in two world wars and the Korean war, by observing Poppy Day.

Mrs. Mike Roche, local auxiliary poppy chairman, is directing the observance. It is hoped that through the sale of the flowers, contributions to American Legion and Auxiliary rehabilitation will reach a national total of $3,500.

Poppies to be distributed here were made at Kerrville, Texas, where patients worked in their beds and in the occupational therapy department.

Local eighth grade art students in the classes of Miss Roy Riley have contributed 85 to 90 posters which will be displayed in the windows of Pampa merchants in observance of Poppy Day.

One store will feature a window display of a battle cemetery with miniature crosses "row on row." Between the crosses will be the poppies as they grow in the cemeteries in France and Belgium.

Auxiliary volunteers will be on the streets all day Saturday offering poppies to be worn. Contributions will go to the welfare of the wars' living victims, disabled veterans and needy children of veterans. Mrs. J. M. Turner, president of the Pampa Auxiliary said.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Prepare For A Long Siege

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
No matter what school of play you and your opponents follow there will be many cases in which the discard pile will reach such a size that you will be forced to fight for it. If you lose a substantial majority of these fights, you will lose at Canasta.

The reason will not be bad luck, it will be that you are playing badly. Of course, on some occasions it will be just a bad luck. The point to remember is that it happens often it must be bad play.

One cause, of course, is poor memory. If you have an odd jack in your hand and hang on to it desperately in spite of the fact that six jacks have already been discarded, that is too bad. Such extreme cases don't occur too often, but it is of the highest importance to remember which cards have been discarded, who threw them, and when they were thrown.

The poor player sometimes creates his own difficulties by his early play. For example, suppose each side needs 120 points. Our hero starts with a bad hand. After drawing he holds A-K Q-Q 10-9-7 6-6 5-4-2.

The poor player decides to hold all his high cards, and his first discard is the seven, the five or the four. He continues by getting rid of his odd low cards. Now, he draws more high cards and lets his pair of sixes go.

Eventually, we find him holding A-A K-K Q-Q 10 9-8 8 2-2. Maybe the eight is safe so he throws it, and his next draw is a king. No one has melded and every one of his cards except the two deuces is dynamite.

His best play in this spot is to meld 2-A-A K-K-K, 2-Q-Q or 2-9-9 and to throw the ten. Then, even though the opponents grab the pile, his side should be able

Wilson Says Russia Better Not Wait

NEW YORK — (AP) — Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson says it would be international lunacy for Russia to attack America if the Soviets wait until the end of 1953.

Wilson said he is confident that "once we have built America's might to the point that is now contemplated, there will be no war on a global scale."

By the end of 1953, he said, U. S. production and standby capacity will have been stepped up to the point where an all-out war could be supplied from then existing production lines.

"If such a (global) war were thrust upon us" Wilson said, "it could only be an act of international lunacy."

"If no war occurs," the mobilization chief added, "we will be able to convert to peaceful civilian uses many of the facilities now being used to build this country's might."

There are more wolves in northern Russia than in any other district of the United States.

All businessmen of this area are urged to attend or send representatives. Eggel will also be able to give information on the general ceiling price regulation.

MR. AND MRS. GLENN HESS

Miss Talley Glenn Hess Repeat Vows

Miss Katherine Talley and Glenn Hess exchanged wedding vows Thursday, May 10, in the First Methodist Church chapel in Pampa. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Talley of Skellytown, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Hess, of White Deer.

Dr. Orion W. Carter, pastor, read the double-ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Tall baskets of salmon colored gladioli formed the background decorations. Mrs. John Beigle of Skellytown, organist, played "The Lord's Prayer" softly during the ceremony, and Miss Margaret Moran sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." Mrs. Beigle also played the wedding marches.

The bride was attended by Miss Betty Jane Powers of White Deer. Bob McBrayer of White Deer served as best man. The ushers, Ernie Bill Terry and Roy E. Hodges, also of White Deer, lighted the candles.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a dress of white organza cloth trimmed in lace, and white opera pumps. On her head was a halo of carnations and she carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with streamers atop a white Bible. She also carried out the tradition of "something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue."

The bride's mother wore a navy dress and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother was dressed in black and she also wore pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. The table was laid with a white embroidered linen cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom standing under a bell. Cake and punch were served by Mrs. C. E. McIntyre, Mrs. T. C. Coffey, Miss B. Lewis and Miss Carla Gores. Mrs. Bob McBrayer presided at the guest register.

The bride attended Pampa High School and later transferred to White Deer High School where she was graduated. She also attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and Draughon's Business College in Amarillo.

The bridegroom was also graduated from White Deer High School and is now in the Navy, stationed in San Diego, Calif. The couple left after the ceremony for a short wedding trip. They will live in San Diego.

Vows Exchanged In Methodist Church Unite Miss Pierson, Richard Dickey

Lighted by masses of cathedral tapers, the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church was the scene last evening for the formal wedding ceremony in which Sybil Pierson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Pierson, 1121 Mary Ellen, became the bride of Richard Barr Dickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ray Dickey of Lubbock.

Dr. Orion Carter, pastor, read the double-ring service at 7:30 o'clock. Garlands of ferns and white gladioli entwined white candles marking the full length of the white-carpeted bridal aisle. Baskets of fan-shaped arrangements of white gladioli backed the altar, and the prayer rail was banked with fern and topped with white candle tapers.

As a prenuptial prelude, Mrs. H. A. Yoder, organist, played "Andante," "Cantabile," and "Melodie" (Tschalkowsky); "Reverie" (Strauss), and "Berceuse" (Tchikovsky). Introducing the ceremony, Miss Janie Branson sang "I Love Thee" (Greig).

Mrs. Lee Moore, Jr., was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Richard Stowers of Pampa, Miss Charlene Kiker of Beaumont, and Mrs. R. E. Collier of Lubbock. They wore identical gowns of yellow marquisette over tulle, styled with fitted bodices and cap sleeves with elbow-length matching mitts.

The oval cut necklines had bands of snoring encircling the necklines, and the bouyant skirts were floor-length. Their hair was styled in waves of yellow net, matching their dresses, and they carried crescent-shaped bouquets of yellow and white majestic daisies, tinted with yellow illusion and yellow satin streamers.

Clinton DeWolfe of Lubbock was best man. Serving as groomsmen were Wayne Ruse, Bob Hurnance, Bill Millian of Lubbock and Lee Moore, Jr., of Pampa.

Accompanied to the altar by her father who gave her in marriage, the bride was attired in a gown of white organza, with a princess fitted bodice, a deep round neckline was delicately accented with a yoke of imported Chantilly lace. The skirt widened into a full cathedral train, and her long fitted gloves of matching Chantilly lace extended to points over the hands.

The fingertip veil of double importance was attached to a Juliet cap of matching white light satin bands which were touched with seed pearls. The bridal bouquet was lilies of the valley centered with a white Mossale orchid with white satin streamers showered with stephanotis.

Mrs. Pierson, mother of the bride, wore a lilac lace and crepe gown. Her matching flowered hat of lilacs was complemented with a veil, and her corsage was a Cattela orchid. Mrs. Dickey, mother of the bridegroom, wore a gown of delicate pink lace and chiffon over tulle. Her hat was of matching flowers and she carried pink camellias on her purse.

Mrs. Harold Wright Is New President Of Pampa Art Club; Other Officers Named

Mrs. Harold Wright was installed as president of the Pampa Art Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. H. Hicks. Other new officers are Mrs. Loyal Davies, vice-president; Mrs. Cecil Shirley, secretary and treasurer; and Mrs. A. C. Cox, reporter. Mrs. R. H. Nienstiel, outgoing president, conducted the meeting.

Mrs. Billy Davis presented the program, discussing "Modern Art." Mrs. Davis said, "The word modern, as described by Mr. Webster, means 'of or characteristic of the present time.' It is not easy to sum up the nature of modern art in a few words. In painting there are a number of official categories — cubism, surrealism, expressionism, futurism, abstractionism or nonobjectivism.

"But when the layman uses the phrase he has in mind two particular characteristics which for him set this art off from more conventional painting. First of all, he finds it difficult to understand; secondly, he often finds that it does not concern itself with the beautiful but with the ugly or the strange. The layman is reassured to find that this kind of painting has drawn fire of distinguished thinkers. Artistic theories, for example, have declared that modern art is symptomatic of a decay in the moral values of our age.

"For about 40 years the art of painting has exhibited a variety of manifestations loosely identified in the public mind with the phrase 'modern art.' Originating in the works by such acknowledged masters as Cezanne, Van Gogh, Seurat and Gauguin, these manifestations made their appearance in the studios of Paris in the first decade of this century, multiplied into a multitude of new artistic styles, and found a kinship with a wide variety of intellectual currents and spread throughout the world wherever artists paint. Today they confront the visitor in almost any gallery as strange distortions of reality, private nightmares, depictions of 'ugly' things; human figures and objects look wrong, cubes and geometrical patterns that accord with nothing recognizable in nature.

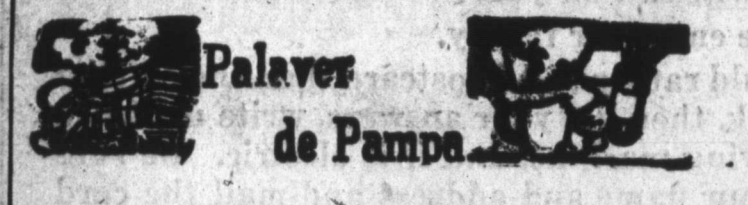

"These modern works do not, of course, constitute the whole of 20th century art. Many artists have remained quite unaffected by them; others have been influenced only during certain periods of their careers. Nevertheless, it is fair to say that the modern movement has constituted the dominant trend in the art of our time. It has been encouraged by important institutions. It has been promoted by art dealers, and it has left behind it so much controversy and confusion that a great part of the public has become antagonistic to contemporary painting."

Mrs. Davis showed and discussed the following paintings: Picasso's "Girl Before a Mirror"; "Person Throwing a Stone at a Bird"; Henri Matisse's "Goldfish and Sculpture"; "Three Judges" by Rouault and a painting by Stuart Davis.

Refreshments were served to 23 members and guests.

After the breakfast a short business meeting was held and officers for the coming year were installed. Those installed were Mrs. Gene Fatheree, president; Mrs. Bob Curry, vice president; Mrs. Rex Rose, secretary; Mrs. J. B. Vesale, treasurer; Mrs. Frank Kelley, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Clinton Evans, reporter.

Mrs. Frank Kelley, outgoing president, was presented with a gift by the club. There were 14 members and the hostess present.

ALL WE CAN SAY is that there's nothing half-way about us ... we either have drought or flood! Everyone's been singing "Song of Venice" this week... you know "where the streets are flowing rivers, etc. It's been refreshing tho' to be drenched with rain and get the taste of dust out of our mouth. When it finally stopped (?) raining we saw kids all over town wading along the curbs where the water was deepest (and dirtiest) and what fun they seemed to be having! In city park they abandoned playground equipment and turned to more adventuresome play of pirates at sea or castaways on desert isles.

ALWAYS THERE SHOULD be caution connected with children at play, but especially when water is on the rampage. Another time when we parents should always know where the kiddoes are!

THE FLOWER BEDS will be right for diggin' soon as the ground dries just a bit. Thursday when the sun peeped through for the first time in days, everything just seemed to glisten ... all fresh and clean! Guess Mother Nature figured Pampa needed her face scrubbed ... but good! It was very appropriate what with clean-up campaigns and all. But back to flower beds. We let the children plant some seeds this year. Those are what we call surprise plants ... we never know what is going to come up. They seem to have just a bit more interest in the yard if there's something growing there that they planted all by themselves.

PANORAMICALLY: One thing that weather like this does is bring the latest rain fashions into the spotlight ... you really just "aren't in the swim" if you don't have one of the iridescent rain coats that provide enough warmth and give protection, too! ... Remember March 25 Peg mentioned that the Buck Riddles were hoping for a little sister for their two sons ... they got a little sister for each of the boys as it turned out! twin girls and congratulations! ... Mrs. Scott Fletcher seems to be quite active in Kappa Kappa Iota work ... Mrs. D. W. Swain is a pleasant hostess, we hear ... Mrs. Ivan Nobis is a charming person ... Mrs. Douglas Carver looks prettier every time I see her ... always has the "cutest" hats ... And speaking of pretty, Mrs. Coy Palmer looks just that in black ... she's very friendly ... The Ray Salmons are a handsome couple ... she is one of those who brighten up most any costume with flowers ... Of all the wonderful things we've heard about the Ham Lima's complete redecorating, we like the den "bestest" ... but the kitchen seems a close second ... it's all spanking new with dishwasher, washer, dryer, deep freeze, stove and refrigerator ... miss anything? The young Leonard Hollis are "infantipating" ... so are the Paul Browns ... Lillian McWright and Gladys Howard had the right idea wearing slacks last Thursday while the weather was still muddy and just a trifle damp ... Mrs. E. O. Wedgeworth is a sweet person ... has a very talented daughter ... B. G. Gordons have a pretty new green car ... surely like that color.

UNDERSTAND the Luther Piersons are celebrating their 30th wedding anniversary tomorrow. It will probably be a quiet affair, however, as they have been head over heels in wedding plans for some time.

HEARD THAT THE teachers had a wonderful time at their annual banquet the other night. Sometimes we hear, "teacher sez" or "teacher thinks" 'till we wish the kiddies would turn their admiration of at home ... but then it's a splendid tribute to the teachers that to the small fry they're kings and queens, the lot of 'em!

AND JUST A THOUGHT. In the last months Peg's passed a few compliments on some local teachers (that comes so easy) and from all concerned this corner has had pleasant little "thank you notes!" See what wonderful people they are.

"GOOD HOUSEKEEPING" has come up again this month with another "first!" There's a needlework manual in the June issue that's really helpful. (Remember the pie and hat making articles?) This is a good time for "how-to-do" series what with spring house cleaning underway. (My, haven't the windows been muddy looking things covered with layers of dust plus rain which equals just plain mud!) Anyway, soon as the curtains are done up fresh, cupboards cleaned, etc., it makes one want to add a few other little "perk-ups" like new tea towels for the kitchen, guest towels and such. McCall's has some darling patterns for tea towels and there are also some embroidery patterns for luncheon cloths that are worth copying.

BY THE WAY, with summer vacation approaching a little needlework will occupy the restless girls in your household. Their little fingers flit through simple stitches and even the more complicated embroidery work. Saw a delightful display of some of the grade schoolers' work at the library recently. They turned out some clever little puppets and some weaving done on a loom, (or whatever you call it). Seems a long time since mothers taught daughters the use of a needle. That's when there was but one goal for our daughters ... to be successful and talented homemakers. But times change. We seldom teach them the art of cooking, either!

My name's in the phone book. There for all to see. But though you look 'n look. You still won't catch me!

Rain-fully, PEG O' PAMPA

Caldwell-Green Vows Exchanged In Phillips Church

Miss Wyanette Caldwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Caldwell of Borger, became the bride of Stanley Green, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Green, Sr., of Phillips, Sunday, April 29. The ceremony was read by the Rev. Jeff M. Moore, pastor of the Borger Calvary Baptist Church in the First Methodist Church in Phillips. The bride is the niece of Loyse Caldwell of Pampa.

The bride was given away by her brother, Thomas R. Caldwell. She wore a white organza ballerina-length gown fashioned with a circular skirt and sleeveless torso-cut bodice of eyelet which was hand embroidered onto the skirt. She wore a white eyelet pointed, elbow-length gloves, and her finger-length veil was scalloped and fell from a white eyelet cap trimmed with net and lilies of the valley. She carried a single large orchid with long white streamers on a white Bible.

For something old she wore her great-grandmother's gold watch; for something new, a silk chiffon handkerchief trimmed in lace, given to her by her mother; something borrowed, the gold chain on which the watch was worn.

The maid of honor, Miss Henri Ann Williams, was dressed in a sleeveless peach organza dress with a circular ballerina-length skirt and wore a peach tulle cap. She carried a lavender iris bouquet. The bridesmaid, Miss Betty Kossey, wore a Nile green dress of the same style and carried a yellow carnation bouquet.

Before the ceremony Miss Wanda Alexander sang "Through the Years" and "Always." The church was decorated with bouquets of purple iris and yellow gladioli. The candelights, Miss Louise Barkley and Jerry Chitwood, lighted 14 white candles.

The groomsmen, Jerry Chitwood and Robert Miller, were in the uniform of the U. S. Navy, as was the bridegroom. The best man, E. F. Hancock, wore the Army Air Corps uniform. The bride's mother wore a mulberry sharkskin suit with pink accessories, pink straw hat and navy shoes. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray suit and an orchid straw, flower trimmed hat. Both wore corsages of pink roses. At the reception, given in the bride's home, Mrs. Lela Mae Williams, Mrs. Ruel Smith and Mrs. Johnny Haynes served the cake and punch. A miniature ship was used in table decorations. Peach roses formed the table centerpiece and the house was decorated with peach gladioli and purple iris. Mrs. D. R. Spradling was in charge of the guest book at the home and also at the church.

"We will work to conserve and improve family life and, as needed, to provide foster care according to your inherent rights.

"We will intensify our search for new knowledge in order to guide you more effectively as you develop your potentialities.

"As you grow from child to youth to adult, establishing a family life of your own and accepting larger social responsibilities, we will work with you to improve conditions for all children and youth.

"Aware that these promises to you cannot be fully met in a world at war, we ask you to join us in a firm dedication to the building of a world society based on freedom, justice, and mutual respect.

"So may you grow in joy, in faith, in God and in man, and in those qualities of vision and of the spirit that will sustain us all and give us new hope for the future."

Country Club Open Luncheon Meeting Will Launch Work Of Women Voters

The Provisional League of Women Voters of Pampa will give an informal luncheon at the Country Club at 12 o'clock Thursday, May 24. This will open the year's work for this organization, which is a new one in Pampa. The luncheon will be open to all men and women who are interested in good government on national, state and local levels. Reservations may be made by calling the Country Club, 1593, before 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Mrs. J. D. Perryman, state worker from Dallas, will speak at the luncheon, as will two local men.

These men will speak on the bond issue for improvement of airport facilities to be voted on here May 26. They will discuss the issue, pro and con, which is typical of the non-partisan work of the league.

Courtesy cars will provide transportation to and from the Country Club, returning those to town who must be back by 1 o'clock.

Preceding the luncheon there will be a board meeting from 10 until 12, also open to anyone interested in the work of the league. Another open meeting will follow the luncheon, and will close at 3 o'clock.

Although there is no obligation connected with the luncheon or meetings, Mrs. Ralph Sidwell will be on hand at all sessions to receive dues from anyone wishing to join, either as an active or as an associate member. Men may be associate members.

The League of Women Voters is not the usual women's club, and seldom takes on a social side. It is for the most part a work shop for those seriously concerned with promoting political responsibility. It is non-partisan and takes a stand on issues only after thorough consideration, and then only on those issues well within league policy. The main work of the league is to give out impartial information. The voter must make up his or her own mind.

The league has an established record for its accomplishments throughout the United States. It is a policy of this organization to contact all cross-sections of the community.

Heading the local provisional league is Mrs. Frank Culbertson, president. Other leaders are Mrs. H. H. Hahn, first vice president; Mrs. W. A. American Anglers Like Glass Rods

By BOB BRISTER
 ATHENS, Tex. — (AP) — It took some convincing, but the American fishermen have taken to the glass fishing rod like a duck to water.

Back when the first companies marketed "glass rods, the new products were a laughing matter. "Everybody knows glass will break," guys were quipping to each other, but at the same time, they were picking up advance models and admiring their lightness and feel.

Through intensive advertising campaigns, demonstrations at sporting goods shows, and cautious purchases by a few sportsmen — the general public came to know glass rods. Within a matter of weeks, the new product had become a rage instead of a novelty.

Today you'll find a large percentage of fishermen casting a light tough glass rod. And you'll rarely find one who isn't tickled pink with his selection.

Look at it this way: Bamboo was light — but also breakable and required a lot of care. A tiny crack in the finish might mean a ruined rod later on. Glass rods are practically unbreakable — and require no care at all.

Steel rods, the favorite of most anglers three or four years ago, were strong. But many of them were heavy, and they would also break under pressure. Many an angler has snapped a fine steel rod in half attempting a long cast.

Glass rods, again, are light. And you can throw a plug a mile if you're man enough — without risking anything more serious than a backlash.

Steel rods were susceptible to corrosion, bamboo to rot. Glass is affected by neither fresh nor salt water, and is just as good after a dunking as before.

And so it goes. You can find a hundred good things about a glass rod — nothing really wrong with one.

Nobody knows this better than the manufacturer.

For the space of a very short time, a few companies had an edge in glass rod production. But when the public responded with a glass buying spree — every-

President Named By Carson-Armstrong County Teachers

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Alex Hale of Groom was elected president of the Carson-Armstrong County Unit of the Texas State Teachers Assn. at a meeting held Friday.

Superintendents of the member schools, James Cox, Panhandle; Ray Vineyard, White Deer; W. B. Harris, Groom; John Morris, Claude and Thompson, Goodnight, were named vice-presidents; Mrs. Carrie Foster, Groom, secretary-treasurer; and Miss Neva Fine, Groom, reporter.

Before the business meeting a picnic supper was served by the Groom faculty.

company in the books began thinking in terms of glass plastic. Today most of the major companies already have marketed their glass rods. Others will appear from time to time.

And the big factor — the one which is most amazing of them all — is that the new type rods are actually cheaper than the types they replaced.

A top-flight bamboo rod costs about twice the price of a good glass one. The same goes for steel.

"ISS GOOT?" — Oksana Kucmyda shows husband, Wasył, and baby, Stephen Romik, some of her unusual needlework. The Polish couple is in domestic service here, arriving last August. From July 1947 to the end of 1949 some 95,500 displaced persons had settled in this country through the help of the International Refugee Organization and other societies. The Kucmadas are just two of the many thousands of displaced persons who have arrived in America since that time. About 12,000 were on the ship which brought the local couple to this country. Today Holds Significance For Polish Couple In Pampa

By WANDA CAMPBELL
 Today is "I Am An American Day!"

For Wasył and Oksana Kucmyda, Polish-born immigrants now living here, this day holds real significance because their son born here in December is an American citizen!

The Polish couple is in domestic service at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Jones, 900 Christine. They are just two of many thousands of displaced persons brought to the United States through the work of the International Refugee Organization. This organization followed on the heels of a congressional act which in 1948 authorized the entrance of 20,000 displaced persons from Germany, Austria, Italy and Czechoslovakia.

The IRO has done a big job in rehabilitating the mass of Europeans, but there is still an internal problem in Germany where several million Volksdeutsche were said to be living in late 1950. These people were deported to Germany from Czechoslovakia and former parts of Germany that are now under control of Poland and the USSR.

The displaced persons are unwanted in Germany. They draw most of their support from occupying forces because of the critical shortage of food and employment and lack of housing.

It was all this that indirectly led Wasył and Oksana Kucmyda to Pampa, Texas, USA!

They applied for help through the American consulate and in the meantime, Dr. and Mrs. Jones were working through Father Soklich in Amarillo to get a couple here. They are responsible for the couple for a year, and after that time they can "go out on their own" or elect to stay here. In five years they can file a petition for citizenship.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucmyda are now members of a movement that goes back as far as history is recorded. Always there has been immigration. Famines, wars, new lands and climatic changes have all played a part in keeping people in movement.

From earliest times immigration to this country has been a movement of individuals or families rather than nations and races. Migration from Germany has always been particularly strong — from the revolution of 1848 down to the Franco-Prussian war.

All occupational classes are represented in the displaced persons coming to this country — farmers, skilled craftsmen, domestic workers, clerical, laborers and a few professional and semi-professional people.

Early immigrants were farmers primarily, but as the years passed, the land was all taken, and the people were forced to cities and mining camps. This created race settlements and sections and the people kept up their old way of life and sometimes knew little of the American way.

The local couple lived in Poland until 1940. He was born in Naselene, June 3, 1910, and she was born in Tajkawa, Jan. 22, 1916. They were married in 1947 while in a German DP camp. Mr. Kucmyda went to Germany in 1940. ("We traveled the 70 miles across the border in transport trains," he said). Mrs. Kucmyda went to Germany in 1942. In Germany Kucmyda worked as a wood cutter and for two years worked as a brick-layer earning 20 marks a month and working 16 hours a day.

They marks are equal to one American dollar) he went to a German employment bureau where he accepted as a matter of fact the working hours and wages fun!

Kucmyda's father was a farmer in their homeland, but they do not know whether he is living. He also has three sisters of whom he knows nothing. Since the Russians came his family has been separated. Though he speaks no English, the bitterness and hostility he feels for the Russians creeps into his gestures and voice. "Stalin, no goot!" is a distinguish-able expression. He related many of the Russian atrocities he has seen, and that is why he fears for the lives of his lost family.

Mrs. Kucmyda has five sisters and two brothers that have been lost from her in the last years. Her mother is dead.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucmyda have each had two years of schooling in the town of Sonack where they grew up. However he speaks German, Finnish, Yugoslav and Czechoslovakian fluently.

The couple likes Pampa. "It's best here," they say, nodding their heads enthusiastically. But they are sad that there are no Polish people here. He has a cousin in England who writes, and they correspond with a Michigan couple whom they met enroute to America. Mrs. Jones subscribed to a Polish newspaper printed in the U. S. for them, but other than that they have no contact with their homeland.

They have learned to like many things here — hot dogs, hamburgers, coca cola — but they have learned to dislike a feature about this Panhandle of Texas. Kucmyda came into the house after the recent "black duster" and shaking his head he said, "Pampa no goot, too!"

Mrs. Kucmyda spends all her leisure time with her young son, Stephen Romik (pronounced Steffen with a short E.) They have bought a short wave radio — their one luxury — since they arrived here. They can pick up

White Deer Youth Wins Scholarship To Yale University

WHITE DEER — (Special) — Jon Scott, 1950 graduate of White Deer High School, has passed his college entrance examinations and received official notification of his acceptance into Yale University and the granting of a scholarship valued at about $1000 a year. He plans to major in history and economics.

Jon has attended Taft School in Watertown, Conn., this year, where he has not only maintained a high scholastic average, but has made a record in athletics. He played on the freshman football team and recently won first place in the discus throw. His hopes before the season is over to break the school record of 124'9".

His mother, Mrs. Helen Little Scott, a former resident of Skellytown, who now lives in San Antonio, plans to return to Pampa this summer. After two weeks sailing with a friend along the eastern coast, Jon will join her there.

some of the foreign stations on it, and that has brought them much pleasure.

It's interesting to note that Mrs. Kucmyda arrived on the ship in New Orleans (there were 12,000 immigrants aboard) and although she had very few clothes, she had a lipstick and curlers for her hair! She is an expert at needlecraft. The texture of the fine linen she brought here is enhanced with her original embroidered designs. The vivid colored threads cannot be matched — nor can the unique stitches.

While in the DP camp Mrs. Kucmyda embroidered on bur-lap, for want of linen, and many of her loveliest patterns are on this rough material, but a nonetheless handsome.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucmyda do not plan for the future. "Who knows what the next year brings?" they say. They have not planned what they will do when their year with the local family ends in August. They long for their homeland but will never go back under Communistic rule.

If Poland become as it once was they may want to return and take their young American son, but with conditions as they are now they would rather remain here. (An egg in their country costs five shillings and a suit of clothing 100 marks, and remember that it takes five marks to make an American dollar.)

The benefits of clean surroundings and proper feed for the baby are far greater than the longing for their homeland.

But that's a privilege they have in this country — of becoming naturalized or returning to Poland — working for an American family or going on their own.

But the most remarkable thing is that this five-month-old boy, born in Pampa, Texas, of Polish-born immigrants, could someday grow up to be President of the United States!

Shell Will Build Plant At Houston For Benzene Output

Construction of a new Shell Oil multi-million dollar plant will begin immediately at Shell's Houston refinery, it was announced today by F. S. Clulow, vice-president in charge of manufacturing.

The new plant will boost the critically short supply of benzene, and will also make 38,000,000 gallons of toluene concentrate, an ingredient of high octane aviation gasoline, the spokesman said.

Aside from its importance in increasing the supply of benzene, Clulow said, Shell's plant represents a new trend in benzene production. Benzene is used in making synthetic rubber, nylon, detergents and plastics.

The other plant in Shell's second, the other, in which Shell made the first benzene ever produced in commercial quantities from petroleum, is in California.

FORT WORTH LADY LOSES 20 POUNDS

"I like Barcotrate very much. It has done wonders for me," writes Mrs. T. V. Pace, Route 6, Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas. "When I commenced to take Barcotrate, I weighed 148. I had high blood pressure, I have now taken four bottles and lost 20 pounds, do not have high blood pressure, sleep and feel fine. It is a wonderful medicine."

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy — no troubles at all and costs little. Just go to your drugist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcotrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add 12 ounces of canned grapefruit juice. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and cellulite, more graceful curves; if you don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

"I have taken 2 bottles of Barcotrate and lost 12 pounds," says W. C. McElroy, 1923 Sixth St., Lubbock, Texas. "I feel lots better."

Ant Syrup Fails To Harm Four-Year-Old
 ARCADIA, Calif. —(P)—“Yum, Yum,” said little Carmen, age four. But her mother, Mrs. Anna A. Ayala, suspected something was wrong. Carmen had made a fuss the last time she had to take cough syrup. She took another look at the bottle. It was ant syrup.
 At the emergency hospital they said Carmen would suffer no ill effects.
 all night. The unit was taken off its alert Thursday afternoon by the governor.
 The unit came home by way of the Clarendon Highway and that brings me to the spot in this column that I want to offer congratulations to the two drivers of the trucks that were out that night. On the way into Pampa, the highway was flooded at Mear's Lake. There was approximately two feet of water over Alanreed. There, the situation was inspected by Lt. Robinson and Sheriff Jordan, and it was decided that the unit should move on around to the north side of the dam and see if there was anything there that would warrant more action by the battery. The trucks of the unit then followed the sheriff's car around by way of Route 66 and the Clarendon Highway and then the trucks went on down into the dam area. By the way, here is where the drivers of the trucks deserve a lot of credit, but I'll tell you more about that later. After arriving at the dam, another inspection was made and after consultation, it was decided that unless something else came up later in the evening, the unit would not be needed any longer. It was then decided that the unit should go back to Pampa and they would be left on the alert still 443.

Ant Syrup Fails To Harm Four-Year-Old

ARCADIA, Calif. —(P)—“Yum, Yum,” said little Carmen, age four. But her mother, Mrs. Anna A. Ayala, suspected something was wrong. Carmen had made a fuss the last time she had to take cough syrup. She took another look at the bottle. It was ant syrup.
 At the emergency hospital they said Carmen would suffer no ill effects.
 all night. The unit was taken off its alert Thursday afternoon by the governor.
 The unit came home by way of the Clarendon Highway and that brings me to the spot in this column that I want to offer congratulations to the two drivers of the trucks that were out that night. On the way into Pampa, the highway was flooded at Mear's Lake. There was approximately two feet of water over Alanreed. There, the situation was inspected by Lt. Robinson and Sheriff Jordan, and it was decided that the unit should move on around to the north side of the dam and see if there was anything there that would warrant more action by the battery. The trucks of the unit then followed the sheriff's car around by way of Route 66 and the Clarendon Highway and then the trucks went on down into the dam area. By the way, here is where the drivers of the trucks deserve a lot of credit, but I'll tell you more about that later.
