Answers to the questionnaires or the Community Chest plans in Pampa are rolling in, a spokesman for the fact-finding committee said Saturday.

It is hoped that by next week a majority of the questionnaires will be in, and the committee can summarize the responses. After that time a meeting will be called and final plans for the organization or abandonment of the Community Chest will be made.

Questionnaires were sent to a number of cities in this area where a community chest plan operates.

Contract Is Let To Remove Curbs
A contract for $1800 was let to O K Construction Co. for removing curbs and debris on the east and west side of the Court House, a county spokesman said Saturday.

B. Ridgway who stepped into command of Eighth Army after General Walker was killed in a tragic accident.

Ridgway arrived on the scene at the low ebb of the fighting. He brought to Korea none of the heartbreaks suffered by those who had carried the burden of the fighting. He had no emotional involvement. He could survey the damage with the cold and detached view of a surgeon who must patch up a broken body and also give his patient the will to live.

In his favor was the fact that he had more authority than Walker or Almond ever had. Each of them had commanded in reality only half an army, each had been responsible only for half of the fighting front.

Ridgway put the two parts together for the first time. He helped instill in this army the will to fight again. And his men came out slugging.

It's one of the greatest stories of any American army in history. This story of an army that fought its way back from defeat through a fog of gloom that crept even into high places.

Looking back, it doesn't seem very important who was first to be "gloomy" over the prospect of an army being destroyed. The wonder would have been if there had been a man who wasn't alarmed.

But the important thing is that the first United Nations army battled its way from the depths to win a victory over its own fears. And that is "The Miracle of Korea."

For in that great transformation of the U. S. Eighth Army from the defeated to the victor lies a lesson that is perhaps more important than the answers to a lot of questions now puzzling the lawmakers.

This miracle has to do with a victory over fear and the dispute over whether General MacArthur or the joint chiefs of staff were the first to become alarmed about a possible evacuation of United Nations forces from Korea last winter.

The argument has now taken on overtones of accusation which imply some guilt for anyone who thought about quitting Korea in those dark days.

The truth is that neither MacArthur nor the joint chiefs were the first to become gloomy over the imperilled U. S. Eighth Army.

The gloom sprang from the army itself — the army which at that time was in full retreat before charging hordes of Chinese Reds. And the top brass merely shared this gloom.

Here was the situation:
In late November and early December, the Chinese had battered the Eighth Army, and Tenth Corps into retreat. Both these forces had been hurt badly. Both had suffered losses in manpower and equipment — and they were isolated from each other. Neither was able to lend the other a helping hand.

I was in Korea at the time and the situation appeared hopeless. Evacuation seemed inevitable to me and to almost all the military men with whom I talked.

As soon as the great retreat began, MacArthur called his commanders — Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker (now dead) and Lt. Gen. Edward Almond of Tenth Corps — to a conference in Tokyo. That was on Nov. 28.

No one yet has said what went on in that conference. But six days later Army Chief of Staff J. Lawton Collins reported to Washington that MacArthur believed the best solution would be for the UN to "arrange an armistice on the best terms available as soon as possible."

And Collins later reported that MacArthur had been told by his field commanders they could evacuate their forces from Hungnam and Pusan without too much difficulty.

SPRING
of recent heavy rains and emergency pumping equipment has attempted to empty flooded city sewage lines into the lake at a rate of some 800 gallons a minute.

A doctor warned that the water supply for Groom may be diminished by seepage from the polluted lake. Two city water wells near the lake have been shut down.

Water level in the lake, normally dry, rose some 22 inches from rains Thursday night.

Large areas of the country were weather-groggy Saturday from the freak June binge of the elements, killing at least five and destroying crops and property, according to an Associated Press report.

Lightning killed a woman and her daughter and two farm workers in Alabama and a soldier on field maneuvers at Fort Benning, Ga., Friday.

Ripping winds flung a carnival acrobat to death from the top of his 118-foot pole in Detroit Friday night. The wind gusts reached 98 miles an hour.

The deep South baked in oven dry heat that threatened cotton, corn and pastures. The most violent weather accompanied movement of a cold front across the Great Lakes and into the Eastern states.

In addition to its new auto production order, the NPA places controls on sulphur for the first time. The mineral, from which sulphuric acid is made, is used in virtually all essential industries. From now on sulphur supplies must have NPA's okay before making shipments. And sulphur users will be limited to 100 percent of 1950 consumption.

Southwest Manufacturers Are Invited To Armed Forces Show

Manufacturers of the southwest today by the local chamber of commerce. The exhibit is supported by the Munitions Board's Armed Forces Regional Councils. Military officials point out that the exhibit will permit engineering and contracting representatives to discuss with the small manufacturers their actual products. Major subcontractors will play their military products for the benefit of the smaller businesses willing to undertake subcontract manufacturing.

The Fort Worth show will be one of the first in the nation with all three branches of the service participating. The exhibit, to be staged in the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum, will be restricted to manufacturers from Monday, June 25, through Friday, June 29, but on Saturday, June 30, displays will be open to the public. Any Pampa manufacturers interested in the exhibit are invited to communicate with the Project Officer, Armed Forces Small Business Exhibit, Box 9039, Fort Worth, Texas.

May Rains Too Late To Help Area Wheat; Cotton Planted

May rains came too late to be of much help to Gray County wheat farmers, but elsewhere in the state some fairly good yields are expected. If favorable conditions prevail between now and harvest, there is a possibility of producing a crop of 15,000,000 bushels in the state, compared to 22,712,000 in 1950, reports show. No hail damage has been reported in Gray county, but there has been considerable damage to crops in other sections in the last few days. Rains have helped what little wheat there is in the county, and farmers expect a full head in the estimated 5 percent of seeded acreage that will be cut. Harvest has started in a small way in the Wichita Falls area. Recent rains have permitted planting of cotton in this area, however one McLean farmer believes any planting that has been done will have to be done over. Some corn is reported in the McLean vicinity, and in other sections of the state corn is reported to be in the finest condition in years. Many fields are in full tassel, and good color and growth indicate heavy yields. Grain sorghums planted early are making good progress, and acreage devoted to this crop may exceed all previous records. Pastures in the northwest have had much moisture, and range conditions in the state are generally good, except in some of the extreme southern counties.

Vegetable Growing Contest Is Slated For Farm Youths

Rules for the 11th annual production-marketing contest of the National Junior Vegetable Growers Assn. that enables Texas farm youths to contribute to the nation's defense, were announced today.

John E. Hutchison, extension horticulturist at Texas A&M, announced that all farm youths from 12 through 21 are eligible to compete in the contest. A&P Food stores provide $6,000 annually in cash agricultural scholarships.

Any young gardeners may enroll in the contest by contacting 4-H club leaders, county agents or instructors in vocational agriculture.

This contest ties in with the Department of Agriculture's belief that an expansion of vegetable gardening in all states will contribute material strength to defense efforts.

Hutchison, who serves as the association's state adult advisor, explained "besides getting fine training in vegetable growing and selling, the young gardeners will have a chance to win one of more than 200 awards the contest offers."

HIGHWAY PATROLMEN E. J. Robertson, in car, and Preston Wynne, standing, serve this area, working out of the Pampa sub-station. They are among the 450 patrolmen in the state who work under the supervision of the Texas Department of Public Safety. The Texas Rangers, the peace officers who preceded the highway patrolmen, are also a part of the state safety department. (News Photo)

Highway Patrolman One Of Most Versatile Of Officers

By WANDA CAMPBELL

Probably no other peace officer has the versatility of the Texas Highway Patrolman.

This uniformed police force is a precision unit of about 450 men who cover every nook and corner of the Lone Star, and are a combination of lawyer, doctor, psychologist, public speaker, marksman, and sociologist.

The patrolmen of today have come a long way since the first peace officers in Texas were organized in 1835 at the outbreak of the Texas Revolution. The Mexicans had their caballeros and the Comanches had their brave warriors and Texas had their rangers the Texas Rangers!

"Rangers" are referred to in history as early as 1838 in wars against the Indians, but it was many years before the group known as the Texas Rangers became the picturesque, undaunted men feared alike by Mexicans, Indians and outlaws!

Probably the first great peace officer of this area was Captain G. W. Arrington, a ranger who covered the entire Panhandle including Mobette, Tapposa, Fort Elliot and land that is now Pampa.

Arrington, who came here because Indians were degrading the Panhandle, became sheriff of Wheeler County after his resignation from the Texas Rangers.

The fighting spirit of the rangers is splashed across the pages of early Texas history when there was constant fighting between the whites, Indians and Mexicans. Old timers have always said that the Texas Ranger combined the fighting tactics of many peoples — he could trail like an Indian, ride like a Mexican and shoot like a Tennessean.

Rangers held their own up through the years of the oil booms around 1915 and 1918, and the gangster days of the early 30's.

Then in 1930 another group joined the rangers as peace officers of Texas. This was the Texas Motor Patrol that operated under the Texas Highway Dept. This was the forerunner of the Texas Highway Patrol.

In 1935, 100 years from the actual establishment of the Texas Rangers, a new law placed the rangers and a State High Patrol under a Department of Public Safety. This reduced the rangers to two mounted companies and a headquarters, totaling about 40 men, and the Highway Patrol became the top law enforcement force for Texas.

Today there are about 450 patrolden, working out of 18 patrol districts, and an estimated 500 rangers.

The peace officer today is a uniformed, trim patrolman who presents an entirely different picture from the mustached peace officers who dressed in worn chaps and scuffed boots. But in many ways, they are comparable forces.

Many early rangers were ex-Confederate soldiers, just as many patrolmen now are veterans. They are expert marksmen, but whereas in the old days, rangers used their two six-shooters, often enough to stay in practice, patrolmen now get most of their practice on a firing range. But they're "dads-shots" and must pass monthly marksmanship tests!

Patrolmen carry a .38 Cal. Colt special or similar gun, and keep a .30 Cal. Carbine and 12-gauge riot gun in the patrol car. Another comparatively new weapon is the tear gas billy club that's particularly effective in getting drunken drivers out of cars.

A lot of training goes into making a highway patrolman. Stiff physical requirements must be met (5 feet 8 inches is the minimum height) and 641 hours of class work is required at the recruit training school at Camp Mabry in Austin.

A total of 64 subjects is taught the new recruit, and review courses must be taken every two years. The subjects taught include everything from applied psychology, public speaking and narcotics to Texas geography.

They learn about fingerprinting, road blockades, communism, accident investigation, and laws of arrest. In short, they are prepared to meet any situation from investigating a dent in a car bumper to controlling traffic in an emergency (as in the recent heavy rain here), tracking a narcotics or counterfeit ring or giving a talk at the high school on public safety!

Highway patrolmen don't spend all their time cruising the highways looking for speeders and watching for road damages. They put in an ordinary working day making reports and filling out forms. Every arrest ticket must be sent to the chief with the disposition shown on the reverse side. All accidents must be reported on forms and sent to the Department of Public Safety, and a daily report (in triplicate) must be mailed from each station and sub-station.

For any action not befitting a member of the Texas Highway Patrol, or failure to carry out any of the multifarious duties, the patrolmen get demerits. The system works on a 100 demerit system that can result in dismissal from the force.

In all training schools, the Department of Public Safety stresses

Area GI In Ship Accident

CANADIAN (Special) — Pvt. Dick H. Barton, U. S. Army, was back safely in port at Seattle last week after shipping out aboard the troopship U. S. S. Pvt. Sadao Munemori bound for Japan and the Far East.

The U. S. S. Munemori had its long voyage cut short when it collided with a Canadian tanker, the L. P. St. Clair, in the Strait of Juan de Fuca just outside the port of Seattle.

A letter and newspaper clippings from Pvt. Barton to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Barton, of Canadian, told the story this week.

While crew members and troops on board watched from the decks, the Munemori was struck in the bow by the tanker which steamed out of heavy fog.

Both ships were damaged, but both were able to return to port under their own power, and no personnel aboard either ship was injured.

Pvt. Barton was back in San Francisco this week awaiting new orders for overseas movement.

Pastor At Miami Back From Service

MIAMI (Special) — Rev. Grady Adcock, who succeeded Rev. Hugh F. Blaylock, who was recalled to duty as a U. S. Chaplain, a few months ago, has been returned to the pastorate of the Methodist Church here, for another year.

Rev. Adcock and family moved here from Silverton, where he had pastored the Methodist Church for more than three years.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles.

We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving.

So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true.

We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be.

We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics.

We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale.

But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS.

One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price.

We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty.

We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field.

But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own.

And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.

WARREN'S WARMUP

THE ANSWER to the question of "What's the matter with the Oilers?" appeared pretty plain in the first-quarter official WT-NM League averages released today.

The answer was one word—pitching.

The Oilers are tops in fielding, and third in hitting. The only club to outrank the Oilers and be above them in the standings is the league-leading Abilene Blue Sox, and their team batting average is only 8 percentage points better than Pampa's.

But the Oiler pitching staff, as a unit, is fifth in the league, with an earned run average of 6.03, which means that the Oilers must score an average of at least 7 runs per game to win, provided that there are no unearned runs scored.

Wildness, while it has been a contributing cause many times, isn't the main trouble because only two clubs have issued fewer walks than the Oilers' pitchers. Just plain base knocks have been the trouble.

And coming from a pitching staff of seasoned veterans that it looked like should be giving the best in the league at the start of the season.

What has happened? Weather is the one-word answer to the lack of consistency good hurling. The Oilers haven't had really decent weather until the last ten days, he pitchers got into good early season shape, then came the rains, high winds and cold weather. During this period the mound staff didn't get much of a chance to throw, little opportunity to do any running to condition the legs, and generally.

New Sockers Defeat Dukes

AMARILLO — (SP) — Albuquerque's Dukes won a five-run romp in the ninth inning Friday, but veteran Pat McLaughlin relieved rookie Larry Mann, shut them off, and Amarillo won the first of a two-game set, 10-6.

Until that stage, Mann had pitched fourth ball. He was struck in the groin by a return throw from catcher Les Mulcahy, however, before the first six successive Albuquerque hits in the ninth.

The Sox probably have been strengthened considerably by the belated arrival of big Merv Conners, one-time major league first baseman, who participated last night and contributed a home run, two rifle shot doubles and a single in four official times at bat.

His hitting and Mann's eight-inning pitching were the game's conspicuous features.

Canadian Ropers Lose To Reydon

CANADIAN — (Special) — Canadian Ropers dropped a match to the Reydon, Okla. club here Thursday night, May 24, losing to the team totals by 49.4 seconds.

Canadian won the first round with a team total of 411.5 seconds, to 425.55 for Reydon; but lost the second when the Reydon ropers chalked up a team total of 388.8 seconds to 452.2 for the Canadian ropers.

The two best times of the match were chalked up by members of the Canadian team, however. C. M. Coffee led the pack with 14.3 seconds in the second round; and John Freeman tied his first calf in 15 seconds flat for second place. Rusty Ellis of Reydon was third with 19.8 for his first calf.

Ropers and their times were: Canadian: John McMordie, 40.0, 39.0; Spud Hawkins, 40.0, 50.0; E. Kelley, 40.0, 40.0; Loren Blackmore, 26.2, 40.0; Warren Hill, 33.0, 25.7; John Freeman, 40.0, 40.0; Frank McMordie, 26.8, 30.0; C. M. Coffee, 40.0, 14.3; Bob Conatser, 40.0, 33.2; Chester Aiker, 40.0; Roy B. Session, 30.5, 2.0; Bill Morris, 40.0, 40.0; Babe Tader, 40.0.

Top time of the night was scored, again by Johnny Freeman, when he tied his dogie in 14 seconds flat.

Charley Schmidt Star Of Month

During the first month of the '51 season the player who won the daily nomination more times than any other player in the WT-NM League was the consistent, dependable shortstop of the Abilene Blue Sox, Charley F. Schmidt. During the off-months Schmidt makes his home at Galveston, but right now he is quite at home on the diamonds of the WT-NM League, and Charley has really won himself a home at Blue Sox Stadium where he and his mates currently hold the league lead.

Schmidt (not to be confused with his pitcher teammate of the same name) won his recognition through steady short field performance backed up by solid work with the bat. Playing in all of his club's games through this vying period, Schmidt was compelled to give no quarters when matching records with other short fielders. In 23 games he had 8 FO's, 113 A's, 23 DP's. And in the offensive department Schmidt sported a neat average of .361 including 4 HR's, 3 triples, 10 doubles for 81 total bases to place him at the head of the class as the "hitting short stop" of the league.

Runner-up to Schmidt was Jesse Priest of the Dukes who had a phenomenal record of 9 consecutive victories in 11 games as a starter and 4 as the winning finisher! Tied for 3rd place were Crawford Howard, Amarillo; Virgil Richardson, Pampa and Glenn Burns, Lamesa.

Altered Gassers Defeat Pioneers

BORGER — (SP) — The rejuvenated Borger Gassers using a quartet of newly arrived players took a decisive 11-2 decision over the Clovis Pioneers Friday night in Huber Park. Right-hander Earl Butler went all the way for the winners and allowed six hits and was backed up by some of the classiest defensive work seen this year.

The game was played under protest by Clovis after the fifth inning. In the fifth Clovis Manager Charles Bushong walked and left fielder Carl hit back down the second baseline.

Bushong ran down Gasser second sacker Joe Duffield who tried to field the ball and umpire Belbeck ruled a "double penalty" against the Pioneers to retire the side.

Manager Eddie Carnett gave Gasser fans their first look at four new ball players and they were delighted with what they saw.

Bill Manning, outfielder from the Class A Central League, banded out a double and a triple good for a pair of RBIs; Catcher James Callahan hit for three for three and exhibited a rifle-like arm peg to second. To round out the quartet, a new pair of infielders, Joe Duffield at second and Charles Cline on short, turned in three snappy double plays and Cline made a pair of sensational catches on short fly balls in left and center field.

Wellington Man Scores First Ace

SHAMROCK — (Special) — G. E. McCaskill, Wellington golfer, last week became the first golfer to score a hole-in-one on the Shamrock course.

He hit on the number three hole, a 155-yard, par three. McCaskill respected a rich harvest for his ace: three years free playing at the course, a one year pass to a local theater, and a medal.

During 18 years of golfing, the veteran has two official holes-in-one to his credit, while three others are unofficial. In his round where he scored the ace, McCaskill toured the nine holes at the blistering clip of 34, two under par.

Green's Gossip

By HOGAN O' SNEAD

This has been a last week for Pampa golf fans, with the big state Professional Golfers Association tournament being staged in Amarillo. I have been so busy watching the fine golf that I haven't taken much time out to jot anything down in my notebook. But one thing I don't have to put in my notebook is the weather.

Seems like every Sunday I talk about the weather and every Sunday it is something to talk about. The state's golfers are getting a good sample of what we have to contend with up here in the Panhandle in order to play golf. They got wind, rain and icy blasts in the PGA, as well as some good golf.

It surely has been a pleasure to watch Lord Byron smack that ball. He's smooth as the puff from a popular cigarette and the touch of a hand after using certain location. I'm going to get out on the Pampa course this week and see why I can't do it like Byron does.

Lots of our good amateur golfers were doing right good by themselves in the tournament. Others really looked fine in the Pro-Amateur hand in the week. The tournament experience was really good for such youngsters as Tommy Cox, who played around in the Pro-Am and but for a couple of putts he should have run down, he could have been with the winners.

And speaking of running putts down, Doc Key gave Doc Frank Kelley a lesson last Wednesday afternoon. Doc Kelley slapped a birdie down on the distant Number 4 hole. But Doc Key looked right back at him with a birdie! I guess that new member of the Key family has given Doc some new zip. Might be a good idea to have all the golfing doctors have a little tournament sometime this summer. We've got a lot of them that can crack that ball, including Doc Elder and Doc Laycock.

Today the pros will wind up their PGA meet in Amarillo. We surely have been fortunate to

Green Sox Face Kelton Today

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock Green Sox, boasting a smashing 24-1 victory over the Miami team here last Sunday, travel to Kelton Sunday for a crack at the Keltonites.

Kelton is figured to give the Green Sox a run for their money, in contrast to last week, when Bobby Burrell and Bryan Close, Sox moundsmen, held the Miami crew to one run. Close hurled no hit ball for the final three innings, as the contest was stopped after seven. It was the first win against two losses.

Lobos Capture First From Hubs

LAMEA — (SP) — Lamesa's Lobos grabbed a four run lead in the first inning and then held on to edge out the Lubbock Hubbers, 7-6, here Friday night in the opener of a two-game series.

A crowd of 1,289 fans, largest since opening day, watched Ed Arthur gain the verdict over Ray Machado. Arthur allowed nine hits in registering his seventh triumph, while Machado gave up 11 safeties in losing his third decision.

Lamesa's first frame came on as Pedro Santiago reached first, an error by Bill Landers, who failed to touch the bag after taking the throw from Paul Dobkowl. Glen Selbo singled and Don Stokes slammed his sixth homer of the season over the rightfield fence. Manager Jay Haney singled and came all the way home on a double play by Ted Wyberance.

Keep Your Eye On KPDN

"The time has come, the Walrus said, to talk of many things." and now it's time for Jan and Bev to talk about interesting tidbits around KPDN.

Since the burden of moving to the new quarters in the Hughes Building fell mainly on the men's big brawny shoulders, girls have been helping out as much as possible - even to straining our brains to write a column for Phil Solberg.

Now, since Phil usually "plugs" some of the programs, what could be more fitting than that we seize this opportunity to plug our own programs, eh Bev? What would you like to tell about "Homemakers' Harmonies"?

"Hello, folks! Well, here I am to brag about my program, which comes on at 11:30, Monday through Friday. It's not that I'm conceited, but 'Homemakers' Harmonies' is rated very high with Hooper. I just hope it rates as high with my listeners. As you know, I specialize in beauty tips, some of which I try myself. If they can harm me, I tell my listeners about them. A good example is the tea facial.

I found that tea mixed half with water is good for the complexion, as it acts as a beauty mask. I've even tried lemon juice as a bleach for dark eyebrows.

These tips may sound odd to you, but they are tried and tested by some of the best make-up men in Hollywood. Last, but not least, there's the exciting 'Woman of the Week' contest.

This is something none of you ladies will want to miss. Well, that's 30 for today, friends, so here's my friend and able colleague, Jan Olson, to do some bragging of her own.

"Thanks, Bev. - My program is called 'Around the Town' and is aired five days a week, Monday through Friday - just be sure to have your radio dial in its usual place, 1340 of course, at 9 a.m. and 'you can't miss it,' as the old saying goes. Mainly we like to talk about the local news and activities taking place in Pampa. This takes in a broad scope - everything from OPE meetings on regulations and church news to announcements of piano and dance recitals and birth announcements. And nothing makes me happier than to have you call up and tell me any news that you would like to have broadcast. So call 1100 anytime, and if I'm not there to talk to you in person, one of our friendly staff will be glad to take your message and see that it gets to me.

Oh, yes, when time permits, we also give recipes, household hints, and the weather forecast. Guess that's about it - and now, we don't want to steal the limelight completely, so let's talk about some of the other fine work done by the others on the staff.

For instance, Gordy features those short amusing stories on his 8:55 a.m. program, usually called 'quirks in the news.' I believe - odd happenings from all over. It's a refreshing five-minute interlude when 'Gordy Gleans.'

"Staff Breakfast" is still a favorite of many listeners, its popularity probably due in part to the fact that it has a "melting pot" variety of guests. You can always be sure of learning something interesting on this program - 9:30 a.m., Monday through Friday.

Say, have you noticed the new voice that answers your phone calls up here at KPDN? It belongs to our attractive blonde receptionist, Laverne Mott, who just recently joined the staff. And getting back to programs, we must recognize the fine work Bert Conway is doing on the "Chapel by the Side of the Road." This is a program of beautiful and familiar hymns which provides comfort and inspiration to all.

And last, but not least, Phil Solberg deserves mention - he has almost as much fun as the listeners when he spins the disks with songs and the story for the kiddies on "Platter Party" Saturday afternoon. Please all ages from young'uns to grandpa! And now, here is the place Phil usually hands out "awards" (some of them very dubious honors!) - so here goes:

LAUGH OF THE WEEK: Warren Hasse sitting on the floor in the old studio doing his sportscast, due to the lack of support (chairs)! Never say die! - FLUFF OF THE WEEK: We haven't any recent fluffs. We will return to the past.

One fluff that has never died in the memories of the staff was the night Phil Solberg reported that there had been a serious EARTHQUAKE in some part of Brazil! HAPPIEST PERSONS OF THE WEEK: All the staff of KPDN, due to their new home in the Hughes Building. THE MOST TIRED MEN OF THE WEEK: Phil Solberg and Kay Faucher, working until all hours so they could get into the new station. P.S. - the engineers felt the same way about it! THE BIRTHDAY OF THE WEEK: This title goes to our own Uncle Coy who was ??? years old on Friday. We initiated the new studios by giving him a birthday party. MOST LEFT-OUT PERSON OF THE WEEK: Rudy Marti, who conveniently left on his vacation before the moving process.

And now, not because we are at a loss for words, but because we want to disprove Bert Conway's belief that "women never know when to stop talking," we'll say goodbye, and leave this space to Phil Solberg for next Sunday.

The North Pole is moving southward at a rate of about six inches a year.

Shine Boy Loses Money After Raise

CONRUPUS CHRISTI - (A) - Frank Tolbert, shoe-shine concessionaire in the court house here, boosted prices to meet the cost of living and right away the change started costing him money.

Tolbert, whose long fingers and rhythmical motions brown and black a lot of shoes every day, jumped prices from 15 to 20 cents. A customer normally tipping 10 cents on every 15 cent shoe shine, took his five - cents change and left the shine - boy just that much short. Cost of living or no cost of living, this was an economic awakening to Tolbert. Shoe - shines today in the Nueces County Court house are back to normal - 15-cents.

Red Academics Get Cold Brush Off

Recruiting of workers and peasants for special pre-university courses is lagging in the Soviet Zone, so rulers are importing young Communist students from West Germany.

East Germans have shown a marked reluctance to enroll at the "workers and farmers facilities" despite official cajoling, well-informed Soviet Zone sources said. They explained that the top-heavy diet of Stalinism and "primary" political education even in the students' spare time apparently have much to do with the lack of enthusiasm. The schools are designed for young men and women between 17 and 25, fresh off the farms and factories. Job of the facilities, which are attached to all larger East German universities,

Bullet Finishes Old Crocodile

SYDNEY — (AP) — A man recently shot an Australian crocodile which was living before white people first settled here in 1788.

The crocodile was perhaps 500 years old. Its hide was 23 feet long and five feet across. Jim Doyle, professional shooter, killed the crocodile in the East Alligator River in the Northern Territory. Doyle said the crocodile recently attacked eight of his horses while they drank. He had to destroy four of them. Doyle sold the hide in Darwin for about $33.

4-H Group Returns From Encampment

Seven Gray County 4-H club representatives, including two Pampa girls, have returned from the District I 4-H club encampment held last week at West Texas State College in Canyon with 18 counties represented. The leadership training camp was held to instruct delegates in leadership in the respective communities, and guide them in planning county camps. This is the first year the event was held on the West Texas campus. Last year, it was held at Cimarron, N. M. The four-day camp included group studies of crafts, rifle shooting, flag raising ceremonies,

Pampa GI Earns Rotation Berth

Today, Cpl. Phillip Bynum is eligible to return to the United States under the Army's rotation plan — but only after six months in Korea in the hottest part of the fighting.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Bynum, Wilcox-Worley Lease and the husband of Mrs. Phillip Bynum, 511 S. Wilcox. He is 19 years old.

His brother, Eugene, has recently been released from a hospital over there and is to return to the front lines soon. He is 18 now. Both the boys finished High School here and Cpl. Bynum was employed by the Petroleum Specialties Co.

A letter from Phillip, received Thursday night by his wife, tells in detail the three-day battle fought between May 16 and May 20 on the East-Central front. Here is the story in Phillip's words:

"That night (May 16) just at dark, they attacked our battalion. First, they hit E Company, then G Company, then us (F Company). We were in our holes waiting for them. They came in mass formation, four abreast. We stacked them up five deep on top of each other. Artillery, mortars, hand grenades, M-1 rifles, carbines, pistols, 20-caliber machine guns, 50-caliber machine guns, BAR rifles, 57 mm. Thompson sub machines, burp guns and tanks were throwing bullets everywhere both ways. We held good all night. Then, about 5 a.m. they left us; we were low on ammunition, short of men, so when they left, we pulled back toward the rear, too. Then another battalion made a new defense line and we went into division reserve to rest up and get re-equipped. We got to this area about 3 p.m.

"We were eating chow around 5:30 and here came the Captain saying 'Stop eating. Get packed up. Draw all the ammo that you can carry, we are moving out.' And we did, too. We got on trucks and moved up about 18 miles.

"Well, we got off the trucks and had to walk about two miles to the hill where we were supposed to set up our defense line. We and the Chinks got to the top of the hill about the same time, on opposite sides. We fought like dogs all night long. No sleep in three nights. When it got daylight we could see Chinks walking along the tops of every hill around us, and we then knew we were surrounded again. About 2 a.m. it was getting a little hot for us so we were going to move over to our right flank to a hill about a little higher. We got about half way over there and I think they opened up on us with everything they had. We turned around and started running back to the hill we had just left. The Chinks were lying down right beside us, just like they knew we were going to move up to that hill and they were not going to let us — and they didn't. My boys dropped our 57 mm. because they couldn't run very fast with it. We got back on the hill we had been on and fought them off the rest of the night in little craggy holes that we could find here and there.

"So when it got daylight they kept us pretty well pinned down in our holes. Men were getting wounded right and left. About 5:30 our own airplanes came to help us and they did more harm than good. They strafed and rocketed us. Some were killed there. Just a few minutes later, our artillery did the thing. They threw a smoke screen real close all around us so we could get out.

"We started running off that hill down in a valley back toward our troops that had set up a new line behind us about four miles back. I got so tired I didn't think I could go a foot further, but the bullets kept me moving.

"Again the Lord was with us. It started raining cats and dogs just as we left the hill running and the Chinks couldn't see us as well as they could if the sun was shining. We kept running, but just before we got to the mouth of the valley, the Chinks, enough to get the Purple Heart. I opened up on us again — a bullet just grazed my knee. I drew on us. They had another blue hole, but it wasn't deep, so we hit the dirt, keeping low, put our bayonets on our weapons, jumped up and started running toward them with our fixed bayonets and yelling just as loud as we could. They got confused and scared and started running away from us. Then we had our fun. "We mowed them down like flies. Then we got out. Some of us. We had 83 men to come through it. We had started with 138 plus officers. "I was wounded there, not bad enough to talk about, just

Ruth Miller, R.E. Thompson Exchange Vows In Clovis

Miss Ruth Clariece Miller and Richard Elmo Thompson exchanged wedding vows in Clovis, N. M., Sunday, May 27, with the Rev. W. E. McCowell officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Miller, 701 N. Banks, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Oral Thompson, 915 W. Lincoln. The parents of the couple accompanied them to the Clovis.

Attendants at the ceremony were Miss Betty Howard, bridesmaid, and serving as best man was the bride's father, Donald Miller.

The bride wore a white tulle street-length dress, pink accessories and a pink carnation corsage. For something old she wore her mother's gold locket. The bridesmaid wore a white suit with blue accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The bride's mother was dressed in blue with white accessories and a corsage of red carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore red carnations on her white suit and her accessories were blue.

Miss Ann Molloy, John Farnsworth Say Wedding Vows

CANADIAN — (AP) — Nuptial vows were exchanged Monday, May 28, between Miss Ann Molloy, daughter of Mrs. M. C. Graham of Canadian, and John Farnsworth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Farnsworth of the Locust Grove Community.

The ceremony was held at 11:30 a. m. in the First Baptist Church of Clovis, N. M. Dr. R. T. Maddox, pastor of the church, officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Acting as attendants to the young couple were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Witherspoon, aunt and uncle of the bride.

Miss Molloy chose a white Irish linen dress accented with brown trimming and used brown and white accessories for her wedding costume. For something old and borrowed she wore a piece of fringe from the wedding dress of Mrs. Vera Morehead's mother. She carried a blue handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Sid Schoene for something new and blue.

Following a wedding trip to the Carlsbad Caverns the young couple will be at home in the Tipps apartments in Canadian.

Mrs. Farnsworth attended the Canadian schools and was valedictorian of the class of 1951. She was a member of the National Honor Society for four years, was chosen football queen for 1950, was a member of the Pep Club, and the FHA Club of which she was president in 1950.

Mrs. Farnsworth attended the Canadian schools, lettering in both football and baseball, and graduated with the class of 1950. He was a member of the FHA Club and the "C" Club. Until recently he has been engaged in ranching and farming with his father.

Mrs. Bessie Mae Hext was elected to succeed Mrs. Anna Lee as worthy matron, and Hugh Parsell was elected to succeed Frank Walker as worthy matron.

Initiation ceremonies were held at that time for Mrs. Francis Whitehorn who was initiated into the Order.

Decorations for the evening featured red roses placed in baskets throughout the hall. Refreshments of ice cream, cake, and coffee were served during the social hour following the ceremonies.

Formal installation of the officers will be held in the Masonic Hall.

TO WED IN JULY — Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Sawyer, 321 N. Gray, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joan Teresa, to Vincent Joseph Menier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vito Menier of 651 Maple Avenue, Lakeside, Ohio. The wedding will take place in Holy Souls Catholic Church on July 7.

NOW'S THE TIME it's good to be living in short grass country. Far out 'cross the plains as far as you can see there's a blanket of red, yellow, white and purple—a blanket of wild flowers, with colors so vivid, so bright, that they may well have been just re-touched with an artist's brush. There's a richer look about the freshly turned soil and the green countryside and we think: "Did June ever look so good?"

SUMMER ALWAYS BRINGS the kiddies home, and the problem of keeping them happy and occupied arises. Soon we'll be shipping them off to "Gramma's and Gramp's" and after that little "why" when they do everything they're wanted to do all winter and we wouldn't let them, they'll be back challenging poor mama's "no's" with the excuse that "Gramma said once when you were little you did so-and-so." blah, blah. Sometimes children are troublesome, but most times they offer the most unexpected type of amusement and we always appreciate them a bit more after the rave notices their grandparents give them. Makes Mr. Peg and me wonder sometimes if we're missing something by being the children's parents instead of their grandparents.

PAMPA PANORAMA ... Heard of so many of Peg's pals heading for the storm cellars Thursday night ... surely did look stormy thanks be, we haven't had the tornado scares we had last spring ... we sometimes think that there's more carbon black in the clouds than hail ... could be? ... Those little plastic "shoe covers" everyone's wearing during the wet weather are X-ris nice ... Mrs. J. E. Thompson is a pleasant hostess ... Mrs. H. H. Haha is one of our most energetic workers for a good cause ... so very cooperative with those who work with her ... Mrs. M. X. Beard is good at presenting club programs, we hear ... Mrs. Robert Karr is one person we'd like to know ... hear such good things about her ... Sandra and Sharon Garman are cute youngsters ... Mrs. Elizabeth Cooper seems to be a popular personality ... she's a telephone company employe ... We'll miss the Traylor Prices in Pampa ... they've moved back out to their ranch, we understand ... Some nice folks who can sorta "take the Prices' place" are Mr. and Mrs. Otis Nace ... The Harvey Nensleits are so-o proud of their Donna ... she's finishing at Christian college this week ... she's a honey ... Mrs. Lloyd Hicks is a gracious person ... So is the woman behind the cosmetics counter in the Harvester drug ... and haven't they changed things a lot in that store? ... new floor covering and a change in position of the fountain ... Some of the new private offices in the Hughes building are "simply out of this world" everyone's saying ... Mrs. T. C. Lively is a likeable individual ... quite friendly ... so's Mrs. Tex Evans ... Georgia Crutchfield seems to be well-liked by all who know her.

DID YOU GUESS Pop Wanner as the man in the poem (?) last week? Incidentally, more men should wear sporty little caps like he dons on the weekends ... Pop will flat die, but I can't resist saying that they're cute as pie!

IT'S TIME FOR lawn parties again, and they're such fun, but sometimes it does seem that this popular new "outdoor living" just wasn't meant for the Panhandle. Even if our yards were all acre-wide, and we could keep the bugs away, we'd still have the wind to battle. Maybe hurricane lamps were made just for us! We're looking for some Chinese lanterns, too, and Mr. Peg is studying an electrician's manual so he can string the wire himself. "There's no sense in hiring somebody to do something that I can do mah-self," he always says. "Hah! And what some more. Anyway, he's taking an interest in fixing the garden for a party—'cept he can't understand why it's called a garden in the summer when it's known as just a plain old back yard all winter!"

ANOTHER MUST on the list for summer outdoor life is a little portable grill, or better yet, just an electric outlet for the electric cooker. Cook the main dish on that, toss a salad and serve tall, iced beverages and that's fun for guests—and the cook, too! Incidentally, if anybody you know plans to throw away an old wheelbarrow, saw, or a paint can and pile it full of ice—that's perfect for wheeling bottle drinks around to guests.

THE ONLY THING ABOUT planning garden parties (or a backyard-picnic as Mr. Peg prefers to say) is that it'll rain sure as anything—that's why it's always wise to plan a menu that can be whisked indoors at the last minute!

THOSE LITTLE Rose Marie Reid "sculptured" swimsuits are wonderful things. Watch for them around the swimming pools this summer. They're sort of extra-streamlined shorts. Another cutie is the wrap-over poncho. They're in sailcloth, terry cloth and various other fabrics.

WE DEBATED all week about going to that movie "The Thing." What a buildup! One would never guess just what "the thing" is by the advertisements and I guess that's the appeal of the picture. Guess Peg could go by that title, too, only I'm not "The Thing" from another world—nope, I am just PEG O' PAMPA.

The World Of Books

"Women Are Here To Stay." The "evolution" of the "durable sex" (because they've lived through plenty!) is shown in this book compiled by Agnes Rogers who assembled "I Remember Distinctly" right after the hot war.

Her book on women is published by the same company, Harper and Brothers, New York.

Beginning with the "sheltered" lady of the early 1900's, the author tells her story in pictures and stories through the present and the "unsheltered" lady.

Women in the news, in the home, in the changing world of the United States are the themes of each story and picture.

Joe DiMaggio and his career with the New York Yankees and even before his success with them is told in "Lucky To Be a Yankee." Written by "The DIMag" himself, the book was published by Grosset and Dunlap Co., New York.

A romantic novel which depicts pioneer life during the transformation of the deep Ohio forest into the complexities of an American city, may be found at the local library.

This book is called "The Town" and was written by Conrad Richter and published by Alfred A. Knopf Co. in New York.

"Witching" for water has always been a mystery — especially in this part of the country where water is hard to find any place — that is, until this spring flood.

Kenneth Roberts, famous author of several historical novels, such as "Northwest Passage," "Rabble in Arms," has set the problem in a book called "Henry Gross and His Dowsing Rod" and has gone at great lengths to discuss the thing first-hand.

Henry Gross is a game warden in Maine and is what is known

Dick Rust of Phillips is camp director. Assisting him are Scout Executive Paul Beisenherz from Pampa, Field Executives Vincent Hobbs and John Pound and Red Roach, of Pampa, who is coaching the boys in skeet shooting.

This week's camp for the older boys is being devoted to instruction and competition in the four basic field sports, bait and fly casting, archery, small bore rifle and skeet shooting.

Highlighting the camp will be a barbecue supper Friday night, when fifty girls, including girl scouts and Rainbow girls from Canadian, Pampa, Borger and Stinnett will be guests of the boys.

Saturday morning contests will be held in the four basic sports, with three top-ranking boys in each event earning the right to compete in the National Sports Tournament to be held at the Philmont Scout Ranch at Cimarron, N.M., Aug. 13 through 17. Field Executive David Agnew will be camp director for the regular Boy Scout camps which will open Sunday. Four groups of boys will be at the camp for one-week periods.

CHURCH CONSTRUCTION STALLED—Progress on the construction of the Church of Christ has been considerably slowed by heavy rains. Almost a week's work was lost during the storms in the past two weeks. The church is under construction at the corner of Harvester and Mary Ellen; T. E. Nicholas is the builder. All the foundation and the brick for the education building was completed before the rains as well as part of the brick around the auditorium. Raising some of the wooden trusses for the construction of the roof has been delayed. Most of the brick and stone and metals for the church have been delivered. The windows arrived some time last week.

Civic Leader Education Aid, Says Speaker

The business man who is interested in community affairs, participating in civic welfare, is the best source a high school student has in learning good citizenship, according to the idea put forth by Carl Kennedy in a talk to Kiwanis Club Friday.

Young Kennedy, the immediate past president of the student body of Pampa High School, said that men in civic clubs through their interest in the students could show teenagers what good citizenship is.

He concluded his speech with the statement that "the responsibility of these men is to help the students of today realize the responsibilities of the duties that will be their tomorrow."

Kennedy was introduced by Frank Wilson, high school principal, following a short musical

Pampa Stores Given Option

An amendment that gives small retailers the option of continuing under the general ceiling price regulation, rather than under Ceiling Price Regulation 7, will affect small Pampa retail stores, it was announced today.

The amendment provides that stores selling housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks may elect to price these items under the general ceiling price regulation under the following conditions:

1. The first provision, designed to help the smallest stores, gives the election for these items to any retailer whose overall net dollar volume of sales of everything in his store is less than $100,000. Total dollar volume for this purpose is figured on the sales not only of the housewares, notions, etc., but of the store's entire stock of goods.

2. The second provision, which meets the requirements of a store doing a small volume of business in housewares, notions, sporting goods, silverware, china, glassware, jewelry, watches and clocks, gives retailer a choice of pricing these items under the GCPR if his net dollar volume from sales of those items is less than $80,000 annually, irrespective of his volume of sales in other lines of merchandise, even though his total volume of sales is over $100,000.

3. The third provision gives the option to any retailer whose sales of apparel, apparel accessories, shoes, beds and bedding, furniture, yard goods, floor coverings, lamps, radio and television sets, phonograph records, musical instruments and luggage are less than $20,000 annually in net dollar volume.

The retailer who chooses to remain under the general ceiling price does not have to notify OPS, however, the retailer must be prepared to show that he was entitled to make the choice.

Shamrock Pastor Is Reappointed

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Rev. S. M. Dunnam, pastor of the First Methodist church here for the past three years, has been reappointed for the coming year, announces Bishop William C. Martin.

Dunnam's reappointment was made at the close of the North-west Texas Methodist conference in Abilene last week.

Dunnam was named to succeed Rev. Hubert Bratcher here in 1948. He was named district director of evangelism for the Clarendon District by Bishop Martin.

Rev. S. M. Beas is coming to Shamrock to serve as circuit pastor replacing Rev. L. D. Cleveland. Beas was transferred to Shamrock from the Stamford District. Rev. Cleveland, serving here as circuit pastor the past year, goes to the Clarendon circuit.

Dunnam recently delivered the baccalaureate address for the 1951 graduating seniors.

Hemphill County Honors Men Killed in Three Wars

CANADIAN — (Special) — Several hundred men and women stood in a hot sun Wednesday morning at Edith Ford Memorial Cemetery while local veterans paid tribute to men killed in three wars.

Rev. Taft Holloway, pastor of the First Baptist Church and himself a veteran of World War II, delivered the brief Memorial Day address; and a color guard of American Legion and VFW members, in the uniforms of their respective services, fired a rifle salute and sounded "taps" over the graves of sixty-seven war veterans.

Capt. George Earl Tubb commanded the guard of honor.

While the flag drooped at half mast, Capt. Tubb called the roll of the sixty-seven veterans buried at the local cemetery, plus the names of thirteen other Hemphill County World War II veterans who are buried at sea or lying in unknown graves; and Ray Risley, in a brief formal presentation speech, laid a memorial wreath from the local post of the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and their Auxiliaries.

Rev. Holloway spoke briefly on the meaning of Memorial Day ... "a day set aside through the years for all people who have any gratitude in their hearts toward the men who have defended our liberties ... to pay tribute to those who have made the supreme sacrifice."

"One of our greatest soldiers a few days ago made the remark that 'there is no substitute for victory,' he continued, quoting General Douglas MacArthur. 'But what is victory?'"

"Sometimes we win and are unconscious of it. Sometimes what we think is a victory turns to ashes as time goes by. 'Have we won a victory? The war was over, they said, but now we are fighting again, in Korea. We are not at war ... but we're not at peace. Have these men died in vain?'"

In conclusion, he quoted a passage from the First Book of John: "This is the victory that overcometh the world ... even our faith."

"If we have not or shall not achieve victory in our time in our world," Rev. Holloway concluded, "it will be when we have lost faith in our fellow men ... in those who have died ..."

"We shall have gained a victory ... if we keep our faith."

Of the sixty-seven war veterans who are buried in the local cemetery, twelve are veterans of the Civil War, twenty-three of World War I, and the largest and most youthful group, 31, are veterans of World War II.

One man died in service, but was not a veteran of either war. The Memorial Service began at 11 a. m. Wednesday.

Graves were marked with fresh flowers and wreaths. Men, women and children ... many of them families of the veterans whose graves were freshly marked ... stood quietly during the ceremony. The only sound, other than the voices of the speakers and the quiet commands to the color guard, was a frightened wail from a little girl as the first sharp volley of rifle fire cracked over the graves.

The crowd moved slowly after the service, following the veterans color guard as it marched smartly back to town.

ELLEN DREW TO WED — Actress Ellen Drew, 36, and William Tidd Walker, 47, former Detroit advertising executive, will be married on Walker's ranch here today.

Wildcats Continue To Hold Spotlight In Panhandle Area

Wildcatting in the Anadarko Basin continued to hold the spotlight in the past week's oil operations for the Panhandle.

The Texas Co.'s No. 1 C. S. McGarraugh "B" deep test in Ochiltree County, underwent Railroad Commission tests during the week and showed a potential of 264 barrels for the 24-hour period.

The deep test flowed through tubing from two perforated pay zones, the upper from 8473 to 8490 feet and the lower zone from 8513 to 8520 feet.

Other wildcats were staked in Hale and Oldham Counties. Amerada Petroleum Co. staked its No. 1 Hughes in Hale and Superior staked the No. 1 Matador Land and Cattle Co. deep test in Oldham. Superior currently is deepening a well, No. 1 Howard, taken over from Hooper and Duke.

Regular field production showed an increase in oil potential due to completion of The Texas Co.'s deep test. A total 519 barrels was tested from four oil completions.

Fifteen new locations were staked in the Panhandle and two wells were plugged.

Elk City Plant Example Of Modern Production Methods

ELK CITY, Okla. — (AP) — The oil industry in its infant boom days scrambled madly to drill as many wells as possible as fast as it could without regard to conservation.

Geologists have since found that crude does not exist as a pool, lake or river as once thought. It is confined, instead, in sand or porous rock.

When a well pierces the area, natural gas, always present with oil, forces it to the surface.

In the old days, gas pressures were quickly dissipated and millions of barrels of oil remained unrecovered as a result of this wasteful practice.

The industry now realizes that the costly calculated risk of exploration requires that it conserve current production to pay for future replenishing.

Thus the need to make the most of every successful strike by recovering the greatest possible amount of oil and gas.

A case in point is the multi-million dollar processing and gas cycling plant which will be dedicated here next Thursday by nine major producers.

The Elk City discovery well, located in a cotton field five miles south of this once sleepy farm town, came in on Nov. 24, 1947.

By January of this year the industry's investment in the field — including drilling expenses, pipe lines and a gasoline plant — totaled more than $32,000,000. The Elk City field is regarded as one of the major discoveries of the past ten years.

Despite use of modern conservation practices — well spacing, controlled rates of production, etc. — a unique problem confronted engineers here.

The Elk City reservoir, 8,800 to 10,300 feet down in a geological stratum called "hoxbar," contains a large proportion of condensate. Condensate is composed of petroleum hydrocarbons that exist as gas at normal underground pressure but become liquid and when the pressure drops.

This reaction makes their recovery more difficult and requires artificial methods to keep the pressure above the condensation point. At the same time, tremendous quantities of gas were being produced to get one barrel of oil.

Hence the processing plant which strips such hydrocarbons as propane, butane and natural gasoline from the gas which is compressed and returned to the reservoir to maintain production pressure.

The oil companies say the plant, designed to handle 100,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily, will increase the field's production by about 25,000,000 barrels annually.

It is interesting to note that all these operators, despite their separate marketing ways, work together here. The Elk City field in this operation is regarded as a single unit.
