Two New Projects In City Announced

By TEX DEWEESE
Two new shots in the arm for Pampa's economy and faith in the city's future came today with announcement of a $300,000 apartment complex construction project and an $80,000 expansion at a soft drink bottling plant.

Foundations are being poured for a new 18-apartment complex consisting of eight buildings just west of the current Glenwood Apts. on N. Nelson.

John Conlin, general manager for the Top O' Texas Builders, owned by I.W. and Don Tinney, said the new project will have six one-bedroom apartments and 12 deluxe apartments in the country club style.

The Tinneys currently have three apartment complexes occupied. They are the Glenwood, Glenwood North and Kalene apartments adjacent to the site of the new construction.

Conlin said the company decided to build the new additions to meet a demand for apartment living in Pampa. He added there is a waiting list for the apartments now under construction. They are expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by March 1, Conlin said.

The other good economic news was announcement of an $80,000 expansion program at the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., 1515 N. Hobart.

Bob Mack, manager, said work has just been started on construction of a brick front, metal warehouse structure with 16,000 square feet of floor space.

Current machinery will be removed and sold, Mack said, and new equipment will be installed in the production center enabling the company to produce up to 64-ounce bottles of their products.

Mack added that the expansion program has been undertaken to increase production for a wider sales territory now being served by the company.

Weather permitting, he said, the job should be completed by Feb. 1.

Coca-Cola also has an area plant in Clinton, Okla., and a warehouse in Shamrock.

Six Vying For Title At PHS

Homecoming activities for the Pampa High School Harvest football team begin at 7 p.m. today with the crowning of Miss Flame and the burning of Amarillo High School's mascot, Sammie Sandie.

Six candidates have been selected by the students for the Miss Flame title.

The candidates are Shelley Cogdell, 17, 318 Jean, and Gretchen Skelly, 17, 916 N. Somerville, seniors; Anne Williams, 16, 1204 Charles, and Lynn Hoyler, 16, 128 N. Sumner, juniors, and Dana Rogers, 15, Star Route 2, and Lisa Watson, 15, 820 N. Christy, sophomores.

After the announcement of Miss Flame, the bonfire will be lit on the Harvest practice field.

A parade will be conducted at 4 p.m. Friday to boost the spirit of the team and the fans. Starting at Coronado Center, the parade will wind through the downtown area.

Those wishing to participate, whether as a club or organization or as individuals, are asked to be at the shopping center before 4 p.m.

The Pampa Jaycees will again provide a dinner—"all you can eat"—at the high school cafeteria from 5 to 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Featuring spaghetti, toss salad, garlic toast and coffee or tea, the meal will cost $1 for adults and 50 cents for children 6 to 12 years.

Prior to the game, the senior team members and their parents will be introduced on the field at 7 p.m. The game will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets for the meal may be purchased in advance at Tarpley Music Co. or at the Sherwin-Williams Co.

Warmer And Fair Weather Forecast Here

Sunny skies returned to Pampa and the area today as the cold front moved farther south into the state.

After a low this morning of 28 degrees, the temperature in Pampa headed into the low 40s at noon. High for today was expected to reach near 60.

Fair weather was forecast for tonight, but with the cold temperatures still hanging on. The low is expected to be near 30 again tomorrow morning.

Increased cloudiness with a 30 per cent chance of rain is forecast for Friday.

After the fog and cloudy skies of yesterday, with rain hitting many parts of the state, generally clear skies prevailed over most parts of the state today.

It was frosty in many places again as the temperatures dipped to freezing or below in areas closest to the front, the Associated Press reported.

Readings near dawn included 27 at Amarillo, 29 at Dalhart and 30 at Lubbock and Wichita Falls. Other points had marks in the higher 30s to 50s, except for Brownsville on the south tip of Texas, where the low was a mild 62.

U.S. Proposes Ceiling On Contribution To UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States introduced a resolution in the United Nations General Assembly today that would cut its assessment for the world organization's general budget nearly 20 per cent.

"I think we'll win," said one American official.

Sen. Gale McGee of Wyoming, a Democratic member of the U.S. delegation, was chosen by the Nixon administration to introduce the resolution in the Assembly's administrative and budgetary committee. The proposal, carrying out a directive from the U.S. Congress, specifies that no U.N. member shall contribute more than 25 per cent of the total ordinary expenses of the United Nations.

The U.S. assessment is now 31.52 per cent of the budget, or nearly $64 million this year. It is the largest contribution, more than twice the second-place Soviet Union's 14.18 per cent.

Chief U.S. Delegate George Bush in a statement Wednesday night indicated that the $12 million or more saved if the resolution is adopted would be diverted to other U.N. programs.

Bush said the 25 per cent ceiling would not apply to voluntary U.S. contributions to U.N. economic and social development programs, which now total almost half a billion dollars. In the case of some funds it constitutes almost 80 per cent of the support.

"Our adjustment to the 25 per cent formula in no way proposes any diminution of the over-all commitment of resources to the United Nations system by the United States," Bush said.

He explained that the United States is not proposing a reduction in its assessment just "to save a few million dollars" but rather "as a matter of political equity and realism."

Delegates also said they favored extending the Agriculture Act of 1970.

N. Viet Rejects Modification Of Cease-fire Pact Substance

MISS FLAME CANDIDATES—As part of the activities for the Harvest football team Homecoming event, Miss Flame, chosen to represent the school spirit, will be crowned tonight prior to the traditional burning of Sammie Sandie. Kissinger Expected To Leave For Paris

PARIS (AP) — A new round of secret Vietnam peace negotiations was imminent today, but North Vietnam in advance rejected any changes in the draft cease-fire agreement worked out by Henry A. Kissinger and Le Duc Tho of the North Vietnamese Politburo.

Xuan Thuy, the chief of North Vietnam's delegation in Paris, told the weekly session of the semipublic session of the North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, was repeated today by South Vietnam's representative at the session, Nguyen Xuan Phong.

Phong told newsmen as he arrived for the meeting that his government regards such a withdrawal and restoration of the demilitarized zone between North and South Vietnam as "essential elements" of any agreement.

The draft, as outlined by Hanoi and discussed with newsmen by Kissinger, makes no mention of either point. American sources have said that Tho, in his secret meetings in Paris last month with Kissinger, gave him to understand that some North Vietnamese would be withdrawn from the northern part of South Vietnam. But the implication has been that most of Hanoi's forces in the South would stay where they were.

Tho was in Moscow today, en route to Paris from Hanoi, and he and Kissinger were expected to meet in Paris this weekend for what the U.S. presidential adviser has said would be their final round of talks to agree on details and the wording of the agreement.

U.S. negotiator William J. Porter said: "Each of us is aware that the restoration of peace in Vietnam is approaching. Each of us is equally well aware of the efforts being made to refine and perfect the accomplishments of the negotiation so that a settlement fair to all will result."

In a brief prepared statement to the meeting, Porter avoided any reference to substantive issues but urged the Communist side to avoid "exaggerated rhetoric and unfounded charges of bad faith."

He declared that "our discussions should be directed toward the goal of peaceful settlement, much nearer than we imagined only a few weeks ago."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger is expected to leave for Paris at any time, perhaps today, for his climactic meeting with chief North Vietnamese negotiator Le Duc Tho.

The White House had said nothing about Kissinger's imminent journey though it had promised to give advance notice of his departure. But officials stuck by their predictions he would start the final rounds of talk with Tho before the week is out.

While Tho stopped in Moscow Wednesday on his return from Hanoi, Kissinger kept up his telephone consultations with President Nixon at nearby Camp David.

And Kissinger continued his own consultations with National Security Council aides and State Department experts. He met Wednesday for the second straight day with Under Secretary of State U. Alexis Johnson and William Sullivan, deputy assistant secretary of state for Southeast Asia.

As Kissinger kept up his work in anticipation of the round of meetings he has promised will wrap up a settlement, there were other developments indicating some of the details are near completion.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray said Wednesday the United States feels it has obtained an "agreement in principle" from four nations to take part in supervising a cease-fire.

He did not list the countries, but Canada, Indonesia, Hungary and Poland are reported to have agreed to participate, pending what Bray called "an opportunity to explore at some greater length...the details and fine print" that emerges from the Kissinger-Tho talks.

Officials also said the nine-point tentative agreement outlined last month by both Kissinger and Hanoi calls for a cease-fire to become effective 24 hours after an agreement is signed.

This virtually requires completion of the supervisory machinery in quick order, they stated.

On the North Vietnamese side, it was learned that Hanoi has been in touch with the four supervisory nations, as well.

Hanoi radio also said North Vietnamese economic teams were circulating among allied nations concerning reconstruction aid after the fighting stops, a development U.S. sources indicated meant the North is preparing for a cease-fire.

20 GIs Die In Vietnam In 15 Days

SAIGON (AP) — Twenty Americans have been killed in Vietnam in the first 15 days since the day North Vietnam claims was the deadline for a cease-fire agreement.

Another four fliers are missing over North Vietnam and 19 men have been wounded during negotiations extending beyond Oct. 31.

Now that the South Vietnamese are waging the infantry war, flying is the biggest hazard to the last American forces in Indochina. All the dead and missing since Oct. 31 resulted from aircraft losses—three helicopters, five jet fighters—bombers.

Ironically, the biggest American casualty toll occurred on the day the cease-fire was to be signed. A giant Chinook helicopter crashed in the Mekong Delta on Oct. 31, killing 15 GIs and two civilian contractors.

There were no survivors to confirm the cause of the crash, but the craft was believed to have been struck by a heat-seeking missile.

Ground fire directed at helicopters accounted for three crewmen killed and four wounded. A helicopter pilot and his door gunner were killed when a command-detonated Claymore mine, concealed in a tree branch, downed their low-flying observation craft.

Shelling and sapper attacks caused the rest of the casualties.

A North Vietnamese rocket attack in Binh Dinh Province wounded one American adviser. Another GI was wounded while dismantling an unexploded satchel charge left by enemy sappers at the Long Binh Army base. And 13 GIs were injured, most of them lightly, while running for cover during a 45-round rocket barrage at Long Binh last Sunday.

The American statistics are dwarfed by estimates of Vietnamese losses as both sides jockey for military and political advantage in the event of a cease-fire.

As Kissinger kept up his work in anticipation of the round of meetings he has promised will wrap up a settlement, there were other developments

Nation's Airline Pilots Planning Worldwide Anti-Hijacking Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — With their lives menaced by hijackers and their command authority challenged by tactics of the FBI, the nation's airline pilots are contemplating a new worldwide protest suspension of air service.

Spokesmen for both the pilots and their airlines welcomed the prospect of negotiations between the United States and Cuba to curb hijacking, but the pilots expressed the view that only a worldwide strike would force all governments to crack down on air piracy.

"I don't think we have any alternative to another worldwide strike," said John J. O'Donnell, president of the Air Line Pilots Association.

The first such demonstration, a 24-hour shutdown last June 19, was only partially effective in the United States because the airlines obtained court orders against it.

This time, O'Donnell told a news conference Wednesday, the airlines have indicated through their industry organization, the Air Transport Association, that they might cooperate in an effective shutdown.

But Stuart G. Tipton, ATA president, denied that the industry had given any such assurance.

O'Donnell said the ALPA board would meet within less than two weeks to consider closing air commerce as a means of inducing governments to take stronger measures against hijacking—such as providing more money for security personnel and equipment, and guarantees of swift punishment for air pirates.

"If it was in my power alone, I would shut down America's air industry until such time as the proper guarantees for safety to passenger and crew were made by the federal government," O'Donnell said.

Earlier, in a letter to President Nixon, O'Donnell urged that the United States take the initiative in trying to negotiate an antihijack accord directly with the Cuban government, because Cuba has been the principal haven for American hijackers.

The FBI attempt to ground the hijacked jet after it landed at McCoy Field in Orlando, Fla., was criticized anew by Capt. Thomas M. Ashwood, chairman of ALPA's commission on flight security.

Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray brought the hijack victims close to disaster by authorizing agents to shoot out the plane's tires. Ashwood told the convention of The Associated Press Managing Editors in Kansas City.

The crippled DC9 barely lifted off the ground at the extreme end of the runway, said O'Donnell who joined in assailing the FBI action.

But the American experts say there is no sign Castro wants a better relationship with Washington and they say President Nixon is not in the mood for a change either.

In the Wednesday broadcast, Havana criticized past American policy concerning Cuban emigration and acts by anti-Castro elements based in the United States, but it did not repeat the demand for extradition of "illegal Cuban emigrants."

This omission was seen by some U.S. experts as indicating the seriousness of the Cuban proposal.

But, the officials cautioned strongly against any speculation that this development would lead to broader discussions of general bilateral problems.

Cuba, one official said, doesn't want to be known as a haven for criminals and is willing to deal with the United States on that basis. This is particularly true, he said, because the two most recent hijackings involved accused murderers, bank robbers and rapists.

One only fatal accident was recorded during the much publicized day Wednesday when a car carrying two women skidded off U.S. 81 and into a pond near Columbus in the northeast part of the state.

The State Patrol said one woman made it to safety but the second woman died when she was held under the water by her seat belt.

Despite the one fatality, Gov. John J. Exon termed "Super Safety Day" a success.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials are very encouraged by a strong Cuban signal on opening negotiations toward ending aircraft hijacking, but they emphatically deny this could lead to a normalization in relations.

The Cuban signal came Wednesday in a broadcast from Havana, saying "the government of Cuba is willing, and without delay, to take such steps which might lead to the adoption of a broad agreement" on hijacking.

Even before this broadcast was monitored in Washington, State Department spokesman Charles W. Bray told newsmen, "We do have the impression now that there may now be a basis for reopening negotiations" on the issue.

Bray described the impression as based on unspecified "straws in the wind" as seen in previous actions and statements by Premier Fidel Castro's government following two recent hijackings of U.S. airliners to Cuba.

But the broadcast set off what officials said was "great excitement" among U.S. Cuban experts because the Castro government has not shown any previous willingness to negotiate the hijacking situation.

From the American viewpoint, the obstacle to past efforts to reach an accommodation on hijacking prevention was Havana's demand that the United States return Cubans who fled to this country.

It will be air launched from a B-52 next spring, and will be powered by a rocket engine to attain higher altitude and more speed than predecessors. The lifting bodies are being flown by NASA and USAF pilots to develop technology.

Wheelchair Patient Charged With Killing Woman On Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — William Johnson Jr., 24, has been charged with murder in the death of Carol Ann Venters, 28, who was fatally shot Wednesday as she waited for an elevator in the Harris County Criminal Courts Building.

Mrs. Venters died about two hours later. She was shot during a recess in her trial on a charge of assault to murder in the June 30, 1971 shooting of Johnson, who is confined to a wheelchair because of the injury.

A witness said John at first pointed what appeared to be a toy pistol at Mrs. Venters and said "Bang, bang, bang! You're dead!" The witness said he drew a revolver from inside his pants and fired two shots into the woman.

One of Mrs. Venters' lawyers, Matthew Talty, said he heard Johnson and Mrs. Venters arguing at the elevator and went over to break it up. He said Johnson produced the pistol from his pants and fired.

Deputy Sheriff John Logan, who was unarmed, said Johnson fired the shots past him as he grabbed Johnson.

"He was still trying to shoot," Talty said as he and Logan rolled Johnson to the floor.

Asst. Dist. Atty. John Holmes and a policeman who was a witness at the trial heard the shots and arrived in time to help handcuff Johnson.

"I have a nervous condition where she shot me five times," Johnson said. "I'll be paralyzed for the rest of my life. She didn't have to do that."

Johnson has a record of two misdemeanor convictions. He was convicted of threatening to take a life in 1967 and sentenced to 90 days in jail. He was fined $96 in 1969 on an aggravated assault charge.

Champion Poker Player Accepts Challenge In River Of No Return

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Cool Amarillo Slim, acknowledged world's champion poker player in most places, has accepted another challenge — shooting the rapids of the River of No Return.

The big wintertime challenge of the rapids comes Friday just outside Boise, Idaho, on a bet of $31,000.

Calm, cool Slim admits that's a lot of cold cash.

Slim, who is in private life just plain T. A. Preston of Amarillo, was offered the challenge by a group of fellow gamblers "who got together and raised the money and bet me that I couldn't go down the rapids in wintertime."

With hundreds of poker pots totaling in the thousands of dollars already behind him, Slim took the bet and began preparations that Friday, weather permitting, will launch him on the 65-mile plunge down the waterway, officially known as the Salmon River, about 150 miles from Boise.

It's a death-defying stunt. Preston knows it, and his family knows it. But it was his gambling instinct that made him world champion at cards, and it was that same instinct that made him want to try the river.

Among his preparations was his purchase of a Jacques Cousteau wet suit and a "sizable life insurance policy at a sizable premium."

Preston tested his wet suit in his swimming pool this week when the temperature was 24 degrees.

Argentina On Alert As Peron Returning Home

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The Argentine capital looks like it's about to be invaded as H-Hour—when Juan Peron returns from exile—gets closer.

Even military jargon is in use. Peronists have dubbed the former dictator's flight home after 17 years of exile "Operation Return."

Peron, 77, is scheduled to arrive at Ezeiza International Airport Friday in a chartered jet, accompanied by 140 followers who flew to Rome to pick him up.

The ruling military junta launched "Operation Dissuasion" to seal off the airport after Peronist leaders predicted a million of their followers would be at the field.

The generals also issued orders creating a one-day holiday, barring private plane flights and chartered bus trips, closing schools and restricting roads to military movement. They assured the public that peace would be maintained.

The first shots were fired Wednesday night, and they were blanks.

A policeman fired into the air to disperse 200 university students gathered on their campus for an assembly on "students' role in the return of Peron."

More than 30,000 soldiers were forming a ring around the airport, and all Buenos Aires police and troops from outlying areas took up positions in and around the capital.

Civilian automobile traffic was restricted. The National Transport Board warned private bus operators that they could provide only regular service and would need authorization for any charter runs or special trips. This barred bus lines from bringing Peronists into Buenos Aires from the provinces or taking them to the airport.

The military government limited the airport welcoming committee to 300, with their names to be supplied in advance.

The General Labor Confederation called a general strike Friday so that its two million members could "go into the street and shout their happiness." The government replied by declaring a holiday and closing the schools and universities today also. It hoped this would head off any sit-ins in schools or factories.

State, Federal Groups To Study Sinking Land

HOUSTON (AP) — A $300,000 state and federal survey of the Houston-Galveston area will begin Jan. 15 to determine how much the land is sinking because of ground water withdrawal.

"We will work on about 1,000 miles of intersecting lines drawn through the area, and if money is left over, the surveys will close up the loops—in some smaller areas, said Pliny Gale, head of the Houston chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Samuel P. Hand, with the National Geodetic Survey at Rockville, Md., said the survey would tell homeowners, cities, industry and insurance agents where the land is sinking and how fast.

The Texas Gulf Coast is one of the fastest sinking areas in the nation, Hand said. As water is pumped out, the sand and clay beneath become compacted, causing the land to sink and sometimes take foundations of buildings with it.

Crews of surveyors for the two-to-three-month survey will be drawn from NGS, the Texas Highway Department and the U.S. Geological Service.

The effort will be coordinated by the National Oceanic and

Birth Control Center Will Be Set Up In UH

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston will open a birth control center at its campus health center Dec. 1 and contraceptives for both male and female students will be dispensed free.

Dr. Elisabeth Ward, who has been working with the health center for about one year, is a gynecologist and will be in charge of the birth control center.

She said preventative treatment would include routine tests for syphilis and gonorrhea, breast and pelvic examinations, pap smears, and urine, blood count and blood sugar tests. All tests will be free.

Dr. Joseph Schmitzen, acting dean of Student Life, announced the program Wednesday and said UH had made an agreement with the city to form a family planning center on the campus, to be federally funded.

"These services are for enrolled students only and medical information is strictly confidential," Dr. Ward said.

Dr. Ward said she would continue her abortion referral program with emphasis on prevention of pregnancy and abstinence as a birth control method.

City Official Will Attend Chapter Meet

Aubrey L. Jones, Pampa tax assessor-collector, will attend the quarterly meeting of the North Plains Chapter of the Texas Association of Assessing Officers Friday in Amarillo.

The meeting will open at a noon luncheon in the Villa Inn at Interstate 40 and Grand Ave. in Amarillo.

The business session will be called to order at 1 p. m. by Porter Roberts, chapter president.

Talks by two men not directly connected with governmental units will feature the afternoon program. They are Howard Perdue, an attorney, and Wes Ramsey, tax agent with Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Another highlight will be the annual election of officers.

Heath In N. Ireland Trying To Promote New Peace Talks

BELFAST (AP) — Prime Minister Edward Heath flew to Northern Ireland today to try to promote a new round of peace talks.

Heath's two days of meetings with politicians, churchmen, labor and business leaders open the final phase of preparations for a new government structure for the province to replace direct rule from London.

Details of Heath's exact movements were kept secret as a security precaution. Stormont Castle, the site for most of his talks, was sealed off by security forces.

Soldiers with rifles at the ready patrolled the city in jeeps and on foot. They manned barricades at dozens of downtown checkpoints, routinely frisking pedestrians.

Heath was meeting today with labor, industrial and religious leaders, including William Cardinal Conway, the Roman Catholic archbishop of all Ireland. On Friday, he consults with delegations from the province's political parties.

However, the Prime Minister was not expected to meet with guerrilla leaders of the Catholic Irish Republican Army or with William Craig, a Protestant leader who threatens armed action against any sellout to the Catholic minority.

The consultations Heath begins are to be continued by William Whitelaw, Britain's chief administrator of Northern Ireland.

RAISING CANES — Christmas time is fast approaching—or so some would have you believe. Candy cane decorations have already gone up at Coronado Shopping Center. The city is making its plans for Christmas, too, with the Santa parade set for Nov. 30. For those interested in keeping count, there are only 34 shopping days until Christmas.

Mothers Cook Recipes Of Fun For Children

By F. RICHARD CICCONI
Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — Four suburban Chicago mothers who evidently never had problems amusing their children on rainy days have written a book to share their experiences with other mothers.

The women — three teachers and a social worker — got the idea for such a book in 1968 and two years later formed a company called Parents As Resource, Inc.

Their hand-printed booklet offers a different game or project on each page and almost all their ideas require items found easily in most homes.

So far, 20,000 copies at $2 each have been sold but now a major publisher is bringing out the follow-up book, "I Saw A Purple Cow."

The women also have a weekly newspaper column syndicated in 11 newspapers and are in the process of arranging a series of 12 television workshops to train persons to work with inner-city mothers and day-care workers.

Mrs. Carolyn Haas, who has five children ranging in age from 11 to 21, says, "We started out by thinking of all the things we did with our kids."

The women worked in their homes until recently, when they rented an office in Northfield, a northern suburb of Chicago.

Mrs. Betty Weinberger, who has a 5-year-old and an 8-year-old, says, "We never run out of ideas... We try everything on the kids and they give us new ideas."

The two women, together with Mrs. Ann Cole and Mrs. Faith Bushnell, who since has been replaced by Liz Heller, found little encouragement when they began their project.

"Finally," Mrs. Haas said, "the Head Start people in Chicago told us to go ahead in two of their centers. We brought all the materials, things like empty egg cartons, boxes of all kinds... It worked out great."

The women have since conducted workshops in West Virginia, North Carolina, New Mexico, Georgia and numerous Chicago suburbs.

"The beautiful thing," says Mrs. Weinberger, "is that our recipes for fun are not specific. We don't tell mothers to draw a circle and then paste here or there. We just say take a piece of paper and leave the idea open-ended."

Mrs. Heller, an art teacher who did all the illustrations for the booklet and the forthcoming book, says, "People always ask me how do I find the time to do so many things with the children."

"That's misleading to think we spend all our days with the children. You just take a few seconds to plan a game or an idea and you don't do everything."

The four women work an educational feature into each of the more than 100 fun recipes, but they admit many middle-class children get sufficient time from parents to provide for this.

"In the inner-city, however," says Mrs. Haas, "the parents often don't even communicate with children and this trains them in how to do it."

The four women are making money with their project.

"Enough to pay a secretary and an accountant, but we don't take salaries," says Mrs. Weinberger, a social worker.

The future of PAR would appear to be an expanding one but Mrs. Haas explains, "Each of us throw our ideas into everything. It's hard enough for four women to work together. I don't know if we could do it with more."

Use butterscotch pudding mix as a filling for graham cracker crust. Top with whipped cream flavored with chocolate.

Apple Cheesecake Is New

1/2 cup butter or Margarine
1 Pkg. Zwieback
Crushed into fine crumbs
1/2 cup extra fine (instant) sugar
2 Pkgs. (8-oz. each) cream cheese
1/2 cup sugar
2 tbs. flour
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
4 eggs, separated
1 cup whipping cream
Apple Topping
Blend soft butter or margarine, Zwieback crumbs and instant sugar. Reserve one-third for topping. Press remaining crumb mixture on bottom and sides of 8-inch spring-form pan. Mash cream cheese until softened blend with sugar, flour, salt and vanilla. Add egg yolks one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Blend in cream. Beat egg whites stiff but not dry; fold into cheese mixture gently but thoroughly. Spoon gently into crumb-lined pan. Scatter reserved crumbs on top. Bake at 325 degrees F. for 1 hour and 15 minutes or until center of cake is set. Turn off oven. Leave cake in oven, with door closed, for 1 hour longer. Remove from oven. Cool slowly to room temperature. Chill. Arrange apple topping on surface. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

APPLE TOPPING
1 cup water
1 cup brown sugar
(firmly packed)
1 tsp. cinnamon
1/4 tsp. nutmeg
1/4 tsp. mace
1/4 tsp. allspice
4 large apples

Combine water, sugar and spices in large skillet. Stir over low heat until sugar dissolves. Simmer 10 minutes. Pare and core apples; slice thin. Put enough apple slices in syrup to cover bottom of skillet. Cook until slices are tender but have not lost their shape. Remove with slotted spoon or pancake turner. Continue until all apple slices are cooked. Cool. Arrange in over-lapping concentric circles on top of chilled cheesecake.

Make thin patties of ground beef. Sandwich the patties together with pickle relish and thin onion rings. Grill as usual and serve between toasted buns.

Women Vets' 'Bill Of Rights' Included In Vet Education Law

A women veterans' "bill of rights" is included in the new veterans' education law, signed by the President Oct. 24, 1972. Jack Coker, director of the Waco VA Regional Office, said, "To receive the additional amounts of VA education allowance, compensation, and pension money that men veterans are allowed for their wives, women veterans no longer will have to prove their husbands are disabled and permanently incapable of self-support."

Coker pointed out this provision applies to GI Bill, vocational rehabilitation, pension, compensation, and dependency and indemnity compensation, which is paid for service-connected deaths.

The new law also liberalizes the criteria for paying additional amounts for children who are in the custody of a veteran and also awaiting adoption, Coker said.

Where the child has been placed for adoption with the veteran under an agreement with an authorized adoption agency, additional benefits may be paid for the child during the time the child remains in custody and prior to the court decree of adoption.

"Until this liberalization," Coker said, "unless there was an interlocutory decree of adoption, no payments could be made while the child was in

Dan True Going Back To KGNC As Weatherman

One of the most popular weather men in the Texas Panhandle will return to KGNC Television tonight. Dan True, who started with KGNC in February, 1964, will again be putting his forecasts on the 6 and 10 p.m. Channel 4 Newswatch, beginning tonight.

True has been with KFDD Television since leaving KGNC in July, 1960. He will be in charge of the KGNC Meteorology Department for both KGNC Television and Radio.

In addition to his background in meteorology, True is also a recognized expert on wildlife and currently is writing a book about "Eagles." His wildlife films, also will be a feature of Color 4.

Rev. Sam Hulsey Attends NAES Conference In D.C.

The Rev. Sam B. Hulsey from St. Matthew's Day School in Pampa attended the triennial Conference of the National Association of Episcopal Schools in Washington, D.C. Nov. 9-11.

Billed as a "conference of ideas," the gathering attracted some 700 administrators and teachers to the first gathering of its kind to be held in three years.

A meeting of 20 bishops of the Episcopal Church opened the sessions, which were held at the Washington Cathedral on Mount Saint Alban, using the facilities of the two Episcopal schools there.

The Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, presiding bishop, gave the keynote address.

Among other prominent educators on the program were Dr. C. Albert Koob, president of the National Catholic Educational Association; Dr. Edwin O. Reischauer, former Ambassador to Japan and now professor of Far Eastern Studies at Harvard; and Dr. John Silbur, president of Boston University.

News On Social Security

Monthly social security payments to the average retired worker and his wife are about two-thirds of the income they need to live according to the latest "intermediate budget for a retired couple" from the U.S. Department of Labor.

Social security payments replace part of the earnings a worker loses when he retires. The average payment to a retired worker and his wife—both 62 or over and both getting social security—is $271 a month, according to Howard L. Weatherly, social security branch manager in Pampa.

That's 68 percent of the Department of Labor's "intermediate budget" for a retired couple, which calls for $398 a month. Weatherly said.

The intermediate budget is for self-supporting retired couple who live independently in their own home, and can take care of themselves, according to Weatherly.

The Department of Labor has also developed a "lower-level" budget for retired couples—$277 a month; and a "higher-level" budget—$620 a month.

Dear Abby

19-year-old has a hefty problem

By Abigail Van Buren

(c) 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl and everyone tells me I have a beautiful face, but I am very, very heavy, and I've been this way all my life. I've tried every kind of diet imaginable, but have never lost more than 20 pounds, which I always put right back on, so I've decided to give up dieting.

I've never dated much, but I didn't let it make me miserable. I have a good bookkeeping job, read a lot and do beautiful needlework.

My problem: I am going with a 54-year-old man who wants to marry me. Before you say he is too old for me, please finish this. He's a widower with married children who think I'm the greatest. He loves me and says he likes me just the way I am. He would be a good provider, and I wouldn't have to work, but he says I could if I wanted to. We like the same things [we're both homebodies] and I know we could be happy together.

My parents are against him because he's older than my father. Abby, if being treated well can make a girl love a man, I know I could learn to love him. We have never been intimate. [He hasn't even tried.]

Should I marry him? Who else would want a girl who is 100 pounds overweight?

UNDECIDED

DEAR UNDECIDED: A girl who marries a man, hoping to "learn to love him" is risking a lot. That is not to say that only couples who are wildly in love can be happy. [Many are.] But your reason for wanting a 54-year-old man at age 19, ["who else would want me?"] is a weak one. I urge you to make a sincere effort to lose that weight—then consider marriage. You have a lot to lose—but everything to gain.

DEAR ABBY: I hate getting chain letters, and wonder if you can tell me how to handle them. Someone once told me that chain letters involving money are illegal and I certainly don't want to get mixed up in anything like that!

Chain letters that don't involve money, but request a recipe, and make you feel guilty if you break the chain give me a pain-in-the-neck! I don't like to bother with them, and I certainly don't want to bother six more people with something I consider pointless and annoying. On the other hand, I don't want to hurt the feelings of the one who sent it to me.

UNCHAINED

DEAR UNCHAINED: I return it to the sender with a friendly note asking him to please include me out!

DEAR ABBY: The other day I went to visit a new neighbor who had moved in next door. While I was there, her seven-year-old daughter came home from school about an hour late. The child had no excuse. The mother got a paddle and instructed the child to lower her panties and bend over. After about four whacks she said the child could go.

Later she told me it did more good to punish her child that way in front of someone than to take her to the bathroom and do it.

I disagree. How do you feel about it?

NEW NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: A spanking on a bare bottom is punishment. To add to it the humiliation of being punished in this manner "in front of someone" is, I think, cruel.

Earthy Colors

If you prefer earthy colors in your wardrobe, try bringing a little color into your clothes by brightening up your accessories. Choose scarves, hats, gloves, bags and boots in rich, bright colors or even bold patterns.

Quick Set

For quick hair-sets cologne can be used instead of water. However, don't forget that perfumes and colognes contain alcohol. So save the cologne-sets for emergencies since it tends to dry and damage the hair.

 D'Artagnan was not only the greatest swordsman in France but he was a great strategist. He knew there was a time for daring and a time for safety.

What should he do after the wily Rochefort jumped to four hearts? A mere four-spade call was likely to be an underbid. A heart cue-bid would probably just elicit a further diamond bid from Porthos sitting North. A six-spade bid might leave him high and dry and wrecked on the rocks of distribution, but D'Artagnan tried that bid.

Rochefort considered a seven-heart save, but he had too much defense and he knew that all D'Artagnan's slams were not guaranteed by the Bank of France.

Jussac opened a heart. D'Artagnan ruffed and saw that the way to follow up his daring bid was with extreme caution in the play.

Watch the safe way he played the slam. At trick two he cashed the ace of clubs. Then he led a diamond to dummy's ace and played a second club from dummy to guard against the possibility that Rochefort had been dealt just one club.

When the club was not ruffed the hand was home.

D'Artagnan led a low club; ruffed with dummy's king of trumps; led a heart and ruffed with his ace of trumps as a super safety play; then ruffed this last club with dummy's five of trumps and told his opponents that one of them could take his queen of trumps any time he wished.

 A—Every once in awhile you find yourself painted into a corner. We slightly favor a pass, but would not criticize a two-spade call if you want to bid once more.

TODAY'S QUESTION
 Instead of passing, East has bid one diamond over your partner's club. What do you do now?

The English Country Squire look (left) is one of the brightest ways to turn out this season. Baby argyle pattern in 100 per cent acrylic fabric is fashioned into snappy cuffed pants and vest worn with one of the best shirt looks around—dark colors in Dacron/cotton spiced with white collars and cuffs. Jacquard sleeveless pullovers (right) come in colors and patterns galore. Reminiscent of the '30s, yet brought up to date, this newswy "third" piece worn over classic shirts completes the total look of today's sportswear. Ship'n Shore supplies these perky collections.

Bridge Tournament Is Explained At Meeting

Phi Epsilon Beta of Beta Sigma Phi met recently in the home of Mrs. Phil Altam. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Richard Dorman, president.

The Bridge Tournament, which will be held Saturday, Nov. 18 at the Heritage Room, M.K. Brown Auditorium, was discussed. Each member was reminded to bring card tables and tickets to Mrs. Dorman's house by the end of this week.

The tournament is being sponsored by the five chapters of Beta Sigma Phi. Proceeds will be used in providing a scholarship for a deserving student.

The program given by Carol Clark and Vickie Stone, Phi Eta Chapter members was on holiday candies.

The Nov. 19 social will be held Sunday. A Thanksgiving dinner, with husbands invited, is scheduled with each member bringing a covered dish.

Guests attending the meeting were, new pledges. They were introduced to the members and informed of the chapters activities.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, Nov. 21. Special guests, will be Superintendent Wilson, of Girlstown and Miss Cathy Carter, Cath. 13, is being sponsored by PEB this year.

Pledges attending were Mmes. Danny Hoggett, Perry Ashbaugh, Mike Keen, Danny Stokes, Mike Stubblefield, and Miss Kathy Daugherty. Members attending were Mmes. Your Horoscope

By Jeane Dixon

FRIDAY, NOV. 17
 Your birthday today: You now make constructive and lasting adjustments in your life style. Relationships remain stable where you let them take their own course. Today's natives will follow a good idea regardless of risk.

Aries [March 21-April 19]: Hold onto newly arriving money and materials until you can plan distribution exactly. Seek special collaboration.

Taurus [April 20-May 20]: An early start and diligent effort help as you begin to untangle yesterday's discrepancies. By evening you've earned a rest.

Gemini [May 21-June 20]: Private affairs are helped by friends, but nothing financial should be entrusted to them. Gather acquaintances for a lively evening.

Cancer [June 21-July 21]: Established projects can be pushed: new ventures begun now are for only a short term. Patience with friends is needed but noticed little.

Leo [July 22-Aug. 22]: All too many things to do, very little consistent help in the doing, so assign priorities early and get busy.

Virgo [Aug. 23-Sept. 22]: Impetuous moves: are natural although somewhat speculative. Use your own money rather than any you hold in trust for others.

Libra [Sept. 23-Oct. 22]: The closer the relation, the sharper the disagreement. Get to the core of it quickly, make the appropriate compromise or adjustment.

Scorpio [Oct. 23-Nov. 21]: Temptation to urgent, drastic action has to be resisted. If you remain calm and serene you gain much fresh information.

Sagittarius [Nov. 22-Dec. 21]: Seek knowledge, apply for formal registrations and confirmation of plans. Catch up on correspondence, be nice to those near you.

Capricorn [Dec. 22-Jan. 19]: Nothing is quite as you had hoped, but most matters can be set right by steady application of your skills.

Aquarius [Jan. 20-Feb. 18]: Convenience doesn't seem to exist—if it's worth doing, it's not easy or handy. Friends are subject to restlessness.

Pisces [Feb. 19-March 20]: Put your money on the line in well-planned purchases, settle outstanding accounts. Consult specialists, get a second opinion.

Tom Landry Ends Talk About Roger

DALLAS (AP) — While Coach Tom Landry was fretting about his porous defense, he took the time Wednesday to make what he called his final comments on the Dallas Cowboy quarterback situation.

He made it clear he has confidence in backup quarterback Roger Staubach even if he hasn't used the Super Bowl hero since he returned from shoulder surgery.

"If we had to go with Roger, there's no question of my confidence in him," Landry said. "Roger might be rusty but he would still win the game."

Landry said recent quotes attributed to him made it "appear Roger was not a winner. I was just trying to make the point that the game ought to be under control before he plays."

Craig Morton has been red-hot as the defending National Football League champions have compiled a 7-2 record.

There's been some grumbling from hard corps Staubach fans in Dallas, including a group with bumper stickers reading "Let's Get Stau Bach." Landry said "Roger needs playing time but his arm is strong. I can't say it was as strong as it was before the operation. It's good enough for him to play football."

Alabama To Cotton?

MIAMI (AP) — Second-ranked Alabama has decided to accept an invitation to meet Texas in the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl in Dallas, the Miami Herald reported today.

In an article by sports columnist Bob Elliott, the Herald said the Crimson had passed up bids to the Orange and Sugar bowls to play the Longhorns.

Bowl invitations cannot be officially extended until Saturday at 6 p.m.

Oklahoma To Return

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Oklahoma will return to defend its Sugar Bowl title New Year's Eve night against Penn State, an Eastern power making its first appearance in the Sugar Bowl classic.

The Associated Press learned of the matchup Wednesday, although it cannot be announced officially until Saturday afternoon because of National Collegiate Athletic Association rules.

Fourth-ranked Oklahoma is 7-1 for the season—the loss was to Colorado—with Kansas, Nebraska and Oklahoma State still ahead.

Sixth-ranked Penn State is 8-1, having won eight straight since a 28-21 loss to Tennessee in the Nittany Lions' season opener.

Oklahoma's wishbone ran wild in a 40-22 romp over Auburn in last season's Sugar Bowl while Penn State was whipping Texas 30-6 in the Cotton Bowl.

Confirmation of the Sugar Bowl match, a source close to behind-the-scenes bowl negotiations told The Associated Press, makes it a virtual certainty that Nebraska will play Notre Dame in the Orange Bowl with Alabama meeting Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

Penn State, under Coach Joe Paterno, will be heavily favored in its final two games against Boston College and Pittsburgh.

Hogs At Top

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Arkansas, a one-point loser to Tennessee in last year's Liberty Bowl, reportedly is back at the head of the list of "possibles" for this year's Dec. 18 contest.

If the Razorbacks, 5-4 with two games remaining, defeat Southern Methodist at Fayetteville Saturday, they reportedly will be invited to return to the Memphis classic, the Memphis Commercial Appeal reported today.

Bowl officials were unavailable for comment. The newspaper said the other Liberty Bowl team will be Iowa State if the Cyclones defeat Missouri Saturday at Columbia, Mo.

Iowa State is 5-2-1 and has three games left on its schedule. The Cyclones' record includes a 23-23 tie with Nebraska last week.

In addition to the Iowa State and Arkansas games, the Liberty Bowl will send scouts this weekend to Georgia-Auburn and Tennessee-Ole Miss, selection committee chairman, Tim Treadwell III said.

Landry emphasized that Staubach wouldn't play unless the game was "under control."

Then Landry added "I'm not going to talk about Staubach anymore."

Landry said the demise of his Dooomsday Defense, now ranked ninth in the National Conference, was purely a matter of "Concentration."

He said without smiling "We're going to be on it until we get it straight. It's just a matter of intensity."

Landry said the defense appeared to be relaxing because the offense was putting a lot of points on the board.

"We've just been playing good enough to win," Landry said.

Asked if his defense could handle Washington, Landry said "I wouldn't admit we're not playing well enough to beat Washington."

The Cowboys trail the Redskins by one game in the NFC East.

Landry gave the Cowboys two days off this week so they could "mentally" get ready to play Philadelphia.

"I think an 11-3 record will get us in the playoff," he said.

The next 11 days are most crucial for us. After we play the Eagles, we have to turn around and meet a good San Francisco team Thanksgiving Day."

Basketball Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Boston Celtics continued on their victory rampage in the National Basketball Association and left the Phoenix Suns wrestling with an identity crisis.

"You didn't see the Phoenix Suns out there, you saw five guys in uniforms," said Phoenix Coach Jerry Colangelo Wednesday night after the Celtics beat his Suns 113-94. "The Celtics are playing basketball the way it should be played."

Six Celtics hit double figures as they recorded their 14th triumph in 15 games with a fast-break offense and solid defense that protected their lead throughout the contest.

"They simply played super defense in the first half," said Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn. "You've got to keep pressure on them. Everybody made a contribution tonight."

In other NBA games Wednesday night, Kansas City-Omaha defeated Seattle 106-97 and Los Angeles downed Detroit 110-99.

In the American Basketball Association, Memphis whipped San Diego 126-101, New York upended Carolina 112-107 and Dallas outlasted Kentucky 104-99.

Dave Cowens paced the Celtics with 25 points and 19 rebounds while Charlie Scott led all scorers with 33 points for Phoenix. The Suns made a minor threat with a nine-point outburst in the fourth quarter that trimmed the Celtics' lead to 89-79. But Boston surged back with 13 straight points to put it out of reach.

Nate Archibald poured in 47 points as the Kings' triumph marked the first time an NBA club coached by Bob Cousy has been over the 500 mark.

"It's nice to be over 500," said Cousy. "But I'll be happier when we make the playoffs."

Gail Goodrich and Wilt Chamberlain sparked a second-half rally as the Lakers scored their eighth straight victory and their 13th in 14 outings. Goodrich and Chamberlain each had 16 points after Detroit held a 52-51, halftime edge and finished with 24 and 21 points, respectively.

Returning home made the difference for the Nets as they recovered from a six-game losing streak—with all the losses on the road—with a 112-107 victory over the Cougars. George Carter, acquired from Carolina in an off-season trade, scored a personal season high 34 points as the Nets raced to a 63-47 halftime lead and stayed in command the rest of the way.

Lee Davis and George Thompson each posted 32 points as Memphis broke open a tight contest in the second period, outgunning the Conquistadors 33-19 enroute to a 62-42 halftime bulge.

Bob Netolicky and Rich Jones led a 29-point fourth quarter rally for the Chaparrals' win. Netolicky finished with 31 points while Jones had 25. The Colonels held a seven-point lead with 10:43 remaining but the Chaps roared back to take the lead at 99-97 with 1:15 left.

York Landed This 45 lb Catfish!

Kenneth Troy York, 1220 Darby, had to really work to bring home this Catfish from Texoma. The cat weighed 45 pounds, was 45 1/2 inches long and had a girth of 30 inches. York caught it on a trawline with small perch as bait. He worked the fish about one hour before landing it. Bring your catch today to be photographed and registered at Pampa Tent & Awning Company, 317 E. Brown on Highway 60.

Pampa Preparing For Sandie Game

By CLAY LIVELY
Pampa's Harvesters have their final practice today getting ready for what will almost certainly be their last game of the 1972 football season.

Going into this game with the Amarillo Sandies, Pampa stands 5-4 on the year and 2-2 in district play. A victory is, of course, necessary if the Harvesters are to attain their third winning season in a row.

Despite two disappointing early season losses to Hereford and Carlsbad, N.M., the Harvesters looked as though they were ready to play when district began.

Two weeks before league play began, Pampa defeated the Canyon Eagles handily, 27-7, in a game on Harvester Field. Then, in the district opener against Caprock, the Harvesters rolled up 463 yards in total offense to defeat the Longhorns, 29-14.

The following week Pampa traveled to Amarillo to play Tascosa and it looked as though the Harvesters had their best chance ever to beat the Rebels. It still looked that way at half time when Pampa went to the locker room with a seven-point lead and 267 yards total offense.

On the first play of the second half, however, Tascosa's Paul Smith went 73 yards for the touchdown which proved to be the winning score.

Three lost fumbles and a pass interception in the last two quarters killed Pampa drives and the Harvesters were 1-1 in district play.

Pampa trounced Borger, 31-7, the next week and went back to Amarillo last Friday to play the Palo Duro Dons with a 2-1 district mark.

Well, the Harvesters never really were in that game against the Dons. To paraphrase Coach Buddy Williams, Palo Duro was able to do just about anything it wanted to do the entire game, both offensively and defensively.

Going into the game tomorrow night against Amarillo High, Pampa is involved in a complicated four-way tie for second place in the district with the Sandies, Borger and Caprock.

Palo Duro leads the league with a 3-1 record while those in second place each stand 2-2. Tascosa is completely out of contention with a 1-3 mark.

Conceivably, if things were to go just right, District 3-AAAA could end in a three or four-way tie for the championship.

For that to occur, Caprock would have to beat Palo Duro in their game Saturday. If that should happen, both of those teams will have 3-2 district marks.

So will the winner of tomorrow night's game between the Harvesters and Amarillo. And, if Borger beats Tascosa Friday, it would also have a 3-2 mark.

There are a whole bunch of "ifs" in the scenario above, but the way things have gone in the district so far this season, it's not beyond the realm of possibility that it might end up just that way.

Should that occur, a toss of the coin would determine who would represent District 3-AAAA in bi-district.

Basketball Finals Set

The Pampa Rotary Club's basketball team meets Borger Blue tonight at 8 o'clock in the finals of the Pampa Youth and Community Center's Pre-Season Tournament.

Rotary Club advanced by beating Big Al's of Borger in first-round action, 65-59, and Cock O' Walk, 64-46, last night.

Borger Blue beat Spearman, 69-61, in the semi-finals last night after defeating Furr Food in the opening round.

Cock O' Walk beat the First Baptist Church of Borger in the opening round and Spearman beat the First Baptist Church of Pampa to advance to the semi-finals.

MAJOR HOOPLE'S FOOTBALL FORECAST

SCENT OF ROSES---

Hoople Picks Southern California To Win Rose Bowl Bid in Close One

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Fearless Forecaster

Evad, friends, seldom has your faithful correspondent witnessed a day when the upset-minded collegiate elevens enjoyed more spectacular success than they did last Saturday—um-kumph! The dope bucket was booted with reckless abandon all the way—kaff-kaff—from the ancient and honored Ivy League to the Pacific 8, and from the Midwest to the deep south.

And perhaps the biggest upset of all was the one pegged by your fearless forecaster—little Tampa over Miami's Hurricanes—har-kumph! You'll remember we wrote, "The Hoople Three Star special of the week is the University of Tampa to shock intrastate rival Miami, 13-8." And shock them Tampa did with a 7-0 victory—um-kumph!

But enough of this chit-chat. Most of the football interest this week will be centered on Los Angeles where Southern California meets UCLA, the last obstacle in the Trojans' path to the Rose Bowl. The Hoople nod goes to John McKay's Trojans but they will have to be at their best to fight off the enraged Bruins who were ambushed last week by Washington. Southern Cal will run its record to 10-0 with a narrow 19-17 triumph—hak-kaff!

The two remaining major unbeaten powers, Michigan (9-0) and Alabama (8-0), meet Purdue and Virginia Tech respectively. Michigan will have the rougher assignment but will, according to the Hoople System, prevail over rugged Purdue by a 28-21 count. Alabama, which has never lost to Virginia Tech in six previous meetings, will keep its record intact with a relatively easy 42-16 victory.

The Old Boy Himself

Several other powers looking to move up in the national ratings—Penn State (8-1), Notre Dame (7-1), Texas (7-1) and Auburn (7-1)—all figure to win. Here's how we call 'em: Penn State 42, Boston College 20, Notre Dame 32, Miami (Fla.) 14, Texas 22, TCU 15, and Auburn 29, Georgia 13.

Oklahoma's Sooners, also 7-1 for the year, will sharpen up for their Turkey Day Big Eight title battle with Nebraska by polishing off Kansas, 30-12—har-rumph!

Allen Credits Chicago For His Changing Image

CHICAGO (AP) — "All I asked for when I came here was one year of peace of mind," said the American League's newly honored Most Valuable Player for 1972.

First baseman Dick Allen, his image as a moody, controversial former National League star behind him, made it plain Wednesday that finding "a home in Chicago where I really feel like a human being" spurred his superb AL debut with the White Sox.

A genial Allen, garbed in a maroon mod suit replete with matching boots, touched all bases—past and present—at a news conference following his landslide MVP choice by the Baseball Writers Association of America earlier in the day.

Charles O. Finley Honored In LaPorte

LAPORTE, Ind. (AP) — Charles O. Finley, much maligned and controversial owner of the Oakland Athletics, is a popular man in his hometown of LaPorte, Ind.

The white-haired multimillionaire was honored Wednesday night by this city of 23,000 for his contribution to the city and the game of baseball.

Finley is owner of the world champion A's, the California Golden Seals of the National Hockey League and the Memphis Tams of the American Basketball Association.

He also is an insurance executive, running his business from an office in Chicago.

The target of critical press for his handling of players, moving of franchises and firing of managers, Finley was the subject of praise and respect at LaPorte's Civic Auditorium Wednesday night.

A crowd of 2,200 wedged into the building to take part in the festivities organized by local businessmen and friends of Finley.

Finley, his family and several members of the A's entered the hall behind a six-piece Dixieland band. They approached the speakers' table amid the standing, cheering admirers who waved hundreds of green and gold Oakland pennants.

Among those paying tribute in person were A's Manager Dick Williams and four Oakland players—Vida Blue, involved in

The 30-year-old Allen, who led the AL in home runs with 37 and in RBI with a career high of 113 while batting .308, modestly said "I think this is quite an honor and I hope I'm worthy of it."

"Actually, I thought Joe Rudi (outfielder for the world champion Oakland A's) would have won it. Baseball is my life, it makes me go. This would mean more to me had we won the pennant."

Rudi finished a distant second in the MVP voting, with 164 points compared with Allen's 321.

Allen, completely at ease before a battery of microphones, at the start thanked the Philadelphia Phil scout, Johnny Ogden, who signed him in 1960.

Allen joked at the question of what salary he will demand next season after missing the entire spring training this year before signing with the Sox April 1 for an estimated $135,000.

"I don't know, how much do you have?" he tossed at the horde of interviewers, then adding: "I had hoped to talk contract on this trip, but Stu Holcomb (Sox general manager) is out of town. But I don't think it will take too much talking to sign."

Would Allen again skip spring training? Chuck Tanner, the AP's 1972 AL Manager of the Year, recently said he would chase Allen out of camp if he showed up.

"You tell me," was Allen's smiling comment.

PIRATES LIKE JULY PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — July could go down as the month the world champion Pittsburgh Pirates sewed up another National League East flag. When July began the Pirates led the New York Mets by only three percentage points, but when the month ended they were seven full games ahead of the Mets, who suffered injuries to their top batter, Rusty Staub, and other outfielders and infielders.

PROLIFIC GEORGE George Blanda of the Oakland Raiders is pro football's all-time leading scorer, with 1647 points in 22 seasons entering the 1972 campaign. Blanda last season passed Lou Groza, who scored 1608 points in 21 pro seasons.

Tourney Set HOUSTON (AP) — The S&H Green Stamps Ladies Golf Classic at Westwood Country Club next March has been announced with a total purse of $100,000—the second tournament ever to hit that level on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour.

But it won't be the last, according to LPGA tournament director Bud Erickson. In announcing the tournament Wednesday, Erickson said he expected to have four $100,000 women's tournaments lined up for the 1973 tour.

This year's Dinah Shore Classic had a total purse of $110,000, the first to reach the $100,000 bracket.

Business As Free World Tool

Five years ago, French publisher and politician Jean-Jacques Servan-Schreiber shook up his fellow Europeans with his book, "The American Challenge," in which he warned that the countries of Western Europe had to integrate economically or become subservient to American industrial might.

Today, he is calling upon the leaders of both Europe and the United States to recognize that they have a "golden opportunity" to end East-West rivalry and to "emancipate the Communist people with new weapons of peace."

In an interview in Business Week magazine, Newspaper Enterprise Association reports, Servan-Schreiber recalls that the Marshall Plan rapidly built up the European market after World War II. The United States, he contends, is ready to do the same thing with the Communist world — "subsidize the market to start it, to make it take off."

He predicts that the multinational corporation will be the tool for opening up the Communist countries of the East.

The Communists, he says, prefer to do business with large companies rather than a lot of different, small ones. Most of the time they want to work with American multinational companies because they are large and diversified and can work on many projects with one management team.

But the "American Challenge" is no longer purely American, he says. The great multinational corporations challenge all nations and their political sovereignty. The sheer power of these economic giants has outstripped the ability of states to control them.

At the same time, he sees a growing antagonism toward multinational corporations as a dangerous development. Such corporations can be the instruments "for improving the standard of living more efficiently than anything else in history," he believes, and can serve as the dynamo to spark progress in the Communist bloc and the Third World.

"We can emancipate the Communist people with these new weapons of peace," says Servan-Schreiber. "Once the average Russian has an improved standard of living, the Soviet Union will be open to change. A free market implies a free mind."

This Is Why You Kick Tires

Visitors to the Greater New York Automobile Show currently being held at the New York Coliseum can get rid of their frustrations or whatever by kicking the tires in a special display set up for that purpose.

As everyone knows, it's a tradition to kick the tires of a car you are considering buying, but few people know why. According to Goodyear experts, it began back in the early 1900s when clincher tires were used on cars.

This kind of tire was held or clinched to the rim by means of clamps, and you kicked it to see if it was properly attached and inflated.

Incidentally, tires had to be changed every 50 miles or so back in those good old days — which just possibly might have been an additional reason for kicking the darn things.

Electricity Bind Ahead For The U.S.

By RAY CROMLEY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Not enough attention has been paid to the United States' extraordinary need for electric power and fuel in the next 10-20-30 years and to the bind we shall be in if we don't make radical changes in handling the problem.

The Federal Power Commission predicts the demand for electric energy will double from 1970 to 1980 and double again in 1990.

Nuclear power supplied less than 1.5 per cent of the electric power in 1970. It will need to supply 28 per cent in 1980 and half by 1990.

The estimated need for petroleum in the decade just ahead is almost as startling.

Yet applications for new nuclear power plants get bogged down in red tape for years.

The blame is often laid on the environmentalists. They demand, it is argued, standards impossible or too expensive to meet. This argument doesn't face the real issue.

So far as this reporter can determine from talks with government and industry sources, it is not the insistence on standards which is causing the delays.

—It is the time which the regulating agencies take in determining whether a plant can be licensed.

—It is the frequent, seemingly endless court battles, over whether the licensing is correct.

—It is the eternal delay in interpreting what the regulations and standards are that have been agreed on.

The regulations, standards and rulings are frequently so vague the builders of nuclear plants cannot be certain when they are and are not in compliance, thus leading to frustratingly long negotiations before work can begin and also after construction is under way.

The endless court delays, some men in the Atomic Energy Commission concede privately, come about in part because various interested groups are not brought into the discussions early enough in the game. Some companies insist these environmentalist groups use the court battles as a delaying tactic, not expecting to win.

Nevertheless, few of those this reporter has talked to on one side or another doubt that if there were thorough discussions on proposals and objections early in the procedure (along with more concrete standards and objectives) there would be far less to argue about in court.

AEC officials say there are, as of today, 80 topics in the regulatory process for which nuclear standards are urgently needed.

If that is so, then how can any company plan? It cannot know what standards to meet. It has no way of preparing its plans with the certainty that when they are made they will come close to approval. It means planning in the dark.

Even in those instances where standards have been determined, the situation is not much better. A review of 81 approved nuclear standards indicates that regulatory guides are needed for efficient compliance with 40. Those regulatory guides are not yet developed. They are "planned."

High Price Of Doing Nothing In Washington

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
WASHINGTON (NEA) — In Washington, even doing nothing sometimes costs a lot of money.

Take FAP, for example. You remember FAP—the welfare plan under which a working family of four would be guaranteed a minimum of $2,400 a year.

This grandiose scheme, product of five months of work by the Ways and Means Committee, was passed by the House in the summer of 1971. But it was ditched by the Senate Finance Committee which came up with a plan of its own after many months of deliberating—only to have it junked by the full Senate in September of this year.

Well, in anticipation that FAP would be enacted by Congress, two government departments spent some $10 million formulating preparations for putting it into operation—all so much wasted effort and taxpayers' money!

This has been brought to light by Sen. Harry Byrd, Ind.-Va., indefatigable economy crusader, who queried the Secretary of Labor and the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare about the matter. Byrd learned their agencies had spent a lot of money on the non-existent FAP, and he wanted to know why.

H. L. Hunt Writes

"END" OF A WAR

Negotiations between the U.S. and North Vietnam have set the stage for the end of one of the most miserable wars in history. It has been the longest conflict in our history and in many ways the most costly. Not only have thousands of brave men been killed or wounded but the nation has been left divided. Only the War Between the States left deeper internal wounds.

Fundamentally, the war in Indochina was wrong on our part, not because we had a basic cause to fight communism, which threatens to engulf Asia and the entire world, but because we did not commit ourselves to a policy of winning. The military, which did not make the decision to get into the war, wanted to win but it was constantly hamstrung by politicians who were too timid to win. If we were restrained because of a fear of Chinese or Russian intervention, then we should not have been there in the first place. If our cause was just, as several administrations seemed to think, then we should have dedicated ourselves to total victory. There has been no logic in our foreign policy in Vietnam. War is simply an extension of a nation's foreign policy.

It is not clear now what safeguards, if any, are built into the settlement. A negotiated peace may serve the communist cause more adequately than a clear-cut victory on the field of battle. Once our Air Force and Navy are withdrawn, Hanoi could find the pickings easy and take over most of Asia through subversion. It is a safe bet that whoever is in power in Washington will be reluctant to recommit our armed forces again. The future is grim but not hopeless. Internal strength and a reunion in spirit of all the people in this nation can overcome all odds.

Specifically, he asked two key questions:

(1) How much money they had spent in fiscal years 1970-71-72 "in support of and in anticipation of the passage of the family assistance program?" (2) The number of employees in each of these years "whose duties, in whole or in part, were in support of and in anticipation of the passage of FAP?"

The replies of Labor Secretary James Hodgson and HEW Secretary Elliott Richardson were eye-openers. As summarized by Sen. Byrd, they revealed the following:

"The figures show that these two departments spent a combined total of almost $10 million during the three fiscal years in planning for the family assistance program. And as of mid-October of this year, 315 employees of the two departments were engaged in work on this plan at a total payroll cost of $492,886 per month.

"It is most regrettable that so much in tax funds were spent in support of this welfare program, which the Senate so justifiably turned down.

Why It Was Scrapped

Sen. Byrd was in the forefront of the fight against FAP on a number of grounds — foremost among them:

Cost of the program would have been at least $5 billion greater than the present welfare system; the number of welfare recipients would have soared from 13 million to 26 million; the Federal government would have had to hire 80,000 new employees to administer the huge plan; it lacked adequate work incentives.

"The Senate's rejection of FAP was a correct decision," says Byrd.

The forthright Virginian also sternly warned that "there are increasing signs—the inflationary spiral is beginning to accelerate again." He contended that the "dominant problem" facing the country is the "pressing" need for the government to put its financial house in order.

Byrd disclosed that Treasury Secretary Shultz, in response to questions, "reluctantly admitted" that inflationary danger signals are up again.

Three foreboding indicators were cited by Byrd:

(1) "In the third quarter of this year, wholesale prices rose at a 6.7 per cent annual rate. This compares to a 4.9 per cent rate increase in each of two prior quarters."

(2) "A disturbing rise in outstanding consumer credit. Total consumer credit increased by 12 per cent from July 1971 to July 1972. But in the last three months, consumer credit has increased at an annual rate of 16 per cent."

(3) "Steady increase in interest rates. Only recently, deep concern over this was expressed by Chairman Burns of the Federal Reserve Board."

"All these factors place increased pressure on the money supply," pointed out Byrd. "That pressure is made far worse by the borrowings of the Federal government. The deficit in our foreign trade has continued to worsen. From 1964 to the present, we have come from a foreign trade surplus of $7 billion to a deficit of $7 billion."

Psoriasis Group Offers Help

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband and I were pleased to read your article about psoriasis. My husband has had psoriasis for about 10 years. I am writing to ask if you have any other information about the National Psoriasis Foundation, including their address. My husband has considered going there.

Dear Reader—I have received a lot of letters asking about the National Psoriasis Foundation and many readers want to know the address. It is National Psoriasis Foundation, Suite 250, 6415 S. W. Canyon Court, Portland, Oregon, 97221.

This is a very interesting organization which was founded just a few years ago. It was originally founded by an enthusiastic group of psoriasis sufferers in Portland. They banded together so that they could communicate with each other and exchange ideas. Eventually their interest grew and they started a publication. In 1968 they became a national organization with a tax exempt status. They publish a bi-monthly Psoriasis Bulletin which gives the latest information in the field of psoriasis. They hope to raise additional funds to help support research on the problem of psoriasis.

You can join the Foundation without a membership fee. The Foundation is not a medical clinic in the sense that it takes patients or anything like that. It is parallel to the American Heart Assn. in that it encourages research and provides information to members.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I would like to know if there is any way I could make my hair grow longer. I am a black male and would like to have longer hair.

Dear Reader — The length of hair is an individual, inherited characteristic. It will only grow so long and then it stops growing. This is closely related to the length of time that the follicle that grows hair is active and after it reaches its fullest length the hair is dropped and the follicle rests until its next cycle comes. We grow and lose hair much like trees shed leaves. Fortunately for us we are like "live-oak" trees and drop a little bit of hair all the time. This way a small percentage of the hair follicles are constantly resting and if the hair is not cut it will be at varied lengths over the head. Some hair is the new short hair and other is the older hair reaching its maximum growth length. It follows that there is no way to increase the natural length of the growth of your hair.

I might add that a number of procedures used on hair leads to its breaking and splitting and to excessive loss of hair. This includes hair straightening, any of the measures that puts hair under tension, and the use of heat on the hair used to accomplish various hair styles. A number of dermatologists have pointed this out in relationship to the Afro hair style and have recommended that rather than the hair into a maximum bushy appearance that it should be left in its natural state if you want to keep it.

Inside Washington

Chile Looking to U.S. for Wheat
By Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON — Now Chile is in the market for a large quantity of U.S. wheat.

The ideologically-troubled regime of Marxist President Allende is putting out feelers to buy possibly as much as 1,250,000 tons of grain—worth at present prices around $125 million delivered.

The U.S. has the wheat to sell, but no particular urge to do so.

Banks that normally finance such transactions are markedly cool to providing credit for business with turbulent Chile.

No only is the west coast South American country furiously rent by stormy ideological dissension and economic chaos and soaring inflation, but huge U.S. mining and other properties have been summarily expropriated without compensation.

In addition, the two years Marxist President Allende has been in office have been unendingly troubled by gross fumbling and bumbling, and disruptive personal, political and economic crises. As one prominent Chilean commentator observed, "If Allende hasn't made any mistakes, it's because he hasn't thought of them."

The leftist and his Communist henchmen have particularly gone out of their way to strain relations with the U.S. Only the determined forbearance of the Nixon administration has averted an open break.

Now that Chile literally faces a serious bread shortage, Allende is turning to this country for help.

Whether it will be forthcoming and on what terms remains to be seen.

The Reasons

The Allende regime is seeking U.S. grain virtually because it has to.

The U.S. is the only country still possessing a large wheat surplus available for foreign sale.

Russia and China, normally major grain producers, are heavy purchasers this year due to large-scale crop shortages. Both already have bought a lot of U.S. wheat and have indicated intention to buy more. Argentina, neighbor of Chile, had a bumper grain crop but has sold its surplus to the Soviet and China.

Canada is also pretty much out of the market because of massive exports, and so is Australia. It has stopped selling because of the prospect of a short crop next year due to an intensifying drought.

Confronted with this difficult world situation, President Allende is more or less forced to swallow his Marxist gull and come to the U.S. for the wheat his country urgently needs.

The blunt reality is that if a large quantity of grain is not obtained, there will undoubtedly be violent revolt in turmoil-wracked Chile.

Already there is a critical bread shortage there.

Bread accounts for about 40 per cent of the caloric content of the average Chilean diet. With wheat in short supply, the government has ordered millers to increase the amount of flour extracted from 100 pounds of wheat to 88 pounds—up from 80.

That means Chileans will have to forego white bread for whole wheat—which is not popular.

And that isn't all. The flour milling edict reacts adversely on Allende's hooplaed program of increasing chicken production as a substitute for beef, most of which has to be imported and hence is in short supply. Whole wheat bread required the use of wheat bran that is used for chicken feed.

Thus, less chicken feed, fewer chickens.

Apparently, Allende and his Marxist masterminds decided that, as between whole wheat bread and chickens, Chileans will have to get along with a lot more of the former and less of the latter.

How long they will put up with that, only time will tell.

Chile's foreboding grain shortage is due to the same reasons causing its numerous other woes and travails—ideological inanities plus bad weather.

Extensive rural labor unrest brought on by so-called "agricultural reforms" resulted in widespread disruptions and disorganization of the normal May-September planting, further compounded by shortages in fertilizer and petroleum. These difficulties were further capped by extremely rainy weather with resulting flash floods that ravaged and washed out thousands of acres of planted fields.

And if all this weren't enough, the Communist-led unions staged dock and other strikes obstructing the unloading of grain shipments.

Chile's wheat shortage is largely an ideological product aided and abetted by Allende's gross fumbling and bumbling and his henchmen's endless Communist machinations.

Addendum: Former President Eduardo Frei has announced as a candidate for a senate seat in next spring's congressional election—in which the increasing aggressive opposition forces will seek to gain sufficient control to strip Allende and his extremist cohorts of power.

NEW ZEALAND'S POWER OKAY FOR NEW WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) - Electricity planners predict that New Zealand will not need to begin producing nuclear power before the late 1980s.

New Zealand currently derives 85 per cent of its electricity from hydro-electric schemes, 8 per cent from geothermal energy and 7 per cent from thermal stations fuelled by coal, oil and natural gas.
