Most Runs In World Series Scored Today

NEW YORK —(P)— The New York Yankees smothered the New York Giants, 13-1, today with the most runs scored in a World Series game in 15 years to take a 3-2 edge before 47,530 Polo grounds fans.

FIRST INNING YANKEES— Jansen fanned Woodling. Rizzuto grounded to Stanky, who threw to Lockman for the put-out. Berra walked on four pitches. Dark raced behind third for DiMaggio's hot grounder and threw to Stanky who made a nice pickup of the low throw to force Berra at second. The game marked DiMaggio's 50th to equal Frank Frisch's World Series record for most games played.

One run, two hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING YANKEES— Mays galloped a full count. Mize's towering fly in shallow center. Thomson fielded McDougald's hot smash inside the third base line, then threw widely past Lockman allowing McDougald to reach second on the two-base error. Irvin came in on a fly to Brown's slanting low line. Collins rolled to Lockman who flipped to Jansen, covering first, for the out.

No runs, no hits, one error, one left.

SECOND INNING GIANTS— Mays walked on a full count. Harting hit a one-bouncer to the box and Lopat started a double play, the pitcher to McDougald to Mize. Brown stopped Westrum's sharp grounder with his chest and threw across the diamond to Mize for the putout.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

THIRD INNING YANKEES— Jansen grabbed Lopat's one-bouncer back to the box and easily tossed him out. Woodling and Rizzuto walked. Berra hit Jansen's first pitch sharply to Lockman who threw to Darke forcing Rizzuto as Woodling went to third. DiMaggio pumped a single.

Princess, Husband In Canada On First Day Of Month Tour

QUEBEC —(P)— Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh officially begin their month-long Canadian tour today with a 13-hour schedule of public appearances.

The British royal couple arrive here at 8:45 a. m. (CST) and continue throughout the day to greet throngs who may some day become Elizabeth's subjects. They don't have a moment's rest until they leave by train for Ottawa at 9:30 tonight.

After detouring at Wolfe's Cove, where they were to be greeted by Quebec's Lieut. Gov. Gaspard Fauteux and Prime Minister Maurice L. Duplessis, Elizabeth and Philip faced this program:

1. A call at the Quebec Parliament to sign the golden book and meet Parliament members and their wives.
2. A tour of the city, with stops at Laval university and city hall.
3. Inspection of the old British fortress and the regiment De La Chaudiere on the historic Plains of Abraham. The Princess is colonel-in-chief of the regiment.
4. A luncheon given by the lieutenant governor.
5. Inspection of Canada's 27th brigade, soon to leave for Europe.
6. A demonstration by 20,000 school children at the Municipal Coliseum, a state banquet and an appearance at a concert by the Quebec Symphony orchestra.

It was a sample of what the royal couple will face almost every day for the next month.

Elizabeth and Philip spent last night — their first on Canadian soil — aboard the special train bringing them from Montreal to Quebec. They arrived just before noon yesterday at Montreal's Dorval airport after a 3,400-mile flight from England.

Egypt Celebrates Severance Of Pact

CAIRO, Egypt —(P)— Crowds demonstrated in Cairo today celebrating Egypt's decision to cancel her mutual defense treaty with Britain. But Britain insisted that Egypt has no legal right to break off the pact which lets British troops and planes guard the Suez canal from Egyptian bases.

Prime Minister Mustafa Nahas Pasha laid bills before a cheering Parliament yesterday to oust the British by breaking the 20-year agreement. It was signed in 1936 and still has five years to run.

The British embassy in Cairo promptly issued a statement asserting Nahas Pasha's action "has no legal force since the treaty contains no provisions for denunciation at any time."

However, the pact contains a provision permitting renegotiation of its terms after 10 years. The two countries have been arguing over them since 1946.

Nahas Pasha's bills also would cancel the 1899 treaty which established joint British and Egyptian rule over the Sudan, the wild upper Nile territory adjoining Egypt on the south. Since World War II Egypt has wanted to take the Sudan under sole Egyptian rule.

Workers and students in the streets shouted "long live King Farouk of Egypt and Sudan." Police were alerted to prevent disorders.

In London, the British foreign office said it would refuse to recognize the one-sided break in the treaty relationship.

The foreign office showed signs of considerable shock at the abrupt action taken by the Egyptian Prime Minister. The British were shaping new proposals, springing from Atlantic pact decisions to create a Middle East defense command under which a several-division garrison might defend the Suez.

In Washington, the State department declined comment. Its public caution, however, appeared to overlay considerable official concern about the state of Middle Eastern defenses.

In the British-occupied area along the canal, a British army spokesman reported "all is quiet and work is going on as usual."

The British army hires an estimated 40,000 Egyptians. The treaty denunciation bills appeared to be as good as passed. The Egyptian legislators decided to stay in session until they completed action on them, postponing the month-long adjournment that was to have begun Monday.

Budget, Tax Codes Pass Second Test

The second reading of the 1950-51 city budget and tax rate ordinance passed the city commission today with Commissioner W. D. Varnon dissenting.

Varnon continued his objections to the ordinance despite a plea for unity by Mayor C. A. Huff and a suggestion by Commissioner "A" Neel that both be put up for emergency reading and passing.

Red Message To UN Believed Latest Terms On Peace Talks

TOKYO —(P)— The Reds will deliver a new message to the Allies tomorrow, presumably their latest word on reopening Korean truce talks.

They asked Allied liaison officers tonight to pick up the message at Pannunjom, proposed new locale for the talks, at 8 a. m. Wednesday (5 p. m., CST, Tuesday).

That is only two hours before the time suggested by Gen. Ridgway for a meeting of liaison officers in the Pannunjom area to discuss plans for renewing cease-fire negotiations.

The Reds gave no indication what the message would contain. They sent word of the message to Munsan, advance headquarters of the UN command armistice delegation, where reports circulated that there may be changes in the five-man allied truce team.

There had been no indication top Red commanders had drafted their reply to Ridgway's message broadcast Monday night. In it he agreed to renew truce talks in the vicinity of Pannunjom, but declined to enlarge the neutral zone as the Communists wanted.

Ridgway also suggested the preparatory Wednesday session of liaison officers.

Declares Russ Can Hit 20, 30 Cities In U. S.

WASHINGTON —(P)— A member of the congressional Atomic Energy committee declared today that Russia can launch "an atomic attack at 20 or 30 American cities." A senator had put the number as high as 50.

Rep. Jackson (D-Wash.), a member of the atomic energy group, said, however, the United States is now capable of producing tactical atomic weapons — that is, weapons for use on the battlefield — which could halt the Red army "in its tracks."

Speaking for all-out production of atomic weapons, Jackson said there is "virtually no limit on the number of atomic weapons we can produce" if funds are made available.

"The time will come," Jackson said in a speech prepared for House delivery, "when we can make these weapons in dozens of varieties and in thousands and tens of thousands."

His speech, in its assessment of American atomic potential, the importance and availability of tactical atomic weapons, and the need for a big, immediate step-up in spending for atomic defense, closely paralleled a Sept. 18 Senate speech by Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), chairman of the Senate-House Atomic Energy committee.

"The hour is drawing close when atomic weapons tailored to all types of combat situations can be made available — when they can be produced in quantities and types sufficient to serve as the paramount instrument of deterrence either against all-out war or against future areas," Jackson said.

In a Senate speech last night an unsuccessful plea for more civil defense funds — Senator Moody (D-Mich) said "I am informed" Russia is capable now of delivering 50 atomic bombs in a single raid, inflicting 6,000,000 casualties, half of them fatal.

Jackson aired his views as the House prepared to consider tomorrow a bill appropriating $4,198,523,208 to the Defense department and $239,103,000 to the Atomic Energy commission to supplement funds already provided for the present fiscal year.

Jackson said that as a member of the Atomic Energy committee he was not surprised by President Truman's announcement last Wednesday that Russia had exploded another atom bomb.

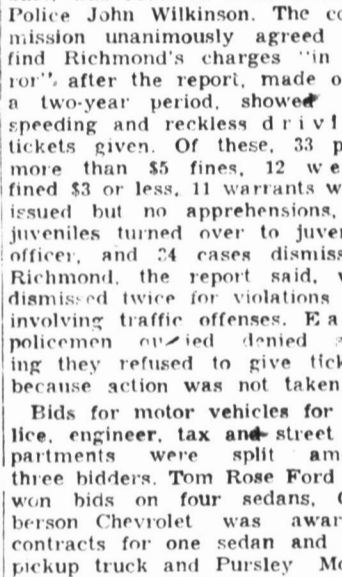

"They will explode more weapons in the future," he said. "They are stockpiling weapons at an increasing rate."

Delegates From 20 Area Cities Expected At Chamber Banquet

Representatives from 20 Pampa and South Plains cities will attend the installation banquet and meeting Thursday night of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, E. O. "Red" Wedgworth, chamber manager, said this morning.

One of the main drawing cards for the banquet this year will be the main speaker, former Rep. Martin Dies, who won national prominence heading the House un-American Investigating committee for almost 10 years.

Wedgworth said he was unable to determine to date just how many of the past presidents — now living in other cities and states — would be able to attend the banquet.

Besides the principal address by Dies, President-Elect Charles Cook will be installed to head the chamber for the ensuing year along with Hugh Burdette, vice-president-elect, and members of the board of directors.

The banquet will be held at 7:30 p. m. in Pampa Senior High school cafeteria.

THE BIG THRILL — Big tennis containing all the glitter and thrills of a circus proved a little too much yesterday for these three youngsters who decided to get a quick "preview" by looking underneath. It was a pleasant surprise for them to be greeted by Clowns Charlie Ralmer (white costumes) and Charlie Hilderra who gave the youngsters some inside dope on how a big circus operates.

The clowns were well qualified to tell the kids all about it for the two of them had an aggregate time of 105 years in the show business. In photo at right, the kids get a treat of circus peanuts before time to go in for the "big show." Youngsters are 11-year-old Andy

Canadian Children To Get Free Rides On New Fire Truck

CANADIAN — Canadian's youngsters have a special treat in store for them this week — they're going to get a ride in the new fire truck.

The Pampa Fire Dept. is sponsoring a series of activities during Fire Prevention Week. A special feature is an open house for Canadian children.

At that time, Hemphill County residents are invited to inspect department facilities and the fire truck. The truck is a shiny new bumper truck.

Weather permitting, the fire truck will stop a water polo game on downtown streets, according to Fire Chief John Williamson.

BASEBALL — They Like Comics

SAN ANTONIO — (AP) — Two men pulled a funny — 33 of them, that is — and ended up in jail Monday.

The pair was booked for theft of comic books from a news stand.

where Berra easily beat the throw to Dark.

DiMaggio fled to Hartung near the right field line. Mize dropped a Texas leaguer double behind second, scoring Berra to put the Yankees in front, 9-1. Mays made a long run for the ball and just missed making a diving catch of it.

McDougal threw to Thomson whose bounce to first pulled Lockman off the bag but the first baseman made a swiping tag to retire the runner.

Two runs, three hits, one error, one left.

SIXTH INNING GIANTS — Hank Bauer went into right field and Collins switched to first replacing Mize for the Yankees. Dark smothered out, Rizzuto to Collins. Thomson sent a blazing liner right at Brown. Irvin cracked a line single to center, his 11th hit of the series. Rizzuto made a nice play of it.

McDougal grounded behind the mound and got his 10th with a quick throw to Collins.

SEVENTH INNING YANKEES — Brown walked, Collins laid down a neat bunt and beat Spencer's throw to Lockman for an infield single. Gerry Coleman ran for Brown. Lopat rapped back to Spencer who started to throw to second, apparently became confused, and threw to first instead to retire the pitcher as both runners advanced. Woodling walked for the time. Rizzuto walked forcing in Coleman. That was all for Spencer. Al Corwin replaced him.

Corwin's second pitch to Berra was a wild pitch which allowed Collins to score and the other runners to advance. Berra tied to run in short left and Monte's quick heave to the infield kept the runners glued. DiMaggio rapped a double down the left field line that Thomson deflected into foul territory, scoring Woodling and Rizzuto with the third and fourth runs of the inning. Dark fielded Bauer's sharp grounder and threw to Thomson to catch DiMaggio going to third.

Four runs, two hits, no errors, one left.

SEVENTH INNING GIANTS — Coleman went to second base as McDougal moved to third replacing Brown for the Yankees. Mays struck out, swinging. Hartung bounced out, Coleman to Collins. Westrum went down swinging.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING YANKEES — McDougal grounded out. Dark to Lockman. Coleman struck out. Lockman fumbled Collins' homer but recovered to throw to Corwin who made a fine fall catch to retire the batter.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

EIGHTH INNING GIANTS — Dave Williams, a righthanded hitter, batted for Corwin and rolled out. Rizzuto to Collins, also threw out Stanky. Dark lined to McDougal.

No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING YANKEES — Alex Konikowski, a righthander, became the Giants' fifth pitcher. Lopat was given an ovation. He fouled to Westrum near the Van-dusee dugout. Woodling whopped a tremendous triple to left field in deepest right field but was out trying to stretch it into an inside-the-park homer. Hartung to Stanky. Thomson to Rizzuto. No runs, one hit, no errors, none left.

NINTH INNING GIANTS — McDougal threw out Thomson. Woodling made a sensational running catch of Irvin's smash to deep left-center to rob Monte of an extra base hit and a chance to tie the World series record of 12 hits. Lockman was an easy out, Rizzuto to Collins. No runs, no hits, no errors, none left.

Texas Weather Is 'Perfect' For Fall

Texas today was having the perfect fall weather. Clear skies prevail from Texline to Brownsville. The sunshine was bright but there was the cool nip in the air. The weather bureau says it will be that way for the rest of the week.

Temperatures ranged from 41 at Dalhart and Junction to yesterday afternoon's high of 86 at Presidio.

A slow warmup is forecast today and tomorrow but a cool air mass is due to move into the state by Thursday to invigorate football weather this week-end.

Not a single point reported rain yesterday.

J. D. Wilson Home Damaged By Fire

Fire Prevention Week got off to a blazing start yesterday in the home of J. D. Wilson, 510 N. Frost.

The blaze broke out when a divan placed over a floor furnace that was supposedly turned off caught fire. Portions of the floor and walls were burned by the time firemen arrived. Damage was estimated by Fire Chief Ernest Winborne at $200 or more.

Uranium Find Is A 'Closed Matter'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The finding of two hunks of uranium at Dalhart, Tex., is a "closed matter" to the Atomic Energy Commission.

A commission spokesman said yesterday that an investigation has been unable to determine how the large pieces of the atom bomb metal were removed from the Los Alamos atomic installation.

The spokesman said, "an explanation has been speculated on" that "souvenir hunters" were responsible.

The investigation showed the metal was "normal" uranium—that is, uranium before it is refined to separate out the fissionable U-235, used in atomic bombs.

The FBI has offered no statement as to whether it is continuing its investigation or whether it has been completed.

Meat Firm In Chicago Accused Of OPS Violation

CHICAGO — (AP) — A meat boning company headed by a civilian advisor to the Office of Price Stabilization was accused yesterday of failing to comply with OPS regulations.

The OPS sought a federal court injunction to suspend operations by B. Schwartz & Co., 2055 W. Pershing Rd., until it follows the regulations. A hearing on the injunction was set before Judge John P. Barnes today.

The firm's president and treasurer, Benjamin Schwartz, is a director of the OPS Beef Industry Advisory committee. He had no comment on the OPS accusation.

The OPS said the company is the largest meat boning firm and does a $100,000,000 annual business. In its court action, the OPS alleged the firm received more than 200,000 pounds of ungraded and unmarked beef and that it failed to put roll stamps on the carcasses. The OPS contends that without these stamps it is impossible to determine prices for the meat.

Funds Sought To Push O'Daniel For President Race

ARLINGTON, Texas — (AP) — Garfield Crawford, who has been associated with former senator W. Lee O'Daniel since 1938, said today he is seeking money to finance a campaign for president by O'Daniel.

Crawford has sent out some 8,000 form letters to 36 states. "Thousands upon thousands of good patriotic people from over the nation are pledging their vote and their unfailing support to him if he will run for president, and lend his best efforts to cleaning up the present mess in Washington," Crawford said.

Crawford asked pledges for monthly payments until the election next year. He said the letters were being sent to people who have written O'Daniel and asked him to run for president.

RENEWAL OF FAITH

Tomorrow is Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement.

Judaism is a religion. Millions of followers of Judaism are scattered over the world. While they rejoice in the creation of the State of Israel, they are not and have no wish to be, its political citizens.

There are those of the Jewish faith who are Americans; there are those who are British who are French, who are Belgians, and who are a great many other nationalities. They are loyal citizens. They are useful and valued members of their communities, just as are their neighbors of other faiths.

And on the occasion of Yom Kippur, these citizens of many lands will renew their allegiance to the faith of their fathers—to Judaism, which arose as a protest against ancient forms of idolatry — a protest against the cynicism and materialism which was denounced in the thunder of God from Sinai.

Yom Kippur marks the tenth day of a new spiritual life for each individual among us — a renewal of faith. It is a personal experience. On this day we remind ourselves of the great commands handed down from the mount by Moses:

"Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy might."

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as th yself."

This renewal of spiritual life will be the experience of the followers of Judaism everywhere. Millions of Americans will observe Yom Kippur. And there are followers of Judaism in every land on earth who will mark the day as holy.

So today, we here in Pampa, rededicate ourselves to the faith that never wavers; the faith that has stood for countless generations; the faith of Israel.

Canadian Children To Get Free Rides On New Fire Truck

CANADIAN — Canadian's youngsters have a special treat in store for them this week — they're going to get a ride in the new fire truck.

The Pampa Fire Dept. is sponsoring a series of activities during Fire Prevention Week. A special feature is an open house for Canadian children.

At that time, Hemphill County residents are invited to inspect department facilities and the fire truck. The truck is a shiny new bumper truck.

Weather permitting, the fire truck will stop a water polo game on downtown streets, according to Fire Chief John Williamson.

Canadian relief organizations are sponsoring a drive on a fire prevention program this week. Cash prizes are being offered by the fire department in cooperation with the club and chamber of commerce and Canadian schools.

Girl Bullfighter Wins Fans' Admiration By Her Courage

EL PASO (AP)—Patricia McCormick is tall, slender, blonde, 21 and determined to be a bullfighter.

It's her courage that fans have cheered wildly in her two appearances at the Juarez bullfight ring across from El Paso.

One Sunday afternoon this summer she tied her long blonde hair back with a ribbon, pulled on her tight-fitting slacks, buttoned her white blouse at the collar and went into the ring.

She faced a two-year-old bull. She started a pass with her red and yellow cape and swirled the cape behind her. The girl picked up herself and drew bull followed her instead of the cape. He hit her legs. She tripped and fell. The bull lowered his head and started toward her. She lay still in the arena, and a tense silence fell on the 1500 persons who watched.

"I wasn't scared," she said later. "I was just angry because that happened to me so soon. That was my first appearance in a bull fight. But it won't be my last. I'm more determined than ever to make bull fighting a career."

That was in August. Patricia was allowed to make only a few graceful passes with the cape in the ring then. A retired matador in Juarez, Alejandro del Hierro, taught her the passes. She appeared again at Juarez Sept. 9.

This time she killed her bull—but only after it had trampled her twice and tossed her on its horns. The crowd went wild. They showered her with bouquets on her triumphant tour of the arena following the kill, and tolerant judges awarded her an ear of the bull. It's usually given for excellent performance and bravery.

The crowd included both Mexican and American aficionados. The Mexicans were delighted. The Americans were terrified. One woman cried out: "get that girl out of there."

The Mexican newspaper critics said she was as "green as lettuce" but added she would cause a sensation wherever she fought. The tremendous appeal she has is courage. A fan will cheer the brave, even if inept.

The bullfight critic of the El Paso Times, Mary Thurber, wrote of Pat: "When she is working coolly and not in trouble, she gets the feeling of art that all great foredoers have. Some call it 'emotion. At any rate, she's got it.'"

She's a pretty young girl with honey-blonde hair and blue eyes.

She can't wear those fancy full-fighters' suits yet. Only a novillero and a matador can wear the Traje de Luces—or suit of lights.

She has the figure for a bullfighter—five feet, six inches tall, slim, no hips to speak of. The figure is important in bullfighting because the taller and nobler graceful the matador is, the better he looks when he makes his passes.

Critics say Pat has a lot to learn before she becomes a matadora—a full-fledged lady bullfighter.

She's practicing her cape work in her dormitory room at Texas Western college at El Paso. She practices, too, in the Juarez ring. On Oct. 16 she plans to leave school and attend fiestas on Mexican ranches. That's when the bulls are tested for bravery to see if they will be kept for breeding or sold for slaughter.

Patricia's passion for bullfighting goes back to the day at the age of seven she saw her first bullfight while on vacation in Mexico City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. McCormick.

She returned to their home in Arkansas City, Kans., then and played bullfighting on the lawn, making believe dogs were bulls. Patricia was born in St. Louis while her parents were living in Woodriver, Ill. They moved to Arkansas City in 1933, to Edwardsville, Ill., in 1937, to St. Louis in 1942 and to Big Spring in 1943. Her father is a civil engineer.

Last year she enrolled in Texas Western. Bullfighting was next door at Juarez.

She has haunted the Juarez bull ring ever since. First Patricia must become a novillera and fight a specified number of fights. She will have to become a member of the bullfighters union and win the approval of the hard-to-please fans in the Plaza Mexico in Mexico City. It won't be easy.

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with the truths expressed in such Great Moral Guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

The Gibberish Of Liberals

The people who are pleased to call themselves "liberals" or "progressives" make a great deal about slogans. There's a slogan for every occasion and an occasion for every slogan. They live in a world of pink sugar, confectionery and dream clouds.

They reason from metaphors and exist on a diet of gibberish. One of their favorite slogans goes: Human rights before property rights.

What, exactly, that means is never precisely explained. It is intended to convey the impression that a "conservative" or "reactionary" wouldn't apply the brakes of his automobile to save the life of a child who had fallen in his path because braking the car would result in a waste of rubber from the tires.

On the other hand, a "liberal" would burn his house to the ground on a February night in order to provide a little warmth for a family of mice in a nearby field.

Both of those examples are rather exaggerated, but they illustrate just what "liberal" means when he pitches the slogan: Human rights above property rights.

It must be apparent to any thinking person that such a slogan is completely meaningless. Property rights are human rights. Who or what but humans owns property? The right to own and manage and convey and purchase property (real, personal, etc.) is a fundamental right.

There are no rights without property rights. Consider, if you can, a society in which no one was permitted to own anything. Such a fantastic society would be completely without freedom, without responsibility, without incentive and without production.

The twisted illogic of "human vs. property rights" comes to its tortured zenith of inconsistency in the matter of compulsory military service.

The "liberal" is all for conscription of soldiers. There is not a major issue today which is squarely opposed to drafting young men for military service.

But, none of these politicians dares advocate an actual conscription bill even in wartime. They will draft men for the military, but they never have drafted a bill to seize property.

If men's lives may be drafted, why not their factories, homes, real estate, churches, hospitals? Are these pieces of property more valuable and sacred than human life?

Apparently they are. We cannot understand how a government has the right to seize a human life but not to seize a home or factory. (There is of course the "right to eminent domain" by which the government seizes real and personal property; but this may be done only when a court is shown the "necessity" for a seizure and when a certain price has been paid. It is considerably more involved and difficult to seize property than it is human life.)

Perhaps a man's life has been considered a piece of personal property (an intangible asset) subject to say, 80 years of depreciation. But, whatever the philosophy, it is apparent that the draft supporters place considerably more sanctity on buildings and real estate than they do on human lives.

We wonder how the "liberals" rationalize that with their slogan of human rights over property rights?

Bid For A Smile

A clergyman whose wife had passed away six months before, had occasion to go to an adjoining state for several weeks. He left the parsonage in charge of his eldest daughter and told her he would write home from time to time.

In one of his letters he mentioned that he had married a widow with six children. This created a violent storm in his household, when the day-heater weepingly greeted him on his arrival home, she said:

Daughter—Where the widow you married, father?

Minister—Where? Oh, I married her to another man.

The Indian sat placidly in a northwestern Ontario town. He nodded gravely to the visitor who stepped up to greet him.

Visitor—Have you been here long? And you a native of these parts?

Indian—No, Mr. Indian. My race, answered deliberately.

Indian—Christopher Columbus—he told me you were a native of these parts. He—number two, Mr.—number three.

Jeweler's Son—Papa, how do you do just a watch?

Jeweler—Adjust, my boy, not just just.

Jeweler's Son—Well, papa, if you adjust just to just, just just, just just.

Angela—Don't you think I sing with feeling?

Reginald—No, if you had any you wouldn't sing.

Some Ancient Explanations Of The Golden Rule

In the last issue I was attempting to explain the meaning of the Golden Rule. I want to quote in this issue a few of the ways the Golden Rule was expressed down through the ages.

About 500 B. C. Confucius said: "What you do not want others to do to you, do not do to others."

In 375 B. C. Socrates said: "Do not do to others what would anger you if done to you by others."

In 180 B. C. Tobit IV said: "What thou thyself hatest, do to no man."

In 150 B. C. Diogenes Laertius said: "The question was once put to Aristotle how we ought to behave to our friends; and his answer was 'As we should wish them to behave to us.'"

In 150 B. C. Mahabharata said: "This is the sum of all true righteousness; deal with others as thou wouldst thyself be dealt by. Do nothing to thy neighbor which thou wouldst not have him do to thee hereafter."

In 30 B. C. Hillel Ha-Babli said: "Whatever thou wouldst that men should not do to thee, do not do to them. This is the whole Law. The rest is only explanation."

I have already quoted what Jesus said according to Matthew and Luke.

Epictetus said: "What thou avoidest suffering thyself seek not to impose on others."

St. Aristotle said: "Whatever the Christians do not wish to be done to them they do not do to another."

John Wyclif in 1389 said: "As ye will that men do you, and do ye to them in like manner."

Thomas Hobbes in 1651 said: "Whatsoever you require that others should do to you, that do ye to them."

The Book of Common Prayer in 1662 stated: "My duty towards my neighbor is to love him as myself, and to do all men as I would they should do unto me."

Baruch Spinoza in 1677 said: "Desire nothing for yourself which you do not desire for others."

Isaac Watts, the great English preacher and song writer, in his "Divine Songs for Children" wrote: "Be just to others kind and true. As you'd have others be to you; And neither do nor say to men What'er you would not take again."

Immanuel Kant explained the Golden Rule in this manner in 1785: "I must always act in such a way that I can at the same time will that the maxim by which I act should become a universal law."

Thomas Paine wrote in 1791: "The duty of man . . . is plain and simple, and consists of but two points. His duty to God, which every man must feel; and with respect to his neighbor, to do as he would be done by."

Certainly the Golden Rule seems to be the basis of all true religion. It is because we are not using the Golden Rule that we have such mounting debts, long periods of unemployment, dishonest money and one war after another.

I want to give you a couple of more examples of things we are doing that completely violate the Golden Rule:

It is a complete violation of the Golden Rule for individuals to collectively do that is immoral for an individual to do.

Zoning is a complete violation of the Golden Rule. A man has a moral right to develop his property the way he wants to so long as he does not directly injure his neighbors. His neighbors do not have a moral right to use their might, because they have more right to develop his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind.

Another example of probably the worst violation of the Golden Rule is tax supported schools. To force a man to pay for what he thinks is miseducation and what he thinks will destroy the character and enslave mankind and impoverish mankind is a complete violation of the Golden Rule. It is based on the theory that might makes right and that the end justifies the means, and that good will and understanding can come from compulsion and the initiating of force.

No wonder people little understand the Golden Rule when a public school teacher would dare try to explain the Golden Rule, and entirely too many preachers ever explain or discuss the Golden Rule. What we need is a better understanding of the Golden Rule as linked with the Commandments.

That tests proved that people could eat tomatoes without harm.

Q — Do members of the British royal family vote?

A — The members of the royal family legally are eligible to vote, but British royalty does not vote, since the royal family traditionally does not take sides in politics. The government in power is always His Majesty's Government.

FAIR ENOUGH--PEGLER

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

CINCINNATI — The Greater Cincinnati Council of the CIO honored me on my arrival here with a piece of paper.

It was a piece of paper which carries advertisements by business houses which in the nature of things are subject to injurious action by unions. This article said I had recently attacked the American Federation of Labor in "the vilest possible language, calling it a gigantic ring of criminals."

That is not precisely the way I put it, but the difference is so slight that a correction would be a quibble. Taking the C.I.O. at its word, as I always delight to do in debate with the city-room seconds who constitute the majority of the house-journalism of the union racket, I would not only maintain my point that the A. F. of L. is a front for a criminal ring of immeasurable scope and unimpaired activity, but I would call on the president of the C.I.O., the premature St. Philip Murray, and his old master, John L. Lewis, for testimony. In his strictly professional rivalry with the A.F. of L., this mewling old candle-burner is nowdays paraded as the gala attraction of a mob as a man not long for this world and much too good for it, anyway. But he, himself, has for reasons of expedience, scolded the A.F. of L. in terms more envenomed than mine, but always as partee between two rogue forces competing for illegitimate authority over the people and economy of this nation.

St. Philip the Previous has been during his long implication in this menacing force, the union racket, a servile subordinate of Lewis and an official of the United Mine Workers when it was affiliated with the A.F. of L. It is because we are not using the Golden Rule that we have such mounting debts, long periods of unemployment, dishonest money and one war after another.

I want to give you a couple of more examples of things we are doing that completely violate the Golden Rule:

It is a complete violation of the Golden Rule for individuals to collectively do that is immoral for an individual to do.

Zoning is a complete violation of the Golden Rule. A man has a moral right to develop his property the way he wants to so long as he does not directly injure his neighbors. His neighbors do not have a moral right to use their might, because they have more right to develop his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind. Let the neighbors reverse the question and ask whether they would want to keep him from developing his property the way he believes will best serve mankind.

Another example of probably the worst violation of the Golden Rule is tax supported schools. To force a man to pay for what he thinks is miseducation and what he thinks will destroy the character and enslave mankind and impoverish mankind is a complete violation of the Golden Rule. It is based on the theory that might makes right and that the end justifies the means, and that good will and understanding can come from compulsion and the initiating of force.

No wonder people little understand the Golden Rule when a public school teacher would dare try to explain the Golden Rule, and entirely too many preachers ever explain or discuss the Golden Rule. What we need is a better understanding of the Golden Rule as linked with the Commandments.

That tests proved that people could eat tomatoes without harm.

Q — Do members of the British royal family vote?

A — The members of the royal family legally are eligible to vote, but British royalty does not vote, since the royal family traditionally does not take sides in politics. The government in power is always His Majesty's Government.

Written for NE AService
I was disappointed to see the American team lose the recent international Canasta match, but it was very pleasant to see that in this game, as in bridge, important matches of this kind can be held. The contest was not given a great deal of space in American newspapers, so perhaps I can tell Canasta fans a little about it in this column.

into the main stream of her distaste, washing away even the memory of whatever charms and small talent he possessed.
 She saw Derek from a distance one noon, and noted, with the help of her glasses and her new perspective, that he looked like a handsome, rather petulant juvenile lead, the kind who once made an entrance swinging a tennis racket and more recently, twirling a small neurosis. Paris, who was with her, said, "You ever notice how his head's too narrow and his ears are like a dame's?"

LUCILLA took increasing comfort in Paris' companionship, that last week. She reported on the impasse at home, and Paris said thoughtfully, "It's easier if you can blow your top. That Dear Alfonsa stuff with nobody sayin' what they think would drive me nuts." She encouraged Lucilla to talk about Arthur. "He's still workin' for the same outfit?" Paris asked once. "Rub-dub?" Lucilla was touched that her friend seemed so genuinely interested.

In return, she was genuinely pleased when Paris reported that Harry, in a convulsion of remorse over the fast-fading black eye, had agreed to mink. "We're goin' shoppin' tonight," she said. "Listen, you think I'd look good in a stole with tails?"
 "No," Lucilla said, "the plain kind is smarter." It was the supreme act of friendship, to prevent another woman from making a fashion blunder.

Paris wore the stole to school the following day. "Thirteen hundred bucks with tax," she said happily.
 It was exactly the sort of stole Lucilla would have chosen for herself. Paris insisted her friend try it on, and admired her lavishly. "You got real class."

Yet when Paris put the stole back on over her practice clothes, she draped the lengths with one casual arm movement so that the mink hung superbly. Just as there are some women who know immediately how to handle a slippery new baby, there are women like Paris who need no initiation into the mysteries of dangling furs.

Today's Women Face Possibility Of Draft, Washington Officials Say

By DOROTHY ROE
 AP Women's Editor
 The Washington grapevine has it that a women's draft may be considered if the next big recruitment push doesn't entice enough girls into uniform.
 Mrs. Anna M. Roseberg has said the Department of Defense must have a large charge of womanpower to take over desk jobs now being filled by men in the armed services. The department has set a deadline of July, 1952, for the enrollment of 112,000 women in all branches of the armed services—a large increase over the present total of 30,000.
 If the recruitment drive, starting Nov. 11, is not successful, a request for a women's draft may be the next step.
 Such a move would be packed with political dynamite, especially in an election year.
 At least two of Mrs. Roseberg's committee of 48 women appointed to assist in the recruitment drive believe the American public would raise a loud, determined howl of protest at any suggestion of a compulsory draft of womanpower.
 Says Sarah Blanding, president of Vassar college and a member of the committee:
 "The majority of the public probably would be violently opposed to drafting women."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Can You Figure Out This Expert's Play?

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the American Contract Bridge League held its national championships in Washington a couple months ago, most of the best players came from far and wide to put in a bid for the coveted top honors. Howard Schenken, of New York, didn't win any events this year, but he made enough sparkling plays to let the assembled experts know that his hand had lost none of its skill.

Schenken played the South cards of the hand shown today in the team championships. It was typical of him that he practically apologized for making the right play, while the expert who held the South hand at the other table completely overlooked the play that would clinch the slam contract.

At both tables West opened the ace of spades. Schenken then announced almost apologetically that he would take the safety play. Just for the fun of it, work it out for yourself. What's the right play at the second trick to make sure of the contract?

At the second trick, Schenken laid down the ace of hearts. Since East failed to follow suit, Schenken continued by "messing" through West's queen. His jack of hearts was covered by West's queen and won by dummy's king. A third round of trumps fell to declarer's ten, and now it was safe to begin on the diamonds. West could ruff whenever he liked, but that was the only trick the defenders could take.

The ace of hearts would be the safe play even if East happened to have all four trumps. (A 4♠ trump break was the only danger.) In that case, Schenken could continue with the jack of hearts to force out the queen. He could ruff a second spade with the eight of hearts cash the ten of hearts, and enter dummy with a club to draw the last trump with dummy's king.

When the hand was played at the other table, South ruffed the first spade and then led the eight of hearts to dummy's king. This play cost him his slam contract. He had to draw trumps to prevent West from ruffing a diamond, but West captured the ten of hearts with the queen and then led a spade to make South ruff with the jack. This established West's nine of hearts as a second natural trump trick.

Red Birthday Party Considered A Flop

HONG KONG — (P) — From this Far Eastern listening post, the report of a Chinese newspaper here seems to sum up the general reaction. He said: "They should either do it or stop talking about it." The only thing different about Chu's threat against Formosa was the call for "intensive rearmament." This is the first time a Red leader has said that the Communists need to re-arm to take the Nationalist island stronghold.

Not until 1922 were the first set of right and left lasts for leather soles made by a Philadelphia shoemaker.

General Chu said: "We must continue our struggle of resistance against America in Korea and our struggle for a Japanese peace treaty that is universally acceptable and our struggle to safeguard world peace."

All three points are such threadbare propaganda subjects in Red China that few people will pay much attention to them, even though so powerful a figure as Chu Teh utters them on so important a day as the second Peiping birthday.

Chu also called for intensified rearmament of Red China to liberate Formosa where Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists are holding out. The Reds have been mouthing that threat so long that nobody

Fireplace Wood In New York Is More Precious Than Gold

By HENRY McLEMORE
I have heard tell that in the mint in Washington, D. C., there is a furnace whose flames devour old and worn-out bills. I have never seen this mint, and have little or no interest in seeing it, because in my own apartment I have its blood brother doubled in spades.

It is a fireplace. One of the reasons I rented the apartment was that it had a wood-burning fireplace in the living room. A crackling log and purple flames mean home to me. When I put my signature on the lease I pictured happy nights around the fireplace, roasting politicians, with me curled up on the hearth with a wet sheepdog's feet on my back, and cats dozing drowsily just inside the warmth. Those things and all the others that go with a fireplace — wormy chestnuts in the coals, hissing sparks to fly out and burn the only decent rug in the joint, and smoke billowing out, because of a bad draw, to inflame the eyes of everyone in the room.

The very second that Jack Frost's eager fingers reached into New York, driving the thermometer down to the low fifties, I looked up a wood seller and and my fireplace is just about the size of a copy of "Gone With the Wind" — would drive me to the R.F.C. for a loan, and to get a loan from the R.F.C. involves hams, television sets, mink coats, vacations in Florida, and barbecued chickens, ready to eat.

If you are crazy enough to order wood in New York you get a thrill out of it. It is delivered by a man in an immaculate uniform, and it is wrapped in cellophane. The officer who delivers it hands it to you as if he were giving you the Medal of Honor. A man's natural reactions is not to burn it. It's too precious. I bought four sticks — enough for a 15-minute fire — and it now occupies the place of honor in the living room. A recent visitor was Winthrop Rockefeller, and his first question was, "How can you afford it?"

Win hasn't had a fireplace burning in 12 years, and neither he nor his brothers are supposed to be regular Automat customers. But to get back to that dollar-burning mint in Washington, I burned dollar bills in my fireplace last night, and saved the wood. Dollar bills don't have the brightness of color that wood does, but they do give you the satisfaction of feeling as if you are saving money.

Tonight, if it's cold, I am burning my toupee, which I borrowed from a friend. He told me he didn't want it back, and it doesn't fit me. It makes me look like Daniel Boone without a hair.

"Pigeon's milk," the first food of the newly hatched dove, which it gets from the parent's mouth, is an actual form of milk secreted in the crop of the adult bird.

New Yorkers: Don't rent an apartment with a fireplace unless you are worth billions.

Michigan State Still First; Aggies Leap Into Fourth Spot

NEW YORK — (AP) — Texas from East Lansing a 10-point A&M climbed from tenth to fourth place today in national football ratings. Texas U remains sixth and Baylor was 12th. Michigan State still holds the No. 1 slot by a small margin. The Associated Press' second weekly nation wide poll gave coach Biggie Munn's Spartans

Guerillas Battle Yannigans Here On Thursday Night

Injuries To Slow SWC This Weekend

(By The Associated Press) Points may be given and taken this week because of injuries in Southwest conference grid teams. Injury lists are short but several coaches have gaps in key areas of their lineups — particularly the backfield.

Rusty Russell of SMU reported a healthy gang of Mustangs for the battle with Notre Dame at South Bend. He expects to travel with a full squad of 45 aching to make up for the close 1949 season.

Despite the prediction of Notre Dame's Frank Leahy that SMU will win, Russell isn't happy. "They look like the same bunch we played in '49," Russell said, "they are a big, tough powerful team and there are plenty of them."

For the traditionally vicious Texas-Oklahoma game in the Cotton Bowl, the Longhorns will be near top strength. The defense will be strengthened by the return of Charles Genthner, destined for first string defensive tackle until he broke his hand prior to the season opener. Also rounding into shape are linebacker and co-captain June Davis and end Bill Georges, both out last week.

Fullback Byron Townsend, with a bruised back, was running plays again Monday. Baylor may play its game with Arkansas minus halfback Francis Davidson who hurt a shoulder in the Arkansas tilt. Others of the squad were declared ready. Arkansas will show up in Waco with a new backfield. With first and received strong support for other high positions to roll up 961 points. Tennessee, the pre-season No. 1 eleven, received 821 tallies, with 180 of them coming from 18 first-place selections.

The top three teams were in the same order in the first poll last week but Michigan State held a much larger lead while Tennessee pressed the Bears for runner-up honors.

The voters apparently thought more of California's 55-14 conquest of Minnesota than Michigan State's come-from-behind 24-20 triumph of Ohio State and Tennessee's 26-0 white wash of Duke.

Oklahoma's 14-7 setback by Texas Aggies was disastrous to the Sooners. Last year's No. 1 team dropped from the lofty fourth spot of last week to 11th with only 102 votes.

Notre Dame, 40-6 victor over Detroit, remained at No. 5. The first ten with first place votes in parenthesis:

- 1—Michigan State (42) 871
- 2—California (36) 961
- 3—Tennessee (18) 921
- 4—Texas A&M (3) 594

- 7—Illinois 352
- 8—Georgia Tech (3) 275
- 9—Ohio State 231
- 10—Maryland (1) 228

Second ten: Oklahoma, 102; Baylor, 100; Princeton, 86; Southern California, 63; Holy Cross, 51; Clemson, 41; Cornell 30; Oregon State 26; Stanford, 20 and Col lege of Pacific (1) 26.

Charles Starts Back Tomorrow PITTSBURGH, — (AP) — Ezzard Charles, ex-heavyweight champion who wants the crown back and Rex Layne, who just wants it, ended training today for a 12-round bout tomorrow night at Forbes Field that will do a lot for the winners prestige if nothing else.

Today's Game Is The Advantage One

NEW YORK — (AP) — Joe DiMaggio's revival aroused New Yankee hopes today as lefty Ed Lopat (21-9) faced the Giants' Larry Jansen (23-11) in the fifth world series game at the Polo Grounds.

All square with two wins each after Allie Reynolds' 6-2 conquest of the Giants' Sal Maglie yesterday, the clubs were ready for a rematch of Friday's duel.

DiMaggio, swinging from a new stance after three hitless games, renewed the pride of the Yanks with his two-run homer and single off Maglie.

For the first time in weeks, the Yanks hit like the club that fought off Cleveland and Boston to win the American League pennant. And they did it against the Giants' best.

Public sympathy rained on the 36-year-old DiMaggio in the first three games of his 40th — and probably last — series. He didn't have a hit, hadn't hit a ball hard in 11 trips.

You noted the difference the first time he faced Maglie. First a curved strike, then three balls, a vicious foul liner off the upper deck that missed being a homer by four feet. Another foul liner. And three more fouls, before he looked too long at a curved third strike.

After the game and his 350th career hit, Yogi Berra on base in the fifth, he said he "liked" that first foul liner best of all. It was the first hint that the Jolter was back on the beam.

It is difficult to overestimate the emotional lift DiMaggio can give the Yanks. Or vice versa. With "the big fellow" slashing, slumping Berra started to hit the ball on the nose. Yogi hammered two liners at outfielders before he got his lone hit.

Bobby Brown came up with two hits and Hank Bauer broke his hitless slump, even though one was a ball that hit base runner Gil McDougald for a dramatic hit on the seventh out.

With this solid backing of 12 hits, Reynolds was a different pitcher from the fellow who lost the opening game. The sturdy Indian from Oklahoma had a zinging fast ball and sharp curve that piled up seven strikeouts. Twice he simply blew the ball past a wildly-waving Wes Westrum.

Al Dark, who hit him for a three-run homer in the opener, slugged three successive doubles to left field. The first meant a run when Monte Irvin poked a single to left. But the others meant only men left on base.

Allie had a rocky ninth that prompted Manager Casey Stengel to start Johnny Sain and Bob Kuzava throwing madly in the bullpen. A walk to Hank Thompson, Irvin's ninth hit of the series and Bobby Thomson's single produced a run.

The Willie Mays rapped into his third double play — tying a record he would like to forget. Reynolds was home free.

The Lopat-Jansen battle in the fifth game shapes up as the best of the series. Although steady Eddie best Jansen, 3-1, in the second game, Larry retired 13 men in succession after early inning trouble. And the Yanks' chunky "nothing ball" pitcher gave up only five hits.

The winner already in the game will be in the driver's seat. If the Yanks win, Stengel could gamble on his sixth game with Tom Morgan or Johnny Sain and still have Vic Raschi and Reynolds for the seventh. If the Giants win, Leo Durocher can try to get home with Dave Koslo again and save up Jim Hearn and Maglie for the finale.

Maglie worked only five innings yesterday and should be ready if needed for a seventh game. The Barber don't have his stuff in his first series appearance. He threw 25 pitches in the first inning although the Yanks had only one baserunner.

Stengel's batting order switch paid dividends. Bauer, leading off, was on base three times. Woodling, dropped from leadoff to the No. 5 spot where sluggers hit, came through with a double and scored twice.

The outfield may have been a little damp but you never would have known it. Despite nearly 2 1-2 inches of rain that postponed Sunday's game, the field dried quickly under a bright sun.

With the biggest player pool in history — $660,562.87 at stake, the going might get a little rugged in the next few games. The winners will slice up $225,436.20 the loser $156,957.46.

The series already is in the million dollar class with total receipts of $1,699,741.92, counting the cash paid by yesterday's

Major Broadcasts Worrying Minors

NEW YORK — (AP) — The minor leagues were faced with the serious problem of unrestricted major league broadcasts today — and they are worried.

The restrictive rule which allowed home clubs to veto out-of-town broadcasts in cities where games actually were being played was repealed yesterday.

The complete control of rights to broadcast and telecast home games was returned to the individual clubs subject only to the rights of visiting teams.

"Now we will find out how much they can hurt us," said George M. Trautman, president of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues (minors). "This means that each major league team can come into our territory and there's nothing we can do about it. My job will be to try to influence the major league clubs to refrain from hurting us too much."

Walker Eyes New Scoring Record In NFL Pro Play

DETROIT — (AP) — As a rookie sensation little Doak Walker of the Detroit Lions almost bettered the National Football League's scoring record last year.

This year as a sophomore for a team that's leading the NFL's National conference, the former SMU star is off to a running start.

He scored 17 points in the Lions' 37-10 rout of the New York Yankees last night. That gave him 30 points in two of the 12 games scheduled for the Lions, only unbeaten team in their conference.

Walker, 175-pounder from Dallas, is shooting for the slight season mark of 138 points set by end Don Hutson of Green Bay in 1942.

The Lions, playing under new Coach Buddy Parker, are shooting for their second National Football league title. The Lions won in 1935 with Parker playing on the team.

The "Doaker" made a leaping end zone catch of a 19-yard pass and caught another touchdown pass that covered 50 yards. He kicked a 13 yard field goal and converted four times.

He now has three touchdowns, nine conversions and one field goal with 10 games left. Last season he scored 11 touchdowns, 35 conversions, and eight field goals.

Twice last night he dropped passes in the clear as 25,554 chilly fans groaned.

A Bobby Layne to Walker pass that covered 21 yards set up another touchdown, fullback Pat Harder battering seven yards for the score.

A crowd of 49,000 fans. That does not include the $1,000,000 plus from TV and radio.

College Football Player's Disability Claim Is Upheld

DENVER — (AP) — University of Denver public relations director Robert Herron said today an appeal of the decision granting disability pay to a former university football player may be filed.

The university and its insurance company, the London Guarantee and Accident Co., Limited, have 15 days to appeal the decision of Colorado Industrial Commission referee David F. Howe.

The referee ruled yesterday the school pay Ernest E. Nemeth, 24, of South Chicago, Ind., for disability suffered while playing spring football in 1950. Payments dating back to June of that year now total well over $800.

The university also was ordered to pay all medical, surgical and hospital care involved in the disability claim. Payment will continue as long as Nemeth is partially disabled.

In opposing Nemeth's claim, university officials contended students receive money, food and lodging only for outside work performed.

Referee Howe said evidence showed Nemeth did nothing to earn his food except play football, although he did do outside work for his room and $40 a month.

Meanwhile, news of the decision brought anxious responses from several other school and athletic heads in the Rocky Mountain area. Others refused to paid the previous largest winning amount in 1948 when each share paid $6,772.05. In 1941, the Brooklyn Dodgers set the losers' record of $4,829.40 a share.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Win or lose, the New York Giants will set new player payoff records for the world series.

The Giants voted to split their share of the series players' purse into 31 shares. That means each share will net $7,594.71 if the Giants win. If they lose to the Yankees each share will be worth $5,192.17.

The Yankees, spreading their money around more, voted to split into 36 shares. A winning share will return $6,539.89 and a losing one $4,359.65.

Blue-Eyed Blondes Stand Best Chance Of Surviving A-Bomb

SAN ANTONIO — Do you sunburn easily? Are you a blue-eyed blonde, possibly a Swede? If so, says Dr. Konrad J. K. Buettner, you have the best chance to survive the staggering heat of an atomic explosion.

Least safe, says Dr. Buettner, in a report released today, are the dark-skinned peoples of Africa and the tropics.

The doctor is a research fellow in bioclimatology at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine here. He reported his conclusions after experiments on the effects of intense heat such as the heat released by a nuclear explosion.

Buettner is a native of Germany.

During the war he was an officer in the German Aeromedical institute at Rechlin, near Berlin. He lived through the bombardment of Berlin.

He says he resolved then to learn what chances a human being has to survive the sort of holocaust produced by aerial bombing.

He concludes there is no question of enduring a really violent conflagration for more than a few minutes and emerging unscathed. The question is: can a man live long enough to escape?

Here is what he found: Whether a man can escape or not depends on the amount of heat to which he is exposed; the kind of heat, and the length of time it takes him to act.

In a temperature of only 500 degrees Fahrenheit (less than half the warmth generated by an open wood fire) he has three and one half minutes in which to get out.

Heat radiated by an atomic bomb is at least 20 times as great; equivalent to the incandescence of the sun, burning at temperatures above 10,000 degrees Fahrenheit. But the explosion is virtually instantaneous.

No human being could move fast enough to escape it once the burst begins, but the exposure is so brief a person may survive under certain conditions if he is not too close, or if he is shielded from direct force of its radiation.

Here the matter of skin color comes in. A heavy coat of tan protects the skin against burns in the case of ultraviolet rays from the sun, which have a comparatively low rate of penetration and have already been scattered by their passage through the Earth's atmosphere.

An atom bomb's heat is so intense pigmentation has little or no absorptive effect on it. Buettner says, on the contrary, a fair-skinned person stands a better chance with the bomb, because a white skin — or any light-colored surface — reflects much of the heat radiation from the blast.

By experimenting on cuts of pork from white and black pigs in sharply concentrated sunlight, Buettner found a white skin reflects 40 percent of the heat rays to which a person would be exposed in an atomic explosion. Black skin reflects only 10 percent.

A person near an atomic explosion absorbs more heat than human flesh can endure, regardless of color, unless he is screened by a wall or some other solid object. Anyone close enough to be affected by radioactivity would probably be burned to a crisp anyhow. The effect of heat extends much farther than the radioactive at the moment of explosion.

In intense heat below the temperature of fire, a naked person may endure a brief exposure better than a person fully dressed. Perspiration evaporation profusely on the flesh will tend to

Only 50 Percent Of Texans' Cars Expected To Pass Exams

AUSTIN — (AP) — Your car is given only a little better than a 50-50 chance of passing that new required state inspection.

George Busby, chief of the inspection division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, has ordered half as many rejection slips as certificates.

He says he hopes 50 percent rejections will be too high a guess, but he expects rejections will run at least 40 percent — maybe more.

One state that recently passed a similar law found its rejections running 44 to 45 percent, he said.

Busby says many defects turned up will be minor, but minor defects will have to be corrected just as major ones before the certificate will be issued.

The new inspection costs the car owner $1. It covers brakes, lights, horn, windshield wipers and steering gear. You'll have to have a certificate saying your car passed the inspection before the tax collector will issue your 1952 license plates.

When a defect shows up on inspection, the owner has seven days to get it fixed and bring his car back for a recheck without a cost. If he waits longer than that, he'll have to fork over another dollar for an entire new inspection.

Pioneer Celebrates Birthday

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Sam Norwood, pioneer for whom the town of Samnorwood is named, celebrated his 92nd birthday last Tuesday and the neighbors came in with "all the trimmings" to make it a memorable occasion.

Norwood was born in Jackson county, Ala., in 1859. Some of his early memories include the sight of 50,000 Yankee soldiers camped across the river from the large plantation on which he was reared.

He remembers that they had to take what food they could salvage to a cave, because the Yanks were cleaning out the country like a swarm of locusts. Norwood's father was a renter who did not believe in secession. His father, nevertheless, fought with the Confederate army.

He married Miss Temple Hall of Stevenson, Ala., in 1892 and came to the Panhandle in 1896, searching for improved health.

He became a cattle raiser and helped organize the Farmers and Merchants State bank, serving

Dear Mrs. Crawford:

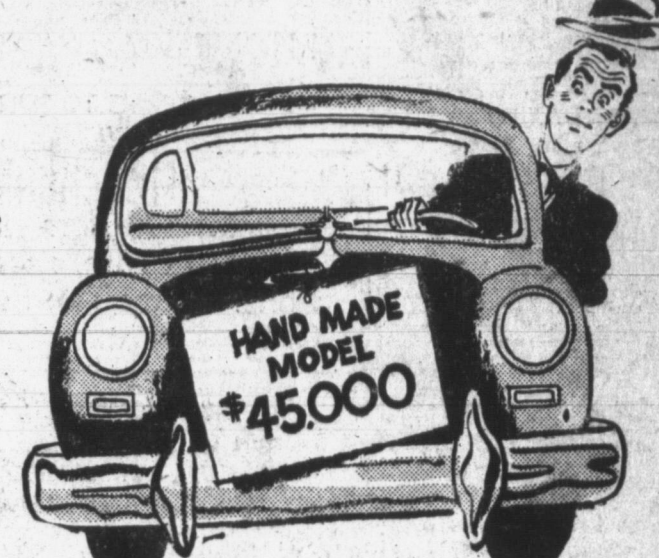

Why are you letting that nice furnished bedroom stand vacant when for only a few cents per day you can hire me to tell hundreds of people you have one for rent.

Each day your rooms and apartments stand idle, it is costing you money. The cost of hiring me to rent them for you is only a fraction compared to the loss of a week's rental. Who am I? I'm a PAMPA NEWS WANT AD.
