Allies Forge Ahead On Korean War Front UN Truce Talks Still Await Red Action

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — Communists reshuffled their Korean truce delegation today but still had not given a go ahead signal for renewing armistice talks.

Red China's Peiping radio reported two generals of the five-man Communist delegation have been replaced. A United Nations spokesman said the changes may indicate the Reds plan to place greater emphasis on military considerations and less on political phases of an armistice.

Reorganization of the Communist delegation was announced as the Reds ignored a UN challenge to ratify quickly a new truce talk rules. That was the only thing still needed to reopen negotiations to end the fighting in Korea. The Red delay ruled out the possibility of a meeting before Wednesday.

SIGNED GROUND RULES Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, top allied negotiator, signed the new ground rules Monday a few hours after liaison officers approved them. He asked North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, head of the Red truce team, to act quickly so negotiations could be resumed promptly after a two-month interruption.

While Nam Il was silent the Peiping radio announced changes in the Red delegation, paralleling replacements last week of two members of the UN truce team.

CHANGED PERSONNEL The broadcast said Chinese Gen. Pien Chang-Wu would replace Chinese Gen. Tung Hwa, and North Korean Gen. Cheng Du-Kon would succeed North Korean Gen. Chang Fyong San.

A Hong Kong dispatch identified Pien as a former military attaché to Red China's embassy in Moscow. The dispatch said the 46-year-old general was in Moscow this fall.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nickels, official spokesman of the UN command, said it was possible Pien was "a more military type" than Tung who was regarded by the UN delegation as a political adviser.

Nickels said Chang never gave any indication of taking an active part in negotiations.

Airmen Report 14 Red Jets Destroyed In Air Battles

EIGHTH ARMY, Korea — (AP) — Allied airmen reported at least 14 Red jets were destroyed or damaged today in air battles involving 250 planes. Two American planes were shot down and two damaged.

The Fifth Air Force estimated a record 150 Russian-built MIG-15s were involved. They swarmed in waves over B-29 Superforts bombing a new Red airfield at Namsi.

Airmen were credited with destroying five Red jets, probably destroying two, and damaging between seven and ten.

One B-29 was crippled and plunged into the Yellow sea. The crew bailed out. A Fifth Air Force briefing officer said one B-29 was shot down.

Two B-29s from Okinawa were badly damaged, but landed at Allied bases in Korea.

The estimated 150 fast Red jets — a record number — fought with 96 Sabre and Thunderjet and an unannounced number of B-29s.

Oilmen Ask Higher Crude Price: Pampans Elected Officers As IPAA Has Houston Convention

George B. Cree, Pampa independent oil operator, was named regional vice president of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America last night and J. W. Gayden, also of Pampa, was named director of the organization meeting in Houston.

The two were among five Panhandle men elected officers of the IPAA. Other area oilmen who will serve are A. D. Weatherly, Amarillo; G. N. McDaniel, Borger; and C. J. Oates, Stinnett.

The association, holding its 22nd annual meeting in the Shamrock hotel, heard J. Ed Warren, Midland, outgoing president, pay tribute to the independent oilman for his place in the development of huge oil reserves now available to this country.

The operators, ending their meeting today, went on record asking higher crude prices and no government controls.

The resolution, asked for a higher OFS ceiling price on crude oil yesterday, scored low allotments of steel, and called for a sound government policy toward the oil industry.

Charles H. Lyons of Shreveport was elected president to succeed Warren.

The resolution asking high prices noted that the $2.56 price per barrel of crude today is less than in 1948, "while the price of many items related to the production of oil have increased."

"Purchasers of crude oil recognize the current crude price level is inadequate to properly stimulate supply," the resolution said. "They realize that a price frozen at a depressed level invites future shortages."

The resolution said a low price was no encouragement for increased production.

"It is generally recognized that the domestic petroleum industry should be encouraged to make a contribution to the national economy." (See PAMPA, Page 2)

Bomb Not Dud Just New Type

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — (AP) — Americans, always in awe of size, had something different to ponder today: The successful detonation of an atomic weapon so small it flared less than a TNT blast, yet so powerful it demolished a 100-foot steel tower.

Yesterday's amazing test may have ushered in the age of the baby A-bomb. No test was scheduled today but there may be another bigger blast tomorrow.

Tight lipped Atomic Energy commission officials conceded there wouldn't be a smaller explosion than "operation pinpoint" which started a series of blasts at the AEC's Nevada proving ground that probably will run through this week and next.

HARD TO BELIEVE Many observers, including some military men just back from Korea, found it difficult to believe that a nuclear explosion could emit light for a mere fraction of a second, and make less noise than a heavy artillery shot.

Yet the downward thrust of the detonation fattened the tower from which the small atomic mass was set off. "There's nothing left of the tower," test manager Carol L. Tyler remarked, indicating perhaps that the small portion was as lethal in some respects as the original Alamogordo A-bomb which melted its tower.

"The explosion was not a fizzle or a dud," Dr. Alvin C. Graves, AEC scientific chief, told newsmen, many of whom doubted they had seen a successful experiment.

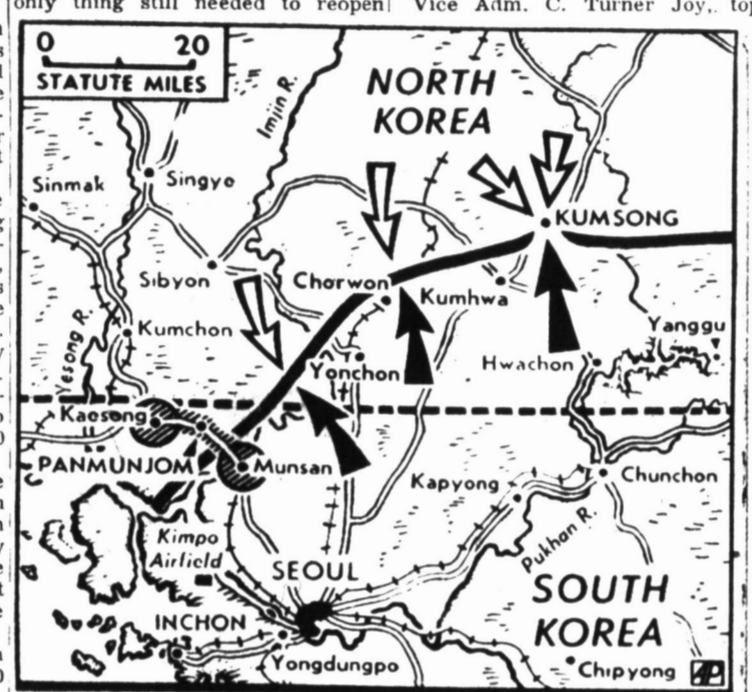

Lester Wheeler, 56, Dies In Washita

Other than Mrs. Damron, he is survived by two other sisters, Mrs. Vance Morehead, Borger and Mrs. Ida Curruet, Exell, Texas.

PEACE TALKS SITE — Agreement to hold Korean peace talks at Panmunjom, midway between Allied peace camp at Munsan and Red camp at Kaesong, was signed Oct. 22. Meanwhile Allied forces were within a mile and a half of Kumsong, big Red base to the east of the former Red "triangle" and 30 miles north of the 38th parallel. Other fighting took place in the Chorwon-Kumhwa area where entrenched Reds forced a UN patrol to withdraw. There were several sharp, brief skirmishes in rolling country 15 miles north and east of Munsan. (AP Wirephoto)

Pampa Radio Listening To Be Free Of Police Broadcasts

Pampa radio listeners can look forward to listening to their favorite radio programs without being interrupted by police radio broadcasts.

This will be due to installation of the police department's new FM radio set-up. Radio stations, like police stations, broadcasting on FM (frequency modulation) cannot be picked up by commercial AM sets.

With the Gray county sheriff's office coming in on the baby police network in the picture of police work will take on a definite change in the immediate area which will eventually affect the entire area of North Texas, including the Panhandle.

In an interview with The Pampa Daily News, Patrolman E. O. "Red" Payne, who will do most of the installation work with the new equipment, gave the following account of how the new system will work:

The main transmitter and receiver will be located in the police station. A two-wire cable will then be run to the sheriff's office where an amplifier and another microphone will be installed.

The sheriff's office will be able to hear all police calls and at the same time be able to hear all police calls and at the same time be able to make broadcasts by opening their microphone. This will be transmitted over the remote control cable and sent out through the main transmitter.

On a broadcast by the sheriff's office, every city police car will be able to hear the call just as if it were coming direct from the station.

When sheriff's office cars or police department cars broadcast from their radios, the call will be heard by every other car on duty as well as the sheriff's office and police station. The sheriff's cars and police cars will also be able to talk to each other direct instead of having to depend on rebroadcasts as the case is now.

City police cars will have a 12.5-watt output while the sheriff's department will have 30-watt mobile units. This difference is because the sheriff's department operates on a county-wide basis—the deputy sheriff in McLean will be radio equipped while the city cars operate only on a city-wide basis. However, when the new system was recently tested with a portable 30-watt

Leslie H. Hart Is Named Official In Insurance Agency

LESLIE W. HART

In 1924, the original agency was established at Panhandle by Wayne and Earl O'Keefe, who still own part interest in the company. Three years later an office was opened in Pampa.

$125,000 Damage Suit Goes Into Second Trial Day

The $125,000 damage suit brought against Lawrence Blasberg, 22, of California, by the Cookrell, Amarillo, went into its second day this morning as attorneys continued reading medical depositions taken several months ago.

Only Cookrell, who was injured in the Oct. 30, 1949, head-on collision east of McLean, was called to the stand by 11 a. m. today. Most of the time was consumed by reading the depositions.

The jury was finally completed by 3 p. m. yesterday, the major part of the delay resulting from lack of sufficient number of potential jurors from which to select the jury. The sheriff's department was ordered to pick up four talesmen after excuses, illness, and absenteeism whittled the panel to less than 27.

Pleadings and affidavits by both sides were read to the jury late yesterday afternoon and the first of several depositions were read by attorneys from the witness stand.

Seven Fined In Local Court

U. S. Public Debt Biggest In World

By Oct. 10, 1941, the public debt of the United States per person stood at $1660—greater than any two foreign countries by the end of their 1950 fiscal year, with the exception of Great Britain, a chart of the public debt of 10 countries prepared by Rep. Walter Rogers shows.

The total per capita debt of the United States on Oct. 10, 1951, stands at $1860 as compared to that of $1398 for Great Britain as of March 31, 1951.

The Italian public debt—a former enemy—stood at $97 by the end of that country's 1950 fiscal year. Portugal was the lowest with a $42 per capita debt while The Netherlands was high with $722. Belgium had a $547 per capita debt and Norway $500.

The others showed per capita debt at the end of their 1950 fiscal year of: Luxembourg, $418; Denmark, $334; France $294; and Iceland $147.

One of Rogers' objections to the foreign aid bill was based on the low per capita debt of these and other countries while the already heavily indebted and taxed American public is being asked for still another pinch.

Rogers also described the Eri-day session of Congress as "quiet and tense" as the roll call vote on the $4-billion dollar plus tax bill was cast. Rogers voted against the bill.

This morning the Pampa congressman indicated he would be home sometime this month or early in November. In a wire to The Pampa Daily News he said he was trying to make arrangements for leaving Washington and would announce his departure time as soon as his arrangements are made.

Autos Damaged In Collision

McDowell was given a traffic citation for driving without a license.

Fined $100 And Costs
Cecil L. Bowers was fined $100 and costs in county court yesterday after pleading guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

No address was given for Bowers. He was picked up Sunday by city police.

A new dollars-and-cents ceiling price regulation covering the resellers of new automobiles has been issued by Lubbock district Office of Price Stabilization announced today.

It provides that dollars-and-cents basic ceiling prices will be issued as "special orders" by OPS, covering new passenger automobiles of every make, by each body style, line or series. Current basic ceiling prices in general apply also to extra, special and optional equipment, and take into account factory to dealer transportation costs, federal excise taxes, state and local taxes, customary established charges for preparing and conditioning a car for delivery and customary established prices and charges for any other item of equipment or service requested by the purchaser.

District price officials pointed out that by Nov. 1, every retail dealer must post in a conspicuous place on his premises, a notice not less than 18 by 24 inches stating the make, body style, line or series and model of each new automobile offered for sale, and an itemized ceiling price.

maximum effort in expanding productive capacity of crude oil," the resolution said.

"At the same time, however, the administration of price control laws as applied to crude oil have given no recognition to the need for encouraging maximum effort."

The association's economic committee predicts a demand of 8,025,000 barrels daily for the last quarter of this year and the first quarter of 1952. It said this was a 6.6 percent increase over the comparable period of 1950-51.

Lack of a sound government policy toward oil was the complaint of another association paper. It hit failure to have an emergency reserve and laid this to the government's policy of favoring foreign oil.

"The present Iranian situation may be cited as an example of the folly of relying on foreign oil," it said.

Harvesters Ease Into Drills For Odessa Battle Friday

The Fighting Harvesters started preparing for their first meeting in school history with the Odessa Bronchos with not too stiff a workout yesterday. The top-rung Odessans, undefeated, but tied, this year, come to Harvester Park Friday night to meet the unbeaten and untied Harvesters who last weekend soundly pasted the Abilene Eagles, 46-7.

Yesterday's workout was used in phases — first getting aching muscles, remnants of the Abilene victory, unlimbered; working on defense against the Odessa attack; and adding some new wrinkles to their own potent offense.

Two faces were absent from the workout. Halfbacks Jim Bob Cox and Oscar Sargent were both out with illness but expected to be back by the weekend. Cox was in the hospital suffering with a nose infection and Sargent was ill at home.

Special face masks have been ordered for Cox, as well as for tackle Buddy Cockrell, who got a nose bleed started during the Friday night game and hasn't been able to completely stop it. The mask will also protect Cockrell's right temple, where three stitches had to be taken after the Plainview game to close a wound.

USE SPLIT
The Bronchos will move their split-T offense into town with a record of five wins and one tie, the deadlock a 13-13 affair with Fort Arthur early in the year. They hold victories over Capitol Hill, Reagan of Abilene, Fort Worth Paschal, San Angelo and Borger. None of these clubs have offered the stiff opposition that the Pampa Green and Golders can throw at them—and the game will definitely offer a proving ground for both clubs.

Odessa's outstanding feature is the big and strong line. But Pampa's forward wall has handled those situations with ease several other times this year, showing Plainview and Abilene around, though both outweighed the Harvester front line. Leading the defense for Odessa will be a 24-pound guard, Walter Cooley, 277-pound center Melvin Etheridge, 300-pound tackle Wayne Beasley and end Weldon Holley, one of the finest ballplayers in the state from all reports.

The Broncho backfield is sparked by a sophomore quarterback that has come straight up from the junior high team named Carl Schlemeyer. His fine choice of plays and passing arm has kept backs Swain Adams, Gene Babb, Jack Freeman, Mack Tyler, Buddy Mobley, and especially Charley Ward breaking for touchdowns.

Ward, a 5-10, 165-pounder, has been one of the leading ground gainers picking up an average of over 8 yards each time he is called upon. In addition, he handles the punting chores quite well with a fine 36.7 average.

Williams For Trade To Aid Club, Says Red Sox New Boss

BOSTON — (AP) — Lou Boudreau did not even mention pennant while making his formal debut as the Boston Red Sox manager for the next two seasons.

Recalling the seven years he required to make the Cleveland Indians the 1918 world baseball champions, Boudreau's only promise was to plug the Red Sox's obvious gaps.

"Our first need is an established catcher, then a dependable doubleplay combination," Boudreau said yesterday when general manager Joe Cronin made the long anticipated announcement concerning Steve O'Neill, successor as Red Sox pilot.

"And we'll trade any one of our players to get the strength we need," Boudreau continued.

"Does that include Ted Williams?" he was asked.

"Yes," Lou replied. "Every body, Ted included, will be used well with a fine 36.7 average.

The Odessans are being coached this year by a new staff, Joe Coleman having moved on to a Methodist was voted the top college job in New Mexico. Head coach is Julius Johnson. Hayden Fry handles the backfield and Jim Daniel the line. All are defensive specialists, but whether everything they can cook up can halt the fine Pampa attack remains to be seen.

Like Waiting For Chair Says Sauer

WACO — (AP) — George Sauer says being coach of the only undefeated, untied team in the Southwest Conference is like the prisoner waiting for the electric chair.

Sauer is coach of Baylor, which in four games is unbeaten but which now faces what the coach considers the toughest obstacle of the season.

Baylor meets Texas A&M Saturday and it will be on the Aggies' home field with them in a savage mood over losing to Baylor last year and being tumbling from the unbeaten ranks by twice defeated Texas Christian last week.

At least that's how Sauer sizes it up.

"Of course I want an undefeated team but when we beat Texas Tech last week to keep our record intact it was just like getting a reprieve," said Sauer. "In this conference (the Southwest) an undefeated record is the signal for everybody to be after you twice as fast."

TWO INJURED
Baylor won't be at top strength for the Aggies Saturday. Sauer said. He has about given up on two of his best men. They are Harold Riley, offensive end, and Walter Bates, outstanding guard. They have been out with injuries for several weeks and apparently won't be in condition for play Saturday.

Otherwise the team, which seeks Baylor's first Southwest Conference championship in 25 years, is ready and Sauer said he believed they would be "up" for this one without any urging.

A&M is a traditional foe and its game with Baylor always is a season highlight. A capacity crowd of 40,000 is due and A&M makes its last stand in the conference race. A defeat now would eliminate the Aggies from the title running.

Tennessee Regains Top Spot

Baylor Jumps To Seventh; UT Tenth

NEW YORK — (AP) — Tennessee, the pre-season favorite, regained the top spot today among the nation's college football teams in the fourth weekly Associated Press poll.

Unbeaten Baylor climbed to seventh. Texas, victim of Arkansas, slipped from fourth to tenth. The Texas Aggies plummeted to sixth and Arkansas gained the eighth round.

Sports writers gave SMU 2 points, Rice 0 and TCU 4. California, last week's top team, dropped to No. 9.

The Tennessee Volunteers, who received a whopping total of 70 first-place votes out of 161 cast by the nation's sports writers and sportscasters to take over the No. 1 ranking.

This gave Tennessee 1,354 points, a comfortable margin over Michigan State, the No. 2 team, with 1,202 points. Michigan State, a 32-21 winner over Penn State, had 28 first-place votes, and moved up from a third place ranking a week ago.

The rough weekend for several top-ranking teams caused some juggling of the standings among the top 10, but only Texas A&M dropped out of the select group. The Aggies skidded from No. 6 last week to No. 16, after being upset by TCU, 20-14.

..... BAYLOR ON MOVE .....
Another team moving up is Baylor, now No. 7 after a No. 10 ranking last week. The Bears thumped Texas Tech, 40-29, Saturday.

All of the top 10 teams except Southern California, California and Texas are undefeated and untied.

The first ten, with first-place votes in parenthesis:

1. Tennessee (70) 1,354
2. Michigan State (28) 1,202
3. Georgia Tech (16) 1,022
4. Illinois (12) 878
5. Maryland (13) 851
6. Southern California (13) 711
7. Baylor (7) 621
8. Princeton (2) 528
9. California (1) 435
10. Texas 182

Second ten — 11. Stanford; 12. Cornell; 13. Northwestern; 14. Wisconsin; 15. Notre Dame; 16. Texas A&M; 17. Kentucky; 18. Washington State; 19. Arkansas; 20. San Francisco.

Kentucky Cagers Face Prison Sentences Up To Five Years

NEW YORK — (AP) — Three former University of Kentucky basketball stars, two of them among the greatest ever developed in the blue grass country, were to be arraigned today on charges of accepting bribes to fix an intercollegiate game.

The players involved in the latest chapter of the basketball scandals are former all-Americans Alex Groza and Ralph Beard, members of Kentucky's national collegiate champions of 1948 and 1949, and Dale Barnstable, captain of the 1949-50 team.

Groza, six-foot-seven-inch center, and Beard, pint-sized sharp shooting guard, are part owners and members of the Indianapolis Olympians of the National Basketball Association. Barnstable is a Louisville High school coach.

They are charged with taking $500 each for shaving points in the March 1949 National Invitation Tournament game with Loyola of Chicago at Madison Square Garden. Loyola won the game 67-56.

University and New York University have become enmeshed in the gambling scandal.

14 CONVICTED
O'Connor said 14 players already have been convicted in the gambler-conceived plot to rig points.

Groza, Beard and Barnstable face prison sentences of one to three years if convicted of conspiracy, a misdemeanor. If convicted of bribery, a felony, the law calls for a prison sentence up to five years for each count.

Neither Beard nor Groza had much to say on their arrival in New York.

"I don't know what to say," was Groza's reply to reporters. "But in Chicago Beard told newsmen it might be a good idea if the scandal-hit players organized a playing tour in foreign countries. He added: "For most of us basketball is our only means of livelihood. We shouldn't be punished forever."

Blackburn studied movies of the Hilltoppers 27-21 Saturday night loss to Tulsa and declared: "I don't make Marquette's football schedules, but I won't have a team I am coaching play against such flagrantly illegal tactics as the Golden Hurricanes employed."

Three Dodgers Named To AP 1951 All-Star Baseball Team

NEW YORK — (AP) — A power-packed outfield, a tight inner defense and crafty pitching backed by that rare diamond commodity — a hitting catcher — make up the 1951 Associated Press all-star baseball team.

Eight of the big league clubs are represented on the sixth annual AP dream team chosen by 184 members of the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

The Brooklyn Dodgers salvaged some glory from the '51 season by placing three players on the squad — the only team with more than one representative.

The all-star team (with votes in parenthesis):

- First base — Ferris Fain, Athletics (111).
- Second base — Jackie Robinson, Dodgers (180).
- Third base — George Kell, Tigers (144).

Shortstop — Phil Rizzuto, Yankees (79).

Center field — Stan Musial, Cardinals (179).

Right field — Ralph Kiner, Pirates (105).

Catcher — Roy Campanella, Dodgers (167).

POTENT OUTFIELD
The outfield of Williams, Kiner and Musial — who received $255,000 this year for their services — smacked 104 homers and drove across 348 runs. Kiner poked the most round-trippers of anybody in either league, 42, while Williams led all hitters with 226 runs batted in. Musial, with 205 safeties, topped this trio in base hits.

Defensively, the infield of Fain, Robinson, Kell and Rizzuto rates as one of the best in recent years.

Fain topped the American League in hitting, with a .344 mark, but his classy glove work around first base can't be overlooked.

If teamed together, Robinson and Rizzuto would make a sensational double play team, as both are fast and sure-handed. Robinson hit a solid .338 while Rizzuto, last year's most valuable player, slipped to .274.

Quarterbacks See Pair Of Movies

Members of the Pampa Quarterback club saw the film of the Pampa-Abilene game and also on the game at their weekly heard Coach Tom Tipps report meeting last night.

In addition they saw the highlight movies of the 1949 Southwest Conference season.

A good crowd of about 300 fans attended the meeting in the Woodrow Wilson auditorium and heard Tipps explain a bit about the coming game with Odessa. They also heard Coach Dwayne Lyon, who is one of the coaches who has scouted the Bronchos, report on the No. 1 club in the state.

"They will be the best team we've played this year and may be the best we will play all year," Lyon said. He explained the size, weights and experience of the Broncho starting team as well as the type of system they employ. Lyons saw the Odessa-Fort Arthur game in which the Bronchos upset the Yellow Jackets, coming from behind in the final five seconds to tie the game, 12-14.

The club members attending also heard about a new whirlpool bath that had been installed at the high school to help aid the recovery of injured athletes. The whirlpool was installed last Saturday and put into immediate use.

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Accusing Tulsa University of employing "flagrantly illegal tactics" on the gridiron, Marquette football Coach Leslie Blackburn said last night he would act to end the series between the two schools.

Blackburn studied movies of the Hilltoppers 27-21 Saturday night loss to Tulsa and declared: "I don't make Marquette's football schedules, but I won't have a team I am coaching play against such flagrantly illegal tactics as the Golden Hurricanes employed."

MUST SELL CLUB

Groza and Beard were returned here from Chicago by assistant district attorney A. G. O'Connor last night, a few hours after the National Basketball Association ordered the two players to dispose of all their stock in the Olympians within a month. President Maurice Podoloff of the NBA previously had suspended them for life from playing in the pro league.

Barnstable has been here since Saturday night.

Before leaving Chicago, where Groza and Beard waived extradition, O'Connor said "you may assume that other schools probably are involved."

O'Connor's comment came when he was asked about a printed report that as many as seven more schools were to be quizzed in the point-rigging that already has involved seven schools and more than 30 players.

In addition to the three Kentuckians, players from Bradley, Toledo, City College of New York, Manhattan, Long Island

WARREN'S ARMUP

By Warren Hasso—News Sports Editor

With Pampa being a football hotbed for the second weekend in a row, I think that it would be most appropriate to print part of an article due to appear in the Reader's Digest, which hits the stands tomorrow.

The title of the article is "Football Bets Are for Suckers."

Here it is:

There are three types of people who bet on football games: the downright sucker, who thinks he knows something and doesn't; the emotionalist — probably an undergraduate or alumnus who bets with his heart instead of his head; and the professional gambler. And often the pro is a sucker racket.

Sper, who has a record of 80 percent right in picking the top and toughest 35 games played weekly, every fall for the past 20 years, says all these people should have their heads examined.

There's just no way of knowing who's going to win. Predicting a winner by looking at past scores is not reliable. Once Ed Warner, Stanford Indians were 2-1 underdog against Southern California, because of their respective showings. They won, 13-7. Why? Because Warner had saved his best combination for this game, the one he had been waiting for all year.

Often a team points all season for one particular game. When Clipper Smith was coaching at Villanova, the team was expected to beat Temple, then coached by Pop Warner. Villanova players reporting for their first practice, found a sign in the locker room: "30 days to Temple." Every day the sign was changed, pointing to the approaching game. When the teams finally met, Villanova won, 33-0.

Maybe something, or somebody, has made the underdog mad. Last year a sports writer deliberately roasted Southern California, which had won but one game all year, and they busted loose to hit Notre Dame, 9-7.

The physical and emotional re-

Guerillas Play Thursday

The Pampa Guerillas will return to action this weekend, facing the Amarillo Yannigan White team at Amarillo Thursday afternoon. Game time is 3:30 p.m., and the game will be broadcast by radio station KPDN direct from Amarillo.

The Guerillas will still be looking for their second win of the year. They defeated Turkey of District 1-B three weeks ago and then lost to the Amarillo Gold Yannigans the next weekend in a well-played and hard fought game at Harvester Park. Last weekend they drew an off date due to a mixup in the schedule with Plainview.

The Guerillas have been pretty badly shaken up with injuries and illness, but indications are that the first string backfield of Wilhelm, Darby, Radcliff and Keel will be ready to go against the Yan White team which has won six straight games, mostly from B teams in the Panhandle area.

The Guerillas have lost to Lefors, Wheeler and Borger in addition to the Amarillo Gold club.

Injury List Long For SWC Teams

DALLAS — (AP) — Most Southwest Conference coaches staged hard workouts today for another weekend that may shake up the already topsy-turvy loop.

Lingering injury lists and fresh casualties from last week's battles dogged several squads.

Taking it easy are the SMU Mustangs who wait until tomorrow to start prepping for their next game — Nov. 3 with Texas. TCU was in high spirits yesterday and reported no further injuries in its upset of Texas A&M. The Frogs leave Friday for their meeting with Southern California in Los Angeles Saturday.

Arkansas counted only two casualties after the bruising victory over Texas. Lamar McHan, quarterback, is troubled with a sore leg, and bruised shoulder but will be ready to go against Santa Clara Saturday. Center Jim Smith has a badly bruised leg.

George Sauer promised the Bears action today in preparation for the Aggie game at College Station Saturday. He said he would not know until later this week if guard Walter Bates and Harold Riley will be ready for the tilt. Riley hasn't played the last two games and Bates missed

McKOWAN PICKS UP FOUR—TCU quarterback Ray McKowan places a good stiff arm to Texas A&M back Yale Larry as he goes around left end for a four-yard gain in first quarter of game at Fort Worth, Texas. Coming to aid Larry are center Jim Fowler (90) and tackle Jack Little. TCU won 20-7. (AP Wirephoto)

Reserve Clause Needed—Owners

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A large number of the nation's baseball reporters believe the reserve clause, by which club owners can renew players' contracts yearly, is necessary and desirable.

This was disclosed today by the House monopoly investigating subcommittee that is studying bills to exempt baseball from anti-trust laws.

The results of its poll of sports writers was placed on the committee's hearing record as baseball's new car, Ford Frick, and Branch Rickey, general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, awaited call for testimony.

Here are some of the other poll results:

Asked if they believed minor leaguers are moved up in keeping with their ability, 93 said yes, nine no.

Eighty-four said they favored the use of farm systems by the major leagues; seven said no.

Ratterman Moves Back To Yankees

NEW YORK — (AP) — George Ratterman, the nomad of pro football, is on the move again today.

The ace quarterback has closed his brief Canadian football career and reportedly is on his way to rejoin the New York Yanks of the National Football League.

Ratterman said in Montreal yesterday: "I think it's better for everybody concerned that I call things off and go back home."

The former Notre Dame star caused a furore when he left the Yanks to play for the Montreal Alouettes this year. He was one of many American players who hopped across the border.

Fifty-five indicated they feel a change in the line-up of major league clubs is desirable; 30 said no and 13 voiced no opinion.

Sports Shot

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS — (AP) — Comment by Texas sports writers varied on Blair Cherry's magazine article about why he quit coaching at the University of Texas.

Some, like Hal Scherwitz of the San Antonio Light, said it was disappointing. "There's nothing in it that hasn't been in the public prints around here more than once — and a lot of time back," observed handsome Hal.

Dick Peebles, sports editor of the San Antonio Express, who identifies himself as writer of a column Cherry reproduced in his story but did not give the name of the author, says: "We haven't been able to figure out whether we should feel happy or slightly ed." The column had reported that some alumni were trying to fire Cherry.

Bill Rives of the Dallas News takes exception to Cherry's statement that he put Texas on the spot by making it a prohibitive favorite to win the 1950 Southwest Conference championship. "Writers all over the state, including myself, picked Texas last season, the campaign which resulted in Cherry's resignation," Rives wrote.

Harry Reckner, sports editor of the San Antonio News, comments on Cherry's assertion that while a coach might get fired for not winning "you never heard of a history teacher, even in the south, getting fired because Lee didn't win at Appomattox." "And where," asked Reckner, "do they offer history pros $15,000 to $25,000 per year salaries? May I say coaching is like big business. They pay big salaries commensurate with the pressure to produce."

Jack Gallagher, writing in the Houston Post, says "Cherry will go down as an excellent strategist, but he offered no threat to Freud, Machiavelli and Jung as a psychologist."

Then Jack tells of the time Cherry needed Doak Walker of SMU before Texas played SMU. He quotes Walker as saying "Cherry came over to him and said, 'Doak, you better be ready today, because we're going to whip you.'" So the Doakster told his teammates about it, they got all fired up — and SMU beat Texas. So perhaps Cherry was his own undoing and the sports writers didn't have anything to do with it.

A. C. Greene, sports writer at Abilene, asked Cherry if he had read our column concerning his magazine story and if he would like to comment. Cherry replied that for his part he'd let the feud die. He added that "I have written my story in the Saturday Evening Post. It can speak for itself."

Harry Gilstrap, sports editor of the Amarillo Globe-News, reads with relish Cherry's pungent article.

Harry apparently thought Cherry put your correspondent in his rightful place when the coach, who quit because of pressure of this alumni and fans, his health and because he had a good job in the oil business, accused us of unethical tactics.

Cherry said we took advantage of his honesty and quoted him on things we should not have quoted him on, thus putting him on the spot.

Our rejoinder was lengthy, explaining that we had obtained the statements in interviews which we did not know were supposed to be the Cleveland Indians right after the big "cry-baby" affair had apparently blown the tepee wide open. When he took over he was the youngest major league manager of all-time and finally guided the Indians to the flag.

Just got the word from the school business office that at 9:30 this morning there were only 1000 reserved seats left at Harvester Park for Friday night's game. The entire east side of the stands has been sold out. The remaining seats are all on the west side, all between the 15-yard line and the end of the stands on both ends of the field.

If you want tickets for the game, you had better hurry and get them.

Snead To Captain Ryder Cup Team

NEW YORK — (AP) — Sam Snead, who made his start with the American team 14 years ago, will lead United States Ryder Cup golf forces against Great Britain at Pinehurst, N.C., Nov. 2-4.

The PGA champion was elected by team members last night. Snead won singles matches in 1937, 1947 and 1949 and shared in a doubles victory in 1949.

There were no matches during World War II.

The West Virginian succeeds National Open champion Ben Hogan, who led the Americans against Britain as non-play captain two years ago when the U. S. won 7 to 5.

Hogan was the only member absent at the gathering of the two squads last night. He sent his regrets from his Fort Worth home.

Other U.S. players are Lloyd Mangrum, Jack Burke, Jr., Jim Demaret, Be Hoge, Ed Oliver, E. J. Harrison, Henry Ransom, Clayton Hearner and Skip Alexander.

to be off the record. So brother Gilstrap says our answer at such length was not warranted—that Cherry's story was solid and not of the sensational. Harry's inference was that the great, good man should not be criticized at all.

Since we recall a few years ago when Howard Lynch, coach of Amarillo High school, made something of a similar charge against the Globe-News, I bus bringing several columns of hot rebuttal in the Amarillo papers, we can not quite consider that Harry is consistent. Lynch, who is no longer coach at Amarillo, though we are not accusing the Globe-News writers of having anything to do with that, had remarked that the paper didn't report the football as it should.

Boy! Did those fellows at the Globe-News go to town on Lynch. We believe the space given by the paper in firing at Lynch was equally as much as given to our column answering Cherry.

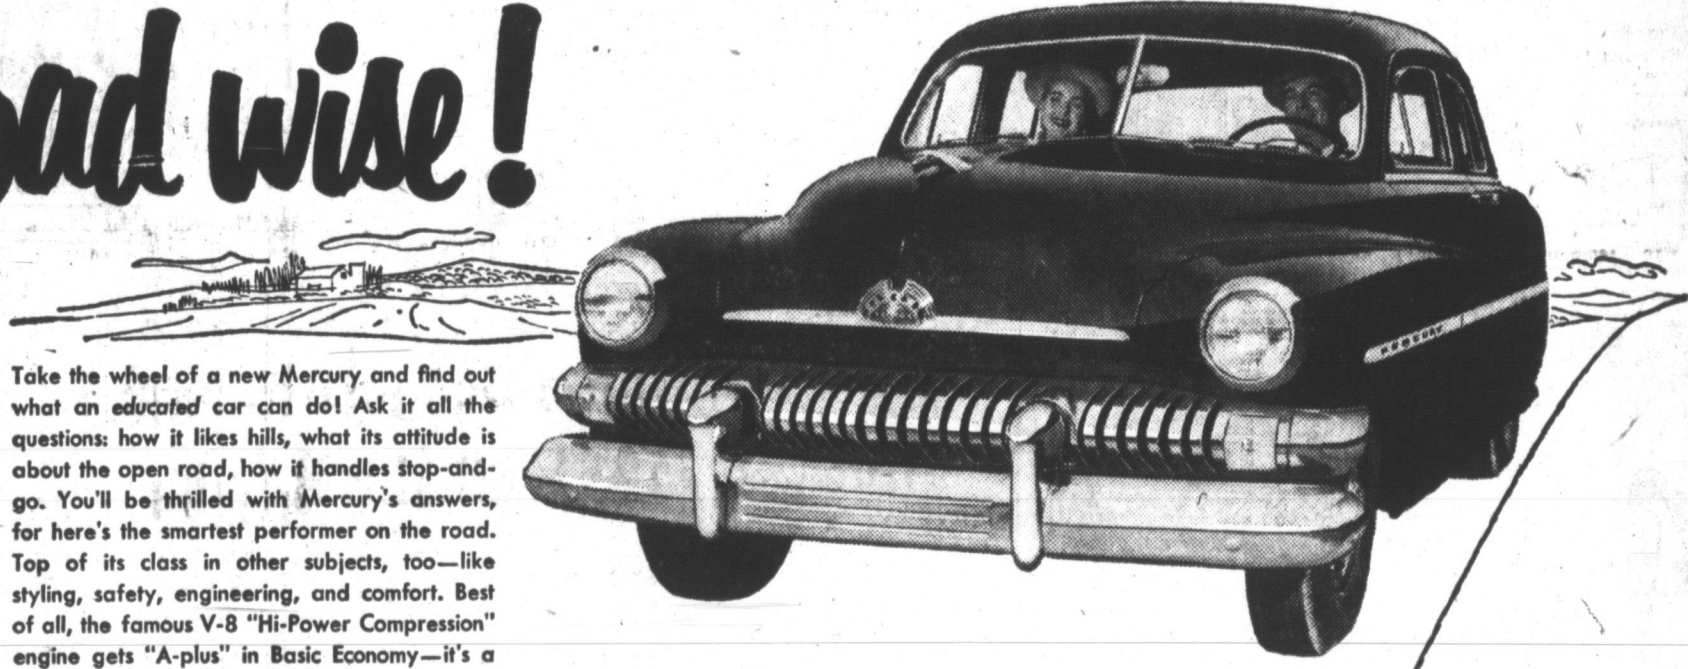

And Puit Powell, Harry's co-worker, gets into the act. He remarks that Cherry didn't go after sports writers until he had the circulation. As I recall Lynch didn't have the circulation when he took a crack at the press.

Howard should write a magazine article on "Why I Quit Coaching At Amarillo High School." He then might have the circulation, too.

Mrs. Ragsdale And Mrs. Foster Are Delegates To District ESA Meeting

Mrs. Bill Ragsdale and Mrs. Herman Foster, president and vice president respectively of the Alpha Omicron chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha, attended the ESA district Panhandle meeting in Tulsa Sunday with some 50 other Panhandle delegates.

District officers were elected at the meeting. They were Gwyneth Bigham, Mulshoe, president; Margaret Gosper, Amarillo, vice president; Lucille Bennett, Wellington, treasurer; Betty Glaze, Mulshoe, corresponding secretary, and Joyce Conslor, Plainview, recording secretary.

Mrs. Ragsdale is outgoing recording secretary of the group.

Registration for the event was between 10 and 11:30 a. m. A coffee was held during this time in the homemaking department of Tulsa High school.

A luncheon followed in the school cafeteria. The program and menu were paper leaves, and the program followed the theme, "Friendship."

Miss Martha Woodside, president of the Tulsa chapter, gave the welcoming address. Other Tulsa members who spoke were Mary Burgess, Mrs. Hugh White, sponsor, and Mrs. Walker B. Jones, educational director, who gave "Thoughts on Friendship."

Announcements concerning conventions were made during the business session, following the luncheon. The state meeting will be held in El Paso May 3-4, and the international meeting in San Antonio, July 4-6.

To stimulate interest in attending district meetings, it was decided during the business session that chapters in similar locations would meet together more frequently. The spring convention will be held in Mulshoe.

Wellington won the attendance honor, presented each time to the group with the largest percentage of their active membership present. They have eight members and five attended.

Chapters represented included Theta Mu, Dumas; Beta Eta, Hereford; Epsilon Chi, Mulshoe; Alpha Omicron, Pampa; Alpha Sigma, Plainview; Delta Sigma, Tulsa; Beta Zeta, Wellington.

HATMAKING HOBBY — Mrs. O. L. Statton is pictured with a group of feather hats which she has been making three years. The hats are made of duck and pheasant feathers and are made in varying sizes and shapes. Each feather must be glued one at a time on a form to make the hats. Mrs. Statton also makes feather corsages from small curved feathers. A fur muff, pictured in the right foreground, was also made by Mrs. Statton. (News Photo)

Making Hats Is Hobby Of Two Local Women

(This is the second of a series of articles on Pampa women who practice "needle magic" and make all or at least a portion of their wardrobes.)

A hat, the crowning glory of any ensemble, may seem the most difficult item to make in a woman's wardrobe, but at least two Pampa women have combined their "needle know-how" and artistic ingenuity to make hats for all occasions.

Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. O. L. Statton are two Pampa women whose hobby is hatmaking.

Mrs. Smith, who also sews for recreation, specializes in remodeling hats and adding fashionable and unusual trim. In making a hat completely, she uses ermine rather than fur, and makes hats which match or contrast with dresses.

She keeps a wide assortment of "hat trim" — fur, beads, buttons — anything which may later be just the thing to give flair to an ordinary hat.

Specialty shops, Mrs. Smith explains, cater to the home milliner and she has found feathers, stones, braid and veiling available in these shops.

Mrs. Smith enjoys hatmaking, but equally enjoys the time spent at her sewing machine. She feels every dress is a challenge. She buys good patterns and good materials — two musts for successful completion of a dress. She finds sewing much more interesting when working with unusual and pretty fabrics.

Mrs. Statton specializes in feather hats. "Admittedly," she said, "the work is tedious, but it's so fascinating I spend much of my spare time making hats." The small pillboxes and head-

Betty Jane Boynton Dormitory Officer

Miss Betty Jane Boynton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Boynton, 1035 South Hobart, Pampa, has been elected secretary of Pennington hall, women's dormitory, at Oklahoma City university.

Miss Boynton, a senior at OCCU, is a member of the Vocal Arts club, Piano club, University choir, the Independent Students' Assn. and Sigma Alpha Iota, national music fraternity for women.

Ruth Millett

"There's no such thing as a green thumb," said the sweet-faced woman who has a way with flowers after a friend remarked, "I wish I had your green thumb."

And then she went on to explain gently: "I read everything about flower growing that I can lay my hands on. I ask questions of other gardeners. And I keep experimenting all the time. A green thumb is really just knowing what you're doing."

It's that way with all of living, actually. We talk about people having a knack for this or a flair for that or being a "natural" in this or the other.

But when you get right down to it, the person who does a job easily and well has usually just put his intelligence to use.

The "natural" cook can get along without a recipe because she has a background of experience and of experimentation. The woman who has a "knack" for fixing up a house, even though it has all been self-taught, plus the willingness to work hard to produce the effects she sees in her mind's eye.

So it is foolish to envy one woman's green thumb or another's flair for dress-making or decorating or whatever.

The knack and the flair are only part natural talent. What gets the job done successfully is knowledge plus that unromantic ingredient — hard work.

Most of us don't like to admit that. Because it is easier to envy another a little, we say to ourselves: "I could do that, too, if I were willing to study the subject thoroughly, learn all about it that I can from others, and then pitch in and work hard until I have accomplished the effect I'd like to accomplish."

That is why we credit so many of our friends with gifts that actually are really not gifts at all — but a combination of ambition and hard work.

Rush To Buy Mexican Oil Is On But Not Much Left To Buy

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — The rush to buy Mexican oil is on — but Mexico does not have much to sell. The Egyptians are coming on a buying trip; the Belgians and French are already here. Central America has asked about a sales contract. Mexico is in sixth place in the world as an oil producer. But she uses two-thirds of all she produces. Last year this left only 23,000 barrels for export. This is only about five percent of the Iranian production, whose disappearance accounts for the rush to Mexico.

PRODUCTION UP
Mexican production has increased — it is running this year at the rate of about eight percent more than last year. First figures on 1950 production here were 73,000,000 barrels. Later a report by an impartial foreign observer scaled it down to 70,544,000 barrels. So far this year the production has been running at 6,587,000 barrels a month — 76,644,000 barrels a year.

Some of the increase is accounted for by the new Jose Colono field in the state of Tabasco near the Tehuantepec isthmus. The rest comes mainly from older fields which Mexico expropriated from foreign owners in 1938 and later paid for.

FIELDS REPRESSURED
Petroleum Mexicanos — Pemex, the government corporation set up to operate the expropriated properties — is now producing just as much oil as it safely can from the old fields. In fact, some foreign oil men say oil may be pumped even faster than good oil field practice approves. Also, the fields are being repressured — gas is being pumped back into them — to increase the yield. Which means that any increase in production will have to come from new fields. The old ones are producing at capacity.

Nor is there much hope Mexico can reduce her domestic consumption to provide more export oil, no matter how good the offers she may get from abroad. A large part of her food moves by truck, making gasoline essential. Her railroads use oil exclusively, either in the fleet of new diesel locomotives or in oil-burning steam engines. Hydro-electric plants have barely kept pace with the increasing demand for electric power, so oil-using generating plants are still essential.

BUYS FROM U.S.
Not all the Mexican export figures represent net sales abroad, either. Mexico still buys a lot from the United States. One reason is that Mexican crude does not produce good lubricating oil. The only U.S. oil companies still operating here are those selling lubricants, which handles 70 percent.

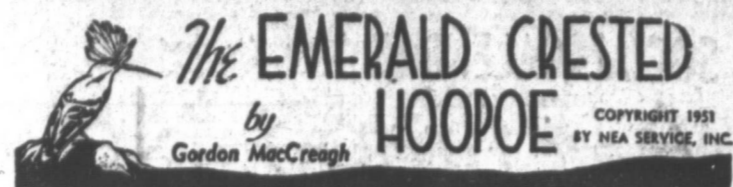

Another reason is that Pemex still has trouble distributing its products in many parts of the country, because of a shortage of tank cars and trucks. For this reason the border area is supplied from the United States.

IMPORT HIGH
In September, for instance, 389 carloads of oil was the largest single item among imports through Laredo, Texas. This was 18 percent of all items through Laredo, which handles 70 percent of Mexico's rail imports.

Before the expropriation, the United States took 70 percent of Mexico's oil exports. Minor amounts went to Britain 10 percent — and to Guatemala, Holland, Cuba, Italy, France and Panama. Under government operation the foreign market has been broadened but not enlarged. In 1921 the foreign companies exported 193,000,000 barrels. Mexico now sells to all those countries as well as to Sweden, Spain, Norway, Canada, Yugoslavia, Germany, Belgium, Honduras, Spanish West Africa and New Zealand.

But she cannot sell as much as they want to buy.

THE STORY: An idol of an extinct bird is sought by Communist plotters in Indo-China as a means of organizing revolt. But Georges Benoit, a patriotic Frenchman, has hired Alan Harton, an American, to find it first.

VII
In the temple courtyard a monk was scattering sesame seed to a flock of birds the size of thrushes, that walked about tamely as pigeons. At intervals the birds raised golden crests and sang musically, "Hoo-poo," on a descending third of the scale.

"Not emerald crested," Alan grunted. "Just plain. And since nobody's dropping dead, I suppose it's their lucky time to hoop." "As an American, my friend," Georges Benoit said, "you have certain recognized characteristics. You are expected to have a curiosity, to intrude your nose into anything that may interest you, because you write for your village newspaper; or you are studying the conditions for two weeks for the purpose of writing a book."

Alan grinned. "Moreover," Benoit went on, "you are expected to have a camera with a flashlight, the which you thrust into dark corners and religious ceremonies, while you call on priests and gods to pose for you."

Alan didn't grin. He winced. "These privileges you have established, give you then the opportunity to observe every inch within this temple, without attracting attention to any one spot."

Alan had an idea of his own. "And since they—" he emphasized the word—"expect us to be going into the jungles, we'd better recruit some husky trail and track men."

"A bodyguard, no less! My friend, this is inspiration!" Benoit clapped his hands. The feeding hoopes shrieked and scattered. Myself, too, am an amateur of photography. I do myself the pleasure his head. This would give him an eight-card canasta. Can this be done? — Yes. There is nothing wrong with having eight cards in a canasta.

Originally hari-kari was a method of suicide permitted noble offenders in feudal Japan, but later became the national form of honorable suicide.

to accompany you." The man's efrontery in forcing his company was galling. "Well," Alan said, "the streets are public." Denis Freres D'Indochine were agents who proudly advertised that they imported everything from champagnes to fertilizers and exported everything from pepper to fish-grease (Alan wondered what that was and who wanted it).

VROOM did seem to know what a man should have. Sleepily he asked, "You do not take a long focus lens for animal work?" Alan, engrossed in flash apparatus and close focussing range finders, felt guilty for the oversight. Benoit quickly reached into a case. "It is here." He showed the accessory.

Vroom smiled sleepily at him. "But, too large, I think, for the camera that Meester Barton has selected." Then he laughed. "But you and me, my good friend, ha-ha, we must not interfere with the decisions of the expert who has the knowledge." He turned back to Alan. "In the Dodoog I have a little camp workings of the teak. I invite you to visit. There I guarantee you elephants, tigers, anything you wish and I thank you to take them away. The elephants break my fences and the tigers they eat my men."

Alan flashed a quick narrow look to Benoit, wondering just what this might mean. Vroom laughed purringly. "Oah yes. My good friend Benoit also I know is anxious to aid you in your researches and, having his knowledge of the country, he would be useful. Only—" he let his eyes rove over the obvious unfitness. "I am sure he will not be able." He expressed a further anxiety. "Do I not detect that you are coming down with a fever—or something? You have a tension of the hands, a yellowness. You must take care of yourself."

He bowed his ponderous adieu. "That man," the store attendant scowled after him, "has a camp, believe it or not, that is full of these bandits who raid the countryside. Al-Quocks, Messieurs, more evil than the tigers. I do not advise that one goes."

Neat Home Is Woman's Prison

NAUGATUCK, Conn. — (AP) — A neat, newly-painted house in residential Naugatuck, police say, cloaked the filthy two-year prison of a woman, confined without clothing by her brother.

Authorities add that the four brothers have refused to say why they imprisoned their sister, who had not been seen by neighbors since her mother's funeral in July, 1949. The four brothers — Adolph, 45, Chester, 40, Stanley, 37, and 31-year-old Leo Roman — were booked yesterday on a charge of cruelty.

Beatrice Roman, their sister, has been sent to a mental hospital on an emergency commitment. She was described as a husky, 200-pound woman in her late thirties. Prosecutor Henry S. Marlow, Jr., said he would arraign the four today in borough court if a mental examination determined they can comprehend the proceedings.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Discuss Rules Before Playing

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The question of an eighth card in a canasta keeps coming up. The best way to clear this point up is to recapitulate the rule first and then to answer the questions that are usually asked on this point.

A canasta is a meld of at least seven cards of the same rank. It is not necessarily a meld of exactly seven cards. It may contain eight, nine, ten, eleven, or even twelve cards. That has always been the official rule, and no authority has ever dreamed of changing it.

The only limitation on the cards in a canasta is that there may be no more than three wild cards. There is no limit to the number of natural cards that may be included in a canasta — except the fact that there are only eight natural cards in the deck. The confusion is caused by the fact that some players follow a "house" rule by which the number of cards in a canasta is limited to seven. This has never been the official rule.

Nobody can prevent you from following this house rule if you wish to do so. But if you do, let me remind you of two things: first, it is a very poor rule and may land you in hopeless tangles; and second, if you play with a new group remember that you have to discuss which rule

All In A Lifetime Things To Worry About

'Dog Eat Dog' Not Altogether Human Trait; Dogs Have It Too

ATHENS, Ga. — It took 30 years but a psychologist finally has concluded that in many ways dogs lead peoples' lives. They hound each other unmercifully out of sheer frustration. Some have a perpetual bone to pick, while others have barks much worse than their bites. In the world encompassed by the laboratory of Dr. W. J. James of the University of Georgia there are top dogs, middle class dogs and underdogs.

Three Little Bobby Soxers Take A Trip To The Big City

NEW YORK — (AP) — Roberta, Marilyn and Arlene are three little bobby-soxers who were baby-sitting just a few nights ago back in Nahant, Mass. But they wanted to dance and wanted to see the big city—and they happened to stumble on a fortune that wasn't theirs. So they took the money and came to the city: to shop on Fifth avenue, to see the night spots, and to be grown up.

Everything was fine until they met three city slickers and later the local police. Now they are in jail and the money is gone. Their fairy tale has become a fable, a fable they might tell their diary. According to police, each girl might tell of her adventure this way: DEAR DIARY Roberta McCauley, 15, of Nahant — "Dear Diary, Wednesday night, I was baby sitting at Dr. Albert Covner's. Marilyn and Arlene came over. Decided to dress ourselves grown-up-like in Mrs. Covner's dresses. Found box packed with bills, maybe $18,000 in all.

KEY AND MONEY GONE They disappeared. Later we found locker key and money

Guard Recruiting Attacked By Officer

WASHINGTON NN — (AP) — The president of the National Guard Asen, said today that "illegal and indiscriminate" recruiting of guardsmen has posed "real problems" for both Army and Air National Guard. Maj. Gen. Ellard A. Walsh, in a statement prepared for the opening of association's 73rd general conference, called the recruiting "indefensible in view of the fact that such personnel were already enrolled in a reserve of an armed force subject to being ordered" to active duty.

There can be no minimizing or exaggerating the effect which the rotation program has had on National Guard units, he said. Six weeks ago Gen. J. Lawton Collins, Army chief of staff, announced a plan to tap Guard and other units as replacements for "all personnel (in Korea) who endured the bitter combat conditions in Korea last winter." Collins called the rotation plan an "overriding need." He was answering protests against the call-up of individual Idaho National Guardsmen.

Small Boy Shoots Mother, Brother With Father's Gun

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Police Officer Andrew J. Bacquet, 32, was attending a western movie at a drive-in theater with his family. The roar of the cowboy-actors' guns was deafening. Suddenly Bacquet's wife stumbled from the rear seat moaning: "The baby's dead — I'm hurt."

Violent Death Takes Big Toll Over Week End

(By The Associated Press) Traffic fatalities led the list of violent deaths in Texas during the week end. At least 14 died in traffic crashes and accidents, four were shot fatally and one was burned to death.

THE BABY'S DEAD — I'M HURT. Bacquet's 2-year-old son, Ronald, had climbed back into the rear seat of the car and found his father's service revolver. Holding it in both hands, he pulled the trigger. The bullet passed through the neck of his 4-month-old brother, Mark and lodged in his mother's abdomen. The baby was dead on arrival at a hospital. Mrs. Bacquet was in critical condition.
