Pampans Home For Holidays

LEXINGTON, Mo. — Four Pampa youths, students at Wentworth Military academy here, have returned home for the Christmas holidays. The vacation officially started on Dec. 20 and will extend to Jan. 6.

The youths are: Cadet Glenn R. McConnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. McConnell, Box 276; Cadet James E. Williams, son of Mrs. Ewing Williams, 1615 North Russell; Cadet Bobby E. Seitz, 829 Mary Ellen; and Cadet Donald S. Hicks, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Hicks, P. O. Box 1979.

The yuletide season at Wentworth was ushered in with a program that included the annual band concert, a play by the cadets, a winter dance, and the Christmas dinner which was held prior to the cadets' departure for their homes.

HORROR (Continued From Page One) trying to get into the building to save children. Firemen arrived later by fighters from California but there was no pressure in the water mains.

LEAP FROM BUILDING People leaped from the concrete and wood building to the street and crawled away injured. A woman ran among them with flaming hair.

U.S. Navy men in Tijuana for a Saturday night of recreation smashed windows and helped pull children out. The dead and injured were carried to the Alameda hospital where Dr. Jose Maria Ocaranza, working through the night, said: "this is the most hideous tragedy I have ever seen."

Some of the survivors said two rowdies knocked over the Christmas tree on the stage and that the flames apparently started from shorted electric lights.

When you're serving chilled canned vichyssoise for a soup-starter grate a tiny bit of nutmeg over each serving just before you pass the bowls.

Mrs. Dorothy Nelson, 518 N. Somerville, invited all her friends to see the candy and cookie merry-go-round she made for the holiday. A story Sunday gave her name as Mrs. Dorothy Thompson, rather than Mrs. Nelson.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Larsen, Pampa, announce the birth of a son, Peter Thomas, Saturday at 8:24 a. m. He weighed seven pounds, 13 1/2 ounces.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wallace, 825 Malone, are the parents of a son, born at 5:14 p. m. Saturday. He weighed five pounds, 13 1/2 ounces and is named Marion Cary.

Local Artist Displays Work In Hotel

From the time he was 14, Kyle Bunch, Jr., son of K. W. Bunch, west of city, has been striving to become recognized as an artist.

Now, after 12 years of study, a group of his paintings have been put on display in the dining room of the Schneider hotel.

The display, containing 11 works, includes several pictures he painted while attending school in Pennsylvania. Six he recently painted in Palo Duro canyon.

Bunch became interested in art when he was 14. While going to school here he studied painting under P. H. Schill. After World War II he attended the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts at Pennsylvania university, Philadelphia.

During summers, Bunch attended the summer school of the academy at Chester Springs, Pa., about 90 miles from Philadelphia. Here, he put into practice all he had learned during the regular school term. Earlier this year he received a masters degree in art.

After Christmas Bunch will go to Dallas where he has accepted a position with international galleries. There, he will manage and arrange exhibits.

INSTANT COFFEE Three level teaspoons of instant coffee dissolved in one-and-one-half standard measuring cups of boiling water is a good proportion to use in preparing iced coffee. Pour into tall glasses that have been packed with ice cubes and pass the cream and sugar.

A day-fect Christmas Day to you and many, many joyful and merry days ahead!

NEWSMAN

(Continued From Page One) Dean talked for three hours in a two-room cellar in which the general is imprisoned.

Burchett alleged that Allied planes attacked the camp during the interview.

He said Dean asked about Mrs. Dean and his son and daughter in Berkeley and told Burchett that his thoughts were of home on Aug. 25 — marking one year of his capture and also his 28th wedding anniversary.

In Berkeley, Mrs. Dean confirmed the date of their wedding anniversary. Another corroborating detail was that Burchett said Dean recalled that his daughter, in her last letter to him in June, 1950, joshed him about getting a "German goiter"—family nickname for a puchety.

Mrs. Dean said Burchett's quotations sounded like her husband.

Santa took the little figure from her hands. It was a beautiful angel with butterfly wings and a robe of purest white. In her hand the angel held a small magic wand.

"It is the angel of peace," explained Cluny.

"Why Cluny?" said Santa. "This is better than all the other gifts put together. I'll see that you angel waves her wand for one day at least over every home in the land."

And he picked up Cluny and gave her a big whisker-ticky kiss on her cheek. Then he picked up his long whip again and cracked it sharply in the frosty air.

"Ho, ho, ho, here we go!" he roared. "Ho, ho, ho! Here we go!"

The eight reindeer leaped forward and the big sled began sliding through the snow. Faster, faster, faster, faster — and then they were off the ground and into the air.

Santa was on his way. And to

We believe that one truth is always consistent with another truth. We endeavor to be consistent with the truths expressed in the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

Should we, at any time, be inconsistent with these truths, we would appreciate anyone pointing out to us how we are inconsistent with these moral guides.

'A Letter To Santa Claus'

Dear Santa: It has been a great many years since I've written you. I remember the last time when I wanted - well, maybe I've forgotten just what it was, but a thing I do remember, is that you brought it.

As I recall, it was many years ago and I composed the letter with great care and consigned it to the stove where it burned and the contents wanted to you at the North Pole on the winds. I'm sure it got there as did all my others.

Times have changed, Santa. Anytime, I don't want toys or things like that. But since you were always so kind in making good my wishes, I am again turning to you for what I and a lot of other people want.

You've been busy, I know, so maybe you haven't had time to read the newspapers much or to keep abreast of current events. I really hate to mention this, Santa, but in recent years I've become conscious of a signally bad thing, the dishonesty existing in the government.

And could you also bring some limitation? This may be a rather unusual request, but it occurs to me that it has been a long time since we had enough of it in our government. I don't know why, but those engaged in politics don't seem particularly concerned with people as individuals. Any more, political factions apparently aren't interested in interrelated striving for good government.

Baxter's Views

BY DAVID BAXTER

PART I

YOUNG REVOLUTIONISTS

"What can we do about making America a nation?" a high school student wants to know. "We can't vote, so we can't elect congressmen and for the same reason we can't even proceed ourselves to organize clubs and other things older people wish on us."

"That's right, fellow. You can't vote but you will be able to before long - if your elders and the people they put in office let you live that long. What's wrong with preparing to be a voter before the time arrives for it? A strong, united young people's voice can carry a lot of weight with the way their parents think and vote, too."

I'd suggest - even urge - that young Nationalists set up action clubs in their high schools (and grammar schools, too). Name your club "The Nationalists" or "The Revolutionary Club" or "The American First Club" or some such. This country was founded on revolution and the real American is always and militantly for continual revolution against any and all forms of stagnation. He is for a free society of free and independent men. You can't be ordered around all your life with your neck in a yoke and be free and independent at the same time. I would advise against setting up "discussion" clubs. Discussion is for the purpose of getting the facts and then making up your mind about something. If you've already studied the discussions between nationalists and internationalists, and have made your decision, the next thing to do is to get some action. Internationalists generally are all for discussion groups. Better most of the groups become while the other fellow is doing the discussing they are ACTING and getting what they're after. The only use a Communist or internationalist has for a discussion club is to propagandize others into going his way. He isn't doing any discussing because his mind's already made up. He's way past the discussion stage. The young nationalist, however, is likewise made up should he get together with others for ACTION. The only "discussing" they would need with their opponents would be in DEBATE - to knock the props out from under the opposition.

You'll be smeared plenty. You'll be called "fascists" and "nazis" and "blackshirts" and "reactionaries" but don't let that bother you. Be sure you're right then go ahead. Better most of the groups become while the other fellow is doing the discussing they are ACTING and getting what they're after. The only use a Communist or internationalist has for a discussion club is to propagandize others into going his way. He isn't doing any discussing because his mind's already made up. He's way past the discussion stage. The young nationalist, however, is likewise made up should he get together with others for ACTION. The only "discussing" they would need with their opponents would be in DEBATE - to knock the props out from under the opposition.

Some of your teachers, the more independent type, may give you open or secret moral support. Others will view you with murderous eyes, having been indoctrinated by one of the biggest teacher unions with propaganda to destroy the independence of America and make us one vassal state in a one-world government.

Internationalism and semi-dictatorship of a bolshevik sort is being pushed here. It has been here for quite a while and it is growing in power. It already controls us, otherwise we wouldn't be in the UN or in Korea and we wouldn't have been in World War II. The idea is not to prevent it "coming" but to recognize that it already has us by the neck and to overthrow it, revolt against it, be a dyed-in-the-wool American Revolutionary. Better most of the groups become while the other fellow is doing the discussing they are ACTING and getting what they're after. The only use a Communist or internationalist has for a discussion club is to propagandize others into going his way. He isn't doing any discussing because his mind's already made up. He's way past the discussion stage. The young nationalist, however, is likewise made up should he get together with others for ACTION. The only "discussing" they would need with their opponents would be in DEBATE - to knock the props out from under the opposition.

We've never really had all-out INDEPENDENCE in America, so it's something to aim at. Your opposition took what we did have of it and started abolishing that, step by step, working down on the United Nations and conscription and near-slavery. Now they're out to go from the UN to the LOWEST rung in the form of world government in which you lose your last scrap of independence.

Your enemy having gotten as far as the United Nations you will have to start with the UN - with getting America out of it, and then keep working UP the ladder rung by rung until you have crushed internationalism, reduced the centralization of power in Washington by restoring state rights, and then reducing the power of the states until the INDIVIDUAL becomes pretty much his own boss, running his life and affairs as he sees fit. It doesn't harm others and overlap their rights - and then you have a NATION OF INDEPENDENT AMERICANS, which is your objective and the objective of the Declaration. You have Thomas Jefferson's reported idea, "THE LEAST GOVERNED" people are the BEST GOVERNED."

wanted many years ago. But still I entreat you, recognize them, know that I ask them sincerely with the hope that this Christmas you will again get my letter and act upon it.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOLLES

"Render Unto Caesar..."

Here is the continuation of an article in Jehovah's Witnesses' magazine "Awake," which was sent to me by Maybel Ortega.

While I am not a member of Jehovah's Witnesses, I think the members are close students of the Bible and invariably very conscientious people. They have the courage of their convictions and are willing to fight for what they believe in harmony with their interpretation of the principles set forth in the Bible.

"When on earth Christ Jesus paid the temple tax, that temple was dedicated to the 'true worship' and was a part of the form of worship that God gave to the Jews by the hand of Moses. Such was the case until the Jewish nation was cast off. (Matthew 17:24,25; 23:28). We could not imagine Jesus saying a temple tax for the upkeep of a pagan temple, and history records that the early Christians refused to pay such taxes. They could not contribute to the support of false worship, whether through a pagan temple tax or the burning of incense to the emperor.

"Whenever there is a conflict between what Caesar demands and what God requires, then the Christian has the right answer: 'We ought to obey God rather than men.' (Acts 5:29; 4:19) That stand was taken not only by those early Christian witnesses of Jehovah but also those living hundreds of years before, as shown by the example of the three Hebrews who refused to comply with 'Caesar's' demands and go contrary to God's expressed law in the matter of worshipping the golden image, and as also shown by Daniel's course in continuing to make his petitions to Jehovah God in spite of the ban by the law of the Medes and the Persians. (Daniel chapters 3 and 6.)"

"The state, while providing us with a convenient and not give us our lives and so we are not obligated to pay back to it our 'very life.' As the apostle Paul states: 'Know ye not that... ye are not your own? For ye are bought with a price; therefore glorify in your body, and in your spirit, which are God's.' (1 Corinthians 6:19,20) God is the fountain of life; salvation belongs to him and in his love is life. (Psalm 36:9; 3:8; 30:5) So only God can require our lives, our hearts, minds, souls and strength. -Mark 12:28-34.

"What about the fact that the tax money is used for military purposes. About 200 years ago Quakers objected to paying certain taxes because of that. In the past year a religious news dispatch told that 41 persons from throughout the United States - most of them Quakers and all of them members of Peace-makers, a national peace society, informed the government that they will not comply with federal income tax laws because of being unwilling to contribute to the preparation for war.

"It is not the duty of the Christian to reform Caesar by propagating the cause of pacifism, nor is it his commission to try to patch up this old system of things with the principles taught in the Bible. So he will continue to honestly 'pay back Caesar's things to Caesar' as long as Caesar is permitted to exist.

"Above all, he will make it his concern to pay God's things to God." Remaining neutral regarding the strife between nations, he will not permit himself to be sidetracked from his ministry but will keep on bearing witness to Jehovah God and His kingdom and maintain his integrity. Doing so will share in the vindication of Jehovah's name and help others to gain salvation, as well as assure everlasting life for himself."

Bid For A Smile

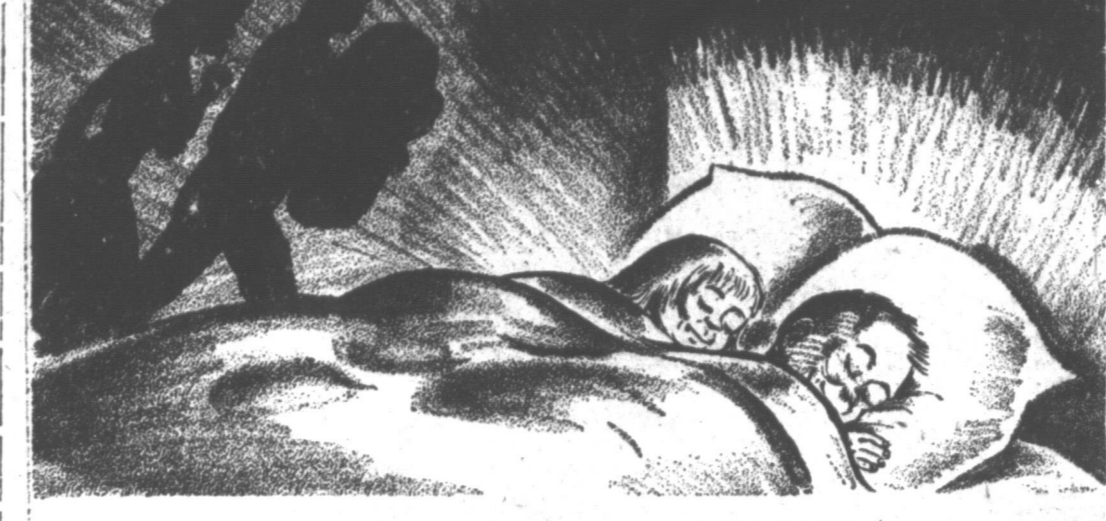

The cladding was giving a play before the admiring and loving parents. The curtain dropped at the end of the first act and the youthful stage manager, stepping to the front of the stage, said:

"Ladies and gentlemen, you will observe that the program says that there is an interval of two years between the first and second acts. This will be fully carried out. The leading lady has just swallowed the powder-puff under the impression that it was a marshmallow and I think it will be about that time before she will be able to go on!"

Judge: "You are accused of hitting the Chinaman on the head with a rock. What have you to say?" Prisoner: "He was threatening me in broken English, so I replied in broken Chinese."

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

MIDNIGHT MEANDERS: Unless the Broadway theater picks itself up off the floor soon, the first half of the season of 1951-52 can be written off as almost a total loss. Nothing was so amazing as the Elmer Rice disaster. Fine playwright, a rich contributor to the American theater, he followed a terrible play offered last season with "The Grand Tour" this season. "The Grand Tour" should have been not only good, but heart-breaking; a Hartford schoolteacher comes into $50,000, decides to find magic and romance in a tour of Europe. On shipboard she meets a handsome young Minneapolis banker, seemingly getting away from a shattering divorce. She falls in love with him, discovers he is an embezzler, yields to him, then offers him her money so he can pay his way out. In the end, in September, she is back teaching school, the banker apparently is back with his wife and the teacher's money has kept him out of jail. She winds up without money, man or magic. What should have been a tender and affecting play was mostly nonsense.

The house magazines, taking advantage of a time of year when you have time to sit down and dream about it and plan, are filled with suggestions of how to redesign your house. What they don't tell you is that when you do one thing, it inevitably leads to another and before you have done you have almost built a new house. You put in a titanic picture window - and decide you have to have a house in an upper porch and one. You close up one window and discover you must open up an entire opposite wall in order to get light and design into the living room. You decide on New Orleans for the neighborhood. You discover you must have a cement slab lower porch to take the weight. And when it's all done, the most mundane, clinical room in the house becomes the pride of the neighborhood. Platons and breathless, fascinated ladies bustle in, ignoring your museum living room, your often-photographed kitchen, run like lemmings to the kitchen. "We just HAV to see that divine kitchen!" they cry. If it's of the slightest comfort to the manufacturer in Youngstown, Ohio, that one kitchen has brought him about $15,000 in added business, women can resist a beautiful kitchen exhibit in a store - but not one in a home, with the perfume of baking ham in the air and the kettle puffing steam on the range, with the dishwasher keeping happily at its work and the cabinets gleaming like mirrors in a hairdresser's parlor.

You go to the theater and watch superb performance. You decide its creator must have a beautiful life. Nothing to do but learn a new play for three weeks every other year, then relax back and charm the public for months on end. Then you see the same player in a midnight restaurant, happily, enjoying a bite of supper, no cares creasing his brow. The truth: he is in deep, dark moods for weeks before even starting rehearsal. He is a new play. His moodiness, fruits of a genuine concern for his work and sincerity about it increases during rehearsals. He gets irritable, nervous, jumpy. Once rehearsed, the play goes out, and he is back to his normal, real person. He isn't fit to live with or near, he does nothing but worry and twitch. Just before Opening Night those near and dear to him think seriously of taking a vacation. "We just HAV to see that divine kitchen!" they cry. If it's of the slightest comfort to the manufacturer in Youngstown, Ohio, that one kitchen has brought him about $15,000 in added business, women can resist a beautiful kitchen exhibit in a store - but not one in a home, with the perfume of baking ham in the air and the kettle puffing steam on the range, with the dishwasher keeping happily at its work and the cabinets gleaming like mirrors in a hairdresser's parlor.

When the government abandoned the gold standard in 1933, it violated sanctity of contract and repudiated its pledged promise to the people. In effect, it robbed the people of 42 percent of their savings. It took the attitude that it could attain prosperity by decreeing prosperity, that it could decree prosperity by arbitrarily increasing the number of dollars in circulation without regard to the honesty of the act.

International Whirligig. Mao Creating Strong China As Menace To The Free World

By JOHN FISHER

If hopes for a Korean "truce-by-Christmas" either are realized or shattered, we still will confront a new, potentially greater world power, saturated with hatred for the United States, its Russia.

Red China is under severe military and economic pressures. Alone it would be gripped by poverty and anarchy. But so long as it is held up by Russia's supporting arms and high strategy bar General Ridgway from delivering the knockout punch, Mao Tse-Tung's slave state will slowly wax stronger.

Chen Yun, Chinese Politburo spokesman, expressed no vain boast the other day when he bragged, "Ours is a land of vast territory, abundant products and resources with a history of 5,000 years and a population of 478 millions. We are a great nation."

In many circles it is customary to decry the weakness and corruption of Chiang Kai-shek's government. But Nationalist China gave freedom to western traders and missionaries and allowed its people to listen to foreign broadcasts and read outside news. Nationalist China never was at war with the free world or with hatred of America as the cornerstone of its foreign policy.

Times have changed for the worst in two short years. The old, friendly China is being altered beyond recognition. In the saddle is an efficient, cruel, ruthless totalitarian regime, run by six million Communist party members and backed by such a network of secret police and well-equipped armies as China has not experienced since the Tang and Ming dynasties.

Mao's 1951 program was: 1. Revival of Chinese pride. 2. Relief from natural calamities. 3. Economic and agrarian reform. 4. National unity based on liquidation of opposing forces. 5. More successful than we like to think.

Dear Santa:

Dear Santa: I am a little boy six years old. I have tried to be a good boy. I want a toy typewriter and a farm house with cows horses, pigs and chickens. And a fence around it. And cowboys. Don't forget all the other little boys and girls.

One of your friends, Richard Pearson, Lefors, Texas

I surely would like for you to leave me a bicycle with two helper wheels. And please, dear Santa, bring my little brother, Jim Roy, a red wagon. Don't forget my cousins, Paul and Stevie, who live up in Lorchwood, Iowa, now and won't get to be with us this Christmas. Also, Santa, please don't forget the other boys and girls who are my friends; and especially the ones who are not fortunate enough to have a nice home and parents like I have. I know good people like you can do a lot to make this Christmas happy and bright. Merry Christmas to you too, and love, Bim Graham.

P. S. Santa I am 5 years old and Jon is almost 2 and mother had to help me write this.

We have been good children this year and are getting so anxious for you to come and see us. Linda, 5, wants a big baby doll that says Ma-ma. Danny, 3, wants a big truck and a jeep. Dean, 1, wants a pull toy and his first pair of Lewis. And don't forget all the other children.

Love, Linda, Danny and Dean Gardner

I am a little boy four years old. I want to thank you for the things you brought me last Christmas. This year I want a ranch, a racer set, a 2-gun holster set. Then I want a bird — a spotted bird. That's all I want. I'll leave you cake and coffee on the dining table. Don't forget Francine Green and Donna Kay Graham, my little girl friends.

Merry Christmas, I love you, Jimmie Craig Anderson

We are the ages of three and two years and six months. We can't write so our cousin Doris Ann is writing for us. Quannah Faye age three, wants a doll, doll stroller, dishes, ironing board and anything else you want to give her. Along with nuts, fruit and candy. Gary, age 2, wants a doll, some guns, trucks and anything else you want him to have. And little Georgia, age 6 months, is too little to know what she wants but would you bring her a doll and rattlers and a little doll rubber toys. And please Santa, don't forget all the real needy children. We have been good little boys and girls.

Love, Quannah Faye, Gary and Georgia Ann Jenkins, Little Wilks (Write by Doris Ann Bullard).

I am two years old and I have been a good girl. I want a doll with clothes and say ma-ma and a peddle car. My big sister is 9 years old. Her name is Patty. She wants a doll, train, Brownie camera and black ballerinas. She has been a good girl too. I hope you give the poor little boys and girls lots of candy and nuts.

Your friend, Karen Ann Hoover

MORE PRECIOUS THAN RUBIES

THE STORY: Alma Conroy, designer, goes to lunch with Joe Denton to tell him wonderful news of her husband Tommy's promotion. Tommy, Joe and Alma are close friends. But at the club they visit, they see Tommy, who had told Alma he was going to be out of town, in company with another man. Joe confesses his love for Alma and says that he wants to marry her if she will leave Tommy. Believing there must be another explanation for Tommy's conduct, Alma gives him a chance to explain and Tommy says the girl was Miss Marchand, expensive fiancée of Brighton Munson, son of the president of the firm which the Conroys and Joe Denton work.

ALMA CONROY avoided the chance of meeting Joe Denton and went directly to her place at the town workbench under the high windows.

An air of unusual excitement pervaded the room, and with an effort Alma recalled the cause. The annual auction of the sweepings under the griddle floor had been held, and the winning bid had been $7000, an unusually large sum. The floor would be taken up that night and as always there was betting among the men as to what the assay of the sweepings would amount to.

"Higgins and Co. will be stuck and my $15 says so!" said a voice. "I've been powerful careful with my tray this season!" "I haven't blown enough gold to fill a bird's tooth!" said another. Old Victor Blanchard chimed in. "It is really remarkable how very small is the amount we lose. Yet if someone were careless with a big stone today, Higgins might do well!"

"Funny thing, a new firm like Higgins getting it. First time in years that the Mammoth Gold-buying Company hasn't outbid them all." The comment ran on and on.

New work had been laid out for

Alma. The pair of clips had been enlarged to what the journeyman called "a litter," a necklace of almost identical pieces which could be separated into clips, a breast pin and bracelets. The stones were mostly medium small diamonds with some sapphire "shavings"—thin stones to be worked off into a floral design. The jewels were not stuck, but the private accumulation of a customer who wanted them reset. It was a job carrying extra responsibility because the stones did not belong to The House.

Alma was grateful for an absorbing task and set about it with a sort of fury which she hoped would obliterate her personal problems. She did not intend to allow herself to think and she was not going to face Joe Denton.

AT noon she refused to go to lunch, but had a sandwich and coffee brought to the bench. She drank the coffee but could not eat, and returned to her labors almost without stopping. From time to time throughout the afternoon, Old Victor watched her anxiously and when just before closing time he got ready to depart, he touched her lightly on the shoulder.

"Stop!" said he. "Everyone is leaving early because of the floor. Come, cheerie, you have done enough for the day!" Alma turned heavy eyes on him. "I'll stay a while," she said, trying to smile, "just long enough to finish this one clip. Please, don't urge me, Papa Victor; I really want to do it."

He shrugged and left her, reluctantly, and when he had gone the big room seemed very silent and empty, but Alma was not conscious of the fact. It was only when she felt another presence close to her, that she looked up from her work. Then she saw Mrs. Denton, smiling at her from the wheelchair. "I hope I didn't startle you," said the older woman. "My chair runs very quietly and I sometimes forget it's like sneaking up behind someone on rubber soles."

"Oh hello, Mrs. Denton!" said Alma. She wasn't surprised, now that the first shock was over, at seeing the cripple there. Mrs. Denton could maneuver her chair with ease and was a frequent visitor in all parts of The House.

Mrs. Denton took every advantage of her helpless condition, and her appearance was affected; somehow she contributed to remind one of Whistler's famous portrait of his mother, though Alma sensed that under the soft costume and the mild air of sweetness, — sad resignation, was a will of iron.

"Was there something special you wanted, Mrs. Denton?" "No," she voice was at once both plaintive and bravely cheerful. "I just came up to say goodbye. I leave on my vacation very soon."

"Oh yes! Joe's taking you to Mexico, I hear!" "The doctor thought the sunshine might do me good. Well, I'm sorry to have missed the others. I'll be too busy to get back upstairs before I go. Not that I suppose they care whether they ever see an old wreck like me again."

MRS. DENTON dabbed at her eyes with a large cambric handkerchief, leaned back wearily, and dropped the handkerchief to the floor. Alma watched the witch-like face anxiously for a moment, until Mrs. Denton pulled herself together with an apologetic smile.

"Well, I must be going!" she said. "My handkerchief... would you mind, dear? I can't quite reach it."

Alma retrieved the handkerchief and received a too-grateful smile. "I hope you—and Joe—have a pleasant trip, Mrs. Denton."

"Thank you, my dear! Goodbye!" Alma watched the woman wheel herself off and then deliberately delayed putting away her work in order to avoid having to go down in the same elevator.

A Favorite Story Of Christmas

BY REV. EDGAR W. HENSHAW Episcopal Church A manger dark, with oxen near; A virgin there with mien to rear;

A child's first cry, the joy awake, God's word fulfilled at last, Bespoke The surety of a whole world's Hope.

(Margaret Clark)

A child born in a manger; but there came wise men from the east to seek Him. It was wise men who sought the manger and the babe. It still is. Not the wise men of the political world, but wise men who sought a King to worship. Wise men still seek Him, and seeking, find as did those wise men of old.

It is the wise man, who above the turmoil and tumult of a world gone mad, seeks the manger once again and hears its message of peace and good will to all mankind.

It is not the wise men of the United Nations with their clear collars and soiled hearts and motives. They supposedly seek universal peace and mutual esteem among nations, but they still play the game of nationalism and self-seeking.

Ignoring the manger and the babe, time will not last long enough for them to attain their proclaimed goal. That which they seek is theirs for the taking, but they will have to be wise enough to find it in the manger. And if they find the manger, they will have to lay gifts before the babe. They will have to lay down pride of nationalism. They will have to lay before the manger their worldly wisdom and seek the wisdom of the babe who, as he grew to manhood, proclaimed, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all things else shall be added unto you."

We seek for peace, we cry aloud for peace, but we forget that only by seeking the manger and the babe can true peace be found. We shall find peace, the world will find peace when the manger is sought. At the manger is the one spot, the only spot, where may be found that peace and understanding among men for which we yearn.

The manger was such a tiny place. It still is. There is no room there for atomic bombs. There is no room for power politics. There is no room for international jealousy. There is no room for class or color. There is no room for hate or prejudice. There is no room for conflict or contention. But there is room for every seeking soul. There is room for those of humble heart. There is room for every true lover of peace who seeks peace for others as well as himself. There is room at the manger for wise men who seek peace from the Prince of peace who was born in that manger.

To the manger, then, man must go if he is sincere in his search for peace. The world is filled with fear, hatred and distrust. The fear and distrust are caused by hate.

On the night the babe was born in a manger there came a song over all the world, the first words of which were "Fear not," for behold I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born a Saviour which is Christ the Lord."

MERRY CHRISTMAS from the SPORTS DEPARTMENT

WARREN'S WARMUP

By Warren Harte—News Sports Editor

AS IS THE TRADITION of the Warmup each Christmas season, today's column is devoted to little-read, seldom heard Christmas thoughts by little-known authors. And we take this opportunity to wish all our readers, our associates, and all of the sports fans of the area a MERRY CHRISTMAS!

... and as the Goodfellows delivered their gifts Christmas Eve, He smiled, knowing the gift of His son to mankind had not been in vain.

MY CHRISTMAS WISH
 May God bless your Christmas
 With wonderful things
 Befitting the birthday
 Of King of all Kings...

May God make your Christmas
 As merry a day
 As red wreaths and candles
 And pine trees portray...

May God fill your Christmas
 With faith from above
 And the power to conquer
 Life's evils with love...

May Christ grant your Christmas
 The joys He began
 And God bless your Christmas
 As only God can!

—Frank H. Kieth

ALWAYS A CHRISTMAS
 There'll always be a Christmas
 To bring us hope and peace,
 And nothing can destroy it...
 The joy will never cease,
 Whatever are our problems,
 Whatever we must face,
 We gain a new perspective
 Within this time of grace.

There'll always be a Christmas
 Tho every dream may fail,
 It's something we can count on
 Through each December trail.
 The twinkling trees and Santa
 As carols flood the air,
 The church bells ringing gaily
 While people kneel in prayer.

There'll always be a Christmas
 Because upon this day
 Was born the blessed Jesus
 Who came to light our way.

—Hilda Butler Farr

ASSURANCE
 For those of us who have Known a bitter loss... there shines in all its glory... the wondrous Christmas cross.

YULETIDE YEARNING
 Thoughts of Christmas bring
 To me
 Surcease, perhaps, from toil,
 But what I'm thinking most
 About
 Are those on foreign soil.

I wish for them in foxholes
 bleak
 A happy Yuletide day,
 And yet I know it cannot be—
 War isn't planned that way.

But all our prayers, the whole day through,
 Will be, my boy, replete for you.

—John C. Vivian

THOUGHTS
 When Christmas lists are quite complete
 With greetings on the way,
 I fain relax to contemplate
 The comforts of the day.

And then, as cards begin to come
 Embarrassment is fraught
 By keen reminders in each mail
 Of friends that I forgot.

A BEAUTIFUL STORY

It's a beautiful story
 The Christmas one—
 Of Mary and Joseph
 And the Infant Son.

It's a beautiful story
 How, led by a star,
 The shepherds and Wise Men
 Arrived from afar.

It's a beautiful story,
 Lovingly told,
 Never less thrilling,
 And never grown old,
 Whose grandeur and glory
 Through all time will run;
 It's a beautiful story
 The Christmas one.

—Lucille Veneklasen

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

We've bought a dozen gifts, we say,
 And dressed them in wrapping gay
 And sent them safely on their way—
 But was it done in love?

We've mailed scores of Christmas cards,
 With songs and rhymes by fa-
 ward

mous bards,
 And all asserting kind regards,
 —But were those words sincere?

This season (sure 'twas God's intent)
 Should not in nervous strain
 be spent;
 For kindness and for love
 'twas meant;
 —But do we make it so?

THE CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

'D Amos Thomas was happy
 indeed
 To sneak out of doors Christmas Eve
 To visit the slums and practice
 his creed
 "It is better to give than receive."

To hovels where children had
 Lost their song
 And mothers too tired to plod
 He'd take a whole armful of gifts along,
 And call it "go gooding with God."

—W. J. Griffith

DILEMMA

Mother's greatest problem this Christmas will be to select gifts suitable for an eight-year-old son and simple enough for dad to play with.

AFTER CHRISTMAS

The days that follow Christmas
 I like the best of all.
 The rushing then is over
 As friends drop in to call.
 Enjoy fruit cake and cookies
 And cups of tea to cheer,
 There's time to read letters,
 And cards from far and near.
 The house is gay and festive
 With trees and candlelight,
 The crimson decorations
 Make every room seem bright.
 The memories of Santa
 Are pleasant to recall.
 The days which follow Christmas
 I like best of all.

PRAYER

Turne, dear Lord,
 Thy thoughts to earth;
 Hear our prayers,
 And count their worth.
 Hear us ask
 That war may cease,
 That men may live
 In ways of peace.
 Teach us tolerance,
 Teach us good;
 Have us know
 True brotherhood.
 Give our hearts
 A glad rebirth—
 Turne, dear Lord,
 Thy thoughts to earth.

Tournament Is Next Stop

The Pampa Harvester basketballers will leave early Wednesday morning for Cisco, and their first stop on the two-day trip to Brownwood and the annual invitation Howard Payne basketball tournament.

The Harvesters, with five straight wins under their belts,
 will be attempting to cop the tournament championship for the second time in the four years they have visited this high-powered event. This year the competition is stronger than ever before, with 16 teams from all corners of the state entered in the event.

Despite the wealth of good quinets, the Harvesters will be co-favored, along with their district
 mates, the San Angelo Bobcats, to cop the event.

The Harvesters open action
 Thursday at 12:30 p.m. against Cleburne.

Harvesters Picked By Star-Telegram

Two Pampa Harvesters, co-captain Bill McPherson and high-scoring Billy Davis, were named on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram
 all-state AAAA defensive first team. The selections were made by Phil Collier, sports writer for the Fort Worth paper, figured all season as the ranking house for 4-A teams.

Collier saw the Harvesters play three times this year, witnessing the Abilene, Odessa and Lubbock scraps.

He also picked several other Harvesters for honorable mention. They were Jerry Walker,
 Buddy Cockrell, Charles Ely,
 Tommy Sells, and DeWay Cudney.

Of the two Harvesters selected on the first team, Collier said "in the middle of the line... Bill
 McPherson of Pampa let no one pass.

District 1 of 4-A topped the team with a total of seven men on the offensive platoon and six on the defensive team.

Other players from the district
 selected were, on offense, Don Jones, Johnny Tatum, Charles
 Brewer and James Sides of Lubbock, Chippy Spencer of Borger,
 Walter Cooley of Odessa, and Joe
 Youngblood of Abilene.

Other than the two Harvesters on the defense from 1-AAAA were Tom Cadenhead and Buddy Ely, of Lubbock, and Weldon Holley
 and Melvin Ethridge of Odessa.

Seventeen other district boys were given honorable mention, in addition to the five Harvesters

Golden Glovers To Meet Wednesday

All Pampa Golden Glove contestants — any boys interested in fighting in the District Golden
 Gloves tournament to be held here
 Jan. 14, 15, and 16 — are asked to attend an important meeting Wednesday afternoon at 5 in the Boys Club training headquarters in the old Pampa News building.

The meeting is of utmost importance to the boys if they plan on fighting in the Golden Gloves and their presence is necessary.

Friday night the Boys Club ring team will travel to Plainview to battle the Lockney-Plainview mid-men in a return match. Last Thursday night the Pampa sluggers punched out a neat 2-0 victory over the visiting bunch from the South Plains area.

The list of boys who will be taken on the trip hasn't been announced as yet by Coach T. J. Watt, head of the Boys Club boxing team.

Rebel Coach Puts Out A Warning

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — (AP)
 — "You're not going to have a cakewalk." That's the warning put out today by Gaynell Tinsley to his Yankee opponents who've been predicting victory in the 13th annual blue-gray football game here
 Dec. 29.

There was no sign of a Yankee retreat from their previous position, however, as both sides
 knuckled down to opening practice sessions Saturday.

With only a week to get ready,
 the rival head coaches had their
 all-stars taking limbering-up exercises and working on signal drills. Two-a-day workouts were scheduled for both squads with rough stuff coming next week.

Tinsley, Louisiana State head coach, is chief of the Rebel staff for the game.

Coaches Rusty Russell of SMU
 and Rex Knight of South Carolina, along with Tinsley, from the

Harlingen Golf Leaders Lash Out Against PGA

HARLINGEN — (AP) — Golf
 leaders in Harlingen lashed out
 today at the Professional Golfers Association for dropping the $10,000 Rio Grande Valley from the 1952 winter schedule.

Butler recalled that in 1941,
 Harlingen put up $5,000 for a tournament, booked right after Pearl Harbor. "That was probably the worst time to hold it but we set it through with it and lost 100 cents on the dollar,"
 he said.

Other members of the Valley
 Golf Association said they had heard nothing but gripes from the pro golfers anyway.

Wildcats In Houston ... For Work

By WILBUR MARTIN
HOUSTON — (AP) — It will be all work and no play for Kentucky's Cotton-Bowl bound football team in five days of training here.

Coach Paul Bryant hopes this will cause the reverse of the old saying about making a dull boy.

"We've got to get in a lot of work to sharpen our attack and defense," he said. "I don't know what kind of shape the team is in now."

Bryant got some sort of idea yesterday, shortly after his squad of 40 arrived. He had the Wildcats gridgers in their working togs and out on the turf of Rice Institute's stadium.

"We didn't get to work out but twice in the gym and the boys worked out three days on their own," he said, adding the weather was extremely bad for practice in Kentucky.

TWO-A-DAY SCHEDULE
The Wildcats went on a two-a-day work schedule today with scrimmaging on tap the next couple of days.

Kentucky will go to Dallas by train Friday to get in a last couple of licks of practice at the site of their New Year's Day meeting with the Southwest Conference champion, Texas Christian.

Bryant figured Kentucky would "spread out some and throw" against Texas Christian, but his basic formation is the T.

"You know we've never met a team that uses the spread formation like Texas Christian," he said, then started raving about the defense of his bowl foe.

"Everybody talks about the offense of TCU, but they forget that defense. Look what they did in the Baylor game, intercepted five passes. That looks like a pretty good defense to me."

YEARLINGS
Thirteen of the Kentucky squad are freshmen and Bryant said he used six yearlings in the Tennessee game that Kentucky lost by a wide margin. He figured some of his frosh would play New Year's day.

Bryant said there wouldn't be any "entertainment" for the team here and that there would be no public workouts.

The team will be quartered at the plush Shamrock Hotel, just a few minutes drive from Rice, where it will practice.

Bryant figures Kentucky should be the underdog against Texas Christian because "nobody ought to make us a favorite with our record."

Both Kentucky and Texas Christian lost four games this past season.

It will be Kentucky's second appearance in a season in Texas. It lost to Texas, 7-6, at Austin in a regular scheduled game.

East-Westerns Meet Saturday
SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — College football stars, comprising probably the two greatest squads ever assembled for an East-West football game, will test the single wing against the T-formation attack in the 27th annual charity classic here next Saturday.

The East, for the first time since 1945, is employing the single wing. Its ace at the vital left half, or tailback spot, is Princeton's all America, Dick Kazmaier.

Western coaches Jess Neely of Rice and Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma teach the T-formation. Their UCLA colleague, Henry "Red" Sanders, is a single wing man, so is devoting his teaching to defense.

The West has the finest talent in its history, with big, strapping linemen; fleet, hard hitting backs and sure shot passing. It will outweigh the East.

Southwest Conference Displays Self With First Pre-Season Basketball Tournament

By JACK HAND
NEW YORK — (AP) — Does Joe DiMaggio rate among the great hitters? How about Ted Williams and Stan Musial? Who was the best of all?

If you go by lifetime averages, the answer is simple. It's Ty Cobb with his .367 average for 24 years in the post-1900 era.

Just for the sake of argument, let's try a different system. Take the best five years of a man's life — five consecutive years, not just five at random. Strike an average for the "big five." You get some interesting results.

To avoid confusion, let's restrict this to records starting in 1900, automatically eliminating such a superstar as Jesse Burkett who hit .423, .410, .383, .345 and .402 over a stretch from 1895 to 1899.

On this basis, the "best" award goes to Rogers Lornsby for his work with the St. Louis Cardinals 1921 through 1925, a five-year average of .402, and five straight batting championships.

QUITS USE COACHING JOB
Head football coach Joe Kuharich (above) of the University of San Francisco is looking for a new job. The 34-year-old sometime Notre Dame guard is believed to be a candidate for the head coach job of the Chicago Cardinals of the National Pro Football League. Kuharich led USF to an undefeated season this year. He blamed uncertainty in USF's football for his resignation. (AP Wirephoto)

| AB    | R     | H     | Pct. |
|-------|-------|-------|------|
| 1921  | 562   | 235   | .397 |
| 1922  | 623   | 250   | .401 |
| 1923  | 424   | 163   | .384 |
| 1924  | 536   | 227   | .424 |
| 1925  | 504   | 203   | .403 |
| Total | 2,679 | 1,078 | .402 |

Incidentally, the outspoken Eddy, now back in the big leagues as manager of the St. Louis Browns, wound up with a .358 lifetime record, second to Cobb.

As you might imagine, Cobb is breathing down Hornsby's neck in the "big five" system of ratings.

Slicing him at all fields en route to nine consecutive batting titles, Cobb averages .397 from 1909 to 1913. He still found time to steal bases like mad for the Detroit Tigers.

Here is Cobb's record:

|        |       |       |      |
|--------|-------|-------|------|
| 1909   | 573   | 216   | .377 |
| 1910   | 509   | 196   | .385 |
| 1911   | 591   | 248   | .420 |
| 1912   | 553   | 227   | .410 |
| 1913   | 423   | 167   | .390 |
| Totals | 2,654 | 1,054 | .397 |

There is a wide gap between the Hornsby-Cobb team and the rest of the field with a dip to .3812 before you come to George Sisler, the St. Louis Brown's fine first baseman whose best years extended from 1918 to 1922.

Sisler, essentially a spray hitter, was plagued by sinus trouble after his sensational .420 year in 1922 and never regained that peak.

Right behind Sisler comes Harry Hellman, the great Detroit outfielder who died last summer. Hellman averaged .3807 from 1923 to 1927 including that bumper .403 in 1923.

Here are the top 10 in order of the "five year" plan:

1. Rogers Hornsby .402 (1921-25)
2. Ty Cobb .397 (1909-13)
3. George Sisler .3812 (1918-22)
4. Harry Hellman .3807 (1923-27)
5. Al Simmons .375 (1927-31)
6. Nap Lajoie .372 (1900-1904)
7. Babe Ruth .371 (1920-24)
8. Tris Speaker .370 (1921-25)
9. Joe Jackson .368 (1911-15)
10. Lefty O'Doul .365 (1925-29)

Where are Williams, DiMaggio, and Musial? Not too far back. Williams, in fact, is 11th with .362 for the five years, 1941-42, 1946-48. There was an interruption allowed here because Williams was in service and the years listed actually were consecutive in his record.

Musial ranks 17th at .352 from 1945 to 1948 with 1945 out for military service.

DiMaggio is 20th on the list with .3504 from 1937 to 1941, the heart of his career.

Breakdown On Greatest Of Hitters Leaves Questions

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
VANDY BEST DEFENSE

The Southwest Conference put on its first pre-season basketball tournament this week and, Texas Christian will be rated No. 1 favorite except that the Commodores are in the same bracket as TCU.

Vanderbilt has the best offensive record, averaging 67.7 points per game, and has beaten Rice of the Southwest Conference by nine points, but Texas Christian has the better all-around record.

The Horned Frogs have averaged 66.2 offensively and allowed only 61 points defensively. It is the best defensive record of all the teams in the tournament except Texas A&M, the ball control quintet which has allowed only 46.3 but has scored only 53.6.

Texas Christian last week slammed Texas Tech 68-48 and Tech was the team that held Vandy to a 55-49 victory on the latter's home court.

Rice is the third highest offensive team, with an average of 69.3 per game, but is the worst on defense, giving up 62 Southern Methodist, which has looked great in some games, especially against the stronger opposition, is considered a likely finalist from the top bracket.

SMU plays Texas in the opening game of the tournament Wednesday night. Texas A&M and Arkansas clash in the second.

Thursday night Vanderbilt plays Baylor, winner of only one game in SMU play. Texas, which has been pounded for 61.6 points per cent. Texas Christian and Rice meet in the second game.

Friday night the Texas-Southern Methodist and Texas A&M-Arkansas winners met together in a Vanderbilt-Baylor game. Texas Christian-Rice winners met.

There will be five players in the tournament who have scored more than 100 points thus far this season. George McLeod of Texas Christian leads with 145. Billy Heater of Arkansas is second with 140. Ted Reynolds of TCU has 103, Ralph Johnson of Baylor 102 and Ted Price of Texas 101.

Leading scorer for Southern Methodist is Dorell Murphy with 96. Gene Sashwinger tops Rice with 95, Walt Davis paces A&M with 83, while Jack Helman leads Vanderbilt with 81.

The eight teams devote the entire week to play in this tournament with no outside games.

The conference won four out of 12 intersectional games last week, with victories by Southern Methodist and Texas Christian over Nebraska, Arkansas over Missouri, and Rice over Tennessee, making the league's intersectional record for the season 12 wins against 26 losses.

Texas, which started the week undefeated, took three straight trimmings — by Louisiana State, 35-04 from 1937 to 1941, and by Murray State of Kentucky 64-63.

Texas A&M finally won a game — the Aggies beat Trinity University of the Gulf Coast Conference 65-44.

North-South Stars Tangle Tomorrow

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — North and South college all-stars planned final light workouts today for their Shrine charity football game in the Orange Bowl tomorrow night.

A crowd of 40,000 is expected to watch Yale Coach Herman Hickman's Yankees tangle with Miami Coach Andy Gustafson's Rebels.

Hickman has quarterback Bob Black of Colorado College and John Coatta of Wisconsin to pass and punt, while Yale's Jim Ryan, at halfback, also may share the punting duties.

Bill Wade, Vanderbilt's passer, and Hal Maxwell, defensive end from Mississippi, were named co-captains of the South squad and Wade is expected to be matched against Black in a passing duel.

The South is expected to depend upon speed and passing against the heavier North team.

The South squad had the day off yesterday and spent it sight-seeing and swimming but Hickman gave his North squad a 90-minute workout on the morning.

After today's drills, both squads will have the afternoon off.

Kickoff time is 7:15 p.m. (CST).

Los Angeles Rams Finally Overcome Jinx To Grab World Crown; Beat Browns, 24-17

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Pro football's three master passers met in Memorial Coliseum yesterday, but two of them ganged up on the third. As a result, the Los Angeles Rams are the new champions of the national football league.

It was just about a standoff between Otto Graham of Cleveland's Browns and Bob Waterfield of the Rams. Between them, they had fashioned a 17-17 tie in the waning minutes of the ball game.

Then young Norman Van Brocklin took over for Waterfield. And his effectively a one-kick game on one great toss, gathered in by Tommy Fears for a net gain of 75 yards, the Rams broke a long-standing jinx and whipped the Browns, 24-17.

It was the Rams' first victory over Cleveland in five tries, and their first championship since 1945 — although they have been in the playoff three years running. The Browns beat the Rams 30-28 in the playoff last year.

Despite a bruising clash which left 59,475 spectators limp, the Rams still had a little left — enough to pack their 270-pound coach, Jumbo Joe Stydahar, off the field on their shoulders. "Great, great — great guys," said the coach.

It was a game full of highlights and tense moments. The record crowd saw passing wizardry, fine running, a 52-yard field goal, a touchdown called back by a penalty, just about everything a football game can offer.

But the payoff pitch was the big play of the day. Cleveland had just tied it up, and Van Brocklin had stepped in to give the tiring Waterfield a rest. With the ball on his own 27-yard mark, the lanky quarterback dropped back. He had perfect protection as Fears raced downfield, then veered toward the sidelines.

Two Brown backs were waiting. But Fears wasn't to be denied. He went into the air, took the ball away from both defenders and came down at full speed. The goal was still nearly 40 yards away, but he made it without breaking stride.

Of the crowd, which topped the 1946, 57,540 were paid. Gross receipts, including nationwide television (except for a local black-out) and radio, hit $325,970; the net was $223,644 and the players got 70 per cent, or $156,551. This meant $2,108 to each of the Rams, $1,482 to each of the Browns.

Football's Atom Bomb—That's The Meyer Spread

FORT WORTH — (AP) — The Meyer Spread — that formation aimed at a cascade of touchdowns — is being called the atom of football.

It's living up to its name this season with Texas Christian University. But, says Flem Hall, Fort Worth Star-Telegram sports editor who has been watching football for many years, "If they ever manage to set the full charge off they'll blow opponents into little pieces."

The spread, as originated in its modern form by Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer and as polished and perfected by the TCU staff over the last seven seasons, has a vast potential.

"I guess I have been using it off and on ever since I was coaching the TCU freshmen," says Meyer, "and that was back in 1923. It all depends on the material that's available. We're using it almost exclusively this year. We couldn't get any place using the single or couple wing. And that's why we tossed aside the T-wing this year. We didn't have the players to make it go."

Meyer explains that his spread formation helps the team to offset the foe's edge in weight and manpower because the spread utilizes angle blocking. As often as not a blocker will bang into a defensive player from a direction he isn't suspecting. In that way it's possible for a 180-pounder to manhandle a 210-pounder.

"It's so tough to stop, that our own kids hate to scrimmage against it," says Meyer. "Last year Frank Struska used to gripe every time he had to scrimmage against the spread. 'I get banged up more in scrimmage than I do in a game,' he complained. In the spread, too, the hole is already there for the ball-carrier. All the blocker has to do is keep the defensive man standing where he is. He doesn't have to move him. Just keep him in his hole."

Against Baylor, TCU committed eight fumbles, had two passes intercepted and no one knows how many missed signals and blocks. But the Meyer Spread got three touchdowns against one of the better defensive units of the country.

For only a few minutes in games with Arkansas and Texas A & M did the Horned Frogs get hot on offense, but in those brief spans they scored enough points to win. They earned four touchdowns against the fine Southern California team but tossed away at least two others.

In the past few years TCU has had the conference's total offense leader each time the quarterback worked with the Meyer Spread — Lindy Berry, Gil Bartsch, Mal Fowler and now Ray McKown.

TCU spread, a boy has to be both a fair runner and a good passer," Flem Hall says. "It helps if he punts, too. He must be versatile but not necessarily both a Sam Baugh and a Kyle Rote. His effectiveness pays off in 88.2 to the sharpness of his skill plus his ability to confuse the defense with fakes."

Amarillo and Fort Worth tied for first place in the 1939 Texas Golden Gloves tournament with 13 points each.

Delmar Koch was the Amarillo region's first Texas Golden Gloves champion. He won the light heavyweight crown in 1939.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK — (AP) — The board of education at Lyndhurst, N. J., was more than a trifle puzzled the other night when it received a communication from the boosters committee. . . . The booster asked permission to erect a press box at the high school football field and specified that it would be installed "on the fifty yard line behind the goal posts" . . . If the B. of E. or the boosters solve the problem of how that is to be done, this dept. requests the exclusive privilege of selling the answer to college ticket managers, who have been trying for years to convince alumni they can see a game from the end zone as well as the 50 . . . Then we'll all get rich . . . When Edward D. Eddy, dignified assistant to the president of the U. of New Hampshire, received a "feeler" from the Philadelphia Eagles, publisher Bill Holmes figured out that it was intended for player Earl Eddy . . . The Eagles didn't catch on so quickly . . . They followed up with a questionnaire which Dr. Eddy filled out this way: "Football — occasionally. Defense — usually. Right — yes."

Choking for breath, his face turning to a deeper shade of purple than usual, he fell down on the court . . . SKUNKS, OPPOSSUM, COON AND VARIOUS OTHER FUR BEARERS WILL NOT STRUGGLE SO HARD TO ESCAPE IF THE TRAP CHAIN IS WIRED TO A TREE LIMB OR SAPLING 5 OR 6 FT. LONG. WHEN IT'S NOT FROD SOLID, THEY CAN MOVE IT AND THINK THEY'RE ESCAPING. AVOID DEAD, BREAKABLE WOOD!

Sul Ross Downs Mexican Stars

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — The Sul Ross State Teachers College, Alpine, Tex., won a 41-0 victory over the Mexican all stars Saturday at American football.

The Texans took a 14-0 lead in the opening quarter and stayed on top until the end.

Sul Ross, using a T formation, outplayed the Mexican team, built around this year's championship University of Mexico, both on offense and defense.

Mexico showed the poor teamwork on makeshift squad.

Bob Faulstich, end, accounted for two Sul Ross touchdowns, taking one pass 80 yards. Don Hackney, halfback, turned in another two. The second was an off tackle drive for 25 yards in the fourth quarter. Tommy Tucker, guard, kicked five conversions out of six tries to account for the one point margin of victory.

About 75 per cent of the European demand for U.S. coal is for metallurgical grades.

HEY, TWINS! MERRY CHRISTMAS! FOR GOSH SAKES!

AFTER WORKING SO HARD AT THE STORE, I THOUGHT SURE THEY'D SLEEP UNTIL NOON TODAY!

THEY'RE DOWNSTAIRS DAD!

I DUNNO HOW THEY GOT THE THING IN, OR HOW THEY PAID FOR IT, BUT WHAT THEY'VE GOT DOWN THERE WILL KNOCK YOUR EYES OUT!

Blondie

A TELEVISION SET!

IS IT PAID FOR?

OBOW! THIS GETS YA A KISS EVEN FROM ME!

MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYBODY!

Blondie

WHY THE PROUD LOOK?

DAGWOOD OUR DAUGHTER COOKIE IS A GENIUS!

SHE FIXED THAT LEAK IN THE BATHROOM ALL BY HERSELF!

WONDERFUL! I'VE TRIED THREE TIMES, BUT IT WAS TOO MUCH FOR ME!

Blondie

I NEVER KNEW SHE WAS MECHANICALLY MINDED, BEFORE!

IT'S AMAZING--HOW DID SHE EVER DO IT WITH OUT PROFESSIONAL PLUMBER'S TOOLS!

I'M HOLDING MY FINGER IN IT!

Alley Oop

A FINE LONESOME CHRISTMAS THIS IS GONNA BE!

THE TIME-MACHINE BUSTED AN MY MOVVIAN KIDS STRANDED IN SOME GOSH AWFUL PLACE OH, DEAR!!

MERRY CHRISTMAS EVERYBODY

Ozark Ike

TH' KICK IS GOOD!

TH' WILDCATS TAKE A 14 TO 13 LEAD WITH LESS THAN A MINUTE TO PLAY!

THOMPINS, YOU'RE PRICELESS! WE HAVEN'T LOST A GAME SINCE YOU BECAME OUR MASCOT!

Ozark Ike

EEN! HIS LOOSE!

...AND WINNING THE TITLE SHOULD PROVE ONCE AND FOR ALL THAT BLACK CATS BRING NOTHING BUT GOOD LU--

Buzz Sawyer

DESPERATELY LITTLE BY LITTLE, BUZ CLAWS HIS WAY TO A LESS PRECARIOUS POSITION.

BUT, FROM ABOVE, ZAZAROF IS THROWING ROCKS AT HIM!

I TRIED TO MAKE A DEAL WITH YOU, SAWYER.

Buzz Sawyer

BUT NOT YOU CHOSE TO FIGHT ME--AND A FIGHT IT IS.

BUT SO ONE-SIDED, MY BOY, IN A MATTER OF MOMENTS, YOU'LL LOSE YOUR GRIP AND PLUNGE 2700 FEET TO AN UNFORTUNATE AND "ACCIDENTAL" DEATH!

Bugs Bunny

SORRY, CICERO, BUT I PROMISED PETUNIA YA'D BE IN BED BY 8:30 ON YER WAY!

PHOOEY... RIGHT AT THE BEST PART!

Bugs Bunny

BUT, DARLING! YOU CAN'T EVEN USE AN OUTBOARD MOTOR NOW!! IT'S MID-WINTER!

YES, BUT IN THE SUMMER YOU ALWAYS SAY, "A BIG PRESENT SHOULD WAIT TILL CHRISTMAS..."

GOOD HEAVENS!! IS IT MY FAULT CHRISTMAS NEVER FALLS IN JULY?

Donald Duck

GRACIOUS, WALDO! DON'T TELL ME YOU'RE FEELING LOW ON A DAY LIKE THIS!

I KIND OF HOPED TO GET AN OUTBOARD MOTOR FOR CHRISTMAS!

Donald Duck

AM! LUNCH TIME!

OUT OUR WAY

GO TO BED, ANYBODY! FIND THAT NEXT LETTER TOMORROW NIGHT!

NO, NO, LET HIM ALONE--I'M ENJOYIN' IT! WHEN WE'S USED IT I LEARN'T ALL TH' LETTERS BY SOUND--SO FAR HE'S GOT 'DEAR DARLIN' TOOTS, MY HEART BLEEDS TONIGHT--GO ON, GO ON--I'M ANXIOUS!

OUT OUR WAY

WELL, HERE I WAS IN THIS SINKING SCHOONER, THE MAST SHOT AWAY, AND EGAD! LET ME REPEAT--AH-UM! WHAT WAS I SAYIN' ANYWAY IT WAS--OH, YES, I HAVE IT--HAR-RUM! YOU SEE!

THAT SHIRT YOU DREW IS EXACTLY WHAT A PATIENT SEES COMING OUT OF THE ANESTHETIC!

LAY OFF ME! THAT TIE OF YOURS WOULD SET OFF A FIRE ALARM!

WHAT WERE YOU SAYIN', MAJOR?

Vic Flint

I CAN JUST PICTURE THE SCENE IN HAMILTON SCRIBES' APARTMENT THAT NIGHT--VIC!

SPOKE--LIKE A REAL WHOPUNIT MAN! GO ON, LIDBY!

HE WANTS TO SUP A WARNING INTO HIS 'SUICIDE NOTE' THAT HE HAS BEEN MURDERED SO HE WRITES A WORD OF DANGER...

Vic Flint

...BUT ON EVERY LETTER HE CAREFULLY STRIKES ONE KEY TO THE LEFT OF THE CORRECT ONE.

GO TO SOLVE THE CODE, FOR 'W' READ 'E'; FOR 'K' READ 'L'; AND FOR 'O' READ 'P'!

Little Doc

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Little Doc

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO ALL!

Wash Tubbs

I'M WILLING TO RISK A BIT OF DANGER IF IT WILL LEAD ME TO JANET TULLIS, MISS...

McVICKER... JANE McVIC... SHH! LISTEN!

HEAR IT AGAIN? OH, DEAR! THIS MAY BE THE SMARTY-PACED MAM, WITH TINY, WICKED EYES, WHO...

Wash Tubbs

JUST KEEP CALM, JANE... I'LL TAKE CARE OF HIM!

MERRY CHRISTMAS, AMIGOS! AH, BUT I HAVE THE TOUGH TIME FINDING YOU THESE FAR FROM YOUR HOMES!

Boots

OH-H, GEE--

LOOKS--MERRY CHRISTMAS!

MISS TUG--

HONEY, I WAS WRONG ABOUT YOUR FRIEND GOLDWORTH! I SUSPECTED 'IM OF CARNIVOROUS IDEAS--AN I CHRISTMAS-WAS MISTOOK--AN I'M SORRY!

Boots

FORGET IT, DOOR! THIS IS CHRISTMAS--

YEAH! MERRY CHRISTMAS, ALL!

Mickey Finn

THIS IS A GOOD SPOT, UNCLE PHIL!

YEAH! LET IT DOWN EASY!

OKAY, MICHAEL! OPEN IT UP!

THE TROUBLE WITH THIS FAMILY IS, AUNT ELLEN, THEY JUST WON'T LET A PERSON GROW UP!

I SIMPLY CAN'T SEEM TO MAKE ANYONE REALIZE THAT I AM A FULLY GROWN-UP ADULT.

FROM NOW ON I AM GOING TO DEMAND THE RESPECT MY MATURE DIGNITY DESERVES.

COME ON, AUNT ELLEN, LET'S GO OUT AND THROW 7 SNOWBALLS.

Penny

COME ON, AUNT ELLEN, LET'S GO OUT AND THROW 7 SNOWBALLS.

Freckles

CAN'T YOU EVEN FORGET THAT BALL ON CHRISTMAS?

WELL, MAYBE LARD CAN READ US SOME HOLIDAY GREETINGS OUT OF IT!

SNAP OUT OF IT, BABY! SPEAK TO PAPA!

DON'T WORRY, LARD!

MESSAGE COMING IN!

MERRY--CHRISTMAS--EVERYBODY!

HOTEL RITZ

Jackson Twins

I'LL JUST CHECK UP ON THIS "PARTY" THE TWINS HAVE PLANNED FOR THOSE "KIDS WHO'VE BEEN HANGING AROUND!"

FUNNY! ONE OF 'EM JUST PUT HER OWN MONEY INTO THE "MILK!"

NOW ONE'S TAKING SOME TOYS TO SANTA CLAUS AND THE OTHER IS TALKING TO THOSE LITTLE CHILDREN!

SUSIE, HERE'S THAT BIG DOLL YOU'VE BEEN EYEING, AND JOEY, HERE'S THAT TRUCK YOU'VE BEEN LOOKING AT!

000-00! THANK YOU SANTA! THANK YOU!

WHY, DADDY! WHAT ARE YOU DOING DOWN HERE?

CAN'T YOU SAY ANYTHING BUT "THANK YOU" HERE?

N-NOPE! JUST GOD BLESS THE PAIR OF YOU AND MERRY CHRISTMAS!

Blondie

DAGWOOD! WONDERFUL NEWS! WE'RE GOING TO INHERIT A HUGE FORTUNE WITHIN THIRTY DAYS!

WE'LL HAVE YACHTS AND MANSIONS AND JEWELS AND WE'LL TRAVEL AROUND THE WORLD!

WHO TOLD YOU THAT?

IT SAYS ALL THOSE THINGS ON THIS LITTLE FORTUNE CARD I GOT IN THE WEIGHING MACHINE!

JUST ONE DISAPPOINTMENT, THOUGH--I'M TWO POUNDS OVERWEIGHT!

Alley Oop

TROUBLE IN THE TIME-MACHINE LABORATORY HAS (UNEXPLAINEDLY) STRANDED ALLEY OOP, OOLA, FOOZY AND DINNY AT THE NORTH POLE WHERE WE FIND THEM BEGGING A HITCH FROM SANTA CLAUS.

THEN YOU'LL TAKE US BACK TO THE LABORATORY?

YES... BUT YOU'LL HAVE TO TRAVEL ON YOUR OWN POWER... BUT DO JUST AS I SAY AND YOU'LL BE OKAY.

ALL RIGHT, OOLA AND OOP AND FOOZY, SAY I... UP ON OL' DINNY, FOLLOW ME THROUGH TH' SKY!

TH' COLD IS BAD, BUT THIS IS WORSE! IT COULD GET US ALL IN A BIG BLACK HEARSE!

Bo

AND THEN WHEN ALL THE LIGHTS ARE OUT AND THE HOUSE IS QUIET, SANTA COMES DOWN THE CHIMNEY.

COME ON, EVERYBODY, TIME TO GO TO BED WE DON'T WANT TO KEEP SANTA WAITING.

PLEASANT DREAMS.

NIGHTY NIGHT

NOW I'EN WE KIN BOOT TH' EXTRA POINT...

Buzz Sawyer

HEY ZAZAROFF! I CAN'T HOLD ON FOREVER, ARE YOU GOING TO DO NOTHING?

MY ZAZAROFF! I CAN'T HOLD ON FOREVER, ARE YOU GOING TO DO NOTHING?

BUT WHAT CAN I DO, MY DEAR BOY? WE'VE LOST OUR ROPE.

WOULD IT HELP IF I THREW YOU SOME ROCKS?

Chris Welkin

DR. BUDD IS QUICKLY DISGUISED AS AN ICHTHYSIAN...

NOW YOU'LL PASS AS A GUARD TAKING US TO MR. 7 IN THE CONTROL ROOM, DOC. IF WE FILL THIS OFF, WE'LL HOLD ALL THE ACES!

...WHAT IF I HAVE TO GIVE A PASSWORD OR SOMETHING I DON'T SPEAK THE LANGUAGE!

USE THIS, DR. BUDD! IT SPEAKS ANY LANGUAGE!

ALL SET? LET'S GO!

Mutt & Jeff

IF I HAD $10,000 I'D QUIT WORK FOR LIFE!

QUIT WORK? ANY YOU HAVEN'T EVEN GOT A JOB!

BUT IF I HAD TEN THOUSAND I WOULD MOST LIKELY HAVE A JOB AN' WORKED TO SAVE THAT MONEY!

YEH, BUT YOU AIN'T GOT IT!

I KNOW! I DID I WOULD QUIT WORK!

BUT YOU AIN'T GOT A JOB! HOW CAN YOU QUIT A JOB WHEN YOU AIN'T GOT ONE?

ALL RIGHT! ALL RIGHT! DON'T GET EXCITED! I JUST SAID IF!

GOSH, MUTT, CAN'T A GUY IF HE WANTS TO IF?

Bugs Bunny

MIGHT AS WELL START THE PAY OFF WITH A SHOT AT BERRY!

TH' LIL' GLOCK OUGHTA BE COMIN' AN' BEING ANY SECOND NOW!

TH' POOR'N' OPENIN' AN' I'M READY!

Priscilla's Pop

JEEPERS, POP! DO YOU LIKE CHRISTMAS AS MUCH AS I DO?

I SURE DO, PRISCILLA!

CHRISTMAS IS NICE FOR GROWN-UPS, TOO, BUT I'AN' FOR CHILDREN!

THEN HOW COME BROWN-LIPS HAVIN' SUCH BIG FEET?

OUT OUR WAY

HERE--YOU FORGOT THE SLEIGH BELLS! START RINGING THEM DOWN THE STREET A WAYS!

NOT ON YOUR LIFE! LAST YEAR ALL THE NEIGHBORS DRAGGED ME IN TO SEE THEIR KIDS AND I CAN STAND BEIN' DEFORMED LIKE THIS ONLY SO LONG!

EGAD! A MEERSCHAUM! A FLY ROD! A GORGEOUS CRAVAT! UM-HAK! YOU'VE MADE ME AS HAPPY AS TINY TIM! -- BUT I AM SUBMERGED BY EMBARRASSMENT -- BEDRIDDEN, I WAS UNABLE TO SHOP!

DON'T BLUSH! YOU CAN STILL BRING IN YOUR STANDARD GIFT -- THE 1952 BANK CALENDARS.

THE MORNING AFTER, JIM: LIBBY LAND'S OFFICE.

HELP!

VOI! WAKE UP!

HEY! WHAT'S GOIN' ON?

SORRY, LIBBY! YOU SNOOZED I THINK AFTER BEIN' UP WITH THAT SUICIDE NOTE ALL NIGHT.

AND WHILE YOU SNOOZED I BROKE HAMILTON SCRIBE'S SECRET CODE!

LOOK AT THIS X-B'D OUT WORD! ORIGINALY IT WAS S-W-K-O. NOW LOOK AT THE TYPEWRITER KEYBOARD...

...BUT FROM EACH OF THOSE LETTERS MOVE ONE KEY TO THE RIGHT!

Little Doc

Peace on Earth Good Will to Men

AND THAT'S WELL WORTH HAVING!

Wash Tubbs

MISS TULLIS FLED, AFTER ALL THE DREADFUL PUBLICITY! YOU'VE NO IDEA WHAT THE POOR THING GONE THRU SINCE SHE SHOT ME, ALRED SLIGHTLY! BESIDES, SHE'S IN GRAVE DANGER--

I CAN IMAGINE THAT... SHE WANTS IT! I'D LIKE TO CHUCK HER SLIGHTLY MYSELF! NOW WHERE'S SHE GO?

OH, I CAN'T TELL ANY-ONE! I PROMISED! WHY I'D DIE BEFORE!

OKAY, OKAY! I'LL TRACK 'ER DOWN! I'LL STOP 'ER CALLIN' ME A WIFE-DESERTING, ILL-PAID SOLDIER OF FORTUNE WITH A SICK MIND!

BUT BEFORE I GO TELL ME THIS-- WHY DO ME PICK ON ME, A HARM-LESS STRANGER AND HOW'D SHE KNOW I'D BEEN IN LONDON?

YOU'LL HAVE TO ASK HER! TELL ME ONE WAY I CAN HELP YOU, WITHOUT BREAKIN' MY PROMISE, BUT I HESITATE TO BRING YOU IN IN MY OWN FUR-LOUS SITUATION!

Boots

CHRISTMAS EVE!!

WAS IT GRAND?

COME ON! ALL!

WHY'S RIGHT TO BED!

AND YOU'LL HAVE TO ADMIT, DORY, YOU WERE MISTAKEN ABOUT GOLDWORTH!

I'M SO ASHAMED!

OH, DON'T FEEL--

BUT I'AM! SO ASHAMED-- THERE I CAN'T NERVA WHAT HIS AND I'VE!

Mickey Finn

YOU DON'T THINK THERE'S BEAT TROUBLE BECAUSE YOU WROTE THE BOOK, PHILIP? I MEAN BECAUSE OF ALL THE PUBLICITY YOU'VE HAD?

NO, ANNE! I'VE GOT NOTHING TO WORRY ABOUT! THAT'S JUST AS SURE AS TOMORROW IS CHRISTMAS!

WELL, WELL! IF IT'S THE ONCE GREAT GILCHOOLEY WHAT BRINGS YOU IN HERE?

I WANT TO BE CURTIS! IS HE IN?

NO! HE'S UP AT THE STATE CAPITOL!

OH YEAH! WHEN WILL HE BE BACK?

WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON!

OKAY! I'LL DROP IN THEN!

Penny

FATHER, I'LL HAVE TO HAVE SOME MONEY FOR A NEW DRESS.

WHAT AGAIN?

SEEMS TO ME YOU JUST GOT A NEW DRESS, PRINCESS.

BUT, FATHER, IT'S FOR A PARTY I CAN'T WEAR THE SAME ONE AS LAST TIME.

WELL, ALL I CAN SAY IS YOU AND YOUR PARTIES ARE MAKING ME BANKRUPT. IT'S YOUR OWN FAULT.

YOU'RE THE ONE WHO TAUGHT ME THE MANNERS AND BEHAVIOR WHICH HAVE MADE ME SO SOCIALLY PROMINENT.

Freckles

BOB'S GIFT PROBLEM WAS SOLVED BY HIS CRYSTAL BALL!

WHY, LARDY, IT'S JUST WHAT I WANTED!

OH, A LITTLE BALL TOLD ME!

SO THIS IS YOUR MAGIC MIRROR? WELL, I SEE SOMETHING YOU'RE GOING TO GET!

THIS!!

YOU'RE RIGHT UNDER THE MISTLETOE! I SAW ITS REFLECTION IN YOUR CRYSTAL!

MY FAVORITE FLOWER!

Donald Duck

WOW! THAT'S A NEW ONE ON US!

SLAM!

A PRESENT FROM DAISY!

IT SURE SEEMS SILLY, BUT DAVE SAID IT WAS!

IT SURE SEEMS SILLY, BUT DAVE SAID IT WAS!

AN UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE!

ASSOCIATED PRESS NEWS IN PICTURES

PRESS IS FREE—TO STAY OUT—Army Quartermaster General George A. Horkan, second from left, planned a press conference in the Chicago Club. But he had to hold it outside on the sidewalk when the club refused to allow newspapermen inside its exclusive portals. With General Horkan are, left to right, Col. C. F. Kearney; Randall H. Cooper, president of the State Street Council; Reporter John Hayes, Chicago Daily News; Capt. James McKay, Chicago QM depot; Tim Canty, United Press reporter, and Joel Goldblatt, a State Street merchant.

TWO CALLANT FIGHTERS—This is the 1952 March of Dimes poster, featuring Larry Jim Gross, 6, who has battled polio since he was 16 months old. Larry Jim is the son of Warrant Officer and Mrs. Jim Gross, now with the Air Force in Germany. The G.I. figure in the poster was inspired by an actual combat photograph made at Taejon, Korea, in July, 1950. The poster, designed by artist John Falter, will be used to spark the March of Dimes appeal for funds, beginning Jan. 2.

THEY LIKE IKE—There's little doubt as to who is the preferred candidate here, as the "Youth for Eisenhower" headquarters opens in New York. Sen. James Duff (R., Pa.), left, a leading figure in the Eisenhower boom, was on hand for the event. Others are, left to right: Mrs. S. Hobbs; Robert Sweet, chairman of "Youth for Eisenhower"; Ross Traphagen and Mrs. Robert Sweet.

JAP JEEP—Japanese Jeeps, bigger and more powerful than their American counterpart, are rolling off the assembly line at the Nissan Motor Factory, Tokyo. The vehicles, made entirely of Japanese materials, are assigned to the National Rural Police.

LID OF LEARNING—University students at Milan, Italy, worry through final exams, too, but they pin their faith on long-billed "study hats." School tradition calls for the greatest number of lucky charms possible to be attached to the hat brim. Here, a girl student admires the well-filled hat of a fellow student.

BEWARE BEAUTIFUL SPIES!—This sign, outside a Republic of Korea army command tent shows a ROK soldier being pumped of military secrets by a woman spy. Surrounding them are symbolic eyes, mouths and ears. The Korean text warns ROK soldiers against spies.

ANOTHER FREEDOM TRAIN—A Czechoslovakian engineer, Yaroslav Konvalinka, who made international headlines by piloting a trainload of his countrymen through the "Iron Curtain" to freedom, is seen inspecting the cab of an electric locomotive in New York. Explaining the controls is engineer Lewis L. Newman, left, of Roselle, N. J., Konvalinka was brought to this country as an employe of a toy train company.

The Army and Marines have borne the brunt of battle casualties in Korea. The Newschart above shows total casualties of all kinds—killed, wounded, missing and captured—as the Defense Department announced total Korea casualties have passed the 100,000 mark. As of now, the Korea war ranks as the fourth most expensive conflict in history. Only the Civil War and the two World Wars took a greater toll of casualties.

SERVICE . . . MAN!—Master Sgt. Harry E. Whitaker of Appalache, Va., recruited more men for the Army and Air Force than any other recruiter in the Chicago area. His reward was a week-end of luxury in a Chicago hotel for himself, his wife and baby daughter. As an added touch, Maj. O. T. Lowe, officer in charge of recruiting in the area, plays waiter for the Whitakers.

BUY OL' BUTTERFINGERS—The window display man just got one letter wrong in this Staten Island, N. Y., store, but the resulting sign was a shocker. As you probably guessed, it's a dishwasher—not a dishmasher—that's on display.

STILL HAVING FUN—Grandpappy will get a kick out of this picture, which shows famous star Trixie Friganza, veteran of 50 years in vaudeville and musical comedy, as she celebrated her 80th birthday in her Los Angeles home. Despite the fact that she has been confined to her bed for the past two years, the one-time toast of two continents says "My life has been nothing but fun." Inset shows her as she was in 1914, at the height of her popularity.

TELL OF RED PERSECUTION—Wearing masks to conceal their identity, two Catholic priests recently arrived in New York from Europe, tell reporters how Stalin has made the Russian church a Communist vehicle. Identifying themselves only as Fathers X and Y, to protect friends and relatives still behind the Iron Curtain, the priests described the Soviet reign of terror against the clergy. Russian "priests," they said, are trained in 28 hours, and recite the Lord's Prayer, "Our Father who art in Moscow."

In 1929, Federal expenditures were less than two thirds of the total income payments to the inhabitants of California. In 1938, Federal expenditures were equal to the income payments of all individuals in the eleven Pacific and Mountain states. Estimated Federal expenditures for current fiscal year ending June 30, 1952, equal estimated total income payments to all individuals in the hatched area, while total state and local expenditures equal to aggregate income payments of states in cross-hatched area. The two shaded areas referred to account for 94% of the nation's crude petroleum production, 74% of the lumber output, 69% of the total value of mineral production, and 65% of the total value of all farm crop production.

HONORING THE 4-H CLUBS—This green, three-cent stamp, honoring the 4-H Club movement, will go on sale at Springfield, O., on Jan. 15. Springfield claims to be the birthplace of the youth farm movement. The design features a group of farm buildings, at left, and a teen-age boy and girl facing the club symbol of a four-leaf clover. It bears the four H's, which stand for Head, Heart, Hands and Health.

THE RACE IS ON—There's an entry to please Senator Taft and one to please President Truman in this "race" set up in a Chicago department store. The stuffed animals, wheeled and suitable for riding, are part of this year's stock of Christmas toys. The political overtones are purely coincidental. LeRoy Schaffer, 7, is astride the elephant, while Linda Moore, 3, takes a chance on the donkey.
