Land Gift Brings Club House Nearer

Today the Pampa Women's Council of Clubs, Inc., is much closer to the dream of a general club house for all local women's clubs. John Garman and Bill Fraser this week gave and deeded two corner lots in the 1800 block of Duncan to the council. The transaction is complete, according to Mrs. Grundy Morrison, who filed the deed this week end.

No immediate plans have been made for construction of a club house, Mrs. Morrison said. The plan for a general club house is said to have started last year during the presidency of Mrs. Finis Jordan. The Pampa Women's council if it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware that goal.

Snow Blankets Panhandle Area

Second snow storm of the winter season hit Pampa late Friday night and early Saturday morning when the city was blanketed with more than three inches of fluffy snow that gave the town a real Yuletide appearance. Sunshine yesterday afternoon took much of the snow away, but last night streets and highways were partially locked under a sheeting of ice.

By midnight Friday the mercury had gradually slipped off to 30 and dropped another five degrees by 6 a. m. Two hours later it went down one more rung for a low of 24. Although the KPND transmitter moisture gauge showed only .04 of an inch of moisture, snow depths were reported to have run from three inches to as high as five inches over the city. All main highways remained open, but showed some signs of (See SNOW Page 12)

Issues Demand For Release Of Prisoners

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — The names of 32 American citizens reported imprisoned in Red China were announced Saturday by Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif.) with the demand: "Some major effort must be made, before Korean peace negotiations go any further, to get these people out of jail."

The California senator, describing the imprisonments as "32 more Vogeler and Oatis cases," defied the U. S. State department by releasing a confidential list he had given him. "I am removing the restriction on this list on my own responsibility as a United States senator," Knowland said. "It is high time the public knew about it."

Most of the persons on the list are Catholic or Protestant missionaries. Five of them are women. Almost all of them were reported arrested within the last year, but one man — Lawrence R. Buol, of China Air Transport (Gen. Claire Chennault's concern) was said to have been in custody since January, 1950.

Knowland said that another reported prisoner, Philip Cline, a businessman arrested at Tsingtao, may be dead — and there is no certainty of the fate of any of the others. (Newsweek magazine this week reports Cline dead.) The State department said in Washington Saturday that 55 Americans in Communist China are reported under some form of arrest, including 32 in prison.

A department statement, prompted by the announcement by Sen. Knowland, declared that this government is continuing "to make every effort to free those held in prison or detained against their will." The State Department declined, however, to make the steps public "until it has exhausted every effort to accomplish the release of detained Americans."

The statement said that "numerous other foreigners also are under arrest" in China, among them citizens of countries which have recognized the Chinese Communist regime.

Chairman Explains Needs Of Money For March Of Dimes

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis needs money now," Clinton Evans, Gray county chairman for the 1952 March of Dimes, said yesterday.

In an interview Evans explained that although the national and local organizations are broke, hospitals, doctors and others cooperate in extending credit for services until fresh resources can be made available.

Because of the increased threat of polio, the 1952 appeal will be stretched over a 30-day period instead of the usual two weeks.

FIVE WAYS are being made locally to collect money during the drive:

1. A street drive by civic organizations.
2. Radio programs.
3. Post cards or letters sent through the county.
4. "Lung" collection boxes placed in stores.
5. "Mother's Drive."

The Girl Scouts will be in charge of mailing letters and local firemen will place the collection boxes, Evans said. All civic organizations also have agreed to cooperate in helping to make the drive a success.

"The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis is a non-profit organization and is strictly voluntary," Evans added. "No quota for any one place is set and there will be no arm twisting."

He explained the annual March of Dimes is a campaign among those listed by Knowland. They are Bishop Francis X. Ford of Maryknoll Mission, arrested at Mulyuen, Kwangtung; April 14, 1951; Bishop Robert Kowalski, Franciscan Fathers, arrested at Wuchang, Hupel province, June, 1951; Bishop Ambrose H. Finger, Franciscan Missionary union, at Tsingtao, in August, 1951; Dr. Homer V. Bradshaw and his wife, of the Presbyterian mission at Lien Hsien in Kwangtung. The date the Bradshaws were arrested was not given, but three other workers — two of them women — at the mission were believed arrested early this year.

In explaining why he broke the state department's confidential classification on the document, the senator said: "Security should not be used as an excuse for withholding information which the American public should have. The public is entitled to know the type of people with whom we are trying to negotiate a peace."

"If we go ahead as we are with our negotiations, these people may be in jail 2-12 years from now. We should make their release a part of the general cease fire agreement."

Vandals Strike In City; Cars Damaged

Windows in several cars were broken by vandals Friday night, Police Chief John Wilkinson reported yesterday.

Damage occurred in several areas throughout the city and probably was done by the same person or persons, he said.

Independent of the national foundation and is the only means of collecting funds for the aid in curing polio.

LOCAL CONTRIBUTIONS

Of money received locally, half is sent to the national fund. This in turn is used for research and for redistribution to areas hard hit by polio epidemics. "Since the March of Dimes campaigns started," Evans stated, "more money has been given Texas from the national fund than has been contributed by the state. In this way both state and nation cooperate to stamp out the disease."

At a Friday meeting of the Gray county chapter of the national foundation Evans announced Ken Meaders will be in charge of the drive for Pampa and Howard Horne for McLean. Chairmen for Letors and Alarreed will be named soon, he said.

At the meeting a motion was passed to authorize payment of bills when necessary funds are received. Rev. Edgar W. Henshaw, board chairman, told 18 other members that he hopes Gray county will contribute 20,000 during the drive.

Ingenuity, Hard Work Made Novel Yule Home Decoration

(Editor's note: This is the first in a series of home decorations. The series will tell how Pampans have made novel and outstanding decorations for their homes and also will include other stories on how to build your own home decoration.)

The idea for western scenes at Christmas began for the Donaldsons several years ago when in a novel outdoor Christmas scene for Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, 1137 N. Starkweather, which he intends to display again this year.

A combination of ingenuity and hard work last year resulted in a novel outdoor Christmas scene for Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, 1137 N. Starkweather, which he intends to display again this year.

The idea is novel because a western motif is presented. Last year, for example, Donaldson stressed the Top of Texas theme by outlining the Panhandle area with lights and evergreen fir on the front of his house. On the lawn was erected a Santa Claus riding a bucking bronc.

of the Donaldsons three children. In 1949 the doctor drew a picture of Texas with the head of Saint Nick representing the Panhandle. He then erected an enlarged version on wood with lights outlining the state. Last year his idea grew. After drawing plans of Santa on a horse which were transferred to plywood, images were cut-out with a neighbor's jig saw.

"The work took two hours each night for several weeks," Donaldson said, "but the results were satisfying."

Donaldson has big plans for future elaboration of scenes. Al-

WARREN'S ARM MUP

By Warren Haves—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: What is the record long drive in golf for a man and also for a woman?

COACH TEX HANNA of the Berger Bulldogs doesn't want to admit it, but he's got "the" club to beat for the District 1-AAAA basketball crown. The Red and White has proven that with the ease it has turned in victories thus far in the young season.

The Harvesters looked impressive Friday night, but they were playing a team that still had football legs after a busy season of the gridiron sport. The Green and Gold will have its hands full Tuesday.

Coach R. W. Stewart of the Stratford Elks stopped by the office Saturday afternoon, a promise of another good contest for Tuesday. He has a fine sharp-shooting ball club that has hit over 50 percent of its shots thus far this year, the Pampa game no exception.

Incidentally Coach Stewart's folks live in Pampa. But back to Berger and Tex Hanna.

Hanna said earlier this year that anybody who quoted him as saying that he had an even bet making an incorrect statement as to the club's chances for the year was a liar. He had said no such thing. The night that the Guerrillas played the Bulldogs in football at Berger this year he made that statement before a Pampa sports-caster in the Bulldog dressing room. He may have made it off the cuff, but didn't indicate so at the time.

But that's not the point. Already it looks as if he does have a better club. He has more height in Carter and Bishop, a pair of boys who alternate at the post because there isn't that much to choose in the pair. Either can cram the ball through the basket.

Oh Miller is a fine floor man with hustle and spirit that won't quit. And for sharpshooting a kid by the name of Morgan can knock the bottom out.

Whether Coach Hanna wants to admit it or not, Berger is the club to beat. The Harvesters meet them in Pampa first on Jan. 19 and then at Berger on Feb. 3.

The early season prognostic

The Pampa Daily News and radio station KPPDN will award a trophy similar to the one pictured above to the boxer declared the "fightingest fighter" in the Pampa District Golden Gloves tournament to be held in Pampa Jan. 14, 15 and 16.

The Pampa News is co-sponsor of the tournament along with the Pampa Boys Club, Inc., and radio station KPDN will carry the broadcast of the three nights of fast ring action.

The selection of the winner of the trophy will be left solely up to the discretion of the three ring officials who will work the tournament. All three will be out-of-town, impartial men who have had several years experience in the work.

Midland Voted In 1-AAAA

LUBBOCK — (Special) — The District 1-AAAA grew to eight members last night when Midland gained the unanimous approval of the other seven school officials, thereby gaining admission to the "little southwest conference."

The vote was made at a meeting here Saturday night where all schools were represented by their principals and coaches. Representing Pampa were Knox Kinard, superintendent of schools, and football coach Tom Tipps.

Pampa was also given a unanimous vote of admission to the district in the event that the total enrollment at Pampa should slip below the necessary 1000 pupils.

Midland had an enrollment of 1150 in high school this year, which would automatically have put them into the district in one more year, anyway. Last year only 856 attended high school there. This year they captured the 1-AAA grid crown.

Brian Dickson of San Angelo was reelected chairman of the district by unanimous vote and Floyd Hines of Lubbock as secretary-treasurer.

The district football schedule was drawn up, by the coaches, subject to the approval of the school officials. All night games will start at 8 p. m., and day games at 2 p. m.

The 1952 football conference football schedule adopted is as follows: Oct. 10 — Pampa at Amarillo, Odessa at Lubbock, Borger at Abilene, Midland at San Angelo.

Oct. 17 — Amarillo at Odessa, Pampa at Abilene, San Angelo at Lubbock, Midland at Borger.

Oct. 24 — Abilene at Amarillo, Odessa at San Angelo, Midland at Borger, Lubbock at Pampa.

Oct. 31 — San Angelo at Amarillo, Abilene at Midland, Odessa at Borger.

Nov. 1 — Lubbock at Pampa, day.

Nov. 7 — Open date.

Nov. 14 — Amarillo at Midland, Borger at San Angelo, Lubbock at Abilene.

Nov. 15 — Pampa at Odessa, day.

Nov. 21 — Amarillo at Borger, San Angelo at Pampa, Abilene at Odessa, Lubbock at Midland. All day.

Nov. 27 — Thanksgiving, all day.

Amarillo at Lubbock, Borger at Pampa, Abilene at San Angelo, Midland at Odessa.

The broadcast rule of the district was amended to permit the home school to designate the home station or stations to broadcast the games. The visiting team can designate one station to handle its broadcast. Feeds may come only from the home stations and may not go into the visiting town unless to the one designated station.

There was also a discussion of dividing the district into north and south for basketball purposes with a playoff at the end of the season to determine the champion. North

SWC Dads Find No Excessive Athletic Subsidization Among Member Schools

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS — (AP) — The Southwest Conference Saturday found no evidence of excessive athletic subsidization among its member schools.

It did move to curtail its sports as to the amount of athletic training and setting a limit for spring basketball practice which has been running as it pleased in the past.

The faculty committee, governing body of the conference, found that there was an average of 35.2 freshmen per school each year in football and 44.7 varsity players, practically all of them on athletic scholarships.

This was not deemed excessive but each December the picture will be reexamined and if any school is out of line with the others as to the number of athletes, an adjustment will be made.

This was decided upon in line with recommendations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association that called for a limit as to the amount of athletic receive and limitation of the number of athletic scholarships a school may bestow.

SCHOLARSHIP ALLOWANCES The committee said it felt the conference already had a good rule to limit the amount of athletic tuition, fees, board and room and $10.00 per month laundry money.

The NCAA had called for either elimination of spring football and basketball training or a limitation to 20 sessions per year each. The committee approved this but went further as to its own rules. Football spring training was cut from 26 sessions in 35 days to 18 in 25 and basketball practice was limited to 18 sessions in a period of 30 days. It also was decided that basketball practice would not start until Nov. 10 each year and that the season would be limited to 20 games. It has been opening Oct. 15 and playing 24 games.

A limit also was placed on baseball. Only 25 games can be played starting in 1952, with NCAA playoffs excepted from this limit. There has been no limit on the number of baseball games before.

A definite rule governing one phase of excessive entertainment of an athlete was passed, this Bowl each year; was talked being a clarification of one on the books which did not express.

Lubbock Blasts Into Finals By Whipping Jackets, 42-0

LUBBOCK — (Special) — Lubbock's well drilled Westerners cruised into the state Class AAAA football finals by thumping the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets, 42-0, before some 15,000 chilled fans at Jones Stadium Saturday afternoon.

For one quarter, the battling Jackets stalled Lubbock's high-gear scoring machine. But then Coach Pat Pattison's precisionists started to function, and it was "push-pull click-click" the rest of the way. Lubbock led by 21-0 at halftime and by 28-0 after three quarters, with reserves adding to the margin in the final period.

The Westerners, who meet the burly Baytown Ganders in the final next week played perhaps their best all-around game of the season as they stretched their win streak to 12 games. Their air tight defense held the Jackets to seven first downs, and only once on a fumble early in the game did Arlington Heights hold the ball in Lubbock territory.

Lubbock's offense was flawless once it got started. After the scoreless first period, halfback Bo Saxon put the Westerners in business by returning a punt 45 yards to the Jacket yard line. A penalty set Lubbock back to the 17. But quarterback Charles Brewer threw a third-down pass to end Don Jones to the one, then fullback Sides dived over left tackle for the touchdown. Jones converted for the first of six in a row.

A short time later Lubbock tallied on a freakish 41-yard pass play from Brewer to end Mike Brady. The pass was deflected into the air, and Vance Bridges of the Jackets raced in to try for the interception. However, the ball popped out of his hands and into the arms of the speeding Brady, who went on across unopposed.

That play broke the Jackets' hearts, and they were never in the game the rest of the way. Brewer and Sides sparked a 44-yard march that produced another second quarter touchdown, with Brewer tossing a screen pass to Sides for the last six yards.

In the third stanza, Lubbock moved 59 yards with the same two-some providing the punch. The payoff came when Sides bulled five yards over left tackle.

In the closing period Brewer's jump passes to Jones and Brady helped Lubbock go 56 yards for a tally, with fullback Jimmy Welch driving over the middle from six yards out on the touchdown play. Later, Welch swept right end for 41 yards and the Westerners' final tally.

The bruising Sides was the game's top ground gainer. He made yardage on all of his 23 carries, winding up with a total of 124. Welch had 72 yards on eight tries, while Brewer picked up 45 on nine carries. Brewer also hit ten of 14 passes for 162 yards and two touchdowns.

Lubbock and Baytown officials met at Fort Worth today to make arrangements for title game. Lubbock had no serious injuries in this game. After victory, Westerners held a closed meeting and voted their preference of a neutral site for Baytown game.

scoring was well divided

Friday night as the Harvesters continued to hit a high percentage of near 40 percent for the number of shots fired.

On the debit side of the game was the inaccuracy from the four line of the Pampans. Usually dead on the charity tosses, they hit but seven of 18 attempted.

Jimmy Bond and Duane Jeter, the height of the ball club, led the scoring with 10 points apiece. Marvin Bond added nine and Buddy Cockrell making his first appearance since the end of the football season, dropped in four field goals in his short appearance.

GUERRILLAS WIN The Harvesters did a good job of covering the backboards and a hustling job on defense, keeping the visitors shooting on the run and seldom giving them an opportunity to get set for a shot.

In the preliminary contest the Guerrillas notched their initial win of the year, coming from behind to grab a thrilling 28-26 win. At halftime they lagged, 20-13, and the Demon B team was threatening to make a rout of the game. At the end of the third period the score stood 24-18. Then the Guerrillas started to roll. With 2-12 minutes left to play, Larry Larsen flipped in a free throw that knotted the game at 28-all. Gale Trollinger slipped in under the basket as the red light flashed on indicating one minute left. He dropped the ball through the net and ended the scoring for the game with the Guerrillas 28-26 victors.

The final minute saw both clubs firing desperately in attempts to score further, but neither could connect.

Don Fagan, fine little playmaker, led the Guerrilla scoring with six points, followed by Trollinger and Doug Randolph with five each.

The Guerrillas are planning to play a B game at Stratford Tuesday night and then enter the Shamrock tournament this weekend.

Coaches were introduced, and they in turn introduced the players. Football captains Bill Flewelling and Don Schaefer responded for the players, and presented the coaches with gifts.

Following the banquet, the Lions club entertained the football players, school board and teachers, and parents of the players, high school band and pep squad at a dance at the American Legion hall, which was beautifully decorated in high school colors of black and gold, and Wildcat pictures. Football goal posts formed the entrance to the dance floor. The orchestra furnished music for the dancing and for group singing of high school songs.

School Officials, Townspeople Support Bradley President

PEORIA, Ill. — (AP) — David Blair Owen, blamed by a New York judge of morally debasing three basketball players in his position as president of Bradley University, was joined Saturday by school officials and townspeople in labeling the blast "unfair."

President Owen, who rose from the job of handling sports publicity to the $14,000 a year presidency of Bradley, was assailed Friday by Judge Saul S. Street. Judge Street aimed his broadside after giving suspended sentences to three former Bradley basketball players on charges of conspiracy to fix games.

The three are Gene Melchiorre, George Chianakis and William Mann. Judge Street accused Owen of giving university sanction to "moral debasement" of the three former players, who had pleaded guilty to the charge.

WARMUP

(Continued from Page 7) at one garden and there is still Dick Dawson, a gazelle in his own right, to patrol one field. Dick laid out last year after illness in the family made it impossible for him to be around at the start of the season.

It is known that Phillips isn't satisfied with the catching, and a new face may be behind the plate. The pitching staff is again the main worry. Right now, Phillips is counting heavily on George Payte to regain his 1950 form.

Payte, bothered with some arm trouble last year, visited a downstate specialist who discovered the trouble lay not in the arm but in a back condition. This has been remedied and Payte should be ready again.

The rest of the staff is a question mark, and there is plenty of time to get it together. As far as the rest of the league is concerned, it looks like Clovis, with Grover Seitz at the helm, is going to be the most improved club. Seitz has been bridgeling all the talent he could find, and reportedly has swapped Texarkana out of Red Dial and a fine catcher by the name of Benites.

And to hold down his first base, Virgil Richardson is reportedly the man. And more help for the mound staff in Bill Hair, whom many fans will recall. Forger did a little drafting of unknown quantity and Amarillo, Abilene and Lubbock lost to the draft. Crawford Howard likely won't report to Corpus Christi, but if he doesn't the rugged George Schepps, owner of the Aces, might make it rough on Chick.

Incidentally, the Oilers this year are tentatively planning to go to south Texas for their spring training. Recent years they've been working out in Pampa, and the weather has never been favorable. The season will start on April 22, and the 142 game schedule used last year will again be played.

As far as the managerial status around the league is concerned, the only club without a head man appears to be Paul Dean's Lubbock Hubbers. Paul told us a month ago he was going to take his time about hiring a manager. Pat McLaughlin is back at Amarillo. Buck Faucett at Albuquerque. Lloyd Brown got the recall to Borger. Seitz is at Clovis. Hack Miller appears set at Abilene. Jay Haney isn't going to be turned loose by the Lobos, and Phillips is signed at Pampa. Dean can always fall back on one of his favorite ball players, I. B. Palmer, who did sit in on the first winter meeting at Lubbock this year.

Irishmen End Successful Grid Season

By GEORGE BURRIS
Pampa News Writer
SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock's Fighting Irish won nine contests, tied two and lost one in a 12-game run that led to the regional playoff.

Coach Scott McCall and his assistants, Clarence Morris, H. W. Callan and Bobby Hill, brought their Green-and-White crew along much further than many thought when the season opened. Shamrock got off to an early start with a 6-0 victory over the Childress Bobcats Sept. 7.

The Cat machine was slow to get going but it was a wet field and the Irish line held the Cats to 20 yards net rushing and 8 passing. In the third canto, Jimmy Pennington made the first of his 12 season TDs to ice the game. Irishmen cooled Lefors, 26-0, at Lefors the next week-end, as the machine began to iron out some kinks, and then went on to McLean the following Friday to slaughter the Tigers, 51-6.

FIRST TOUGHIE
First tough battle was Sept. 23, when the potent Wellington Rockets showed up at Denver field in the home opener. Paced by speedy backs Hoot Gibson, Seldon Wood, Tommy Wood and Clyde Ingram, the Wellingtons ran up a 19-12 lead as the third quarter ended. Only a blocked punt by Hager saved the Irish as Campbell fell on the oval behind the Rocket goal and Don Carlton booted the point to give the Irish a 19-19 tie.

Memphis fell on a hogpen-muddy field, 7-0 as the Irish gained the lead with three minutes left after end Bobby Campbell blocked a punt on the Memphis 31.

Toughest contest of the regular season was probably the game with the Phillips Blackhawk here. The Irish got ahead on a blocked punt by Mack 13 on the 10 in the first canto and then leaped into a 13-6 lead as Carlton ran 69 around left end for a TD. Phillips tied the Irish in the final canto.

PERRYTON TOUGH
Irish fans nearly had heart failure the following week as the Green-and-White moved into Perryton, where they were supposed to win with comparative ease. But they didn't win with ease. In fact, the Perrytons took a 6-0 lead in the second canto and held it until one minute and four seconds before the final gun. With five minutes left, the Irish took the oval on the 50 and drove methodically to the goal. Reserve quarterback Jack York faked a kick and buried a pass to Van Pennington on the saving extra point in a night-marish, 7-6 victory.

Buffaloes Open Long Road Trip

CANYON — (WTNS) — West Texas State's cage team leaves the campus this weekend for a 10-day roadtrip which will take them through New Mexico, Arizona and California for tilts with the top state football squads.

Hepped-up over the showing made in their first two engagements, the Herd, tutored by coach Gus Miller, will clash with New Mexico University in Albuquerque on Dec. 10 and the following night take on Arizona State Devils from Tempe in a non-conference go-round in Mesa, Arizona.

December 13, 14, and 15 will find the Buffs in Los Angeles where they tangle with Los Angeles State College, George Peperdine and UCLA, respectively.

WIN PAIR
In their first two starts of the cage campaign the Buffs jumped power-packed Amarillo Air Base 67-51 but then they blocked the tree-top Phillips 99-67. Both tilts were played in the Buffs new field, house and drew a total of 5400 Panhandle cage fans out to see the action.

Bill Price, 6'1 senior forward from Brown, topped the opening night scoring with 14 points. However, captain Dwayne Stewart, 6'3 Canyon forward, has been the most consistent by flipping in 12 points the first night and hitting 13 against Phillips 66.

Coach Miller will take a 10-man squad on the westward trip. Included will be 7 seniors, 2 juniors and 1 freshman. The lone first-year man making the trip will be James Scott, 6'3 all-star forward from Borger. Starting lineups for the roadtrip tilts will find Stewart and Price at forwards; 6'4 Austell Burrus, Canyon senior at center and 6'2 Harold Robinson, Bowie junior, and 6'2 Mose Hale, Goodwell, Oklahoma, senior, at guards.

Action Expected At Border Meeting

EL PASO — (AP) — Border conference faculty representatives, coaches and publicity men hold their annual winter meeting in El Paso starting Monday.

Dr. E. J. Knapp, chairman of the Texas Western College Athletic Council and the school's faculty representative, said the conference would discuss several National Collegiate Athletic Association proposals.

One of them concerns abolishing spring football practice, another would eliminate the two two-planet system.

Dr. Knapp said he doesn't know if the conference will vote on the proposals, but indications are that most of the schools will spring training and the two planet system.

Arizona University and Arizona State College at Tempe Officials, however, said Friday they would vote against both spring practices and two planet system.

But it is believed the Texas bloc, including Hardin-Simmons, Texas Tech, West Texas and Texas Western, as well as New Mexico A&M College, favor retention.

Brumbelev, director of athletics and head football coach at Texas Western, is a strong advocate of both spring training and the planet system.

Midwestern University of Wichita Falls is expected to apply for membership in the conference at Monday's meeting.

Curley Lambeau Resigns As Head Coach Of Pro Cards

CHICAGO — (AP) — One of professional football's greatest pioneers, Curly Lambeau, has thrown in the towel as coach of the strife-ridden Chicago Cardinals.

His resignation becomes effective after the club's final two games of the National Football League season, with the Washington Redskins in Comiskey Park today and with the Chicago Bears on Dec. 18.

The resignation climaxes a season of flare-ups from the Cardinal front office to the playing field.

It leaves Lambeau looking for a job after 33 years of coaching. After 31 years with the Green Bay Packers, a club he organized as a 20-year-old youth fresh out of Perryton, Lambeau took over the head coaching job of the Cardinals two years ago. His packers won six NFL titles.

In 1950, the Cardinals had a 5-7 record and so far this season have won only twice in 10 starts.

Most prominently mentioned as Lambeau's possible successor is Joe Kuharich, former Notre Dame and Cardinal guard a decade ago and now coaching San Francisco University.

Perryton, Irish Schedule Games

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach Scott McCall's Irish will play the Perryton Rangers at Perryton Jan. 3 and the Rangers will return the game here Jan. 15.

Both boys and girls teams will be involved in both games. McCall said he was anxious to take his teams to Perryton, because that is the site of the District 1-AA conference playoffs in February.

Shamrock did not meet the Rangers in 1950-51 basketball.

New Contract For Hill

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Coach Jess Hill is set for the next three years as head football coach at his alma mater, Southern California.

Athletic director Willis O. Hunter announced that Hill had been given the new pact, a virtual renewal of the one year deal he got when he succeeded Jeff Cravath at USC last February.

The Southwest Conference has drawn even in inter-sectional basketball warfare.

Southern Methodist edged Tulsa 48-46 and Arkansas strapped Mississippi 66-58 Friday night to give the league a record of five wins against five defeats against outside foes for the season.

Texas and Southern Methodist continue as the only undefeated teams left in the conference. Texas downed North Texas State 61-56 Friday night.

Texas was never behind in licking North Texas, taking a lead in 25 seconds, and although the Eagles tied the score three times, they never could get ahead.

Arkansas staved off a determined Mississippi rally in the last period. The Razorbacks were leading 56-59 going into the final quarter. Mississippi cut the lead to 60-56 with four minutes to go. Then the Porkers started hitting the basket again. Bob Jarvis of Mississippi was high scorer with 19 points. Gene Lambert topped Arkansas with 15.

Jack Kastman stole the ball in the last ten seconds to sink a field goal that brought Southern Methodist victory over Tulsa. Tulsa had a foul shot but declined it to take the ball out of bounds. Kastman captured the ball and made his Merrivell shot.

Most Irish Cage Stars Graduated

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Vary Pennington and Mack Terry will pace the 1951-52 Irish basketballers, as regulars from the last year crew. Dwayne Hager and Billy Harris both played some at center, but Pennington and Terry were mainstays.

Van, an all-district football end, scored 81 points in the net game last year, after getting off to a slow start. He is expected to be one of the top scorers of 1951-52.

Mack Terry was right alongside Van, edging him with 82 points. Both boys are tall and Van weighs 170. Mack 180. Mack, too, is an all-district football man in 1951.

Hager racked up 67 points on the court and is a good bet to play center a part of the time. Harris, with 12 points, played center some of the past season.

Mighty Temple, Powerful Wink Blast Near State Crowns; Childress Falls To Anson

By Harold V. Ratliff
Associated Press Sports Editor

Mighty Temple awaits its foe in Class AAA.

Temple smashed Brownsville 68-6 Friday night to push into the finals unbothered.

Meanwhile, semifinalists have been determined in both Class AA and Class A.

Games Friday produced these penultimate teams:

Class AA — Anson, Arlington, LaVega and Donna.

Class A — Wink, Newcastle, Giddings and Industrial (Vanderbilt).

Anson whipped Childress 26-6, Arlington slammed Pleasant Grove 32-12, LaVega skunked Huntsville 21-0 and Donna beat Lamar of Rosenberg 21-13. Next week Anson plays Arlington and LaVega meets Donna.

In Class A Wink, the championship favorite, blasted Abernathy 70-20. Newcastle clipped Hawkins 18-6, Giddings whipped Cedar Bayou 33-0 and Industrial smashed Pearsall 39-13.

Next week Wink plays Newcastle and Giddings meets Industrial.

GREAT QUARTERBACK

The amazing Temple quarterback, Doyle Traylor, did it again Friday night — he passed for six touchdowns and his passing set up another. This young man now has flipped 31 touchdown passes for the season. Roy Chappas took four of his scoring tosses against Brownsville, the thrower gaining 36, 29, 27 and 18 yards respectively. Freeland Thornton romped 10 yards for one touchdown. Hill Cooper ran for one and Roger Bruce another.

Anson won its twelfth straight game in marching over Childress. The Tigers got three touchdowns in the fourth period. The running of Ken Scott and Eugene Steel sparked the T-powered Anson attack.

Rusty Gunn was the man in motion for Arlington as it pushed over Pleasant Grove. He rolled up 137 yards carrying the ball, scoring three touchdowns, one on a 64-yard dash. He also kicked three extra points. Ray Glasgow skipped 47 yards for another Arlington touchdown.

LaVega, the championship favorite, got going in the second period to score a comparatively easy victory over Huntsville. A 65-yard drive brought the first touchdown with Joe Allen Tyler smashing over. A Huntsville fumble set up the second and a 50-yard surge in the fourth quarter raked up the other.

DONNA RALLIES

Donna came from behind to lick Lamar of Rosenberg, surging 73 yards for the winning score with seven minutes to go. Steve Curry slammed the last yard and Ken Wilhite kicked his second extra point to furnish a 14-13 lead. Lamar got another with three minutes to go. A Abilene Christian College three-year ago this fall, hopeful of playing some college football.

This same youth, older by three years, heavier by 30 pounds and much better coordinated, landed on the Associated Press 1951 little all-America.

That's the simple success story of Lester Wheeler, ACC's six-foot-four, 210-pound tackle.

ACC line coach Oliver Jackson remembers his first impression of Wheeler: "He looked like a string bean. He was the same height he is now but must not have weighed 175."

GAINED 15 POUNDS

To keep the records straight, Les says he weighed 180 as a freshman and gained 15 pounds the first year in college.

Now he is nicely proportioned with broad shoulders, a loose muscular body, slim waist and trim, muscular legs. He runs with a loping, trackman's stride. At Robstown high he ran the quarter-mile, somewhat accounting for that.

Jackson relates the coaching staff's problem with the lanky awkward Wheeler: "In his freshman year we experimented with him at quarterback and at end. We realized our mistake and make a lineman out of him."

Les stood out like a sore thumb as he spearheaded the great Wildcats line that yielded only 57 points while ACC was rolling up 10 straight triumphs and a Refrigerator Bowl victory last season. He made all-conference last fall and this spring campus optimists tabbed him as potential little all-America timber, especially if ACC had another great year.

FINEST LINEMAN

Even though ACC didn't reap as many victories this past campaign Les Wheeler was in there consistently with his crisp blocks, fast charges and deadly tackles.

Wheeler's speed, excellent vision and blocking know-how prompts Jackson to term him: "Positively the best downfield blocker ACC's ever had."

Head Coach Garvin V. Beauchamp says: "Les is the finest lineman I've ever coached."

Wheeler's a senior and will graduate in June with a degree in secondary education.

"After that, it's up to my draft board," he says.

He isn't for sure what he wants to do, coach or farm.

Touchdown Twins Tied For Lead

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Jimmy Pennington and Don Carlton, touchdown twins of the Irish 1951 grid attack, each scored 74 points.

With Jimmy leading, 74 - 67, Don cracked over the left side against Childress for the lone Irish score and then booted the extra point to tie Jimmy exactly.

Both received mention for all-district, but in the final balloting, were not chosen. They are both juniors and will be the lone regulars returning for the 1952 grid campaign.

Both said they would try out for basketball.

Spring Meeting In 4A-1 Talked

LUBBOCK — (Special) — A meeting of the District 1 - AAAA sportswriters association here Saturday morning mapped out tentative plans for a district track, tennis and golf meet to be held in the spring. No definite site was selected for such a meet, but San Angelo, with ideal climatic conditions, was suggested.

Main reason for the meet was to determine the winner of the annual News-Globe trophy to be presented to the district school notching the most points through the season based on seven for a first place, six for a second, etc., for each sport.

The sportswriters also voted to leave coverage on basketball up to each individual paper rather than on an association basis as it was in football.

Some day we'd like to have a bed that's twelve feet long and ten feet wide. And don't tell us that's a lot of bunk.

Top Area Fighters Ready For Tournament Matches

SHAMROCK — (Special) — might be in the high school representatives from Pampa, Wellington and Lefors met with Coach H. W. Callan here Wednesday night to plot boxing for 1951-52. Decision was made to conduct boxing at all four places, but Callan said he would not conduct dual meets for his champion Irish.

Instead, the group would have two tournaments, one February 13-14 at Shamrock, with all four participating in as many weights as possible, with another tourney slated at Pampa the last week of February.

Callan said he believed the Shamrock tournament would be held at the Legion home, but tough fighters over, including Dick Murray, 160-pounder, who floored Bobby Campbell, Irish KO ace, for the only knockout. Campbell suffered 14 fights, Campbell getting 13 KOs. Raul Ramirez was another Pampa ace.

Lefors has Darwin Teeters and other stars. The Callan brothers, aces in college, are also boxing coaches.

Callan will be able to call on such stars as Billy Frank Faylor, sky, Clarence Jones, Kenneth Woods and perhaps Bobby Campbell and Jimmy Pennington. They are undecided. Billy Campbell, Bobby's younger brother, will be in the fray.

Callan said he would open boxing tryouts early in January, but would not try before Christmas, due to complications of basketball tournaments and Christmas activities in general.

TOUGH FIGHTERS

All three have furnished the Irish with tough competition in 1950-51. Wellington bringing Floyd Hood and Duggie Jameson, among others, and taking the March tourney here, 47-45 over the Irish, who won the Shamrock area Golden Gloves and the Amarillo regional Golden Gloves last year.

"A 4-H Club Member Lives Here" is a sign you often see as you travel country roads on hunting and fishing trips. Behind the 4-H sign live nearly two million rural boys and girls, many of whom will one day own much of the land on which we hunt.

How well they take care of the soil and water, the green forests and the native wildlife, will influence to a great extent the future production of the nation, including the game crop.

Martial Bertin, a Club official, reports that last year 179,000 boys and girls took work in soil conservation. They established the permanent pastures, sowed fall cover crops, sodded waterways, maintained terraces, practiced contour strip cropping and engaged in other related soil and water-saving activities.

Conservation of forests is another step in 4-H conservation work. Almost 150,000 members are carrying on forestry conservation. They learn and practice planting and proper cutting of trees, they learn how a forest conserves water. They study protection against fire, and other aspects of keeping our forests green and healthy.

More than 180,000 boys and girls received training in wildlife and nature study programs last year. For example, in cooperation with the Georgia State Game and Fish Commission, about 4,000 quail eggs were delivered to 4-H members. They were given instructions in game conservation and management. Similar programs are being conducted in other states in such phases of wildlife conservation as protection of wildlife areas, planting of trees and shrubs that produce edible wild fruits and nuts, construction and management of ponds for fish and migratory fowl.

The over-all 4-H conservation program as conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service of the Department of Agriculture is a joint undertaking of many organizations, federal, state and private. The U. S. Soil Conservation Service, the U. S. Forest Service, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service, state departments of forests, parks, game and fish, civic and sport associations, soil conservation district workers, and many other groups, individuals and associations cooperate.

Teaching conservation to club members is done both in and out of doors. The work is carried on through camps, leadership training meetings, illustrated talks, motion pictures, field trips, discussion groups and in many other ways. The members are doing a man-size job in helping conserve our natural resources. Their success will mean not only good farm soil in the years to come, but happier hunting, fishing, hiking and other outdoor recreation for all Americans.

Three Name By Boxing Writers

NEW YORK — (AP) — Heavyweight champion Jersey Joe Walcott, former athletic commission chairman Eddie Egan, and 21-year-old Gil Turner, a sensational boxing newcomer, today were chosen for the Boxing Writers Association's three main awards of 1951.

Walcott was voted the Edward J. Neil memorial plaque for having done the most for boxing during the year. The plaque is named in honor of Neil, Associated Press sports writer who was killed in 1937 while serving as a war correspondent in Spain.

Egan was picked for the James J. Walker memorial award "for long and meritorious service" to boxing.

Turner was selected for a new prize, the rookie fighter of the year trophy. The undefeated Philadelphia Negro, who started boxing as a pro only 19 months ago, has surged to the topflight of the welterweight division in that short space of time.

WORKING OUT for the Golden Gloves are Scotty Davey, black trunks, and Sammy Gaffney. The boys work out each afternoon from 5 to 7 in the old Pampa News building on W. Foster in preparation for the district Golden Gloves tournament to be held in Pampa on Jan. 14, 15 and 16. Many heavier weight boys are needed to round out the team. (News Photo)

Shamrock Golfers Practice Daily

Pampa Youths Get Grid Letters

LEXINGTON, Mo. — Two Pampa youths were awarded company football letters at Wentworth Military academy here today by the school's athletic board. Capt. Karl Berringer, athletic director, announced.

The youths are: Cadet Bobby R. Seltz, 929 Mary Ellen St., and Cadet James E. Williams, 1615 North Russell.

Intercompany competition commands keen interest among the cadet corps, being instrumental in developing company morale and school spirit.

Ninety-seven cadets from five companies competed in the intercompany grid activities at Wentworth during the past season.

National Guard To Have Team

SHAMROCK — (Special) — H. W. Callan, Irish coach, said he was planning to sponsor a basketball team for the National Guard unit at the American Legion home here.

Callan, grid line coach and head boxing coach for Shamrock high school, said he had former stars from Texola, Wheeler and Shamrock and issued challenges for other independent groups to play.

First season will be held Monday night. Callan is a lieutenant with the 474th Field Artillery observation battalion here.

Wildcats Whip Allison Twice

CANADIAN — (Special) — The Canadian Wildcats defeated the Allison girls and boys at Allison Tuesday. In the opener, the Canadian girls won 32-30. The Canadian girls led at half-time 21-12, but in the last quarter the Allison girls started hitting and racked up 13 points. Ann Rathjen was high pointer for Canadian with 15 points, Jeanne Job had 9 points, and Janet Conley 8 points. Jean Williams was high for the Allison girls with 9 points, Lavesta Megee and Lella Mae Marshall each made 8 points, and Evans made 5 points.

In the second game, the Canadian Wildcats won 33-30. Canadian took an early lead which they maintained until the final quarter when Allison tied it up, and the lead see-sawed until the final two minutes of the game when Canadian again took the lead and never relinquished it. Buddy Gross was high point man for the Wildcats with 13 points, and Ramon Ramirez tallied 12 points. Troy Jones and Curtis Hall of Allison tied for high with 9 points each, and Ray Giddens tallied 7.

Irish To Wheeler

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock basketballers probably will enter a tournament at Wheeler next month, Coach Scott McCall said here Thursday.

Basketball teams are permitted by state rules to enter two tournaments exclusive of the district playoffs.

Shamrock will be entered in its own tourney here Dec. 13-14-15.

"We need more heavy boys for the Golden Gloves," said Oren James, president of the Pampa Boys Club, Inc., yesterday. MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

Questions and Answers about Newspaper Advertising

Q. Do you know of any measure for the value of newspaper circulation to an advertiser such as the standards that a business man uses in buying merchandise?

A. Yes. In the well-known standards that have been approved and adopted by advertisers—namely A.B.C. standards.

Q. What is A. B. C.?

A. A.B.C. stands for Audit Bureau of Circulations, a cooperative association of 3300 advertisers, advertising agencies and publishers in the United States and Canada.

Q. What is the Bureau's work?

A. To audit the circulation of newspapers and periodicals so that advertisers can buy space on the basis of definite standards and verified facts and figures.

Q. How does A. B. C. accomplish this?

A. The Bureau has a large staff of experienced auditors. They visit the publisher members periodically and make audits of their circulation records. This information is then published in A.B.C. reports for the use and protection of advertisers.

Q. What do these reports show?

A. A.B.C. reports tell how much circulation a newspaper has, where this circulation is, how it was obtained, how much people paid for it, and many other verified facts that advertisers should know when they buy advertising.

Q. Are all publications eligible for A. B. C. membership?

A. No. Only those with paid circulation. This is important to advertisers because it is the best proof of interest and purchasing power on the part of the readers.

Q. Is this newspaper a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations?

A. Yes. We are proud of our circulation and we want our advertisers to know just what they get for their money when they advertise in our columns. The audited information in our A.B.C. report gives them the complete facts.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

being dangerous from freezing slush.

As Saturday morning wore on to noon, concrete began to show through the snow on sidewalks and street tops were also visible. Slowly the snow melted in many spots, but stayed on in the more shaded and cooler areas.

As the clouds broke up over the city a bright sun warmed things up a bit and the mercury climbed from its 24 low at 8 a. m. to a high of 27 by 3 p. m.

But Pampa wasn't the only city to boast a three-inch snow fall or more. Berger reported seven inches. Amarillo was expected to hit 10 inches while Plainview said three inches fell there. Perryton had only two inches, and Dalhart had only one inch. Lubbock had a trace.

The cold front stretched as far south as Lufkin and as far southwest as El Paso. It skirted the edge of Beaumont and then moved back, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

MOORE SNOW
A U. S. Weather station prediction called for more snow in the afternoon, but if it fell it was in places other than Pampa and Gray county.

As the Midwest and Southwest were slowly being covered with snow, the eastern seaboard states frolicked in almost summer like weather, along with Gulf Coast towns where early morning temperatures were in the 70s. But the eastern states' pseudo-summer period wasn't expected to last too long, according to the AP. A mass of cold air, forming around Ohio, threatened to invade the East and cool things off.

Most Panhandle farmers were thankful for the snow which was a boost for next year's wheat crop. Some even thought it should have been more.

No Exception
The New York Times recently carried a significant news story from Washington. It dealt with the fact that an increasing number of officials of the Office of Price Stabilization were refusing to talk with newspapermen for fear of violating agency policy.

Order was recently issued warning OPS employees against discussing agency news which have not received final approval. This newspaper, contended in a meeting with the head of OPS' Information division, would tend to intimidate subordinate officials who meet the press, and so would amount to an imposition of censorship.

Regardless of what OPS policy may be in the future, there is one more ominous example of how government bureaus tend to become more and more dictatorial and more and more zealous in attempting to keep facts hidden from the people. OPS actions and orders directly affect every producer, every distributor, and every consumer in the country. OPS deals with matters which are extremely controversial, and which should always be watched closely by the public.

As a matter of fact, OPS has become more and more arbitrary all along the line. It has laid down pricing policies affecting retailing which, in time, could not help but undermine and disrupt this industry which has done so much to make possible our high standards of living. It has issued orders affecting any number of businesses which, in view of experts, are dangerous and unworkable.

Bureaucrats always want more power — and bureaucrats always hate criticism. They want their way at all costs, regardless of the effect on the nation. If censorship seems expedient, they try to put it into effect. OPS has no exception to the rule.

Swimming In Butter
The view of the president of the American Bankers Assn., overspending by government, private organizations and individuals is putting a dangerous strain on the economy. To use his words, "our huge military and foreign aid programs, coupled with continued non-essential spending by government, business and individuals, create a demand for goods greater than our current capacity to produce."

In this government is unquestionably the worst offender — if only because it is the biggest. In the fiscal year which begins next July, the federal government alone will spend a minimum of $80,000,000,000 and perhaps much more. The minimum it works out to $2,000 for every family in the country, as compared with $265 in 1939.

The apologists for do-everything government say that the budget is necessary in the light of present world conditions and that substantial cuts cannot be made without endangering the health and safety of the country. But they forget that the budget is loaded with big appropriations for projects which can either be postponed, abandoned or undertaken by private enterprise. Analysis after analysis has shown that the budget is $2,000 without affecting our country or eliminating any activity which is necessary.

The point is, of course, that the spending must be cut — no matter how hard that may be on the bureaucrats and the seekers of Treasury funds if a runaway inflation and a murderous size on our productive plant is to be avoided. It isn't a case of cuts or butter here. But it is a case where we can't have the butter and at the same time swim in the butter. Extravagance and unnecessary spending are crimes against the people now living and the generations not yet born.

Thought Starters From A Great Address

I want to quote some statements that caused me to think from an address made by Dr. J. D. Bales of the Bible Department of Harding College, Searcy, Arkansas to the Harding College Freedom Forum, Cranbrook School, Detroit, Michigan.

"If conduct does not produce consequences there would be no need or reason for action. And if different courses of conduct did not produce different consequences, there would be no reason why one course of conduct should be chosen over the other.

"This would rob man of responsibility. For if my effort does not change the situation, if my greater work and productivity does not produce greater rewards, why should I put forth extra effort?

The above statement was made in defense of rewards or the profit motive. The doctor expressed it in this way:

"To abolish rewards (and profits are one form of reward) and punishments one would have to abolish all outcomes of conduct, both desirable and undesirable. But this is impossible for conduct has consequences, and these consequences may be good or bad depending on the conduct."

So the man who does not believe in rewards or punishments cannot believe in consequences. He is in a dilemma because there must be different results from different actions or there would be no motives for any action.

Under the heading of "Equal in Poverty" Dr. Bales makes this observation:

"If everyone sold all that he had when he became a Christian, we would all be equal in poverty; but the church would not have means to continue to meet our needs. Welfare, as Mr. High has pointed out is not a system, but the results of a system. Individuals have to have a means of production to be able to give to the work of the church."

It is amazing when one asks an individual to name a principle that guides his judgment in determining whether this or that act is moral, most individuals will say that they want the general welfare and content that that is a principle; while Mr. High says it is not a principle or system, but it is the result of more nearly living in harmony with the principles set forth in the Commandments.

Dr. Bales quoted Dr. Clarence Bouma from a talk made at the Calvin Forum. This is what Dr. Bouma said:

"The economic system of free enterprise, far from being anti-Christian, is the only system that meets the high ethical demands of the Christian religion than any collectivistic alternative, whether it be Socialism or Communism.

"We believe this claim can be substantiated along three distinct lines of thought, viz., first, with a view to the right of private property; secondly, with a view to the protection of human personality; and thirdly, with a view to the preservation of liberty.

Stated differently, every collectivistic system is an attack upon (1) the right of private property, (2) the sacredness of personality, and (3) the enjoyment of true liberty."

In his introductory remarks Dr. Bales said that the purpose of his speech was not to defend all that every individual in our system has done. He continued by saying:

"I do not defend all that some have done to do in the name of Christ, for there are some who have not understood and there are some who have not cared.

"My purpose is not to maintain that Christianity cannot exist under any system other than the system of private enterprise. The Christian faith was born when a dictator was in power. It was persecuted at other times and places. It is my conviction, however, that our system of private enterprise has provided the best possible environment for its free proclamation, and the greatest measure of freedom for its adherents."

The more a State moves toward collectivistic the less it regards the individual. And yet if the man as an individual is of no value, mankind is of no value for there is no 'collective man.' Individuals alone can exist.

"God has made sacred the individual. Thus we would expect Him to show His greatest approval to the system which gives the most emphasis to the dignity and value of the individual."

Here is a statement that presents a profound idea:

"Where nothing is sacred nothing is safe."

This means to me where people are not guided by sacred principles and do not regard them as sacred, nothing is safe — neither life nor man's property. On this subject Dr. Bales said:

"The roots of our convictions concerning the dignity of the individual are religious, whether we recognize it or not. There are non-religious individuals who have been so influenced by religion that they continue to cling to certain of its values long after they have denied the validity of all religion. The man of no faith is the child of centuries of faith. But it is still true that in our society the roots of our conviction of the sacredness of human personality are religious."

"Since there can be no real and lasting freedom without the recognition of rights, as well as the responsibility, the opening of the very roots of our freedom are religious. For it is religion which gives to human personality sacredness. Where nothing is sacred nothing is safe."

MORF GRAPES
I am fascinated with the letter from E. M. Webster about my article on the "Grapes of Wrath" being "selected" in public schools and of the kind condemnation by Mr. Sidney Davidson of Newport Harbor High school in denying a chairman in denying that I didn't charge, that I am impelled to continue discussing the Webster letter.

In a family of four or five school-age children, writes E. M. Webster, "where the father receives only laborer's pay, how in the world could he afford to send even ONE child to a private school?"

Well, E. M., how does he afford to send them to public school? By paying taxes, of course. And if he doesn't cough up the tax black-mail, even what little property he has is taken away from him. You don't think he gets something for nothing, do you? There is no such thing as "free" education. It's paid for, and then some.

At the same time, if the other fellow has five children in school and you have one, and your tax rate is equal with yours, then you are being FORCED (there's nothing voluntary about it) to pay for somebody else's idea of "education" of water, bureaucracy and other times the service you do if he has more children, and yet you pay more heavily taxes than he does, depending on how well off you are. Just how equal? It is that tax burden. The whole issue here is whether some people have a moral right to COMPEL other people to pay for THEIR idea of education.

Where, E. M., continues, "would we raise enough money to build our school buildings?"

Bless E. M., I'm astonished at you. Let's answer that question by asking another—Where do we raise the money? Now, E. M., you don't think some fairy godmother pays for it, do you? As a matter of cold economics, we pay many times over what private schools would cost us. There's a terrific amount of waste, bureaucracy and other wholesale corruption and graft that no businesslike private school could afford. Where do you think the money comes from?

Politics And The Water's Edge

By FELIX MORLEY
The theory that politics should stop at the water's edge made sense as long as, but only as long as, policies also stopped there. When policies go overseas, and the taxpayers' money is poured out all over the globe, politics should be vigorously concerned with foreign affairs. To argue otherwise is to say in effect that democratic processes are valid in deciding parochial problems, but should be discarded when the issues are matters of life or death.

Therefore, the post-war bipartisan foreign policy was logical and un-American. But another reason helped to make it disastrous. Exercise of the critical faculty is necessary for progress of every kind. The designs of the statesman, as well as those of the engineer, the architect or the novelist, can always benefit from review and suggestion. To eliminate the function of criticism in foreign policy or any other field is merely to insure an inferior product. That is what bipartisanship has done for the foreign policy of the United States.

Moreover, there is something intolerably insulting in the implication that Americans are "too damn dumb" to appreciate all the wonderful projects that can be cooked up in the Department of State. The truth is that many of these projects will not stand up to the facts of life. Absence of criticism prevents this from being realized in time to avoid blunders for which the American people must pay with their lives and fortunes. Absence of criticism has also encouraged a bureaucratic arrogance and cocksureness of the type that inevitably precedes a fall.

While the threat from Soviet Russia is deadly serious we perhaps owe a debt of gratitude to the Kremlin for having so unceremoniously punctured the ideological bubbles blown by our foreign policy planners during the period of bipartisanship. Their pretensions to superior intelligence and insight have been thoroughly if painfully exploded. It will take Americans a long time, rather than more official conceit, to put the pieces together again.

Some would like to have us believe that foreign policy is a mysterious and intricate art, requiring both a special wardrobe and a knowledge of incantations called "protocol" by its practitioners. Actually the foreign policy of every sovereign state, regardless of its place and time, shares certain common characteristics with that of every other state.

Special characteristics are determined by factors like the form of government, the geographical location or the economic needs of particular nations. Any person of average intelligence can quickly understand both the universal factors in foreign policy and the special factors affecting the foreign policy of the United States.

Of the later, one of the most important is the well-reasoned American objection to concentrated power. The Constitution divides political power between the federal and the state governments and then divides this power between the executive, legislative and judicial branches in both our local and national governments. But it is not merely a matter of political power.

The Constitution further provides that there shall be no concentration of religious power, through any "established church." There shall be no concentration of social power, by titles of nobility. And Americans are equally hostile to any monopolistic concentration of economic power, by trusts on the one hand or compulsory unionism on the

MORGENTHAU'S MINUTE
TRANSGRESSOR'S ROAD: Secretary of the Treasury Snyder is in trouble. So is the administration. Selling welfare via inflation to an unsuspecting public is one thing. Continuing to sell it to an awakened nation is a horse of another color — choose your own color.

For nearly 20 years this government has borrowed to lend — to spend. It has pursued a monetary policy of inflation for political gain. So doing it has destroyed a tremendous backlog of real American savings, and has rationalized this by officially belittling the very process of saving by individuals except when and as those individuals "saved" through the agency of government. In the latter instance the government promptly spent the "savings," getting the full benefit of the buying power of those savings as of the moment of borrowing.

This was done with full knowledge on the part of government that these "savings" would be repaid at maturity with units of considerably less buying power than those it had received. The inflationary nature of an irredeemable currency assured this. If any doubt remained, the fiscal policy of eternal deficits for eternal welfare wiped it all out. Inflation would serve politics, the people be damned!

THE SHORT SALE: In substance, this amounts to a short sale with the seller looking down the buyer's throat. It is, in fact, a short sale with the seller (the federal government) in monopoly control of the commodities involved, i.e., money and bonds. The buyer hasn't even a gambler's chance to hold his market position except in numerical units, and this is a fraud.

Examining the whole situation of our money and bonds we find deception piled upon deception. We have been told "again and again" that the bonds represent "savings" when in fact they represent a liability against the whole economy. That is characteristic of any government bond, no matter what government issues it.

Before the value which the bond represents can be converted into money for the bondholder to spend, it must be taxed out of the general economy of which the bondholder is a part. And the bondholders must pay their proportionate share of the tax. They are also taxed to pay their proportionate share of the interest they receive.

THE TOPPER: To top this off, the bondholder must pay income tax on the interest he gets: a sort of penalty for the privilege of taking his inflationary loss (about 50 percent of the face value of his bond at present), and it is estimated that this same rate of percentage loss will continue into the indefinite future.

Further reflection reveals a still sadder plight for the bondholder and for the whole nation. Where, at the time of lending, the sum would have supported a certain amount of labor in production, at maturity it will command only a fractional part of its original worth in labor and goods. Obviously, the slack must be taken up or the whole economy must drop fast when large issues of bonds are involved, inflation begets inflation and/or inflation and/or police-imposed austerity. This is just an analytical way of saying we cannot have our cake and eat it; the piper must be paid; etc., etc., etc.

All this the people are beginning to see. After the "T" bonds are falling due, Redemptions are piling and sales are falling. Snyder's recent campaign to hold the line didn't make the grade.

CASH ADVANCE: With only about $1 billion to redeem and finance this year, the treasury fell 22 percent short of its goal. Next year about $3,000,000,000 are due, and about $15 billions more will mature in the three succeeding years. But spending for the welfare of politics must go on, come what may.

So, like any spendthrift who goes to the cashier for an advance on his salary, Snyder has gone to industry for an "advance" on his taxes. With taxes where they are, a premium of 147 percent clearance of his first issue of "tax anticipation" bills with ease. Now he is asking for more, $1,118,000,000; but it's a 1 1/2 percent premium this time. Industries that can pay "tax anticipation" money aren't too numerous. Worse, Snyder is just postponing the evil day of reckoning, for when taxes are due next year he will just get back his bills, no money—what then?

Former Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau foresaw this whole embarrassing situation. He expected it a lot sooner than this. Immediately following Roosevelt's budget message for fiscal 1937, Morgenthau warned the administration and congress: "The minute I cannot raise the money (sell the bonds) to finance the government, that minute you will have complete chaos." Snyder is now confronted with the probability that Morgenthau's famous "minute" is drawing near.

International Whirligig... Czechoslovakia Is Secretly Waging Fight Against Reds

By JOHN FISHER
The arrest of Rudolf Slansky, Stalin's former trusted Gauleiter of Czechoslovakia, furnishes one more lightning flash vision of the Red Terror in that wretched country.

Since his spectacular plunge into disgrace, news has seeped out revealing some of the conditions that precipitated his downfall. He failed to speed farm collectivization and to force disgruntled workers to meet schedules in the Five-Year plan for heavy industry.

Moreover, the nation is in economic decline. The persecution of the church, peasantry and middle class has aroused fear and rage. Moscow is not satisfied with the Czech effort. So a scapegoat is found in the crime, second-from-the-top leader.

The free world will shed few tears if the deposed boss of the Czech Communist party wears the noose that he has tightened on so many other throats. The double-crosser has been double-crossed himself.

But his crash will bring another flood of false accusations against America, another blood purge of hapless citizens who will be unfairly charged with links with the criminal, another nail in the coffin of the once most independent democracy in Central Europe.

"DIVINE DISCONTENT"
For centuries the little nation maintained its individualism. It survived years of Hapsburg domination and seven years of Nazi occupation. It even kept its national character under three years of Russian pressure after the war. But in 1948 it was overthrown by a Communist treason plot every day.

But don't write off Czechoslovakia. Its people have a historical reputation for "divine discontent." Located between giant, covetous neighbors and often governed by outside masters, they are adept in concealing their inner feelings and skilled in unobtrusive, passive resistance and unsuspected sabotage.

In the 1946 free elections about 38 percent of the population voted Communist. Some used this dubious means of expressing their resentment over the western betrayal at Munich. Others were Slavs friendly to Russia.

Underground agents that have recently visited America tell me that today only 10 percent support the party officials, favored shockworkers and some so-called intellectuals.

The rest hate their Red rulers. Bread, milk and meat are scarce.

Wildcat Tops Activity in Panhandle Oil For Week

Location of a wildcat, 20 miles northwest of Hereford, led the week's activity in the Panhandle oil field. The venture, N. B. Hunt's No. 1 J. R. Overstreet, is an 8000-foot test. Two other wildcats were plugged in the Panhandle. Amerada plugged its No. 1 J. C. Hamilton in Briscoe county while Bridwell Oil Co. abandoned its No. 1 Martha Houghton in Hartley county.

In the regular field, operators staked 13 new locations and completed 8 new oil wells.

Oil Compact Due To Meet Tuesday

By J. R. ANDERSON
LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — The Interstate Oil Compact Commission meets here this week and two of the program highlights will be (A) problems connected with underground storage of gas and (B) attendance by representatives of the Venezuelan government.

Dates for the annual winter meeting of the organization are Dec. 11-12.

The commission is made up and controlled by oil-producing states. Its purpose is to prevent waste of a natural resource — crude petroleum — through cooperative measures. The IOCC has no police power; it simply recommends action to be followed by the individual states.

It is financed solely by contributions from member states. Not a cent comes from oil companies.

The IOCC is the product of what might be called a shotgun wedding of forces desiring conservation of oil and others more interested in warding off possible federal control of the industry.

The marriage came off in 1935 after a rocky courtship. Although the need for cooperative action in exercising some control over oil and gas production was proposed back in 1924, it was seven years before something began to crystallize.

Back in the twenties, it was an open season on drilling and production. By 1931, the depression was moving in and a flood of oil from the East Texas and Oklahoma City fields was threatening to demoralize the industry.

The governors of Texas and Oklahoma issued shut-down orders and, without laws, had to resort to calling out the militia to enforce the orders.

Governors of those two states and two others, Kansas and New Mexico, met in Fort Worth to draft a uniform statute governing conservation.

Before anything came of this endeavor, the New Deal administration took over in Washington. Passage of the National Industrial Recovery act and adoption of the code of fair competition for the petroleum industry were temporary aides.

In 1934, it was suggested in Congress that states form an oil compact commission, and after election that year, governors began another effort to develop a uniform conservation program.

There was conflict at the outset between the governors of Oklahoma and Texas; between those who wanted conservation and those who feared price fixing and production quotas to gain the objective.

After several sessions, a compromise was reached and, as one writer put it, an organization — the Interstate Oil Compact Commission — was born of necessity.

The compact was determined at a Dallas meeting, Feb. 16, 1935, and the organization perfected at Oklahoma City, Sept. 12, 1935. The late Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma was the first president.

At the beginning, there were six member states — Oklahoma, Texas, Kansas, Colorado, Illinois and New Mexico. In the years that followed, other states have joined after their legislatures ratified the compact agreement. Now there are 20 full members and two associates.

Following the original six were: Michigan, Arkansas, Louisiana, New York, Pennsylvania, Kentucky, Ohio, Montana, West Virginia, Alabama, Florida, Tennessee, Indiana and Mississippi. Georgia and Arizona are associate members.

Two states — Utah and North Dakota — scenes of recent discoveries, don't belong.

The retiring president is Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas. New officers are to be named at the two-day, public invited sessions next week.

In addition to Shivers and the host governor, Sid McMath of Arkansas, four other governors are expected — Johnston Murray of Oklahoma, Edward F. Arn of Mississippi and Edwin L. Mechem of New Mexico.

Developments Show Mexican Oil Output May Be Boosted

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Two developments last week indicated that Mexico's oil production may be increased.

One was a report circulated among oil men that Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. has proposed turning over an oil concession in northern Mexico to Pemex, the government oil company, and lending money to Mexico for development.

Another was a statement from an oil industry spokesman that the country can increase its production if it gets drilling equipment.

The U. S. petroleum administration said Wednesday that 8400 new wells should be drilled in the world next year to increase production. Of these, 483 were proposed for Mexico.

A technician of Pemex said the proposed Mexican wells would increase output 22 million barrels a year, compared to the present Mexican production of 78 million barrels. But he said Mexico would need drilling rigs, pumps and pipe from the United States.

Mexico recently found a rich new oil field on Yucatan peninsula. But because of a lack of drilling equipment, only two wells have been put down.

The Sinclair deal, oil sources said, involves two million acres in northeast Mexico.

One source said Sinclair has offered to lend Pemex $1,900,000 for drilling in the area. If it is found, Sinclair will be repaid in oil. Sinclair will receive 30 percent of the production until the $2 million value of the concession is returned. If no oil is found, Sinclair will get nothing.

Sinclair and Standard Oil of New Jersey were exploring the area when the oil companies were expropriated in 1938. The concession was not included in the appropriation.

The area is bounded on the east by the Gulf of Mexico and on the north by the Rio Grande. Standard later sold its concession to Pemex.

Irish FFA Butchers Hogs

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock Future Farmers are butchering hogs as a learning device, Howard Weatherby, vocational agriculture instructor, reports.

This is a service to the farmers of the area and all patrons are welcome to have their hogs butchered for a nominal fee to cover expenses, Weatherby said.

Hog butchering started Wednesday, Dec. 5. Other dates listed are Monday, Dec. 10, Wednesday, Dec. 12, and Monday, Dec. 17.

On those dates, interested patrons should bring their hogs to the agriculture building on the high school campus and boys will kill, clean and dress them.

Weatherby requests that patrons make arrangements well in advance of the butchering dates. Last year, the FFA teams set new butchering records, with 7 minutes and 51 seconds as the fastest time for the dressing, following the hog's death and including scalding, scraping and hanging the carcass to dry.

Winning teams will be announced next week, Weatherby said.

Egg Prices Take Sharp Decline

(By the Associated Press)

Egg prices dropped sharply last week to the lowest levels since the end of May. Popular pork cuts and smoked items also were lower in many places, and many stores reduced frying and broiling chickens.

Beef, lamb and veal were generally unchanged, while butler continued its weeks-long climb, advancing one to three cents a pound.

Top-grade eggs now have dropped about 14 cents a dozen at retail since the day after Thanksgiving, with around five cents of the reduction occurring since last weekend. By the middle of this week, however, the wholesale market had turned upward slightly, indicating that the price slide had been arrested at least temporarily.

(The reduction was not as sharp in some places where prices hadn't climbed as high to begin with.)

There were four main factors for the big drop, which was the sharpest this year:

1. Demand lapsed after Thanksgiving day as consumers cut back on their food buying generally.
2. An unusual stretch of warm weather, almost nationwide, stimulated egg production and made collecting and shipping easier.
3. Hatcheries reduced their operations as is customary at this time of year. It takes 21 days to hatch eggs into chicks, and the hatchery people don't like to have a lot of new flocks to care for during the Christmas or New Year holidays. This channels a lot of extra eggs into consumer channels.
4. Soaring prices of pork, chicken and even some beef recently caused some egg production in the eternal competition for the consumer's food dollar.

FLYING SAFECRACKER
DENVER — (AP) — Around Stapleton Airfield, they call Robert Tripe the "flying safecracker." Tripe has flown more than 10,000 miles on emergency calls when his special skill was needed to snap open a stubborn safe or coax a balky lock to cooperate.

Tripe was an aerial gunner during World War II and had ambitions to become a commercial airline pilot. But he also wanted to get married and the Mrs. Tripe-to-be said she had no desire to become a fly boy's wife.

Winnie Sees Less Chance For War III

LONDON — (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill has told the House of Commons there is less danger of a third world war now than there was during the time of the "Blitz spirit crisis in 1944."

Churchill credited the United States, Britain and other nations of the free western world with creating "deterrents against aggression" that have lessened the danger of world conflict.

Churchill declared it is the "desire and intention" of the conservative government to proceed as quickly as possible with the rearmament effort begun by the previous labor regime.

Churchill and Clement Attlee, former Labor prime minister, clashed sharply over Churchill's assertion that the labor government permitted the United States air force to set up bases here for using atom bombs against Russia "should the Soviet become aggressive."

Churchill said the step taken by Attlee "places us in the front line should there be a third world war."

Attlee protested that it was "never suggested" that the U. S. air base here should be used for delivering atom bombs to Russia. But Churchill snapped back:

"That is the impression which, however mistakenly, they seem to have derived. The matter of a European army — a sore point in relations between the U. S., France and Britain. The Prime Minister said Britons "must be agreed that there should be a European army and that Germany must take an honorable place in it." But he added:

"So far as Britain is concerned, we do not propose to merge into the European army. But we are already joined to it and we shall do our best to make a worthy contribution to the deterrents against aggression."

Shivers Proposed As Presidential Timber

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Congressman Wingate Lucas has proposed Governor Allan Shivers has the presidential nominee of the Democratic party and said otherwise those who are organized in support of the present administration "will renominate President Truman with ease."

The proposal was made at the luncheon meeting of the downtown Kiwanis club.

Lucas said: "I believe the people of Texas would do well to remember the well known qualifications of their own governor, Allan Shivers, when thinking of possible candidates for the presidency."

Hobos Seeking Low Level Talks

NEW YORK — (AP) — "High level talks getting nowhere — let's have low level talks."

That was one of the signs carried by hobos marching in front of the Russian delegation's Park Ave. mansion.

Other signs carried by 10 hobos, including their cigar-smoking queen, "Boxcar Betty," read: "U.S. hobos and Russian trombones (hobos) must meet to discuss peace."

"Stalin, you send the vodka, we'll bring the beer."

"Stalin can't call this a capitalist plot."

MECHANIZED COTTON FARMING — Mechanized farming in Gray county will be one aid to the huge reserve of cotton being asked for next year. The picture above, taken on the George Scott farm, eight miles north of Pampa in Roberts county, shows some of the machinery which has been used this year, including the cotton stripper attached to the tractor about the center of the picture. Scott made about 194 bales of cotton on his 275 acres. The stripper has been used extensively over the area late this season. (News Photo)

Increase Sought In Cotton Reserve

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture Dept. says the nation should increase its reserve cotton stocks to about five million bales in view of "present unsettled world conditions." Its announced 1952 crop goal of 16 millions bales, it said, would boost the Aug. 1, 1953 carry-over only to 2.8 million bales, a figure "considerably below the level considered desirable under present conditions." Last August's carry-over of 2,179 millions bales was only the fourth since 1929 to drop below 4.5 millions bales, and despite a big 1951 crop only about 2,100,000 bales will be carried over next year. This would constitute only about a two-month supply for domestic mills, the department said.

If a 16-million bale crop is produced in 1952, the department said, most of it must go to meet domestic requirements and export demand both of which, it said, will continue strong.

The department places domestic requirements at 10 million bales each in the two years starting Aug. 1, 1951, and Aug. 1, 1952. Export requirements it placed at five million bales this year and five and one half million bales next year.

The 1952 production goal of 16 million bales compares with an indicated 1951 crop of 15,851,000 bales — a huge crop in comparison with the 9.9 million bales produced in 1950 and 12,115,000 bales which is the 1946-1950 average.

In setting this production goal, the department estimated it could be produced on 28 million acres in 29 states. This is 1.51 million acres below the estimated acreage in cotton last July 1.

The department's report shows it hopes for increased cotton production next year, as compared with 1951, in Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Arkansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and California.

The department's state-by-state production goals for 1952, compared with 1951, indicated production, include 1951 figure first, 1952 goal second:

Virginia 18,000 bales in 1951, 13,000 bales sought for 1952; North Carolina 610,000 and 477,000; South Carolina 877,000 and 735,000; Georgia 931,000

MANY VOICES make the Messiah. Pictured above is a part of the 13 soloists who will sing in the presentation in the Pampa Junior High school auditorium Dec. 14. Seated are Mrs. Kay Fancher, who will sing four selections, and Miss Jane Branson who will sing "Oh, Thou That Tellest Good Tidings." Standing are Bill Hutchinson, who will sing "The People That Walked in Darkness;" John Wallace, who will sing "Thy Rebuke Hath Broken His Heart;" Virgil Mott, who sings "For Behold, Darkness Shall Cover the Earth;" and Roy Johnson, who will present "Why Do the Nations Rage So Furiously Together." Kenneth Baumgardner, not pictured, will sing "Comfort Ye My People." (News Photo)

BEHIND THE SCENES a lot of work is needed. Mrs. J. W. Garman, Mr. G. F. Branson and Mrs. Lynn Boyd, pictured above, not only appear in the Messiah each year, but do much "behind the scene" organization. Mrs. Garman is making arrangements for floral decorations and the reception to follow the presentation, and Branson has arranged to get pianos which will be used in the Messiah. Mrs. Boyd got the patrons whose assistance make the presentation possible. Mrs. Boyd was a member of the first Messiah presented in 1930, and Mr. Branson sang the Messiah in Amarillo prior to his coming to Pampa. As a member of the Amarillo chorus, he also helped in the presentation of the Messiah here. (News Photo)

Annual Messiah To Be Presented Friday, Dec. 14

No one event is so completely harmonious with the Christmas theme as the oratorio, "The Messiah," written in 1741 by George Frederick Handel, and which is being repeated in Pampa this week in all the glory of its first performance over two centuries ago.

The modern-day "home of the Messiah" is Lindsborg, Kan., where a chorus of 500 has presented the oratorio annually for the past 50 years. In that little town of 700, many of the people sing without books, and the Christmas presentation has been carried on from generation to generation.

The first "Messiah" in Pampa dates back to 1930 when Mrs. May Foreman Carr organized a civic chorus here. Four of the original singers will appear in the chorus Friday at 8:15 p.m. in the Pampa Junior High school auditorium. They are Mrs. Lynn Boyd, Mrs. Dorothy Dodd Peacock, Mrs. Lucille Hinson and Mr. Clarence Coffin. Mrs. Carr will accompany the group along with Mrs. Ernestine Holmes Scott.

The largest of the 12 choruses presented here was the 1947 chorus with 127 singers. The last performance was given in 1948 with 115 members. Mrs. Carr has directed or accompanied the group each year.

In Pampa, as in Lindsborg, Kan., it is hoped "The Messiah" will be carried from generation to generation. One father and daughter team will appear this year, Mr. G. F. Branson and his daughter, Jane, who will sing "Oh, Thou that tellest Good Tidings." In the first presentation here, Mrs. C. C. Dodd and her daughter, Dorothy, appeared, and this is one of the few years Mrs. Dodd has not taken part in the chorus. There are also a few Pampans like those Kansans who can sing "The Messiah" without books. But however, the oratorio is sung, with books or without, it is sung from the heart, and therein lies its beauty.

The Mature Parent

By MURIEL LAWRENCE
Corra G. has hit on what seems to be a sure-fire, get-results-quick formula for making her two children obedient.

Three-year-old Emmy objects to brushing her teeth and her mother says, "Brush them - or they'll turn black, fall out so that you can't eat."

If Emmy objects to finishing her orange juice, Mrs. G. says, "Drink it - or your bones will turn soft." If she stoops to pick up a piece of shining silver paper from the pavement, her mother says, "Drop that dirty old candy wrapper - or you'll catch some bad germs."

As for seven-year-old Buddy, the formula is the same, a little softer. To him, his mother says, "Put your hair away - or I'll spank you."

Emmy sucks her thumb. Buddy stutters. Emmy and Buddy are frightened children.

To threaten, according to the dictionary is "coerce by the prediction of evil."

If obedience by threat were efficient, there might be something to say for it. It isn't. We can get away with it only so long as children are too young to recognize blackmail when they see it. When they wake up to how we are persecuting them, they will avenge themselves upon us by developing all kinds of bewildering and complicated emotional problems.

I recently heard a distinguished psychiatrist say, "Children are delinquent because they believe that they are doomed to live in an evil, threatening and predatory world."

When we force obedience by threatening disaster, we present our children with exactly that kind of world.

Everyone knows a real family Christmas is the best kind - something to anticipate for weeks and savor for a long time after.

To indulge in that pre-holiday spirit, make some of the decorations to be used in your home as well as the Christmas cards you are planning to send this year.

Thrill all your friends by sending Christmas cards with that "personal touch." Bits of colored construction paper, metallic wrapping paper, glue, felt, sequins, ribbon and colored pencils are necessary in creating these professional looking cards.

Here are some directions for making a Christmas card that is sure to please.

1. Cut the back of the cards 1 1/2" x 9" using colored construction paper, metallic wrapping paper, glue, felt, sequins, ribbon and colored pencils are necessary in creating these professional looking cards.

2. Fold each flat card in half lengthwise and in half again in its width. These cards are folded in this way, so that the front leaf is 1 1/2" shorter than the back leaf.

3. Create your own design or use an old card for a pattern. Remember that a simple card is much more attractive. A large smiling Santa with a short greeting - "Cheerio," "Best Wishes," "Noel," or "Christmas Greetings" could be used.

4. If you are planning to make the "Santa" Christmas card, you can use colored paper for the entire card or combining, use pink and hat trimming and red felt for holly leaves, red paper for berries, white felt for beard and hat trimming and red felt for hat.

5. Apply glue to back of each section and press in place. Use ink or water colors to follow lines of face. Place tissue paper over card and press over motif firmly. Allow to dry.

This same procedure can be used in making all types of cards.

If you would like other ideas or help, come by the home demonstration office. We have a pattern for a large angel and several small angels that would add a festive appearance to the family Christmas table, tree or mantel scene.

Experience is what you get when you're expecting something else.

'Why is GOURIELLI'S FIVE O'CLOCK eau de parfum in a class by itself?

AMONG the scores and scores of scents in this country, there is nothing like Gourielli's FIVE O'CLOCK eau de parfum. Absolutely nothing.

Why? Because the fragrance is in a class by itself—a rare blend of jasmine, rose, sandalwood and other costly essences. And because FIVE O'CLOCK is so gloriously concentrated, it will last from teatime till dawn.

Don't just put FIVE O'CLOCK behind your ears. Lavish it all over the warmest parts of your body—your temples, the nape of your neck, your throat, and even your wrists. These mysterious pulse spots will make the exquisite scent last even longer.

FIVE O'CLOCK eau de parfum comes in this delightful little cocktail shaker with a golden top. It's 3.00 for two ounces, 5.50 for four ounces—both in our perfume department, now.

Missionary Volunteer Group Will Begin Ingathering Campaign

Starting tonight and continuing until Christmas, the Missionary Volunteer group of the local Seventh-day Adventist church will engage in the annual ingathering campaign for funds in support of the church's world welfare uplift, medical, educational, and evangelistic program.

During the two week period they will endeavor to pass by every home in Pampa, singing Christmas carols, and sending a representative to the door to leave pamphlet briefly outlining the nature and extent of the work which costs the denomination more than $20 a minute twenty four hours a day to carry on.

"This work is carried on and supported continually by the church members, but once a year we visit neighbors and friends to give them the opportunity to share in the blessing of helping those less fortunate through their contributions of food, clothing or money," said Elder C. Herbert Lowe, local Adventist pastor.

Though numerically small as a denomination, Seventh-day Adventists are conducting missionary and welfare work in 228 of the world's 282 countries and island groups. Since their first missionary, J. N. Andrews sailed for Switzerland in 1874, the church has sent nearly 7,000 missionaries to other shores from the home base.

To facilitate this work they have 163 hospitals, sanitariums and clinics operated by the denomination and scores of clinics and treatment rooms operated on a missionary basis by doctors, physical therapy technicians and laymen.

PTA City Council Meets Thursday

The "Safety Responsibility Law" was discussed at a meeting of the City council PTA Thursday. Patrolman Bill Wells was guest speaker.

The safety responsibility law becomes effective Jan. 1, 1952, he explained, pointing out that it affects all motor vehicle owners and operators when they become involved in an accident resulting in death or injury to a person, or property damage to any one person (including yourself) exceeding $100.

"Within 24 hours after a motor vehicle accident resulting in death or injury, or property damage in the extent of $25, the operator of every car involved must file a written report with the department of public safety of the State of Texas," he said.

He warned that anyone can lose his motoring privileges by failure to comply with this law. Mr. Sam Bergart reported on the PTA convention in Dallas. It was also brought to the attention of the council that the new school gymnasiums may be used for $15, with $10 going to utility charges, and $5 to the janitor. Any Scout organization will not be charged.

It was also announced the dental program will begin in January. Each ward school will be assigned a month. The schedule is set up as follows: Baker, January; Horace Mann, February; Woodrow Wilson, March; Hopkins, April and Sam Houston, May. Junior high school will be examined in conjunction with the other schools.

Four Local Pupils Enter Piano Contest

During this week, June Gull, John Campbell, Carol Hughes and Jessie Lee Noel, have prepared piano recordings which will be entered in the International Piano Recording festival.

This festival is sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers and is open to pupils who have participated in the National Piano Auditions held each spring. They are pupils of Mrs. H. A. Yoder.

This year more and larger cash prizes are available to students. A total of $29,000 will be distributed to the winners of the 25 events in which the pupils may be entered. Medals of various types are also offered. Two of these pupils have won prizes in previous years. Last year June Gull was first place winner in her division and received a gold medal and cash prize, and John Campbell received a gold medal.

Asks a wife: "Can't you write something about husbands who act like star boarders in their own homes?"

"My husband does absolutely nothing about the house. If the baby cries, he hollers for me to do something, even though I may be in the middle of dish-washing or cooking a meal. If the older child wants a drink of water he says, 'Go ask your mother.'"

"He is getting fat from sitting around watching me work. And it all comes from his firm conviction that everything to do with running a house and taking care of children is 'woman's work' and beneath a man's dignity."

That attitude is becoming more rare all the time — but there are husbands like yours who still cling to it blindly.

They'll sit and watch their wives doing hard, physical work without ever thinking of lending a hand. They'll send the children to "Mama" for every small need. They'll hurry a wife, who is trying to get the whole family ready, to go out instead of pitching in and helping a little so the last minute things can be done quickly.

And they're proud of themselves, into the bargain. What they don't realize is that they are missing the real joy of family living by acting like star boarders.

They have wives who resent them, instead of feeling close to them. Their children, in time, begin to look on Dad as someone to steer clear of — and give all their love to the mother. And before long the whole family begins to feel that home is more fun when Dad isn't around, expecting service and offering nothing to family living but his pay check.

If you can make your husband see that in reality he — even more than you — is losing out by his star boarder attitude he may change his ways.

"O Star that led the Wise Men from the East, Shine on our revels — sanctify our feast! They sought the Prince of Peace: we seek Him, too: But not with myrrh and frankincense, with rue, The flower of Repentance, meet for those Who saw the Light and yet the Darkness chose. Though sometimes it may wax and sometimes wane. Yet beams that Star, yet beckons us again; Eternal challenge to the mystic Quest For Peace, which till he find, man may not rest. And it shall shine until its task be done, With all men brothers, and all nations one. Shine on our revels — sanctify our feast. O Star that led the Wise Men from the East." —F. Van Cleave

OUR TOWN is so pretty and gay, with all the glittering trimmings. Heard Dick Pepin say there wasn't a prettier one between here and Dallas. Guess he ought to know. Is there anyone who has to hop around any more than a city manager? Anyway, it's pretty enough for Peg. Saw more people on the streets shopping this week than Mrs. D. A. Finkelstein was stacked up to her chin with gaily wrapped packages when yours truly spotted her crossing the street. Also spied Peggy (Mrs. Roscoe) Pirtle in a becoming dark suit and hat.

IT WASN'T A METEOR, just a falling star, that threatened to smarl up traffic on the corner of Somerville and Kingsmill Thursday afternoon! Wonder if it's been set back up in its tinsel heaven. Can hardly wait to hear "The Messiah," the school Christmas programs, and to see the Christmas scenes in the park again. Understand that the absence of Charles Thomas is quite a handicap to the committee of artists. But seems to me they've still got plenty of talent to do anything they please. Saw one of them, Florence Jackson, in a handsome dark red and green tweed topper the other day. Wish someone would do a portrait of her. Her lovely eyes, so rich and warm and full of life, are unforgettable.

ORCHIDS TO SWEET little Beverly Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rogers, for winning the coveted title of Carnival Queen twice in succession! And she's only a sophomore! What kind of honors will she attain by the time she's a senior? Nice thing about it is, though, that she doesn't let any of the bouquets turn her pretty head, but still is the same sweet, unsophisticated girl she was before. Imagine the steady influence of her mother has a lot to do with it.

OUR BEST WISHES also to the happy couples soon to be married. . . Such a good time to heap on more joy. Especially want to extend nuptial felicitations to Bernalou McMinn and Wesley Byers who surely seem like a harmonious combination, if ever Peg heard of one. Their musical accomplishments are outstanding. . . Hope the home they establish will be likewise, the intervention of the military, notwithstanding. . .

DIDJA SEE THE JUNIOR PLAY? 'Twas really something. Peg thought, to see high schoolers handle a drama of such difficulty as "Arsenic and Old Lace" . . . Sure was a polished performance. . . So she wished for a checked apron and the chance to yank a few audience rowdies across it — in fact I coulda done a bit of "pizzoning" to the whores for not giving a single curtain call to that hard-working bunch of kids who let everything else go for almost two months to practice and perfect that play! But guess I couldn't go and get drastic with such a host of nice people and it was full of them. 'Cause I saw warbler Irma Kral (who was wearing a gorgeous new hairdo), cute little Eloise Carlisle and Karen Capps among the small fry, the Jimmy McCunes and Iri Smiths (whose daughters were specially good members of the cast and crew). . . Speaking of the latter, they were all so good it would be hard to name a favorite. Thought Ann Jordan and Reggy Mayo made a handsome couple as well as showing evidence of acting ability. The little old aunts were outa this world. Fact is, just think the school board should sorta take a bow for finding such a good director as the new Miss Billie Hutchings. Haven't met her yet, but those "results" speak volumes.

WOULDN'T IT BE NICE if we all had telephone manners like Bill Ragsdale and Ray Wilson. . . If it could either keep being warm and summery like "it's been a-being" or come a deep blanket of snow for Christmas. . . If Pampa would get the proposed new skyline. . . If we could carefree about our responsibilities when we go places as the Floyd Ward. . . Hear Dean and his dad took their own sweet time about getting home from a recent deer hunt. . . But that Dortha forgave all when she saw what they bagged. . . If we could all be as consistently well groomed as Mrs. Herman Foster. . . If we could attain insight and sense of purpose that characterizes a distinguished recent visitor, Miss Shige Kaseva, in her addresses at the First Baptist church. . . Saw Mrs. Lillian Snow and Mrs. Charles Burton among the interested audience. . . Also envy the quip-ability of Dr. Nelson, not to mention his broad human understanding and his scholarly background. . .

GOT YOUR CHRISTMAS BAKING DONE? Bet a few of the grocery shoppers I've seen recently have. . . There were Margaret (Mrs. W. L.) Boon and Helen (Mrs. Bill) Dixon, among others. . . Nice to see a former Pampian, exquisitely groomed Marie Stedje of Gayman, back in town last week end. . . Also in the same fashion plate category, a couple of TU coeds home for holidays, Margaret Price and Betty Jackson. . . Sweet little Mrs. Tom Rose and small son were downtown doing a bit of shopping. More pretty teal hats. . . Specially admired the ones worn by Mmes. Bill Bennink and Homer Johnson, and believe it was a real corduroy jockey hat atop the pretty head of Mrs. Kay Fancher one day last week.

NICE TO KNOW: Mrs. Clayton Husted, Nurse Peggy Stewart and Betty Brock.

NOT TOO BUSY TO SMILE DEPARTMENT: Nova Ann Brown, John Allford, Mrs. H. A. Yoder, Margaret Payne, Mrs. L. E. Twigg.

HOPE SOMEONE USES one of Peg's favorite types of Christmas decoration: a checkerboard arrangement of hand-torn "dollies" in window panes, with an over-all dotting of cotton snow. Specially school windows have been prepared by Mrs. Pulliam's first graders. . .

ADD TO THE TWIN COLLECTION the pretty little second or third grade daughters of the J. R. Millers. . . Guess I can just quit wishing I were twins and start wishing I were quints! Cause it's gonna take that many people to make the season's preparations for lagging.

NEW ECONOMIC BOSS

SAIGON, Vietnam — (AP) — A long-time American diplomat is the new "boss" of the United States economic mission in the Associated States of Indochina. He is David Williamson, of Chester town, Md. Blum now is in Washington directing Far East affairs for ECA.

Photographic Equipment Is Ideal Gift For Christmas

The increasing popularity of that a photographic gift is planned, those not thoroughly familiar with amateur photography and equipment should seek the advice of the camera store experts.

Whether you chose to give a simple, inexpensive brownie, a fine precision "reflex model," or a movie camera, the gift is especially appropriate for Christmas giving because it can be put into action immediately to record forever the gaiety of the occasion.

This capacity for making it possible for anyone to take pictures, any time, anywhere, in color or black and white, accounts for the popularity of picture making. For here is the means toward making delightful memories live forever.

There is a camera for everyone, from the inexpensive little brownies designed basically for the children, to the precision-built finer models that will be the joy of the person who has graduated to the class of amateurs who make photos for the love of making beautiful things.

Whether it is for the young child, the teen-agers or adults

Radios Can Be Found To Please All

The perfection of design that has been lavished on the modern radio receiver brings into existence a machine for every purpose that one might think of.

Foremost among those considered for gift giving are the amazing new portables and especially the tiny battery operated sets which in some instances can be referred to as pocket size.

These are especially desired by the sportsman who takes keen delight in listening to the broadcast of a game that he might be viewing in the flesh.

Larger portables are wanted for camping trips, for picnics, and for all purpose use. Most of these are of the three-way variety which permits plugging them in and using them as auxiliary radios in private rooms. They are perfect gifts for the bed-ridden.

The newer console sets which combine phonograph record players with fine quality reception and distinguished cabinet design are especially good gifts for the serious music lover.

And should any "serious amateur" be on your gift-giving list, then the photographic supply and equipment world is indeed a happy hunting ground for things with which to thrill them.

Here you move into the realm of the more expensive precision-built cameras, if that is what you want to give as a gift. Yet since the serious amateur no doubt has one or more fine cameras all ready, there are many other less expensive gifts to choose from.

It may be a gadget bag, a tripod, a darkroom timer, that you will choose. Maybe a new light meter is indicated. Be grand, and think in terms of a new enlarger. Or so simple a thing as a package of fine printing paper may be the choice. Here the list is endless.

But in planning such gifts, if you are not thoroughly informed yourself, be sure to seek the advice of experts in the store.

Complete Writing Sets Now In Three

Modern pen and pencil sets, basically desirable gifts for giving to men, women, boys and girls, include three, not just two writing instruments nowadays.

In addition to the automatic pencil and the fountain pen, the ball point pen has taken its place in these sets. However, any one, two or three of these items make good gifts. It doesn't have to be a set.

Suit Toys To Tykes, Is Expert Advice

The selection of toys you make for the youngsters on your Christmas list can play a very important part in their education for living. Shopping for toys should be preceded by some careful observation of each child's play interests, by playing with him and watching his play activities. Before you buy, take advantage of informative labels and tags which American manufacturers offer, advising an age appeal of toys, based on research.

Most children will develop many different interests, if you provide them with the toys that will encourage them. They like active physical play; they like imitative, imaginative, dramatic play; they like manipulative, constructive and especially creative play materials. They need toys not only for these interests, but also toys that change with the changing interests and capacities of the child at each age level.

In many homes where there is an only child or several boys or several girls, a youngster may miss out on important play experience because of the mistaken idea that certain types of toys are only for boys or only for girls.

Boys are just as keenly interested in family life as girls are. They need toys that are related to family life just as girls do.

It's Less Costly Than You Think

Fabulous reputation of the diamond need not necessarily mean equally fabulous outlay of money for jewelry items set with diamonds that one might want to give for gifts, says the Jewelry Industry Council.

You may have gold lockets, pendants, earrings, set with small diamonds for as little as $25.

For less than a hundred, you may choose watches or bracelets, gold star pins and rings, set with diamonds.

Modern methods of diamond cutting have given smaller diamonds greater fire and lustre than in the past, says the council.

and shapes; puzzles, games with words, numbers, time; more musical instruments; simple carpentry equipment; boats and trains, etc.

For 6 to 8 years — in addition, toys, science materials; all kinds of mechanical toys; real house-keeping things; miniatures of all kinds; paper dolls and cut-outs; dress-up materials, etc.

For 8 years and over — hobby outfits of all kinds; competitive games; games of skill and information; puzzles; costumes and props for simple dramatics; model sets; puppets; construction sets, etc.

These age norms should not be applied rigidly — each child grows and matures at his or her own rate and some are fast and some are slow. Buy toys that fit your child, not an age group.

Rings Are Tops For Men

Throughout recorded history men have gone in for wearing rings, the Jewelry Industry Council reports, yet never in such unprecedented numbers as today.

It seems likely that, as a going away or token gift to men, the ring appears to get an almost universal welcome, and the modern trend in this direction has its clearly defined origins in war and the social effects of war.

Regular army men and West Point and Annapolis officers long wore insignia and class rings, and newly enlisted men and draftees liked the idea too. While the armed forces were building up for global action during World War II, ring manufacturers could scarcely keep up with the demand.

Colored stone rings for men largely because of the great variety of interesting gemstone hues and colors now available, are becoming increasingly popular. Birthstones with their great diversity of color maintain their popularity in civilian as well as in military life, and sales of both fraternal and emblematic rings have greatly increased.

While substantial and conservative-looking signet and diamond rings have always made a hit, it is well to remember that the rings bought for men range from plain gold to elaborate gem-set rings many of them quite expensive and of novel design.

There is scarcely any man's hobby or main line of interest which cannot be given expression, some - how, in a carefully chosen ring.

FRANCER AND DANCER — Santa may miss the two reindeer that now add Christmas beauty to Levine's in Pampa, but, according to reliable sources, he is more than happy to help create this colorful and exciting decoration in Levine's shoe department. (News Photo)

New Toys Show How Real Thing Works

New vistas of exploration open to the lucky child who receives mechanical and constructive toys. There's a racer with a transparent engine, revealing the authentic action of pistons, crank shaft, fan and gears.

There also is a horse-drawn sulky which actually reproduces a trotter's gait and a realistic bus terminal with a concealed record which announces station points, arrivals and departures.

BUTTERFLY NETS

Worth stimulating is the interest of young people in nature. Among gifts to help are such things as butterfly nets and magnifying glasses.

Don't turn to drink to drown your sorrows; you'll only irritate them.

Television Is Tops As A Family Gift

Tops as a major gift for the whole family this Christmas, if there isn't as yet one in the home, is a new television set. Here is the avenue to many leisure hours of fascination for sis and brother, mother and dad.

The rapidly expanding facilities for transmitting television where every family may soon be able to be within sight and sound of the wonders it has to offer, no matter where they may live in this nation.

For dad, who no doubt will be the master of the giving in this instance, a new television receiver will mean as much of interest to him as to every other member of the family.

First off, as far as he is concerned, it is comparable to a pass to all the major league baseball and football games in the country. In addition, many other sporting events like boxing and wrestling will be on tap for him.

For the youngsters it represents a fairyland of entertainment with new comic characters to be seen in action as well as heard, and even more important, access to programs that will help them gain knowledge of the world in which we live.

For mother, who always is thinking of someone else, it means the newest and modern way of entertaining friends and of keeping the family circle closer together. With the new sets available in almost every room, they also mean a new decorative feature for the living room or den.

Those who are considering giving a television set to their family in time for this Christmas are urged to plan their selection without further delay.

Time should be allowed for proper installation of the new set. But most of all, restrictions on critical defense materials could result in curtailment of television set production.

When purchasing a new television set, experts advise that the choice be made from among reliable brand products dealt by equally reliable home town dealers in order to insure correct installation for best reception and access to service and replacement parts whenever needed.

There is no question about the fact that a hat can be tops as a Christmas gift for a man. Neither is there any problem involved in giving him one that will fit perfectly, fulfill his every fashion requirement, and still come to him as a pleasant Yuletide gift surprise.

For the Mini-Hat is available representing almost every one of the famous named brands of hats he so much admires. And the Mini-Hat does away entirely with the necessity of having to take him in ahead of time to reveal the nature of the gift you're planning for him.

In most instances the Mini-Hat is a replica of a man's hat box. All are handsomely designed and useful in their own right. Most make wonderful little permanent and decorative containers for cuff links, studs, small coins or any other such things he likes to keep handy. One contains a useful and clever key chain.

In any event the Mini-Hat, no matter what brand representation you want to give, is small enough for hanging on the tree. You get them at the better men's store with a certificate entitling your man to have the hat of his choice when he comes in to make his selection and be fitted. Just ask the clerk who waits on you.

Atomic Era Brings Many New Playthings For The Kiddies

The image of Santa Claus in mind the age, sex, stage of each succeeding generation, but the description of him that includes "A bundle of toys he had slung on his back," is the part that makes youthful imaginations fairly tingle with excitement and expectation when Christmas is in the air.

Each child envisions his very own toys in the "jolly man's" pack and it's an important and sometimes difficult job for the parents to make this dream a wondrous reality.

Taking into consideration the overwhelming variety of new toys and old favorites that appear on Christmas counters, the shopper will do well to heed the advice of the Toy Guidance Council, which has prepared a pre-Christmas guide to help you in selection of toys.

On the basis of scientific findings as well as work with leading educators, the Toy Guidance Council offers the following suggestions for 1951:

Adopt the attitude, when purchasing toys, that they're not only playthings but "tools for play and learning." Always keep development, natural inclinations and interests.

A playtoy too advanced can be frustrating, and one too simplified lacks the necessary challenge and stimulation.

Purchase the toy with the child's desires in mind, not yours, and use good common sense in selecting safe toys.

Special care should be taken in the selection of toys for the infant up to one year of age. Color, safety and sanitary features are particularly important.

Make sure that your choice will stimulate dramatic, physical and creative interests which develop mental and social growth. But remember — toys must be fun if they're to be used.

Try not to buy toys for eye appeal alone. For if the child can only watch a toy function and not actively participate, much of the play value is lost.

Over protection on your part for the child's safety which leads for example to depriving him of bikes, carts and skates when he's ready for them is really quite selfish and can lead to bad consequences.

It's important not to overload the child with toys at Christmas and neglect to add to them during the year.

This season, few childhood dreams are too fantastic to become realities in the modern toy world. Futuristic themes have appeared in perfectly safe atomic energy sets with Geiger counters which stress peacetime application of this new force, to atomic rockets that race across the floor, space telephones which simulate the walkie-talkie and actually work, and other scientific paraphernalia.

Aside from these new innovations, the youngsters have by no means forsaken the old stand-bys. Western games, holster sets, cowboy suits are still desired gifts.

Doll houses are a consistent favorite of little girls and are now modernized with garages and swimming pools.

Dolls themselves are more lifelike than ever, with some whose hair can be washed, permanented and set, and who do things like walk, sing and blow bubbles almost by themselves.

Furniture Is A Gift For All The Family To Use And Enjoy

Thinking in terms of what is closest to the hearts of every one at Christmas time, focuses a bright light of attention on the home as the starting point for planning gifts for every member of the family, and also for major gifts for the whole family as a group.

For home is closest to every one at Christmas time, and during recent years, despite the wealth of interesting diversions to be found outside, the trend toward spending more time at home is growing apace.

Some give much of the credit for this to the spread of television. The receiving set in the living room has become a centerpiece around which the family gathers to enjoy a world of entertainment and education.

Making the home more comfortable, more livable — yes, more modern — for each and every member of the family, is one of Santa's foremost assignments for this Christmas, and this means taking advantage of the wide opportunities for gift giving afforded by furniture and furnishings for the home.

Sometimes, when something really big is considered as gift for the whole family, members can club together to make it possible.

Or it is to be a real "Christmas-for-the-home" this year, each member can choose a different piece for delivery just before Christmas day.

If there is no television set in the home now, this may be the Christmas when dad will want to choose one for the family. If there is one in the home, then some of the newly designed chairs for more comfortable television viewing will add much to the comfort and appearance of the living room. Or complete furnishing may be in order.

And speaking of chairs, here are wonderful gifts to be chosen for mother or for dad or for both, to give him a new lounging comfort and her a matching pleasure plus the joy she will derive from the new note that can be added to the decor.

With the family spending more time at home, and the children growing up, perhaps mother would be thrilled by a complete new dining room suite. Or maybe new lamps will please her most to brighten up every room.

Tables in infinite variety and always useful, ranging from the cocktail and coffee tables to the end tables and to the handsome new nests of tables for party occasions, make wonderful gifts for the home, for presentation to the mother, aunt or young couple.

Long, low, handsomely designed chests made to hold everything from precious silver to men's shirts, or things one wants to keep but which must be stored away will be received by acclaim especially if the ones for whom you plan the gift lack normal storage space. Think of the apartment dwellers among your friends and relatives.

There is so much new and useful among gifts of furniture and furnishings for the home, wise Christmas when dad will want to choose one for the family. If

Good Taste Is Echoed In Your Selection Of Christmas Gifts

For the ultimate in personal giving, the Christmas shopper will find the Jewelry store a happy hunting ground indeed. For here, at prices starting modestly and ranging upward, is a brilliant array of gifts which combine the beautiful, the lasting, the romantic and the useful, all with a touch of prestige that will be eloquent of the good taste of the giver.

A recent survey throws considerable light on the popularity of the jewelry store as the place from which to choose a gift that is really fine. The survey showed that people like to give to those they love, something they would like to own themselves.

This is taken by the Jewelry Industry Council as making it clear why both men and women like to buy watches for each other; or husbands and wives choose gleaming silverware.

Regardless of whether it is a man or a woman, the personal element will find warm expression in a piece of fine jewelry. For example, the class of gifts may be strictly feminine — as with tailored gold pins, clips, rings, or handbag gadgets, such as gold or silver compacts, pill or perfume bottles, cigarette holders, jeweled lipsticks, make-up mirrors, or earrings.

Nevertheless, the kick a man gets out of buying such things for the ladies of his choice is quite personal, perhaps because, subconsciously, he himself likes the design, the tricky appearance (his ingenuity or "cuteness") for its own sake — it appeals to his play instinct.

Also, when similar design values are found in those twenty-odd items of personal jewelry for men, the kick a man gets may, in turn, be shared in degree by most women shoppers who are after gifts for men.

FASHIONS PLAY PART
Of course, it is helpful for men to know how the wind blows with respect to women's fashions, at least in broad outlines.

Thus, men will be interested to know that bracelets are receiving strong emphasis again, along with heavy gold chains and richly textured pieces to go with the new novelty fabric combinations — such as a very sleek fabric against a roughly-finished one.

Flashing color for earrings and in other jewelry is required to sparkle against the dark brown and blacks of this year's color trend in women's clothing generally.

Smoke tones in pearls are also important, in turn; because varying shades of gray are so important to the stylists this season. Interest in necklines, as we all must have noted, has increased and focussed the interest in jewelry items to fill — in the open suit necklines, as well as important — looking gold or silver pins to dramatize higher dress necklines.

Women, in turn, have probably been aware that the trend in men's clothing is toward greater elegance and refinement — the "bold" look grows more conservative; shoulders become narrower.

Thus, smart gold links in the tailored manner for business are always in style, along with emblematic designs for the "joiner." Colored gem stone, birthstone, or diamond links are highly personal, too.

Rings make wonderfully thoughtful gifts for men; originally in choice is never difficult, with birthstone, signet, and the many emblematic designs available.

Such gifts as gold or silver bars and chains, initial buckle

PERSONAL PORTRAIT
Most personal of all gifts, is of course, the formal portrait. Preferably presented in a well-chosen frame. Arrange with the photographer for an early appointment — if you plan this for Christmas.

key chains, money clips, pen and pencil sets, cigarette cases, watch bands, military brushes, or silver bar sets are worth consideration especially when the man is the sort who seems to have "just about everything."

Wrist watches, always interesting gift items for men, women, and the younger set, are highly individual in design range and type this season. Each member of the family may have a watch precisely suited to his or her favorite sport, profession, or hobby. Technical advances have been remarkable in the past few years; watch manufacturers have grown tremendously style- and fashion-conscious also.

Christmas Tree Harvest Is Not A Waste, Experts Claim

Perhaps you've felt, as Theodore Roosevelt did 50 years ago, that the practice of cutting young evergreen trees to use as Christmas trees was wasteful. Roosevelt banned the use of Christmas trees in the White House until his two little sons appealed to America's first professional forester and the friend of their father, Gifford Pinchot, who explained that the practice was not harmful to the forests, but extremely helpful!

That advice, which was good enough to convince a strong-minded president, is repeated today by the American Forest Products Industries, a wood-industries sponsored organization.

They explain that nearly half of the 21 million evergreens that make up America's Christmas tree harvest are farm-produced. Nearly nine-tenths of the entire crop was cut on privately-owned timberland. To augment this annual harvest, about five million evergreens are imported annually, most of them from Canada.

Besides carrying out the tradition of having a fragrant Christmas tree in two out of every three homes, this harvest of Christmas trees pours an estimated $9 million dollars yearly into the economic bloodstream of the nation.

Most of the American Christmas trees are thinned from natural growth forests. An original stand of from five to ten thousand trees per acre will actually mature only a few hundred saw log size trees. Most of the trees cut at Christmas would eventually have been eliminated by Nature in the life and death struggle for forest space.

When it comes to selecting a Christmas tree, most Americans have definite favorites. The best seller on the market is the balsam fir, a product of New England and Northeastern United States. About six and one-half million of these are sold in an average year. The second most popular is the Douglas fir of the Pacific coast. Black spruce, red cedar and white spruce follow as America's favorites.

These five varieties make up 83 percent of all the Christmas trees used in the United States each year. Others that are popular are Scotch pine, Southern pine, red spruce, Virginia pine, white fir, Norway spruce, hemlock, cypress and juniper.

Set Christmas To Music With Records Gift

Your wish for a Merry Christmas is set to music when you include fine recordings and record albums among the things you plan to give for the Yuletide.

There are few people of any age left among our music loving population for whom something that is perfect can't be chosen, because everyone loves good music of one type or another, and almost every home is now equipped with a record playing machine.

If not, a player plus some records, will be a gift of special magnificence, introducing the one who receives them to a whole new world of enjoyment.

"Show albums" containing virtually complete scores of the most popular musical shows rate especially high as gifts to please everyone. The classics of opera and symphony music will furnish the opportunity for selecting records to give to the serious music lover.

American folk music has come into its own and folk records by favorite instrumentalists, orchestras and vocalists are available in interesting array.

Similarly the number of "non-musical" "recitation" type albums are growing in favor. They bring the voices of great actors and story tellers and also the speeches of public figures into the home for keeps.

The variety of recordings made expressly for children is tremendous. An important part of making a successful choice for children is to select a record of an album they will like, not one that appeals solely to you.

Records available for children range from nursery rhymes to classical music, from story telling records to folk music. Thus there is something for every age. The record dealer can be very helpful here.

Take New Approach To Gift Of Ties For Men This Year

This year the smart woman who plans to include ties—and what woman does not so plan—among her gifts for Christmas to the man (or maybe men) in her life, is going to take a new approach to them when she makes her selections.

The time has come when smart girls realize that ties constitute perhaps the single most important costume-change accessories in the male wardrobe. What man dare wear the same tie two days running.

Therefore, one tie as a gift is hardly a gift at all. What's really called for here is a gift of a "tie wardrobe," made up of several — half a dozen or more if the budget will permit — carefully chosen to his personality.

To help in selecting a wardrobe of ties for Christmas the Men's Tie Foundation offers some valuable guidance, as follows:

Relate the tie to his favorite suit style. Panel ties, planned bold patterns, story designs, "conversation pieces" are good with single-breasted suits worn without vests. Smaller patterns and higher colors are best with double-breasted suits where less of the tie shows.

Relate the tie to his suit colors. Pick colors or color combinations that point up his suit colors, such as navy brown and red to emphasize a navy suit.

Relate the tie to the type of man he is. If he's an extrovert, pick him a tie that has "conversational value," an unusual design, a famous signature, a hobby or story tie. If he's conservative, don't try to make him over. Select conservative patterns in some of the newer clear jewel tones and new rich fabrics.

Relate the tie to his wearing needs. If he's a sports enthusiast get him a sports or casual tie — corduroy, gabardine, knit, wool, hand printed. Look at the new satins and jacquards for his new occasions. For business con-

Car Can Give You Gift Clue

With men taking so much pride in the motor cars they own, here is the starting point for choosing gifts for them which are sure to please.

The list of motor car accessories that are candidates for gift giving is almost endless.

They range from sheer decorations, in the form of emblems, club insignia, to devices that contribute to the safe operation of the automobile, and others which will make the car work more efficiently.

Remember, too, that there are car radios available for gift giving to insure the man entertainment when he is traveling alone or with companions. Though his car may now be equipped with a radio, perhaps it needs replacement.

Rear vision mirrors that give the driver a view of the right side of the road from behind the wheel, are as readily available as those which are better known and are used to give left side vision.

For this Christmas, another welcome gift would be a dispenser of tissues which are so useful while motoring.

Allow Time For Monograms, The Personal Touch On Gifts

The ultimate in adding the personal touch to the gifts you give for Christmas calls for monogramming.

Though vast progress has been made in creation of readily available monograms, if you want to have something special, be sure to shop early and allow plenty of time for the job to be done to your specifications.

Though one thinks of jewelry first, when one thinks of monogrammed gifts, remember for example, that the gift of stationery also should be monogrammed. Here time must be allowed for printing even if the combination of initials you may be looking for is available in the design you want.

Initialed handkerchiefs are to be had in almost any fabric you may desire, with initials in attractive style. Monogramming of wearing apparel—scarfs, sweaters, blouses, men's shirts, robes—however, may require more time even if ready-made monograms are to be found.

And as for jewelry, you can go much farther than simple monogramming, in personalizing the gift. Most jewelry gifts really should have a brief engraved inscription from the giver to the recipient.

This can be accomplished inexpensively to convey the very essence of the thought you had in mind in selecting the special gift of jewelry — but to insure your ability to present the gift on Christmas Day, be sure to shop early in order to give the jeweler time in which to do the engraving — carefully.

Luxury Gifts Can Be Useful

Dress her up this Christmas in gifts she'll boast of proudly at holiday festivities then happily ever after for special events through the year.

Lavish her with luxury, for example, with a fur jacket, cape, stole or a set of scarfs she's sure to prize whether they're of precious mink or practical muskrat.

Strut her off on a flattering new dress-up ensemble with an evening blouse or sweater. To enhance its festive air choose it with a low-cut neckline, long sleeves or none at all and a generous sprinkling of colorful embroidery or sparkling bead applique.

An evening bag, a glitter with beads or of elegant brocade, is just what she wants to keep at hand everywhere she goes. And to fit into the bag and complete her costume to perfection, why not a compact that holds all from cigarettes to powder puff?

A pair of gloves that reach high on her arm, in beloved white kid or finest lace, will prove flattering accent to her most décollete holiday gown.

If you give her a vial of the perfume of her dreams — watch out — for her aura of glamour will be greater than ever at the next Yuletide party.

Manicure sets, with or without shining efficient cutlery, are packaged in regal leather kits or gay plaid containers. While dusting powder pairs with cologne in Christmas-themed packages and even delicately scented soap joins the Yuletide spirit in packages adorned with happy symbols of the season.

Important are the scents—colognes and perfumes—that win a favored place 'neath every girl's Christmas tree. A brief description of the lady; her likes and dislikes is sufficient for any willing sales person to take over from there and insure a most successful gift.

REMEMBER THEN TOO! Remember, too, pretty and practical handkerchiefs, available in a greater variety of prints, colors and sizes than ever before. The umbrellas with their slim and jaunty handles, made of newest long-wearing fabrics.

The luggage that can be selected as an entire wardrobe or, perhaps, just one strategic piece. The sturdy, yet feminine ski togs she'll enjoy wearing on chilly days around home as much as she will on the slopes.

And the gift box of hostery that always holds a promise of heartfelt thanks. For this is the year when individuality can well be the keynote of giving. For there's a multitude of variations of every gift imaginable ready for happy and easy choice.

Consider Diamond For Little Girl

Consider a tiny, real diamond for the very little girl. She'll have a diamond baby ring a lot longer than any other present she gets this Christmas.

With the ring, give a charm bracelet to which links may be added. When she outgrows the ring she can suspend it on her bracelet and wear it until she's married. That should keep you in her memory, Mr. Santa Claus, for some time to come.
