Reds Account For 726 More Prisoners; 571 Dead

UN Command Labels Report As 'Shocking'

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — The Communists accounted today for 726 more captured Americans, but said 571 of them had died.

The other 155 escaped or were released, they said. But not one of these has returned to Allied lines, a United Nations command spokesman said.

The UN command called the report a "shocking disclosure." None of the 726 was named in a prisoner list supplied by the Reds last week.

CHECKING — Communists said they were checking to see what happened to 332 other Americans.

After studying the Red report of 1058 names, the UN command said they were all American.

A spokesman said this was a list submitted Monday and Saturday by the UN in a demand for an accounting.

Another 45 men — 20 British and 25 Americans — were not mentioned. The Allies asked about these 45 Monday.

The Allied announcement was the first disclosure of the precise number of non-Korean prisoners it had asked about — 3105.

BLAME UN PLANES — The Reds detailed by name what they said had happened to 726. (The names were not released by the UN command.)

Intentionally they blamed Allied war planes and artillery for many of the 571 deaths. They tied, the Reds said, "air attack, artillery fire and disease."

The Reds made their report in a note. It was delivered during an unproductive armistice session Wednesday at Panmunjon during the closing hours of a 30-day Korean truce trial period.

At the same session the Communists delivered the first bundle of mail from Allied prisoners in North Korea to their families. The number of letters was a not reported. The package was large enough to hold several hundred letters.

REJECT DEMAND — The Communist note also: 1. Rejected an Allied demand for an accounting of 50,000 South Korean troops missing in action.

2. Asked the Allies what happened to 44,205 Reds the Communists said were captured.

3. Charged the Allies list of Red captives submitted last week was 1456 short of the announced total of 132,472.

Passing — The letter, handed to Rear Adm. R. E. Libby at a Panmunjon session by North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho, said the Reds were trying to account for 1058 American and other non-Korean troops.

Truce Period Ends Thursday

MUNSAN, Korea — (AP) — A 30-day truce trial period ends in Korea tomorrow. But armistice negotiations will go right on.

The freezing 145-mile front may remain quiet. Or it may explode in a violent end to 30 days of twilight war. That was anybody's guess. Authorities disagreed.

The official 30-day deadline will wipe out a tentative cease-fire line. It then must be re-drawn, if an armistice is signed, to show actual battle changes.

The official 30-day deadline, a UN command spokesman said, is midnight Thursday. That's 11 a.m. Thursday, EST.

Miners May Take Memorial Walkout

WEST FRANKFORT, Ill. — (AP) — Speculation grew today that the nation's miners may stage a work stoppage in memory of the 119 men who died in the West Frankfort coal mine explosion.

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers union, wouldn't comment on the work stoppage talk, however.

"I have no comment one way or another," he said. "I will neither confirm nor deny the UMW contract permits 'memorial period' work stoppage of up to five days a year for mine disaster victims. Speculation growing daily in mining circles is that Lewis will call a memorial work stoppage delay around New Year's day. This would coincide with the threatened steel strike."

Lewis and other UMW officials came here shortly after the violent explosion ripped through the Orient No. 2 mine last Friday, bringing death to 119 miners.

CHANCE TO RECOVER — One miner, Cecil Sanders, was taken alive from the blasted tunnel after virtually all hope was abandoned. He has been given a good chance to recover.

His physician, Dr. John Summers, described the miner's condition as fair and said, "you can't be too sure he's out of danger until he has been up and around for about a week."

Sanders suffered a relapse Monday night and developed a fever, but he still was expected to pull through.

A SAD DAY — Christmas was a sad day for West Frankfort. Funerals were held for some of the victims and additional funerals were being arranged.

Yesterday the press was scheduled to interview Sanders but his doctor said his condition did not permit it.

The 44-year-old miner was allowed to participate briefly in a radio broadcast. In a two-minute exclusive interview over St. Louis radio station KSD, he described his actions after the explosion.

He said "nobody but God had anything to do" with his rescue. Sanders has been a Baptist church deacon at nearby Benton, Ill., for 17 years.

During his ordeal, Sanders himself apparently had given up hope of surviving. Lying exhausted and (See MINERS Page 2)

Hollaway Service Slated Thursday

Services for Mrs. Patty Laura Hollaway, 1015 E. Scott, who died in her home Tuesday after a long illness, will be held at Wilson, Okla., Thursday. She was 64.

Mrs. Hollaway moved to Pampa two years ago from Carter county, Okla. She was born in Clay county, Texas.

Surviving are her husband, Harvey Hollaway, three sons from Pampa, Lee, Billy and Charles; two sisters, Mrs. Viola McCradie, Ryan, Okla., and Mrs. Hazel Stewart, Pampa.

Carruth Named Gray PMA Head

Clyde L. Carruth recently was named chairman of the Production Marketing Administration for Gray County. Pampa chairman is Marvin C. Webster.

Evelyn J. Mason, administrative county officer, said applications for leaving stubble on land and for payment covering a 11 practices during 1951 must be returned after Tuesday.

Through June of next year loans up to 85 percent of cost will be available to producers on farm storage facilities. Farmers can receive approval on practices after Tuesday.

To receive a 5 percent discount allowable to those paying premiums by Feb. 28, wheat acreage must be reported by Monday, Miss Mason said.

Farouk's Bid For Peace With West Touches Off Riots

CAIRO — (AP) — A clear indication from King Farouk that he wants a settlement with the West touched off violent anti-palace and anti-western demonstrations today. The King appears to be worried about burgeoning community activity and to want alignment with the West in the cold war with Russia.

In Alexandria, police used tear gas to break up a student mob of 5000 demonstrating against the appointment by the King of Dr. Hafez Afifi Fasha, strong pro-westerner, as chief of the royal cabinet and adviser to Farouk on foreign and domestic affairs.

Seven police were reported injured by missiles thrown by the demonstrators. Two students were hurt. Earlier reports that police opened fire were denied.

DISPEL STUDENTS — In Cairo police dispersed a shouting crowd of Fouad university students and were ordered on alert against further outbreaks. The press reported a state of emergency already was in effect.

The Leftist and Communist-inspired section of the press stepped up its clamor for firmer government action against the British. This section of the press has openly advocated Egypt's alignment with the Communist bloc of nations.

WANTS SETTLEMENT — The appointment by Farouk of Afifi and another pro-westerner to the royal cabinet is interpreted to mean the King wants a settlement with the West based upon recognition of Egypt's national demands. The Egyptians seek full control of the Anglo-Egyptian Sudan and want evacuation of the British from the Suez canal zone. The West, meanwhile, has been rebuffed in its invitation to Egypt to join a Middle East command for defense against possible Communist aggression.

The appointments apparently were a jolt to the dominant Wafdist party, whose leaders have insisted upon no compromise with the British. They want the British to clear out at once.

Jennings Rites Today: Texas Holiday Toll Of Death Climbs To 94

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS — The Christmas season meant death to 94 persons in Texas as the grim holiday death count ended Christmas night.

Grinding smashups on the crowded highways killed 61 persons from the time the Associated Press count began at 12:01 a.m. Saturday.

Texas was the most dangerous state in the nation, where the overall count reached 766 violent deaths with 486 of them in traffic.

The Texas total included two Pampans, Jackie Bonner, 19, killed in an auto accident near White Deer early Saturday, and Mrs. Norma Lea Jennings, 932 E. Francis who died in a two-car collision in Amarillo Sunday.

Nearly as ghastly as the massacre by automobiles were the 18 killed in Texas by gunfire — accidents, killings and suicides.

Eight died in fires, two were stabbed, three drowned, one died in a fall and another was killed with an axe.

Services for Mrs. Jennings were held at 2 p.m. today in Central Baptist church, Rev. Hal Upchurch, officiating.

Mrs. Jennings moved here from Borg in Texas ago and was a member of the Central Baptist church.

Surviving are her husband, L. D., two children, Vicki and Rhonda; mother, Mrs. Sadie Bageley, and brother, Lewis Bageley, both of Borg; two sisters, Louise Haddock, Phillips, and Wanda Holland, Farmington, N.M. Burial was in Fairview cemetery.

Mrs. Jennings was thrown from the car in which she was riding when it was in collision with another car, police said. She died enroute to an Amarillo hospital.

Plans Mapped On City Work

City hall and court house offices were open today after the long holiday week end. Only routine work was underway.

The story was slightly different in City Engineer Ray Evans' office where effort was directed primarily toward water and sewer improvements.

ON DRAWING BOARDS — Wayland Merriman, consulting engineer on the extensive city water and sewer project, said plans and specifications on the 16 and 12-inch water mains, and the 18 and 12-inch outfall sewer lines were on the drawing boards and would soon be ready for turning over to prospective contractors. The lateral lines—smaller water and sewer lines running down alleys—will be installed by the city. Both jobs must be done simultaneously, Evans said. So, while city employees work on the small lines a contractor will be laying the large ones connecting to them.

LIGHTS DELAYED — However, it was apparent this morning that installation of the additional traffic lights may not be completed until late 1952 unless delivery of the lights can be jumped ahead several months. Evans said delivery of the traffic lights could not be made until sometime during the last quarter of next year.

Merriman, whose engineering contract also covers drilling the additional water well south of town and construction of the bridges and culverts in the same recently approved $575,000 bond issue, will start blueprint work on the bridges and culverts as soon as the main lines for water and sewer are completed.

Police Say Gen. Dean Given To Reds For $10

PUSAN, Korea — (AP) — Police today said two South Koreans had handed over to the Communists a captured general, William F. Dean, for $10.

Chief investigation officer Yoon Myung Woon said the two had been arrested and freed on bail. He did not give the amount. Yoon said Cholla province police had orders to keep the men under "strict surveillance."

The officer said the two received "30,000 won ($5) each from the Reds for enabling the Red army" to capture the U. S. 24th Division commander near Chinan, about 35 miles south of Tsejon.

Yoon said the men are Han Doo Kyoo, 35, and Choe Chong Song, 22.

He said they admitted receiving the reward for Dean's capture but declared they turned Army Accused Of 'Inexcusable Waste'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A Senate subcommittee has accused the Army of "inexcusable and indefensible waste" by "endlessly repeating training cycles" for some units.

A report by the group said that while these units are "marking time" some other units are being trained at camps where there is not enough space for field work.

"The nation gains no strength merely because more and more men wear army uniforms," the subcommittee said. "With our acute national manpower shortage, any assembly of able-bodied men into a non-productive enterprise likely unnecessarily repeated training is the most flagrant sort of waste."

While rapping the Army on this and other matters, the committee said it is clear that "no one service is more prodigal or more prudent than the others."

Waste by military forces is not intentional, the report said, but "simply resulted from unconcern with economy, an absence of genuine enthusiasm for efficiency, a widespread lack of any real 'cost consciousness'."

In a report to the Senate made public last night, the armed services subcommittee on defense preparedness suggested that promotion for military officers be based in part upon "demonstrated ability to conserve men, money and materials."

The group had previously criticized what it termed waste by the Air Force, Navy and Marines. In a separate statement of his own, the subcommittee chairman, Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Texas) commended Secretary of the Army Pace for initiating a "cost consciousness" program in the Army.

"Obviously, anyone who tries to eliminate waste from the armed services has cut out a tough job for himself," Johnson said.

Milk Prices Jump 1 Cent

Local milk prices jumped one cent this morning.

Pampa creamery operators said the increase was due to a one-cent hike in prices paid to dairy farmers. The boost was passed on to the consumer.

Pampa householders today began paying 26 cents per quart for pasteurized milk, 27 cents for homogenized and 22 cents for butterfat milk.

Last local milk price raise was Sept. 17 when dairies began paying a penny more per quart to dairy farmers and passed the raise on to the consumer.

Pampa dairy officials said this morning that increased costs of feed had forced dairy farmers to demand more money for the milk. They said the penny increase will not mean more profit for the dairy which processes milk nor for the retail store.

While The Government Ponders: Private U. S. Citizens Begin Raising $120,000 For Fliers

WASHINGTON — (AP) — While the government pondered what to do about Hungary's offer to free four U. S. airmen in exchange for $120,000, private citizens in scattered areas promised to raise the money promptly.

Robert Vogeler, an American who was a prisoner of the Hungarian Communist regime for two years, said he will seek to coordinate private efforts to raise the $120,000 in fines levied against the four fliers.

EMBARRASSING — "I can understand any official ransom payment by the government might be embarrassing to the United States," Vogeler told a reporter in New York. "But I think this way we might accomplish the same thing without embarrassment to the government."

There was no indication as to how the State department would react to efforts by private citizens to raise the fine money and thus save the four fliers imprisoned by Hungary from serving three months each in jail.

The imprisoned airmen are Capt. John J. Swift of Glens Falls, N. Y., Capt. Dave Henderson of Shawnee, Okla.; T-Sgt. Jess A. Duff of Spokane, Wash. and Sgt. James A. Elam of Kingsland, Ark.

LOST NOV. 19 — They got lost in the air over Hungary Nov. 19 while flying supplies from Germany to the U. S. embassy in Belgrade, Yugoslavia. Soviet fighters forced them to land their unarmed C-47 on Hungarian soil.

On Sunday the Hungarian government announced that a military court had convicted the fliers of violating the Hungarian border and had fined them each, with the alternative of spending three months in jail.

STILL DEBATING — The State department was still debating what to do about the Hungarian demands. Some members of Congress have urged that

Driver Fined After Crash Near Lake

Failure to report an accident cost Simon Mallard, Borger, $20 and costs this morning before Justice of the Peace John V. Andrews.

Mallard, the sheriff's office reported, was driving a pickup truck toward Pampa when he apparently lost control and turned over as he was coming out of the detour around McConnell Lake on State Hwy. 152. The wreck occurred about 5:45 p.m. yesterday. According to Chief Deputy Sheriff Shirley Mickola, Mallard refused the aid of a wrecker and drove the pickup to town. He was picked up by the sheriff's department at 7:30 p.m. and released on his own recognizance to appear this morning in justice court on charges of failing to turn in a report of the accident.

Although the truck was heavily damaged only slight injuries were suffered by Mallard and his companion.

Motorist Is Fined $200 On Charge Of Drunken Driving

A fine of $200 and costs was assessed today in county court against Fred Otis Parker, Borger, on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

The police report said Parker was driving west on State Hwy. 152 when he rammed through the road blockade and drove on into McConnell Lake. He was brought to the police station by two men in a car that he passed shortly before hitting the barricade.

State Highway Patrolman E. J. Robertson said one of the men drove Parker's slightly damaged car to town while the other man brought Parker back to the police station in another car.

Hay Destroyed By Fire Near McLean

A fire estimated at $3500 destroyed a section of a barn and 500 bales of hay Tuesday night near McLean.

The blaze, located on a ranch owned by W. J. Lewis, Clarendon, was discovered at 3 p.m. Four hours later firemen still were waiting for the fire to burn itself out.

The building is located five miles southwest of McLean and operated by Cicero Turpin.

Fort Worth Gives Family A Christmas

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Santa Claus was more than generous to Mrs. Rava Barnett and her four children.

The unfortunate family was headed for a dismal Christmas until the story of their penniless plight appeared in the Evening Star Telegram.

Gifts of food and toys dazzled the housewife as they overflowed the tiny apartment.

Among other presents were: An estimated $500 toys, including two dozen dolls for three-year-old Billy Jo.

At least 500 pounds of meat and the loan of a frozen food locker, fifteen boxes of canned goods, stacks of clothing for the whole family.

Uncounted quarts of milk for the baby.

Six offers of jobs for Mrs. Barnett and an offer to baby sit while she works.

"No one in Fort Worth had a better Christmas," Mrs. Barnett said. She sent most of the perishable food to the Salvation Army and gave toys to orphanages and other families in need.

JOHNSON CITY — (AP) — An inquest was underway in the shooting death of Blanco County Sheriff Frank Shelly, 39, found Tuesday at his home at Round Mountain near here.

Shelly's daughter, Tinky, 9, discovered her father's body after returning from Johnson City with her mother on Christmas day.

Justice of the Peace Rollie Adams and Texas Rangers investigated.

Other survivors include his mother, Mrs. Josie B. Shelly, and two sisters, Mrs. Alvin Knoll and Mrs. Bill Stribling, all of Round Mountain.

STORM WARNING RAISED

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Warnings were hoisted today from the Southern Oregon coast to south of San Francisco, as an "intense" Pacific ocean storm headed for northern California.

Eighty percent of all the horses manufactured in the United States were produced in Juliet, Ill., center of the trade since 1883.

New Editor Named For Valley Paper

HARLINGEN — (AP) — Former News Editor Frank G. Ragsdale of the Valley Morning Star will become managing editor Jan. 1.

He succeeds former Editor Edwin W. (Red) Pryor, who announced his resignation as acting managing editor yesterday.

Pryor had been acting managing editor since the paper was acquired by Freedom Newspapers in October. He had been editor for six years previously.

Pryor plans to remain in the Rio Grande valley to rest and do free lance writing for two or three months.

Ragsdale has been news editor for four years.

MORE PRECIOUS THAN RUBIES

By Nina Wilcox Putnam
Copyright 1951 by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Alma Conroy, designer for an exclusive jewel firm, The House of Trumbull, has seen her husband Tommy in company with another woman. Tommy tells Alma that the girl is Myra Harshard, playful fiancée of his boss, Brighton Muncie, son of the head of the Trumbull firm. Tommy has recently been given a promotion.

XI

AFTER Mrs. Denton was safely out of sight Alma Conroy suddenly realized how tired she felt. It was now just past the usual closing time, and she was so nervous and exhausted that she scarcely remembered handing in her tray to Mr. Youmans, or getting home. She ached with fatigue but she was glad to have beaten her troubled thoughts for at least a few hours.

As she opened the door of the apartment it was obvious that this time Tommy really had gone away. The half-open bureau drawers, the signs of a hasty packing were evidence of a tardy departure. She sighed with relief, heated a bowl of soup and when she had drunk it lay down on the living room sofa, the evening paper in her strong, beautiful hands.

The next thing she knew it was nearly midnight. She was wide awake, electrified by a sudden fear. Had that biggest diamond, the one for the center ornament, been in her lock-tray when she turned it in?

She could not remember having seen it. Yet it must have been there. Nobody could have taken it for she had been alone at the bench except for Mrs. Denton, who could not have reached the tray without standing—a physical impossibility. Mr. Youmans must have checked but for once he might have been guilty of an oversight. A cold chill seized her as she recalled the jokes and bets about the sweepings and remembered that she had worked too

Then his mild voice lifted her like a drowning woman, a safety.

"Yes, it's here all right, yes indeed. Don't apologize, my dear, people often get this sort of fright at floor-time."

Alma took her tray with a sort of sober reverence. The gleam of new lumber waited out to her as the day guard unlocked the work room door. The day settled down to a semblance of normalcy, and when Old Victor came in she was able to tell him of her scare almost as if it had been amusing.

"Ah! But it is not so funny!" he observed. "I know how you felt for once, when The House was down on Union Square, a big diamond flew out of my pincers and—pooph! right out through the open window. There were no fly-screens in those days. But by the grace of goodness and a nice Irish gendarme, we finally found the stone—under a forsythia bush in the park!"

THE old man insisted that Alma come out with him for a good lunch. Finding Joe absent from their table was like a reprieve, but his vacant chair was an eloquent reminder of him.

Everyone else, excepting of course Tommy, was in his usual place and this time no secret was made of the excitement everyone was under. There had been another theft. Alma had never dreamed that White Marie could lose her competence to such an extent. The older woman's cheeks were flushed, her eyes snapping with indignation.

"This time Mr. Muncie will have to do something more than just sit back and let justice lag along!" she was exclaiming. "When my department is robbed, it is too much! Something must be done about my honor—even if there is publicity, the police must be told. They must be told if every newspaper in the country prints the story!"

Mr. Smith of Silverware broke in. "But where were they taken from? Your department, or theirs?"

"What does that matter, since they are practically in one?"

"Enough of this malicious gossip! I did not accidentally walk into a door—a guy poked me in the eye!"

Open Season On Unwed Males Is Getting Off To Good Start

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — The 1952 leap year open season on the unmarried male has already begun.

It was launched with the usual zany business of picking the ten "most wanted men" in America — and a flurry of expert advice on how the average girl can pin the guy of her own choice with a matrimonial hammerlock.

To an onlooker it would seem like it's going to be a rather confusing leap year. For there is so far no agreement on who are the top ten marital prospects. And as for how best to snare a husband, the "experts" contradict each other.

One says, "be aggressive." One says, "be feminine and dependent." Whom can a trusting young girl believe?

Two lists of the ten most desirable bachelors have hit my desk and they add up to 20 men. Nobody made both lists.

These are the lucky ten named by Miss Ruth Marr, president of the Bachelor Girls of America: J. Edgar Hoover, FBI chief (he's on every year); Martin H. Kennally, mayor of Chicago; Elliot Lawrence, band leader; John Ringling North, the circus man; Bobby Thomson, baseball hero; Montgomery Clift, movie actor; Howard Hughes, industrialist (another hardy perennial); Ed Luckenbach, Jr., shipping heir; Ben Grauer, radio commentator; Warren Magnuson, U. S. senator.

But a poll of 500 professional models here by Helen Fraser, head of the Barbizon Modeling school, named these ten:

Kirk Douglas, movie star; Henry Garrard, Broadway actor; Rudolph Halley, television star and New York city council president; Frank Farrell, Manhattan columnist; Milton Berle, another television figure; Steve Hannagan, who rose from press agent to publicist; Winthrop Rockefeller, businessman; Bernard Baruch, statesman; Count Albrecht Goertz, industrial designer; and Joe DiMaggio, the retired Yankee clipper.

My dictionary defines a bachelor as "a man who has not married," but it may be a bit old-fashioned. A glance at these lists shows they have several widowers or grass widowers. However, in leap year the girls can be excused for stretching their definition a bit to cover every possible target.

But "Bobo" Rockefeller might reasonably object to having her husband, Winthrop, catalogued as a bachelor, even though they are living apart.

Here's Novel Trapping Idea

DALLAS — (AP) — Mrs. Faye Teper caught a fox with a turkey bone Saturday.

She saw the fox walking down a sidewalk, ran into a house and asked a woman for "something to catch a fox with."

The woman asked, "would a turkey bone do?"

Mrs. Teper offered the bone to the fox.

He eyed her and sniffed the bone. Then he followed her into the house.

She picked up the fox, thanked the startled woman and carried it home.

Now she wonders what to do with a tame fox.

"If no one claims it, I guess we'll keep it," she said.

Scandal Probes Worthless Unless Other Steps Taken

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Before public interest in the government scandals subsides there will be more investigations and, probably, more irregularities exposed.

But the interest, public shock, investigations and exposures will be a farcical, short-time result unless steps are taken to make future crookedness tougher.

President Truman said he'll try to make it harder for government employees to have outside interests. That should help, by cutting off some of the avenues that lead to crookedness or "indiscretions."

But making crookedness more difficult won't keep crooks out, no matter whether Democrats or Republicans are in the saddle, since government employees are recruited from the general population and a certain percentage of the population is full of larceny.

Government attorneys who handle tax cases, will show you that the overwhelming percentage of tax frauds are committed by people who have been considered pillars of their community.

A special committee of the Senate was set up to study problem of ethics in government and it reported:

Britons Get Nylons In Yule Decorations

LONDON — (AP) — American nylons which cannot be bought here for any price are being smuggled to Britain inside colored glass Christmas decorations, postal officials said today.

The contraband was discovered in the sorting office when a parcel of decorations mailed from the United States dropped and burst open. A pair of nylons was found inside each of the six balls in the package.

Farm Land Values Jump

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Agriculture department has reported farm land values increased 15 percent during the year ending Nov. 1 under the influence of favorable agricultural returns.

Values are now 20 percent above the pre-Korean war level.

The department said, however, that the rate of land price increase had slackened during the four months before November. During this period values increased an average of 2 percent compared with 4 percent in the corresponding period a year ago.

No change in values during this four-month period was reported for Maine, Connecticut, Rhode Island and New Mexico. Increases of 3 percent occurred in most of the Midwestern corn belt states, Texas, Florida and West Coast states.

The department said fewer farm sales were made during 1951 than last year. It said that in the better farming areas it has been difficult for real estate agents to get listings because of favorable farm income and a desire on the part of owners to keep their investments in real estate.

Elsewhere, it said, many of the farms listed for sale are less desirable and are priced too high. The department said, however, there still appears to be sufficient demand in most areas for the limited number of farms on the market to maintain prices at least at their present level.

"However, in contrast to a year ago when all available farms sold readily at sharply higher prices, some prospective buyers are again showing a reluctance to meet current asking prices," the agency said.

Americans Divide Opening Cup Play With Australians

By GAYLE TALBOT
SYDNEY, Australia. — (AP) — American and Australian Davis Cup forces battled to a standstill in the first two singles matches before a crowd of 15,700 at White City Stadium today and the challenge round will be decided by tomorrow's doubles.

Vic Seixas sent Uncle Sam's team in front with a dull 6-3, 6-4, 9-7 victory over badly stage-stricken Mervyn Rose, but Frank Sedgman squared the issue with brilliant triumph over veteran Ted Schroeder, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4.

Frank Shields, captain of the U. S. team, announced immediately after the second match that he will stick with his doubles pair, Schroeder and Tony Trabert, against Sedgman and Ken McGregor tomorrow "unless somebody comes up lame."

Schroeder figures to be a tired veteran after the starting battle he gave Sedgman in the first two sets today. Should Shields decide to rest him for singles on final day, his place will be taken by Dick Savitt.

Ted gave a memorable performance against Sedgman who for the day virtually was unbeaten and just fell short of carrying the young Aussie ace to the fifth set. Shields, feeling no regret at having chosen the veteran over Sedgman for the singles, said "wasn't it a great match?"

Although defeated, Schroeder gave the big crowd the thrill of a hard fought battle. He won the third set and fighting against a great rush in the fourth.

He fought out four set and match points before Sedgman finally passed him cleanly at the net for the clincher.

The crowd stood and gave both an ovation as they shook hands. For the greater part of the match Sedgman's tennis was brilliant in the extreme. Possibly no amateur who ever lived could have beaten him in the first two sets. He trailed off slightly in the third possibly in surprise at Schroeder's sudden determined rally.

But the blond star was right back giving a beautiful demonstration of every shot in the game in the fourth set and nothing Schroeder could do was good enough to stem the tide.

Question Use Of Overseas Courses

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Reporting that the Army has 41 golf courses at different overseas bases, a Senate Armed Services subcommittee questioned today whether they are an unnecessary luxury.

The subcommittee on preparedness, which has been doing a watchdog job on the multi-billion dollar defense program, said Army golf courses also are numerous in this country but it did not say how many there are.

It noted that five of the eight Army training centers visited by its investigators had golf courses. Nearby Fort Belvoir, Va., had an 18-hole layout and the other nine.

The report said the 41 overseas golf courses included 18 in the European command, 17 in the Pacific, five in the Caribbean command and one in Alaska.

The senate group sharply criticized what it called waste in Army activities but used softer terms in discussing recreational facilities.

"The committee does not question the need for adequate recreational facilities as necessary to foster good morale," the report said. "However, particularly in regard to the golf courses, we question whether the outlay and overhead is wholly justifiable in terms of utilization."

The report noted that "much of the cost of the recreational program is paid out of non-appropriated funds, but there is both a direct and indirect expense to the taxpayer."

Appropriated funds are those voted by congress for specific purposes. Many of the service recreational facilities are constructed and maintained by other means — by officers' club funds, for example.

Lockney Bouts Are Cancelled

The scheduled boxing match between the Pampa Boys Club, Inc., boxing team and the Lockney-Plainview American Legion team scheduled for Plainview Friday night, was cancelled Tuesday by Lockney. Many of the south Plains mittmen were unavailable during the holidays.

The bouts will be rescheduled after the Golden Gloves. To replace the Lockney match, the Boys Club is trying to schedule the Roswell glove team and also the Clovis mittmen. The Clovis bouts may be held before the District Golden Gloves on Jan. 14, 15 and 16. Both teams were fought recently by Wellington, with the Skyrockets taking the victory in each case.

Wellington announced yesterday it will enter the Pampa Golden Gloves tournament, co-sponsored by the Pampa Boys Club, and the Pampa News.

Pre-Season Cage Tournery On Tonight

DALLAS — (AP) — The first pre-season Southwest Conference basketball tournament opens tonight with Texas playing Southern Methodist and Texas A&M clashing with Arkansas.

This tournament, which is an experiment and probably will be abandoned unless the interest and attendance is good, has seven members of the conference and Vanderbilt of the Southwestern Conference as participants.

Tomorrow night Vanderbilt, one of the tourney favorites, plays Baylor, while Texas Christian meets Rice.

Texas Christian has the best record, the Horned Frogs having won seven of eight games and averaged 62.2 points per contest while giving up only 51.

Vanderbilt also has lost one game and is a higher-scoring team with an average of 67.7 per game, but has given up 57.1 to the opposition.

Kentucky Wildcats Grab No. 1 Rating

NEW YORK — (AP) — To the surprise of practically nobody, Kentucky's basketball team is back at the head of the class in the weekly Associated Press poll.

The question before the house, however, is — can it stay there? Two teams have tried it in the first two weeks of the AP poll and each failed.

As a matter of fact, writers and sportscasters participating in the poll, face a rough road this week. First they take on UCLA. That game is slated for tonight. Then they become involved with such worthies as St. Louis, Villanova and Brigham Young in the two-day Sugar Bowl tournament starting Thursday. Upset by Minnesota two weeks ago, Kentucky regained the top rung by crushing St. John's, 81-40, and drubbing De Paul, 98-80, last week.

Wellington Sky Rockets To Enter Pampa Golden Gloves

Wellington High school will enter the Pampa District Golden Gloves tournament, it was announced yesterday by John Lee, boxing coach of the Skyrockets.

The District tournament will be held in the junior high school gymnasium on Jan. 14, 15 and 16.

Wellington, always one of the toughest and largest ring teams in the Pampa area, will increase the tournament by about 25 fighters. And many of them are veteran, ringwise glovers.

To name a few of the boxers that will wear the Red and White into the Golden Gloves tournament there will be Duggie Jameson, Don Hood, Smoky Savage, Gary Phillips, Floyd Hood, Thurman Judd, Jimmy Thompson and Dan Jameson.

The addition of these fighters assured the district tournament of some very spirited competition for the various weight crowns and for the team championship. Boxing teams are expected from Shamrock, Lefors and possibly Panhandle for the local tournament. In addition there will be boys from Skellytown, White Deer and perhaps McLean entered in the Pampa meet.

Sharing pitching honors with the big winners was Saul Rogovin, 205-pound right-hander who was traded to the Chicago White Sox by the Detroit Tigers early in the campaign.

The 28-year-old Rogovin, regarded as a "sore-arm" flinger before Sox Manager Paul Richards overhauled his delivery, proved the most effective twirler in the major leagues. Official American League statistics released today showed Rogovin with an earned run average of 2.78.

Chester Nichols, rookie south-paw of the Boston Braves, posted an ERA of 2.88 to top the National League.

The earned run leader is determined under a new rule requiring appearance in 154 or more innings. Rogovin appeared in 27 games, completed 17, pitched 217 innings and had a 12-8 record. He allowed only 79 runs, 67 of which were earned.

Eddie Lopat of the New York Yankees was the only other A.L. twirler to come in under the three-run mark per nine-inning game — a standard not reached by any pitcher in 1950. He had 2.91.

The Cleveland Indians contributed three 20-game winners. They were Bob Feller (22-8), Early

Rogovin Tops American League ERA Statistics

CHICAGO — (AP) — The 1951 American League baseball season was a big one for pitchers with six hurlers crowding into the charmed 20-game winning circle — the most since another half dozen made it in 1922.

Wreckers Fly In For Orange Battle

MIAMI — (AP) — Forty-four members of Georgia Tech's unbeaten football squad arrive in Miami by plane today for what may turn out to be a wide open game with the Baylor Bears in the Orange Bowl New Year's day.

The Baylor team is due tomorrow. Coach George Sauer feels there should be considerable scoring.

"I think it will be two fine teams playing in the Orange Bowl and neither is going to waste time sparring around, but will go for an opening immediately," he said at Waco.

"Both teams are equipped to make it a great offensive game," he continued. "Only one team has been able to score two times on Tech this season, but I believe we will score at least twice on them."

Coach Bobby Dodd of the Tech Yellow Jackets said at Atlanta "I believe Baylor will be our toughest opponent and Larry Isbell probably the most dangerous passer we'll see."

Dodd said the Yellow Jackets will buckle down to serious preparation immediately.

Gridders Report Again April 14

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS — (AP) — College football is in disrepute these days with everybody on the outside jumping on it. The main reason for the state of affairs is such a statement as put out by Ralph Graham, ex-coach of Kansas State.

It was Graham who blasted "over-commercialized college sports" and told of the Texas boy who passed up a fabulous offer at Kansas State to go to the University of Texas.

Obviously Graham didn't check his facts because the boy didn't go to the University of Texas; he stayed right at Tyler Junior College because he was going to enter the service anyway and didn't want to start a senior college career and have it cut off in the middle.

Actually, such a statement with subsequent investigation to show what actually happened is in favor of college athletics. It is indicative of most statements put out by ex-coaches or others "who view with alarm" the trend toward "ruin and professionalism." The Graham incident should cause the people to take with a grain of salt the stories of the athletes who receive convertible, cash outlays, sumptuous livings and other articles of value they're supposed to get for playing football at this and that college.

But coaches active in the game are responsible for some of it. I have heard college coaches say: "We can't get the top athletes — they pay 'em too well" at Texas or SMU. They can't prove it; if they could, they'd certainly do it.

I remember the rhabarb about Gil Bartosh, who went to Texas Christian and Texas A. & M. with each other to see which could recout the biggest "offer." Bartosh had just about every kind of automobile given to him, to hear them tell it.

A & M was supposed to not only have given him a car and an amount of cash but to have agreed to educate a relative. Nobody ever made an effort to prove anything. None of the reports were true.

One man told me about his son being offered a Cadillac by the assistant coach of a certain college if he would go there. The boy went to another college but became scholastically ineligible and couldn't play football. The inference was that the other school must have given him two Cadillacs. But if it went to all that expense and trouble, how was it the coaches couldn't get the grades fixed so the boy could play football? That's the way it's supposed to be at the colleges these days to hear the ex-coaches and those "viewers with alarm" tell it.

I had a son go to the University of Texas on an athletic scholarship. Do you want to know how much that was worth per month? It was $18.00. I know, because I paid the rest for his board and keep. Boy that's really proselyting ain't it?

VALLEY TOURNAMENT
Hartlingen is entitled to its anger over the PGA passing it up on the winter golf tour.

Here was a little city that gauged deeply into its pockets each year to put up $10,000 for a golf tournament that brought it nothing but grief. In four years there were three squabbles among the golfers themselves that brought Hartlingen nothing except unfavorable publicity. Hartlingen wasn't responsible for any of the trouble; it did its part and promoted a fine tournament.

It had gotten to the point where it might be able to make a little profit. The tournament had become established and had become a feature.

But the PGA finds a more remunerative spot; perhaps the golfers didn't like that dusty little course; maybe they weren't entertained in the manner to which they felt they should be accustomed. Besides, they don't want to go any place now unless they want to see the more cities wanting tournaments than there are dates.

So Hartlingen is dropped. The PGA doesn't even have the courtesy to give a reason.

You know, there might come a time when the PGA will want Hartlingen to sponsor a tournament. The PGA might even be willing to play there for $5,000.

What do you think Hartlingen will do then? We have a very good idea. The "photo" coming from the Rio Grande Valley will carry farther than the boo of a Brooklyn baseball crowd.

FOOTBALL PROGRAM
We are convinced the Texas High school football program this year is just what has been needed all the time. It accomplished several things: 1. It equalized the competition. You didn't find the big schools that had dominated things doing so much winning. Some new guys could win a championship for a change. 2. This stuff about having to play the big schools in order to build prestige and profit — it was the bunk.

Attendance figures will show that the little schools had gotten over the entire year equal if not above their old gates, and the fact that they had state races of their own gave them the prestige they needed.

We also are convinced that it was wise to vote down a plan for a play-off between the top class — AAAA — and the next one — AAA. AAAA is not capable of playing AAAA on equal terms. AAAA is the real state championship.

The enthusiasm and the interest generated by the little schools being able to play for a state championship was heartwarming. There never was more spirit exhibited at a championship game for the big schools than the one at Graham when Giddings and Newcastle, with combined populations of 3,200, played for the Class A title. Giddings won it and feels just as good as if it had won Class AAAA.

Under the new plan, any team that wins AAAA, AAA, AA, or A knows it has deserved its cham-

Wade Passes Gray Stars To 35-7 Victory Over North Blue

MIAMI, Fla. — (AP) — Vanderbilt's Bill Wade, a cagy quarterback with a slingshot arm, pitched the South to a stunning 35-7 victory over the North in the Shrine's fourth annual college all-star charity football game in the Orange Bowl last night before 39,955 spectators.

Wade, six-foot two-inch 205-pounder from Nashville, Tenn., threw 27 passes for 18 completions and 290 yards to shatter the old record of 13 completions.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
NEW YORK — (AP) — You've heard moans from baseball men (especially the scouts) about the competition for talent from the colleges. You've also heard about the pro basketball players who obviously designed to give the colleges first crack at all high school talent. The search for an explanation of the two contrasting attitudes led to Maurice Podoloff, the National Basketball Association president.

Podoloff, who holds a law degree from Yale, explains simply: "We are sincerely interested in their getting an education."

The NBA has only about a half dozen players who didn't go to college and frankly looks on the college game as its "farm system." But that's not the only reason why a kid can't be signed until a full year after his high school graduation. Podoloff figures that time gives the kid a chance to make up his mind and discourages possible conning — such as making a player a "pro" by having some baseball team give him money.

But most important to Podoloff is the fact that when a boy's short pro basketball career is over, he'll be better equipped to do something else if he has gone through college. Wonder if the same thing couldn't be said about baseball players?

YOUR NOSE KNOWS
When the Indiana U. basketball team went to Laramie to dedicate the new Wyoming U. field house, Coach Branch McCracken decided to use psychology to offset the possible effects of the 7,000 foot altitude. Branch gathered the boys and began to talk about the exaggerated "myths" about altitude and rarefied atmosphere. He didn't want anyone, he said, blaming a bad night on the elevation. Then he had to cut it short and dash out of the room as his nose began to bleed from the effects of altitude.

Five colleges which weren't included in the Hofstra "small college" basketball tournament this week have asked for invitations next year. Vic Cardiel, who fights Gil Turner Friday has a job writing checks in the state capital at Hartford, Conn. Sounds like a fight manager's dream job. And official "demonstration" sport at the 1952 Winter Olympics will be "bandy" a game described as soccer football played with skates on ice, using a bat. Probably the players don't live long enough to engage in regular competition. Isador Beiber, the nose-racing kummler from New York, suh, has definite feelings about women who smoke and advertise in naming his horses. Last summer Sheldon's Smoke raced in Beiber colors (maybe she didn't win, either). Now he has a yearling filly at Hialeah named Put-away-sister.

for 144 yards set by Tex Furse of Yale in the 1918 game. Three of Wade's passes netted touchdowns and he walked off with all first choice votes of sports writers as the most valuable player on the field. It was the South's third victory in the series and the most decisive of them all.

In the first 20 minutes of the game, staged for the benefit of the Shrine's crippled children in hospitals at Miami and Greenville, S.C., Wade completed 11 of 18 passes for 224 yards to give his South team a 23-0 halftime lead.

PIN-POINT PASSING
Given fine protection by an alert, hard-charging Rebel line, Wade pitched pin-point passes to his teammates from Vanderbilt, Ted Kirkland, and to Zippy Morocco of Georgia. One of his passes to Kirkland was good for 69 yards, including 35 gained after Kirkland caught the ball over his shoulder and outran two would-be tacklers.

In the final quarter Wade set up another score with two runs of 18 yards apiece. Florida's Floyd Huggins smashed over for the South's last two scores.

Quarterbacks To Ex-Irish Gridder Star For Pros

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Once again, just as in the National Football League title game Sunday rival quarterbacks Bob Waterfield of the Los Angeles Rams and Otto Graham of the Cleveland Browns will lead opposing teams in the NFL's major bowl.

Waterfield was named to the National Conference All-Stars who will oppose Graham and the American Division All-Stars. The two met in the same capacity last January and the American team won, 28-27.

Graham and the rest of the personnel of the American outfit were named to play several days ago. Nine Clevelanders are on the squad. The National Division team announced Saturday lists:

Los Angeles Rams — Waterfield, Norman Van Brocklin, Dan Towler, Tank Younger, Elroy Hirsch, Larry Brink, Stan West, Don Paul.

Detroit Lions — Doak Walker, Don Doll, Bob Hoernschmeyer, Bobby Layne, Lou Creekmur, Les Bingaman, Leon Hart.

Chicago Bears — Johnny Lujack, John Dutton, Clyde Turner, Dick Barwegen, Ray Bray, George Connor, Ed Sprinkle.

San Francisco 49ers — Gordon Soltau, Leo Nomellini, Ray Collins, Jim Casan.

Green Bay — Dick Wildung, Billy Grimes.

New York Yank — Brad Ecklund, Mike McCormick, George Tallaferrro.

Russian Fanaticism Is Real Menace

Those of us who feel that the Russian system of totalitarianism is all wet and have plunked for freedom could have our eyes opened by the words of Robert Kuzmayer, analyst and commentator, in an address before Central Manufacturing District club of Chicago.

Illustrating the emotional fanaticism of the Russians, Kuzmayer described the Red Square in Moscow on a night when Lenin's tomb is open to the Russian masses.

"If you and I were in Moscow now, we might very well go to the Red Square. If I am allowing correctly for the time change it is dark right now in Moscow. If you and I were there we might go to the Red square and look out over three acres of cobblestone acidity. On the far side we could see the Kremlin wall rising grim and gray in the darkness. Atop the Kremlin wall we would probably see four red flags flying—flags that do not come down at sunset but rather concealed lights are shot upon them and the north wind keeps in them shipping back over the Kremlin wall.

"Huddled against that wall, not much higher or larger than a peasant's hut, there is a stone, pyramidal structure of black polished marble. And stretching away from that structure, clear over to St. Basil's onion-topped cathedral, there is a long line of people. If you and I should go and take our place at the end of that line, we would spend the next 65 minutes in what is still the bitter cold of a Moscow spring; finally we would work our way up these stone steps and the guide would explain to us, in one of Russia's different languages, that so constant has been the stream of pilgrims that three times these stone steps have worn away and had to be replaced.

"Then we would find ourselves in a little narrow hallway, the walls of which are painted red. We would walk in that hallway for a little way, we turn and go down steps, turn and go down more steps, turn and go down even more steps. There isn't even a scuff of a soldier's steel-soled boot on the stone. We are walking now around a circular pit of blackness there is a steel shaft. On top of the steel shaft is a black polished marble slab. Lying on the slab there is a long red silken cushion. Lying on that cushion is a body of a man. Over the lower part of his body the red flag has been thrown. Just below his crossed hands there is a golden cross that gleams in the light that comes down from above. The cross is sickle and hammer.

"Walking around the body there, you can understand why those simple people are so pious. He has been dead over a score of years and you would think that he is merely asleep. The very pollen of life is still on his cheeks. You have the feeling that with the least sound he will awaken and take up the mighty work he put down. You are looking at the body of Nicolai Lenin, strong man of the Russian revolution.

"But the significant thing, if you would understand Russia, is not the state of preservation of the man; it is the fact that from the early morning until now, far into the night, if this is a night when the tomb is open, they have been coming. In normal times they come from all over Russia. NO ONE COMPELS THEM TO COME."

Certainly it would be difficult to picture a similar illustration of Americans taking their time and energy in a parade in this country before a symbol of liberty—and we don't say it would be a good thing. We think that liberty and freedom can be approached from a logical and reasonable standpoint and such

YOUNG REVOLUTIONISTS

I am continuing to answer a question by a high school student about what young Americans can do to further the cause of nationalism and freedom. Yesterday I gave a blueprint for action via student clubs. The high schoolers of today are the nation tomorrow. "We, the People" rightly ARE the government of the United States. We have "The Sons and Daughters of the American Revolution" to be sure, but these organizations are limited to necessities and so forth. We need ACTION groups of young American Revolutionaries—nationalists—who know what they're aiming at and how to get there.

The question of how America is to be nationalistic, a nation of independent individuals as the government as possible, and at the same time promote world peace, is bound to arise. The internationalists will certainly declare that we've got to go on through the United States government, the United States giving up its self-determination and becoming one state in the Internationale, Karl Marx's communist pipe-dream.

World government means world slavery—a totalitarian world. We can see that by simply observing the loss of liberty and near-dictatorship we already have suffered by going as far as we have along the path to internationalism. A world government means world slavery—a totalitarian world. We can see that by simply observing the loss of liberty and near-dictatorship we already have suffered by going as far as we have along the path to internationalism.

Somehow that America leading to world peace involves going to economics. Economics and trade are the real reasons for wars. Therefore, when America goes nationalistic through a political revolution—becoming a sovereign nation of free and independent people, we are going to have to stop monopolies and avoid any form of imperialism or going to war to "protect" some American corporation's holdings in a sovereign foreign country, since we must acknowledge the right of all other countries to be nationalistic and self-determining, too.

A careful study of economics will show that gradual breaking down of tariff barriers and establishments of FREE TRADE relations with nations all over the earth will automatically raise their living standards without lowering ours. When men everywhere are prospering and enjoying a decent living and are free to follow their own pursuits, short of stepping on the equal rights of others, then the basic cause for war has been removed.

Someone has to start the ball rolling and there would be no better qualified nation than a nationalistic America, its own people free and independent. Our first job, therefore, is to get the Second American Revolution going, winning at the polls, getting the country on the track to individual liberty and then opening the first flood gate that will lead to world-wide FREE TRADE.

In this connection, Revolutionary student clubs can find out something about how to get going by getting a copy of "Social Fallacies," by the famous French economist, Frederic Bastiat (Register Publishing Co., Santa Ana, California). This is one of the clearest, the wisest of which are pointed out. We would walk in that hallway for a little way, we turn and go down steps, turn and go down more steps, turn and go down even more steps. There isn't even a scuff of a soldier's steel-soled boot on the stone. We are walking now around a circular pit of blackness there is a steel shaft. On top of the steel shaft is a black polished marble slab. Lying on the slab there is a long red silken cushion. Lying on that cushion is a body of a man. BANFE, Alta. (AP)—A woman and her son leaving the upper Hot Springs Pool recently were startled when a mother grizzly with two cubs stood in the road a few yards away. Hurrying back to the Hot Springs office, they telephoned a warning to the folk at their own house nearby.

The woman's husband discharged a shot gun into the air to get the bears headed for the mountain bush again.

"Might Makes Right" Laws Require "Might Makes Right" Men To Enforce Them

People are beginning to notice that there is a lot of dishonesty and corruption in government officials. Many people do not understand why this is. There is a very definite reason for our having the kind of officials we have, locally and in the state and in the nation. The reason we have this kind of officials is that we have immoral, arbitrary laws. We might call them "might makes right" laws. They are not based on any moral principle. They are arbitrary. They are the whims of men. They have been enacted by men with confused minds, men who are not close reasoners, by meddlers and by do-gooders who cannot see the end results of what they are advocating. So only men who are confused or believe that "might makes right" will take an office to operate these kinds of laws. Men who believe and understand that the best guides for human conduct are the Commandments and the Golden Rule will not take these kinds of offices.

Many men who think they believe in the Golden Rule and the Ten Commandments, but who do not understand them, and who are regarded by their fellow men as good citizens do seek these offices. But the result in having a confused person in office is just as bad, if not worse, than having a man who is regarded as dishonest and corrupt in these offices.

The fact of the matter is that most of our laws passed by city councils and supervisors and school boards and the state and by the federal government are based on might makes right and the end justifies the means and are not based on any natural God-given law.

Now what are these laws that are "might makes right" laws? These "might makes right" laws include such laws as tariff laws, as immigration quotas, as price controls, as rent controls, as credit controls, as zoning laws, as discriminatory tax laws—if not all taxes, as all subsidies which include public "education," which is nothing but a form of subsidy. These are just a few of the "might makes right" laws that lead to more and more power and less responsibility and freedom for the individual.

As long as we have this kind of laws on our statute books, the only kind of men who can operate these laws are either confused individuals, busy-bodies, meddlers or men who have no regard for other people's equal rights—in other words, plain dishonest opportunists who hold political office for power over the lives of other people. Because of laws of this kind we have such men in office as Truman, Gov. Warren or Gov. Dewey.

We have been hearing lately a lot about the corruption in the Internal Revenue department. The graduated income tax is just a legalized form of plunder or robbery. It is based on the theory that might makes right and there are no eternal principles that govern human relations. The only kind of men who will enforce these laws are men who believe that might makes right and that they might "get" while the getting is good by plundering and robbing and by corruption.

Had we laws that were in harmony with Nature's laws, God's laws and Nature's laws should govern human relations. Then we would not be bothered with corruption by office holders. The way to stop corruption in government offices, local, state and national is to repeal all laws that are based on might makes right and the end justifies the means and only enact laws that stop individuals or groups from invading or group from invading their property. Laws that stop individuals from robbery and plunder are laws that are in harmony with Nature or God.

TRUMAN-CHURCHILL TALKS TO BE ON LESS FRIENDLY BASIS

She was born in a large Southern city about 42 years ago. Her father was a railroad brakeman and she was his only child. She also was the only found of ambition he ever knew. When she was born he determined to become something more than a brakeman. He did, in time, but not because of his ambitions. Her mother had not yet finished high school when she was married, had borne her first child, and was a young mother. She didn't quite know what to do about bringing up a child.

When the little girl was six years old she went to school. It was not until then that she knew much about other children. Her father, who knew he lived on the wrong side of the tracks he served, discouraged her from playing with neighborhood children. In school she learned that some children have fathers who wear white collars and don't get down to the office until after 9 o'clock in the morning. She began to dream a father like that for herself.

By the time she was 10 years old she was filling her personal week-ends with imagined lives: one week she was a young princess, another week she was a woman executive of a large corporation, ordering people about imperiously. When she was 14, she saw her first play. A girl whose father wore white collars took her. It was a matinee. For a year that matinee was like a fire in her mind. She was going to be an actress. She told her mother about it once in a burst of adolescent confidence—and her mother slapped her. Hard. There was a strange, hurt look on her mother's face.

As long as Britain and America remain separate States, the only means of securing bi-national policies is constant consultation at the highest level. In the long run, it is not to be enough... A Union of all the major Powers of the free world, with an elected common Government to conduct its world policy towards Russia and the under-developed lands, is the only proper means of ensuring the survival and further progress of Western civilization. The time is over. Mr. Churchill, in his talks with the President, can set it in train, his second Premiership may yet surpass his first in historical grandeur and significance.

Truman-Churchill Talks To Be On Less Friendly Basis

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON—Winston Churchill will walk into an entirely different atmosphere and deal with a less friendly group of American negotiators next month than he did when he and Franklin D. Roosevelt settled world affairs on a personal and congenial basis. It may mean a better break for the United States than resulted from certain wartime agreements.

The Prime and F. D. R. had a wide and varied background and rarely consulted their military, diplomatic or economic experts until they had agreed upon fundamental principles. Not until then did they summon their advisers for help in framing official documents. Their work consisted chiefly of encasing in formal language the two men's decisions.

Never did two men, including the remakers of maps and Vienna, try to dispose of so many world problems and the fate of so many millions of people. In view of their colorful and dominant personalities, they revealed in this demonstration of their power.

Pegler's Social Aspirations Suffering From 'Contusions'

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LONDON—It is more than two weeks since I was nominated for membership in a swank, plush, exclusive cabaret club of 16 Beak St., Regent St., Soho. My social aspirations are suffering from contusions, lacerations and abrasions because I have had no word from the general committee or the election sub-committee one way or the other.

I paid my initiation fee of one guinea when I signed my application that night and should think you guinea ought to come back if I am blackmailed. I applied for membership about two o'clock in the morning and there may be some social prejudice against me along of the fact that one of my sponsors, a big, robust individual, with the blood of the Spelvins coursing in his veins, got involved with a member of the house committee over a point of order.

The waiter had come up, insisting that the four of us, three gents and one lady, had to take the after-midnight dinner at one guinea a head, consisting of an omelette made of powdered eggs, a swank, plush, exclusive delicacy in England. A guinea, like the American bit whose existence is implied in the term two-bits, is a mythical coin which is resorted to by swank, plush, exclusive hotels, tailors and doctors as a means of cheating one extra shilling on the pound, or five percent more than the price would be if it were stated in the practical existent currency. There are 20 shillings in a pound and 21 to a guinea. This means that the more swank and pretentious medical men resort to a guinea of about 12 cents.

At least I got a program of the cabaret club which I shall put among my souvenirs to read in the gloaming of my life when I am lonely by my hearth or our leading lady, Southampton born, platinum blonde Doreen Dale, who has to use a Turkish bath once a week and because of her platinum blonde hair, goes to the hair-dresser twice a week.

My friend and sponsor said to the waiter in the Cabaret club: "Are you trying to tell me that we have to eat your dam powdered eggs?" "No," the waiter said, "you don't have to take them, but there will be a charge—"

At this, the chairman of the house committee raised a point of order. He then ruled my friend out of order and added four guineas to our bill for four powdered egg omelettes which brought the total for the evening to 22 pounds, 10 shillings, for four including views of the architecture of a dozen young ladies in a diversionist show. This included one bottle of claret, one bottle of Rhine wine and two hypodermics of brandy. One of the ladies had no clothes on whatever and seemed beyond shame the hussy. And, the wily of it! Some of the others had on only enough to arouse the lowest instincts. I always say a little covering may be more suggestive than complete nudity and I trust that you will scoff raucously at my protestation that the only reason why I didn't avert my gaze was that I had a professional mission to inspect this phase of life in London after dark and report my observations to you. Nothing could have been further from my thoughts than my professional duty to my readers at that time.

The chairman of the house committee rules that, in waging controversy with a servant my friend had violated Sec. 19 of the rules and in fact was dangerously close to violation of that only reason why I didn't avert my gaze was that I had a professional mission to inspect this phase of life in London after dark and report my observations to you. Nothing could have been further from my thoughts than my professional duty to my readers at that time.

The Nation's Press

ALLEGIANCE TO THE KING (Truth, London, Eng.) Commenting with approval on Mr. Churchill's forthcoming visit to Washington, the Observer writes:

As long as Britain and America remain separate States, the only means of securing bi-national policies is constant consultation at the highest level. In the long run, it is not to be enough... A Union of all the major Powers of the free world, with an elected common Government to conduct its world policy towards Russia and the under-developed lands, is the only proper means of ensuring the survival and further progress of Western civilization. The time is over. Mr. Churchill, in his talks with the President, can set it in train, his second Premiership may yet surpass his first in historical grandeur and significance.

Canadian School Has Christmas Play

CANADIAN — (Special) — The speech department of the Canadian High school presented "Christmas on Main Street" by Walt Draper, Thursday, December 20 in the High School auditorium.

The play was directed by Miss Paula Fraser and the music was under the direction of Miss Marilyn Witt. The choir entered, singing "Silent Night" and carrying candles.

The play took place in the living room of the Jones family, Main Street, U. S. A. The time was the present, on Christmas Eve. The cast included Kenneth Smith, Leslynn Webb, Grenda Hill, Rose Miller, Barbara Norvill, Bill Flewelling, Kathleen Riley, Virginia Hanna, Garlon Rogers, Dale Cook, Billy White, Billy Chumbley, Jimmy Julian, Woody Williams and Buddy Gross.

The chorus was composed of Utah Adkins, Donald Hodges, Gary Gray, Larry Breaseale, L. H. Webb, Woody Williams, Garlon Rogers, Dale Cook, Nona Mc-

Means, Aladelle Williams, Nona Owens, Earlene Blackmore, Mary Lee Blackmore, Barbara Norvill, Jo Ann Cole, Eva Dean Stroud, Carol Richards, Helen Verklar, Grace Ann Reid, Marion Rupe, Janet Forrey, Nancy Alexander, Barbara Hall, Sandy Wilkinson, La Juana Ballard, Glenn Morris, Christine Schaefer, Patsy Wheeler, and Anne Rathjen. Accompanists were Jan Waters and Norma Bernson.

SOUP STOCK

A pound of shin beef with the bone in makes an excellent stock for a fresh vegetable soup. Use any fresh vegetables at hand in the soup — lima beans, snap beans, peas, celery, carrot, potatoes.

GREEN LIME PIE

If you're making Lime Pie this summer you'll need a few drops of green food coloring to make the pie a pretty green; fresh limes themselves do not impart the green color.

For a changeover from plain chipped beef, add a little curry powder to the sauce.

MRS. EDMOND D. DAVIS

SGT. EDMOND D. DAVIS

Miss Coene Carter Smith Becomes Bride Of Sgt. Edmond D. Davis

WHEELER — (Special) — Coene Carter Smith and Sgt. Edmond D. Davis were married in an informal ceremony December 19. Judge George W. Hefley performed the double ring ceremony in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis, of Kelton.

Mrs. Carroll Pettit was the bride's only attendant. She wore a brown suit with green accessories.

Junior Davis, cousin of the groom, acted as best man.

The bride chose a two-piece beige dress with cinnamon and black accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Carter of Wheeler and she is a graduate of the Wheeler High School.

The groom is on leave following a tour of duty with the Marine corps in Korea. The couple left on a short wedding trip immediately following the wedding. They returned to Wheeler and Kelton for Christmas. Sgt. Davis is to report in Charleston, S. C., for re-assignment on Jan. 1.

Those attending the wedding from Wheeler were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wofford, Mrs. Frank Noah, Mrs. H. A. Whitener, Ben Wofford, Mrs. A. D. Mitchner, Mrs. C. W. Richerson Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Carter. Other were Mr. and Mrs. George Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Junior Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davidson, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Davis.

Central Baptist Class Fills Cheer Basket

The Central Baptist Dorcas class had its annual Christmas social in the home of Mrs. C. L. Huter, with each member bringing a gift to fill a "cheer basket."

Mrs. L. G. Lunsford, former teacher of the class, led the opening prayer and Mrs. Roberta Wood gave the devotional from Matthew.

Those who helped fill the basket included Meses. M. T. Buck, Jess Hatcher, J. F. Webb, O. A. Husa, Kate Thomas, Roberta Wood, G. C. Stark, Bob Huffhines, D. L. Allen, Henry Crump, Albert Taylor, J. H. Jackson, D. L. Brown, Jess Hulsey, D. L. Irby, L. J. Prescott and the hostess.

Miss Sammie Krehbiel Chosen "Good Citizen"

CANADIAN — (Special) — Miss Sammie Krehbiel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Krehbiel, of Canadian, was chosen "Good Citizen" of the senior class by her classmates and the faculty of Canadian High school as a candidate for the D. A. R. award for 1952.

Miss Krehbiel is seventeen years old, and is a member of the "C" Club, Pep Club, and YFA Club.

Captain of the girls' basketball team this year, she has several tournament awards and has place on the district and sub-district teams of this region during her four years on the team. She is also an outstanding member of the girls' volley ball team.

With the aid of new hair product, this young woman finds greater ease in setting her unmanageable hair. A final spraying after her tresses are arranged helps keep them neatly and docilely in place.

"I said that more women should be in politics, because their minds are cleaner. Maybe so, but they oughta be, they change them more often."

No wonder Captain Syeed Shakh Achmed Abdullah Nodir Khan el-Iddrisyich of Duran wrote under the pen name of Achmed Abdullah.

Wonderful how
 VICKS VAPORUB
 IN STEAM
 works
 when coughing colds strike

Special medicated steam brings DEEP-ACTION RELIEF from coughs and stuffiness

Now those raspy, croupy coughs of children's colds can be relieved almost instantly with this home-proved treatment... two heaping spoonfuls of Vicks VapoRub in a vaporizer or bowl of boiling water as directed in package.

It's easy, too... Your little one just breathes in the soothing steam. Every breath carries VapoRub's relieving medications deep into the throat and large bronchial tubes. There this wonderful treatment medicates and soothes dry, irritated membranes, causes away coughing, helps restore normal breathing. Real comfort comes fast! For coughing spells, upper bronchial congestion and that choked-up feeling caused by colds, there's nothing like using Vicks VapoRub in steam.

And always rub it on for continued relief

To insure continued action, always rub VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Works for hours — even while your child sleeps — to relieve distress. It's the best-known home remedy you can use when any cold strikes child or grown-up.

Miami Wesleyan Guild Has Program On Christmas Thoughts

MIAMI — (Special) — Mrs. Orval Christopher was hostess to the Miami Wesleyan guild which met for the annual Christmas program last week. Mrs. Helen Philpott was co-hostess. Topic was "Thoughts on Christmas."

The meeting opened with the singing of Christmas carols, led by Mrs. J. Clyde Loper. Mrs. Mabel Landrum gave the devotional.

Following the program, gifts were exchanged, and names of secret pairs revealed.

Lefors Wesleyan Guild Has Holiday Party

LEFORS — (Special) — The Wesleyan Service guild of the Methodist church in Lefors held its annual Christmas party recently in the home of Miss Mickey Sue Johnson.

The room was decorated with Christmas trimmings and background music was playing by record.

The group joined in singing a number of Christmas carols accompanied by Mrs. Cleve Johnson at the piano. Mickey Sue Johnson gave a Christmas reading.

Gifts were exchanged and the hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, cookies and hot chocolate to 14 members.

Those attending were Meses: Frank Hunt, W. B. Hicks, R. L. Daughterty, Jim Thurmond, Alfred Bennett, Bob Callon, Bill Watson, Marion Brown, Wayne Kosheski, Vernon Northcott, John Lantz, Mrs. Helen Lette, Norma Lee Lantz, and the hostesses, Mrs. Cleve Johnson and Mickey Sue Johnson.

The next guild meeting will be January 9, at 7:30 p.m. at the Methodist church with Miss Mary Alice King in charge of the lesson on "Latin America."

Mrs. S. A. Payne Honored At Party

Mrs. S. A. Payne, 314 S. Barnes, was honored at a housewarming Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. C. W. McGahen in charge of games, and Mrs. Wes Langham in charge of refreshments.

WP 1-14 CUB SCOUTS ARE Entertained In Bennett Home

Cub scouts of Pack 21, Den 3 and 4, met in the home of Mrs. Boyd Bennett this week for their annual Christmas party.

There were 19 mothers and boys present for the exchange of gifts.

Den mothers are Mrs. Bennett, Mrs. Glen Dearborn, Mrs. Bill Duncan and Mrs. W. F. Tucker.

Wheeler Churches Have Programs

WHEELER — (Special) — Sunday was Christmas Sunday in the churches in Wheeler. The Methodist church program began at the morning services with the special music by the choir, "Tidings of Great Joy." The sermon was "From Bethlehem to Korea."

The Sunday evening service was given by the children. Mrs. Frank Walker arranged the program. Each class in the department will have parts in the Christmas program.

After the Sunday evening program there was a Christmas tree with gifts, candy, nuts and fruit for the children.

TO PREPARE AVOCADO
 If you get an avocado whose skin doesn't slip off easily just pare it away with a sharp knife; be sure to cut it close to the skin. If you want to prepare the avocado ahead of time spread it with a little soft butter to keep the flesh from turning dark.
