Steel Crisis Comes To A Head Today As Union Meets

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — The steel crisis came to a head today with union policy makers meeting to decide whether to strike or work. While leaders of the CIO-United Steelworkers gave no hint what kind of action they may take, it was believed generally they will vote to delay the nation-wide strike set for New Year's day.

The union's 36 - man executive committee meets first (9 a. m., CST) and then the 170-member wage-policy board (2 p. m.).

The executive committee makes decisions; the wage-policy board accepts or rejects them. As the sessions are secret, no announcement is expected before the larger group completes its session, probably late today.

Soviets Agree To Take New Ambassador

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Russia has agreed to accept George F. Kennan as the new U.S. ambassador to Russia, almost at the same time denouncing him as a foe of the Soviets. President Truman announced at Kansas City last night the selection of the 47-year-old career diplomat, who is credited with being a principal author of the present American policy of containment to counter the threat of Communist aggression.

NO WALKOUT TALK

Since Murray, president of both the CIO and the USW, called for the meetings there has been a virtual cessation of strike preparations in the local unions. Reports of a walkout has been at a minimum.

Although most industry officials are hopeful the scheduled shutdown will be postponed, they are prepared to start banking furnaces.

The union has asked an 18-12 cent hourly pay boost for workers averaging 1.93. The USW also wants a guaranteed annual wage, a union shop, elimination of geographical pay inequities, improved premium and incentive pay, and other benefits.

Some authorities have estimated the entire package would run to 30 or 50 cents an hour.

SAYS RAISE NECESSARY

The union says the pay raise is necessary because of increased living costs. The industry has made no offer. Its spokesmen have argued that any pay raise would add to the inflationary pressure. Also, they declare, they cannot raise pay unless they get an increase in steel prices.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Gus Hall, one of the 11 convicted Communist leaders, was sentenced today to three years in prison for criminal contempt of court.

Dates Set For March Of Dimes Drive In Texas

The March of Dimes campaign to raise money to fight polio will be conducted in Texas Jan. 2 - 31.

Gov. Allan Shivers officially designated the period for the campaign yesterday and urged every citizen to contribute.

Clinton Evans, Gray county chairman of the drive today said all possible work would be done in the county during January to make the local and national drives successful.

"During the last three years," Evans said, "white polio cases have increased 107 percent, contributions to the fund have increased only 17 percent."

Because of this increase, he explained, the annual drive will last a month instead of the usual two weeks.

Evans urged every person to give time and money during the drive.

$950,000 Suit Is Dismissed

The $950,000 suit filed by Martha Noel against O. G. Stokely in 31st District court here was dismissed by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich on the plaintiff's motion.

The plaintiff's motion said a settlement had been reached by all parties and asked that the case be dismissed from the docket.

The suit had been filed several weeks ago by Mrs. Noel asking for an accounting on her estate that she alleged had shrunk to about $7000 when Stokely's trusteeship of the estate ended earlier this year.

WASHINGTON — (AP) — An announced U. S. battle casualties in Korea have risen to 103,418 including 17,670 battle deaths and 11,948 currently listed as missing in action. The new totals were announced by the Defense Department late yesterday.

Rainless Skies Continue To Vex Farmers

Rainless skies over the Panhandle continued to vex wheat farmers. The lack of moisture threatens the 1952 wheat crop on the High Plains and farmers fear another year like 1951 when only five percent of the area wheat was harvested.

As for temperatures here, Pampa was to be given lower temperatures, according to a Weather Bureau forecast. Mercury here dropped to 15 degrees by 7 a.m. today from the 35-degree high recorded Wednesday. Forecast called for continued low temperatures in the Panhandle this afternoon. Friday's readings are expected to drop still lower.

CLEAR SKIES

According to the Associated Press, another two days of clear to partly cloudy skies — bare of the wheat farmer — are due in other Texas areas Thursday and Friday.

Continued lack of any appreciable amount of rain made the already poor wheat outlook for 1952 grow steadily darker.

A late forecast from the U.S. Weather Bureau said the entire state would have clear skies Thursday with Wednesday's cool temperatures continuing. Only partly cloudy skies, with warmer weather, was the outlook for Friday.

Early morning lows Thursday were expected to range from a low of 16 in the Panhandle to South Plains area to as low as 20-40 degrees along the coast.

LAREDO HIGH

Wednesday's highest temperature in Texas was Laredo's 75 degrees with an early morning low of 16 in the Panhandle. Houston with .01 inches and Beaumont with .02 inches reported rain Wednesday. Neither locality is in the wheat belt.

Because of a lack of sub-soil moisture in North Texas, young wheat is dormant while it should be putting down good roots systems.

Hungarians Hold Up Release Of Four Fliers

U.S. Concedes Giving Ransom Is Dangerous

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER WASHINGTON — (AP) — Responsible officials conceded today there are dangers for several reasons for the U. S. decision to pay the $120,000 in fines levied by Communist Hungary against four American airmen.

At the same time these authorities asserted there were compelling reasons for the decision and that in terms of propaganda the result will not necessarily be entirely adverse to the United States.

The way appeared clear for release of the four fliers sometime today. This government, after pondering the issue for several days, agreed to pay the fines.

Spokesman for the Hungarian legation here told newsmen the Budapest government had accepted the offer. A spokesman, Madame Zsuzsanna Szucs, said release of the four men "should be expected before Thursday" because of a three-day Christmas holiday in Hungary. There were signs they might be freed in Vienna.

HELD AS VIOLATORS

Hungary has held the U. S. airmen since Nov. 19 as violators of her border. A Communist court has decreed they each would have to spend three months in jail if the fines were not paid.

The Hungarian action was widely denounced here as international blackmail and the fines were termed "outrageous." On the negative side of the U. S. decision to pay the fines these dangers or disadvantages were noted:

1. The Communist leadership can and undoubtedly will exploit the U. S. decision in Europe and elsewhere as an evidence of American weakness, and also as evidence that the airmen were guilty.

MAY BE ENCOURAGED

2. Aside from propagandizing, the Kremlin may be encouraged by the lack of determination in Washington in handling such matters and may be encouraged to run greater risks in the future in dealing with the U. S. and its citizens.

3. The Hungarian incident may lead to a series of similar irritating actions involving greater sums of money and more people — either members of the armed forces, diplomats or private citizens.

On the positive side of the decision to pay the $30,000 fine assessed against each of the four, officials said there were these considerations:

ONLY WAY OPEN

1. Payment appeared to be the only way open to the airmen, and therefore their safety of the airmen.

2. The decision can be used by the U. S. and its friends in Europe as proof of American patience and restraint in dealing with Communist provocation.

The decision shows that the U. S. stands behind members of the armed forces in such a situation as that created by Hungary.

Cease - Fire Agreement Period Ends; Talks On Ominous Note

MUNSAI, Korea — (AP) — The 30-day Korean cease-fire line agreement ran out today on "a rather ominous note" in truce talks about Allied prisoners of war deaths.

There was no indication here of plans to extend the agreement responsible for the 30-day truce. The full five-man armistice committee which signed the original agreement Nov. 27 did not even meet. An official UN spokesman said neither side asked for an extension.

But in a subcommittee session at Panmunjom Thursday, Rear Adm. R. E. Libby said the Communists hided; they may report many of the 80,000 unaccounted for Allied prisoners of war died of exposure and disease.

Libby said it was "a rather ominous note. It might have been a forewarning that all these people died of illness." Subcommittees working on the problems of exchanging war prisoners and supervising a truce still were deadlocked when they adjourned their last session before the scheduled expiration hour. The agreement was timed up to 15 days if he felt there was hope of reaching an agreement.

Expiration of the cease - fire agreement could bring an explosive end to the month-long lull on the Korean front; or the front would be quiet while negotiations go on.

The front was cold and relatively quiet Thursday as temperatures dipped below zero in some sectors. A company of Red troops occupied the eastern front near Heatsbreak ridge cut off one Allied unit. UN forces counter-attacked in knee deep snow and biting cold.

In Thursday's fruitless talks in snow-swept Panmunjom each side accused the other of needlessly delaying the truce.

North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Sang Cho charged that the UN wasted time by refusing to agree to a Communist proposal for an all-for-all exchange of prisoners.

Pampa Family Awaits Word From Son

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Communist step of the Far East command, said letters sent this morning "will be held until permission is given to effect the delivery." That must come from the Communists.

When the Reds give an OK, presumably mail to Allied prisoners will be handled in the same fashion as mail from them passed from one side to the other over the truce negotiation table at Panmunjom, Korea.

The Reds delivered 803 letters yesterday. They arrived in Tokyo today and were turned over to U. S. Army postal authorities. More letters are on the way from the prison camps in North Korea, a Communist spokesman said.

Wilfred Burchett, Communist correspondent for the Paris Ce Soir, said yesterday's letters were all from one camp. He said they probably would reach Panmunjom in a few days by mail other prisoners camps. Burchett said the Allies could expect bundles every few days until the first crush in the American and other United Nations prisons, as distinguished from South Koreans, are held in six prison camps in North Korea.

Auxiliary Makes Donation For Orphanage In Korea

A check for postage has been donated by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Al Yang orphanage at Taegu, Korea. The check was for $100 and was presented to the local office of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday.

Fort, in charge of sending donations to the Korean orphanage said the postage will be used to mail clothing to the Korean children. Presentation was made by Mrs. J. C. Richey.

PFC Gene Fort, son of L. P. Fort, is a member of the steering committee in Korea for the orphanage. He has requested all local people take old clothing to his father for overseas mailing.

Fort said clothing is being mailed every four or five days to the orphanage and will continue to be sent until the 150 pounds on hand is gone.

Reds Consider U.S. Message For Payment

VIENNA — (AP) — The U. S. embassy said tonight the Hungarian Communist government is still "considering" the American offer to pay a fine for the freedom of four jailed U. S. fliers.

Such a stand conflicted with announcement of Hungary's legation in Washington last night that the offer of $120,000 in fines — called a ransom in the West — had been accepted for prompt release of the four men.

Tonight's development raised doubts on the status of negotiations for release of the fliers, convicted of violating Hungary's borders after their plane lost its course on a Munich-Belgrade flight. It seemed possible the Hungarians had raised new conditions.

The ambassador here, Walter J. Donnelly, talked with George Abbott, U.S. chargé d'affaires in the American legation at Budapest.

BEING CONSIDERED

"The Hungarians merely told Abbott our proposition was being considered," Donnelly said.

But American officials in Budapest said they hoped the fliers soon would be on their way to freedom. Abbott also expressed hope the Hungarians — when their decision was made — would turn the fliers over to the U. S. legation in Budapest rather than dump them on the Austrian border without previous notice.

A group of American officials was ready to go to the border to meet the fliers. It waited for Soviet permission to cross the Russian occupied zone of Austria to the border town of Nickelsdorf, where Hungary in April released Robert A. Vogeler, American businessman imprisoned 17 months by Hungary as a "spy."

GOING TO BORDER

Donnelly, his deputy, Walter A. Dowling and other American officials in Austria who have the right to move about the Soviet zone without prior Soviet authorization. They planned to go to the border if the Russians failed to authorize for the Nickelsdorf group to operate.

Three State department limousines waited outside the embassy here for orders.

Abbott told Donnelly he had seen the Hungarian undersecretary for foreign affairs this afternoon. Abbott was told the Hungarians had made "no decision on the American note which was delivered on Christmas day." This was the note in which the U. S. government said it would pay the fine if the fliers were released promptly. The note was delivered at 7 p.m. Budapest time Tuesday.

NO INFORMATION

"The Hungarians," said Donnelly, "told Abbott that the note was being considered by judicial and financial authorities and they added they could give Abbott no information when the fliers might be released."

If the Hungarian government had not decided to accept the payment, then the manner and means of its payment apparently could not have been an issue. Donnelly said he had no idea how the money might be deposited with the Hungarians and that Budapest legation officials did not want to discuss the matter over the telephone. They have been wary of talking over lines monitored by the Communists.

Accident Victims' Conditions Said 'Fair' By Hospital

The condition of two Saturday accident victims in Highland General hospital was described as "fair" by authorities today.

They are Zula Margaret Brown, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Brown, and Mary Helen Nichols, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Nicholas.

Both were injured early Saturday morning in an accident in which Jackie Bonner, 19, was killed.

Miss Brown suffered a fractured skull, scalp lacerations and a concussion, and Miss Nichols was hospitalized for a fractured left leg.

No word has been received on the condition of Dr. Paul C. Brown who was injured Dec. 18 by a gas explosion at his office, 639 W. Francis. Dr. Brown was taken to Oklahoma City for observation and treatment.

Highway Slaughter Toll Climbs To 119

Continuing slaughter on Texas highways and streets, which had claimed at least 77 lives by early Thursday, pushed the holiday death toll to an amazing 119.

Capt. W. E. Woerner, statistician for the State Department of Public Safety, said the terrific holiday carnage would send the 1951 traffic death toll to 2535. The 1951 loss in money, he said, would come close to $100 million.

Before the holiday season death tollations started last Saturday at 12:01 a.m., the Department of Public Safety estimated 220 persons would die violently — 115 of them in auto mishaps. With six days of the Christmas-New Year's holiday remaining, it seemed the figures would be conservative.

Weather could take little blame for the butchery. Only on Christmas eve and Christmas day was there fog and some rain, mostly in East Texas.

Director Homer Garrison of the Public Safety department said "too much speed and inattention to driving" — carelessness — was to blame for the upsurge in traffic deaths. He urged drivers to slow down.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, urged a New Year's resolution "to drive soberly and cautiously for the next four days."

"It might start a commendable habit that would last all through 1952," he said.

350 Expected To Die By New Year

CHICAGO — (AP) — The National Safety Council estimated today that 350 persons may die in traffic accidents during the nation's New Year's holiday period.

The estimate was for the period starting 6 p. m. Friday to midnight Tuesday. The total number of traffic deaths for a similar period over Christmas, as compiled by the Associated Press, was 335.

Ned H. Dearborn, council president, urged a New Year's resolution "to drive soberly and cautiously for the next four days."

"It might start a commendable habit that would last all through 1952," he said.

Daughter Of Tallulah's Maid Tells Of Shopping For Dope

NEW YORK — (AP) — The adopted daughter of Tallulah Bankhead's former maid-secretary says a shopping trip for the actress was a search for "blouses, slacks, shoes, medicine and marijuana."

But a state objection cut the shopping list short at this point at 21-year-old Josie Pearson Cronin testified yesterday at the trial of her foster mother, Mrs. Evelyn Cronin.

The 59-year-old Mrs. Cronin is charged with forgery and larceny for allegedly raising the figures on Miss Bankhead's checks.

Tobin Says U. S. Living Standard Up

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The American people produced more and spent more this year than in any other year in history and the new records probably will be broken in 1952. Secretary of Labor Tobin reported last night. In a year-end report, Tobin also said Americans saved more in 1951 than ever before — $8 billion out of every $100, as compared with $5 out of every $100 in 1950.
 Total output of goods and services this year was nearly 10 percent more than in 1950, Tobin said, and at least five percent higher than the peak year of 1944. Tobin also said employment reached an all-time high of 62,600,000 in August.

Scout Executive Tells Rotarians Indian Yule Story

From Scout Executive Paul Beisenherz Rotarians yesterday heard an old Indian tale that some Indians associate with Christmas.

The tale centered around three young men sent to bring what they found from the highest pinnacle in the land. One brought a cedar twig, another a stone, but neither had gone to the top. The third returned empty handed but said he had found peace at the top of the hill. He was chosen leader of the land.
 The Scout executive also exhibited a Christmas card he received from the Indian who told him, and 20 Boy Scouts, the story 10 years ago in a Scout camp in Colorado.

Dallas Men Form 'Demand Mac' Club

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — (AP) — Eleven Dallas petitioners have incorporated an organization here styled "Demand MacArthur" as a benevolent group.
 The petition, signed yesterday by Circuit Judge Guy Amisler, explains the group's purpose is to "work toward the end of educating American citizens on matters of foreign affairs and domestic policies as exemplified by the pronouncements of Gen. Douglas MacArthur."
 One of the petitioners, who asked his name not be used, said he did not know if politics were connected with the organization. All the Dallas men are attorneys. Under Arkansas law, gifts to educational organizations are deductible items in computing income taxes.

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES
No Ethics In Political Jobs For Bad Laws

In the last issue I attempted to show that where we had laws that were based on might makes right that it was not possible to get intelligent men and men who believed that the guide for the government should be the same as the guide for the individual to take jobs to enforce laws that were not based on moral laws. After I had written the article I ran across an excerpt from an address made by the honorable Spruille Braden before the American Political Science Association under the heading of "For a Moral Revolution". I want to quote this summary, which was reproduced by the Foundation for Economic Education. I quote: "So close is the relation of history, that I dare say it could be stated as a natural law of societal behavior that: 'That measure of morality in public office will be inverse to the amount of state interventionism which makes it necessary.' There is nothing new in state interventionism. It is as old and reactionary as societal organization itself. Always, when it permeates the body politic, it kills the nation. 'This assertion repeatedly is confirmed by history. The Hammurabi Code, promulgated earlier than 2000 B.C., by imposing controls over the conduct of production, consumption, and all the rest of the economy, wrecked Babylonia. Governmental extravagance and a bloated bureaucracy killed individual initiative and led to the fall of ancient Greece. A planned economy of state maintenance for the slothful plus excessive taxation brought the collapse of the later Roman Empire and the regression of a civilized society in the Dark Ages. The welfare state of the Incas became so debilitated as to become easy prey for Pizarro and his 'Conquistadores'. In its turn, the great Spanish Empire broke before overweening pride, and every activity that one could earn a living except by being a public employee, a priest, or a sailor. For the same reasons the British Empire is now dissolving before overweening pride. 'You are all too sadly acquainted with how low the ethical standards of a few public servants have sunk. Equally bad and even worse occurrences have been uncovered in many of our state and municipal governments. 'Almost everywhere politicians and 'do-gooders,' by camouflaging ill-considered or bad enactments as welfare or defense measures, are enticing their peoples down the path of dalliance into systems of state interventionism. They are leading them to eventual destruction. They are concentrating power in Washington under a bureaucracy already expanded beyond manageable dimensions and which increasingly resorts to uncontrolled extravagance and extravagant controls. They are murdering the nation, can there be greater reason? 'Too many laws create confusion, unwise laws corruption. Together they nurture absolutism and criminality. 'There are, for example, many enterprises which could not operate profitably were they to obey, to the letter, a complexity of laws and regulations, which sometimes almost seem to have been enacted with an eye to their overthrow. As a result, these business men are prey for gangsters and crooked officials, both high and low, who exact tribute for what they call 'protection' and the swiftest prophylactic would be to go away with the unwise laws and regulations. 'Jefferson once remarked that a revolution every so often is a good thing. It is a moral revolution right now. I pray that it comes soon, because it is too late. I pray that it will be brought on by an outraged citizen, a disillusioned man, a man who has assumed his personal responsibilities and then joining with others to make their voices heard. I pray that it will reimpose the Decalogue and the Golden Rule as the ethical code of the American people. I pray that it will instill the love and old-fashioned discipline exercised within the families of this nation which can be exercised against immorality and crime, corruption and venality. 'Such a revolution will return the United States to morality and straight thinking, and thereby resolve the crisis which now confronts us. 'Then, we may hope the rest of the world may emulate the salutary results obtained here."

Snafu of the Parcel Post

Accompanying higher postage rates for post cards, etc., effective Jan. 1, will be new regulations on parcel post. Beginning on that date, packages will be limited in size to 72 inches in length and a combined girth of the sum of the length of the parcel and the measurement around the parcel and to 40 pounds in weight if for delivery in a local zone. Under the old regulations the limit on weight has been 70 pounds, and on size 100 inches of the length and girth combined. So far everything seems clear. But now is where the snafu's work becomes evident. The new regulations limiting weight to 40 pounds and size to 72 inches, length and girth combined, will not apply if the parcel is sent from a second, third or fourth class post office, or from one second, third or fourth class post office or rural route, to another post office or rural route of the same classification. The new reduced weight limit and size limits will apply only to parcel post between first class post offices. If the parcel is to become un-snafu'd, more or less, read on. While post office regulations state that no one will be permitted to mail a parcel from a first class post office other than first class with the purpose of avoiding the new limitations on size and weight, the regulations such parcels may be accepted at such offices even though the return addresses may be those of patrons of first class post offices. Think you understand it now? Well, continue reading. In another section of the new regulations it is stated that postmasters of second, third and fourth class post offices "shall not accept parcels bearing the return card of patrons of first class post offices mailed in violation of the new limitations on size and weight" when there is good reason to believe such shipments originated in and were prepared for mailing in a community served by a first class post office. Catch? Well, why not drop the whole thing and send it by express.

Money Apparently Is No Object

As several recent hearings have disclosed, there is good basis for the creation of effective checks to assure the proper use of money by the Department of Defense. The need was strikingly pointed out in the investigation of the defense policies. Here the chief concern of the Ordnance Department testified that he had discovered more than 5000 cases of identical bids for Army supplies. Here also it was revealed, among other things, that enough of certain jeep parts to last 104 years had been bought. Also, that the Army had on hand 921,000 front axle gaskets, though only 8800 were used in the three years from 1946 to 1949; that there was on hand a 74 year supply of covers for the steering column oil hole. Obviously, there is no excuse for this sort of reckless spending. Extravagance by any government department not only increases the taxes paid by every citizen, but it weakens the nation's economy.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER
The mind is the second largest industry in Topeka, Kan. The world-famous Menninger Foundation, started back in 1920 in an old cow barn with 11 patients, today draws so many patients from all over the world that they stay in hotels, tourist courts and rooming houses. What exactly is this business? What is this science that call psychiatry? That's the question I asked myself several weeks ago and here are some of the answers I've found. The psychology of the mind consists of the rapidly developing and important fields of medicine. During World War II, for instance, the army rejected about 29 per cent of the men it turned down because of this type of illness. Of all medical discharges 43 per cent were for the same reason. Dr. Karl Menninger, his father and brother, are pioneers in this new field of mental medicine and the world has literally beaten a path to the door of their clinic in Topeka. Dr. Karl and his brother, Will, are recognized as one of the top teaching teams in the mental field. All of which is further evidence that you can become world famous whether you live in Topeka or a great western city. Success depends only on you.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN M. D.
A common ailment, especially in those climates which are subject to wide variations in temperature between summer and winter, or between day and night, is bronchitis. Bronchitis means inflammation or irritation of the small breathing tubes which carry air to the lungs and are known as bronchi. In the acute form of the disease, some fever is likely to be present together with a dry hacking cough. The patient may feel chilly and have headache and pains in the back. The dry cough is likely to be followed by raising some sputum from the breathing passages after a few days. The most common cause of acute bronchitis is infection. Sometimes a simple thing like a common cold or what seems like a minor attack of influenza or "flu" will start an acute inflammation in the bronchi. Acute bronchitis is also frequently associated with chronic infections such as chronic sinusitis, after whooping cough, with sensitivity or allergy or with chemical irritation from substances contained in the air we breathe. The acute condition usually subsides and complete recovery takes place or it may pass into a chronic stage which lasts for years. In the chronic variety, the symptoms are likely to be less severe than in acute bronchitis, but it takes longer to clear up. DRUGS MAY HELP If the cause of the irritation can be removed (such as a chronic

Baxter's Views

BY DAVID BAXTER
SOUTHERN SWEETHEART

You can believe it or Ripley but I feel duty bound to again call the attention of readers to "THE SOUTHERN CONSERVATIVE," "Platiron Bldg., Fort Worth, Texas. It's one of the best nationalist papers, published monthly. Ida Darden, the editor, is a snuff Southern sweetheart, although I have grave doubts about her winning the hearts of Messrs. Truman, Acheson, Connally, et al. If these gentlemen ever loved her, they lost, in a big way. Ida's heart is not for them to triffl with. She knows a wolf when she sees one. It tickles me pink to watch her get them on the carpet, then pull the carpet out from under them. She isn't partial to our blushing beauty, Eleanor the Fair, who is, as we all know, America's perennial, though somewhat showporn, "sweetheart." The clinging vine type, if you know what I mean. Political wiseacres are getting a short cut of Ida's new book, "My Night," which is a takeoff on Eleanor's "My Day." It takes the hide of H. H. Park's hydrogenated "sweetheart." I noticed that, along with articles ranging from pungent humor to serious analysis, Mrs. Darden kicked Willard Goslin, exponent of "progressive" education in the shins. Discussing his appearance before the Texas PTA, the editor said: "The woman president of the Association from a small town in Texas opined as usual, as Algers averred, that it had a great educator and that they were highly honored. "Progressive Education Magazine," official publication of the American Education Fellowship which sponsors this type of teaching in American schools, lists the purpose of the organization thus: "To channel the energy of the educators toward the reconstruction of the economic system, the establishment of a genuine world order, an order in which national sovereignty is subordinate to world authority, an order in which world citizenship assumes the place of equal status with national citizenship. "All Americans and especially all parents of school children would do well to read this book, to begin and get its full meaning and import. "Who authorized teachers to 're-construct our economic system' anyway, and by what authority are they trying to establish a world order in which national sovereignty is subordinate to world authority? "Any teacher, male or female, who teaches such things to students should be literally kicked out of the door and their socialist textbooks thrown after them. "The job for which a teacher is hired in this country is to instruct pupils in the rudiments of reading, writing, arithmetic, American history, and geography and allied subjects, and not to undertake to change the American economic system or to institute Socialism in form of government in this country. TOUCHY "Resist the devil and he will flee from you," says the Bible. Glenn Lee, editor of the Tri-City Herald, Pasco, Wash., whom I wrote recently, might have paraphrased that: "Resist a job in a spy picture, 'I, one of the famed notes of the place did seem to have a lobbyful of exactly the kind of international hoozes usually found around the Mexican Embassy in Bucharest, and I don't imagine there was a really square passport on the premises, but they didn't indulge themselves in much spying and damaging since alert and highly intelligent secret police of at least three nations kept a cold, hard eye on them: Great Britain, the United States, Mexico. I say secret police, because it describes the spy of the boys. Actually, I suppose they were OSS, FBI and like agencies, with England's CID on the job. It is also true that when Europe got a little touchy for him, King Carol of Rumania sped to Mexico City, but I don't recall that that was that he picked the right place to mingle with the kind of people he probably understood best. And who probably understood him best, this spy of the boys? I thought that about half of the mysterious humans who seldom spoke above a whisper and gave to the simple job of ordering a martini a sort of international color of intrigue, would be in this lobby at odd moments during the war and watch the boys and girls dosing themselves with character. If they weren't spies, they certainly understand passing papers to believe they had black hats and spade beads, flashing diamonds and a constant case of back-of-the-hand laryngitis. Also, mostly, they had some money. The words, along with cancelling a lot of subscriptions, What an example for them to set for school children! DUTCH POPPY SEED There's only one blue-colored spice — and that's Dutch poppy seed. Although we were unable to get Dutch poppy seeds during World War II, they're back in our markets now and delicious to use in apple pie, sweet yeast doughs, cakes, and cookies. infection or an irritation from dust or chemicals, the bronchitis, too, may clear up. If, however, it has existed for a long time, even removal of the original cause may not bring complete relief. In such cases drugs may be helpful. General measures aimed at improving the general physical condition are also advised. The subject of bronchitis cannot be dismissed without mentioning the fact that it can be serious and that it can lead to a still more dangerous condition known as bronchiectasis. The question of climate also comes in. Some patients are relieved by change to a warm moist sea level climate and some get worse. Some are relieved by going to a high dry climate, and some get worse. The only thing one can do, therefore, is to try a new climate for a few months and watch the results carefully before coming to a final decision.

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON
Now that there is some salt in my hair, I don't get around to the sinful places of the world much any more. There was a time when I knew Port Said, which I never thought was one-half as sinful as Algiers. I thought it had the name for it. I knew some of the backwaters of Paris which were lollipop parties compared to a place called Marseilles. I always got the run-down on Alcazar seeing out-hand, but I knew a banana port in a nameless South American country that was really a fancied up nest of iniquity. And none of this is to say that I was about about on a postcard, although you can get postcards of all kinds, including the unimpeachable, 'in most of these jaunty cores of misbehavior. The one I write home about is Bucharest, where I spent my childhood, is Mexico City. This is an amazing revelation, since I never thought about Mexico City as being much more than a studied copy of portions of Paris, Bucharest and Rio. During the war it drew to its bosom a motley army of mysterious gents and alluring Indies, all of whom looked like they were in a spy picture. I, one of the famed notes of the place did seem to have a lobbyful of exactly the kind of international hoozes usually found around the Mexican Embassy in Bucharest, and I don't imagine there was a really square passport on the premises, but they didn't indulge themselves in much spying and damaging since alert and highly intelligent secret police of at least three nations kept a cold, hard eye on them: Great Britain, the United States, Mexico. Fair Enough..... Truman's Socialism Program 'Geared' To That Of British

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
LONDON — I myself, have found it hard to realize that Harry Truman's program of Socialism is "geared" as the Socialists jargonians say, to the British program. Thus, in my efforts to expose a semi-official conspiracy to bring down our country, the calamities that Socialism has wrought in Britain, I am about to have a danger that not many Americans will readily understand. The Socialists are always a few jumps ahead of us. They speak of unions as "labor" and, by the time we realize that unions are a dictatorship which exploit and persecute labor, the captivity of labor is confirmed. Thus, today, we find David Dubinsky, one of our un-elected, widely unknown and highly secretive underground conspirators, operating his own foreign policy and a system of ambassadors in several foreign countries in secret collusion with our own State Department. Truman goes ahead on the clever assumption that our people will be, in the classic phrase of Harry Hopkins, too dumb to understand. The Socialists of the Truman machine always speak of their Socialism with its hard-fisted persecutions of the people by mocking parodies, as "social progress." And that is what the Socialists of Britain called their ruinous system which, in recent routine, has caused the eviction of an old man from his ancestral farm because a bureaucrat said the farm was not producing enough food and the suicide of a man of 65 who couldn't bear the abuse of his fellow workers. He obeyed a request from the Socialist Railway administration to continue work when he was eligible for retirement on a starvation pension. The case of the dispossessed old landowner is a strict parody of the phrase of the eviction of the Russian kulaks. The worker who carried on beyond the retirement age was accommodating a Socialist regime which created an artificial shortage of labor by pampering the unions. There is no real shortage of labor in Britain. There is a vast surplus. But employs lay off, malingering and strike under a system which prevents people from working by the really want to work. So the regime asked this old man to stay on his job and the taunts of lazy, vicious loafers drove him to kill himself. I recently called on Lord Horder, one of the leading English doctors who is, incidentally, physician to the royal family. He pioneered the "resistance movement" of medical men who have been trying to smash the Socialist system in medical service. Harry Truman, in a message to Congress in April, 1949, recommended "comprehensive legislation to improve the health of the people." Soon afterward, Lord Horder delivered a professional address on socialized medicine in Britain to an American Medical Society in Atlantic City. He received $250 toward his expenses. A little later, Lord Horder was attacked by Oscar Ewing, Truman's own director of socialistic planning, who was sent to England to give a shilling, or so, to the British Medical Association. George Tech's Bobby Dodd has never lost a bowl game as head free customer. So he charged coach. His Jackets will be after their third Bowl victory in the Orange Bowl in Miami on New Year's Day.

National Whirligig.... Activities Of Demo National Chairman Arouses Curiosity

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Many prominent Democrats on and off Capitol Hill begin to wonder who is the Frank E. McKinney, Indianapolis business man, is the best answer Harry S. Truman could give them in their prayerful need for a politician whose ethical standards are beyond reproach. McKinney himself has said that the Democratic national chairman should be "like Caesar's wife above suspicion." They begin to ask whether he is an authority on ancient or modern politics and morals. In fact, the same question may yet be asked by several investigating bodies now showing interest in how he cleaned up $88,000 on a $1000 investment. McKinney analysts that it was just an "ordinary business investment," such as he frequently makes. So does the man who proposed him to Mr. Truman as a "cleanup chairman" — Frank McHale, veteran Hoosier politician. But further study of that almost fabulous deal has raised several embarrassing questions. McHale was a co-investor with the Democrats' field generalissimo. FRENZIED — The Empire Tractor Co., which paid off so well to Messrs. McKinney and McHale was headed by Frank Cohen, a man of questionable reputation. His moral standards were severely castigated by President Truman when he headed the Senate's World War I watchdog committee. Cohen then had war contracts under investigation. It is presumed that the two Hoosier boys did not know of this episode. In 1948, Cohen sold McKinney and McHale 1000 shares each of Empire Tractor's common stock at only $1 a share. Less than a year later, Cohen wanted another of his firms to acquire 100 percent control of Empire Tractor. So, he staged a deal that smacks of frenzied finance. Incidentally, the Cohen firm taking over control was the Empire-South American Industries. Almost all wartime and postwar sales of goods to the Latin American countries have been financed directly or indirectly by the United States government. DEAF — To swing this deal, Cohen paid $75 a share to buy back the same Empire Tractor stock he had sold to McKinney and McHale for only $1 less than they had paid. Cohen, apparently could not find the money to make these purchases in the till of Empire Tractor. In plain words, he bought out Empire Tractor stockholders, including the two Hoosier investors, with Empire Tractor stockholders' own money. In support of this conclusion, the bankruptcy court record indicates that this cash represented Empire Tractor's principal assets. For it went bankrupt only a few months later, because it could not pay old bills or operating expenses. So far the creditors have received only 62 cents on the dollar. Although law and ethics do not always parallel, the creditors may obtain more if they wigwag threatened suits against McKinney and McHale on the ground that they helped to "loot" Empire Tractor. That firm's treasury was tapped for $750,000 to buy back the outstanding stock, and Hoosier politicians got $150,000 or one-fifth, for their 2000 shares. QUESTION — Worried Democrats now ask why Cohen, whose wartime dealings were censured by Truman, was so kind to the two Indiana boys. He had to be, because, when a veteran party wheelhorse, and McKinney was his buddy. But the latter then was not known to have any influence or high-balloot-box friends in Washington. Another question may suggest itself to the bankruptcy court now reviewing the transaction, to future Congressional committees, possibly to Judge Thomas F. Murphy and grand juries. It may yet arouse the interest of the Senate Finance Committee, Internal Revenue Bureau. It involves this possibility: TAXES — Had Empire Tractor distributed this $750,000 in dividends, Messrs. Cohen, McKinney and McHale would have had to pay severely high taxes on this income — Mr. Truman's taxes. The government would have taken the largest share, as it does from taxpayers who don't know the password. Incidentally, the Cohen to McKinney and McHale triple play, they paid only 25 percent in capital gains. Instead of paying about $50,000 or more in normal taxes, they coughed up only $17,000. VIOLATION — There is another possibility that may be subject to investigation. Had Empire Tractor distributed $750,000 in dividends without paying off creditors, and then filed bankruptcy, it might have been charged immediately with violation of the bankruptcy laws, as it may yet be. Cohen, of course, is the central figure in the situation. But Messrs. McKinney and McHale were Empire Tractor stockholders when they voted to use that firm's cash to pay themselves $75 for securities worth only $1 ten months before. A 1000-shareholder in such a firm is not a nonentity. As such, they must have known or should have known — that the firm's status and prospects did not warrant such a markup. They should have known that Cohen's scheme would lead straight to bankruptcy, with heavy losses to creditors. STUPID — If not, they are too stupid to be in business or politics, according to party critics. It is this sort of laxity which led Attorney General McGrath and Treasury Secretary Snyder to know nothing of their personal irregularities and criminalities. Yet both have made good in both business and politics, according to Washington's prevailing code. They are not stupid.

for each prescription, meaning the actual medicine, but Bevan reared back at that and Atlee took down. Meanwhile, British doctors can't control their problems. Hospital space is "in short supply" largely because doctors simply send patients to hospitals to get them out of their hands. Their fees are just the same on way as an another. And the pharmacopoeia has been revised by a political bureau so that some preparations are recognized as good medicine and are paid for out of public money while others are denied recognition. If the doctors refuse to prescribe an unrecognized patient medicine, the patient must pay full retail price. The result, as Lord Horder said, is that the doctor is no longer an educated expert but a civil servant who must live his patients along lines prescribe by bureaucrats. Thus the faker who makes a miraculous soap, guaranteed to cure cancer, which was widely advertised in the low English dailies just before the war, may make a deal with a medical bureau for "recognition" of his fake. The fraud then becomes legitimate "state medicine" while something equivalent to penicillin may be ruled out by the same ignorant crooks.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

God guides, supports, and protects man, and this relationship cannot be broken, stresses the Lesson to be read in Christian Science churches next Sunday. "God the Preserver of Man" is the subject borne out by the Golden Text from Psalms: "In God is my salvation and my glory; the rock of my strength, and my refuge, is in the Bible offers this promise:

"The Lord shall deliver me from every evil work, and will preserve me unto his heavenly kingdom" (I Timothy 4:18). The Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy contains these passages to be included in the Lesson. Sermon: "Divine Principle is the Life of man. Man's happiness is not, therefore, at the disposal of physical sense. The relation of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law, in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history."

PAMPA NEWS, THURSDAY, DEC. 27, 1951 Page 7

BEAUTY AFTER FORTY

Are you a Little Woman? Do you always strive for height, for things to make you look tall? Well, I think that you are wrong!

The Little Woman should put the spotlight on her small proportions and she should never wear tall hats and stripes. Make the most of your Little Woman stature but don't go in for "childish" outfits!

It is often difficult for the Little Woman to find suitable clothes. After Forty. Buttons and bows and curly hairdos just aren't for maturity. If, because of size, you have to buy dresses in the Junior department, get the simplest, most basic things possible, then add your own accessories. If things that fit you are overly "bowed and beribboned," rip off the excess ornamentation. The sleek look will make you look smarter and younger in the right sort of way.

A dress like very much is one designed by Faquin, a stunning cloth coat-dress in black, with jet buttons march ing up and down the front. A brief jacket of white harmonizes with a white saloon. Pure simplicity with good lines.

The Little Woman must never wear lots of costume jewelry, carry big bags and long-handled umbrellas. If you are a Little Woman, make your diminutive charm important, play up to your particular personality.

Nothing is so distressing as a small woman, who, when she can't forget the curls and ringlets, the fussy, fancy clothes she wore when she was young. This type of dressing points up every figure defect and every line in her face. Tall, towering heels make the Little Woman swing and sway when she walks and a tall hat makes her look top-heavy.

Remember the adage—"Precious things come in small packages." So package your smallness in suitable clothes!

Crystal Ball Predicts Some Astounding Things For 1952

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — It is time to look into the old crystal ball for an advance view of 1952. What lies ahead? Well, button down the storm cellar, boys and girls — it's going to be one of the dizziest years of the century.

It is the kind of year that Rip Van Winkle would hardly choose to wake up in. You might look for these things:

The hottest national political campaign since the Bull Moose campaign of 1912. More mud will be deposited around the landscape than was left by the Midwest floods of 1951.

A man will patent a new gigantic brain able to outthink Congress. It will be given the task of figuring a way to collect more taxes, however, and it will explode — and Congress will meet as usual.

Television will come up with a bright new star — a lady able to wrestle an alligator and a box constrictor at one and the same time, while she sings a cigarette commercial.

The biggest food sensation of the year: a non-crunchy breakfast cereal. The children can see and taste it, but the parents don't have to listen to it.

A scandal will break out in world chess circles. Bull fighting will then be revived in Texas to give the nation an honest amateur sport.

A spiritualist will at last succeed in making contact with the ghost of Houdini. His message: "Let me alone, I know when I'm well off."

The traffic problem will be solved by the creation of a national network of four-lane, no-way streets. Nobody will get anywhere but they'll do it more safely.

Dr. Kinsey will finally publish his gigantic survey on the sex life of American women, it will turn out to be a four-page pamphlet. He will then undertake his masterpiece — a study of Freudian variations in the rabbit.

Taxes will go sideways, as they no longer can go up.

A revolutionary new discovery will be brought to the market as a substitute for nylon. It will be called silk.

A Soviet historian will announce in Pravda that a Russian scientist first invented the common cold. He will explain that it is why most Russian names end with a sneeze.

Inflation will force the five percenters to become ten percenters.

A monument will be erected to a congressman who returns from Europe without any inside information as to Gen. Eisenhower's plans.

And who's going to be elected president in November? To this query the crystal ball replied: "I will predict flatly only that his wife will not appear at the inauguration ceremony in a mink coat."

DAY STEALERS
February has only 28 days because of two Roman emperors, Julius Caesar took off one day to add to the month of July, which was named for him, and Augustus did the same thing to August.

Mrs. Bill Derington Honored At Shower

Mrs. Bill Derington, the former Sue Hart, was honored at a pink and blue shower Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Farris Oden.

Christmas decorations were used throughout the receiving rooms. Guests included Mmes. Bill Turpley, Wade Court, David Warren, Katherine Altendorf, Curly Campbell, and Misses Carol Sloan, Catherine Harris, Betty Scott, Donna Beagle, Judy Smith, Donna Nesbitt, Ann Sidwell, Pat Miller, and Mrs. E. C. Hart, mother of the honoree.

Sherrilyn Lassiter Entertained On Fourth Birthday

Mrs. Floyd Lassiter entertained her daughter, Sherrilyn, on her fourth birthday this week. Birthday cake and ice cream were served to guests and cracker jacks given as favors.

Guests included Rebecca Jo Lassiter, Carl and Ronnie Calloway, Kerry and Jeanie Stanford, Donna Seawright, David and Guya Sue Moore, Vicki and Joyce Jennings, Phyllis Taylor, Pam Williams, Kenny Wynne, Kerry Lee Parsley, Mmes. Max Calloway, Jack Seawright, D. Jennings, Buck Moore, Roy Sullivan; Mrs. Alton Kennedy and Lynda and Mrs. Bob Calloway and Mike of Berger; Mrs. P. B. Calloway and Mrs. W. H. Cromer, Hereford.

Ruth Millett

A current woman's magazine has a maturity test called "How Grown Up Are You?" which briefly outlines a number of family problems and gives three possible solutions to each.

The "right" answer to one I found shocking. The problem was that the mother of a three- and a six-year-old had to go to the hospital for a serious operation. What should she tell her young children?

The "grown-up" answer, according to the creator of the test, would be to tell the children she was going away to visit her sister for a month, thereby sparing them weeks of unnecessary worry and uncertainty.

The shocking thing is that anyone should advise parents to lie to children — for any reason whatever.

One sure way of giving our children security is always to give them honest answers, so that they can absolutely bank on what we tell them.

You don't give a child security by lying to him, however noble your reasons may be. You give him security by telling him the truth.

In the case of children, distressing truth such as a mother's need for a serious operation can be softened. It can be made bearable to the child by being told in a matter of fact way. It can be made acceptable, simply by the manner in which the parents accept it.

But the truth children should have. And it is really amazing how sensibly children accept the truth if it is presented to them in the right way.

No, it isn't "grown-up" to lie to your children. Only an immature mind has to resort to a lie in dealing with children. An adult mind can face truth and help children to face it, too.

The Giant and the Paint Pot

Travelers are already deriving great benefit from the new traffic-speeding Delaware Memorial Bridge near Wilmington. Built in 3 years at a $43,000,000 cost, it's the world's sixth largest suspension span. The cables are suspended from twin towers 40 stories in height. The bridge, however, is also dependent on its protective coatings that keep it safe from weather and corrosion. Properly painted, a well-designed and well-constructed steel bridge should last indefinitely.

Mayor Seeks Sly Painter

GLASGOW, Scotland — (AP) — The mayor of Glasgow, Sir Victor Warren, stalked grimly into a downtown square at high noon Wednesday looking for a traitor.

The object of his wrath was an unknown traducer who painted "traitor" on his house in red letters a foot high.

The mayor, confronted by the dripping epithet when he returned from a Christmas party at midnight, vowed:

"If the little coward who did this will meet me at the cenotaph at 12 o'clock with his pot of paint I'll wrap it round his neck."

The word spread swiftly through Glasgow. A crowd of several hundred lined George square when the clock struck noon. Sir Victor, bareheaded and brawny, walked into the square. His unknown critic did not appear.

Sir Victor waited 10 minutes and, amid cheers, left running.

The 48-year-old mayor — his official title is lord provost — told reporters he blamed the paint-smearing on agitators for Scottish independence who want a home rule Parliament like the one which directs domestic affairs in northern Ireland.

Sir Victor was critical of the home run movement during a recent speaking tour of Canada and America.

WARREN'S ARM UP

By Warren Mann—Sports Editor

QUESTION: How many yards are there in 100 meters?

IN JUST ABOUT THREE WEEKS the Harvesters will be right in the middle of the District 1-AAAA basketball chase, an affair where each year the finger is put on them at the start of the year as likely champs but by finish time they are always second best.

While we naturally prefer top drawer position at the finish, it again looks like it will be also ran for the Harvesters again this year. The tournament at Brownwood, in which they are now playing, will cast a much better light on just what kind of club Coach Cliff McNeely does have this year.

This far they haven't shown themselves to be capable of playing good basketball for 32 minutes of every game. And that is just the way they will have to play if they are going to whip Borger's Bulldogs and San Angelo's Bobcats, presently the top choices in the district.

Borger is currently sporting the top mark of district's pre-season games with ten straight victories over all types of competition from pushovers to college freshmen, ranging from city schools in East Texas to the sandy clubs of New Mexico, including a pair of victories over last year's New Mexico state champions.

Still Coach Tex Hanna won't admit he said he has a better club than last year. We think he has, and so do most Borger fans.

The Bulldogs have rolled up 563 points in their ten wins, an average of over 56 points per contest with the opposition being held to an average of 37. This weekend they meet another pair of foreign foes in Clayton and Denton.

The Bulldogs recently met the North Texas freshmen at Denton. In a column in "The Chat," NTSU school paper, the NTS sports editor calls the Bulldogs the best schoolboy team in the state and goes on to call four of the Bulldogs "exceptional," and the best better than average.

The Miller twins, Oth and Dee, are credited with a "sixth sense" that probably makes them the best guard combination in the school basketball world. The sixth sense they have that we've seen of them this year, they have an undying spirit that won't quit hustling, no matter what the score.

Mack "snake" Carter, the key pivotman who has come along to replace the transient Keith Lane, apparently is going to be a better boy than Lane. After playing Portales last weekend, the Portales coach called Carter one of the best centers he had ever seen and said that Morgan, who flips them in from far out, was almost as good.

Taking a look at San Angelo's Bobcats, with their record of nine wins and one loss. Here again, something stands to be proved about them at the Brownwood tournament, where the case was won't name, where the case was won't name, where the case was won't name.

The Bobcats have scored an average of 51 points per game against 38 for their opponents. The one defeat came when Fort Worth Poly mowed up on them, 80-40, in a weekend tournament 2-0.

Irish Exes Press Shamrock Cagers

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach Scott McCall's classy Irish basketballers ran into real trouble at the high school gym Wednesday when they tangled in scrimmage with former Irish court stars, but managed to eke out a narrow, 52-51, victory in the final two minutes.

Facing some of the finest ex-Irish stars, the 1951-52 Irish found themselves behind early and in fact almost all the way, as the exes led by 10 points as the final canto opened.

Fleasby Van Pennington and steady Mack Terry, regulars back from the last year's crew, led their cohorts to victory in the final frame as conditioning apparently proved the margin.

Vaughn Terry, who scored 267 points for the varsity, led the Terry mated to a near-win, packed his mates to a near-win, Terry mated up 22 points and led the pack in the high-scoring fray.

Other ex-Irish aces on the opposition team included Roger Skaggs, an all-regional guard as a sophomore in 1950. Skaggs was unable to play on the Irish senior crew in 1951 because as a scabback in football he broke his leg in September practice, and is now home on furlough from the navy.

He was regarded as one of the best courtiers in the state. The Green-and-white, and had scored 19 points in two grid battles at the opening of the 1950-51 season to lead all other Irish gridgers. He was known as a "mercury-hipped halfback," but was probably even flashier on court.

Robby Hammack, regular from 1948, now a Texas A&M student, also played, as did Bryan Close, a pitcher for the Shamrock independent Green Sox baseball team last summer.

Luckily for the Irish, the exes were without the services of Vernon Tarbet, 327-point all-regional guard for the 1951 season. In case of another engagement, the exes can call on the versatile Tarbet, a football, basketball and tennis star, who scored in both football and basketball last year.

McCall's starting crew — Van Pennington, Bill Harris, George Hendrick, Norrell Perkins, Mack Terry — looked good, but big Dwayne Hager, 205-pound grid tackle, how playing center for the basketballers, also showed well.

Plans will be developed in the near future by Coach McCall, Jim Abbott and other club leaders.

ANSWER: One Hundred meters is equal to 109 yards, one foot, one inch.

Banquet Set For February 8

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock Quarterback club will hold a banquet here Feb. 8 to celebrate the Irish grid victories last fall. Plans will be developed in the near future by Coach McCall, Jim Abbott and other club leaders.

What Price Glory? Is The Thought Of Bob Reynolds

LINCOLN, Neb. — "Glory is your name in the papers — and a lot of black and blue spots with a few broken bones tossed in." Here in Lincoln you thought about 1950 All-America footballer Bob Reynolds. Football brought Reynolds all the attention any kid could desire. Made him known from coast to coast. And — brought him a lot of those black and blue spots, plus a broken bone. Let's look at the history of this tow-headed, pleasant young fellow who had hit the top with all his time and brain. As a sophomore at Grand Island High School he started out a football season with a bang. Came the third game of the season and he broke a leg bone. There followed two years of the most sensational playing Nebraska had ever seen by a high school football player, with some great basketball play thrown in. And then on to the University of Nebraska where as a sophomore he hit the top of the national football world. He made All-America. Before the '51 campaign started, Reynolds suffered a shoulder separation that blew him out of action for six weeks. When he got back Nebraska didn't have the kind of sharp blocking team that sprang him so consistently last year, but even so Reynolds was No. 1 man in the eyes of the foe. And then — up popped old man blue again. A bit of lime flew up and hit Reynolds in the eye, burning the cornea. That ended him for the season. Thus, for football, Reynolds has to show: broken leg bone, shoulder separation, burned eye, All-America honors. All the a's and the s's.

Australia Virtually Clinches Davis Cup After Victory In Doubles Match

By GAYLE TALBOT SYDNEY, Australia — (AP) — Australia virtually wrapped up the Davis Cup today when its great doubles team of Frank Sedgman and Fran McGregor slaughtered America's best pair of Ted Schroeder and Tony Trabert, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3.

The American debacle was a sad disappointment to the capacity crowd of 15,300 at White City Stadium. They had anticipated a hard fought tennis match.

The Australians now lead, 3 to 1, in the best-of-five matches. The final two singles matches will be played tomorrow.

Schroeder, possibly weary from his fine stand against Sedgman yesterday, failed his youthful partner completely. Towards the last of the one-sided tilt Schroeder was a pathetic figure.

He scored only three placements in the entire match to 17 by Trabert, 24 by Sedgman and 19 by McGregor. The way he played today he will be extremely lucky to defeat Mervyn Rose in tomorrow's opening match.

SHIELDS DISAPPOINTED Australia could well retain the cup by a 4-1 margin as Sedgman now is at the absolute peak of his career and will be heavily favored to trim Vic Seixas in the final singles match.

While disappointed in the failure of his pair to make a better showing, Frank Shields, captain of the U. S. team, refused to find fault with either.

"They just ran into the greatest doubles team I ever saw," he said. "Those two fellows were tremendous. It's mighty discouraging to make a perfect cutoff shot at the net and hit where no one should be and have it come back past you for a winner. That happened to our boys a dozen times today. I don't think Ted was especially tired, only discouraged."

Schroeder was the only player to lose his service. The Aussie broke him twice in the opening set, again in the final game of the long second set and finally in the eighth game of the third set to gain victory. Trabert never ceased to fight and he repeatedly won plaudits from the crowd by his singlehanded battle with adversity. But the task was far too much for the lad from Bainbridge (Md.) Naval Station.

Year End Revue Two Kinds Of Football Drew Emphasis Of 1951 Football Season, A Rugged Year

By FRANK ECK AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor NEW YORK — There were two kinds of college football during the year: the emphasizes and the de-emphasizes.

Most schools placing an emphasis on the sport would appear to be those in favor of spring practice, the two-platoon system and bowl games. Those willing to de-emphasize in view of scandals and charges of commercialism would like to see these things abolished.

Television reared its pretty or ugly head, depending on one's viewpoint. Some schools were for it while others opposed it on the grounds it would "ruin gate receipts."

The Pacific Coast Conference voted against TV, although the Rose Bowl game on New Year's Day will be viewed over a national hookup.

It seems there were more people on "the 50-yard line" than ever. Games of national interest went to various parts of the country via TV. The National Collegiate Athletic Association called it controlled television to determine the impact on gate receipts.

The issue is slated to come up at the NCAA convention in Cincinnati, Jan. 9-12.

The University of Pennsylvania announced it would revolt against the NCAA TV program. The NCAA then termed Penn "a member not in good standing."

Notre Dame challenged the NCAA curb on live television of games and its president contended the move was unconstitutional. Penn was restored to good standing when it decided to abide by the NCAA ruling.

missed for cheating. A number of them enrolled at other colleges. Judge Streit stressed commercialism, and backed his charges with figures. He said football at the U. of Pennsylvania showed a profit of $481,000 in 1950, grossed $1,200,000 at Kentucky and $1,947,000 at Tennessee. He said Tennessee spent a quarter of a million dollars a year on its football program and that "no big league baseball club has superior scouting and recruiting system."

Ironically, Tennessee was voted No. 1 team in the nation in pre-season and post-season polls conducted by The Associated Press, Michigan State was ranked second. Other outstanding teams were Princeton, Maryland, Bucknell and San Francisco.

The William and Mary faculty charged that a sports scandal at the college was due to an ambitious athletic program that was "obscuring and corrupting." As a result of the situation, the college president and its football and basketball coaches resigned.

St. Mary's of California, Georgetown, Duquesne and Nevada were among the schools that quit the sport. Because of the Korean War, most conferences used freshmen on varsity teams.

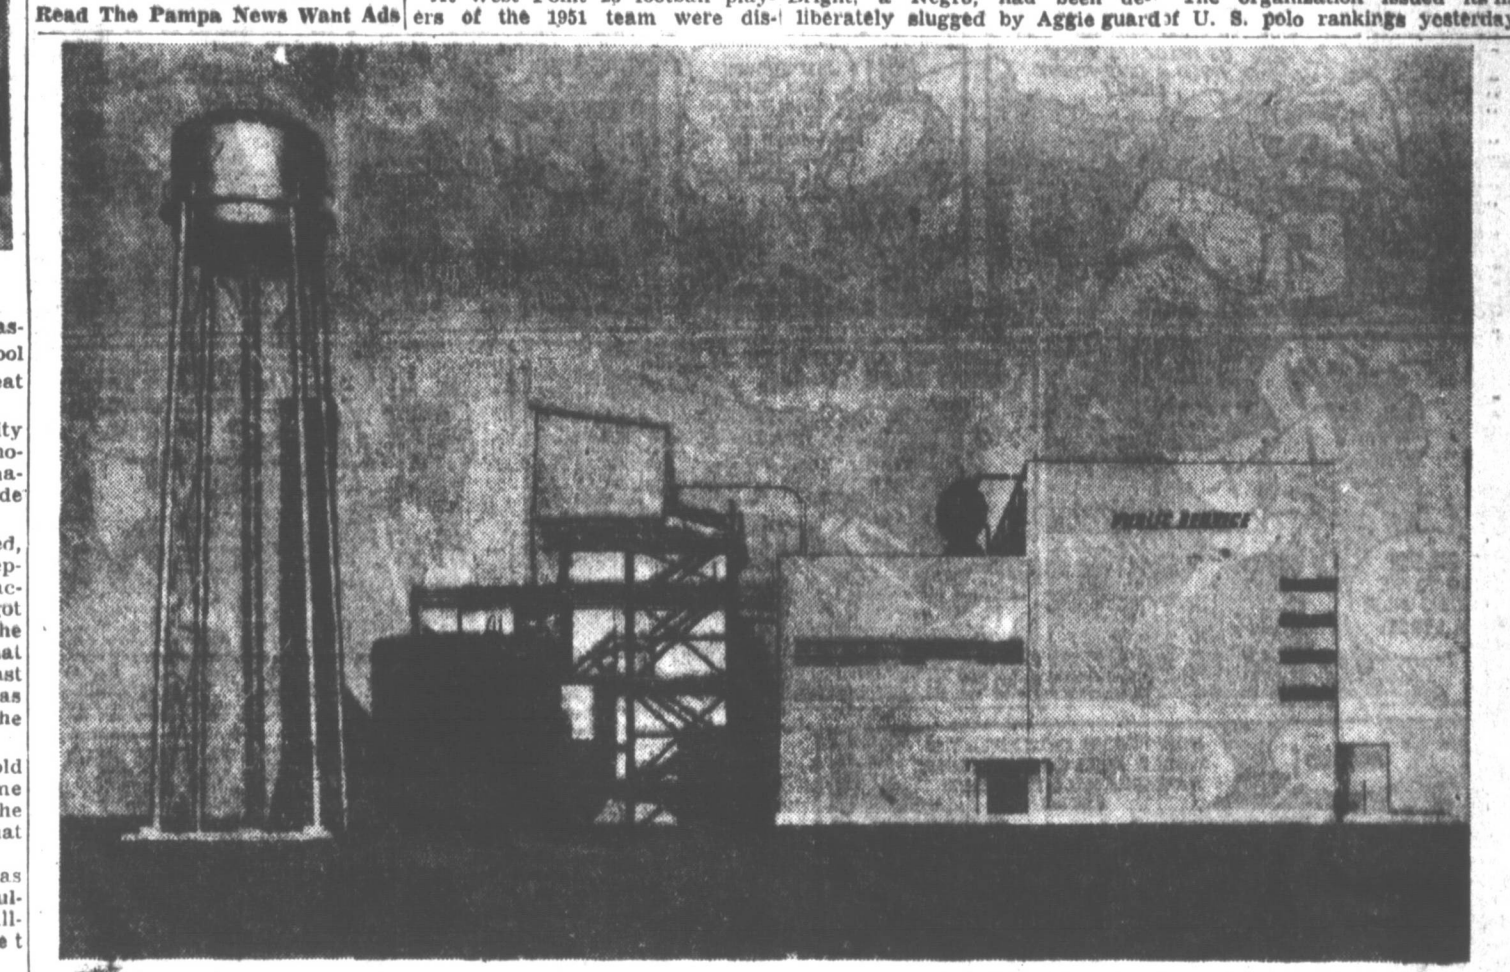

Coach Paul Bryant, 37, was signed to a 12-year contract by the University of Kentucky as a reward "for his amazingly successful direction and for guiding university gridiron teams to the best record in terms of importance they have ever enjoyed." The Wildcats lost four games out of 11.

WORK TO DO IN 1952

Plant X, the new power plant we are building in Lamb County, Texas, is the symbol for the work we must do in 1952 to continue to meet your electric service demands.

The first unit of Plant X, which by mid-1953 will have 200,000 horsepower of electric generating capacity, will go into service this year.

Also this year, a 25,000 horsepower addition will be made to the generating capacity of our Carlsbad, New Mexico power plant.

Altogether in 1952, it will be necessary to spend more than $21,000,000 in new construction alone, to meet your needs for dependable electric service.

But, necessary as it is, new construction is only part of the work we must do in 1952. The 24 hours a day job of providing you with dependable electric service will go on and 1800 men and women will see that you get the best possible electric service each day and year.

Your electric service is in good hands — the capable hands of the 1800 men and women — your friends and neighbors — who are the business-managed, tax-paying electric company which serves you.

THE STORY: Alma Conroy, designer for an exclusive firm, The House of Trumbull, is afraid her husband Tommy, who recently obtained a promotion at The House, is going to tell her again. Tommy and Alma had quarreled and he has been drinking again. This was on the eve when the brooch in the window of the House and a necklace to Alma from the former gold and silver earrings. But the next day Alma hears the appraiser say there has been a third "inside" robbery at The House, and while these have been hushed thus far by Mr. Hunsdale, the president, this time something must be done or all will be suspected.

IT was true, Alma Conroy thought. White Marie's department, where gems were appraised, and the storage room for repairs adjoined and both opened off the same little corridor into which there was no approach except through the reception-counter door.

In both rooms row upon row of cabinets containing shallow, partitioned drawers stood elevated upon a short row of steps caused by a slight difference in the street level, and it would take an agile thief indeed to reach these cabinets and make a getaway, the more especially so as the two departments often worked together and an intruder would have been sure to encounter either White Marie, Mrs. Denton, or one of two trusted secretaries.

What on earth had happened, Alma wondered? White Marie was soon pouring out the story to Old Victor Blanchard.

It seemed that some few days ago a woman, a rather ordinary-looking housewife, had brought in an old-fashioned brooch to be repaired. She said it had been her mother's.

"I looked at it once only," said Marie, "when I knew that the design was familiar. The stones were not important, but I knew the woman investigated and cabled to London for details and a confirmation."

"And the woman—is it that she is not a real Bronx?" Old Victor's shaggy eyebrows puckered rather comically with the earnestness of his question.

"The woman is all right. Exactly as represented. And entitled to the $25,000. But the brooch is gone."

"Was anything broken open—in the office, I mean?" Alma asked.

"Nothing."

"What does Mrs. Denton say?"

"She says she awfully distressed?"

"Of course. But she says the brooch was there just before she left at closing time. She saw the department locked up. And she talked to you, Alma, very late, just before she went home. Is that not so?"

"Yes, Alma nodded. "She came up to say goodby and she was as usual—calmly sweet and sour! Will she go on her vacation now?"

"I think so. Why not? She came in to work for half a day, and she's coming back tomorrow morning. She's very upset, of course. Like the rest of us, she's been watching for that pin for years."

"MADAME LESHINKA, you're right!" said Alma. "This time something really drastic must be done to get back that trinket—we don't want the British government down around our ears!"

Alma was echoing the sense of solidarity which the others felt too: Trumbull's problems were always prominently their personal problems.

"And meanwhile, whoever has got hold of the pin is in line to collect $25,000," said Mr. Smith from Silverware, not without a wistful touch of envy. "That's a lot of money—a LOT of money!"

There was no sign of Tommy, no word from him when Alma got home that night. Again the place that empty, lost look which rooms seem to acquire when the man of the house is gone. It was made even more lonely by the absence of Joe Denton's usual rolicious telephone call. They had had so many gay and happy evenings together—the three of them! And now all that was gone!

Billing Doesn't Worry Actor

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (P) — The Oscar season is rolling around again, so it's time for a chat with Walter Brennan, the only actor who has won three of them. Brennan won three of the first five academy awards presented for a supporting actor. (The practice was started in 1936). I asked him what effect they had on his career.

"None that I could see," he replied. "I was under contract to Sam Goldwyn at the time and I didn't even receive congratulations from him. Later, someone asked him about it, and he said he'd do something about it. So the next time he saw me, he said, 'Walter, I'm glad you won that prize.'"

Despite his modesty about the Oscars, Brennan has managed to keep working regularly ever since receiving them. He now limits himself to two or three pictures a year, although he has offers for plenty more.

"The government takes the money away, so why should I work so hard?" he remarked. "Besides, there are only two or three good parts every year, and it's no fun to walk through a stinker."

There's nothing pretentious about Brennan. He has no starling ambitions — and claimed he never has.

"Listen, I was slapping on the makeup and dressing in my face 30 years ago when I started out in the business," he remarked. "I never wanted to be anything but a character actor. The work is steady, and the public doesn't get tired of you."

"But you never see me fighting for top billing. The only billing I want is under the title. If the picture is lousy, the people will blame it on the stars. But they'll walk out saying, 'wasn't that old man good, though?'"

The Brennan formula seems to be to play it as down-to-earth as possible without being unorthodox. If necessary, he'll even take out his teeth for realism's sake. He doesn't mind how long or short the role is or how valuable or hateful. However, his wife is against his wearing wigs and he seldom appears as the bad man.

'Operation Doublecross' A Major Effort By The West

BONN, Germany — (AP) — West to grab trade from such German ports as Hamburg. So they gladly fight against "Operation Doublecross" in an effort to stop the leakage of millions of dollars worth of strategic materials to the Soviet Union and its satellites.

These officials listed Antwerp, Rotterdam, Basle, Copenhagen and Stockholm as the main trans-shipment points for strategic goods sold by the Germans to Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Although few of these shipments move direct to Soviet ports, western officials are convinced a big share eventually reaches the Soviet Union.

Allied officials said Russia and her satellites will outbid West-

Inquiry Into Farm Funds Demanded

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The National Farmers union has renewed a demand for a congressional inquiry into what it calls misuse of the government-subsidized county agent system for private purposes of farm bureau federations.

Union President James G. Patton made the request in a letter to Chairman Ellender (D-La.) of the Senate Agriculture committee.

Ellender has announced the group will look into some activities of the Agriculture department.

Patton said the time spent by agriculture extension service employees in "improper activities" for farm bureau federations represents "hundreds of thousands if not millions of dollars annually."

He charged these activities include membership campaigns, sale of insurance, promotion of livestock commission houses, writing and editing columns and carrying delegates to meetings.

Patton also wrote that it is "widely recognized" that county agents serve only a limited group of farmers — "usually the more prosperous, while the farmers who need technical help most seldom if ever see the agent."

France Pressing For Super Army

PARIS — (AP) — France is considering making a proposal for a union with five other West European countries as a means of getting a European defense army started.

The proposal, still in the almost-ready stage, would permit what America wants most just now — the formation of German fighting forces along the frontier facing the Russians. The task is not easy.

It is merely the latest gesture on the part of the French to get a European harness on Germany before time and the force of events might start the old Reich on its old and troublesome way alone.

Basically the French want, under the plan advanced by Premier Rene Pleven, to have an army of 43 divisions set up under control of an international body.

And they don't want any single nation, especially Germany, to have a private army outside this control.

This called for a supra-national authority, which would have the power, working through a European parliament, to levy taxes, direct the formation of the army, and determine when and how it would fight.

It was such a monumental proposal that a number of nations, notably England, refused to have any part of it.

But the most recent stumbling block was the insistence by Belgium that it be allowed to contribute certain forces to the European army but keep some for itself.

To France that idea was anathema. France does not worry about any special army which Belgium might hold out. But the principle, if approved, would permit Germany to contribute a few divisions to the European army and at the same time build up an army of its own, independent of supra-national authority.

Now, France is examining seriously the possibility of asking West Germany, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg to enter the army on a trial basis for one to three years. To get the thing started, she may be willing to permit each country to reserve the right to withdraw its forces. Also, she might be ready to let each nation finance its own contribution to the European army during the trial period.

But after that she would expect the countries working in the plan would really set up a machine which would control the army.

These new ideas, if agreed to, would postpone for a time one of the most troublesome elements in creation of the army — who is going to finance the troops.

Mexico Considering Change In Draft

MEXICO CITY — (AP) — Mexican ministry has said it may return to a former conscription system which drafted about 10 percent of the adult men into regular army units.

All 18-year-old youths have to serve a year in the army but their training in the past two years has been limited to drilling two hours on Sunday. They live at home and continue in their jobs.

The new system would have a draft lottery. Some 20,000 youths chosen by lot would be formed into two divisions and serve like regulars. The others would have only the Sunday drill. The ministry said a decision would be made by President Miguel Aleman early next year.

Man Injured Near Shamrock To Open A Business There

SHAMROCK — (Special) — A. C. Waymire spent 75 unexpected days in Shamrock and now is planning to open a business here.

Last July 1 Waymire and five other persons were hurt in a collision on Hwy. 66 east of Shamrock. He suffered a broken pelvis, leg and foot injuries and a concussion, requiring 75 days in the Shamrock hospital.

Waymire was overwhelmed by the friendly interest taken by Shamrockers. He said one day the mayor visited him. Although he had lived in Los Angeles for years, he had never seen the mayor. Other citizens made his stay more pleasant.

Waymire said he would open a music school at Shamrock.

U.S. Expected To Turn Down British Combined Chiefs Plan

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States probably will turn down any new proposal by Great Britain to revive the "combined chiefs of staff," the joint high command which shaped strategy in World War II.

There was belief in some quarters here that Prime Minister Churchill might have this plan in the portfolio of proposals he is bringing next month to talk over with President Truman.

The Pentagon holds that while the combined chiefs agency was highly useful in the prosecution of an actual, global war, with all its ramifications, such an Anglo-American command would not be needed to operate in a North Atlantic alliance. Presumably this view has been passed along to the President.

The combined chiefs of staff was created in February, 1942 through agreement between Mr. Churchill and the late President Roosevelt. The organization then was about what its name indicated — the membership of the chiefs of staff of the two nations.

The CCS operated both as a staff agency for the broad, global strategy conceived in general outlines by the two chiefs of staff and turned over to the professional soldiers for filling out details.

For several years after the war's end, the CCS continued to function, although with diminished importance. Officially, it was explained in 1948 that the combined chiefs of staff "consider and

Shamrock Students To Take Semester Exams Jan. 10, 11

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Final examinations for the high school will be held Jan. 10 and 11, reports E. M. Burkhalter, high school principal.

Burkhalter said the exams would begin Thursday morning, with one and one-half hour periods for each class. Four class tests will be held Thursday and two Friday morning, while teachers will finish their grading and checking that afternoon.

High school teachers are scheduled to meet at the high school study hall to record final semester grades Monday morning, Jan. 14 at 9 a. m., and registration of high school students will start about 10:30.

Most of the second semester registration will be routine, because most students continue their present course of studies throughout the second semester, but some will be ending half-year courses and will be replacing them with other suitable semester-length courses.

Shamrock has 275 students in high school, with 15 teachers in departments of English, social science, science, mathematics, vocational, agriculture, vocational, homemaking, physical education and music.

He was the victim.

How Much Does It Cost To Make Money?

In any city, the Newspaper gets the biggest share of the advertising dollar. Why? Is it because merchants like to spend money? Is it because of habit? Far from it!

Businessmen buy advertising to get the most sales for the least expenditure like you also would do. Local businessmen buy more NEWSPAPER advertising than all other media combined because newspapers deliver the good for far less unit cost.

And the bigger, more successful their business, the greater relative share of their funds goes into low cost newspaper space. NOTHING else comes within a Russian mile of newspaper space for low cost impact.
