Local Grain Operators Charge 'Dirty Pool' In CCC Implication

Pampa grainmen Saturday charged "dirty pool" in the Senate Agriculture committee's implication that a Pampa grain elevator had shorted the Credit Commodity Corp. of wheat stored here.

The Senate committee Saturday included Gray County Wheat Growers as being one of 13 elevators in which "it has not yet been determined whether the shortage is a conversion." The committee said the local firm was short $2018.

Other operators told The News Saturday, this would amount to only 800 bushels and that such shortages are normal due to shrinkage of grain and the loss in unloading.

"There is no way to handle grain without some loss," Emmett Gee, operator of Gray County Wheat Growers elevator, said. "There just isn't any way in the world you can dump 100 bushels in an elevator and take out a 100 bushels if you give honest weights on your scales, it just can't be done," Gee added.

Gee said he had told the CCC when he delivered the grain last fall that there would be some shortage as usual because of transportation and shrinkage. He said that CCC officials know this and could not understand why he and the other 12 had been listed by the Senate committee.

Other grainmen here said this was a normal operation loss and in no way meant that any untoward action could be involved in a relatively small loss such as this.

M. M. Moyer, operator of the Fisher-Panhandle Grain Co., said all grain companies have this same situation in all transfers of grain. He said he felt it was unfair to connect these operations with actual conversions of government wheat to private channels.

Grainmen said that as long as the company had its own wheat in storage in its elevator, the transportation and shrinkage loss could be made up from the elevator's private holdings. If

Expert To Forecast Future Of Area At Canadian Dam Meet

A verbal picture, drawn from facts and figures of the Panhandle-South Plains economical structure will be presented by representatives of 11 area cities on Jan. 31, in Old Tascosa dining room, Amarillo, by Dr. John R. Stockton, director, Bureau of Business Research, University of Texas.

Stockton will describe the economic potentialities and future municipal and industrial water requirements to the Canadian River Water Users Assn. from a survey his department recently completed.

The area covered in the survey starts on the state line to the north, runs south to the southern boundary lines of Gaines, Dawson and Borden counties, from the west state line to the east state line and the eastern boundaries of Motley, Dickens, Kent, and Borden counties.

By means of questionnaires and personal interviews with city officials and industrial leaders in the 44-county area, Stockton compiled his information on the extent and location of oil and gas reserves, transportation and pipe line facilities, agricultural resources, industrial development,

Threat To Unseat Connally Is Rapidly Gathering Steam

AUSTIN (AP) — The first serious threat in 18 years to unseat Texas' senior Senator Connally gathered steam Saturday.

Atty. Gen. Price Daniel's two-day statewide radio broadcast Monday night at 7:30 was expected to bring his candidacy into the open and touch off a blistering campaign. Connally, who went to the Senate in 1929, has not had a tough campaign since 1934.

There was virtually no doubt that Daniel's announcement would put the 41-year-old attorney general definitely into the U. S. Senate race rather than for re-election or for the governorship in opposition to Allan Shivers.

DANIEL BROADCAST

Daniel's broadcast will originate from Dallas. It will be carried on the Texas Quality and Texas State networks, plus tie-in stations.

Reds Hurl New Charge Of Aerial Violations

Claim U.S. Jets Hit Marked Motor Convoy

MUNSAN Korea — (AP) — A new Communist charge of Allied aerial violation muddied still further the bogged-down Korean armistice talks Saturday.

The negotiators return to Panmunjon today, however, for subcommittee sessions at 11 a. m. (8 p. m., CST, Saturday).

Injected into Saturday's unproductive meetings was a Red charge that four U. S. Jet planes bombed and strafed a plainly-marked truck motor convoy between Kaesong and the Korean Communist capital of Pyongyang on Friday afternoon.

The Communists termed it "a grave protest." Brig. Gen. William P. Nichols, United Nations command spokesman, said the charge would be investigated. But he added that the Allies did not view the charge "with any more gravity than we have viewed past allegations."

U. S. Marine Col. James C. Murray, Allied liaison officer who received the Red protest, said later he did not regard it as any threat to break off the armistice talks.

The Communists asserted that, despite joint guarantees of safe conduct, two trucks and a jeep were attacked and two Communist soldiers were wounded.

The agreement provides that 12 Communist vehicles, marked with cherry red panels on the hood, may use the Kaesong-Pyongyang road unimpeded in daytime, six northbound and six southbound.

Still under Allied investigation was a Communist charge that a bomb was dropped in the Kaesong security zone Thursday.

Additionally, the Reds charged two other incidents. Allied fighters bombed Chinese cities and the bombing of North Korean prisoner of war camp No. 8 at Kangdong.

Allied negotiators referred to the Communist charges Saturday in suggesting a meeting of staff officers to draft safeguards for prisoner of war camps. The Communists agreed "in principle."

The UN command acknowledged that planes bombed the Kangdong area Monday night but blamed the Reds for refusing to pinpoint the location of prison camp. Peiping radio said 15 South Korean prisoners were killed and 64 wounded.

Pampa Collects $1800 In Amarillo Dimes War

The war between Pampa and Amarillo over collection of funds during the March of Dimes drive increased in intensity today as local donations for the mile-of-dimes yesterday totaled $1825.14, almost double last year's total, according to Mack Hiatt, county secretary.

The fight between the two cities was started when Clinton Evans, Gray county chairman for the March of Dimes, wired Potter County Chairman Leon Krupp a message stating money collected in Gray county would top not only the goal set but also the amount per capita contributed in the neighboring county.

Money donated in yesterday's drive was collected by various civic clubs and was totaled last night at the police station.

Plans are now in progress for the Mothers' March, Jan. 31, they would like to challenge us to," he remarked.

Evans explained that the population in Gray county is about 70,000 while Amarillo has about 75,000 to 100,000. "Those figures seem to match us pretty evenly."

Heading the drive will be Mrs. Ruth Neustiel, 620 N. Frost. Pampa will be divided into eight zones, each of which will be divided into as many districts as possible for raising money during the annual March of Dimes campaign. Last year, he stated, over $9000 was collected during the drive.

"As in the past, the March of Dimes still is conducted on a voluntary basis," Evans remarked. "No residents will be selected, the 1st unless they have turned on their porch lights."

Zone chairmen include Mmes. E. M. Culbertson, W. A. Claunch, A. B. Whitten, Art Teed, E. L. Riggerstaff, Homer Craig, N. L. Nicholl and Oscar Redd. Any citizen wishing to volunteer should call any of the above women.

City Gets Priority For Copper, Steel

The city yesterday received a priority rating for steel and copper for use in the expanded water system, and the cash for which to pay for it.

A notice from National Production authority okayed totals of 80 tons of steel, 12,000 pounds of copper and copper base mill products, 500 pounds of copper wire products, and $12,000 worth of production equipment.

Another letter from the First National Bank, Dallas, notified the city that $575,934.40 is now National Bank and its bidding deposit with the First National Bank in Pampa, for payment of bond issue projects.

"This is all well and good," City Manager Dick Peppin said, "if we can find somebody to sell the products. Having the priority rating is one thing, getting companies with the products on hand or available to bid is another thing."

The 12,000 pounds of copper and copper base products, to be used in valves, valve seats and other fittings, have been divided into 1000 pounds for each quarter, beginning April 1. Getting priority in the steel situation will also be an approximately 500 pounds of copper tubing. Peppin said the well into production with a 1950 and motor will run close to $12,000.

The federal government okay on the water improvement was sent through John B. Oliverison of the Water Resources Division, N. P. A.

The cash for the $575,000 in bonds, recently voted by Pampa citizens, was boosted by $334 in premium and will total $609,334 that amount $80 was the pre-

A Slight Delay: Given Medals 33 Years Late

Thirty three years after receiving wounds during the Battle of the Argonne, H. L. Kenner, formerly of Pampa, has received the Purple Heart.

It was not until three months ago when Kenner decided to join the American Legion at Guyton, Okla., where he now resides, that he was told he was eligible to receive the award. Shortly before Christmas last year he received the medal.

Kenner, father of Jack and Lance Kenner, both of Pampa, entered service during World War I in 1917 and was assigned to the 357th Infantry, 90th division. After training he went to Europe where he fought in the Battle of St. Mihiel and later during the Argonne battle.

It was during the latter fight that he was wounded by machine gun bullets. After receiving temporary treatment he was returned to the United States.

After living in Pampa 15 years, Kenner moved to Guyton four years ago where he now is employed as a barber. While living in Pampa he served as a city policeman and a Gray county law enforcement officer.

Earnest Beck has also announced his candidacy for reelection to the office of Commissioner of Gray county. Precinct 4, Beck has been serving as commissioner of the precinct for the past five years.

Harris Rites Today In Wheeler Church

Services for Mrs. Margaret A. Harris, who died in a local hospital yesterday after a one-month illness, will be held at 3 p. m. today in the First Baptist church in Wheeler.

Mrs. Harris, 78, was born in Mulburn, Texas. She moved here from near Wheeler 14 years ago and resided at 927 E. Scott. She was a member of the Calvary Baptist church here.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Lillie May Clemens, Pampa; Mrs. J. C. Brown, Espadero; Mrs. W. J. Shanks, Big Spring, and Mrs. Betty Turner, Prescott, Ariz., 22 grandchildren and 27 great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Wheeler.

2702 Pay Poll Taxes As 10 Days Remain

With only 10 days remaining to obtain poll tax receipts or exemption certificates, only 2702 potential voters have paid their poll tax.

An estimated 550 have obtained exemption certificates for a total of approximately 2252 eligible voters out of an estimated 1000 plus potential for Gray county.

County tax officials pointed to one of the new phases of the redefined election law on exemptions — the law making it mandatory for those over 60 to renew their exemption certificate every year. This, however, is applicable only to those residing in cities of 10,000 or more population.

Since Pampa is well over that figure, those entitled to exemption certificates must renew them this year in order to vote.

It does not affect those voting in the outlying precincts such as Laketon, Grandview, McLean, Leons, Hopkins, Webb, Farrington, Kinsland, and Phillips Camp.

Deadline for paying poll taxes or obtaining exemption certificates is tonight, Jan. 31.

Farm Practices List Sent Out

A list of 12 intended agricultural practices for 1952 have been sent Gray county farmers who must check any practice they intend to carry out during the year.

Intentions must be on file in the local office of the production and marketing administration before any 1952 prior approvals can be issued.

It is necessary for farmers to obtain prior approval before starting any practice under the program to be eligible for a payment under the practice.

Carey's Future Rests In Hands Of McGrath

SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — Whether suspended U. S. Attorney Harvey L. Carey, acquitted on bribery charges, will be allowed to resume his duties remains a question that only U. S. Attorney General J. Howard McGrath can answer.

Carey, accused of soliciting a $60,000 bribe from Texas oilman Lewis Hart, was acquitted by a federal district court jury after seven hours of deliberation.

McGrath suspended Carey from office in December, 1950 after an investigation by the Justice Dept.

Carey technically has held the title of U. S. attorney for western Louisiana although he was under suspension without salary.

From his home, he issued this statement:

"I am deeply gratified by the complete vindication of my personal and professional integrity. The unanimous verdict of this jury affirms the faith of all decent Americans in the jury system."

He was indicted by a federal grand jury in March on charges he asked a $60,000 bribe from Hart to "settle" 30 perjury counts pending against Hart and four of his employees.

As U. S. attorney, it was up to Carey to prosecute the oilman on the perjury charges.

Carey, 36-year-old Purple Heart winner in World War II, stood with bowed head as the clerk read the verdict.

Neither he nor his pretty wife Katie, who was at his side throughout the eight-day trial, showed any emotion as they stood facing each other in silence after the verdict was read.

Judge Allen Hannay dismissed the jury and ordered Carey released from a $5,000 bond.

Carey denied that he suggested a bribe. He testified that he "strung Hart along in hopes of catching a briber" and to see if the federal petroleum board was involved.

Carey was described during the trial by the defense "as a young man trying to play Mr. District Attorney and big shot."

Korean War Proves Need Of Manpower Program

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Gen. had since taken on greater responsibilities both at home and of staff, said the Korean campaign has proved "that we need a sound program of manpower mobilization."

This would be supplied by universal military training (UMT), the general told the House Armed Services committee.

He supported a Pentagon plan for beginning limited UMT with 60,000 volunteers between 17 and 19 years old. They would receive six months' training and would go immediately into active service for 18 months.

Secretary of Defense Lovett told the committee military authorities could start this program by October or November, if Congress approved necessary legislation by April.

Congress approved UMT in principle last June but has to pass additional legislation before it can start. The Armed Services committee is holding open hearings on a blueprint for total UMT training of 800,000 youths annually.

Collins said if UMT had been in effect before Korea, "we would not have had to disrupt the lives of thousands of men who served in World War II and who mostly influenza.

against aggression 5,000 miles from home and we are partially demobilizing all at the same time. From the long-range view, we must face the hard fact that this situation may continue indefinitely unless the international tensions abate."

Collins said UMT "would, of course, cost money, but its costs would be little when compared to the costs of the two alternatives — huge standing forces or gross unpreparedness which would invite attack."

Flu Keeping Many Home From Texas Schools

(By The Associated Press)

Influenza and other respiratory ailments were keeping many Texas school children home Thursday. Two schools in Hill county closed.

Absenteeism at Fort Worth ranged from 25 to 31 per cent, compared with a daily average of only 3 to 5 per cent in the last six weeks.

The Hubbard school in Hill county closed Tuesday and the Abbott school closed Wednesday. About a third of the 270 pupils at Abbott were absent when officials decided to halt classes.

Attendance at Austin schools was down as much as 25 per cent because of a variety of illnesses, served in World War II and who mostly influenza.

Dies To Challenge Legality Of Tax On Domestic Help

JASPER — (AP) — Martin Dies said he will soon challenge in court the constitutionality of the social security law amendment requiring housewives to collect social security taxes from domestic servants.

The former congressman, who was chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee, is attorney for a group of Marshall, Tex., housewives who have refused to collect and pay the tax.

The suit, Dies said, would be based principally on these contentions:

1. The Constitution does not authorize Congress to require a private citizen to serve as an uncompensated and involuntary tax collector.
2. The power to tax, as given in the Constitution, does not include the power or right to raise funds to pay insurance premiums.
3. The money being raised by the program is being spent "as fast as it comes in" for other governmental expenses rather than being set aside for the purpose prescribed.

THE ARAB LEAGUE is an association of seven Arab states who signed up together in 1945 on the general theory of "in union there is strength." The members are Egypt, Syria, Saudi Arabia, Iraq, Jordan, and little Lebanon. Six of them are in the UN. Containing the world's principal groups of Arabs and Moslems and occupying one of the most strategically vital areas, the League could swing a lot of weight in world councils—especially now, with the Western defense spotlight on the Middle East. But the League is far from being an "all-for-one" happy family. It is torn by dissension and mutual distrust. Iraq and Iran have no love for and get none from the other five members. Egypt, largest and theoretically most powerful, lost an awful lot of prestige when little Israel, not yet out of swaddling clothes, thoroughly bloodied her nose during the Israeli-Arab war. Jordan has always been closely tied to Britain, with whom Egypt has been feuding for years. Right now Egypt is making headlines by her attempt to throw the British out of Suez and the Sudan. Her extremists are making threats of concerted Arab League action and even "holy war." But unless the League can suddenly achieve its charter-avowed purpose to "coordinate political action" it is likely to remain at its— a trouble-making sounding-board for its anti-Western elements.

Candidates Must List Donors Under Law

(Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles concerning the revised Texas election code being co-authored by Pampa Attorney Aaron Sturgeon and News political reporter Henry S. Gordon. Readers may send in questions to The News which will be studied and answered by the authors.)

By ATTORNEY AARON STURGEON
And
HENRY S. GORDON

Recodification of the Texas election laws — the first since 1906 — includes 200 changes in the code.

Although most of these involve minor technicalities in holding elections, several are major changes and affect actions of candidates and voters alike.

The most important change, insofar as candidates are concerned, is the publication of campaign contributions.

In previous years the amount of campaign spending was limited for various districts, but the limits were so strict they were meaningless and ignored by most candidates. This year there is no limit but opposing candidates and the public will be given an opportunity to learn who is financially backing a candidate and how much is given him and what the money is used for.

The statute also includes loans to a candidate as well as gifts or contributions.

The old provision prohibiting corporations from contributing to campaign funds remains in effect.

When the candidate — or his campaign manager — files the sworn statement of gifts he must include the name of the donors or lenders, their address and the amount given the candidate.

These statements must be filed with the county clerk in county and precinct races and with the secretary of state in district or state-wide races. They must be made available to the press.

Failure to comply with the new law may mean a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500; or a prison term may be imposed, or both.

Another major change affecting candidates is the deadline for filing as a candidate.

In previous elections the deadlines for filing for a place on the primary ballot were different for precinct, county, district and state-wide offices.

This year they are all the same. The new deadline is the first Monday in May; making it May 7 this year.

The candidate must be a qualified voter under the constitution of the State of Texas; must be a bona fide resident of the state for one year before the election and a resident for six months before the election in the county or district in which he is running for office.

In filing for office, candidate must also file a loyalty oath, the same as in 1950.

His filing must be done in writing, or by petition of 25 qualified voters in his behalf. If the candidate files via the petition route that petition must have his signature, denoting his approval.

Candidates filing for precinct and county offices must file with the county party chairman. In state-wide races the candidate files with the state party chairman.

The same is true in district races, providing there is a district chairman.

But, if there is no district chairman, then the candidate must file separately with each county chairman in the district. This means that candidates for representative in Congress or the Legislature; state senator; district judge; district attorney and other district offices will have to file separately with each county chairman included in that special district.

The deadline for filing is extended to the first Monday in June, if there is no candidate for an office by the deadline or

Plane Crashes Into Sea With 43 Aboard

SANDSPIT AIRPORT, B. C. — A homebound Far East airliner with 43 aboard, limping in for an emergency landing in the darkness early Saturday undershot the airfield and crashed into the sea.

Seven men were rescued shortly after the crash. The body of another was recovered hours later.

"It looks doubtful whether there are any other survivors," a Canadian official said.

The plane rested on a gravel bar in about 15 feet of water some three-fourths of a mile offshore, one wing and the tail poked out of the water.

The plane, a DC-4, was owned by Trans-World Airlines, leased to the military air transport service (MATS) and operated by Northwest Airlines.

There were 40 passengers and three in the crew aboard. The crew consisted of John Pfaffinger, 33, Kent, Wash., the pilot; Kenneth Kuhn, 36, Seattle, co-pilot, and Jane Cheadle, stewardess, now of Seattle but formerly of Helena, Mont.

The seven men fished out of the water and off the protruding wing by a man in a rowboat were identified at McChord, Wash. Air Force base as Sgts. Charles H. Fieles and Richard O. Fieles, Lt. Donald E. Baker, Sgt. H. D. Maynard, Pfc. William A. Price, Demearis G. Apostolou and Sgt. Gregory Calkins.

No home towns were available. Military authorities said names of others aboard would be announced after next of kin are notified, probably today or Monday.

As officials reconstructed the tragedy, the plane was coming into this Queen Charlotte Islands airport with one of its four engines feathered for an emergency landing.

A royal Canadian Air Force spokesman said that with one engine cut, the plane probably did not have enough power to make a second try for the field. When the crew saw they would fall short, they had no alternative but to belly-land the craft in the water.

Churchill Will Go Home To Answer To His People

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Winston Churchill, a stout, stooped, Briton puffing a long cigar, trudged from the Washington scene Saturday weighted with age and new triumphs and some deals that will take explaining to the folks back home.

The Prime Minister's 11th hour compromise acceptance of an American Navy command in the Atlantic and his endorsement of U. S. policies in the Far East seemed certain to draw sharp questioning when he faces Parliament to account for his Washington mission.

His last official act before boarding the noon train for New York was to shake hands with 49 wounded Korean war veterans at Union Station. He stood before them for a moment and then said, "you will always remember you played your part in a great and honorable world event."

From the parking court where the veterans were gathered the Prime Minister, who had told President Truman goodbye Friday, marched with the slow, heavy pace of his 77 years across Union Station concourse and past the iron barred gate to a private car assigned him.

On the back platform Churchill himself called "bye, bye" to scores of persons who had gathered behind ropes and the grilles. He held up his fingers in the famous "V" sign that was his trademark in World War II.

Some watching his departure wondered whether it might be the end of his last journey to Washington where on many occasions over a decade he has mightily influenced the course of history.

Churchill, according to the evidence of published agreements and private information from his own officials, is going home with most but not all that he initially sought.

But he did not get everything, and in some respects he paid a price for the furtherance of his overriding objective—the closer alignment of British and American policies throughout the world.

Both Churchill's associates and those who sat with Mr. Truman during last week's White House talks agreed that in this major project Churchill had been successful.

Plane Explodes After Engine Conks Out

SACRAMENTO, Calif. — (AP) — A B-25, with one of its two engines conked out, pancaked atop a Mather Air Force guard house Saturday and exploded.

First reports were that two men were killed and 10 were unaccounted for. Many others were burned. Estimates of the injured ran as high as 40.

The plane carried a crew of six or seven. The demolished guard house was occupied by more than 30 prisoners who just had returned from lunch.

The B-25 pilot, Lt. Philip Keck, of Sacramento, although cut and suffering from shock, gasped out this brief account.

"I was coming in for a landing when one of my motors went out and we pancaked on top of a building. There were either six or seven on our plane. As far as I know, none is dead."

New Cars Go On Sale Saturday

DETROIT — (AP) — New Buick and Chevrolet model cars went on sale Saturday, but no deliveries reportedly were made pending government approval on specific dollars and cents prices.

A General Motors Corp. spokesman said proposed prices have been filed with the Office of Price Stabilization. These reportedly were quoted by dealers as tentative prices in taking orders.

But the GM spokesman said any orders taken Saturday would be subject to OPS approval of the prices, which is expected Monday.

The OPS has granted GM wholesale price increases ranging from $60 on a Chevrolet to $103 on a Cadillac.

Irish O&G Plant Building Continues

DUMAS — Shamrock Oil and Gas Corp. at its McKee refinery northeast of Dumas is continuing its development of by-products with the installing of equipment for making coke and extracting a higher degree of gasoline content from its residual fuel oil supply.

Equipment for the patented process is being erected under the supervision of Lummus Construction Co. of Philadelphia.

This reprocessing and further refinement of residual fuel oil by Shamrock follows greatly stepped up gasoline extraction facilities and extraction of sulphur from natural gas, placed in effect by the company last year.

Survey Of Panhandle Is Outlined

Sixty five representatives from the Panhandle Friday heard Dr. Randall T. Klemme outline a plan for an industrial and agricultural survey for the Panhandle area at a meeting in the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce.

The head of the agricultural and industrial development service of Oklahoma A & M college explained the service offered by the college but said no definite price for the survey can be quoted until it is decided what information will be obtained.

Represented were Amarillo, Childers, Phillips, Pampa, Borger, Dumas, Memphis, Tulsa, Sunnelt, Plainview, Shamrock and Canyon. At the conclusion of the discussion, A. A. Meredith, Borger, was elected chairman and Rex B. Baxter, Amarillo, vice chairman of an executive committee to meet at a later date for discussions concerning the survey.

Attending from Pampa were Joe Key, A. A. Schuneman, Jimmy McCune, E. Roy Smith, and plans for participating in E. O. Wedgeworth, Howard Buckingham, Frank Lard and Lloyd Kuntz.

Boys' Train Ride Wins A Ticket To Juvenile Officer

Three local teenagers, whose spree to Amarillo Friday by freight train was cut short were ordered yesterday to report weekly to the county juvenile officer.

H. A. Doggett ordered the 12-year-old boys to report to him after returning them from Amarillo.

The boys told Doggett they jumped into a freight car here and rode to Amarillo "because we have always wanted to ride a freight train."

After receiving Amarillo they got out of the car, Doggett said, and were caught by a railway official who took them to a police station. Doggett then was notified and returned them to Pampa.

Bulldogs Defeat Harvesters, 48-42, In Fieldhouse Opener

Winning Streak Halted At 14 Before 2500 Wild Fans

The Pampa Harvesters opened their new fieldhouse last night, but found that one of the carpenters had left the lids on the baskets as far as they were concerned. The Borger Bulldogs, taking advantage of the Green and Gold hitting less than 25 percent of their shots, earned a hard-fought 48-42 win.

The loss tied the District 1-AAAA race up into a three-way tie as Abilene defeated Lubbock, 60-56. The race is now tied between, Pampa, Borger and Abilene, each with three wins and one loss.

Both coaches shifted their defense like chess players, moving key offensive players to positions where they would not foul out of the game. But still the two tall Borger stars, Snake Carter and Jimmy Bishard, left early. Bishard fouled out with 1:30 left in the third period and Carter with 3:02 left in the game.

The Harvesters never led in the game. The closest they came to the Pack was with five minutes left to play. At that time they had come from an eight-point deficit at the three-quarter mark to 42-29. But then the Red and White put on a five-point spurt that practically led the game.

Big Mack Carter paced the scoring for the Bulldogs, as he poured 11 field goals and three free throws through the new nets for 25 points. Jimmy Bond led the Harvesters with 17, followed by Tommy Smith with 14.

The Bulldogs jumped off to a 5-0 lead in the first two minutes before Tommy Smith was able to hit a free toss, and then they extended it to 15-9 at the end of the first period. They made it look easy as they led 24-12 with three minutes left in the first half, but the Harvesters managed to pick up one point to trail 28-17 at halftime.

Coming back the second half, the Harvesters looked like a different club, the halftime rest apparently reviving them considerably. They trailed 37-27 with 1:30 left in the third quarter when Bishard fouled out and were behind 37-29 at the end of the third period.

To start the fourth quarter, Jimmy Bond personally hit eight straight points, brother Marvin hit three more to close the gap to 42-39 with five full minutes to go. But then the Pack got hot again, fired in five straight counts and then stalled out the remainder of the contest to take the win.

The beautiful new fieldhouse was jammed to capacity, with over 2500 fans sitting, standing and screaming their way through the entire 32 minutes of play. It was before Tommy Smith was able to see a basketball game in Pampa.

The Harvesters now rest until next Friday when they host the Lubbock Westerners, who will be followed in by the Odessa Bronchos on Saturday night.

Following the game, the Harvester basketball team presented Coach McNeely with a gift of twin baby blankets for the McNeely twins, Phil and Mike.

The loss brought to an end the Harvesters' winning streak at 14 straight games. For the Bulldogs it was the fifteenth win against one loss.

Circuit Cut By One

UVALDE — (AP) — Southwest Texas Junior college has withdrawn from the South Texas Junior College Conference basketball race. This makes two teams that have quit the cage circuit. The other was Texas Southern of Brownsville which gave financial reasons.

Bell said in turn the league has made an agreement with Dan Topping, owner of the New York Baseball Yankees, in which Topping agrees to cancel his Yankee stadium lease with Collins for $200,000, payable at $25,000 a year for the next eight years.

Collins had a 10-year lease on the big ball park at $50,000 a year with eight years to run. Bell said that Dallas "Mr. X" has made an agreement by telephone-meeting-league terms. He added if the Dallas party fails to go through with the deal there are eight other prospective buyers. He did not name them but it is understood two of them are from Buffalo and Baltimore.

Collins, who reportedly lost $1,500,000 in five years of pro ball in New York and Boston, gave up his venture when he was unable to work out a satisfactory home schedule with the league.

The rival New York Giants, who had first choice of home dates, refused to give the Yanks anything except the two opening weeks and the final weeks of the season.

Because of conflict with the world series, the Yanks were limited to four home games in the Yankee Stadium last year instead of the normal six.

The deal was completed after two days of wrangling and a series of long distance telephone calls.

Transfer of the Yanks' franchise leaves New York with one professional football team for the first time since 1945, when the Yankees invaded NFL as a member of the defunct All-America Conference.

Oilers Announce Don Moore Bought

Ivy Griffin, business manager of the Pampa Oilers, announced late last night the purchase of Don Moore, slugging outfielder-catcher, from the San Angelo Colts of the Longhorn League.

The purchase price was not revealed.

Moore, who has been a favorite in this league for years, served as playing manager of the Lubbock Hubbers under Paul Dean in 1950 and he started the season there in 1951. He had the Hubbers well in the first division when he had a difference of opinion with Dean over the operation of the club, and he was given his outright release, being replaced at the helm by Al Kubski.

Moore then signed with the Colts as a free agent, finishing the season there.

Moore is a dangerous hitter, can play the outfield, go behind the bat or do a passable job at first base. What the Oilers plans are for him—defensively—remains to be seen, but offensively, they are counting on his big bat to help make the Oiler lineup another murderer's row.

Moore spends his winters at his home at Muleshoe. He is a nephew of the great Wilcy Moore, who spent many seasons with the New York Yankees.

Moore, in the 1950 campaign was named to the all-star team as reserve catcher for the south squad. He finished the campaign with a batting average well over the .330 mark.

DON MOORE

Moore, who wears glasses while playing, is a popular player around the league. His fine personality, plus his knowledge of inside baseball and steady hustle, should prove the Pampa fans with many nights of good entertainment this summer.

His younger brother, Wilcy, who played under him in 1950 at Lubbock, was recently moved up to the Dallas Eagles after a good season with Gainesville.

Gene Cooper Named To Fight On Air Force TV Show Squad

Sgt. Eugene Cooper of Pampa, Tex., will remain stationed at the Golden Gloves and will be televised over the National Broadcasting Company television network. Every other Thursday for two months boxing teams representing each branch of the service will compete against each other. They will start in San Francisco and fight in the largest cities in the country, New York, Chicago, St. Louis, etc.

Also on the program with the young fighters will be such veteran ringmen as Tony Zale, Barney Ross, Joe Louis, and others.

The program will be all-amateur and as far as is known now, Cooper is the only contestant selected from Texas on the Air Force squad. Coach of the team will be Sgt. Eddie Clayton of Sheppard Air Force base, Wichita Falls, who was Cooper's coach last year.

Cooper will remain stationed at Amarillo, but will fly by commercial air-lines to whatever city is next on the boxing itinerary.

He is a two-time state champion, and a finalist at the Tournament of Champions in Chicago last year. He won the state 147 pound title in 1949 and the 160 pound crown last year. He is again the most likely candidate to gain the 160 crown again this year. He will appear in the Amarillo regional tournament starting Tuesday night.

Cooper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cooper, 610 N. Gray. Cooper has served slightly over one year of his four-year enlistment in the Air Force.

WARREN'S ARMUP

By Warren Neely—News Sports Editor

QUESTION: How many times has the University of Texas played in the Cotton Bowl game?

COACH JESS NEELY said Friday morning while enroute to Amarillo to catch a plane to Houston that the Harvester football banquet Thursday night was the finest such affair he had ever attended. And those were exactly our sentiments. Each year it seems that it couldn't be any finer, but this year's seemed to surpass all the others we have attended.

Our congratulations to the Pampa Quarterback club, and especially to the two presidents, Dr. Joe Donaldson, retiring head man, and Ivan Noblitt, incoming president, for being the driving force behind the whole thing.

And each year the speakers seem to get better. Coach Neely was the selection of Coach Tom Tipps last fall, but Neely was tied up until this late date. It was a good thing that it was decided to hold off the banquet in favor of Neely. He gave the boys a fine talk, and certainly made a lot of friends for Rice Institute.

One of the friends he didn't have to acquire was Mrs. Hugh Guill. The Guill and Neely families lived on adjoining farms near Smyrna, Tenn., years ago. Since then they have each gone their own way, and finally met for the first time in many years in the studios of radio station KPND Thursday evening. And they had many old times to talk about.

Incidentally, if any of the fly-boys reading this trained in E-24's at Smyrna during the last war, you were on the old Neely homestead.

We had a very interesting talk with the Rice athletic director. He was complaining about Dutch Meyer at TCU. He said that the little Dutchman, who was the speaker at the banquet last year, had a bunch of linemen down at Fort Worth "two axe handles wide," and it looked like he was playing the spread even when he had them stacked in tight.

And speaking of the spread formation, he said that it used to be that you went from the single wing to double wing to T formation to spread. But now it's just the opposite. They open with the spread and work back.

When asked about his choice of the best player he has coached at Rice, he could make no selection. But he was very high on a pair of ends, Froggie Williams and Bill Howton. Howton, he said, was exceptional inasmuch as he played almost 45 minutes per game, working on both offense and defense. Howton idolized Williams, and had movements just like the great wingman. And he wasn't accidental. Howton would approach Coach Neely during the week of a game, and ask to see the 1949 films of that particular team's game. He would then study the movements of Williams' against various situations, and thus become another "Froggie."

Neely was loaded with good stories about an ex-Pampa gridder who attended Rice, Moose Hartman. And he was both pleased and amazed to hear that the big boy was now a judge at Midland.

Neely is much in demand as a speaker, too. Monday night he spoke at Pasadena, and tomorrow night will be at Tidwell. Wednesday he goes to Pecos, Thursday to Haskell, Feb. 8 to Corpus Christi, Feb. 8 to Plainview and then on Feb. 11 opens spring football practice.

And the Plainview banquet will honor Bill Howton, who almost personally defeated the Harvesters four years ago, 26-19, after the Green and Gold held a 19-0 lead with less than seven minutes left. Howton is pretty busy, himself. He is now working out for track, and on Feb. 2 will be married to a Rice coed.

Neely doesn't mind all of these trips, however, as it offers him an opportunity to scout up talent for future Rice teams. And don't think for one minute he isn't well versed on every likely college prospect. He could name all of them from this district without hesitation.

But we are especially grateful to him for one thing he told us. Neely coached the West All Stars in the annual Shrine game at San Francisco again this year. While out there, he took in the Rose Bowl game and talked to Coach Ray Elliot of the Illinois Big Ten champions and Rose Bowl winners. Elliot told him that the University of Wisconsin had the best team in the Big 10 last fall, although they didn't win the crown, losing to Illinois by a 13-10 score. (And the information was volunteered by Neely, who will play Wisconsin in Houston next fall.)

Our heartfelt congratulations to Oscar Sargent, winner of the "Fighting Heart Award." He certainly earned the honors, everyone has agreed.

To testify to the fact that he was a unanimous choice, Coach Tom Tipps explained the method of selection. The coaches, Tipps, Aubra Noncester and Dwain (See WARMUP Page 7)

Eagles Rip Westerners

LUBBOCK — (Special) — The Abilene Eagles moved into the defending state champion Lubbock Westerners' den here Saturday night and left with a thrilling 60-56 victory.

For the Eagles it was the third win of the season against one loss, suffered at the hands of the Pampa Harvesters. The win moved the men of Jake Bentley into a triple-tie with the Harvesters and Bulldogs.

San Angelo Tops Odessa, 46 - 41

ODESSA — (Special) — The San Angelo Bobcats knocked off the home-standing Odessa Bronchos here Saturday night, 46-41, for their second District 1-AAAA victory in as many nights.

Bill Warrick, left-handed running guard, and Delnor Pass, passed the Bobcats, scoring with 17 points each. Johnny Gilliland led the Bronchos with 13.

Odessa led at the end of the first period, 12-10, trailed at halftime 24-19, and the Bobcats held a 30-23 advantage as the fourth quarter got underway.

ANXIOUS FACES — Five anxious faces can be seen as Harvester forward Marvin Bond fires a two-hand jump shot from the free-throw line during last night's game. Duane Jeter, Harvester center, prepares to follow in case of a rebound, while five Bulldogs get ready for the same thing. The Bulldogs are Dee Miller (4), Oth Miller (14), James Morgan (9), Mack Carter (13) and Jimmy Bishard reaches to try and block the shot. (News Photo)

Amarillo AFB Jets To Play Chiefs For March Of Dimes

The Amarillo Air Force base Jet basketball team, one of the top clubs in the area, will battle the Nobilit-Coffey Pontiac Chiefs Thursday night, Jan. 31, for the March of Dimes. The Jets are anchored by a pair of former Oklahoma Aggie players, one of them an all-American. They are Gayle MacArthur and Kieth Smith. Coach of the club is a former Letterman from West Texas State, who's club is head coach there, Bill Miller.

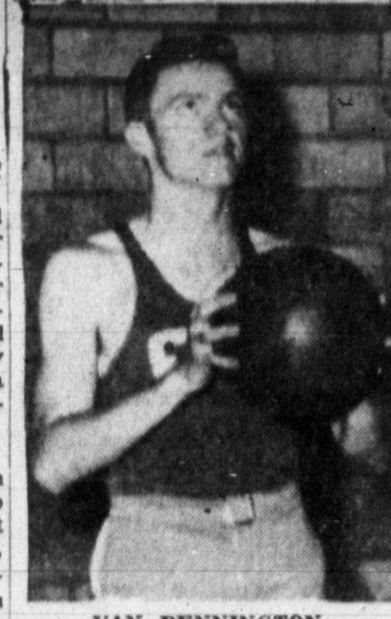

The game will be played in the new fieldhouse starting at 8:15. It will follow directly after the Mothers March on Polio, which will be held that night.

STAR STUDDER HOSTER

The Chiefs have had little opportunity to play together thus far this year, meeting and beating the Lefors Independents in their lone contest. The Jets, on the other hand, have been playing regularly all over the Southwest area.

The roster of the Jets includes: Lela from all over the United States, the boys carrying various ranks and abilities. Two Negro speedsters are on the roster.

One boy most Pampa fans will remember is Marlin Smith of Lubbock. He also played two seasons at TCU. Six feet tall,

Kroll And Torzo Fight See-Saw San Diego Open

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — A pair of comparative strangers to tournament fame, Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y., and Felice Torzo of St. Charles, Ill., staged a see-saw battle in the $10,000 San Diego open, but Kroll stayed on top of the heap as the third round ended.

The New Yorker missed a sub-par performance for the first time but his par 72 was good enough to keep him in the front with a 54-hole total of 206.

Kroll, in previous tours of the par 36-36 — 72 San Diego Country club, had turned in rounds of 65 and 69.

Torzo, one-time leading amateur from Connecticut, sidling four strokes behind Kroll, passed him at one stage but fell back badly on the last nine and finished with a 77, for 209.

Crowding the picture, and in one position for today's final 18 holes, were three contestants tied at 210. One was the stretch-charging Jimmy DeHart, whose 68 followed a 69 Friday after a 73 the first day. With him were Jay Hebert, a youngster from Great Neck, L. I., with a 70, and Gene Litter, a San Diego amateur, with a great 67.

Jim Ferrer of San Francisco, with a 69, occupied the 211 spot alone. One shot behind were Dr. Cary Middlecott, with a 69; Ed Furgol, 72, and Al Bessalink, 70.

Trailing with 215 were Tommy Bolt 73; Johnny Palmer, 71; Charles Bassler, 70; Skeel Riegel, 70, and Mike Homa, 71.

Lloyd Mangrum, with 72, failed to gain ground, and was tied at 215 with Paul Runyan, who carded 69 Saturday, and Doug Ford, who shot a 71.

Jack Burkhardt, a Houstoner, fired a splendid 67, quite a recovery after Friday's fat 70, to come in at 214. Burke's nine hole scores were 32-35. Burke's score was the lowest of the round at this stage.

Pennington Tops Shamrock Scoring

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Van Pennington continued to lead the Irish scoring parade at mid-January, after twelve contests. The ace Irish guard has racked up 101 points, but hasn't yet blazed with the form shown by the 1951 Irish scoring stars, Vernon Tarbet and Vaughn Terry. Norrell Perkins, sophomore guard, is in second place, with 63 points, while Mack Terry, out for three games because of a severe cold, returned to form and has hit for 50. Mack led scoring in the Perryton game Tuesday night with 11 points.

George Hendrick, expert at rebound play, has connected for 49 points, while Bill Harris, fifth regular, has 35.

Pennington has topped the total Irish scoring almost from the first game and his lead of 33 points is likely to be safe. He hit for 15 points as the Irish trimmed McLean last week, 43-42.

with the McLean Tigerettes considered a strong possibility to annex the girls' division crown.

Grand Jury To Study Ring Case

NEW YORK — (AP) — The next step in the case of the manager who assaulted a referee is in the hands of the grand jury.

And for the third time in less than four months, the boxing world had proof that Bob Christenberry wields a big stick.

The soft-spoken, but fast-moving chairman of the state athletic commission threw the book at manager-second Tommy Ryan Friday when he revoked his license for life and fined him $3,000 for his attack on referee Ray Miller in Madison Square Garden eight days ago. It was the heaviest punishment ever meted out to an individual by the commission.

Ryan, who managed middleweight Rocky Castellani, was punished for punching referee Ray Miller after the official had stopped the bout between Ernie Durando of Bayonne, N. J., and Castellani in the seventh round. Durando was awarded a technical knockout.

The grand jury is investigating.

Yank Netmen Go Up In Aussie Matches

ADELAIDE, Australia — (AP) — Dick Savitt of Orange, N. C., and most of the other favorites including Frank Sedgman advanced yesterday in the Australian National Tennis championships Saturday.

Savitt had no trouble capturing his second round match from Neil Fraser, a junior southerner, while Sedgman brushed Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., only other American competing, right out of the tournament.

Buffaloes Return To Play Monday Against Cowboys

CANYON — (WTNS) — West Texas State's Buffs intend to "take them one at a time" from here on out in the Border Conference basketball chase which has already seen some topsy-turvy performances. The Buffs have been able to escape the rough end of it so far and currently pace the loop with a 3-0 record.

However, all wins have been registered on their home court. In the Border Conference the rest of a team lies in its ability to win on the road.

West Texas State will get its first test Monday night when it moves into Rose Fieldhouse in Abilene to take on the Hardin-Simmons University Cowpokes. In that fact lies a story for the pesky Pokes have held a jinx on the Buffs and have shut them off from victory in each Abilene start since play was resumed following the war.

"Hardin-Simmons has a team capable of beating anyone on any night, Gus Miller, the Herd's cage boss said. "Furthermore, I will consider ourselves very lucky if we can get by them at Abilene. Our boys have played fine ball so far and we are keeping our fingers crossed in the hopes that the flu or some other illness will not strike our squad."

Facing the Buff's attack so far this season are Bill Price and Dwaine Stewart, forwards. Price has connected for 160 points while captain Stewart has looped in 147. Consistent play has also been turned in by brothers Austell and Troy Burdus, who have picked up 109 and 104 tallies, respectively in helping the team to its 8-5 record.

Following the Hardin-Simmons tangle, the Buffs will return on Jan. 21 to meet rival Texas Tech in a game which is due to draw a capacity crowd of 4,000 into the new West Texas State fieldhouse.

Joe Graboski of the Indianapolis Olympians in the NBA was a ball boy with the Chicago Stags when the league was formed six years ago.

Irish Coach Is Given Charivari

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach "H" Callan had a very many an Irish linen item to top shape in his three dry seasons as line coach here, but it was his turn to be driven Friday night.

Football and boxing boys, aided and abetted by the local National Guard, of which Callan is a lieutenant, met at the Methodist parsonage Friday night as Callan emerged with his new bride, the former Miss Colleen Payne, and administered a first rate "shiveree."

Callan rolled his bride up Main street in a wheelbarrow, to the jeers of his athletic scholars. Then he and bride departed for a short honeymoon.

Coach Is Retiring

HUNTSVILLE — (AP) — T. F. (Puny) Wilson will retire March 1 as head football coach at Sam Houston State Teachers college. Wilson said yesterday he will go into the insurance business in Tyler with his son-in-law.

Dr. Harmon Lowman said no successor to Wilson had been named.

24-26. His girls will probably win either first or second.

Lassie Defeat Lela JH Girls

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach B. L. Hill's Irish junior girls slaughtered the Lela Juniors, 16-0, at Lela Thursday night, as the coach poured in reserves and still held the Lassie helpless.

Hill's junior girls quickly built up a 10-0 lead and then the main string came out and substitutes poured in like a track meet.

Hill started his regulars—Connie Lewis, Julia Holmes, Joretta Upton, Charlene Cox, Nancy Ritter, Alveta Reeves, Linda Skidmore, and fed in substitutes after a rapid Irish advance.

Lela was never able to pierce the Irish defense, not even for a free shot score.

But it was a different story with the junior boys, who again fell victim, losing to Lela, 15-8, after a slow start.

Lela leaped into an early 6-1 lead, which the Irish began to make up in the final half, but were too late. Hill's junior boys have won no games this year, while succumbing to eight defeats. James Lanham, James Dierborne, James Tarbet, Gaston Tarbet were among the junior Irish who labored to overtake Lela.

Hill's juniors take off against the whole of Wheeler county in the junior tournament sponsored by Lela and Shamrock, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan.

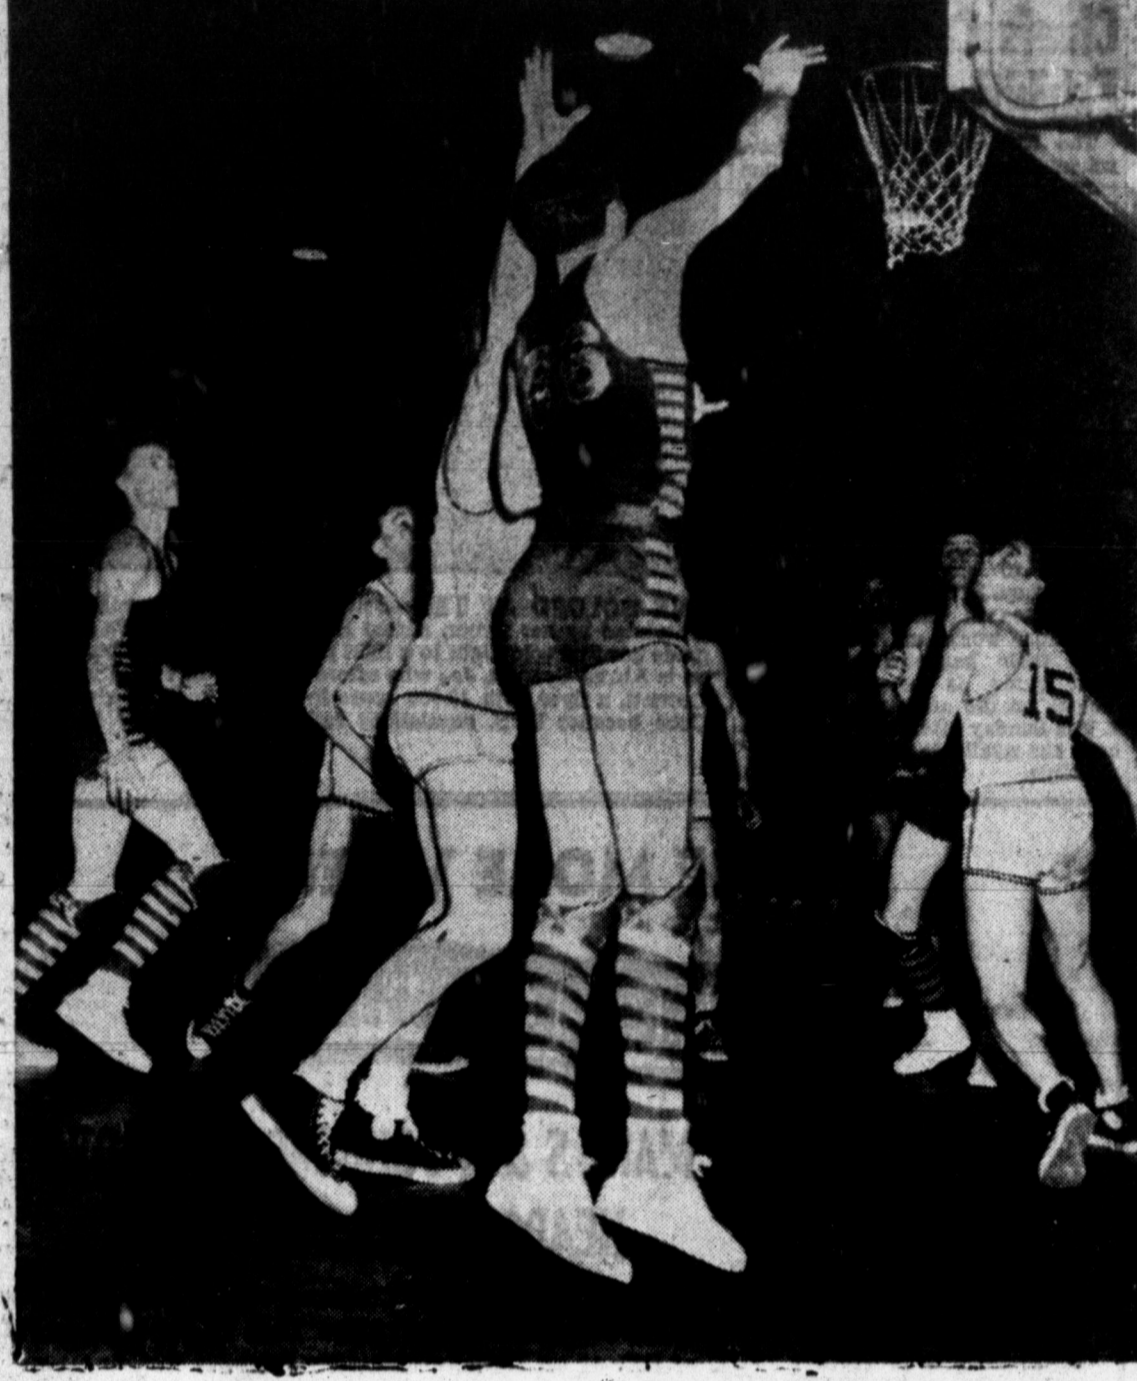

Griffin Tops Lassie Scoring

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Modene Griffin, junior forward, wrested the scoring lead from Carolyn Dodgen, freshman, last week. Carolyn led a week ago, 82 to 51, but Modene had two blazing nights in the past weeks, netting 16 points each time, and now holds the lead, 87 to 78.

Modene hit for 16 points against Briscoe in the Wheeler tourney and then came back Tuesday night against Pertyon-Rangerettes to rack up 16 more. Carolyn hasn't hit for more than eight points in the last four games, although she netted 13 in the opening Wheeler contest.

Mary Setzler, another freshman forward and third regular, cracked the nets for 49 points, while Betty Flowers has 24.

WARMUP

Lyon, without talking about the selection, Wednesday afternoon wrote down their one, two, three choices in that order. On each ballot, Sargent was number one choice.

But the odd part of the whole affair was that the second and third choices of each coach were also identical. It certainly appears that the men who all but live with the boys for four months, felt exactly the same about the selection.

Sargent was a most stunned and amazed boy. He couldn't speak for two hours afterward. And we felt about the same way. Coach Tipps' wonderful explanation of the award always leaves us with a wet tie.

And to top it all off, Sargent nearly missed the banquet, and only under special escort did he come. His father came to the banquet with him, and his mother decided to stay home. Oscar also felt that he should miss the affair. When the coaches noticed he wasn't on hand, Coach Noncaster made a rushing, convincing trip to the Sargent residence, and all but forced Oscar and his mother to attend.

It surely was a full week of sports. The Golden Gloves boxing tournament spent three eventful nights. Over 1800 fans paid to see the fast action, which was indeed fast all the way. There were no slow or walk-off bouts. The Boys Club is to be commended upon a fine job, well done.

And the thanks of the Boys Club goes out to the various coaches of the area who sent boys to the meet. Without their help it couldn't have been possible to run the tourney.

The Boys Club officials also extended their thanks to the various local merchants who donated time and material to making the program possible.

Duke Nally, the regional director, mentioned one thing that might be taken into consideration. One of the things that the boys entered always fight for is the trophy that goes to the winner. And buying enough trophies to give all the boys amounts to a big bill. In other districts, the local merchants donate the trophies, which when purchased individually, don't amount to such a big bill. As it is now, with the Boys Club footing the entire amount, it is quite a drain on the receipts. And the receipts are spent in a good way, taking care of these boys, most of whom would have another method of occupying their spare time.

And one more subject today. That concerns the Harvester-Sandie game Friday night in Amarillo. There was some complaining done on the part of the Amarillo coach, Amarillo fans and other Amarilloans concerning the officiating. If there was any complaint, it should have come from the Pampa bench.

The Sandies played their usual All game, one we have seen quickly switched back. Carroll then played regularly with two exceptions. That was from the fine playing team of 1948-49 and from the "deep freeze" crew of an last season. Otherwise, when behind, they get rough and forget about the game itself.

The game at Abilene eight days ago was rough, but the Eagles were playing a different type of game, and were trying to win the game. The fouls they committed weren't roughing fouls, but mostly fouls that fighting for the ball would result in. But at Amarillo Friday night it was a different story. The boys were knocked just thought of a joke for you down, tripped, butted into the

Harvesters Romp Amarillo 61-47

By WARREN HASSE

SPORTS ARENA, Amarillo — Coach Clifton McNeely's Hustling Harvesters made it fourteen in a row here Friday night, and also six straight over Coach T. G. Hull's Amarillo Sandstrom, with a resounding 61-47 triumph.

The win moved the Green and Gold into first place in District 1-AAAA — at least temporarily — as the Odessa Bronchos fell from the unbeaten ranks at the hands of the pressing Abilene Eagles. In the only other district contest, the San Angelo Bobcats managed to rack up their first District 1-AAAA athletic victory, downing the defending state champion Lubbock Westerners.

The Harvester-Sandie game started out with the makings of an upset, the host club running up an 8-3 lead early in the first period. But it didn't hold for long. The Harvesters settled down, poured through five points to tie the score at 8-8 with 3 minutes remaining in the first quarter, ran it to 11-8 at the 18-10 first period lead.

They doubled the score on the Sandies with 5:45 left in the first half, 24-12, and ran it on to a 37-20 halftime lead.

With the fourth period starting, and the Harvesters well in front, 53-29, McNeely put his second string into the contest, letting his starting quintet get some rest for last night's game with Berger.

ROY FROM FELD

The Harvesters were hot from the field, hitting an overall total of 19 of 37 attempts for a 51 percent mark. The first five were even warmer during its three-quarters of play. The Bond Brothers, Jeter, Smith and Dulaney hit 18 of 30 shots for 60 percent.

Jimmy Bond and Duane Jeter shared scoring honors with 13 points apiece. Jimmy "Froggie" Dulaney crowded the two tall boys with 10 points. Jeter hit a red-hot second period that really pushed the Pampans ahead, connecting for nine points during the eight-minute session.

But it was Harvester hustle and a good defense that kept the

Buffaloes Return To Play Monday Against Cowboys

CANYON — (WTNS) — West Texas State's Buffs intend to "take them one at a time" from here on out in the Border Conference basketball chase which has already seen some topsy-turvy performances. The Buffs have been able to escape the rough end of it so far and currently pace the loop with a 3-0 record.

However, all wins have been registered on their home court. In the Border Conference the rest of a team lies in its ability to win on the road.

West Texas State will get its first test Monday night when it moves into Rose Fieldhouse in Abilene to take on the Hardin-Simmons University Cowpokes. In that fact lies a story for the pesky Pokes have held a jinx on the Buffs and have shut them off from victory in each Abilene start since play was resumed following the war.

"Hardin-Simmons has a team capable of beating anyone on any night, Gus Miller, the Herd's cage boss said. "Furthermore, I will consider ourselves very lucky if we can get by them at Abilene. Our boys have played fine ball so far and we are keeping our fingers crossed in the hopes that the flu or some other illness will not strike our squad."

Facing the Buff's attack so far this season are Bill Price and Dwaine Stewart, forwards. Price has connected for 160 points while captain Stewart has looped in 147. Consistent play has also been turned in by brothers Austell and Troy Burdus, who have picked up 109 and 104 tallies, respectively in helping the team to its 8-5 record.

Following the Hardin-Simmons tangle, the Buffs will return on Jan. 21 to meet rival Texas Tech in a game which is due to draw a capacity crowd of 4,000 into the new West Texas State fieldhouse.

Gehrmann Tops Fred Wilt Again

BOSTON — (AP) — Those old mile feudists, Don Gehrmann and Fred Wilt, the FBI-flyer, after a 24-hour rest, resumed their other one-sided competition last night in the K of C track-meet at the Boston Garden.

Along with most of the nation's top-flight indoor campaigners, Gehrmann and Wilt were in action in Friday night's Philadelphia meet and the former clocked off another victory with a highly impressive 4:30.2 effort.

What promised to be a breath-taking pole-vault event lost some of its lustre when Don Laz suffered a leg injury while Rev. Bob Richards was on his way to a brilliant 15 ft. 3 in. Philadelphia triumph. Moose Cooper of Nebraska, the only other victor, vaulted to clear 15 feet, wound up with 14.8.

Red Ashenfelter warmed up for his defense of the Latvian two-mile special here by besting veteran Curt Stone in 9:14.5. Roscoe Brown of New York's Pioneer Club, clicked off a 2:19. "1000" to win at Philadelphia.

Harrison Dillard, the 1948 Olympic champion, had an easy 50-yard win at Philadelphia, probably because world-record holder Dick Atlessey, who also filed a K of C entry, was sidelined by a pulled muscle.

Collins Determined To Keep Yankee Contract In New York

NEW YORK — (AP) — Ted Collins, owner of the harassed New York Yankees, said he will keep his national football league franchise in New York or sell the club outright.

"I have no intention of moving elsewhere," the radio-television producer announced as league directors pondered his demand for six satisfactory home dates in Yankee Stadium.

A Dallas party reportedly has made an offer to buy the orphan football team and settle all its New York obligations.

Baltimore and Buffalo also are said to be interested in regaining entry into big time professional football, but Commissioner Eert Bell said they had made no offer through his office.

A five-man Baltimore committee has discussed a deal with Collins, but George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, said he would not approve a Baltimore franchise under "present conditions."

Meanwhile, a battery of attorneys advised the league not to retreat in its television stand despite a pending anti-trust suit by the government.

"Our television policy was drawn up with the help of government lawyers," one of the league attorneys told directors in a closed session.

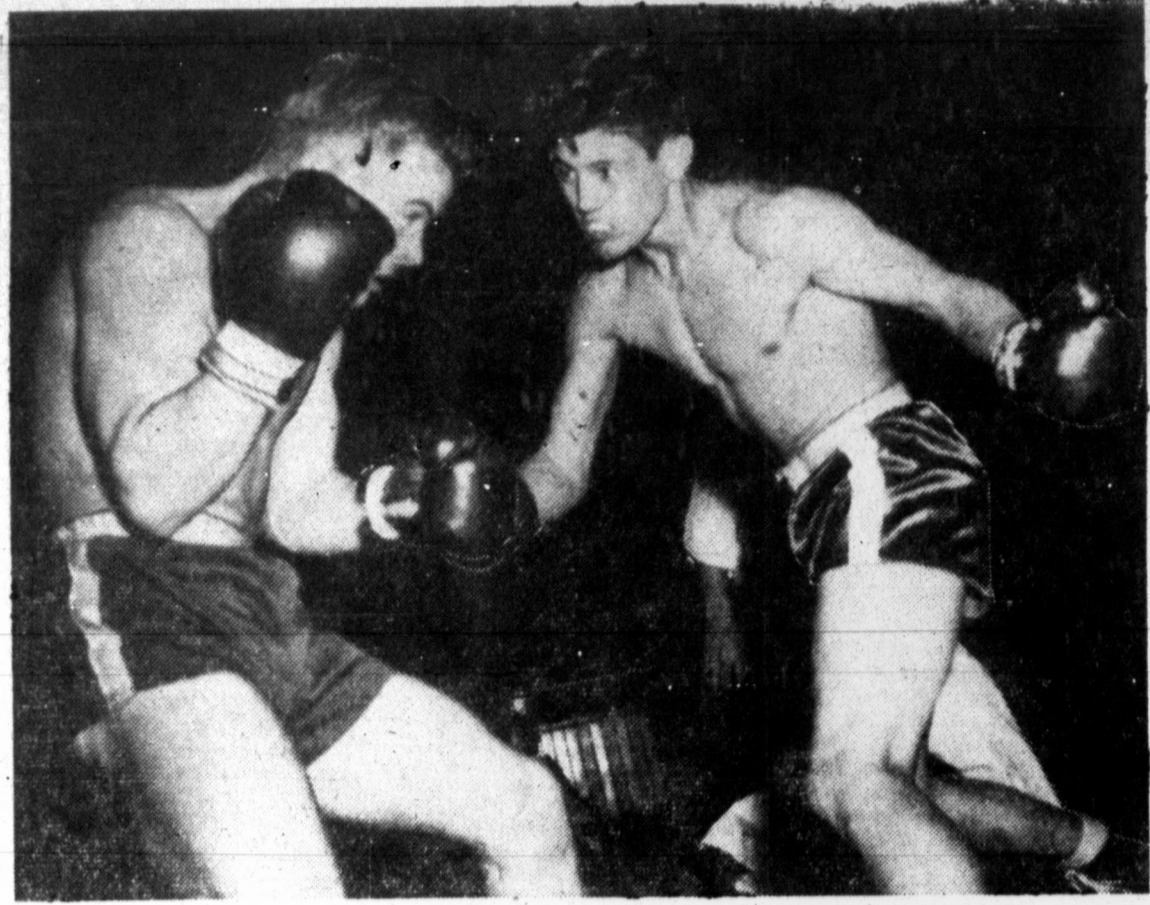

"We feel we are not violating the law. If the suit comes to trial we think we can beat it."

A federal judge in Philadelphia last week denied a motion to dissolve the suit and ordered it to go to trial. The suit also is likely to affect the stand of the nation's colleges, who recently voted to continue TV contracts next fall.

The National Football League rules leave television policies to the individual clubs. None had more

Golden Gloves Action Will Begin Tuesday At Amarillo

The annual Amarillo Regional Golden Gloves boxing tournament, sponsored by the Amarillo News, starts its five-night run Tuesday night in the Amarillo Auditorium.

District champions from Pampa, Plainview and Borger will compete for the right to enter the state tournament against boxers from Amarillo.

The fights will start nightly at 8 o'clock. Tickets may be obtained right now at Maxor Drug in Amarillo.

There will be two divisions of fighters, the high school and open. Open division champions of Amarillo will proceed to the state tournament at Fort Worth in early February. Fort Worth winners will be entered in the Tournament of Champions in Chicago.

PAMPA DISTRICT
Among the Pampa district fighters who will be in action in Amarillo as representatives of the Pampa Boys club are two defending regional champions, Bobby Wilhelm and Dick Murray.

CHUCK GIVEN HIS OUTHRIGHT RELEASE
CHICAGO — (AP) — Baseball's only front office holdout, Charles A. (Chuck) Comiskey II, considered himself a free agent today.

The 26-year-old grandson and namesake of the Chicago White Sox founder is looking for another job in baseball.

His resignation as vice president and secretary of the White Sox was accepted Friday by the directors, headed by his mother, Mrs. Grace Comiskey, club president.

But the return was left ajar for Chuck to return to the club.

In January, 1948, Eisenhower wrote a New Hampshire publisher: "I could not accept the nomination (if) it were tendered to me." Despite this, "I-Like-Ike" booms flourished in both parties.

Lodge Says Eisenhower Can Bring World Durable Peace

SAN FRANCISCO — (AP) — Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) has offered the concessions made to the Russians in Asia to obtain their entry into the Pacific fighting were made at Yalta, which preceded the Potsdam conference.

Lodge took sharp — if indirect — issue with Taft supporters who said the party would be risking its political future if it nominates a "glamour candidate" in Chicago next July. Lodge is national chairman of the GOP Eisenhower-for-President committee.

David S. Ingalls, campaign manager for Ohio Senator Robert A. Taft, said the party should not "select a good-looking mortician, to preside over its death as a political organization. He urged the GOP National committee, in a speech last night to aid in the nomination of a "militant Republican" such as Taft.

This obvious barb at Eisenhower drew from Lodge the declaration in a prepared address: "The American people believe in Dwight Eisenhower because they see in him a leader—and a leader who can do the most to bring about a durable peace."

Former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota put in his bid for presidential nominating support at a committee dinner Friday night.

California's Gov. Earl Warren made his appeal at Thursday's opening luncheon.

Lodge told national committee members the Republicans can't win in November unless they attract some Democratic votes. He said Eisenhower would do that.

Lodge has predicted the general, commander of North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces in Europe, will be able to take off his uniform and campaign before the July convention. Eisenhower said recently he is a Republican and would accept the party's nomination but won't join in pre-convention campaigning.

Harry Darby, Kansas committeeman and Eisenhower backer, told a reporter he thinks the general might come home before April 1 but has no word from Eisenhower to this effect.

It was disclosed in this connection that the general had told his supporters 30 days ago he would not speak out on his political affiliations or intentions while in uniform but changed his mind and made his recent statement.

Lodge told the Republicans he couldn't speak for Eisenhower, but he pictured the general as the popular choice to "throw the rascals out" of Washington.

"The door is still open for Charles to return," said his mother. "If he just would have sat down and told us what he wanted, everything would have worked out all right. His lawyer was invited to stay in another chamber in the event he was needed for legal service, for this was a closed meeting of the board."

Chuck asserted that "there isn't a chance I'll reconsider going back with them. How can I, my resignation is accepted? I've got to start looking for another baseball job."

He said Eisenhower advised against attempts to bring the Russians into the Pacific war.

Chiefs Card Two Exhibition Foes

The Noblett-Coffey Chiefs have scheduled a pair of exhibition games with two of the top traveling squads in the county, the Whiskered Wizards and the Harlem Globetrotters.

Both games are being sponsored by the Pampa Kiwanis Club to benefit the club's youth program.

The Wizards will play the Chiefs at the new field house on the night of Feb. 7, at 8 o'clock. Last Friday night they were beaten by the potent Southeast Texas Bobcats, 69-45. The Wizards were in Pampa last year and a capacity crowd saw some fine basketball from the touring professionals.

The Globetrotters need no introduction to basketball fans. For years they have been one of the top names in basketball, touring the entire world and thrilling fans with their basketball wizardry.

That game is scheduled for 3 o'clock on the afternoon of March 2. The Sunday afternoon date is the only one available on the Trot schedule.

Pampa Bowlers Have Busy Weekend With 2 Tourneys

Pampa bowlers scattered to various sections of the Southwest this weekend to participate in a pair of pin tournaments. Many of the Pampa lady bowlers are attending the Panhandle Open Bowling tournament for women which winds up today at the Peerless Lanes in Amarillo. And a Pampa team, Service Liquor store, holds the team lead going into the final play. The handicap total last weekend, the highest total since the 1948 tourney. Among the ladies who will bowl together in the doubles are Ina Petrie, with a 155 average, and Miriam Luedders, 140 average; Ruth Belsenzer and Mazie Howell; Sally Hegwer and Sue McFall; Evelyn Epps and Dorothy Osborne; Nancy Sullivan and Elberta Rader; and Mary Crocker and Eva Kitchen. Other local teams entered are Hall and Pinson, Pooler's Drive-In, Cabot No. 2, C. M. Jeffries, and Sparks Cleaners. All of the ladies will be entered in the singles competition. Teams were to complete their bowling yesterday and the singles and doubles to be rolled today. While the ladies are in Amarillo, many of the men hurried off to the annual Times Classic in Oklahoma City. Over 250 Southwest area bowlers are entered in that tournament, which is also finishing up this week end.

Towel At Foul Line Exposes Lack Of Lift, Other Faults

(Eight of a series written and illustrated by NEA Service) By BUDDY BOMAR

Former Match-Game Champion Most bowlers are not aware that they are guilty of any one of a half dozen faults.

They will stoutly maintain their innocence if accused of dropping the ball behind the foul line, spinning or turning the hips, dropping the right shoulder excessively, sidearm delivery, breaking the elbow or lack of lift.

Placing a towel at the foul line is a sure method of discovering symptoms of these ailments.

The ball should be released on the upswing, the thumb coming out of the ball first, the fingers supplying stuff with a definite lifting motion.

Many incorrectly release the ball at the bottom of the arc, its downswing, and behind the foul line.

If you are guilty of this fault, the test with the towel will show it.

In the accompanying photograph you can see clearly how the ball is being sent over the towel and the foul line before it strikes the surface.

Even after you have grooved your swing correctly, it is possible to slip into some bad habit unconsciously.

The time to experiment and improve your game is during open play.

Most bowlers don't do enough open bowling and are forced to experiment during league play, or hot at all. As a result, their games do not show any great improvement.

TOWEL TEST—Most bowlers are not aware that they are guilty of faults brought out by Dr. Buddy Bomar's prescription, which is placing a towel at the foul line. (NEA)

Bowl a few games during the afternoon, if possible, or over the week-end, when leagues are not in progress on your lanes.

Correcting mistakes in open play on Saturday and Sunday can mean higher scores in your league play during the week.

NEXT: Spot-bowling.

Farm Project Is Aid To Athletes

BROWNWOOD — (AP) — Out along Pecan Bayou is a living, growing memorial to one of the greatest coaches in Texas history. It's a tiny farm and it has made possible the continuance of athletics at Daniel Baker College.

Tyson Farm they call it, named for Paul Tyson, football coach of Daniel Baker who died in September, 1950, just before his team was to open the season.

Readey Caskey, Daniel Baker's one-man coaching staff who took over when Tyson died, originated the project.

Caskey, at the end of the last regular school year, was informed that Daniel Baker couldn't provide athletic scholarships for the next term. Daniel Baker had just been accepted into the Big State Conference.

The thing that worried him most was having to pass the bad news on to the nine boys he had recruited. Then came the idea. Since Daniel Baker provided agriculture scholarships, he asked that his prospective basketball players be admitted in that manner. And since the athletic dormitory would be vacant, he asked that rooms be provided for the nine youngsters. That left the problem of board, which Caskey said he would provide one way or another.

W. O. Cross, president of Daniel Baker, approved the plan, pending final arrangements by Caskey to provide the board.

Readey spent two weeks going up and down Pecan Bayou for a plot of irrigated land, one portion of his board - providing plan. Finally he found 1-2 available acres and H. M. Gilley, the owner, donated the use of them.

Everybody pitched in. The farm began producing more vegetables. The students used the practical experience to supplement what they learned in the classrooms, and in addition, sale of the vegetables and their use at the college training table made possible the keep of the athletes. And he bought a bus to transport his basketball team.

Announced as letterman by head coach Bob Callan, who served as master of ceremonies, were seniors Ray Dickerson, Bob Clemmons, Joe Archer, Melvin Bigham, Dickie Maples, Gordon Rutledge, Edward Wiggins, and Bob Newsom.

Junior lettermen are Jimmy Doom, Russell Herring, L. B. Cobry, and Billy Watson. Among the sophomores who lettered are Freddy Briester, and Joe David Martin. Freshmen lettermen include Eddy Clemmons and R. J. Wooten.

"B" team performers include Franklin Hankins, Lloyd Moore, Jackie Pfling, Randal Cole, Hugh Braly, Dickie Redun, and James Smith.

Reserve letters were awarded to Don Davis, Dewey Nunley, Fred Blackwell, Ted Oldham, Darwin Teeters, Richard Tennant, Edgar Crutcher, and Philip Erhart.

Jack McElreath, Pampa, was guest speaker. Special entertainment was furnished by a group of can-can dancers from the classes of Jeanne Willingham of Pampa.

Canadian Lions Play Perryton

CANADIAN — (Special) — Members of the Canadian and Perryton Lions clubs will play an exhibition game of basketball at the Canadian High school gymnasium Monday night, Jan. 21. Proceeds of the game will go to the Sight Conservation Fund of the local Lions Club, to be used to provide glasses and other necessary optical care for needy students in Canadian public schools.

Official uniforms of the local Lions for what is expected to be a riotous basketball game, will be "long handle" red underwear.

Team captain for the local Lions is Alec Simpson. Whether Simpson is to be a "playing" or "non-playing" captain has not yet been divulged.

The team is coached by Mose Damron, who in his "spare time" also directs the activities of the Canadian Wildcats cage team. A return game is to be played at Perryton, if and when the players recover from next Monday night's game.

The annual Masters Golf Tournament gives a keepsake or memento to every participant. A silver plaque bearing a gold chevron goes to the winner only.

New Golf Rules Penalize Wild Shots; Out Of Bounds Golfers Lose Stroke And Distance, Too

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor
NEW YORK — If you haven't played golf yet this year better be prepared to know the new rules. You might meet a stickler for detail in one of those out-of-bounds foursomes and things could become mighty complicated. Here are the rule changes since last year: Fetter shaft may be fixed at any point in the head. None of the 14 clubs permissible in a golfer's bag may be borrowed from any other person playing on the course. Wrong Ball: Playing a stroke with any wrong ball except in a hazard entails loss of a hole in match play and two strokes in stroke play. Dropping ball improperly entails a one-stroke penalty. Ball at rest moved by opponent, his caddie or any equipment, means a penalty stroke for the opponent. Out of bounds: Penalty increased to stroke and distance. A clearer interpretation would be this: On a lost or out-of-bounds ball, return nearest the spot from where you hit the ball and add one stroke. In other words, after an out-of-bounds tee shot you would be shooting 3 on your drive. Unplayable ball: You have an option here. You can either return to the spot from where you last hit and add a penalty stroke or you can drop a ball behind the unplayable lie and add two strokes. Casual water, ground under repair, or a hole, cast or runway made by a burrowing animal you may lift and drop the ball without penalty as near as possible to the spot where it lay, but not nearer the hole. OR, under penalty of one stroke, you may drop the ball outside the hazard but not nearer the hole. Stylish rule abolished: When the ball near the hole lies on putting green, it may be lifted, if either player considers that it might interfere with or assist a player. (A coin may be used to mark the spot, although this is NOT covered in the rules.) Local rules: Under the new USGA code the local rules must conform to the USGA policy. This puts an added burden on club committees. These, then, are the rule changes as approved by The United States Golf Association and The Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, Scotland. They were drafted during international conferences last spring and went into effect New Year's Day.

Except for the size of the ball the new rules eliminate all differences previously existing between the USGA and British regulations. Both the U. S. and British balls can have a maximum weight of 1.620 ounces but they differ in size. The U. S. ball is not less than 1.680 inches in diameter while the British ball has a diameter of not less than 1.620 inches. The new rules seem complicated at first, but if you play a fair game of golf you have nothing to worry about. It's the out-of-bounds rule that will find things a little tough. It could add ten strokes to the score of a fellow who has trouble keeping his long shots straight. He now gets penalized a stroke and distance when he hits out-of-bounds. Formerly all he lost was distance. In case you're wondering about adjustable clubs, they are outlawed. This has been in the rules for some time but with the advent of so many different adjustable clubs, the rule is worth repeating. Under a heading "Movable parts prohibited," the rule book says: A club shall be one unit. All its various parts shall be permanently fixed. No part may be movable or separable or capable of adjustment by the player. If there are any questions it is suggested you write the USGA at 40 East 88th Street, New York 16, N. Y., for its 90 page booklet, "The Rules of Golf." It's 25 cents a copy.

Little Sienna Upset By Littler Lemoyne College

NEW YORK — (AP) — Add this score to the numerous upsets that have been chalked up in college basketball: Lemoyne (NY) 63, Siena 51.

Lemoyne, beaten 10 times in 13 previous games, was considered easy for Siena, ranked 11th in last week's Associated Press poll and boasting a 10-game winning streak. The Lemoyne lads built up a 51-42 lead with three minutes left. Siena put on a frazzled finish that almost turned the tide. During this time Siena waived seven free throws to keep possession. Lemoyne's Billy Jenkins with 24 points was the star. In the third period he hit on four successive shots.

WEST ACTION
As usual on Friday night most of the action occurred in the Southwest and Far West. Washington squashed Oregon, 74-38, to take over first place in the northern division of the Pacific Coast Conference. Idaho nipped Oregon State, 65-64, in another northern league tilt.

The red-hot race continued in the southern division of the PC. California tied UCLA for first place by upsetting the UCLA's, 63-59. Southern California surprised Stanford, 63-58 in overtime. Calif., and UCLA each have a 3-2 league record; USC and Stanford 2-3.

Texas A & M tied Texas for second place in the Southwest Conference by beating Baylor, 47-36. Arizona State (Tempe) continued unbeaten in Border Conference competition by edging Texas Tech, 48-47.

Utah kept on Brigham Young's heels in the Skyline Eight by taking Colorado A&M, 55-54. Louisiana State's Bob Pettit set two Southeastern Conference records as LSU swamped Georgia, 98-60. He scored 50 points to erase the old single mark of 40 held jointly by him and Kentucky's Bill

Head Coach Moves

FORT WORTH — (AP) — Head football coach Jerry L. Sadler of Cleburne High school will move to North Side High school at Fort Worth to become assistant football mentor and head basketball coach.

The 1950 University of Arizona freshman football team boasts a line averaging 10 pounds more per man than the Wildcat varsity.

In his six years in the major leagues, Ralph Kiner has received 661 bases on balls, 480 of these in the last four seasons.

McDowell Ends Career With Good Night, Aggie Victory

By CLAYTON HICKERSON

Texas A&M defeated Baylor, 47-36, Friday night and climbed into a second place tie with the University of Texas in the Southwest Conference basketball race, behind leading TCU.

Star guard Jewell McDowell of the Aggies ended his collegiate eligibility in a blaze of glory with terrific passing, jackboots work and 23 points for high-scoring Aggie.

The speedy, agile Aggie guard completely satisfied some 4,000 home court fans at College Station with his last college game and brought the Aggie land audience to its feet cheering with sparkling dribbling exhibitions.

The Bears, winless in conference competition, made a close game of it for three quarters, but faded fast in the final period when forward Ralph Johnson went out on fouls. Johnson scored ten points before leaving the battle.

McDowell iced the game for the Cadet cagers in the fourth with a series of quick shots that netted 11 points. Earlier, the Farmers had a banquet in the high school cafeteria. Eight senior lettermen were specially honored along with the rest of the members of the potent 1951 District 1-A runners-up.

Announced as letterman by head coach Bob Callan, who served as master of ceremonies, were seniors Ray Dickerson, Bob Clemmons, Joe Archer, Melvin Bigham, Dickie Maples, Gordon Rutledge, Edward Wiggins, and Bob Newsom.

Junior lettermen are Jimmy Doom, Russell Herring, L. B. Cobry, and Billy Watson. Among the sophomores who lettered are Freddy Briester, and Joe David Martin. Freshmen lettermen include Eddy Clemmons and R. J. Wooten.

"B" team performers include Franklin Hankins, Lloyd Moore, Jackie Pfling, Randal Cole, Hugh Braly, Dickie Redun, and James Smith.

Reserve letters were awarded to Don Davis, Dewey Nunley, Fred Blackwell, Ted Oldham, Darwin Teeters, Richard Tennant, Edgar Crutcher, and Philip Erhart.

Jack McElreath, Pampa, was guest speaker. Special entertainment was furnished by a group of can-can dancers from the classes of Jeanne Willingham of Pampa.

Lefors Lettermen Named By Callan

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors football mothers last night honored the 1951 Pirate football team with a banquet in the high school cafeteria. Eight senior lettermen were specially honored along with the rest of the members of the potent 1951 District 1-A runners-up.

Savitt Wins In Aussie Tourney

ADELAIDE, Australia — (AP) — Dick Savitt continued his triumphant march in the Australian National tennis championships Saturday, but Ham Richardson, the only other American competing, was eliminated by Frank Sedgman, Australia's top player.

Savitt won an easy straight set second round victory over Neil Fraser, a junior southpaw. 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. Sedgman bowled over Richardson, 6-4, 6-4, 6-0.

TCU, Texas and A&M are the defending tri-champers. The possibility of the conference ending in a triple tie again this season is not too remote.

Junior Tourney Goes This Week

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Only Wheeler County teams will be represented in the Wheeler County Junior grade tournament, January 24-26, sponsored by Lela and Shamrock reports T. H. Baker, Lela School principal and tourney chairman.

Last year the two schools jointly sponsored an invitational, open Junior tourney, won by Pampa B and second place taken by Keller-ville boys. St. Mary's academy of Amarillo took both the sportsmanship and consolation trophies.

Briscoe Junior girls won first and McLean 8th grade girls second, Shamrock Junior girls annexed the consolation award.

Favored this year will be Shamrock and Keller girls, with Keller-ville boys voted strong.

It's the Answer to Your Son's Spare-time Problem, Too.

Urgs him to see if there's a route open in your locality, where he, too, may enjoy the benefits of being a newspaper boy. Apply to our Circulation Department.

"Yes, It's Made a Big Difference in Don"

THERE'S every reason for the father of a hustling carrier-boy to point with pride to his son's progress as a young businessman—the owner and manager of a thriving newspaper route! For many a successful man remembers how valuable his own newspaper-boy experience proved to be—and knows it is even more so for today's teen-agers!

Better than any other spare-time gainful activity, a newspaper route satisfies an enterprising youth's desire to earn his own money, buy his own things, develop his particular talents, and speed up his savings program. Besides, it adds practical training to his regular schooling, teaches him basic business methods, and offers him many special awards and incentives to excel in serving his customers and expanding his route.

But above all, his parents and friends are pleased at the way a newspaper route helps him become more manly, ambitious, resourceful and self-reliant—gain habits and qualities which are stepping stones to success and good citizenship.

Record Return On Bob White Wings

By Hal Sharp
ADVANCING THE "FORCED" RETRIEVE

WHEN THE DOG HAS LEARNED TO TAKE THE GLOVE OR COB AT THE "FETCH" COMMAND, GRADUALLY MOVE THE OBJECT FARTHER AWAY, SO HE COMES FORWARD TO TAKE IT. HE MUST BE FORCED BY THE PRESSURE AND LED IF NECESSARY, WITHIN 1 SECOND AFTER THE COMMAND, THAT 1 SECOND IS IMPORTANT! GRADUALLY LOWER THE OBJECT UNTIL HE PICKS IT OFF THE GROUND. AFTER 3 OR 4 WEEKS OF TRAINING WHEN THE DOG SURGES FORWARD ON HIS OWN AT THE COMMAND, TOSS THE OBJECT A FEW FEET THEN SAY, "FETCH," APPLY PRESSURE AND LEAD HIM RAPIDLY TO IT. RETURN HIM TO THE SPOT IT WAS TOSSED FROM BEFORE SAYING, "GIVE!" FINALLY HE'LL RETRIEVE IT ALONE.

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mac Spedie, the Cleveland Browns' end who was just another sporting goods salesman at the pro football meeting, tells the Yanks' ball-handling coach, pro quarterback, with Frankie Albert second. Mac also complained because the Browns didn't draft some offensive ends to help him. "Looks like they're going to make me work," he said. The sporting goods guys say, incidentally, that the most frequent request this year from college and pro coaches is: "Can you find me a good, big tackle?" Dr. Mal Stevens told the boxing writers the other night that his medical advisory board won't "try to hide behind a lot of equipment" but will try to mix a little "athletic judgement" into its decisions. . . . And Jersey Joe Walcott said he wants to fight "anybody the public thinks is entitled to the title." . . . Sounds as if Joe thinks the public hasn't a high opinion of his qualifications as champ.

AUSTIN — The director of wildlife restoration for the Texas Game and Fish Commission reported the receipt of a record number of bob white quail wings during the 1951-52 season. The total has not been tabulated and will not be known until next month when wildlife biologists assemble at San Marcos to study the wings. The director said the wings for the season are fairly representative of the entire state but that the greatest number was received from the Panhandle and from Southeast Texas. He attributed the splendid return to the "better cooperative attitude of sportsmen and to the fine help from newspapers and radio stations in informing hunters how they could help scientific studies by forwarding the quail wings."

The subject of sportsmen - biologist teamwork in gathering and studying the wings is covered in an article in the January issue of TEXAS GAME AND FISH magazine. This article breaks down the results of the 1950-51 season studies and indicates the benefits of this team-work toward "advancing studies of breeding, feeding and migration habits." The director of Wildlife Restoration points out in the magazine that quail wing feathers tell the approximate age of the birds. He adds that acquiring sex and age data on a good sample of birds from a locality indicate rather definitely the extent of hatch and survival for the year.

Generalized comparison of one type of boat construction with another is hard to make. But let's talk about canvas-covered boats today. In a general comparison of the durability of canvas-covered craft with other constructions, account must be taken of the fact the average canvas-covered boat is lighter. To be fair to them, a comparison should be made with other craft of equal weight. And boating expert Willard Crandall points out that there are even variations in canvas-covered constructions. There seems no question that some of these are enough different so they should not be judged under the usual rules for canvas-covered boats as to use, upkeep, and so on. When you are considering a canvas-covered boat, one of the first things you should ask is how it will stand up in rough use, as in snag-filled water. Canvas can be ripped if you hit something sharp enough - fast enough. By snag - infested waters I mean those with a welter of submerged bushes, logs and even trees in waters above a dam, or in a swamp. Occasional stump or brush along a shore are not considered a snag area. How about repairs on canvas boats? There will be upkeep work, sooner or later, on a canvas-covered boat. But, and here's a point of importance which is too commonly overlooked, canvas-covered boats can always be well repaired, and usually simply. Amateurs sometimes cover old wood boats that are flat or V-bottom, or of some heavy construction that is quite unsuited for canvas. No factory that I know of would use canvas in this way. But the fact that amateurs will try such stunts in efforts to hold together an old leaky boat does not add to the reputation canvas-covered boats have with the layman. It's too bad, because they are good boats. couldn't keep a date to play in Virginia the other day because it was grounded by ice and snow in (of all places) Iceland. . . . Alvin Handmeyer, who lacks the women's cross-country golf tournament, played a round at Pine Valley before going South for the winter and scored a neat 122. "That's okay," he commented, "I'm glad to be alive, they frightened me so telling me about the course."

Red Brown, the West Virginia U. basketball coach, was all ready to leave home for an important game with Pitt when his wife noticed he was wearing a brown suit (an Adolph Rupp model, maybe). "Which suit were you wearing at the NYU game? And for Duke and Niagara, she demanded. . . . He admitted he had been dressed in blue - so he had to change to that color. . . . But Brown says he's not going to continue the practice. . . . Why, when I was at Davis and Elkins I wore the same suit for 25 straight games," he protests. "It got so bad that the players and fans were afraid to change their clothes for fear of a jinx."

Stan Rochinski, rookie outfielder, just signed by Washington for one of its farm clubs, is the son of a song writer and a football player who was good enough to have 23 colleges after him. . . . The "little-bigger" league, designed to fill the age gap between little league and Legion baseball, will hold a kick-off dinner at Trenton, N. J., Jan. 31. . . . The "non-scholarship" which hampered Maurice (Rocket) Richard so badly during the early part of the hockey season turned out to be a "putted muscle." AT THE Mississippi Southern's little Nick Reven scored 27 points against Dayton U. Tom Blackburn, Dayton coach, called Nick as the "best player to perform in the new Dayton gym, and the kid is a live-forever 145-pounder."

WEAK END NOTES
Murray Warmath, new Mississippi State football coach, hired two new assistants, Darrell Royal and Spook Murphy, he kept Mac Carr, who has been notably successful in bringing Yankee talent to Mississippi. The American University (Washington, D.C.) basketball team

Elmer Brown, newly appointed trainer of T.C.U.'s athletic teams, is the second member of his family to hold such a post in the Southwest Conference. His twin brother, Delmer, is trainer for Baylor University.

Lucille Miguez And Billy J. Stephens Exchange Vows In Home Ceremony

In a simple home ceremony a miniature wedding bell read Friday, Mrs. Lucille Miguez, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Stockton of Pampa, became the bride of Mr. Billy J. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Stephens of Comanche, Okla., presided at the guest book.

Dr. Orion W. Carter officiated at the double-ring ceremony read before a fireplace decorated with a large arrangement of white chrysanthemums.

Before the ceremony, Miss Nevada Stockton played "Always" and "Because."

Miss Iris Stockton was her sister's only attendant. She wore a two-piece beige wool jersey dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Mr. Corky Rentfro was best man. The bride wore a two-piece gold wool jersey dress with two-tone brown shoes and bag. Her hat was white wool felt, and her corsage was yellow carnations.

The traditional something old and borrowed was an antique cameo pin belonging to Mrs. I. J. Sanders. Something new was her wedding dress, something blue, a crocheted handkerchief, a gift from Mrs. Beatrice Stone of California. She also wore a penny in her shoe.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with navy accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the home. The table was laid with a cut-work linen cloth centered with the wedding cake decorated with

March Of Dimes Bridge Benefit Planned Thursday

Among the many plans for contributing to the March of Dimes is a bridge benefit scheduled for 1:30 to 5 p. m. Thursday in the Palm Room, City Hall.

The benefit is being sponsored by the Parent Education club with all proceeds going to the polio campaign.

Mrs. Bob Curry is in charge of decorations. Tickets may be purchased from any Parent Education club member, or had by calling Mrs. Clinton Evans, 1149-J.

Parsley-Britton Wedding Plans Told

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Jean Parsley and Mr. Bill Britton was announced this week by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Becky Hale, 945 E. Scott. Mr. Britton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn R. Crouse, 725 E. Frederic.

Wedding vows will be exchanged in the Calvary Baptist parsonage February 8.

PANORAMA... saw Oma Ramos, attractive bookkeeper at the Worley this week and also had a nice visit with pleasant Mrs. Kenneth Butler recently... spied diminutive Helen Huff in a sleek brown suit... Ben Gull handling out 'I Like Ike' buttons... Affable tax collector F. E. Leech, delighted with his spacious office in the courthouse and with the chauffeur and black license plates which Texas motorists will be sporting this year... (If you've recently bought a license plate in a neighboring state, you can appreciate the price on these local numbers, too!... Had an eerie feeling when brushed by several young creatures from another planet, as they swept through a local department store Wednesday... Calmed down a little when I learned that they hadn't actually been spilled from a flying saucer, but were none other than four local cub scouts, John Price, Sammy Giddison, Jerry Herndon and Roger Walters, effectively demonstrating their study for the month, "Planets, Space and Stars"... Mrs. Camille Walters is the capable and patient sponsor of this group of youngsters from Pack 22... The John Hodges are enjoying their darling house on Williston... Everyone is surely getting politically minded these days, with the papers full of talks by congressmen and others legally minded and the housewives selling poll taxes door to door as it were... Powder to the gale of the League of Women Voters... They are really on the ball several days a week if everyone took the government half as seriously as they do, but things would be in pretty clean shape...

THE YOUNG AND THE YOUNG IN HEART AND THOSE WHO MAY NOT FEEL EITHER BUT WHO HAVE SOME OF THE FORMER CATEGORIES IN THEIR FAMILIES... please note: the youth of Pampa is doing some fine things... One of them is the new youth movement being sponsored locally by Roy Johnson and Tracy Cary under the auspices of the United Christian Youth Movement... we are especially proud to report that all protestant churches in Pampa have been invited to cooperate in sending representatives to this... Another thing of interest to all parents is the forthcoming Boy Scout drive and the preparation which girl scouts are absorbed in making for the annual Friendship Fair in March... We'll be particularly eager to see what Mrs. Bob Andis dreams up for her troop as she is so clever at figuring out things the girls can do well... Little Martha Marsh (the W. S. Marshes' daughter, and Dianne Zachry (the L. J. Zachrys' pride of joy) make a cute pair at their Girl's Auxiliary (in which they're both officers) at the Baptist Church...

CAN'T REMEMBER which of Pampa's many fine banquet speakers heard recently should get credit with these witticisms apropos to the season: "A student in astronomy asked to define the big dipper replied simply, 'Uncle Sam'... 'Tax collectors never die, they just raid away!'"... Nope, I can't remember whose buttered peas and chicken a la king I ate that night, but I know it wasn't the NSA meeting, cause they had the Internal Revenue representative himself, Walter Bowen, no less, tell them how to make out their income taxes. Neat idea!

WEDDING BELLS WILL SOON BE RINGING FOR ADNEY PURSLEY (ANOTHER BELLE WHO'S CROWN UP WHILE OUR BAKED WAFER TURNED) and John Parker. Her chosen orchid and white color scheme should be very flattering to her brunette beauty. Didn't Margaret Price make a lovely bride? She's another one we've watched getting prettier and prettier since her early teens, (just like her older sisters) and her poise and charm are enviable. Only thing she regrets is that the young couple is not establishing its home in Pampa. Another nostalgic wave of regret swept over us at the football banquet when we felt as though we were bidding adieu to the Fighting Harvesters of the class of '52. (Hate to name any cause they're all my favorites, and can't even tell you about any of my favorite friends I spied cause several of them are hard at work on the problem of my identity right now and I am not about to give them any help!) Any how it's safe to say that everyone, including yours truly, had a rip-roaring good time. And from now to baseball time I'll unleash my football enthusiasm on the basketball team. Isn't it going to be fun to do so in the new stadium, of which — like all Pampans — I'm proud as punch...

WEDDING BETWEEN SEMESTER FINALS AND GROUND HOG DAY WITH VALENTINE'S DAY JUST AROUND THE CORNER seems like a good time to throw another log on the fire in the way of giving a mid-winter shot in the arm to our wardrobes. Spied Mrs. Jay Thompson and young son shopping in a children's wear department recently. Probably in a few years he'd resent a comment like this, but now may we say in passing that the little Thompson boy has a most angelic smile... Think it's so nice that the 4-H youngsters are learning to square dance... Judy Neef and Judith Baer are two cute members of this group.

PEG WAS DELIGHTED to get the philosophy of an anonymous reader. I like it so much I want to quote it in full. It's from the pen of George Matthew Adams...

"I am not troubled about creeds or dogmas. I respect the right of everyone to his or her ideas and beliefs on religion. That there is a God, a Supreme Being, in the world, who shaped and formed it in the first place and who sees to it that it goes along in orderly fashion, I do not doubt for a moment."

"The story of the stars alone form, to me, an alphabet of faith. In the daffodils beneath my window, I see the breath of God illuminated in golden color. Every blade of grass, every unfolding leaf, every shift of wind and every evidence of beauty in the world, is but an expression of His Omnipotence and power. In every raindrop is a message of His love. God's whispers are for those who believe, and those who believe glory in this life — thrill at the opportunity to love and serve, and face life's affairs with fortitude and patience."

It is unthinkable that death ends all. He who gives lavishly of himself knows no poverty. With all our acquired knowledge we are still ignorant of God. He runs His universe in perfect order.

"There is no genuine happiness of heart outside a belief and understanding in God. All in life is clothed in beauty as it is realized that God is around all and in all. How glorious is the springtime — God's awakening from winter's sleep."

"We sleep to wake. Thus with life — we die to live — in what state it is not our province to know any more than it is our province to know of life before we were born."

"The brave philosophy of life is that of acceptance. Mind not the morrow. Live today! God will arrange the rest as He arranged the universe since the time immemorial."

PEG LIKES BOTH the spoken and the practiced philosophy of Dr. Purviance... Congratulations to another person of a philosophical nature, Roy Albright, who after only a few months residence in Pampa, is honored with the presidency of the Ministerial Alliance... Other newly elected organization heads include: Mrs. Lora Brummett of the Rebekah Lodge; attractive Mrs. Bob Curry is new president of Parent Education... Girl Scout leaders chose Mrs. Frank Kelley (whose natural beauty seems to have been inherited by daughter-scout, Mary Ann)... A comfortable person to know is Mrs. Ruf's Jordan, new president of the Girl Scout Association, who will be installed at the organization's annual banquet Monday night... A real book-lover, Mrs. A. D. McNamara, will head Holy Souls' Altar Society in '52... Efficient Mrs. Charles Warminski is chairman of the Gray County Home Demonstration Council... Believe the 20th Century clubs elect their heads next meeting, and most other study clubs at that time or at the end of the club year... Peg's hat is off to the many better-manager-than-I who find time for clubs and such...

When the injuns reach their teens. And the knees aren't out of all their jeans And I get all my letters written And no new hobby has me "smitten"... When I can dust and bake and sweep Without a maid my house to keep... I'll jine a club — by heck, I will! But you won't know it, cause I'll still

Dumas Police Cite 'Outstanding' Year

DUMAS — Dumas Chief of Police Asa Bowen reports that Dumas has again completed an outstanding year through the traffic records. During 1951, Dumas was awarded a high-rating traffic safety certificate, and the overall report for 1951 is slightly better than the 1950 report.

A total of 96 accidents were recorded in the city of Dumas last year, an increase of 16 over 1950. Chief Bowen says that is not an unusual increase, considering the increase of about 500 cars to the county during the same period.

Again, there were no fatalities from any of the accidents, and only five persons were injured with only one of those hospitalized. Injuries represent a decrease of 9 from 1950.

Breaking the accident causes down to three main divisions, Chief Bowen reports that failure to grant right-of-way resulted in 31 wrecks; negligent collision, which is turning from wrong lane, following too closely or carelessness in leaving a curb, caused 29 wrecks; and reckless driving in general was the cause of 18 collisions. Other causes reported were driving while intoxicated, bad brakes and disregard for proper hand signals and signal lights.

Needles, thimble, scissors, pins, tracing wheel, and tape measure . . . this is only part of the equipment to be found in a 4-H Girl's sewing box. Some of the beginning 4-H'ers at the McLellan Junior High meeting Thursday decided they would like to make head scarves, tea towels, or aprons. As their techniques of sewing improves it will be surprising to see the number of skirts, dresses and louses that can be added to each girls wardrobe.

Selection of the right kind of pattern for the figure, as well as suitable material, was stressed. To be really becoming your clothes must have lines designed to flatter your figure. Study your figure and learn which lines are becoming to you. Then select the pattern with your best lines. Here's what you should wear:

- SHORT AND SLENDER
1. Vertical lines, curve lines, flares and ruffles.
 2. Round necklines, heart-shaped necklines, Peter Pan collars, high, rounded neck sweaters, oval yoke accented with narrow ruffle or binding.
 3. Princess and semi-fitted full length coats. Light weight wool or rayon such as crepes and gabardines, fine muslins, lawn, dainty floral prints.
 4. Do not wear heavy material such as tweed and heavy corduroy or large floral prints.

- SHORT AND STOUT
1. Vertical lines and diagonal lines.
 2. Soft and easy fit of dress.
 3. Pointed peter pan collar, V or low oval neckline, beads forming oval. Make the face the center of interest.
 4. Princess lines not flared, moderately narrow belt.
 5. One-color dress, writ length semi-fitted jacket, straight short, or long set-in sleeves. Ecru, white, or long set-in sleeves. Beige, full length, semi-fitted coats.
 6. Soft cotton fabric, closely woven, smooth, even weave. Solid colors or small prints.
 7. Do not wear tweeds, corduroy, taffeta, extremely large prints or plaids.

- TALL AND SLENDER
1. Horizontal and curved lines.
 2. Short full skirts, draped necklines, soft rolled collar, moderately wide curved lapels, wide bows at neckline, waist gathered on to round and square yokes, high round necklines, shawl collar.
 3. Full dresses, pockets, gathered or pleated skirt, full sleeves at wrist, two piece dresses of contrasting waist and skirt, wide belt.
 4. Box coat in three-quarter and seven eighth lengths.
 5. Corduroy, crepe taffeta flannel, tweed plaids, and large prints.
 6. Do not wear princess lines.

- TALL AND STOUT
1. Combination of horizontal and vertical lines, and suggested yokes.
 2. Softly draped neckline, V neckline, moderately wide lapels, V yoke and all lines should accent the face.
 3. Four or six gore skirt, medium narrow belt, plain well fitted sleeves, not tight, longer jacket, two piece dresses.
 4. Semi-fitted and box coat in three-quarter or full length.
 5. Gabardine, light weight wool, soft crepe, voile, muslins, chambrays, medium large prints.
 6. Do not wear shiny or bulky materials.

It is always foolish to buy your clothes in a "hit-or-miss" fashion. With careful planning you can be attractively dressed for every occasion.

What a man stands for isn't as important as what he is.

Miss Myrna Colleen Coplin Becomes Bride Of Robbie Joe Cade In Home Ceremony

In a double-ring ceremony read January 12 at 8 p. m., Miss Myrna Colleen Coplin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston P. Whitsett, became the bride of Mr. Robbie Joe Cade, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cade of Skellytown.

J. P. Crenshaw, minister of the Church of Christ, officiated at the ceremony read in the home of the bride's parents in Bowers City. The home was decorated with baskets of white gladioli. Vows were exchanged before an altar flanked by white gladioli and white candelabra.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coplin, brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were the only attendants. The bride selected for her wedding a pink wool suit with navy blue accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white spilt-carnations and centered with an orchid. For something borrowed and old, the bride carried a longed to her grandmother. The bride's mother wore a navy blue crepe dress with a corsage of white gardenias.

Holy Souls Parish Council Meets For Luncheon And Business Session

The Parish Council of Holy Souls Church met Wednesday for a covered dish luncheon in the parish hall. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Tom O'Rourke, Jr., Mrs. M. F. Roche and Mrs. J. R. Isbell. A featured luncheon Mrs. W. J. Pung, president of the council, introduced Mrs. E. E. Williams who spoke briefly to the group of the importance of our contributions to the March of Dimes. Rev. Francis Kuntz reported on the first meeting of the evening study club which met in the Parish hall Jan. 10 and which met again Thursday night.

Mrs. John Kidwell reported she had delivered kitchen equipment donated by members of the council to the Home Economics Dept. of Carver School in Pampa, Mrs. Lynn Boyd reported a letter of thanks from the Sisters at the Gordon Memorial Home in Panhandle for the food shower given by the parishioners of Holy Souls church.

Mrs. Pung then introduced Capt. J. C. Pogue who is stationed in Pampa with the National Guard. Capt. Pogue and his family spent from 1949 to 1951 in Kyoto, Japan, where he was stationed there with the U. S. Army. Capt. Pogue showed colored slides of Japan, explaining each as they were shown. After the pictures there was a question and answer session and display of various items of Japanese wares. Capt. Pogue's three-year-old daughter, Carol, wore an authentic Japanese kimono and

WHAT'S COOKIN' IN GRAY COUNTY HD CLUB WORK

Home Demonstration Agent

A training school for the visual aids chairmen of each home demonstration club was held in the county home demonstration agents office Thursday afternoon. The purpose of this school was to teach each one the use of the 35 - millimeter camera owned by the home demonstration council. Mrs. Emmett Osborne and I helped each individual to hold and use this equipment, and they got experience in making flash indoor and outdoor pictures.

The importance of getting the subject in focus, in order to make sharp pictures, was emphasized at this school. We showed how to get it in focus by using the range finder wheel. By the use of a horizontal bar the subject will seem to be divided when it is not in focus. By adjusting the wheel it changes to look as the subject does naturally.

Later, we showed them how to adjust the amount of lens opening, which controls the amount of light, which passes through the lens while the shutter is open. This is another means of helping to get clear pictures. The amount of opening needed, depends upon the brightness of the light, and the distance the subject is from the camera.

After these demonstrations and instructions were given, each woman was given the camera and made the adjustments before experiencing the taking of pictures. All took some flashlight and some outdoor pictures.

Another point in the use of the camera was how to re-wind the film and how to load the kodak with a new film. All clubs are eager to have their chairmen receive this training, since the colored slides may help them to illustrate the work they are doing. By the use of these slides they project the pictures on a screen and thereby give illustrated programs of the club activities year by year. In other words, they illustrate the story of their club work.

The women who came last Thursday had never used the equipment before. They were so pleased with what they learned, that they called for a meeting next Thursday morning at 9:00 to get more practice while the information is still fresh on their minds. They invite any of the club visual aids chairmen, who were unable to be here last Thursday to join them. They can see many uses the clubs may have for photography and they want the members to know how to take effective pictures. By their getting it early in the year, they hope to get a great deal of practice.

VALUABLE PURCHASE
Alaska, during 1948, produced a total of $120,560,735 worth of minerals, salmon, furs and farm produce, or more than 16 times the original purchase price of the territory.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?
Here is an inexpensive home recipe to take off unwanted weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any drugist, four ounces of liquid Barcortrate. Pour into pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help retain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Free 'Fish' For Seals And Humans

The seal, whose clumsy flopping on land appears ludicrous to most of us, becomes a thing of streamlined grace once he takes to the water. Oddly enough, a seal is born lacking the ability to swim.

Now Mama seal realizes that if her offspring is to have a chance in life, he must first of all learn to swim. He must be able to swim, not only to escape his enemies, but because his ability to survive will depend on his ability to obtain food, which, in the case of a seal, means fish.

Once the young seal leaves the protection of his family, he has the freedom of the vast ocean before him. He is no longer restricted, set upon him. He will have the liberty to seek his own food and live his own life.

There is an inescapable lesson to be learned when one draws a parallel between the life of a seal and that of a human being.

When parents when their child has reached a certain maturity, realize that the life he must be pushed into the sea of life where, in a free economy, he will be required to become an individual who makes his own way instead of continuing life as a dependent member of a family group.

But consider the vast difference in the life that faces a seal and the life that faces a young man just getting a start.

The young man, attempting to take his place in the world, is not really free to swim the sea of life in search of his destiny. Thanks to such restrictive measures as wage and hour laws, the young man discovers he is not free to even make his own bargain with an employer. A paternalistic government tells him he must be given a certain amount of money although he would work for less.

Once employed, the youth makes involuntary contributions to the government in the form of taxes—both invisible and hidden. Much of his tax dollar goes to support paternalistic projects that the administration thinks are so necessary to the well-being of citizens. The young man will hear and read propaganda favoring such unrealistic schemes as socialized medicine. He will learn that he will be taken care of in his old age by a pension paid for by his money.

His conditioning for life may cause him to speciously reason that the world owes him a living and he may vote for sugar-coated "free" things that will deprive him of his liberty.

So if one considers the seal and the human being on the basis of what freedoms they possess when starting out in life, the conclusion is that the seal has the better of it.

But then there are seals who are trapped by humans and wind up in zoos. Some of these seals are taken to municipal zoos supported by tax money.

Being rather gentle and subjective by nature, the captured seal finds out that the zookeepers (who are on the public payroll) will feed them fish (bought with tax money), and soon they are barking their thanks for food that is being "given" them. Of course, they have lost their freedom.

Now the parallel of the zoo seal and the citizen draws close. The seal who started out to freely roam the seas, is trapped and put in a zoo.

The young man, who should be allowed to freely roam the seas of life, has discovered that the government is always willing to "give him something for nothing"—and take away his real freedom in the process.

Like the seal, the young man soon learns to bark his thanks for the doles that come to him. And he becomes a member of a grateful herd, that blinded by the prospect of free "fish" for the rest of their lives, do not even see or care about the imprisoning bars.

INTERNATIONAL LAW

Instead of paying $120,000 ransom to the Hungarians to release four fliers who were forced down in Hungary, the President should have instructed the Secretary of State to issue a brief note to the Hungarian government reading:

"The sovereign people of the United States send greetings to the Communist government of Hungary. The Government of the United States hereby requests the Government of Hungary to unconditionally release four citizens of the United States whose airplane was forced down in Hungarian territory by circumstances beyond their control and concerning whom negotiations have been conducted. The Government of the United States further wishes to inform the Government of Hungary that if the four American citizens are not released within twenty-four hours from the date this note is received, the Government of the United States will take such action as it may deem necessary to secure the safety of its law-abiding citizens abroad and to exact from the Government of Hungary satisfactory reparations for the time American citizens have been incarcerated, contrary to international law, plus reasonable assurances that such offenses will not be repeated by the Government of Hungary."

"THAT MEANS WAR" is the appeal and predicament America must try to make its reality to the world and "world" federalists who make so much of internationalism and tying this nation into one big world government.

Simply put, the world government would mean that the United States would be required to denounce such "imperialist" and "sovereign" things as "Let the United Nations handle it," "They'd cry," "the same UN which 'handled' the Korea business so well, at American expense."

When the government of Morocco allowed its "official" bandit, Perdicaris, to kidnap and hold for ransom an American named Perdicaris, old Teddy Roosevelt sent them the message that he was going to have Perdicaris alive or Raisul dead and the law-abiding American had better be handed over to us pronto—no ifs, but or maybes. Perdicaris was released within 24 hours.

There's a time to be agreeable and tolerant, and a time to get tough. The Hungarian Reds knew very well what kind of party-waist leadership we have—or lack of leadership, rather. They decided to bid for an American named Perdicaris, old Teddy Roosevelt sent them the message that he was going to have Perdicaris alive or Raisul dead and the law-abiding American had better be handed over to us pronto—no ifs, but or maybes. Perdicaris was released within 24 hours.

Perdicaris was released within 24 hours.

If they were bluffing they figured we'd back down, fearful of an incident, and so they bluff, which we did. If they were NOT bluffing, then they were either fools, seeing that we could blow them off the map in jig time, or were ready and trying to start a war with Russia on their side. In that case, we still should have called their bluff, since if they're determined to start force we might as well get it over with now as later. In either event, the United States should have sent them a message as a preemptory note as suggested above. There's one thing even worse than war, and that is loss of national self-respect and honor. I guess that if we had strong patriotic nationalist leaders, a good neighbor to all but a door-mat for none, we would have a great deal more peace than otherwise.

The difference between that political "imperialism" is that if I invade my neighbor's private property and horn into his business that's imperialism, but if a high wind blows my shirt off the line and it falls in my neighbor's backyard, he is—by moral law—bound to return it to me. Refusal to do so is to initiate force to deprive me of what is mine. If there is a court of justice, I have recourse to it. If no such court exists and my only course is to recover my own property by natural law, then I have a right to point a gun at my immoral neighbor and force him to throw my shirt over the fence. The very fact that, while I'm law-abiding and neighborly, I am ready, able and willing to defend my rights, is likely to not only deter my neighbor from any aggressive acts but to inspire respect and good-will besides.

Now in the news where plans are going ahead to set up an international law covering disputes between nations and an international court of judges to decide such cases. If it's limited to that, I can see a lot of sense in it if based on MORAL LAW, but not in a world government. Moral international law is needed.

Most drunks are not convinced that they will never get anywhere by drinking, until they start home from the same corner about five wasn't acting.

"The Freedom To Move" VI

Here is more of "The Freedom To Move" written by Oscar W. Cooley and Paul Polgar.

A single copy of this article can be obtained by writing to the Foundation for Economic Education, Irvington-on-Hudson, New York.

Spreading Ideas "With reference to this spreading of ideas, perhaps we should re-examine our own tactics in the current ideological battle against communism. In this contest, it is important that foreign people have an opportunity to understand our ideals and objectives. We are trying to convey this information through the 'Voice of America' radio programs and publications. But we've become so engrossed with our collective broadcasting that we neglect what is possibly a more effective means of communications.

"In the October 1947 issue of Foreign Affairs Magazine, 'America may have been as well known to 19th century Europe through the letters of immigrants as it is now through newspapers and radio.' Yes, perhaps even better known in the 19th century for then there was the personal touch of individuality which was America's mark of distinction.

"Unlike the 'Voice of America,' those letters from immigrants to the folks they left behind carried the American taxpayer nothing. There was no coercive practice behind that kind of transmission of ideas and information. In a free world, information moves from person to person like the dropping of the gentle rain from heaven; it need not be pumped through expensive and biased propaganda pipelines.

"Can we hope to explain the blessings of freedom to foreign people while we deny them freedom to cross our boundaries? To advertise America as the 'land of the free,' and to pose as the world champion of freedom in the contest with communism, is hypocritical, at the same time we deny the freedom of immigration as well as the freedom of trade. And we may be sure that our neighbors overseas are not blind to this hypocrisy.

The Altruists "Today, many native Americans are helping to place leaders in high offices of government on socialist platforms. The idea of a 'welfare state,' that will use political force to take from each according to his ability and give to each according to his need, is quite incompatible with the concept of freedom of exchange on a voluntary basis; of freedom to come and go as each person chooses, so long as he does not trespass against the similar freedom of others. When government begins to promise something for nothing to a favored group of citizens, then it becomes necessary to restrict the numbers of those who may enter the places of privilege. Make it so that the inmates will lock the doors from the inside, to keep the outsiders out.

"Understanding this situation doesn't demand a vivid imagination. There are plenty of examples right here in our own communities which show how it works. California didn't attract all the 'Okies' by offering job opportunities. Instead, California also tried to offer something for nothing—'Eggs,' and pensions, and comfortable living even for those who refused to work for it—with the result that families from Oklahoma came to partake of these bounties, which outraged existing opportunities in Oklahoma. This was a subsidized migration to California at the expense of the Californians whose own earnings and savings were taxed to support it.

The Puerto Rican Migration "Another study of the effects of uneconomic interference with freedom of movement involves the 350,000 Puerto Ricans who have migrated to New York City as American citizens. Most of them live within the congested area of a few blocks at the upper end of Central Park, known as 'Spanish Harlem' and 'New York's worst slum.' Into this area, the city pumps relief funds in excess of $15,000,000 annually, the result of which is to attract a steady stream of these people there and to keep them there.

"It is not, of course, the intent of advocates of the 'welfare state' to create and perpetuate slum conditions. But that is the certain consequence of subsidizing slum dwellers, of 'benevolence' discouraging them from moving in response to opportunities for work and economic independence. Puerto Ricans have been attracted to 'Spanish Harlem'—to what they apparently think is an improvement over their previous way of life. But these slums should be a mere stepping stone for them. Instead of that, the stepping stone is greased with 'relief funds' aggravating the situation which a free market otherwise would have tended to relieve. Thus, under the inherently false banner of public charity—robbing Peter to pay Paul—we tend to limit the movement and to discourage the economic advancement of large numbers of our own citizens. We close the market place of free choice, barring the only path man has known to continuous improvement of his welfare. When a man who could have helped himself—and others—is bribed to refrain from doing so, he—and the others—are thereby harmed.

"The 'Okies' in California and the Puerto Ricans in New York City are not isolated cases. Any community would face the same problem upon a similar interference with the freedom to move and the stimulus to work. A community operating on the competitive basis of the free market will welcome any willing newcomer for his potential productivity, whether he brings capital goods or merely a willingness to work. Capital and labor then attract each other, in a kind of growth that spells healthy progress and prosperity in that community. That principle seems to be well recognized and accepted by those who support the activities of a local chamber of commerce. Why do we not dare risk the same attitude as applied to national immigration policy."

The American Federation of Labor and the CIO saw in this present situation in France a chance to extend the power of their ruling bosses to continental Europe. This would mean more fees and dues, to be sure, but that phase of the temptation is trivial by comparison with their desire for power. God only knows why men seek power just why Mussolini and Hitler claimed patriotism. I have not read any claim by David Dubinsky that he has a purpose in horning into the domestic affairs of European countries with his secret agents and "ambassadors." He and Walter Reuther of the CIO seek power over here but for what purpose we have to surmise. They say they want to combat the Communist influence. Why didn't they do that in our country, then? They are trying to organize a thing called an International Federation of Free Trade unions. But their own unions are not free and their subjects would be even less free but for the 'Tat-Hartley' law passed over their united opposition. This law weakened their power, but the administration of the law was left in the hands of the Labor Relations board and President Truman fired Robert Denham, the counsel of the board, because he insisted on enforcing it against the union tyrants. Then Ida Klaus, a niece of Dubinsky, unknown as such to any but their own little personal circle, moved in as solicitor and boss of the board. And Reuther's own union, the United Auto Workers, was the direct offspring of the French Communist sildown strikes and riots of 1936 which prepared France for an easy knockout by thwarting their armament program.

Our State Department and our embassies now deal flagrantly with Dubinsky's agent, Irving Brown, who says his program is to fight the French Communists in the streets if necessary. But suppose Brown and Victor Reuther, who is running a similar interference in French domestic affairs under the auspices of the CIO, should succeed absolutely. This would mean the existence of the civilized areas of Europe of the same lawless, grafting source of corruption and street provocation which are the normal activity of unionism in the United States.

The job of stamping Communism out of the French labor movement is the duty of the French people and their government. If they continue to recognize traitors as citizens—and treat them as a lawful political party, they are exposing our soldiers in Germany to treachery behind their front.

Our CIO was every bit as rotten with treason as the French confederation. Philip Murray, its president, and Walter Reuther, who now say they hate Communism, made common cause with the foulest traitors in American history. Murray's books and tracts in defense of such vermin are a terrible record which he cannot erase in his pietistical old age.

But to kill off the French Communist would be a terrible butchery! Indeed it would. But not as bad as the slaughter of patriotic Frenchmen who accepted defeat after the Communists let the German army march in almost unopposed. These "collaborationists" just carried on for their loved ones as best they could under the conqueror's guns. They would be massacred in thousands after the liberation on accusations by the very same traitors who suddenly reappeared as heroes of the underground. That was a real only a dumb, insensate monster butchery. Nobody ever will know how many a decent Frenchman for

Union Activities In Europe Pose Threat To U. S. Troops

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

PARIS — I am afraid that I have failed to make clear the fact that the activities of two groups of American professional union leaders in France I am not engaged in.

The French General Confederation of Labor is dominated by true, fanatical Communists who are traitors to Russia. This is the largest single union in France. It is a real fifth column. The Communists betrayed France and opened the gates to the German armies in 1940. This terrible act of treachery cost the lives of nobody but French soldiers and civilians and made certain the conquest of France with only a trifling military effort by the Nazi armies. It is not yet appreciated by our people. And we do not realize now the terrible menace to our own lives of these French Communist union bosses present.

Our State Department and our embassies now deal flagrantly with Dubinsky's agent, Irving Brown, who says his program is to fight the French Communists in the streets if necessary. But suppose Brown and Victor Reuther, who is running a similar interference in French domestic affairs under the auspices of the CIO, should succeed absolutely. At a time when the Federals seem to be panting for every dollar they can dredge up, I may carry the Iron Cross to suggest that I think it is time Washington stopped slapping women across the back of the head. And I will add that there seems to be a good deal more sweetness and light in women's nature than I ever believed, else the associated women's clubs would rise up in a later of fury and take Washington apart. I'm talking about the tax on women's purses.

The only woman I ever saw in my life who didn't carry a purse was a lady in Africa whose only adornment was a pouch of lion skin which she wore on a circle of telephone wire hopped around her neck. I don't know what was in the purse, but from the way it bulged I imagine it was like any other purse from Port Said to Fifth Avenue, a conglomeration of all the things that women find precious. And, as far as I know, the lady didn't pay the British Government or any other authority 20 per cent tax on her lion skin reticule.

The tax on women's purses was imposed during World War II, or thereabouts, on the premise that these handbags were made of leather and ladies ought to pay up for using needed leather. Since then, by some process known only to the tax expert, the tax goes on all kinds of purses from black suede to green plastic, from dress-calls to rayon, silks, wools, patent, cottons, straws and even metal purses, so long as they are purses, but at 20 per cent class mark on them.

Mrs. Julia Mackay of East Orange, New Jersey, is only one lady I know who is rowelled by this brisandage and she is mad enough to propose that the male sex be made to pay for "the sixteen pocket in a man's suit." She has a point in that those pockets do the work that a woman's purse usually handles. I have, however, just heard that she has on and I don't add up to 15 pockets. There are five in my trousers, counting two side jobs, two rear jobs and a watch pocket. The jacket has six including the change pocket slung alongside and inside the right breast pocket. That comes to eleven. If I wore a vest, which I don't, that would add four more, or fifteen total. Nevertheless, I think there ought to be an escalator scale for men's pockets. Mrs. Mackay is perfectly right in resenting the fact that women get 20-per-cent at every turn, whereas men can load up their tweed duffle bags and go around taxless.

Serious women could lick the tax on purses as fast as they licked the domestic servant social security dodge, about which you hear nothing more these days. I haven't heard of one woman going to jail for failure to pay it and I don't imagine I ever will. When the ladies of Texas took the locks off their front doors and so to the Treasury: "Come on and get us, the doors are open," the tax agents ran for the woods. They wanted no part of jailing the ladies and having a war right at home. If the women's clubs, in concert, made go the man who removed the silly tax on purses you would find it off the books and forgotten inside a week. Politicians are realistic when they see enough hard faces glaring them in the eye.

I know as well as the next man that we are caught up in rough

There are five in my trousers, counting two side jobs, two rear jobs and a watch pocket. The jacket has six including the change pocket slung alongside and inside the right breast pocket. That comes to eleven. If I wore a vest, which I don't, that would add four more, or fifteen total. Nevertheless, I think there ought to be an escalator scale for men's pockets. Mrs. Mackay is perfectly right in resenting the fact that women get 20-per-cent at every turn, whereas men can load up their tweed duffle bags and go around taxless.

Serious women could lick the tax on purses as fast as they licked the domestic servant social security dodge, about which you hear nothing more these days. I haven't heard of one woman going to jail for failure to pay it and I don't imagine I ever will. When the ladies of Texas took the locks off their front doors and so to the Treasury: "Come on and get us, the doors are open," the tax agents ran for the woods. They wanted no part of jailing the ladies and having a war right at home. If the women's clubs, in concert, made go the man who removed the silly tax on purses you would find it off the books and forgotten inside a week. Politicians are realistic when they see enough hard faces glaring them in the eye.

I know as well as the next man that we are caught up in rough

The great basic truth is that unions which are given power to betray or blackmail a nation or corrupt a system of government invariably do. All the terrorism, bloodbaths of Europe have been traceable to "labor" movements which are given power to betray or blackmail a nation or corrupt a system of government. International Whirligig Red Chinese Mass To Start War In Indo-China, Burma

By JOHN FISHER

Current events are creating a serious threat to the free world in Indo-China, Burma, Thailand and Malaya. Cautious diplomats soft pedal news of fresh dangers. Most Americans have only a vague idea of the significance of the fighting in the distant, unknown jungles of Southeast Asia. Yet a big explosion there may feel their lives as much as does Korea.

The Truman-Churchill talks, the secret Washington conference by French, British and American top brass and earlier confabs by Allied statesmen in Paris dealt with the situation. The latest portents are: Red Chinese troops are reported to be massing on the frontiers of Indo-China and Burma, ready to strike as soon as a Korean truce gives them a free-hand.

The weary French, with an unstable government, are seeking a way to pull out of the Indo-Chinese war, which is costing them so much money and blood. They are said to be in a mood to recognize Red China and advocate its admittance into the United Nations, despite American opposition in return for some sort of "Munich peace."

Washington thinks that if the American public in its present state of mind would be against a definite promise to commit United States ground forces to another holding action in Indo-China, similar to that in Korea. The British already are waist-deep in military action against Communist guerrillas in Malaya and have scant reserves handy for a new thrust by Red China.

BACKGROUND Nevertheless, all three Allies are seeking a way to pull out of the Southeast Asian case Mao Tse-Tung attacks without warning. For every informed statesman realized that if this bulthead is smashed, the Red flood could surge over Malaya and India and cause new trouble for the Pacific nations of Australia, the Philippines, Japan, and the United States.

A glimpse of background is necessary for a clear conception of the current situation. Since 1945 French expeditionary forces in support of the Viet Nam government have been fighting the Viet-Minh Communist rebels. At first Reds appealed to the popular sentiment for independence and were very successful in guerrilla warfare. The French and anti-Communist Viet Namees were getting the worst of it up to a year ago.

Then Paris sent the great military genius, General Jean de Lattre de Tassigny, who, unfortunately, has just died of illness in France. First, he brought about several political reforms in the direction of greater self-government that encouraged patriots. Next, he reorganized the loyal Viet Nam army on a solid national basis. Finally, with increased American weapons and by clever military strategy he led his small army of French and local troops to a series of victories.

But the breathing-spell triumph has been costly to France. A sum more than a third of the total Paris defence budget and one-eighth of French national expenditure has been earmarked for the 1952 campaign. Twenty-five times and that the government does need money. We need it, probably, as we never have before. But there must be some way to collect it beside making women dig up an extra 20 cents on the dollar; every time they need a new handbag, I won't fight the fur tax for anyone, because I look upon fur as a luxury. I think it is somewhat on the silly side to tax cosmetics, because most women would scare the paint off a barn if they didn't color things up a little. I know dozens of women who don't own one skin of any kind of fur and they are as pretty as anything you ever saw. They don't need mink or sable or any other kind of fur to make them easy to look at. But a woman's purse is no luxury, it is a must of the most acute kind.

Ladies, rise up in protest.

Months before Vishinsky at the United Nations charged that the U. S. A. was shipping Chinese Nationalist troops to Indo-China, the Viet Nam Red press was circulating the yarn. When Governor Dewey visited Saigon last year, the Red National Salvation declared that his trip was part of an American plot to extend aggressive war to Indo-China. "It gives substance to the suspicion that America is planning to throw Chiang Kai-shek's troops into the Viet Nam war."

The lagging hopes of local Reds by the promise of help from the outside. These "peace-loving" friends, it said, are "determined to chop off the hands of American warmongers."

So the propaganda goes: "China is our sincere friend. American barbarians are our enemies." Thus are the people conditioned to hate America and to look to China for further aid. The groundwork is prepared in the event that Stalin gives Mao the signal to invade Indo-China.

New Locations Take Spotlight In Panhandle Field; Two Tests Staked

Hassie Hunt Stakes Two In Armstrong

New locations held the spotlight in the Panhandle field last week as area operators staked 20 new wells. Two of the new locations were wildcats staked in Armstrong county. One is the Hassie Hunt No. 3 J. A. Cattle Co., a 9000-foot venture and the other is the 8000-foot Hassie Hunt No. 7 M. H. W. Ritchie.

Operators completed but one oil well for 30 barrels and finished six gas wells for a total increased potential of 20,495 MCF gas. Three wells were plugged, all wildcats by H. L. Hunt. Hunt plugged the No. 4 and No. 6 Ritchie in Armstrong and the No. 5 Ritchie in Donley.

API Launches Drive For Memberships

Directors of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute launched the organization's 1952 membership drive Friday night.

The directors, meeting at the Country Club, distributed tickets for membership and the annual API dance to be held at the Southern club Feb. 9.

The local chapter, largest in the entire mid-continent district, is seeking to increase its membership over the 700 figure set in 1951.

In connection with the opening of the drive, members gave a farewell dinner for Max Harbison, division superintendent for Kewanee Oil Co. here. Harbison is being transferred to the Tulsa office of the company. He was presented a pen by oilmen attending the session Friday.

According to Clayton Husted, chairman of the organization, the Panhandle needs a strong group of persons interested in the petroleum industry to fight increasing governmental participation and intervention in industry affairs.

Husted said that such a body, made up of all classes of business and interests in the Panhandle, could better cope with governmental encroachment.

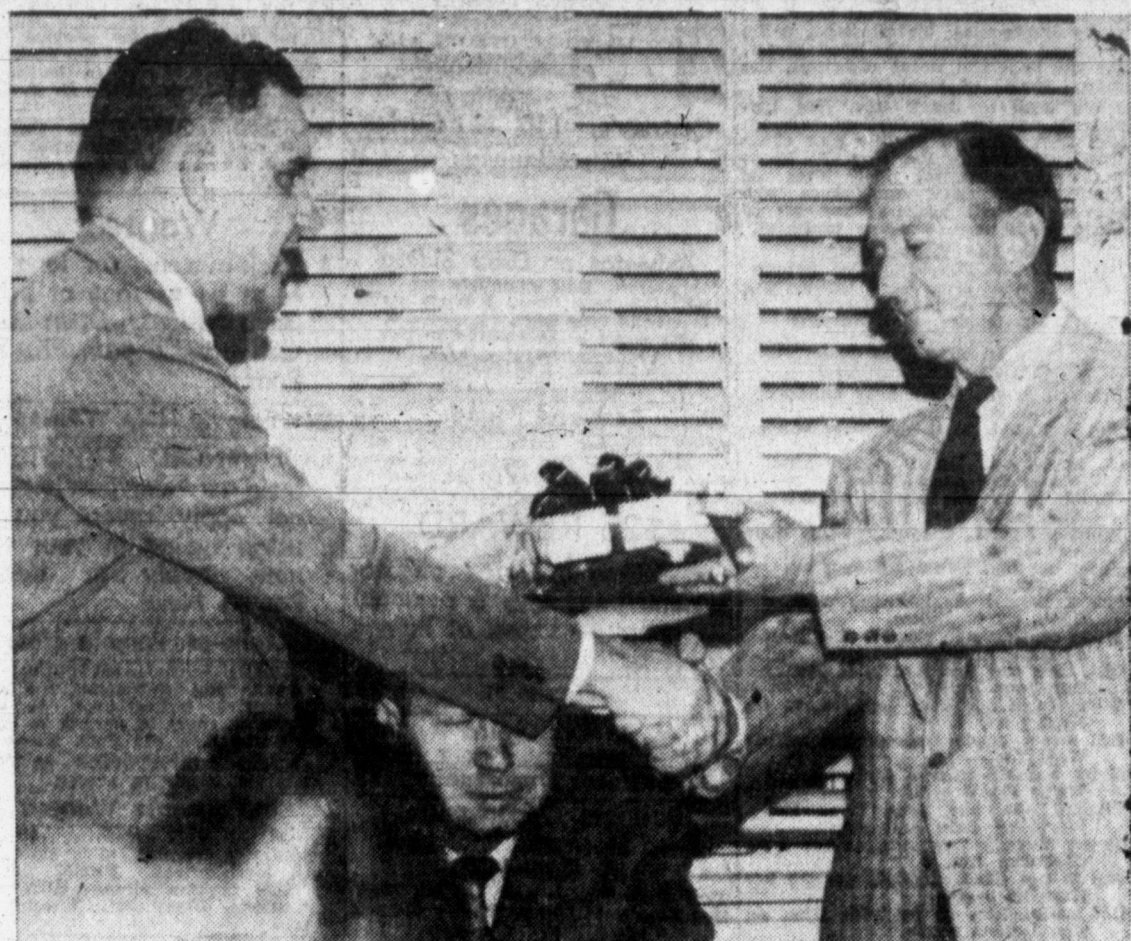

The API membership is composed of persons whose economy

crews already conducting exploration tests.

Fred Neslage, former chairman of the organization, is chairman of the advisory committee made up of representatives from Pampa, Borger, Phillips and Amarillo.

Officers for the API include Husted, chairman; R. J. Cronin, Phillips, first vice-chairman; Luther Reynolds, Pampa, second vice-chairman; and M. F. Ludeman, secretary-treasurer. Fred Neslage, former chairman of the organization, is chairman of the advisory committee made up of representatives from Pampa, Borger, Phillips and Amarillo.

Oilmen Provided $2.5 Billion To State's Revenue In 1951

About $2.5 billion — a sizable factor in the Texas economic picture — came out of some 132,000 holes in the ground as the state's oil producers chalked up a record-breaking year of production, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. estimated Saturday.

Based on official production figures from the Texas Railroad commission, association statisticians calculated that 1951 crude oil production at 978,010,000 barrels was up some 20 percent over 1950.

As they produced more oil, Texas oilmen also looked harder for additional oil reserves. They drilled 17,671 wells during the year — a 21 percent increase over 1950's search — but they had almost 6000 dry holes. This included all classes of wells, both wildcats and wells in supposedly known producing areas.

Almost one out of every four wells drilled in 1951 was a wildcat well — 4041, according to Railroad commission tabulation. Nearly a third more wildcat wells were put down during 1951 than in the previous year and 84 percent of them were dry. This indicated that the failures hit the wildcaters about 5 percent heavier than in 1950 when 79 percent were dry.

There were several indicators of the far-reaching effects of the increased production of oil and the increased search for oil.

For one thing, royalties to the landowners and other royalty owners totaled some $378 million spread far and wide for the production was pretty evenly spread across the state.

The oil men had brought in some 10,828 producing oil wells and 923 gas wells. Refineries hit new records with some 667 million barrels of crude oil run to stills. This meant expansion and additional employment for both construction and refinery operations workers.

Approximately 195,000 Texans were employed throughout the industry at the end of the year. Of these, 107,800 were engaged in drilling and production work, while 46,100 were in refining. Refinery employment gained 2,200; drilling and production gained 10,300. With production workers getting average weekly wages of $87.16 and refinery workers $83.16, oil industry workers were at the top of the list of wage groups in Texas.

Production taxes paid to the state by the oil and gas producers during fiscal 1951 which ended Aug. 31, were 38 percent heavier than the year before. The comptroller accounted for some $126 million, the state's largest single revenue source.

Man has to work like a horse nowadays to keep his wife well groomed.

Rig Activity Still Drops

DALLAS — A total 2967 rotary rigs were active in oilfields of the United States and Canada for the week of Jan. 14, according to a report to American Assn. of Oilwell Drilling Contractors by Hughes Tool Co. This total compares with 2973 reported a week ago, 3165 a month ago, and with 2248 in the comparable week of 1951. A comparison by principal areas for the past two weeks shows:

Pacific Coast,	175, down 4;
Oklahoma,	357, up 24;
Kansas,	167, up 2;
Rocky Mountain,	158, down 15;
Canada,	167, up 7;
Ark-La-Tex,	186, down 6;
West Texas & New Mexico,	732, up 3;
Gulf Coast,	651, up 13;
Illinois,	61, down 16;
North Texas,	313, down 14.

TEXAS PETROLEUM TAXES MOUNT—Taxes on oil and gas production in Texas climbed sharply to an all-time high of $126 million during the 1951 fiscal year, according to statistics gathered by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. This was 35-7 percent increase over 1950 and was seven times the amount collected in 1941.

Slight Increase In Steel Allocations

WASHINGTON (AP)—The petroleum industry will get a little more steel in the second quarter of the year but not nearly as much as the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) requested.

For the April-May-June period the Defense Production administration (DPA) has allotted the domestic industry 4,709,500 tons. This is 100 tons more than it got in the first quarter but far short of the 2,150,000 tons the PAD had asked.

For the same quarter the industry has been allocated 7,775,000 pounds of copper and 1,240,000 pounds of aluminum. About half of this copper will go to refining, which uses much copper tubing, which uses much copper tubing.

Here's how the 1,709,500 tons of steel will be distributed, according to PAD officials:
Natural gas production and processing plants, 61,143 tons; natural gas transmission and distribution facilities (pipelines included), 337,315; oil transmission and storage facilities (pipelines included), 423,445; oil refining, 158,472; oil marketing (includes storage tanks and structural steel for buildings), 3850; oil and gas drilling operations, 550,886; oil field machinery and equipment, 180,000; and a reserve for emergencies, 14,380. The 530,886 tons for production includes 450,000 which go into oil country tubular goods.

The allocations so far this year put the emphasis on oil pipelines over natural gas pipelines. This is the reverse of the situation in the last half of 1951.

J. L. Mills Is Named Gas Superintendent

A. L. Vaughan, superintendent of compressor stations for Northern Natural Gas Co., with headquarters in Omaha, Neb., recently announced the appointment of J. L. Mills as assistant superintendent of the Seelytown main line and Haiduk, Bobbitt, McConnell and Burnett gathering stations. T. F. Teel is superintendent of these stations.

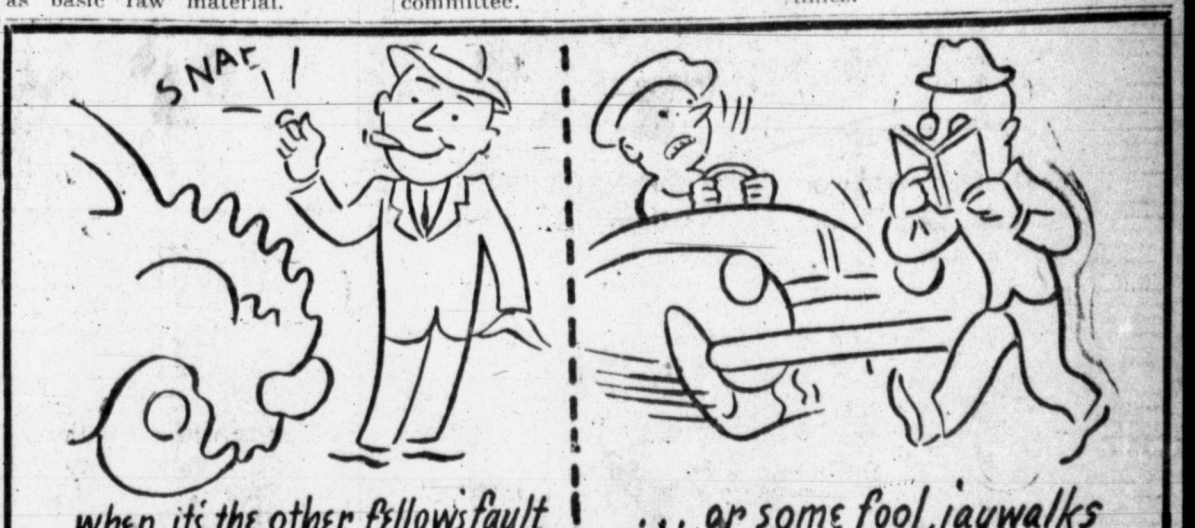

These stations, employing 45 persons, have 20 compressor units totaling 10,060 horsepower.

Shamrock Adds Geography Course

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Ten students have enrolled in a new special course in world geography at Shamrock, Texas. The course is being taught by Clarence Morris, principal of the school. Morris is also a teacher of the course.

Morris said he would use globes extensively, because he wants to impress on students that air geography is much different from the old flat geography most of them learned earlier.

It is a half-year subject. She warned him to stop acting like a fool . . . and he said he times.

When it's the other fellow's fault . . . or some fool jaywalks

London Papers Laud Speech With Reserve

LONDON—(AP)—Most London morning newspapers Friday commended Winston Churchill's address to the U. S. Congress, but Lord Beaverbrook's "Empire-first-and-forever" Daily Express said the Prime Minister should not have asked other nations to station troops in the Suez Canal Zone.

That, said The Express, might mean "intolerable" interference in Britain's conduct of operations in the Canal Zone.

"Imaginative suggestion" was the description given by the conservative Daily Telegraph to Churchill's proposal that the United States, France and Turkey conspire with Britain of the proposed Middle East pact.

The Daily Express agreed that non-British troops would lighten Britain's burden in the Canal Zone, but asked:

Card of Thanks

MRS. SALLIE M. WILLINGHAM We wish to express our sincere appreciation to our many friends and neighbors to all those who in any way assisted us during the illness and time of sorrow in the loss of our mother, Mrs. Sallie Willingham, who passed away Jan. 18, 1952.

To Dr. Lange and the nurses at Highland General Hospital for their many kindnesses. To all those who prepared and served the good meals, for the beautiful floral offerings, the many words of condolence.

We wish to thank Rev. Hal Upchurch for the comforting sermon, and Rev. Winford Walker and those who furnished music. For the kindness and beautiful last rites of Duane-Carmichael and those who served as pall bearers; for all of these kindnesses, we are thankful.

Mr. Lee Willingham Mr. & Mrs. Roy Willingham Mr. & Mrs. Basil Willingham Mr. & Mrs. Bob Greer Mr. & Mrs. Sam Batteas

IN MEMORY OF MY CHILDHOOD FRIEND From this world my dear childhood friend has flown. She has gone on to her bliss eternal. To know and listen to her kind words and sweet voice.

Would make the hearts of friends And loved ones rejoice. Words of faith, encouragement, hope and love. From her lips would fall as from Heaven above. When on knees in prayer, she knelt. At his hour and lonely, it breaks our poor heart.

When from our dear loved ones we must part. Sweet peace and comfort within will rest. If we humbly submit, and say, 'Twas God's will. Though she has gone from this world of pain and strife. Sweet memories remain, of her true Christian life.

She is not dead, though we see her Here no more. God called her, to be with Him, on The Golden shore. And in that bright home she lives, For ever more.

Composed on Sun. m., Jan. 13th, 1952 by Alice McDonald, Gray, Okla. A tribute to my dear deceased child, Christian life, Mrs. Sallie Willingham, Pampa, Texas.

An Open Letter To Car Owners of This Area!

We believe the new Texas Automobile Safety Inspection Law to be a great step forward in safety protection!

Believe it or not, we are just as interested in safety as anyone! This is true even though we are in the automobile maintenance business, and it's all we know. Our wives, our youngsters and ourselves are in just as much danger from traffic as you and yours.

However, we also believe that this law affords an excellent opportunity for graft of the general public by some few unscrupulous checking station operators, and that is our reason for writing this article.

Please remember these things Mr. and Mrs. Public of the Panhandle:

1. This law is not to be confused with the new Safety Responsibility Law which went into effect January 1st.
2. You have till Sept. 6 in which to have your car inspected. This will give you time to wait for your favorite garage to receive their safety windshield stickers!
3. You are not obligated to have any repairs made by the checking station that is inspecting your car!
4. You, of course, can have the garage of your choice make any correction necessary, and then return—if you like—to the original checking station for your safety sticker at no additional charge to you!
5. This legislation was not meant to force the public to spend its hard-earned money on unnecessary repairs. So go to the garage in which you have confidence in their integrity and ability for council on this matter.
6. Consult your favorite mechanic, as you would your doctor or lawyer, for conscientious handling of your automobile repairs.

Very truly yours,
J. C. McWilliams

THE ONLY TIME I EVER GOT IN WITHOUT WAKING UP BLONDIE-- SHE WASN'T HOME!

Alley Oop

HOW ABOUT IT, SHERIFF. SHOULD WE GET ON WITH OUR INVITATION TO THE COUNCIL TO PASS AN ORDINANCE TO KEEP DOGS LOCKED UP...

I'M AFRAID IT'S SO LATE IN THE DAY NOW, WE'LL HAFTA LET IT GO UNTIL MORNIN'!

MEANWHILE, SHOW, DOC. IT WASN'T SUCH A JOB, PUTTIN' TH' TIME-MACHINE BACK TOGETHER AGAIN!

YEZZIR, OOP. NOW LET'S NOT GET OFF LINE TO-MORROW WHAT WE CAN DO TODAY! GO GET OIL! DINNY.

WELL, THERE HE GOES, BACK TO MOO!

YEP, AN' HE MADE IT SAFE AN' SOUND!

Bo

!!!... DID YOU HEAR ABOUT WHAT THAT CRAB MRS. GALE IS DOING?...

SHE'S CIRCULATING A PETITION TO THE COUNCIL TO PASS AN ORDINANCE TO KEEP DOGS LOCKED UP...

I HAD HEARD RUMORS ABOUT IT...

IT'S NO RUMOR... SHE'S OUT GETTING NAMES ON THE PETITION. IMAGINE WANTING TO LOCK UP A NICE DOG LIKE BO.

IT MAY NOT PASS.

THEY PASSED ONE IN SAN DIEGO. I'M GOING TO ORGANIZE ALL DOG OWNERS TO FIGHT IT.

HA-HA. IMAGINE YOU ON A LEASH... LIKE A SISSY...

DORY, I HEAR THE PHONE HAVN'T RUNG ALL DAY. THAT MUST BE A RELIEF!

I STUCK SOME PAPER AROUND TH' DING-- A-- LINGER, SO IT COULDN'T RING!

NOW WE NOT ONLY WON'T KNOW WHO BUZZED US-- WE CAN'T EVEN GUESS WHEN!

SOMEHOW, AS I GREW OLDER, I SORT OF THOUGHT LIFE WOULD BE MORE SIMPLE THAN THIS!

Mickey Finn

DID JA HEAR ABOUT ALL THE MONEY PHIL IS MAKIN' OFF THAT BOOK HE WROTE, MALONEY?

AH-- THAT'S JUST SOME MORE OF HIS BUNK! I'LL BET HE HAVN'T MADE A DIME OFF IT!

OH, YES, IT'S TRUE! I GOT IT STRAIGHT, MALONEY-- AND HIS FIRST CHECK WAS FOR $14,560.00!

NO KIDDIN'?

IT'S A FACT! THE BOOK IS A BEST SELLER AND HE'LL PROBABLY MAKE A MILLION OUT OF IT, MALONEY!

IS THAT SO?

MR. MALONEY IS DOWNSTAIRS, PHILIP-- HE WANTS TO SPEAK TO YOU ABOUT SOMETHIN'!

New Locations Take Spotlight In Panhandle Field; Two Tests Staked

Hassie Hunt Stakes Two In Armstrong

New locations held the spotlight in the Panhandle field last week as area operators staked 20 new wells. Two of the new locations were wildcats staked in Armstrong county. One is the Hassie Hunt No. 3 J. A. Cattle Co., a 9000-foot venture and the other is the 8000-foot Hassie Hunt No. 7 M. H. W. Ritchie.

Operators completed but one oil well for 30 barrels and finished six gas wells for a total increased potential of 20,495 MCF gas. Three wells were plugged, all wildcats by H. L. Hunt. Hunt plugged the No. 4 and No. 6 Ritchie in Armstrong and the No. 5 Ritchie in Donley.

API Launches Drive For Memberships

Directors of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute launched the organization's 1952 membership drive Friday night.

The directors, meeting at the Country club, distributed tickets for membership and the annual API dance to be held at the Southern club Feb. 9.

The local chapter, largest in and liveliest, influenced by the entire mid-continent district, is seeking to increase its membership over the 700 figure set in 1951.

In connection with the opening of the drive, members gave a farewell dinner for Max Harbison, division superintendent for Kewanee Oil Co. here. Harbison is being transferred to the Tulsa office of the company. He was presented a pen by oilmen attending the session Friday.

According to Clayton Husted, chairman of the organization, the Panhandle needs a strong group of persons interested in the petroleum industry to fight increasing governmental participation and intervention in industry affairs.

Husted said that such a body, made up of all classes of business and interests in the Panhandle, could better cope with governmental encroachment. The API membership is composed of persons whose economy

Thousands Of Dollars Pouring Into Gulf Coast Lease Play

HOUSTON — Hundreds of thousands of dollars are pouring into lease plays in a crescent-shaped area extending from Seguin in Guadalupe county to the Sabine river separating Texas from Louisiana, a Houston Chronicle check shows.

Major oil companies like Humble, Shell, Atlantic and a number of smaller oil firms are gobbling acreage at $2 and $3 an acre — what oilmen call "protection acreage" buying.

The giant-sealed lease play particularly is getting a heavy play in Angelina, San Augustine and Sabine counties, oil fields old the Chronicle.

Humble Oil and Refining Co. is especially interested in those three counties with one spokesman telling the Chronicle it was a little too "premature" to connect Humble with the lease play.

Indicative of the fast lease play is the buying of large amounts of the so-called cheap acreage without waiting for geophysical surveys to be made, one oilman said.

Many major firms are reported to have made heavy allocations for buying some of the acreage that lies in the Georgetown limestone trend.

Stanolind Oil and Gas Co. is the big firm reported to have started the rush for leases in Angelina, San Augustine and Sabine counties. Stanolind is reported to have over 10,000 acres under lease, with seismograph

HARBISON HONORED—Max Harbison, former chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute was honored Friday night by API directors in connection with the launching of the API's annual membership drive. Fred Neslage, chairman of the advisory committee, left, presents a gift to Harbison who is being transferred to Tulsa. The API is trying to increase its membership beyond the 700 figure set last year. In the center seated is Clayton Husted, API chairman. (News Photo)

Oilmen Provided $2.5 Billion To State's Revenue In 1951

About $2.5 billion — a sizable factor in the Texas economic picture — came out of some 132,000 holes in the ground as the state's oil producers chalked up a record-breaking year of production, the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. estimated Saturday.

Based on official production figures from the Texas Railroad commission, association statisticians calculated that 1951 crude oil production at 978,010,000 barrels was up some 20 percent over 1950.

As they produced more oil, Texas oilmen also looked harder for additional oil reserves. They drilled 17,671 wells during the year — a 21 percent increase over 1950's search — but they had all included all classes of wells, both wildcats and wells in supposedly known producing areas.

Almost one out of every four wells drilled in 1951 was a wildcat well — 4081, according to Railroad commission tabulation. Nearly a third more wildcat wells were put down during 1951 than in the previous year and 84 percent of them were dry. This indicated that the failures hit the wildcat areas about 5 percent heavier than in 1950 when 79 percent were dry.

There were several indicators of the far-reaching effects of the increased production of oil and the increased search for oil. For one thing, royalties to the landowners and other royalty owners totaled some $378 million spread far and wide for the production was pretty evenly spread across the state.

The oil men had brought in some 10,828 producing oil wells and 923 gas wells. Refineries hit new records with some 667 million barrels of crude oil run to stills. This meant expansion and additional employment for both construction and refinery operations workers.

Approximately 195,000 Texans were employed throughout the industry at the end of the year. Of these, 107,800 were engaged in drilling and production work, while 46,100 were in refining. Refinery employment gained 2,200; drilling and production gained 10,300. With production workers getting average weekly wages of $87.16 and refinery workers $82.16, oil industry workers were at the top of the list of wage groups in Texas.

Production taxes paid to the state by the oil and gas producers during fiscal 1951 which ended Aug. 31, were 36 percent heavier than the year before. The comptroller accounted for some $126 million, the state's largest single revenue source.

Some success has come from artificially fracturing the rocks to hasten the flow of oil, but still, out of a reserve estimated between five and ten billion barrels, known methods may account for only two billion barrels. This will be one of 1952's greatest challenges.

The spread of pipe lines for taking crude oil to refineries and to move natural gas from the abundant fields to markets continued in 1951. The state has some 50,000 miles of crude oil trunk lines and products lines and some 4,000 miles of gas pipe lines.

Most of Texas refinery capacity is on the Gulf Coast where 23 percent of the nation's refining capacity is located. Naturally much of the $415 million expansion program for 1951 and 1952 is marked for that area.

He is a past chairman of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute and is industry which uses oil and gas now a member of the advisory committee.

Harbison will leave here about Feb. 1, to assume duties in Tulsa. He is to be succeeded by Kenneth Brannon, Pampa district superintendent for Kewanee.

Harbison is a graduate of Texas A&M college receiving his degree in 1940. Following his graduation, Harbison was employed by Gulf Oil Corp. for some 50,000 miles of crude oil trunk lines and products lines and some 4,000 miles of gas pipe lines.

Slight Increase In Steel Allocations

WASHINGTON — The petroleum industry will get a little more steel in the second quarter of the year but not nearly as much as the Petroleum Administration for Defense (PAD) requested.

For the April-May-June period the Defense Production Administration (DPA) has allotted the domestic industry 1,709,590 tons. This is 100 tons more than it got in the first quarter but far short of the 2,150,000 tons the PAD had asked.

For the same quarter the industry has been allocated 7,775,000 pounds of copper and 1,240,000 pounds of aluminum. About half of this copper will go to refining, which uses much copper tubing.

Here's how the 1,709,590 tons of steel will be distributed, according to PAD officials: Natural gas production and processing plants, 61,148 tons; natural gas transmission and distribution facilities (pipelines included), 337,315; oil transmission and storage facilities (pipelines included), 423,445; oil refining, 158,472; oil marketing (includes storage tanks and structural steel for buildings), 3850; oil and gas drilling operations, 530,886; oil field machinery and equipment, 180,000 and a reserve for emergencies, 14,380. The 530,886 tons of production includes 450,000 which go into oil country tubular goods.

The allocations so far this year put the emphasis on oil pipelines over natural gas pipelines. This is the reverse of the situation in the last half of 1951.

J. L. Mills Is Named Gas Superintendent

A. L. Vaughan, superintendent of compressor stations for Northern Natural Gas Co., with headquarters in Omaha, Neb., recently announced the appointment of J. L. Mills as assistant superintendent of the Sclaytown main line and Haiduk, Bobbit, McConnell and Burnett gathering stations. T. F. Teel is superintendent of these stations.

These stations, employing 45 persons, have 20 compressor units totaling 10,060 horsepower.

Shamrock Adds Geography Course

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Ten students have enrolled in a new special course in world geography this second semester, reports E. M. Burkhalter, high school principal.

Clarence Morris, assistant coach and industrial arts instructor, is teaching the course. Morris said he would use globes extensively, because he wants to impress on students that air geography is much different from the old flat geography most of them learned earlier.

It is a half-year subject. She warned him to stop acting like a fool... and he said he times.

London Papers Laud Speech With Reserve

LONDON — (AP) — Most London morning newspapers Friday commended Winston Churchill's address to the U. S. Congress, but Lord Beaverbrook's "empire-first-and-forever" Daily Express said the Prime Minister should have asked other nations to station troops in the Suez Canal Zone.

That, said the Express, might mean "intolerable" interference in Britain's conduct of operations in the Canal Zone.

"Imaginative suggestion" was the description given by the conservative Daily Telegraph to Churchill's proposal that the United States, France and Turkey — co-sponsors with Britain of the proposed Middle East pact — send at least token forces to support British troops defying Egypt's order that they leave the Canal zone.

AGREEMENT NECESSARY — "Here, as throughout the Middle East, agreement between America and Britain is vitally necessary if the whole area is not to slide through chaos into Communism," the paper declared. The Daily Express agreed that non-British troops would lighten Britain's burden in the Canal Zone, but asked:

An Open Letter To Car Owners of This Area!

We believe the new Texas Automobile Safety Inspection Law to be a great step forward in safety protection!

Believe it or not, we are just as interested in safety as anyone! This is true even though we are in the automobile maintenance business, and it's all we know. Our wives, our youngsters and ourselves are in just as much danger from traffic as you and yours.

However, we also believe that this law affords an excellent opportunity for graft of the general public by some few unscrupulous checking station operators, and that is our reason for writing this article.

Please remember these things Mr. and Mrs. Public of the Panhandle:

1. This law is not to be confused with the new Safety Responsibility Law which went into effect January 1st.

2. You have till Sept. 6 in which to have your car inspected. This will give you time to wait for your favorite garage to receive their safety windshield stickers!

3. You are not obligated to have any repairs made by the checking station that is inspecting your car!

4. You, of course, can have the garage of your choice make any correction necessary, and then return—if you like—to the original checking station for your safety sticker at no additional charge to you!

5. This legislation was not meant to force the public to spend its hard-earned money on unnecessary repairs. So go to the garage in which you have confidence in their integrity and ability for council on this matter.

6. Consult your favorite mechanic, as you would your doctor or lawyer, for conscientious handling of your automobile repairs.

Very truly yours,
J. C. McWilliams

Speaker Tells How Lodge Has Aided Schools

The present Texas public school system can be largely attributed to the influence of Masonry according to George Moffett, Chillicothe, grand junior warden of the Texas Grand lodge.

Moffett spoke here last night in the Masonic lodge hall on "Masonry's Contribution to the Establishment of Texas Public School System," when Pampa Lodge 666 was host at the 98th district meeting.

Major C. A. Huff, Pampa gave the welcoming address and Gene Mayfield, grand master of Shamrock Lodge No. 928, the response.

"It is an axiom of political science that unless a people is educated and enlightened, it is unable to expect a continuation of civil liberty or the capacity of self government," Moffett told his audience.

In the speaker's opinion the common school system is "wisely adapted to secure that equality which acknowledges no superiority but that of intellectual attainment and moral worth."

Moffett, former state senator and representative, said: "There are those who would cripple, tarnish or perhaps destroy our public school system. We must be ever alert that our Texas public school system shall continue to be free from any religious, communistic, or other influence which does not belong in the field of education."

Entertainment by the "Squeaky Door Four" local quartet, preceded the main address.

Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa schools, in a short address, thanked the Masonic order

LOOKING OVER NEW SCOUT HANDBOOK—Mrs. Virginia McDonald, Girl Scout council assistant looks over a brand new handbook published for B rownies with Mary Lou Miller, Brownie, who celebrated her eighth birthday today. This is the first copy of the handbook in Pampa but others are to be available to area Brownies in the near future. Mary Lou is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. G. H. Miller, she is a member of Bdownie Troop 45 led by Mrs. Burton Raynolds and Mrs. Robert Vail. (News Photo)

Improvement Is Seen In Irish School System, Moore Reports

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Shamrock had only 28 teachers in 1948, and 11 of them had sub-standard qualifications, in contrast to the 40 teachers with degrees today, reports Supt. Elmer J. Moore in his annual report to the school board last week.

Moore said 10 of the 40 have master's degrees, while only the superintendent was so qualified in 1945, when he came to Shamrock.

Moore points out that many improvements have been made in the physical plant.

"South Ward was re-opened in 1950 and it was necessary to re-roof, paint the interior and re-finish the floors, have a great deal of plumbing and lights improved."

Moore pointed out that a balcony had been added to the gym to provide seating capacity for 200; the Ag building re-roofed and repainted, a band hall, two gymnasiums, and a new Pampa Air base, saving $240 rent per year. Other improvements totaling $9000 have been made.

"The most important addition is the lunch room, with walkways to and from North Ward. This has enabled us to have one of the better lunch rooms in Texas. The school district only spent $1290, the P. T. A. has invested over $7000 in equipment and the entire outlay is valued at $20,000. Approximately 400 children are served daily," the superintendent said.

Moore pointed to the favorable report given by the School Evaluation committee which spent March 27-29 last year in a careful survey of the Irish system.

One of the comments made by the committee: "We commend the school for the variety of courses which provide for differences of ability as well as difference in interest, and, in most cases, the excellent relationship between teachers and pupils that is evident."

The school also received praise for "splendid work in band and chorus, excellent dramatics, and a strong association, an efficient Future Farmers organization, for its splendid annual, Future Homemakers' achievements," and numerous other features.

Assemblies Stated By Irish Students

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Ten more school class assemblies will be given in February, with the seniors slated to perform Feb. 4.

Mrs. Dorothy Taylor, sophomore sponsor, promised a surprise for the Feb. 4 program, stating they would try to beat the programs presented by the seniors and juniors in December.

The freshmen will give their version in chapel here Feb. 22. Mrs. Wm. C. Coburn, sponsor, said they had not yet decided what they will enter in the competition.

Seniors put on a talent show, rated very good, while juniors had a quiz program about books, in which freshmen starred at the quiz table.

Winner of the four-class derby will be awarded a special class prize, school officials promised.

Mossie Lot Sold (Special) — Ownership of the building location just east of the Charles Minor home has been transferred from Mrs. R. C. Nece to Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Carter of Laketon. They will move their farm home on the lots in the near future.

Revival At Twitty

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Rev. Tom L. Burns, pastor of the Lela Baptist church, is conducting a week end revival at Twitty, having started Friday night.

Burns held Saturday evening services and will conclude with services at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday.

Shamrock Students Studying Child Care

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Third year Vocational Homemaking girls are studying child care and guidance and as field project are working with the nursery school and kindergarten children of Mrs. Mary Bledsoe, kindergarten instructor at South Ward.

Miss Helen Borth, homemaking teacher, said they are also baby-sitting on P.T.A. days, caring for children of mothers attending the P.T.A. sessions.

First year homemakers are studying foods. Visiting stores to check prices with nutrition values is one of their key projects, in addition to home projects.

Second year girls are working with clothing construction; they, too, will visit stores to compare ready-made garment prices with prices of the dresses they make. Workmanship will also be checked.

The westward movement of wool spinners began in 1825, with the opening of the Erie Canal.

American life expectancy at age 65 now is 13.53 years.
