GOPsters Trying to Make Up

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio were said by friends to be taking definite steps to offset the impression they are splitting apart in the leadership of Senate Republicans.

Associates said Vandenberg took steps to have Taft included in President Truman's invitation to Congressional leaders for a conference Monday on the international situation. Taft was not invited to the initial meeting last week.

Vandenberg was represented as having told administration officials that if they want bipartisan cooperation on foreign affairs, they must recognize that Taft, as chairman of the party policy committee, has influence in this as well as the domestic field.

Taft on his part has invited Vandenberg to sit in with the policy committee when it discusses domestic as well as foreign problems. He was present at one yesterday. When Vandenberg became presiding officer of the Senate, he relinquished his post as chairman of the party conference and ex-officio member of the policy committee.

Vandenberg and Taft face an open split Monday when the Senate Atomic Energy Committee votes on the nomination of David E. Lighthill, whom his associates as members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Vandenberg, a committee member, is regarded as certain to support confirmation of Lighthill, who has announced his opposition.

Odessa Strike of Phone Employees May Affect State

ODessa—(AP)—Possibility that the walkout of Odessa telephone workers may become area-wide loomed today as the union's deadline on company acceptance or rejection of an offer to arbitrate drew near.

Telephone Workers Union said 5 p. m. yesterday had been set as the deadline for a company reply to an offer to arbitrate the dispute which drew out of the workers' demands that an evening chief operator be demoted.

The deadline later was postponed to 5 p. m. today. A meeting was called for 9 a. m. Monday in the Ector County Court Room to ask Midland area telephone workers to join the walkout if no settlement is reached or arbitration offered by the company. Company officials said no arbitration was likely.

W. D. Berry, plant chairman of the Big Spring local, said a company refusal to arbitrate probably would cause the Odessa locals to ask for continuous meetings of all workers in the Midland area.

The area includes Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Monahans, Fort Stockton, McCamey and a dozen smaller cities in West Texas.

Berry said that should the continuous meeting begin, work might be stopped all over Texas within a week.

The local walkout began Friday morning when employees announced "we do not feel that we can work any longer under present management personnel."

The local was joined in a sympathy walkout by Western Electric associated communications and equipment workers and by workers in the Odessa Telephone Company Plant Department.

A company spokesman said yesterday that reviews of the union's complaint by "four different levels of management" did not reveal information to justify demotion of the employee.

The employee in question has been called for 13 years. She is not a member of the union.

Meanwhile, only emergency calls were being put through the Odessa switchboards, manned by chief operators, company managers and union operators who refused to join the walkout.

Four-Power Pact Against Germany Is Marshall's Aim

Bevin Works for Peace to Prevent New Aggression

MOSCOW—(AP)—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, first of the visiting foreign ministers to arrive in Moscow for the Four-Power Conference on Germany and Austria, pledged yesterday that "we shall spend the days ahead of us in trying to make some peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security."

Bevin was greeted by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky who smilingly welcomed him with the hope he had had plenty of sleep en route because "after March 10 I observe in the snowy Russian capital who remembered the arrival of many other distinguished foreign visitors were surprised, however, at the absence of Foreign Minister V. Molotov, a guard of honor, a band which usually plays the national anthems and at the lack of display of Russian and British flags."

Bevin spoke his few words of greeting "from the British people to the people of Russia" and expressed the determination to work for peace and security and against any future aggression.

He went to the British embassy across the Moscow River from the Kremlin, accompanied by Sir Maurice Peterson, the British ambassador. Lady Peterson, his aides and a mountain of baggage and diplomatic files.

The first formal appearance of the President's daughter as a coloratura soprano was postponed at White House doctor orders for one week. Her debut was re-scheduled for Sunday, March 16.

Postponement of her appearance as soloist with Detroit Symphony Orchestra tomorrow on the "Sunday evening hour" was announced here by Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, M. C., White House physician.

Gen. Graham, who flew here from Washington Friday, said "due to an upper respiratory infection from which Miss Truman has been suffering the past few days I have decided that her formal debut must be postponed one week. Miss Truman has been suffering from severe laryngitis. I have strongly advised against using her voice at this time."

STRIKING ACQUAINTANCE—SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—(AP)—City buses are strikebound in the Illinois capital and the mayor has asked motorists to give lifts to pedestrians.

So George B. Casey picked up a dejected fellow plodding through deep snow.

"Glad to do it," explained Casey as they arrived in the downtown district. "Feel sorry for people who have to walk."

"Better let me out," said his passenger. "I'm a striking bus driver."

It was reported that most persons having taken the flu vaccine preventive have not been attacked by it and have ridden through the epidemic unharmed.

Both doctors said they believed the school absenteeism due to the illness, was about the same as previously reported. This was reiterated Friday afternoon by some of the school officials and principals contacted in the survey.

BERLIN—(AP)—Secretary of State George Marshall indicated yesterday that a prime American objective in Moscow will be adoption of a four-power 40-year pact against Germany in order to give an iron-clad guarantee to the world that the United States intends to maintain her responsibilities in Europe.

He emphasized at a news conference that such a treaty would provide a political framework within which the United States, Britain, France and Russia might develop the final peace pact with Germany.

He stressed strongly the need for such a pact, which James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, proposed originally for a 25-year period. Marshall recalled that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov suggested later that the period be extended to 40 years.

Saying that considerable doubt remained in Europe about the durability of American foreign policy and willingness to maintain responsibilities in Europe, Marshall declared adoption of a 40-year pact would prove to the world that the United States intended to continue her present role as an active participant in European affairs.

He attached importance to such a treaty in guaranteeing that Germany would not be permitted to engage in immediate joint action against Germany in case she need ever arise.

The American secretary planned to leave this morning for Moscow where the four-power Foreign Ministers' Conference will take up on Monday the peace treaties for Austria and Germany.

He did not permit any direct quotations at the news conference, nor did he touch on any other concrete points regarding his mission.

He expressed no opinion on the probable success of the Moscow meeting. Afterwards he went into conference with leading American military and political officials in Germany.

Night of Terror Reigns Over City

JERUSALEM—(AP)—A British soldier and four Jewish extremists were killed and at least 20 other persons were wounded yesterday as violence flared on a wide front inside the tightly-cordoned military law zone of Tel Aviv.

The terrorists attacked British military headquarters in Citrus House and the Saroni military camp in the all-Jewish coastal city and staged a simultaneous assault on the police station at Jaffa, a few miles to the south.

Tel Aviv, under the heavy thumb of military rule since the bloody Irgun Zvai Leumi attacks last weekend, experienced a night of terror as homemade bombs and road mines exploded and attackers exchanged machine gun and mortar fire with British guardsmen.

Wild shots cut power lines and plunged part of Tel Aviv in darkness until exploding bombs ignited a gasoline station and other small buildings, sending up flames visible for miles around. The Tel Aviv battle lasted an hour and 15 minutes.

The night's four major attacks—on Citrus House, the Saroni Camp, the Jaffa Police Headquarters and another diversionary Jaffa assault at an undisclosed point in the city—were preceded by other terrorist raids earlier in the evening and in the afternoon in Jerusalem, Haifa and the boundary line between Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Two policemen were wounded by an explosion at an army camp in Haifa and three civilians were wounded by gunfire when a group of Jews attempted to storm a barbed-wire barricade on the perimeter of the Aviv martial law zone.

The night attacks climaxed the bloodiest day of violence since the British clamped sections of the Holy Land under tight martial law a week ago. Earlier yesterday at least eight persons were wounded in three outbreaks in Northern Palestine. No fatalities were reported.

During the first phase of the Saroni attack, a British constable and an Arab policeman were wounded by exploding grenades. Guards at Citrus House engaged in gun battles with the terrorists in the streets. Nine Jews were reported.

The course of taxation was still not so well set. The taxation-to-meet-spending bloc led by Rep. Woodworth of El Paso County won a clear victory in the House Appropriations Committee yesterday.

The measure was written so as to raise $30,000,000 to help raise school teachers' pay to a minimum of $2,000 per year and to build lateral roads. It would levy one and eighty-five one-hundredths cents on each 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas taken in, in addition to other gas taxes now on the books.

Anti-taxation lobbyists were expecting the House to follow the trend thus indicated and were pinning their hopes on the measure.

GOOSE CREEK DIES AS MAYOR SIGNS—HOUSTON—(AP)—Mayor C. J. Alexander bent over a desk at the Goose Creek City Hall yesterday, signing a document which would officially end the city's existence.

Some joker tied a piece of black crepe to the door of the City Hall. It was the final meeting of the Goose Creek City Commission and the piece of paper Alexander signed was the final proclamation of that body. It officially made Goose Creek a part of the city of Baytown.

The move which has combined the communities of Baytown, Goose Creek and Pelly into what will become in the fall the city of Baytown.

At 3 p. m. the Pelly City Commission met in special session to announce changes in city government and personnel and policy.

The Goose Creek City Hall will become, effective, a branch office of the Pelly government.

It was explained that the postal system will not be affected. The postoffices will continue to operate indefinitely under the old status quo.

Some old timers were saddened over the "death" of Goose Creek. The community was incorporated Jan. 31, 1919, with 500 population. It grew gradually until industries and the war brought an influx which boosted the population to 9,928—the figure established in an official census which showed that Pelly, with 11,030, was the larger and was thereby to become the annexing city.

More than 200 kids competed for $25 in prizes and the honor that goes with winning in last year's "Kite" contest.

Decision on Greece Expected Monday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rumblings of a prospective historic debate over America's role in Southern Europe sounded yesterday as the administration gathered last-minute reports on Britain's position in preparation for a Monday showdown on its course.

Word from the White House was that President Truman probably will announce then, after a conference with 15 Congressional leaders, his procedure for dealing with the Greek situation—perhaps a message to a joint session of Congress or a radio broadcast to the nation.

Arrangements were made for the entire Senate Republican membership to hear a report on the international developments Monday night from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and GOP leader on international matters.

In advance of the Monday meeting at the White House, most Congressmen withheld comment on what ought or ought not to be done in the face of Greece's appeal for aid and impoverished Britain's prospective retrenchment. Among these was Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy Committee who arranged the party's senatorial conference.

Two Republican House members, however, issued statements assailing proposed American intervention in Greece.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio declared that "the immediate situation in Greece and similar problems in the Middle East and elsewhere are definitely in the realm of United Nations responsibility and not that of the United States or any other one country alone."

Rep. Hoffman of Michigan asserted that American action in Greece would lead to "the demand that we must again send millions of men abroad to fight on foreign soil."

On the other side, Lewis W. Douglas, taking oath as Ambassador to Britain, said that "the position and welfare of Britain and the British Empire are at stake."

LaGuardia, former mayor of New York, told the Senate committee that New York legislation is needed but he advised against "hasty" action. He proposed a 16-man "study commission," including Congressmen, labor leaders and industrialists.

The commission's first task would be to use its influence to create a parent labor organization. And LaGuardia wants this body to have disciplinary power to prevent jurisdictional strikes.

'Life With Father' Showing Cancelled—A scheduled staging by a New York company of the hit play, "Life With Father," here April 5, has been cancelled. Jack Nimmo, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced yesterday.

The Jaycees were to sponsor the production, with proceeds to go to the organization's Community Center fund.

No explanation for the cancellation was given by the theatrical company in a telegram which merely stated that the scheduled nationwide tour had been cancelled.

GOPsters Trying to Make Up

WASHINGTON—Senators Vandenberg of Michigan and Taft of Ohio were said by friends to be taking definite steps to offset the impression they are splitting apart in the leadership of Senate Republicans.

Associates said Vandenberg took steps to have Taft included in President Truman's invitation to Congressional leaders for a conference Monday on the international situation. Taft was not invited to the initial meeting last week.

Vandenberg was represented as having told administration officials that if they want bipartisan cooperation on Foreign Affairs, they must recognize that Taft, as chairman of the party policy committee, has influence in this as well as the domestic field.

Taft on his part has invited Vandenberg to sit in with the policy committee when it discusses domestic as well as foreign problems. He was present at one yesterday when Vandenberg became presiding officer of the Senate.

Vandenberg and Taft face an open split Monday when the Senate Atomic Committee votes on the nomination of David E. Lilienthal and his associates as members of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Vandenberg, a committee member, is regarded as certain to support confirmation. Taft already has announced his opposition.

Odessa Strike of Phone Employees May Affect State

ODessa—Possibility that the walkout of Odessa telephone workers may become area-wide loomed today as the union's deadline on company acceptance of rejection of an offer to arbitrate drew near.

The local of the Southwestern Telephone Workers Union said 5 p. m. yesterday had been set as the deadline for a company reply to an offer to arbitrate the dispute which grew out of the workers' demands that an evening chief operator be demoted.

The deadline later was postponed to 5 p. m. today. A meeting was called for 8 a. m. Monday in the Ector County Court Room to ask Midland area telephone workers to join the walkout if no settlement is reached or arbitration offered by the company.

Company officials said no arbitration was likely. W. D. Berry, plant chairman of the Big Spring local, said a company refusal to arbitrate probably would cause the Odessa local to ask for continuous meetings of all workers in the Midland area.

The area includes Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Monahans, Fort Stockton, McCamey and a dozen smaller cities in West Texas.

Berry said that should the continuous meeting begin, work might be stopped all over Texas within a week.

The local walkout began Friday morning when employees announced "we do not feel that we can work any longer under present management personnel."

The local was joined in a sympathy walkout by Western Electric associated communications and equipment workers and by workers in the Odessa Telephone Company Plant Department.

A company spokesman said yesterday that reviews of the union's complaint by "four different levels of management" did not reveal information to justify demotion of the employe.

The employe in question has been with the company 13 years. She is not a member of the union.

Meanwhile, only emergency calls were being put through the Odessa switchboards, manned by chief operators, company managers and union operators who refused to join the walkout.

Officials Say Influenza Epidemic Here at Peak

Odessa Schools Close To Influenza Epidemic

ODessa—An influenza epidemic yesterday brought an order closing Odessa schools and a plea that Odessa residents refrain from attending theatres and night clubs and avoid all public gatherings as far as possible.

Dr. H. E. Hestand, County Health Officer, ordered the schools closed following a meeting of the County Board of Health. Hestand said influenza caused 1,883 students to miss classes Friday.

Odessa physicians reported 327 cases.

At least 500 persons in the city units are all with the influenza. Dr. Malcolm Brown, city health officer, estimated Friday afternoon and added that both Pampa and Worley hospitals are filled with the more persistent cases of the disease, now at about the peak of epidemic.

Both doctors expressed their belief that it will not be necessary to close down any one group of schools completely to fight the flu. Brown said there may be many cases of flu that have not been given medical treatment and thus not reported.

It was learned that most persons having taken the flu vaccine previously had not been attacked by it and have ridden through the epidemic unharmed.

Both doctors said they believed the school absenteeism, due to the influenza, was about the same as previously reported. This was reiterated Friday afternoon by some of the school officials and principals contacted in the survey.

Few cases of pneumonia have come out of the epidemic to date.

Four-Power Pact Against Germany Is Marshall's Aim

Bevin Works for Peace to Prevent New Aggression

MOSCOW—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, first of the visiting foreign ministers to arrive in Moscow for the Four-Power Conference on Germany and Austria, pledged yesterday that "we shall spend the days ahead of us in trying to make some peace which will prevent any future aggression and let the whole world live in security."

Bevin was greeted by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky who smilingly welcomed him with the hope he had had plenty of sleep en route because of March 10 is not so sure about it.

Observers in the snowy Soviet capital who remembered the arrival of many other distinguished foreign visitors were surprised, however, at the absence of Foreign Minister V. Molotov, a guard of honor, a band which usually plays the national anthems and the lack of display of Russian and British flags.

Bevin spoke his few words of greeting "from the British people to the people of Russia" and expressed the determination to work for peace and security and against any future aggression.

He went to the British embassy across the Moscow River from the Kremlin, accompanied by Sir Maurice Peterson, the British ambassador. Lady Peterson, his aides and a mountain of baggage and diplomatic files.

President's Daughter Cancels Broadcast

DETROIT—A "seven" cold forced Margaret Truman to forego with "great disappointment" yesterday her scheduled radio debut as a professional singer Sunday night, but she'll try again.

The first formal appearance of the President's daughter as a coloratura soprano was postponed at White House doctor orders for one week. Her debut was re-scheduled for Sunday, March 16.

Postponement of her appearance as a soloist with Detroit Symphony Orchestra tomorrow on the "Sunday evening hour" was announced here by Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, M. C., White House physician.

Gen. Graham, who flew here from Washington Friday, said "the illness was a professional singer Sunday night, but she'll try again."

Oklahoma Strike Of Bus Drivers Brings Confusion

Frank Morris, manager of the Union Bus Station, said last night that although the strike of Oklahoma Transportation Company Drivers would have no direct effect on schedules of Trolley buses here, it would affect connections in towns served by the OTC.

He said passengers leaving here for points affected by the strike would be given full information pertaining to their specific routing.

OKLAHOMA CITY—A strike of drivers for the Oklahoma Transportation Company was 100 percent effective last night, causing confusion among weekend travelers in Oklahoma, Texas and Arkansas.

The drivers walked out Friday night after negotiations over wages were suspended and the company's 70 buses stood idle yesterday.

Both union and company officials announced that no attempts were being made to negotiate.

No pickets have been posted. Ray Jewell, manager of the bus station in Oklahoma City, said that the strike had caused considerable confusion among travelers.

Buses were being re-scheduled and re-routed to help reach towns isolated by suspension of OTC service.

Only a very few towns are isolated now," Jewell said. "We're connecting with local bus lines to help relieve the situation."

The drivers are requesting 5.65 cents a mile. The present pay is 4.50 cents and the company has offered a 4.75 cents.

Foreign Chief Proclaims This Main Business

BERLIN—Secretary of State George Marshall indicated yesterday that a prime American objective in Moscow will be adoption of a four-power 40-year pact against Germany in order to give an iron-clad guarantee to the world that the United States intends to maintain her responsibilities in Europe.

He emphasized at a news conference that such a treaty would provide a political framework within which the United States, Britain, France and Russia might develop the final peace pact with Germany.

It would clear away many of the difficulties now blocking Allied peace settlements for Germany and Austria, he said.

He stressed as one of the need for such a pact, which James F. Byrnes, former Secretary of State, proposed originally for a 25-year period. Marshall recalled that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov suggested later that the period be extended to 40 years.

Saying that considerable doubt remained in Europe about the ability of American foreign policy and willingness to maintain responsibilities in Europe, Marshall declared adoption of a 40-year pact would be of great importance to such a treaty in guaranteeing that Germany would not rearm and insuring immediate joint action against Germany in case the need ever arose.

The American secretary planned to leave this morning for Moscow where the four-power Foreign Ministers Conference will take up Monday the peace treaties for Austria and Germany.

He did not permit any direct quotations at the news conference, but he said he would take up concrete points regarding his mission. He expressed no opinion on the probable success of the Moscow conference, which will take up the treaty with leading American military and political officials in Germany.

Kid Competition Being Whetted for Big Kite-Flying Contest Thursday, March 27

The spirit of competition is being whetted at the Sam Houston School for the annual kite-flying contests which will be held on the afternoon of Thursday, March 27, it was announced yesterday by Aaron Meek, principal.

The kite-flying contest has taken hold here in the last few years and it has come to be custom at the Sam Houston grade school.

More than 200 kids competed for $25 in prizes and the honor that goes with winning in last year's "battles."

Night of Terror Reigns Over City

JERUSALEM—A British soldier and four Jewish extremists were killed and at least 20 other persons were wounded yesterday as violence flared on a wide front inside the tightly-cordoned military law zone of Tel Aviv.

The terrorists attacked British military headquarters in Citrus House and the Saronia military camp in the all-Jewish coastal city and staged a simultaneous assault on the police station at Jaffa, a few miles to the south.

Tel Aviv, under the heavy thumb of military rule since the bloody Irgun Zvai Leumi attacks last weekend, experienced a night of terror as homemade bombs and road mines exploded and attackers exchanged machine gun and mortar fire with British guardsmen.

Wild shots cut power lines and plunged part of Tel Aviv in darkness until exploding bombs ignited a gasoline station and other small buildings, sending up flames visible for miles around. The Tel Aviv battle lasted an hour and 15 minutes.

The night's four major attacks on Citrus House, the Saronia camp, the Jaffa Police Headquarters and another diversionary Jaffa assault at an undisclosed point in the city were preceded by other terrorist raids earlier in the evening and in the afternoon in Jerusalem, Haifa and the boundary line between Tel Aviv and Haifa.

Two policemen were wounded by an explosion at an army camp in Haifa and three civilians were wounded by gunfire when a group of Jews attempted to storm a barbed-wire barricade on the perimeter of the Aviv martial law zone.

The night attacks climaxed the bloodiest day of violence since the British clamped sections of the Holy Land under tight martial law a week ago. Earlier yesterday at least eight persons were wounded in three outbreaks in Northern Palestine. No fatalities were reported however.

During the first phase of the Saronia attack, a British constable and an Arab policeman were wounded by exploding grenades. Guards at Citrus House engaged in gun battles with the terrorists in the streets. Nine Jews were reported PALESTINE, Page 4

Labor Committee Concludes Probe, LaGuardia Heard

WASHINGTON—The Senate Labor Committee ended its public hearings on labor measures yesterday with testimony from Fiorello H. LaGuardia that federal power to seize struck plants should be renewed.

LaGuardia also proposed that Congress try to get all big labor organizations to merge in one "American congress of labor" having authority to control strikes.

The Senate committee, after six weeks of hearings, will spend the next two or three weeks writing a bill to be sent to the floor. The House Labor Committee is to end its hearings next week.

The House committee yesterday was urged to investigate the two-year-old jurisdictional strike in the Hollywood movie studios by Oscar Schachte, a studio construction superintendent who declared that "I am in danger of my life for testifying."

It also was asked by Rep. Hinchshaw (R-Calif.) and representatives of six engineers' societies to relieve professional men from any compulsion to join a union. Hinchshaw has introduced a bill for this purpose.

LaGuardia, former mayor of New York, told the Senate committee that new labor legislation is needed but he advised against "hasty" action. He proposed a 16-man "study commission," including Congressmen, labor leaders and industrialists.

The commission's first task would be to use its influence to create a parent labor organization. And LaGuardia wants this body to have disciplinary power to prevent jurisdictional strikes.

Decision on Greece Expected Monday

WASHINGTON—Rumblings of a prospective historic debate over America's role in Southern Europe sounded yesterday as the administration gathered last-minute reports on Britain's position in preparation for a Monday showdown on its course.

Word from the White House was that President Truman probably will announce, then, after a conference with 15 Congressional leaders, his procedure for dealing with the Greek situation—perhaps a message to a joint session of Congress or a radio broadcast to the nation.

Arrangements were made for the entire Senate Republican membership to hear a report on the international developments Monday night from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee and GOP leader on international matters.

In advance of the Monday meeting at the White House, most Congressmen withheld comment on what ought or ought not to be done in the face of Greece's appeal for aid and impoverished Britain's prospective retrenchment. Among those who arranged the party's senatorial conference.

Two Republican House members, however, issued statements assailing proposed American intervention in Greece.

Rep. Clarence J. Brown of Ohio declared that "the immediate situation in Greece and similar problems in the Middle East and elsewhere are definitely in the realm of United Nations responsibility and not that of the United States or any other one country alone."

Rep. Hoffman of Michigan asserted that American action in Greece would lead to "the demand that we must again send millions of men abroad to fight on foreign soil."

On the other side, Lewis W. Douglass, taking oath as Ambassador to Britain, said that "the position and welfare of Britain and the British Empire are at stake."

Filipinos Will Vote on 'Help'

MANILA—The Philippines Republic, seeking capital to rehabilitate this war-impoised nation, will submit to decision of the voters the question of whether to establish special economic ties with the United States until 1974 or struggle on alone.

The electorate is expected to approve a constitutional amendment giving U. S. citizens equal rights with Filipinos in exploiting natural resources and operating public utilities.

President Manuel A. Roxas, concluding a speaking tour for the party amendment, said he "could not conceive of an alternative to overwhelming approval of this proposition."

Opponents stressed nationalistic pride, which runs high. Dr. Jose P. Laurel, puppet president during Japanese occupation and who still exerts a powerful political influence, contends that parity means bondage for Filipinos.

Best available estimates are that the balloting will be peaceful but lighter than in last April's presidential election, when 2,269,000 voted.

Year's Extension Of Sugar, Price Controls Urged

WASHINGTON—Another year of rationing and price ceilings on sugar was recommended by the Senate Banking Committee yesterday on a 10 to 3 vote. The committee proposed that the Department of Agriculture take over the sugar supply.

Four Republicans and six Democrats on the Senate Banking Committee voted to extend sugar controls until March 31, 1948. Three Republicans voted no.

Committee witnesses have predicted that retail sugar prices might jump to 30 or 40 cents a pound if controls were allowed to expire. Retail prices now range from 8 to 9 cents.

Acting Chairman Flanders (R-Vt.) told reporters that Secretary of Agriculture Anderson had told the committee that supplies will be large enough to assure that housewives can buy the full 35 pounds per ration book this year—10 more pounds per person than last year—if controls were extended.

Flanders also noted that under the extension bill the secretary of agriculture must remove the controls if he finds that domestic and world supplies of sugar will permit this at anytime during the next 12 months.

"We are working against a deadline on this," Flanders said because wartime rationing authority will expire at the end of this month unless extended.

Republican Congressional leaders have the sugar control bill near the top of their legislative work list. The committee action yesterday brought another split in Republican ranks and came after a closed-door session which senators presided described as "very argumentative at times."

The three Republican votes against the bill were cast by Senators of Ohio, Buck of Delaware and McCarthy of Wisconsin.

Noting for the extension were Senators Flanders (R-Vt.), Capehart (R-Ind.), Cain (R-Wash.), Wagner (D-N.Y.), Maybank (D-SC), Sparsman (D-Ala.), Fulbright (D-Miss.), Taylor (D-Ia.), and Robertson (D-Va.).

GOPsters Clash On Labor Traffic

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Republican senators clashed publicly Saturday over whether spending up to $12,600,000 to import farm labor from Mexico, Jamaica and other countries would constitute an agricultural subsidy.

The division of opinion developed before the Senate Agriculture Committee, considering a House-approved bill to continue the labor importing program begun during the war to help farmers in labor-short areas.

"This is a subsidy," Senator Kern (R-Mo.) told the committee, "with the war over now for two years, I think it's about time we got back to a system of free enterprise with industry and consumers paying the costs."

Kern's remarks drew sharp protests from two fellow Republicans, Senators Young of North Dakota and Aiken of Vermont.

Providence, Added to Knowledge of Gulf, Is All That Saved Him

MOBILE, Ala.—(AP)—A 49-year-old Coast Guardsman told a harrowing story Saturday of being blown about in storm-tossed Gulf waters for five days, existing without water and eating only raw fish which a land fate washed into his small boat.

Edgar H. Osburn, of Orange Grove, Miss., credited his rescue to "divine providence" and a long-time knowledge of the Gulf.

Osburn, lifehouse keeper at Sand Island, was delirious when a Coast Guard cutter picked him up Friday five miles south of Sand Island in the Gulf. He had been missing since last Saturday night when he left his Coast Guard station at Fort Morgan in his 21-foot boat with provisions for the Sea Island light.

"A sudden storm blew up, and a mountainous wave capsized my boat," he told newsmen. "I righted my boat but all the provisions were lost overboard, and my motor was drowned out."

"From then on I had to go with the tide. Those waves were coming in so high it looked like they would wash the boat away."

"I was capsized two more times, but somehow or other I got it right side up again and kept going. The

Formal Filing of Palestine Issue With U. N. Near

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—The controversial Palestine problem was expected yesterday to be filed formally with the United Nations by Great Britain as a result of an American request for clarification.

Exact time of filing and the wording of the document awaited instructions from London and from Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin in Moscow, British sources here said.

Because of transmission difficulties and the weekend lull in government business, it was indicated that the explosive Holy Land problem would not reach the U. N. officially for several days.

Originally, Great Britain planned to submit the problem to the General Assembly without suggestions, thus leaving it up to the U. N. to make recommendations. Under the system the London government would advance its own ideas at the same time as those put forward by other nations.

The United States delegation brought the issue to a head Friday night by informing Great Britain she would have to bring up the case formally before Washington could take the stand on any U. N. procedure for handling it. The American position was in answer to Lie's previous discussions with the U. N. powers, following private sessions with the British, as to whether they favored creation of a commission of inquiry to study the problem pending formal consideration by the assembly in the fall.

An American spokesman said his government was not rejecting the commission idea but wanted "a specific statement on the problem" from the British before making a decision.

Russia and France were reported still awaiting instructions.

Service Clogged By Sun Spots

By The Associated Press

All radiotelephone circuits to Europe were reported out of order yesterday evening because of magnetic disturbances caused by sun spots.

The Bell Telephone Company said service would be resumed as soon as radio conditions permitted.

Press Wireless, Inc., Mackay Radio and the Radiomarine Corporation all reported erratic communications through the day.

At Harvard University laboratory at Bloemfontein, Union of South Africa, reported Friday that sun spots covering 500,000,000 square miles of the sun's surface would reach their peak today. Franklin Institute at Philadelphia reported that the spots were visible to the naked eye if observed through dark glass or a piece of exposed photographic film.

 ported officially to have been wounded and hospitalized, but it was not determined whether they were members of the attacking band or residents of the area.
 The outbreaks followed the interception by British of a ship attempting to land 600 Jews on Palestine soil in defiance of British immigration restrictions.
 An official announcement said the ship, named the Abiri, was boarded at noon off the Port of Haifa. Reliable Jewish sources said approximately 600 would-be immigrants were aboard.
 Another immigrant ship was unofficially reported to be in Palestine waters, but this could not be confirmed.
 Details were lacking on the attack on the army headquarters in Tel Aviv, which is in the martial law area proclaimed by the British last Sunday.
 Three hand grenades were tossed into the Saronia Police Station on the edge of the city, wounding one British constable and one temporary Arab constable.
 Two grenades were hurled from a passing taxi at a barbed wire barrier around the British security zone in Jerusalem, causing serious injuries to three British soldiers.
 The shooting in the Jaffa-Tel Aviv area started when a group of Jews tried to rush a military corson. The wounded were said to have been struck by warning shots which hit a balcony on which they were standing.
 A band of masked men threw huge banners across power lines in the main street of Tel Aviv proclaiming defiance of the British by ning their hopes on the Senate.

 Sen. Jim Taylor of Kerens offered the Senate a formula proposal for increasing the per capita school apportionment. It was in sharp contrast to the flat $35 per capita bill passed by the House, and was considered to have the blessing of Gov. Jester. Its opponents said it amounted to a $5,000,000 additional increase annually in the equalization bill. Jester recommended an original increase of $10,000,000 annually for equalization aid.
 Taylor contended his measure would put the money where it was needed the most; members following the recommendations of organized teachers said they would fight it to the last ditch. They want the $55 per capita.
 Neither was the pattern on spending otherwise too well defined, though the trend toward liberality held firm. The big money bills are still in the committee process, with much pressure for increased appropriations for state departments.
 The House took a second look at a bill to legalize parimutuel betting at horse race tracks, putting horse racing under strict state control.
 A related campaign sparked by church forces sent the bill back to the House State Affairs Committee for another public hearing. It will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m., and opponents who failed to show up for the first hearing will be on hand in great force.

 Commonwealth of nations is no less significant to the vital national interests of the United States during these critical times than they were during the war. He conferred with the President and announced plans to sail next Saturday.
 Following Mr. Truman's cancellation of the Caribbean trip on which he was to have left yesterday, Secretary of the Navy Forrestal announced during the day that he has abandoned plans to attend the fleet maneuvers in the Caribbean Sea. He was to have left Monday. No reason was given for the cancellation but it was believed that Forrestal is remaining here for discussions on the Greek situation.
 Reliable diplomatic informants said there remains a "chance" that Britain will retain some responsibility in Greece despite a decision to withdraw about half of the remaining 10,000 to 15,000 Tommies immediately and the remainder by the end of the summer. These informants said this will depend upon the extent and nature of American aid.
 Mr. Truman was reported to be considering scaling down his projected request to Congress for direct authority to supply American aid to Greece.
 Although Mr. Truman was given an initial official estimate that $250,000,000 would be needed this year to put the Greeks back on their feet economically, government officials who have been working on the specific bill of particulars said only a fraction of the total might require action by Congress.
 To make up the difference, the use of surplus property and Export-Import Bank credits has been thoroughly explored since Britain served notice of inability to continue supporting the Greek regime.
 A large share of a proposed $350,000,000 relief appropriation for liberated countries is earmarked to supply food, clothing and other emergency aid to Greece.

New Demands to Be Made of GMC

DETROIT (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers announced Saturday that it will ask a guaranteed 40-hour week and a 23-cent hourly wage increase for an estimated 225,000 employees of General Motors Corp.
 The weekly wage proposal of the union contemplates that when an employee is called in to work in any one week he shall be guaranteed 40 hours pay for that week, a union statement said.
 The present contract between GM and the UAW-CIO permits either party to request negotiations on "economic issues" as early as March 19. Issues not related to wages are not negotiable for another year.
 The union did not indicate when its new demands will be presented to the corporation.
 The proposals were formulated at a two-day conference of UAW-CIO leaders from General Motors plants throughout the nation here this week.
 Delegates also approved demands for an employer-financed Social Security plan, an Old Age Retirement program and a Wage Equalization Fund, all part of the international union's wage program.
 The UAW-CIO also will ask a revised vacation pay schedule, providing for 24 hours pay annually for employees with six months to one year seniority to 144 hours pay for those with over eight years' seniority.

 Vandenberg joined with Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Senate Finance Committee in proposing a compromise which they said would make it unnecessary for the Republican-controlled Congress to tear the act apart as some Congressmen propose. President Truman accepted part of the compromise.
 Taft disliked the compromise and said so. But he told a reporter he believes it is impractical for Congress to attempt to change the act until next year, when it expires unless the lawmakers renew it.
 Thus Taft and Vandenberg arrive at the same point by different routes.

National Department Will Not Intervene

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) Max W. Bell, director of the Interior Department's new oil and gas division, told members of the executive committee of the Interstate Oil Compact commission his division would have nothing to do with regulation of the petroleum industry.
 "We have no more right or desire to control the states than we have to control the industry," he said. "We are to serve as the liaison agency with the appropriate state bodies."
 "We plan to avail ourselves of their knowledge and judgment, to keep closely in touch with them, to join them in the study of special problems, and to cooperate with them fully."
 Attending the meeting with Bell was Alec M. Crowell, head of the production system of the division directed by Bell. They are on a tour of major oil and gas producing states.
 Bell, Crowell and most members of the Executive Committee attended a meeting last night at Wichita Falls, Texas, of the North Texas Oil and Gas Association.

Local Man to Stop At European Ports

A. L. Patrick, local businessman who left around March 1 for a trip to South Africa with a load of rehabilitation livestock, will touch various ports in Southern Europe, according to a letter received from him by his wife.

First, he is to stop at Gibraltar (The Rock), and then his boat will stop at Naples, thence to Trieste, and then two or three ports in Greece.

The livestock is being sent to that country under the supervision of the Church of the Brethren Relief Committee, in cooperation with various other churches throughout the country. Patrick is the only Texan selected to make the trip. One man from Oklahoma was to make the trip. They are traveling aboard the freighter Rocks Springs, a new ship, his letter said.

Post at Shamrock Postpones Building Of New Legion Hut

SHAMROCK—(Special)—The executive committee composed of the regular officers of the DeShazo Legion met recently with chairmen of the building and finance committees and other Legion members to work out details on the proposed building plan for the new Legion Hut.

After viewing plans and discussing the high cost of building material and labor, the group voted to postpone the construction of a new hut. The decision of the members present at the called meeting was unanimous toward waiting such times as would give the post and the contributors to the building the most for the money that is planned to be spent.

Plans were formulated to renovate the present hut and move new furniture into it. Plans call for Legion members to do the painting and the Ladies Auxiliary will do the interior decorating.

Constitution Vote Fails Second Time: Council To Propose New Plan

The constitution failed to pass the second time last Wednesday when the affirmative votes were a few short of the necessary 681.

In the secret ballot there were 599 votes cast in favor of the proposed constitution with 142 in opposition. Under the present system, 681 would be necessary to ratify the constitution.

The fact that 80 percent of those who voted were in favor of the constitution, and it still was not ratified brought out a flaw in the present system. With the proposed plan in effect, three-fourths of the enrolled student body would be required to pass any proposal has the opposition and the students who do not vote in their favor.

The council is expected to ratify the constitution to read through four-fifths of the votes cast will be required to pass any part of the constitution.

The proposed constitution states that all members of the association including graduating seniors will have a vote in the spring election. Of the twenty percent on the negative side, a few were opposed to this article, but most stated opposition to the point system.

Prairie Gold Started; Staff Positions Named

The Prairie Gold's sponsor, Miss Margaret Jones, and the staff met Monday morning for the general beginning of this year's magazine.

The cover was discussed and the staff decided to submit their cover ideas in the regular size Monday.

The staff was divided into sections as follows: Alvina Miller, editor and poetry; Jeanine Conyers, foreign language division; Leona McClendon, drawing of the section; Beverly Baker, one act play; Martha Lou Hogan, "gold dust"; Norma Parks, crossword puzzle; Bob Oden and Isaac Hival, greetings will be Monday morning at 8:15.

The staff would like for any student to turn in poems, short stories and essays. The staff is endeavoring to make this magazine a fitting remembrance of the work done by high school students.

Speech Class Gives All-Request Program

A request program, on which four records were played, was presented by the third period speech class on the Pampa High School on the Air Program, Friday afternoon, at 4:15.

The records played were: "Margie," requested by Beverly Baker; "The Begone," requested by Margie Taylor; "Begin the Begone," requested by Delores Davis for Ox Blanton and Margie Goddard; "For Sentimental Reasons," requested by Gerie Lake; "Miss Lulu," requested by Schelhaagen; and "Prisoner of Love" was requested by Pat Price for Calvin McAdams.

Only two persons participated on the program. They are the announcer, Frank Green, and the narrator, Gwen Weston.

FHA Holds Panel About the Teenager

The "Teen-ager and the Community" was the topic of discussion when the Future Homemakers met in the living room of the Pampa High School on Friday, March 7.

The discussion was led by Program Chairman Naneen Campbell, and Patty Rutherford, assistant chairman.

"Twenty Questions" was played during the evening with the group dividing into three sides. Refreshments of cookies were served.

Schieg Has Program For Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y

Richard Schieg, vice-president of the Hi-Y, took charge of the program at the monthly joint meeting of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Thursday night, Edith Morrow, Margie Lawrence and Bill Bain also took part on the program concerning youth's part in world order and guidance.

At private meetings the Tri-Hi-Y made plans for their food sale Saturday and the registration of their new members nationally, while the Hi-Y made plans to order club pins and discussed the District Hi-Y meeting at Lubbock, March 28-31.

SENIOR WHO'S WHO...

Senior by rank, Bill Tarpley was born in Shamrock, Texas, May 8, 1929. While in school for the past twelve years he has been enrolled in schools in Pampa only. His majors in high school have been in science and English. Bill has a hobby of aviation, is a member of the band, and is secretary of the Hi-Y. Oklahoma University will probably be his school home next year.

To give an account of the early life of Margie Taylor would get monotonous since all you can say is she was born in Pampa, lived in Pampa and went to school in— you guessed it—Pampa. To be more specific she was born May 11, 1929. Science, music and home economics have the claim to the major part of her high school interests, along with dress designing, riding and dancing. Margie has taken an active part in the Tri-Hi-Y as treasurer for this year, she has been in the Glee Club and is now a member of the A Cappella Choir.

glimpses of glamour

With chilling winds whipping over the campus (and through the halls every time an outside door was opened) sweaters and skirts, slacks and scarfs and heavy slacks came out in abundance.

Maxine Crossland had the right idea when she appeared in brown felt and shoes. A beautiful yellow satin skirt.

Also in slacks was Billy Jean Hollis. Tan slacks, they were, with a dark brown blouse.

Back from sunny Florida is Margaret Price and looking very fashionable to in a tan dress with a high neck and plain front "brightened up" with luscious red beads, red belt and shoes.

Margie Dixon looked very lovely in a tan skirt and white blouse with pearl buttons. A black belt which buckled in the front was a very appropriate accessory.

Margie Herzog achieved a very snappy effect last Wednesday when she combined black slacks with a multicolored figured top.

One whose fashion tops all the fumes is Bertie MacDowell who kept right up with the weather in a "chic" suit that was definitely "okay."

Hardin-Simmons Cowboys Appear In Novel Assembly Program

The Cowboy Band conducted by Marion B. McClure was presented by the Hardin-Simmons University at Pampa, Texas, in a special assembly program Tuesday in the Pampa High Auditorium.

The band, which is now touring the Panhandle schools, consisted of fifty-five Hardin-Simmons students. Each member was dressed in the traditional Western regalia of "ten gallon" hat, yellow shirt, with an outline of Texas stenciled on the back, and leather chaps with "Simmom" on either side. The band dressed had the outlines of Texas and "Cowboy Band" woodburned on the front.

Mr. McClure has conducted band since 1934 except for a short while when serving in the Armed Services.

Johnny Rean, the English champion Cowboy, enlivened with many tricks with a bull whip which he was dressed in levis, a plaid shirt, a black silk tapper, English riding boots and Western spurs. He also performed many tricks with lassos accompanied by the Cowboy Band.

Mr. Frank Wilson, principal, introduced the band. Mr. Ray Robbins, Pampa High band director, led the first number, "Old Panama March."

Mr. McClure directed the other numbers which were "Sequoia" by La Gassey; "Carnival of Venice"; and "Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," featuring a trumpet soloist; "Love Scene" from Opera Boris Godunov; "Three Jacks," "Begin the Beguine," "St. Louis Blues," and "The Whistling Postman."

Records Inc. "Stars and Stripes" concluded the program.

The assembly was held during the last hour of school, and was attended by Junior High and Senior High students. All afternoon classes were cut to thirty minute periods.

Following the ceremony a waffle breakfast was served to Edith Mae Morrow, Jean Pratt, June Sanders, Wilma Tubbs, Don Lane, Richard Hughes, Tommy Chisholm, June Myatt, Beverly Baker, Mrs. R. G. Hughes, and Miss Olive Carter, sponsor.

Orchestra Practices For Nineties Show

Have you ever wondered what the Nineties program was like each morning the first period? It is the orchestra. (Yes, we have one you know. Or did you?) practicing for a "gay nineties" program held at Junior High on March 26.

Some of the songs that the orchestra has been practicing for the program are: "Daisy," "Little Annie," "When You Were a Tulip," and "Two Little Girls in Blue."

The orchestra has been practicing to match this year, but they have been doing very good work, and plan to attend a convention at Amarillo next Thursday.

Members of the orchestra are: Jimmie Crouch, forward; Dick Wilson, center; Leon English and Gene Shaw, guards; Ed Nash, first period, forward; Stanley Stein, third period, forward; Troy Ray, first period, guard; and Richard Gee, third period, guard.

Students Give Answers To New Constitution

Once again the newly revised constitution failed to pass by a three-fourths majority even after the second changes.

The inquiring reporter had as his question this week, because of the interest in the constitution, this question: "Why do you think the constitution does not pass?"

Three sophomores, a junior and a senior, gave the following answers:

Don Thut, sophomore president: "Mostly the second time because of the point system. Also some people vote against it mainly because it wasn't passed the way they wanted it in the first election. What we need is a compromise that will entitle the seniors to a fair chance as well as help the school next year."

Betty Joyce Scott, sophomore: "I agree with what our soph president said. If someone could devise a compromise, everyone would be happier."

Kelly Anderson, junior: "The only thing I can think of is that the kids don't want to try something new. They are happy with the old constitution."

Bill Speer, senior president: "After the change of the ratification rule from three-fourths of the complete student body to two-thirds of the votes cast, it should go through."

The assembly was held during the last hour of school, and was attended by Junior High and Senior High students. All afternoon classes were cut to thirty minute periods.

Following the ceremony a waffle breakfast was served to Edith Mae Morrow, Jean Pratt, June Sanders, Wilma Tubbs, Don Lane, Richard Hughes, Tommy Chisholm, June Myatt, Beverly Baker, Mrs. R. G. Hughes, and Miss Olive Carter, sponsor.

Machine Does Math In Just Ten Days

How would you like to have your math homework done by a machine? Don't all jump at once! They aren't available for all the high school students.

The General Electric Corporation has invented a machine called the G-E differential analyzer. The technicians grind the necessary equations into the machine and its pens plot a curve in accordance with the continuous movement of the shafts. (Keeping up? You might want to make one of these yourself.)

This machine aided G-E scientists and engineers in securing valuable data for the safe firing of the V-2 rocket. This machine did the work in ten days which originally took three months of concentrated effort of an individual mathematician.

What they won't think of next!

Orchestra Practices For Nineties Show

Have you ever wondered what the Nineties program was like each morning the first period? It is the orchestra. (Yes, we have one you know. Or did you?) practicing for a "gay nineties" program held at Junior High on March 26.

Some of the songs that the orchestra has been practicing for the program are: "Daisy," "Little Annie," "When You Were a Tulip," and "Two Little Girls in Blue."

The orchestra has been practicing to match this year, but they have been doing very good work, and plan to attend a convention at Amarillo next Thursday.

New Speech Teacher Assumes Class Duties

Miss Ruby Cowan assumed her duties as head of the speech and dramatics department this week replacing Miss Ruth Stapleton who resigned to teach in Odessa.

Miss Cowan comes to Pampa from Corpus Christi High School where she taught classes in art, speech and drama. Mrs. Stroup had substituted a week pending the arrival of Miss Cowan.

Miss Cowan attended college at the Texas State College for Women and Texas Tech, receiving her BA at Tech. She was a member of the Alpha Phi Omega Fraternity for honor students in the subject of drama.

Tryouts for the Junior Play will be conducted under the direction of Miss Cowan as soon as the books arrive from the company.

Classes Turn Roman For Latin Banquet

Is your toga ready? Mothers are going mad trying to dress their diligent sons and daughters as the Romans did.

The purpose is to prepare them for the Roman Banquet to be given by the "Latin Soci," or to us dumb people the Latin Clubs, and their sponsor Mrs. Lula B. Owen.

The invitations are on scrolls with the torch of knowledge as a background. They are written in Latin and red ink and your reply to the invitation must be in Latin.

A booklet of Roman soldiers with their spears, form the place cards. Inside is the name of the class and its sponsor, the menu, and the program.

The clubs have been studying Roman food, service, entertainment and dress so that everything will be in true Roman style.

The banquet is to be held March 21. The party has published enough Latin to answer the invitation, drape yourself in a toga and join the elite in their banquet.

Sagebrush-- by the Sage

Greetings Gates! and all you other dear students of PHS. Well, here it rocks for good it seems. Sorry, kids!

C. L. Farmer is again all smiles and jokes since his favorite Margaret Price has come back. Margaret has been loafing (and I do mean loafing) in Florida for the past month.

An old couple that has at long last come back together is Anita Lane and Warren (Alonzo) Jones. Maybe it will last this time?

Many girls are happy this week as many of the boys from military school and college are home. They have come for a spring furlough and would be quarters. (Wish our school would do this.)

One of the newest couples on our campus is Doug Mills and Gerie Lake. Quite a cute couple.

Oh! yes! Another new couple in PHS is Mousie Grooves and Maurice Lockhart.

To get on the lighter side of life we are now going to give one of "Farmers Little Funnies" featured by "Sanders Sunshine Sandwiches and Kribbs Krunchy Krakers."

Roses are red, Violets are blue, I use Rebuoy Why don't you?

Nicki Fraser and Malcolm Ferguson's short but sweet romance has hit rocks for good it seems. Sorry, kids!

Joy, Joy, Wednesday was really a dreary day--not commenting on the weather though. The most dreaded report cards were passed out. Some people are planning on not going home, but others are beginning to take courses in forgery.

George Walters Gambin has been escorting Ida Ruth Taylor around the halls lately.

If you wonder why Mr. Gordon calls special attention to the word "extremities" in his sixth period geometry class, just ask anyone in this class.

Leona Mills was beaming all last week because her "one and only" C. L. Hale was home for a few days from college. Also very happy over the week-ends when Doyle Lane comes home is Jolmine Arwen.

A new and promising couple around PHS is Norma Kilian and Ouel Rosefeldt. Also in this category is Hilda Burden and Jimmy Campbell.

Betty McCreeken can't seem to make up her mind between LeRoy Troop and Billy Tarpley. Some of these lucky girls! Here I am wishing for just one. (Anyone).

On The Sports Beam

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

One of the sportsmen who aided materially in securing the approval by a house committee of new hunting and fishing laws the past week was Dr. Roy A. Webb, past president of the McClellan Lake Rod and Gun Club.

Dr. Webb returned from Austin late this week where he and other sportsmen testified before the committee which was probing the new laws that would place practically all hunting and fishing rule-making in the hands of the Game and Fish Commission.

The committee approved the measure by an 18-2 vote. However, the bill must also go through a similar Senate committee. The hearing is scheduled for the 26th and Dr. Webb plans to appear again.

We think it's a mighty fine thing he's doing. The doctor's reasons for doing this work may even be partly selfish. He wants to catch more fish. But who doesn't?

More power to you, Dr. Webb. Ooops! We almost forgot. We're supposed to say it sure is nice to get back to work after our little siege of flu, but we were always taught to tell the truth.

Flu is a wonderful thing. Gets you so much sympathy. And a day off. And twice as much work the next day.

The University of Texas, Division of Sports Publicity, Division of Making Sports Writers Happy, all bossed by the indefatigable Bill Sansing, will be host to members of the Texas Sports Writers Association March 28 and 29. A good time is promised and, we feel sure, will be had by all.

The TSSWA is a good outfit. We are one of its first six or seven members. In fact, we were the third guy to pay our dues when the thing was organized in Dallas in January, 1945. A charter member—that's what we are. Sounds good, anyway.

Bowling briefs. E. F. Birkett rolled a classy 252 in open bowling for the high score at the Pampa Bowl last week. High for the ladies was Beth Heiskell's 210, also in open bowling.

Billed prizes of the week go to Ethel Bryan for her bowling improvement and to O. Carver for bowling every day in the week.

Kansas Coach Will Referee at Relays

AUSTIN—(AP)—Ward Haylett, track coach at Kansas State and chairman of the National AAU Track and Field Committee, will be honorary referee of the Twentieth Annual Texas Relays March 28-29. Director Clyde Littlefield announced yesterday.

About 300,000 people are engaged full time in the U. S. fishing industry.

AUSTIN—(AP)—El Paso's scrapping Tigers, dark horses of the 1947 schoolboy cage journey, upset Thomas Jefferson's favored Mustangs, 27-22, here last night to win the State High School Championship.

Giant Marcus Freiberger of Greenville smashed all existing individual scoring records for the Texas Schoolboy Basketball Tournament last night as he pelted in 46 points against Amarillo in the battle for third place in the Class AA Division.

135 Horses Are Named for 73rd Running of Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky.—(AP)—The 73rd running of Kentucky's famed Derby here next May 3 drew 135 nominees from American racing's top three-year-old horses.

From the official nomination list announced yesterday will be chosen the select field that will parade to the post for the colorful mile-and-a-quarter "run for the roses."

Last year, 149 horses were nominated in the winter for the 72nd Derby. Seventeen competed as King Ranch's Texas-bred Assault won to post the first level of his triple crown. He went on to win Baltimore's Preakness and New York's Belmont stakes.

The 1947 Downs Classic will be the second consecutive $100,000 added derby.

Among the two-year-old campaigners of 1946 named for the 1947 Derby:

William Heiss' Cosmic Bomb, winner of $98,565 last year; Maine Chance Farm's Jet Pilot, winner of $87,630; Ridgewood Stable's Double Jay, $77,550; and Heiss' Miss Kimo, outstanding filly which earned $68,315.

Making four nominations each were Robert J. Kleberg's King Ranch, Greentree Stable, C. V. Whitney and Heiss. Kleberg's win with Assault was the first for a Texas-bred and Texas-owned horse.

Heiss, New Orleans sportsman, has established some money records at yearling sales in recent years trying to obtain a Derby winner.

Other Bradley-bred, and Mrs. Albert Sabath's Say Blue were among other outstanding fillies nominated.

Kramer, Betz Sweep Tennis Tournament

NEW YORK—(AP)—Jack Kramer and Pauline Betz assumed complete command of American Amateur Tennis yesterday when they captured the National Indoor Championship and piled them on top of the turf court singles titles they won last summer.

Kramer wrapped up the men's singles titles for the first time with a crushing straight-set triumph over young Bob Falkenberg, the National Intercollegiate champion from Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, 6-2.

Miss Betz defeated Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., 6-2, 7-5. Kramer, hero of America's successful Davis Cup conquests in 1946, was the complete master of his fellow townsman, who had reached the finals with an upset victory over second-seeded Billy Talbert.

Amorillo won the game 77-53 but Freiberger, the six-foot, 10-year-old youngster finishing out his eligibility, was the man of the evening.

Not only did his 46 points beat the previous individual record of 33 set by Junior Carrington of East Mountain (Gilmer) two nights ago but Freiberger also bettered Carrington's three game total of 66 with his 86 points.

Amarillo was also got in the record making. The 77 points made by the Golden Sandies was the largest score ever rolled up by one team. Amarillo and Greenville together set a new record for one game as they combined for 130 points.

AUSTIN—(AP)—The third time paid off with a championship yesterday for East Mountain of Gilmer as the East Texas school rolled to the state schoolboy Class A basketball championship on the unerring aim of slender Junior Carrington.

The lousie-haired Carrington banged the basket for 15 points in pacing East Mountain to a 35-22 victory in the finals over Bowie and AUSTIN—(AP)—Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio placed two men on the Class AA all-Texas school boy basketball team selected last night by sports writers covering the Annual Texas Tournament.

Ben White, Jefferson forward, and Kyle Rote, Jefferson guard, placed on the team along with Jesse Palafox, El Paso forward; Marcus Freiberger, Greenville center, and Jewell McDowell, Amarillo guard.

In so doing he set a new tournament scoring record for an individual. In three games, Carrington made 66 points which bettered by five the total J. P. Vinson amassed in 1935 while playing for Hughes Spring.

Before East Mountain found gold at the end of a third journey to the state meet, Johnson City, backed by a big part of the little Central Texas town's population, won the Class B crown by edging Marfa 16-14 in the low-scoring game of tournament history.

A most unusual contest was this. It was 4-3 in favor of Marfa at half-time with neither team making a point in the second period, but the contest was a thriller for the 4,500 fans who jammed into Gregory Gym. Jim Leonard tossed in a field goal in the last five seconds to give Johnson City its victory.

It was the second time in the state tournament for Johnson City which, like East Mountain, won third place last year.

East Mountain thus wound up the season with a record of 29 victories against two defeats. Johnson City closed out with a 24-3 mark.

Alvin took the third place in the Class A division by defeating the Golden Sandies, 32-28. Alvin lost to Champion East Texas by a single point in the semi-finals while McCamey was defeated by Bowie 43-30.

The top thriller of the tournament was a semi-final victory Thomas Jefferson scored over Amarillo in the Class AA division yesterday morning. There were just eight seconds to go when Ben White took a pass from Kyle Rote and sank a crisp shot to give Jefferson a 38-37 victory.

Frustrated Jefferson, with Ace Charlie Lutz so weak he fainted at the finish of the game when a crowd of San Antonio fans rushed out to congratulate the Mustangs, was sadly off form against the Golden Sandies, but they also were up against the hustling team in the tournament.

The Sandies, best cage team ever to come out of the Panhandle city, hawked the ball every minute, continually stole it away from the Jefferson players and rolled into the last ten seconds holding a 37-36 lead. But Boone Pickens fouled Rote and when the latter missed the free try he charged in and grabbed the ball, passing quickly to White who dropped it through as San Antonio fans tried to tear the gym down in their joy. Four times the game was tied up and five times the lead changed hands. Lutz climbed out of a sick bed just three days ago to rejoin the Jefferson team and the 1947 all-stater was far off form.

El Paso marched into the Class AA finals against Jefferson by beating out Greenville 49-31. The Tigers broke in front and never were headed. Marcus Freiberger, the 6-foot 10-inch center for Greenville, was the star of the game.

The ship had been out of Nashvile, Tenn., Feb. 22 when it took off from Nashville. The occupants were listed as J. R. Brito of Waco, Texas, pilot, and his mother, Mrs. C. C. Hollon, however, the pilot star flipped in 20 points before leaving the contest on personal fouls in the final minutes.

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—(AP)—A fresh snow of an inch and a half in the Chestnut Mountain area and a ceiling of about 800 feet yesterday prevented planes of the Army Air-Sea Rescue Service from making an aerial search for a missing twin-engine plane which is believed may have come down in the area.

L. Roger Anderson of the Civil Air Patrol, Knoxville, said the probable site of the crash has been limited to an area about 10 miles square.

Weather Prevents Search for Plane

ASHEVILLE, N. C.—(AP)—A fresh snow of an inch and a half in the Chestnut Mountain area and a ceiling of about 800 feet yesterday prevented planes of the Army Air-Sea Rescue Service from making an aerial search for a missing twin-engine plane which is believed may have come down in the area.

L. Roger Anderson of the Civil Air Patrol, Knoxville, said the probable site of the crash has been limited to an area about 10 miles square.

On Trust Wins Santa Anita by 3-4ths Length

ARCADIA—(AP)—E. O. Stice and sons On Trust, ridden by Jockey Johnny Louden, won the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby by three lengths over Harry Warner's W. L. Sickle yesterday.

C. S. Howard's Tropical Sea was trailing with Warner's Slep-Father fourth to put both parts of his entry in the purse money.

The winning time was 2:03 1/5, two full seconds behind the track record.

On Trust, rated nicely in second place for most of the mile and one-quarter route, took over the lead rounding the far turn and held off W. L. Sickle's challenge to post a convincing win.

On Trust paid $6.10, $3.50, $3.00, W. L. Sickle returned $2.90 and $2.50.

Tropical Sea, $4.40. The victory was worth $81,750 to the Stice's, plumbers of Eagle Rock, Calif. On Trust went to the post, second choice to the Warner entry, which closed at 6-5.

Pampa's Frank Keim Council to Sponsor Interesting Program

A bi-weekly series of anti-Communism radio broadcasts, presented in dramatic form, is to be enacted on Station KPDD for three weeks, under the sponsorship of the Supreme Council of the Knights of Columbus and the Frank Keim Council 2767, Pampa, it was announced yesterday.

Pampa's Grand Knight Russ A. Chisholm said the series, to be presented Tuesdays and Thursdays at 6:30 p. m., seek to show the vast difference in the American system of government and that of Russia.

"The central theme of the series of dramatic sketches," he said, "is the contrast between conditions of life under American democracy and the situation of labor, religion and personal liberty in the USSR and in Soviet-controlled lands."

The first sketch, he announced, "is a vivid re-enactment of the arrival of Lenin in Moscow during the first World War, the early days of the revolution, the birth of the dreaded Cheka and its effect upon the lives of Russia's patient millions."

The other five skits will be: con-

Week's Activities

JAYCEES—It was announced Friday that "Life With Father," Broadway version of Clarence Day's inimitable home-life story, will not be enacted here, inasmuch as the stage company has cancelled its Southwest tour. During a business session at this past week's meeting it was voted that the club would buy special Western style white hats, to be used on special occasions.

LECTURE—Rural-urban Day was observed this past week during which members had as their guests a farmer or rancher of his choice. Dave Savare, head of the experimental station at Woodward, Okla., was the principal speaker, treating the general subject of range grasses of this area. Music for the program was furnished by Leon and His Guitar.

LIONS—C. P. Buckler, local pioneer citizen, gave an interesting account of the early history of this city. One interesting observation was that there was but one bath tub in Pampa in 1905—three years after the city was laid out. Opening of the Red Cross drive for funds in the Pampa Chapter was announced.

KIWANIS—A group of high school music students, under the direction of Ray Robbins, presented a program. The group was invited for the presentation by the House and Reception Committee, headed by Harvey Waters. The committee had the program for the day. It was announced that a ladies night will be held at the City Hall on the evening of March 17.

Warning Device Is Found for Airplanes

WASHINGTON—A new light-plane stall warning indicator will make it impossible for a pilot to put his plane into a stall inadvertently, Aviation News reports.

The indicator flashes a red light and blows a horn in the cockpit when the plane approaches a stalling angle. The horn is loud enough to be heard above engine noise and will be picked up by the radio so that the pilot will hear it through his earphones.

According to the manufacturer, the Safe Flight Instrument Corp., White Plains, N. Y., the device has been encouraged by insurance companies by a decrease in the cost of crash insurance on planes so equipped. Attachment of the warning device also means insurance for crop dusters which must operate at marginal speeds near the stall point and which have not heretofore been eligible for insurance.

The staff warning device was developed by Dr. Leonard M. Greene of New York as one result of a $15,000 CAA-sponsored development program.

Funeral services for Mrs. Ryan will be held here Monday, with burial. Survivors include her father, Jim C. Green, pioneer Panhandle cattleman living near Delhart and a sister, Mrs. Albert Uehner of Cheyenne, Wyo.

Rails Still Badly Blocked in England

LONDON—(P)—Rail transportation still was badly blocked in Wales and the Midlands yesterday as new snow and night freezes continued in Britain.

At least 25 Welsh coal mines were completely out of action because the miners were snowbound in their villages, and another 34 pits were inaccessible by rail.

Nearly a full division of soldiers was engaged in clearing snow-covered railway switches in freight yards in Northern England, and the Ministry of Fuel said the movement of coal to fuel-short homes and factories "still exceedingly difficult in many places, shows signs of improvement."

A cheering bit of news to Londoners was the arrival of 200,000 gallons of milk from Western farms, lifting the threat of a milk famine.

The Air Ministry predicted that night freezes and daytime thaws would continue.

Pitzer-Denny Vows

Exchanged Saturday

PANHANDLE—(Special)—An impressive home ceremony, Miss Winifred Pitzer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Pitzer, became the bride of Leslie Denny, son of Mrs.
 Walter Denny and the late Mr.
 Denny, in their home in Caddo,
 Texas, at 10:30 Saturday morning.

Rev. A. M. Myers, of the First Christian Church of Breckenridge officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

An arrangement of pink carnations and white stock, emphasized by soft candlelight, formed the decorations.
 Preceding the ceremony, Mrs.
 Fannie Gordon, F. Worth, aunt of the bride sang "Till the End of Time" accompanied by Mrs. Robert Pitzer, Breckenridge, who also played the traditional wedding marches.
 Attending her side, as matron of honor, Mrs. Wortham Loyd, Throckmorton, was attired in a white street-length suit with black accessories.

George Denny, Wayside brother of the groom, was best man.
 Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white tailored dress with a corsage of gardenias.

Following the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pitzer, uncle and aunt of the bride, entertained the bridal party and guests with a dinner in their ranch home near Caddo.

The bride, who attended Hardin-Simmons and later received her degree from North Texas State College at Denton, has been a teacher of commercial subjects in Panhandle High School for the past three years.

The bridesroom attended Texas
 A. and M. College and served four years in the mechanized division of the Army with 21 months overseas. He is now engaged in farming and ranching near Wayside.

Children's Welfare

Supervisor Speaks at

Erudite Guest Day Tea

PANHANDLE—(Special)—“Socially handicapped children are like volcanoes, ready to erupt at any time.” Miss Jane Dixon, Children's Welfare supervisor of Potter County, told members and guests of the Erudite Club at their Guest Day meeting held in the First Baptist Church Thursday afternoon.

She also said “Texas has the lowest state aid for dependent children of any state in the Union and with such an appropriation is making second-rate citizens out of these children, who through no fault of their own, must receive help. As citizens we must be concerned about this, for it is from the socially handicapped child, that much of our so-called ‘juvenile delinquency’ comes.”

At the close of her talk she answered questions of the group and told from her own observation what might be done in this community.

The program of the afternoon was introduced by Mrs. Herbert
 Brown, who first introduced Mrs.
 Douglas Smith in a group of organ numbers, including selections from Bach as well as several more modern numbers.

At the conclusion of the afternoon's program, Mrs. M. C. Davis, club president, invited the guests into the parlor where they were served refreshments with a St. Patrick's motif from a table laid with an organ and lace table cloth over green satin and centered with a bouquet of Easter lilies, flanked with candies in crystal holders.
 The other table appointments were in silver and crystal. Mrs. Davis and Mrs. J. P. Smith presided at the coffee and tea service.

Mrs. Lewis Williams and Mrs.

SHAMROCK, (Special) — Miss Dolly Faye Parson became the bride of Daylon Johnson in a pretty home wedding Friday evening at 8 o'clock at the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson.

Nuptial vows were exchanged in a single-ring ceremony beneath an arch of plumosa fern with bouquets of pink gladioli placed at intervals.

Floor baskets of Galla lilies flanked the arch. Candles in crystal candelabra provided illumination for the service at which Rev. W. R. Lawrence officiated.

Miss Janice Lawrence and Miss Barbara Neil Williams sang "Always" by Berlin, with Miss Lawrence playing the accompaniment on the accordion. For the processional Miss Lawrence played "The Bridal Chorus" from the opera "Lohengrin" by Wagner.

Take the Laughter by Karen DeWolf

SHE told herself it was silly to be scared just because Mona was late, but she pressed her nose against the cold glass and stared out through the sycamore trees and the rain. The street car stopped at the corner. Its windows made nice squares of yellow light, and against them Sherry could see the two people who got off—a man and a woman. She felt a little flutter of expectancy and held her breath, but the woman waited for the car to pass and crossed the street. Sherry had been kneeling on the pavement. She slid down with a depondent thump and then remembered that the springs were precarious. She eased her feet to the floor and sat staring at the pleasant room. Suppose "anything" had happened to Mona! But even in her small moment of anxiety the room comforted her. She had cleaned it that morning—their whole tiny house for that matter—and it was nice the way the polished furniture gleamed, she thought, and by the firelight and shaded lamps you couldn't see that the rug was worn nor that things didn't match. She looked around with a soothing sense of pride. This was her house! Her very first home of her own to care for as she chose. Would she ever forget that day two weeks ago when she had found the little cottage among the trees with a For Rent sign on it? Not an apartment but a real entire house, with a front door and a back door and a fireplace. That there were seven other identical ones burrowing back into the hill had not mattered. Sherry had been excited and a little out of breath when she knocked on the manager's door. The woman had said, "Oh, two girls," in a tone that made Sherry feel that they shouldn't be. "Do you have much company?" Sherry had said, "Oh, no," but had not added that that was because they did not know anybody yet. "But we have a cat." The manager had said, "That's all right," very unexpectedly. "The boys at the end have three and a dog." Sherry loved the boys at the end. SHE had told Mona about it that night in their one room and kitchenette with maid service. Mona had studied a long scruet and glamorously kept fingernail and said, "Oh, a bungalow court." Sherry had said, "But it isn't like that at all! You'd hardly notice the other houses through the trees. It's just like—well, sort of like a fairy-tale village!" Then she told her about how you stepped off the street and all of a sudden you were in an ancient garden, and Mona had reminded Sherry about the ancient part when she saw the plumbing. But she had been sweet about the long ride almost to the end of the car line every night, and Sherry did not mind the walk to the grocer's. In the end they took it. Sherry had written home for some of her own things, and when they came she had spent an ex-

Illustrated by Walt Scott

Mona slipped off her wet coat. Her eyes sparkled and her cheeks were flushed. "George Brothers brought me home," she said. "I'll tell you all about it while we eat." Sherry had been moving all the furniture around and trying different effects. She had hung pictures and wired lamps and hemmed curtains, and that night, after a hasty get together dinner before the fire, Mona had reluctantly admitted that while the house was not exactly her sleek, sophisticated type, it was cozy. Sherry had called it "Hidden House" from a book she had read once, and the two had settled down to normal routine. Mona had a job in an insurance office so she left early every morning, and she did not eat any breakfast because it took thought to maintain her pantherish liteness. So Sherry slept late, rushed or dawdled through her chores as the mood moved her, read, wrote or just dreamed stories as she chose. As long as she had her tiny allowance from home it was pleasantly easy to put off the looking for a job. Sometimes she had felt a little shiftless and guilty about it, but tonight she sat and watched the fire and was glad she had waited. They had not bought any logs, yet, and she was burning pieces of boxes she had broken up outside the kitchen door. They made nice kindling for a neat pile of manuscripts. Sherry watched them burn with pleasant satisfaction. They were not worthy of her. It was funny what you had thought was good when you were very young. Besides, the trunk, the stories, had lived in could be used to better advantage when the house was so chary of closet space. And now that she had decided this morning that she was going to write—really work at it instead of just tossing off the little things that came to her—what was the use of keeping material that she wouldn't have a soul see anyway? ANOTHER street car rumbled up the street and Sherry flew to the window. What would she do if Mona wasn't on? Her panic surprised her. Mona must be on this one! But before the street car came in sight a Cadillac roadster stopped at the entrance to the court. It was glistening with rain and the twin windshield wipers were working systematically. By the light of a street lamp Sherry could see Mona get out. She thanked the man at the wheel with gracious coolness and started toward the house. Sherry ran to the door and held it open. She said, "I've been worried to death, darling! I couldn't put the chops on till you came or they'd have been done to a frazzle." Mona slipped off her wet coat. She said, "Well, put them on now, honey. I had a cocktail and I'm starved!" Her eyes sparkled and her cheeks were flushed. She went into the bedroom. "Will you rush them?" she wanted to know. "George Brothers brought me home. I'll tell you all about it while we eat." (To Be Continued)

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, March 8.—(AP)—Selling persisted in today's stock market with offerings sufficient to put many leaders down fractions to a point or so. Dealings slackened after a fairly active opening and extreme declines were reduced in most cases. Near the final hour trends again wavered on expanded volume.
A little buying here and there was attributed to the thought that Friday's sharpest release in four months may have been overdone. Professionalism still accounted for the majority of transactions. Bearishness was based partly on the clouded international picture, forecasts of a possible business recession, tax doubts and the outlook for labor rifts.
Backward were Chrysler, U. S. Steel, American Telephone, Pennsylvania Railroad, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Western Union, A. T. Montgomery Ward, International Nickel and Westinghouse.
Bonds and cotton futures slipped.

PEOPLE NOW MIGRATING FROM COUNTY TO COUNTY
NEW YORK.—Americans are still on the move, according to a Census Bureau survey in BUSINESS WEEK, but a majority of them now are migrating from county to county within the same state. This is a return to prewar pattern since most of the moving during and immediately after the war was interstate.
"Between V-J Day and October, 1946, some 10,500,000 people changed their county of residence," the magazine reports, "and of these 62.5 percent stayed in the same state. Almost 12 percent of the country's veterans moved, compared to only 6.4 percent of the male non-veterans."

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat
It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe your own. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if you reduce pounds and inches of excess fat, don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

By HAL BOYLE
HAVANA—(7)—Cuban cocktail: in the homeland of the cigar both men and women prefer American cigarettes . . . but they don't like paying 35 cents a package for them . . . even in Havana a top grade cigar costs better than a quarter . . . if your cigar goes out the Cubans say, "it has a bombero (fireman) in it . . . it put out the fire."
 Cubans brag nobody ever froze to death on their island or died of heat exhaustion . . . it has an average annual mean temperature of 71 degrees . . . the thermometer never has risen above 95 (they say) or fallen below 50 . . . Christopher Columbus discovered Cuba Oct. 27th, 1492—a press agent whose name unfortunately has been lost to history quotes the diplomatic admiral as saying it was "the most beautiful land which human eyes have ever seen" . . . Chris sent two men ashore with a fat string of beads to cover their traveling expenses—and what did they find the natives doing? . . . smoking Havana stogies—Europe's first contact with the tobacco habit . . .

 English is spoken by most educated Cubans and murdered by the others . . . the American phrase "all right" has gone over into their tongue, a language of pure Spanish filtered through many dialects . . .
 San Cristobal De La Habana—that's Havana's full name—built its most famous fortress, Morro (Promontory) Castle, after getting a bad fright from a celebrated English surtle thief . . . He was Sir Francis Drake (The Dragon) who besieged Havana briefly in 1585 on the way home after sacking Cartagena . . . but he vanquished on back to Queen Elizabeth with his loot after stitching some turtle eggs and 250 turtles from Havana for his crew . . . he dried and powdered them, thereby beating the American Army to the punch with dehydrated eggs by 450 years.

EVICTED NOTICE FOR OWL.
 PEORIA, ILL.—(7)—George A. Perry tacked up a five-day OPA eviction notice because his tenant had a bad habit — screeching at night.

But the tenant, an owl, doesn't give a hoot about the notice Perry tacked up at the entrance of his quarters in a tree trunk in Perry's front yard.

Woodpeckers drilled the hole in the tree trunk but the owl dispossessed them. Perry didn't mind until the screeching started.

He tacked up the OPA notice just for the fun but he's looking for a more effective ouster means before spring weather brings more open windows at night — and louder screeching.

Friendly Thoughts

By J. M. CLEGG

Youth is the beautiful gateway to infinite possibilities. It is a rosebud with eager little heart ready to unfold itself to the world. It is the golden age of expectancy. May we help to banish some of the disillusionment and disappointment that lie in wait.

The public is fair to those who are fair to it. The public has confidence in those who do not abuse its confidence.

White sidewall tires, as illustrated, will be supplied at extra cost as soon as available.

You've got the sun in the morning and the moon at night — just like everybody else.

You've got little roads to explore, and pleasant places to go, and nice friends to enjoy life with, just as others do.

But there's one thing you can have that not everyone else can — if you do something about it.

It's in the extra lift you find in traveling in car-styling as fresh as tomorrow's morning glories, enduring as the classic lines of a Grecian vase.

It's in roaming the quiet little roads — or the busy big ones — with plenty of eager horsepower under your bonnet, all ready to fireball you along or drift you serenely through calm and quiet moments.

It's in the feel of a car that's really big enough, Roomy enough for three-a-seat — husky and solid enough to be ever steady in its stride — stout enough to take the most rugged going.

It's in such plus-values as soft coil springs on all four wheels — bodies studiously mounted to be quiet and firm and true — a wheel light yet firm under your hand — an engine with the touch of perpetual youth in the fineness of its cylinder-wall finish.

In a word, it's in a Buick — style star and standout performer of this and many a season to come.

In a car bought not alone out of need or expediency — but plainly and frankly out of desire for something a bit better than the ordinary.

We say not everyone can have such.

That is simply because there's never enough of a most wanted thing to go round — and this is America's most wanted car.

To get it, you can't hang back. You have to get in ahead of the one who hesitates.

The moral plainly is: Order yours right now!

A BAFLED MR. BEVIN

Foreign Secretary Bevin's attempt to blame President Truman for the breakdown of Arab-Jewish negotiations toward a Palestine settlement was certainly ungracious. But perhaps it was even more pathetic.

Mr. Bevin's accusation was part of a statement which, as Rep. Charles Eaton aptly put it, was "fraught with passion and fear." The words seem clearly to be those of a baffled, discouraged man.

It is hard to believe that there was only one climactic moment, in all the months of fruitless British effort to effect a settlement, when success was at hand. That moment, Mr. Bevin would have us think, was on Oct. 4, 1946. On that date Mr. Truman asked for the admission of 100,000 more refugee Jews into Palestine—"and," says Mr. Bevin, "the whole thing was spoiled."

Mr. Bevin hints that the President's statement was influenced by domestic politics. "I cannot settle things if my problem is made the subject of local elections," was the way he put it. Coupled with his reference to "a competitive statement by Mr. Dewey," it may be assumed that he blames the whole thing on rival bids for New York's large Jewish vote last November.

Mr. Bevin may have a point there. But he is not on firm ground when he implies that Mr. Truman's appeal was an unexpected bombshell which sent the Arabs flying. For he himself says that the Prime Minister told him the President was going to issue "another statement on this 100,000." In other words, Mr. Truman's stand on the matter was already known and expressed.

Elsewhere Mr. Bevin betrays a petulance and confusion more inclined to arouse pity than anger. He wishes that the United States "had remembered that we were the mandatory power." But he seems not to have been able to exert the authority of that mandatory power in the face of Mr. Truman's appeal.

He has a particular peeve against "the Jewish Agency, largely dominated by New York." He apparently feels that Mr. Truman's statement was the result of Agency pressure. He contrasts the reasonable attitude of British-trained Jews with the stubbornness of the Jewish Agency and rather hints that the Palestine problem is none of the American Jews' business, anyway.

It is easy to read a pro-Arab bias into Mr. Bevin's statement. There is a lofty disregard of displaced European Jews whose plight brought the present trouble in Palestine to a head. But it might be fairer to read the statement against the background of present British affairs.

Mr. Bevin obviously is weary and sorely beset. So are his colleagues in government. Crises are piled about them like the snowdrifts of Britain's unusual winter. It sometimes seems that the Empire is liquidating itself, and rapidly, in spite of all their efforts.

Looked at in this light, it may be easier to understand the confusion of Mr. Bevin's proposed solutions. He sees a chance of settlement without going to the United Nations. He thinks it would be a great thing to establish a British dominion in Palestine. He thinks that the Jews and Arabs can work things out together and alone, if only the Jewish Agency doesn't interfere.

Such aimless optimism only makes it seem more reasonable that the whole problem be turned over to U.N.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD—Constance Bennett has been very co-operative on the set of "The Unassuming," which Michael Curtiz is filming as an independent movie. So much so, in fact, that someone asked Curtiz what had happened to her temperamental. Curtiz laughed and said: "I think perhaps Connie is like me. She's learned to control her temperamental a little bit better since she went into independent production. It costs too much money to blow up."

Ronald Reagan's vest buttons have been popping ever since Jane Wyman's nomination for the best acting performance of the year in "The Yearling." Day after the announcement Reagan was 10 minutes late on the set, explaining: "Don't talk to me, boys. I don't have to work any more."

He's also thinking about changing the name of his dressing-room door to "Mr. Jane Wyman."

DUPLICATE DUPS
Armand Deutsch will produce the film version of "This Side of Paradise." Meanwhile, his wife, Benny Venuta, is working in the Eagle-Lion film, "Reps." Performance: One day Deutsch visited the set. Benny was wearing the $75,000 mink coat which he gave her on their seventh wedding anniversary.

"That's a beautiful coat," sighed Joan Leslie.
"Yes," said Deutsch, "one more present like that and I'm going to retitle my film, 'This Side of Bankruptcy.'"

Joan Blondell and her sister, Gloria, are practically carbon copies.

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Big topic for speculation in Washington is low long Gen. George C. Marshall's "honeymoon" as Secretary of State will last. No one has yet had an unkind word to say about him. But as one congressman points out, "He hasn't asked us for anything as yet, and we haven't asked him for anything." In the weeks he has been in the State Department, Marshall has shown he is a far abler administrator than either Hull or Byrnes ever were. Marshall's best will come at Moscow when he goes up against the Russians in negotiations on Austrian and German peace treaties.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
BY RAY TUCKER

SECRET—Former Secretary of State James Francis Byrnes may be summoned before the House Foreign Affairs Committee to discuss the details of his conversations with Foreign Minister Bevin over President Truman's Palestine statement on the eve of the 1946 Congressional election.

He may also be questioned on F. D. R.'s letter to Senator Robert F. Wagner a few weeks before the 1946 Presidential election, a document which won over held many Jewish votes in metropolitan areas.

Members of the House and Senate committees handling international problems admit that they are working in a sort of postwar darkness. Time and again, in considering our relations with foreign countries, especially Britain and Russia, they find it "ultra secret agreements" negotiated by F. D. R., Churchill and Stalin in their hands.

PROFITS FALLACY
To the profit motive we must give credit for the high living standards we in America enjoy. We appreciate profit because of what it does for us. Everyone wants something "clear above expenses, a profit on turnover, a premium above the growing-costs of farm produce, enough remaining from wages or salary to put into insurance or savings. So individuals as well as to business this incentive means "urge to get ahead."

Yet, the profit incentive is widely misunderstood and maligned. Many folks talk about profits as though they were injurious. These folks indulge in "side-glanes" as if profits were an imposition upon the people. Profits, to some who are misled or misinformed, have assumed a negative sound. The fallacy is that in piling on production costs as much profit as the traffic will bear. This is not the way profits are calculated.

PRICE TAGS FIRST
Sales prices on the tags are the prime consideration. In a free competitive market, the price tag is not marked according to preconceived notions of what the profit ought to be. Another fallacy, that free enterprise makes goods for profit rather than for the consumer to light here. The consumer is king in a free market; the price tag is slave to the demands of a price-conscious buying public. This is one game in which the consumer takes the sweepstakes.

You and I manufacture radios where mine is priced $10 and yours at $75. If the quality is the same, I must either lower my selling price to compete or give to the customer one-third greater value than you do. The lower the price and the more quality included the better off each of us will be—saleswise. And the first one of us to achieve this goal, or real mass production, will be the first one to give the customer lower prices and better quality. Competition thus regulates the selling price regardless of any cost.

RE-NOMINATION—President Truman has confided to a few close friends on Capitol Hill that he wants and will insist on a renomination of Van Dusen of Michigan and the "Roosevelt New Deal" program, he demands defeat or vindication on his record.

He has told these amiable politicians to arrange their plans accordingly. They must make a bright record for H. S. T. in Congress between now and nominating time sixteen months hence.

RUNNING-MATE—Although he has left the door open for last-minute changes, it is understood that Senator Alben W. Barkley, minority leader of the upper chamber, is Mr. Truman's choice as a running mate. The Kentuckian has a good, solid record as a legislator and he is the Missourian's kind of man. He also will behave accordingly, for he knows of the Presidential program for 1948.

Truman-Barkley ticket, from the geographical standpoint, is not ideal, carrying men from such close-related states as Missouri and Kentucky. But the fact is that the Democrats have no powerful or important figures—governors of U. S. Senators—in any of the key eastern, middle western or far western communities. In these areas they are politically forlorn.

So, as of today, the Democrats' 1948 slate may be listed as Truman, President and Barkley for Vice President.

SAFETY—The predicted protests have already begun to roll in to the Senate Commerce Committee over Senator Owen Brewster's plan for installing new safety devices, glide or beam, at the nation's commercial airports. It appears to be a fight between hotdown, bantown promoters and human lives.

The great obstacle in the way of installation of necessary safety facilities has been the expense. It is estimated that the original cost will amount to about $50,000,000. After making a study of recent air accidents, Senator Brewster has proposed that about $45,000,000 previously allocated for construction of new airfields be shifted to the glide-and-beam account. He believes that existing fields should be made safe before the building of new landing fields.

But under the spell of imaginative wartime predictions that aerial transport would supplant the railroads and other forms of transportation, many cities have gone ahead with elaborate preparations. Some have issued bonds, some have appropriated money and others have actually undertaken construction. The Brewster program, of course, would "spoil" all their dreams.

It is expected, however, that the Maine Senator's idea will be approved by the full Committee and the Senate.

MACKENZIE'S COLUMN

BY DEWITT MCKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill declares gloomily that the feuding Moslems and Hindus of India are preparing for civil war when England withdraws her troops not later than June, 1948, in accordance with the recent promise of the Socialist government.

Churchill made this assertion in the House of Commons during debate in which he and his conservative followers attacked the program. The post-master of colorful language termed the withdrawal "operation suicide," and then produced this word picture with sweeping strokes:

"It is with deep grief that I have watched the clattering down of the British Empire with all its glories and all the service it has rendered mankind."

The big Socialist majority, however, stood behind Prime Minister A. J. A. Lee's pledge. Sir Stafford Cripps, who has played an important role in the Indian negotiations, told Commons that the only alternative to withdrawal would be to strengthen British controls and reinforce British troops. That would mean England would have to remain in India at least fifteen to twenty years, he said. And A. J. Lee gave this explanation: "The time has come when Indians must shoulder their responsibilities. We can help them, but we cannot take this burden ourselves."

The danger of civil war in India will always exist until the warring Moslems and Hindus bury the national-religious hatchet. As a matter of fact the past few months have seen thousands slain and much property damaged in communal fighting. Even as this is written, there is turmoil in the great Punjab province of Northern India.

The consensus of impartial observers is that the time has come for England to withdraw. No one can say that there won't be civil war if she does not, but it's a hundred to one there will be if she doesn't. And her withdrawal according to schedule may be the move which will immol the Indians to remain within the British Commonwealth of Nations instead of severing all ties with Britain.

Many of India's millions still are primitives and spiced by Western standards, her backwardness is vast. Still, she has been making mighty strides since the first World War.

Many historic American leas are equipped with lightning rods.

I see that researchers for a sound laboratory report that Boston is the quietest city in the country. Well, naturally in Boston the Cabbots speak only to the Loiges and how much noise can that make? Los Angeles was rated the second quietest city, but not for long. The idea of being second in anything so far as the citizens of Los Angeles that the howls they raised dropped it to tenth place.

New York was rated third quietest so I guess that no researcher was around Forty-Second and Broadway while an actor was explaining why he turned down a thousand a week from the Shuberts. Brooklyn didn't even place. They must have made the noise test after "Lippy" returned.

Huge Oil Line to Snake Over Arabian Desert

American oil experts must first conquer Arabian desert to lay the 1000-mile, 30-inch, 300,000-barrel-a-day pipeline. Planning alone is expected to take 18 months.

American experts are now en route to Saudi Arabia to plot the conquest of the Arabian desert so that one of the world's greatest oil pipelines may be run from newly discovered oil fields near the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean Sea. On map above, last segment of pipeline is indicated by dotted line, as terminus port is yet undesignated. Diagonally shaded area shows oil concessions jointly owned by the Texas Co. and Standard Oil of California. After a year and a half of planning, actual construction, using up to 6000 Arab laborers, will take another 18 months. New Gas Pool Opens in Kansas as Cities Service Well Completed Cities Service Oil Co., one of the largest holders of gas acreage in Kansas, has completed its Becker No. 1 wildcat in Pawnee County, Kan., for a new gas pool opener. The well came in for an initial open flow of 23,800,000 cubic feet of gas through perforations opposite the Arbuckle lime between 4,044 to 4,142 feet. The new pool-opener is 100 miles from the big Hugoton gas field and 50 miles west of Hutchinson, near Macksville, Kans. Located in the southwest quarter of the northwest quarter Section 32-23-15W, the wildcat gasser is near the Northern Natural Gas Co. line and approximately 12 miles from Cities Service Gas Co.'s proposed line from the Hugoton field to Kansas City, Mo.

Cities Service Oil Co. is the major holder of acreage in the immediate area of the wildcat.

TSCW Schedules Redbud Festival March 14, 15, 16

Special to The Pampa News: DENTON—The annual Texas State College for Women Redbud Festival, inspired by almost 3,000 redbud trees which bloom each spring on the campus, has been scheduled for March 14-15-16, according to Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the college.

Attracting thousands of visitors yearly the festival honors the beauty of the redbuds and the coming of the new season. Ranging from pale pink to deep fuchsia the blossoms on the trees envelop the campus in a pink haze so familiar to the North Texas countryside in mid-March. The Southwest's largest concentrated collection of redbud trees is to be found on the campus and in Denton, known as the "City of Redbuds."

Students take their cue from the trees and vie for honors of being the most charming at the festival. One hundred girls are chosen as outstanding exponents of natural sincere charm and are presented as princesses in the Queen's Court at festival time.

Because the music and dance coronation program for the Queen of the Redbuds has grown beyond local interest a two-day program will be given this year on March 14-15 to accommodate the number of visitors who participate. On the first night last year's queen, Miss Katharine Reeve from Menard, will reign over the court while identity of the 1947 queen will remain a secret until the next night.

For visitors who are unable to be in Denton for the coronation activities the campus lanes and gardens will be open especially to Sunday drivers March 16.
