Western Union Lines Dead As National Strike Hits

Spotlight Centers On Illinois Politics

The political spotlight swung sharply today on Illinois, where an April 8 primary will provide the next popularity sounding for presidential hopefuls.

Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, whose victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska primaries this week brought a new surge of hope to his followers, appeared headed for a new triumph. That opinion was expressed in a survey of Illinois newspapers and correspondents.

They agreed Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower would draw a white-hot vote. Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Riley A. Bender, a Chicago hotel man, are on the Republican hot list.

Estimates outside Chicago from 28 of 101 counties showed 64.7 percent for Taft, 18.3 Eisenhower, 11.8 Stassen, 3.2 Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 1.7 Bender. The Cook county (Chicago) estimate was Taft 70.3 percent, Eisenhower 12.3, Stassen 9.6, Bender 5, MacArthur 2.6.

Taft, backed by the Illinois GOP organization, already has the support of 50 delegates who are imposed. The 50 delegates to be chosen are not bound to abide by the election results.

No survey of Democratic prospects was made since Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee is alone on the Democratic ballot. However, a write-in campaign was under way for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois, who says he is not seeking the presidential nomination.

The Democrats and Republicans each will name 10 additional delegates at state conventions, giving each party 60 in all.

Taft and Stassen open their write-up campaigns in the state today and Gov. John Ladd of Connecticut will campaign on behalf of Eisenhower Friday and Saturday.

The final vote count still is incomplete in Nebraska but it appeared Taft would get 15 of the 18 Republican delegates and Eisenhower one. This was based on pre-election commitments.

With 1,893 of the 2,058 precincts accounted for, Taft had a 67,642 to 55,577 write-in margin over the General Stassen, whose name was on the ballot, was third with 46,112.

Six Local Employees Now Out As Workers Tie Up Service

Pampa's Western Union lines went dead today as the first full-scale strike since 1919 gripped the nation.

There was no indication here this morning when service might be restored, according to Bob Watson, local Western Union representative.

Watson said he was informed shortly after 8 a. m. today by E. O. Wilcox, union district representative in Plainview, that the strike call had been honored and that his lines would be dead for an indefinite time. There will be about 40 to 50 stations in the Panhandle affected by the almost 100 percent walkout.

"I might as well go fishing," Watson said. "There's absolutely nothing I can do." He said the local office is serviced by Dallas and this has been discontinued until the strike is settled.

There is no way messages can be sent or received here until the Dallas bureau reopens operations, Watson said.

The strike affects six local union members.

In the meantime, a threatened strike of Bell telephone workers in three states was postponed until midnight Monday. Bell even had those go out, local officials said here this morning. There is little chance it would affect the Pampa exchange.

Involved in the telephone dispute are Bell workers in Michigan, Ohio and northern California.

Local workers here said it is not likely the Pampa exchange would shut down since Southwestern Bell is not involved. The only possibility would be that the workers in the Southwest might go out in sympathy with the three.

There are 9 persons in the local exchange. However, this includes supervisory personnel, and office workers. Figures on actual union membership here were not available this morning.

Long-distance calls might be affected, local spokesmen said, but only if they went into the areas serviced by the three out-going companies.

The Western Union walkout came promptly on time at one minutes after midnight. Except for San Antonio, Texas, where the union postponed its walkout for 24 hours, there was no report that any of Western Union's 3,000 larger offices failed to heed the strike call of Joseph Laing, union president. The union is the AFL-CIO Commercial Telegrapher's Union (CTU).

Observers felt the strike in San Antonio might be linked to the fact the area has heavy Army and Air Force installations.

Of the company's 42,000 employees, about 21,000 are directly involved in the walkout. The others are supervisory workers and non-union employees of New York City employees. The latter belong to another union.

Frings said telephone service was "cut to a dribble" by the strike. In some cities, supervisors attempted to keep offices open and telegrams moving. They concentrated their efforts in 15 key relay points, technically long-distance telegrams are received from nearby points and then relayed straight through. Mrs. Clayton Dunham, 618 Donette, is the relay center nearest destination.

The company said in a statement (See STRIKE, Page 2.)

McGrath Fires Newbold Morris

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Attorney General J. Howard McGrath today fired Newbold Morris as the administration's corruption sleuth.

The attorney general made public a curt letter to the New York Republican notifying him of the immediate termination of his services.

McGrath personally handed copies of the letter to reporters at the Justice department, but declined to answer any questions as to whether President Truman had formally approved the action.

The firing followed a series of appointments to make again the McGrath-Truman talks yesterday, not pick Morris.

McGrath's firing followed a heated argument at National headquarters where he learned of it from a news ticker in protocol-conscious Washington. It is considered the epitome of brusqueness to release such a letter before the addressee gets out in the row over a financial it.

McGrath himself on Feb. 1 appointed the farsighted Morris, a former president of the New York City Council, to ferret out corruption in the government.

Last Monday, however, McGrath told a House investigating committee he did not know whether he would fill out his own questionnaire and had not ordered any one else in his department to do so.

He also said that if he had the appointment to make again the McGrath-Truman talks yesterday, he would not pick Morris.

When McGrath called reporters to announce the dismissal, he was surrounded by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, Assistant Attorney General James M. McInerney, and Joseph C. Duggan, McGrath's assistant in the field of executive orders. McInerney heads the department's criminal division.

Convention Plans Made By Local GOP

Republican precinct chairmen will soon be called into executive sessions to draw a white-hot vote, Taft, Harold E. Stassen and Riley A. Bender, a Chicago hotel man, are on the Republican hot list.

Gray county Republican Chairman Don Conley said yesterday afternoon he was in the process of appointing the chairmen for each of the 18 precincts and would call the meeting as soon as his list is complete.

"That is why I haven't set the time and place of the precinct conventions. I want to talk it over with the precinct chairmen first," he said.

The local Republican chairman said he has appointed several chairmen who have accepted precinct chairmanships. However, he declined to release any names until the roster is complete.

Conley said the May 3 precinct conventions probably would be held in the same places used by the Democrats whose precinct conventions fall on the same date.

Here being discussed this afternoon probably 2 or 3 p.m. Most of the places selected by Gray county Democratic chairman Aaron Sturgeon are in regular polling places. But at least three of the places are either homes or business offices of Democratic precinct chairmen.

Kretzmeier In Race For Commissioner

S. W. "Stan" KRETZMEIER is seeking commissioner.

The field of Feb. 2 county commissioner candidates grew to five in Gray county this morning, when S. W. "Stan" Kretzmeier stepped into the race.

The 45-year-old farmer and rancher, who lives 3 1/2 miles northwest of Pampa, filed as a candidate with the Gray county Democratic committee before publicly announcing his intentions.

Born in Kansas, Kretzmeier moved to the Panhandle with his parents when he was a boy in his teens. He settled in the Gray in 1914. He has four children.

Graduating from Pampa High school in 1926, he took over management of the farm and ranch when his father retired in 1927.

For 10 years Kretzmeier worked in various farm machinery shops in Pampa, and later worked up to shop foreman in several of them before he returned to full time farming on the family homestead.

Kretzmeier said he expects to be active in the remainder of his life. He has four children.

Others in the race are incumbent J. W. "Bill" Graham, seeking his third term; E. C. Schiefer, Fred Paronto, and W. E. "Bill" Jarvis.

In the meantime two other precinct officials filed with the Democratic committee for a place on the primary ballot. They are Justice of Peace C. S. Rice, seeking re-election and Constable Luke Henley, also seeking re-election. Both are from McLean.

Justice W. E. Green also of McLean.

Tidelands Issue Passed By Senate

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate yesterday approved the controversial tidelands bill giving the states, instead of the federal government, clear title to oil-rich lands in their coastal areas.

The House has passed a somewhat similar bill, but the measure is still far from becoming law.

First differences between the Senate and House bills must be ironed out. Lawmakers do not believe this will be difficult.

The Senate bill would give the states title to the marginal belt, but provides also that the states should receive 37 1/2 percent of all revenues from oil and gas developments in the continental shelf out beyond the state seaward boundaries.

The Supreme Court has ruled that the federal government has paramount rights to submerged coastal areas. However, if Congress passes a law saying the states own such areas, the court ruling would not apply.

Industrial Tours Continue At Packing Co., Gun Plant

Industrial tours in the Pampa area this week sponsored by the local chamber of commerce clearly demonstrate the variety of existing industry.

Tours to grain elevators, petroleum plants, and defense plants were sponsored as part of Texas Industrial week.

Today's tour is through the Panhandle Packing Co. plant at E. Frederic where the "from hog to ham" process can be seen. Friday's open house, from 1 to 3 p.m., is at the Cabot gun tube plant, makers of war and defense materials for the Army.

The packing company kills about 120 cattle and 250 hogs a week. The animals are purchased from area farmers and ranchers.

"We usually supply the farmers with a market," said Plant Manager Paul Crouch.

Freezing temperatures, near-freezing temperatures, "normal" heat, and boiling degrees are registered in the various storage, processing, and cooking rooms.

After the animals are brought into the plant, they are killed, skinned, and cut up.

No part of the animal is wasted, Crouch indicates. The skin of cattle is salted and sold to a tanner for leather. The head, feet, and other parts are sold for stock feed.

But the best parts are cut up for the familiar cuts sold at the neighborhood grocery store. In the plant's beef holding room, there is room for 80 trimmed cuts. The meat is stored at a constant 34 degree temperature.

After hogs are butchered, ham and bacon are cured. It takes three weeks to cure bacon and nine days to cure ham. After the curing, they are smoked and ready for market.

One of the more interesting processes is the making of sausages and Wieners. The meat is ground, stuffed and cooked.

The plant employs 31 persons.

Mrs. Culberson Tells Importance Of School Voting

Mrs. Frank Culberson today told members of the Pampa Citizens Club that school board elections such as are being held in Pampa Saturday, should be of vital interest to all voters.

Mrs. Culberson, president of the Pampa League of Women Voters, was principal speaker this morning.

She told members that there are about 8000 qualified voters in Pampa, but that in previous school board elections, only a few hundred have turned out. She said that these officials are responsible for the school system and that their actions have an effect on every child attending schools.

She urged them also to know for whom and for what they are voting. She pointed out the dangers of blind voting.

The club passed a resolution submitted by Mrs. Fred Neslage to go on record endorsing the activities of the local voters' league. Twenty-seven members were present.

New Airport Location Is Considered

Basic plans for moving Pampa Municipal airport from its present location on E. Browning to the old northwest Army auxiliary landing field here being discussed this morning by the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce with city and county officials.

The group made a trip to the northwest site in an attempt to envision where necessary buildings could be placed and what essential facilities will be needed to get this airport off the ground.

The present airport, on E. Browning, will have to move by June 30, less than three months from now, because owners of the land have said they will not renew the lease.

The county commissioners last year made provisions in the 1952 budget for repairing and seal coating of one runway and installing of landing lights plus building a new farm-to-market road to the airport.

However, nothing definite was done by the committee today other than holding preliminary talks, a city official attending the session said.

Plan Traffic Survey Here

An on-the-spot survey of Pampa traffic problems will be made April 18 and 19 by Lynn Andrews, traffic engineer of Lubbock, it was reported this morning by the newly created Pampa Traffic Safety commission.

A program of the engineer's time here was drawn up by members of the traffic engineering committee headed by Smiley Henderson. Retiring Chief of Police John Wilkinson was "drafted" as a member of the committee.

Andrews will give a map of the city, statistics showing number and location of cars, trucks, and the results of the traffic count now being taken by the city. He will also be taken on a tour of the city by committee men.

Saturday, April 19, Andrews will talk to members of the safety commission.

Court Backs 'Loyal Demo' Party Pledge

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme court today ruled that presidential elector candidates can be required to pledge loyalty to their national party.

The vote was 5 to 2.

The decision was given on an appeal by the state Democratic committee of Alabama "loyalists" from a ruling by the Alabama Supreme court.

The Alabama court said a Democratic candidate for presidential elector could not be barred from the state's May 6 primary ballot because he refused to promise to cast his electoral vote for the presidential and vice-presidential nominees of the Democratic national convention.

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas "Loyal Democrats" were jubilant today over the United States Supreme court decision ruling that presidential electors can be required to pledge loyalty to their national party.

"It strengthens our position immeasurably," said Fagan Dickson, executive secretary of the organization.

Gov. Allan Shivers was en route to Chicago by plane.

The Alabama litigation developed weeks before President Truman's announcement last Saturday night that he would not be a candidate for re-election.

Today's Supreme court decision was announced in an unsigned order which said a full explanatory opinion would be handed down later.

Rain-Making Firm Gets New Contract

GUYMON—(AP)—A Denver rain-making firm, the Water Resources Development Corp. got the nod from officials of Oklahoma Texas-Kansas Weather Improvement Assn. to conduct this year's cloud seeding.

This is the second straight year the Denver outfit will seed clouds in 10 counties of the three-state area.

The project will cost $80,000. Last year, rain-makers produced enough moisture to give farmers in the area their best maize and grass crops in years.

American History's Pilgrims Changed For Hollywood Film

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — A lot of our schoolbook notions about the Pilgrim Fathers are going to be punctured by a new film from Hollywood.

The picture is called "The Plymouth Adventure" and it's being personally produced by DeLoe Schary, headman at MGM. Among the facts he related to me:

1. The John Alden - Priscilla Mullins Miles Standish triangle was strictly a figment of Longfellow's imagination. Standish was a married man and much older than Priscilla.
2. The Pilgrims didn't land on Plymouth Rock.
3. The Mayflower wasn't blown off its course, which was supposed to be to Virginia. A land speculator bribed the Captain to deliver the settlers to New England. (This is supposed to be the first real estate swindle in American history.)
4. The Pilgrims weren't stiff-necked stolid people. They were warm human beings capable of having fun.
5. They didn't dress primly, with square, Buster Brown haircuts. Their outfits could be colorful, and their hair styles were similar to those of today, including the crew-cut.
6. The Indians were not exactly friendly toward the settlers, but did them no real harm.
7. Only half of the Pilgrims were religious dissenters. The others were tradespeople and craftsmen.

The new land, but the emphasis will be on the voyage across the Atlantic.
"I don't think most people realize what a great achievement it was," said producer Schary. "Here were 102 passengers cooped up for three months on a ship that was 102 feet long with a 2-foot beam. The weather was miserable and the seas rough; the supplies of food and water became perilously low. The privation and the embarrassment of having to live so close must have been terrific."
"There has been prejudice against making pictures about early American history, probably because such pictures had been failures in the past. But I hope "The Plymouth Adventure" will put an end to that belief. There are many stories in our early history that could make exciting pictures."

New Air Route Is Launched Across Texas

A new, direct Southern Transcontinental air route, linking more than 15,000,000 citizens in Florida, Texas and California, three of the fast-growing areas in the United States, will be established April 14, when Eastern Air Lines, Braniff International Airways and Trans World Airlines begin schedules between Miami and San Francisco, through an equipment interchange agreement recently authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The new service, long sought by residents of the areas concerned and the airlines, closes the last major gap on the transcontinental air transportation map, by linking the Atlantic and Pacific coasts across the southern half of the country.

The west-bound flight will depart Miami at 8 a. m. (EST) Tampa at 9:20 a. m., Houston at 11:45 a. m. (CST), Oakland at 1:45 a. m. (CST), Dallas at 1:20 p. m., Amarillo at 3:10 p. m., Los Angeles at 5:20 p. m. (PST), Oakland at 7:10 p. m., and terminate in San Francisco at 7:30 p. m. while the east-bound flight departs San Francisco 7:05 a. m. (PST), Oakland at 7:15 a. m., Los Angeles 10 a. m., Amarillo 3:50 p. m. (CST), Dallas 5:40 p. m., Houston 7:15 p. m., Tampa 11:30 p. m. (EST) and terminates in Miami at 12:29 a. m.

Big Steel Industries Push For End To Federal Controls

PITTSBURGH — (AP) — One of the steel industry's most outspoken leaders told the government today it's high time federal controls on steel were ended.

The appeal came from Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the Board of National Steel Corp. He declared:
"The time has arrived when government controls should be removed from the production and distribution of steel.
"This would eliminate the confusion caused by these controls and bring about a general improvement in the steel situation because the steel industry can make a far better and more equitable distribution of steel than any government body."
Weir pointed to a 30 percent increase in his own firm's steel making capacity since 1939 and said of the industry generally:
"The continuing increase in steel production has reached the point where it is taking care of the requirements of the country including all steel needed for the defense program."
Weir said 1951 brought a large increase in steel inventories in warehouses and plants of steel users and added:
"This means that part of last year's production was not fabricated into products. I believe that this condition will be further emphasized this year and, in short, there will be ample steel for all purposes."
Weir's statements were based on the assumption that the CIO

"I'm wondering about my future with the firm, sir— would you resent it if I married your secretary?"

Japan To Lease U. S. Warships

TOKYO — (AP) — Kyoto News service said today Japan plans to lease 60 small warships from the United States and recruit 6000 men for a special maritime defense unit.
The agency said that part of a plan for gradual increase of defense power presented at a Diet (parliament) committee meeting today.

Kyodo said Japan will lease ten 1500-ton ships and fifty 250-ton ships, armed with small caliber guns. The types of ship were not reported.

Area Air Force Reservists To Take Part In New Survey

In a short time the Air Force reservists in this area will begin receiving appointment cards from Third Air Reserve District headquarters in Austin. The cards will allow the individual reservist to indicate his preference of time to report to Amarillo for Operations Amarillo. This survey of all Air Force reservists in the top 20 counties in Texas, along with 4 western counties in New Mexico will start on April 7 and continue for about 30 days. The purpose of this survey is to bring the reservist up to date concerning his status with the Air Force. Major Paul V. Jones, Jr., Commanding Officer of the 9833rd Volunteer Air Reserve Training Squadron in Amarillo, said: "In many cases there has been little or no contact between reservist and the Air Force in the last five years."

Barkley Lauds Position Of Press

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — "Next to the pulpit — and perhaps even more so than the pulpit — the press has the widest influence for good or evil," says Vice President Alben Barkley. "There is no greater field for dissemination of knowledge and education of the people than the newspapers of our country." He said he deems it proper for newspapers to criticize public officials when they are wrong or when there is a difference of opinion. "It is also the duty of men and women in public life to criticize the press when it deserves it — and sometimes it does," he added. Chuck Darling, Iowa's All-America basketball center, set five Western Conference scoring records and tied another.

Says Home-Maker Can Look To Industry For Building Ideas

NEW YORK — (AP) — The home maker might take a gander at today's factories for ideas. Some architects and designers say that industry is way out in front in planning, building and furnishing its quarters. Those who plan their offices, commercial buildings or factories aren't afraid of innovation, and are more sound on the matter of lighting, acoustics and usefulness, than are their wives in planning homes — that's the idea these architects and designers are touting, anyway. One reason, perhaps, is that the industrialist is more likely than the homemaker to take the advice of professionals on such matters. That old stumbling block — "I know what I like" — is found more around the home. The ugly factory is becoming passe — at least it isn't built much any more. Interiors are becoming more efficient to work in, and definitely more pleasant for the employees. One result claimed is increased productivity. And the trend of late to moving factories to the suburbs has increased their outside beauty. Landscaping, parking space and recreational facilities are becoming the rule rather than the exception. To solve housing problems, especially the high cost of building, Architect George Nelson suggests taking some tips from industry, which knows how to enclose the most space at the least cost for better solutions. His idea isn't to make homes look like factories, but he does think that the conventional home costs more than it need for the service it performs. "Industry is far in advance of the housewife in furnishing offices and commercial buildings," says Walter Eyrwin Tague, industrial designer. He told members of the American Institute of Decorators at their annual meeting here that they should get together with the housewife to create "an efficient and workable machine." He thinks industry can teach them much about lighting, acoustics and easy access to relevant things.

Boyle Comes Up With Some Almanac Oddities

NEW YORK (AP) — Leave from an oddity almanac: Trying to find a place to park your car isn't the biggest drawback to living in a big city, sinus trouble is, so says Dr. J. Thompson Stevens, a New York specialist. He estimates that sinus infections afflict four out of five people who live in towns of 25,000 or more population. "no wonder the country smells nicer."

Speaking of smells, did you know perfumes once were ranked in value with gold? An old Roman maxim advised, "never leave your perfumes or wines to your heir. Administer these yourself and let him have your money." If your wife would like to make her own perfume, there is a formula in the Bible for what came to be known as "The Holy Perfume". The ingredients: sweet spices, stacte, onycha, galbanum. . . but just try to get your neighborhood druggist to fill that prescription today.

Male versus female department: There really are only 15,000,000 licensed women automobile drivers in America. . . if the average male motorist there are 45,000,000 more than he has to dodge an ordinary Smokey ride, it is just his imagination. . . do women really drive better than men? Well, the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey reports that surveys show women are less skillful but more careful behind the wheel. . . a taxicab driver's rejoinder: "Yeah, they drive so slow and cautious they cause everybody else to get into accidents."

What's-what-in-science: A kind of trans-oceanic television isn't too far away, a scientist for the General Electric Co. says events can be photographed in Europe, the film transmitted here by radio facsimile, and telecast to your home in a matter of hours. . . the acid test will be to see whether they can flash the picture of a new French cabinet over here before it is executive bracket now. No clock-punching for the fallen. I just told Mr. Starr my girl was in a jam. "I'm not your girl." "You will be." "You're awfully sure of yourself, aren't you?" "One of us has to be." "Jennet had to laugh. "Peter, you're impossible." "That's better. I like you when you laugh. It's a good sound. Jennet, when are you going to stop fighting us?"

Jennet looked out of the window. She dragged on her cigarette, blew smoke. "Peter, if you must know, I don't think it's right for me to be seen with you. People have done enough talking about us. Thank goodness it doesn't reach my ears, but I can imagine the gossip. I'm not going to feed the kitty." "You don't mean that seriously, Jennet. You can't. You have more integrity than to be intimidated by gossip. Besides, you're overrating your news value. We're yesterday's headlines at the hospital." "We could be tomorrow's."

"So what?" JENNET sighed. "I was beginning to feel almost quiet inside. I don't want to get all stirred up again." Peter's jaw set. "I don't know why I broke my neck getting you to the emergency room that day. If you're going to live as if you were dead . . ."

"I didn't ask you to do me any favors!" He pulled up to the curb in front of her home, stopping so suddenly that they jerked back hard against the seat. It was odd how often she flared up at Peter. "I'll live as I please," she added somewhat shamefacedly. Jennet couldn't remember having shown her anger like this to anyone, not even to the psychiatrist whom she paid to listen. He grabbed her wrist, tightened his fingers around it. "No, as I please. Because you don't know how to live. You never have or you couldn't have tried to die. Let me teach you, Jennet. It could be so wonderful."

Dr. Logan's Wife

PETER SURINOV was glad when Jennet Logan got in that he had a new automobile. The red leather upholstery, too, had seemed an extravagance at the time, but now he felt like patting it. Her eyes were on the gleaming dashboard. Even the clock worked.

Jennet had not seen him since that day on the hilltop when she had given him the check that had brought so much trouble. She knew Peter had seen her—blue-white, stiff, cold from her meal of death (had her mouth hung slack?). But at any rate his last glimpse of her, however corpse-like she may have looked, had not dampened his ardor. He had phoned. He had pleaded. And she had put him off with so many where inclination ended and fear began. But now she was in his car.

"How do you like my new car?" he asked, as it purred away from the curb. "The windows work by push-button. Look." He demonstrated the one on her side. "Oh, wonderful," she said vaguely, backing away from his arm. Spoiled. She was used to luxury cars. "You're looking very well," he said. "Thank you. I'm fine now. Practically sane."

Jennet opened her purse, took out a cigarette. There was a packet of matches too, but her hands were trembling. She preferred to let Peter hold the car lighter to the cigarette which she braced like a flute against all four fingers. "How's your work at Starr's coming? Do you like it any better?" "Not much," he said. "But I like the salary. First time I've had a car that wasn't second-hand."

"It's really a beautiful car, Peter," she insisted belatedly. They passed Chagiantz's jewelry shop, and glanced at and away from each other. A few doors down was the rush hut which-fronted the fashionable Trade Winds Restaurant. Peter slowed down. "How about a drink?" "Really, Peter, I can't. I'd love to—some other time. I have to get home. Mother is leaving for Chicago tonight. We're having an early supper so that she can make her train."

The validity of the excuse angered him. "All right, I'll take you straight home." He stepped on the accelerator, drove in second gear all the way to Sunset because its crescent glow was the nearest he could come to emitting one. He remembered the day the ambulance siren had screamed for him, and he loved her the more because she caused him pain.

THEY drove in silence fraught with tension. The physical current that ran between them, now, as before, overflowed the shores of their social knowledge of each other, inundated each of them, and each, flailing in the current while pretending to stroll the banks, became too preoccupied for speech. Peter indulged in fantasies of abduction, while Jennet with the practicality of the female speculated nervously as to whether he was "red," supposed her rich, would some day think her old as she had thought Gus old.

"Was this your day off?" she asked finally. "No, I just left early. I phoned your home this afternoon. Your mother told me you didn't have your car." "Won't they care—your employers, I mean?" "I don't think so. I'm in the

Colorado Governor Speaker For Texas Tech Graduation

LUBBOCK — It will be old home week May 26 when the class of 1952 at Texas Tech graduates.

Gov. Dan K. Thornton, governor of Colorado and an extended Texas Tech two years, agriculture student at Tech, will give the commencement address. He is the second ex-student to speak to the graduating class at Tech. The ceremony starts at 8 p.m. in Jones stadium.

Thornton was elected to the Colorado State Senate from the 11th Senatorial district in 1948. In 1950, the Republican candidate for governor died shortly before the election. The vacancy committee named Thornton to fill the deceased's place, and he had only five weeks in which to campaign against the incumbent. He was elected by a sizable majority and was inaugurated as governor Jan. 8, 1951. The governor is up for re-election.

Ahead—the Nicest Miles in the World!

Well, the day has come! You have your beautiful Golden Anniversary Cadillac—and are off on that cross-country journey you've so eagerly awaited.

You're full of hope and anticipation—but almost afraid it's too good to be true. Can any car perform and handle the way people say this one does?

You come to the end of the street that opens into the crosstown thoroughfare—and the big, easy-acting brakes settle you down to the softest, smoothest stop you ever experienced in all your life.

You touch the throttle, and the great engine starts you out like the flight of an arrow—smoothly and swiftly and quietly.

Almost before you know it, a light turns red—and, once again, that easy, velvety stop. And then the green—and again that swift, eager move into action.

Stop and go—red and green . . . and pretty soon it dawns upon you that you never dreamed of driving a car that handled and performed like this.

Wonderful in city traffic—no doubt about it!

And then the cars thin out about you—the traffic lights stretch farther and farther apart—and you find yourself on the open road.

Instinctively, your foot goes down on the throttle; but, quickly, it eases up again. For you find yourself really rolling in a couple of hundred feet! So you do a little experimenting until you find the spot where the accelerator belongs for sane and sensible driving—and then you settle back and relax.

You scarcely seem to be moving at all. You handle the wheel with the weight of your hand. You're comfortable—resting—at peace with the highway! The sun rises higher and the road beckons on.

"Where did we plan on stopping tonight?" "Better take a look at the map and see what's on down the line. We're going to get a lot farther than I ever dreamed we could!"

Yes, it's true what they say about Cadillac. Better come in and see it—and drive it—while you're in the mood!

World Series Opponents May Have Been Picked Yesterday

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The 1952 World Series opponents may have been determined on April 2 — two weeks before the official opening of the season.

Three teams, the New York Giants, Boston Red Sox and New York Yankees, received severe jolts in their pennant ambitions yesterday while the hopes of a fourth, the Philadelphia Phillies, were boosted.

Here's what happened:

1. Monte Irvin, left fielder of the champion Giants and National 2.
2. Ted Williams, star slugger and left fielder of the Red Sox, passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will report for active duty with the Marine Corps on May 2.
3. Jerry Coleman, infielder of the Yankees, also passed his physical examination at Jacksonville, Fla., and will return to duty with the Marine Air Corps also on May 2.
4. Curt Simmons, crack left-handed pitcher of the Phillies, will be discharged as a sergeant of the 23rd Infantry Division. He will return to the United States from Germany within ten days.

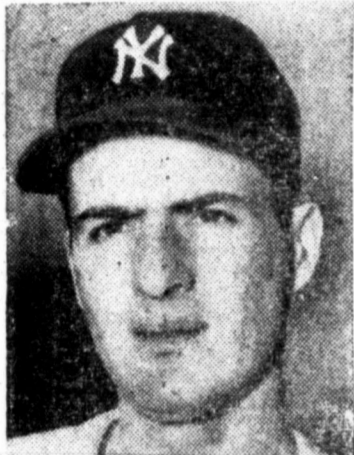

The recall of Williams and Coleman to the colors was expected, but the loss of Irvin came as a shock and cast gloom over the Giant camp.

Irvin was injured in the second inning in a game Cleveland won, 5-0. He walked to lead off the frame and zipped around second as Army bound Willie Mays singled to right field.

Cleveland Shortstop Ray Boone cut off the throw from the outfield and hung Mays up between first and second but Irvin slid into third anyway. He suffered a compound fracture of his right ankle.

The broken bones were set at a local hospital and his leg was placed in a cast.

Irvin batted 312 last year and led the league in runs batted in with 121. He also starred in the exhibition game against Cleveland at Denver, Colo. Irvin was at least half of the campaign and possibly the entire season.

Irvin's loss probably means that Bob Thompson will forsake third base for his first love, the outfield. Hank Thompson, a disappointing last year, figures to return to third. The situation is further complicated by the expected induction of Mays.

The injury was the fourth serious one of the spring. Previously, infielder Billy Martin of the Yankees and third baseman Vern Benson of the St. Louis Cardinals broke their legs. Bob Slaybaugh, a rookieie Card pitcher, faces the loss of an eye. Slaybaugh was struck in the face by a batted ball in batting practice.

Williams, highest salaried player in the game, and Coleman, will also miss the 1952 season. They are in for 17 months. For Williams, this probably means the end of his great career. He will be 35 when this second tour of duty is completed.

Red Sox Manager Lou Boudreau indicated in Houston, Tex., that Don Lenhardt and Clyde Volmer probably would alternate the left field job. Another candidate is rookie Gene Stephens.

Gil McDonald probably will take over second base for the Yankees instead of switching between second and third. Rookie Andy Carey apparently will man third.

The return of Simmons greatly enhances the stock of the Phils. Simmons is in shape and should be ready to pitch shortly after the bell rings. In Simmons and Robin Roberts the Phils have two potential 20 game winners.

In exhibition games yesterday the Cincinnati Reds nosed out the Washington Senators, 4-3. Brooklyn trounced the Yankees, 11-1, the Red Sox smothered Houston of the Texas League, 13-2. The Phils defeated the Boston Braves, 3-1. The Chicago Cubs beat the Brooke Medical center, 3-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates turned back the St. Louis Browns, 5-2.

In night games the Chicago White Sox downed Austin of the Big State League, 5-0, the White Sox "B" squad defeated Dallas of the Texas League, 4-2 and the Philadelphia Athletics nipped their Savannah Sally League farm hands, 7-6.

World Series against the Yanks, batting 158.

Then, of course, there is the change of touring professionals. All Masters winners are back except Herman Keiser and Ralph Guldahl.

The amateur field shows marked improvement over the immediate post war years. Best among them are Frank Stravahan, Charlie Coc, Billy Maxwell, Arnold Eium, San-Uzetta and Dick Chapman.

Probably the top foreign entry is bekickered Bobby Locke, from South Africa.

Over 70 fighters are expected from Sheppard Goodfellow, Amarillo, Carwell, Walters and Perlin Air Force bases. The fights will start at 8 o'clock.

Pampa will be represented in the tournament by at least one fighter, Eugene Cooper, who will be seeking the 160 pound crown.

The winners will advance to another tournament at Sheppard Field at Wichita Falls later this month. Then the champions move to the National Air Force Tournament, and then to the Olympic trials. Since it is competing for the Olympics, two new weights have been added. The new ones are junior middleweight and junior welterweight.

The shows are free to the public. The affair is for three nights with the finals on Saturday night. The bouts will be mixed affairs being fought on government property in the state.

Masters Opens At Augusta

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The flower-fringed Augusta Nat'l Golf Course waited like a treacherous and treacherous but deceptively beautiful trap in the East Georgia hills today for the opening round of the Masters Tournament.

The field of 72 is the largest and probably the best on record here, but few expect more than three or four players to beat the National Course's 72-hole par of 288.

Eighteen amateurs are among the 72 players taking their trip today across the 6,500-yard layout. Willie Turnesa, 1948 National and 1949 British Amateur champion, is the notable absentee.

No amateur ever won this event.

Air Force Bouts Starting Tonight

Air Force fighters from six north Texas bases start battle tonight in Hanger No. 4000 at Amarillo Air Force Base in search of what they hope will eventually finish in a berth on the U. S. Olympic boxing team.

Over 70 fighters are expected from Sheppard Goodfellow, Amarillo, Carwell, Walters and Perlin Air Force bases. The fights will start at 8 o'clock.

Pampa will be represented in the tournament by at least one fighter, Eugene Cooper, who will be seeking the 160 pound crown.

Harvester Golfers Enter District Meet Tomorrow

Four Pampa Harvester golfers fought their way through a 36-hole qualification test this week to become entrants in the District 1-AA tournament tomorrow at the Amarillo Country club.

The four are Tommy Cox, Ronnie Mullins, Darrell Godfrey and Dib Stowell. They will be entered as a team and as individual competitors in the district meet.

Other high schools entered are Amarillo, the favorite; Plainview and Borger. Winners proceed to the regional meet at Lubbock later this month.

The Harvesters linkmen finished sixth at the West Texas Relays golf tournament last week end. The Green and Gold linkers will be accompanied to Amarillo by their coach, Professional Johnny Austin. They will shoot a practice round in the morning and then fire the 18 holes starting at 1:30 in the afternoon.

Meanwhile, the Harvester thin-clads held another lengthy, wind-blown workout yesterday afternoon as they readied themselves for their district meet at Canyon Saturday. They will also have Plainview, Borger and favored Amarillo as opposition.

One of the Harvesters' best chances to cop a first place was in the shot, where Buddy Cockrell has already beaten the Amarillo weight tosser twice this year. But Cockrell reinjured his left knee Tuesday and was unable to put much pressure on it yesterday.

Also figured a strong contender in the shot is Jerry Walker, who recently recovered from a knee operation.

Qualifying trials will be held in the morning and the finals will be run off in the afternoon.

Lujack Severs Ties With Bears

CHICAGO (AP) — Having severed his ties with the Chicago Bears, Johnny Lujack was free today to give serious consideration to returning to his smart native, Notre Dame, as football backfield coach.

Lujack, the former all-America quarterback at Notre Dame, will not continue in pro football.

Johnny's four-year contract with the Bears, reportedly calling for $80,000, expired after the 1951 season.

The 27-year-old former Heisman trophy winner and athlete of the year in 1947 said he was too busy with his insurance business to meet the demand of time required by pro football.

He said he planned to meet with Coach Frank Leahy of Notre Dame regarding the backfield coaching job.

SMU Netters Win

DALLAS (AP) — Southern Methodist defeated Texas Christian University, 5-1, yesterday in a Southwest Conference tennis meeting.

Dan Stansbury, SMU's No. 1 singles player, injured his ankle in doubles play and will be out of action for an indefinite period.

Sports Roundup

By GAYLE TALENT
DENVER — (AP) — The New York Giants ahead for the New York Giants as they beat their way down through the Southwest and toward the start of the National League campaign with their great Negro star, Monte Irvin, left behind in a hospital here.

When Monte writhed and thrashed on the ground around third base with a fractured ankle yesterday, there wasn't a Giant but knew that a second straight league pennant probably had been forfeited in an exhibition game, and on an unnecessary slide, at that.

You can't lose a star like Irvin, the league's leading RBI man last year, and retain much hope of beating out a solid club such as Brooklyn. The score was a heart-breaking one as Monte's teammates rushed from the bench to gather around him and Leo Durocher went stamping about the infield like a wild man, a picture of grief.

The Cleveland Indians appeared almost as affected as the Giant's. The star from New Jersey has made himself one of the game's most admired and respected players, and the Indians have seen much of him in their spring trips with the Giants. They advanced around his stricken figure almost as quickly as Monte's teammates did, and his third-baseman, Al Rosen, appeared to be berating himself for having failed the catch which caused Irvin to make his unnecessary slide.

Young Willie Mays even blamed himself for having hit the single which caused Monte, his idol, to go tearing around from first on the play. Outside of Durocher, Willie probably was the first man in the park to see that Irvin's spikes had caught in dirt earth short of the bag and that he was badly hurt.

Willie expects to be called into the Army soon. The Giants have been figuring that they might somehow get along without the brilliant Alabama kid — possibly by sending Bobby Thompson back to the outfield and returning Hank Thompson to his 1950 post at third. But none of them will tell you they can make it without Irvin. No club ever suffered a tougher blow, even if Monte should return sometime during the season.

Ironically, there has been considerable talk in recent days about the way the Giants and Indians were playing into one another on the bases. There have been predictions that someone was going to get hurt before their tour ends on Easter Day at Indianapolis, and tempers were beginning to wear thin. Yet when the accident did come, it was on a routine play from which the Indians could not be blamed.

Once Irvin was hurt in the second inning the Giant's appeared to go to pieces. Mays' hit was the last of the season. Bob Lemon in seven innings and they gave the second big Denver crowd of two days a listless exhibition as they succumbed 5-0.

That makes it seven in a row for the Indians over their spring-rival, the Giants, but they have either club ever has received in their long association. The way the Giants feel now they might take a blanking right to Indianapolis.

Trans-Miss Into Second Round Play

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Competition in the trans-Mississippi Women's Amateur Golf Tournament swung into the second round of match play today at the Arizona Country club.

Eight duels were on the bill and at least three of them pitted players against each other who are considered good enough to go all the way to the title in this 22nd edition of the tournament.

The three: Defending Champion Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore against Mrs. Lyle Bowman of Richmond, Calif., former Oregon State champion.

Grace De Moss of Corvallis, Ore., runner-up for the Trans-Mississippi championship in 1950, against Barbara (Bobby) Dawson of Piedmont, Calif.

Barbara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., newly crowned North-South Amateur champ, against Mrs. John Holt of Longview, Wash.

Miss Anderson ousted off Mrs. Robert Sanders, Phoenix, 6 and 5, and Miss Downey applied the same score to Janice Voight, Denver.

Double Main Even On Mat Program At Southern Club

The big Russian, Alex Kasaboski, makes his return to Pampa professional wrestling circles tonight in a one hour, two out of three fall scrap with George Lopez at the Southern Club.

The rough match will be the final of a double main event card starting at 8:15. In the opening hour struggle, Johnny "Strong Boy" Pavich of Hungary battles Frankie Hart of Canada. It also is two out of three falls.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at the door at 5:30 p. m. The matches will again be broadcast over KPDN, starting at 8:05.

The first match should be an excellent, clean affair. Both boys have appeared in the local arena in the past two weeks, and both displayed great ring talent in abiding by the rules. Hart's fancy footwork and agility, coupled with Pavich strength and knowhow, should provide a real match.

The windup event promises to be different. Kasaboski, long one of the ring's worst villains, is a loud-mouthed Russian who likes to be in the spotlight. He has a bitter feud going right now with Hart, and with the two of them on the same program, though not facing each other, you never can tell when trouble might explode. Kasaboski is of the "Big Train Clements school" of wrestling. Anything that he can do, and not get caught at, goes. Lopez will need a lot of fan support against him.

Lopez may show Kasaboski something, though. Lopez, while his home is Mexico City, stems from Japanese ancestry, and knows judo and jiu-jitsu from the start of the book to the back. Kasaboski may get some of those lessons before the night is over.

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League NEW YORK — (NEA) — Q. What is the shortest fence in the majors? What is the longest?

A. The Polo Grounds, home of the New York Giants, has both. Down the right field foul line the distance is 338 feet. Straightaway to the notch in center-field the distance is 425 feet.

Q. Did Joe DiMaggio hit in more consecutive games as a Pacific Coast leaguer or major leaguer?

A. He holds the record in each category — 61 for San Francisco in 1933, 56 for the New York Yankees in 1941.

Q. When did the sacrifice fly rule go out?

A. In 1940.

Q. Did Clarence Rowland, the Pacific Coast League president, ever play big league ball?

A. No. But he managed the Chicago White Sox four times, 1915-18, and won the pennant and World Series with 1917 club.

stabilemate of last year's Derby winner, Count Turf, turned on belated speed to take three lengths back of Quiet Step.

Tulsa Is Second Division Right Now

By ACK CHARVAT
Sports Editor Tulsa Tribune
TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — The Tulsa Oilers, as of right now, are a second division ball club in the Texas League race.

The only optimistic note around the Tulsa camp is President Grayie Howlett's belief that help from the parent Cincinnati Reds is not too far in the offing.

The Oilers are sound in two departments — catching and the outfield.

Foy Jarvis, a sound receiver and fair hitter who was secured this winter from Atlanta, will be around to back up Hobie Landrith, smooth-working youngster who spent last season at Buffalo.

In the outfield are such potential double A performers as Bob Wilson, with the Oilers for a while in 1951; Hal Treinen, speedy candidate who failed to make the club a year ago; Charles Fontana, up from Columbia of the Class A Sally League, and probably either Robbe, currently a holdout who wants to be traded to the coast league.

Jim Kirby, a regular outfielder with Tulsa late last season, is trying to make the grade at third base but could stick as a fly-shagger, Ken Mapee, a light-hitting performer at Tulsa late in 1951, is also on hand.

The Tulsa infield is strictly a question mark. Two regulars who can play — and play well — are on hand and have done well this far in exhibition contests. They are Earl York, first baseman, and Al Grammas, Al fine hustler who played at shortstop for the Oilers last season. York, a long-balled swabber, was on the voluntarily retired list last season but was a member of the 1950 inner defense.

Jack Weisenburger, formerly the property of the Boston National League farm chain, is trying to play second base. He may have to do the work until help arrives.

The pitching is on the weak side. Ken Peterson, down from Cincinnati after several years of sparring service in the National League, could win in this circuit. Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer is trying to cure a sore arm and could be of some service. Tommy Reis, knuckleball specialist who was the best pitcher on the club until late July and August last year, is back and should be quite valuable.

The rest of the staff borders on mediocrity. John Brechin, hard-throwing young right-hander who spent his first year in professional ball last summer at Columbia, is the best of the rookie crop.

John Walters, a failure twice in attempts to pitch double A ball, is back for the third trial. The rest of the crop is green and untried.

Two infielders and at least three pitchers must be added through Cincinnati efforts if the team is to be a first division contender.

Hannibal Cops Experimental

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hannibal, an aptly named colt, has projected himself into the Kentucky Derby picture with a performance that figured to scare owners of other blue grass classic eligibles who have original Hannibal frightened the Romans centuries ago.

Bayard Sharp's Delaware-owned derby candidate is by Roman 'out of War Jitters. And his maternal grandpappy is the great Man O' War.

Hannibal won the Experimental Free Handicap at Jamaica Plain 119 pounds yesterday.

Quiet step from B. H. Heiman's Apheim Stable, also a derby eligible and winner of one division of the Bahamas Handicap at Hialeah last winter, was second after leading "by one and one-half lengths into the stretch.

Casey At The Bat: No. 4 Games Won On Bench; Keep It Loaded

By CASEY STENDEL
Yankees' Manager

As told to Harry Grayson
NEA Sports Editor

Every game last season, I'd get a warm feeling when I looked at the Yankee bench. And it wasn't heartburn.

I was just happy about the quality of the players who sat there, peacefully gathering splinters. When I needed a pinch-hitter or a defensive infielder or outfielder, I had them. When somebody got hurt, there was always a bench-warmer who could jump in and fill the gap without hurting anybody.

Over a 154-game season, baseball is as much a high-pressure game as any, selling insurance. And over the course of a year, anything's liable to happen — slumps, injuries, suspensions. You just can't be sure that your regulars are going to be playable everyday.

I've always opposed deals that were proposed, in which the Yanks would have had to give up two or three players for one. I don't want to break up my bench. That's where pennants are won. Sure, it's charming to have a star at every position. But if a couple of them got hurt or went into slumps, you've got to replace them. And if all you have on the bench is a coat of shellac, you're sunk.

You've got to face realities. You play a game of ball almost every day. A big league club can't go along waiting for an injured player to be retrograded, or used any one of those boys regurgitated to break out with a baseball rash again. If you don't have the replacement,

Much More About The Author

While managing the Boston Braves in 1938, a reporter asked Casey Stengel to enlarge upon the kind of team he expected.

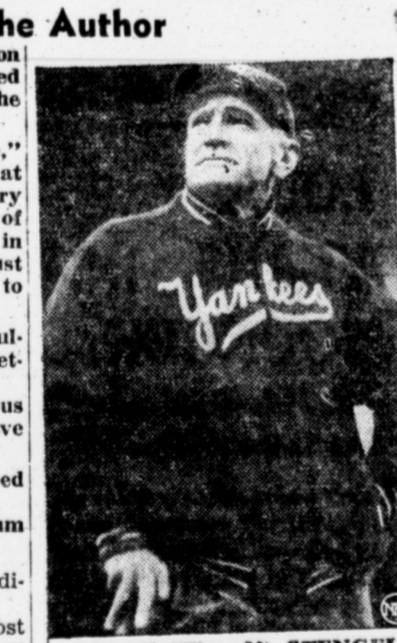

"It will be a fighting ball club," Casey said, eloquently. "But at the same time it will be a very polite ball club. Whenever one of my pitchers hits a .395 hitter in the head with the ball, he must apologize. He must walk up to the man, and say:

"My dear fellows, I am awfully sorry. Please view this regrettable incident as an accident."

"If my men are not courteous to the men they hit, I will have no part of them.

"I am constitutionally opposed to low, vulgar tactics."

By John McCallum

CASEY (HIMSELF) STENDEL

Extra pitchers take a lot of weight off a manager's shoulders, too. And a manager's shoulder's can look mighty saggy sometimes.

Toward the end of last season, Vic Raschi, Allie Reynolds and Lopat needed occasional breathers. So up from Hollywood came Art Schallock and Johnny Sain was bought from the Braves. It helps to have extra help around when the neighbors — like the Red Sox — come to call.

The current military situation makes me even less inclined to trade. You never know what's going to happen, or who'll be called next.

If some club wants to swap a pitcher in a reasonable exchange, I'll be an interested listener, but otherwise no dice. I'll stick with what we have, because a squad depth looks more important than ever.

Next to home plate, the bench is the most necessary piece of furniture in the ball park.

May Admit Mexican Cattle Across Border September 1

Mexico will be declared free of the hoof-and-mouth disease, which ran rampant among Mexican cattle during the past three years, if no new outbreaks occur between now and Sept. 1, Rep. Walter Rogers said this week in his weekly newspaper.

Discussing the question now before the Department of Agriculture Rogers said:

The announcement that the quarantine against Mexican cattle will probably be lifted on Sept. 1 has caused a great deal of discussion among cattle people. Many fear it will tend to break the cattle market and do untold damage to many small operators. Others are of the opinion that it will cause the cattle market to level off and that it will create a healthy, rather than damaging, situation. The decision concerning the lifting of the quarantine was prompted by the fact that Mexico recently appears to be free of the Hoof and Mouth disease. If no new outbreaks occur between now and September, Mexico will be declared free of the disease. This will mean that cattle can be imported under whatever regulations are decided upon as applicable. The Secretary of Agriculture, under the Tariff Act, makes the declaration.

At the present time there are no definite regulations determined. Work is progressing in that field and the proposed regulations are being fully processed. It has been suggested that a period of quarantine at the port of entry should be established in order to permit observation before the cattle are brought in. This procedure was not followed before the outbreak. It seems to be the consensus in the capital that the lifting of the quarantine will not cause any great fluctuations in the cattle market.

This opinion is based upon the fact that since the quarantine has been in effect a large meat packing and processing industry has been established in northern Mexico. It is logical to believe that the Mexican government is not going to let those establishments fail because they cannot obtain cattle.

This means that the Mexican government will probably invoke certain restrictions on the exportation of cattle in order to protect this industry that has grown up and means much to the economy of Mexico. The effect of such restrictions could be that only the surplus of certain grades of animals would be allowed to cross the border. Prior to the outbreak of the disease and the pricing of the quarantine, 359,000 to 400,000 Mexican cattle crossed the border into this country each year.

Most of those here who are thoroughly familiar with the subject are convinced that importations subsequent to the lifting of the quarantine will be far below that figure. This certainly seems logical. Actually the quarantine has in one respect been of great service to Mexico. It has made possible the building up of the large meat packing and processing industry that will contribute much to the progress of Mexico in the future. In fact it was probably more helpful than one of these foreign aid laws would have been. Mexico was able to wipe out a most serious disease and at the same time build up an industry that will serve the country well.

IT'S YOUR DEAL

Frozen Pile Alters Style

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the dealer turns up a wild card or a red three as the turn-up card, the discard pile is born frozen. This often has a decided effect on the tactics of both sides.

If you meld from your hand when the pile is frozen, you do not unfreeze the pile for your partner. He cannot take the pile with one matching card and a wild card; he still needs a pair of natural cards that match the previous discard. However, your meld does relieve your partner of the need of making the initial count.

How much help does this represent? Considerable, if the minimum count is 120 points. But if the meld is only 50 points, your help is probably not needed. When the required count is 90 points, the meld is sometimes a great help and sometimes unnecessary.

The next question is: What does it cost you to help your partner? If you must put down more than half of your hand to meld 120 points, you will then have trouble discarding. Hence there is great danger that your meld will give the discard pile to the enemy instead of to your partner.

Even if you can make the meld of 120 points with only four cards (two jokers and a high pair), your meld from the hand may be of doubtful value. Perhaps you could have won the pile yourself by keeping the meld in your hand instead of putting it on the table.

The most important time to meld from your hand with a pack that is born frozen is when you really don't care about the discard pile. If you have a very fine play for a fast run, meld quickly and ask your partner (by means of this fast meld) to help you meld out.

If he can add a few important cards, you can end the hand before anybody takes the pile. Even if he is not able to help that much, the chances are that you can meld out before the opponents have done anything drastic.

Q—Are you ever allowed to discard a red three in Canasta or Samba?

A—You are never allowed to discard a red three under any circumstances at all in either Canasta or Samba. The only time a red three can ever find its way into the discard pile is when the dealer turns up a red three to begin the discard pile at the very beginning of a hand.

Hat Designer To Be Featured Here Sunday

Second in the series of events sponsored by the Top of Texas chapter of the National Secretaries Assn. in behalf of the Cancer Crusade, will be the presentation here Sunday of Ross Bell, Amarillo hat stylist, who will appear in two showings, one at 5 p.m. and another at 6 p.m.

The show will feature local models and will be staged in the Cabot Company auditorium. Models met Wednesday night with Mr. Bell to discuss Sunday's show.

Mr. Bell, a graduate of Plainview high school, attended Amarillo college prior to his service in World War II, and later he attended the Vogue School of Fashion Art in Chicago.

He returned to Amarillo in January and is now concentrating on the fulfillment of a dream cherished since childhood — designing women's hats.

In his talk he will give points to assist women in selecting a becoming hat in relation to her features, personality and wardrobe. His idea is to teach how and what to buy, as well as to show women they can design for themselves.

The slogan of the young artist is "a hat for every woman, one that harmonizes with the personality of the wearer." He stresses the fact that a woman's hat, more than any other article of clothing, should belong to her. The wrong hat can spoil the most expensive dress or coat suit, he explains, and too much cannot be said about the right choice for the most becoming headgear.

When Ross Bell was a young boy, he designed hats for his mother and grandmother, but kept his work a secret from his boy friends, thinking they would tease him unmercifully if they found out he designed hats. But it was while he was serving in the Navy that he also design and make hats on the heads of models.

he decided definitely to go into the hat industry.

Mr. Bell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bell of Amarillo and he likes the old quote about "a woman who neglects her appearance is like an heiress who spurns her inheritance." And he is attempting to bring added beauty to feminine headgear in an area that, he contends, is coming to the top in many ways — fashion included.

Local models to appear in the show include: Mmes. Albertson, Triplehorn, Maxine Rose, Norma Fatheree, Mable Dockery, Christine Schneider, Eleanor Braly, Ruth Osborne, Dorothy Statton, Sylvia Conley and Helen Vineyard.

Mr. Bell will demonstrate how to buy and wear a hat to suit your age and personality and he will

Hot cakes for breakfast will arouse the sleepy heads. These delicious rice and ham cakes will keep them at the table until all the batter is griddled and the last golden brown pancake has met its Waterloo. The rice makes a cake with a delightfully chewy consistency. The ham makes it hearty. Once tried, these cakes will become the permanent family favorite. They will be served, not only for breakfast but for brunch, Sunday evening supper, and to the crowd after cards or an evening out.

- 1 cup sifted flour
5 teaspoons baking powder
1-2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
1 cup cooked rice
1 cup milk
1 cup diced, cooked ham
2 teaspoons melted butter or margarine.

METHOD: Sift together the flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat the eggs and add the rice, milk, ham, and butter or margarine. Mix well. Add this liquid mixture to the dry ingredients and beat until well blended. Spoon onto a hot greased griddle or skillet to form cakes of desired size. Cook on one side until a number of bubbles appear. Turn over and cook to a golden brown. Serve hot with butter, syrup, honey, jelly, or jam.

This recipe makes approximately 15 griddle cakes 4 inches in diameter.

Merten Club Has Sewing Program

Miss Helen Dunlap, Gray County Home Demonstration agent, presented a program on fitting garments at the Merten Home Demonstration club meeting this week in her home. Mrs. V. Day was hostess.

Following roll call, answered with "my fitting problem," Mrs. A. M. Nash gave the 10-minute demonstration on flower beds. "Flower beds," Mrs. Nash said, "should be planned just as well as a home. You wouldn't buy wall paper before the house has a properly constructed foundation, nor do you buy flower seed before beds are prepared. If you want beautiful gardens to perform satisfactorily in years to come, you should get soil in the right condition before you plant anything.

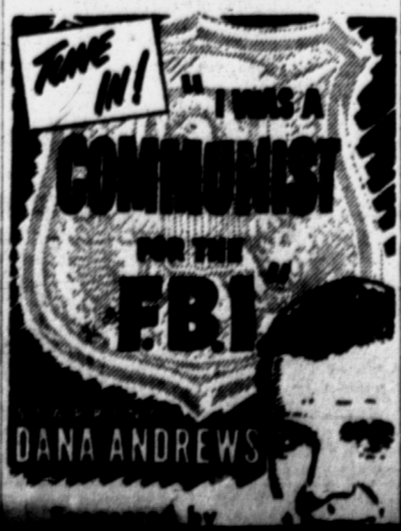

"There are three types of soil — clay, sand and loam. Clay is a miser. It holds roots in a form that plant roots can't absorb. Sand is a spendthrift, that is, it lets water pass through quickly and washes away any plant food. To improve the soil, plenty of humus should be used. Soil is this area is lacking in phosphorus, sulphur and iron. "Bed should be dug deep and plenty of fertilizer should be mixed with the top soil," Mrs. Nash concluded.

To open her program, Miss Dunlap displayed her sewing cabinet — vital to any woman who sews. She explained that if a pattern needs fitting, it should be done before the garment is cut. The aim is to give a professional look, she said. "First you must look for the grainline," Miss Dunlap explained. "It runs up and down. The filler is the crossline. The most important thing in fitting, is keeping with the grainline. You also want balance, for example, if one shoulder is lower than the other, your padding will camouflage the unbalanced shoulder.

"Another important thing in sewing is set, freeing the wrinkles or fullness. Sometimes a garment is too tight or maybe too loose. It should fit comfortably to look graceful. A sheer material needs more ease than other fabric.

Mrs. Day served refreshments to Mmes. D. A. Rife, Jack Fatheree, P. E. Boyd, L. H. Broemert, W. E. McCracken, John Brandon, V. Smith, W. T. Case, Jr., J. C. Steward, Clyde Edmondson, T. G. Groves, Nash, Miss Dunlap and Miss Linda K. Day.

35th Year

White House Road Rocky For Truman

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Seven years as President of the United States have carried Harry S. Truman past historic milestones, domestic and foreign crises and bitter duels with Congress.

He signalled a halt to that Saturday night when he announced at the Jefferson-Jackson Day rally:

"I shall not be a candidate for re-election. I shall not accept a renomination."

The terse statement of his intentions, a closely guarded secret during a year of hot speculation, ranks with the classics of withdrawal from presidential races. These include:

William Tecumseh Sherman in 1868; "I will not accept if renominated and will not serve if elected."

Calvin Coolidge in 1928: "I do not choose to run."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1948: "I am not available for and could not accept nomination to high political office."

Eisenhower, being boomed by some Republicans as Truman's successor in 1952, has expressed a willingness this time to serve.

Truman's tenure began April 12, 1945, when he stepped up from the vice presidency on the death of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Two weeks later, at San Francisco, he faced the history of launching the United Nations at the end of World War II.

In quick succession came what an Associated Press reporter called "a virtually unbroken line of crises." These were in foreign and domestic policy, in politics and in Truman's "goldfish-bowl" life as a public figure.

There were successes and there were failures. The 67-year-old President himself, in the just-published book "Mr. President," has summed up his administration this way:

"We have prevented a third world war. And we have kept the American economy on an even keel."

Perhaps Truman's most historic decision was to drop the atomic bomb on Hiroshima and Nagasaki, Japan, in August, 1945. With it dawned the atomic age. Other milestones in the foreign field:

The rise of Communism and the cold war with Russia.

The atomic race, spurred by the beginning of work on the hydrogen bomb.

The hot war in Korea beginning June 25, 1950.

Formation of the North Atlantic treaty organization (NATO). The first peacetime military alliance and the resulting furor.

Peacetime military draft, first in United States history, and a move toward universal military training.

Enactment, over Truman's veto, of the Taft-Hartley law hardening federal policy toward organized labor.

Industrial unrest — court duels with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers and government seizure of the railroads to head off strikes.

Charges of Communist infiltration of government.

Congressional disclosures of corruption in federal agencies like the Internal Revenue bureau.

Truman failed often in Congress, whose Republican-controlled 80th session he labeled "do-nothing."

He was unable to get through many appointments and trying to gun their way into the Southern bloc always managed to talk to death his civil rights programs.

He fought hard, but fruitlessly, for repeal of the Taft-Hartley labor law after its passage over his veto, for stronger wage-price controls, for the Brannan farm subsidy plan and for national health insurance.

Truman's outstanding political success was his surprise election in 1948. He accomplished it practically single-handed in a whistle-stop "give-em-hell" tour of the nation.

He saw an assassination attempt on Nov. 1, 1950, when two Puerto Ricans were shot down trying to gun their way into his home. One died, the other recovered and was convicted of murder in the death of a White House guard.

Truman's letter-writing habit got him into hot water during recent years. Reaction was long and loud to one criticizing the Marine Corps' "Propaganda Machine" and another castigating a music reviewer who had rapped daughter Margaret Truman's soprano voice.

Malaya Valley Population Moved

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya — (AP) — The entire Malay population of isolated Belum Valley near the Thailand border into which British paratroops were dropped to drive off Communist terrorists have been evacuated to prevent terrorists exploiting them.

Terrorists had proclaimed an "independent state" in Belum. They ordered the Malays to plant food for them and offered them arms with which to attack security forces.

The High Cost Of Bureaucracy

Bureaucracy is mighty costly—both in money, and in the influence it has on the economy of the nation...

The Office of Price Stabilization is a good illustration. It is costing the taxpayers about $55,216,000 a year...

The retail store is the show window of free enterprise. All the energies and talents of America have gone into creating the wealth of necessities and luxuries that finally are offered to you by your retailer...

Votes Will Be Order Of Day In November

As political squabbles in both parties grow, it becomes evident that votes, not principles, will again be the order of the day...

As the matter now stands, aside from the candidacy of Sen. Robert A. Taft on the Republican ticket, there seems to be little choice for voters who are fed up with the corruption, high taxes, one world, meddling, bureaucracy, statist beliefs of the Truman administration...

True, most of the candidates are for such things as "honesty in government," and even the New Dealers are saying that they are going to do something about the corruption in government...

We have the sorry spectacle of New Dealers (Republicans) Harold Stassen accusing Sen. Taft of being an "isolationist" while he objects to Truman's policies of meddling in the affairs of the whole world...

Better Jobs

By R. C. HOILES A Bill of Grievances On Public Schools By The Sons Of The American Revolution

I want to continue to quote from the Brief filed by the Sons of the American Revolution requesting Congress to investigate the subversive textbooks used in our schools...

The report of the Robey Committee is analyzed in a series of articles written by Dan Gilbert, L.L.D., for the National Republican Magazine, Washington, D. C., and reprinted in pamphlet form under the title "Un-Americanism in High School Textbooks..."

The greatest danger to America is not that of "overnight Bolshevik revolution." Rather, it is that we will drift into dictatorship, stand idle to Socialism, and—in the end—blunder into Bolshevism...

The type of propaganda which is appealing, seductive and misleading, is a cunning kind which subtly, slyly, insidiously, but systematically, plants doubt and distrust toward Americanism in the minds of its victims...

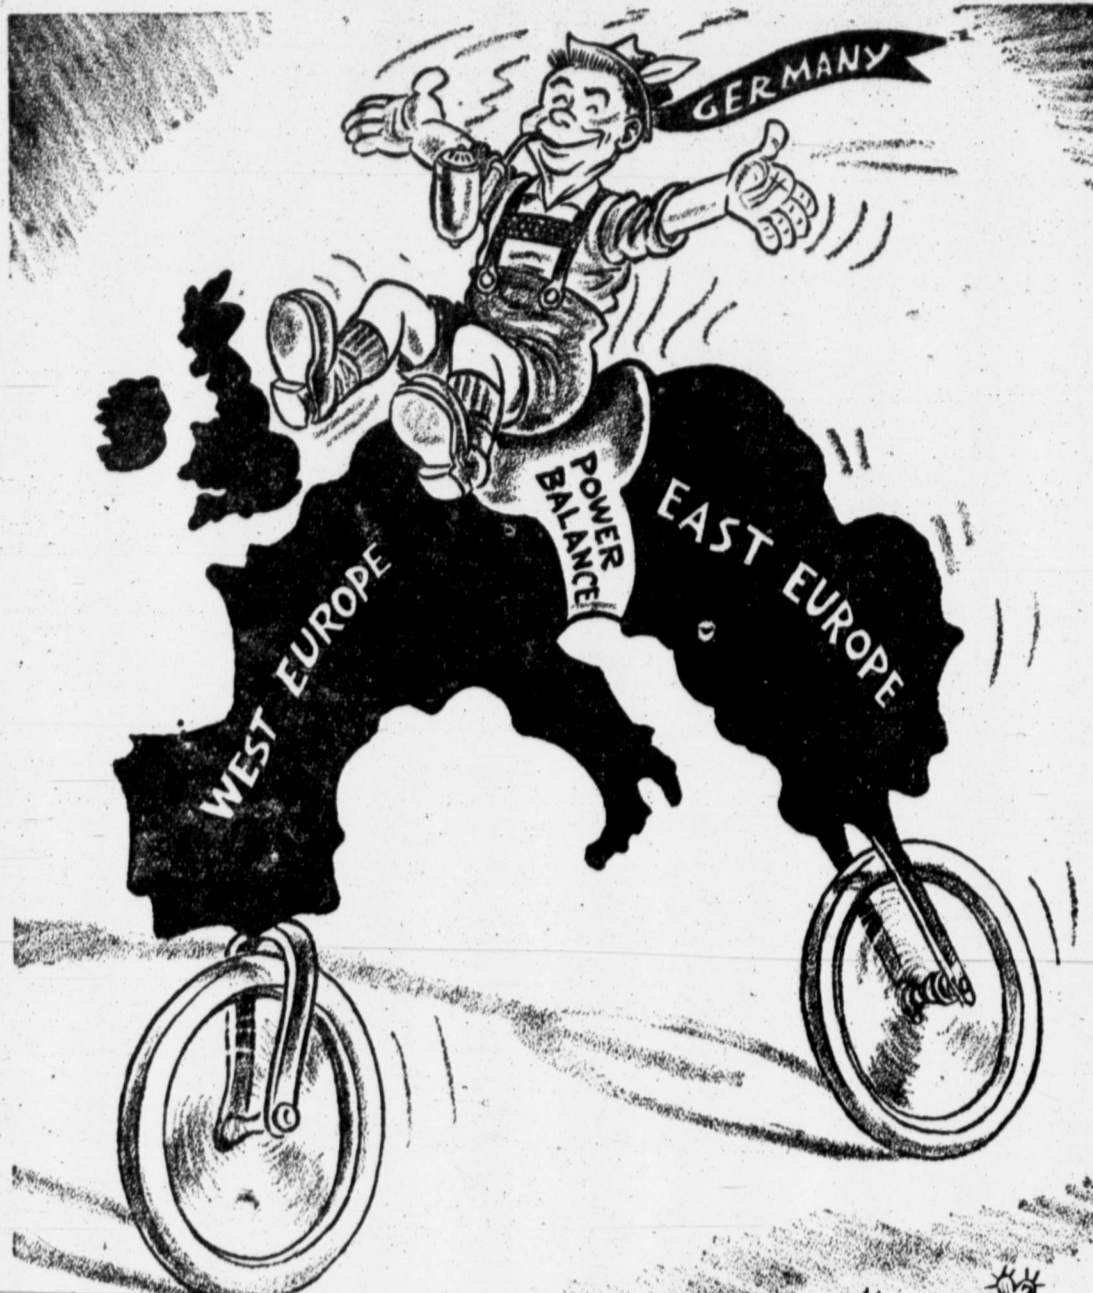

It remains to be seen whether America can work out a program of economic betterment and freedom of our fundamental liberties, and without the regimentation, mass-herding, goose-stepping—call it what you will—which are the traits of Communism and Fascism...

"Students are told that our people have an unreasoning attachment to the Constitution..." "The children in our schools are being taught that Communism is a more plausible but more un-American attitude toward Soviet Russia..."

"The children in our schools are being taught that Communism is a more plausible but more un-American attitude toward Soviet Russia..." "The children in our schools are being taught that Communism is a more plausible but more un-American attitude toward Soviet Russia..."

There should be a great clarification of the issues at hand for the Taft school is opposed to the New Deal, True Deal and all the rest of it on virtually every score...

Something To Fill A Great Need

LOOKING SIDWAYS

By WHITNEY BOLTON

MIDNIGHT MEANDERS: A man who buys novels from writers and prints them to sell to people like you who buy books to read, wrung out of the night and confided that after a long, painstaking and disagreeable study he had come to the conclusion that the three most popular fictions in fiction are: Mystery, Westerns, Science Fiction, not necessarily in that order...

And now, with a whisk of the concealing veil, we will reveal to you a crystal ball in which I have no great pride but which gives me a $50 federal fee on off-track books, treasury statisticians forecast that it would produce an annual revenue of $400,000,000.

Followers of the ponies on the House Ways and Means committee, more experienced in these matters, scoffed at Truman-Smyler anticipations. They were correct. On the basis of present purchases of licenses, receipts will amount to only about $9,000,000 a year.

This deficit will have to be made up in some way in future revenue legislation. The general run of taxpayers, not the bookies, will be the victims of this erroneous calculation.

National Whirligig... Dominican Republic Makes Play For American Gambling

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Veteran legislators think it slightly ironic that the Kefauver reform crusade has backfired so heavily at the expense of the United States Treasury. Together with Truman... machines will feature a four-hour plane flight by the 'Sportsmen's Special' between Miami and Ciudad Trujillo, Dominican Republic — the Monte Carlo of the Caribbean — where four legal gambling casinos flourish. Three of the casinos have opened since the Kefauver crime investigation closed many illegal gambling places in the U.S.

IMPLICATION — The Dominican brochure contains an implication that they think us, Americans, are the closest and healthiest city in the Americas... and to learn how a "nation free of foreign debt (that's a sly poke-Ed. note) is seeking economic independence... by progressive economic and human relations developments."

CYNICAL — Rep. Dewey Short, the ex-minister who quit the pulpit for Missouri politics, is a pro-Taft, neo-isolationist and he does not care who knows it. During a cloakroom discussion of the $7,900,000 Mutual Security act recently, he mused: "We Americans must be a soft-hearted or soft-headed breed. Here we stole this country from the Indians! We won it from the British in a fair fight! And now we are supporting both the Indians and the British! How long, O Lord, how long?"

SEN. RUSSELL'S CANDIDACY

(Columbus Ohio State Journal) In the candidacy of Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia for the Democratic nomination for President, the southern wing of the party has issued its challenge to the Truman Fair Deal-Aid wing. Announcement of the candidacy possibly could turn out to be the crucial political event of the year, or it could turn out to be only a futile gesture having no effect on the outcome of the Presidential election.

The 11 states of the so-called solid South (Virginia, Alabama, North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas and Texas) east 128 of the 531 electoral votes for the Presidency. They have 280 of the 1230 votes in the Democratic National Convention this year. In other words, in each situation they have slightly less than one-fourth the votes, but enough to be a determining factor in a tight situation.

At the Philadelphia convention four years ago, Sen. Russell, without any pre-determination, received 283 votes for the nomination for President in a protest against Truman and the civil rights plank which the convention had adopted. But after the convention, Sen. Russell refused to join the Democratic Party and the civil rights plank remained in the Democratic column. Other southern states usually Democratic piled up 39 votes in the electoral college for the States Rights ticket headed by South Carolina's Governor Thurmond.

Sen. Russell is a real power in the Democratic political committee in the Senate. He has determined the course of much legislation in Congress in the past few years and has otherwise demonstrated his power and popularity. To that extent he is a national figure. What does he hope to do in 1952? How far will he go?

Sen. Russell is not ready to reveal his plans beyond the convention, but he has decided upon his course after Chicago. His main hope is said to be that he can obtain from the Democratic party a recognition of states rights for the South as opposed to the head-long drive of the Truman Fair Deal into national statism. Hence, for the time being, Sen. Russell will concentrate on trying to be the determining influence, the balance power, in the national convention of the Democratic party.

IMPLICATION — The Dominican brochure contains an implication that they think us, Americans, are the closest and healthiest city in the Americas... and to learn how a "nation free of foreign debt (that's a sly poke-Ed. note) is seeking economic independence... by progressive economic and human relations developments."

CHARM SECRETS McEmore Lists Probable Planks in Ike's Platform

By HENRY McEMORE

I've never been to SHAPE; in fact, I have never been in shape. Nevertheless, I believe I can come closer to telling you what Gen. Ike thinks and feels than most of the senators, congressmen, delegates-at-large, ward-healers, and bandwagon jumpers, whose opinions one reads in newspapers, listens to on TV, and hears on radio.

The Democrats seem to feel that they are cooking with milk coats, butane, and high octane corruption when they ask, "What does Ike think?" They are wrong. They are paying Ike a compliment by admitting that he thinks.

It is time that someone thought in this country, even if he is the vegetarian candidate. For myself, I would just as lief have a president who chews carrots at his desk as one who eats raw hamburger and kills initiative in this country. Mentioning no names, mind you.

There are many causes for falling hair, but among them is a condition known medically as seborrhea. Seborrhea is commonly known as dandruff, or itchy scalp, or scurf, or dandruff, and the other, oily seborrhea. Both of these conditions are more common in the scalp than elsewhere, but may extend down to the eyebrows, face, and even other parts of the body.

There is no easy or quick cure for seborrhea. If some chronic, weakening disease is present, it should, of course be treated. Also such conditions as anemia or constipation should be taken care of.

I have a feeling that if he gets the Republican nomination, and is elected, he'll choose his own men. Not the men who, when they should be attending to the jobs given them by the people, are surfbording, so to speak, on the crest of Ike's popularity.

Hot running water that'll soften his beard when he shaves. And a razor blade that'll cut his whiskers, even if it doesn't sponsor a fight.

A hunting dog that thumps his hard tail on the back porch, and jumps all over him when he comes out in the dim light of early dawn with a shotgun in his hands.

A hearty 'WELL DONE' to Pampa's AGRICULTURAL PROCESSING PLANTS

PANHANDLE PACKING CO.

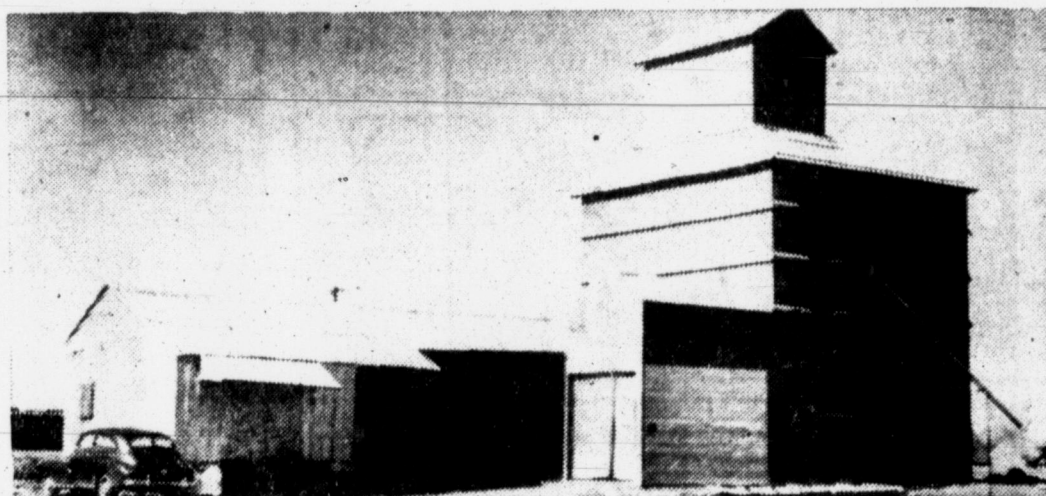

PANHANDLE PACKING CO.

Agriculture, one of Pampa's three primary industries, demands adequate processing facilities, if it is expected to flourish and add to the city's growth and development. To answer these demands are the agriculture processing plants being honored here during Texas Industrial week.

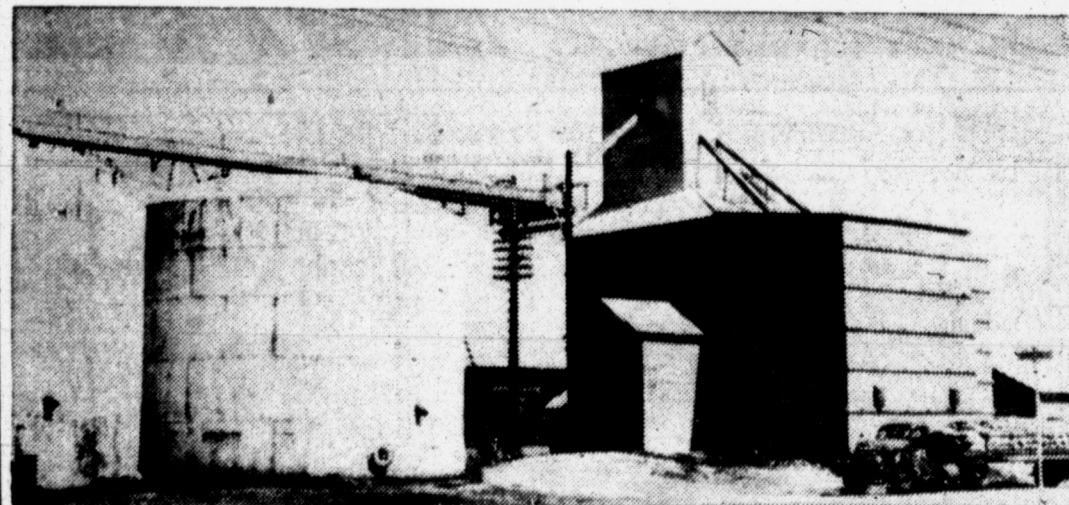

Upon these plants depend the farmer who needs a storage place for his grain, stockmen who need a meat processing plant, and dairymen who must have an outlet for their products.

The grain companies give assurance to the farmer that his grain will be protected until it has been sold. The dairies and creameries provide a market for the dairyman and also give the consumer a local source of supply. Like the dairies, the packing plant is here to serve locally the supplier and consumer. All play their part, an important one — in making Pampa a better place to live.

THE PUBLIC IS CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT THE CABOT GUN TUBE PLANT DURING ITS OPEN HOUSE FRIDAY 1:00 - 3:00 P. M. WEST OF THE CITY

JACOBY ON BRIDGE
End Play Is Worth Trying Sometimes

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
The end play is a weapon that you expect to see used by the expert declarer. He times his plays carefully and eventually turns the lead over to one of the defenders, whose return is bound to sacrifice a trick.

From the West hand, East played the queen, and South won the ace. It was clear to West that South had the jack of hearts, since East would have played the jack rather than the queen of hearts if he had been able to do so.

Test Finds Cancer Among Men Over 45

NEW YORK — (AP) — A new test discovered cancer of the prostate gland in 30 per cent of 100 men, all 45 or older, and all with no obvious signs of cancer.

The test and results were described by doctors at Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons, during a tour sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Prostate cancer is the main form of cancer in men over 40. The Columbia study was designed to learn more about it, and to detect it early.

Until more men are examined, it can't be assumed that 30 per cent of all men over 45 are likely to have unsuspected prostate cancer, the doctors said.

New Mexico Mayor No Dead-End

FARMINGTON, N. M. — (AP) — Mayor W. R. Gibson was pleased at first when the town board offered to name a street in a new subdivision for him. It didn't last.

After working this all out, Fishbein got out safely with his last diamond. Declarer could take his spades and his last diamond, but he would then have to lead clubs from the dummy or hearts from his own hand.

If declarer won the fourth diamond in dummy, East would discard a heart on the last diamond, saving two clubs and a heart to win the last three tricks.

Now Fishbein could count declarer's tricks. South could obviously make four spades and three diamonds. He had already won a trick with the ace of hearts. It would obviously be fatal for the defenders to lead hearts, for that would surely let declarer make his ninth trick with the jack of hearts.
