Truman Still Mum On Ike's Resignation At Conference See Early Return To Normal Output

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman declined to say today whether he has had any word that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower wants to leave his European Defense Command.

Truman replied that he had nothing to say on the subject when he was asked directly at a news conference whether he had received (1) either a request from Eisenhower for release, or (2) any notice that Eisenhower was making such a request.

The President then went on to say it was strictly up to Eisenhower when he gives up the Supreme Command of Allied Forces in Europe.

There have been recurrent reports that Eisenhower was about ready to return to the United States, and had, in fact, already communicated his desires to Washington. Truman's statements did nothing to knock down those reports.

Truman was asked whether he would make the announcement if and when Eisenhower does request release.

He replied that whenever General Eisenhower is ready to have an announcement made, it will be made — that it is strictly up to Eisenhower.

The Washington Evening Star published a story today saying Eisenhower's resignation is at the White House. The story said Eisenhower telephoned his wishes to Secretary of Defense Lovett last week and then awaited for transmission of the necessary papers.

The Star story added that it believed Eisenhower made a strong bid to have his top aide, Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, moved into his job as NATO commander.

Truman was asked at his news conference about a possible successor to Eisenhower.

The President would not say who might get the job.

But he remarked that he could not emphasize he did not say would name someone other than an American to that post.

18 Killed In Bolivia Revolution

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Bolivia's army officers' government rushed troops from 155 miles away as fighting continued through the night in a revolt trying to overthrow the Junta regime which seized power 11 months ago.

The rebels are backers of Victor Paz Estensolero, exiled leader of the National Revolutionary party (MNR).

Brig. Gen. Antonio Sotelo, interior minister in the military Junta, turned against his fellow officers and helped lead the revolt which began at dawn yesterday. At least 18 persons were killed and 60 injured during the first day's fighting.

Most of the army reportedly remained loyal to the military regime. Its forces gathered strength at a plateau 200 feet above La Paz and launched a night attack by bright moonlight on the rebels in the capital city.

Built 12,400 feet above sea level, La Paz is the world's highest capital. Gunshots cracked sharply through the thin mountain air. Several parts of the city were reportedly badly damaged by mortar fire.

The rebels, who included some army and police officers, reportedly held the Illimani radio station in La Paz and the suburban workers' district of Villa Victoria.

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The nation's giant steel industry — backbone of defense — throbbed back into gear today under the government's yoke.

Within 24 hours after President Truman's dramatic seizure of the plants, heads of the industry told Secretary of Commerce Sawyer he could count upon a return to normal production as soon as possible.

Sawyer said he is expected to confer today with Philip Murray, president of the CIO steelworkers, who called off the strike a short time after the President's declaration.

As the American flag flapped over the mills, the more than 100,000 steelworkers, their hands and feet numb from the cold, laid Sawyer's ultimatum to rest with fresh cheer.

"We'll get on with it and stop the trouble," was a common exclamation.

The steel industry's delegation of executives gave its assurance to Sawyer, one of the leaders in the industry went before a nation-wide radio and television audience to condemn the President's action.

Charles B. Randall, president of Inland Steel, termed Truman's seizure of the mills a "discharge of a national duty to the CIO."

He urged the steel industry immediately to show the government its willingness to do its part. He said that the industry's immediate response does not mean it decided to let the President's seizure order stand unopposed in any other way.

The industry could have yesterday taken the industry's first step back on President Truman's seizure order. But legal experts pointed out the action only after the government had taken its first step.

City Engineer Ray Evans said the work party in town now consisted mostly of key supervisory personnel and actual work is not expected to start until Monday. He added that only part of the machinery to be used has arrived.

The 12-inch main part of the $55,000 civic improvement bond issue program, will be completed before work on the 16-inch main is laid to the S. Hobart pump station.

Water Main Work Starts Here Today

Construction supervisors on the sewer line and Main Street Works, Oklahoma City, moved the first pieces of equipment to Pampa today to start construction of the 12-inch water main from Gillespie and Kingman west to Warren.

Earthquake Tremor Felt In Midwest

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A survey of damage from yesterday's earthquake, described by seismologists as "moderately strong," has unaccounted for one casualty.

The quake was felt in portions of six midwestern states.

Mrs. Della DeWane, 74, of Tulsa, was hit and injured by falling plaster at her home. She was not seriously injured.

Other serious damage seems confined to cracked walls, falling bricks, sagging boards and mental strain.

Oklahomans who had been in a state of continual fear since Tuesday night when tornadoes were sighted throughout the state, forgot about the weather quickly.

The quake was felt from North Texas to Omaha and Iowa. Missouri, with the main force centered in Central Oklahoma. It was called one of the strongest ever recorded from the midwestern United States by seismologists at St. Louis University.

No Phone Strike Here

Long distance telephoning was haphazard today, but there was no walkout by any Pampa operator.

Elsewhere, the "hello" girls said goodbye to their job when Western Electric employees picketed the exchanges.

George Newberry, manager of the Southwestern Bell Telephone system, said long distance connections depended on the strike activity in other cities.

The "no picket" tactic of strikers means that some cities could be reached one hour and another in 15 minutes.

Flood Surge Continues In Midwest

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — Streets of this capital city of 5700 inhabitants resounded thirty minutes today as flood waters of the Missouri river, aged slowly but steadily upward.

The Big Muddy spilled onto about 100 blocks of Pierre and all of Fort Pierre, a town of about 700 persons across the river. Red Cross officials estimated about 1000 persons already were homeless.

It was Pierre's worst flood in 51 years.

A crest of 25 feet was expected some time today. The Missouri stood at 27 1/2 feet at nine o'clock last night and the swelling water was climbing at a rate of 5 feet an hour. Flood surge here is 15 feet.

Army engineers issued flood warnings for downstream cities along the neighboring stream. The crest was expected to hit Sioux City, Ia., Monday or Tuesday, and swirl into Omaha, Neb., April 17-18.

Vegetable-Eating Cat Celebrates 17th Birthday

STAMFORD (AP) — A cat named Oswald marked her 17th birthday yesterday, and her owner credited the longevity to a diet of vegetables.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Abbott say Oswald — who acquired her name early in life before the Abbots were here of their pet's sex — has all her teeth. And her hearing and eyesight are good.

Mrs. Abbott admits Oswald likes milk and eats hamburger meat occasionally. But she likes vegetables best — and that's what Oswald had for her birthday.

WU Pickets Walk In Texas

By The Associated Press

Strikes in telephone, telegraph and steel industries continued in Texas today as the threat of an oil industry crisis developed.

Western Electric strikers threw picket lines around Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. exchanges in some 25 Texas cities yesterday and creeping paralysis of telephone service resulted.

About 5000 telephone workers — more than 1500 of them in Dallas — left their jobs as operators honored picket lines of the Western Electric strikers. Both groups are members of the Communications Workers of America (CIO).

Meanwhile, the Western Union telegraph strike situation remained static. Company officials said some strikers were returning to work and union officials acknowledged that some were going back to their jobs.

The Western Electric pickets yesterday were patrolling telephone exchanges in Amarillo, Austin, Houston, Lubbock, Tyler, Abilene, Fort Worth, McAllen, Dallas, San Antonio, Waco, Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, Midland, Edinburg, Mission, Pharr, Taylor, Arlington, Mesquite, Big Spring, Weatherford, Mineral Wells, Cleburne and Grand Prairie.

Support Urged For Cancer Scrap Fund

Housewives should gather scrap metal around their homes and place it on the street curbs for Saturday's scrap pickup, Dr. Emily Hicks, Gray county cancer fund drive chairman, said today.

She said the drive would serve two important purposes. First, it would help in the purchase of needed metal for the defense effort would be obtained. Second, proceeds from selling the scrap would be turned over to the cancer fund.

The Boy Scouts will man trucks donated by local automobile dealers. The pickup will begin at 9 a. m. and scrap should be placed out of doors before that, Dr. Hicks said.

In other cancer news, Dr. Hicks said a "postman's march" will be held here April 21. By this system, contributors can place money in an envelope, address it to the Postman's March, Pampa, stamp it and drop it in the mail box. She said the post office is cooperating in the project.

April 20 will be observed as cancer prayer day in the city churches, Dr. Hicks announced. Prayers will be said for all cancer victims.

Taft May Win Moral N. J. Victory

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Some of Sen. Robert A. Taft's campaign lieutenants are well pleased, privately, with the outlook for him in next week's New Jersey primary — an election they say has been rigged against him.

The underdog's role, which they claim for the Senator, is by no means an uncomfortable one.

Their reasoning is that Taft has very little to lose in this situation and — something the unexpected happens — everything to gain. Even a sizable total of popular votes in New Jersey for Taft would permit his backers to claim a "moral victory."

Taft goes to the post next Tuesday against Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Minnesota Gov. Harold E. Stassen in the GOP primary. The election has a preferential ballot, a "popularity contest," and it will name 38 delegates to the Republican convention.

The state organization slate, headed by Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll, is listed on the ballot as unpledged.

As Pampa Plans Clean-Up: Sanitation Cited As A Major Contributor To Better Health

Physicians on the state and local level today prescribed sanitation as one of the best medications for prevention of disease.

They pointed out clean-up and sanitation was particularly important as summer approached and return of disease-bearing insects was imminent.

This was brought out as Pampa laid plans for its annual clean-up drive throughout the city scheduled to begin April 21. Civic clubs, schools and city departments will participate in collection of garbage and trash and in emphasizing the project which is slated to end May 3.

But the doctors warned Pampans should not let up in the clean-up project.

Atomic Gun Is Developed

NEW YORK (AP) — The United States has an atomic cannon in production, Time magazine said yesterday.

The story says the cannon fires an atomic bomb but does not state whether any except mock A-bombs have been exploded.

The Army and Atomic Energy commission confirmed this week an imitation bomb was exploded in exercise to big Horn in Texas. Time claims, adding impurities in the war material ruled 600 men knocked out of a train by this one shell.

Artillery capable of firing atomic shells has been tested, Army Chief of Staff J. Lawton Collins said in an interview last winter.

Chairman McMahon (D-Conn.) of the Congressional Atomic committee and several members of the House and Senate are expected to introduce legislation to fire atomic shells.

With Time's story is an artist's sketch illustrating the gun as about the length of a railroad flat car. The carriage is designed so jeeps can pick up each end to transport it. When set down, the carriage can be latched to earth in firing position.

The gun is said to be four times more accurate than the average field piece, although no range is given. Total weight is reported at around 75 tons.

Hoover To Figure In Clean-Up Move

WASHINGTON —(AP)— There's no reason why the investigation of government corruption charges, already an incredible mess, can't get worse.

Soon after President Truman named him the new attorney general, James P. McGranery seemed to have doubts there is any corruption but said he'd have J. Edgar Hoover look into it.

If the administration was thinking of an investigation in political terms, then picking the FBI chief for the job would seem like a very small political move, on paper anyway.

Hoover has the public's confidence as the best investigator in the government. And his relations with Congress, where the administration gets most of its criticism, have been extraordinarily good for years.

So good, in fact, that of all those now holding top jobs in this administration Hoover probably would have the best chance of keeping his if the Republicans won in November.

After all, it was the Republicans who put him in his present job back in the 1920's and he was so able the Democrats have kept him there ever since.

But by one of those same strange twists which have made the whole corruption investigation so remarkable, Hoover's first assignment won't be investigating corruption but investigating McGranery.

As attorney general and head of the justice department, McGranery would be Hoover's boss, but before the judge can have the job he must be approved by the Senate.

And before the Senate gets a chance to approve, the Senate's judiciary committee must look him over. It so happens the committee is headed by Senator McCarran who, although he's a Democrat from Nevada, is no friend of Truman's.

And McCarran told Hoover, before the committee questions McGranery, to give him a report on the judge. Other members of Congress want to quiz McGranery about his handling of the America magazine case in 1945 when McGranery was an assistant attorney general.

So for some time to come the public's attention may be diverted from the problem of the investigation of government corruption to the investigation of McGranery.

If McGranery finally passes his examination, Hoover can start pumping into him information on government corruption, if any. At first the public may be startled by Hoover's silence.

Then it will remember that Hoover and the FBI never say much about the dirt they uncover since they never prosecute anybody for anything. It's not their job.

Their job is to gather information on wrongdoing and then turn it over to the attorney general for whatever action he wants to take. They generally leave it up to him to make the public statements.

There's hardly any doubt that Hoover has quite a bale of information on government employees in his files. And it's sure that the FBI never throws information away.

It has had the job of checking up on government employees' loyalty and in this one search alone it must have accumulated a tidy mine of material on government workers' morals, ethics and general conduct which, while not showing disloyalty, might still not be praiseworthy.

All in all things shouldn't be dull around here.

"I'm so thrilled about going to camp this summer—no dishes to wash for eight weeks!"

Hearts Is Fun and Easy

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Written for NEA Service

Properly played, hearts is one of the finest of all card games. It's also very easy to teach to a beginner.

Any number may play, but the game is best for four or five players. Just take a regular deck of cards (52 cards) and deal them out one at a time until all the cards are exhausted. (If there are three players, remove the deuce of clubs from the deck, and then each player will get 17 cards. If there are five players, remove the deuce of clubs and the deuce of diamonds.)

The player at dealer's left leads any card, and each player must follow suit if he can. A player who cannot follow suit may discard whatever he pleases. A trick is won by the highest card of the suit led (as in bridge with no trump suit), and the winner of a trick leads to the next trick.

Object

The object of the game is to avoid winning tricks that contain hearts. Each heart counts 1 point against you, and the queen of spades counts 13 points against you. If you win all the hearts and the queen of spades, you count all those points in your favor instead of against you.

As you can see, the game is a cinch to learn. The first few hands you play may seem a bit strange or confusing, but you'll be a veteran in no time at all.

Now here's a new wrinkle for experienced hearts players. Use the ten of diamonds as a plus-card. All the other key cards (the hearts and the queen of spades) are minus cards, but you'll be a diamond counts 10 points in your favor.

"Painted"

The little addition has a very far-reaching effect on the game. At the beginning of most hands you try to avoid winning a trick. You don't want to get "painted" with the queen of spades by winning some miserable trick in clubs or diamonds. (The player who has as soon as he has a chance. In some games, in fact, this is a compulsory first discard.)

At the end of a hand, when the ten of diamonds is a plus card, you change your tactics. By that time the queen of spades has been discarded, and you want to win the last few tricks in order to capture the ten of diamonds.

If you're a real expert, your play on the first few tricks will avoid winning but will preserve the chance to win a trick later on.

For example, if clubs are led at the first trick, and you hold jack-nine-four-deuce, you will play the nine of clubs at the first trick.

Danger

There's not much danger of getting a heart or the queen of spades on the first trick, so it's safe to play high. The four and deuce are saved for later club tricks, when the danger of a discard is much greater. You will then be able to play low, allowing somebody else to win the trick.

Note, however, that you save the jack of clubs. That may be useful later on, after the queen of spades has been discarded. The player who can win the last three or four tricks has a good chance to capture the ten of diamonds in one of those tricks.

MacArthur Takes A Crack At Ike

Those who are favoring the candidacy of Gen. Dwight Eisenhower for the GOP nomination for Presidency must have received a rude shock with the announcement that Gen. Douglas MacArthur appears to have joined the anti-Eisenhower movement against Ike's campaign.

Public Members Weigh Board Vote

I really did not realize how much the labor unions had been the Wage Board stacked in their favor until I read the following telegram sent to President Truman by Congressmen Ralph W. Gwinn. I reproduce the telegram below:

President Harry S. Truman, White House, Washington, D. C.

Dear Mr. President:

Consenters in my district are shocked to learn that some of the public members on the Wage Stabilization Board, who recommended approximately 30 cents an hour or $2.40 per day, an all-time high increase of pay, to stop the CIO steel strike were actually receiving compensation from CIO and AFL just prior to their appointment to the Board by you. These public members are supposed to be disinterested, impartial representatives of the public, beholden neither to labor nor to management in the controversy. Nathan Folsinger, Chairman of the Wage Stabilization Board, has been the official arbitrator of CIO since 1943 and paid very substantial amounts by them. He is their spokesman in the report of the Taft-Hartley Act. How could he impartially decide against CIO in the steel strike without endangering the loss of future union employment as arbitrator in labor disputes?

There was a story in the papers the other day about two men having been found dead in the steam room of a Turkish bath and I began to wonder why at least six men are still alive. These six are major addicts of the steam rooms and they don't count it worth taking their clothes off unless they can be guaranteed a paralytic in liquid soap and heat. In addition to having an addiction to steam rooms, three of the six are hopeless victims of the sauna, or Finnish bath, in which the attendants dip stiff limbs in liquid soap and heat the customers to death, meanwhile raising a mighty foam on the cadavers.

Henry Picks The Yankees To Win The 1952 World Series

By HENRY McEMORE

Private Opinions Made Public: Before the public demands that I not do it, let me set your hearts at rest about the finish of the American and National League seasons. The Yankees, as usual, will win in the American. Cleveland will be second and Boston third. What happens to the other five clubs is not important except to the owners. In the National I will climb out on a limb with the certainty of a varsity letter-winner. I like the Philadelphia Phillies to win it all, with the Brooklyn finishing second, the Giants third, and the Cardinals fourth. As for the 1952 World Series, the Yankees will win. Let it be remembered that those who accept bets from minors on these predictions will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

The American Way

By DR. ALFRED F. HAAKE

This, I believe, may not be a popular piece, for it comes too close to the truth to be comfortable for many readers. But it is more important than any other I have written, and it must be said. A prominent clergyman in the Chicago area makes the mistake that is typical of many good people who, without realizing what they are doing, give aid and comfort to the most deadly enemy of the Christian faith. He conceals the real fellow-traveler of communism by pointing in the wrong direction at those whom he denounces as fellow-travelers.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR F. JORDAN, M. D.

Mrs. C. asks for a diagnosis on fibrositis, especially that which is centered in the back of the neck and neck, and wants to know whether it can become vertigo, or may spread to other parts of the body. Fibrositis is a kind of rheumatism which affects particularly the soft tissues such as the muscles and ligaments. It may center around the neck as Mrs. C. suggests, or almost anywhere else in the body. In general, it is characterized by pain and aching soreness when the part is moved and a certain amount of stiffness.

National Whirligig.. Party Leaders Puzzled By Truman's Partiality To Ike

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Although President Truman's desire for a Democratic victory in the coming election is well known, party leaders are puzzled by his apparent partiality toward Dwight D. Eisenhower as the Republican standard-bearer. Consciously or unconsciously, Truman has helped the military hero's candidacy in several ways from their viewpoint. In view of the President's mastery of the political trade, they cannot be blamed if they regard his actions as deliberate rather than accidental.

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

Thirty-six years ago a young fellow sat in a one-room office in Chicago and wondered about the gamble he would make. He had just given up a steady job as civil engineer and was about to open a school for home study the little known science of identification through finger printing. The young man's name is T. G. Cooke. Cooke is still the active head of the organization he started. And one-third of the identification bureaus of the United States are headed by graduates of his school.

WARREN'S ARMUP

By Warren Thorne—Sports Editor

QUESTION: Did Jim Thorpe ever play major league baseball?

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

BUCKY HARRIS, manager of Washington Senators: "That's the way with the Yankees. They've always got a replacement. Billy Martin breaks a leg and Gerry Coleman goes into the Marines, so they come up with Andy Carey at third base who might be better than either of them, and will have the chance to play and prove it. About the Senators? Not a bad team. I can tell you one thing. We're not going to win the pennant."

WILL HARRIDGE, president, American League: "There will be no more feeding by other clubs on the St. Louis Browns. We feel we're now in good hands in St. Louis. The Browns will be much stronger. They will give us a major league all the way around. Year after year, there was no improvement in the dreary outlook in St. Louis. But Bill Veech has lived up to the town as only Bill can.

"This is the spot that will make our league stronger than ever before. The DeWitts did a good job with the Browns, but their capital was limited. Veech has strong financial backing. I remember a few years ago when the Athletics went into St. Louis for a series, and didn't make enough to pay their hotel bill. There'll be no more of that in St. Louis. And I'm delighted that Rogers Hornsby is back. He's a real manager."

GUS ZERNIAL, who led the majors in strikeouts in 1950-'51: "The strikeouts concern other people more than me. I couldn't have struck out too many times with men on base, if I drove in 129 runs, could I? Look, it's like this. With men on base I concentrate on getting them in unless we've got to have a homer to win in the late innings. With nobody on, I go for that ion g ball."

RAY BAUER, business manager, American League: "This team is shaping like the best Clovis team ever to be fielded. Grover (Seitz) is slated over the progress being made but won't be able to pass final judgment on the club until the pitchers get a chance to work in exhibition games.

"The pitching staff is the big worry right now. Grover knows he needs one more good pitcher and he is making every effort to procure one."

LEO DUROCHER, miracle manager, New York Giants: "I wouldn't trade Alvin Dark for Phil Rizzuto and Pee Wee Reese. My man is only 29, while the other two have played four or five years more. A good shortstop is indispensable to a pennant winner. If the Red Sox had had a shortstop, maybe Dark, they would have won four pennants. Phil Rizzuto beat us almost single handed in the world series with his great defensive play. Without Phil in the Yankee lineup, we walk in. What made our ballclub? No one but Dark. He was the difference between a doubleplay and a big inning. As a playmaker, he got our boys back on the bench when, in other years, they'd still be in the middle of an enemy rally. He made our pitchers winners. The outstanding shortstops in baseball today? There are only four—Dark, Rizzuto, Chico Carrasquel and Reese. Roy Smalley of the Cubs is developing."

PHIL HANDLER, former TCU star and Chicago Cardinal coach: "Texas Christian has come up with some big guys for a change. It could be a powerhouse next season."

THE MAN AND HIS SHADOWS—Stan Musial's celebrated batting stance, left, which reminds rivals of a man looking over his shoulder, is being widely copied by other major league hitters. Yankee outfielder Gene Woodling, center, strikingly resembles The Man. Bobby Thomson of the Giants is a right-hander trying it the Cardinal star's way, feet close together, knees bent and shoulders hunched. (NEA)

Baseball Camp Training Briefs

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Washington Senators make their 1952 home town debut tonight against the Brooklyn Dodgers in Griffith Stadium.

The Nats ended their nine-game tour with the Cincinnati Reds with a 3-2 loss yesterday. Bob Porterfield, is slated to pitch tonight's first seven innings.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. — (AP) — Only a couple of new faces will appear in the Detroit Tigers opening day lineup.

They are Matt Batts, catching, and rookie Ben Taylor at first. If Art Houtteman still has his pitching poise in tomorrow's exhibition against the Cincinnati Reds, he'll be the starting pitcher. Art rejoins the team at Columbus, O., following an absence caused by the death of his infant daughter.

ATLANTA — (AP) — The Chicago White Sox will wind up their spring excursion against the Atlanta Crackers today and then lead for Chicago.

CHICAGO — (AP) — The Chicago Cubs rained out of their final two exhibition games in Kansas, were due home today for the annual spring series with the Chicago White Sox.

Manager Phil Cavarretta plans a workout in Wrigley Field before the three game series with the White Sox starting tomorrow.

The Cubs wound up with a citrus league mark of 20-8.

TULSA, Okla. — (AP) — Because of "keen competition" in the outfield, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez still won't list his opening day lineup.

RICHMOND, Ind. — (AP) — When it comes to the Cincinnati Reds, the management would much rather have the talk turn to the pitching, hitting and home run output out of it.

Skipper Luke Sewell said flatly of his moundmen yesterday, "It's the best pitching staff I ever had."

RICHMOND, Va. — (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals continued their northward exhibition tour with the Philadelphia Phils here today after boosting their Grapefruit League standing to .500 on two straight wins.

The Cards defeated the Phillies, 5-6, yesterday.

ST. LOUIS — (AP) — The St. Louis Browns returned to their home park today after cancelling two remaining exhibition games with the Chicago Cubs because of adverse weather conditions.

Rain and 36-degree temperatures knocked out yesterday's scheduled meeting at Wichita, Kas., and similar conditions at Topeka, Kas., cancelled today's contest.

SHREVEPORT, La. — (AP) — Manager Leo Durocher of the New York Giants laid the law down to Dick Wakefield today.

"Right now I'm not interested so much in what you do at the bat or in the field," the skipper told his outfielder. "I know you

Irish Qualify Five In Regional

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Coach B. L. Hill's 1952 track crew is a worthy successor to the crews he turned out in 1950 and 1951. This time the wily Hill turned out five district qualifiers for the regional meet at Lubbock April 19.

Unsuccessful at the 100 and 200-yard dashes, Jimmy Don Lamb, fleet halfback, won third in the 3-AAA 100-yard low hurdles event at Memphis last week.

Fast running Eugene Smith, a newcomer to track, set the pace by winning the district mile while football star Dwayne Hager placed first in both shot put and discus.

Jimmy Pennington, halfback plunging star, qualified with a third in the 440, while his halfback mate, Don Curton, took the first in the pole vault event at Memphis.

The International League.

Yesterday Wright added to his spring training laurels by limiting the Danville Leafs to three hits in three frames as the A's coach, H. W. Callan, line coach, won, 15-5.

Scrimmage Due For Shamrock Gridders

SHAMROCK (Special) — First real test for the 1952 Irish gridders will come at Denver field here either Friday or the early part of next week when they scrimmage the seniors, Coach Scott McCall reports.

Seniors are "loaded for bear" when the groups clash. They will come on to the field with the entire 1951 line. Expected to start up front for the seniors are: Van Pennington, all-state end, and Bobby Campbell, ends; Dwayne Hager, all-Southern tackle, and Bill Harris, tackle; all-regional Mack Terry and former all-regional Eugene Collinsworth, guards; and all-regional Bill York, center.

Good Quarterbacking

Seniors will depend on crack quarterback Charley Francis, both to field general the senior crew and hurl passes at both dangerous ends. Faul Hartwick, veteran fullback, will fill his old post, but identity of the other two backs is not certain. . . . Francis should do quite well at passing, with plenty of time as the big, great 1951 line blocks for him and dangerous Van Pennington scoots for the clear in his sensational style. Crewmen for 1952 must also watch Bobby Campbell for over the line shoring leaves.

But the scrimmage will not be all gravy for the seniors. Facing them may be Norrell Perkins and Bill Parks or George Hendrick at end; James Henderson and Paul Cooper at tackle; Gobby Johnson and Ronald Settle at guard; and likely LeeRoy Parsons or Kay Nunn at center.

More Work Ahead

Good as quarterback York is, he may find the going rough as Jimmy Don Lamb, dash star, all-regional center seeks to overthrow 52ers plays. And there will be six more potent linemen laying the same.

Other backs likely to get in the scrimmage for the 1952 bunch are Jimmy Don Lamb, dash star, John More, a punter, and shifty, speedy Johnnie Hartwick, younger brother of the seniors' plunging Paul, and Dwayne Beaty.

Scrimmages for the next two weeks will set up both crews for the annual senior-1952 classic near the end of April. That will be a full-fledged, regulation combat.

Spring grid drills started Monday with Coach Scott McCall assisted by Clarence Morris, end coach, H. W. Callan, line coach,

Bronx Bul' Coming Back

DETROIT — (AP) — Jake Lamotta's comeback express still thundered along today. The 30-year-old former middleweight champion battered his former conqueror, Norman Hayes, in a 10-round slugfest last night to grab a unanimous decision.

"Think I'll be ready for another fight in three weeks," said the Bronx Bull who wants to fight once a month. No opponent has been named.

Jake, fighting in his "lucky city" of Detroit for the 26th time, was the same old shuffler and slugger. The crowd roared as he swapped whirlwind punches with Hayes for the last minute of most every round. Jake weighed 167 1/2 and Hayes 162.

Lamotta was in trouble only in the early rounds of this battle — his 100th in 12 years as a pro.

Hayes, 21-year-old Bostonian, grabbed an edge with his face jabs and blasts to the body in the first, second and fourth rounds.

But Jake rocked his foe in the last five rounds.

The 6,204 fans who paid $17.631 roared at Jake, their favorite, to finish off Hayes in the tenth round. Jake's jolting left staggered Hayes but the round ended before Jake could put him down.

And B. L. Hill, junior high mentor.

Disqualification Review Slated

AUSTIN — (AP) — The disqualification of Oklahoma's mile relay team in the Texas Relays will be reviewed next week in the light of a protest filed by Oklahoma Athletic Director Bud Wilkinson.

The Sooner quartet was disqualified when the judges ruled anchor runner J. W. Mashburn cut in too soon on a turn and broke the stride of the Texas A&M runner.

Coach John Jacobs of Oklahoma said in his opinion Mashburn was approximately seven feet ahead when he cut in and this met the provisions of the rules. The rule is that a runner must be one running stride or approximately seven feet ahead before cutting in.

A&M, which finished second in the relay, was moved up to first on the disqualification of Oklahoma.

Even had Oklahoma won the mile relay its team would not have won the meet.

Athletic Director D. X. Bible of Texas is out of town and won't return until next week. Assistant Athletic Director Ed Cline said no review of the alleged foul could be made until Bible returned.

Governor Tosses Ball

CHICAGO — (AP) — Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois will toss out the first ball when the Chicago White Sox open their regular season Tuesday against the Cleveland Indians.

Golfing Thrills: Brosch's 60 With 24 Putts

By AL BROSCH

As told to Frank Eck

AP Newsfeatures Sports Editor

My most thrilling moment in golf came when I holed a putt on the 18th green in the Texas Open at Brackenridge Park in San Antonio last February. It gave me a 60 and the lowest round ever in a PGA-sponsored tournament.

I was fairly accurate that day and didn't get into a bit of trouble. That, plus the fact that I required only 24 putts for the round gave me a 60. I had 30 each nine for 11 birdies on the par 71 course and missed only two greens on approach shots.

One 20-footer was the longest putt I holed. Most of the putts were between 10 and 20 feet.

The same day I had the 60, Harry Todd shot a 62, and Doug Ford came in with a 63.

The 60 may be a PGA record but it wasn't enough to win the Texas Open. I finished fourth.

Another thrill came when I made a hole in one at Plandome. My 6 iron shot hit about two feet behind the hole and fell into the cup, thanks to the backspin.

Picking Date For Texas Cup

DALLAS — (AP) — David (Spec) Goldman, co-chairman of the Texas Cup Matches between the amateurs and professionals to be played this year for the benefit of charity, is conferring with L. W. (Smiley) Rowland, president of the Texas PGA, regarding setting a date for the golf show.

Goldman has written Rowland inquiring as to his progress toward arranging a date. Rowland, co-chairman of the matches, is attempting to set a time when top Texas golfers like Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Jimmie Demaret, Jack Burke, Henry Ransom and Chucky Klein can be here.

The matches will be in Dallas and Goldman said when Rowland decided on a date he would start working with the Dallas Golf Association to obtain a course.

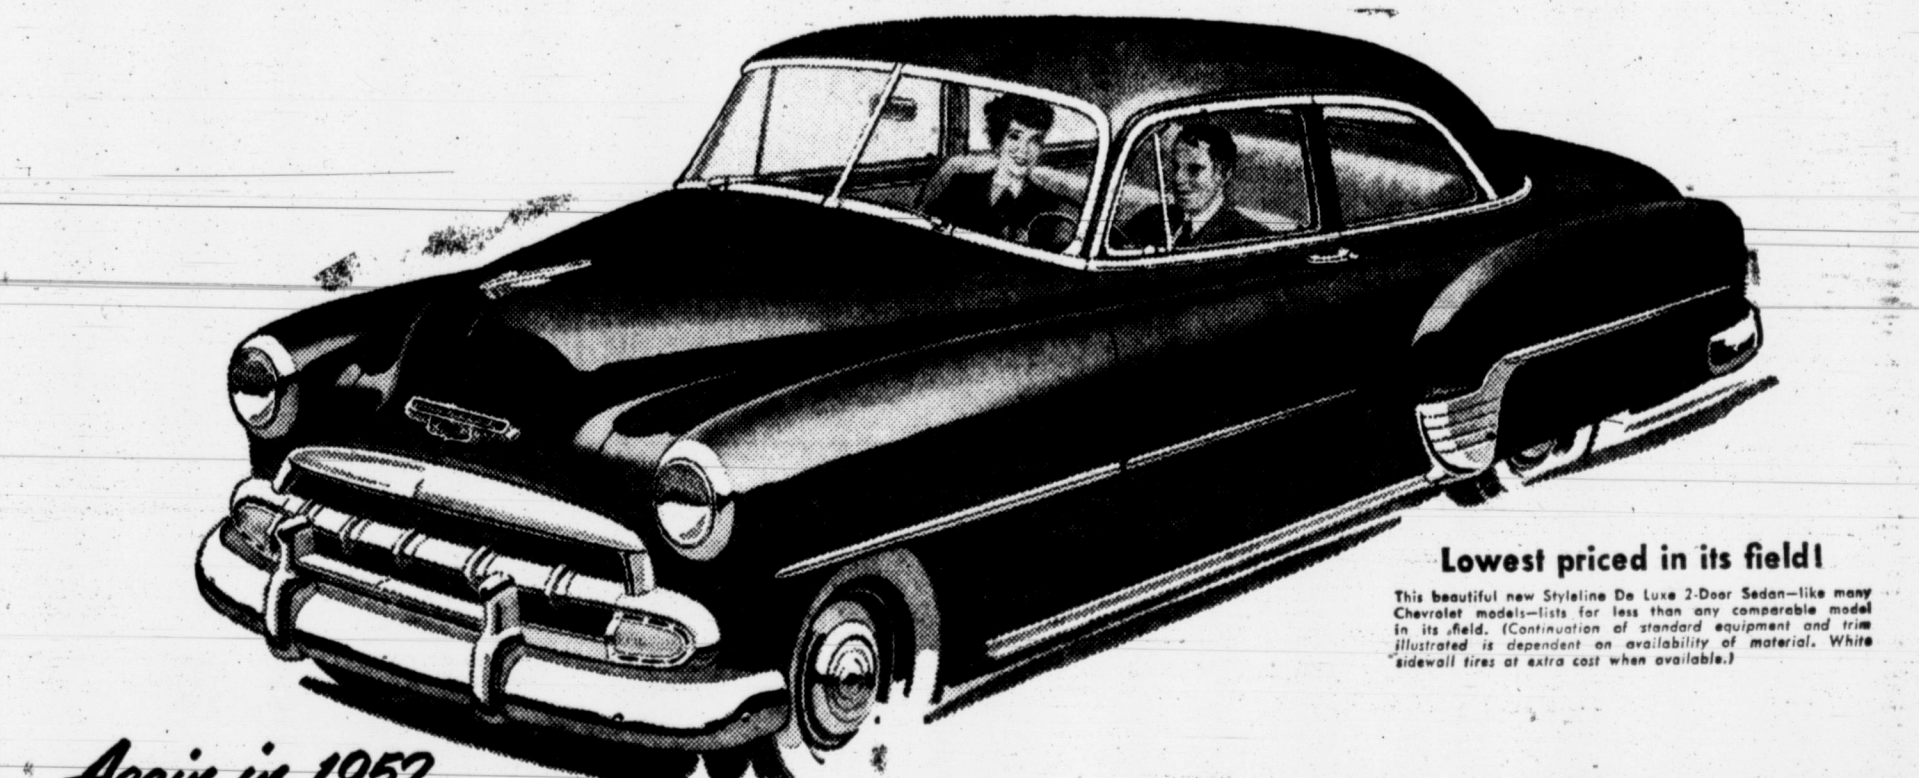

Goldman is hopeful that the matches can be held ahead of Aug. 18 so Billy Maxwell of North Texas State, the National Amateur champion, can compete. After that Maxwell will not be available.

Government Corruption Probe Might Be Talked To Death

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—Chances look good for the investigation of government corruption to be talked to death.

Even if the wheels started moving now, and they haven't, there wouldn't be much time for a thorough search. There are only eight months to election.

Although President Truman picked Judge James P. McGranery for attorney general last week it may be many weeks before he gets the job, if ever.

He can't get it unless the Senate approves. Before the Senate vote the Senate Judiciary committee will examine and question him, taking weeks, maybe.

In the course of those weeks the investigation of government corruption may be lost sight of in the investigation of McGranery.

Indefinitely
When it's all over, if the Senate disapproves, Truman will have to find another attorney general. This could go on indefinitely.

In the end McGranery may get Senate approval. That by no means starts the investigation going full swing.

Members of a House Judiciary subcommittee are investigating the justice department and they may want a crack at McGranery, since he'd be boss of it.

The subcommittee may also question J. Edgar Hoover if McGranery goes ahead with his announced plan of having the FBI chief investigate corruption.

The questioning of Hoover probably will not be critical but will be done to find out how he feels about being No. 1 investigator of government.

As attorney general and head of the justice department, McGranery would have the right to tell Hoover to make the investigation.

But Hoover has hordes of friends in Congress and he's already on record as not wanting to spread the work of the FBI any further than it is now.

When Newbold Morris came down here Feb. 1 to be the No. 1 investigator, President Truman asked Congress to let him subpoena witnesses.

Without such power Morris would have his hands tied. Congress tied them. It refused him the power.

But then a bill was introduced to give Hoover the very power which Congress refused Morris, thus making Hoover the No. 1 digger into corruption.

Hoover objected. He didn't want the subpoena power. Congress promptly knocked down the bill.

Investigative Agency
The FBI under Hoover is an investigative agency. It can't compel witnesses to testify. It prosecutes no one. It turns its information over to the justice department to prosecute if it wishes.

McGranery, who was very vague in his answer, said that he would like to see what Hoover has in mind for Hoover, and how Hoover feels about it.

If Hoover gets involved in an investigation like this, he may get smeared by one side or the other, which is about the last thing he'd like since he's spent a lifetime building up the reputation of himself and the FBI.

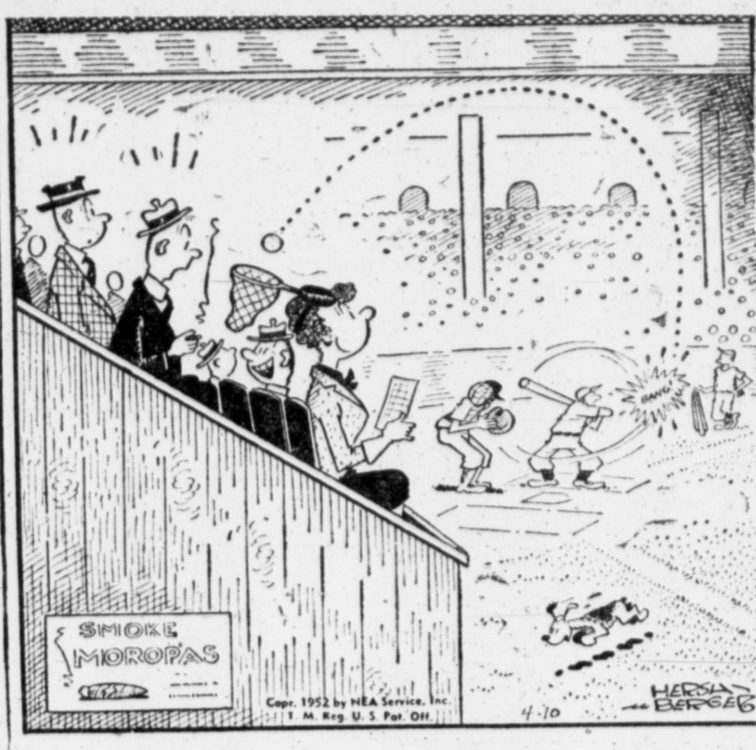

Friends Alert
And because he has powerful friends in Congress they'll probably be alert to see that he doesn't get into embarrassing situations, although Hoover himself said anything about McGranery's idea.

He hardly could say anything. So far as is known McGranery hasn't communicated his ideas to Hoover but only expressed them to newsmen.

Already the movement in Congress has started to keep Hoover out of the investigation-of-corruption assignment.

Sen. Watkins, Utah Republican, said he thinks Hoover "ought to refuse" the assignment.

"If he starts digging out facts about some agencies," Watkins said, "the FBI is going to be accused of prejudice, and if it

GROWS BIG LEMON
ROLAND, Man. — (AP)—H. V. Van Wyck who bought a tiny lemon plant two years ago now has a remarkable lemon. Two ordinary lemons dropped off the plant when ripe but a third grew to 12 inches in circumference, weighing three-quarters of a pound.

On the House side another Republican, Rep. Bakewell of Missouri, said he's fearful McGranery's proposal would "actually interfere with the work of the FBI in protecting our internal security."

Rules On Absentee Vote Of Servicemen Are Outlined

AUSTIN — Rules governing absentee voting by servicemen of Texas have been sent to all county clerks by Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd.

The instructions list qualifications and who are on extended active duty may vote during 1952 without paying their poll tax and without obtaining a poll tax exemption certificate. Whether the poll tax is levied by the state or any political subdivision, the serviceman need not pay it to vote in any election.

Any person who, at the time of the election, or within 18 months prior to the date of the election, was on extended active duty as a member of any of the reserve components of the armed forces, a selective service draftee, a member of the National Guard, on duty with federal forces, and members of the Maritime service and Merchant Marine is qualified to vote without a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate provided he was at least 21 years old on the day of the election, a citizen of the United States, has resided in Texas at least a year preceding the election and for 6 months within the County in which he offers to vote. Time spent in the military service after the beginning of the above periods may be counted in determining if these time limits have been met.

To vote a serviceman cannot be a member on active duty of the regular or permanent military establishment of the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines.

Details of how servicemen can determine whether they are eligible to vote without a poll tax are as follows:

Armed services personnel who are qualified to vote in Texas and who are on extended active duty may vote during 1952 without paying their poll tax and without obtaining a poll tax exemption certificate. Whether the poll tax is levied by the state or any political subdivision, the serviceman need not pay it to vote in any election.

Any person who, at the time of the election, or within 18 months prior to the date of the election, was on extended active duty as a member of any of the reserve components of the armed forces, a selective service draftee, a member of the National Guard, the United States Maritime Service, or the United States Merchant Marine, may vote even though he has not paid his poll tax or obtained a certificate of exemption. To vote without paying his poll tax, the serviceman must be or must have been on extended active duty and not merely on active duty for a week-end or for several weeks during the summer must pay his poll tax to vote.

The Constitution waives the requirement of payment of the poll tax as a condition precedent to the right to vote for these servicemen.

Servicemen's wives and dependents and civilians serving with the armed forces must either receive satisfactory evidence that he pay their poll taxes or obtain an "exemption certificate" in order to indicate whether he is a member of the regular or permanent "exemption certificate," or affidavit of military establishment. When ballots are ready, the absentee ballot must be mailed to the county clerk who has made application. Except for these differences, however, no absentee ballots may be mailed in the manner here described for voting by servicemen.

Shepperd's instructions also detail how servicemen can make and use the armed forces, post applications for ballots and the end application has no space to indicate whether the applicant is a qualified serviceman or not. It is for the county clerk to determine if the applicant is a qualified serviceman or not. It is suggested that in which the serviceman resides, the statement "I am not a member of the regular or permanent military establishment of the United States" be added to return of state and will be for the application for absentee ballot forwarded promptly to the appropriate statement which the private county clerk. The postcard serviceman makes under oath and application for an absentee ballot returns with his completed ballot.

Sculpture And Poetry Studied At Forum Meet

Mrs. Calvin Jones and Mrs. Aubrey Steele presented a program on sculpture and poetry at the Twentieth Century Forum meeting this week in the home of Mrs. J. B. McCreary.

Mrs. Jones discussed Malvina Hoffman, outstanding American sculptress who was a pupil of Rodin, famous French sculptor. Her first international acclaim came in 1915 when she completed Pavlova Gavotte and Bacchanale Fuisse. She made many portraits of the famous Russian dancer.

"In the Field Museum, in Chicago," Mrs. Jones explained, "there are 100 pieces of sculpture done by Miss Hoffman, representing 100 different races of mankind. She traveled around the world in order to select her models and modeled them in their natural environment. Nothing quite like this aggregation of sculptures is to be found outside of Chicago."

"Miss Hoffman has received many honors and awards and her work can be seen in many of the museums in this country and in Europe."

Mrs. Steele discussing the life and works of Robert Frost, a New England poet who is often called the Voice of New England, explained that Frost is one of the first writers of what is called the modern era. His book, "North of Boston," is thought of as the most intensely American in feeling of any book written by an American author.

She read one of his best-loved poems, "The Death of the Hired Hand," a simple and moving story of the hired hand's return to the New England farm where he was formerly employed. He was ill and in want and was given refuge during the

Cook's Nook

A picture-pretty and marvelous eating dessert is this strawberry meringue torte. The two layers are thin fine textured cake topped with a baked-on meringue. The red ripe goodness of fresh strawberries enhances the rich creamy filling. Additional strawberries make the ruby glaze for the decorative circle which crowns the top layer.

STRAWBERRY MERINGUE TORTE

1-2 cup butter
1-2 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1-2 cup sugar
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1-8 teaspoon salt
1-4 cup evaporated milk
Few grains salt
3-4 cup sugar
1 pint fresh strawberries for filling and glaze

Grease two 9-inch cake pans. Cut circles of waxed paper to line bottoms of pans, leaving two tab ends on opposite sides of circles long enough to come up sides and lap over edges. These tabs make it easy to lift baked layers from pans. Grease top of paper circles lightly.

Cream butter with lemon rind until butter is smooth and plastic. Add 1-2 cup sugar gradually, beating until light and fluffy. Add egg yolks and continue beating until well blended. Sift flour with baking powder and the 1-8 teaspoon salt. Add alternately with the milk to the egg mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Turn into the two prepared cake pans. Add the few grains salt to the egg whites. Whip the egg whites until they hold a soft peak. Gradually fold in the 3-4 cup sugar. Spread this meringue over the top of the unbaked batter in the pans.

Bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) until cake is done and meringue is nicely browned, about 40 minutes. Run spatula around edges of layers and let layers cool in pans about 5 minutes. Lift layers out and place on racks to cool. When cool, spread paper. Spread one layer with strawberry cream filling and place second layer on top. Decorate top with strawberry glaze. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

STRAWBERRY CREAM FILLING

1-2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1 egg
2 cups evaporated milk
1 cup strawberries, sliced
Mix sugar and cornstarch. Add egg and stir until well blended. Add milk slowly, keeping mixture smooth. Cook over boiling water, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat. Cool filling thoroughly before using. Fold in sliced strawberries just before spreading filling between torte layers.

STRAWBERRY GLAZE

6 or 8 large perfect strawberries
1-2 cup crushed strawberries
2 tablespoons water
2 tablespoons sugar
1-2 teaspoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon cold water

Slice the good berries lengthwise and place decoratively in center of top layer of torte. Place crushed berries in small saucepan with the two tablespoons water and sugar. Simmer five minutes, then strain. Return strained berry liquid to saucepan and add the cornstarch that has been mixed with the one tablespoon cold water. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear, about five minutes longer. Cool slightly and pour immediately over berry garnish on top of torte. Do not cut torte until glaze is jelled.

Tips For Tasks

(Readers are invited to send in household tips which may be a saving in either time, money or energy.)

Clean leather chair seats with half a lemon, then polish with furniture oil and a dry cloth. Also, furniture polish rubbed on silver vases and frames will prevent tarnishing.

Clothing Budgets Applaud New Rayons

For the man who dresses on a budget (and who doesn't) the new rayon suitings are smart and resist wrinkles. You'll find them in sheen gabardines, solid gabardines, glen plaid, checks, worsteds, flannels, covert, cross-dyes, sand-tones and a wide variety of other weaves. For this is a year of fabric news and fabric makes the suit.

Special note—a grey flannel suit is a valuable asset to any man's wardrobe. Wear the jacket with other slacks—the trousers, with other jackets.

Two or three button single-breasted suits hold preference over the double-breasted suit. The reason is simply that the one row of buttons seems to create more flattering lines.

Men's Suit Fabrics In New Textures

Color and fabric news are keynotes for bold accents in suits and coats for men this season. There are no radical departures in styling and tailoring details—instead, men's wear highlights novelty fabrics and colors. Texture is optional... smooth finishes and rough surfaces are parallel in importance.

Yes, this season you'll step out in color! For color runs the gamut in muted and medium tones—with loads and loads of patterns to choose from.

Especially smart and brand new, are the brighter, more shades that have smoky or greyish overcasts. Pattern designs due for new-season popularity are multi-color checks, close-set pin stripes and tick weaves.

MAKE-UP WON'T HIDE CALENDAR LOOK

All the things that go into making a woman look out of your eyes each month. But here's a new way to keep your calendar steady and sane. It's called the "Calendar Look" and it's the only way to keep your face looking like a calendar page. It's the only way to keep your face looking like a calendar page. Baptists To Send Out Student Missionaries This Summer

DALLAS — Texas Baptist college and university students will send at least 10 fellow students as missionaries to four countries this summer.

W. F. Howard, secretary of the Texas Baptist Dept. of Student Work, Dallas, announces that students will go to Africa, Cuba, Alaska, and Mexico.

Students will represent the Baptist Student union, which sponsors the summer missions. They will leave Texas about the first of June and return the latter part of August.

The student "missionaries" were chosen by a 16-member committee of student directors, students, and representatives from the state office.

Missionaries

Among those selected are Sam Cannata, University of Texas Medical School at Galveston, appointed for Nigeria, Africa; Arnold Griffin, University of Corpus Christi, and Bob Frick, Baylor University, Cuba, and Jimmy Hooten, North Texas State college, Denton, Alaska.

Six students will go to Juarez, Mexico, to work on the summer team. They include Ginger Moon, Southwest Texas State college, San Marcos; Edna Selman, Wayland college, Plainview; Norma Brumley, Stephen F. Austin State, Nacogdoches; Patsy Luna, East Texas State college, Commerce; Byron Braly, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, and Jack Hillman, Lamar Tech, Beaumont.

Funds Donated

All funds for sending the student missionaries come from students in some 60 Baptist Student unions in the state. The mission-

FALSE TEETH

That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTERETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTERETH at any drug store.

LOYAN H. WALKER
... manager

WTCC Officer Is Appointed

ABILENE, Tex. — Appointment of Loyan H. Walker as manager of the agriculture and livestock department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce was announced today by Fred H. Husham, executive vice president and general manager.

Walker will fill a vacancy created by resignation of C. DeWayne Davis, who now is manager of the Lamesa Chamber of Commerce.

After his graduation from Texas A & M college in 1939, Walker became vocational agriculture teacher at Aspermont high school, serving there until 1942. It was in Aspermont that he met his wife, the former Patsy Ruth Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Mitchell, Stonewall county ranchers.

Suit Easier On Budget Price Of Fall

NEW YORK —(AP)— The price of your next fall's suit will be easier on the budget than last fall. It could be within easy calling distance of pre-Korean prices.

Some men's suit makers are even talking of the return of the "good $40 retail suit."

The price of worsted is coming down to about what it was before the Korean war started.

No Wage Hike

And the garment workers union agrees not to ask for higher wages—at least until Sept. 15. The effect of the last wage hike (12 1/2 cents an hour, in November, 1950) will still be felt, of course. Labor and overhead are held accountable for around 65 percent of a suit's wholesale cost.

The reasons for this bright price prospect: 1. The sharp drop in the price of raw wool in Australia and South Africa. 2. The sharp drop in sales and the high inventories in the men's clothing business.

Confirms Cut

American Woolen, giant of the industry, this week confirmed the cut in worsted prices for fall previously made by several other mills, cuts ranging from 22 1/2 to 40 cents a yard. It was the second cut since the fall line first opened.

The wool clothing industry is beset with troubles: the wide swings in the price of raw wool, the

ON BRIDGE JACOBY

It's Very Costly Not Being Alert

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Sherman Stearns, one of the finest bridge players in the country, is a spice merchant during his working hours and spends his spare time putting spice into the expert game at the Regency Club. Very few players bid as much or as enthusiastically as Stearns—and even fewer share his knack of landing right side up.

In the hand showing today Stearns bid the South hand quite moderately. Ironically enough, his partner decided to overbid, carrying the hand to a very shaky slam contract.

Only slightly discouraged by the fact that he was apparently doomed to lose two spade tricks, Stearns won the opening lead with the ace of clubs, led a trump to the king and returned a spade to his ace. Then he led another trump to dummy's queen.

It all went so smoothly that West didn't wake up to his danger until it was too late. West still had the queen of spades in his hand, much to his sorrow.

Stearns continued by cashing the ace of hearts and ruffed a heart in his hand. He entered dummy with a club to ruff another heart, and then cashed his third club. Now a spade put West in with his fatal queen.

It didn't matter whether he returned a heart or a club; South could ruff while dummy discarded the last spade.

Of course West should have dropped the queen of spades on declarer's ace. Having failed to do so, he should have discarded the queen when South led a second round of trumps. If West had managed to get rid of the queen, East would have been in position to win two spade tricks whenever the suit was led.

West would have seen his danger if Stearns had begun by drawing trumps and ruffing hearts in his own hand. But when Stearns astutely cashed the ace of spades at a very early stage, West fell asleep at the switch.

Mankind's Finest Hour Is In Morn When He Gets Up

By SAUL PETT (For Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK — (AP) — Mankind's finest hour, I think occurs every morning he doesn't want to get up and go to work, and does.

It occurs between the first shocking explosion of the alarm clock and the last lecture by his wife on the obligations of an employe and family breadwinner in this changing world.

"This is positively the last time I'm going to tell you to get up," a man's wife says with all the smugness of a woman who has been up a full eight minutes.

For the man who has to get up—and the fact that he has to get up is worse than the actual getting up—it is a time of terrible temptation and pain, or soul-searching and soaring imagination. It is also a moment of glory, dearly won.

It is a time when man exhibits the best and worst in him. But the worst is not enough to keep him from going to work and the best is not enough to make him get out of bed gracefully.

In this dreadful hour, every man is a poet alone, a boy without a mother, a rebel without conviction, a Boy Scout without a Scoutmaster to lead him in his duty. He is lost and alone with his conscience.

He alone must make the fateful decision. He alone must distinguish between his condition as he first imagines it and his condition as it really is.

A man starting the day is ready to believe anything about his health except that he's strong enough to go to work.

He feels an ache in his back, which becomes incredible pain, or could become incredible pain. As he looks into the dark future and sees himself in a wheel chair, he is brave. He hopes he will not become too much of a burden on his loved ones.

We'll all have to be brave and we'll all have to do our bit, he thinks, and already he is blowing up with pride over the picture of the stiff upper lip his family will show.

But slowly reality begins to peek away at his thought.

"This is silly, he says. Why do I hope — I mean, why do I fear I have something seriously wrong with my back? Don't cross any bridges until you see a doctor.

Still, the man reasons, it would be silly to go on feeling this way. I'd be no good in the office today, for sure. A man in dates receive no compensation of this condition could make a wrong

Ike Turns Down Publisher's Plea

DENISON — (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has notified Publisher Fred Conn of the Denison Herald that "duties and present commitments" will prevent his accepting an invitation to open his bid for the Republican presidential nomination in this town of his birth.

Eisenhower said in his letter, dated April 4, that "despite the appeal the suggestion" had for him personally, he must decline.

"Personal desire has little weight in the things I do and plan to do," he said.

"I am indeed honored by your invitation to speak to the citizens of Denison — this note carries my thanks to you for writing."

Conn had written Eisenhower inviting him to make an address here.

Austrian Actor Invades Hollywood For Picture

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — Oskar Werner, the sensational young Austrian actor, has arrived in Hollywood with some refreshing views of these United States.

Werner, the sensitive soldier of "Decision Before Dawn," has been in this country about two weeks. After flying the Atlantic, he spent three days in New York and then came to Hollywood where he will make "The Man Who Fooled Hitler." He is still awe-struck by our Republic.

"To anyone who has been brought up in Europe," remarked the blonde, baby-faced actor, "America is a fairyland."

His impressions of Hollywood? "When I first arrived, they showed me all the outdoor sets at the studio — streets of New York, London, Paris and so forth. Then I went for a walk in Beverly Hills. The homes there seemed less real than the movie sets. There is every kind of architecture imaginable.

"Another thing I noticed — I walked for a mile or more and I saw no one else walking. The people drove by in their cars and seemed to think it was odd for someone to be walking."

Werner looks amazingly young for his 29 years. In New York, he was even viewed askance by the Cleveland Indians have scheduled an exhibition game for his 29 years. In New York, he was even viewed askance by the New York Giants.

"YOU'VE done a lot of talking about me," Peter began, "but very little to me. Yesterday you talked to Mr. Starr about me. This morning I was fired. I'm getting a little fed up with this behind-the-back talk, Mr. Cota. I think it's time we had some face-to-face dealings. Since your interest in me is so lively, maybe you'll explain a few things—such as why I'm being investigated by the FBI."

"I did not call Mr. Starr," the superintendent pointed out, the black eyes darting in the huddled face. "He called me. He asked me now soon you were going to be needed here on an atomic research project, and I told him I know of no project at this hospital for which your services would be acceptable. When he asked me why, I told him the truth. I told him why you left here last June. As one employer to another, I owe him that information. I wouldn't think of withholding it. As for the federal investigation, I had nothing to do with that. That is the doing of your friend, Dr. Pelletier."

Peter catapulted off the chair arm. "Pelletier? Cota, you better make sense . . ."

"Cota, ask for his secretary," we'll do better if Dr. Pelletier is here to see me at once. Tell him his friend, Dr. Surinof, is here and that he's quite excited." He waved his black-handled arm, as Peter, who had better calm down, young man, and watch your tone. I think we'll do better if Dr. Pelletier is here to corroborate my statements. I'm not used to intimidation."

"All right," Peter said. "That's fine with me. I'd like very much for Dr. Pelletier to be in on this little conference." He turned away from Cota to the window, squirted his finger at a ball of drape-trimming, making it clear that until Dr. Pelletier arrived there would be no further discussion.

"You're a very foolish young man," Cota said into the silence. "Your desperado actions will get you nowhere. I advise you to give up any false hope Dr. Pelletier may have given you about getting back here. As long as I'm superintendent, I mean to keep Bolsheviks out."

Peter did not deign to reply, continued to belabor the ball-fringe.

DR. PELLETIER lumbered in, out of breath. He nodded curtly to Cota, made formal mention of his name. "What's up, Peter?" he asked.

It was typical of Pelletier who, perhaps in guilt and shame at the business of his species, seemed bent on a personal crusade to expunge evil. The heartening thing was that the generosity of one man could so efficaciously cancel the hostility of ten. It had been this way before. Peter's tension eased somewhat, as he reassured in the humorous arch of thick eyebrow, the bubbling lidded eyes, the arrogant mustache, the skin that hung under the chin, rough as wattles, stuffed untidily into a white starched collar. It was a lived-in face, battered and yet visibly undaunted by time and experience, and the sight of human beings in action. It was a face you could not imagine behind bars or in sickness or in pain, or in any situation of which it was not a firm and temperate master.

"Walter," Peter said, "I was
