'Peace Till Spring' Seen Following Court Decision

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Supreme Court slapdown of John L. Lewis appeared certain today to preserve peace in the coal fields this spring.

In all probability, the miners will stick to their jobs until July 1, when the soft coal operators are due to begin the federalized pits.

Taking advantage of this respite, the government is expected to redouble efforts to get Lewis' United Mine Workers and the operators into wage negotiations in the hope the mid-summer transfer will bring another shutdown.

The prime consideration is that the precedent-making coal strike case—even though Lewis and his union stand convicted of contempt—is not yet out of the courts.

It is on this point that the steelhounds rests that the 400,000 AFL miners will keep on digging coal for the next three and one-half months.

Lewis, genial yet distant, would not reveal his plans at once. His lawyers could seek a rehearing. The Supreme Court seldom grants one. But the tribunal's 7 to 2 decision definitely blocks any strike action until the case comes to the Supreme Court.

But Lewis has the right to break off his contract with the government last November, thereby precipitating the 17-day strike.

Had Lewis had the right to break off his contract with the government last November, thereby precipitating the 17-day strike, the Supreme Court has merely upheld Judge Goldsborough's use of an injunction to break the strike pending trial; and affirmed Goldsborough's guilty verdict against Lewis.

It is on this point that the steelhounds rests that the 400,000 AFL miners will keep on digging coal for the next three and one-half months.

economic paralysis which was rapidly extending itself from the bituminous coal mines into practically every other major industry of the United States.

The decision spelled the prospect of another such stoppage on March 31, the deadline set by Lewis in ordering his men back to work last December 7, after the lower court found him guilty.

It is on this point that the steelhounds rests that the 400,000 AFL miners will keep on digging coal for the next three and one-half months.

mandate will be served formally on Judge Goldsborough. This, customarily takes 25 days. And within five days thereafter, Lewis must "unconditionally" withdraw his notice purporting to break off his contract with the government. Such a notice is the high sign for a strike.

If he does not withdraw it, said the strongly worded opinion written by Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson, the union must pay the full $2,000,000 fine levied by Goldsborough. If he complies, the punishment is cut to $700,000 to cover the "serious threat to orderly constitutional government" already committed.

In either case, the $10,000 criminal contempt fine against Lewis personally will stand.

Thus the Supreme Court did more than affirm Judge Goldsborough; it held a $2,000,000 whip over Lewis to insure that no shutdown occurs until the trial judge has decided whether such a strike is legal.

The government has not yet asked Judge Goldsborough to set a trial date; court attaches said this is the probable next step, but a spokesman for the Justice Department reported its lawyers still are busy studying the Supreme Court decision.

In view of the fact that the contempt case took three months to settle, despite unusual speed in getting it to the Supreme Court, it seemed unlikely to officials that the key issue will be resolved before June. It too undoubtedly will go to the top tribunal.

That decision will determine whether the so-called Krug-Lewis agreement, signed last May between the bushy-browed union chief and the Secretary of the Interior, could be ended by the union alone as Lewis tried to do in November.

Lewis has contended that the Krug-Lewis pact kept alive certain old provisions—originally signed with the private operators—granting him the right to call off the contract 30 days after he gives notice of new wage demands.

The government says these old provisions were specifically superseded by the Krug-Lewis agreement; that instead, the contract terms remain valid for the duration of government seizure of the mines unless both the union and the government agree to a change.

The problem of local taxation, including levying of new taxes or reduction of present taxes, were explained to them by the city manager. City Manager Garland Franks brought to their attention the city's sources of revenue through taxes and explained the budgeting of each tax dollar as it came into the city treasury.

The larger part of the day-long session was devoted to a study of the City Charter and the duties of each elective and appointed official of the city, his responsibilities, powers, authority and restrictions.

Marshall Pays High Tribute To France's Unknown Soldier

PARIS—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today placed flowers on the tomb of France's unknown soldier under the Arc de Triomphe and then departed for Berlin, en route to the Moscow meeting of the Council of Foreign Ministers.

The secretary left by plane at 2:07 p.m. (7:07 a.m., Central Standard Time). The take-off was delayed a half hour while Army Air Transport Command officials checked weather reports.

The former United States Chief of Staff told Henri Bonnet, French Ambassador to the U. S., that he first visited the soldier's tomb as aide to Gen. John J. Pershing in the First World War.

"I have always wanted to come back and pay this tribute myself," Marshall said.

Bareheaded and wearing civilian clothes, he laid a big cluster of lilacs on the sepulchre while the bugle corps of the Garde Republicaine sounded "Aux Morts" (to the dead), the French equivalent of "Taps."

Parisians crowded against police barriers on streets leading to the broad plaza to gain a glimpse of the U. S. secretary.

With Marshall, besides Bonnet, were U. S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery; Gen. Alphonse Pierre Juin, French chief of staff for national defense; Francois Billoux, national defense minister; Henri Giraud, and Gen. Jean de Latre de Tassigny, Army inspector general, who commanded French troops under the American Sixth Army Corps in the 1944 campaign for France.

The secretary of state yesterday briefed himself on French views in a day of whirlwind consultations.

Marshall's next scheduled stop was Berlin, where the Big Four Allied Control Council sits to govern beaten Germany.

There he will get a first-hand account from occupation authorities of conditions in that country—further preparation for his part as United States spokesman in drafting German and Austrian treaties at the Moscow Four-Power Foreign Ministers' meeting.

Foreign Minister Georges Bidault of France, Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin of Britain and others in the U. S. delegation also were Moscow bound.

Bevin's special train left Warsaw and a U. S. plane bearing Republican Foreign Affairs Expert John Foster Dulles reached Berlin yesterday about 10 p.m.

British informants in Bevin's party were said to be pessimistic about the chances that a treaty with Germany would be completed at Moscow. They said the first three weeks or so should tell whether the ministers could finish a treaty or whether they would wind up agreeing only on a few "working" items and hand the job back to deputies, who did preliminary work early this year in London. Several said they expected the German treaty making to take two or three years.

(Before leaving Washington, Marshall told reporters it seemed "extremely doubtful whether an actual treaty for Germany will be completed for consideration" at the conference.)

TRUMAN POSTPONES CARIBBEAN TRIP

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman today postponed his Caribbean trip indefinitely and summoned Congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference Monday on the international situation.

Charles Ross, presidential secretary, announced the delay in the proposed trip with this statement:

"The Caribbean trip has been indefinitely postponed because of developments."

While Ross declined to elaborate, Senator Taft of Ohio, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, told a reporter he and other Congressional leaders had been asked to talk at the White House Monday about the situation presented by prospective British withdrawal of economic aid to Greece and the Greek appeal to this country for financial help.

Solon Foresees 'Flat Increase' in Rent Ceilings

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Hawkes (R-NJ) predicted today that Congress will approve a "flat increase" in rent ceilings—probably 15 percent—despite reports that the Senate Banking Committee has turned thumbs down on any across-the-board boost.

"When this finally reaches us for action I think there will be a flat increase of 15 percent over rent ceilings of September 1, 1946," Hawkes told a reporter.

The New Jersey lawmaker thus echoed a forecast voiced earlier this week by Senator Buck (R-De), chairman of the Banking Subcommittee which itself voted for a 10 percent hike. Buck said he believed the general sentiment outside the committee was in favor of a larger increase.

In any event, all parties to the argument agreed that no final decision is likely this month because legislation cannot start through Congress—unless leaders change in April.

Meanwhile Chairman Tobey (R-NH) tried to keep a mantle of secrecy over the Senate Banking Committee deal yesterday when it sent the 10 percent bill back to Buck's subcommittee.

That measure, originally approved by a 3 to 2 party-line vote, would remove administration of rent control from the Civil Control Administration in the federal courts. It also would have removed controls over all new housing.

The 10 percent increase would have been over ceilings in effect last December 31.

Tobey, fending off direct questions, told newsmen only that Buck's group will resume "its labors."

But other Banking committee men, who said Tobey had "pretty much sealed our lips," conceded that the general increase was opposed by a majority of the full committee although no formal vote was taken.

Committee Postpones Vote on Lilienthal

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Senate Atomic Energy Committee today postponed until Monday its vote on confirmation of David E. Lilienthal and other nominees to the Atomic Energy Commission.

Chairman Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said the delay was agreed upon to permit "some quiet study" and he did not intend to clarify some questions.

"The committee will vote Monday at 10 a. m.," he told reporters who had waited since the committee room for almost two and a half hours on previous assurance that a vote was expected today.

Just One Big Happy Family Today at U.N.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—All appeared to be sweetness and light today for a change in the United Nations Security Council, where the United States Pacific Island trusteeship plan was up for discussion.

The big-happy-family atmosphere, representing a sharp contrast with the recent bitter debates on atomic control, was engendered principally by Russia's acceptance of the terms of the American proposal to place the Japanese mandates under the U. N., with the United States as sole administrator.

Most of the 11 delegates had speeches ready for the meeting (3 p. m. EST), but it was generally expected there would be no major conflict.

The apparent trend of this new-found unanimity was toward early approval of the American plan, or at worst merely a delay for legal reasons. As for any postponement, the United States made it clear that it will stay on the Islands regardless.

Any objections appeared centered around technicalities and the time. Russia also had three modification proposals in the hopper.

Soviet Delegate Andrei A. Gromyko wants to make these changes in the next text of the agreement:

(1) The provision that the islands would be administered as "an integral part of the United States," add the word "or independent" after the words "toward self-government" in the section guaranteeing political development of the natives; and give the Council the right to alter the agreement instead of providing that no changes could be made.

At the end of the week, the length of the campaign involving two men obtaining the largest number of new members will be given a Stetson hat by Joe F. Key, chairman of the Membership Committee.

Dutch Take Over American Ship

ABOARD THE U. S. S. MARTIN BEHRMAN, Batavia, Java—Sixty Dutch Marines today took physical possession of the American Liberty ship Martin Behrman and her dispatched cargo today shortly after Capt. Rudy Gray had informed his intention to sail for the United States.

Gray, charging that control of the ship had been rested from him "forcibly" by armed men, attempted to stop them, immediately left the vessel. The Dutch, with the aid of tugs—moved her to another dock preparatory to removing the cargo, which was loaded in Republican Java in defiance of Dutch regulations.

The crew remained aboard under Gray's orders but refused to assist in moving the ship or discharging the cargo.

Today's developments, which followed by 48 hours a State Department protest to the Hague over Dutch regulations under which the Behrman had been detained here, began when Gray asked the American consulate for clearance papers.

At 11:30 a. m. Gray notified the port naval commander that his ship would sail in an hour unless a written seizure order was presented. No order was presented, but a boarding party was placed aboard the vessel before the hour elapsed.

Traffic Authorities Spend Peaceful Night, No Accidents Despite Snow and Icy Streets

The snow fell and the ice formed yesterday afternoon and last night without one single emergency run being made by either of the city's two ambulance services.

Chief of Police Louis Allen reported this morning that his department hadn't received any reports of accidents in the city limits.

Even the Sheriff's office experienced a quiet night and the Highway Patrol said that no highway accidents had been reported to them.

The streets in general, last night, were almost devoid of any way-farers and shopping was cut to a minimum.

Pavements and streets were treacherous as patches of snow obliterated any visible signs of slick spots. However, the main thoroughfares, mostly, were smooth as glass and lights from the uptown section mirrored from them in a gay but dangerous spectacle as the few pedestrians crossed with extreme caution.

Churchill Continues Fight: Labor Regime Faces Battle on Economics

LONDON—(AP)—Britain's Labor government, having surmounted a determined effort by Winston Churchill to block its plans for getting out of India in 15 months, faced a new conservative attack today over the nation's economic plight.

Voted down, 337 to 185, in his fight against a government decision to terminate British rule in India by June, 1948, Churchill promised, nevertheless, that he would offer his long-threatened motion to censure against Prime Minister Attlee's government next Wednesday, at the end of three days debate on the nation's serious economic situation.

Despite the fact that on a straight party vote the Laborites' lopsided majority would ensure a government victory, there appeared to be enough discontent among party followers to cause the government to send out a "three line whip," its most urgent summons, requiring Labor members to be on hand for the crucial vote.

The wording of the censure motion, which if approved could overthrow the government, has not been decided upon, but Churchill previously had said it would accuse the government of "tyranny, conceit and incompetence."

Formal support of Attlee's decision fixing the June, 1948, date for quitting India was voted by the House of Commons last night in spite of Churchill's protest that such action could only be termed "Operation Scrup."

It is with deep grief that I have watched the clattering vote of the British Empire with all its glories and all the service it has rendered to mankind," he said.

Churchill declared that feeding Moslems and Hindus, were the Police Department in regular weekly negotiations in the hope of compromise. He suggested seeking "aid and advice" from the United Nations in the case of Palestine—rather than fix a deadline for withdrawal.

Mr. Churchill's practical acquaintance with India ended some 50 years ago, he said, amid laughter from the Labor benches.

"The time has come when Indians must shoulder their responsibilities. We can help them, but we cannot take this burden on ourselves."

Union to Ask for Revised Contract

PORT WORTH—(AP)—A contract proposal calling for overall "cost of living" wage increases and other items will be presented the Continental Trailways March 15 by Motor Coach Employees Division 1142.

B. R. Wayne, secretary of the union, said readjusted seniority provisions and revised working, sick leave and vacation conditions will be offered in the new proposal.

Coast Guard Gets Good Scolding

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Coast Guard was scolded by the House Appropriations Committee today for having "grandiose designs" and ambitions to "assume the functions of a miniature navy."

These words are in a report on a Treasury Department appropriation bill for the 1948 fiscal year. The bill included $133,000,000 for the Coast Guard.

The "grandiose designs" the report said, were reflected in an original request by the Coast Guard for $222,000,000 to operate next year.

"The committee is firmly convinced that it was never the intention of Congress the Coast Guard should become a 'blue water' organization extending its functions far beyond the coasts of continental United States," the report added.

It was never in contemplation of Congress that as a peacetime agency the Coast Guard should assume the functions of a miniature navy."

DALLAS—(AP)—Improvements at the Army Air Field at Big Spring will be advertised for sale at an early date, it has been learned from the office of Real Property Disposal of the Grand Prairie Regional Office of War Assets Administration.

City Commission Adjourns Session Until 10 Tuesday

The City Commission yesterday afternoon adjourned its three-day session until Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

The problem of local taxation, including levying of new taxes or reduction of present taxes, were explained to them by the city manager. City Manager Garland Franks brought to their attention the city's sources of revenue through taxes and explained the budgeting of each tax dollar as it came into the city treasury.

The larger part of the day-long session was devoted to a study of the City Charter and the duties of each elective and appointed official of the city, his responsibilities, powers, authority and restrictions.

This also included the methods of passing ordinances—regular ordinances, ordinances under emergency, and those including a penalty when the proposed ordinance has to be published for at least two weeks before it becomes effective. Franks pointed out that such ordinances, involving the immediate public health and safety, are exempt from emergency and passed with the usual procedure cut, as in every city, and according to the City Charter.

The present State regulated Civil Service bill for firemen and policemen in Texas, cities of 10,000 or more was discussed. The bill has come out of committee with full approval, passed the Senate and is now up before the House. Franks explained that this bill is passed, Pampa will be included and that the Civil Service Board will be appointed by the state and the Civil Service regulations for these cities will also be set up by the State.

Due to absence of three commissioners by necessity yesterday afternoon the Mayor and Commissioners were unable to meet with the Police Department in regular weekly meetings. However, some of the Commission have been familiarizing themselves with that department.

British Troops Uncover Arms

JERUSALEM—(AP)—British troops hunting Jewish Extremists were unable to discover at least two arms caches and arrested 21 suspects in searches of three small Jewish towns outside the martial-law areas today.

Eight were said to have been detained in the Rehovot area some 25 miles West of Jerusalem, whose big Jewish Mea Shearim quarter was pushed under martial law Sunday, a day after 21 were killed in a Palestinian bombing and gunfire.

Troops were reported to have cordoned off a third of Natanya at dawn and placed some 3,000 Jewish residents under house arrest in a strict curfew order.

One Bath Tub in Pampa in 1905, Pioneer Settler Recalls as He Relates History

That tub, said Buckler, recalling the early history of Pampa and environs at the weekly meeting of the Lions Club yesterday, was in the White Deer Land Office Building.

Buckler, agent of the company, traced the history of Pampa's growth from the early 1900's.

He recalled the various companies that originally held the White Deer lands until it finally fell into the hands of S. P. Foster and C. C. Cuyler and started to grow into a populated area. He told the club the city was first laid out in 1902 at which time the plots of ground now occupied by the City Hall and the Courthouse were planned to be city parks. Land in this area then was selling at $10 and $15 per acre as against $25 an acre for land deeper in Texas that was not as inviting. To illustrate the lecture, Buckler passed out several booklets containing early pictures and data of this section.

The opening of the Red Cross campaign was announced and a report on receipts for the Lion's Ministerial was made.

D. L. Parker, vice president of the club, presided in the absence of President Jimmie McCune.

C of C Membership Drive Initiated For New Names

For two days teams of two men representing the Pampa Chamber of Commerce have been canvassing the city with names of prospective new members of the organization.

This, it was announced, is the annual drive for new membership—coming at a time when there are the prospects of added work for the group during this year.

With the goal placed at 100 new members, 40 workers yesterday morning met at Wilma's Cafe at a kickoff meeting.

Over their doughnuts and coffee the men were given names of likely prospects to be invited to join the group at their interest. All of the prospects given are business or professional men not now listed as active members of the organization.

At the end of the week, the length of the campaign involving two men obtaining the largest number of new members will be given a Stetson hat by Joe F. Key, chairman of the Membership Committee.

Both Key and Floyd Imel, finance director of the C of C, congratulated the group for their interest.

Key, also vice president of the organization, said the close of the campaign does not close the membership of the Chamber of Commerce, but that it is open at all times to those who are interested in building a bigger city and better community.

Airport Improvements Go Under Hammer

The land comprising the airport project is owned by the city of Big Spring, which is expected to be an active bidder on the bidders, utilities and other airport facilities soon to be advertised.

Ill Wind Blew Good For One Little Lady—She Saw the President

WACO—(AP)—The ill wind that blew rain for the President's visit today did good for one little lady of 92—Miss Sally Payne.

Bertriden, with two broken hips, she is one of the happiest persons in Waco today. And all because of that rain. For if it hadn't rained, she wouldn't have seen President Truman.

And as it was, she saw him twice. Since Jan. 1, when she tripped on a sidewalk and broke her hips, she has been confined to bed in the front room of her old-fashioned home at the rear of Waco Auditorium.

When she heard the Chief Executive was coming to Waco, she hastened to get an invalid chair and looked a look at him. She had never seen a president and she greatly admires Mr. Truman.

The arrangements were for the President to speak at Union Bow, more than two blocks from Miss Payne's home. But then it rained—and last-minute arrangements were made to have the appearance at Waco Auditorium.

Miss Payne didn't know about the change of plans. But she looked out the big window yesterday morning, and there across the street, she saw a rope being strung around the rear of the auditorium. She knew something important was happening.

About 30 minutes before the President's arrival, she was followed by other automobiles drove up to the rear of the auditorium. Miss Payne saw it all. And then she saw the President of the United States. She saw him twice. She saw him once when she watched the President enter the auditorium through the back entrance. When he spoke, Miss Payne listened to every word on her radio. Outside in the cold rain, she watched a small crowd, awaiting the re-appearance of the President.

The speech was over. Miss Payne kept her eyes fastened on the window. Secret Service men swarmed about the car. Mr. Truman popped out of the doorway.

"Oh, my goodness!" Miss Payne said breathlessly.

Mr. Truman drove away and the show was over. Miss Payne's blue eyes were shining.

"That was just wonderful," she said. "I never thought I would see a president."

She smiled and added: "I didn't go to see him—he came to see me."

Protectors Get in Each Other's Way

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill.) says the secret service protects President Truman and the White House with so many guards they get in each other's way and block traffic.

The Congressman registered his protest to Secret Service Chief James J. Maloney during hearings on an appropriation bill for the Treasury and Postoffice Departments. The bill reached the House floor today with such printed copies of the hearings.

The secret service, an agency of the Treasury, operates against counterfeiters and forgers but considers safeguarding the President its principal duty.

Dirksen told Maloney "I think you fellows are absolutely unconscionable in your demands" for funds.

The secret service proposed to keep the force guarding the President at its present strength to insure "absolute safety during this turbulent reconversion period."

Dirksen said he could see nothing menacing in the reconversion period. "I think there are just too many of them," Dirksen declared. "They get in each other's way physically, and they are just an obstruction, in my judgment, to official traffic."

Jurors Not to Report For Duty on Monday

Petit jurors for the January term of District Court, scheduled to appear for duty on Monday, were being sent notices by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich today not to report out that day.

Judge Goodrich advised there were only five cases set for Monday at which two were settled out of court, two postponed by agreement and another continued due to illness of Bob Wilson, Amarillo attorney representing one of the parties.

Jurors will report upon further notice of the court, it was said.

Super Sales Display

RAPID CITY, S. D.—(AP)—Last week Sgt. James Lessman, and Army recruiter, spotted a store window he believed ideal for setting up a recruiting display.

Lessman talked to one of the store's salesmen, Donald R. Bortle, an ex-GI, and urged him to use his influence with the management in letting him set up the display. After the management approved, Bortle helped Lessman arrange the display.

Yesterday Bortle signed up for a three-year hitch in the regular Army.

WE, THE WOMEN

City Wives Are Husbands' Press Agents

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Rise up, City Wives and defend yourselves.

A woman editor of a farm magazine has come out with the flat-footed statement that a farm wife is worth more than a glamorized city housewife.

She says economists have done research job on the farm wife and found that she is worth $69,000 to her lifetime. The editor claims that city wives are worth considerably less. But she does add the afterthought that nobody has yet bothered to figure out just how much a city wife is worth to her lord and master.

There is where you step in swing, City Wives. There is where the champion of the farm wives left her self wide open.

Just step up and say: "That may be because the work a farmer's wife does is easily computed in dollars and cents—so many clothes laundered in a year, so many jars of vegetable canned, so many gallons of cream sold, so many eggs taken to market, etc.

To begin with, the city wife is supposed to be subtle about her help. She is supposed to help her husband without letting anyone realize that she is helping him.

She keeps it a secret when she just happens to become good friends with the wife of a man who can help her husband in his business or in politics.

She never mentions it when it just happens that the people she finds congenial enough to entertain are the "right people" so far as her husband is concerned.

WIFE "FRONTS" FOR HUBBY

The same thing is true of the wife. A city wife, knowing the value of a "good front," gets pretty clever in using a sewing machine and a paint brush to create a charming setting for herself and her family—even though she may have little to show for it.

The farmer's wife may be her husband's help-meet in the old-fashioned sense of the word. But the city wife is her husband's press agent—a job that is no small potatoes in these times.

WMU Circles Hold Prayer Observance For Home Missions

The circles of the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the church for observance of the Week of Prayer for Home Missions, with 277 members registering.

A luncheon was served at one o'clock and a Royal Service program was presented at 2 with Mrs. A. Z. Griffin as program leader on the subject "Russians." The opening song was "Footsteps of Jesus" and was led by Mrs. Tom Duval.

Others taking part on the program were Mrs. Afton Scott and Mrs. W. T. Green with prayer by Mrs. I. Haskins.

Audience Enchanted By Bary Ensemble Here Last Evening

The Bary Ensemble, the fourth presentation of the Pampa Community Concert Association, performed last evening in the Junior High School Auditorium to an unusually large audience, considering the inclement weather and the prevalence of colds and flu. A large number of out-of-town members also attended.

The Ensemble composed of Gertrude Bary, pianist; Mary Becker, violinist; Marea Barbour, cellist; and Lorna Wren, flutist, was particularly gracious with its encores and the audience was highly appreciative and accorded the musicians the courtesy of its undivided attention. Each member had a musical personality of her own which was evident from the first, and which was more fully expressed in the solo numbers.

From the dramatic Von Gluck "Suite" by the Ensemble to the final encore of Desalle's "Ritual of the Fire Dance" the artists completely captured the imagination of their listeners.

Following her rendition of Chopin's "Ballade in G Minor" Miss Bary gave another Chopin number, "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" very well received, and when Miss Becker announced her encore following Wieniawski's Concerto as "The Old Refrain" by Kreisler, an audible gasp of delight went up from the audience and they were not disappointed. Other encores were "Londonderry Air" by the trio, "The Flight of the Bumble Bee" on the flute, "The Swan" by Saint-Saens on the cello, and Miss Becker's own arrangement of Kreisler's "Caprice Viennois" by the Ensemble.

Miss Hastings Meets With Bell H D Club; 'Bedroom' Is Topic

"The Bedroom" was the topic discussed by Miss Ann Hastings, Gray County home demonstration agent, when she met with the Bell Club in the home of Mrs. Joe Keel of Kingsmill Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Hastings told the members that some people needed more rest than others but that in order to get proper rest a good bed must be provided for each member of the family. She discussed good springs and mattresses and said that correct linens were important. She showed samples of sheets, saying the correct length regardless of the width of the bed. Bottom sheets may be extra wide for ease in tucking. Top sheets should be wide enough to cover the bed and drop below the mattress, she said, and she displayed pictures showing the correct way to make a bed.

BUNDLE WEEK MARCH 15-22

Plans have been made by the Christian Social Relations Committee of the Pampa Council of Church Women to hold a Bundle Week March 15 to 22 for the needy in foreign countries.

The destruction of textile and clothing industries during the war makes the material relief program of the American Christians a vital post-war ministry. Cotton clothing is desperately needed in the Philippines, southern Asia and southern Europe, while winter clothing is needed in northern Europe.

All churches, clubs and Parent-Teacher associations are being asked to send a bundle (any size) of good clean, used or unused clothing, either as groups or individuals, to: Church World Service Center, 740 Esplanade Ave., New Orleans 18, La., which is operated by the Southern Baptist Relief Committee.

There are nine Church World Service Centers in the United States where all clothing, bedding, and food are processed and baled to be sent to Church World Service Centers in foreign countries. Bundles must be sent prepaid by parcel post or express.

For further information call Mrs. Oscar Huff or Mrs. Walter Purviance.

Ruth Anderson Zone Meeting Held at Lela

SHAMROCK — (Special) — The Ruth Anderson Zone of the Women's Society of Christian Service met recently at Lela, Methodist Church for an all-day meeting. Hostess duties were shared by women from Heald and Lela.

Mrs. J. C. Mix, zone leader, was in charge of the program which followed the theme "Women as Builders of the Kingdom." The devotional "Prominent Women in God's Kingdom" was given by Mrs. Nida Green.

District secretaries gave reports of their work and heading this list was Mrs. N. S. Daniel of Lefors. Mrs. Daniel, promotional secretary, made an interesting talk on "Aims and Goals for Clarendon District."

Lunch was served in the basement with Mrs. O. T. Gordon in charge of decorations and seating arrangements. Various piano selections were played during lunch hour by Miss Vera Jean Bumpers.

"Christianity in Action" was the theme for the afternoon session and was led by Mrs. J. M. Porter of Wheeler. Others taking part in the afternoon session were: Mrs. Allgood, Wheeler, Mrs. N. S. Daniel, Lefors, and Mrs. J. E. Wagner. Special music was furnished by the Brunner sisters.

Mrs. Lanelle Trostle was in charge of registration and recorded the names of 64 members and visitors.

Brethren Will Show A New Relief Film

A motion picture, entitled "This We Share," and covering in a comprehensive and dramatic way the work of the churches of America in meeting the emergency situation in Europe and Asia, has just been completed. It will be shown on Sunday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Church of the Brethren, 600 N. Frost. "While attending a relief conference in the East in December," says Russell G. West, pastor of the local church, "I saw a preview of this film and at once booked it for Pampa. It is well planned and produced by a professional photographer from Hollywood. I feel that this film gives the best opportunity possible for the people of our city to become-informed on just what the churches of America are doing."

Pampa has developed a rather unique record throughout America and other parts of the world in the matter of emergency relief. Last year we were instrumental in securing three car loads of wheat to Holland, besides fully doing our part in the various food and clothing drives of America. This year we have just shipped out 30 tons of flour for Poland. Twenty-four hundred personal greeting cards from the people of our community will be distributed in this flour. To Ethiopia Pampa has been instrumental in collecting and sending $10,000 worth of registered Herefords. One of our own citizens, A. L. Patrick, will accompany these cattle to Ethiopia through Mr. Patrick, a lot of people will become informed about a little town called Pampa, Texas," continued Rev. West.

Since this film is right in line with our cooperative program here in Pampa, each pastor of the city has been invited to send representatives to attend this showing. An invitation is extended to all.

Crooked Rivers

A little boy who was paging through his first geography asked his mother: "Why are all the rivers crooked?" The answer is simple. Rivers are crooked, because they follow the lines of least resistance.

The same is true of men. Our lives, as a rule, do not become crooked, warped, and out of joint, because we deliberately set out to make them that way—but rather because we do not have the moral courage to overcome the hundred and one temptations that cross our daily paths.

We drift lazily along the currents of convenience until we are helplessly bogged down in the soft sands of sin.

It's so much easier to listen to gossip than to stop it. So much easier to be a regular fellow than a wet blanket. So much easier to tell a lie than to tell the truth—and take the consequences.

It's so much easier to sleep an extra hour on Sunday than to go to church. So much easier to pay $40 a month on a new car than to give $20 a month to church. So much easier to read the funnies at the breakfast table than to fold our hands in prayer.

Is it any wonder that our lives are crooked? Is it any wonder that when God looks at our lives and compares them with the perfect rule of His Commandments, He must say: "They are all gone aside, . . . there is none that doeth good, no, not one?"

Like the rivers in the little boy's geography, our lives are terribly crooked. But not hopelessly so. In Christ we have complete forgiveness for our desperate wickedness. And in Him we can have the power to make "the rough places plain and the crooked places straight."

Christ, and He alone, is the Solution and the Cure for human crookedness.

JESUS WASHES THE DISCIPLES' FEET

Scripture: John's Gospel Chapter 13
by WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.

The 12 men whom Jesus gathered around Him as His first disciples, though they came from fishing, tax-gathering, and other humble occupations, were no ordinary men. They counted themselves able for anything, as long as their ambitions could be attained.

One sees this in various glimpses of the New Testament record—the request of "the mother of Zebedee's

DOES CHRIST HAVE LEADERS IN HIS CHURCH?

- ALL SUCCESSFUL INSTITUTIONS HAVE LEADERS. All human organizations have leaders and their success depends largely on the ability and willingness of their leader to lead in the right way.
- GOD HAS ALWAYS HAD LEADERS AMONG HIS PEOPLE. The success of God's people has always depend ed, largely, upon the ability and willingness of his leaders to lead his people in the right way. The success of the leaders of God's people has, does and always will, depend on their following God. No leaders of God's people can expect to lead them successfully unless they themselves, as leaders humbly, and faithfully follow God.
- GOD HAS HAD DIFFERENT LEADERS IN DIFFERENT AGES. 1—During the Patriarchal Age the heads of families, such as Abraham, Isaac and Jacob were God's leaders. 2—During the Jewish Age, such men as Moses, the priests, prophets, judges and kings were God's leaders. 3—During the personal ministry of Jesus, he was the leader of God's people. 4—During the first part of the Christian Age, God had as leaders of his people inspired Apostles, prophets, evangelists, pastors, and teachers. Eph. 4:11-16. These were God's leaders in the early years of "The Church of Christ." They lead until the New Testament was completed.
- "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST" IS THE GREATEST INSTITUTION KNOWN TO MAN. This institution was given by God, and it is the best he has ever given. By the authority of Christ it had its beginning. Mt. 28:18-20; Lk. 10:16-17; Lk. 24:44-48. By His authority it made progress. It is Christ's Body and all the saved are members of it. Col. 1:18; Acts 2:47.
- THE WORD CHURCH IS USED IN AT LEAST THREE DIFFERENT SENSES 1—GENERAL: Col. 1:18. This includes every saved person in every local congregation. It is synonymous with Kingdom and Jesus is King, with no other official. There is no pope head over the church as used in this sense; Christ is head. 2—TERRITORIAL: This includes all local congregations in a certain territory. Acts 9:31. The Church of Christ has no bishop or bishops over any group of congregations. That is not scriptural. All congregations are to look to Christ. 3—ONE LOCAL CONGREGATION: Phil. 1:1. The government of "The Church of Christ" is given to the local congregation. Each congregation when organized after the New Testament pattern, is self-governing. Each scriptural congregation has its scriptural elders and deacons, to work with its members, as their leaders. They must all be subject to Christ. All churches are alike in organization, when they are organized according to New Testament order.
- THE CHURCH AT JERUSALEM HAD ELDERS: The first mention of elders in "The Church of Christ" were those of Jerusalem. Acts 11:30. The apostles and elders, of Jerusalem, were consulted about the law of circumcision. Acts 15:2. The apostles and elders and the whole church worked together. Acts 15:22.
- PAUL AND BARNABAS APPOINTED ELDERS IN EVERY CHURCH: This was on the return of Paul's first missionary journey. Acts 14:23.
- THE CHURCH AT EPHESUS HAD ELDERS: Paul had them to meet him at Miletus and there he gave them instruction. Acts 20:17-35.
- PAUL CHARGED TITUS TO APPOINT ELDERS IN EVERY CITY: Titus was first to "set in order the things that were wanting, and appoint elders in every city." Tit. 1:5.
- PAUL GAVE THE QUALIFICATION OF ELDERS AND DEACONS TO TIMOTHY AND TITUS: Such information has been recorded for "The Church of Christ" to follow throughout all ages. 1 Tim. 3; Tit. 1.
- GOD'S EARLY LEADERS FOR HIS PEOPLE IN NEW TESTAMENT TIME HAVE BEEN: 1—Jesus — He finished His work on earth and returned to heaven. 2—Apostles — They were men with miraculous power, that could impart such power to others. They died and there has been no more like them. 3—Inspired men — who received their inspiration from the apostles, but could not impart such to others. They died and there has been no more like them. 4—Scriptural Elders. They die, but others are to be TRAINED and appointed. THEREFORE, THE SCRIPTURAL LEADERS IN "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST" ARE SPIRITUALLY QUALIFIED ELDERS. That is another distinguishing point between "The New Testament Church" and the churches of the world today. NEXT WEEK—ELDERS OF "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST"—THEIR QUALIFICATIONS. Attend any or all the services of "The Church of Christ." Read your Bible, Learn God's Will! Obey God in everything! Only those who do the will of God will be saved! Mt. 7:19-27; Rev. 22:14.

Rug Is Returned—An That's Relief

Fifty-seven Cleaners was relieved today. Last week a large rug fell from the delivery truck, and someone had picked it up by the time the deliveryman re-traced his route.

The concern advertised for several days, and finally the person who found it saw the ad, returned the rug, which would have required around $200 to place, it was said.

"We believe in honesty—and advertising," a spokesman said.

Texas Today
By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

A few days from today 100,000 Texans will make a pilgrimage to Palestine.

Palestine, Texas, that is, the tiny hamlet and far from what is known as the Texas Dogwood Trail.

Back in 1939 two men were drinking the morning coffee and got to talking about the dogwood trees nearby. Something, they said, should be done about them.

Something has been done. M. A. Davey, Palestine, has organized the community 600 acres of rugged iron-ore hilled land covered with pine, oaks, hickory, redbud and other trees, and undergrown with literally ten of thousands of dogwood trees. When they are in bloom, it's a spectacular sight.

A five-mile road winds through the park, a like country road, so chock with dogwood blossoms motorists can reach out and pick bouquets.

Up until this year, the roads were dirt and the thousands of cars winding through the area raised choking clouds of dust. But this season, they'll be oil surfaced.

The sight of dogwoods in blossom is one of the prettiest in Texas. The country around Palestine is lovely anyway, and when the delicate white dogwoods take over, it's something to see.

There is a charge. The Dogwood Trails, although incorporated to hold the name, are not commercial. The two men over the cup of coffee were Charles W. Woolridge, now of Dallas, and Eugene Fish, a Palestine banker. Others who aided in originating the idea were Lester Hamilton, editor of the Palestine Herald, and Earl Pierce, a bottling company manager.

Over 20,000 persons visited Palestine that first year, 1939. Last year, the total, which mounts steadily each year, was over 80,000. More than 100,000 are predicted by Hamilton for 1947.

The dates? March 30 through April 6.

be made without American consent. The United States was understood to be ready to accept the first two Russian suggestions if the Council so decided. On the third, Delegate Warren R. Austin was talking, but American sources insisted there would be no difficulty.

Austin's position was said to be that the agreement was in effect a treaty between the United States and the United Nations and that as a party Washington would have to approve changes. He also was reported to feel that acceptance of the Soviet version would violate the Charter. However, even if adopted, the United States would be protected by right to veto changes.

Graveside Services For Mullins Infant

Arrangements Being Made for Class Trip

Frank Wilson, Senior High School principal here, and one of the Senior Class sponsors, B. G. Gordon, were planning to leave today for a trip to Carlsbad, N. M., to make arrangements for the annual class trip to the scenic caves.

Tentative date for the annual trip is May 2-4. There are about 165 members of the class.

Coach Coffey Back From Trip to Denton

High School Coach Otis Coffey has returned from Denton, and his wife and young son, David, were scheduled to return today from that city where they had gone to be with Betty Jo Coffey, their daughter and sister, who was stricken with appendicitis.

While there Mrs. Coffey and the boy were stricken with flu and had been confined to a hospital with Betty Jo, who is attending TSCW.

Patrolman 'Comes Down' With Mumps

Highway Patrolman Preston Wythe is due to spend some lonely patrol hours for the next few days, it was learned this morning.

His partner, Patrolman Bill White, wasn't transferred, nor did he take an annual vacation. Nope—Bill is down with the mumps, along with District Attorney Tom Braly.

It was also reported that Bill is keeping company with his younger son who also has a case of the puffed-up cheeks. The attack hit the patrolman late Wednesday and moved in, in earnest yesterday.

SIDE GLANCES

"We're taking up a collection to help our economics professor's financial worries!"

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

I see that a professor of psychology in Illinois says that Americans are falling behind culturally not because they're lowbrows, but because they're tired. It seems that when a person is fatigued, he does not want any recreation requiring mental effort, but prefers to read Dick Tracy or listen to Spike Jones records.

My own study of this subject has been confined largely to husbands, and my findings do not exactly agree with the professor. A husband, I have found, is not too tired for culture, but is made tired by the very thought of it.

George is still loaded with animal spirits, but I've seen him age forty years when I ask him to go to the opera. And, contrary, I've seen him bounce from the depths of fatigue at the prospect of going to the fights or a burlesque show.

3 Fines Levied for Disturbing Peace

Judge Clifford Braly late yesterday levied fines of $15 each on three men charged with disturbing the peace and excused the fourth man on similar charges. The four men had been involved in an altercation in the Plaza Saturday night in which two of them received minor knife wounds.

This morning several men charged with intoxication were retained in city jail until they were in a better condition to be heard. There were no other cases before the judge today.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPDN Monday thru Friday, 3 p. m.)

HOLLYWOOD — Multilingual movies are going to be the thing in 1950.

They can't miss, the man said. It's going to be worse than the debacle of the talkies, the man said. "Stars fell out of the heavens like ducks" when the movies found a voice. But wait until 1950. It's going to be murder."

The man was five-footer Max Sherover, president of the Linguaphone Institute of America, but we are afraid he will have a discouraging time of it in Hollywood.

Max is in movietown in the interests of his linguaphone system of languages—the teaching of foreign languages with phonograph records. And it is Max's contention that by 1950 any star who can't speak fluently half a dozen foreign tongues will be through.

"Fini, kaput and konietz," Max said.

"What's konietz," we gulped.

"Konietz," he said, "is the Russian word for the end."

"And finished," he said, "is what all the stars will be in 1950 if they can't speak at least 10 languages for multilingual films for the world market. With production costs rising, producers have to look to Europe for their profits. But do Europeans want dubbed films or translated dialog? Absolutely not. They want to hear Lana Turner murmur, 'Ya vass lublu,' and Tyrone Power to answer back in Russian."

Naturally, we were worried if Lassi would be endangered in the day of multilingual films.

"Lassi," Sherover grinned, will have to bark in 10 different languages."

We felt it our duty to see if we would have any luck in sounding the alarm in Hollywood about multilingual films.

We tried to reach Lana Turner personally for a week, finally got her, and asked if she was worried about "10 vos platts" and "10 stento machos."

Lana said: "Not when I wear a sweater!"

Paulette Goddard said she had been studying French for over a year and any day now she will swing into Russian.

"I," said Paulette, "can even swear in French."

Humphrey Bogart answered Sherover's warning in a language that still baffles "The Language King," as Sherover is sometimes called by his employees. Bogie said, "Daisy."

NOT LIKE ABOVESANCE

John Gilbert's tabeeto when the talkies arrived was nothing compared to what may happen to Margaret O'Brien or Dutch Jenkins when 1950 and multilingual films roll around, according to Sherover. We had to agree that both Margaret and Dutch might survive adolescence and dental braces but never the ability to say:

"But my buddies really a good man" in Turkish.

We tried to think of June Haver, Ava Gardner, Cornel Wilde, Lauren Bacall, and Larry Parks as "has-beens."

"Can they finish a scene in English, then do the same scene in French, Russian, Italian, and Spanish?" Sherover demanded. "No, emphatically no. Are the studios going to waste time with stars who can't switch from one language to eight others as easily as opera singers?"

Sherover switched his cigar to the other side of his mouth.

"I can save Lana Turner," he announced, dramatically.

"How?"

"Lana's salvation lies in my system of learning foreign languages." It was a beautiful thought. In 15 weeks he could save Lana for movie audiences, band leaders, night club photographers, and the airlines to Mexico and back.

Sherover also whispered that he found a number of stars on the Columbia lot who have learned some Hungarian words already from Director Charles Vidor.

"But," he said, "they are not very nice words."

Somewhat, we can't get worried about this multilingual revolution in Hollywood.

31 in Final Rounds Golden Gloves Tonight

CHICAGO—(AP)—In Amateur Boxing's biggest show 31 survivors of an original field of thousands of youths from 29 states tonight in Chicago Stadium will box 15 semi-final and eight final bouts to close the 20th Annual Golden Gloves Tournament.

The eight championship winners will make up Chicago's team of fighters which will engage New York's titlists in the stadium on March 23.

Cleveland and Oklahoma City head the list of qualifiers in the semi-finals tonight, each with four boxers.

The semi-finalists include: 112 pounds—James Baggett, Fort Worth; Robert Holliday, Cincinnati; Bill Guemsey, Minneapolis; Pat Lowery, Toledo.

Greenberg Works Overtime to Make Owners Right

MIAMI BEACH—(AP)—Hank Greenberg aches in every muscle and joint these days, and his manner of running is not a thing of grace and beauty, but the big home-run king is a happy man as he works out with his new owners, the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"I don't know how Pittsburgh feels about having me," he smiled through rivulets of perspiration. "But I know I'm mighty glad to be with this outfit."

"I guess they thought out in Detroit they were fixing me up properly when they sold me, but the way it is turning out it might prove to have been the greatest break of my life."

Despite his many pains, including a stiff right arm, Hank is working probably harder than he has in many a spring. He is determined to repay the men who talked him out of retiring. Even his teammates don't realize how seriously he is taking his conditioning.

Last Sunday, when a cold wind caused Manager Bill Herman to call off regular practice, Greenberg went over to Flamingo Park by himself and put in nearly two hours of running and tossing a ball to a park attendant. The gates were locked and nobody saw him, and the other Pirates don't know about it yet.

Calm of Big Six League Ruffled Over Pay Limits

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—The calm that has been a Big Six Conference trade-mark since its origin in 1928 was ruffled for the second time within a week today—this time over a statement accredited to President George Cross of the University of Oklahoma that Sooner athletes were being aided beyond the limits of the loop's rules.

Sports Editor Jay Simon of the Topeka (Kan.) State Journal in a bylined story, commented he had been informed by a person "high in the conference's official family" that Dr. Cross told a meeting of the conference's presidents here last week end Oklahoma athletes "are given board, room, tuition, books, fees and spending money."

Dallas Tech to Meet El Paso in Opening Feature
AUSTIN—(AP)—Class A and Class B teams moved into the semifinals of the Texas Schoolboy Basketball Tournament today but the spotlight was on the first round in the Class AA division with defending champion Crocker Tech of Dallas tackling El Paso's Tigers in the feature.

The AA squads were not scheduled to play before mid-afternoon and Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio found itself the favorite to battle its way to the finals against the winner of the Tech-El Paso game. Bryan meets Greenville, Sam Houston (Houston) tackles Amarillo and Waco engages Jefferson in the opening round that runs through tonight.

Avenger of East Texas and Marfa of far West Texas clashed in the first semifinal of the Class B division this morning with Gruber and Johnson City getting together in the second game.

Class A semifinals followed with Bowie tangling with McCarney and East Mountain of Gilmer taking on Alvin.

East Mountain proved the sensation of the tournament last night as it crushed hitherto unbeaten Lockhart, 62-32, and sent Junior Carrington to a new tournament individual scoring record of 33 points. The East Mountain star also set a new record for Gregory Gym where the University of Texas plays its Southwest Conference games. The gym record until last night was 32 points, made by Jack Gray, present University of Texas coach, more than a decade ago.

In the Class B first round Avenger defeated Burketts, 30-26, Marfa beat Sugarland, 33-22 to remain undefeated for the season—the only team with such a record left in the state—while Gruber downed Pettus, 48-22 and Johnson City defeated Prairie Valley of Nocona, 40-27.

In the Class A first round Bowie beat Beeville, 47-40, McCarney edged Plano, 29-26, Alvin licked Levelland 28-22 and East Mountain swamped Lockhart.

The only upset—and it was a rather mild one—was the defeat of Levelland, a slight tournament favorite.

A total of 7,500 fans turned out for the first day and night of play.

Eyes Turn to Parker in Border Olympics

LAREDO—(AP)—Charley Parker, the University of Texas sprinter who has not lost a race in five years, was the center of interest here today on the eve of the Fifteenth Annual Border Olympics which has attracted approximately 700 college and high school track and field athletes from four states.

Parker, who entered collegiate competition three weeks ago by winning the 75-yard dash in the Michigan State indoor relays, will face the Southwest's best in the way of opposition tomorrow when he lines up against Jim Metcalf of Oklahoma A. and M., Bill Martenson of Baylor and his own teammates, Perry Samuels and Allen Lawler.

Samuels and Metcalf have done the century in 9.5, which is Parker's best. The figure also is the Border Olympics' record set in 1935 by Ralph Carz of Schneider Institute, Texas, with an entry list of 20.

Earlier yesterday, Athletic Director L. E. (Jap) Haskell of Oklahoma, speaking in the absence of Dr. Cross, said his athletes were permitted to "work for their board and room" if they wished.

Big Six Conference rules prohibit subsidy to an athlete "either directly or indirectly because he is an athlete."

THE REAL TROUBLE IS THE LAW MUST BE CHANGED

However fervid may be our delight at the Supreme Court news yesterday in the John L. Lewis-United Mine Workers case, there was a paragraph in the dissenting opinion of Associate Justice Murphy we should ponder.

He was speaking of the Norris-La Guardia Act, passed by Congress restricting the issuance of injunctions against labor strikers. He said:

"We lack any power to ignore the plain mandates of Congress and to impose vindictive fines upon the defendants. ... A judicial disregard of what Congress has decreed may seem justified for the moment in view of the crisis which gave birth to this case. But such a disregard may ultimately have more disastrous and lasting effects upon the economy of the nation than any action of an aggressive labor leader in disobeying a void court order."

Though this was the minority opinion, the majority being that the government had the legal right to hold injunction against jeopardizing the public welfare, it contains an interesting observation; and it intimates that such practice could be an act of tyranny against constituted authority.

Justice Murphy, in obliquely disavowing the wisdom of the Norris-La Guardia Act, went far beyond the pale of this argument without minimizing its importance on the future of our country.

The matter, briefly, could be summed up with the simple statement that the present labor laws are—and shall always be—wrong, and that the Congress should see that they are repealed.

Along with this Act, there is another law, equally objectionable, that should be erased—namely, the Wagner Act. The Supreme Court 7-to-2 decision against Lewis and the Union is the first step on the long, long return road to a system of free and open bargaining between management and individual workers.

If there is anything this decision by a court (which is not entirely insensitive to the temper of the people) shows, it is that the tribunal sees the power of labor as tyrannical, monopolistic, and destructive of the system of economy under which men have achieved a relatively high standard of living through production of goods.

The Court upheld the plain sentiment of the people who now see the utter folly of permitting laboring men to form a physical bloc whereby they could dictate the terms under which they would work.

The Court foresaw the ruin that could befall our system of economy and government in permitting 400,000 men, at the instance of one man, to defy the government as it sought to protect the public welfare, which, at all times, is everybody's business and nobody's.

"Upon the maintenance of that system," Chief Justice Vinson wrote, "depends all future progress to which they (the miners) may justly aspire. In our complex society there is a great variety of limited loyalties, but the overriding loyalty of all is to our country and to the institutions under which a particular interest may be pursued."

The Court, in handing down its decision, foresaw the danger of endorsing the act of a group in defying the decision of a court (in this case the Federal District Court at Washington).

So we come again to the perennial question. How did it happen that one group of men, numbering less than a half-million, could jeopardize the welfare of a whole nation?

The answer, it seems to us, is simpler than it might sound. It is that the legislators, over a period of 14 years, have legalized a monopolistic practice of labor unions, a power holding sway over industries, large and small, which form the sinew of our real strength.

The closed shop must go. The closed shop means that you cannot work unless you pay a private organization, the union, for this basic right of a free man. Thus the right of a man to buy food and shelter and to provide for his family is involved. On this issue depend two other practices: 1—the closed union; and 2—industry-wide bargaining. Surely, by this time, our people, who as the majority are right at least part of the time, will demand a repeal of labor tyranny and monopoly.

U. S. IN GERMANY

The recent admission by General McNarney, retiring chief of our occupation forces in Germany, that the Army has failed in its mission there and that it is not the proper vehicle for re-educating Germans, was encouraging. If we are willing to admit certain obvious mistakes and to profit by the experience, we doubtless can establish a successful occupation policy and machine in Germany.

From as far removed as Hollywood you could see that the Army was not the proper arm of this government to plant the seed of democracy in the peoples it had crushed. Armies are important when force is needed; but force is hardly a suitable principle for selling ideas.

As a matter of fact, that part of Germany under the Stars and Stripes has done better than the other three zones. Two observers just back from there, where they served in official assignments for several months, say the people are at work again. They say also that Germans prefer America over other nations—this despite the fact that an occupation army always is despised by its "subjects."

That many of our occupation policies and handouts have worked against this good will. One of these is the use of pink-faced boys as soldiers. Inexperienced youths "are made to look silly, for instance, when they try to handle crowds which any seasoned sergeant could whip into order at the blow of his whistle.

Apparently our occupying forces are not yet willing to let the underdog forget the war and get back to normal. We try for too much regulation. Instead of turning the people loose to plan and do for themselves. Traditionally, the Germans are among the world's most energetic and resourceful people. The longer we hold them down the longer will we have to help support them.

In spite of handicaps—including shortage of raw materials, caused in part by the zoning system—a new crop of small industries has sprung up in the Munich area. At a recent exposition at Munich several scores of articles made for export were on display.

Since Kirby Page's ideas are shared by so many people who pose as being Christians and economists, I want to point out further errors in his book "Living Courageously."

"Timid Christians can never overcome courageous foes." There is no such thing as a timid Christian. Christians are asked but not timid. They will not initiate the use of force as individuals or by way of the state.

A Christian need not be timid because he is in harmony with God's law. He is never embarrassed; he is never confused. He is always willing to speak out and answer questions. Of course people who are not are timid and will not submit to an interview. Probably that is the reason Page will not submit to an interview with a stenographer present for $100 or debate his socialistic panaceas for $100.

Rev. Page is too timid to advocate the government now taking over all land. This is shown from the following statement: "Advocacy of public ownership and operation of agriculture is not in the view of the heritage and experience of the American people. Eventually fully socialized farming may be desirable but not under present conditions."

Page evidently thinks it would be a little difficult to get enough people to believe in the state owning all the land so he does not advocate it now.

Listen to this: "Competition leads automatically to anarchy in production. In a competitive society planned production on an adequate scale is impossible."

They have a planned economy in Russia and are getting it in England, but they are not getting production. Competition under law is exactly opposite from anarchy. Competition under law is the basis of all progress. If men did not do things better and give more in exchange than another, there would be no economic progress.

No Competition in Ideas Either
And what Kirby Page evidently fails to realize is that if we do not have competition in economic things we cannot have competition in ideas as to how to produce economic things. We can have only dictation whether we call it cooperation or not.

Page thinks that unemployment is due to the employer's greed in not paying enough wages. Listen to this: "Lack of purchasing power prevents the masses from buying back the goods they produce."

Now if the workers alone did produce these goods as he would have people believe, why in the world do they pay the owners of capital anything? If the tools of management is of no use to the workers, why don't they go ahead and produce the goods and keep all that they produce? They are entitled to everything they produce. If the managers or tools produce nothing or help not at all, as the Reverend implies, then why don't the workers themselves rent the land, hire the tools and hire the workers themselves and keep all the production?

The fact of the matter is that if it weren't for the tools, 99 people out of 100 would starve to death in a few days after what has been produced with tools has been consumed.

Yet Kirby Page says the workers cannot buy back what they produce. They can buy back all they produce but they cannot buy back the part that is produced as the result of the use of tools and the part of management. He is certain.

Civil Suit Filed
The compensation suit of G. E. Richardson versus National Automobile and Casualty Insurance Company was filed yesterday in the office of Dee Patterson, district clerk.

The Christian churches are spending for too much time pointing out their differences while failing to recognize their common unity. The church suffers much from its enemies. It suffers more from its friends—Rev. Dr. Gordon H. Baker of Brooklyn, N. Y.

From my two informants, there are indications that we have gone too far in our refusal to make use of former Nazis, at least former merchants, manufacturers and government officials who were used, perhaps not unwillingly, by the Nazi government. We have not been willing to admit officially what everybody could see; that most of the people came to accept the Nazi regime as their government. In refusing to make use of any such Germans we have denied ourselves the use of nearly all the brains and organizing ability available.

The defect is especially noticeable in education where the number of teachers successfully screened are required to work a double shift—and their average age is 60.

It is my belief that the best way to occupy Germany is to establish workable policies, pull out nearly all our army except trained inspectors and observers, and let the people understand that the occupation soldiers will be back unless our policies are followed.

Such a plan would no doubt have the enthusiastic support of the German people, would save us enormous expense and would doubtless create more democracy and goodwill than is possible by an occupying army.

MACKENZIE'S Column

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

One of these days this column is going to break into joyous song over some cheerful international event, though it's hard to say when, for the crises continue like a parade of circus elephants clinging to each other's tails.

Among the latest hot developments is the blunt charge by the American government that Russia has caused a political crisis in Hungary by "unjustified interference" in the internal affairs of the Danubian country. This accusation is contained in a sharp note which the U. S. State Department has delivered not only to the Soviet government and anti-Soviet terror groups.

This means that the United States is determined to continue its efforts to protect weak countries in their right of self-determination. Whether it will have better luck in this case than in the Polish elections of January remains to be seen. Poland was moved into the Soviet camp by balloting which both America and Britain repeatedly protested.

Workers cancelled the act. For once in his life, he is being polite to the Supreme Court of the United States, which may hand down a decision on the injunction proceedings against him within a few days.

Said John, off the record, of course, "If they're going to bang me, anyway, why should I stick my neck in the noose?"

FOLITE—John L. Lewis was scheduled to testify before the Senate Labor Committee last Wednesday on the various bills which have been introduced for imposing drastic controls on unions.

It was to have been a headline performance, but at the last moment the head of the United Mine Workers cancelled the act.

DESPERATE—However, the 1944 Roosevelt pledge won votes for F. D. R. and for Democratic Congressional candidates where this racial issue carried weight in certain metropolitan areas—New England, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and other middle western states.

President Truman, then under the Rooseveltian spell, resorted to the same old technique last October when he got word that the Mead-Lehman ticket in New York was in desperate straits.

Subsequent to the political advice of National Chairman Robert E. Hines and a few other labor leaders, he voiced a demand for an annual inflow of 100,000 Jews in Palestine, which ruined any chance of a British-Jew-Arab government, according to Prime Minister Bevin.

It is doubtful if President Truman would make the same mistake again. He and Secretary of State Marshall now realize that, in our diplomatic and economic conflict with Moscow, we must back up London in Palestine, in India, in Canada and wherever the empire's safety is endangered.

REGRETS—Washington, and possibly Prime Minister Bevin himself, regrets his outburst and his naked revelation on the floor of Commons that he had a few minutes ago been influenced by the desire of American candidates for the White House, Congress and governorships to win votes.

Bevin's denunciation of the Roosevelt-Truman Palestine program will lessen our influence in the field of foreign affairs, and this is especially unfortunate in view of the fact that the foreign ministers will meet in Moscow on Monday, March 10, to discuss the German and Austrian peace treaties.

Here is the rub, due to Mr. Bevin's breakdown: whenever an American President makes a private or public plea on behalf of European minorities (Orientals have no real voice in anything), the politicians whom Washington seeks to influence will discount and disregard our intervention because of their belief—in fact, their knowledge—that it was designed to corrupt a few winning votes on this side of the water.

CHANGED—Secretary of State Marshall left for the Moscow Conference of Foreign Ministers in a car with a baby in the woods when it comes to the product.

Rev. Page can't set down any rules to govern human relations. He does not seem to know that the Communist menace is a fact of life, that unemployment and our inability to pay our bills and our wars are due to our errors and to our violating the Ten Commandments. He does not seem to know that the Communist results of errors are just as bad whether they are done with the best intentions or deliberately. God pays no attention to the intentions when it comes to economic results.

Rev. Kirby Page seems to think that all means of production can be controlled by the government. What Page fails to see is that if there is no competition between different companies, there will be no way of determining which men will be the most competent managers. When the government owns all the plants, the managers will be selected not on the competitive basis. He abhors competition. If on the competitive basis, then our will have to be selected on an arbitrary basis or from a political standpoint. It will be arbitrary, not mathematical or competitive. There will, without competition, be no way of measuring the relative values of a man's services.

There will be no way of planning for years ahead under a democratic government. The managers of government would be voted out and the former plan would be discarded.

Iron Curtain Conscience
If Kirby Page would submit to a public interview, who would see the error of his ways. As long as he uses an iron curtain to shelter his conscience from public light, he will continue to be the blind leading the blind.

its Military Governor in Budapest, but to Britain and Hungary.

The note cites the arrest of Bela Kovacs, a deputy in the Hungarian Parliament, by Russian occupation forces. Until recently Kovacs was Secretary General of the Small-Holders Party, the moderate majoritarian group in Parliament, which the Communists and other parties have tried to oust. The Russians alleged that he "actively participated in the formation of subversive and anti-Soviet terror groups."

Washington deems the charges against Kovacs "unwarranted." The note says the effect of this interference in Hungarian affairs "will be to support the efforts of a small group in Hungary to substitute a minority dictatorship for a responsible administration representative of the will of the Hungarian people as expressed in free and untrammeled elections. The United States government is opposed to this attempt to nullify the electoral mandate given by the Hungarian people."

A showdown right now on the Hungarian issue might have a great effect on the further realignment of Europe.

His own iniquities shall take the wicked himself, and he shall be holden with the cords of his sin. He shall die without instruction, and in the greatness of his folly he shall go as astray.—Proverbs 5:22-23.

Hallmark Is Famous Name in Greeting Cards, And They're Specialty at Pampa Office Supply

More than 500 different designs of greeting cards are now being carried in stock at the Pampa Office Supply, 211 North Cuyler, it was announced this week by the management of this institution established here in 1930. The concern carries the well-known Hallmark cards.

This is more than double what the concern carried about a year ago. It was stated. The owners and operators of the business are L. N. Atchison and Lloyd Griffith.

This increased in greeting card variety has been justified, it was explained, by the expansion of the business in general; and every effort is being expended to maintain the confidence of the consumer purchasing the well-known products of Shaw-Walker files, cabinets, and safes. Adding machines and Royal typewriters are sold through Pampa Office Supply.

Among services rendered are lettering and console radio at this time—something of a scarcity in the radio market. All kinds of appliances can be purchased at Brook's place. Where shortages have existed heretofore, supplies of plenty have been invited over; and the public has been invited out to see just what he does have in stock.

holds the local agency for Royal typewriters. All kinds of office equipment are sold, and the name Shaw-Walker is an important one in this field of business.

THE PAMPA MUSIC STORE offers a complete stock of all types of musical instruments and appliances. The store also has a wide variety of the latest popular recordings. For economically priced items in the music line drop by the Pampa Music Store, located at 214 North Cuyler.

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, March 6.—Selected bulls and industrialists continued their recovery in today's stock market although many leaders were unresponsive.

Slowdowns were frequent after a fairly active opening. Gains of fractions to a point or so predominated near midday.

Buying still was mainly of a professional character and based on the idea that a technical comeback might eventually in the wake of these losing weeks. Commission house customers, however, generally inclined to hold.

DOCTOR'S DISCOVERY FOR BACKACHE DUE TO KIDNEYS

There is not only actually very little resentment toward Allied troops in Japan, but the people in general are very friendly toward our soldiers.—George Acheson, Jr., chairman Allied Council for Japan.

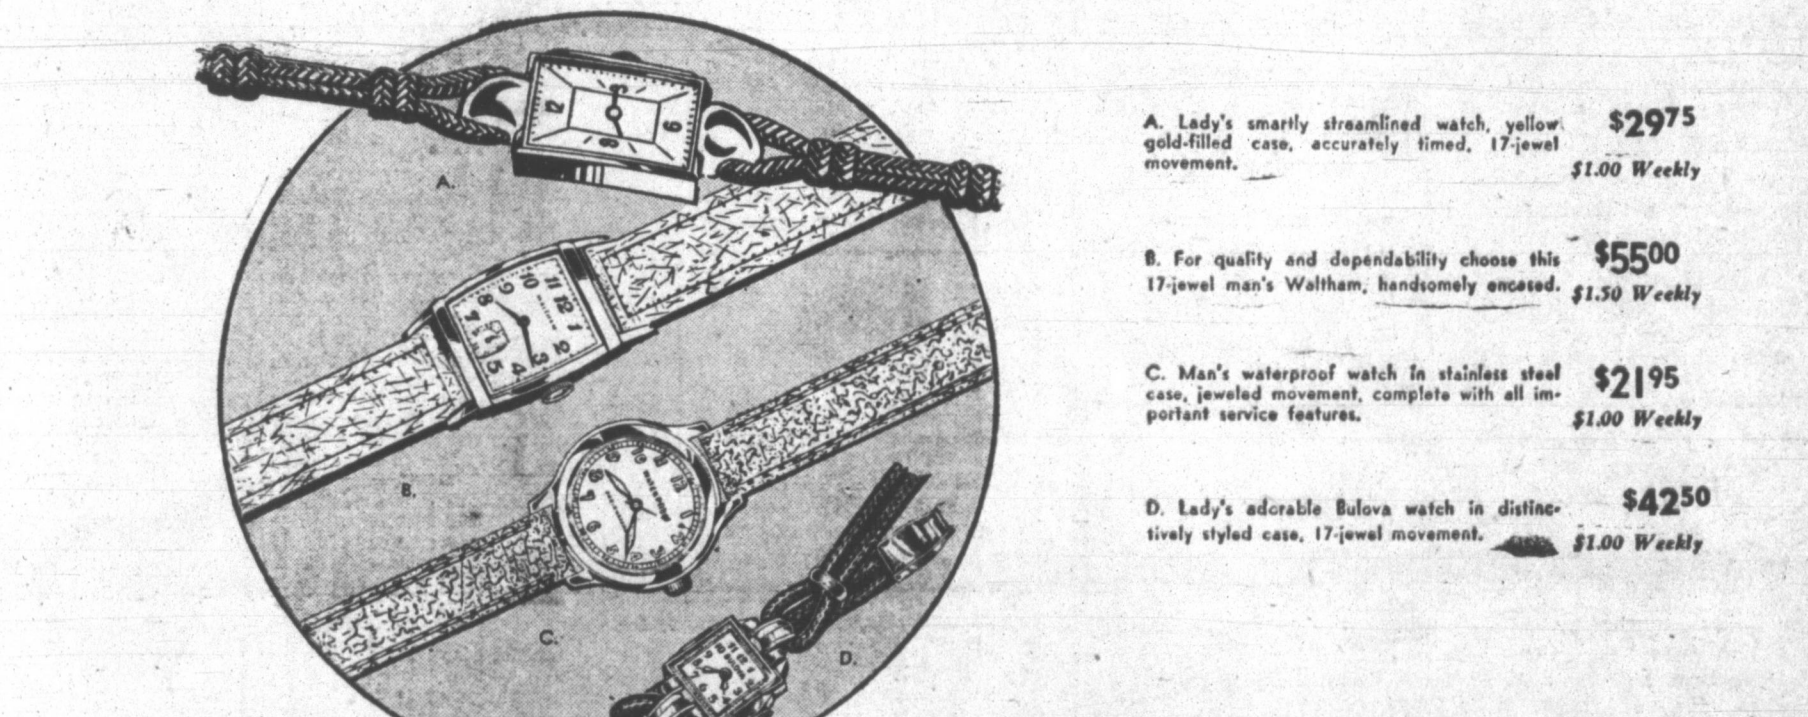

If excess acidity of your urine makes your back ache so you groan... so you get up 3 or 4 times a night to pass water, now be of good cheer.

Three generations ago a famous doctor noticed that hundreds of his patients had this backache. He compounded a medicine made of 16 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams—truly Nature's own way to relief. Millions have used it. The medicine is Dr. Kinner's Swamp-Root. Instantly you take it, it starts to work flushing out those excess acids that may cause your backache... increasing the flow of urine to help ease that burning sensation when you pass water... and that bladder irritation that makes you get up nights. Caution: take as directed. You'll say it's marvelous. For free trial supply, send to Dept. V, Kinner & Co., Inc., Box 1255, Stamford, Conn. Or—get full-sized bottle of Swamp-Root today at your drugstore.
