

Marshall Sees Little Hope for Writing German Treaty

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall left today for the Big Four Foreign Ministers meeting in Moscow, expressing doubt that a peace treaty for Germany can be written there.

Dean Acheson and Treasury Secretary Snyder, were at the airport to see Marshall off on his most important undertaking since he took over the nation's top diplomatic post.

Marshall told reporters that the German pact is "quite different." Still at issue, he emphasized, are the "great fundamentals" which will serve as a basis for a German treaty draft.

The Secretary planned to stop tomorrow in Paris for an overnight visit with President Vincent Auriol of France. This will give him an opportunity to get French views on many issues involving the future of Germany.

From Paris, he arranged to go to Berlin for a conference with U. S. occupation authorities. He is scheduled to stay there Friday night and possibly Saturday.

Cooperation in Arctic Defense Is Negotiated

OTTAWA, Ont.—(AP)—U. S.-Canadian cooperation in development of the Arctic for defense and commercial purposes moved an important step forward today with announcement that nine new weather stations are to be jointly operated by the two nations.

The uninhabited rim of the North American continent, a vast blind spot for weathermen and military strategists, soon will be manned by watchers of the United States and Canada.

The project, officially disclosed in Ottawa and Washington, involves the joint establishment of nine new weather stations in Canadian territory.

Pending Labor Bills Surround Legislators

AUSTIN—(AP)—Every way Texas legislators turned today, pending labor legislation stared them in the face.

In the House, ten labor control proposals crowded the calendar, including two added late yesterday by favorable recommendation of the Labor Committee.

In the Senate, three measures awaited action, including an "open shop" bill approved by the House yesterday.

Rep. George O. Nokes' labor conciliation service bill, which made a brief appearance on the House floor yesterday, was back in a subcommittee but due for reappearance next week.

The House Labor Committee sent Nokes' measure to a subcommittee only after Rep. Charles A. Murphy warned: "You better act on it today. We might lose it to another committee tomorrow."

The bill went back to the committee for further study after House members said they had amendments which would "take a week to discuss."

Rep. Cecil Storey's bill to prohibit strikes by public employees against the state or any political subdivision got a 13 to 1 favorable vote from the Labor Committee.

He said the bill would cover all phases of state, county, and municipal government, including school boards and teachers.

The committee voted 9 to 3 to recommend passage of Rep. Frank Svalienak's bill to make unions responsible for damage caused by strikes or picketing.

The bill was presented by Rep. Marshall Bell, whose "open shop" bill passed the House yesterday.

Clark Places Bid For Re-Election Of Truman in '48

AUSTIN—(AP)—U. S. Attorney General Clark today said he will be busy in 1948, as I hope all Democrats will be, helping re-elect Harry S. Truman as President of the United States.

Speaking before a joint session of the Legislature, the cabinet member from Dallas denied that he had any interest in politics.

He was referring to an introductory remark by Sen. Fred Harris of Dallas that it "would not surprise me to see him as our nominee for vice-president."

"As far as I am concerned, I will not offer for any office," Clark said. The Attorney General said the great strides the United States has made since the end of the war did "not just happen."

He pointed out that Truman had given the United States the services of such men as Fred Vinson as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and George Marshall as secretary of state.

Commenting that "there are those who try to cause strife in the United States," Clark declared he "has no fear for America."

He added that the Department of Justice was "watching that type of people."

"There is no place in America for those who believe in the Communist doctrine. We will not allow our way of life to be destroyed by that or by any other ideology," he said.

Pointing to the fact that many people think the National government is becoming too centralized and too strong, Clark said it was up to the Legislatures "not to relinquish their authority."

PRESIDENTS MEET—President of Mexico Aleman, right, greets President Truman upon the latter's arrival by air in Mexico City for a three-day goodwill visit to the Central American nation's capital. The U. S. President's visit will conclude today.

Labor Committees Hear From Both Management and Unions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The National Association of Manufacturers said today that pending labor legislation in Congress has caused the National Labor Relations Board to change its policies.

Raymond S. Smethurst, NAM counsel, asserted in a statement prepared for the Senate Labor Committee that recent events indicate the NLRB has become convinced it should "amend" the Wagner Act "with- out awaiting action by Congress."

But Smethurst said such "non-basic" changes in policy have always been "too little and too late." He asked Congress to "deal effectively with basic questions" through legislation.

At the same time CIO Vice-President Van A. Bittner was telling the House Labor Committee that the American people will not "mildly accept" laws "aimed at the destruction of labor unions."

Bittner declared that it is the purpose of bills before the committee, which he said are backed by "warm-time profiteering groups."

"Whoever seeks to destroy labor is hell-bent on destroying the country," he said in a statement prepared for the House group.

Chief Executive Concludes Visit In Mexico Tonight

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—President Truman saw Mexico's four-year-old volcano, Popocatepec, from the air today in a quick trip to be followed at noon by a fast drive to Teotihuacan Pyramids to the Sun and the Moon, 28 miles north of here.

The Sacred Cow left at 10:07 a.m. EST and landed here at 12:31 p. m. EST.

The President's plane was preceded by a newspaper and photographers which landed five minutes ahead of him.

The President saw Popocatepec in angry eruption, one of the biggest thrills of his visit to Mexico. The volcano started on a new rampage today a few hours before the Sacred Cow flew 1,000 feet around and over the spouting cone.

The day was clear warm with excellent visibility over the scene of devastation made by the great spread of lava.

The President seemed tireless and eager for his tourist trip to see the sights of Mexico over two days of swift activity in formal affairs with much handshaking and a multitude of his expansive smiles.

Mr. Truman had the capital swaying to the "Missouri Matz" played repeatedly yesterday at the folk dance festival, the U. S. Embassy reception and in the foreign office last night.

More significant than that was the title of "Champion of American Democracy" bestowed on the President by his host, President Aleman at a formal U. S. Embassy lunch yesterday.

He will wind up his official visit tonight in a private manner when with Aleman, Tomorrow he will fly to Waco, Texas, where he is to deliver a 25-minute foreign economic policy speech at Baylor University before returning to Washington tomorrow night.

New Commission Continues Study Of City Process

Members of the City Commission convened again this morning, after a full day session yesterday, to study the inner workings of the municipal government and its various departments.

A tour of the departments in City Hall were made this morning when City Manager Garland Franks explained the system used in renumbering houses and fire departments.

Yesterday afternoon the Commission went over pending problems and their different levels of completion; including the water projects, catholic protection for the water storage tanks, sewage program, paving programs, and the Hobart St. underpass.

The Commission will again go into session this afternoon and possibly tomorrow.

Senate Subcommittee Approves Rent Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Legislation allowing a general 10 percent increase in rents was approved 3 to 2 today by a Senate Banking Subcommittee.

Senator Ruck (R-Del.), chairman of the subcommittee, told reporters the full Banking Committee probably will consider the proposal tomorrow.

The measure would continue rent controls through this year, but take their enforcement from OPA and give it to the National Housing Agency.

Steamship Line Continues Route

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An aide of Senator Connally (D-Texas), said today the Maritime Commission had reported that the Southern Steamship Co., Philadelphia, will continue operations between Philadelphia and Texas ports.

He said the company would operate on its own, with ships stopping at Tampa, Corpus Christi, Galveston and Houston. Later it may restore its New York-Philadelphia-Texas route.

The company is one of four which formerly operated Atlantic-Gulf freight service for the commission. The commission discontinued the service in February because high labor costs and low freight rates were causing heavy losses.

A commission official told a reporter that in addition to Southern, the Navtex Steamship Corp., A. H. Pull Co., and Airlines, Inc., of New York, were considering resuming operations on their own.

Two other companies are definitely scheduled to start operations in the Atlantic-Gulf trade on a private basis. They are Pan-Atlantic Steamship Corp., operating between New York, Florida, Alabama and New Orleans, and Atlantic Gulf Seatrains Lines, Inc., which is to resume service March 12.

Theater Robbery Excites Activity

JERUSALEM—(AP)—Three armed men held up the cashier of a motion picture theater in downtown Jerusalem shortly after 11 a. m. today and escaped with $300, touching off a flurry of military activity that whipped the city into intense excitement.

Shrilling sirens sent British armored cars racing through the streets, security barriers were closed, all traffic was halted and troops rushed to guard posts in strategic areas.

Police said the robbers were "three young Jews armed with revolvers," who drove up to the Orlyon Theater in the heart of the modern Jewish quarter.

After the trio fled, the cashier telephoned police, who gave orders to sound sirens usually used to halt traffic in the event of an outbreak of violence by the Jewish underground.

The all clear was sounded after about 20 minutes.

Absenteeism in Local Schools--Due to Colds, Mumps--Amounts to One-Fifth

Nearly one-fifth of all public school students were absent from their classes today as influenza, mumps and whooping cough spread over the city in a minor epidemic.

Reports that schools would close within the next few days were not verified by school officials, however.

A survey of six public schools with a total approximate enrollment of 3,500 revealed that nearly 750 were absent for various reasons, although only eight teachers and one school principal were confined to their homes.

Changes Made in French Cabinet

PARIS—(AP)—Adm. Georges Thierry d'Armenville was ousted by the French Cabinet today as high commissioner for war-torn Indochina.

Emile Bollaert, former Prefect of the Rhone Region, was named to replace him.

Argenlieu, whose position has been under attack since Viet-Nam groups began large scale attacks at Hanoi Dec. 19, did not resign, Cabinet informants said.

He recently returned from Saigon, under orders from the French government, to engage in "consultations" on the status of Indochina's troubles, which flared after the breakdown of negotiations between Viet-Nam delegates and the French at Versailles a year ago.

Possible Probe Of VA Affairs In Texas Seen

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Complaints from Texas ex-G.I.'s regarding the Dallas and Lubbock offices of the Veterans Administration will be looked into by Rep. Thomason (D-Texas), said today, if the House Veterans Committee gets a green light for such inquiries.

A resolution providing $50,000 for the committee to conduct an investigation is scheduled for a House vote tomorrow.

Thomason said he has given the committee numerous wires and letters received from El Paso veterans criticizing operations of the two Texas offices. If the House adopts the resolution as expected, he said, undoubtedly a subcommittee will thoroughly check them.

One of the main protests from El Paso, Thomason said, is about delayed subsistence checks for those in school.

Similar complaints have been received by Rep. Lucas (D-Texas), Dallas and Lubbock offices of the Veterans Administration will be looked into by Rep. Thomason (D-Texas), said today, if the House Veterans Committee gets a green light for such inquiries.

The Lubbock office is less than a year old. There was transferred to it a big backlog from the Waco office.

"I feel the Lubbock office is as efficient as any of the regional offices. Unfortunately, neither the National office nor any of the Regional offices have been able to keep abreast of the work load that has piled up."

New York Cotton Exchange Opens Following Strike

NEW YORK—(AP)—Business as usual was resumed today in quiet, orderly dealings on the New York Cotton Exchange, reopened after a one-day strike of clerical workers.

With no apparent accumulation of orders since Monday's close, the market was regular, $1.25 a bale higher to 45 cents lower.

Exchange officials and Local 205 of the Office Employees International Union (AFL) reached a wage agreement shortly before midnight boosting weekly salaries $6 to $25 and giving clerical workers a bonus when daily trading exceeds 250,000 bales.

The Exchange, where $45,000,000 worth of cotton frequently changes hands daily, was struck by 50 maintenance employees and 50 to 60 clerical employees an hour before opening time yesterday. Engineers and ironworkers refused to cross the picket lines, and more than 600 members of the Seafarers International Union (AFL) joined the picket lines.

Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York State Mediation Board, announced shortly before midnight that exchange officials had reached an agreement with Local 205, Office Employees International Union (AFL) later, John Cole, vice president of the Local, announced terms of the settlement.

Cole said a new contract, retroactive to last Monday and expiring Jan. 31, 1948, provided wage increases running from $6 a week for char-women to $25 for supervisors. These he said, represented increases of about 20 percent as against the Union's original demand for 30 percent.

TOKYO—(AP)—Two former Japanese naval officers, Yasuro Sato and Yoshishin Teramura, ended their lives by drinking poisoned sake after confessing narcotics ring operations which involved themselves and others, W. R. Speer of Amarillo, Texas, headquarters narcotics chief, said today.

Speer said the two had taken a large supply of narcotics from the Japanese naval medical stores shortly before the occupation began.

U. N. May Get Palestine Case From British

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Great Britain was reported reliably today to be prepared to toss the complicated Palestine case into the lap of the United Nations without further delay.

Authoritative sources said Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate to the U. N. Security Council, might even hand the case to Secretary General Trygve Lie some time today.

"If not today," one high source said, "it certainly will be turned over to the United Nations within the next couple of days. The British want action."

At the same time, sources within the British delegation said Britain would accept the appointment of a "fact-finding" commission composed of members of the United Nations to delve into the Holy Land situation.

"We will welcome whatever recommendations the United Nations may have for solving the Palestine situation," one British source said. "We are most anxious to turn the case over to the United Nations. Perhaps it can work out something that will satisfy both the Arabs and the Jews and bring an end to the violence that is now sweeping the Holy Land."

The only thing holding up Britain from formally placing the Palestine case before the United Nations, this informant said, is a decision by Lie or how he thinks the case should be handled.

Lie was understood to be "feeling out" members of the Big Five on what method should be adopted.

U. N. officials were reported to have taken preliminary steps to expedite an immediate inquiry into the Palestine problem when and if the Big Five powers give the go-ahead.

Informed sources said Sir Robert Bolev, assistant secretary general in charge of political affairs, already had directed his aides to "begin pulling together basic, factual material."

Two Hospitalized Following Wreck

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Two persons yesterday were in the Shamrock General Hospital after the automobile they were driving became involved in a collision with another car around 11 a. m. on U. S. Highway 68, 4 miles west of Lela. State Highway Patrolmen reported.

Patrolmen said that a 1946 Ford sedan, driven by Raymond Rogers, 28, of Chicago, Ill., was driving east on the highway, came over a rise in the road when the collision with a 1936 Chevrolet sedan driven by Lee Rankin, 47, of Lela, occurred. Rankin was in the process of making a U-turn on the highway. Patrolmen said that Rogers and his wife, Lorraine Ester, 28, were taken to the Shamrock General Hospital by Womack ambulance. Rogers was reported to have suffered several broken ribs and his wife chest and bruises about the face. Rankin was slightly injured.

Both cars rolled over to the south side of the highway. Patrolmen estimated the damage as approximately $1,000 to the Ford, owned by the Act Auto Rental Co., of Kansas City, Mo., and $400 to Rankin's car.

Breadon Says No Limit on Salaries

470 Teams Enter League Baseball Race in 1st Year

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Sam Breadon, the man who puts out the money, says there never has been a "ceiling" on salaries paid by his St. Louis Cardinals. He wouldn't break his rule of not making public the matter of what his players are paid, but he said, in an interview, that over the years the Cardinals have been paid fairly well—because they have played winning baseball most of the time. "And," he added "you don't get winning baseball out of a man who is dissatisfied and unhappy, which is what he would be if he did not get a fair amount of money." He pointed out that in the last 21 years the Cardinals have won nine National League baseball pennants and six World Series, and finished out of first division only three times in the last 22 years. "A club cannot make a record like the Cardinals with dissatisfied and underpaid ball players," he said. The headman of the Redbirds hastened to nail a report that he once said if a player is worth more than $20,000 a year he would have to get rid of him. He disposed of it with these words: "For years when Rogers Hornsby was with the Cardinals he was the highest paid player in the National League. Dizzy Dean also was for years the highest paid player in the National League while a member of the Cardinal Club, and I would not be surprised if he received the highest salary paid to any pitcher in the National League up to date." Then he added Frankie Frisch, Bob O'Farrell and Burleigh Grimes to his offhand list of Cardinals who in their time hit the club's money bags for some pretty nice figures.

Newcomer Working Way up in Tennis, Defeats Top Player

NEW YORK—(AP)—Fred Kovaleski, who came into the National Indoor Tennis championships unheralded, unseeded and undaunted, was still very much unbeaten as play moved into the quarter-finals today — to the complete surprise of tournament officials and Kovaleski himself. The 22-year-old former paratrooper occupied the spot in the round of eight which the seeding committee had reserved for Frank Shields, the erstwhile internationalist who was playing in the finals at Wimbledon when Kovaleski was in knee pants. When the two matched strokes on the hardwood floor of the Seventh Regiment Armory yesterday, Kovaleski proceeded to give his experienced opponent a few lessons on ways to smack a tennis ball and engineered a clean-cut upset by scores of 6-4, 3-6, 6-4.

Make Sure Grandma Always Feels Wanted

ADVERTISEMENTS—As a nation we're not getting any younger and it's about time—social workers feel—we do something about it.

At the time of Christ—despite the absence of automobiles and atomic bombs—the average life span was only about 25 years. By the middle of the last century the life expectancy of Americans had been advanced to 40 years and by the early 1900's to 47.

Now the average life span of American men and women stretches into the 60's with every indication that an additional decade will be added in the next 40 years. Some statisticians predict that in 30 years one person in seven here will be over 65.

Crochet Inserts
By MRS. ANNE CABOT
Pretty isn't it? And it's even handier than the sketch can begin to show as the Irish roses of the design are crocheted in pale pink and set on a lacy, cobwebby background of pure white. You can crochet the pillowcase insert in this two-color combination or in all white, as you prefer. A gift of trousseau linens consisting of pillowcases, dresser and dressing table scarves decked out in this fine design would be a gift indeed!

To obtain complete crocheting instructions for the Irish Rose inset Design (Pattern No. 5406) actual size sketch of design details, send 15 cents in COIN plus 1 cent postage. YOUR NAME, ADDRESS and the PATTERN NUMBER to Anne Cabot (Pampa News) 1150 Ave. Americas, New York 19, N. Y.

Cheerful Gaiety Wins Confidence

The pleasant smile that lights up a face infects other people, wins favor, inspires confidence and makes you feel better is a small outlay for these big returns.

Only one-third as many muscles are used to put a smile on a face as to put on a frown. If smiling eases lines that will add charm to your face as you grow older.

Two New Members Join Merten H D Club at Meeting Yesterday

Two new members, Mrs. E. B. Wirtner and Mrs. L. C. Hageman, were registered at the meeting yesterday afternoon of the Merten H. D. Club in the home of Mrs. Frank Bailey, Miss Ann Hastings, county home demonstration agent, met with the club.

Mrs. Hastings held a bedroom conference at which she demonstrated how to make a bed. A good bed, she told the members, is an asset to health. She urged careful buying of springs, mattress, sheets and covers, for they are all to be considered in achieving comfort. She declared that too short or narrow sheets and covers are often the cause of a poorly made bed and lead to restless sleep. Buying quality sheets and caring for them are good investments toward a good bed which we must have for relaxation in sleep, which is as essential to health as food, the speaker concluded.

Anger Will Etch Unpleasant Lines

By ALICE HART
NEA Staff Writer
If you're the placid type, be glad of it. If you're not, learn to be. The irritable or ill-tempered woman will lose her good looks long before her placid sister will, says a Hollywood make-up man. That's Bud Westmore, who warns that irate irritability will leave its tell-tale marks on the face, if allowed to have its way.

He says all the proof a woman needs is in her mirror, if she'll look into hers the next time she feels or acts "furious." Fore-warnings of what will be etched in permanently, he says, are the unpleasant lines that play over the face when a temper snaps.

Anger also upsets body functions. And there's no greater cause of fatigue than berserk emotions which keep vitalizing and wipe the luster off beauty. This is why serenity should be cultivated at all costs, warns Mr. Westmore, by the woman who puts a premium on well-being and good looks. And who doesn't?

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS
Did you know that you can improve your figure and the appearance of your clothes simply by improving your posture? Each of us has (obscure) lines disappear like magic and your curves are more definitely in the same places as Lena Turner's. If you will straighten herself if you will cooperate by standing up correctly, you need is a full-length mirror and a critical eye. Remember:

1. Stand with your back flat against the wall, facing the mirror. Your arms are straight at your sides. Your head is back resting against the wall. The only your chin up where it belongs in your neck. Get the feel of this position, so you'll keep your chin up when you move about.

2. Push away from the wall and hold that position. Hold it and practice it until you feel so comfortable that you can do it often anywhere until it becomes a habit.

3. When you sit at your desk in school, sit way back in the chair so your back touches the back of the chair from shoulders to hips. Now pull in your neck so the curve of your back flattens and the full length of your back is pressed against the chair-back. This is good posture, encouraging a slim, straight figure.

4. More every posture involving exercises, write to Editor Williams at this hour, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Firemen Stand Guard Against Possible Fire

HOUSTON—(AP)—The tanker Lyons Creek, a 30-foot square hole ripped completely through her by a terrific explosion of gasoline fumes, lay listing at her dock today as fire equipment stood guard against the danger of a sparking setting fire to 200 to 300 barrels of fuel oil coating the water.

Acting Fire Chief George Richardson said wind and tide had backed the oil under the piers, creating a serious hazard.

The explosion yesterday sent seven men who were aboard the tanker to a hospital and damaged part of the dock at which she was tied up.

Some of the men were critically injured although they were close to the center of the blast.

Love Has Two Faces

By Irene Lonnen Ernhart

THREE days before Christmas it snowed during the night, a heavy wet snow, and the next morning the farm was a fairytland with every shrub and bush and tree heavily laden with white.

Cassie wasn't sick with snowing any more. She came down early this morning and helped Mama mix the fruit cake.

"I wanted to get the cakes done in time to send one to Parker. Way off there in New York—fine Christmas he'll have."

"I wish you wouldn't mention him, Mama," Cassie cried suddenly. "I wish everyone wouldn't always keep harping on him!"

She flung out of the kitchen and went into the long living room where Sid had lit a fine wood fire. Mama followed her.

"You know what I think, Cassie? I think you're still in love with Parker."

"Don't say such things, Mama. It's silly," she said, trying to sound scornful.

A letter came from Leni, saying she was sorry she couldn't get home. It might be a long time before she saw them again. She was on her way to New Orleans, with some fellow she had met at the night club where she was singing. His family lived there. She was thinking of marrying him.

So Leni had given up the idea of marrying Parker, after all, Cassie thought. Leni was very changeable, wasn't she? But Leni had her own ideas about what she wanted from life.

"CASSIE went out into the woods with Papa and Sid to cut the Christmas tree. They set it up in the living room."

"It's going to seem funny without Parker here," Papa said. "Seems like he's one of the family even though he ain't here any more," he added, in spite of Mama's dark look.

"He probably knows as well as you do the divorce was all a mistake."

"It wasn't a mistake, and there's no reason why he'd want to see me. It's more probable that he doesn't know I'm here. I'd planned to go to California, remember?"

"But where can you go? And on Christmas too, and we planned such a nice Christmas." Mama began to weep into her apron.

"I'll go to Indianapolis and stay at a hotel."

"Spent your Christmas in a hotel? Oh Cassie! I won't let you go. I'm going to tell Papa he can't drive you to town!" Mama said suddenly with spirit.

Cassie finished her packing and put on her hat and coat.

Papa came into the bedroom hesitatingly. He gestured at her with the stem of his pipe. "What you goin' to leave for, Cassie?" he said regretfully. "I don't see why you can't stay. You and Parker could surely get along through Christmas, even if you ain't married to him any more. And your Mama's all out about your leavin'."

"Would you mind driving me to the bus station?" Cassie said. She drew on her gloves.

Mama and Sid kissed her tearfully and watched in hurt silence as she followed Papa down the snowy path to the truck.

In Indianapolis it was almost impossible to find a room, but she finally found one in a small hotel. The room was small and dingy and not too clean, but it didn't matter.

She spent a miserable night tossing on the lumpy mattress of the bed in the cheap hotel, and ate a tasteless breakfast in the tiny coffee shop, and then for want of anything else to do started for a walk. In the afternoon she went to a movie.

It was dusk when she returned to the hotel. And when she asked for her key at the desk, a tall figure disengaged itself from a chair behind one of the potted palms in the lobby.

"Cassie's heart turned over," it was Parker. "It's Be Conchita!"

Hall-Langford Team Is Sought, Millard Works Against Time

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—If Jon Hall and Frances Langford were their way, Hollywood will see a new husband-and-wife acting team. Jon is set for "Prince of Thieves" at Columbia and is agenting for Frances to appear in the same movie.

Both Ray Millard and Michael Redgrave are working against time. Michael has to finish "Secret Beyond the Door" and "Mourning Becomes Electra" and leave the U. S. within six months of his arrival or suffer a tax penalty. Ray must complete "The Big Clock" by April 18, when he leaves for his English film.

Both Franchot Tone and Lucille Ball may stay at Columbia after "The Lady Knew How." He wants to do a detective yarn and she may do a Carole Lombard story. "But Is It Love," for Helen Deutsch.

Reports from Santa Barbara indicate "Arch of Triumph" was well received in its sneak preview, though that town is traditionally tough on movies.

Iona Massey's fiancé, Jay B. Kurtz, invented a slot machine that dispenses vitamin pills.

James Stewart may go "Wild Card" around $175,000. Garbo is reported set on a story of George Sand, the French novelist (played by Merle Oberon in "Song to Remember"), as her return vehicle.

Music for Edgar Bergen's Mexico City broadcast will be piped from Hollywood because of the battle between U. S. and Mexican musicians unions. Penny Singleton teaches Sunday school at her Van Nuys church.

LANDS SAKES!
WITHOUT ADVERTISING,
WHERE WOULD WE BE!

Advertising is the Spark Plug of Business,
And Good Business is What Makes Good, Steady Work!

WHEN you read the advertising in this issue—wherever you read or hear advertising—remember this:

Advertising's job is to sell goods. Poor sales mean pay cuts, layoffs, fear and worry all through the family. Good sales mean steady work, pay increases, promotions, peace of mind for all.

For when advertising sells goods, there's just naturally more work to be done. In the factory that makes the goods. In the mines and on the farms that produce the raw materials. In the transportation lines, stores and businesses that handle the goods. Yes, and in the banks, insurance companies, machinery houses, real estate firms, builders, etc., that service that factory. It's a never-ending chain.

So be grateful for advertising for bringing you fine products at good values. But most of all—thank advertising for making your job more secure.

HOW IT WORKS
It probably has been told hundreds of times before and probably in better phrasing but we hear so much about free enterprise today and what it means that a little illustration might be of assistance.

In this case we have a factory—a fish bowl factory. This splendid factory has a worker, Elmer, who turns out a fish bowl every hour. For this production Elmer is paid a dollar an hour. The plant manager then takes the fish bowl to market and has to sell it for a dollar to see that Elmer's salary is paid. The factory, you see, makes nothing.

Thus the buyer is unhappy because he has to pay a dollar for the fish bowl, Elmer is unhappy because he made only a dollar and management is unhappy because he hasn't made a thing.

So management goes home that night to worry about it and decides to invest more money in better production. Management gets more and better tools and when Elmer comes to work one day he finds that he can make two fish bowls with no more effort than it took to make one before. Now the boss takes the two bowls to market and meets the demand by selling both bowls for 75 cents.

This pleases the buyer who saved 25 percent on the purchase. Management then tells Elmer that he is now going to pay him a dollar and a quarter an hour, giving Elmer a boost of 25 cents which makes Elmer happy and then management has 25 cents left for dividends to the people who gave him the money for the new tools and possibly a little left for his work.

The joker in the whole business is when government comes in and gets taxes so high that management has to pay out 26 cents in taxes "because he is making too much money." That's when he decides to chuck the whole thing, close up the shop, give Elmer his pink slip and let people go without fish bowls.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
England and France finally have signed their much discussed 50-year alliance in the dramatic setting of immortal Dunkerque but while the ostensible purpose of the treaty have been cited, there still is ground for much speculation as to just what might grow out of it.

We are told that it is designed to promote mutual protection against any future aggression by Germany. Similar accords are proposed with Holland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia and Poland—to encircle Germany with a new cordon. Well, the desire for such a safeguard certainly is understandable, although its inauguration isn't particularly pressing in view of the fact that the Fatherland is so crippled as to be unable to make war within the fifty year period of the alliance.

Of far more immediate practicality is the projected economic pact on which England and France are at work as a supplement to the alliance. Under this pact the economies of the two nations would be integrated—a remarkable and perhaps far-reaching development.

So we see these comrades in arms, but rivals in trade, zealously seeking to coordinate their economies for mutual advantage.

Many will find this unusual situation somewhat reminiscent of that awful war crisis of 1940 when, to counter the victorious Hitlerian onslaught British Prime Minister Churchill offered to conclude a solemn act of union between France and England. The constitution of the union would "provide for joint organs of defense, foreign, financial and economic policies." French citizens would become citizens of Britain, and British citizens of France. The two parliaments would be formally associated.

That was on June 16, soon after the EPIC withdrawal of British forces from the bloody beaches of Dunkerque and as the French were being bludgeoned to their knees by the German onslaught.

That is not to say, of course, that any such union as Churchill projected is in process of being created. Far from it. But Britain

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I see that a lady marriage authority in Boston says that a man who is ashamed to let his wife work is immature and she's probably right. As a man grows more mature he becomes less afraid of things—and it takes a very brave man to sit and smoke his pipe while his wife does the family washing.

This lady expert Gracie believes that many marriages go on the rocks because one or both of the contracting parties are too immature to accept responsibility, so maybe people shouldn't marry until they're in their thirties. The trouble is, by that age men have gained a sense of freedom and women have lost some of the attractions that made men willing to give it up.

Come to think of it, the home isn't the only place where immaturity causes trouble. If all the nations were mature we could stop worrying about future wars.

and France are utilizing a modification of the plan in an effort to escape economic disaster—and perhaps other threats. They are experimenting without knowing what the final reaction may be.

And you can't predict how such an experiment may develop, especially in view of the dangerously disturbed political situation in Europe?

SWEEPSTAKES

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Any time in the next 16 months you hear some prominent Democrat speaking on what a great-a-at man Harry Truman is, watch out. What you probably will be listening to is a man who has been bit by the viperous vice-presidential virus. It's very contagious.

For now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of their party by letting it be known that they are modestly and at great personal sacrifice available to become Harry Truman's running mate on the Democratic ticket of 1948.

First political gossip after Democratic National Chairman Bob Hannegan first tossed Truman's hat in the ring a few days ago mentioned the cabinet officers as the most likely to win second place on the ticket. That's now considered all wet.

Only two members of the cabinet—Secretary of Agriculture Clint Anderson and Secretary of Labor Lew Schwelb—have ever been elected to any public office of importance. And it is going to take somebody with lots of vote-appeal and campaign know-how to get this vice-presidential nomination.

Furthermore, Marshall doesn't want it. Patterson is a Republican. Forrestal has too many Wall Street connections. Dito Harriman, Snyder and Hannegan are both from Truman's old Missouri, which rules them out. Clark is from Texas. What

news behind the news
WASHINGTON

Common Ground

CASH—Harold E. Stassen's on-loan-White-House parade which is beating the north woods and paragonia which money can provide it the home folks respond as expected to the recent request for contributions circulated by Bernhard W. Le Vander, chairman of the Republican State Committee of Minnesota.

The appeal also bears the names of two distinguished offshoots who are beating the north woods country in behalf of their political Maecenas and sponsor—Governor Luther Youngdahl and United States Senator Edward E. Thye. While Mr. Stassen visits Europe to ascertain the state and prospects of his "one world" idea, they hope to keep the cash rolling in to their St. Paul headquarters.

BID—In a seasonally frank bid for $500,000 from Minnesota friends and well-wishers as a start, Le Vander explains why the Stassen clique thinks that its man has a real chance for the 1948 nomination to oppose President Truman.

When Stassen was asked to speak to a brother about dividing inheritance he said "Who made me a divider over you?" According to Page would leave the impression that he by way of a collectivist society can eliminate extremes of luxury and poverty. If Stassen is wise, he should follow Page's lead.

ASSET—"As we know," begins Chairman Le Vander's exhortation, "there is an excellent potential in electing Harold Stassen as the next President of the United States."

"He is one of the two top choices for the Republican nomination; the other is Wendell Wilkie, who was more popular at Broad and Wall Streets than he was in rural clubhouses. This may prove to be an asset to Mr. Wilkie's politico-economic heir."

CLIQUE—"This is our great opportunity," continues Mr. Le V., "to elect a statesman to the White House. We know that he would be a great President."

"Some commentators say he is handicapped by being from a small state because the President. That can be overcome by an exceptional effort by the people of Minnesota in his behalf."

"The Republican Party of Minnesota, in its state convention, urged that all possible steps be taken to assure Mr. Stassen's election. We propose to take those steps—obtaining friendly delegates in the various states, and promoting him as the best qualified man to increase his popular support."

TAP—Adding that such an elaborate, hurrah-boy campaign will take money—and lots of it—Mr. Le Vander then applies what is known in professional political circles as "the tap."

From Minnesota friends alone (other states will be asked to kick in later) he expects to get $500,000. He has already received $100,000. He needs $400,000 more. He needs $400,000 more. He needs $400,000 more.

LAW—A few competitors have raised the embarrassing question of a possible violation of the Hatch Act. Although that statute is a dead letter by its author's own admission, it raises no bar to collection of the important money which Chairman Le Vander needs to sell his man to the country.

The so-called "clean politics law" quices more than another, the man who produces less has a right to some of the products of the fast producer. That is nonsense. He contends that because few people are rich they dominate government through control of the press, radio and movies.

COOPERATIVE—A one-federal law passed in the last 25 years that has been passed by the rich? And if the rich control the government, as Page would have the people believe, then why do the rich not have the progressive laws repealed because they do not have the power to have them repealed?

No, Kirby Page, the true competitive system does not cause what it prevents wars. Bastard 100: hundred years ago said "When men and goods do not cross border lines, soldiers will." It is government interference that causes to retire. But would he refuse the job of presiding over the Senate for six years if it were offered him? You know darn well no politician would.

Deduction Is Important in Tax Returns

WASHINGTON—(P)—Watch your deductions in filing your 1946 income tax returns. They may save you money.

A deduction is the amount of money for personal or business expenses which you can deduct from your total income before it is taxable. You can deduct many expenses.

For example, you can deduct the cost of your home, the cost of your car, the cost of your furniture, the cost of your clothing, the cost of your food, the cost of your entertainment, the cost of your travel, the cost of your education, the cost of your medical expenses, the cost of your insurance, the cost of your taxes, the cost of your interest, the cost of your gifts, the cost of your losses, the cost of your depletion, the cost of your depletion, the cost of your depletion.

Some kinds of income, being tax-exempt, don't have to be reported at all.

Here are other deductible expenses:

Interest paid on personal debts, such as bank loans and mortgages; state income and personal property and real estate taxes except those taxes—like paving assessments—which tend to increase the value of your property.

Unless paid for business purpose, you can't deduct the following Federal taxes: on admissions to theaters and sporting events, club dues, telephone and telegraph services; and transportation, such as railroad and bus fares.

You can deduct for medical, hospital and dental expenses to this extent: up to 5 percent of your income they're deductible. After that they're but—

They're limited to $1,250 if you file a return for yourself alone, or $2,500 if you claim more than one exemption. Example:

Your income was $6,000. Five percent of that is $300. But your medical expenses were $500. Subtract the $300 from the $500. That leaves you $200 to deduct from your income as medical expenses.

Economists estimate that the U. S. will be using six million barrels of oil daily in 1955.

Chamber Begins Drive For 100 New Members

A drive for at least 100 new members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce will start tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with a "kickoff coffee" at Wilma's Restaurant.

Heading the campaign will be Joe Key, vice-president of the chamber and chairman of the membership and finance committee.

Approximately 60 workers will make a canvass of the business district with special attention being paid to all new business houses.

The main drive will be completed Friday but the chamber will accept new and renewal memberships after that time.

There are, at present, nearly 400 members in the chamber.

"I checked with the VA and was told that the Lubbock office is doing the best possible job under the circumstances."

He said he had no objection to an investigation.

Texas only member of the House Veterans Affairs Committee, Rep. Teague (D), said he does not feel that the pending resolution was "meant as a criticism" of the agency.

"And I don't think it is a slam at General Omar Bradley, the administrator," he added.

He said he felt that the study into the size of the job facing the administration and procedures used ought to be "of some value" to the VA.

Teague said he expects to serve on a subcommittee looking into the operations of all veterans hospitals. As a matter of course, the subcommittee undoubtedly will check up on the administration of McCloskey hospital at Temple, Texas, and look into the proposed VA Hospital at Pampa, Texas, he said.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Texas), recently asked General Bradley for justification of plans to build a new hospital in Pampa, the home town of Senator Connally (D-Texas) while contemplating abandonment of McCloskey, Temple, and Marlin are less than 50 miles apart, he pointed out.

sentative, protested that the measure would mean the death of labor unions in Texas.

"This is one of the most dangerous bills to come before the committee," Alkin said, "and you have had some bad ones."

"This is an extremely drastic bill for a small bill," said Eckhart, "you are trying amputation for a simple case of rheumatism."

An amendment by Rep. Feunben centerist which would relieve the union of responsibility in the case of unauthorized or "wildcat" strikes was tabled.

The Senate Labor Committee will hold a public hearing tonight on a measure similar to the Nokes bill, and other pending labor legislation. The hearing was postponed from last night.

The House Appropriations Committee approved two bills during a three-hour meeting and sent three others to a subcommittee.

Ellis to allocate $1,500,000 to Lamar Junior College at Beaumont for development of a four-year school and a $175,000 appropriation for the Adjutant General's Department to aid the reorganization of the Texas National Guard and State Guard were approved.

Measures to make funds available for a cancer and pellagra hospital at Dallas, an apartment-office building for legislators, and a state office building and a courts building were sent to subcommittees.

The Senate State Affairs Committee authorized a subcommittee to bill to authorize the Board of Regents of the University of Texas Medical Center at Houston for location there of teaching and public health facilities. Chairman George Moffett said the $2,001,000 appropriation bill should have been sent to the Senate Finance Committee.

The House Education Committee recommended passage of a bill to increase salaries of teachers in state elementary institutions. The Board of Control would be allowed to supplement present salaries with the unused portion of the per capita apportionment given the schools out of the school fund.

The Senate Education Committee approved proposed changes in the teacher retirement law. Teachers of 30 years experience would be allowed to retire and draw retirement annuities immediately and teachers of 25 years experience could retire and draw annuities until they reach the age of 60 to receive annuities.

The Senate Military Affairs Committee recommended passage of a bill to authorize an increase in Texas National Guard strength from about 7,000 to 37,000.

A bill to allow extension of leases on submerged lands for a period as long as the lands continue to be produced was recommended by the Senate Oil, Gas and Conservation Committee.

The volcano Paricutin, which President Truman inspected this morning, has grown into a man-sized lava and fire lecher since it first erupted from a farmer's cornfield, 200 miles west of here, four years ago last month. It periodically spits out rocks, flames and high-temperature steam 2,000 feet and its small towns in the region were wiped out by the rolling lava and the greed of the growing volcano.

The pyramids, 23 miles northwest of Mexico City, are believed to antedate the Christian era and are thought to be the work of some race older than the Toltecs of Acollhuas, because their style betrays no influences of Indian or Mayan civilizations.

There are remains of two cities at the site, one superimposed on the other and the President desired to see the remains of the last one and its temples, where legend says the Indians prepared human sacrifices for ultimate death atop the Pyramid to the Sun.

The two Presidents have been much together during the visit, and although neither is able to speak the other's language they have been carrying on animated conversations through interpreters.

Waco is proud, and excited. Other presidents have visited Waco—Taft, Coolidge, Teddy Roosevelt, others. But they were guests of another generation.

Waco would like to give you the impression that the visit is relatively unimportant—just another event in a busy day. Many important individuals visit Waco on business or for pleasure.

Governors, for example, bounce in and out. During the preparation for Truman's trip, former Governor C. B. Stevenson was there as a witness in a trial.

Safety precautions taken by the Secret Service disrupted the city's calm for a while; preparations for the crowd of 150,000 expected Thursday are increasing the excitement.

Last Thursday a soda clerk said, "Truman? so what?" A waitress said, "he won't give me no tip." A newspaperman said, "it's a hell of a lot of work."

But don't let them kid you. As the day nears the excitement is growing.

A lot of people have walked down to take a look at the presidential car that was brought from Washington. It is a sleek black convertible Cadillac, with hand grips and seats for Secret Service men, a screen on the left of the hood, two radio sets for its two-way radio, nickel-plated ornaments, a wide running board, and, unseen, bullet-proof armor.

The route over which the President will ride is to be decorated with pennants and flags.

Even bribes won't get you hotel rooms now.

Plans have been made by some to erect soft drink stands for the crowd's convenience. The 150,000 expected Thursday equals, or maybe tops, the throngs that used to come to the old Cotton Palace years ago. The days were Texas' greatest, but they were discontinued 15 years ago.

Some are dusting off their cameras, but Secret Service Agent Coy Lewis of the White House staff (a former Groesbeck, Texas, boy) warns that camera fans should stand back. If they suddenly jump out in the street to snap a picture, Secret Service men might mistake their motive, and, he says, anything could happen.

A former Truman classmate lives in Waco. He is Fleet Lantz, once of Independence, Mo. Another Waco resident is Mrs. Hugh L. Thompson, the daughter of the woman who was Truman's and Lantz' school teacher.

Truman's cousin, T. E. Truman, lives there, too. The two may meet.

The maddest spot in Waco, probably is the Baylor Administration Building. Attention is focused on the Presidential visit, and everyone, from President Pat Neff down, is keyed to a brittle pitch.

President Neff, in his wing collar and black bow tie, sits behind his big desk topped with brass boot polish, a brass jug of water, a glass jar full of chocolates, directing operations. Public Relations Man Frank Burkhalter is busy with credentials.

Seattle's Lake Washington is spanned by a mile and a quarter floating bridge with a four-lane motor highway.
