Subsidy Vote Is Delayed By Two Deaths

Steagall Of Alabama Dies; Ditter Killed

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Two sudden deaths today delayed for at least a day a showdown vote on the administration's consumer-subsidy program and removed from the scene one of the leading figures in the bitter subsidy dispute.

Shortly after the house arranged to suspend business for 24 hours in respect to Rep. Ditter (R-Pa.), a powerful figure in his party's councils, killed yesterday in a navy plane crash, Rep. Steagall (D-Ala.), frequently an administration stalwart, but recently lined up against the White House subsidy plans died suddenly in a Washington hospital.

Steagall, who was stricken with a heart attack, had as chairman of the banking committee wielded powerful influence in this dispute, playing an important role in lining up farm state opposition to consumer-subsidies.

His death automatically elevated Rep. Speer (D-Ky.) to the chairmanship of the banking committee.

Speer has taken the position that "subsidies should be sustained under the present legislation in view of congress' instruction to the president to hold the line."

Even the most optimistic of President Roosevelt's stalwarts on Capitol Hill have conceded privately that the measure banning subsidies will be passed by a substantial margin.

Steagall was born at Colpton in Dale county, Ala., May 18, 1875, served in the Alabama legislature and had represented the third Alabama district for almost 30 years.

House Physician George W. Calver announced that Steagall died at George Washington university hospital about 8:30 a. m. (C.W.T.). Dr. Calver reported that Steagall suffered a heart attack after making a speech on Friday.

The deaths of Steagall and Ditter left five vacancies in the house and brought to six the number of members of the 78th house of representatives who have died in less than a year. It left the house membership at 219 Democrats, 207 Republicans and four minor-party members.

Other members who have died were Reps. Crystal (D-Ky.), Clegg (R-Calif.), Culin (R-NY) and Guyer (R-Kas.).

Steagall had been instrumental in shaping many of the country's war-time economic controls, helping draft the first and second price control acts.

A navy plane, circling helplessly and dropping flares through a heavy rain falling on a Lancaster county town, crashed and burned near Columbia, Pa., last night carrying Ditter and Lieut. Com. J. J. Mansure to their deaths.

A few hours earlier an army transport smashed into Locust mountain near Tamaqua, 100 miles

PAMPA NEWS IS TOLD— Army's Cut-Back Won't Affect War Financing

Although the army has turned back $18,000,000,000 of its present appropriations, U. S. treasury officials in Washington asserted today that this action will have no immediate effect on the amount the treasury must pay to meet current bills, and announced at the same time that the Fourth War Loan drive for $14,000,000,000 will begin Jan. 18, and run until Feb. 15.

The treasury's statement on the army's cut-back was made to the Associated Press at the request of The Pampa News, which asked a clarification of the action and how it would affect present war financing.

The treasury department, the Associated Press reported emphasized that the army's intention to allow more than $13,000,000,000 of its appropriation to go unspent leaves the department's immediate revenue needs unchanged—either from the standpoint of taxes or borrowing.

A spokesman stressed that the army funds will involve only a book-keeping transaction rather than the return of any actual money to the treasury and pointed to current war spending, which he said was at the highest rate on record.

With a $4,804,000,000 outlay during the first 17 days of this month, officials estimated the November total would exceed the previous peak of $4,000,000,000 in 1942.

This, while the army's action might result in lowering the automatic cost of the war, it will have no immediate effect on the amount the treasury must pay to meet current bills, the spokesman said.

In announcing the Fourth War Loan drive, the treasury said state war financing committees have been strengthened and expanded and that the army's action will not affect the $5,500,000,000 quota for civilians. Treasury Secretary Morgenthau emphasized however that other non-banking investors also will be invited to participate.

Meantime, Prof. Fred R. Fairchild of Yale university declared at Chicago last night that about $19,000,000,000 in taxes is "about all the nation can stand" to meet a potential post-war debt of $280,000,000,000.

Fairchild, predicting the astronomical post-war debt, asserted that the $19,000,000,000 annual tax bill would be both the minimum and maximum the nation could bear, considering that "we have to allow another 10 or 11 billions for state and local taxes," or a total of 25 percent of a national income of $120,000,000,000.

Tarawa, Makin Isles In Gilberts Invaded By Soldiers, Marines

By The Associated Press
The United States has begun its promised offensive in the Central Pacific.

American soldiers and Marines carried the fight to the Japanese on the low, sandy beaches and the rocky terrain of Tarawa and Makin islands in a campaign aimed at the heart of Japan's power in the Pacific—Truk.

No further word has been issued on the invasion of the two geographically small but strategically important bases since Admiral Chester W. Nimitz tersely announced the landings carried out Saturday.

The announcement yesterday by the commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet said the American forces met moderate resistance at 11-mile long Makin, and strong resistance at Tarawa, largest of the Gilbert chain 2,400 miles southwest of Hawaii.

The Japanese imperial headquarters, in a communique broadcast by radio from Tokyo, reported today heavy fighting in progress. That appeared to indicate Japan does not intend to give up easily its hold on air bases which American bombers could use to pierce still deeper

Pampa Officers Help to Solve Amarillo Theft

Pampa police gave Amarillo officers the original clue that resulted in the arrest of three Amarillo boys, all juveniles, and the recovery of jewelry looted taken from the Dempsey Winn home in Amarillo on Nov. 16 and 100 cartons of cigarettes stolen from the Rock Island freight docks there.

The jewelry was valued in excess of $1,500 and detectives recovered more articles than Mrs. Winn listed on the evening of the burglary.

Pampa police arrested a boy here Friday night for investigation. He was carrying a valuable diamond set wrist watch and told three different stories on how it came to be in his possession. Investigation provided the lead that solved the Amarillo cases.

Amarillo police went to Pampa and talked to the boy who told officers the name of the boy from whom he got the watch.

"Where did you recover the jewelry?" Chief of Police Sid Harper asked.

"All over Amarillo," he answered. "Each of the three boys arrested had some of it in his possession, other articles had been sold, and some had been given away. Our men have been going around picking up all day."

Chief Harper said all three of the boys, about 16 years old, had admitted that they entered the Winn home between 3 and 4 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 16.

It was during the questioning of a fourth boy regarding the theft and sale of a case of rum that the stolen cases of cigarettes came to light. Two of the boys who are held in connection with the Winn case also are held in the rum deal.

Germans Claim Samos Captured

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—A German broadcast said it had taken the island of Samos capitulated to German forces this morning. Samos is the next to the last Aegean Island that had been held by the Allies.

Castellorosso, easternmost of the Dodecanese, is still believed in Allied hands.

Samos, a Greek island just north of the Dodecanese and near the Turkish coast, had been under German attack at least since Saturday, according to Ankara radio broadcasts.

The Germans, obviously hinting that the British were making attempts to withdraw from the island, said yesterday that the first refugees from the island had arrived in Turkey.

Less than 20 miles south of Samos, fell to the Germans Nov. 16 after an air and sea-borne invasion launched by the Germans to check the male indication of their "iron ring" of stepping stone bases protecting the eastern flank of the Balkan peninsula. The Germans previously had regained Cos in the Dodecanese and claimed to have recaptured four other small islands in the group.

Gray Price Board Remains Out Of Potter Wrangle

No attempt has been made to use the Gray County War Price Rationing board as a political tool, nor have there been any closed "star chamber" sessions, Roy McKernan, chairman of the county board, said today in commenting on a recent story in the Amarillo Daily News which said:

"The Potter county board has declared it would not enforce OPA regulations, not attend any such chamber sessions, or countenance kamazero courts."

"The price control end of the OPA had tried to force boards to help enforce regulations, in other words, police the program. The board decided the army of paid employees could do that."

Chairman McKernan's statement denying any political pressure on the Gray county board came today as representatives of 22 county boards assembled in Pampa for a day and a half conference, directed by Vance Apple, Lubbock, board of regulation executive. Sessions began at 1 p. m.

At 5:45 tonight the conference delegates are to be guests of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce at a supper at the Schneider hotel.

The 22-county meeting of chief clerks and price control secretaries follows the meeting of chief clerks held last Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, in Lubbock, Walter J. Daugherty, chief of the Gray county board, attended from Pampa.

Daughterly characterized the story in the Amarillo newspaper, dealing with the Lubbock conference, as an "exaggeration."

Voicing his complaints, the Potter county board passed a series of resolutions protesting "the practice of OPA in acting as judge, jury, and prosecutor and the barred cases of violating regulations."

The story said the resolution against any meetings at which the barred public and the press are barred, and the present session with district regional and Washington OPA men, Howard Gholson, the

Army, Navy Bombers Softened Up Tarawa For Allied Invasion

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN
WITH THE SEVENTH AIR FORCE IN THE CENTRAL PACIFIC, Nov. 20. (Delayed)—(AP)—Army and navy bombers operating in alternating waves yesterday and last night left the Tarawa islands in the Gilberts in smoke and flame in a pre-invasion bombardment.

Each defense were reduced, runways ruined, barracks set afire and oil dumps left flaring.

The coordinated strikes climaxed a week-long aerial assault on various Japanese-held islands in the Gilberts and Marshalls. At Tarawa the Japanese retaliated only with anti-aircraft fire.

The final army flight included 11 Liberators which figuratively still had their motors warm from previous forays against Tarawa, Mille, Maleolap, Jaluit and Kwajalein in the same general area. All returned safely to base with no deaths among the crews.

Tarawa as seen by the army fliers last night included bomb-dipped runways, one old freighter desperately trying to get out of the harbor, dozens of abandoned wrecked vehicles on island roads and docks, a number of landing barges adrift or abandoned in the harbor area.

There was no sign of Japanese activity except for a few repair crews scurrying to cover as the first bomber dived to 2,500 feet and 20 in Dean, on Duncan and anti-aircraft gunners were still

Building Starts On 50 New Homes Here

Construction was started today on 14 houses in the Benedict addition, west of the airport, as a part of the Federal Housing administration project to build 50 new homes here, expected to relieve Pampa's crowded housing situation somewhat.

The project is being handled by the Hughes-Pitts agency, and is the first 50-house deal the same firm has handled. Completion of the first 50 occurred last May.

In the original project, 13 houses were constructed in Benedict addition, 17 in Hughes-Pitts addition, and 20 in Dean, on Duncan and Garland streets.

Permits were issued today to the agency by the city for the 14 houses in Benedict addition, with cost ranging from $3,350 to $3,550, 13 on LeFors street, one on Magnolia, 28 houses in Dean addition, south of Fairview cemetery and east of Duncan, -8 to be on Garland, 10 on Duncan, costing from $3,400 to $4,000.

In Harvester Park addition, west of the high school, seven houses are to be erected, on Charles, four on Russell, costing $4,000 each; in Cook-Adams Heights, facing on Charles, one costing $4,000.

Occupancy of the houses is restricted to employees of the following firms and classifications; under FHA rules that made release of war-needed building materials and subsequent construction of the houses possible:

Cable companies, ordinance and shops; Pampa Field civilian employees; Baash-Ross Tool company; Danziger Oil and Refineries, Inc.; General Atlas Carbon company; Pampa News; Freeless Carbon company; Trel-o-Lite; Shell Oil company; Stanolind Oil and Gas company; Plains Creamery; Pampa public school teachers; Riser Motor company; Texas Extension service.

Red Successes Are Offset By German Gains

LONDON, Nov. 22. (AP)—New Russian successes in the great Dnieper river bend, offset by further German gains in their counterattacks west of Kiev, were reported from Moscow and Berlin today.

A Reuters dispatch from Moscow said the Russians had scored a new 20-mile advance in the Dnieper bend after breaking through German defenses east of the Kremenchuk-Znamenska railway.

One spearhead of the drive cut the railway and is advancing 25 miles northeast of Znamenska, while another driving southward has plunged to about 28 miles east of that rail juncture which lies about 50 miles southwest of Kremenchuk.

The German high command said that Nazi forces driving back eastward from west of Kiev had broken through Soviet defense points after beating off counterattacks and had captured "important ground" west of Kiev.

The Berlin broadcast also acknowledged a new Russian breakthrough near Cherkass, Dnieper rail junction northwest of Kremenchuk, but said the breach had been closed.

In new attacks aimed at encircling Kirovi Rog, rail center within the Dnieper bend, the Berlin communique said Soviet drives both north of Kirovi Rog and near Nikolopol to the southeast had been beaten off.

The Berlin radio said today that the Russians had made another sea-borne landing on the Crimean peninsula south of Kerch, where the Red army of the Caucasus has been battling for days to enlarge its bridgeheads.

General Patton Not Reprimanded, Still Heads 7th

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Nov. 22. (AP)—Allied headquarters denied today that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, Jr. ever was reprimanded by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and said he is still in command of the American Seventh Army.

Drew Pearson, radio commentator, broadcast last night from Washington that Gen. Patton had been "severely reprimanded" by Gen. Eisenhower, expressed the opinion that Patton would not be used in combat any more.

Pearson said Eisenhower's reprimand followed an altercation involving Patton, a shell-shocked soldier in a Sicilian hospital, and the medical officer commanding the hospital. Patton said the argument began when Patton ordered the soldier from bed and the medical officer intervened.

The headquarters announcement said:

"Gen. Patton is commanding the Seventh Army, has commanded it since it was activated and is continuing to command it."

"Gen. Patton has never been reprimanded at any time by Gen. Eisenhower or by anybody else in this theater."

The announcement said also that "no report has ever reached this headquarters of any soldier refusing to obey an order by Gen. Patton."

Several Killed In Crash of Tankers

LEWES, Del. Nov. 22. (AP)—Charred bodies of four seamen were brought ashore today as coast guard cutters searched the fog-bound North Atlantic off Cape Henlopen for more victims or survivors of the collision of two tankers—the Altair and Bostonian—58 miles off the coast early yesterday.

The fourth naval district said an undetermined number of men were missing, with most feared dead, but 43 survivors already have been landed here. Four were taken to Beebe hospital and two later were discharged.

The Altair caught fire after the crash, about 1 a. m. (CWT) in dense fog. The navy said a tug had herded the waters of the Aerial control. The other, although damaged, reached an unidentified Atlantic port under its own power.

Witnesses said survivors resembled West Indians, indicating that one of the ships may have sailed from a Caribbean port.

Poles Warn Reds They Must Unite

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22. (AP)—Polish sources that can not be otherwise identified declared today that the Russian army must enter Poland as an ally, and not as a conqueror or else face desperate resistance by the Poles themselves.

Determination to fight back unless the Soviets reestablish diplomatic relations with the London Polish government-in-exile was voiced in responsible quarters here as Red troops plunged closer to the old Polish frontier, established in 1921.

Despite a recent statement by Constantine Oumansky, Soviet ambassador to Mexico City, indicating that Russia still recognizes the western boundary drawn with the Germans in 1939, the Poles maintain that only the pre-war frontier is valid.

Lebanon Chief Is Reinstated

ALGIERS, Nov. 22. (AP)—A framework looking toward quick return of orderly government in Lebanon was set up today through action of the French committee of national liberation in reinstating President Bechara Khoury, and promising to negotiate the question of the country's full independence.

The committee announced its decision last night after hearing Harold MacMillan, British minister to French North Africa, stress the importance of safeguarding the peace of the strategic Middle East area by eliminating any further disturbances.

The committee also recalled Delegate General Jean Helou from Beirut and ordered the liberation of Premier Riad Solh and two other ministers who were arrested by Helou in a repressive measure following the Lebanon parliament's vote to sever ties with France.

The French action represented a compromise with British demands. The British had requested that Premier Riad Solh be reinstated along with the president, but the committee refused on the grounds that the premier had promoted extreme nationalist policies in conflict with the League of Nations mandate that France holds over Lebanon.

Inter-American Immigration Is To Be Controlled

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 22 (AP)—When large movements of civilians from continent to continent begin again, immigration authorities of the Americas hope for selection and control of the emigrants in the land of their origin as well as in the country receiving them.

The recent inter-American immigration conference here saw the obvious necessity of leaving details of any post-war immigration program to be arranged after peace, but outlined some of the main characteristics that such a plan should include.

In the view of the conference, formally styled the first inter-American demographic congress, the immigrant should be guided and helped by a pre-determined continental program from the time he decides to leave his homeland until he becomes a citizen of another country.

Before he leaves his home he would be paid a fair price for his land and other property left behind. Reduced charges would be made for his transportation and, if a farmer, good land would be provided for him where he was going.

After the arrival the wheels of the assimilation machinery in the land of his adoption would begin to turn and his entire family into good citizens under uniform naturalization laws.

Selection of the immigrant would depend upon the kind of people with whom he was going to live and prevailing economic conditions. French-speaking persons would not be sent to Spanish-speaking Argentina, for instance, and farmers would be sent to countries which have plenty of farmers but need construction workers.

Formulation of a unified immigration plan, it was agreed, must await the results of a general census in 1950-51 when all American countries will register their alien populations and obtain data on the social and economic conditions of their present inhabitants.

In the meantime the delegates voted for further study of the problem by a permanent inter-American demographic committee of seven members with headquarters in Mexico City.

WASHINGTON Nov. 22 (AP)—Spanish-American relations rolled back to an even keel today as both Washington and Madrid let it be known that the incident of the Spanish note of congratulation to the Japanese puppet regime in Manila is considered closed.

Rumanians Are Trying to Flee Their Country

BERN, Switzerland, Nov. 22 (AP)—Thousands of Rumanians are crowding neutral consulates seeking visas to go abroad as a result of tensions created by the nearness of Russia's armies, the revival of a dispute with Hungary and increasing indications of a government crisis.

A Bucharest dispatch to the Gazette de Lausanne said 30,000 persons had asked visas to Turkey, and 35,000 to Switzerland.

Refugees from the north, streaming into the capital from areas threatened by the Red army advances west of Kiev, created an acute housing problem.

Rumors of government change slanted more toward a "democratic regime" have increased, the Bucharest dispatch said, with the report that King Mihai Saw Jiu, a 30-year-old peasant leader and chief of the opposition who fought the Nazi alliance from the beginning.

The dispatch said Michel Antonescu, vice-premier, was expected to be charged with forming a new government. Antonescu was reported early this year to have lost favor with Adolf Hitler, who was reported to have demanded his removal because of his lukewarm attitude toward the Axis.

The Budapest correspondent of the Gazette spoke of reports of a concentration of several Rumanian divisions on the border of Transylvania, the wedge-shaped territory awarded to Hungary in 1940 by Hitler and Mussolini.

WASHINGTON Nov. 22 (AP)—First official agreement was reached Saturday by delegates of 43 nations, under terms of which member governments whose countries have not been invaded would be asked to contribute one per cent of their national incomes to post-war work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson, chairman of the UNRRA financial committee, told a press conference the vote was unanimous. The sum would be computed on the year ending June 30, 1943, and for the United States would be approximately $1,500,000,000.

Acheson said the "agreement here is merely a recommendation to the constitutional bodies of the member governments which must determine the amount and character of the contribution."

He said that original contributions from each country would be "set up in terms of currency," and that the amount to be spent by each member government for materials and supplies still was under discussion. Final committee draft will be presented to the full council for adoption next week.

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A mysterious explosion wrecked a five-story building in London's night club belt of Soho Friday and for a while had Londoners discussing the possibility that the Germans had employed one of their oft-threatened "secret weapons."

During the day enough evidence was accumulated to dispel the supposition that a noiseless invisible projectile might have caused the blast, or that it was due to any kind of enemy action, but the exact cause nevertheless still was obscure tonight.

The explosion—London's third mysterious blast in a week—knocked out the walls of a building on a narrow street where the sales rooms of most major film companies are situated and shattered windows for a quarter of a mile around.

One report was that film had caught fire in the cutting room of a company which makes documentary movies for the ministry of information. Another was that the blast might have been caused by a faulty gas main—the reason which has been attributed unofficially for the two other recent explosions.

Until it developed that the explosion was probably due to some such cause as these, the barbershop quarterbacks of London's aerial warfare league kicked around the idea that a high trajectory shell whose propellant was exhausted might have dropped on Soho without warning eye or ear, or that a silent glider bomb did the damage.

Airmen said even if a plane had been flying in the startosphere over London it would have been picked up by radio locators.

Authorities made no announcement as to loss of life or injuries from the blast.

They may be in the army, but Pampa Army Air Field soldiers will celebrate Thanksgiving Day in the traditional manner.

Married enlisted men may bring their wives and families to the consolidated mess hall between the hours of 11 a. m. to 1:30 p. m. Both wings of the mess hall will be open, but it has been suggested that men working on the flight line on that day eat in the north wing of the mess hall.

The guests, as Capt. Percival likes to call them, will eat off linen covered tables. Jugs of cider will be placed on each table, as will cholee pie and pumpkin pie.

A place in the center of the mess hall will be cleared to make a dance floor and the diners may dance to the snappy rhythms of Pampa Field's fine dance orchestra.

Here's what the menu will be: cold roast young turkey with cranberry sauce and roast loin of pork with apple sauce; snowflake potatoes or candied yams; giblet gravy, turkey broth with rice, asparagus tips and fresh garden peas; lettuce and tomatoes; corn bread dressing and thousand island dressing; assorted nuts and mixed candies; ice cold apple cider and assorted fruits; sweet mixed pickles and iced celery; chocolate and vanilla cakes; apple and pumpkin pies; ice cream, hot rolls, and butter; hot coffee.

But Thanksgiving Day will not entirely devoted to good food. In preparation for the day, religious services have been arranged. Protestant church services will be held 7:30 p. m. Wednesday by Capt. Maurice P. Garner, post chaplain Roman Catholic Mass will be celebrated 6:30 p. m. Thanksgiving Day by Father P. B. Coupal.

Official Agreement Made at UNRRA meet

WASHINGTON Nov. 22 (AP)—First official agreement was reached Saturday by delegates of 43 nations, under terms of which member governments whose countries have not been invaded would be asked to contribute one per cent of their national incomes to post-war work of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration.

Assistant Secretary of State Dean Acheson, chairman of the UNRRA financial committee, told a press conference the vote was unanimous. The sum would be computed on the year ending June 30, 1943, and for the United States would be approximately $1,500,000,000.

Acheson said the "agreement here is merely a recommendation to the constitutional bodies of the member governments which must determine the amount and character of the contribution."

He said that original contributions from each country would be "set up in terms of currency," and that the amount to be spent by each member government for materials and supplies still was under discussion. Final committee draft will be presented to the full council for adoption next week.

The only answer to the individual times like these is that no matter how hard you are hit, somebody else is hit harder.

Third 'Mystery' Blast Puzzles City of London

LONDON, Nov. 22 (AP)—A mysterious explosion wrecked a five-story building in London's night club belt of Soho Friday and for a while had Londoners discussing the possibility that the Germans had employed one of their oft-threatened "secret weapons."

During the day enough evidence was accumulated to dispel the supposition that a noiseless invisible projectile might have caused the blast, or that it was due to any kind of enemy action, but the exact cause nevertheless still was obscure tonight.

The explosion—London's third mysterious blast in a week—knocked out the walls of a building on a narrow street where the sales rooms of most major film companies are situated and shattered windows for a quarter of a mile around.

THESE DAYS OF SHORTAGES

Not more than a dozen anti-aircraft guns fired away at the Americans but they were not especially accurate even at what amounts to point blank range for such weapons.

The navy started yesterday's Tarawa raids with torpedoes from aircraft carriers. After these ships had started the Japanese day as unpleasantly as possible.

As the Liberators left on new flights many planes came in from the other direction to continue pounding of gun positions, barbed wire around the beaches and other defenses.

Simultaneously naval aircraft yesterday blasted Nauru island 400 miles west of Tarawa and one of the bases from which the Japs were able to bomb American positions at Fanning and Nanomea this week in moonlight raids.

The Japanese have no four-engine land-based bombers in this area, so their effective bombing range is considerably less than the American maximum.

They had also the cover of powerful naval units which helped establish the beachheads—units which the Tokyo radio said included battleships and aircraft carriers.

The campaign got under way with the recent assurance of Admiral Nimitz that "we now have the means to take the offensive and to blast the Jap out of his island strongholds," and his statement on Armistice Day, "our time has come to attack."

Only in China did fighting in the Pacific war go against the Allies.

American on Bougainville. Last of Japan's major bases in the Solomons, continued their steady advance.

On New Guinea, Australian tanks led the way up the main trail more than a mile east of Sattelberg in the fight to oust the Japs from the Huon peninsula and to flank the enemy's Rabaul, New Britain, stronghold.

Allied bombers gave Rabaul a temporary respite, but smashed instead at Gasmata, on New Britain's south-central coast, with 138 tons of explosives. They finished their job without interception.

In China, the Japanese extended two strong spearheads toward Changteh, west of Tuming lake, a sector described by Brig. Gen. Edgar Glenn, chief of the U. S. 14th air force, as "area No. 1 in importance."

The Japanese drive brought the possibility of a fourth great thrust for Changsha, capital of Hunan province.

Drilling Pay Hike Plan Explained KANSAS CITY, Nov. 22—(AP)—Joseph A. Hoskins, chairman of the regional war labor board, said today that the uniform wage rates approved by the board Oct. 18 for the oil well drilling industry can not be paid until each employer has filed a formal application and received permission from the board to increase wages.

Hoskins said he had a letter from Rep. Clifford E. Hope of Kansas, stating that some drillers in Kansas had demanded immediate increases up to the approvable rates.

Funeral arrangements are pending word from other relatives.

Mr. Preston was born Jan. 19, 1865, in Missouri. He was a member of the Baptist church.

Survivors are the widow; three sons, David, Skellytown, Edwin of Morenci, Ariz., and Orgie Lee, in the U. S. Army and stationed in Hawaii; four sisters, Mrs. Maudie Giles of Morenci, Ariz.; Mrs. Raquel Lick, Skellytown; Mrs. Eva Gilbert, Sacramento, Calif.

But the invasion forces could certainly depend on a strong aerial support, as evidenced in the week-long series of raids by both land and carrier-based planes on both the Gilberts and Marshalls in advance of the landings.

They had also the cover of powerful naval units which helped establish the beachheads—units which the Tokyo radio said included battleships and aircraft carriers.

Congressman Ditter, 55, a resident of Ambler, Pa., was en route with Commander Mansure from the Squantum, Mass., naval air base to the navy base at Willow Grove, Pa. 80 miles from where the plane crashed. Mansure, 35, was executive officer at Willow Grove.

The navy was unable to say why Ditter was aboard the plane, but it was pointed out that congressmen frequently travel on military planes when on government missions.

An eyewitness to the crash, Arthur E. Schaffer, of Columbia R. D., 1, said he saw the single-engine navy plane, its motor sputtering, circle low over a church in the nearby hamlet of Kinderhook. The plane zoomed upwards 100 feet, then a short distance further crashed through some trees.

Patman, Republicans Battle Verbally Over Subsidy Issue

WASHINGTON, Nov. 22—(AP)—Words weren't spared when Texas Democratic Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana and Republican congressmen clashed over the airwaves and on the house floor in a tilt that grew out of opposite views on food subsidies.

It was the recent mention of Patman by Radio Commentator Fulton Lewis, Jr., on his nightly Mutual Broadcasting System program that precipitated the verbal battle.

Lewis referred to Patman's role as defender of the administration's subsidy program. Patman complained to the federal communications commission and asked that he be permitted to appear on Lewis' program. Lewis granted the request and Patman withdrew his complaint before the FCC.

Part of the Texan's talk, Nov. 15, on Lewis' program was devoted to a discussion of subsidies, part to an attack on the Republican party. He charged that they were making a political issue of subsidies.

Republicans were on hand in the house the following day, eagerly seeking the floor to join battle with the Texan.

Speaking on the radio hookup, Patman among other things had said "we are engaged in a desperate political fight, launched and led by the Republican party," then added: "Yes, that's the Republican game unless President Roosevelt and his supporters can stop it. These political enemies of the president give a kind of lip service to his brilliant leadership in the world crisis. They applaud the magnificent diplomatic triumphs of that great statesman, Cordell Hull."

"Yet on the home front they stab our great commander-in-chief in the back in order to gain political advantage. It is a reckless and trifling policy that would thus gamble with the country's future, and mark you well, if the Republicans have their way, we will have a spectacle of wages and prices chasing each other in a mad race to disaster."

"Out of the chaos which follows inflation, these conspirators hope for the dissatisfaction which may lead to the election of a Republican president in 1944. For this purpose, the Republican conspirators are

The Washington representative said that in cocktail lounges in Washington some of the "subordinate" OPA men were discussing that possibility on the basis of a "crisis" hour. That is the OPA would continue on an emergency basis to keep prices down and "save the consumer."

The board voted not to attend any more such chamber meetings either as individuals or as a board. The resolution pointed out that the board considered rationing a public thing, in which the public and the press had an inherent right to full information of all actions, the paper said.

Bebe Daniel's Grandmother Dies

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 22—(AP)—Death has claimed Mrs. Eva de la Plaza Griffin, the sprightly grandmother of Film Actress Bebe Daniels who was known to scores of film players as the "little mother."

Mrs. Griffin, who was about 88, had taken a keen interest in the movies almost since their inception and many of the stars of the silent era were her close friends.

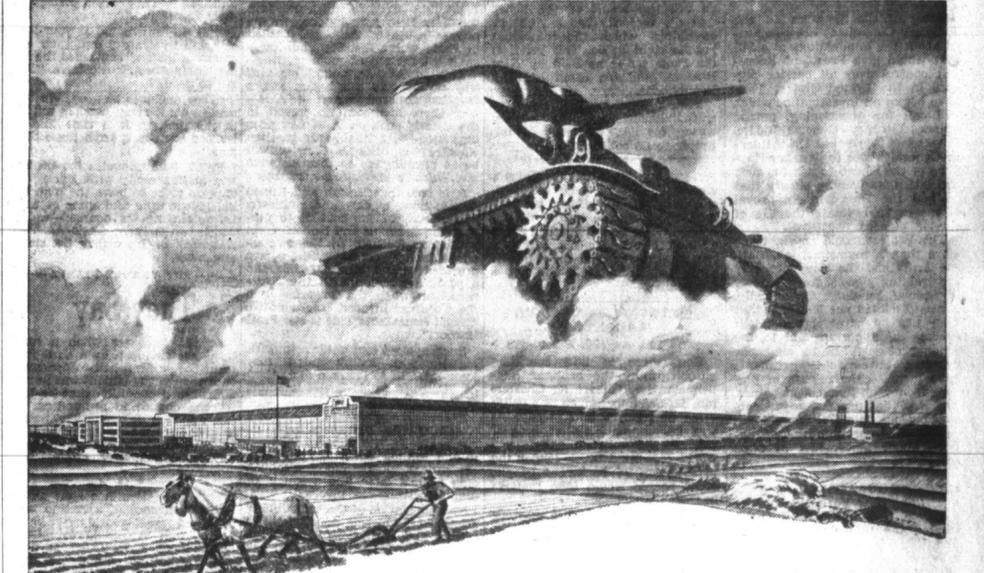

It was in the early days that Comedian Harold Lloyd gave her a keepsake doll which proved the start of a doll collection now numbering 2,500. The former actress, Ruth Roland, sent her dolls from all parts of the world.

HEALTH QUIZ

Do you have headaches? YES NO
Do you lack pep or vim?
Do you get irritable easily?
Do you feel depressed—nervous?
Everybody knows that poorly digested food often causes a headache, sluggish condition.
But you may not know that Nature must produce each day about two pints of the vital digestive juice—liver bile—to help digest your food.
If Nature fails—food doesn't digest properly—you may get irregular. And the amount of this vital digestive juice may be still further reduced. Thus, digestive upset and sluggishness can follow each other in a vicious circle that keeps you feeling rotten. Therefore, take Carter's Little Liver Pills because they start bile flowing quickly—often within thirty minutes. When bile flow increases—you may help your digestion. You're on your way to feeling grand all over again. Remember—you can't get these same results from laxatives that fail to stimulate the flow of bile.
If you feel headachy, listless, irritable or depressed, get a 25¢ package of Carter's Little Liver Pills at any drugstore today. Take as directed. Tomorrow see how lively and alive you'll feel!

Trade With Russia

The Moscow agreement, the Connally Resolution and Premier Stalin's speech on the October Revolution anniversary have all served to diminish the fear of "what Russia is going to do" that has perturbed a good many Americans. And a further cause to breathe easy is found in a speech made on the occasion of the anniversary of Ernest C. Ropes, Russian specialist in the Department of Commerce.

Mr. Ropes made a plausible and encouraging prediction of increased trade between the United States and the Soviet Union after hostilities cease—or perhaps even before. The prospects of such a trade augur good relations. For it should be borne in mind that, while Russia's military successes will command respect and deference at the peace table, Russia will also need our help in the early days of peace, and will doubtless try to avoid any differences serious enough to imperil that help.

Much of Russia's best land, much of her industry and many of her important cities have been devastated. Property in uncounted millions of dollars has been destroyed. Much must be replaced as quickly as possible before normal and orderly life can resume.

Mr. Ropes mentions such items as machine tools, equipment for oil wells and refineries, electrical installations, manufacturing plants of all kinds. He also points forth the possibility that Russia might modify a long-standing policy and begin importing consumers' goods as producers' goods—such items as American automobiles, refrigerators and vacuum cleaners.

Russia will naturally trade with other countries, too, and that trade will be welcomed and cultivated. But it is a known fact that the United States stands in highest favor with the Soviets among the nations that have helped them toward industrial modernization. Russian industry is modern on American lines. American engineers, chemists and other experts have made friends with the Russians and have won their respect.

All this is important in a nation where the government runs business as well as foreign affairs. It tends to clear the atmosphere of fear of the "Red menace."

PIGEON CONSPIRACY?

(The New York Sun)

Some of the Senators on the Judiciary Committee are concerned about the implications of a bill that would give President Roosevelt control over all carrier pigeons in the United States. They have begun an investigation which will call for questioning, among others, Attorney-General Biddle. It was last April that the Attorney-General wrote to Speaker Rayburn of the House to ask for such legislation, explaining simply that he had the President's approval of means to regulate the use of carrier pigeons.

This project would appear to be more than a man-sized job. Both the Army and the Navy probably are training pigeons for a variety of special missions. Specifically, it was disclosed last month that their use by paratroopers might become an important aid to the sending of supplies to air-borne invaders. Successful experiments have included the release of pigeons from high-flying, fast planes. The RAF has dropped caged carrier pigeons into French villages to obtain information from natives about movements of Nazi troops.

LIPPY LA GUARDIA

(The New York News)

Mayor LaGuardia has long treated the municipal radio station, WNYC, as if it were his personal and private mouthpiece. Through this station he has hectoring, bulldozed, bullyragged and scolded New Yorkers in a tone of voice which, though he may not realize it, rubs freedom-minded Americans' tempers the wrong way.

The individual's remedy for that, of course, is simple—just turn the dial during the Mayor's Sunday radio program to some other station.

Day before yesterday, however, the Mayor used most of his WNYC time for straight-out political propaganda. He blamed the Republicans for Thomas A. Aurelio's victory in last week's election, and blamed James A. Farley for Hanley's (Rep.) victory over Haskell (Dem.) for lieutenant governor.

The Republican victories in New York, New Jersey and Kentucky, said the Mayor, had no bearing on the Roosevelt chances for a fourth term. Should Mr. Roosevelt run for President today, according to Mr. LaGuardia, he would carry New York City by 750,000. (He carried it by 1,375,000 in 1936, his high tide year to date, and by 740,000 in 1940.)

This kind of talk is designed to induce Roosevelt to run for a fourth term. Our guess is that he will hear enough of such talk from yes men and sycophants to persuade him that he can't lose, and that he will run for a fourth term.

Our guess also is that LaGuardia will try for a fourth term in November, 1945, unless he is appointed Mayor of Rome or some other Italian city under the aegis of the AMGOT—pardon, the AMGOT.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES
"I speak the plain-sense primer. I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which cannot have the consent of all on the common terms."

If Not Right Individually, Not Right Collectively

If there is any one thing that has caused undue confusion, poverty and misery in this country, it is the belief that people can do things collectively that they know would be immoral and wicked if done individually.

For instance, we know that if everybody committed adultery, it would not make it right. We know that if everybody lied and bore false witness against his neighbor, it would not make it right. We know that if everybody worshipped false gods, it would not make it right.

If it is wrong to kill as individuals, it is wrong to kill collectively. Oh, yes, I hear the contention that we have a right to kill in war. We have no more right to kill in war than we do as individuals. We as individuals have a right to kill only to protect our lives. We recognize this in war when we can take the enemy as prisoners and protect ourselves by so doing, we do not kill them.

But somehow we have come to believe that we, as a group, can do things collectively that we would not think of doing as individuals. We think, for instance, that it is all right for us to collectively force a government to help in war. We well know that as individuals, if there were no government, would have no moral right to force a government to support another.

Yet we turn right around and blatantly proclaim that the majority has a right to take from A to pay for the training of B's children, even though A may be absolutely convinced that this training will do B's children much more harm than good.

If we have no right as individuals to force A to pay for the training of B's children, we certainly have no right collectively to do it. To do so is to put the majority over and above any moral law. To do so is in effect saying that there is no Absolute Right, no moral law but the majority. To do so is to deny the assertion made by Jefferson in the Declaration of Independence when he said, "All men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights." It is in effect saying that only some men are endowed by their Creator with the right to pursue happiness, to be owners of themselves and all they produce.

Our decadence in morals, our decline in improving our living condition, our unemployment, our inability to pay our government debts, our "Cossacks" and all are the result of the belief that the majority has a right to do things which the individual has no right to do. This belief is the same belief as held by New Dealers, and too often held by Republicans.

Yes, if anything is wrong for an individual to do, it is absolutely wrong for 99.9 per cent of the people to do collectively.

BETWEEN TEARS AND LAUGHTER

(The Los Angeles Examiner)

Somewhere in his sparkling autobiography the brilliant English essayist, Gilbert K. Chesterton, defined imperialism as a polite term of robbery and murder. It was his contention that even if the conscience of an enlightened world permitted much longer the exploitation of backward people, these people would take matters in their own hands.

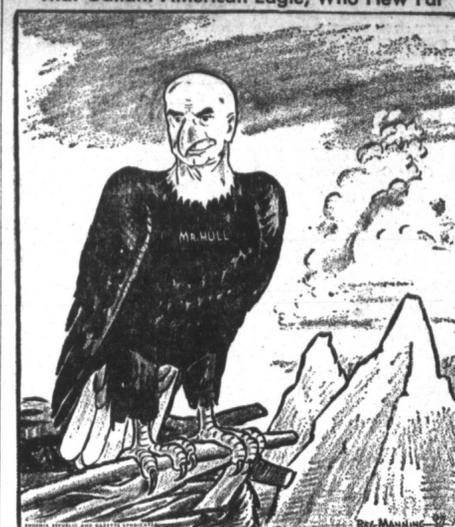

In 1816, more than a century before Chesterton was the vogue, England's greatest caricaturist, Thomas Rowlandson, published a series of cartoons in which he exposed imperialism with a savagery which shook a government of England that had just emerged victorious from the Napoleonic wars.

Chesterton and Rowlandson did not attack only British imperialism. They exposed all European imperialisms as breeders of wars which would destroy civilization.

In his latest book, "Between Tears and Laughter," the Chinese scholar and philosopher, Lin Yutang, in a style reminiscent of both Chesterton and Rowlandson, takes up the fight where the noted Englishman left off.

No person who understands what took place on this continent in 1776 and in this hemisphere in the succeeding 50 years can read this book and fail to realize that any attempt by politicians to unwrite European imperialism in Asia will be the signing of the death warrant of hundreds of thousands of young Americans who are born to a tradition of freedom.

News Behind The News

The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER

FAILED—The Lebanon uprising exemplified the sort of dollar diplomacy which the United Nations hope to avoid in liquidating the present world disturbance. It stems directly from secret dealings, shady treaties negotiated, and petroleum politics practiced by the Allies at the Versailles Peace Conference.

Nearly all of the nations in this exotic land, which bridges Europe, Asia and Africa, were pledged outright independence almost thirty years ago if they would line up against Germany. The one exception was Turkey, which fought on the Kaiser's side.

So many promises were scattered that an ironic commentator said it taxed his mind why Palestine was called the Promised Land. It was offered to both the Arabs and the Jews. That dispute is not yet settled.

Each prospective beneficiary believes now that it was double-crossed by the French and the British, who immediately engaged in a duel for commercial and diplomatic supremacy at the eastern end of the Mediterranean.

Nor was the United States entirely blameless. Our delegation failed to insist on application of Woodrow Wilson's Fourteen Points to these people. It pulled out and sailed for home. In the squabble concerning Mosul of the Harding Administration—demanded—and received, Wilson's Fourteen Points to these people. It pulled out and sailed for home.

BITTER—Today's difficulties in the Near East were hatched in the private suites of the Hotel Crillon in Paris where the Big Four delegates did their back-room plotting. This sort of background explains why no state in this region except Iraq has declared war on the Axis—why there has been no "revolt in the desert" such as T. E. Lawrence organized—why inhabitants question whether the Atlantic Charter will be as meaningless to them as were Mr. Wilson's idealistic assurances.

It is true that British and Russia had to move quickly and ruthlessly at the start of the conflict to prevent the Germans and Italians from gaining a foothold in these countries. Enemy control would have provided needed raw materials and a possible junction with the Japanese. But when the Cossacks and "Tommys" invaded Iraq a native official remarked, "This is our Pearl Harbor!"

Such ancient and bitter memories, together with India's plight, may force F. D. R. to intervene more than in the Anglo-Soviet handling of the problem.

SABOTAGE—Diplomats here do not minimize the dangers inherent in the turmoil under the shade of the cedars of Lebanon, although only a small area and a couple of million persons are involved.

The population of the surrounding countries is Moslem, and Asiatic in culture and aspirations. And at the moment the Emperor of Japan has his agents than any other world leader, except King George. This offers him an avenue of propaganda that might do incalculable harm.

OES BEEF RULING STIRS UP NICE ROW

By PETER EDSON
Pampa News Washington

Republican Congressman James W. Wadsworth of Geneva, N. Y., and Democratic Congressman Richard M. Kieberg of Corpus Christi, Texas, are both cowmen.

Cowman Wadsworth is a feeder. He buys range cattle, moves them to his farm in Livingston county, New York, feeds them and fattens them for market and finally sells them, choice and prime, to New York slaughterhouses, principally in nearby Buffalo and Rochester, catering to the best trade.

Cowman Kieberg also raises choice cattle to bring the best prices, but on a different plan. At his many-thousand-acre King Ranch, said to be the world's largest, a special breed of cattle has been developed which will fatten on native grass, so that the calves born on his range can be conditioned for market right at home, without the expensive corn or other stock-feed fattening such as is done by congressional cowman Wadsworth.

If all this sounds as though the big beef men of congress have a good thing on the side and that business in these wartimes of meat scarcity has been dandy, that is a fair assumption. But into each life some rain must fall and today, over the range homes and the Washington office suites of the congressional cowmen the skies are almost continuously cloudy, there are discour-

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Basil (His-3-9-8-5) Rathbone, named in one of our motion pictures, said he was having a wonderful time. For the first time in years, he was getting laughs instead of leers. Why, the hero, Red Skelton, was even chasing him in one of these Mack Sennett swimming pool chases. Up a ladder to the top of a 50-foot diving tower, where Rathbone turns to the audience and says, "Hey,—I must be the wrong picture. I'm the guy who always chases the hero." Then, in full evening clothes, he dives into the pool with Skelton, who can't swim, in hot pursuit.

It was about time, too, Rathbone said, for some laughs in his celluloid life. After all, wasn't he brought to Hollywood originally as a comedian for "The Last of Mrs. Cheney" and wasn't that the last of Mr. Rathbone as a comedian?

Why, just a week ago, Rathbone said he tried to kill Joan Fontaine in Paramount's "Frenchman's Creek." But she stabbed him first. And even then, he wouldn't give up. He traveled a distance to the poor little girl and just about had her in his clutches when she pushed over a heavy suit of armor, knocked him off the staircase and broke his neck.

HORRIBLE HEAVIES

"Those are the kind of roles I've been getting for years," Rathbone moaned. "Horrible heavies." "And all the time I'm trying to convince somebody that I can play comedy," he said. "I played comedy on the stage and when I first came to Hollywood. But nobody would listen."

But now, as Red Skelton's pal in Mack Sennett's "Mr. Co-Ed," Basil said he was having fun doing what he likes to do. He plays a theatrical promoter who gets Red out of a series of jams and then gets dunked in the swimming pool when Red discovers he's the guy who has been forcing a song-writer career on him. The role, Rathbone admitted, came as quite a surprise.

Producer Jack Cummings called him one day and said he had a very nice role for me in the Skelton picture. I asked Cummings "What do I do now—kill a cat? I've killed everything else." Cummings said, "You're right. You're a role and even then I wouldn't believe him until he sent me the script."

Rathbone seriously regrets all the horrible heavies he's played in such films as "David Copperfield," "Captain Blood," "The Adventures of Robin Hood" and scores of other flickers. "You give me four or five different faces for a heavy," he said, "and then you come a new one and you can't get a job."

CINEMA COMEBACK

After a long succession of nasty roles, Rathbone made way for new parts during the last couple of years but now, with a villain role in "Frenchman's Creek" and a comedy role in "Mr. Co-Ed," it looks like the film makers are beginning to realize his capacity.

Actually, Rathbone's career as an actor has been a series of transitions from drama to comedy to light romance and back to drama. He was playing Romeo to Katharine Cornell in "Juliet" when Hollywood wired him to come and play Murdstone, the cruellest character ever seen on the screen, in "David Copperfield."

Basil Rathbone is one of the few actors we've met who doesn't worry about the number of scene he has in every picture. "It's not the length of the part that's important," he says. "It's what people say about it. As the Earl of Rockingham in 'Frenchman's Creek,' he's on the screen only 20 minutes. The film runs two and a half hours. But that one scene with Joan Fontaine will probably steal the picture."

This generation has seen an incredible advance of scientific knowledge, and yet on a scale never known before, ruin is coming to millions and millions of families. To do to others what we would not have them do to us—nothing anywhere at any time can make that right.

Jury Foreman Is Threatened

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—Leon Alexander, foreman of the Kings county grand jury which charged that a plane plunged from high altitude into the Rappahannock river Saturday, killing Harmon C. Balderson, 28, and Mabel Conoley, 20, who lived near here.

Sheriff Sidney Newberry said he had the letter on Balderson stating they intended taking their lives and requesting they be buried together.

Proposal Chapter XIX

"It wasn't charity," Emily explained patiently. "And it had nothing to do with my organization. It was perhaps a tribute to a very brave little girl." She was talking, literally, over Mary's head. "Your wife must be built up, she must have nourishing food. If you are going to let your pride stand in the way—"

He said heavily: "I'm sorry, I forgot I couldn't afford pride any more."

He squared his shoulders and looked at her. "If I get the job," he said, "I'll repay you, every cent."

"Of course," she said. Emily picked up her bag and went to the door, with her arm around Mary's thin shoulders. "I'll be back tomorrow . . . and I hope that you'll have good news for me," she said.

FRANK bounced up the steps of the Hall house that evening with unfading energy. Nancy was in the long porch swing and flopped back as he came. "I don't flatter myself you've come to see me," she said.

He pinched her ear and said cheerfully, "No, infant. Where's big sister?"

"I haven't the remotest idea. Sit down. Don't you feel the heat at all?"

"Nope. I've had a set of tennis, a swim and a hearty dinner," he said promptly. "Looked for you at the beach."

"Bored me," said Nancy, "too much sand and water. Here comes Emily. . . want me to depart?"

DR. FOSDICK'S

'ON BEING A REAL PERSON'

"We Know More About The Stars Than About Ourselves"

The beginning of worth-while living is the confrontation of ourselves—unique beings, each of us trusted with the makings of personality. Every human life involves an unfathomable mystery, for man is the riddle of the universe, and the riddle of man is his endowment with personal capacities.

"The stars are not so strange as the mind that studies them, analyzes their light, and measures their distances. Electrons and protons present no enigma so occult as the ability of human beings to remember and hope. Human affection, by which we live in other lives more than in our own, is none the less reconcilable because it is faithful."

As for personal qualities such as courage, the new telescope with its 200-inch reflector will reveal nothing more amazing than a character in the face of successive calamities, says, as one hard-bested woman said: "I am like a deeply built ship; I drive best under a stormy wind."

In personal life, however, a new process emerges. There the most significant changes are caused not by coercion from behind but by consciously chosen purposes projected before. Scientists seek truth yet to be discovered; prophetic spirits seek righteousness yet to be achieved; and ordinary folk have a powerful future tense causative in them. They are not so much forced from behind as drawn from before, not so much pushed as pulled.

That gap between causation by pressure from behind in all inanimate nature, and causation by chosen purpose in persons is, as another has said, "one of the widest chasms in the world."

Memory, affection, and purposefulness, centered in an ego that is conscious of itself—with this mysterious endowment each of us has been entrusted, and to make the most of it is our primary task, even in the realm of organized knowledge we know more about the stars than about ourselves. In the development of the sciences astronomy came first, and after that physics, biology, sociology, until last of all came psychology. It is man's strange penchant to confront last what lies nearest, and in the practical handling of life multitudes of people become aware of, and wrestle with, every conceivable factor involved in the human situation before they face their primary problem—being a real person.

The insight of Jesus in his parable of the Prodigal is true to the facts—the remarking of that young man's life began "when he came to himself."

But the same sign our commonest human tragedy is correctly represented in a recent cartoon: A physician faces his patient with anxious solemnity, saying: "This is a very serious case; I'm afraid you're allergic to yourself."

TOMORROW: We are made up of several "selves."

Frank sat down in the swing and patted the place beside him. "Come here, woman. I have news."

Emily went over obediently. He said "I expect praise. I wrangled a job for Elster, checked stock. It isn't much, won't pay him a fortune, but it will serve till we can find something better. How's that?"

"It's wonderful," she said sincerely, "and I'm grateful."

"How grateful?" He said his arm around her, pulled her close. "Uncles bearing gifts usually get kissed."

But she turned her face away so that his mouth touched her cool cheek.

"Come, come," he protested, "is that nice, is that hospitable?" She said, moving away: "I've outgrown the porch swing days, Frank."

"Good old days." He sighed. "Not that I recall ever."

He pulled her toward him again. "No," she said, definitely, "please."

"I can wait," he said. He leaned back and produced his cigaret case. "Smoky?"

"No, thanks—"

"Mind if I do—?"

"Of course not."

He said, lighting his cigaret: "How am I to convince you that this isn't just one of those things—if I asked you to marry me, would that—?"

She said gently, "Frank, you don't mean it, not really."

"I do. I am asking you. Go ahead and turn me down. I'll ask again presently."

War Today

By DEWITT MACKENIE
Associated Press War Analyst

So Admiral W. Nimitz, our commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, meant business when about a fortnight ago he announced to the world as large, both friends and foes: "Our time has come to strike; henceforth we propose to give the Jap no rest anywhere."

He wasn't slow in implementing this challenge. Our great bombers started raining the Gilbert and Marshall islands, with devastating results, and today United States Marines and army units are ashore on Makin and Tarawa atolls in the Gilbert group—our first invasion north of the equator—engaged in heavy battles with the Japs.

The ultimate objective of this new offensive is capture of the island of Truk, Japan's great naval and air base, close to 1500 miles west of the Gilbert and Marshall islands. At this base the Japs maintain a large fleet—the biggest sea-unit outside Nipponese home waters.

Reduction of Truk likely will mean the biggest naval engagement of the war. A clash with the Mikado's fleet is something we have been seeking for a considerable time now, but the Japs have avoided it. As we close in on them, however, their alternative is to fight or to run away and thereby permit us to crack the main defensive ring southeast of Japan.

The great offensive in the Gilberts undoubtedly will be coordinated with the attack on Rabaul, another strategic Jap naval and air base, on the northern tip of New Britain island. If we are successful in both these ventures, we shall have severed the Japanese defenses in this whole area and moved our own bases well forward towards Truk and Japan itself.

Of course, this is just the beginning of an offensive which has far to go, and we shouldn't expect it to achieve all its objectives in the immediate future. However, it certainly is heartening to see our forces

Girls! Don't forego this help because of an old TABOO

For 62 years many girls have sought relief in CARDUI's 2-way help. Some take it as a tonic; it usually stimulates appetite, aids digestion by increasing flow of gastric juices; thus helps build energy and resistance for needed days. Or take it, as directed, 3 days before "your time"; CARDUI then often aids in relieving functional pain.

Thanksgiving Dinner Feast Fowl

Even though war-time conditions may prevent you from having turkey, Thanksgiving dinner is incomplete without roast fowl as the centerpiece. Whether your holiday fowl is duck, goose, capon, or chicken, use your porcelain enameled roaster so the meat will be juicy, tender and evenly done to the bone.

'Thanksgiving' is Theme For Father Lynn At Meeting

Father Francis Lynn, C. M., assistant pastor of Holy Soul's church, was guest speaker at the Parish council of Catholic Women when they met recently at the home of Mrs. Russell Chisholm.

In discussing the subject, "What We Have to Be Thankful For," Father Lynn stated that, "We should daily give thanks to God for the privilege of living in America in peace and happiness with our fellow-Americans and for the success of our armed forces. To better appreciate America, we should live for awhile in a foreign country. We can show our thanks for the numerous blessings we enjoy by our actions; by cheerfulness, and kindness springing from a serene heart at peace with God and man. We should forget ourselves in the service of others."

In the short business session which preceded the program, it was announced that the fall Study club semester will start soon. Eleven books were donated to the Pampa Army Air Field by Mrs. McKernan. The December meeting of the Council will be held in the home of Mrs. L. H. Sullins.

MISS FIELD: Charming. By ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer

Those of you lucky enough to find your favorite scent tucked in the toe of your stocking on Christmas morning will want to make it last as long as you can, for perfumes are precious these days.

Here are two conservation tricks which English-born, blond actress Virginia Field, of the Broadway hit "Doughgirls," says will make it stretch. First, she warns, never put perfume on your clothes, but apply it discreetly under the chin, at the base of your throat and at the bend of your elbow. The warmth of your skin will intensify the scent, and make a little go a long way.

Most important of all, keep the stopper tight and the bottle in a dark place, for light fades out perfume.

We, the Women BY RUTH MILLETT The war is offering parents of school age children a wonderful opportunity for teaching them cooperation and responsibility. They see their parents' cooperating with neighbors and townspeople in car-sharing pools, in war work, and in home defense duties. They see them helping each other out as it gets harder and harder to hire domestic help. They see them giving up things war bonds. They see them taking a responsible interest in government and world affairs.

That is all to the good. Too many grown-ups have in the past taken a "Let George do it" attitude toward government, community projects, and anything else worth while that called for work and cooperation.

Now children are having the right kind of an example set them by grown-ups. But there is even more the grown-ups can do to make the lessons in cooperation stick. They should be made to see that given jobs to do, and that, when cooperation is expected of them, they cooperate.

The children whose parents take turns driving them to school should be made to realize the importance of being ready and waiting when the car stops for them.

Each Needs a Job The children in a family where the mother is over-worked should be given definite jobs to do and held responsible for doing them every day.

If they are old enough to go to school they are old enough to make some contribution to the war effort. They should be made to see that eating what is available instead of always just what they want is one of the ways in which they can help to win the war.

It is a wonderful time to teach children to assume responsibilities and to consider the other fellow. And parents should be making the most of it.

Aggies Turn On Heat For Longhorn Battle

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The shoe is on the other foot as the kids of Aggie land work themselves into a fever at the thought of the boys they'll meet out at Kyle Field Thursday.

Here's a chance to get even for what happened on a cheerless November day in 1940 when Texas A. & M.'s "Wonder Team"—the national champions of 1939—fell out of the Rose Bowl and out of a second Southwest Conference title in a row.

The Aggies lost to Texas 7-0 that day after having gone through 19 straight victories.

A. & M. vowed vengeance in 1941 against Texas' greatest team yet. Not only did they win their first game in history to Texas on Kyle Field, there was little solace in the knowledge that Baylor and Te. Christian had done what the Aggies wanted to do—blast the Longhorns out of the Rose Bowl.

There's no Rose Bowl at stake this time but there's that hoary tradition that champions never repeat in this conference—a fact that brought home to Aggie land on Thanksgiving Day of 1940.

"Too there is this thought: A. & M., with the youngest team in Southwest Conference history, was not given a chance this season; the critics flung the kids of Aggie land would be lucky if they won one game. And how they are the last barrier in the way of Texas to its second championship in a row. Also, while knocking the Longhorns out of that glory the Aggies would be winning a title even their coach never dreamed about.

The statistics—and the betting—

Billiard Wizard Displays Skill At Pampa Field

Erwin Ruckold, one of the great pocket billiard players of all time, displayed his green table skill before scores of officers and enlisted men of Pampa Army Air Field when he appeared in three exhibitions at the post on Thursday afternoon and evening.

He played for the enlisted men at 3:30 and 8:30 p.m., in the day room of the 101st TET squadron, and also put on a show for officers at the Officers' club at 6:30 p.m.

Winning much applause for his famous trick shots, the billiard ace demonstrated how trick shooting can be of great aid in regular game play, and went on to show he has won many tournaments by dint of knowing how to use his fancy cue work in exhibitions.

One of his demonstrations, that of knocking 14 balls into the side pockets with one shot, brought down the house at the afternoon exhibition. Another that won plaudits from the crowd was the feat of arranging a silver dollar between two dice, then hitting the dollar with the cue stick, making it travel down to the other end of the table and come back to the dice, within a fraction of an inch of passing between the dice in the narrow space where the money was originally placed.

Rudolph appeared at West Texas State college on Wednesday and at Lubbock Army Air Field on Friday. He is visiting army posts through the courtesy of the British-Balke-Collender Company, manufacturers of billiard equipment.

Every year, about 1000 teachers retire under the age limit in Greater London, England.

Louisiana State To Play In Orange Bowl

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 20.—(AP)—Louisiana State University's all-civilian football team will play in the 10th annual Orange Bowl game here Nov. 27.

The announcement of the selection was timed by the Orange Bowl committee to come at the end of Louisiana's traditional game today with Tulane.

Committeemen would not name the teams being considered to oppose LSU, but said the choice probably will be another eleven which does not have the aid of service cadets, so as "not to disturb the training program."

The list was believed to include Penn State, Franklin and Marshall, Wake Forest, Holy Cross, Tulsa and Arkansas.

Louisiana trounced Georgia, 34 to 27, in the season's opener, then defeated Rice, 20 to 7. Beaten by Texas Aggies, 28 to 13, the Tigers snapped back with a 28 to 7 victory over army students at the university, then whipped Georgia again, 27 to 6. A 14 to 0 edge was earned over Texas Christian, but Georgia Tech's V-12 eleven won a walloping 42 to 7 victory.

Amarillo Sure To Beat Pampa, Ratliff Inters

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
(Associated Press Sports Editor)

Only four district champions have been crowned and it will be the end of the week before the other fourteen are known but here's the way they look for the opening round of the Texas schoolboy football playoff-off:

Amarillo vs. Vernon, San Angelo vs. Yoleta, Denison vs. Highland Park (Dallas), North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Shavest (Dallas), Breckenridge vs. Waco, Marshall vs. Lufkin, Jeff Davis (Houston) vs. Goose Creek, Jefferson (San Antonio) vs. McAllen.

Sports Editor Ratliff has let sand get in his eyes. He brushed off Pampa like Amarillo was a cinch for the District 1-AA crown. Ratliff ought to remember 1941 when Pampa upset the mighty Golden Sandstorm, the year the Sandies were also in the favored spot.

Coach Oils Coffey's 1943 Harvesters, a green, inexperienced team, has beaten Brownfield and Plainview and lost only to Lubbock. Editor Ratliff ought to be at Harvester field Thursday to find out his Amarillo cinch, at best, isn't as good as he thought.

The game will start at 2:30 p.m. and will be broadcast by Radio Station KPNZ, The Pampa News station.

Yoleta, Waco, Jeff Davis and Goose Creek already have clinched their titles, therefore the guess that Jeff Davis would meet Goose Creek in the bi-district round is a "cinch" as he thought.

Amarillo, Vernon, San Angelo, Highland Park, North Side, Breckenridge, Lufkin and Marshall are probable favorites to take the remaining games on their conference schedules, but in the cases of Denison, Sunset, Jefferson and McAllen there is room for much conjecture.

It is up and around and the fact that went through one of the hardest schedules of the season and whose record shows it to compare very favorably with Denison, although the latter is undefeated.

Sunset lost to Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), the team it needs for the District 8 championship Thursday but the Bisons appear to have profited greatly from that defeat and look capable of nudging out the triple W boys.

Jefferson is a team that blows hot and cold. Unless it's hot against Breckenridge (San Antonio) Thursday there's likely to be a tie for the District 15 lead and Jefferson won't be in it. Breckenridge and Austin can finish in a dead-heat for the top by winning their games this week.

McAllen is undefeated and untied but Edinburg also is undefeated although not boasting a record quite so good as McAllen. The latter is the favorite but it should be quite a battle.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—It cost 44,000 customers only four bits apiece to see Harvard and Boston college play football Saturday and Sunday, but the fans got five bucks worth of action.

Top price for the Dartmouth-Princeton slaughter was $3.50. If it was worth that price, yesterday's Bears-Redskins brawl was a bargain at the $20 the scalpers were asking (and remember, you can get a war bond for only $18.75). . . . Those figures should give Ivy League authorities material for a lot of heavy thinking before another football season.

And, speaking of prices, wonder what Mike Jacobs will get for the next Boss Jack-Bob Montgomery affair?

Monday Matinee

Although the Boston Bruins took in more than $21,000 for charity when they opened their home hockey season last week, Manager Art Ross still is peeved at the folks who reserved 400 seats by phone and then failed to appear.

Manager Joe McCarthy (commenting on Joe Gordon's announcement that he won't train in the East next spring): "What difference would it make? Gordon is the sort of ball player who never gets out of shape. I remember Lou Gehrig once got off a train one morning in St. Petersburg and played an exhibition that afternoon. Gordon's like that."

College Grid Teams Enter 1943 Finale

By TED MEIER
NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The college football season winds up this week with the Army-Navy traditional classic at West Point in the No. 1 spot.

There is tremendous interest, of course, in the Notre Dame-Great Lakes game at Chicago and to a lesser extent in such sectional rivalries as Penn-Cornell, Brown-Columbia (both Thanksgiving Day), Texas-Texas Aggies, Georgia Tech, Georgia and Southern California-UCLA.

The big news of the weekend was Notre Dame's comeback to squeak past the formidable Iowa Seaahaws, 14-13, and Coach Frank Leahy finally admitting he has a championship team.

In another exciting game Purdue's Boilermakers finished their season unbeaten and untied by putting on a great goal line stand in the final minute to defeat Indiana, 7-0.

Randolph Field of Texas and Colorado College retained their perfect records by beating the North Texas Aggies, 20-13, and Colorado University 6-0.

Dartmouth wound up a satisfactory season by lacing Princeton, 42-13. Villanova and Al Postus whipped Temple, 34-7, while Penn State humbled Pitt, 14-0, and Lafayette upset Rutgers, 9-2.

In other outstanding games, Duke trounced North Carolina, 26-7; Kansas upset Missouri, 7-0; Northwestern, which Illinois, 53-6; Great Lakes beat Marquette, 25-6; Colgate kicked Columbia, 41-0; Michigan ran over Ohio State, 45-7; Minnesota took Wisconsin, 25-13; Rice beat Texas Christian, 13-0; Texas Tech downed Southern Methodist, 7-6, and Del Monte Pre-Flight stamped itself as one of the best Pacific Coast outfits by trouncing St. Mary's Pre-Flight, 37-14.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(AP)—The last unbeaten football games was played to nine over the week and as the Iowa Seaahaws, Rutgers, Boston college and Duke (unbeaten) and select teams: Notre Dame, Purdue and Randolph Field top the remaining nine.

Wallace Running Own Campaign For Re-Election

By JACK BELL
(Head of the U. S. Senate Staff)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22 — (AP) — Henry A. Wallace is carrying on a unique campaign for renomination as vice president on the personal assumption that President Roosevelt will be a candidate for a fourth term.

Although he reportedly has been "scratched" from the race by administration insiders who feel he would be of little vote-getting value in 1944, Wallace has no intention of accepting their verdict. He is out to prove to President Roosevelt, that he represents labor and liberal elements in the Democratic party that must be reckoned with at the next national convention.

This far his efforts largely have been confined to speeches in which he has proclaimed the century of the common man, has lambasted "American Fascists," has attacked international cartels and has called for post war governmental planning to guide American participation in world rehabilitation.

These speeches were undertaken by Wallace on his own initiative and without any prior suggestions from the president. Where they have contained references to foreign affairs or possible controversial matters, they were cleared at the White House. In some cases, however, the president knew only in a general way what the vice president was going to say.

The crowds for most of these speeches have been brought together largely through the efforts of CIO and other labor organizations. Democratic party leaders have had practically nothing to do with such meetings as those he addressed in recent months at Detroit, Chicago and Dallas.

The leaders have shied away from active participation because—as one of them put it—there has been no word from President Roosevelt on what he thinks about Wallace either as potential running mate or as an administration sounding board.

Wallace himself is in the dark on this. Like others, he doubts that Mr. Roosevelt has made up his mind or will decide until some time next spring whether he will run again. In the meantime, Wallace is betting that the president will be a candidate, is shaping his course in that direction.

Wake Up America

THE ARGENTINE POSITION

Enrique Gil, one of Argentina's most eminent citizens and an Allied sympathizer, recently attempted to explain the present tension between his country and the United States. Many Americans are bitter about Argentina's attitude since the Rio Conference; many Argentines are bitter about our bringing pressure to bear on what they regard as their private concern. They recall the big stick policy of Theodore Roosevelt, the dollar diplomacy of Knox, the Sandine case, the marines in Nicaragua, and other unsavory episodes.

Separated by language, traditions and temperament, we are so separated from Argentina by her relative self-sufficiency. With our aid and friendship, the other Latin American countries could hardly survive. Geographically they are too near us, or economically they are too insecure to resist the inducements of Lend-Lease. Theoretically, if they have not contributed materially to an Allied victory, and none of their nationals have been drafted for over-seas duty. One might think that Argentina would make the gesture of declaring war just to keep peace in the hemisphere. She would have nothing much to lose, and quite a bit to gain: "Lend-Lease" hand-outs, for one thing, which we refuse unless the recipient has severed relations with the Axis.

The answer is that Argentina is the second wealthiest country in the New World, and possesses the only economy south of the Rio Grande that can stand up to Washington. Argentines are among the most independent peoples of the world. They are justly proud of their thriving pampas, their gay and glistening cities, and a level of culture which they consider inferior to none.

Like ourselves, the Argentines are peace-loving and prosperity-loving. ### Dope on Class 44-A Is Issued At Air Base

If you want the "dope" on the recently arrived aviation cadet class 44-A at Pampa Army Air Field, you can get it from the new "Cadet Dope", the information sheet compiled by the Pampa Field public relations office, where copies are available.

The chamber of commerce and the Pampa News also have copies for distribution. Listed are the firms for which the training pilots worked in civilian life, their hometowns or towns in which they lived, their alma maters, their fraternities, their favorite hobbies and sports. Should Pampans find a cadet they would like to meet and perhaps entertain, they may contact them by calling the public relations office, field extension 311, where a master file with the cadets' names is maintained on the information given in "Cadet Dope."

Several interesting facts are revealed in the dope sheet about the background of the new student pilots.

Coming from 37 states they lived or worked in 133 cities and towns. Seven cadets came from Kansas City, Mo., putting it in the lead in that category. Los Angeles is second with four representatives. The University of Texas took high honors in alumni in the class with three ex-Loughbors. New York University tied with Harvard University for second place in having alumni in the class, each having three favorite sons here.

Fifteen leading national collegiate fraternities are represented. Kappa Sigma and Sigma Chi have the most members, each with three. The remaining fraternities have only single members praising their glories in the class.

Prominent firms for which the cadets worked include the Atlantic and Pacific Tea Company, Bell Telephone Co., Bendix Aviation Corp., Douglas Aircraft, Du Pont, Fairchild Aircraft, Life and Time magazines, and Remington Arms Co. Their favorite hobby, of course, is flying and the sport they like best is football.

As part of a rehabilitation program for patients of Pampa Army Air Field station hospital, arrangements are being made by the special services department to present a program once a week in the hospital Red Cross auditorium. Capt. Willis D. Cowan, special services officer, announced Saturday.

Under direction of Sgt. Hugh Best who wrote and directed "Take It Off", burlesque of burlesque, which officers and enlisted men enjoyed several weeks ago at the post theatre, the first show is scheduled for next week, and will consist of skits, instrumental and vocal solos, and perhaps the post orchestra. Many members of the "Take It Off" cast, including laugh-provokers Opie Leo P. Murray and George A. Bingham, will be on-hand to tickle the ribs of the recuperating soldiers.

Wake Up America

Enrique Gil, one of Argentina's most eminent citizens and an Allied sympathizer, recently attempted to explain the present tension between his country and the United States. Many Americans are bitter about Argentina's attitude since the Rio Conference; many Argentines are bitter about our bringing pressure to bear on what they regard as their private concern. They recall the big stick policy of Theodore Roosevelt, the dollar diplomacy of Knox, the Sandine case, the marines in Nicaragua, and other unsavory episodes.

Separated by language, traditions and temperament, we are so separated from Argentina by her relative self-sufficiency. With our aid and friendship, the other Latin American countries could hardly survive. Geographically they are too near us, or economically they are too insecure to resist the inducements of Lend-Lease. Theoretically, if they have not contributed materially to an Allied victory, and none of their nationals have been drafted for over-seas duty. One might think that Argentina would make the gesture of declaring war just to keep peace in the hemisphere. She would have nothing much to lose, and quite a bit to gain: "Lend-Lease" hand-outs, for one thing, which we refuse unless the recipient has severed relations with the Axis.

The answer is that Argentina is the second wealthiest country in the New World, and possesses the only economy south of the Rio Grande that can stand up to Washington. Argentines are among the most independent peoples of the world. They are justly proud of their thriving pampas, their gay and glistening cities, and a level of culture which they consider inferior to none.

Democracy Needs To Regain Faith

AUSTIN, Nov. 22 — (AP) — Reporting on a recent speaking tour, Dr. Homer P. Rainey, University of Texas president, said in an address at the University Baptist church here that Christian democracy needs to recapture lost faith to become again a great dynamic force. Rainey was one of four speakers on a 10-day mission sponsored by the federal council of Churches of Christ.

Fear of Fascism in this country, Rainey said, arises out of the fact that Americans have lost some of their faith in Christian democratic principles.

Mail your Christmas cards early — so they can be answered.
There's not much choice for the German people—either they take it on the chin from the Gestapo or on the nose from the Allies.
Some little folks think a small turkey is better than a big one. There isn't so much hash.
