Van Lee York, Jr.

Van Lee York, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Van L. York of Borden County, recently won second in the State F.F.A. Sheep Production Proficiency Contest. Van won the area contest, which qualified him for the state competition.

Entrants in the contest were judged on records kept over a four year period, a scrap book, and how profitable the student's project was.

Van's herd of 100 ewes and 3 registered bucks have consistently turned out champions for stock shows. One of the lambs he sold in the Caprock Breeders Sale in Gail last year was the champion of the cross-breeds in Lubbock's Sotck Show.

Van works for York's Pit Lining Service in Snyder and will attend San Angelo State University this fall, majoring in Agriculture. He is a 1981 graduate of Borden High School, where Mr. Bob Bagley was his FFA teacher and advisor.

Cattle raisers praise conservative Democrats

The nine Texas Democrats who "put country ahead of party" in the recent budget battle in Washington got a personal thanks in the form of a resolution passed by members of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association board of directors at their meeting in San Angelo, Texas, June 26-27. TSCRA telegraphed its members' thanks only hours after the lawmakers helped Republicans defeat an attempt by the Democratic leadership to derail President Reagan's budget and tax proposals. TSCRA is a non-profit livestock producer group with more than 14,000 members in Texas, Oklahoma and surrounding states.

John S. Cargile, TSCRA president from San Angelo, said, "TSCRA feels that President Reagan's budget and tax proposals will result in lower inflation, lower interest rates, lower deficits and in accelerated economic growth. The defeat of his budget proposal would have been a blow to the working people and ranchers of this country who have been forgotten in the rush to big government and higher taxes."

The nine Texas Democrats recognized were Congressmen Jack Hightower of Vernon, Charles Wilson of Lufkin, Marvin Leath of Waco, Charles Stenholm of Stamford, Phil Gramm of Bryan, Sam Hall of Marshall, Ralph Hall of rockwall, Kent Hance of Lubbock and Richard White of El Paso.

Following the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception, which was also held in the Patio Room. The bride's table featured a two tiered cake decorated with blue and white daisies. Tatia and Shawna Colvin, sisters of the groom, served at the reception, and Tonya Shortes registered the guests.

The bride is a 1980 graduate of Alamosa High School, Alamosa, Co. and is presently attending Howard College. The groom is a 1980 graduate of Big Spring High School and is currently employed at the Big Spring State Hospital.

W.T.C. News

Western Texas College has announced pre-registration for the Fall of 1981 Semester at the Snyder Campus. Freshmen students will be pre-registering from now until July 30th. Pre-registration will be open from 8 a.m. to noon and 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. on Monday through Thursday. Students are to go to the counselors' office to select their classes. Students will be billed during August so it will not be necessary to pay at this time.

Selection of classes during pre-registration allows for a more complete selection of classes, and saves the student from registration lines in the fall. Also the counselors are able to devote more time to individual students during the pre registration period.

A cup of cooked, dried red beans has about 230 calories and provides around one-quarter of the minimum daily requirements of protein and iron for an adult. Thiamin and riboflavin are also provided.

IRONCLAD IDEAS FOR MILLION DOLLAR FASHION ON A BUDGET

Look like a million, for little or no money. It's a very "pressing" issue these days, especially when it comes to real pressing, an important wardrobe key.

Pressing is a major factor in clothing construction, and later in clothing care.

It can "Make or break" the "million dollar look" that fashion conscious consumers strive for.

Two first steps are necessary for successful pressing: have the right pressing equipment and use it properly. And remember, you can make your own equipment for little or no money.

Some items include a seam roll, a tailor's ham, press cloths and point pressers.

SEAM ROLL

A seam roll is used to press seams open without making an impression of the seam allowance on the right side of the garment.

You can make your own by rolling up magazines tightly and covering them with felt.

Quality and selection at your fingertips . . .

John Deere Lawn and Garden Tools

We have a wide selection of top-quality tools. Hoes, rakes, and shovels. Trowels, pruners, loppers and many more. Stop in now.

Or use a heavy cardboard tube from wrapping paper, cut it to the desired length.

You may want to cover the tube with a terry towel or felt, but you don't have to.

Other variations can be made from a towel rolled one inch in diameter, an old broom handle or a rolling pin with one side smoothed off flat.

Another way to prevent the imprint of seam allowances on the right side of a garment is to use two strips of plain brown paper and insert them between each seam allowance and the garment before pressing.

To use the seam roll, simply let it serve as your "ironing board" and press the stitching line only. The curve of the seam roll underneath will keep most of the iron's flat surface from touching your fabric, so only the stitching itself will be pressed.TAILOR'S HAM

A tailor's ham is used for pressing curved seams, darts, sleeve caps or any other rounded areas.

As a substitute for a purchased tailor's ham, use a small hard pillow or a tightly balled terry towel or terry cloth pinned securely to hold its shape.

Again, let this be your "ironing board" for the special curved item.

PRESS CLOTHS

Press cloths are placed to the fabric's "right side" to prevent shine and protect the fabric from the iron's heat.

You can use a piece of lightweight muslin, cheese cloth, batiste, or a disposable paper towel.

Here's how press cloths work:

In pressing silk, for example, put the silk item on the ironing board right side up. Put the press cloth to the right side of the item. Then press.

In pressing napped fabrics, such as velvet or corduroy, use a piece of the same fabric as a press cloth. Place the press cloth on the ironing board right side up and the garment on the press cloth right side down. Then press. This keeps the nap from crushing.

POINT PRESSERS

Point pressers are used to press seams open in the hard to reach areas, such as collars and lapel points.

Use a pencil rolled in several layers of fabric, or use a wooden cooking spoon, a wooden dowel with a point or several layers of cardboard cut in the shape of the pattern.

Insert the point presser down into the hard to reach area, and press.

New Arrival

Mr. and Mrs. Joel Dennis announce the arrival of their son, Jeffrey Alan, born July 9 in Lubbock Methodist Hospital. He weighed 7 lbs. 5 ozs. and was 21 1/4 inches long. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bert Dennis of Gail.

High above the plains of Texas, in the cool of the Sacramento Mountains of New Mexico, a delegation of 4-Hers and leaders from Borden County are attending the 4-H Electric Camp this week which is located 28 miles southeast of Cloudcroft, New Mexico. Those attending the camp, sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company are, left to right: Alan Day, agent and Chip Smith. The Southwesterner instructor is Randy Eminger from Lubbock.
