Trio Confesses Grocery Store Robbery

Negroes Held For Burglary of Pampa, Amarillo Groceries

Cooperation between Pampa police and the police, sheriff's department Texas Rangers, and state police of Amarillo has resulted in the apprehension of three Amarillo Negroes, two held in Potter county jail on charges of burglary of a grocery in Amarillo, the other held in city jail here, in connection with the burglary of a grocery store here. All have confessed in signed statements.

Held in the Pampa city jail, awaiting transfer to the county, is Willie Allen, 31, charged with burglary in connection with the break-in at Idea Food Stores 2, 304-6 S. Cuyler, on the night of Feb. 7, when the store's small safe was removed, taken into the country, opened, and $1,000 in currency taken. J. W. Hoskins, 20, and his brother, James E. Hoskins, 18, are being held in the Potter county jail in Amarillo on charges of burglary in connection with a similar break-in at the Ideal Food Stores on W. Sixth street in Amarillo on Jan. 13.

The trip was arrested in Amarillo two days ago but officers asked that the information be withheld until the case could be cleared up for both Pampa and Amarillo. Ray Dudley, Pampa chief of police, made two trips to Amarillo in connection with the investigation that led to the filing of the charges.

In a signed statement to officers, the elder of the two Hoskins brothers told how the Pampa burglary occurred.

The three, the two Hoskins brothers and Allen, drove to Pampa in a dark blue Packard sedan on the afternoon of Feb. 7, arriving here from Amarillo at 4 p. m.

They stopped at the Ideal Food Stores 2, went in and bought some chewing gum. "We had planned before we left Amarillo that if there was a store over there (in Pampa) that we could get into the safe over it. When we looked the safe over we thought we could get into it so we laid our plans to get it that night."

The safe was located near the checking counter, in plain sight of customers.

Hoskins then described how the trio played at a place here in Pampa until 11 p. m. then drove up-town.

"We parked the car near the underpass and got out of the car and walked back to the store that we had been in that afternoon, James

Woods Refuses To Dismiss Pair

AUSTIN, Feb. 18 (AP)—The next move in a battle between the joint legislative committee and Dr. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, today apparently was up to the committee.

The committee's audit committee has recommended that John Olsen, school census director, and T. P. Walker, auditor of the department of education, be removed. Dr. Woods has informed the committee he will not follow the recommendation.

The committee's formal report said that it has found "numerous practices of financial administration" and "general incompetency."

Woods replied by letter: "To dismiss from the service of the state two very fine gentlemen who have been efficient and faithful in their work through these years would be criminal on my part."

The preliminary audit report adopted by the committee, called the committee's attention to "collection of fees for checking the supplementary (school) census rolls—held to be illegal by the attorney general. Depositing in a bank disbursements of those funds for items and obligations not part of the overhead expense of checking the supplementary census; supplementing legislative appropriations for printing, salaries and travel expense," among other matters.

Woods replied that the department still felt that it had legally handled the fees collected from school districts to defray expenses of emergency censuses in areas where there had been great population gains.

City Faces Election With No Candidates

There's been not a single person "yielding to the entreaties of numerous friends and at great personal sacrifice" whose name has been put on a petition and submitted as a candidate for either mayor or commissioner 1 or 2 in Pampa's city election to be held April 4.

Members of the present commission have announced they will not run again.

An interesting sidelight on the forthcoming election is the question: "What happens if no petitions are filed?"

In answer to this question, Robert P. (Bob) Gordon, city attorney, outlined these possibilities:

1. If no petitions of candidates are filed, the election would be held any way and the candidates could be put on the ballot by the write-in method.

2. If there are no write-ins, then the present city commission would continue in office until such time as their successors were duly qualified and elected.

3. It is the job of the mayor to call an election. He is required to do so by law and in such a way that should some Texas mayor decide he wouldn't call one in order to stay in office, he simply couldn't get away with it.

4. Suppose the mayor, for some reason, was out of town, or seriously ill, and couldn't call the election, what then? The answer is that commissioner 1 is then the mayor pro tem and as such could act as mayor in calling the election.

While the low-paid city commission jobs (the pay is $10 for each member at each regular meeting each week) go begging for candidates, the non-paying job of being a school trustee has attracted the name of only one of the two candidates to be elected on April 1.

Incidentally, filing for city commission or board of education is not done by the candidates themselves but by petitions presented by citizens that the states arrange their own absentee voting laws.

1,000 American Soldiers Lost In Sinking of Ship by Enemy Action

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The army has announced the loss of 1,000 American soldiers in the sinking, "due to enemy action," of an Allied troopship in European waters. Approximately 1,000 men were saved but the toll was the greatest suffered by Allied convoy forces.

The brief announcement gave few other details but word from London, that none of the survivors had been landed in Britain indicated that the ship may have been bound for the Mediterranean although there is a possibility that the survivors may have been landed in Iceland, or returned to the Western Hemisphere.

Mechanized Units In Action, Tokyo Says; U. S. Silent

By The Associated Press The Tokyo radio indicated today that ground fighting was in progress in the Japanese mid-Pacific bastion of Truk following a heavy attack by powerful carrier units of the United States navy.

The Japanese radio, without confirmation, declared that "powerful mechanized units as well as airpower" had been used in the bold assault, but that "it seems it does not go beyond the scope of a strong reconnaissance."

Earlier, Tokyo quoted a 4 p. m. imperial headquarters communique as saying "fierce fighting is now going on between our forces and the enemy."

A strict radio silence by the task forces, however, blanketed the operations against the vital enemy base nearly 3500 miles from Pearl Harbor.

Several hundred aircraft ripped at Truk at daylight Wednesday in the first assault on the reef-encrusted group of 70 islands—a bristling fortress in the Central Carolines where the Japanese have had 30 years to build an "impregnable" defense post.

Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, announced tersely at Pearl Harbor yesterday:

"At daylight yesterday morning (16 February, west longitude date) powerful naval task forces of the U. S. Pacific fleet commenced an attack on the Japanese naval base at Truk with several hundred of our planes participating. No further details are available."

The operation, changing the enemy's approaches to the Philippines and the Japanese mainland as never before, came less than two weeks after American capture of Kwajalein, largest of the Marshall Islands, nearly 1,000 miles east of Truk.

Washington viewed the assault as marking the end of Japanese domination over a huge area in the Pacific, and the offensive thrust represented the height of the country's comeback.

Two American Liberators carrying 22 men flew a roundtrip of nearly 2,000 miles from the Solomons to photograph the islands' installations and shipping Feb. 4. It was disclosed.

The close of Hanson's address. The junior high school band under the direction of Ray Robbins, school music director, played a 30-minute concert preceding the opening of last night's forum program.

Hanson said, in part, last night: "The progress of civilization is marked by ever-expanding units of cooperation, the individual, the family, the clan or town, the language bloc or the state, and now we begin to think in continents, and to group towards concepts of world organization—indeed, within three generations, in our own great West we have run the scale of this development. The early pioneer fought for himself and his family, then for his neighbors, then for his country, then for his continent, and now he stands at the battle line of all seas and on all continents, leagued with millions he does not know, in the dim but glowing hope that men may learn some day to manage his world affairs in cooperation, and not in deadly strife."

"Fifty-four years ago next April was formed under our leadership the Pan American Union to bind together the Latin American republics, now 20 in number, in better cooperation. The growth of common understanding was slow, however, until some 50 years ago when the Good Neighbor policy was born and brought to effect by Franklin D. Roosevelt and many private individuals, well as many private institutions—individuals. Although the United States and her southern neighbors stem from two very different cultures, world opinion looks upon the Western Hemisphere as a natural unit in the coming world order."

"The part our own country may play in the building of the new world is fairly familiar to all of us, but we know far less of what these Latin American Countries are giving and may give in the future for the common welfare. It is of the highest importance, then, that we acquaint ourselves with lands which cover an area three times the size of the United States and with a population almost as large. Most American tourists are often amazed at the beauty and modernity of their great cities, whose music, painting and literature rank fully as high as ours, and whose scientific and industrial training and women of distinction. Great newspapers inform their readers generously on world affairs."

"But below this urban culture are grave social problems. Industrial labor works long hours for a meager wage, a prey to disease and alcohol; a land sustains feudal in character conditions most workers of the soil to a lot above the level of the soil. But already in these lands a deep social revolution is at work which promises better things for the future."

"These backward conditions arise chiefly from the fact that these are lands of raw materials; 95 per cent of their products come from their oil and minerals, their forests, crops and herds. The United States is not cooperating with them in their industrial development so necessary to economic and social betterment. A basic economic and social contribution is the solidarity of the Americas; that south of our border to lower South America these lands, yielding tropical and sub-tropical products, are complementary to our economy. But the countries far below, like Argentina, produce much the same things we do, hence the need of great patience with them for we cannot offer them what we can offer ourselves."

"New materials, then, is their first significant contribution in winning the war, and in building the new world order; oil and minerals of all sorts, food, woods and fibers, is equally important for our sake as well as for world stability, that we aid them keep their economic and social life in healthy condition as they make their contribution to the world's needs in growing range and volume."

"Of even greater value across the decades will be their contribution to the world's sense of the dignity and worth of man. By nature the Latin is an individualist, and for a century and a quarter, since the Spanish independence from Spain, these neighbors of ours have cherished the idea of liberty. The presence of dictators in these lands in the past is not contrary to the fact that there have been dictators on the Hitler model, but strong men born out of the needs of a scattered people who had not learned the arts of modern democracy. Since, however, they made progress in free government and may be counted upon to resist effectively, the totalitarian trends set going by the present struggle."

Students of Wellesley College, which has long had a "big sister" relationship to the missionary institution, Yenching College for Women, in Peiping, China, recently made a special gift of $5,000 to the sister that has suffered because of the war conditions in China. This gift will be used by the Yenching authorities to give medical and dental care to the low-paid junior members of the staff, for emergency hospitalization for the students, and for extra milk and eggs for a large group of the students who are under normal because of the soaring of prices of all foodstuffs.

Church women throughout the United States are being urged by Miss Amy Ogden Weicher, president of the United Council of Church Women, 156 Fifth Avenue, New York 10, to support the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration and to write their Congressmen immediately urging that funds be made available for this united undertaking. The compassion of Christ compels his followers today to meet the staggering needs of suffering humanity," says Miss Weicher. "Christian forces have had much to do with the establishment of UNRRA for the purpose of feeding the needy throughout the world. Selfishness and distrust can even withhold the loaves and fishes from the hungry people of the earth."

GERMAN BASE

Anzio beachhead positions have been beaten off by British and American troops of the Fifth Army. On the main Fifth Army front there was hard fighting around the heights northwest of Cassino abbey.

The greatest number of heavy bombers yet used to support ground operations contributed appreciably to the Allied defense. They gave the Germans no rest, bleeding them either at the front or miles to the rear. Some 1,500 sorties were flown yesterday compared to 185 German flights which constituted a record. Though 500 sorties less than at the peak of the Salerno beach battle, the air operations were less able in dispatches were probably the heaviest in tactical history. The discrepancy probably was explained in the weight of the big planes and their bomb loads.

The British cruiser Matilda, steamed close inshore and shelled enemy troop concentrations at Formia between the beachhead and the main Cassino-Gargiliano front. The suggested the Germans had attempted to squeeze the beach between drives from the south and north. The main fighting appeared to be in the northern sector around Carroceto. Artillery units were bombed German cannon shelling the Anzio supply harbor.

Fresh German reinforcements reached the Cassino front, although the Chinese or high-way 6 to Rome, was under American shellfire. Hard fighting continued among the debris of Cassino and on the commanding hillside around the ruined Benedictine monastery where German guns hammered. Bad weather kept the British Eighth Army glued down on the Adriatic. On every front, Allied artillery was active.

The Allies had air power to spare in Italy. While keeping constant blankets over the fighting fronts, planes picked out shipping targets and pulled out some of the debris at San Stefano, Marina di Pisa and Porto Ercole. Barracks in Greece were pounded. In all operations, nine Allied planes were lost and three Germans were shot down. The main targets on the periphery of the beachhead were Frascati and Albano, north and south of Castel Gandolfo, the papal summer resort.

Beside the triumph of annihilation at Korsun, the Russians drove on Pskov on a wide front, reaching within 27 miles of that Baltic gateway city of many railroads. They killed 1,400 more Germans in their advance. Farther north, other red forces were reported attacking westward into Estonia near Narva.

Helinski had another air alert as Finland appeared to be angling for peace. A Swedish newspaper intimated that the government of Norway and northern Finland into Norway and reinforcing the Finnish-Norwegian border.

The exiled Polish government in London drafted new proposals for Russia but doubt was expressed in London as to Soviet acceptance.

ed, and one pilot reported seeing the wreckage in the 40-mile wide lagoon than "I ever saw at one time in Pearl Harbor."

Allied forces have seen few units of the Japanese navy in recent months, leading to such comment as the statement by Vice Admiral John S. McCain, deputy chief of naval operations, that the Japanese navy will attempt to meet the United States fleet.

The enemy's supply-shipping strength suffered another blow in the Southern Pacific, when General MacArthur's bombers sank or damaged six ships off Mururoa Island in the Bismarck archipelago, south of Truk.

Solomon-based bombers and fighters, keeping up the smashing aerial offensive against Rebaul, sprayed 221 more tons of bombs on the three airbases of the enemy's air-powerful anchor base on New Britain. A total of 36 Japanese planes were destroyed or damaged, at a loss of one Allied fighter.

While Allied planes hit enemy positions elsewhere in New Britain and on New Ireland, the Japanese sent 15 divebombers to attack shipping off the beaches at the Green Islands occupied by American and New Zealand troops earlier in the week. The enemy's attack, however, caused little damage and no casualties.

New Delhi announced that Allied forces were making steady progress on all sectors of the Arakan front in Burma. Fresh British troops have been thrown into the battle for Ngakyedauk pass here more than 1,000 Japanese had died attempting to close the Allies' supply road through the Mayu mountains.

Mr. Roosevelt urged that Congress extend the life of the CCC, "without hampering restrictions, as soon as possible so that farmers can make plans for planting with knowledge of support prices on which they can depend."

The legislation, he contended, would boost costs for the army and navy by "many billions." Furthermore, he said, not only would it cost every American family more to buy necessities, but it would cost more to run factories and farms.

"The weight of the increased burden," he said, "will fall on all of us, but most of all on the unorganized workers and others who live on small and relatively fixed incomes, among whom are most of the dependents of our fighting men."

The anti-subsidy forces boasted more than a two-thirds house majority yesterday when they sent the bill to the president with a 249 to 118 vote, but Democratic Leader McCormack of Massachusetts did not recede from a prediction that in the house where it comes to vote first.

The situation looked more favorable for the administration in the senate, where the vote on passage was 43 to 38, short of the overriding majority. The senate can not act before Monday, when it returns from a week-end recess.

Rev. Henry Wolter Will Speak Both Hours on Sunday
This Sunday, the last of the three introducing the official opening of Lent, the Rev. Henry G. Wolter, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, will appear at the top of the morning service at 11. In order to illustrate the connection his address has with the new Lenten season, the Rev. Wolter says: "Lent is a season of 46 days set aside for deep consideration of Christ's suffering and death. The suffering Christ will be the general theme behind each Lenten address in Zion Lutheran church during this season. The Word of God, Luke 18:1-44, on which Sunday's topic is based, was especially chosen as the annual Gospel reading for this Sunday, because it is so well fitted to help us understand that the suffering Christ suffers for us."
Jesus, the Light of the World, will be the topic of the Rev. Wolter's address at 7:45 p. m.
Holy Communion will be observed in both the morning and the evening services.

Our Workers Betrayed

The reason we are in such a predicament and are worried about full employment peace times is that our various leaders have betrayed the busy working man. The workers have been betrayed by the Republican leaders, by the Democratic leaders, by the church leaders, by the leaders of organized education, by the leaders in business and by the leaders of organized labor.

here. A registered nurse will be instructor for the series of 12 two-hour periods, the schedule for which will be made known soon.

Homemakers and girls who have had the Red Cross home nursing course are the health reserve of the nation; one third of the nation's effective medical manpower is now serving in the army and navy.

"Doctors and nurses who are left in communities to meet the needs of civilian population cannot carry the increased load and continue to serve effectively, unless we prepare ourselves to give them all the help we can," Mrs. Campbell declared.

"We must do everything possible to keep well so that we can do our home front jobs, freeing the doctors left to us to attend cases needing them most."

She pointed out that at all times there is illness in one out of every 10 homes, and that during peak seasons the percentage rises to one in four or five.

In the Red Cross home nursing course, women of Pampa will be given opportunity to learn how to help their doctors by recognizing emergencies requiring medical attention. The course includes classroom and demonstration instruction on how to prevent the family healthy, what to do in case of home sickness, how to prevent spread of contagion, and how to assist the doctor by carrying out his instructions.

"The woman who can save her family physician a call to the home by telephoning to him for advice, and then intelligently follow his guidance, will serve her country as well as her family and community," the home nursing chairman concluded.

Republicans In East Will Look Over Candidates
 NEW YORK, Feb. 18—(AP)—It begins to look as if New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, with a powerful block of 198 votes, intend to look over the field at the Republican national convention before committing themselves on the presidential candidates.
 Party leaders in all three states are working for unopposed delegations—and the way New York with 93 votes, Pennsylvania with 70 and New Jersey with 35 eventually go will play a vital part in the convention.
 The New York delegation, largest in the convention, will be dominated by friends and associates of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, who says he isn't a candidate but who is mentioned prominently, nevertheless, in presidential speculation.
 If a "draft" starts for Dewey, or he gives the green light, he can count on almost the solid support of the New York delegation, politicians believed after checking today the nearly completed list of organization candidates for delegates.
 Petitions to put Dewey's name on the New Jersey ballot May 16 have been circulated by E. Ettram Mott, former state chairman, but leaders favor an unopposed delegation.
 In Harrisburg, Gov. Edward Martin, who will shoulder Pennsylvania's delegation, said the organization would oppose efforts of any presidential candidate to line up delegates in his state at the April 25 primary.

Bankers Shackled, Says Brownfield Man
 SAN ANTONIO, Feb. 18—(AP)—J. O. Gilliam, president of the Texas Bankers association, predicted a great future for Texas, but declared American bankers are being shackled with regulations, executive orders and bureaucratic dictums, in an address before 400 delegates attending the one-day convention of the organization's South Texas district convention here Tuesday.
 "Under the guise of war emergency, American bankers are being shackled with regulations, executive orders or bureaucratic dictums which are distasteful," he declared. "We must insist on lower taxes, a balanced budget with the government discontinuing to run on borrowed money, and we must combat public works created solely to give people jobs."
 Gilliam, who is vice president of the Brownfield State bank, called upon bankers to shoulder their responsibilities, especially in post-war development.
 He predicted a great future for Texas, and said "we bankers should do everything to take care of all sound loans and not let the government agencies have them just because we have been a little stubborn on our rates."

Market Briefs

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Feb. 17—(AP)—Rail stocks moved briskly in today's market, after a morning of considerable indecision, and, while scattered industrials followed with more or less enthusiasm, numerous leaders continued to exhibit a high degree of apathy.

Slight irregularity ruled at the opening in slow dealings. The pace quickened later but again slackened at intervals, gains running to 2 points or so were well distributed but losers were plentiful at the last. Transfers were around 800,000 shares.

Union Pacific touched its best level for 1943-44, along with Rustless Iron, favored Central, Atlantic Coast Line, Park and Tilford, Evans Products, Chrysler, Sears Roebuck and Douglas Aircraft. Backward were Bethlehem, Kinney, Texas Co., Anaconda, International Harvester, U. S. Rubber, Westinghouse and Philip Morris.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Feb. 17—(AP)—Rye prices dropped about a cent and all other grains were weak today following a Washington report that a final contract between the United States and Cuba for importation of Cuban molasses and industrial alcohol had been signed. The molasses would support grain in manufacturing industrial alcohol.

Commission houses were persistent sellers of rye. Some local traders gave the grain support in early dealings, but this type of buying was not aggressive. Interest in the wheat market was light. Tosses with cash connections were on the selling side. Weather was considered mostly favorable for the winter wheat crop.

Final prices were at the day's close. Wheat finished 3/4-1/2 lower. May $1.65 1/2. What was unchanged to 1/2 lower. May oats were unchanged to 1/2 lower. May corn, rye and barley were 1/4-1/2 lower. May $1.26 1/2.

Included in the bureau's cost of living index are 264 representative items covering every conceivable type of goods and services bought by wage earners and lower-salaried workers in 21 cities.

For the 12 months ending September 15, 1943, the cost of living schedule showed this breakdown among the major categories: Food, up 9.1%; clothing up 6.8%; house furnishings, up 3.1%; miscellaneous goods, up 2.9%; professional service, up 5.1%; drug store goods, up 0.7%.

As this analysis reveals, drug store goods constitute the only major category which has not appreciably contributed to the ballooning of living costs.

The Bureau of Statistics has revealed that living costs have increased 23.4% since January, 1941.

WAKE-UP AMERICA

COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF OF BALLOTS
 For the first time in history, a President has appealed as "Commander-in-Chief" for the passage of a bill dealing with Civil and not military affairs. Under the Constitution, only the President is Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy and as to them only in military matters. He has no Commander-in-Chief authority over the humblest private as to his civil rights. No one has chosen him lobbyist for the Army and Navy on civilian legislation. Nor does the fact that they are fighting disqualify them. They are prevented from voting, if at all, not because they are in uniform, but because they cannot be physically present to vote, or have not registered, or cannot secure an absentee ballot. Congress and the states are trying to remove these obstacles.

Crude Production Jumps 17,170 Barrels
TULSA, Feb. 18—(AP)—United States crude oil production increased 17,170 barrels daily in the week ended Feb. 12 to 4,412,900 barrels daily. The Oil and Gas Journal said today. Texas output increased 9,030 barrels a day to 1,908,325; East Texas, 24,425 to 390,625; California, 1,250 to 791,500; Illinois, 1,225 to 218,450; Kansas, 14,850 to 281,750; Louisiana, 670 to 360,300; and Michigan, 300 to 53,400.

Production in eastern fields declined 2,025 barrels daily to 71,575; Oklahoma, 700 to 327,200, and the Rocky Mountain area, 3,725 to 128,410.

Green Islands Landing Easy

GUADACANAL, Feb. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Despite all that the Japanese at nearby Rabaul could do about it, today's occupation of Nissan or Green Island between the Solomons and the Bismarck archipelago was an overwhelming success.

I watched the operations from the air.

It was a beautiful show of precision and efficiency.

Lt. Col. Floyd Skow of the army engineers and I were passengers in the navy Liberator photo-ship of Comdr. John H. McElroy, Birmingham, Ala. We rode over the target for three hours.

We arrived over the pretzel-shaped island group just as darkness was fading shortly after 6:30 a. m. Barges were streaming from their mother ships which stood off at sea, and filling through the narrow channel into the Nissan lagoon in graceful lines.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said the landings began at 8 p. m. Monday night, meeting only light machine-gun resistance.

American destroyers and other warships guarding the convoy, as well as landing ships in the convoy itself, threw up a furious barrage of anti-aircraft fire. Our co-pilot, Lt. (jg) Samuel Snodgrass, Sherman Tex., who also was serving as navigator, remarked that some of the bursts came near our friendly G-24. "I saw the first plane go plunging

The case of the soldier is no different from that of any civilian who is absent from home, or is too sick to go to the polls. Such a person may lose his vote but he is not discriminated against, nor "disqualified," except that he has failed, often through no fault of his own, to comply with laws designed to ensure an honest election.

In the very message in which Mr. Roosevelt demands the "right" of the soldiers to vote, he says, "They are not ordinarily permitted to write their Congressmen on pending legislation." If this is a fact, who does not permit them? The answer, my friends, is their Commander-in-Chief.

BUY BONDS
The Constitution forbids Congress to deny the people the right to petition the Government for a redress of grievances. Under whose authority, therefore, have our soldiers been denied the right to write their Congressman or Senator with respect to civilian legislation? And if this discipline might forbid soldiers to write their Congressmen to vote against overseas conscription or other military matters, I do not know what the courts would hold on this point. Even this seems a denial of a constitutional right. The Constitution does not specify civil grievances only.

BUY BONDS
Voting is a civil and not a military right. If our soldiers are now being denied the right to petition their Congressmen on a soldiers' ballot bill, as Mr. Roosevelt says, it comes with poor grace for their "Commander-in-Chief" to talk about their other rights. For the right to petition for the redress of grievances is written in the Constitution of the United States, whereas the right to vote is not. The right to vote comes from the Constitution and laws of the states where the soldiers live.

BUY BONDS
And how does it come to pass that the overseas soldier has a "right," according to Mr. Roosevelt, to vote only for President, Vice President, Congressman and Senator? But that he has no right to vote for Governor, Mayor, member of his kids' school board or for or against a bond issue against his property back home? As Governor Edison of New Jersey says, "A proposal that members of the armed forces shall be restricted to voting only for candidates who seek jobs in Washington, is repugnant. The relative importance of the office to be voted for makes no difference at all, when one talks of a man's right to vote."

BUY BONDS
Yet Mr. Roosevelt makes no effort to secure the soldiers' right to vote for state and local officials and exhortates as fraudulent every effort to give the soldier the same complete ballot for all offices he would receive were he back home.

British Losses in Italy Are 36,826

LONDON, Feb. 18—(AP)—Prime Minister Churchill has told members of the House of Commons that British and Dominion casualties in Italy from the initial landing on Sept. 3, 1943, until Feb. 12 were 7,683 killed, 23,265 wounded and 5,708 missing—a total of 36,656.

These figures do not include casualties suffered by the RAF or the Royal Navy, Churchill said.
