Latest Russian Successes Give Proof of Designs Made at Teheran

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Associated Press War Analyst
A Russian- Allied siege ring is virtually complete about Hitler's inner fortress and foreshadows pos-sible early collapse of the Balkan segment of the Axis defensive arc.

The junction was effected in southeastern Rumania when American heavy bombers based in Italy started blasting such Nazi supply nubs as Bucharest and Ploesti at ndicated specific Russian request. There were intimations from both London and Naples that Allied air power is to play an increasingly important role in the Balkans as the Russian advance into Rumania

It is the first staff implementation of the strategic design for three-front war on Germany laid at Teheran. It makes the Allied air bombardment of Hungarian and Rumpnian targets the most signiicant development of last week in the European war theater. There were repeat Allied bombings from Italy of Bulgarian targets also during the week. Since Bulgaria is not at war with Russia. however, they fall into a different category although they serve to illustrate the fact that Bulgaria rather than doubly war-stricken Rumania, now under the heel of the Nazi boot, is the weakest link in Hitler's Balkan military hedge-

Berlin likely is more worried about Bulgaria than Rumania, and with good reason Sustained Allied attack on Nazi communications in Rumania could make Bulgarian railroads urgently necessary for Nazi use to bolster her Black sea flank. German use of the roads unopposed by the Bulgarian authorities would create a Russian-Bulgarian crisis. That, too, with Russian armies in Rumania moving toward the Rumanian-Bulgarian border.

There seems little hope of more than unorganized guerrilla resistance to the Nazis in Rumania for the present at least. The Nazi coup that took over a wavering Ruma nian war ally was apparently complete. German military deploy-ments in the country and its close proximity to the reich itself made

Similarl, swift complete Nazi occupation of Bulgaria would be less easy. It is more remote from Ger-many—and more disaffected due to the Russian leanings of its people. The Bulgarian army is intact, having contributed nothing to the illstarred Nazi war effort against

In Washington, President Roosevelt noted enthusiastically during last week the swift Russian progress. He said to a press conference that the Red army advance to the Carpathians had given the Russians more places to go—to the west, the southwest or the south. Geographically translated, west would mean a Russian drive north of the Carpathians into western Poland and toward Germany's own prewar frontiers. That is even now impending in the Lwow sector.

Southwest would mean the drive into Rumania's Danube valley via the Galati gateway now in progress That is the route from the east for a Russian thrust across the top of the whole Balkan peninsula to meet an always possible Allied invasion from the west. The president's reference to a Russian drive south is not so clear Short of a Russian march Bulgaria there remains in that direction only the Rumanian Black sea coast from the Dniester to the Rumanian-Bulgarian border to be Russian-taken. That gives Mr Roosevelt's words a possible omin-ous significance for Bulgaria. It amounts to a crytic warning of what might happen if she fails to desert her Nazi alignment in time. or affords Germany any aid and

WASHINGTON, April 11 — (P)—
The declaration of estimated 1944 federal income tax is due April 15, along with a quarterly payment, from each of about 15,000,000 tax-payers whose obligations aren't substantially paid through withholding from wages or salaries.

For a quick trip through the declaration blanks, let's take the case of our old friend Aloysius Marblehead, of Poor, Me.

The Amphibious Widgets Co, is paying him $95 a week. He's married, with two children.

His $95 a week will come to $4,940 for the year, so he's eligible to use the short-form work sheet—for incomes up to $10,000—on Page 2 of the "Instructions and Work Sheets" mailed him by the Collector of Internal Revenue.

The first thing it calls for is estimated income for 1944: $4,940, which goes on the first line.

Under the short-form method, Aloysius gets an exemption of $1,320 as a married man, plus $385 for each child—$2,090 in all.

Subtracted from $4,940, that leaves $2,850 subject to income tax. He

Farm Machinery Output Stepped Up

Washington. April 11—(P)—
With farm machinery manufacture trailing 22.7 per cent behind schedule, the War Production Board is boosting the quotas of those plants that can stand more pressure.

While asserting it is impossible to catch up with the 1944 crop season goals, WPB officials said they hoped to make up a good part of the production deficit before the harvest starts.

It was learned simultaneously that the foreign rehabilitation program of farm equipment production has been cut deeply and re-submitted to WPB as a six-month program sponsored by the army.

WPB officials canvassed the entire farm machinery industry after obtaining from the war food administration a list of the equipment items most urgently needed. Each manufacturer was asked how much additional equipment of the urgent types he could build and WPB now is authorizing increased quotas for those who have indicated their ability to handle extra production.

GOOD NEWS FROM THE PRODUCTION FRONT

A REPORT TO THE NATI

on General Motors 1943 War Activities

- * Physical volume of war materials produced was more than double that of 1942.
- ★ Total value of 1943 war production more than 3 billion, 500 million dollars.
- ★ Average total employment 448,848, an all-time high.
- ★ Total payrolls more than 1 billion, 300 million dollars—up 54%.
- ★ Materials and services purchased from others approximately 1 billion, 900 million dollars—up 88%.
- ★ Net income after taxes from manufacturing operations—3% cents per dollar of sales.

GENERAL MOTORS 1943 deliveries of war material rose to a total value of more than 31/2 billion dollars, or about 87% more than in 1942. The increase in physical volume was even greater, since unit prices were reduced during the year. Deliveries of service parts and other authorized civilian material amounted to $250,000,000, a decrease of about 30% from 1942.

At the time of Pearl Harbor, G.M. deliveries of war products were at a rate of two million dollars' worth a day. By the end of 1943 the daily rate was above twelve million dollars. The 2,300 separate items placed in production ranged from small and delicate parts to airplane engines, complete airplanes, tanks, and powerful Diesel engines for submarines and landing craft.

AVERAGE EMPLOYMENT in General Motors in 1943 was 448,848, an all-time high. The figure stood at 503,749 in December. In 1942, the yearly average was 314,144, and the December figure was 391,975. Thus the increase in yearly average was 43%. At the same time, payrolls rose 54%, and reached a total of about 11/8 billion dollars.

More than 200,000 new G.M. employes were trained for war work in 1943. Enrollment in courses for supervisors and executives totaled 21,500.

The percentage of working time lost because of accidents was less in 1943 than ever before.

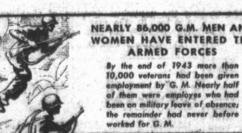

TOTAL NET INCOME after taxes in 1943 from war output and other sources was $149,780,088, compared to $163,651,588 in 1942 and $201,652,508 in 1941. Net income after taxes from manufacturing in 1943 was only 31/10 cents per dollar of total net sales.

93% of all war material delivered to the end of 1943 was manufactured under fixed-price contracts. General Motors early adopted the policy of reducing prices to the government as lower costs were achieved through greater experience. The government benefited many millions of dollars by these reductions in 1943. Taxes in 1943 totaled $308,068,000, of which federal taxes were $254,783,000; social security and unemployment insurance taxes, $39,263,000, and state and local taxes, $14,022,000. Common stock dividends were $2 per share in 1943. They were also $2 in 1942, $3.75 in 1941 and 1940, $3.50 in 1939.

The year 1943 was one of great effort and sound achievement in General Motors. The job is not yet done. All are determined to contribute to the utmost toward final victory. When this is accomplished, there will be the task of preparing for the requirements of peace. But until that time "Victory is Our Business!"

IN 1943 GENERAL MOTORS FACTORY EMPLOYES submitted 123,000 written suggestions for improving production or working conditions. 25,400 ideas were accepted. Cash value of war bond and stamp awards for same, $955,000.

Harry McLean, the unconvention al philanthropist, got back into the al philanthropist, got back into the news the other day by throwing $5000 in bills and silver out of $5000 in bills and silver out of a hotel window to the surprised and delighted citizens of Windsor, Ont. "I like to see people happy," Toronto contractor's excuse. Mr. McLean must get considerable pleasure out of the distribution, too, which is probably a good thing. For certainly he is a misunderstood man. That was apparent when he presented the desk sergeant at the Windsor police stasergeant at the Windsor ponce sta-tion with a $5000 check "for your burial fund."

The sergeant took the check to chief, with the comment that he thought the guy was crazy. The chief was about to agree when he saw and recognized the signature on the check. But it was Mr. Mc Lean's solvency and not the sin-cerity of his generous impulse that made the chief reverse the in-

THE WAY TO PROMOTION AND PAY

(The Chicago Tribune)

War department records have closed the promotion of Lt. Col. Paul M. Bonner, officer in charge of redistribution and salvage surplus air property in Detroit, to full colonel. Col. Bonner got his promotion two days after Sen. Ferguson exposed on the senate floor how this officer signed the order which resulted in the sale of $1,721,136 in air forces machine ols to a Detroit scrap dealer for $36,924. War industries were clamoring for tools of this type and would have paid well for

Michigan was the scene of an other strange bit of army discipline. Col. Colman, commandant of Selfridge field outside Detroit, fre quently got drunk and wounded soldier on one occasion ast year. He was tried by court martial, convicted, demoted cantain, and pensioned by order the secretary of war. An ented man who was involved in other scandals under Col. Col. nan's command, but who hadn't shot anybody, drew a stiff prison

Army justice of this sort is anything but a tonic to the morale of fighting men. It is the kind of miscarriage that is inevitable as long as the direction of the war department is in the hands of a secretary bossed and by a malevolent clique of w Dealers. There are nearly 12 million men in the army of the United States and in that great aggregation there is leadership material aplenty.

Plenty of competent officers can and the Bonners, to keep their like from getting into commands where they can do harm, and to see that justice is meted out to them if they do. But the competent men can't get anywhere unless they are recognized and given responsibility. That will not happen until a competent man is placed in charge of the war department.

Answering a Reader's Questions A reader asks some questions that might be puzzling other readers. For this reason, I am taking this space to answer them. First question: "Is it not quite apparent that capitalism does not give a hang how its activities affect the consumer so long as profits are acquired?"

In the first place, capitalism is a vague name. Only the owners of capital have wills.

And owners of capital who remain in business are interested in the consumer. They know that unless their goods or services benefit the consumer and save labor for him, he will not buy, and thus there will be no profits. Profits are a result of customers' buying because they believe they are saving labor. On a free market with voluntary exchange of goods and services, there can be no profit without saving the lahor of others.

Next question: "Is it not a fact that capitalism is motivated more by greed than altruism?"

I presume so. But if the owners of capital are too greedy and demand more than their goods or services are worth on a free market, they will get no return on their capital.
On the other hand, if they are not greedy enough, or do not have enough self-interest to want to own wealth so they can give it away or use usefully, they will never have anything with which to be altruistic.

So the profit motive is a good guide to keep people from being too greedy and still leave them ambitious enough to have wants, either for themselves or others. No matter how greedy the producer may be, so long as he creates wealth he benefits every other person in the world producing a non-competitive article. Another question: "Do not pres ent conditions prove these facts? No, they do not. Present condiions are due to the greed or incompetence of people causing them o elect officials who interfere with creators of wealth being free to use their own judgment. It is not due to free enterprise or laissezfaire. If it were not for a double standard of honesty, we would not have dishonest and discriminatory laws; we would have no permanent unemployment. Jesus advised this when He said, "Take there fore no thought for the morrow. Every man who understands Christianity knows this to be true.

The same reader remarks, "It seems to me that if only as much vere produced as the human famly needs, then all would have connuous employment to fill these needs." He then inquires, "What really are the biggest contributing factors towards unemployment?"

This question was answered a b o v e. Government interference and dishonesty. There is no one who knows what people need. With increased production, people change their ideas as to what they need. They did not think they needed radios, automobiles or airplanes not so many heir needs will be in the future if we set man free from men free from government interfer-

Next question: "Is it not a fact that capitalism does not pay one cent of taxes except to the extent that they who represent capitalism are consumers?

Of course, "capitalism" can do nothing. It is the owners of capital who can pay taxes. They pay from their production, and if they produced nothing they would have no customers. There would be no wealth to pay taxes if it were not for exchanges resulting from productiòn.

But the man who creates capital should pay no taxes for creating it. His taxes should be assessed when he consumes and gets the benefit of his production. Everything is made for some human be ing to consume and each individual should pay his share of government costs in proportion as consumes, whether much or

I will attempt to answer this question further in a separate ar-

The next question: "Where does the business or professional man get his tax money except from his patrons?

This same principle—Governmen regulation by executive decree rather than by Congress—is one of the emergency chains which American businessmen hope to see removed after the peace. #### And Now Try A Mexican Rarebit

w. Orr, Mrs. Huelyn Laycock, Mrs. Ted Mastin and Mrs. E. B. Morton, assisted by Mrs. H. B. Alverson and Mrs. Moore Jones.

The Credle Roll department Beauteveryone agrees that the original was definitely Welsh,—but here's an old Middle American recipe that bears such a close resemblance to the Welsh specialty that we might as well dub it a Mexican

It's surprising how many of our pet dishes have been favorites for years into her countries, too, and that even the tropical lands of avocados and chocolate that supply all our bananas, great quantities of sugar and some superlative coffees can also produce a recipe for rare-

The Middle American version of rarebit is a little lighter than the beer and melted cheese variety that we usually make in this country but there is fried onion, green pepper and tomato to add extra flavor and an egg to make the texture nice and fluffy.

Ordinarily store cheese is best for rarebits, but these days the process cheeses are apt to have more flavor, -and of course they're very much easier to use. Process cheese can be grated or shredded on the very coarsest grater because it melts so rapid-

This recipe will serve two or three. To serve two generously, heap the rarebit in a dish and surround with toast points, but to serve three the rarebit should be piled right on the toast.

Mexican Rarebit tablespoon shortening 1-2 cup chopped onion 1-2 cup chopped green pepper 2 tomatoes, peeled and minced 1-4 cut bouillon 1 cup grated cheese Black pepper and satl to taste

1 egg.

Signs of illness are common poken of as symptoms. Some symp ms, such as skin rash or cough, can be observed by anyone who uses his eyes and ears. Others, such as chilliness, pain or dizziness, are sually only evident to the sufferer. No one symptom is more important than another, because the doctor seldom depends on one alone to make his diagnosis. It is the to make his diagnosis that is the ton, Ed Tillman, M. L. #### Southwest, In Addition to Being Vast The total for Roberts County Red Cross drive has just been announced Training Ground, Has Many Hospitals

DALLAS, Tex., April 11—(AP)—The equipment, surgical rooms, kitchens southwest, already a vast training and other facilities which equal ground for the armed forces, has any brick and marble edifice. become in the past few months a great army hospital and convales-cent area as well.

The army's five peacetime general hospitals have expanded to 59. Of the ten located in the five-state eighth service command area, five are in Texas. The ten are Brooke General Hospital, San Antonio, Tex.; Beaumont at El Paso, Tex.; Bruns at Santa Fe, N. M.; McCloskey, Temple, Tex.; Harmon, Long-view, Tex.; LaGarde, New Orleans; Army and Navy hospital, Hot Springs, Ark.; Borden, Chickasha, Ckla.; Ashburn, McKenney, Tex.; and Glennan, Okmulgee, Okla.
Oldest of the ten hospitals is Army and Navy General. Established for veterans of the Civil War. it is designated for treatment of all rheumatic diseases and as a study center for arthritis. The only other army general nospital in the southwest before World War II was William Beaumont at El Paso which has operated since July, 1921. It is a center for plastic surgery, for deep X-ray therapy, for eye surgery and closed

1942, has expanded until it resembles five enormous hospitals. With a bed capacity of 3,200 patients it is among the three largest in the country. Brooke is a center for nerve surgery, chest surgery, deep X-ray therapy and closed ward psychiatric cases. The seven others in the south-west are war-born institutions. McCloskey at Temple is the largwards speak of those in the opposite wards as living "down south."

It is a huge geometric pattern of 156 two-story red brick buildings with a bed capacity of 3,300-3,620 counting the Waco annex. An amputation and neuro-surgical center, it has special facilities for training men to use artificial arms and legs shops for making and modifying the prosthetics and an occupation al therapy department.

Ashburn General at McKenney draws its patients from all theat ers overseas and from four nearby army camps. It has not been designated for any specialized type of Newest hospital in the command

Woman Misinformed, Goes Out of Way To Get to Pampa Field

Don't believe every map you see for if you do you may go 120 miles out of your way getting to Pampa. That's what Mrs. Eric Cutler, wife of a Pampa field aviation cadet learned when she arrived in Pampa this past week-end, from Chestunt Hill, Mass.

To be accurate, it was a station agent in the Bay state who told her that she should go to Amarillo, then catch a bus or train back to Pampa. Had Mrs. Cutler not received a tion she might have gone 60 miles further west then come back 60 miles east. The train in which she was routed came right to Pampa before going on to the Potter county capital,

There's a ray of hope for Pampa in revision of maps now being done by map making companies. Rand McNally and company, Chicago, in a letter dated April 7, has written the CC here:

"We are about to revise our road maps and would appreciate your marking on the attached map cut the approximate location of Pampa AAF Facility, located near Pampa Texas.

"Permission has been granted to show camps, forts and fields by a symbol on our maps, which are primarily of a generalized character, and your assistance in this matter will be greatly appreciated." Many railroad maps don't show Pampa. Even official state maps for ng time didn't show the Pampa

McLean road as paved and many motorists from out of the state thought they could connect with U. S. Highway 66 only by the roundabout way of Wheeler-Pampa-Amarillo, in case they were routed that way.
When the Pampa-McLean road officially became a state highway, 273, the way was open then for it to be so shown on state road maps.

Although Amarillo is located 60 miles southwest of Pampa, map-makers don't overlook that city although they seem to have forgotten Pampa and other facilities which equal any brick and marble edifice. LaGarde at New Orleans serves primarily as a receiving and dis-tribution hospital for patients com-ing into the new Orleans port of debarkation.

One of the army's three centers for treating the hard-of-hearing is located at Borden General hospital, Chickasha, Okla. The war-deafened are sent here for diagnosis and measurement of their hearing loss, are fitted with hearing aids and taught lip-reading.
