Tornado Rips 2 States, 38 Persons Dead

ATLANTA, April 17—(AP)—Weary rescue workers, digging into the wreckage left by a tornado that roared over a 100-mile strip in northeastern Georgia and western South Carolina early Sunday, fixed the death toll today at 38, with more than 300 persons injured.

Twenty-one deaths were reported in Georgia—12 in the Royston area and nine in the Nuburg community of Hart county. Seventeen persons were killed in South Carolina.

American Red Cross representatives said that at least 147 homes were destroyed and 103 homes damaged.

Striking around midnight, Sunday, the storm was likened by many as a gigantic, death-dealing ball, which bounded from one community to another, leaving untouched spaces between. Others said that it "roared like an express train," and was accompanied by heavy rain and electrical display.

The first area hit was in the vicinity of Gainesville, in Hall county, Ga., where in 1936 another tornado killed 183 persons and injured more than 200. The storm then rushed on across the Georgia line into South Carolina, striking at least seven places with resultant death and destruction of property.

Residents of Royston, a town of 1,400 in Franklin county, Ga., where 12 were killed, said the storm dipped into a row of houses three blocks from the business section, leveling eight in line. Five persons died in one residence.

Doctors, hampered by power failure, used flashlights in treating the injured. Mrs. Alvin Dove, brought to a hospital shortly before the tornado struck, gave birth to a baby during the storm.

Principal damage at Greenwood, S. C., aside from houses leveled, was to the two-story brick hospital. This building was unroofed and so heavily damaged that all patients except a few on the first floor, had to be evacuated.

No patients in the hospital at the time the storm struck were injured.

MacArthur Seen As Sphinx, GOP Assessing Him

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Republican party leaders heading for a pre-convention session in Chicago today to read between the lines of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's disavowal of presidential ambitions in an effort to determine whether he still could be regarded as a "draft" possibility.

Most of them were inclined to think he could be. They quoted from his statement, "I have not sought the office nor do I seek it"—as a plain indication that he might not be averse to letting the office seek him.

In further support of their belief, they cited this additional passage: "The high constitutional processes of our representative and Republican form of government in which the people are the people the sacred duty of choosing and electing their chief executive are of so imposing a nature as to be beyond the sphere of any individual's coercion."

His statement also declared that his letters to the Nebraska, Rep. A. L. Miller, released for publication by the congressman who is active in the draft-MacArthur campaign, "were never intended for publication."

"I entirely repudiate the sinister interpretation that they were intended as criticism of any political party."

Knox Testifies For Price Control

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Navy Secretary Knox testified today that failure to renew price controls "would have serious and unpredictable consequences for the navy."

Knox told the senate banking committee that price controls, which expire June 30 unless congress extends them, have not been sought.

1. "Saved billions of dollars" on naval expenditures.

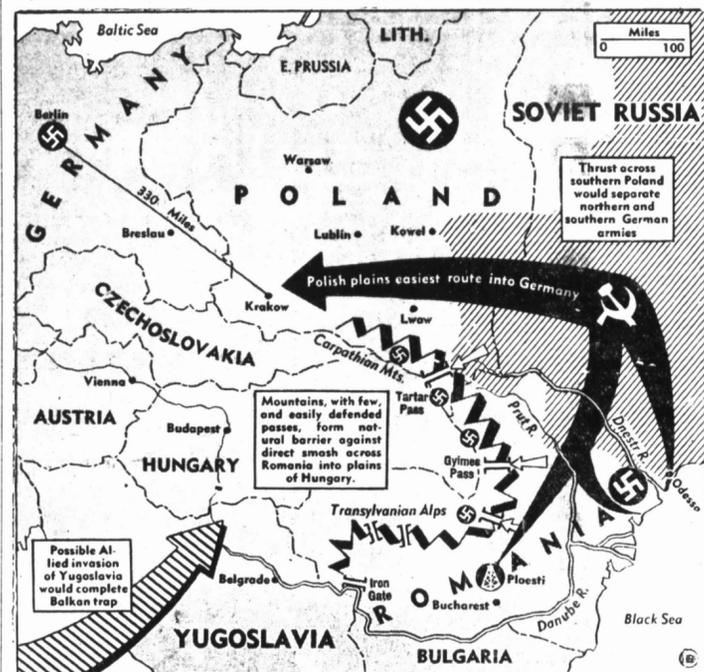

2. Helped insure "full and uninterrupted production" of the next year's production program, which he said, "is still on the upgrade."

3. Last year alone the number of war ships was more than doubled. And the 1944 schedule calls for completion of substantially the same number of combatant ships as were completed last year.

Herbert A. Vaeth with a new system of untagging the sea is smart. He simply splits up his monthly checks, sending one to Uncle Sam and keeping the other one himself. It's a lot simpler, gyro-trying to use a slide-rule, gyro-compass, air speed meter and drift indicator, to calculate the mariz dots federal form, he says.

HOW RUSSIAN ARMY CAN BY-PASS MOUNTAIN BARRIER

The map above shows possible double drive by on-rushing Red Armies, across the plains of southern Poland, straight into central Europe, and across river barriers and Nazi defense line, in south, to overrun Romania's oil fields. Both attacks offer the advantage of by-passing the "natural ramparts" of the curving mountain chain.

Bong Won't Get the 'Licker'—He Didn't Want It—Anyway

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, April 17—(AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur doesn't consider "liquor or spirituous wines as appropriate recognition" for Maj. Richard P. Bong's record-breaking feat of shooting down 27 enemy planes, so the Poplar, Wis., ace will not get the code of Scotch whisky promised by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker to the first American pilot to exceed his World War I record of 26 planes shot down.

Instead, MacArthur indicated Bong's promotion from captain to major on the day his record was confirmed was a more proper recognition.

Bong is not a drinking man, but at an advanced Allied air base he told Associated Press War Correspondent Olen Clements he had thanked Rickenbacker for the promise. Scotch and hoped it could be rushed "out here for the boys." But that was before MacArthur's decision.

Loneragan Gets 35-Year Term

NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—Wayne Lonergan was sentenced today to 35 years to life in prison for the bludgeoning-strangulation slaying last Oct. 24 of his 23-year-old heiress wife, Patricia Burton Lonergan.

Loneragan was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury March 31.

Hitler Made Peace Bid in December

LONDON, April 17—(AP)—The London Daily Mail today in an Istanbul dispatch that Germany made peace overtures last December to the United States and Britain through a neutral diplomat.

The newspaper said the information was obtained by its correspondent, Noel Monks, direct from the diplomat, who was quoted as saying that Baron Manfred von Killinger, German minister to Romania, presented an eight-point program to him with the request that it be forwarded to Washington and London.

The diplomat said Killinger represented himself as acting on instructions of Hitler. Monks quoted the diplomat as saying he had heard nothing further of the proposals beyond the fact that they had reached his government. Neither the diplomat nor his government was identified.

Demonstration Land Mine Kills Three

ABILENE, Texas, April 17—(AP)—An unexplained explosion of a demonstration land mine on the Camp Barkeley reservation resulted in the death of three enlisted men of the 12th armored division.

The camp's public relations office said an officer had left the scene a moment before the blast Saturday and listed the victims as including Pvt. Whitney Sellers of Harper, Gillespie county, Texas.

Laissez-Faire Has Been Violated--Doty

LONGVIEW, Tex., April 17—(AP)—P. B. Doty of Beaumont, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, asserted at the annual convention of that organization today that the federal government had "become an instrument of forces alien to the enterprise principle of American life and work."

"The chief responsibility for leadership and action rests now with business management," Doty said in an address prepared for delivery to the 19th yearly meeting of the ETCC.

"The enterprise principle and its potentialities for the future prosperity and progress of the American people can and will be presented if they understand what it implies, recognize the forces that threaten it, and have the will to deal with them promptly and decisively."

Doty prefaced his discussion of the enterprise principle with advice that "however wisely we may plan and spend our energies here, in East Texas it will prove profitable or unprofitable through the determination of national factors x x x. We here in East Texas can and must help, decide on wise national policies."

Support of his statements he declared that "forces alien to the enterprise principle" desired "to replace it by the principle of absolute subjection to the state," and asserted:

"The state now controls the management and cost of labor in production of commodities, services, and construction purchased by it from private enterprise."

"The state not only controls the cost of production but it controls prices and practices and terms of trade in vital channels of distribution of commodities."

"The state now controls the financial management of corporations."

Radio Hints Rome Being Evacuated

NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—The Rome radio quoted without amplification today an announcement from the Fascist commissioner of transport that "departures for the north are going to take place" and that "soldiers and all those who wish to leave Rome" should apply for instructions at his office.

The broadcast gave no hint whether this was a military evacuation of the capital or had any connection with renewed considerations of Rome's status.

100,000 Frenchmen Awaiting Hour To Strike

BY TAYLOR HENRY
Former (AP) Bureau Chief at Vichy
NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—More than 100,000 trained and organized French partisans will be operating behind and along the German lines when "D" day comes.

For months they have been trained in their duties, sabotage of essential German communication lines and rapid raids on key German administrators and their Vichy French sympathizers.

"Their plans are already well laid. They have charts of the possible movement of all German troops and supplies and are ready to strike at a moment's notice to blow up bridges, rip up rails, cut telephone lines, attack radio communication centers, throw extemporized bar-

Mussolini Is Reported Ill, Waiting Death

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor
Strong forces of American heavy bombers attacked the Balkan capitals of Sofia and Belgrade today, while Russian armies intensified the siege of Sevastopol with shell, fire, bomb and naval guns.

The last city of the Crimea was reported afire and near collapse with dense clouds of smoke belching from its battered docks.

Allied aircraft struck airports around the Yugoslav capital of Belgrade yesterday but today's attack on railroad yards was the first actual Allied blow within the city itself. A nearby planes party also was hit. Railways were the targets in Sofia, capital of Bulgaria.

In other widespread operations in the Balkans yesterday, Italian-based Allied planes bombed the Hungarian capital of Budapest, the narrow iron gate of the Danube through the Carpathians and the Romanian rail bottleneck of Brasov 100 miles from the Russian lines.

Sevastopol, the Crimean port, was hit by a heavy bombardment of shells, and a Russian official said that the city was being shelled by German forces.

A Milan newspaper said Benito Mussolini was gravely ill and awaiting death among his German masters.

All but around 150 square miles of the Crimea was in Russian hands and appeared unlikely to be the enemy stragglers who reached Sevastopol could hold out long. Of the 100,000 estimated Germans and Romanians in the Crimea when the whirlwind Russian offensive opened last week, 40,000 were reported in prison cages and 29,000 others were dead.

Yalta, summer residence of the Czars, fell Sunday to the maritime army driving from Kerch. The fourth Ukrainian army last was reported advancing through the Sevastopol suburbs.

A large-scale transfer of German troops from west to east is under way. The German general staff has been able to convince leading Nazi circles that from every point of view, it would be more profitable to transfer the bulk of the European fortress. That is the side on which Gen. Eisenhower's masses are poised for invasion.

The daylight raid on Belgrade by B-24 bombers was the first Allied blow of the war at the Yugoslav capital, built on the Berlin-Istanbul railroad. The bombing of the Danubian iron gate was at Turnu-Severin on the Romanian

Oil Magnate Succumbs at 67

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., April 17—(AP)—In Iowa farm boy who found Indians and oil in early Oklahoma and used the latter to build one of the nation's great oil fortunes, L. E. Phillips rose from employment at 17 as a janitor in Western Normal college at Shenandoah, Iowa, to head, with his brother, the Phillips Petroleum company—one of the giants of the oil industry.

Phillips had been in ill health for several years.

Born in Taylor county, Iowa, the Phillips brothers settled near Bartlesville in 1905, to start the city bank and trust company after L. E. Phillips had tried his hand at oil.

Everything from school teaching to coal mining. The discovery of oil in 1917, however, provided the outlet for Phillips' immense energy which in 1920 made him champion corn husker of Iowa after he had husked 110 bushels of corn in eight hours.

As vice president and general manager of the Phillips Petroleum company, L. E. Phillips acquired oil leases throughout the Mid-Continent Petroleum area.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, a daughter, four brothers, and two sisters.

Two Germans Escape From Prison Camp

DALLAS, April 17—(AP)—The Dallas district federal bureau of investigation office has announced the escape of two German prisoners of war from Camp Brady, a South Texas internment camp.

Missing at the 7 a. m. check yesterday were Leo Jurgensen, 23, and Karl Schrewe, 27. Jurgensen was a former Nazi infantryman and Schrewe a former military policeman.

The FBI said Jurgensen is 5 feet, 7 inches tall and weighs 154 pounds. Schrewe was listed as 5 feet, 9 inches in height and weighing 161.

damaging seriously essential plants producing goods of war for Germany in that section of France.

Still other units in the agricultural center of France are primed to sabotage the shipment of food to German troops, much of which the Germans plan to draw from the heart of France in order to eliminate as much of the danger of transportation as possible.

There will be no question of their attempting to form a junction with the Allied invasion troops as fighting units until the territory in which they are operating as guerrillas has already been passed by the Allied armies.

Winged Colossus Crosses Nation In Record Time

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—The Lockheed Constellation, 57-passenger transport plane, arrived over the Washington airport at 12:54 p. m. (Central War Time) today, only six hours and 58 minutes after leaving Burbank, Calif., on its maiden long-distance flight.

The time bettered the Los Angeles to Washington record for a transport plane, set in 1935, by three hours and 24 minutes, and the fastest time from coast-to-coast, set in 1937, by Howard Hughes, who was aboard the Constellation today, by 30 minutes.

The runway at Washington National airport was occupied by an army plane and the Constellation landed once before landing at 12:58 p. m. Central War Time.

The crew radioed the TWA office here at 11:48 a. m., Central War Time, that it was passing over Canada. It appeared, airline officials said, to be exceeding any known speed record for the distance.

Seventeen persons were aboard. The Constellation left Burbank at 5:56 a. m., Central War Time.

A TWA spokesman said the four-engine aerial giant, built to carry 57 passengers, will be turned over to the army air transport command. After the war TWA plans to use Constellations in its transport service.

The ship's four 18-cylinder engines develop 2,200 horsepower each, and its speed is in excess of 300 miles an hour, Lockheed officials asserted. Its weight is 40 tons.

Hoover Sought To Ease Peril Of War in '29

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—In an effort to prevent future wars and to ease civilian hardships if war came anyway, President Herbert Hoover attempted in 1929 to promote an international agreement regarding food ships the same immunity accorded hospital ships.

The State department revealed today that Mr. Hoover put forward his suggestion at a meeting with British Premier Ramsay MacDonald at Rapallo, Va., in October, 1929.

MacDonald's uneasiness at this proposal and his refusal to agree that neither country should build naval, military or air bases in the other's hemisphere were set forth in the last two of three volumes of diplomatic documents for 1929 published by the State department.

The first State Department book came out last December. The documents regularly issues its secret telegrams and memoranda after 15 years.

Apparently Mr. Hoover's suggestion to secure international protection for food ships did not get far.

The two volumes disclose that another proposal was made by the State department.

Allied Position Is Better Near Imphal

By RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor
Important enemy positions have been captured in the Allied counter-drive against the Japanese invasion of India, Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten announced today, and very heavy casualties have been inflicted on the Nipponese.

The communique, issued from Mountbatten's new headquarters at Kandy, Ceylon, also reported the British had improved their positions in the hills northeast of Imphal. Allied supply base threatened by the Japanese offensive.

Official source obscured operations of glider-borne British-Indian troops, officially reported to have made their appearance near Mandalay. Today's communique, however, said the earlier reference to the location of the glider troops was erroneous. It did not specifically deny that ground forces were in the areas mentioned, at Yeu and Shwebo, about 60 miles north of Mandalay.

The confident picture of Allied operations in the Southeast Asia command dispelled some of the vagueness and pessimism surrounding the official communications when the command was located at New Delhi, India, and subject to the censorship and military supervision of Gen. Sir Claude Auchinleck, Indian commander-in-chief. Mountbatten's new Ceylon headquarters remove him from Auchinleck's supervision and bring him within direct contact with the Allied main forces in the Indian ocean.

Although enemy soldiers ring the jungles bordering the Imphal plain, Allied troops probably reinforced by air still command the plain and city of Imphal, capital of the Indian state of Manipur on the Burma border.

Japanese attackers have suffered very heavy losses and important positions have been regained north of Imphal, a late Allied communique reported. Gains were also scored in the hills bordering the rice paddies northeast of Imphal.

Tokyo radio conceded the Imphal defender had been strengthened by air-borne reinforcements but said the battle for the base will reach its climax in a few days.

And the situation was no better for the Nipponese in the 5,000-mile ocean front extending from the Kurile Islands in the north to tropical New Guinea, where Allied fliers raked the Japanese island of Atapu with a 284-ton bombing assault, raising to more than 3,000 tons the explosive weight poured on coastal New Guinea in the past few weeks.

Am. Chester W. Nimitz announced in Pearl Harbor his Pacific fliers pounded Matsua Island in the Kuriles for the fifth consecutive day and other airmen struck at Pon-toan.

Speakers will include Rep. Patman (D-Texas), congressional champion of the administration's subsidy program, and individuals opposed to what Scanlon described as a move seeking "emasculating of the price control program."

Rep. Thomas E. Scanlon (D-Pa.), chairman of an unofficial congressional committee for the protection of the consumer, said the meeting, to be held Wednesday and Thursday, would be attended by 400 representatives of farmers, labor, war veterans, educators, religious groups and consumers. They will come, he said, from Illinois, Iowa, Kentucky, New York, Arkansas, Virginia, Michigan, Indiana, Ohio and Tennessee.

Following up their last meeting, members of the Chamber of Commerce post-war planning committee, of which Joe Key is chairman, will expand their plans at a second meeting to be held at 8 to-night in the Chamber of Commerce room.

Subjects to be discussed will be agriculture, aviation, highways, industries, schools, wholesale and retail trade.

C. A. (Lefty) Huff, CC president, and members of the board of directors will meet with the post-war planning committee. All CC committee chairmen have been asked to serve as ex-officio members of the committee.

Any interested citizens will be welcome to attend.

Italian Cabinet Is Reported Resigned
LONDON, April 17—(AP)—The United Nations radio at Algiers said today that the Italian cabinet of Premier Pietro Badoglio has resigned, and that King Vittorio Emanuele has charged Badoglio with the creation of a new government on a broader base, following the desire expressed by various political parties.

STOCKHOLM, April 17—(AP)—Ten American Flying Fortress crewmen, who made a forced landing in a Danish alfalfa field last Tuesday in their flak-riddled bomber, have reached neutral Sweden safely after successfully dodging German patrols in a spectacular dash through enemy territory which may win them a chance to fight again.

Members of the crew, arriving here today, told how they had travelled for four nights across enemy-occupied Denmark, hiding by day to escape detection, before embarking on a fisherman's boat which finally landed them at Malmo on the southwest coast of Sweden.

The co-pilot of the Fortress was left in a hospital in Malmo for treatment of facial wounds inflicted by glass and shell splinters when the plane was caught by a burst of anti-aircraft fire over the German Baltic port of Stettin.

(Censorship forbade transmission of the fliers' names.)
The fliers could not reveal details of their flight or how they contacted the fisherman who brought them to Malmo for fear of bringing the Germans down upon those who aided them. Swedish authorities took charge of them when they arrived Saturday morning and they may be treated as refugees instead of internees—which would mean a chance to return to combat soon.

Rites Held Today For Former Gray County Resident

Burial of Marcellus Sheridan Arnold, 77-year-old farmer and rancher from Happy, who died at 11:30 p. m. Saturday in an Amarillo hospital, was to be made at 4 this afternoon at Fairview cemetery here, following funeral services held at 2 p. m. today at an Amarillo home chapel.

Mr. Arnold was a pioneer Gray county resident, coming here in 1868 and settling on land 4 miles west of Pampa. In 1919 he moved to Happy.

He was an uncle of Mrs. Alex Schneider of Pampa.

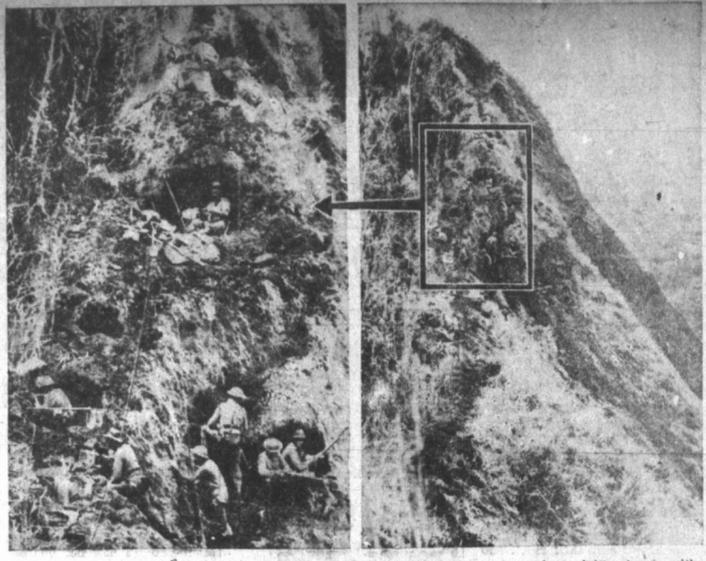

Mr. Arnold was born July 11, 1866, in Virginia. The family moved to Kansas in 1876, later living in Oklahoma and finally in Gray county.

Becoming interested in the petroleum business when oil was discovered on his Gray county land, Mr. Arnold developed his holdings into one of the big projects of the area.

His wife, the former Cornelia Belle Strohmeier, died in 1920, just four days before their daughter, Elsie Arnold. The only other child was a son, Ralph, who is now a rancher at Canadian.

Burial of Mr. Arnold will be beside the grave of his wife.

Besides his niece, Mrs. Schneider, and son, Ralph, Mr. Arnold is survived by two grandchildren, Mrs. Jack Frost of Hereford, and Pat Arnold of Canadian; two great-grandchildren, William Sheridan Frost, 3, and Robert Lee Frost, 1.

Ford Pledges War Veterans Support

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Henry Ford has pledged that war veterans will get preference in Ford Motor company plants after the war and voiced the hope that "other employers will do the same thing."

In a message today to Brigadier General Frank D. Hines, director of retraining and employment, Ford said all that servicemen need, when Ford production lines start turning out automobiles again, is "to come in and go to work."

All-time high in the production of motor vehicles was reached in 1929, when nearly 5 1/2 million were produced.

Diplomat Ribbentrop Turns to Bacchus

NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—The Moscow radio said today it had been "reported" that German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop had bought shares of a wine company in St. Louis.

The broadcast declared: "Ribbentrop, who was a traveler before he donned the diplomat's tail coat, appears to be drawn back to his old career now that his new one threatens to be cut short."

"It has been reported he has used some of the $3,500,000 of his foreign holdings to buy shares of a wine company in St. Louis."

Mrs. Roosevelt Has 1 Car, 'A' Rations

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—The White House has informed Mrs. W. R. Hubbard of Arrow Rock, Mo., that it isn't true that Mrs. Roosevelt owns four automobiles and has 2,000-gallon per month gasoline ration. The facts are, says the White House, that the president's wife has only one car and the basic "A" gas card.

Also, while Mrs. Roosevelt has covered considerable ground in global travels, the speedometer on the one White House car assigned to her use showed an official reading of just 168 miles for February this year.

This data, supplied by H. C. Crain, head usher at the White House, was put into the congressional record today by Senator Truman (D-Mo.) as a public reply to a letter Mrs. Hubbard wrote Truman asking about Mrs. Roosevelt's gas rations.

Under date of March 5, Mrs. Hubbard wrote Truman that a tenant on her Missouri farm had had four cars and the 2,000 gallons of gasoline a month to operate them.

Hull Hopes Water Treaty Will Get Prompt Passage

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Secretary Hull today expressed hope the senate would ratify the United States-Mexican water treaty "within a reasonable time." Senator Connally (D-Texas) said after a conference with the state department chief.

The senate foreign relations committee, of which the Texas senator is chairman, is scheduled to open hearings on the treaty April 20.

DETAIL FOR TODAY Dog Tags

DOG TAGS are the identification tags issued to every soldier. There are two, identical, and are worn around the neck by means of a chain, string or an old shoelace. To soldiers, they are known by no other name than DOG TAGS. And they are rarely removed, some soldiers having had them on since the day they were put there. DOG TAGS have a distinctive jingle all their own, somewhat like that coming from a pocket full of counterfeit money. In some posts DOG TAGS are a soldier's pass in and out of the gate.

Both the United States and Britain were believed informed of the decision. The fact that some time has elapsed since the negotiations started, during which the Russian army has initiated no offensive on the Finnish front, was interpreted here as meaning there still was some chance for peace.

Finland Strives To Keep Open Peace Door

LONDON, April 17—(AP)—Finland has rejected revised Russian peace terms but in a note to Moscow has sought to keep open the door to future negotiations. It was learned today.

Both the United States and Britain were believed informed of the decision. The fact that some time has elapsed since the negotiations started, during which the Russian army has initiated no offensive on the Finnish front, was interpreted here as meaning there still was some chance for peace.

Strikes and National Service
Britain's mounting labor unrest is alarming. Strikes last month cost a million work days. Unless strikes are checked, D-Day might become not the beginning of a liberating invasion, but a sort of Dunkirk in reverse—strong military force but precarious support.
Britain has a national service law. It can freeze the worker to his job, move him to another, fine him for absenteeism. His boss can be penalized for firing him, hoarding his services, employing him inefficiently. Britain can do about everything except keep the worker contented, and prevent his walking off the job.
Taking a look at Britain, it is not hard to see why the War Manpower Commission has urged the administration's plea that America needs a national service law, too.

Price Control Is Urged by Banks

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Remember when the words "inflationary gap" used to pop up so frequently in public discussions of war-inflated prices and incomes?

This term is applied to the theoretical figure in billions of dollars representing the difference between the estimated amount of money in the hands of individuals and the estimated price value of civilian goods available for purchase.

One of the principal arguments of the higher-tax proponents has been that bigger taxes were needed to "drain off" the money in this "inflationary gap."

Otherwise, they said, people would use this money to "bid up prices." That is, with the limited wartime quantities of goods and services which civilians could buy, these economists declared, people would offer more and more money for the things they wanted, going into the black market, and so develop disastrous inflation.

No Mention Made Of It

But you don't hear much mention of "inflationary gap" any more even though there is a flourishing black market in some goods. Now comes the board of governors of the federal reserve bank system, which says in its April bulletin:

"This surplus spending power has been added to the public's large holdings of liquid assets (savings bonds, stocks) and has not been used to bid actively for the available supply of goods."

What happened? The result is due principally, the board says, to "increased government controls over prices and rationing, war loan drives, pay roll savings plans, scarcity of many types of goods, and a public attitude that has favored saving rather than spending."

This mention of taxes squares with the new feeling of the treasury—reflecting the views of congress—that taxation has to be based on practical ability to pay rather than abstract thinking along "inflationary gap" lines.

Savings Important "It is important," the board continues, "that the controls and inducements to save be continued in full force during the war period."

Price increases have been a factor in addition to those mentioned by the board. They are, of course, certain things—food and clothing, particularly—you have to buy, and there isn't much you can do about dodging wartime prices and quality (things wear out faster) in these lines.

But as to plenty of kinds of goods, people are laying away the money—in war bonds or so the amount of currency outstanding would indicate, in the old sock or war.

Marriner S. Eccles, federal reserve board chairman, in urging congress to continue the emergency price control act, estimated that by June 30, when the act is due to expire, liquid assets held by business concerns and individuals will amount to 194 billion dollars—113 billions of it held by individuals.

Canada Will Emerge From War As a World Leader in Commerce

By CHARLES ROBERTS

OTTAWA, April 17.—Grown under war conditions from a partially developed state to a great industrial nation and military power with high international standing, Canada is determined to go into the peace maintaining her new rating as the world's third largest trader, surpassed only by the United States and Britain, despite her less than 12,000,000 population.

Canadian industry has grown by leaps and bounds, and because of the strength of her rapidly mobilized arsenal and fighting arms, the administration feels that the time has come for the country to proclaim that she has become of age.

This will mean a loosening of the apron strings which have kept her in Britain's shadow for generations.

Signaling the break-away are the related national debt into the realm of international diplomacy, and an independent trade program under which Canada will enter world markets as a direct competitor of the mother country.

MANY NEW ENVOYS For years, aside from other British nations, Canada maintained envoys of ministerial rank only in the United States and France. But since the start of the war, Canadian ambassadors have taken up duties in China, Russia and Turkey. Ministers have been appointed to Argentina and Chile, with similar appointments pending for Mexico, Cuba, Peru, Sweden and Turkey. In addition, there is a minister to the exiled governments in London, while the old French ministry has become an embassy in Algiers and the envoy to Washington likewise has been raised in rank.

No other Dominion has gone so far to assert her independence within the Commonwealth, and the Mackenzie King's belief that future complete international collaboration, rather than through powerful single-voiced blocs, one of which Lord Halifax would have all British nations become.

Premier King's foreign policy (the amount to 194 billion dollars—113 billions of it held by individuals.

Trade Treaties Made barriers between Canada and the United States have become progressively lower during the administrations of President Roosevelt and Mr. King, who in private life are old personal friends with similar views on a wide range of subjects. And under the aegis of hard-working James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce, most-favored-nation trade treaties have become operative within the last two years between Canada and Ecuador, Peru, Chile, Argentina and Brazil. These are in preparation for a return to normal marketing conditions. In two strenuous years of South America, MacKinnon has not realized there was time to sell at the moment, but taken shipments are being made.

Seamen's Service To Hold 3-Day Meeting

WHO'S WINNING THE WAR? (Pacific Rural Press)

Let's frankly dissect the question of the heading. We are not doing too well in Italy, but Music Czar Perelli in this country has moved against high school orchestras after taming the professional musicians.

The liquor interests are winning, especially the Big Four distillers, who have moved in on their wine competitors, and have started infiltration of beer competitors.

Cigaret manufacturers are winning. Not only have they captured GI Joe and GI Jill, but Bud, Sister, Pop, Grandpop, Mom and Grandmom.

Oleo is winning with the active help of government politicians, and many food substitutes and synthetics are doing fine.

Race track gambling seems to have been ruled war-essential by state and federal government officials, at least it is allowed to operate in an economy of scarce manpower, gasoline and rubber.

Labor racketeers and business profiteers are winning. Harry Bridges and John L. Lewis are conspicuous winners, while many more on foods and goods are OPA'W'.

Professors have lost some ground, especially the economists who add up millions of dollars and borrow 5 cents carfare to get home. But Communists have won many well-paid seats high in government.

National debt, and deficit, and inflation are winning in a big way.

Delinquency, especially of juveniles, is winning.

Divorcement is added to our other "social gains."

Draft deferment has been won by the Federal army of more than 3,000,000 regimenters.

These teasers to thought, common sense and conscience are offered because it is time to carefully consider the oft-repeated assertion:

"There has been some confusion on the home front but we have had swell leadership on the foreign front."

As an aid to careful thinking, let's state the other side.

The home front and the foreign front of war are both a part of this war. The President once gave distinguished support to that truth.

Leadership on the manpower front, the food front, the financial front and the moral front has been poor.

Even on the fighting front our successes to date have been due to prodigious home production at scandalous cost to the fact that our boys in the service make sacrifices which we do not make at home; and because of the lusty blows of our realistic Allies.

Leadership on the foreign front, and the home front necessarily lean on each other for success, inseparably in victory, indivisible in peaceful peace.

So in asking ourselves, "Who's Winning the War," we should also consider "Who's Losing the War."

CONDITIONS ARE DIFFERENT (The Daily Oklahoman)

When Abraham Lincoln voiced his famous observation on changing horses in the middle of the stream, his assertion was literally true. If the people accepted the horse that was offered in exchange for Lincoln the war would be lost and the union destroyed.

Circumstances were such that the American people had to keep Lincoln or destroy the republic.

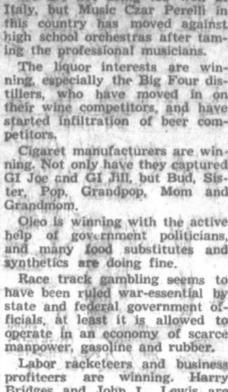

In the platform on which McClellan was nominated in 1864 appeared the bald assertion that the war to save the union was a failure. From a thousand discouraged sources and many disloyal sources came the cry that the war to save the union had failed and that the war should be stopped immediately. And when the terrible toll of the Rapidan campaign was reported a nationwide revolution against the war was being held up.

It is possible to find a new commander in chief who would fight more determinedly and win complete victory more speedily.

In 1864 the choice was between Abraham Lincoln and General McClellan. In 1944 it is a choice between a leader who is pressing the war vigorously and a leader who might press the war even more vigorously. The conditions are entirely unlike what they were when Lincoln cited the danger of changing horses in the middle of the stream.

port executives and program directors also will attend. Services to men of the merchant vessels will be held. The war executives, Jack Kamaka of New Orleans, John Chivari of Galveston, Jack Graf of Port Arthur and Nile Ball of Houston will speak.

Nation's Clergy Opposes Labor Draft Measure

NEW YORK, April 15.—In a statement to Congress made public today, 1,184 clergymen and religious leaders—Protestant, Catholic and Jewish—from every state in the nation went on record in opposition to the Austin Wadsworth labor conscription bill. The statement was released by the Free Labor Committee of the Workers Defense League. Co-chairman of the Committee are Sam B. Eubanks, Vice President, American Newspaper Guild, and Sal B. Hoffman, President of the Upholsterers' International Union.

Expressing a "deep concern lest in the midst of a war being fought by America to guarantee the four freedoms, developments in America itself may impair one or more of these freedoms," the signers condemn the proposed bill as embodying a "serious threat to the religious concept of human life."

The clergymen base their objection to the bill on the grounds that it embodies many injustices; that it would establish a dangerous precedent, and that it would endanger the American home.

Stressing the fact that the bill empowers the President to draft civilians into the service of private employers, the signers among whom

PAAF Will Aid In Scrap Drive

Officials of the Pampa Army Air Field, where a rigid conservation program of all salvagable material has been carried on since the opening of the local air base, are making arrangements to cooperate with the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and other civic leaders in the present conservation drive. It was learned today.

Lt. Edward Alloo, post salvage officer, said yesterday two army trucks will be dispatched from the field to be used in collecting salvagable material collected in the community.

The salvage program at PAAF includes salvage of all worn items of equipment, clothing, arms—in fact, anything from the smallest head-up screw to an airplane or a building.

Since January of this year, more than 31,000 pounds of waste paper have been collected. Cooking greases saved in the mess halls, where waste is small but continues to grow apace, have reached a total of more than two tons since the first of this year; and 225 pounds of grease have been salvaged from sinks by the use of traps.

The salvage pile of raw bones and meat trimmings saved since the beginning of the year has reached 21,800 pounds. These are but a few of the hundreds of items salvaged in the local field's extensive program. Lt. Alloo declared.

BUY BONDS The problem of future prosperity is one of individual co-operation enterprise by business, labor, agriculture and—whether you like it or not—by government. We in business must see that a good job is done in public places.

James L. Palmer, Marshall Field & Co. vice president.

This nation at the end of 1944 will have naval power and accompanying air power to go with it to match the naval forces of the rest of the world.

The Minuteman is Still the Man of the Hour

The Minuteman was a most resourceful civilian who worked hard for his family and home and was quick to fight when their security was threatened.

He did the very things we are asked to do today. He made things last. He wore things out and did without. He was one of the first to stretch food and fuel.

Farmers, fishermen, sailmakers, smiths or cobblers—all were Minutemen—all were dreamers who loved their America—all were doers who fought and saved and sacrificed. They showed us the way to win.

Americans, since the days of the Minuteman, have welcomed their opportunity to earn security for themselves and their families in a better world.

Today, when wartime trials provoke us, America is recapturing the spirit of '76—America's fighting spirit, so perfectly symbolized by the Minuteman—the spirit that will hasten Victory by hours, by days, perhaps even months.

Americans have always been neighborly. It is quite natural then for Budweiser to be America's favorite beer—for, when good friends get together, Budweiser is a friend that needs no introduction.

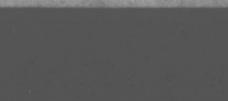

In addition to supplying the armed forces with glider and bomber fuselage frames, wing parts, gun turret parts and foodstuffs, Anheuser-Busch produces materials which go into the manufacture of: Rubber Aluminum - Munitions - Medicines - B Complex Vitamins - Hospital Diets - Baby Foods - Bread and other Bakery products - Vitamin-fortified cattle feeds - Bacterias - Paper - Soap and textiles - to name a few.

Seven Bills Are Pending to Alter Court Procedure

WASHINGTON, April 17.—(AP)—Seven different bills designed to alter Supreme Court procedure in handling cases—chiefly with the intent of speeding consideration—are pending before the senate and house judiciary committees.

One of the measures, offered by Rep. Whelchel (D-Ga.) and backed by several bar associations, would require the agreement of seven of the nine justices before a prior ruling could be reversed.

"This recent trend toward switching decisions is shaking the very foundations of jurisprudence," Whelchel declared. "Something must be done to stop it."

He added he "certainly agreed" with Justice Roberts, who commented when the court overruled itself recently on the rights of Negroes to participate in Democratic primaries, that such reversals put court decisions "in the same class with a restricted railway ticket—good for this day and train only."

The bill most discussed publicly is one introduced by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) and Chairman Sumners (D-Texas) of the house judiciary committee. Supported by Attorney General Francis Biddle and many other legal officials, it would allow five judges to constitute a quorum, instead of six, as at present.

Take It From Me!

Are You SURE He Got Your Last Letter?

What is it that keeps his courage high in the midst of battle, that symbolizes for him everything he's fighting for? A LETTER FROM HOME! When it gets there, he's the happiest man in his company. When it doesn't arrive, he feels lost and alone—doubts and fears about home and family crowd his mind. That's why it's up to YOU—every wife, sweetheart, mother and friend—to write often and to MAKE CERTAIN THAT HE GETS THE LETTER. The sure way to do this is to write your fighting man via V-Mail... the new, wonderful mail that speeds mail to and from personnel of our armed forces outside the continental United States. By this system men and women in service receive a miniature reproduction of the letter you write on V-Mail stationery. The original of your letter is destroyed only after it is certain that the person to whom you are writing has received the reproduction. No sinking of ships or casualty, to planes can prevent your letter from getting through. Duplicate reproductions will be made and forwarded promptly. Write overseas often —by V-MAIL!

What Americans must be aware of is the peace propaganda of the junkies and the German industrialists and bankers. If Americans make the mistake of sympathizing with this group and with the "poor German people" as they did after 1918, their sons will have to fight a third world war. —Emil Ludwig, author.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—Another major league season opens tomorrow and in place of the usual words of wisdom about who'll win the pennants, this corner offers a different prediction: If baseball doesn't have a successful season financially, you can hang the blame on managers, club owners, baseball writers, etc. who keep bringing up the fact that the teams are far below the usual standards. Fans already have shown that they turn out in great numbers for almost any sort of a real contest, but they're likely to become discouraged if they hear repeatedly canned see only fourth-rate baseball. After all, this year's teams will be playing one another, not the 1943 clubs. Maybe Peter Krieff of Washington, D. C., has the right idea when he says: "Wars may come and wars may go—but baseball will go on 4-Per and 4-Per."

MATERIAL GAINS Shag Sloughnessy, International league proxy who used to be quite a football player, likes to tell how he applied knowledge acquired building dugouts in France to football. During the last war, doughboys discovered that if they left an air space between two layers of steel and dirt in a dugout roof, it would absorb the shock of a shell explosion. When the returned to football with a couple of bunged-up shoulders, Shag remembers that and designed shoulder pads with a similar shock-absorbing space. They're almost universally used now. One of the newest developments of this war, he hears, is a gun that automatically aims a machine gun the right distance ahead of a speeding plane. Now if that could only be adapted to duck shooting.

MONDAY MATINEE Bob Coleman, Braves manager, made his big league debut with Pittsburgh June 13, 1913, and banded 13 chances against the Giants. Naturally his club lost. The first year the National Collegiate A. A. basketball tournament was held it went into the red for about $2,500 and a $7,000 bankroll that represented the accumulation of years in the treasury. It has been paid back now with plenty of interest. The Boston Yankees, with no coach and no players, already have a one-boy football team in 12-year-old Parker Dweley of Belmont, Mass., who persuaded Ted Collins with applications for the job of mascot until Ted signed him up.

Football Apron

New players on the Harvester grid squad, now taking warm-up practice like this when spring training will probably begin, tangle with the veterans. In the picture above, Mike Garzoni, guard, adjusts football apron invented by Jeff Cravan, Southern California coach. Slightly clumsy, it is used by defensive linemen in scrimmage to prevent injury.

Latin American Ball Players Must Register For Draft WASHINGTON, April 15—(AP)—Joe Cambria, baseball scout for the Washington Senators, said today that all Latin American players on the Washington roster entered the United States on six-month visas and were immune to any draft regulations in this country. The Selective service commission here last Sunday night ordered all the Latin American players in this country to register for the U. S. Draft or leave by June 12. Selective service officials today told newsmen that persons in this country on six-month visas could not be drafted and might remain the full time, return to their native land and return to the United States next year without a draft threat.

Griff Plans Arena Adjoining Sen Park By NEA Service Washington—Clark Griffith is not only scheming to win Washington's first pennant in more than a decade. The venerable president of the Senators also plans an arena on what is now parking space adjoining Griffith Stadium. Specifications call for parking space in the basement. The arena, accommodating 15,000 for boxing, basketball, track and field, meetings and whatnot, is a post-war project. The pennant idea is definitely present tense. The outlook is that promising.

BROWN PITCHERS REJECTED ST. LOUIS, April 17—(AP)—Pitchers Al Hollingsworth and Sid Peterson have been rejected for military service, the Browns were notified today. The team now has 18 players who are 4F in the draft and two who have medical discharges from the army.

By FRANK LEAHY Notre Dame Football Coach

Most thrilling event ever witnessed in sports was Notre Dame football team's march of 80 yards for a touchdown against Great Lakes last year in the final game of the season for the Irish.

FRANK LEAHY

There were six minutes left to play and Great Lakes led, 12-7. Great Lakes punted over the goal line, and Notre Dame put the ball in play on their own 30-yard line. In 15 running plays, against a powerful seven-man line, Notre Dame brought the ball across the goal line to take a momentary 14-12 lead. Seconds later Great Lakes completed a long forward pass for a touchdown, and Notre Dame went down to its only defeat of the season.

Wallace To Toss Ball for Opener

WASHINGTON, April 17—(AP)—Henry Agard Wallace flexed the muscles of his right arm today and declared himself ready to take over a traditional American role which William Howard Taft inaugurated more than 30 years ago. It'll be Wallace's second appearance in pinch-hitting for President Roosevelt when he tosses out the first ball at the American league opener here tomorrow. He sailed a ball from the presidential box into short centerfield two years ago, President Taft, back in 1911, accepted the idea that the White House occupant, as the No. 1 American citizen, should perform the No. 1 job on the No. 1 day of No. 1 American sport.

AP Writers Pick Yanks To Win Flag

By FRITZ HOWELL NEW YORK, April 17—(AP)—A three-way scrap for the 1944 American league pennant with the world champion New York Yankees finally nosing out Washington and Chicago, was predicted today by the country's baseball writers for the season starting tomorrow.

Of 64 writers taking part in the annual "pick 'em" poll of the Associated Press, 30 designated the Yanks to take their fourth straight major league championship. Chicago drew 17 first place ballots, and Washington 14, but the Senators nosed out the White Sox for second place in the overall voting under which the clubs received eight points for a first-place selection, seven for second, etc.

In the overall race New York was given 453 of a possible 512 votes, Washington 424 and Chicago 413. Other teams were picked to finish in this order: Cleveland, St. Louis, Boston, Detroit and Philadelphia. Last year's pennant race wound up like this: New York, Washington, Cleveland, Chicago, Detroit, St. Louis, Boston and Philadelphia.

In the National league poll St. Louis was a standout to take its third straight pennant, getting 57 of 67 first place votes. Cincinnati was picked for second, followed by the others in this order: Chicago, Pittsburgh, Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

The scribes had a tough time spotting the St. Louis Browns and Boston Red Sox in the American loop survey, each drawing votes for all eight positions, while Chicago was tabbed for all except the last berth, and Cleveland for all except first and last positions.

The San Francisco girl won by nearly a lap and a quarter from her nearest contender in the second heat of the semi-finals, Marilyn Sahner of New York.

Owls Spark SW Baseball Race

The Rice Owls have given Southwest conference baseball a shot in the arm. For the first time in years it's not just a race between Texas A. & M. and Texas for the championship but the other teams interested onlookers.

Year before last Rice won a couple of games but last season when there were only three teams in the race—Texas A. & M. and Rice—the Owls didn't scratch. This year the same three are making the race but Rice already has won a game and the Owls topped the favored Aggies to do so the race looks like a free-for-all down to the wire.

Three games have been played to date with the Aggies holding decisions over Texas and Rice and with Rice holding one win over the Aggies. The standing: TEAM W L Pct. Texas A. & M. 2 1 .667 Rice 1 1 .500 Texas 0 1 .000

Last week Rice and A. & M. hooked up in two-game series with the Aggies winning the opener 13-4 but Rice taking the second 4-3 with a four-run rally in the eighth inning and behind eight-hit pitching by Tom Hopkins.

Texas meanwhile was dropping two practice games to Brooks and Randolph fields at San Antonio. This week-end Rice goes to Austin for a two-game series against the White House. A. & M. is playing Brooks and Randolph fields at San Antonio.

ti-war talks were one of the prime diplomatic activities in 1923, but they also show that in that same year, Japan was hedging away from such commitments and keeping a toe in the door that opened to Pearl Harbor.

When the Kellogg pact was up for Japanese ratification it was argued that a phrase committing nations to renounce war "in the name of their respective peoples" was against the Japanese constitution, which gives supreme power to the emperor.

The treaty was finally accepted with the declaration that the provision "is understood to be inapplicable so far as Japan is concerned."

The Japanese explanation of why American warships could not visit most of the mandated Marshall islands is also revealed.

Among the ports to which the ships were refused entrance were Kwajalein, Misaki and Wajue, because, the Japanese said, they might frighten the natives. Now, 15 years later, American sailors and aviators are making the acquaintance of those natives.

WAKE-UP AMERICA

THE WIDENING CHASM

The growing breach between the President and Congress, according to Democratic Senator Edwin Johnson of Colorado, has become so critical that it overshadows all other issues in the company campaign. Unless the candidates for the presidency—all of them—assure the people that they will provide not only leadership, but are willing to cooperate with and respect Congress as a coordinate branch of government, the "voters must reject them in the name of survival. The consequences of further conflict in the government," he says, "are too awful to contemplate."

In England, the executive and legislative branches have to cooperate, because the House of Commons can compel it. When the Prime Minister loses a vote of confidence he has to resign. We have no such remedy here. But Senator Johnson says that any President who wished to cooperate and not dominate could put all executive functions under responsible Cabinet heads, and instruct them to appear before Congress when requested and give an accounting, as is done in the British House of Commons. The President could invite Congress to take a vote of confidence on any important matter, and if the government lost, the responsible Cabinet members would be required by him to resign.

This, Senator Johnson says, would probably result in three or four changes in the cabinet right now, and it would put the others on their toes. "The departments need to be revitalized, duplication would cease, and jurisdictional quibbling would end. Instead of chaos and confusion, responsibility and order would prevail in Washington."

Senator Johnson says we are not at the crossroads, but have long since passed it. The question now is whether we will retrace our steps or continue down the wrong road of one-man rule.

While Congress could not constitutionally require the President to discharge a Cabinet head, the Senator's suggestion is within the spirit of the Constitution, requiring only a President intent on preserving it.

With respect to legislation, the President has only the following functions: 1. "to give to the Congress information of the State of the Union, and recommend to their consideration such measures as he shall judge necessary and expedient"; 2. To call Congress in special session; 3. To veto bills which he thinks objectionable, and 4. to "take care that the laws be faithfully executed."

In Congress, however, is vested "all legislative powers" granted by the Constitution.

It is not the business of the President to bribe, purge or bypass Congress. Congress is the constitutional board of directors of the people, elected by them to lay down policies for the President to carry out.

Today, executive bureaus and government corporations are operating without specific authority of law; lease-lend is being used to rewrite tariffs; subsidy payments are being continued over the objection of majorities in both Houses; Congress is kept in the dark on international commitments requiring vast funds in the post-war years, and it has heard threats that if it does not enact legislation by a certain date, the President will veto it himself.

The result is that loyalty to constitutional principles has forced a Congress of the President's own party to revolt. As Senator Johnson so courageously says, "If a President becomes irked at Congress and holds it in contempt, you may be sure he holds the people in contempt also."

BUSINESS WAKING UP

A remarkable thing is happening. Business men, here and there, have decided that they don't know everything about economics. Instead of devoting all of their energy to producing and selling goods, and making out government reports, they are going to spend time studying the system itself under which goods are made and sold. They know the system has got to be improved.

With its able manager, Leonard E. Read, acting as spark plug, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is leading this movement. If business men generally realize its importance it could become of nationwide significance.

The United States Chamber of Commerce with Eric Johnston as its president, is looking for the beam in the eye of business. Industrial statesmen are multiplying.

Many will be startled when they hear Chamber of Commerce members talk about "Chamber of Commerce Socialism." But the talk is a fact. Too many business men, who cuss socialism, actually promote it. They want free enterprise for themselves but clamor for government handouts to promote socialism in transportation, electric power, government credit, etc.

The Los Angeles Chamber has gotten out a book entitled "Do We Want Free Enterprise?" Its 160 pages are chock full of facts and figures. It is a gold mine that costs only fifty cents. Get a copy. It puts in print what these study groups have been learning from a sound economist, V. O. Watts.

The best thing about these discussions is that labor leaders, ministers, teachers, public officials, etc., are invited to attend. At Olympia, Washington, last summer such a group met for lunch every day for three weeks. Business men were told what the faults of free enterprise were and what they must do to cure them. Labor representatives testified that the meetings were particularly helpful in giving both capital and labor a better understanding of each other's problems.

These lectures expose the folly of business men throwing other business men to the socialistic wolves; they show that wealth is becoming more diffused rather than concentrated, that capital and labor are, in fact, partners not foes.

Respecting the outcry against "vested interests," and "human rights before property rights," they show that man's right to change jobs is "vested"; that property has no rights, but only human beings have rights in property whether it is a movie ticket, or a contract to buy a home.

Every policy that helps business set most and best for less, helps every worker, both as a producer and as a consumer. The lower the cost, the more consumed, and the more jobs. When businessmen or bricklayers deliberately lay fewer bricks or hold up prices, the demand for bricklayers and business men declines.

If every business man, stockholder and worker would do what they are doing in Los Angeles, Olympia, and elsewhere we could look forward to better feeling and better times in post-war America.

Accidental Deaths Exceed Those of War

CHICAGO, April 17—(AP)—Accidents since Pearl Harbor have put the war in second place as a killer, the National Safety Council said today, releasing figures showing that twice as many persons have died or been permanently disabled in home front mishaps as in battle.

Accidents have reduced 350,000 wartime workers to industrial 4-F's with permanent disabilities, the council said. In addition, 102,000 workers have been killed and 9,500,000 injured compared with war casualties of 42,081 deaths and 66,121 wounded, and 37,415 missing.

The all-accident toll since Pearl Harbor now is 220,000 killed and 22,000,000 injured, the council said. Traffic accidents have killed 61,000 and injured 2,100,000, while accidents in the home have killed 75,000 and injured 14,000,000.

and vicinity

That car of yours is a mighty fine vehicle, you know. Surely you want to keep it in tip-top shape... especially because the average person may not be able to buy a new car for several years. To protect your investment, let the man who KNOWS YOUR CAR — your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer — help you care for it. But dealers' shops are often filled early in the day, so don't wait until the last minute. Phone him ahead of time for an appointment.

- A little water cleans away mud and road-scum... helps preserve car's finish.
- A dab of paint on fender and body scars helps prevent rust and deterioration.
- A bit of oil on squeaking door hinges or other moving parts lessens wear.
- A "breath" of fresh air in tires to keep pressure uniform lengthens tire life.

Have Your Dealer Check These Things

- 1 Drain anti-freeze (save if possible), flush and tighten cooling system.
- 2 Have engine tuned for warm weather driving.
- 3 Remove all dents and rust spots. Touch up with paint.
- 4 Clean chrome of all rust. Cover spots with clear lacquer.
- 5 Wash and polish car to remove road scum. Wax for protection.
- 6 Have brake system checked and necessary adjustments made.
- 7 Clean the upholstery and floor mats. Install seat covers for protection.
- 8 Check front wheel alignment and rotate tires if necessary.
- 9 Lubricate entire car; change engine, transmission, differential lubricant.
- 10 Tighten entire car.

Want to Sell Your Car?

Your Plymouth, Dodge, De Soto or Chrysler dealer has prospects waiting for good used cars. If you want to sell your car you can avoid delay and tedious paperwork by letting him make you a cash offer.
