U. S. Planes Raid Paramushiro Aussies Open Inland Drive For Madang

(By The Associated Press)
Far-ranging American bombers hissed and rattled over the Japanese outlying circle of defense from the island of Madang to the equatorial Solomons while Australian bombers resumed their inland drive toward enemy strongholds on northeast New Guinea.

Allied bombers returned unscathed from every raid except on the fiercely defended Rabaul where, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported today, 15 Japanese and six Allied planes were shot down. The dogfight accompanied a raid Thursday afternoon by low flying Mitchell medium bombers. The Japanese heavily followed up with another attack on the northeastern New Britain enemy base Friday morning.

Around 200 Japanese planes and 42 Allied raiders have been destroyed over Rabaul this month. Start of the Australian push up the Faria river valley toward the Madang area was announced on the first anniversary of their drive to clear the Japanese out of northeast New Guinea. The Aussies were about 25 miles from Bogadim, the nearest of a series of strong points in the Madang area.

Down the northeast New Guinea coast American planes strafed Japanese retreating before a coastal force of Australians almost into the arms of Americans at Saldor. Northwest of Madang a 7,000-ton tanker was sunk. A Japanese freighter was bagged near the Admiralty Islands in the Bismarck sea.

Alutian-based bombers twice attacked the Paramushiro naval base, at the northern tip of the home islands of Nippon, in the early morning darkness Friday. All the planes made the 1,500-mile round trip safely. A single plane and anti-aircraft fire meeting the first flight was the only opposition.

Paramushiro is Japan's first line of defense against possible invasion from Alaska, a possibility greatly feared by the Japanese. The island has been raided seven times. Five fortified islands in the Marshalls were attacked Friday, the 18th day this month that the mandated islands have been hit.

Bombers from Alaska made wide sweeps over enemy land and sea communications in Burma. Ground forces captured another village in the southwest and cleared the enemy from another stretch of the pathway of the new Ledo road in northern Burma.

The strain of war on Japan's food transportation and production was reflected in her record breaking non-military budget. Tokyo radio announced the budget of 15,415,000,000 yen, or about $3,545,000,000, up from $2,545,000,000 in the pre-war exchange rate, included 10 new items.

Reds Near Big Rail Center
LONDON, Jan. 22.—(AP)—The Russians, pursuing the beaten German besiegers of Leningrad, closed in to within six miles of the great rail hub of Krasnogvardeisk controlling trunk railways to Estonia and Poland today while other forces captured more communities to the east where they were driving to free the major rail artery to Moscow.

More than 70 towns and hamlets were taken in the Leningrad area, said the Moscow broadcast communique recorded by the Soviet monitor. Less than 100 miles to the south where the Red army was surging west from captured Novgorod four more towns were taken as the last scattered remnants of Germans surrounded in the forests were declared wiped out.

Gains also were made in southern White Russia where seven communities were taken as the forces of Gen. Konstantine Rokossovsky reached out from captured Kalinkovichi through the Pripiet marshes toward Pinsk.

The Leningrad fighting saw the day's greatest advances as Gen. Leonid A. Govorov's forces captured Komolova and Zaitsevo, both six miles northwest of Krasnogvardeisk. The Russians also officially announced the clearing of a roundabout railway from Leningrad to Moscow with the captures in the Mga area. The railway via Mga, Kurishi, and Ovinishe is a single track line, considerably longer than the main line.

Thompson Says City Officials Won't Run Again

Mayor Fred Thompson and Commissioners George B. Cree and H. C. Wilson, who have headed Pampa's municipal government for the past seven years, will not seek reelection.

That statement was made yesterday by Mayor Thompson. It is known that the members of the city commission now finishing their second successful term at city hall do not believe in perpetuation in office.

Rather, they feel that two terms is enough for any public officer under our democratic form of government. Thompson, Cree and Wilson, it is recalled, did not seek the offices originally. They became candidates only after being pressed into service.

It is unusual in American politics for office-holders to announce that they will not be candidates for reelection, especially when the probability is great that all three of these Pampa officials could be returned to their posts without opposition.

But, that's the way the city hall situation stood Saturday. The city election is approximately three months away and to date no candidates are in sight. Election day falls Tuesday, April 4.

To vote in that election you must get a poll tax receipt before the deadline, Jan. 31.

Youth Held For Three Thefts Here

Second in a series of four burglaries by juveniles in one week was cleared up Saturday by city police with arrest of a 15-year-old Pampa boy in connection with the theft of money from the cash register of the Pampa Athletic Club, 115 1/2 W. Kingsmill.

Police Chief Ray Dudley said the boy, held in jail last night, had admitted two of the three thefts occurring at the club during the past week. The youth had $15 in his possession when caught by the police at 5 p. m. Saturday.

First of the three break-ins occurred Monday night, when $9 was taken. The burglary was not reported to police at the time it was first discovered. On Wednesday night $5 was taken, and on Friday night, $24.

As Chief Dudley reconstructed the case, entrance to the club, which is located on a second story, was gained by the intruder scaling a vent pipe at the rear of the adjacent Court House cafe, 121 W. Kingsmill, crawling out on a roof, then raising a window at the rear of the club, which was unlocked, since it was apparently presumed that the window was so high above the ground no one would try to enter that way.

The cash register was opened with a key, which was hidden, but the intruder knew where the keys were kept, the chief explained. On the last break-in, the keys were not in their usual place, and the burglar used a screw driver to open the register.

In the other case solved by Pampa police last week was the theft of two typewriters and a saxophone from the high school building. This theft occurred Monday night, and reported the following day, and the arrests of a trio of boys, one 16, the

Opposition Is Lacking After New Assault

By KENNETH DIXON
AN ADVANCED AIRBASE IN ITALY, Jan. 22.—(AP)—From the air the Allied troops who started the surprise landing far behind the German line on the western coast of central Italy appeared to be still moving steadily forward late this afternoon and as yet meeting no major enemy opposition.

I flew over the beachhead shortly before 4 o'clock, riding the Plexiglass nose of a Boston glider-bomber on a mission to crumble the buildings of the town of Proseone into the streets to block highway six the road to Rome—so the German supplies and reinforcements from the Cassino front couldn't reach the area.

A hitchhiker on the successful mission of these A-20's of the 12th air support command I noted these things:

Landing craft were streaming in to the shore in the American sector of the beachhead.

No shells were falling in their area as they approached.

There were no artillery flashes visible from the inland areas still occupied by the enemy.

The only major movement I could see was friendly forces pushing forward.

The skies still were dominated by our planes; the only questionable aircraft we encountered were four unidentified planes which were believed to be ME109's. They did not attack us.

Our formations led by Lt. Karl Block of San Francisco was not even shot at up to the time Staff Sgt. John H. Baker, one of our gunners from Youngstown, Ohio, yelled: "On the way! On the way! Everything okay, everything okay!"

Lt. John V. Budekiewicz, of Dorchester, Mass., our pilot, and Staff Sgt. Floran Leone, of Zwolle, La., our other gunner, both were amazed. Previous missions over the area had resulted in "flak so thick you could walk on it."

At the beachhead I saw several landing craft up on the shore. From then on until we went weaving and twisting up to the bomb run, dodging the flak that wasn't there, the only activity visible was that of American troops and Allied planes moving forward.

Lt. Maurice Nordlund, 20-year-old P-51 photo reconnaissance pilot of Tacoma, Wash., told of seeing two Focke-Wulf bombs the beach and strafing the landing craft. Spitfires and Warhawks whipped down and drove them off and believed they knocked down one German plane.

Assault Troops Push Inland as 5th Army In South Moves North

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 22.—(AP)—American and British troops by the thousands landed practically without opposition on the beaches south of Rome and moved inland today in a daring, successful seaborne blow that completely surprised the Germans and deeply outflanked the powerful "Gustaf" and "Adolf Hitler" defense lines.

The Germans placed the scene 16 to 28 miles south of Rome on a 30-mile flat coast between the Tiber river mouth and the resort town of Nettuno, and they admitted loss of Nettuno harbor.

Allied headquarters said the landing caught the Nazis by "complete surprise" and "constitute a grave menace" to enemy communications.

Troops who splashed ashore met "slight" resistance and are making satisfactory progress in their drive inland.

Spaatz Hopes for Nazi Air Force Defeat by Summer

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz said today that, weather permitting, the German air force is likely to be knocked out during the summer and he disclosed that American bombing operations now are limited only by weather with no limitation due to a shortage of planes, crews or facilities.

The newly-named commander of the U. S. strategic (long range) air forces for the two-way heavy bombardment campaign against Germany revealed that the U. S. army air forces now is large enough so that it can and does bomb every day (flying conditions permit).

In his first press conference since assuming his new command Gen. Spaatz also revealed that shuttle bombing between Britain and recently captured bases in Italy might play an important part in the campaign.

"Do you anticipate in the summer, presuming we have reasonable weather, that the German air force will be knocked out?" he was asked.

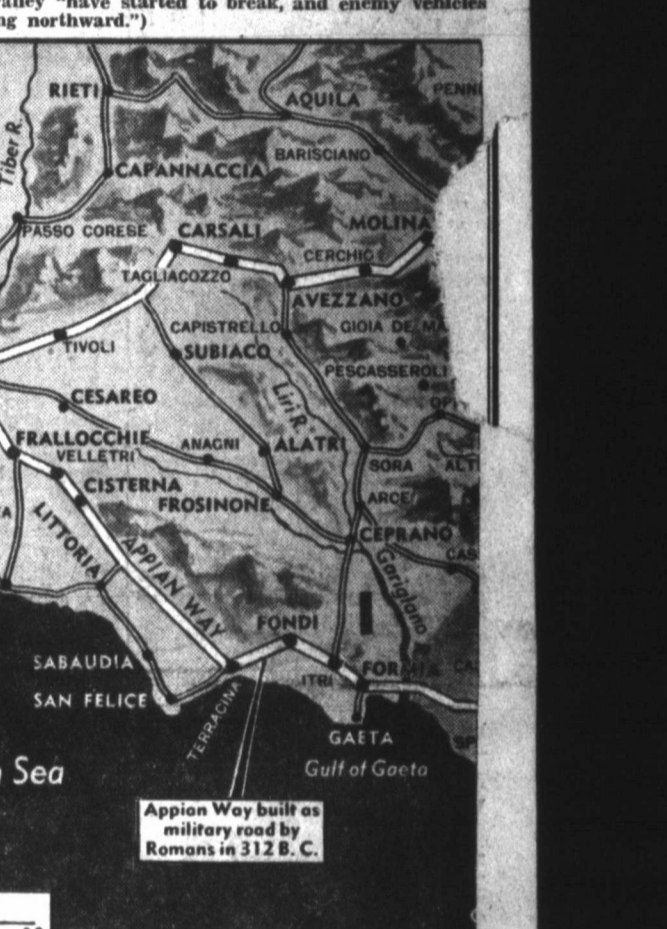

"That is what we expect to do," he replied. "The German air force can be pretty well knocked out given reasonable weather."

It was learned reliably that there now are nearly two crews for every bomber here.

It was apparent that the Allies had side-stepped the easily-defended Poine marshes and driven on to the solid beaches farther north. Kenneth Dixon, Associated Press correspondent who flew over the beaches south of Rome said German anti-aircraft fire at a road junction town was so slight that the Nazis either were dispersing their weapons or retreating.

Don Whitehead, AP correspondent who accompanied the amphibious force as representative of the combined American press, wrote that the 2 a. m. landing "was so easy and simply done and caught the Germans so completely by surprise that as I write this dispatch six hours after the landing, American troops are literally standing with their mouths open and shaking their heads in utter amazement."

"I don't believe it," a Fifth Army infantryman, veteran of other amphibious operations, told him.

Allied airmen said German air activity was practically non-existent. The battle-wise British and American troops lost no time in taking advantage of the situation by smashing straight inland toward the Apennine way and the roads leading to Rome. Severing of these routes, 12 and 13 divisions strong, and leave new path to Rome itself virtually undefended.

Firm establishment of the beachheads below Rome was apparently far easier than at Salerno last September, and allowed a quick drive inland.

Rate Battle Is Becoming Historic Issue

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—The fight of the South and West against the North and East over freight rate differentials has again reached a high boiling point and promises to become a historic issue in the annals of the interstate commerce commission, New York traffic authorities said today.

Present heated stage of the controversy is the culmination of the long fight of governor's of Southern states to eliminate rate differences which the governors charge are a barrier to industrial progress in the South.

It has been the subject of active debate in congress and of a scathing comment by high political personages, including President Roosevelt and Vice President Wallace.

New fuel was added by the vice president in an address delivered early this week before the Southern governors conference in Washington. Wallace declared that the South had been kept in a "colonial status" as the result partly of "discriminatory differentials in transportation costs."

To protect and stimulate the region's budding industrial development, governors of the Southern states organized about seven years ago to fight for change in the freight rate structure. Complaint was filed with the interstate commerce commission and this body held extended hearings beginning in 1930. Among interests opposing the move for parity in tariffs were the states of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and various chambers of commerce and commercial organizations in the Eastern trunk line territory.

As a corollary of the original hearings the commerce commission has undertaken a broad investigation of the rate structure of the entire country, touching not only railroad charges but those of the motor carriers as well.

Presentation of the case of the South in hearings held thus far stressed the claim that in its area, as well as in the Western freight production zone, shippers of manufactured articles were under unfair competitive burden because of Northern territory freight covering similar products priced 20 per cent lower in many places.

It was contended, made it possible for manufacturers to distribute their goods in other markets.

Counsel for the Northern and Eastern interests argued that the South was fully compensated for its relatively higher rates on high grade freight by substantially lower than Northern rates for the movement of raw materials or so called low grade freight.

The northern view also was that South's claim of restricted industrial opportunity was disproved by the movement within the past decade of certain manufacturing industries from the North to the South. The rate differential, it was contended had not prevented Southern manufacturers from reaching Northern markets.

Newly Arrived Doughboys Get In on Air Raid

LONDON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Hundreds of American soldiers newly arrived in Britain experienced their first air raid last night as the biggest German bombing force in months struck at London and Southeast England.

People crowded into shelters by the thousands, but Doughboys could be seen clustered in little groups at their doorways, absorbed in the excitement of their first air attack and many veterans of the blitz remained in their homes watching the show from windows.

The old dread was gone. Londoners found they could go back to sleep. And today in buses and subways they talked of "the noise."

The raids caused considerable property damage, a number of casualties and grim aerial battles. Eight Nazi planes were shot down in the first attack, two of them by a rookie pilot of a Mosquito.

Texas Brothers Mow Down 30 Japs in Bougainville Fight

BOUGAINVILLE. (Delayed) (AP)—Two Texas brothers who have remained together since they joined the Marine Corps were officially credited today by their commanding officer with killing up at least 30 Jap dead in front of their machinegun on the Numa-Numa trail the morning of Nov. 8.

The brothers are Pfc. Raymond and Ernest E. Freeman, tall, lanky sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Freeman, of Bryan, Texas. Raymond is 26 and Ernest, 21.

The two men had a Browning light machinegun set up on the right flank of the trail early that morning when the Japs, to the left front, made three unsuccessful attempts to cross the trail and attack Marine positions.

"Before the first attack started the Japs began chattering among themselves," the older brother said. "We believed they were trying to muster their men for a unified attack but we were ready for them. We couldn't understand anything they were saying."

Alongside the trail at a point where the Japs had assembled was a small clearing through which the enemy made their push. When the Japs rushed across the clearing the brothers opened fire, and in their words, "mowed them down like weeds."

Three times the enemy tried to cross the trail and three times they were stopped.

Riflemen also were firing. One Jap, succeeding in crossing the trail, tried to hide behind a banana leaf but Ernest saw the leaf moving and nudged his brother.

Raymond trained the gun on the leaf and blasted away. The Jap threw up his hands and tumbled over dead.

"Imagine that guy trying something like that," the older brother said to the younger. "Banana leaves make good shelter from the rain but not from bullets."

One Jap got within 30 feet of the Texhans and tried to throw a hand grenade, but before he could lift an arm the brothers dropped him with a burst.

When the firing was over and the dead were counted, more than 100 Jap bodies were scattered about the trail. Capt. Joe B. Griffith of Paris, Tex., commanding officer of their unit, said that of the number, 30 were credited to the brothers.

The Freeman brothers joined the Marine Corps Dec. 27, 1941, and have remained together since. When they dig a foxhole, it is always for two. They fought on Guadalcanal.

Panhandle Maps Highway Plans

A road connecting Pampa and Miami with Perryton, a new bridge north of Bonner and a new bridge north of Canadian, were among projects listed by delegates to be put on a Panhandle map of postwar projects, at a Panhandle postwar highway planning conference held Saturday at the Amarillo hotel in Amarillo.

Pampa and Gray county were represented at the meeting by County Judge Sherman White and Garnet Reeves, Pampa C. C. secretary. Fifteen Plains counties were represented at the assembly.

The group voted to make up a Panhandle map showing all highway projects wanted by the various delegates to be presented to the Texas highway commission next month. Guy Loft, Texas highway department division engineer of Amarillo, represented the department.

Late in the discussion of projects, Reeves jovially suggested that the Canadian river be bridged lengthwise.

Presiding at the meeting was Wade Brymer, Amarillo C. C. highway committee chairman, who called the gathering.

Medical Society Is Invited to Air Base

An invitation has been given by the Gray-Wheeler Medical Society to hold its next meeting at Pampa Field, with a program to be given by the medical detachment.

Lieut. Col. E. M. Smith made the invitation as the society's last meeting, held Thursday at the Schneider hotel.

Papers on socialized medicine were read by Dr. Jason H. Roberson and Dr. R. D. Falkenstein.

Doctors present were Charles H. Ashby, Paul C. Christian, W. Purvance, Falkenstein, W. C. Jones, R. M. Brown, J. H. Kelley, K. W. Pieratt, H. L. Wilder, all of Pampa; H. E. Nicholson and G. R. Walker, both of Wheeler; E. A. Rowley and Roberson, both of Amarillo; and Lieut. Col. Smith, Pampa Field.

That Candidate for County Clerk Office

Charles Thut, County Clerk of Gray County, this week announced that he would be a candidate for re-election to that office.

He stated that increasing restrictions on travel would apparently prevent the personal contacts and appeals that have usually gone into political races. However, he plans to make as many calls as may be permitted by such restrictions and the increased duties of the office. He expressed appreciation for past support and, in return for favorable consideration of his candidacy, pledged continued conduct of the office on a basis of public service.

Coin Jars Set Up For Polio Donations

A dime or dollar given may be a child's life saved.

"That is the slogan back of the annual fund-raising appeal of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, in connection with which eight coin jars have been distributed among downtown stores.

While the principal source of revenue for the national foundation is the celebration of the President's birthday, the March of Dimes, Jan. 14-31, is equally important for it is these dimes and dollars that make possible quick and effective action against polio in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Colorado and other states, said C. E. McGraw, local chapter chairman.

"Speedy help for those stricken was made available by local chapters of the national foundation covering nearly 3,000 of the nation's 3,070 counties, even as scientists—also supported in their work by these same dimes and dollars—sought further clues to the identity of the elusive culprit," said McGraw.

"Last year the American people provided that ounce of prevention by their contributions. It could not be an ounce of prevention because there is no known preventive for the disease. But that ounce of precaution was priceless because there is no known cure for poliomyelitis."

wise grateful to all members, and other organizations and individuals of Pampa who have cooperated in the year's work.

Appointment of committees for the new year and organization meeting of the chamber of commerce will be started immediately. Huff promised.

A brief resume of the 1943 activities of the chamber of commerce was attached to the program presented to each director at the meeting. Among the activities mentioned were:

The army hospitality committee under the leadership of Dan E. Williams, chairman, has made thousands of valuable goodwill contacts with cadets, their parents, wives and other relatives in helping with housing problems and transportation.

The committee and the chamber organization has likewise assisted all personnel at Pampa Field, officers, enlisted men, and civilian workers in finding housing or rooms. Various cooperation has been given to other organizations and personnel at the field on many projects throughout the past year.

The agriculture committee, under the leadership of Tom Cox, chairman, put on a successful junior livestock show last spring, the fifth annual show, in which $5,000 worth of livestock was sold at a good price for the 4-H club boys and the FFA boys of Gray county.

The chamber has cooperated with local builders and individuals, and the Federal Housing Agency, Home Owners Loan Corp., and the war production board in an effort to solve the local housing problem.

The chamber has also cooperated with the local housing agency, however, with the fine cooperation of various citizens in crowding up to the very limit, an astonishingly large number of new people have been housed in the limited number of new housing units provided through construction and conversion.

The retail trade promotion committee under the leadership of Frank Smith, chairman, has furnished leadership to the retailers of Pampa in the sale of War Stamps and Bonds through the year, and especially during the "Retailers For Victory" nation wide program last July.

The committee stimulated the sale of War Stamps and Bonds through the year, and especially during the "Retailers For Victory" nation wide program last July.

The committee organized the merchants of Pampa for an early shopping and mailing campaign prior to the Christmas holidays.

The chamber of commerce, under the leadership of R. B. Allen, chairman, until he left Pampa to move to Portales, N. M., and later under the leadership of Noel Dalton, held the annual meeting of the chamber of commerce at Pampa to assist local industrial plants.

The wholesale trade promotion committee headed by Crawford Atkinson, chairman, held several meetings with the wholesalers of Pampa to encourage mutual cooperation in developing the Pampa wholesale interests.

The scrap steel, and other salvage programs of Pampa were assisted materially by the chamber of commerce and the various salvage committees under the leadership of Jack Fisher, general chairman.

The aviation committee with Frank Cuberson, chairman, had representatives at a nation-wide postwar planning conference at Oklahoma City and a southwestern conference at Amarillo to keep up with the trend of aviation in the future. Contacts with civil aeronautics, administrative officials, airline officials, airplane manufacturers, and other important aviation officials were made.

Highway work, the miscellaneous services, giving of information, helping new comers, sending out publicity about Pampa, and other activities were mentioned briefly.

The citizenship of Pampa is encouraged to make suggestions to the chamber of commerce at any time regarding activities, for the present, or for the postwar period. Anyone having a suggestion may contact any director, or visit or telephone the chamber of commerce office in the city hall.

Frozen Fruit To Get Same Sugar

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(AP)—The same amount of sugar is available to manufacturers who make jam, jellies and other fruit spreads from unsweetened frozen fruits as is available to those who use canned products, the OPA announced today.

The amount allowed is .67 pound of sugar for each pound of the finished product.

Portisans Open New Offensive

LONDON, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Yugoslav Partisans have pressed their attack against the main rail line running from Budapest down through Zagreb to the port of Split on the Adriatic and have gone over to the offensive in bitter fighting in the mountains of Croatia, the Yugoslav liberation army communique said today.

The Algiers radio declared the Partisans are battering the equivalent of 40 German divisions sorely needed on other fronts, but this figure probably is too high.

Russian Speech Pleases Allies

MOSCOW, Jan. 22.—(AP)—Any hopes that Hitler may have held that he had driven a political wedge between the Soviet Union and her Allies seemingly have been dispelled by Alexander Shcherbakov, director of the Soviet information bureau.

Speaking before Marshal Stalin and other Russian leaders at a solemn observance of the anniversary of Lenin's death, Shcherbakov declared, Hitler's plans are based upon splitting the democratic countries, but they have failed. Confidence and unity among the countries of the anti-Hitlerite coalition have increased.

The statement was warmly received by American and British diplomats here and accepted as an official answer to any skeptics who may have asked if Russia and the Allies were drifting apart.

DALLAS, Jan. 22.—(AP)—War Bond sales to individuals in Texas reported officially for the first four days of the Fourth War Loan drive totalled $22,918,027, the state headquarters for the drive disclosed today.

That amount represented 10.9 per cent of the state quota of $210,000,000 for sales to individuals. The treasury has asked only sales to individuals be reported officially through Jan. 31.

Motorists Asked To Assist OPA

"Exclusive But Not Expensive"

Of Cabbages and Queens

By Jane Bara

The story of the week is one reported somewhere in one of the Texas newspapers, and we are stealing it from the Camp Wallace Trainer, and they don't remember where they stole it.

The setting of our story is in Cairo, and two camels were busily chewing the rag on a street corner, discussing the day's news events and trying to pry a bit of gossip out of each other.

Suddenly an American soldier walked out of a doorway. The camels looked at him, and one camel nudged the other and whispered: "You know, I'd walk a mile for him!"

But this week we are concerned with something other than who would walk a mile for who. This week we are concerned with who can walk and who can't!

It is disturbing to realize that almost every individual who reads this is susceptible to infantile paralysis. On the other hand, it is heartening to realize that the interest of every individual who reads this are the deep concern of an organization of the whole American people.

Day and night science is ever on the alert to uncover new means and methods for the prevention and control of this disease. This grim reaper operates largely by way of epidemic. All of us are in his path. And some of us in Pampa were hit this year.

That this disease can ultimately be defeated is the hope and belief of science. But meanwhile, he stalks abroad, only half disarmed by your enemy and my enemy—and worst of all—the enemy of your little children and your big children. When you contribute toward laying in the dust our arch-enemy, infantile paralysis, you are removing from your own path and from the path of everyone near and dear to you a terrible peril. Join the fight against infantile paralysis.

To like is to be liked, and we suppose that little thought best suits Mrs. H. H. Hicks, known to most of her many friends as Ted. She's the sort of person that gets around to knowing you, whether you realize it or not, because she's just a good person for people in general.

When Ted dresses up in her best bib 'n' tucker, you can just about guess it will be gray, because in a gray dress with perhaps a touch of yellow or white on the side, she feels happiest.

In the summer and spring she does her theatre work, goes all-out for golf. She collects all things—mushake cups! And the cups are all shapes, sizes and colors and come from different parts of the United States and Europe.

Perhaps her most outstanding characteristic would be her untiring effort in giving a bit of help to those who need it. Many people in Pampa consider her as one of their very closest friends and in turn—well—Ted has more friends than you can shake a stick at.

Many a courteous husband believes that "women first" also applies to getting up on cold mornings.

Ahh—m—m—this column does rate! Last week we got a (please not the singular—A) fan letter! And all the way from Britain too—Oh well, we always say your family will come across with almost anything—that is, if you promise your coupon or so. What readers ask nowadays is that the material should improve, instruct and elevate. This column wouldn't elevate a cow, and we can not conscientiously recommend it for any useful purpose whatever. All we can suggest is, that when you get tired of reading "the best hundred books and magazine articles," you may take this up once a week for ten minutes.

Gene are the days when a fellow could kiss a girl and taste nothing but the girl.

Mrs. Tony Smith had a very nice surprise this week when her cousin, Lt. John R. Peterson, of Raydon, Okla., arrived on a 13-day leave from the Aleutian Islands. Lt. Peterson flew ten thousand miles and landed in Amarillo, but will return to his base after his leave. With the wind 110 m.p.h. and the weather man dishing out stuff like 50 below, Lt. Peterson had much rather be around Pampa!

Women have a sense of humor—the more you humor them the better they like it.

The last time we saw Jen Leal she was clear up to here moving into their new home—which, incidentally, is very elegant. Jen had the kitchen stove in the front room, a barrel of dishes on the porch and a bedroom suit in the dining room. All in all—she was pretty disgusted, but our bet is that she will have everything in its right place in a couple of days because her Mom is here giving her a hand.

Red Cross Elects Officers, Directors

The board of directors of the Pampa Red Cross recently transacted business in the city commissioners' room for the first meeting of the organization group.

Officers were elected for 1944 and J. B. Massa was elected to the board, filling the vacancy created by Del Hamann, recently transferred from Pampa to Ogden, Utah.

Gray County Clubs Show Summary of Work Through '43

Gray County Home Demonstration extension work functioned in 1943 through the aid of 119 members in eight Women's Home Demonstration clubs; 91 members in six 4-H Girls' clubs, and 22 women leaders of Gray county agriculture victory council where clubs were not organized.

Girls' victory demonstrator committees aided in three communities by encouraging girls who were not 4-H members to work harder to feed a fighter. The Gray County Home Demonstration council, which works monthly, was responsible for all organized work; this council is composed of the president of each home demonstration club and one selected member. The council defense committee which was added in 1942, has kept the clubs and council in harmony with work to be done for the Red Cross and has functioned during the drives for scrap iron, fats, rubber salvage, and Bonds.

4-H Girls' clubs have been working on a program to help win the war. Each has a part in planning. This program has been on production and saving of food, along with helping with all home work to meet the labor needs and they have not forgotten to help with home recreation and improve their personal appearance by caring for and mending clothes.

USO Muses

The USO is planning to celebrate the third anniversary of its existence soon with fetes and ceremonies all over the nation. Our USO already has plans in making plans for celebration worthy of the important event.

Can't understand it. Cpl. George Richards has been stationed in Pampa for some time now and has never had a date. Can't understand it because as far as appearance, actions and disposition go, he's the answer to the proverbial maiden's prayers, except that such as this should be rectified immediately. George shouldn't be lonesome. Nor should a lucky female be denied his charms. What are you going to do about it, girls?

If your birthday falls in January, add your name and date of birth to the list on the USO's bulletin board. Don't know what it's for, but it's probably your favor. Who would want to treat you mean on your birthday?

GI Peculiarities: He arrives at the bus station no sooner than 11:20 a. m. He never stands when he can sit and never sits when he can stand. He never walks when he can ride and usually he won't walk if he can't get a ride.

He gets 15 letters in the morning and is peevish when he doesn't get any in the afternoon. He throws his rank up at you on the job and treats you to the show that night.

Don't know why Dave Rutan and Don Curry were so embarrassed when they were caught washing dishes in the USO's kitchen. Might be the flowered aprons they were wearing, but we think the aprons were very becoming, holding Don's tummy to a minimum and hiding Dave's baggy pants knees. Don't fret, boys, except though you broke eight cups and 19 saucers, you did a good job, and the job is yours. Take the "Dishwashers Wanted" sign out of the window.

Committee Reports Are Given By Catholic's Women's Council

The parish council of Catholic women met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. M. F. Roche, 1201 Mary Ellen, with Mrs. D. C. Kennedy as co-hostess.

During the business meeting reports of the various committees functioning under the council were submitted. These included Altar Society, Holy Souls PTA, Christian Doctrine, Youth, Libraries and Literature, Immigration and Social Service and Shrines in the home.

The parish committee cooperating with the National Catholic Community service, of which Mrs. Lynn Boyd is chairman, announced that Christmas boxes were filled and distributed to ill soldiers in the hospital at the Army Air Field. She also asked for names and addresses of those having rooms available for out of town relatives visiting soldiers in the hospital. More volunteer workers were asked to serve in the surgical dressing and production rooms at the local Red Cross. The council voted to buy and compile 10 scrap books according to requirements of the USO scrap book service.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. R. E. McKernan. Discussion of "Essentials of a Good Peace" as outlined at the annual meeting of the Bishops of the church, Mrs. McKernan said: "The causes of war must be removed, the honest needs of peoples must be met, their rights recognized. This must be a good peace which our (Continued on Page 8) victory will achieve. But first let us make ourselves in very truth peacemakers. Let us recognize the problems in our own social life and courageously seek the solution of them. A first principle must be the recognition of the sovereignty of God and of the moral law in our national life and in the right ordering of a new world born of the sacrifices and hardships of war."

Best Be a Bride Than a Swooner

By RUTH MILLETT
A private in New Guinea has a bride to come home to at the war's end because a judge refused to annul his marriage to a 17-year-old girl who has been his childhood sweetheart.

In taking the side of the soldier who called the court not to "destroy the only thing that keeps me going"—rather than the side of the bride's father, who wanted the marriage annulled—the judge handed down what for several reasons seems like a wise decision each of us would like to see.

To begin with the marriage wasn't between a couple of kids who met on a furlough and decided they were in love—but between young people who had known each other for years.

Also, in this case, the young husband is out of the country—and it may be a long time before he can return home to live with his bride in the meantime she can go on with her schooling.

ON SOLID GROUND
The other day another 17-year-old girl won a trip to New York because she had won a prize for writing the best letter on "Why I swoon at Sinatra."

Families of servicemen discharged for disabilities may apply to the Red Cross for financial assistance if needed during the temporary period while claims for pensions are pending.

Stimson Says Armed Forces Resent Home Front Attitude

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson asked congress for national service legislation with the assertion that industrial unrest and a "lack of a sense of patriotic responsibility" on the home front has "aroused a strong feeling of resentment and injustice among the men of the armed forces."

"It will be tragic indeed if the discontent and resentment felt by our gallant soldiers on the fighting fronts burns deeply and festers in their hearts," he told the senate military committee Wednesday.

"The voices of these soldiers speak out very clearly today in demanding that all Americans accept the same liability which a soldier must accept for service to country. They are far away now, but some day they will return."

Reviewing recent labor troubles in the railroad, coal and steel industries, the secretary declared "it does not require great imagination to realize the effect of these occurrences upon our troops, and added: 'I believe it is hazardous to belittle the effect which such a situation will have upon the ultimate welfare of our democracy.'"

"If it continues, it will surely affect the morale of the army. It is likely to prolong the war and endanger our ultimate success, and when those troops come back to us it may have an effect upon the future unity of our nation which is disturbing to contemplate."

"On the other side they see that the government imposes no corresponding duty upon the remaining men of the nation and even permits them to leave the most important war jobs without regard to the needs of the country."

"Iron Major" One Of Best Films Of '44

By BROWNWOOD EMERSON The greatest football picture since "Knie Rocke—All-American" and "The Spirit of Notre Dame" is RKO Radio's film version of the inspiring career of Frank Cavanaugh, titled "The Iron Major," showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the La-Nora.

Cavanaugh's action in enlisting in the army in World War I, despite his age and family responsibility, because of his conviction that a man should fight for what he thought right, carries an inspiring message to every American today.

Beginning in Worcester, Mass., in 1897, the film depicts Cav's early interest in football, his struggle to earn his way through Dartmouth, his coaching jobs at the University of Cincinnati, Boston College, Holy Cross, Dartmouth, his enlisting in the army, being wounded, promoted to a major and return home.

On recovering from his wounds, he goes back to football, coaching at Boston College, and then at Fordham. In 1932, he leads his boys to victory in his last game.

There is a finale in this picture that has the punch of a ten-ton truck. It's his art, and it's his life, told in a way that will grip your heart.

"The Iron Major" is tops all the way around—story, players, action, direction. This is a sure bet for one of the best pictures of the year.

Versatile Pat O'Brien has the role of Cavanaugh. Ruth Warrick, his wife; Robert Ryan, Father Donovan; Leon Ames portrays Cav's lifelong friend, Bob Stewart.

Opening this week, for a four-day run starting today, is the Paramount comedy, "True to Life," family life story, starring Texas' Mary Martin, with Franchot Tone, Dick Powell and Victor Moore.

The music—there are three hit tunes—is an integral part of the plot which revolves around the plight of two radio writers who are about to be fired from their 1,000-a-week jobs unless they come up with a true-to-life air show.

Underground resistance of the French against the Nazis and the exploits of a lone British commando is the theme of 20th Century-Fox's "Tonight We Raid Calais," showing today, tomorrow and Tuesday at the Rex.

Top roles are those of Annabelle, as a French peasant girl, and John Sutton, as the commando.

"Yanks Ahoy," another in the "service series" type of picture, is showing at the Rex at the same dates as part of a twin-bill.

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 22 (AP)—Travelers from Germany say the progressive intensity of the RAF's air raids on Berlin is reflected even in the way Berliners tell each other goodnight.

Now the expression commonly used is "bleib uebrig," which freely translated means "hope you survive."

Changing Jobs Requires Note Of Availability

If you quit your job and move to another part of the country without first obtaining a certificate of availability, you may find it hard to get another job.

Those who quit jobs for any other reasons are having trouble getting certificates, without which getting another job adds a new problem, Terry said.

Moore Opposed To Petroleum Agency
 WASHINGTON, Jan. 22. (AP)—Senator Moore (R-Okla.) has asked congress to "liquidate and dissolve" the Petroleum Reserve Corp., asserting "it is just another scheme to socialize industry."

This corporation was created under the Reconstruction Finance Corp. act, and has unlimited power to borrow from RFC "without congress, the bureau of the budget or the general accounting office having any check on it," Moore said.

Tasks of one U. S. armored division consume about 25,000 gallons of gasoline for each 100 miles they travel.

Gettysburg Address Seabee Version

NEENAH, Wis., Jan. 22—(AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Sell, whose husband, Arvin, is a carpenter's mate, second class, with the Seabees somewhere in the South Pacific, received this parody of Lincoln's Gettysburg address, which, Sell said, she and a companion had written:

"Two score and seven days ago our battalion brought forth upon this island a new project, conceived in a foxhole and dedicated to the proposition that all Japs are created evil.

"We are now ensnared in the heat, rain and mud of the island, testing whether this project or the Seabees will long endure.

"We are all together slipping and sliding as we do this, but in a larger sense we cannot cultivate, we cannot navigate, we cannot harrow this ground, for those great rains which make this mud here have made it impossible. Far above the poor power of all but the "Cats" (tractors).

"It is for us, the Seabees, rather to be enslaved here by this mental labor which they who are in charge have thus so freely advanced. It is rather for us to be herp sickened by the dish of hash set before us, that from these cans we look our nourishment; nor no devotion to those cooks, for our stomachs gave an everlasting measure of commotion.

"The world will little note nor long remember what we build here, but we shall never forget the hash and beans we ate here. Let us resolve that we shall not have sweat in vain; that this battalion shall have 30 days of freedom in the United States by Easter; that this thought shall not perish from our hopes."

LEAVES FROM A WAR CORRESPONDENT'S NOTEBOOK by Hal Boyle

HEADQUARTERS, 15th Airforce, Italy. (AP)—America's new heavy bombing 15th airforce already is in long pants and quite grown up—but but the men who run it still go to school each morning.

Their classroom is the airforce wardroom, a high white-ceilinged chamber opening on a courtyard which in summer is gay with flowers. School begins promptly at 9 a. m. and nobody plays hooky or is late to class. On the hour everyone snaps briskly to attention facing the door and across the threshold steps a trim figure man of middle height with silver hair. A fresh cigar juts out of his jaw at a 37 degree angle.

This is Major General Twining who made a name for himself in the Southwest Pacific and succeeded Jimmy Doolittle as commander of the second largest airforce under the American flag when Doolittle moved up to head the largest—the Britain-based eighth.

General Twining strides briskly across the room and sits down in a chair next to his operations general. That's the signal for class to begin.

A heavy set major steps up to a 10-foot wall map and slides it out on rollers before the assembled officers. He is the general news commentator and custodian of the wardroom and its scores of maps.

"The Russians continue their advance in Poland," he says, pointing with the long ruler to the area involved. Then he goes into details.

presenting in five or 10 minutes a precise, terse picture of the situation in theaters of action in both hemispheres.

When he finishes, a captain, a former Texas attorney, pulls out another wall map and points out the sites of the previous day's operations. He tells of the number of bombers involved, the tonnage of bombs dropped, the type of flak met and other factors. He speaks gravely and slowly.

Another officer then takes the ruler and analyzes results of the bombing.

A lieutenant takes the ruler next. It is his job to keep track of the dispositions of the enemy fighter and bomber strength. He tells of any changes since the day before whether the Germans have moved more bombers into southern France, for example, or pulled fighters out of the Balkans to bolster the forces guarding the road to Rome.

A major from West Point, the next speaker, is the weather forecaster.

"North of the Poe valley, ceiling and visibility unlimited," he says confidently. Airmen have been cursing him for days over the bad weather and now he expects them to give him a little credit.

The idea for the "classroom" was developed by Col. Charles Young, of Newark, N. J.

"In this way, the headquarters officers can learn in 15 minutes to half an hour the complete picture of the tactical situation at the start of the day," he said.

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE IN ITALY, Jan. 8—(Delayed)—(AP)—It was the two hundredth mission since enemy lines for one group of Flying Fortresses, and we waited in a cold and dusty farm house for their return.

The lieutenant colonel did most of the talking, not because he had the most rank but because he had a point to make. He was gray-haired, an old-timer, and he knew the things about an air force that take years to learn. He had put
